DUAL TARIFF IMPORTANT.

American People Do Not Realize Its Significance.

President Taft Will Study the Methods of Applying It to Secure the Best Results—He Probably Will Begin With the Franco-Canadian Treaty, Which Offers Opportunities for Trouble—France Already Putting Up Rates to Prepare for Trading.

Washington, May 23.—Even after more than two months of tariff talk debate in the Senate, the attention of the country has not been turned to the possibilities of the proposed maximum and minimum plan of the new tariff bill. The subject is arousing acute interest in the inner circles, because of the recent ratification by France and Canada of a commercial treaty.

Canada's Tariff Not High.

The Canadian tariff is not extravagantly high, even in its maximum rates. They do not approach the rates of the United States tariff. While the Dominion is essentially protective, she is not an exclusionist, as is the United States. She imports $107,000,000 of merchandise from the United States at her highest tariff rates, while her minimum leaves a still more comfortable margin for profitable trade.

France Putting Up Rates.

The Payne-Aldrich bill deliberately increased the rates against many of the most important French exports, like toilet articles and wines. France has taken alarm over the trend of American tariff-making, and is busy putting up her own rates, especially against agricultural and other machinery.

NEGAUNEE WINS THE FIRST LEAGUE GAME

NEARLY 2,000 FANS WITNESSED OPENING CONTEST OF THE MARQUETTE-ALGER COUNTY LEAGUE, BETWEEN NEGAUNEE AND MUNISING, YESTERDAY.

The opening game of the Marquette-Alger County Amateur Baseball league between the Negaunee and Munising teams yesterday afternoon at Union Park, won by Negaunee, 3 to 2, was as close and exciting an exhibition as one might wish to see. It was also a well-played game, and the result was in doubt until the last man was retired.

The errors on both sides were inexcusable, most of them being made on batted balls that should have been easily handled. In most instances the players making the errors seemed too sure of getting the ball. The fans, and there were nearly 2,000 of them present, were pleased with the exhibition. The running of the special train to Marquette being a popular proposition, many desired to see their home team play there took away a considerable number from the Negaunee-Munising game.

Negaunee won the game in the ninth inning in a very exciting finish. The local team scored two runs in the first inning and one in the ninth. The visitors scored one in the fifth and one in the sixth. The game opened with Munising at the bat. The first two men up, Hagedorn and Schane, were unable to solve Siebenthal's curves and neither touched the ball, while Gunstrom, the third and last batsman of the inning, sent a pop fly to Imeson at third.

In Negaunee's half of the first inning, Messier was thrown out at first by Frost; Dunlavy sent the ball into the right fielder's hands, but it was dropped; the runner going to second on the error, Scanlon got to first on the third strike, Gunstrom having allowed it to get away. Faul sent a grounder to first that was not taken in and Dunlavy and Scanlon scored. Imeson struck out.

In the second inning Munising started off with Frost at the bat. He reached first on an error of Imeson at third, but was thrown out in an attempt to come home on Daniels' hit, which was held in by Roberts; Conroy was thrown out from pitcher to first, and Finkbinder fanned. In Negaunee's half of the second LaFave, Siebenthal and Messier secured hits, Roberts going out at first and Dunlavy fanning. With three men on the bases and Scanlon at the bat, LaFave was put out at home, in an attempt to steal in from third.

For the next four innings Munising was retired in one, two, three order, nearly all the put-outs being by infield plays. In the last three innings Munising had but four men up to bat in each inning.

In Negaunee's fourth four men faced Frost; in the fifth and sixth five men came up to bat and in the seventh, eighth and ninth only four had a chance to face the twirler in each inning. The last half of the ninth opened with Cannon at the bat. He sent a swift grounder to second and it was fumbled, he reaching second on a sacrifice by Imeson. Roberts followed with a single and Cannon was thrown out at the plate by Finkbinder, in right field, in his attempt to steal home. LaFave followed Roberts with a long drive into center. The bat was felled to Frost, Roberts coming home, and LaFave being thrown out in an attempt to get down to second.

Frost might have blocked Roberts at the plate if he had thrown the ball home, instead of to first in his attempt to retire LaFave.

LaFave caught a good game, and Siebenthal was also in excellent form. Gunstrom did not catch his usual game, owing to his having an injured hand. Frost pitched well, but at times he was naturally slow in his delivery. The fans went after him severely for delaying the game. The umpiring was, on the whole, satisfactory. The visitors kicked a few times on close decisions, but it was evident that the umpires meant to be fair.

RINK TO BE IMPROVED.

Winter Estate Will Put Adelphi in Condition for Public Functions.

The Adelphi rink, which is owned by the Winter estate, is to be put in first-class condition for large dancing parties and other public functions. The roof will be lowered and the ceiling will be brought down to the rafters, twenty feet above the floor. A canvas cover will be purchased for the floor and will be used only when dancing parties are held. It will take 500 square yards of canvas to cover the surface. The canvas will be sewed in three or four sections so that it can be removed easily. With the ceiling lowered it will be possible to heat the building properly during cold seasons. Three large stoves will be installed in the main room, two on the north end and one in the south end. The dressing rooms will also be put in good condition and other improvements will be made. The rink will still be as desirable for roller skating and baseball as at present. The proposed improvement will not be started for several weeks, as the rink is engaged for two or three dates during the summer. One of them will be the French society's big ball on the night of June 24, at the conclusion of its twenty-fifth anniversary celebration.

Baseball Dance a Big Success.

The rink never looked more attractive than it did Friday night, when the benefit baseball dance took place. Over 500 incandescent lights were used in the decorations, in addition to the regular arc lights. The display was very generally commented on. The owners of the rink will likely retain the decorations to be used by parties engaging the rink in the future. Among the most unique of the electrical displays were several revolving colored lights. American flags were also displayed with good taste. The members of the Negaunee orchestra, which furnished the music, occupied seats on a platform in the center of the room. Nearly 500 people were present and dancing was continued until 2 o'clock Saturday morning. The party was one of the most enjoyable held in Negaunee of late months and the net receipts, which will be used to equip the ball team, were quite satisfactory.

Three Negaunee men, Arthur Jenkins, Gilbert Clemo and J. Vivian, left last night for their former homes in England. Messrs. Clemo and Vivian have been employed at the Hartford mine for some time past and Mr. Jenkins has been working at the Rolling Mill. Jenkins and Clemo plan to return to Negaunee in a few months, but Mr. Vivian, who is a much older man than the other two, will remain in the old country.

ISHPEMING WON OPENING GAME

IRON CITY NINE SHOWED THE BETTER FORM AND GOT THE BIG END OF SCORE.

SIX TO FIVE, THE RESULT

Marquette Made Numerous Errors and Was Weak at the Bat, Evidently Suffering from Stage Fright.

Ishpeeming showed the better form in the opening game of the league baseball season yesterday and pulled down a hard-earned victory to the tune of six to five.

"Happy" Scholtus was in the box for Marquette and pitched a steady game although, at times, his support was ragged. He fanned thirteen men, and in the fourth inning struck out McLaughlin and Heindel and retired the side, with the bases full. His one pass was not costly.

Goulette, for Ishpeeming, pitched a remarkably good game and was touched up for but four singles and a scratch double into the crowd. The southpaw had the Marquette boys guessing most of the time. He also fanned thirteen men and issued one pass. He was given more consistent support than Scholtus.

The work of the Marquette boys was weak, especially at the bat. Davis and Beaudin, two of the new players, seemed to be suffering from stage fright, but at times showed themselves capable of good work.

Woodman and Craig, the other new players, showed up well and played a consistent game. The two most sensational plays of the game were Ruppelle's hair raising catch of Goulette's low fly, which he picked out of the dirt, running at full speed, and Woodman's beautiful steal home in the eighth inning.

The work of the umpires, Gaffney and Schilling, was only ordinary, and while both sides suffered, Marquette seemed to get the worst of it at critical moments, especially on base decisions.

Considering, however, that it was the first game of the season, the showing of the Marquette team is not discouraging and, when they once strike their stride, they are bound to be heard from. With a little more team work and batting practice the team will be able to hold its own with any of them.

The game was attended by a crowd of nearly 1,000 people, about 200 of whom came down from Ishpeeming. The patronage, from both Marquette and Ishpeeming, was gratifying to the management.

How They Lined Up. The line-up of the two teams was as follows: Ishpeeming—McLaughlin, third base; Heindel, right field; Nichols, catcher; Laxstrom, center field; Gorman, short stop; Cooney, second base; Olson, first base; Simpson, center field; Goulette, pitcher.

Marquette—Woodman, center field; Weiser, right field; Davis, first base; Scholtus, pitcher; Ruppelle, left field; Craig, short stop; Richardson, catcher; Gilbert, second base; Beaudin, third base.

—First Inning— Ishpeeming—McLaughlin fanned. Heindel called out on strikes. Nichols lined a hit into the hole and stole second. Laxstrom doubled to deep center. Nichols going home. Gorman out. Scholtus to Davis. One run.

Marquette—Woodman fanned. Weiser singled, stole second and took third on a passed ball. Scholtus fanned. Scholtus pop flied to Goulette. No runs.

WORK OF SESSION GREATLY REDUCED

NEW CONSTITUTION, DOING AWAY WITH LOCAL ACTS, CLEARED THE DECK FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

During the legislative session just closed 261 bills were passed; during the session of 1907, 734 bills were passed, of which 347 were general bills and 447 were local acts. This reduction in the mass of legislation characteristic of previous sessions has been the result of the provisions of the new constitution.

The statistical record of the session of 1909 shows that the two houses called out many bills as unworthy of becoming laws for one reason or another and the comparison with the record of two years ago shows a great reduction in the number of bills introduced and the consequent better opportunity of the members to watch closely the measures put through the mill.

In 1907 there were 1,529 bills introduced while this year the aggregate was 884. Senators introduced 240 bills and of this number only 63 went to the governor, 121 were killed in the house and 156 were throttled in senate committees or on the floor of that body. In the house 544 bills were sent to the clerk's desk, of which 198 went to the governor, 287 were killed by the house in committee or on the floor and the senate failed to accept 59.

The session lasted eighty-six working days, while that of two years ago lasted 165 days. The session two years ago ended on June 19 and this year on May 19.

Governor Warner will return to Lansing Wednesday, to look over the bills passed by the legislature and will find awaiting him for his signature about seventy-five measures.

HOMESEEKERS SCARED AWAY.

Reforestation Talk Has Greatly Decreased Immigration, It is Said.

Seekers after homesteads have ceased to a large extent, coming to Michigan to take up state lands as a result of the widespread advertising these lands have received during the legislative session. This is the statement of Land Commissioner Russell, who says every citizen should join in an effort to overcome this detrimental matter and keep at the matter until Michigan is again securing its share of settlers.

"There has been so much said about the millions of acres of worthless lands that inquires from other states for homestead lands have been greatly discouraged," said Mr. Russell recently. "It is time that we started a new campaign. Michigan has just as good homestead land as Wisconsin or other states and we should get our share of the settlers. The impression has gone forth that none of the state lands are worth locating on and it has had a serious effect. Such is not the case. There are thousands of acres ready for the homesteaders which will yield rich returns and every patriotic citizen should aid in overcoming this adverse criticism."

In this statement regarding the value of Michigan lands Mr. Russell is joined by Representative Maxey, who led the fight for reforestation, and the latter urges the necessity of an active campaign to place before the people of the world the natural value, undeveloped, there is in Michigan lands. "Michigan is far behind Wisconsin in booming its lands," says Maxey. "Over there cut-over lands are worth from $5 to $10 an acre while in this state they are bid for at about $2."
