

SENATE AMENDS THE LIQUOR BILL

Warner-Cramton Regulation Measure Is Changed in a Few Particulars and Then Passed in Committee of the Whole.

Entire Section Relating to Drug Stores Is Cut Out, and It Is Provided That Only in Cities of 40,000 Shall the Closing Hour Be Extended to Midnight—House Concurs in the One-Deer Plan and Puts Rabbits on the Protected List.

Lansing, Mich., May 12.—[Special.]—The senate passed the Warner-Cramton liquor regulation bill in committee of the whole today. A few important changes were made. One of these changes cuts out the entire section relating to drug stores. It being thought that the penalties of the pharmacist's law were severe enough in the wet counties, while the penalties in the search and seizure act, recently passed, will do for the wet counties. A delegation of drug men opposed this feature of the bill. Anyway, they are hit hard enough in the two other bills. Another change made cuts out the clause allowing common councils to extend the closing hour from 9 to 12 o'clock. The present hour is eleven. A clause was inserted that cities of over forty thousand people might have the extra hour to midnight. This gives the privilege only to Detroit, Grand Rapids, Bay City and Saginaw.

Features of the Liquor Bill. The following is a synopsis of the principal points of the liquor regulation bill as it now stands:

License—Just as now, except that wholesalers must pay $500 license, instead of $65, and $50 additional for every warehouse. They must give surety bond and may sell only to licensed retailers.

Retailer—One who sells by the drink or in quantities not to exceed three gallons.

Who May Engage in Business—Only citizens of state or nation, thus barring out women. Ex-convicts shall not be given a license and all applicants must make a showing of good moral character. Two violations of the liquor law will revoke a license.

Closing Hours—In cities, except that smaller cities and the villages and townships may grant authority to hold open until eleven, as now, and cities of 40,000 people may extend the time to midnight.

Distance from Church—No new saloon within 400 feet of church or school unless the saloonman gets the consent of all the property owners within 300 feet of the proposed bar.

Signs—None advertising liquor on the outside of saloons.

Number of Saloons—Licenses shall not be granted in excess of the number in operation in April, 1909. If this number is greater than one to 500 people in any district, then no new licenses shall be granted in place of those revoked or whose owners die, until the ratio is restored.

Limitation of Saloons—Councils may limit the number of saloons, but the ratio shall in no case be greater than one to 500 people. It can be made one to 1,000, if the councils wish, or any other figure above one to 500.

Proposed Game Law Provisions. The house, sitting in committee of the whole, today amended the Harris game bill to provide that deer should be shot only alternate years. This was on a motion of Representative Heckert. Later, however, the house did not concur in this action, and the bill remains in this respect as drawn, though hunters are limited to one deer. The following are some of the principal features of the measure:

Quail, fox, black and gray squirrel, protected until 1919.

Fall duck season, Oct. 1 to Dec. 31; spring duck season, March 15 to April 25.

Rabbits and red squirrels, protected from March 1 to Oct. 1.

This is the first time that rabbits have ever been protected by a statewide law. The idea of protecting red squirrels with rabbits is to give people no excuse for robbing the woods with guns during the protected season.

Public Domain Bill Is Killed. The house today took the Flowers public domain bill from the table, where it had laid after its beating of Monday night, and again vetoed it by the vote of thirty-seven to forty-five, the bill having actually lost votes. The farmers' club and the members from the northern part of the lower peninsula killed the bill, the city men and the upper peninsula delegation voting for it.

The idea of large forest reserves is disliked below the straits, the general opinion being that settlers would be better for the country.

The Steward employers' liability bill, which renders all employers liable for damages for injuries to men resulting from employees' negligence, passed the house in committee of the whole. The farmers' club amended it to cut out farmers, but when the committee rose that provision was put back in the bill. However, there is such opposition to the farmers' provision that it is believed the chance of passage is slight.

Big Fund for Good Roads. Representative Whelan made an unsuccessful effort to kill the highway appropriation bill today. It went through, however, carrying $10,000 for good roads, the largest amount the state has ever provided.

PAYNTER MAKES AN ELOQUENT PLEA

Urging an Amendment to the Tariff Bill, Kentucky Senator Asks Justice for the American Farmers Who Grow Tobacco.

Fast in the Grasp of a "Conscienceless Monopoly" Which Controls Even European Markets, He Says, They Desire Only the Privilege of Selling Their Product in the Natural Leaf Without the Payment of a Tax, Now Six Cents a Pound.

Washington, May 12.—Pleading for an amendment to the tariff bill to permit the producer of tobacco to sell hand-cut tobacco without the payment of a duty of six cents per pound, Senator Paynter of Kentucky today laid before the senate a history of the tobacco industry in this country.

"What the tobacco grower desires," said Mr. Paynter, "is the privilege of selling his tobacco in the natural leaf to the consumers; that this privilege may be exercised by selling it to tobacco dealers and they be permitted to sell it to the consumers without the payment of a tax."

Big Trust Dominates. "If tobacco growers and their tenants had been prosperous, there would have been no demand for a change in the law. It was the unfortunate condition in which they found themselves that caused them to begin to investigate what had caused the condition which existed."

Mr. Paynter declared that the tobacco growers believe they are in the grasp of "a conscienceless monopoly," and gave a history of the so-called tobacco trust, composed during the tobacco troubles in Kentucky and expressed the hope that the enactment of the proposed law would remove the causes which have provoked these troubles.

Some manufacturers are contenting that it would not be right to enact the law which is sought, because it would be unfair to them. The farmers would not be permitted to sell manufactured tobacco. They would not put upon the market tobacco in the same form into which the manufacturers convert it. Since they would be to direct competition with them in the sale of the tobacco.

"The manufacturers have no right to demand, as a matter of protection to them, that the farmer should not be permitted to sell his tobacco in the natural leaf to whomsoever he pleased. When the internal revenue laws were enacted, the government was not placed under obligation never to change the system. It made no promise to manufacturers that the farmers should not be permitted to sell their tobacco in the natural leaf to the consumers through the instrumentality of their vendors. The government, in enacting the internal revenue laws did not surrender its right to protect the citizens of the country who might subsequently need it. It did not surrender any of its power to do justice to the people engaged in any industry in this country."

Pleds for 1,500,000 People. In his closing appeal to the senate for favorable action on his proposed legislation, Mr. Paynter said: "This great government of ours, because of the loss in a jangle over the matter of cutting out the mandatory primary for county officers, Upper peninsula interests do not like this feature of the bill. The matter of allowing persons to get on the primary ballot on the payment of the fee has been cut out, leaving only the petition method, which will raise a howl in Wayne."

BASEBALL. STANDINGS OF THE TEAMS.

Washington, May 12.—After several hours spent in the senate today in discussing the window glass schedule of the tariff bill, Mr. Aldrich asked that that paragraph be passed over. Some other sections relating to glass manufactured articles that previously had been passed over were agreed to.

The senate proceeded to the consideration of passed-over sections until the iron ore paragraph was reached, when Mr. Crawford, Republican, of South Dakota, spoke at length upon the lack of wisdom of any tariff that encouraged the exhaustion of natural resources which could not readily be reproduced. He insisted that there should be no tariff on iron ore, lumber or coal.

Mr. Gore, Democrat, of Oklahoma, vigorously defended the retailers against the charges of extortion. "This senate," declared Mr. Gore, "has turned itself into a grand jury and evidently is ready to return a verdict against the retail dealers for the high prices of articles used by the American people. As a matter of fact, the manufacturers and trusts are undertaking to hold up the middlemen and retailers as a shield to protect themselves against the outraged consumers. I stand here to enter a plea of not guilty for the retailers of this country."

Senator Gore named shoes, hats, shirts, clothing and other articles of particular manufactures as being sold to retailers under contract that they should be sold at an agreed price. Mr. Gore said that some women and children in the state of New England are declaring dividends of 66 per cent, which was greater than the profit of the retailers.

TAPT WINS HONORS ON THE GOLF LINKS

With Former Champion Travis as His Partner, He Helps Defeat the Opposing Team in a Remarkably Close Match.

Washington, May 12.—With victory perched on his golf stick, President Taft returned late this afternoon from the Chevy Chase club links. Taking Walter J. Travis, former national and international champion, for his partner, the president defeated the opposing team, composed during the tournament of play of General Clarence R. Edwards, chief of the insular bureau of the war department, and E. Oden Horstmann, a crack player of the Chevy Chase club, whose place was taken after the second hole by Captain Archibald Butt, military aide at the White House. Mr. Taft and his partner won by a score of one up.

The feature of the game was by the remarkable drive made by the president, who on the eighteenth hole led with a long, straight drive to within three feet of the hole, green hole. Hundreds of members of the club, who were gathered around the home green, broke into long applause at the president's extraordinary play. Unfortunately he fooled his put and made the hole in three. At the seventeenth hole the teams were tied. Edwards and Captain Butt won the eighteenth, making the score one up in favor of Mr. Taft and his partner. The total individual score of Travis was twenty-four, and of Mr. Taft ninety-two.

PORTO RICANS AGGRIEVED.

President Taft's Attitude Doesn't Strike Them at All Favorably.

San Juan, P. R., May 12.—Only excerpts from President Taft's message on Porto Rico have been received here. These have caused excited comment, mostly of unfavorable nature. President Taft's attitude has caused general disappointment among the politicians of all parties. Governor Post, speaking today with reference to the message, said that it would undoubtedly be disappointing to political circles, but he anticipated no trouble in the islands. Senator Rivera, a prominent Unionist, declared "the message of the president an insult heaped upon a weak people that cannot reply." There is no unrest here, and business interests are not affected.

Chicago, May 12.—The interstate board of arbitration, composed of representatives of the six states having the greatest interest in settling the strike of the lake seamen, adjourned here today, to meet in Detroit next Tuesday. The board communicated here with Thomas A. Hanson, a local official of the Lake Seamen's union. At that time and place an effort will be made to get William Livingston, president of the Lake Carriers' association, into conference with Olander and the board of arbitration.

Detroit, May 12.—President Livingston of the Lake Carriers' association, said tonight that while he did not want to appear discourteous to the interstate board of arbitration, which will meet here Tuesday in an effort to settle the seamen's strike, he would not attend the meeting. Mr. Livingston said that the only question at issue was the open shop. This question, he said, was a fundamental principle which could not be arbitrated.

ARMENIANS BUTCHERED LIKE SO MANY CATTLE

Clergyman Who Survives a Fearful Massacre Enacted in the Streets of a Town in Asiatic Turkey Gives a Description of the Sickening Tragedy.

Sis, Asiatic Turkey, Friday, April 23.—[Delayed in transmission.]—Seven Armenian preachers, two lay delegates and three Armenian women passed through Sis on their way to the yearly synodical meeting at Adana the day after the fighting began at that place. They stopped over night in the village of Sagu Gachad, some of the party with the local governor and the other with another of the leading men of the village. The next day a party of Mohammedians took these travelers from the houses where they had spent the night and, gathering together a number of Armenians living in Sagu Gachad until they had ninety-two in all, butchered all the streets of the village. The women were treated violently. The wife of the governor watched the killing in the street below from the balcony of her house. The bodies of the dead were carted out to the country and thrown over a cliff.

The Armenian pastor of the church at Pekke, although left for dead, was still alive. He recovered his senses and succeeded in making his way to Sis, where he related the foregoing. He had to crawl through fields and woods, wounded, and in great pain.

Abdul Hamid Gives Up His Wealth.

London, May 12.—A dispatch from Saloniki says that Talaat Bey, vice president of the chamber of deputies, who was sent there to arrange with Abdul Hamid for the transference of his fortune to the government, succeeded in obtaining the signature of the former sultan for the withdrawal of his funds from foreign banks, but that Abdul Hamid resolutely refused to deliver up the keys to two iron rooms in the Yildiz Kiosk which had resisted all efforts for forcible entrance. After Talaat Bey's departure, the dispatch says, the officers of the guard, furious at the ex-sultan's refusal to comply with the demand, rushed into the room and forced him to surrender the keys without further delay.

Dispute Over the ex-Sultan's Cash.

Constantinople, May 12.—A difference of opinion has arisen between Scheikit Pasha, commander of the constitutional army that entered Constantinople April 24, and the present cabinet. Scheikit Pasha is of the opinion that the cash found in the imperial palace of Yildiz should be used to pay the expenses of his army, while the ministers want the money turned into the national treasury. Scheikit Pasha has one advantage in the controversy, as the money is in the possession of the military.

BODIES OF THE MEN BLOWN TO PIECES

Twenty Lives Are Lost When a Blast of Dynamite Explodes Prematurely at a Stone Quarry Near Albany, New York.

Hurled Hundreds of Feet by the Concussion, the Remains of the Victims of the Disaster Are Mutilated in Frightful Manner, Workmen With Shovels Finding Here and There Shreds of Flesh Which Are Conveyed to the Morgue in Boxes.

Albany, N. Y., May 12.—At least twenty men were killed today by a premature blast of dynamite in the stone quarry operated by the Callanan Road Improvement company near South Bethlehem, eleven miles southwest of Albany. The dead were: JOHN ROYD CALLANAN, vice president and general manager of the company; CHARLES D. CALLANAN, brother of the manager; LEROY McMILLAN, assistant superintendent; JOHN HENDRICKSON, FRED SNYDER, JAMES MALONEY, WILLIAM BALMES, FRED SEAPPERT, TWELVE ITALIAN WORKMEN.

One thousand pounds of dynamite exploded, and the bodies of the victims were hurled hundreds of feet by the concussion and so badly mutilated as to be almost beyond recognition. Workmen with shovels found here and there portions of bodies, and brought their gruesome loads in boxes to the engine house, which served as a temporary morgue.

SMALL CRAFT SINKS AND THREE MEN DROWN

To Save a Bridge Toll of One Penny Each, Five Foreigners Attempt to Cross the Monongahela River in a Leaky Boat—Only Two Succeed.

Pittsburg, May 12.—To save a bridge toll of five cents, five foreigners who had been out of work for many months attempted to cross the Monongahela river at McKeesport, a suburb, today in a small boat which sank as they got into the stream, drowning three of the men. Five hundred school children enjoying their first day's diversion in a new playground saw them drown.

Expecting to find work at Glassport, the men, with but a few cents in their pockets, found an old boat which had been washed ashore, and rather than spend one cent each from their scanty hoard, they entered the boat. They were within twenty-five yards of the farther shore when the boat shipped water and sank.

Ten bodies had been recovered when the search was abandoned at dark to-night for the victims of last night's ferryboat accident. The revised list to-night shows the total death list to be twenty-three, instead of twenty-one.

TROOPS PATROL STREETS OF PARIS

Because of the Strike of the State Postal Employees, the French Capital Resembles a City in a State of Siege.

Men Who Quit Work Are Much Less in Number Than Was Expected, However, the Service Being Inconvenienced Only in the Railway Mail Department, and the Day Passes Peacefully, No Serious Disturbances of Any Kind Being Reported.

Paris, May 12.—Paris today resembles a city in a state of siege. Troops are in possession of the central post and telegraph stations, and squads of infantrymen are picketed around every branch office to protect the postal employees who are willing to work. The streets are patrolled by mounted republican guards. General Dalstein, military governor of Paris, has fifty thousand troops in reserve. It was officially announced this afternoon that the strikers numbered seven hundred men, chiefly railway clerks; but at the strike headquarters a very much larger number was claimed.

Strike Leaders Disappointed. Paris, May 12.—The first day of the postal strike has passed peacefully. No disturbances are reported and the movement appears not to have gained ground. The mail service in Paris and throughout the provinces tonight, with the exception of that of the railway mail clerks, is normal, and as a result there has been no need to take advantage of the preparations made by various business organizations and commercial bodies to carry on a private letter service.

The cabinet tonight summarily dismissed 228 men under the decree issued March 18, which authorized the discharge of strikers from the state service and made other provisions for dealing with the recalcitrants. The leaders of the strike experienced another discouragement in the failure of the miners' congress at Lens to vote a sympathetic strike, and up to the present none of the trades unions has made a sign of joining the movement.

Outgoing Mails Stranded.

Official figures tonight place the number of strikers in Paris at 465, out of 11,000. Owing to the defection of a majority of the mail clerks the outgoing mails are more or less stranded. Reports from the provinces show that the movement has not made much headway, except at Havre, where special services arranged by the Chamber of Commerce will be inaugurated.

The postal employees held a meeting tonight and adopted a resolution to continue the strike with unabated vigor. It was announced that the number of strikers was growing rapidly, both in Paris and the provinces, one instance being that of the mail clerks of the Lyons mail, who had quit on the road.

FORMER Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Calumet Elks Will Have One of the Finest Temples in the State of Michigan.

Calumet lodge of Elks, No. 404, which has taken over the old Y. M. C. A. building and will have it remodeled for lodge purposes, will have one of the finest Elks' temples in the state. The temple is to be completed and ready for use by June 15, so that convention affairs may be held there. The building proper is of brown sandstone. It is 35,500 feet in size and of ample proportions for the uses for which it is intended. It is proposed to erect a large veranda, 86 feet long by 12 feet wide. The veranda will have a concrete floor with stone walls underneath, and will be very substantially erected. The ground on which the temple stands will be enclosed, and grassy plots and lawns laid out. The veranda will be one of the main features of the building. It is to be of Colonial design and will have large Doric columns. There will be a shingle roof covering the porch.

The basement of the temple will be divided. There will be a dining room, 20 by 86 feet long. Two regulation bowling alleys will be installed. A large kitchen is also to be installed. There will be boiler and coal rooms. The structure is to be steam heated throughout. On the main floor will be a large reception room and office. There will also be a ladies' parlor, and billiard and card rooms. On the upper floor will be located the lodge room. This will be 31 feet wide by 87 feet long, and will be one of the most convenient lodge rooms in the copper country. Storage and ante-rooms will also be located on this floor. The building is to be finished in hardwood throughout and is to be equipped with the most modern plumbing and other arrangements. It will make an ideal home for the Calumet lodge, and gratification is expressed among the members at the securing of such advantageous quarters.

ANNUAL SCHOOL CENSUS STARTS.

Enumerators Will Begin Next Monday—Calumet District Large.

Census enumerators for the various school districts of Houghton county will start their work next Monday. The census is one that is taken with great care as on it is based the apportionment of the primary school fund. Houghton county will receive as its share of the fund $128,795, the basis of apportionment being $5 per capita. The following is the apportionment for the counties of the upper peninsula: Alger, $9,845; Baraga, $9,640; Delta, $47,225; Dickinson, $34,480; Gogebic, $33,325; Houghton, $128,795; Iron, $16,751; Keweenaw, $8,840; Marquette, $69,795; Menominee, $44,656; Ontonagon, $12,335; Schoolcraft, $13,085.

There are more children of school age in District No. 1 of Calumet township than in any school district in Houghton county. Every year an increase is reported and it is expected that this year will show further increase. It is not an easy matter to take the census of over six thousand school children. The names and ages of all children between the ages of five and twenty years are recorded. With so many names and so many nationalities with which to deal the task of the enumerator is made difficult. At times parents are encountered who refuse to give the details, either because they are not familiar with the English language or because they fear that if they have a child working he will be sent to school. It is desired that all assistance possible be given the enumerators, as the law will not enforce the attendance of children at school unless they are less than sixteen years of age. The number of school children in the Calumet district No. 1 this year will be far above 8,000. Last year the number was 8,064. There has been quite an addition to the population of Calumet since the last census and many more names will be added.

JUDGE BENTLEY TO ADDRESS FINNISH COLLEGE GRADUATES.

Hon. G. C. Bentley will make the address to the graduating class of the Hancock Finnish college the evening of Wednesday, May 26. There are eight students in the senior class and seven in the commercial department who will be graduated. The school commencement sermon will be preached in the college chapel the Sunday preceding by Rev. J. K. Nikander, president of the college. There will be a few changes in the faculty next year. One new teacher will take the place of Miss Alma Aramen, who leaves to marry Rev. Henry Hanson at Evelyn, Minn. The program for the commencement exercises, which will take place at the college, is as follows: Valedictory, Carl Siebert; historian, Emil Steinbach; class poet, Lempi Haapa; prophet, J. Vilamo; piano solo, Miss Sigrid Nikander; oration, Matt Korhonen; salutary, David Elm; recitation, Paulina Louko. The seniors will give a concert at Franklin next Sunday evening for the benefit of the class.

NEW SCHOOL AT CHASSELL.

A contract was let yesterday by Maass Brothers, Calumet architects, for the erection of a new school at Chassel. The building will be a two-story frame structure, with four rooms on each floor. It will be 40 by 81 feet in overall dimensions. The office of the superintendent will be included in this building.

ENTERTAINMENT GALORE.

Judging from the arrangements made by the Calumet Eagles' executive committee for the annual state convention of the order to be held in Calumet June 8, 9 and 10, the three days' sessions are going to be very busy ones. There will be plenty of music. Receptions will be held, there will be a grand ball, also dancing on the streets, the celebration winding up with an illuminated torchlight parade and fireworks. The grand marshal will be Frank Larson and he will have as aides Chief of Police Joseph Trudell and Pat Ryan.

The visiting Eagles will commence to arrive in Red Jacket Monday, June 7, and will be met at the depot by the Red Jacket City band. From then on all of the incoming trains will be met by the band, and the visitors escorted to the headquarters of the convention in the Red Jacket town hall. The business sessions of the state are to commence at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Thursday afternoon and evening will be the big day of the convention. A grand parade will be held in the afternoon. During the evening there will be dancing on Fifth and Sixth streets. The same evening there will also be an illuminated and automobile parade and on the vacant lots between Seventh and Eighth streets, Red Jacket, a grand display of fireworks will take place. The convention proper will end with a grand ball in the Red Jacket town hall.

ZIEHR AND ROWETT MATCHED.

Well Known Ironwood Wrestler Will Meet Calumet Champion in June.

Joe Ziehr and Jack Rowett, two of the best Cornish wrestlers that ever donned the jackets, have been matched to wrestle in Red Jacket on some date between June 10 and 20, the exact date to be set later. William Wills, who is promoting the match, has offered a purse of $500 for the event. Word has been received from Rowett that he is willing to wrestle Ziehr and asking that articles be drawn up and sent to him for his signature. The match is practically arranged. Mr. Wills met Rowett in Calumet a week ago, and put the proposition up to him. The iron country and former copper country wrestler asked for a week in which to consider the offer. The match will likely be held in the Calumet theater, provided that place can be secured. It is to be for the best two out of three falls, with all recognized fold holds barred. The men will wrestle at catch weights. Ziehr competes Rowett about fifteen pounds. He is a younger man, however, and this should make up the difference in weight. Rowett is one of the best Cornish wrestlers the copper country ever produced, and Ziehr's record is too well known to need repetition. Ziehr is willing to take on all comers and will arrange with any of them for a bout after his match with Rowett.

CALUMET MASS MEETING.

GOOD WILL FARM CROWDED.

Mrs. Walker Seeks Temporary Homes for the Older Boy Inmates.

Mrs. G.M. Walker, superintendent of the Good Will Farm, returned from the East, yesterday a newspaper man had a conversation with her. She says that Good Will Farm is crowded. The normal capacity is twenty-five children and there are now thirty-eight, an excess of thirteen. Mrs. Walker wants to know if there are not some people who would give temporary homes to some of the bigger boys. They are willing to work for their board.

NORWEGIAN CELEBRATION.

WANTS COPPERDOM EXHIBIT.

Treasurer Poe of the U. P. Agricultural Association Visits the District.

Alvin Poe of Sault Ste. Marie, treasurer of the Upper Peninsula Agricultural association, who has been in the copper country on private business but incidentally putting in a word wherever it would do good along agricultural lines, expresses himself as very anxious that Houghton county take more interest in the matter of making agricultural displays at the state fairs in both Michigan and Wisconsin. In addition to filling the office of treasurer with credit to himself and the association Mr. Poe usually has charge of the exhibits of the association at the state fairs mentioned and also superintends the work of collecting the display subjects from the different sections of the peninsula.

"There are two or three farmers in Houghton who have been lending the best of individual assistance along these lines," said Mr. Poe, "but I feel that Houghton county's contribution to the upper peninsula's exhibit never has been what it should have been in credit to both the county and the north country. I know that at the county fairs in this county in the past several years, the excellent displays of both fruits and vegetables and of a class that would have made an excellent showing at the state fairs, yet we never have been able to get these exhibitors to let us take their specimens to the state fairs, with the one or two exceptions which I have mentioned. Now it is my wish that Houghton county take more interest in this matter for its own good as well as the good of the upper peninsula, and I am determined to arouse such interest this year if possible. I want to have a good Houghton exhibit shown at the Upper Peninsula association makes displays this fall."

Mr. Poe states that, in addition to going to the Michigan and Wisconsin state fairs this year, it is quite possible that a display will be made at the Minnesota state fair at Minneapolis. All will depend upon the attitude of the railroad. One road has already made rates and offered all possible encouragement.

$10,000 HALL FOR SOCIALISTS.

The Hancock Finnish Socialist club has decided to build a club house at the corner of Franklin and Tezeux streets, and ground will be broken next Monday for the structure. The building will be in the neighborhood of $10,000. It is planned to have a lodge room and library on the ground floor, also a restaurant, while an auditorium will occupy the entire second floor, to be used for social meetings and dances. It is necessary to erect the building, a new public money to be raised by selling shares, 1,500 of which will be issued at ten dollars each. The property itself cost $14,500, and was purchased from Jacob Oldring. About 80,000 of this amount has been raised by the treasury. The club has a membership of about 165, mostly in Hancock, with a considerable number in South Range and Houghton.

SHOOTS ROBIN; FINED $20.

Nalat Quinni of Troutmount drew a fine of $20 and costs before Justice Mitchell for shooting a robin. Quinni pleaded not guilty when placed upon the stand, stating that he was not aware of the species of his quarry, but such a violation was offered against the accused that he changed his plea to guilty. It appears that Quinni with other men spent the morning hunting robins in the vicinity of No. 2 dry at Troutmount. William Coad, keeper of the dryhouse, left for a small spring to secure water for use of the employees. Upon his return a gun was discharged and almost simultaneously a robin dropped directly before him. The Italian immediately claimed the bird, but Coad, instead of surrendering the bird, secured a varmint as complaining witness, charging Quinni with violating the game laws.

VETERANS' RANKS THINNING.

Four members of Stiles post, G. A. R., have passed away during the past twelve months, and there will be four more graves to be decorated on Memorial Day by the loving hands of their former comrades. The recently departed old soldiers were Sidney M. Bates, Silas Goodale of Houghton, Charles Fisher of Houghton and Peter Wendell of Franklin. The ranks of the veterans of the Civil war are growing thinner every year, and only twenty-six old soldiers now remain as members of Stiles post.

ATTRACTION AT AMPHIDROME.

Shiney Charlton, a celebrated roller skater, will be the attraction at the Houghton Amphidrome all next week. He is a trick and fancy skater, with a world reputation. He is the holder of the Richard K. Fox championship medal for fancy roller skating.

TO NAME THE FAIR DATE.

Annual Meeting of Directors of Copper Country Fair is Called.

The annual meeting of the board of directors of the Houghton County Agricultural society and Copper Country Fair has been called by Secretary McNamara for May 22. It will be an important meeting. The Amphidrome has always been the exhibition hall, but this year it may be different. The Amphidrome is not believed now to have sufficient grounds, and unless the business men of Houghton do something in this connection the town may lose the fair. The committees and department superintendents will be appointed at the forthcoming meeting and in every way the work of preparing for the annual show will be started.

PAROCIAL SCHOOL CENSUS.

Two thousand five hundred and six is the exact number of pupils in the parochial schools of Houghton county. This has been determined by an enumeration taken by Father Atfield of Hancock and Rev. T. Malone of the Sea. There are nine parochial schools in Houghton county. Sacred Heart of Calumet boasts the largest attendance, it having 801 pupils. St. Patrick's of Hancock instructs 382 pupils. The other Hancock school, St. Joseph's, third in the list, has 316 scholars in attendance. This attendance is in reality larger than that of St. Patrick's for in St. Joseph's the number of grades is only eight, while at St. Patrick's the scholars have instruction in twelve grades.

LONG LITIGATION ENDED.

James Chappel and Jos. Moon of Houghton have returned from St. Paul, Minn., with eight horses which they will use in their day lines.

OMAHA VOTES TO PAY $6,500,000 FOR WATER FRANCHISES AND PROPERTY.

Omaha, Neb., May 12.—Again have the people of Omaha signified their intention of owing the plant and property of the Omaha Water company. By more than a majority vote, cast at a special election, they expressed their willingness to pay $6,500,000 for the franchises, 14 miles of mains and the pumping station and settling basins at Florence, a suburb, just north of the city limits. It is believed that the voting of these bonds will end the litigation that has been pending for several years.

MONTANA SMOKE LITIGATION ENDED.

It is likely that Butte has seen the last of the long-continued litigation to which the Amalgamated company and the Washoe smelter have been subjected, says the Butte correspondent of the Boston Commercial. The long drawn out smoke injunction suit has finally been dismissed in the state supreme court by Judge Hunt, who decided against the Washoe smelter. NEW ENTERPRISE FOR BUTTS.

The Butte Reduction works, W. A. Clark's smelting plant, has completed a zinc concentrator and has begun the treatment of zinc ores from the Butte & Superior, Elm Orlu and other hill mines which carry large percentages of zinc. Zinc smelters in Missouri and Oklahoma find the Butte concentrates to be the best received at these plants and zinc men are eager to get the concentrates. If the concentration proves a success, as it now appears it will, it will open a new enterprise for Butte mining, and will make Butte & Superior and other mines immediately profitable. There is an immense tonnage of zinc ore blacked out in the Butte & Superior, Elm Orlu, Alois, Lexington, Emma and other Butte mines which has heretofore been a detriment, as copper smelters charge a penalty for zinc in ores.

BUTTE-BALLKLAVA.

The Butte-Ballklava Copper company owns and is developing two fractional mining claims known as the Funke and Ballklava, comprising an irregular piece of ground containing about six acres. The company was incorporated two and a half years ago. The ground of the Butte-Ballklava is well situated. It is claimed that there are four known veins on which the company owns 3,000 lateral feet. Like every other company doing development or promotion work in that section of the district the Butte-Ballklava claims to own the extensions of the Speculator and Fifth May veins of the North Butte company. Two other veins, known as the Old Joe and Moline, strike through the ground, according to publicity maps of the company.

Originally the company started to sink a new three-compartment shaft, but the same management was changed and they decided to clean out an old two-compartment shaft and sink that deeper. Below the 500-foot level it has been enlarged to three compartments and later will be enlarged to the surface. There is an old adit at the 300 feet level. The veins there contain little commercial ore, but the 300-foot compartment, the entire ground and cut four veins, all showing ore, but no drifting was done. At the 700 another cross-cut was run and a good improvement in the veins noted, their width running from ten to forty feet. The lower level was opened at the 100-foot point and assays of 14 per cent copper, sixteen ounces of silver and $1 in gold to the ton were made. Sinking has been carried on and the shaft is now about 1,370 feet deep and will be taken to the 1,500-foot point. A new level is being opened at the 1,200. However, the fact that the company finds it necessary to issue the remaining treasury stock indicates that the property is not yet near a paying basis, notwithstanding reports of a possible production. The company is at present under good management. The officers are: President, R. B. Dear of Superior, Wis.; vice president, P. H. Nelson of Duluth; secretary and treasurer, J. J. A. Percival of Minneapolis. In addition to the above, the directors are Mike Bunnell and I. F. Houghton of Duluth, Gus Carlson of Hibbing, and John Tanton of Duluth.

Last week three or four cars of first-class ore, which had been taken out in the course of development work, were shipped to the Washoe smelter, and the returns were around 13 per cent copper, seven-tenths ounces in silver and fifty cents in gold to the ton. It is information that is obtainable is correct, the Butte-Ballklava has every prospect of making good, though the capitalization—$2,500,000—is high for the ground owned by the company. However, some of the best copper mines of the Butte district are small in acreage. A well-known mining man, being asked about the acreage of one of the new companies operating in Butte, informed a London correspondent and upon the latter expressing surprise at the small acreage, said: "That is copper land; if you want such land you can go out here to the eastern part of the state and buy all you want for a dollar an acre." So after all it is not acreage but ore that counts in value and profits, but acreage is a good thing when the company also owns the ore.

BUTTE CENTRAL COPPER.

The affairs of the Old Butte Central & Boston Copper corporation have been cleared up and the new company, the Butte Central Copper company, is about ready to resume operations on the Ophir mine. It is understood that the new company has excellent financial backing and will have good management. The Ophir, which has been a great silver producer above the 400-foot level, has the possibilities of developing into a good copper producer, as the ore on the level has yielded good copper assays.

LONG LITIGATION ENDED.

The plant of the Omaha Water company is owned by New York, Boston and Philadelphia capitalists and was completed some twenty years ago. In 1898 the city first inaugurated a plan to acquire the waterworks. The Nebraska legislature authorized the purchase and issuance of bonds in the sum of $3,000,000. March 6, 1900, a special election was held and the bonds voted. Appraisers were appointed, the city naming one, the Water company a second and the city a third. They commenced their work July 7, 1906, fixing the value at $6,283,795. The award was turned into the Omaha water board and promptly rejected, the contention being that it was too high to pay for the property, the worth in excess of $3,000,000. An attempt was made to take control and the courts interfered. Then mandamus proceedings were brought in federal court to compel the Water company to accept the $3,000,000. The city was defeated and the award was set aside. So far the wanted property, it must pay the full amount of the award, $6,283,795. This the water board would and could not do, as this sum of money was not available. In the meantime, hydraulic rental against the city has accumulated until it has reached $500,000. So far this has been brought each six months and judgments secured, the city not making any defence.

LONG LITIGATION ENDED.

Now, to get out of the dilemma, the city has voted the bonds of $6,500,000, the proceeds of which, it is figured, will be sufficient to take over the plant and pay off all indebtedness. In fact, the officers of the Water company have expressed a willingness to dismiss all court proceedings and turn the plant over upon the payment of the $6,500,000.

LONG LITIGATION ENDED.

While the physical condition of the Omaha plant is not of the best, it is figured that the income, which amounts to about $900,000 per year, will take care of the cost of all extensions and improvements, as well as interest charges. The capacity of the plant is 58,000,000 gallons per day and in addition to furnishing Omaha with its water, it supplies South Omaha, Florence and Dundas, suburban towns.

I have your product at my private hospital, and I am perfectly satisfied as to its merits. I also use it in my private practice, and as I have been practicing for upwards of forty years, I consider that I am able to judge of its good qualities." J. C. Beard, M. D., 633 Canal Street, New Orleans, La.

The "Molly McGuire" defeated the "Tommy Meads" in baseball at the Pioneer furnace yesterday by the score of 6 to 1. The "Molly's" are now two games ahead of their opponents.

Farmers Are Busy—Farmers in this part of the country are very busy just now. The frost is all out of the ground and the farmers are making the most of the belated spring weather to get the soil in shape for planting. As there has been no spring rain of any consequence, the earth is dry and in fine shape for cultivation.

Motor Dray Arrived—The motor dray, which has been expected by Flanigan Bros., for nearly a week, arrived last night and will be unloaded at the South Shore freight depot this morning. As the machine is set up all ready to run, it will likely be seen on the down town streets before night, marking a new era in the dray business in this city.

No Strike Trouble Here—To date there has been no evidence of a marine strike at this port, and the union pickets, distribution of dodgers and violence, which have characterized the engineers' strike at some other lake ports, have been conspicuous only by their absence. Boats are coming and going without molestation, and whether the crews are union or non-union men is not even of passing interest.

Baby Show Closed—The baby show, which has been in progress at the Bijou for the last ten days, closed last evening and the judges will count the votes today. The contest has awakened extraordinary interest, over forty babies having been entered, and at least 4,000 tickets have been given out. There was an especially large vote cast yesterday. The names of the winners will be announced at the Bijou tonight.

Officers Elected—At the meeting of the directors of the Pioneer Motor company, held yesterday, officers were elected as follows: Morgan Jopling, president; C. L. Sporley, first vice president; A. T. Roberts, second vice president, and H. C. Wagner, secretary and treasurer. Fred Charlton was engaged to draw up plans for the company's garage. As the meeting today, the contest has awakened extraordinary interest, over forty babies having been entered, and at least 4,000 tickets have been given out. There was an especially large vote cast yesterday. The names of the winners will be announced at the Bijou tonight.

D. A. R. Elects Officers—The Marquette chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution elected the following officers at their annual meeting, held Tuesday afternoon: Regent, Mrs. W. G. King; vice regent, Mrs. W. S. Hill; secretary, Mrs. Frank Jones; corresponding secretary, Mrs. P. B. Spear; treasurer, Mrs. Ed. Culver; registrar, Mrs. W. S. Shaul; historian, Miss Templeton. Mrs. George Conklin paid a glowing tribute to the retiring regent, Mrs. E. J. Stafford.

Launch at Island—H. O. Bell stated last evening that there would be first class launch service at Presque Isle park this summer. The thirty-four foot launch Grace, which was in commission at the island several years ago, has been secured for this season and will be used for pleasure trips. Mr. Bell expects to move out to the island early next week and open the boat house and refreshment stand for business. Coffee, sandwiches and light lunches are to be served this summer.

News of the Boats—The Anchor line package freighter Schuykill left Buffalo Monday night for Lake Superior ports and is expected in Marquette Saturday or Sunday. The steamer Warriner and Marquette loaded one No. 4 dock yesterday and cleared during the day for lower lake ports. The Mariska was at the Pickands & Co. dock unloading coal yesterday and will load a cargo of ore before her return. The Donaldson cleared from the Presque Isle dock yesterday at 10 o'clock for Ashtabula.

Vierling Saloon Opened—Louis Vierling's saloon, at the corner of Front and Main streets, was opened for business yesterday, and those visiting the place were astounded at the costly and beautiful appearance of the interior. Mr. Vierling has assembled a rare collection of valuable paintings, which adorn the walls and feast the eyes of all lovers of fine art. The usual mirror back of the bar has been displaced with a handsome painting by a famous artist. The furnishings are new and in keeping with the artistic appearance of the rest of the saloon.

Streams Are High—Fishermen who have gone out from Marquette within the last few days report that the streams are very high, probably due to the snow in the woods, which is now rapidly melting. This makes angling in the larger streams out of the question, although a small catch is occasionally reported in some of the smaller creeks. However, if there is no heavy rainfall meantime, the streams should be down to their normal size within a week or two, and then fish are expected to bite more readily. The Chocoyoc river was said to be about as high yesterday as it ever gets.

Roney Boys May 25—The Roney boys have been engaged to give a concert at the Guild Hall on the night of May 25 for the benefit of the Guild Hall association. Aside from its entertainment feature this concert has a high educational value, and is at once an inspiration and a grand object lesson to every child in the city, in the possibilities of their own voices under cultivation. It stimulates a greater love for all that is beautiful in music, and helps singing in the church, the school and the home. Indeed, so potent is its influence among children that superintendents and principals of schools and boards of education have many times ordered the schools closed on the afternoon of the boys' matinee, which endorsement that no other concert company in America has received.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.
THEATRICAL.
"Montana."
In these days of bewildering stage realism, it is an uncommon thing to witness a climax which at its culmination brings an audience to its feet in a frenzy of enthusiastic commendation. But this is what happens at the end of the second act of "Montana," when "Jim Graham" makes his famous leap from the stage to the back of a madly galloping horse, a feat never before accomplished in the narrow confines of a stage. Henry D. Carey's great American play, "Montana," will appear at the opera house Friday night.

"Arizona," "The Squaw Man," "The Girl of the Golden West" are all fine examples of Western drama. "Montana," Henry D. Carey's great American play, ranks with all of the above in dramatic worth.

"Just a Woman's Way."
"Just a Woman's Way," a new melodrama which comes to the opera house Wednesday night, May 19, is staged by a strong and especially selected company. Artistic skill, directness of method and intellectual strength are evident in the portrayal of this great story of everyday life, and the author, Sidney W. Paster, is to be congratulated upon the candor and naturalness with which he has handled a rather delicate theme and upon the directness and forcefulness which he has employed in the telling of a story and in the driving home of a lesson which it is well for us all to know. Lincoln J. Carter has provided with a well balanced interpreting cast and the scenic equipment is adequate and complete.

EUCALYPTUS A VALUABLE TREE.
Forest Service Is Making a Thorough Study of Its Commercial Value.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 12.—Plans are being made to have a special study undertaken by a representative of the United States forest service in the near future to determine the feasibility of the culture of the eucalyptus tree in the lower Rio Grande valley and along the Gulf coast of Texas.

The importance of eucalyptus culture from a commercial standpoint has with in the last few months aroused general interest throughout the country concerning these rapid growing trees, and the district office of the forest service at Albuquerque receives almost daily inquiries as to the feasibility of planting eucalyptus in the southwest, particularly in the state of Texas.

The eucalyptus is a native of the coast region of Australia and Tasmania, where at least 150 distinct species are recognized. It was introduced into California about 1850 and first planted near San Francisco for ornamental purposes.

The eucalyptus is adapted to a subtropical climate and the limits within which it may be planted for commercial purposes as the territory south of the 30th line. It is therefore adapted for planting in the warmer portions of California, and in parts of southern Arizona and Texas. It is not likely that it can be grown with any degree of success in New Mexico.

HOW I KEEP MY HAIR YOUNG AND BEAUTIFUL.
(By Mabel Graham.)
I know that every woman desires beautiful hair, and if they will follow my rules they will have as long, soft and fluffy hair as I have. In the first place I wash my hair well once or twice a month with a shampoo made as follows: Take half a ten-cent cake of pure castile soap, shave fine, dissolve this in half a pint of water with aid of gentle heat; when dissolved beat in the yolk of one egg and juice of one lemon; stir until cold. Rub a little of this into the roots of the hair, and rinse thoroughly with warm water and dry. I also use a quinine hair tonic freely, which keeps the scalp clean and the hair in a beautiful and healthy condition, and is especially good for dandruff and falling hair. I find the best tonic can be made by mixing a half pint of alcohol with half a pint of water and adding one ounce of beta quinine (liquid), or you can use one pint of Bay Rum in place of the alcohol and water. This makes a quinine hair tonic better than the high-priced imported makes, and a whole pint only costs 65 to 75 cents. I am sure if every lady will try this recipe they will always have young and beautiful hair, and plenty of it.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co's correspondent at New York yesterday, telegraphed as follows: "Fervid irregularity characterized the trading during today's session, and there were strong evidences of distribution in a great many issues, under cover of the strength in Rock Island. The news of the day was not of a nature to greatly affect sentiment, but it seems to be the impression in good circles that the advance has been too rapid and that a setback throughout the list will greatly strengthen the position of the market. Outside trading has increased materially, and in view of the continued ease of money and the fact that the bulk of securities are still lodged in strong hands, we are inclined to think that higher prices will ensue, particularly for the industrials, which are beginning to feel the effects of betterment in underlying conditions."

STOCK MARKET UNSETTLED.

Extraordinary gyrations in a few special issues shake confidence. The failure of the general Wall street market to respond to the extraordinary movements in special stocks today was its most remarkable feature. There were spasmodic starts in one stock, but in the intervals the market lapsed into dullness and apathy. The effect was to suggest an artificial character to the market which caused some suspicion and distrust. Reading was the central figure in the day's dealings, and its fluctuations were violent and frequent in its flights to what were new record levels with the exception of its rise to 147 in January, 1906. The high-priced colliers showed pretty close sympathy with the Reading movement. The first jump in the price of Reading found the other favorites of the traders sluggish and unresponsive. This was corrected by an aggressive advance in Union Pacific, Reading slipped back over the whole of its previous upward course. Then again, when Reading was pushed to a new high level, Union Pacific lost all its advantage, giving an appearance of unavailability to the supporters of the market. The belief that the market was being manipulated to cover the real nature of the operations going on unsettled confidence. The call loan branch of the money market remains tranquil at present, but it is not improbable that speculative holders of stocks on borrowed money will entertain some misgivings of the likely continuance of their present advantageous position. The late tone of the stock market was much unsettled, and the closing was irregular.

Wheat Prices Decline More Than a Cent.

Chicago, May 12.—Reports of rain in Kansas were the chief reason for the decline of more than a cent in the prices of wheat today. The slump occurred the last half of the session, the market prior to that time displaying moderate firmness owing, it was said, to the covering of short wheat for the account of a firm whose trades had been transferred to another house. The news generally was favorable to the bears, who took advantage of their opportunity to pound the market vigorously at times. In the Northwest, the weather generally was favorable for seeding operations. The demand for such wheat at the leading grain centers of this country was extremely slack. The close was weak, 1/2 to 1/4 lower. The July opened at 113 1/2 to 114 1/2, the highest point touched was 114 1/2, and the lowest 112 1/2; the closing quotation was 113 1/4.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, May 12.—Considerable strength was displayed in the corn market in the session today, on buying based on continued light receipts, but the prices finally yielded to the heaviness of wheat and closed barely 1/4 to 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher. The July opened at 69 1/2 to 69 3/4; high, 69 1/2; low, 68 1/2; closing, 68 1/2. The market was bearishly affected by the slump in wheat, but the prices made only slight reactions. During the greater part of the day, in fact, the market manifested decided strength, because of the active covering by shorts who were aroused by the advance of 1/2 to 3/4 in cash grain. The market closed firm to 1/2 lower.

CITY A WAR CENTER SINCE YEAR 667 B. C.

Nations Struggled for Possession of Constantinople for More Than Two Centuries.

LONG IN THE ROMAN EMPIRE Ancient Conflict Between Asiatic Mohammedanism and European Free Thought and Free Action That Brought About Recent Downfall of Abdul Hamid.

London, May 12.—Since its first colonization, 2,575 years ago, if ancient dates may be trusted, the city at the southern end of the channel between the Black sea and the Sea of Marmora, first known as Byzantium and for the last 1,500 years called Constantinople, has been the center of conflict between the east and the west—between Asiatic and European ideas.

Byzantium was settled, it is recorded, by Greek traders, in the year 667 B. C. Two natural causes made it early prominent as a trading point—it was an economic center for the grain trade of the regions bordering on the Black sea, and the Golden Horn gave rich rewards to fishermen besides offering a large and safe harbor for vessels.

Center of Many Wars.

Byzantium was the subject of struggles between the early Greek states; it was captured and recaptured many times, and finally became a tributary to imperial Rome. The remains of the ancient city have never been adequately explored; there are ancient monuments, ancient streets and fragments of buildings buried under the modern Constantinople, which is virtually a city upon the grave of a city.

In the year 330 A. D. the Emperor Constantine determined to make a new capital for the Roman empire. He selected for this purpose Byzantium, which henceforth was to be known as Constantinople—the City of Constantine. The modern Constantinople consists of three parts—Istanbul or Stamboul, the main city, on a blunt point of land at the southern end of the Bosphorus, and opposite Stamboul two lesser towns, Galata to the north across the Golden Horn, and Serrai, to the east across the Bosphorus. The Bosphorus is here about a mile wide; the Golden port of commerce and is connected with Stamboul by two pontoon bridges. Back of it lies Pera, another ancient settlement, and the modern non-Turkish residence quarter.

Rebuilt by Constantine.

Constantine virtually rebuilt Constantinople, and at the final disruption of the Roman empire into two great remnants of the former majestic whole it became the capital of the eastern or Greek empire. The great religious schism between the two branches of Christianity that in modern days form the Roman Catholic and Greek churches perpetuated and increased the political differences. From 395 A. D. to 1453 A. D. the eastern empire, with its seat at Constantinople, kept alive Roman civilization and maintained on its temples the Christian cross.

Learning centered at Constantinople as at Rome, and the antagonism between Rome and Constantinople led to the assailing of the eastern city by the Crusaders, who captured it in 1204. For 57 years the Crusaders held sway; then in 1261 they abandoned the city and it fell back to its old position as the center of Mohammedanism.

Martin of Odanah, Sanborn, Lamoureux & Prey have also received a letter from Senator Stephenson in which the junior senator enclosed two recent orders of the Indian department in reference to the order issued in March cutting off the regular monthly allowance to the Indians. The new order provides for the Indians to be classified into two classes, the dependents and those who are wholly capable of supporting themselves and their families. Those who belong to the first class will continue to get aid from the department and the department will be if anything, more liberal than before with this class. The other class will get no aid. The department has also provided for an inquiry among all Indians to determine who are capable to handle their own money and property, the view of the department being to give the Indian property which is found competent, more money and property to handle. The department also issued a circular stating that after July 1st, no orders will be issued for merchandise, after the goods are purchased, that the order must be secured before goods are bought.

Made Great by Mohammed.

Starting from a point nearly in the geographical center of Asia the Turks became subject to the Saracens, those wild Arabs who invaded Spain and have left many scattered fragments of their genius in the science and the art of modern Europe. The Arabs developed a religious organizer of the first rank in the history of the world, Mohammed. In the sixty-one years of his life that ended in 632 this wonderful man laid the foundations of a great empire. The Turks embraced Mohammedanism and Mohammedanism made them a world power. It pressed them forward to conquest after conquest.

Under Mohammedan rule Constantinople became a semi-oriental city.

The Christian churches were transformed into mosques; the streets and buildings took on an appearance of Asia rather than Europe; the local as well as the general government became surcharged with suspicion, intrigue and despotism. These conditions have continued with little change down to the present day, but the desire for the ordinary tourist is evident from the young Turk movement—unless this movement after all should prove only an attempt to substitute open despotism for another. Nothing certain can be said about the Turk's apparent desire for progress.

Mosque a Famous Spot.

Aside from the sultan's palace and the other government buildings, the most interesting structure in Constantinople to the ordinary tourist is the mosque of St. Sophia. Its interior is considered one of the finest specimens of Byzantine architecture. As the Christian church of the divine wisdom the first stone of the building was laid in 532 on the site of several successive churches of the same name, the first of which was erected by Constantine the Great.

Galata and Pera are chiefly inhabited by Christians. Here are the diplomatic headquarters of foreign countries and other non-Turkish institutions. The two bridges of boats between Galata and Stamboul are crowded with traffic constantly. Scutari is a town of about 60,000 people and contains numerous manufactures, besides being a large fruit market. The total population of Constantinople and its suburbs is considered to be about 1,100,000. Only two-thirds of the inhabitants of the city proper are Mohammedans.

TOWN OF SWANZEY HAS BUILDING BOOM

SIXTEEN STRUCTURES ERECTED SINCE THE FIRST LOT WAS SOLD A FEW MONTHS AGO, AND OTHERS ARE IN PROSPECT.

The range town of Swanzey, a short distance from Gwin, on the Swanzey range, platted less than a year ago by John Q. Adams and son of Negaunee, has had a building boom the past winter, and as a large number of the 154 lots in the townsite have been disposed of it is expected that building operations will be continued throughout the summer. There are now sixteen buildings, all frame structures, in the town, among them being several business blocks. Nothing in the way of street building or other public improvements has yet been commenced. The plat is level, however, and it will not be an expensive job to put the streets in good condition. The townspeople are procuring a good quality of water from wells. No sewerage mains have yet been provided, nor is it certain that this improvement will be commenced this year.

As several business men and families have already located at Swanzey, it is possible that some sort of a village organization will be perfected before long. In this event it is likely that public improvements will be one of the first things taken under consideration. Several of the property owners plan to build sidewalks within a few weeks and a number of the lots are to be enclosed.

Those who have already completed buildings are Clement & Beauman, business block; John J. Adams, three buildings; a residence, bakery and saloon; Frank Gendron, boarding house; J. Musatti, saloon; E. L. Trombly, residence; A. Olin, residence; N. Pizza, residence; J. W. Snell, business block, in which he is conducting a pop factory; Archie Willette, building for photograph gallery; Frank Farquar, saloon building; Charles Muck, Jr., meat market; John Remille, A. Larson and J. A. Chaput, residences. The two latter are just being finished.

The Swanzey range will be an excellent place for carpenters and other mechanics this summer, and the building boom there will be a number of new buildings erected in the two towns. Among those who contemplate building are Peter Koski & Co., whose store is now located in the Gwin Hill building. The firm owns the lot adjoining the hotel and its intention is to build a block covering practically the entire ground space. The firm is doing a fine business and its present quarters are inadequate. With the new block and the store room in the hotel building, the concern will have ample room for all branches of its business, as well as for the accommodation of the postoffice, which is located in the dry goods department of the present store.

IS AN OLD SOCIETY.

Fraternal Order Now Gaining Foothold in Michigan Organized in 1878.

Alfred Hebbard, Jr., of this city, who a few weeks ago accepted the position of district deputy for the Knights of the Macabees of the World, organized his first tent at Gwin Hill, Friday evening. He has met with such success in the copper country that he will probably put in the greater part of the summer there. He was assisted in instituting the tent by A. P. Crocker, deputy supreme state commander. Several branches have been established in the upper portion of the range. Deputies will probably remain in the field for an indefinite period.

The Knights of the Macabees of the World was established at London, Canada, in 1878; and is now incorporated under the laws of the state of Michigan, having its headquarters in Detroit. The territory in which its work is carried on is the United States and Canada. There is now organized nearly 5,000 subordinate tents, in 55 states, territories and provinces. Its form of government is thoroughly representative; its ritualism is beautiful and inspiring, having three degrees. Its monthly rates are based on the American Experience Mortality Table assuming a 4 per cent interest. This table has been the recognized standard mortality table for old line insurance companies since 1844. Members may pay monthly rates for six months or one year in advance, and receive a discount of 4 per cent per annum. On December 31, 1908, had resources in bank and investments to the amount of over $5,500,000, an increase during the year of 1908 of about $1,000,000. Its interest earnings during 1908 amounted to nearly $300,000. The average time required to pay its claims from time to time of making good is 60 days, not exceeding ten days. All investments are made in government, provincial bonds. Certificates are issued for $500 to $3,000. Each member pays 10 cents a month for management expenses, and there are nearly 300,000 of them. Commercial life insurance companies collect an average of $10 per $1,000 of insurance in force, hence the difference. It has paid all claims to date, amounting to about $30,000,000.

Fat is an Offense.

"The female form being capable of expressing a supreme degree of grace, should be an inspiration in our daily lives and lead up to a higher ideal of beauty," said the art lecturer. "Therefore the fat woman is an enemy to the artistic up-lift, for she is entirely too heavy for any wings of fancy to raise. I can understand how any woman would remain fat when it is so easy to reduce one's flesh. In the Latin quarter of Paris one never sees a gross figure. Although the art models take things easy, sit around a great deal and eat just whatever they please, yet they keep their flesh firm and their figures beautiful. They have a diet so simple and judicious that takes the place of starving and gymnastics. It consists of a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime of this simple receipt: 1/2 ounce Marmola, 1/2 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 3/4 ounce Peppermint Water. That's all. Why don't fat, pudgy American women try that? It's harmless—may, very good for them—and will, I understand, take off as much as a pound of fat a day. Any one with a little small change and a drug store handy can have a decent figure."

THEATRE MANAGERS MEET.

The managers of about thirty theaters in the Northwest met in convention at Duluth Tuesday. The men who provide entertainment for the public did little in the way of entertaining on a large scale, but devoted the whole of the time at their disposal to the business of their organization.

The object of the yearly meeting of the managers is to keep in touch with the best there is in the way of shows this summer, and to provide the public with what it wants in the amusement line. The end of the theatrical business that the public is vitally interested in is the charge to see the performances. The managers talked about prices and discussed ways and means of giving their patrons the best shows possible for the lowest prices.

By the time the association meets a year hence there will probably be new theaters in some towns within the district that comprises the Northwest circuit and some towns are assuming to be that warrant the placing of new theaters in them and in some cases of improving the class of shows that have been going to the houses. The managers visited the ruins of the Grand at Superior which has recently burned and were assured that Superior is to have a new modern theater in its place. H. P. Jordan of Sault Ste. Marie stated that he will build a house in his home town, which will be called the Jordan theater.

When the question of patronage in the reports showed that the season which is now about ended has been fully up to the standard of former years and better times are looked for. Many of the managers stated that they would during the summer make large expenditures in improving their houses.

The officers elected were: C. A. Marshall, of Duluth, president; F. B. Haber, of Fond du Lac, Wis., secretary and treasurer; W. J. Power, Hibbing, attorney; Dr. W. H. Salter, Duluth, association physician. The members of the executive committee are: J. D. Oudilly, Calumet; C. D. Moon, Eau Claire; J. E. Williams, Oshkosh; Marcus Heiman, Madison; John B. Arthur, Green Bay. Among those who attended the convention were: A. F. Koepcke, Marquette; P. J. Butler, Ishpeming; Ray Kerredge, Hancock.

JUNIOR HOP.

The junior class of the Ishpeming High school is making extensive preparations for the reception and hop to be tendered the members of the senior class tomorrow evening at Braastad's Hall. A number of the students have been busy the past few days decorating the hall and it is announced that the decorations will be one of the principal features. Sweet's orchestra of seven pieces has been engaged to furnish music. There is to be a reception from 8 to 9 o'clock and dancing will continue until 1 o'clock. Tickets will be $1 per couple, and all are requested to present their invitations at the door.

When there is work to be done the buzzsaw is always ready to take a hand.

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

"Coppers opened active and higher but did not show as much snap as was generally expected. Sentiment is still bullish, but the large interests are apparently accumulating stocks only on declines. The metal situation shows no change from yesterday, but holds at top prices. Electrolytic sold at 13 1/4 today, and Lake is in demand at 13 1/4. Copper wire was advanced 1/4 cent this morning. There has without doubt been a considerable distribution of those rails which have been the leaders for several weeks past and not a little steel common is for sale around 58. A sharp reaction in New York would have a sympathetic effect on coppers, but we are believers in higher prices for the metal, and in anticipation of this, look for a higher level of value for copper shares. The proposition to issue 60,000 shares of new stock at $10 a share in the proportion of one share for every four shares held. Stockholders of record at the close of business May 19th will be allowed to participate, and new stock is to be paid for June 1st."

PROTECTS THE POLICY HOLDER.

Important Bill is Made a Law by Governor Hughes of New York.

New York, May 12.—Governor Hughes has signed two bills making important amendments to the insurance laws. The first bill provides a method by which the superintendent of insurance may take possession of the property of an insurance company where this course is necessary for the protection of its policy holders, and also that liquidation when required may be conducted in a prompt and economical manner under the supervision of the superintendent. The second bill amends the insurance law generally. It provides among other things that all policies other than industrial policies which are issued or delivered in this state shall contain certain specified standard provisions, and that, with respect to other matters, the form of all policies of life or endowment insurance issued or delivered in this state shall be subject to the superintendent's approval. While the bill does not change the limit which have been placed upon the amount of new business which may be taken, it extends the period over which renewal commissions may be had from nine to fourteen years.

Discussing the subject of limitation of expenses in his memorandum, the governor says: "The enormous increase of business of the large mutual companies and their vast accumulation of assets, held in a control which easily lends itself to self-perpetuation, makes it imperative that these companies should not be left to grow unrestricted. It is generally recognized that to permit such aggregations to remain unchecked would multiply, to the grave danger of the state, the temptations and opportunities to secure selfish political control. But the restrictions upon the business of the larger companies make it the more important that the smaller companies should be economically managed and that this should be insured by restrictions as to expenses which will prevent a return to the high pressure methods of former years."

ALL LOTS IN CVR ADDITION ARE SOLD

GROUND RECENTLY PLATTED FOR BUILDING PURPOSES WILL BE ONE OF THE LIVELIEST PLACES IN NEGAUNEE THIS SUMMER.

All of the lots in the CvR addition, the plat of which was accepted by the council in April, have been sold through E. C. Cooley. Mr. Cooley has also sold to William Neeley the CvR homestead, which occupies two lots facing on CvR street. This is one of the oldest residences in the city, having been erected by the late Dr. L. D. CvR considerably over thirty years ago. The building is in fairly good condition, as it was improved a few years ago, and will need but little attention at this time. Mr. Neeley's family will occupy the dwelling, moving from the property at the corner of East Iron and Marquette street, purchased by Mr. Neeley a few months ago from Mrs. Anthony Broad, and which is now to be converted into a business block to be occupied by S. S. Thomas. The CvR addition will be one of the liveliest places in the city this summer, as most of those who bought lots plan to erect dwellings on them. Two are already under construction and a third will be started within a few days, as soon as the excavating is finished. Two of the lots facing Snow street have been converted into three parcels. This was deemed advisable when it was found, after the plat had been completed, that the CvR homestead extended thirteen feet over on the lot on the north side. The corner lot near the homestead, also one on the east side, have been purchased by Joseph Frechette, who intends soon to begin building operations. The other lot owners are: James Davoy, Thomas Roberts and Arthur Roberts, John Deacon, Frank Anderson, Andrew Carlson, Joseph Richard, Thomas Johns and John Levertown, Charles Kromberg and Henry Krenberg.

Mr. Cooley has had many inquiries for lots, and says that he could have disposed of three times as many as there are in the plat, if they had been available. He considers that the lots were sold at reasonable prices and he believes the owners would now have no difficulty finding buyers at advanced prices, if they desired to sell.

The city has started to dump ashes on the surface of the lower lots and the filling of the alleys will soon be started. The board of public works plans to spread at least a foot of ground over the surface of Heath street, also in the low portion of the alleys, while the owners of lots on Heath street will also find it advisable to do some filling.

EXPERIMENTS WITH RUBBER.

Many People in This Region Have Money Tied Up in Mexican Plantations.

As there are many people in the upper peninsula and Wisconsin who have during the past few years invested in Mexican rubber plantations, the report of William N. Canada, United States consul at Vera Cruz, is of interest. He states that there is not much prospect for profits for those who hold stock in Mexican rubber corporations while the present prices for rubber prevail. His report is as follows:

"There does not seem to be much outlook for Mexican rubber so long as present prices prevail. Some favored places can make a fair profit on their actual costs, but when rubber falls to fifty cents or less there is nothing in it for the stockholders. It is reported that within a few years the Far East will have 60,000,000 Para trees producing from one to three pounds each per annum of rubber superior to the best Mexican, and if this does not break the market planting here will continue. It is stated on good authority that the Mexican planters get more rubber per tapping than the Para people and that the tapping cost is lower per pound of rubber produced, but they can tap only once a year, while the Para planter can tap many times in a year. The Mexican planter loses, because of his greater capital investment, more than he gains in lower tapping cost, and because he must have ten to twenty times as many trees to produce the same amount of rubber as the Para planter, so that the odds are against him, even if he can produce Mexican trees for half or a quarter of what the Para tree costs, which is doubtful."

Consul Laspinaise, of Frontera, recently reported that the cultivation of the rubber tree in the state of Tabasco, where extensive experiments have been carried on, will in all likelihood prove a success. In Tabasco many planters have put in rubber trees as a side line, utilizing them as a shade for cacao trees, the cultivation of the latter being the most important industry in that part of Mexico. When cultivated in this manner the rubber tree is grown at a nominal cost, as trees of some sort to shade the cacao are a necessity.

NELLIE KENNEDY COMPANY.

The Nellie Kennedy Stock company will open a three nights' engagement this evening at McDonald's opera house. The company has a fine reputation and those who attend the entertainments here will be highly pleased. Besides producing high class plays specialties will be introduced. Among the specialty artists are a team of acrobats, who do an amusing turn. A matinee will be given Saturday afternoon. The evening prices will be ten, twenty and thirty cents and the matinee charges ten and twenty cents. Reserved seats can be had at Perkins' drug store.

LIVED 102 YEARS.

Wm. Parr—England's oldest man—married the third time at 120, worked in the fields until 132 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80. James Wright, of Spurlock, Ky., shows how to remain young. "I feel just like a 16-year-old boy," he writes, "after taking six bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth." They're a godsend to weak, sickly run-down or old people. Try them. 50c at The Stafford Drug Co.'s store.

County Road Commission Will Put on Crews Within a Few Days.

Work on the main highways of the county will be started within a few days, under direction of the county road commission. It has planned to put two crews to work on the Chocoma highway, in the eastern end of the county, and another on the road between Humboldt and Republic where about two miles of the road was improved last year. The work will be started at a point where it was left off on the Republic end and will continue through to Republic. It is likely that after finishing the Republic end the crew will be transferred to the Humboldt end, though the commission has not yet reached a decision as to this.

CONCERT SATURDAY EVENING.

The Junior League of the Mitchell Methodist church will give a concert Saturday evening in the auditorium of the church, commencing at 8 o'clock. An admission of fifteen cents will be charged adults and children ten cents. The following program will be rendered:

LOTS NOT FOR SALE.

Samuel Collins, who platted a portion of his forty acre tract in the northern part of the city a few weeks ago, has not yet sold any of the lots. He has had many inquiries and several opportunities to sell them, but he will not offer any for sale until the survey and all the other preliminary work is completed. The tract is a desirable one and it is expected that a number of the lots will be picked up by prospective builders as soon as they are put on the market.

MEXICO IS A REAL BABEL OF LANGUAGE

Foreigners Always Remain Foreigners Because They Have Their Own Schools.

UNITY IS NEVER ACHIEVED

Some Who Go to the Southern Republic Learn Various Tongues as a Valuable Aid to Business.

City of Mexico, Mexico, May 12.—Americans have one blessing they are so used to they forget it is a blessing. It is the only big country in the world where one language is spoken in every hamlet, village and town, and from the eastern border to the western and from the northern to the southern. He who lives in the United States must speak English or consign himself to oblivion and sojourn in the country where he came to seek other things. In the other countries of the world it is not so. In the United States another language is a doubtful advantage. In the other countries the more languages one knows the more persons he may meet, and the more business he may transact. Languages may be valued at dollars and cents.

Mexico is a museum of nationalities and a babel of languages. Those who come from other lands to Mexico remain foreign residents of the country, though they reside here for the rest of their lives and their children are reared as foreign residents, though they are born in this very city. They go to their own schools, maintained by the foreign colony to which their parents belong, and when they are old enough they usually go to the higher educational institutions of the land from which their parents came.

Never Becomes Unified.

Thus the country never becomes unified. In fact, it becomes more and more foreign each year, as the number of foreign residents increases, because the natural means of diminishing the number of foreigners through making Mexicans of their children are overlooked by the Mexicans. The public school, that great organization which decries that the child born in the United States shall become an American, is slighted by the Mexicans themselves and patronized by those who have not the money to send their children elsewhere. And those in the Republic of Mexico who are poor are usually very poor.

Living a year in Mexico is a cheap way of taking a trip around the world. One misses the scenery of France, the climate of Italy, the mountains of Switzerland, but he sees the people living as they lived in their native land, with their habits and customs and manners almost unchanged. The only thing that he misses of the rest of the world is what he can see in a picture book.

There are men who announce without the batting of an eye that they can speak anywhere from two to ten languages perfectly. Whenever one gets beyond three languages it is safe to say he speaks none of them perfectly and loses much of the enjoyment of their literature. It is even doubtful if any man ever knew more than one language perfectly. What he gains by the second may be safely said he has deducted from some part of the other. Certainly the man one personally meets here who speaks three languages can not speak English as well as they might.

There is the humorous side of the question, which becomes developed thoroughly when one sees about seven together who speak different languages. If they are all foreigners they will try to agree upon one language they all understand. It may be Spanish, French, German, English or any one of half a dozen others. If they are unable to agree Spanish is the language adopted. The amusement comes when a German Frenchman, an American Spaniard and Italian all speak Spanish, or rather attempt to.

Widow Sues for $10,000—

Through her attorneys, a Marinette (Wis.) firm, Mrs. Anna Plante has begun suit for $10,000 against the Bay de Nocquet Lumber company of Naumia because of a fatality of which her husband, Peter Plante, was the victim at the company's mill one year ago. While oiling machinery Plante's clothing was caught in a clutch and he was whirled about a shaft to his death. It is claimed by the widow that the machinery was not properly protected and that her husband's death was caused through the negligence of the company.

Boys a Fine Home—

One of the most important real-estate transfers consummated at Menominee in some time was made this week when Loren L. Prescott, general manager of the Prescott company, purchased the A. A. Carpenter residence, on Main street, from C. I. Cook. The residence is one of the most ideal homes in the North-west and is considered one of the show places of Menominee. It was built by A. A. Carpenter for his own use and no expense was spared in its construction. It was for years the home of Mr. Carpenter, who was closely identified with the early history of the city and who was one of the founders of the great lumber firm known as the Kirby-Carpenter company. Mr. Carpenter not only constructed the residence with a lavish hand, but he bestowed much care upon the beautiful park which surrounds it and which slopes gradually toward the bay.

Suppose there were something about your business that you wanted to keep from the knowledge of the public.

Suppose that it were printed in plain, clear words in the advertising columns of

The Mining Journal

You would consider that the facts were pretty well spread before the public.

Now, surely there's a lot you'd like to have known.

Well, then---what follows?

STATE OFFICIAL INSPECTED DAIRIES

E. A. HAVEN GIVES RESULTS OF VISIT TO SOURCES OF CITY'S MILK SUPPLY.

CLEANLINESS MOST IMPORTANT

Cattle Should Be Stabled in Proper Quarters and Product Handled in a Sanitary Manner.

E. A. Haven, of Bloomington, Mich., an inspector for the state dairy and food department, spent the early part of the week inspecting Marquette dairies, and left the city for Kalamazoo yesterday.

Mr. Haven says that from his state department he intends to pay more attention to dairy conditions in the upper peninsula. He will give a large share of his time the coming summer to the district, and it is expected that as a result of the work to be done the public will in the future be supplied with much better milk than it has been getting.

Speaking of the observations he made in Marquette, Mr. Haven yesterday said that while there is, of course, much room for improvement in some of the dairies here their condition, as a whole, is very fair. He found it better, he thought, than the average and the milk being furnished the people is of good quality. The state standard for milk is 3 per cent butter fat and 12.50 per cent total solids. Ten samples taken from wagons on the streets here tested out as follows:

Cleanliness Important.

"There is this to be said in this connection," Mr. Haven remarked, "Cleanliness is more important than a high percentage in butter fat and solids. It is better to have a milk absolutely clean and perhaps a little under the standard than to have one making a good showing in butter fat and solids contents but which has been produced and handled under unsanitary conditions.

Advice on Ordinance.

Questioned as to what he would advise in the way of a local ordinance planned to secure improvement in the milk supply, Mr. Haven said: "I would particularly advise against trying to do too much all at once. The first thing is to insist on sanitary barns, and to be sanitary they must be kept well ventilated, well lighted and thoroughly clean. Liberal use of whitewash cannot be too highly recommended. The ordinance should delegate some official to make periodical inspections and give him power to require that the dairies be kept in good condition. I would suggest that this duty be placed on some present official, so as not to create more expense.

Condition of Dairies.

The Marquette dairies are reported on as follows: Carl Hansen—Sixteen cows; cows very clean; plank floor; fair light; six windows; walls and ceiling clean; ventilator eighteen by twenty-four inches through the roof; clean milk room with ice box; cows tested, 460.

HOME RULE BILL NOW IN JEOPARDY

OPPONENTS OF PROPOSED MEASURE IN MAJORITY ON SPEAKER CAMPBELL'S CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

K. OF P.'S MAKE DEBUT AS MINSTREL ARTISTS

The Marquette Knights of Pythias made their debut in minstrelsy at the opera house last night with a satisfactory performance, although the attendance was disappointing. The program was more difficult than is usually attempted by amateur comedians, but it was carried out with no serious hitch, showing evidence of painstaking and diligent practice.

In the first part, the minstrel show troupe, the six end men, three with tambos and three with bones, were most fantastically costumed gentlemen of the colored aristocracy, while the rest of the troupe were attired in vogues in Washington's time. Herman Schauer, S. A. Williams, J. L. Deagon, W. A. Ross, James Cummings and F. W. Thoney made up as the colored gentlemen, and all had a clever line of talk in which many really new jokes were uncocked and duly appreciated by the audience.

The minstrel show opened with the "Witmark Minstrel Overture," which proved to be a melody of rag time andcoon songs, interspersed with numerous jokes and comical antics on the part of the end men. The vocal work of the chorus was exceptionally good.

Of the solo numbers that followed the opening chorus, those rendered by Clarence Brown, Ed Gilbert and F. W. Thoney were most heartily applauded, although all were enthusiastically received. The two first named gentlemen sang difficult selections, while Mr. Thoney's offering was one of the funny hits of the performance.

The closing chorus of the first act was a melody of patriotic songs, closing with a beautiful tableau, in which the famous painting, "Spirit of '76," was the central group, adorned at one side by the Goddess of Liberty and on the other by Uncle Sam. With this living tableau in the background, the chorus sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

The second act comprised a monologue by W. A. Ross, dressed as a black-faced orator from the land of cotton and persimmons; two numbers by Our Boys' band, under the direction of R. J. Klammert; a monologue by the colored parson, who is known as Herman Schauer in everyday life; a solo by Guy Freese, and Weber & Field's burlesque of the Florida sextette, which was execrably funny. This number was encored again and again.

The performance closed with a laughable farce entitled "The Mock Trial," in which several desperate criminals were acquitted, and a poor lad, accused of stealing a loaf of bread, was convicted. The last criminal was charged with stealing a bottle of whiskey, and put in a defense that he had to work until 11 o'clock at night, and that the only way he could get a drink in this town after that hour was to steal it. The German judge was the life of this farce. The minstrel show will be repeated this evening and should be greeted with a larger house.

Two Decisions Rendered.

Marquette Land Office Hands Down Opinions in Homestead Contests.

Decisions were rendered in two land contest cases by the register and receiver of the Marquette land office yesterday, one of which is of more than ordinary local interest.

This is the case of Henry Laakkari against John Perala, and involves the homestead right of Mr. Perala to eighty acres about fifteen miles south of Negaunee. The decision of the land office in this case was against the entryman, Mr. Perala, on the ground that he has never made the homestead his place of residence and it is recommended that the entry be cancelled.

This case was tried April 15 and 16, at which time a large amount of evidence was submitted on both sides. According to the opinion just rendered, the evidence adduced at that time showed that Mr. Perala had made five visits to the homestead since he had made the entry last July, staying from two to eight days upon each visit, having spent in all twenty days on the land. He had erected a house and other buildings, expending altogether in improvements upon the property $2,730.

However, during all that time he has kept his residence at Negaunee and voted there last November. The furniture taken from the Negaunee home to the homestead has been replaced by new articles, showing that he had no intention of giving up his Negaunee residence. For these reasons it is opined that the entryman sought to acquire title by "colorable compliance with the law by improving the land without residing thereon," and the case is decided against him and in favor of the contestant.

The second case passed upon was that of Fred Ferullius against John Heikkila, involving the homestead right to 160 acres in Houghton county. In this case the decision of the Marquette office was in favor of the homesteader, Mr. Heikkila, as the evidence showed that he had made the homestead his only place of residence, although he had been temporarily absent therefrom working to make a living.
