WHEAT RUNS OFF FOR ALL DELIVERIES.

Excellent Weather for the Growing Crop Is Adverse to Prices on the Chicago Board—Stocks, too, Are Lower, the Wall Street Bulls Taking Profits. Chicago, April 26.—An unexpected advance at Liverpool inspired a bullish sentiment in the wheat pit at the opening of the market here today, the initial quotations showing gains of 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents. By 10 o'clock the market was lower, however, and this fact dampened the ardor of the bulls. The excellent weather for the growing crop in this country seemed to overbalance all other influences, including liberal decreases in the amount on passage and the visible supply in the United States.

GIVES PRESIDENT MUCH MORE POWER

Senate Leaders Work Out an Important Scheme Concerning the Administrative Features of the Pending Tariff Measure.

Provisions of the House Bill Affecting Retaliation Against Foreign Countries Are Changed in Material Manner and There Is Conferred Upon the Executive Head of the Government the Fullest Authority in the Way of Imposing Maximum Rates.

Washington, April 26.—Some of the administrative features of the tariff bill will be submitted to the senate finance committee tomorrow. They will include a substitute for the maximum and minimum features of the Payne bill which has been worked out by Chairman Aldrich and approved by the Republican members after having been perfected with the aid of Senators Root and Curtis and others who have given the subject careful study.

After Mr. Bailey had proceeded without interruption for over an hour, several senators engaged in a colloquy with him. Referring to Mr. Bailey's statement that the duties of the pending bill might be lowered 33 1/3 per cent, Mr. Aldrich asked whether he supposed that the profits of American industries might be seriously affected by such a reduction. Mr. Bailey replied that in the case of the United States Steel corporation he believed they had, and he cited the increased capitalization of that organization as evidence of enormous profits.

Mr. Bailey discussed his amendment providing for an income tax, which was criticized by Mr. Aldrich as tending to reduce the protection that would be given American labor if it should result in a proportionate decrease of the customs duties. Mr. Bailey favored restriction of immigration as protection to American labor. Mr. Aldrich retorted that while Mr. Bailey was ready to keep the foreign laborer from our shores, he was not adverse to allowing the product of this cheap labor to come in competition with the product of American workmen.

Mr. Bailey will resume tomorrow, when he will devote his attention to the purely legal aspect of an income tax law. Senator Knute Nelson's Views. Senator Knute Nelson, the acknowledged leader of the Republican insurgents in the senate, does not share the general impression that the pending fight between the high protectionists and the tariff-for-revenue element will delay the passage of the tariff bill. He believes that the tendency is to eliminate general debate and discuss the practical operation of specific schedules.

The Democrats in the senate are badly disorganized, said Senator Nelson today. "In all probability the high protectionists among them will vote with the Republicans, and work with them until the Democrats have incorporated in the bill protection on the schedules in which they are most interested, and then when they get what they want will vote against the entire bill."

This will be the record vote and keep them in good standing with their constituents, and at the same time get protection on the items they want protected. Take the schedules containing lumber, sugar, cotton and woolsens, and there are Democrats who will vote a high duty on them. There are some Democrats who will vote for the bill, however, for they are naturally high protectionists and have got interests to besides."

Senator Nelson has had another conference with President Taft and this has strengthened the growing belief that the Minnesota senator and his followers represent the real sentiment of the White House on how the tariff should be revised. This is having its effect.

SENATOR BAILEY DISCUSSES TARIFF

With Floor and Galleries Crowded and Mrs. Taft in Attendance, the Texan Denounces the Principle of Protection.

System Is Unfair in That It Takes Money from One Man to Give It to Another in Order to Encourage Him in the Pursuit of an Otherwise Unprofitable Business, He Says, Whereupon Issue Is Raised and Telling Points Are Scored Against Him.

Washington, April 26.—Denouncing the principle of the protective tariff as unfair in taking money from one man to give it to another in order to encourage him in the pursuit of an otherwise unprofitable business, Mr. Bailey, of Texas, in the senate today delivered a speech on the Democratic side in opposition to the pending tariff bill. Both floor and galleries were crowded. Mrs. Taft occupied a seat in the president's gallery.

After Mr. Bailey had proceeded without interruption for over an hour, several senators engaged in a colloquy with him. Referring to Mr. Bailey's statement that the duties of the pending bill might be lowered 33 1/3 per cent, Mr. Aldrich asked whether he supposed that the profits of American industries might be seriously affected by such a reduction. MARQUETTE, MICH., APRIL 27.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

After what happened to the tonnage tax bill in Minnesota it is a hardy legislator indeed who introduces one at Lansing.

As soon as our annual crop of spring snow storms is out of the way the teams of the Marquette-Alger county baseball league will begin to think of opening the season.

Seven indictments will, it is reported, the Jackson grand jury's crop.
Not a very heavy one, considering the work the jury has put in and the juridical tales of wholesale wrong-doing that have been in circulation.

Ten days ago Patten was the Wizard of the Wheat Pit, and pictures of his wife, children, house, automobile and Bog were being published in all the papers. Now he is only a mere man who will not slick enough to carry through the thing he started out with. Success or lack of success certainly makes a great difference in the public's way of looking at things.

The Warner liquor bill will, it is reported, pass the legislature. It is a restrictive measure applying many of the things found in the Ormsbee bill, on the house recently failed to agree on,
and appears to be acceptable to the warring interests. It provides for the reduction of saloons to the ratio of one to 500 population and has other provisions designed to put the business on a cleaner and better basis.

Director of the Census North and his superior, Secretary Nagel, are said to be seriously at odds, with the probability that North will have to go. It is alleged that North was frankly insubordinate, refusing to heed Secretary Nagel's instructions in regard to a certain matter. One official says the issue is the identity of the boss—to determine whether it is North or Nagel. If that's the case it appears that North's official head must hang by a mere shrod.

Horace J. Stevens' Copper Handbook for 1909 is now being distributed. To it the standard circus catch phrase, "bigger and better than ever" applies. It is compiled along the same lines as its predecessors in the series, but with all the information brought up to date. It answers all the questions that any sane man, or woman, is likely to ask about any copper mine that anyone ever heard of, and the information is authentic and exact. That is about all that could reasonably be asked in any copper handbook.

The refusals by prominent Americans of proffered important posts in the diplomatic service have in many cases likely been due to the disinclination, or inability, of the persons approached to undertake the heavy expenses involved, which the salary and allowances provided by the government are inadequate to defray.
There will be less trouble about getting these posts filled acceptably, as well as getting a greater range of choice, when congress finally sees the wisdom of supporting them in the manner in which they are supported by other first-class nations.

The Crystal Falls Diamond Drill joins
with the Iron Mountain Press in registering emphatic disapproval of the plan to detach Iron and Dickinson counties from the counties now making up the Twenty-fifth judicial circuit. The Drill says that Marquette, Dickinson and Iron counties, on account of their common mining interests and other things that serve to bind them together, should be continued in one circuit. If the bill for the re-districting of the circuits of the state is giving such dissatisfaction in the state at large as is noted in the Twenty-fifth circuit here is little chance that it will become a law.

The upper peninsula bowling association is, as a result of the highly successful tournament held in Marquette last week, on a firmer basis than ever before. It has adopted the standard constitution and by-laws recommended by the American Bowling congress and has formally affiliated itself with that organization. Interest in the sport was given an impetus throughout the upper peninsula by the representative participation in the Marquette tournament and by the excellent manner in which the event was handled by the Marquette committees. It is not too much to say that bowling has now been made the same standard sport in the upper peninsula that it has come to be in other parts of the country.

It will doubtless be well for the mining men of the upper peninsula to proceed to educate the lower Michigan members of the legislature who are not already sound on that point in regard to the inequities of the tonnage tax principle as a general proposition, and the inequities of the Farmer bill, in particular. There is, in fact, little danger that any tonnage tax bill will be made a law in Michigan this year, but it is well for the upper peninsula, which is specially singled out for attack by the Farmer bill, to be on guard. This Farmer measure has the same general features as the Minnesota tonnage tax bill which suffered a veto at Governor Johnson's hands, but goes considerably farther than that measure did. The same arguments, so admirably stated by Governor Johnson in his veto message, hold against it as held against the Minnesota bill. It proposes a discriminatory and special tax on a localized industry, and there is no basis of justice for it. It does not appear that the Farmer bill has been reported out. It may meet the fitting fate of death in committee. If it reaches the floor of the house perhaps a majority will have the good judgment to vote against it. In any event it is believed that it would meet with that fate in the senate. Even failing that, there would be every confidence that Governor Warner would, if the measure were submitted for his signature, have the strength and sound judgment to treat it as his distinguished fellow official, Governor Johnson of Minnesota, did, and give it its quietus by a ringing veto message. We have no idea that there is any serious probability that the Farmer bill will become a law. At the same time the upper peninsula should take nothing for granted, but at once proceed to register its emphatic disapapproval of the measure, and to submit a strong case outlining the injustice of its proposals.

CUBA'S INCREASING EXPENSES.
The reports from Cuba concerning the clashing of factions and rebellious outbreaks which were received during the month or six weeks following the inauguration of President Gomez were properly enough discounted in this country and caused little stir. The event proved that they were of small importance. The information that Cuba is in danger of a deficit, however, is more disturbing. If,
as reported, there is almost a certainty of a deficit of $12,000,000, owing to the "recruiting for the army and the huge increase in the public service," there is some reason to fear that Cuba is not as yet profiting by one of the lessons which the Magon administration took particular pains to impress.

In his final report, published last January, Governor Magon made a special case of the waste through superfluous
"personnel" from which Cuban finance had suffered in the past. The number of superfluous employees had become excessive. For example, in the province of Pinar del Rio the budget of the provincial council—a residuary authority of few powers—was $46,320, $31,280 of which was devoted to "personnel," only $5,000 to public improvements. "In other words," said Governor Magon, "the province of Pinar del Rio, out of a total of $46,320, paid $31,280 to administer the building of $5,000 worth of roads and the allowance of a few free scholarships."

It was our aim to reverse this situation as far as possible. The new laws enacted under the American administration fixed a limit upon the appropriations for salaries, and declared that a provincial council should have no more than eight members. Previously eight had been the minimum, while in some cases the number had been as high as twenty.
This change is but a minor illustration of what became our general policy, the keynote of which was the advancement of public improvements at the expense of "personnel."

The budget of 1906-07, as framed by the Cuban congress, was $21,728,396.
Despite the extraordinary costs due to revolutionary debts and the reestablishment of peace and order, the two budgets of the provincial government were but little in excess of this. The budget for 1907-08 was $23,309,539; that for 1908-09 was $24,285,203. If Cuba is in danger of a deficit of $12,000,000 for the next fiscal year, supposing the receipts to be about the same as those for 1908-09, this means that the expenditure side of her budget is to be increased by more than half. We are loath to believe that this is true, and trust that the inference is not justified. Still, if it should be true, conclusions must not be drawn too hastily. Cuba is entering upon a new order, and the initial expense may not unreasonably be something out of the ordinary. There is at least the possibility that the increased expenditure comes as a demonstration that the upbuilding work of our provisional occupation was much more fruitful and beneficial than we yet realized.

ful drugs and is in a yellow package.

Horace J. Stevens, of Houghton, Mich., is at hand. It is an octavo volume of 1,500 pages, in briefer type, but by slight increases in the width and height of the printed matter on each page, together with a reduction in the binding, but without using a smaller face of type, each page carries one-third more matter than formerly, and the new edition, with only 1,500 pages, contains one-half more matter than the preceding edition, which had 1,228 pages.

The principal chapter of the book, devoted to detailed descriptions of the copper mines of the globe, has 1,185 pages, describing no less than 4,767 copper mines and copper companies, in all parts of the world, comparing with 4,927 listed in the preceding edition. This long chapter, which was unrevised in volume VII, owing to fire, recidant and illness, has been completely rewritten, even the obituaries of the defunct companies having been improved by the addition of more complete statistics.

Copper is considered under a great variety of heads, in the preliminary chapters of the book, these giving, in non-technical but correct languages, a vast amount of information relating to the geology and mineralogy of copper and copper ores, with chapters devoted to mining, including smelting, leaching and refining, and yet other chapters treating of the history of the metal, brands, grades, substitutes and uses.
The very complete glossary of mining terms is reprinted from Vol. VII. The final chapter, devoted to statistics, is the most complete and compendious given in any work dealing with the subject, whether issued officially or privately, and its authority has been recognized officially and by the copper trade.

It is rarely that a single work is found of such general importance to such a great diversity of interests as is the Copper Handbook, which is practically an encyclopedia of the entire subject of copper, and, as such, is of equal interest to miner, metallurgist, refiner, producer and consumer. To the investor or speculator in copper shares,
it is as nearly indispensable as a work of reference can become. As usual, the Copper Handbook is exceedingly frank in its comments, and the descriptions of mining companies considered by the author to be dishonest, are marked by the utmost limit of plain-speaking. That seven preceding editions, embodying language of the same tartness, have appeared without a single libel suit being brought into court, though many going companies are branded as swindlers, is evidence that Mr. Stevens, notwithstanding the fact that he is not a millionaire, is not afraid to speak the truth. His ground in making such scathing arraignments as are contained in this and the past editions of his book.

The price of the Copper Handbook is five dollars, in a strong green buckram binding, and selling price, upon inspection of the book is anyone ordering it, from any part of the globe, without a penny in advance, the publisher prepaying carriage charges, and allowing the purchaser a week's inspection, and accepting the return of the book in settlement of the charge. It is upon inspection of the book that the purchaser may return it if not satisfactory. That this plan is successful is proven by the fact that it has been followed for six consecutive years, and that the Copper Handbook now circulates in every country that has a postage stamp of its own, and is claimed, by the author, to be the most successful of all the mining handbooks ever published in any language. Anyone interested in copper, or copper shares, can well afford to write Mr. Stevens, ordering a copy of the Copper Handbook, without advance payment, and subject to approval after a week's inspection.

RETREAT? NEVER!
In an Irish garrison town a theatrical company was giving performances, and some soldiers from the local barracks were engaged to act as superns. Each dramatic included the part of a hero fighting which, after a retiring struggle one army was defeated on a given signal from the prompter. For a few nights all went well, but on the Friday evening a special performance of the piece was to be given under the patronage of the colonel and other officers of the garrison.
The second act, when they fought and fought and kept on fighting, regardless of the agonized glare in the eye of their (actor) general, who hoarsely ordered the proper army to "Retreat, retreat, and retreat," but the night still went on, and the horrified manager saw the wrong army being driven slowly off the stage, still fighting desperately. Down came the curtain amid roars of laughter, and the fuming manager hastened to ask the delinquents why they had failed to retreat on hearing the signal.
"Retreat," roared a burly fustier, whose visage had been badly battered,
"and is it retreat we've had, wid the colonel and all the officers in the boxes?"
—Tit-Bits.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE
That chronic Bright's Disease is now being cured by treatment that reduces inflammation in the kidneys is beginning to be generally known, and a man who has been cured of it is now a hero.
We copy the following from the San Francisco Bulletin, June 22, 1908:
"The recovery is reported by Mr. Z.
Lawton, of 264 Fifth avenue, San Francisco. The case is especially interesting, due to the fact that books declare chronic Bright's Disease incurable and five city physicians had passed on and diagnosed the case. The usual symptoms found in extreme cases were reported—excessive drowsy, enlarged heart and towards the last the patient could only sleep sitting up, and for six weeks he slept in a chair.
Lawton had a cousin, Mrs. E. Hoover, of Auburn, who also had an advanced case of Bright's Disease. She had been tapped three times when she heard of Fulton's Renal Compound and made a full recovery. This interested Lawton in the treatment and it resulted in his recovery also. He is a Mason, a member of Excelsior lodge, and many members will recollect his serious predicament and that they thought they would be called on to pass him over."
Parties desiring to know more of this treatment can get full literature by addressing the John J. Fulton company, San Francisco, Cal.
Fulton's Renal Compound can be had
in your city or our agent.—The Stafford Drug Co.

We desire every patient to write us
if he is not noting the usual improvement by the third week.

A LAUGH OR TWO.
A "Murphy" Story.
Kansas newspapers are "passing out"
this story which is going the rounds, and the unanimous verdict is that it is good.
It is to the effect that a trucke-faced girl stopped at the postoffice and yelled out:
"Anything for the Murphys?"
"No, there is not."
"Anything for Jane Murphy?"
"Nothing."
"Anything for Ann Murphy?"
"No."
"Anything for Tom Murphy?"
"No."
"Anything for Bob Murphy?"
"No."
"Anything for Terry Murphy?"
"No, nor for Pat Murphy, nor Dennis Murphy, nor for Murphy—dead, living, born or unborn, native or foreign,
civilized or uncivilized, savage or barbarous, male or female, black or white, franchised or unfranchised, naturalized or otherwise. No, there is positively nothing for any of the Murphys, either individually, jointly, severally, now and forever, one and inseparable."

WEALTH IN EARTH'S DEPTHS.
Camille Flammarion Proposes Digging
Well Several Miles Deep.
In the Herald of Dec. 30 last I brought up again the idea which I had expounded a long time ago of digging a geothermic well to explore the internal constitution of the globe. Now, that the effervescence produced by the catastrophe at Messina has calmed a little, requests have come to me from many quarters to exactly describe my plans. With great pleasure I accede to these requests.
The plan is to dig as deeply as possible straight down from the earth's surface to find an economic and almost inexhaustible source of heat, to varyify
the rate of caloric increase, to find out if the materials constituting the terrestrial globe are in a state of fusion—in a word, to do rationally and directly what has been done slightly and a little by chance up to the present time in mines.
Suppose that this work were undertaken. As the well must be very deep, it must be very wide, and I imagine that a circle of 200 meters in diameter would be sufficient. Where should the earth taken out be thrown? Into the sea. However, this well must not be dug on the seacoast on account of the danger from marine infiltration, but on a plain at a distance of several kilometers and approximately at the level of the sea. For this reason Belgium, Holland, or the French district of Les Landes, might be chosen. As for the debris, it could be taken away by rail to the place destined for dumping it.
The idea of digging a well to a depth of four, five or six kilometers or deeper appears, without doubt, a little foolish.
What about the money for the realization of this foolish project? This prodigious undertaking should not increase by even one cent the budget of the civilized countries which would take part in this work. Soldiers could be employed and a foreign legion of a new order could be established, whose mission it would be to explore the interior of the earth.
And who knows what riches, what curiosities geological and paleontological might not be revealed by this investigation into subterranean depths?
Iron mines, mines of precious metals,
forms of gold, platinum and silver;
radium, fossils from the most ancient times, without speaking of all the unknown world which lies in those abysses.
And, above all, geology would thus follow in the footsteps of her elder sister—astronomy. Is it not a little humiliating to have brought the stars
into our range of vision by the power of the telescope, to have measured their distances, to have weighed and analyzed them, and yet to remain in ignorance of what lies at a few kilometers under our feet.—New York World.

TO MAKE HENS LAY.
Mr. Timmons Puts an Original Idea
Into Practice.
"I got all these to-day," said Mrs. Timmons, holding out her apron and showing seven fresh eggs. Mr. Timmons said nothing. There was nothing for him to say. He knew why Mrs. Timmons showed him the seven eggs, because she had been showing him eggs daily since the warm weather began.
It was just her way of protesting against his having paid $5 each for a dozen fine fowl which would thanklessly eat large quantities of fancy foods; as
"thankless" as humble yard and hen, especially made for them, and which produced two eggs per week for the lot.
Mrs. Timmons, on the other hand, had bought eight hens and a nondescriptlooking rooster from a farm wagon that passed. They were a badly assorted lot of hens, no two alike, but they were grateful for the occasional handful of

THE NEW RELIGION.
When Bishop Phillips Brooks sailed
from America on his last trip to Europe, a friend jokingly remarked that while abroad he might discover some new religion to bring home with him. "But be careful of it, Bishop Brooks," remarked a listening friend; "it may be difficult to get your new religion through the customhouse."
"I guess not," replied the bishop laughingly, "for we may take it for granted that any new religion popular enough to import will have no duties attached to it."—Boston Herald.

RELICS OF OLD PERU.
One of the most notable discoveries regarding the early history of Peru has recently been made by Hewitt Myring, an English antiquarian. He collected 2,000 specimens of pottery and weapons of the ancient Peruvians. Remains and relics of the early inhabitants of Peru, which are said by archaeologists to date from 4000 to 7000 B. C., were found by Mr.
Myring under an old Inca burying ground when he was exploring in the mountains about 200 miles inland from Lima. Each grave contained the remains of food and glazed clay jugs. The most valuable portion of this discovery of antiquities consists of the great urns, some of them six feet long and so heavy
that it required three men to carry them.
They were found buried beside mummy cases, and the majority of them had the features of the dead man or woman delicately carved either on the upper part of the urn or on a solid stand beneath.—Scientific American.

NO SUCH PEOPLE.
The automobile industry has enriched the English language by a variety of terms which cannot be found in dictionaries published only a few years ago,
but which are today household words.
With one of the most common, however,
a certain Massachusetts postmaster is apparently unfamiliar.
An enthusiastic automobilist who lives in Philadelphia had it in mind to visit some southern New England, and wished to make a stay of several days in one of the most interesting of the old towns along the Massachusetts coast.
He was not certain that the town contained accommodations for storing his car, and accordingly he wrote the postmaster to ask whether there were any garages there. In a few days he received the reply:
"Dear Sir: Your favor of the 12th inst.
had, and in reply I have to say that no person of the name gets any mail at this office. The nearest to it is a table scraps she gave them, and each laid practically daily. It was maddening.

Sitting in his office next day Mr. Timmons had an idea. It was not an original idea, but he believed it would help things along. He would buy a few eggs and place them in his nests, thereby not only deceiving Mrs. Timmons, but encouraging his hens to lay.
Then evening he took an old negro into his confidence, the agreement being that every evening he was to slip in the back-gate and place eleven eggs in the nests.
"Well," said Mrs. Timmons next morning, "you old hens have waked up. I went back there and they'd laid eleven eggs."
"Sure enough," said Mr. Timmons de-lightedly. "My're remarkable layers." Next day it was the same. A couple of days later Mrs. Timmons came to him with the eggs in her apron.
"Those are the most remarkable hens I ever saw," she said. "I wish mine were like them."
"It pays to get good stock," said Mr.
Timmons grandly. "Why, there is a world of difference between my birds and those mongrels you have."
"I should say there is," agreed Mrs.
Timmons. "Why, your eleven hens have laid fourteen eggs to-day, and one of them is a goose egg."
"Hah, hah!" chuckled Mr. Timmons, secretly. "Somebody's let some other hen in that pen. They'd better let my birds alone or I'll kill somebody."—Galveston

Surprising What Kodol Will Do
For you, when you need it. But the longer you neglect Indigestion the more you will suffer.
And, of course, indigestion if neglected long enough, brings on serious diseases in which Kodol cannot benefit you. Some of these there is no help for at all. There are, in fact, very few ailments which cannot be traced directly to impaired blood. And impure blood is always due to a disordered stomach. Use Kodol and prevent Nervous Dyspepsia. Kodol will effectually assist Nature to secure a complete restoration of good digestion. It does this by at once digesting all food in the stomach and keeping it digested, until the stomach is rested and can resume its own work. Kodol removes the cause—and the effect quickly removes itself.
When it is recalled that Apoplexy,

Heart Disease, Cancer—and even Consumption—are due to poor digestion and poisons thus transmitted to the blood, and throughout the system—the importance of maintaining good digestion is at once realized. We know what Kodol would do before even the first bottle was sold. If we did not know just what it will do, we would not guarantee it the way we do. Every

Copper Country

INDOOR BASEBALL SUPREMACY.

Copper Country Teams in a War of Words Over Honors.

One of the great public questions that remain unsettled in the copper country is the indoor baseball championship. The Hancock Elks and Hibernians are fighting for the city championship now playing the second game tonight, and the Hibernians announce that later they will play the South Range all-star team for the county championship. The Calumet Y. M. C. A. team, in the meantime, considers itself the champion not only of Calumet and Houghton county, but of the upper peninsula and probably a part of Wisconsin. Both the South Range and Hibernians have been defeated by the Y. M. C. A. and the management of that team, after making that statement, continues its deft thrust.

"Then came the all-star team from South Range and the visitors were trounced after an exciting nine innings by but one run. But then an official of the South Range league makes the statement that it was not the all-star team that Calumet defeated.

"Now, again, the Y. M. C. A. team claims the championship, not only of Houghton county, but of the whole upper peninsula. All teams of any note in the peninsula have shown challenge, and all, alike, have refused to play. The performances of the Y. M. C. A. nine during past years and up to date this season have been well advertised and none of the other teams seem to wish to try conclusions with Calumet. Even the undefeated Double H team refuses a game. Now any other team that wishes to clinch the championship has only to trim the Y. M. C. A. aggression. Games can be arranged by communicating with physical Director Sherwood of the Calumet Y. M. C. A."

But if it ever quits snowing in the copper country the outdoor ball season will start and this championship question will probably have to wait the return of another winter.

FLOWER SHOW FOR HOUGHTON.

Woman's Club Will Co-Operate With the Public Schools.

Superintendent John A. Doelle of the Houghton schools has issued a circular to the teachers as follows:

"At our request the Flower Mission of Cleveland, O., has sent information and suggestions on Children's Gardens to all of our grade teachers. We desire the co-operation of the teachers in securing another trial of the work we started last spring. Last spring was ill adapted to the growth of flowers because of the drought, hence we will have to overcome the indifference of our pupils toward the movement.

"The Woman's club of Houghton will co-operate with us this year. They have arranged to visit those growing flowers so that prizes may be awarded. They will also conduct the flower show during the fall in some favorable date. The list of prizes will be announced later.

"Will teachers kindly present the matter to their pupils and after securing the order for seeds hand the same to the principal. The margin of profit on these seeds is so small that they request us to send in a combined order, thus reducing the expense of shipment."

Mr. Doelle in his circular also calls attention to a Turner Art exhibit to be held in the Central building April 29 and 30 and May 1. These exhibits have been held in Houghton before and always prove very entertaining and attractive. The proceeds are used to procure works of art for the local schools and the patronage has always been liberal.

TONNAGE TAX BILL.

Copper Country People Will Fight Proposed Legislation.

Copper country people are greatly interested in the proposed law to impose a tonnage tax on copper and iron ore. It is believed here to be a scheme of the state grange to add unjustly to the taxation burdens of the copper and iron countries. Thus far nothing definite has been done in the matter of protesting to the legislature, but something will be done. The representatives from the copper country in the legislature will undoubtedly be backed up in their fight against the bill by every proper influence which the people of the copper country counties can bring to bear. And it is believed that one measure to be taken will be a retaliatory bill which will show the farmer legislators the injustice of this bill by giving them a taste of similar medicine.

HOUGHTON BOWLERS RETURN.

The Houghton bowlers who participated in the Marquette tournament returned Sunday. They were delighted with the treatment received at Marquette and especially at the showing they made in the tournament, taking second place. One of the members of the team says that they should have had first place had they held themselves together, but that the prospect of getting away with the honors in the first tournament in which they have ever played was too much for them and they lost their nerve. The Houghton team calls the tournament a big success, and the members as well as all other local bowlers are delighted at the fact that Houghton has been selected as the place for holding the tournament next year.

Houghton Capitalist Will Build Magnificent Summer Residence.

H. L. Ottenheimer, the Chicago architect, who is responsible for the Douglas House, Citizens' bank, Sheldon-Dee and other buildings in Houghton, arrived yesterday for the purpose of laying out the ground for a new bungalow which James R. Dee is to erect on his property east of Houghton. Mr. Dee is in present in Europe and little is being said regarding the building, but it is known that it will be an imposing structure, a substantial residence though of the bungalow type.

Mr. Dee last year created a park on the lake shore east of Houghton, where he lived in his houseboat, using the park, private bathing beach and paddling for the amusement of his friends. He purchased during the summer a site somewhat back from the lake and here will locate the new summer home. It will be a two-story frame structure 71 by 35 feet in general dimensions. The outer walls will be finished in rubble concrete and in general the structure will be somewhat elaborately ornamented.

SUMMER RESORT SEASON.

Superior Beach and White City to Have Excursion Boats.

The steamer Plowboy, which has conducted an excursion business on Portage lake for several seasons past, will again run excursions between Houghton and Hancock and the White City, the latter being George Hocking's Portage excursion resort. Mr. Hocking is making many improvements at his resort and expects a big business this winter. The Plowboy is being fitted with an electric light plant this spring and will thus be in better condition than ever for night excursions. Captain Walter Lloyd, an old Portage lake mariner, will sail her this season.

Dan Ashburn, proprietor of the Superior Beach resort at the Canal, has just completed a contract for the use of the pleasure craft Uarda, Captain Syd Scott, of Detroit, and the Hennes barge and tug of Houghton for excursions between his resort and Houghton and Hancock. Captain Scott says that he is now busy making the vessel ready for the summer and will be here, ready to start making trips by June 1. The Uarda is a pleasure craft of a large type that has been operated on Portage lake before. It is licensed to carry 300 passengers. Mr. Ashburn has just completed work on the foundation for his new dancing pavilion at Superior Beach and will rush the construction work to completion.

MAY LOSE THE COUNTY FAIR.

Encroachments of Business House Cuts Off Stock Ground.

There is a possibility that the Copper Country Fair may have to show in some town other than Houghton hereafter. The fair has heretofore been held at the Amphidrome and adjoining ground, but the Peninsula Wholesale Grocery's new building will take up almost the entire plot of ground used by the fair for stock exhibition and unless some ground directly adjoining the Amphidrome can be secured for the purpose the fair will have to move.

The Agricultural society gives this matter a lot of thought. It is believed that the fair could undoubtedly get good concessions from Laurium, where the Palestra would be a magnificent exposition building and where there are splendid grounds. But Houghton is not likely to let the fair get away and something will probably be done this year.

PORPHYRY COPPER MINES.

A Review of Successful Work in So-Called Low Grade Properties.

During the last four or five years the mines of copper disseminated in porphyry have been discussed amply. Their fruition has been slow because they have been developed on an unparalleled scale. However, some of them have become productive, one of them is paying dividends, and we can begin to see more clearly how the estimates are going to be borne out. In the first place let us call attention to the fallacy of referring to these as "low-grade mines." As compared to a mine like the Padrosa, which yields ore of 39 per cent copper, they are indeed of low grade, but as compared to those of Lake Superior they average well. Then ore is capable of cheap mining; the first metallurgical process to which they are subject, viz., milling is the cheapest of all methods of treatment, and when their mineral undergoes the more costly smelting, the bulk has been reduced so greatly that the cost referred to the crude ore is not very much. The real low grade mines are those like the Grandy, whereof all the ore must be smelted.

Of the porphyry mines that have reached the productive stage, Nevada Consolidated is the shining light. With respect to grade of the ore, facility of mining, excellence in concentration, and performance of the smelter it appears that the engineering estimates are going to be verified, including that of a production-cost of 7 cents per pound of wet-operating expense. Its neighbor, Cumberland-Ely, also is doing well, but has so much smaller a reserve that it hardly can be considered in the same class.

At Bingham, the Utah Copper company has become a large producer, already paying dividends, which doubtless will be increased even at the present price for copper. This company certainly is to be pronounced a success. Its management always has been conservative in its public expression of opinion, and what it has indicated has been achieved approximately. Yet it probably has fallen a little bit short of what really was expected; not as to tonnage of ore, but rather as to cost of production. However, the Utah Copper company is on the whole the showing is such to indicate a continuity which will mean much in tonnage to the Michigan.

At the Atlantic, exploratory work in the Section 16 shaft is being extended and the holes so far have been shattered and show little regularity. Occasionally a rich stretch of ground is entered, only to be lost again. At one time it was believed that the Atlantic would get as good a showing as its neighbor the Balfie, but the developments so far have not substantiated this belief. The management is not discouraged in the least, but proposes to continue its present policy. No mill run has been made for several months. The company is earning about $3,000 to $4,000 monthly from its ratiocore stamping and store. The weakness in Atlantic during the past week or two has been due to talk of an assessment in the near future. If a call is made it is likely to be about $2 per share payable in two installments of $1 each. No authoritative announcement on the subject has been made by the company so far.

VEST PRESIDENT WITH GREATER AUTHORITY.

Important Changes Proposed in Tariff Administration.

Committee on Finance Favors Transferring to Taft Some Privileges Heretofore Considered Strictly Senate Prerogatives—Plans Especially to Meet Moves of Germany and France.

Washington, April 26.—President Taft will be vested with enormous powers by the administrative customs act of the new tariff bill, if the idea of Senator Aldrich and other leaders are embodied in the law. Senator Aldrich is said to regard the maximum and minimum feature as one of the most important in the whole bill. He is conscious, as to what should constitute a discrimination, that the bill will bring results in that particular, and the new draft which the committee in finance will submit within a few days is expected almost to transfer to President Taft some of the powers which heretofore have been jealously guarded as senate prerogatives.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

N. P. Pratt, a sulphuric acid manufacturer from Atlanta, and W. P. Heath, an expert chemist, are at the Washoe smelter as special agents for the government to investigate feasibility of establishing a plant for the manufacture of sulphuric acid, to determine if it can be done on a commercial basis. The object is to rid the smelter smoke of substances that are poisonous to vegetation. The Washoe people have contended that such a plant would be impracticable. Several officers of the Samitona Copper company of Japan are also at the Washoe investigating smelter problems. The Japanese company has trouble with farmers similar to that encountered at the Washoe.

"Have out a vein five feet wide, heavily leached in iron, in the shaft." The above telegram was received at the home office of the Superior & Globe Mining company and was supplemented later by the following telegram: "Some copper veins in iron, indications favor the mine. The news soon became known by devotees of the Calumet brokerage offices, and there was an immediate demand for the stock. The appearance of iron in shallow workings is regarded as almost sure sign of the proximity of copper in Globe. The Calumet officials of the company are pleased with the news and are optimistic as to the future. The shaft will have attained a depth of 200 feet or more before the end of the month.

Reports from the Michigan are to the effect that the twelve-foot vein has been opened in the vein Lee and it promises to have an important influence on the future of this property. In the days when the old Minnesota worked this vein there was a fine showing of mass copper for a time and it is forty years since any work was done there. Now the vein is well mineralized from foot to hanging wall where opened in the adit. What is more important the same vein is opened in workings which extend from the Calico ledge openings. Although the openings at this lower point are not so rich nor is the vein so wide in mineralized ground as in the adit opening above.

Farm Products Suffer Most.

Neither are tariff discriminations necessarily all that bad as considered by the United States government in determining whether or not sufficient discrimination exists to warrant the penalty of the maximum rates. Local and administrative regulations often exist which are as effective as a prohibitive duty, yet which require the knowledge of experience to understand and explain. The proposed tariff commission or bureau, which is almost a certainty, is a necessary adjunct of a double tariff system, and it is not to be expected that power enough, in the Aldrich bill at least, to make it at all a rival of congress, but it will be a step in the right direction, in the opinion of the great Western farming interest, which now suffers most from foreign restrictions.

Live stock raising is a public industry of the agricultural United States. Faria products, particularly grain, have long been upon an export basis, while the export of cattle and meats is the great safety valve of the cattle raising interests. Without a foreign outlet for farm products, prices must be endangered, transportation lines will suffer and "bad times" will be threatened. A steady and profitable market for farm products, it may be axiomatic to say, lies at the basis of our national prosperity.

With the admitted necessity for some legislative device whereby the United States can be ensured fair treatment of her products in the markets of the world, the public, outside certain trade lines, knows little of the discriminations practiced against them. One of the most important was the interdiction, some years ago, by France and Germany of the trade in cattle from the United States intended for slaughter. The excuse was that such prohibition was necessary as a sanitary precaution, and under reasonable governmental regulations. Upon these terms two countries buy Western cattle in the Chicago market alone to the value of thirty-five million dollars a year. The traffic is conducted with practically no loss in profit, and no loss of life or health has been communicated to either man or

Sanders Explains the Situation.

Alvin H. Sanders of Chicago, editor of the Breeders Gazette and chairman of the executive committee of the American Reciprocal Tariff league, is in Washington this week, and in a brief submitted to the committee on finance pointed out the exact situation with respect to foreign discriminations. The document has been seized upon with interest by the committee, which has been anxious for definite information upon a subject of which too little is known. Mr. Sanders makes a pertinent point relative to the prohibitions of France and Germany by showing how Canada has just managed to red France out of her unkindly position by means of a new commercial agreement, which the French senate has just ratified. In the case of Germany, he says, where the people are known to be quite meat supply, assurances were given at the time the recent temporary agreement was entered into that in certain eventualities the matter of the modification of the restrictions against American cattle and meats would be made the subject of special understanding.

Mr. Sanders cites many examples of the tariff and cunningly devised "sanitary" restrictions which have closed a large European market to American tacking house products. Dressed beef from America is a favorite article, such is entirely prohibited from entering France except in carcasses with certain viscera attached. Germany has also this latter requirement generally in force against all countries. While on its face this restriction is not discriminatory, in actual practice it permits of the introduction of Austrian, Swiss, Holland and Danish beef and at the same time eliminates our own, for obvious reasons.

SMALL ARMS IN SCHOOLS.

Teaching the Young Ideas How to Shoot Is Commended.

Captain Wise of Brookline Speaks of the Good Results of Practice—He Expects the Boston Board to Introduce the System.

Washington, April 26.—Captain Stuart W. Wise of Brookline, inspector of small arms practice of the Sixth regiment, M. V. M., has been in Washington in attendance as one of the range officers upon the annual Schoolboy Rifle shooting tournament. Captain Wise is an enthusiast over the use of the 22-caliber rifle by schoolboys, and presents a rather vivid picture of the shocked parent who exclaims at the thought of his son "playing with firearms."

"It is not a case of playing with firearms," said Captain Wise. "For instance, during the Sportsman's show in Boston we had a schoolboy school under the auspices of the New England Military Rifle association. We set up eight targets, which were to be available from 10:30 a. m. to 10:20 p. m. We figured that most of the time some of the targets would be unused, although they might all be kept busy during the rush hours. What was our amazement when some fourteen high schools sent in shooting delegations. Every target was taken at the opening, and not one was idle during the whole day and evening. A most gratifying feature was the presence of scores of fathers and mothers, who continually approached the officers in charge of the range and requested us to show their sons how to use the rifle; how to hold it, and how to handle it without danger to themselves or others.

"That is the great advantage of training high school boys, but much less damage is likely to result among boys who have been trained to handle their guns properly. We have a shooting class in the Brookline High school, and other schools in Massachusetts also have taken up rifle shooting. The Boston school board seems to be encouraging the range, but no doubt they will be introduced in time."

According to Captain Wise, rifles are not furnished the boys by the city or state in high schools where shooting has been instituted. They are furnished by the parents, and the captain says, a good rifle may be bought for $8. The regulation military rifle of twenty-two calibre costs about double that, but it is usually found too heavy for most of the young marksmen.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regular graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Ice Looked Solid—Captain C. M. York, who went out at the Soo last week, says that when he left, the ice in Whitefish bay was still solid and it looked as if it would be some time before the large fleet of waiting boats got through. The south wind yesterday, however, following the wet snow storm, may break it up rapidly. In order to hold the crews intact, the boatmen are not allowed to take any money with them on shore, a rule against which the men protest most vigorously. Many of the boats are manned with "scab" engineers and firemen, he says, there being few union carriers' association. There are now between seventy-five and 100 boats at the Soo waiting for the ice to break up.

Baby Show at Bijou—Considerable interest has been aroused among Marquette mothers over the baby show to be held at the Bijou next week. The object of the show is to determine who has the prettiest baby in Marquette. The usual plan of asking a committee to decide will not be followed, but the public will be called upon to decide. The baby does not have to appear in person, either. Their pictures will be flashed upon the curtain, separately, occupying the whole canvas, 12x16 feet. Each picture will be numbered (no names being used) and the audience will be provided with voting slips upon which to place the number of their choice. A box into which votes may be deposited will be placed at the door. The contest will last one week, and three prizes will be awarded to the three babies receiving the greatest number of votes. Three disinterested business men will count the ballots and award the prizes. Already twenty-two pictures have been received. The entry list will be held open until Friday evening of this week. The age limit is two years.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.

DEATH OF WM. HAMBLY.

As the result of an attack of ptomaine poisoning, Wm. Hambly, a well-known and highly respected citizen of Marquette, died at 2 o'clock this morning, after an illness of only a few hours. He lived at the corner of Division street and Blenheim avenue. Mr. Hambly was aged about forty-five, was married, and was a carpenter by trade. He was the choice of the Central Labor union for elderman from the First ward, during the recent campaign, but did not make the run.

Upper Peninsula

Revival Successful—

As the result of a revival conducted by Evangelist Sheldon and his co-worker, Singer McEwan, between 200 and 300 conversions have been made at Munising. A children's parade was one of the notable features. On this occasion hundreds of school children—led by the city band—marched through the principal streets, carrying United States flags and banners.

Cattle Insurance Society—

At the annual meeting of the Scandinavian Cattle Insurance association of Iron Mountain, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Eric Hager; vice president, Ole Hassell; secretary, A. R. Johnson; treasurer, August A. J. Anderson; inspector, Ole Hassell; finance committee, Paul Nelson, J. Jacobson. The association has a membership of over one hundred and has 125 milch cows insured.

Grist Mill Project—

The Business Men's association of Newberry held a meeting some days ago, to consider ways and means for procuring a grist mill. The project had been taken up before but nothing definite was accomplished. A proposition was submitted by Rev. Levi Bird in behalf of one of his Eastern friends relative to his locating a mill at Newberry. Mr. Bird had had some work done among the farmers and a bonus of $400 was subscribed with a canvass still to be made among the farmers of Mackinac county and some in Lake Superior. It is hoped that a bonus of $1,000 will be raised among the farmers. With this showing, the matter was presented to the business men of Newberry. It was the unanimous sentiment that a mill be procured if possible. A committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions and at last accounts about $1,300 had been subscribed. It is the intention of the Business Men's association to carry the project into effect. In case a flour mill cannot be procured, there is considerable sentiment for organizing a stock company to build and operate a feed mill with an elevator in connection, to buy and handle all farm produce and to exchange flour for wheat.

Concerning Senator Fowle—

"In the eyes of his colleagues in the legislature," says a Grand Rapids newspaper, "Senator Otto Fowle of the Soo not only represents Michigan's Thirtieth senatorial district, but the very best and highest type of American manhood. Just last week, after fighting hard on the floor to defeat an important bill, engaging in heated argument over the main issue, Senator Fowle was shown where the bill was in the interest of better government, and he did what has rarely in the history of the legislature been recorded, publicly announced the error of his position and turned in to help the measure through. Out of sheer confidence in the senator from the Thirtieth the bill was hanging fire. When he acknowledged his error the tide turned in a moment.

"Senator Fowle is a rare musician. Before his business and before almost all else in the world he ranks good music. His home in the Soo shelters a big grand piano, a rare old 'cello and clear down the list of real musical instruments in brass, reed and string to a real Cremona violin which dates back to the Seventeenth century and which came into the senator's family almost 100 years ago. In his music cabinet will be found one of the most complete musical libraries in the state. The senator is an adept on almost any standard instrument, a student of harmony and a vocalist of more than ordinary ability. But his chief love is the 'cello and it is to this rare instrument he owes the fact that he is alive and well. Years ago his health failed and the doctors packed him to the north woods and gave him just a chance that the climatic change and absolute quiet might save him. It was one of those troubles that undermine human will power, produce despondency and very often lead the victim to choose a short, violent release from trouble. It was then that Senator Fowle got his 'cello. He put his whole heart into the instrument. He evolved special devices of springs and elastics for exercising and stretching his fingers. He practiced hours and it was the vibrating old instrument always between his owner and the deadly melancholia. Gradually the instrument won. Strength and health came back. But in the battle Fowle became a musician of remarkable ability. It is still one of the chief parts of his life. He reads and travels in its interest and is an inexhaustible fund of historical knowledge and anecdotes picked up in his wanderings over the world.

"Besides his music he is an artist and a photographer. He has a collection of fine pictures and is a connoisseur in art. His photographic equipment is right up to date. Not satisfied with the ordinary type of camera he procured and used one of the big reflecting focal-plate shutter machines for the highest speed photography.

The first deposit is almost always the hardest to make. There are a number of reasons for this. Many people do not realize that a bank means what it says when it says:

"We Welcome Small Depositors."

A great many think that a bank only does business with rich people. This is not the case with the Marquette National Bank. We have hundreds of accounts that started very humbly. The same courtesies are extended to the depositor with a small amount as to the larger depositor.

WOOD AS CHIEF OF STAFF.

Will Succeed Major General Bell, Who is Going to the Philippines.

Washington, April 26.—Major General Leonard Wood, now in command of the military department of the East, with headquarters at Governors Island, N. Y., will be the next chief of staff of the army. General Wood will succeed Major General J. Franklin Bell, whose resignation to his present office was announced immediately after the inauguration of the new administration. General Bell, however, has decided to remain here but a few months, and some time next spring will be transferred to Manila, where he will have command of the troops stationed in the Philippine archipelago. The departure of General Bell from Washington will be unquestionably a serious loss to the military service and to the administration. His work as chief of staff has been of the highest character and has resulted in an increase in the efficiency of the entire army.

General Wood's career has been one of the most remarkable in the history of the United States. He was born in New Hampshire, studied medicine, and in 1886 was appointed as assistant surgeon. He participated in the Indian wars, notably in pursuit of Geronimo. General Wood was a captain and assistant surgeon when the outbreak of the war with Spain, in company with Theodore Roosevelt, he organized what was known as the Rough Riders regiment. He later received a commission as major general of volunteers, and in 1901 was appointed brigadier general in the regular establishment. General Wood will become the senior officer of the army as the result of the retirement on June 2 next of Major General Arthur MacArthur, now on waiting orders. Thus he has done in less than three years what General MacArthur accomplished in forty, and other officers in quite as long a time.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s correspondent at New York yesterday telegraphed as follows:

"Nothing unfavorable having transpired over Sunday, the feeling during the early trading was slightly improved, but the usual Monday rumor of a probable decision in the commodity case of the Hepburn bill induced heavy realizing in leading, which unsettled the stock market generally. The Harri mans were also sold aggressively, and some public liquidation was noted in view of the fear that call rates are likely to harden during the next few days, as the May disbursements aggregating about twenty millions will necessitate considerable shifting of loans. Washington reports were favorably construed in view of rumors to the effect that the present administration is likely to adopt McKimley's policy and future official action be marked by the necessary and considerable short selling was indulged in during the last hour, and although further declines may be recorded, there are not, as yet, any indications of an abandonment of the plan for higher prices by large interests."

Table of market prices for various commodities including copper, silver, and gold. Columns include item names and their respective prices.

Boston Stock Quotations.

Writing from Boston yesterday, Paine, Webber & Co. had the following to say of the stock market: "The feature of the local market today was the sharp break in North Butte. The stock opened relatively strong this morning at 93, but heavy selling soon came in and the price broke to 53 1/2, closing on the bottom. The decline was steady all day with scarcely a halt point rally at any time during the session. Stop orders were caught on each point down, and frightened holders on margin were obliged to sell. There was no evidence of any support, and it certainly looks as if the stock would go lower tomorrow. The balance of the list that Cole and Ryan are becoming interested in Davis-Daly. If they are that is only further evidence of the spread of the Amalgamated-Cole-Ryan control of the mining situation in Butte. It is also reported here, coming from ordinarily credible sources, that the Amalgamated company will eventually be found to own and control the Pittsburg & Montana—Paine, Webber & Co.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, April 26.—Although the break in wheat today caused some weakness in the corn market for a time, the prices rallied sharply, owing to a brisk general demand. The continued light receipts, improved shipping demand and depleted condition of the stocks in store here were the factors that created the independent strength. The weather was reported as being generally favorable for planting. The close was strong, 1/4 to 3/4 higher. The May opened at 68 1/2 to 69 1/2; highest, 69 1/2; lowest, 68 1/2; closing, 69 1/2.

On the official prediction of much colder weather for Minnesota, the Dakotas and regions farther south had a bullish effect and prompted shorts to cover. The close was firm, 1/4 to 1/2 higher. The May opened at 55 1/2 to 56 1/2; highest, 56 1/2; lowest, 54; closing, 54 1/2.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s Wheat Summary.

Concerning the wheat market, Paine Webber & Co.'s Chicago correspondent had the following to say: "The wheat traders were encouraged on the buying side by the sharp upturn in the Liverpool prices. This market had a good upturn in the early trading and for an hour there was remarkably good buying. It appears that a lot of long wheat was pressing on the market at the advance. The local buyers who took the offerings on top of the lead which was not large as the week found the situation too heavy, and late in the session there was a complete change of front and the early bought wheat was sold out on a further break. It is a market in which legitimate news counts for very little, as the trade has been demoralized by the fierce break in prices the past week. While Liverpool was strong and higher, the continental markets were lower, because the bulk of the world's shipments were diverted to the continent. The decrease in wheat float was not as large as expected. The Omaha mills were buying wheat in Chicago. Our crop observers report much plowing up going on in Indiana. The millers from that state are buying wheat here and they report the supplies the smallest ever known here. The market was bidding 18 cents over May for No. 2 red wheat in this market. Cooler weather is predicted for the winter wheat states and freezing temperatures for portions of the northwest tonight and tomorrow. It may take a few days for the trade to digest the great quantities of wheat thrown on the market. No doubt the selling will be overdone, just as the buying was."

SURPLUS IS IMMENSE.

Finding a Market for the World's Sugar a Serious Problem.

Washington, April 26.—The sugar market and sugar refining business of the United States is to be brought under a more detailed scrutiny in connection with the present tariff investigation and legislation than has been devoted to it in many years. Senators on both sides of the chamber have undertaken independent studies of the subject; Senator Brewster for the Republicans, Senator Clay for the Democrats. Both are gathering all possible material and studying conditions of the traffic in other countries. They will insist on a thorough investigation of the reasons for maintaining in the present condition of the sugar trade, the tariff that is proposed.

Surplus of Sugar.

The problem of finding a market for the world's sugar is getting to be serious, from the standpoint of the countries which raise sugar. Germany has an immense surplus of sugar and France a considerable though much smaller surplus. The rest of the world, including itself very comfortably. The East Indies have a great surplus, handled in the main through Holland, which is the great sugar mart of the world. The Philippines are anxious for an increased market in the United States and insist that if they don't get it, they will have to find a new market for their sugar. Hawaii, which now pays practically no duty on its sugar sent to the United States, sells its raw sugar to the American Sugar Refining company. Cuba is begging for attention in the tariff legislation which will at least give it the assurance of retaining its present 20 per cent advantage in the United States market, for the Cuban producers urge that if they should lose their hold on the United States market, they also would find it almost impossible to place their sugar elsewhere.

Beet Sugar Makers Busy.

Meanwhile the beet sugar producers of this country insist that if they are given a chance they will in time produce all the country needs. The department of agriculture has long been working to this end and there is a startling divergence of opinion as to the measure of success which has attended its efforts. But the general survey has convinced some of the students of the question that sugar, on the whole, ought to become cheaper and cheaper in future because of the great increase in the supply.

In These Circumstances, the question is being raised, why the United States should not get the benefit of the cheapening. Beet and cane sugars are in competition for the markets of the world. Since the Brussels convention of 1903 brought the European countries to agreement by which they stopped paying sugar bounties, the price of sugar for consumption has tended pretty steadily downward in all the European countries. England has had the lowest price, and is the greatest per capita consumer of sugar in the world—almost 100 pounds per annum per capita—with the United States second with about eighty.

Blame the Trust.

Studying over these world praises of the industry, the critics are inclined to conclude that the tariff is making the United States the one great market which denies itself the benefit of the tendency to cheaper sugar; and they believe that the sugar trust is more responsible for this condition than is the fact that the government raises a large revenue from sugar. Before the Brussels convention the over-stimulation of sugar culture by the bounties had caused the accumulation of great surpluses in stock. After the re-

moral of the bounties there was for a time a slackening of production; but with Cuba back in the market with her increasing crops, and with improved methods in vogue in Europe, the production is again increasing so fast that the problem of markets is one more serious, as shown by the testimony of the various interests.

Question Is Complicated.

From all this possibility of cheapening sugar, however, is charged, the United States shut out. It is still charging high prices by dint of its high tariff, in order to protect a production which amounts to about one-third of its annual use; while other countries, with vastly greater production, have dropped their bounty payments. No industrial question has a more interesting or complicated history than that of sugar; and it is going to be analyzed in much detail, and from many points of view, before this session shall have settled the social and political questions which have been called for by the senate, relating to prices, bounties and tariffs abroad; to the production of all countries, and their markets; to the production of beet and cane sugars in the United States; and finally to the interest held by the sugar trust in the beet and cane sugar industries of this country.

SLAUGHTER IN TURKEY CHARGED TO SULTAN.

Dr. Walter Kempster Says Responsibility Lies at the Door of the Despot.

Massacres Planned to Quiet Young Turks.

Milwaukee Physician Who Spent a Year Among the Mohammedans, Believes Reforms Will Be Few and Insignificant.

Milwaukee, April 26.—Sultan Abdul Hamid, who has reigned on the Turkish throne for thirty years, and whose devious diplomacy and public acts earned for him the title of the unspcakable Turk, is directly responsible for the wholesale slaughter of Christians in Armenia. The massacres, so horrible as to shock the civilized world, were ordered by the sultan as a crafty and indirect way to quiet the restlessness of the Young Turks. And the sultan will not be disposed. The Sheikh Ul Islam, keeper of the green flag of the prophet, religious head of Turkey and pope of the Mohammedans, will never allow the constitutionalists to interfere with his own interests, which are closely allied with those of the sultan.

BRITON WINS THE HONORS.

Frankie Neil of 'Frisco Outfought by Owen Moran, of England.

New Haven, Conn., April 26.—Frankie Neil of San Francisco, fought twelve hard rounds with Owen Moran, of England, here tonight. No decision was given, but Neil was outclassed from the start, when he went through the ropes from a left hand drive by Moran. Neil played for Moran's ribs and stomach and in the clinches he was handy with both hands. In the fourth round Neil was almost out, but came back fresh in the fifth. In the last three rounds Moran hammered Neil savagely, but could not give the deciding blow.

Arrests Follow Bout at New York.

New York, April 26.—In a ten round bout between Jack Goodman, of New York and Battling Hurley, of Passaic, tonight, Goodman easily outpointed and outfought his opponent. Immediately upon the conclusion of the bout, the police jumped into the ring and placed both principals under arrest, as well as Harry Ziebler, the referee.

GRUB STAKE NETS FORTUNE.

Akron Man Recovers $350,000 as His Share of a Klondike Venture.

Akron, O., April 26.—Through good staking E. P. Barnett, a former Medina county man, brother of Dr. E. R. Barnett of this city, J. A. Causten, until recently collector of customs at San Juan, Porto Rico, has come into $350,000.

TO FIGHT THE WHITE PLAGUE.

Movement in Iowa to Erect Hospitals in Every County in the State.

Des Moines, Ia., April 26.—A movement to erect a hospital in every county of Iowa for the purpose of caring for those afflicted with tuberculosis will soon be afoot. It is the plan to have these hospitals built and sustained by the people of the county by an annual tax. Such a hospital and such a tax were made possible by the recent legislature when it passed a law permitting counties to build hospitals and pay for them in the usual method of meeting public debts.

Reason for the White Flag.

"That's why the sultan isn't afraid for himself, personally, that's why, during the midst of the siege of Constantinople, he sent up a white flag and the officers of both parties parleyed. If the revolution was a real, free struggle in which the Young Turks meant to win or they would have seized the Yildiz Kiosk, in which the sultan is reported to be a prisoner, and executed him."

But the Sheikh is behind the Sultan.

and they fear the Sheikh, Abdul showed his astuteness often. France, Germany, England and Russia have been for years trying to get possession of the Dardanelles. Whenever Russia made what promised to be a successful effort to seize them, he called the attention of Germany, England and France to the fact. When England tried to do so the others were called in. And in this manner he played one nation against the other, buffeted them back and forth, indirectly, and saved his own possessions. Now they are used to quell the Young Turk movement, in an indirect manner. They frighten all Turkey and Abdul craftily and successfully offers to deliver Turkey from its predicament."

is taxed to its capacity and is turning people away cured. But there is a long waiting list of people anxious to get in there—waiting, and dying while they wait. Near Des Moines there has been established a place called "Ridge Camp," which is being supported by public dole, and where are gathered many people who had for attention might long ago have died of the ravages of the disease.

A NEW STORY OF LIFE.

A hitherto unpublished story about General Robert E. Lee is given in the Manufacturers' Record in an article entitled "Rounding Out of the Nation's Life Through Southern Development," in the course of which it is said:

"At the close of the Civil War several young men who had served in the Southern army, so the Manufacturers' Record has recently been told by one who was in the party, called on General Robert E. Lee. In explaining the object of their visit they said: 'We don't want to go. Now we want to take your name with us where we are going, and we have come to ask for your autograph on these photographs.'"

CORPORATION INSOLVENT.

Affairs of the H-O Company Again Put in Charge of Receivers.

Buffalo, April 26.—On the application of counsel, Judge Hazen, in the United States court, this afternoon appointed receivers for the H-O company of this city. The company is capitalized at $2,000,000 and has a bonded indebtedness of about $1,800,000. In the application it was set forth that the company was insolvent, that it could not do business in the present circumstances, due to lack of capital, and that for the protection of all concerned it was essential that receivers be appointed. A year ago the company was in financial straits, but new capital was interested and the company was reorganized. It found, however, that it still lacked sufficient money to conduct the business. The plant will be kept in operation by the receivers.

COAL MINERS MEET TODAY.

Adjustment of the Wage Dispute Is Expected Before the Week Closes.

Scranton, Pa., April 26.—With every prospect that the differences between the anthracite mine workers and operators will be adjusted before the end of the week, the tri-district convention of the union miners will convene here tomorrow afternoon to consider the latest propositions that form the basis for the expected final settlement. The anthracite executive boards met here today and considered the general proposition of the mine owners and five amendments to the operators' offer.

HUNTING ROCK HARES.

A Fleet Little Animal Found Among the Sand Hills of Arabia.

How long the Arab has inhabited the deserts of the near East is a much discussed question. How long he has indulged in the old-time sport of falconry is equally difficult to say. Sure it is that this keen-blooded race has not lived all these centuries in those sun-scorched wastes without some sort of recreation and his delights today are probably much the same as those of his ancestors a couple of thousand years ago.

RAPID COMPOSING.

Sir Arthur Sullivan wrote the overture to "The Yeomen of the Guard" in twelve hours, and that to "Iolanthe" in less space of time (from 9 p. m. to 7 a. m.). But even this capacity for speed in composition is eclipsed by M. Bompart, who, for a wager, has composed the music to a song in ten minutes. Mr. N. Trotere, however, is the composer of whom most quick time anecdotes are told. His beautiful song, "Achtzehn," was both written and composed in forty minutes, in Blanchard's restaurant. The melody of "In Old Madrid" was the result of a sudden inspiration. It came to the composer while on his way home from the Aquarium. Left it should be said, he rushed into a small public house in Rochester Row, seized a biscuit bag and in it jotted down the air. But Mr. Trotere holds the championship. It is said that he actually composed "The Brow of the Hill," wrote a letter, and on four hundred yagis to put it, in eight minutes.—Dunbar Advertiser.

IN THE CHEMISTRY CLASS.

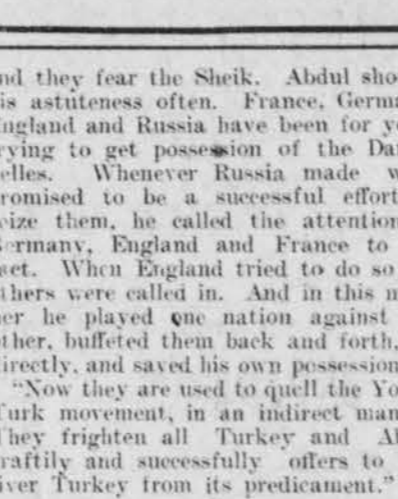

In a local technical school one of the simpler courses of instruction is that of drilling students in the chemical formulas applied to various familiar substances. For instance, the student must know very early in his studies to refer to water as H2O. Some days ago a new pupil was asked to give the sign for water, and although it is one of the first learned and one very generally known outside of technical schools, he was stumped. But all was not lost. In this institution, as probably in many others, there exists a sort of student Red Cross, which extends first aid to the perplexed by the whisper route. Immediately a "half-down" voice buzzed answers in his ears. Maybe it was the confusion, maybe he picked one out of several or combined several in one. Anyway he blurted out: "H-O-S-E"—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

"At the close of the Civil War several young men who had served in the Southern army, so the Manufacturers' Record has recently been told by one who was in the party, called on General Robert E. Lee. In explaining the object of their visit they said: 'We don't want to go. Now we want to take your name with us where we are going, and we have come to ask for your autograph on these photographs.'"

A hitherto unpublished story about General Robert E. Lee is given in the Manufacturers' Record in an article entitled "Rounding Out of the Nation's Life Through Southern Development," in the course of which it is said:

What Makes a Woman Look Old?

WRINKLES!

The Arch Enemies of Beauty

When wrinkles come—animation, expression and beauty go. We say: "How old and wrinkled she looks!"

A woman may have a wealth of luxuriant hair, a complexion like a lily and the profile of a Grecian goddess and yet be made conspicuously unattractive by the blight of beauty—wrinkles.

Wouldn't she be beautiful if it wasn't for the wrinkles?

The above likeness is from a photo, taken last October, of a well-known Chicago lady, who resides at Hotel Wychmere, Eighteenth and Indiana Avs., that city. Since then she has taken a course treatment and is now Beauty is in the animation of the features; the bright expression in the eyes; the clear-cut lines of the "inviting" mouth—and in that indefinable "something" that bids for the envy of women and the admiration of men.

Wouldn't she be beautiful if it wasn't for the wrinkles?

Wrinkles Can Be Entirely Eradicated

But not as easily as some people would have you believe. Wrinkles are stubbornly persistent and yield only to the most skillful treatment. The scientific preparations for this purpose are

E. Burnham's Skin Tightener Begins the removal of wrinkles by giving the skin new tone and vigor, causing it to contract—the sagging eyelids gradually resume their youthful condition—the furrows on the brow disappear and the hard lines around the mouth grow dim and vanish.

E. Burnham's Skin Food Completes the removal of wrinkles by strengthening and building up the wasted tissues—stimulates the circulation of red blood through every capillary—rounds out the sunken temples and hollow cheeks—makes permanent the good effects of massage.

E. Burnham's Cucumber Cream Should be used with this treatment to make the skin clean and elastic, so that the other two preparations can more effectively do their work. The cream penetrates and dissolves the greasy impurities that have clogged the pores. This allows the Skin Food to pass through them and ACT ON THE TISSUES BENEATH.

JACOB KAMMINEN RESIGNS POSITION

WILL IMPROVE PROPERTY.

Exterior of Ski Club House Will Receive Attention This Summer.

At the annual meeting of the Ishpeming Ski club it was decided to improve the exterior of the club house at Deer Lake. The interior which was completely remodeled shortly after the club obtained possession of the building, is in fine condition. The outside is to be finished with heavy paper lining. The club is in good condition financially.

According to the report of officers submitted at the meeting, the last tournament was one of the most successful from a financial view point ever held. The receipts were much larger than those of the previous tournament.

Next winter the members are to encourage skiing among the ladies. During the first few seasons the present quarters were used, more than 75 per cent of the members and their ladies walked out, but for a few seasons past a majority of them have ridden.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: J. S. Wahlman, president; J. Moseley, secretary; P. G. Aas, treasurer; Thomas Lokken, first captain; Arthur Aas, second captain.

EXPECT LIVELY SUMMER.

Ishpeming Builders and Painters Look for a Busy Season.

"We expect one of the best seasons that we have ever had," said a local painter yesterday. "While we are not at present very heavily rushed, indications for much additional business are good. We had had no weather as yet favorable for outdoor painting and practically all of our work is confined to interiors. Many Ishpeming people are improving the interior of their homes and many contemplating painting this summer. I understand that some of the big companies also plan to paint a number of their houses and it is expected that some of these jobs will be awarded soon. Many of the company houses need paint badly and it would not surprise me if from fifty to 100 of the dwellings at the mining locations are painted this year."

There are at present in the neighborhood of thirty painters working in the city. Several additional men have been taken on the past week. Some of the painters are short of help and could use more men right away on their contracts. It is expected that when the weather becomes favorable for outdoor work the painters will be in big demand.

The carpenters also look for a good season, though no large building jobs are contemplated. There will be an unusually large amount of repair work done and a number of new dwellings will be erected in the district that practically all of this work will be done by Ishpeming men.

Prosecution Dropped—

The case against Attorney Chas. E. Gallop, of Escanaba, who was recently arrested on what his friends declared was a trumped-up charge, lasted about five minutes in circuit court, it being dismissed upon motion of the prosecuting attorney and at the request of the complaining witness.

Log Drive Held Up—

The sand and gravel filling in the new Pine creek dam has all filtered out. It will be necessary to roll the crib-work. This may take several weeks and result in "hanging up" the drive for the season. The stream is a tributary of the Menominee river. Mitchell Dykes, who has the contract to drive the stream, which contains about 4,000,000 feet of logs, started driving but was compelled to abandon the work and has notified the Boom company that he will not return to the creek.

Victims of Blood Poisoning—

Conductor Jones, of the St. Paul road, is taking an enforced vacation due to the injuries he received recently from an abstruse passenger. During the fracas the aforesaid passenger turned cannibal and chewed one of Jones' fingers to a mulech. An attack of blood-poisoning followed and it may be necessary to perform a serious operation. Otto Brendler, assistant superintendent of the St. Paul road, is resuming his duties after an illness of several months. He had been in a Green Bay hospital nearly all winter, receiving treatment for a bad case of blood poisoning resulting from the dye from a stocking infecting a wound. An operation was finally necessary and Mr. Brendler now hopes that his troubles are at an end.

Mother Found Him Dying—

Charles Thomas Ranson found dead near the rear stoop of his parents' residence, Sault Ste. Marie. Investigation revealed the fact that he had slipped on the icy porch and fallen backwards, striking his head against a piece of iron piping and breaking his neck. Death was almost instantaneous. The day was the young man's twenty-ninth birthday. As was his custom he did not attempt to enter the house by the front door but walked around to the rear. Mrs. Ranson and a daughter, who had just returned from calling on friends, heard his footsteps. During the day Mrs. Ranson had washed some lace curtains and put them in her son's room to dry. Hearing him come she went upstairs to remove the curtains. Upon coming down stairs she was surprised to find he had not entered by her own footsteps longer audible. Going to the door Mrs. Ranson was horrified to see her son lying prostrate. Dr. Willison, who arrived a few minutes afterward, pronounced him dead. Coroner Fred Townsend made an examination and decided that death was due to a broken neck, resting on a fall. The deceased was born close to the Soo. In the land looking business he formed a wide acquaintance with lumbermen all over Michigan. He returned a few weeks ago from a trip through the "southern" states. He is mourned by a mother, four sisters, four brothers and a brother. The sisters are Miss Ina, Mrs. J. H. Jones, Mrs. H. E. Menke and Miss Veda of the Soo. The brother is William, residing in the Soo but now in the south.

Punished by Fellow-Employees—

Accosted by a crowd of fellow employees angered by the manner in which he has treated his family, it is alleged, a man named Johnson, employed by the Wisconsin Lumber & Lumber company at Hiramsville, Menominee county, was dragged from the mill yard to a dump of woods nearby and, after being lashed into a state of semi-consciousness, was thrown into the stream. Weakened by the severe whipping, Johnson was unable to swim, although the shock of the ice water restored him to full consciousness. The employees dragged him out, dropped him on the shore and calmly returned to their homes, feeling satisfied with the day's work. Their action came as the climax to a series of threats made to Johnson both orally and by letter. According to Supervisor Radford, general manager of the lumber company, Johnson had disregarded the threats and continued to live after his own fashion and as a result, it is claimed, his family received only a portion of his regular wages and were reduced to poverty. On the morning of the day the whipping took place the details were arranged and when the working day was over, Johnson was detained by several of the employees—unknown to the officers of the company—until the others collected behind a lumber pile. As Johnson passed by, they snatched upon him and without ceremony dragged him to the side of the stream. Here they ripped away his coat and shirt, secured long, keen switches and belabored him without mercy. As long as Johnson screamed they continued the whipping, but finally when his cries died out, the punishment came to a close. Johnson was hurled into the stream and after he struggled to the surface, sank and rose again he was dragged out. Mr. Radford states that since that time the man has been to work promptly, stays home nights and has been conducting himself in a model manner.

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

"The extreme weakness of North Butte continues the most prominent feature of the market for copper shares and is causing uneasiness all through the list. Many reasons are given for the action of the stock for the past three weeks, but official confirmation of any of these rumors is still lacking. Perhaps the most plausible one is the persistent talk of the reduction in the dividend rate at the next meeting. One story trotted out today was to the effect that Amalgamated people were selling down North Butte to gain control, but this is given for what it is worth. In any event, the slump in the latter is having its effect on the general list, and the balance of the market fails to break away from this influence. On the curb, San Antonio was bid up to 10% without bringing out any stock, demonstrating the fact that the floating supply of this issue is limited. We know of no offerings of consequence any of the present figures and a little aggressive buying would put the price materially higher. First sales of Cactus were made at $3.31, but on heavy offerings the price declined to 83. The selling looked urgent, but strong interests are picking up the stock. We would rather buy it than sell it at the present level. Chief Consolidated was unchanged. Captain Wesley Clark, president of the Montana-Clinton Copper company, wires that he has just completed an examination of the property, and found everything up to expectations and previous representations. He states there are thousands of tons of concentrating ore blocked out, and also considerable shipping ore. They will go ahead at once with plans for the installation of the necessary machinery."

WILSON MAKING HIT.

Popular Actor Scores at the Lyceum Theater, Duluth.

The critic on the Duluth News-Tribune said of Al. H. Wilson and his company, who will be at Ishpeming theater tomorrow evening:

"Al. H. Wilson, in the fore of all the present day exponents of the Teutonic hero, opened a half week's engagement at the Lyceum last night before an audience that was large and frequently, unmistakably expressive of its entire enjoyment. Mr. Wilson has built up a clientele that promises to equal the proportions of that enjoyed by the elder Emmett, of pleasant memory.

"Wilson is successful melodious and magnetic and his always certain conquest of an audience is aided and accentuated this season through an uncommonly bright and interesting play.

"When Old New York Was Dutch, is, of course by Mr. Ellis, who is as good at the writing of plays as in their exploitation. Mr. Ellis, as the title insists, rather than suggests, has gone back to the pioneer days of old Manhattan. It is a story of love and intrigue, admirably conceived and carried out with exactly the proper proportions of politics and romance.

"Mr. Wilson as 'Metz Von Freiberg' is at all times excellent. As the full hearted, clear headed, lovable and beloved Teuton he is natural and convincing and his song interludes, four in number, are thoroughly delightful. 'Helen' sung with a chorus, is particularly haunting in its melodic charm. 'The Old Chimney Corner' is a perfectly bully song and 'Around the Campfire,' with accompanying effects, is also likeable.

"It doesn't perhaps matter so much about the interpreting company surrounding a star of Wilson's class, but in this cast there is not a weak member, while several would grace a play of greater pretension. Irma L. Pierre as the much sung 'Helen,' brings as finished an art to her work as she offered us as 'The College Widow,' or as the fascinating little heroine of 'The Bonnie Briar Bush.' Little Alice Wright, a precocious kiddie, is very sweet indeed and wrests laurels from some of her older associates.

"The mounting is adequate and the costuming picturesque and always appropriate to the time and locale. It is, altogether, a thoroughly enjoyable performance."

HAVE CALLED ANNUAL MEETING.

The officers of the Ishpeming Gold Mines company have issued a call for the annual meeting of the stockholders, to be held on May 25, at 10:30 a. m. in the Anderson block. The president, secretary and treasurer will submit their annual reports and a new board of directors will be elected. It is expected that operations will be resumed at the property within a short time. A new separating plant is being installed in connection with the tube mill, so that the coarse silica can be sorted from the finer grade without extra labor. Morgan Wright, who made a favorable report on the property some months ago for the Peter White estate, which is largely interested in the mine, is assisting Manager Capps and Secretary Gingsarr in getting the separator ready for operation. The new head for the tube mill, to take the place of the one that cracked last fall, is in position. The management has had inquiries for the silica and it is certain that all of the mineral produced can be disposed of at advantageous prices. An expert in Milwaukee has advised the management that there is only one other place in the country where as fine a grade of silica can be produced.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

A Regina music box has been placed in the Elks' club room.

Miss Nellie Kane, bookkeeper for J. J. Lefler, is ill and confined to her home.

The six-months-old child of Dominic Tasson, 611 Angeline street, died Sunday afternoon. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon.

Henry Harwood, who had been confined to his home for nearly a month past with inflammation in his ankle, is able to be around again.

The ten-year-old daughter of Turta Room, of 325 East Ridge street, died Sunday of diphtheria. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon.

Parties who have not received a copy of "Practical Points," recently published by two of the employees of the Ishpeming postoffice, can be supplied by calling at the general delivery window.

Miss L. Mahberg has sold her residence property on Jasper street to Otto Kajjalainen, the Pearl street shoe collector. Miss Mahberg yesterday purchased Henry Johnson's dwelling on Spring street.

F. A. Ellsworth and family, who are to locate in Washington, expect to leave here Thursday night. They have disposed of most of their household effects. They will make their headquarters temporarily at Billingham, Wash.

Jussi K. Hinkkanen, who represents the Finnish-American Tailoring company of Chicago, has established headquarters in room three in the Anderson block. Mr. Hinkkanen recently arrived in this country from Finland, where he had experience in the tailoring business.

The local dealers in baseball equipment are doing a big business, as most of the youngsters in town are purchasing their outfits. L. W. Atkins & Co. are having a run on boys' uniforms, which are selling at $1. The uniforms are of various shades and sizes. Suits have been sold to all of the members of several boys' teams.

C. H. Rutledge preached on the temperance question Sunday evening at the Swedish Lutheran church. He reviewed the progress being made by the Anti-Saloon league and its supporters in the upper peninsula. He stated that the work is being conducted most satisfactorily and that the reform wave is spreading not only in the upper peninsula, but elsewhere in the state.

Oscar Raquist, a miner employed at the Ohio property, west of Michigan, sustained a fracture of his right leg near the ankle Saturday. He and his partner were endeavoring to remove some loose ore from the breast of the stope when a clunk came down and struck him. Raquist at one time lived in Ishpeming and he also lived at Negaunee. His family is now at Iron Mountain.

A large force of men will be put to work on the streets as soon as the weather will permit. Most of the snow has disappeared and a couple of days of warm weather would put the streets and highways in fairly good condition. All of the principal streets are to be thoroughly cleaned and the alleys will also receive attention. It will be at least two or three weeks before the new street work will be started.

Johnson & Rundman, Ishpeming painters, who have been working nearly all winter at Munising, painting twenty-four new dwellings for the Cleveland-Curtis Iron company, have completed the interior work and have returned to this city to open their summer season. The exterior of the Munising houses will be painted as soon as the weather is favorable. The firm has considerable work in view here and is advertising for painters.

CLEAN YOUR CHIMNEYS.

Ishpeming people desiring their chimneys cleaned are asked to telephone their orders to No. 1 life engine house. I am in the city every day and will give all orders prompt attention.

Victims of Blood Poisoning—

Conductor Jones, of the St. Paul road, is taking an enforced vacation due to the injuries he received recently from an abstruse passenger. During the fracas the aforesaid passenger turned cannibal and chewed one of Jones' fingers to a mulech. An attack of blood-poisoning followed and it may be necessary to perform a serious operation. Otto Brendler, assistant superintendent of the St. Paul road, is resuming his duties after an illness of several months. He had been in a Green Bay hospital nearly all winter, receiving treatment for a bad case of blood poisoning resulting from the dye from a stocking infecting a wound. An operation was finally necessary and Mr. Brendler now hopes that his troubles are at an end.

Mother Found Him Dying—

Charles Thomas Ranson found dead near the rear stoop of his parents' residence, Sault Ste. Marie. Investigation revealed the fact that he had slipped on the icy porch and fallen backwards, striking his head against a piece of iron piping and breaking his neck. Death was almost instantaneous. The day was the young man's twenty-ninth birthday. As was his custom he did not attempt to enter the house by the front door but walked around to the rear. Mrs. Ranson and a daughter, who had just returned from calling on friends, heard his footsteps. During the day Mrs. Ranson had washed some lace curtains and put them in her son's room to dry. Hearing him come she went upstairs to remove the curtains. Upon coming down stairs she was surprised to find he had not entered by her own footsteps longer audible. Going to the door Mrs. Ranson was horrified to see her son lying prostrate. Dr. Willison, who arrived a few minutes afterward, pronounced him dead. Coroner Fred Townsend made an examination and decided that death was due to a broken neck, resting on a fall. The deceased was born close to the Soo. In the land looking business he formed a wide acquaintance with lumbermen all over Michigan. He returned a few weeks ago from a trip through the "southern" states. He is mourned by a mother, four sisters, four brothers and a brother. The sisters are Miss Ina, Mrs. J. H. Jones, Mrs. H. E. Menke and Miss Veda of the Soo. The brother is William, residing in the Soo but now in the south.

Punished by Fellow-Employees—

Accosted by a crowd of fellow employees angered by the manner in which he has treated his family, it is alleged, a man named Johnson, employed by the Wisconsin Lumber & Lumber company at Hiramsville, Menominee county, was dragged from the mill yard to a dump of woods nearby and, after being lashed into a state of semi-consciousness, was thrown into the stream. Weakened by the severe whipping, Johnson was unable to swim, although the shock of the ice water restored him to full consciousness. The employees dragged him out, dropped him on the shore and calmly returned to their homes, feeling satisfied with the day's work. Their action came as the climax to a series of threats made to Johnson both orally and by letter. According to Supervisor Radford, general manager of the lumber company, Johnson had disregarded the threats and continued to live after his own fashion and as a result, it is claimed, his family received only a portion of his regular wages and were reduced to poverty. On the morning of the day the whipping took place the details were arranged and when the working day was over, Johnson was detained by several of the employees—unknown to the officers of the company—until the others collected behind a lumber pile. As Johnson passed by, they snatched upon him and without ceremony dragged him to the side of the stream. Here they ripped away his coat and shirt, secured long, keen switches and belabored him without mercy. As long as Johnson screamed they continued the whipping, but finally when his cries died out, the punishment came to a close. Johnson was hurled into the stream and after he struggled to the surface, sank and rose again he was dragged out. Mr. Radford states that since that time the man has been to work promptly, stays home nights and has been conducting himself in a model manner.

Prosecution Dropped—

The case against Attorney Chas. E. Gallop, of Escanaba, who was recently arrested on what his friends declared was a trumped-up charge, lasted about five minutes in circuit court, it being dismissed upon motion of the prosecuting attorney and at the request of the complaining witness.

Log Drive Held Up—

The sand and gravel filling in the new Pine creek dam has all filtered out. It will be necessary to roll the crib-work. This may take several weeks and result in "hanging up" the drive for the season. The stream is a tributary of the Menominee river. Mitchell Dykes, who has the contract to drive the stream, which contains about 4,000,000 feet of logs, started driving but was compelled to abandon the work and has notified the Boom company that he will not return to the creek.

NEGAUNEE'S FIRST TELEGRAPH OFFICE

ONE OF THE CITY'S EARLY SETTLERS, NOW LIVING IN CHICAGO, WRITES CONCERNING THE INSTALLATION OF THE FIRST TICKERS HERE.

IRA A. Clark, who was one of the pioneer residents of Negaunee, now residing at 86 La Salle street, Chicago, writes The Mining Journal concerning the installation of the first telegraph instrument in the city. According to Mr. Clark, D. F. Wadsworth, who was interviewed by The Mining Journal representative while in the city a few weeks ago, was not the first operator. The first telegraph instrument, according to Mr. Clark, was installed at the late Dr. L. V. Cyr's drug store, then located at the junction of the Sharon mine, the Marquette Tram railway and the Marquette and Bay de Noc railway. The Sharon Mill property. It was one of the first places in that part of the city where ore was discovered, and in the early days was worked as an open pit. The property was idle for many years, but it was worked at different intervals and finally passed into control of the Jones & Laughlin company, which is now operating it with considerable success. Mr. Clark's letter is as follows:

To The Mining Journal—Any reminiscence of Negaunee wakes me up, and when I read Mr. Wadsworth's recital of the times in the sixties, I began to think. I remember well when the first telegraph instrument was placed in Negaunee. It was put in at the little brown drug store, kept by Dr. L. D. Cyr, at the junction of the Sharon mine, Marquette Tram railway and the Marquette and Bay de Noc railway. I was clerking there at that time. The progress of installing the telegraph, was very interesting to me. I was standing by Mr. Burroughs, the first operator, while he was testing his instruments and battery. Then we heard click, click, N—, S— and Negaunee was called. We were no longer on the outskirts of civilization. We could call up Oskosh, or Kalamazoo, or even Chicago if we wanted to, and tell them we would be there in three or four days, if the Sara Von Esp, or Dunlap was still in commission. Burroughs was an odd genius, dead as an adder to talk to, but at the least click of an instrument, he was all attention.

Then the C. & N. W. built their shack and had their own service, and Wadsworth was their man.

CRICKET MEN ORGANIZE.

Negaunee Cricketers Expect to Have Strong Team This Season.

At a meeting of the Negaunee cricket players, held Saturday evening at the Guild hall of St. John's Episcopal church, an organization was perfected. Christ Marshall presided and S. Haines acted as secretary. The permanent officers chosen are: Joseph Marshall, president; M. Parkinson, vice president; Rev. R. T. T. Hicks, secretary; and Mark Dixon, treasurer. The executive committee is composed of J. Preston, Ed. Mallett, C. Chapman, Christ Marshall and H. Trewella. Robert Watson and T. Abbott will have charge of the grounds. S. Haines was elected captain and W. Oliver is sub-captain.

HOLD-UP SUSPECTED.

Found on Cherry street shortly before noon yesterday, wandering aimlessly about with three wounds on his head, Albert Sleet is believed to have been the victim of some footpad. The young man attended Grace church at Ishpeming Sunday night, and started to walk back to Negaunee. He is thought to have been attacked on the road by hold-up men, but he has no recollection of anything that transpired from the time he reached the outskirts of this city until he was found on Cherry street. His money, amounting to $17, was missing. Sleet recovered his senses in the afternoon, but is suffering from scalp wounds and will be unable to work for some days. He came from England some months ago and is employed at the Blue mine.

SPORLEY BREAKS LEG.

Everett Sporley, who is a student at the Detroit University school, fractured a leg Saturday while practicing for a ball game. His father, C. L. Sporley, and brother Charles, left Saturday evening for Detroit. Everett had been working hard for a few weeks past to secure a place on the school team and was successful. The news was out Friday for a practice and Everett fell while making a quick move to catch a ball. Besides the break, which is a simple fracture of one of the small bones of the shin, the tendons were strained. It is not expected that Everett will play on the college team this season, but it is thought that he will be able to play with the Negaunee nine soon after his return home.

ORGANIZATION PERFECTED.

Fans Have Selected Officers for Baseball Team.

There has not been a time in twenty years or more when greater interest has been shown in baseball in Negaunee than this season and the local team will receive excellent support. At a meeting of the fans held Friday evening the management was placed in the hands of an organization of business men, and another meeting was held last evening to discuss plans for organizing and aiding the nine. It is proposed that a dance shall be given in the near future, in order to put some money in the team's treasury.

The officers chosen at Friday night's meeting are: I. A. Wasmuth, president; Phil Levine, vice president and treasurer; W. H. Mitchell, secretary. The board of directors will include the three officers mentioned, also S. R. Elliott, Thomas Walters, Jr., William Haggeton, J. H. Winter, Louis Dousseron and Dr. E. J. Miller. A business manager is to be selected later. The lineup of the team will not be determined until all of the available players in the city have been given a try-out. If the weather is favorable the team will have its first general practice next Sunday. There was talk of an exhibition game between the Ishpeming and Negaunee teams next Sunday, but inasmuch as neither team was able to practice last Sunday it is likely that the exhibition game will not take place until a week from Sunday, a week before the league series opens.

Will Play Siebenthal.

There has been much discussion here among the players and fans as a result of the controversy over the best season in Negaunee of Tate Siebenthal, the former Ishpeming pitcher. While there is a difference of opinion as to whether Negaunee should accept Siebenthal as a member of its team, most of the Negaunee fans think that Ishpeming's management has no grounds for protest against him. Negaunee needs Siebenthal as badly this spring as Ishpeming needed him last year, and if his services are not secured some other pitcher will have to be brought in from outside. The statement that certain of the Negaunee players are not satisfied with the arrangement under which Siebenthal is to play here is not true. All of the players say they will not object to any arrangement the management makes with Siebenthal relative to his compensation. They say that all matters pertaining to the team's finances will be left in the hands of the officers chosen at Friday night's meeting and that they will not interfere in any way.

A Negaunee man who was prominent in the management of the team last season, and who is again taking an active interest in the game, said that he did not see where Ishpeming had any grounds for a kick on Siebenthal and expressed the opinion that the management should give up the thought of entering a protest against him. He said: "Last year when Ishpeming secured Siebenthal and Laxstrom, Negaunee did not object, and I see no reason why Ishpeming should try to prevent us from playing Siebenthal this season."

VARIED PROGRAMME.

The women of an Indiana town recently organized a literary club, and for a while everything was lovely. "Alice" asked the husband of one of the members, upon her return home from one of the meetings, "what was the topic under discussion by the club this afternoon?" Alice couldn't remember at first. Finally, however, she exclaimed: "Oh, yes I recollect! We discussed that brazen-looking woman that's just moved in across the street and Longfellow."—Philadelphia Record.

MINING MEN CONDEMN TONNAGE TAX BILL

WOULD BE DEATH BLOW TO IRON INDUSTRY OF UPPER PENINSULA, IT IS DECLARED.

WHY IT WOULD BE UNJUST

Profits Are Not Abnormally Large and Reduction of Tariff Is All That the Companies Can Stand.

"It is one of the most unjust and outrageous propositions that I ever heard of," said S. W. Shaull yesterday, when asked his opinion of the bill recently introduced in the legislature providing a specific tax of twenty-five cents per long ton on iron ore and a half cent per pound on copper mined in Michigan.

The proposed bill did not excite so much general comment as might be expected yesterday, as it was quite generally felt that its provisions were so ridiculous that there was no chance of the measure becoming a law.

However, as strange things have happened, especially in the closing days of a legislative session, the mining interests do not propose to be caught napping and will make every effort to defeat the bill.

It was stated on competent authority yesterday that the average profit of the Michigan iron mines was less than fifty cents a ton and that a tax of twenty-five cents a ton would put more than half of them out of business.

Another mining man said that the proposed reduction of the tariff was all that the mining companies would be able to stand for some time, and that further unfavorable legislation would result most disastrously.

Were it not for the statement that the tonnage tax bill is backed by the state grange it would not be taken seriously for a moment, but with this constituency behind it, some of the upper peninsula members have become alarmed and have wired their constituents that it needs attention, although it is not probable it will pass.

Important Sections of Bill.

The important sections of the proposed bill are as follows: Section 1. All corporations and all associations and joint stock companies having any of the powers or privileges of corporations not possessed by individuals or partnerships engaged in the business of mining, smelting and refining ores in this state, shall annually pay a tax of one-half cent per pound on each pound of copper produced and obtained during the previous calendar year.

Section 2. Every such corporation, association or joint stock company engaged in iron mining shall pay a tax of twenty-five cents for each ton of two thousand two hundred and forty pounds of iron ore obtained by such corporation, association or joint stock company, as assessed in such mining business during the previous calendar year. Said taxes shall be paid annually in the month of July, at the offices of the state treasurer, or such place in the city of Detroit as he may designate. It shall be the duty of all corporations, associations and joint stock companies coming within the provisions of this act to make a report to the auditor general, upon the first day of every month, of the total amount of copper or iron ore produced and obtained during the preceding month. Such report shall be sworn to by the secretary or other officer designated by any such corporation, association or joint stock company to make such report. Any such person so making any such report who shall swear to any false statement therein shall be subject to all the pains and penalties of perjury. If any such corporation, association or joint stock company shall refuse to make or cause to be made the report herein required, it shall be a cause for forfeiture of its corporate franchises in a proper proceeding instituted for that purpose. Such reports shall be taken as a basis for the determination of the tax hereinafter authorized to be collected.

Sec. 4. All property paying specific taxes, under this act shall be placed on the general assessment rolls, and shall be subject to local and to state and county taxes, the same as other property on such rolls; but the amount of state taxes paid by any such corporation, association or joint stock company during the same calendar year shall be deducted from the specific tax levied by this act, and the balance only shall be collected from such corporation, association or joint stock company.

POLICE BOARD MEETING.

Ways and Means of Reducing Expenses of Department Discussed.

The regular monthly meeting of the police commission was held in the mayor's office at the city hall last night, all members of the old board being present. The appointment of Rev. J. M. Rogers does not take effect until May 1. No business except the allowing of the monthly bills was done, and the meeting was devoted to a discussion of ways and means of reducing the cost of the police department, several of the members expressing the opinion that retrenchment would not be advisable. It was unanimously agreed that none of the officers were overpaid, but it was suggested by one member that the number of policemen might be reduced. There are now two officers on duty in the daytime and six at night. The suggestion was to take off one of the night men. Others declared that such a course would not be advisable, and the question was put off until the next meeting. It had been rumored that the appointment of marshal would be brought up, but no mention of the subject was made. Joseph Fay spent some time explaining to the mayor why the expenses of the department were heavier last year than ever before, saying that it was due to a small raise of the policemen's salaries and to the special police needed at the firemen's tournament and at the A. O. H. convention. It was predicted that the expenses of the department would be at least $1,000 less this year than last.

Impatiently Waiting for Baseball Weather—Tentative Line-Up.

Possibly there is no class that takes more unkindly to the continued chilly windy and wintry weather than the baseball players and fans. However, the players have been working out a little on the Washington street park and hope to be able to pull off a game with the Yannigans at the fair grounds next Sunday.

Indications are that there will be several new men in the line-up when the umpire calls "play ball." Crieg and Woodman, of Newberry, are now on the place in the city, and will try for places on the team. Crieg plays short-stop or third base and Woodman is an outfielder. Both men have played with Newberry and in lower Michigan. Hanley, E. Miller and Smith are three Marquette men with baseball experience, who were not out last year, that have signified their intention to try for berths in the regular line-up.

Following is given a tentative line-up of the Marquette team at the beginning of the season: First base, Rydholm; second base, Gilbert; Third base, Weiser, Miller or Crieg; shortstop, Crieg or Hanley; left field, Bjornell; center field, Woodman; right field, Weiser, Jeanson or Smith; catcher, Richardson; pitchers, Scholtus and Jeanson.

THEATRICAL.

"Al. H. Wilson."

Al. H. Wilson, who is referred to by his many admirers as the "golden voice singer," will visit this city Thursday night for the purpose of presenting Sidney R. Ellis' song, "When I Was a Boy in New York." The song is a tale of Manhattan life, when Wall street instead of being the center of the world of finance was the center of a town rich with the flavor of the colonial Dutch.

Mr. Wilson, pleasantly remembered by the name of "Al," Wilson, has a singing voice of singular patios and power; and a peculiar quality. He is an actor of uncommon grace and spirit; has a fine stage presence and a German accent that is equal to any linguistic emergency. During the performance he will unfold a budget of new songs, entitled "Hickory," "The Old Chimney Corner," "Auf Wiedersehen Fraulein," "Whispering Breeze," "Around the Campfire," a medley which includes "A Song of Home," Tom Moore's beautiful Irish ballad, "Believe Me of All Those Endearing Young Men," "The Scotch Song," "Annie Laurie" and "Southland's Dixie," rendered by a selected chorus of trained voices.

The company in support includes such names as Miss Irma La Pierre, Julia Patchelder, Florence Stover, Edith Wright, Fletcher Harvey, William Bal-four, Ross O'Neal, Richard Milloy, Ross Moley, Max Myers, Vic Jossenberger, Olive Wright, Bert Sheridan, Rollin V. Mallory, Lillian Van Arsdale and Florry Sloan.

"Why Girls Leave Home."

A small audience witnessed the presentation of "Why Girls Leave Home" at the opera house last night. The play proved to be a thrilling melodrama of the conventional kind, and the cast was of average ability. It is claimed for the play that it teaches a great moral lesson, but that lesson is certainly not taught in a very palatable way.

IS HE MARRIED?

Is Naturalization Agent F. S. Becker, well known throughout this district, already married, or contemplating a leap into the matrimonial field? That is the question which several of that official's local friends are attempting to answer. Late in the week just closed several of Mr. Becker's friends received post cards bearing the following suggestive sentence: "Make a noise like wedding bells." The cards bore the postmark of Washington, and as Mr. Becker has been absent from this district for several weeks, on a special leave of absence, an explanation of the message received here is anxiously awaited.

Carcasses Not Buried—

As the result of a visit made to the city dumping grounds by Chief of Police George Rowe that Escanaba officer is up in arms. He found that the bodies of ten horses had been hauled to the place and left unburied. At the police station the chief announced that he knew the persons who took each of the dead horses to the dump, and that unless the carcasses are buried within a week arrests would be made.

Saw Tragedy of the Straits—

Mrs. Lachapelle of Gros Cap reports that she saw the steamer Eber Ward strike the ice floe in the Straits of Mackinac Tuesday morning and sink in a few minutes. She says that the deck and upper works parted from the hull and remained afloat, and that John Lachapelle and two sons put out in their boat and went to the wreck, where they picked up a lot of blankets, clothing, etc., which was floating about. Subsequently the wind came up and the portion of the wreck still afloat drifted away.

Disgraceful Scene at Gladstone—

To the everlasting disgrace of Gladstone, it may be mentioned that some of the toughs of that city bespattered Professor Anderson, of this city, with stale eggs last Saturday evening, says the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune. The professor accompanied the high school basketball team to that city and refereed the game. The Manistique team won, and the rowdies blamed Anderson with being responsible for the defeat. Such exhibitions of discourtesy will certainly tend to breaking off the amicable relations that have hitherto existed between the high schools of the two cities.

Fought in the Civil War—

Peter Van Valkenberg, aged seventy years, who died last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bryon Leighton, Escanaba, passed away after an illness of about two months. The funeral was held from the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon. The C. F. Smith post, G. A. R., of which deceased was a member, attended the service in a large number.

Mr. Van Valkenberg had resided in Escanaba for thirty years and was one of the city's best and most highly esteemed citizens. He was born at Albany, N. Y., in 1839. He responded to Lincoln's call for volunteers during the hour of the nation's peril served throughout that great struggle and received an honorable discharge. Mr. Van Valkenberg's wife preceded him to the higher life eight years ago. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Byron Leighton and Mrs. Linn Valentine, of Escanaba, and one son, E. F. Van Valkenberg, of Boise, Idaho.

Mr. Van Valkenberg was a faithful member of the First Methodist church and was a trustee of that society for many years.

Untimely Death—

George Howard Davey died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Davey, at Bessemer last week, after a long illness. He was born at Greenland, Ontonagon county, Oct. 27, 1879, and near the close of his life his childhood years were passed. He went to Bessemer with his parents and other members of the family in 1890, and graduated from the high school in 1897. He entered the Michigan university and took a three years' course in that institution, and after coming to Bessemer he studied, entered the employ of the Oliver Mining company at Duluth. He remained there until 1905, when he went to Globe, Arizona, to accept a position with the Old Dominion Mining company as chief clerk. In August of the same year he was stricken with tuberculosis of the lungs. From that time he fought the disease in the sanitariums of Texas and California, but without avail. He returned to Bessemer and the home of his parents in May, 1908. During the past year everything possible had been done for his comfort and to stay the ravages of the dread disease. Death came at last as a friend to end his sufferings.

Peculiar Case of Insanity—

Made insane, it is believed, because he was unable to cash a draft for $1,000, which he had recently received from Finland, Andrew Johnson, a section hand employed in the Nahma & Northern railroad, was delivered at the Delta sanitarium in a draft for $1,000, which was peculiar in form and was made payable to Johnson personally. He attempted to cash it at Nahma and was told that he would be forced to go to Escanaba. Not fully understanding the requirements, he became greatly excited, but announced that he was going to Escanaba to test the validity of the draft. On arriving at Nahma Junction he met a party of friends who jokingly told him that if he went to Escanaba with the peculiar looking document he would be arrested for forgery. He left the station, and following a roundabout course returned to the railroad camp, where he destroyed the draft by burning it. His condition gradually grew more serious and it was finally found necessary to take him to Escanaba. Now he has been taken to the hospital for the insane at Newberry.
