

BILL IS PASSED AFFECTING SALOONS

By the Overwhelming Vote of 80 to 2, the Cramton-Warner Measure Goes Through the Lower House of State Legislature.

Imposing New Restrictions and Providing That No Additional Licenses Shall Be Granted Except at a Ratio of One to Each 500 Increase in Population, the Proposed Law Is Satisfactory Alike to Temperance People and Liquor Interests.

Lansing, Mich., May 7.—[Special.]—The house passed the Cramton-Warner liquor regulation bill by the vote of eighty to two, the two being Jensen, of Escanaba, and Beaman of Cass. The changes were made in the bill, and these of minor importance.

Extension to Midnight Permissible. Representative Beaman and Jensen were against the bill because it allows cities to permit saloons to stay open until 12 o'clock; but this is purely a matter of home rule.

Other Features of the Measure. Under suspension of the rules today, the house, at Lansing, by a vote of eighty-two to two, passed the Warner-Cramton liquor bill, which amends five sections of the 1887 liquor law.

The money to be paid to do business is designated as a license fee, instead of a tax, the schedule of fees being the same as now. Druggists must not sell liquor except on a physician's prescription, and such prescription shall not be refilled.

The general law for closing is to be 11 o'clock, although city councils and village trustees may extend the closing hour to midnight.

No additional licenses shall be granted if any municipality or township except at a ratio of one for each five hundred increase in population. This is, in effect, the same as Marquette's "Asire ordonnance."

Michigan Forest Fire Losses. Lansing, Mich., May 7.—[Special.]—Game Warden Pierce takes a "wallop" at the Washington expert who some time ago he called a "cigarette smoking dude" in his report on the forest fire losses of last fall, made public today.

KILLS RACING AT HOT SPRINGS. Little Rock, Ark., May 7.—In the face of a lobby and gallery packed with citizens of Hot Springs, the house refused to take up the Wadley bill, providing for the re-establishment of racing at Hot Springs.

All Shares of the Kind Display Extraordinary Buoyancy at Paris and London, While in Wall Street the Speculation in Them Is Stirred to the Boiling Point, the Whole Market Being Helped and Closing in a Burst of Animation and Strength.

New York, May 7.—There was a world-wide speculative demonstration in copper metal and copper industrial securities today. This movement formed the central force in the day's market in New York, while in Paris and London copper mining shares of all kinds displayed extraordinary buoyancy.

The great influence on speculative sentiment of this copper demonstration was due to the supposition it caused that active operations in the market were going on by a group of capitalists of the most pronounced speculative proclivities and credited with the most powerful resources.

The market of the speculation consisted mostly in numerous and frequent items of information which were kept aloft in the financial district, bearing on the metal trades. One company announced an advance in the price of lead and sales of copper at price above the recent quotations.

Excitement in the Wheat Pit. Chicago, May 7.—Traders in wheat, who have grown accustomed to pyrotechnics in the May and July options were treated to a novelty today when the deferred futures, the September and December, advanced, respectively, 1/2 and 3/4, following the publication of the government crop report.

Bucketshop Operators Convicted. Cincinnati, May 7.—The jury in the case of Louis V. Foster and five others, charged with using the mails to defraud in running a so-called bucketshop, returned a verdict of guilty in the federal district court today.

TRADE OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT. Tariff Legislation the Only Obstacle to a Full Restoration of Activity.

New York, May 7.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Trade Review will tomorrow say: With the bank clearings outside New York 13.9 per cent better than last year and 24.5 per cent better than in 1906 and in New York 24.1 per cent larger than in 1905 and 1.3 per cent larger than 1906; with the railroad earnings for April showing a gain of 13.9 per cent over 1908 and only a 1.03 per cent decrease compared with the banner year of 1907; with the immigration of 21,000 larger than last year; with the exports much greater than in 1908 and nearly equal to 1907; with a distinct gain in the iron and steel trade in both orders and prices; with a hardening tendency in copper and with works of new construction going rapidly forward, the trade situation seems to afford ample grounds for the prevailing belief that as soon as the tariff revision is out of the way, the last obstacle to a full restoration of the normal industrial and commercial activity will be removed.

The outcome of the balloting cannot be forecast, on account of the bitter feeling and because of the even division in the last campaign.

Cincinnati, May 7.—The audience mistaking the word "fight" for "fire" shrieked out by a spectator in Robinson's Opera House, a panic was averted just before midnight tonight by the coolness of the managers of the theater and some of the actors. A fight had occurred in the rear of the theater and the watchman was endeavoring to eject the disorderly parties. Some one cried "Fight," and the people rushed for the exits. The crowd became wedged in the doorways, but the quick work of the theater employees, police and firemen reassured the crowd and order was restored.

DEMANDS IGNORED, MURDER FOLLOWS

Another 'Black Hand' Crime, Merciless, Cruel and Intangible, Is Given to the Chicago Police Department to Solve.

Seated in a Chair in the Saloon of His Brother-in-Law, Mariano Zagone, a Wealthy Cigar Manufacturer, Who Had Narrowly Escaped Assassination on Three Previous Occasions, Is Shot in the Temple While Reading a Paper.

Chicago, May 7.—Another atrocious "black hand" crime was tonight given the police here to solve. Mariano Zagone, aged forty-seven, a wealthy cigar manufacturer, who had narrowly escaped death on three previous occasions through his refusal to comply with the demands of his mysterious enemies, was shot in the temple while sitting in a chair in the saloon of his brother-in-law, and is now lying at a hospital.

When the police arrived they found Zagone lying on the sidewalk in front of the saloon. A revolver was found under him. Joseph and Nicolai Carnello, saloon keepers, were arrested, but they protested that they knew nothing of the shooting. Further search by the police in the saloon revealed a pool of blood on the floor near a chair. In the rear they found a rag that had been used to wipe blood from the floor of the saloon. A closer inspection showed that Zagone had been shot probably while reading a paper and that he had been dragged to the sidewalk.

HAINS DEFENSE SCORES.

Important Admission Is Drawn from Each of the State's Alienists.

Flushing, N. Y., May 7.—Most of today's session of the Hains trial was taken up with the testimony of the state's three insanity experts. They all expressed the opinion, predicated on a hypothetical question prepared by the prosecution, that Hains was sane at the time he killed Annis. Attorney McIntyre, for the defense, cross-examined the opposing alienists at length and succeeded in drawing the admission from each that the facts as set forth in the defense's hypothetical question included symptoms of acute mania in the defendant at the time of the shooting. Both sides will sum up next Monday and the case probably will go to the jury early Tuesday.

The Mining Journal has a letter from its Lansing correspondent briefly noting the fact that the Osborn gubernatorial boom was "caught on" in a pronounced manner at the capital.

The report of the special committee of the house appointed to inquire into the administration of state lands and the alleged abuses connected therewith bears out, in a general way, the report of Governor Warner's special commission.

The committee's recommendations are as follows: That no more state land be sold until appraised by a committee of competent business men and timber cruisers, who are not connected with any state department.

That the state lands be entirely removed from the influence of politics and placed in charge of a public domain commission.

That all future sales of state lands take place in the county seat where the lands are located.

That the present legislature do not adjourn until it has passed all the needed legislation necessary to forever save to the state the remaining 3,000,000 acres of state lands, and put same beyond the reach of speculators who now infest the state capital.

There is a general belief that some remedial measure should be adopted as a first step in the direction of a better management of the state's remaining land resources and a more economical conduct of the departments having to do with the work.

AN AROUSED WEST.

There is no situation existing in the country today that is receiving more thoughtful attention from the people than the one in regard to tariff legislation.

But the more the Aldrich measure has been looked into the less favor it has met with in the eyes of people who have met with a carrying out of the Republican pledges for downward revision.

But the average layman is competent to weigh arguments and to appreciate analyses of different provisions when they are put forward by men who do know something about tariff making.

As a result, your average man, who a short time ago was pretty well satisfied that Payne and Aldrich and the rest of the leaders in congress were sincere in a desire to deal fairly by him, has now come to believe that, instead, another attempt to "hand one over" to him is being made.

The fault-finding with the Aldrich measure is not confined to the lawmakers. It is being participated in by the most influential Republican newspapers in the country and by many leaders of thought not in public life.

It was on a weary road in the Tennessee mountains. A weary rider was slowly making his way up the steep mountain side, pausing now and then to rest.

The rider paused. "Can you tell me how far it is to Big Stone Gap?" he inquired.

The mountaineer's lips moved in answer, but no sound reached the rider's ears. He moved over nearer to the fence and repeated the question.

The old man looked pityingly at his questioner for a moment, and then, slinking down from his seat on the rail he walked up to the traveler and, putting his grizzled face close to his ear, whispered hoarsely:

LOCAL GEOLOGY.

Bulletin on Physiography of Marquette Region Issued by Normal School.

The Normal School has recently issued a bulletin from the pens of Dr. E. R. Downing and Theodosia H. Hadley, on the physiography of the Marquette region, with the hypothesis of its origin. The pamphlet is intended as a preliminary treatise to the study of plant and animal distribution.

While the work was written primarily for the use of students, it contains much information of local interest to the general public. Being an introductory study, the treatment is comparatively simple and the information conveyed concerning this part of the state will be found intelligible to the average reader.

The treatise first takes up the rocks of the region, describing in detail the formations that outcrop in many hills in and about the city of Marquette. No special prominence is given to the iron bearing formations, the purpose of the work being rather to give a general knowledge of the rocks and their formation.

Some space is devoted to the soils found in this vicinity, which are said to consist of red earths, gravels, sand, occasional deposits of clay and loam. In this connection the general topography of the region is taken up.

The geological history of the region is discussed, and it is shown that the granite rocks found here are a part of the oldest rocks in the world.

An interesting new theory of the origin of the earth, which has been championed by Thos. C. Chamberlain, of Chicago University, is explained. The formation of the continents and oceans and the ice age are taken up in the closing pages of the treatise. The pamphlet will doubtless be of great convenience to students beginning the study of geology and to many lay readers of scientific works.

Poor House Inmate in Jail—

Charles Thompson, an inmate of the Delta county poor farm, will spend the next fifteen days in the county jail. Thompson was given permission to visit Escanaba and on returning to the almshouse he was intoxicated. He grew quarrelsome and an officer was sent for.

Postmaster at the Head—

At the annual meeting of the officers of the Tri-State Fair and Racing association, held at Ashtabud, C. E. Hoak, postmaster at Ironwood, was elected president and J. B. Matthews of Ashtabud secretary. There are now four cities in the association: Rhineland, Ironwood, Ashtabud and Iron River, the latter being a new recruit. The dates for holding the annual county fairs in the four places were decided upon. Ironwood's dates being Sept. 14, 15 and 16.

Best Road in the County—

May 15 the Delta county board of road commissioners will consider specifications and contracts for the completion of the sixty-mile stretch between Escanaba and Menominee. There are but two portions of the highway which are not either covered with macadam or gravel and these are but one and two and one-half miles respectively in length. Once they are improved and the county board gives the assurance that they will be finished this year, what is declared is the longest stretch of good road in the United States will be completed. Other states can probably stretch a road of perhaps ten miles or fifteen miles in length, but a road of sixty miles and which is paved with gravel or macadam possibly cannot be found outside of the northern peninsula.

Marvelously Escapes Death—

Thrown from a railroad velocipede operated by a gasoline engine, while running at a high rate of speed on the Soo Line tracks, Andrew Stephenson of Gladstone narrowly escaped being instantly killed and Frank Lewis and Lee Pawlin, pump repair foreman for the Soo Line, escaped from the accident with slight bruises. The car was running over a clear track bearing the three men and when about six miles east of Newhall one of the wheels struck a chain lying across the track. Stephenson was hurled from his seat by the jar and sent sprawling headlong in front of the car, falling directly across the rails. The car passed completely over his body, rendering him unconscious and that he was not killed is considered marvelous. The light velocipede was not seriously damaged and Stephenson was placed on a seat and hurried back to Gladstone. It was found that he was suffering from numerous bruises and cuts about the head and face and the flesh of one hand was split open. Not any of his wounds were of a serious nature, however, and he is able to be out, although swathed in bandages. The three men had left Gladstone for Hermandale to repair a tank at that place and it was while on their way there that the accident occurred.

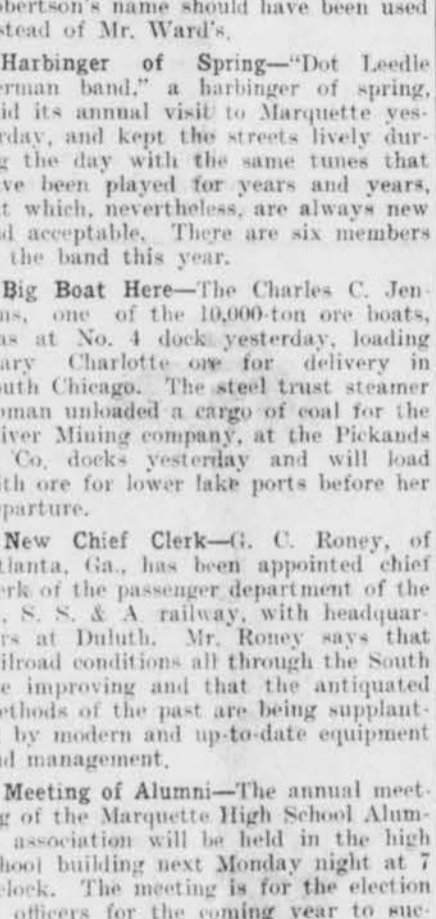

Soo Plant to Resume—

The average level of Lake Superior just above the locks during the month of April was 600.75. There is every reason to believe the raise this month will equal that of May last year. This means that at the end of this month the level of Lake Superior will be approximately 611.5 the point at which the Michigan Lake Superior company's canal at the Soo may be operated at its present capacity. It means that the plant of the Union Carbide company may be reopened not later than June 1, and if not at full capacity at least at nearly that. It is practically certain that even if the water has not reached the 602.5 level, the plant will be reopened and worked at as nearly full capacity as the regulations laid down by the war department will permit. Superintendent J. A. Seales of the Carbide company stated that the plant would be put in operation just as soon as the water levels would permit the use of at least half the full amount of power desired, or 5,000 horsepower. The news that the carbide plant will reopen June 1 is welcome to the hundreds of men temporarily thrown out of employment and to the city generally, as the effects of the shutdown have been easily perceptible in business circles.

Will Lose a Leading Citizen—

It is with regret that the community has learned that Dr. J. M. Sattler has decided to leave Marquette and locate in Denver, where he is at the present time. It is his intention to return to Marquette early in June, and after disposing of his property interests there to return to Colorado to remain permanently. Dr. Sattler has been a resident of Manistique for more than sixteen years and has enjoyed a lucrative practice during the whole of that period. He is highly esteemed by the community. Aside from being a physician of much ability, he is a man who will be very much missed in church and fraternal circles. At the present time he is a member of the board of public works. He has also been city health officer and member of the school board. He is an elder and trustee of the Presbyterian church. He has invested some of his savings in Manistique realty and two large two-story brick blocks in the center of the city are monuments of his thrift and enterprise. Dr. Sattler expects to locate in University Park, a suburb of Denver. He owns a tract of land a few miles from Denver and in addition to engaging in the practice of medicine he will look after the property. Escanaba's Biggest Manufactory—Escanaba has a number of institutions which contribute to its industrial progress, but there is none which occupies a more important place than the Escanaba Manufacturing company. This company was organized two years ago by former stockholders of the Escanaba Woodmen company and purchased the old concern's factory, M. B. Wallace, of St. Louis, Mo., is president, and T. M. Judson, of Escanaba, is secretary and treasurer. About a month after the new company acquired the ownership of the factory, a fire destroyed a large part of it, but in the rebuilding the plant was considerably enlarged and was greatly improved. The institution gives employment directly to about 500 people, and indirectly to several hundred more. It is the largest institution of its kind in the world, the daily output being 1,500,000 butter dishes and 750,000 clothespins. Twenty-seven thousand feet of baywood legs are required each day, and the process by which this amount of solid timber is converted into the marketable product is, indeed, most interesting. The relations between the management and the employees is most pleasant and harmonious. Mr. Judson, the manager, is now launching a new company—Escanaba Veneer company—which will build a big plant during the coming summer and which will be in operation by the first of December. The new institution will be a big one and will be an important acquisition to the city's industrial enterprises.

Mayor's Slate Not Presented—

Mayor Greenhoet did not submit his slate of appointments to the Escanaba city council at its session this week, because of that fact a crowd of over 700 highly interested men of the city who filled the auditorium, the aisles, the stairway and lower corridor of the city building, expecting to witness a sharp conflict between the mayor and a majority of the aldermen, was disappointed. The presentation of the slate was postponed until Tuesday evening of next week. Whether Mayor Greenhoet felt certain of the non-confirmation of his slate or whether other motives prompted his action is not known, as no reference to appointments was made. The effect will be that the present appointive city officers will remain in power for at least one week longer and the packing by the mayor and his friends for the support of his slate will continue for another seven days. Without any opposition, although one of the chief personal advisers of Mayor Greenhoet was slated for the place one week ago, Alderman Matt Priester of the Second ward was unanimously chosen as president pro tem of the council. At the secret meeting of the mayor and aldermen held one week ago the mayor's choice for the position was made known but on the ballot at that time Mr. Priester received a majority of the votes and when the matter was brought this week all opposition to the mayor's program for the position was abandoned. Alderman Cornelius Gallagher took time by the forelock and introduced a motion that the council should proceed to the election of such an official. The motion was passed and Alderman James Powers proposed the name of Alderman Priester, which nomination was accepted. All of the council members voting in the affirmative. Alderman Priester, in point of continuous service, is the veteran member of the council and has been one of the most influential members of that body.

It Took a Week to Make These Trousers

YET they were made where every modern facility is afforded.

That is one evidence of the care that is put on them.

The cloth is London shrank. This "cold water" process takes much longer than the quick steam process, but it insures much better shrinkage. To insure accurate sizes, each garment is cut separately by shears instead of by machines which cut many at a time, and then every pair of trousers is subjected to a rigid inspection—they must be perfect in every respect before they can leave the shop.

Triumph Trousers

Made by Kling Bros. & Co.
Are Strictly Hand-Tailored

The same attention to style and shape is given these trousers as the most exclusive merchant tailor would give to your personal order. They are made to satisfy a discriminating trade that demands a distinctive note of style that the ordinary custom made trousers lack.

We have our clothes made where quality is the object instead of quantity—where just so many pairs of trousers are made as can be made right. We are showing some decidedly attractive novelties, as well as the less pronounced patterns. But all have that distinctive style that can be found nowhere else. Come in and see them.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co's correspondent at New York yesterday, telegraphed as follows:

The market enjoyed a generally substantial advance today. It was not a case of specialty operating. Good general buying was in evidence throughout the list. The coppers were exceptionally strong, although the rails and industrial were not. The bearish element is attempting to induce unmettlement by directing attention to Washington in connection with the tariff question, but this procedure is not getting results. The market closed with some strength, and as pointed out in our recent advice, we believe in the market, but would confine purchases to the necessities.

FITCH CLOSES DEAL.
Former Marquette County Man Buys Property for Chief Consolidated.

In view of the large number of upper peninsula people holding stock in the Chief Consolidated company, the following from the Salt Lake Herald relative to deals recently closed by Walter Fitch, the corporation's general manager, is of interest:

"One of the options held by the Chief Consolidated company was exercised during the week, Walter Fitch, the general manager and heaviest shareholder of the company, paying over to Mrs. Ella Sullivan, James P. Driscoll, the estate of John Driscoll and the estate of John Moore the sum of $30,000, representing the purchase price of the Granite claim, says the Europa Reporter.

"The Chief Consolidated company has also purchased from William T. Friday of Philadelphia and Henry Kohl an undivided one-half interest in the American Star and Black Bird claims in the same locality, the amount paid over in this instance being $20,000. The other half of the American Star and Black Bird claim making devices, also a concrete mixing machine, to his equipment. A force has been employed all winter making blocks and he expects to keep from three to six men busy on this work during the summer months. The blocks of any design or size desired. There have been many improvements in concrete construction during the past year or two and Mr. Trebilcock says that he can now furnish blocks that will be frost proof in the winter and heat proof in the summer. In the building blocks there is an air space of 25 per cent of the total thickness in the center. The blocks are absolutely water proof.

Mr. Trebilcock is delivering blocks for a concrete garage, twenty-eight feet square, for George A. Newett at his home on North Oak street. The construction work will probably be started Monday or Tuesday.

Work on the sidewalk contracts will begin within a few days. He intends to employ one crew of seventeen men and six teams. He expects to put in about 15,000 lineal feet of walks during the season. Last year he laid out 11,000 feet.

Mr. Trebilcock is just completing his contract for the Old Fellows houses, corner Main and Pearl streets. He excavated 2,000 cubic feet of dirt and put in a stone foundation underneath the entire structure, also studdings, sills and a concrete floor. The building is to be provided with plate glass fronts, and other important improvements are to be made. J. Wahlman & Son have the contract for the carpenter work, which is to be started at once. Besides altering the first floor, the second story will also be almost completely remodelled in order to put it in first-class condition for use by the society. W. T. Cole has the contract to build the boiler for the block.

Mr. Scribner on Tuesday gave a short talk on "The United States and the Conquest of Europe." The Vandevanter people believe that it would result in keeping up the prices. The combination is to be formed in the interest of the producers as well as the smelter interests, many of whom are also engaged in producing.

PLANT RUNNING STEADILY.
Vandevanter Co. Now Has $8,000 Worth of Mineral on Hand.

Superintendent Fox of the Vandevanter lead and zinc property in Cuba City, Wis., yesterday advised Manager J. H. Quinn that the concentrator and roaster plants are now working satisfactorily and that mining operations are being conducted without interruption. The roads, he reports, are in better condition than at any time since last December and regular shipments of the finished product are now being made. The company now has $8,000 worth of lead and zinc ores in transit or ready for shipment.

The value of the mineral is figured on a basis of the present market prices. Twenty tons of lead ore, 80 per cent, were sold recently at $53 per ton, but the present price is several dollars higher. Mr. Fox reports that there is excellent demand for both lead and zinc.

There is talk of a combine of the lead smelter men of the United States, and other important improvements are to be made. J. Wahlman & Son have the contract for the carpenter work, which is to be started at once. Besides altering the first floor, the second story will also be almost completely remodelled in order to put it in first-class condition for use by the society. W. T. Cole has the contract to build the boiler for the block.

A DISTINCT NOVELTY.

Shubert's Production of "Girls Different from Other Plays."

One of the distinct novelties of the theatrical season will be seen when the Messrs. Shubert present Clyde Fitch's theater comedy, "Girls," at the Ishpeming theatre next Wednesday. In this play Mr. Fitch discusses the proposition of femininity in the primitive stages of independence. The author is a past master in the art of depicting feminine foibles, and this play is written around three young pretty girls, living in a studio apartment in New York, who resolve among themselves that men are distinctly disadvantageous appendages without which they can well afford to fight their own battles. After repeated humorous complications, the three girls go the way their hearts dictate, and naturally enough to the very men they had objected to despise.

The first and last scenes are laid in the girls' studio, while the second act shows a law office, where two of the girls are employed. As usual in Fitch plays, there is a surprise scene and this time it is so novel that the management refuses to divulge it. The cast is composed of metropolitan players and the production is complete down to the smallest detail.

Wise, secretary of the Ishpeming branch of the Young Men's Christian association. His subject will be, "What the Y. M. C. A. Does for Men and Boys." Mr. Wise will give some interesting information relative to the work to be conducted here under the organization's auspices.
The fire department was called out yesterday noon to extinguish a blaze in a dwelling owned by Mrs. M. Meehan on North Oak street. The fire started in the attic, apparently from a defective chimney. The firemen were prompt to arrive and the blaze was extinguished with very little damage to the building.
Three crews of section men were put to work yesterday repairing the street car line, which was left in bad condition after the surface had thawed. One of the cars left the track yesterday morning opposite the Union park, and it was found that the rails had spread a number of places, necessitating careful running.
Napoleon Robear, who made extensive improvements at his hotel property, at the corner of Pearl and First streets, last year, has just completed improving the adjoining building, where his saloon business is to be conducted. The main room in the hotel, formerly used as a saloon, is to be fitted up as an office. The two buildings will be connected by a door at the rear. Mr. Robear yesterday said that he intends to make a number of improvements in the interior of his hotel, putting it in better condition than it has ever been before.

LIQUOR DEALERS MUST OBEY THE LAW

MAYOR VAUGHAN ANNOUNCED HIS POLICY IN PLAIN TERMS AT MEETING LAST NIGHT.

STATUTES ARE EXPLAINED

Saloon Men Learn What Must Be Done, and Hear Police Force Instructed to Do Its Duty.

At one of the most remarkable meetings ever held in Marquette, the liquor dealers of the city were instructed by Mayor Vaughan last night, that each and every one of them must observe the spirit and letter of the law, and in their presence the marshal and police force were ordered to see that the laws regulating the liquor business were strictly enforced, on penalty of dismissal from the service. If this means anything, it certainly means that the lid will be clamped down tight for the next two years.

The meeting last night was called by the mayor yesterday, and through Marshal Manning notified all the liquor dealers in the city that their presence was desired at the city hall last evening. The invitation was generally accepted and there were between forty and fifty saloon men present at last night's gathering.

Police Board Votes for Lid. A meeting of the police commission was held earlier in the evening, with Mayor Vaughan, John Carlson, George Freeman and Rev. J. M. Rogers present, at which it was unanimously voted that the mayor should instruct the marshal to enforce the laws relative to saloons and houses of prostitution. Before taking this action the question was amply discussed, and reference was made to the sentiment current in the city that the liquor dealers had promised some sort of immunity under the former administration. It was shown conclusively that no formal action of kind had been taken by the commission as a whole, and the two old members present declared that to their knowledge, no secret promise of that kind had been made by any member of the board. The statement that a more or less liberal policy had been in vogue, however, was not denied. The action regarding houses of prostitution is taken to mean (and, in fact, as much was said at the meeting) that the proprietors of disorderly houses will in the near future be notified to pack up and leave town.

Mayor Announces His Policy. Mayor Vaughan called the meeting of liquor dealers to order in the hand room about 8:30 o'clock, and without beating about the bush, stated that he had called them together in order that they might be instructed as to the laws under which they were doing business, and understand his position respecting their enforcement.

"I have not called you together to-night as an enemy, but as a friend," said the mayor. "As you probably know there is now a movement on foot for local option in Marquette county. This movement is largely the result of the grant of prohibition of the law by the liquor dealers, and the only way that you can save off prohibition within the next two or three years, is to realize that you are your own worst enemy.

"I have asked the city attorney to come here tonight and explain the laws regulating the liquor traffic, for apparently, some of you don't know that there are any such laws. I have taken my oath to enforce the laws and I do not intend to perjure myself. To obey these laws will be to your advantage, and I have called you together in order that you may be fairly warned."

City Attorney Explains Law. City Attorney Brown then stated his understanding of the laws on certain points as requested by the mayor. His first spoke of the closing hours, which are from 11 o'clock at night until 5 o'clock in the morning, and all day Sunday.

"During the hours when saloons must be closed," said Mr. Brown, "all curtains and screens must be removed from in front of the bar so that any person passing by on the street can see the bar, or place where liquor is sold, and determine for himself that business has been suspended." He spoke of one or two places in the city, which, in his opinion, did not conform to the law in this respect, even when the doors were locked.

"Minors must not be allowed in saloons at any time," he continued. "Neither is it permitted for the liquor dealer to sell anything to an adult, which is to be consumed by a minor, and, in case of arrest, the burden of proof lies with the saloon keeper, who must show conclusively that he had not guilty intent. Upon written order, which is genuine, the saloon keeper may give liquor to a minor for an adult, but the minor must not be allowed to enter the saloon in such cases.

"It is forbidden to sell to a drunkard, or to any one in the habit of getting intoxicated, or whose name has been posted, or to an Indian, and again, the burden of proof as to intent lies with the seller. The proprietor is responsible for the acts of his bar keeper, except in the case of minors being in saloons."

Following Mr. Brown's statement, a number of the saloon men asked specific questions, which were answered to the satisfaction of the questioners. It was brought out that any place in which liquor is sold on week days must be closed on Sunday, whether or not any liquor is sold in that place on the Sabbath day, even if it be entirely shut off from the saloon on that day.

Rev. Rogers Speaks. Rev. J. M. Rogers then asked to say a few words before the meeting was adjourned. "I am a member of this board because the mayor asked me to be," said Mr. Rogers. "The position is not of my own choosing, but now that I am in it and have taken my oath to enforce the laws, I propose to do so without prejudice or discrimination. I, too, have one but the kindest feelings toward you gentlemen, although I do not approve of your business. However, you have certain rights under the law, which rights you may exercise, just as truly as I have the right to preach. Again, you have no more right to overstep the law than I, or any other person.

"Today there was held in Negaunee a meeting at which a local option campaign was inaugurated in this county. The Anti-Saloon league believes that the more convictions for violation of the liquor laws that can be secured, the greater their chance of carrying the county for prohibition. Therefore, they are likely to use every effort to get cases against you, and paid detectives for that purpose are likely to be sent into the city from time to time. Gentlemen, if I were in your business, I should consider this situation, and endeavor to keep within the limits of the law.

"Let me illustrate. I enjoy hunting deer. Several years ago, I was allowed to shoot five deer in a season; now I am allowed to kill but two, and the probability is that by another year I will be allowed to kill but one. Had no one ever killed more than five deer in a season, I would still be allowed to kill that number. The restriction has come, not because I have violated the law, but because there were some hog hunters, who disregarded the law. You liquor men are in just the same position, and the best way to save off further restrictive legislation, is to abide by the spirit and letter of the law.

"I have no desire to impose on your business, but I shall stand for equal rights for everybody and a square deal for all. I imagine some of you would be rather glad of a chance to prosecute me for any violation of the deer laws. Is there any reason why it is not just as serious for you to violate the law as for me? Should your game be overlooked any more than mine?"

"Gentlemen, this is my position as a member of the police board, and I can assure you that if the laws are obeyed, none of you will have any trouble with me, or with the police commission."

Mayor Instructs Marshal. Mayor Vaughan then stated that he had taken his oath to see that the laws were enforced and that he did not intend to perjure himself. "I intend that the laws regulating your business shall be strictly enforced," he said. "Last night at 1 o'clock I saw a saloon in this city open for business. In your presence I wish to instruct the marshal and the police force to enforce the laws as interpreted by the city attorney, and any failure on their part to do so will result in me using my best efforts to secure their discharge. The police are hereby instructed to perform their duty whenever any violations are noted, and to make immediate arrests without any further instructions from me or the police commission.

"This means that the saloons are to be closed promptly at 11 o'clock at night, and on Sunday. I don't want any blind pigs to be operated after hours in the basement or back room, or in the top floor of a hotel. I feel that I am working in your behalf, as well as in the best interests of the public, and as long as you give me the square deal, you will get the square deal from me. There will be no favoritism shown."

The mayor then asked if there was anyone present who needed time to get his business in shape to conform to the law, and as there was no response to the question, the meeting was declared adjourned.

Dry Campaign Inaugurated. At the local option meeting held in Negaunee yesterday, there were about ninety present, which was at least 70 per cent of all invited to attend. It was voted to inaugurate a campaign for a local option election in this county, and officers were elected and a committee appointed to take charge of the preliminary work, such as securing petitions, obtaining signatures, etc.

THEATRICAL. "Montana." An event of much interest to theatergoers is the forthcoming engagement of Henry D. Carey's successful American play, "Montana," at the opera house Friday night, May 14.

The author of other plays of ingenious plot and finished workmanship, it remained for "Montana" to secure for Mr. Carey his most emphatic triumph. With an original plot, developed with remarkable adroitness, creating an intense and anxious suspense that is maintained unbroken until the very last scene and disclosing a comprehensive and true atmosphere, so often lacking in plays of the West. He has imparted the breezy swinging air of the prairie into his characters and at the same time given them the ruggedness and strength of the mountains.

"Montana" abounds in bright clever comedy and the heart story is one that appeals to the finer sensibilities. The management has paid special attention to the mounting of the play, all special scenery being provided. The cast has been carefully selected and is evenly balanced and capable. While there are many thrilling and exciting scenes and incidents during the action of the play, "Montana" must not be confused with the many so-called western plays, whose greatest claim of merit is the display and use of the six shooter and Bowie knife.

"Montana" is a consistent, human story of real men and women of the west in their true environment.

TOOK HOLD YESTERDAY. Louis Riedinger Is Now in Charge of Street Department.

Louis Riedinger, the new street commissioner, took hold yesterday and from now on will be in charge of the department. The first work to be done will be to finish the cleaning of the streets, which was held up by the unseasonable snow storm the first of the month. They are now in none too good condition, and it will require some days to cover the entire city. Meanwhile Mr. Riedinger will familiarize himself with the condition of the streets and outline plans for the work that will be done later in the season.

The new commissioner is well equipped for the work, as he has had much practical experience with outside construction, particularly in concrete. He is a civil engineer by profession, and following a course at the Michigan College of Mines was engaged in railroad work for several years. He was four years with the Great Western road and a year with the New York Central. On both roads he superintended a large amount of concrete work, ranging from the building of small culverts to the putting in of heavy abutments for bridge piers. He has also had practical experience in building roadways.

It is reported that the expenditures in the street department will this year be cut down very materially from the amount appropriated last year, and that the greater part of the work done will be the repairing of streets that are now in bad condition.

FRATERNITY PARTY. Young Men Give Elaborate Social Function at Fraternity Hall.

The Kappa Alpha Pi fraternity, composed largely of high school boys, gave an elaborate and very successful ball at Fraternity Hall last night, about eighty couple being in attendance. The committees have worked for weeks in making arrangements for the function, and those present last night testify to the flattering success of their efforts. The decorations were in black, gold and red, the fraternity colors, and consisted of basket work suspended from the ceiling, with pleasing wall effects. These colors are unusual for decorations, but their tasteful arrangement made the effect both unique and entirely pleasing. Music was furnished by Cherny's orchestra and consisted of twenty numbers and four extras. The grand march was dispensed with. One of the unique features of the party was a ladies' extra, during which the lights were turned low, and the merry-makers tripped the light fantastic in the dull red glow.

Supper was served at LaVallees in the course of the evening.

MARKET WELL SUPPLIED. Fruits and Vegetables in Abundance on Sale at the Grocery Stores.

The Marquette fruit and vegetable market is now well supplied and merchants state that receipts of various kinds of fruits and early vegetables from the southern states are now very heavy and prices remarkably reasonable. Beautiful strawberries are arriving in large quantities from Louisiana. Pie plant is coming in from the state of Washington and from Illinois and is of very fine quality. New tomatoes are arriving from the Indian river country in Florida, and these are said to be of the best quality and flavor shipped in any year. Dealers are receiving fine Florida celery daily, and new Bermuda onions are coming from Texas. The shipment of New York apples continues but the season is about at an end. Large quantities of the finest California oranges are coming in daily, while in the vegetable line the finest string beans, cucumbers and other early vegetables are being received from the southern sections. The indications are that there will be an abundance of early vegetables and all kinds of seasonal fruits from now on until the crops are ready in the northern states. Many South American bananas are being received in this market daily, as this is now one of the largest supply points for this fruit in the country. All bananas are shipped very green, being expected to ripen gradually enroute and are then hung in storage warehouses to complete the process.
