TARIFF ON SALT IS PARED A LITTLE

That on Lemons and on Ale, Stout, Beer and Porter Is Increased, However, as a Result of the Senate's Deliberations.

General Surprise Is Occasioned When Mr. Aldrich Withdraws Committee Amendments Boosting the Duties on Bacon, Ham and Lard and Accepts the Reductions Proposed by the House; but He Refuses to Extend the Cut to Fresh Meats.

Washington, May 31.—Agreements were reached in the senate today upon many sections of the tariff bill, so that when the hour for adjournment approached the paragraphs relating to agriculture were nearly all disposed of.

During the afternoon Senator Bacon entered upon an extended discussion of the proposed increases over the rates of the house bill in the duties on bacon and hams, lard, fresh beef, etc., and Aldrich surprised the senate by withdrawing the committee amendments, saying that he believed the house rates, although below those of the Dingley law rates, were protective to those industries.

Senator Rayner of Maryland created considerable amusement by a humorous description of what Mr. Aldrich had referred to as the "citadel of the tariff" and Mr. Smith of South Carolina advocated a free tariff or a tariff for revenue only.

Among other duties affected by today's action, salt was reduced from twelve to ten cents per 100 pounds in bags and from ten to eight cents in bulk. Stout, ale, beer and porter were increased from forty to forty-five cents per gallon in bottles, etc., and from twenty to twenty-five cents per gallon in bulk.

TARDY HONOR SHOWN CIVIL WAR HEROES

Memory of the "Regulars" Who Fought in the Gettysburg Campaign Is Perpetuated in Granite on the Famous Battlefield.

With the Nation's Chief Delivering the Principal Address and His Daughter Unveiling the Imposing Monument Erected by Congress, and With a Record-Breaking Crowd in Attendance, Fighting Though Belated Tribute Is Paid the Soldier Dead.

Gettysburg, Pa., May 31.—This was a day of tardy honor to the "regulars" who fought at Gettysburg. An imposing shaft of granite erected by congress to the memory of those of the regular army who fell in the three days fighting about Roundtop and Bloody Angle was unveiled by the president's daughter, Miss Helen M. Taft, while President Taft himself paid a tribute to the officers and men of the United States army, past and present.

The president put himself squarely on record as opposed to any reduction in the present standing army. He told of the prejudice which often had arisen against the possible aggression of the regular army and professional soldiery and of the corresponding difficulty in raising that love and pride of the army which expresses itself today and has frequently expressed itself in the past in behalf of the navy.

On the way to Gettysburg today from Pittsburg, the president's car was sidetracked at York for two hours, and during his stay there Mr. Taft made a brief address in which he declared again his hope for the early enactment of the tariff bill, "if the Lord will only be good and send some real hot weather in June."

The president arrived shortly before 10 o'clock and was taken at once for a drive over the battlefield. At several points he alighted, returning to his private car for luncheon, he remained there until the arrival of his daughter from Washington. Miss Taft came with Secretary of War and Mrs. Dickinson and a party of distinguished officers of the army.

The ceremonies at the unveiling were simple. Miss Taft pulled the silken cord which released the flags draped about the monument. The president spoke from a platform erected near the monument, and was followed by Secretary Dickinson, who presented the monument to the battlefield commission, the acceptance speech being delivered by Colonel John P. Nicholson, chairman of the commission.

Secretary Dickinson's Address. "The overthrow of the South, as always occurs after a fierce war, when the defeated are helpless and the more conservative of the victors are for a while dominated by the fire-eaters and most aggressive leaders."

The erection and dedication of the monuments to the regular soldiers enriches a battlefield that already contains hundreds of beautiful memorials. There are now on the field about 300 monuments and the number of tablets erected exceeds 500.

"We are no wiser nor more patriotic than were the men who were conspicuous in that great drama. We look backward; our vision is not obscured by the tempestuous atmosphere which surrounds them, and we stand upon a different pinnacle in the march of history. They passed through the valley of the shadow of death and we by their trials have attained to a mount of wider vision than was permitted to them."

"God grant that in the great national drama, which, act by act, a blend of mirth and sadness, a mixture of comedy and tragedy, is always in progress, developing day by day those things which will shape the destiny of our country, we may enact our part with the grandeur, heroism and patriotism which they illustrated."

"At this day there are but few, if any, dispassionate thinkers in the North who question the patriotism of those of the South who in this stricken field gave an example of American valor that will forever thrill the minds and hearts of mankind in all countries and in all ages. And at this day there are in the South but few, if any, who would not turn swiftly with sentiments of abhorrence from any suggestion that had succeeded in establishing an independent government. And this is true even of the survivors of those who on this very ground."

"With one mind and heart the people of this great country, looking to the future with no rivalry but in generous patriotism, and cherishing no hate, but only the glorious memories of this bloody field, can with hearty accord proclaim in the language of a Southern poet commemorative of this very struggle: 'Fold up the banners, Smelt the guns; Love rules. Her gentle purpose runs. A mighty mother turns in tears, The pages of her battle years, Lamenting all her fallen ones.'"

Description of the Monument. The monument erected to commemorate the services of the regular army is one of the most interesting, dignified and conspicuous memorials on the famous battlefield. It is situated on Hancock avenue a little south of the Bloody Angle, where Pickett's fearless men struck the Union line with such disastrous results to the invading army.

The base of the monument is 147 feet square and seven feet high and is surrounded by a beautiful terrace 42 1/2 feet square by four feet high fence or wall. Four entrances each twenty feet wide with three granite steps lead to the base of the monument. On each side of the second plinth, which is 12 1/2 feet high, is an eagle cut solidly on the face of the plinth. Each eagle is four feet high and all are said to be the finest modeled eagles ever cut in granite or cast in bronze in America.

The tablet on the west side is inscribed as follows: "The artillery consisting of 26 batteries was distributed over the field among the several army corps and placed in position where their services were most needed. Brigadier General Henry J. Hunt, chief of artillery. 'Four regiments of cavalry under Brigadier General Wesley Merritt took position on the right flank of the Confederate line of battle. 'Eleven regiments of infantry were in the field. Ten with the Second Division, Fifth corps, and one at headquarters, Army of the Potomac. 'Battalion of U. S. Engineers, Captain George H. Mendell, commanding. 'Casualties: Killed, twelve officers, 150 enlisted men; wounded, sixty-two officers, 861 enlisted men; missing, six officers, 275 enlisted men."

The north and south tablets contain the names of the forty-two organizations and the names of their commanders. Forty-two small monuments, one for each of the commands in the Gettysburg campaign, which were erected at the location each organization occupied during the battle, are of Jamesboro granite. Twenty-four are by inches and seven feet high. Upon each is a descriptive bronze tablet and the coat of arms of the United States.

The erection and dedication of the monuments to the regular soldiers enriches a battlefield that already contains hundreds of beautiful memorials. There are now on the field about 300 monuments and the number of tablets erected exceeds 500. The number of guns mounted on the field, Union and Confederate, is about 375. Pennsylvania will next year erect a state monument at a cost of $150,000, and the states of Alabama and Virginia will also place monuments on the famous field in the near future to commemorate the valorous services of their sons in that night struggle.

Incensed at the bringing of the strike-breakers here, sympathizers of the strikers made demonstrations at the barns where the new men are quartered and many arrests were made by the police. Mayor Reubyn stated today that he would swear in ten thousand extra policemen if necessary and would keep the cars running for the convenience of the public.

Conservation of the National Resources a Matter Which Will Claim from the Administration Earnest Attention and Appropriate Legislation, He Says.

Chicago, May 31.—In a letter said to be President Taft's first authoritative utterance on the conservation of the national resources, received here today by A. W. Shaw, editor of the Business Man's magazine, the president says: "The conservation of the national resources is a subject which will properly claim from the present administration earnest attention and appropriate legislation. The necessity for a comprehensive and systematic improvement of our waterways, the preservation of our soil and forests, the prevention of a monopolistic private control of the power in navigable streams, and the retention of the undisposed coal lands of the government from complete alienation—all these matters are vitally important to the people of the United States and to the business men of the country."

ZEPPELIN'S SHIP COMES TO GRIEF

About to Make a Landing for the Purpose of Replenishing the Supply of Benzine, the Craft Is Driven Against a Tree by a Sudden Puff of the Wind—Nearly 100 Feet of the Envelope Is Destroyed and the Wreck Is Left in Dangerous Position.

Goepplingen, Germany, May 31.—After covering a distance of about 850 miles in thirty-seven hours, Count Zeppelin's new airship, on its return trip from Bitterfeld to Friedrichslagen, came to grief in an open field near here today.

The damage to the ship is much more serious than at first thought. The envelope is torn and the prow broken, and considerable time must elapse before the journey can be continued. The position of the craft is extremely unfavorable, the ground being very hilly. The hose rests on the ground, while the stern is about sixty-five feet in the air.

After considerable labor the position of the airship was shifted so that there is better protection from the wind. That the collision was a heavy one is indicated by the broken and bent strips of aluminum lying about the ground and the half split branches dangling from the tree trunk.

When the accident occurred, Count Zeppelin was landing for the purpose of replenishing his supply of benzine. The motor abruptly had stopped and the airship was nearing the ground when a sudden strong puff of wind drove the prow out of its course and against a tree.

The airship struck with a great crash, smashing the grow almost up to the front of the gondola and crushing the aluminum stays into a shapeless mass. Nearly one hundred feet of the envelope and frame were destroyed.

Doctors today testified that while Junken was degenerated, owing to the use of drugs and congenial delinquencies, he knew what he was doing when he beat Miss Rosen to death with a stone.

Copper Country

TWO MORE SCHOOLS. CHANGE IN TIME SCHEDULE.

The school board of Calumet school district No. 2 has decided to erect two new school buildings the coming summer and have them ready for occupation by the beginning of the fall term, early in September. The schools will be at Centennial Heights and Copper City. The structure to be put up at Centennial Heights will be a four-room building and will accommodate from 150 to 200 pupils. It is likely that but two of the rooms will be put into use this year, but the school population of the Heights is growing very rapidly and it will not be long before it will be found necessary to use the entire building. The structure will be so built that in addition of two or more rooms can be added at almost any time. The present school at the Heights is overcrowded this term and a large increase in the number of pupils is expected in September.

Copper City is Houghton county's newest town and one of the most prosperous. In the neighborhood of Copper City and Almeek are about forty-five farmers and their families, all of whom wish school privileges for their children. Although this part of the county was included in the district set aside some time ago as No. 2, the new division has never been organized and there is little likelihood now that it will be organized or separated from No. 2. The taxpayers have about decided that they would rather remain with No. 2. The size or cost of the school structure for Copper City has not been decided upon, but the building will likely be of four rooms. It is believed that the school will open in the fall with about 100 pupils.

MATINEE CLUB IS ORGANIZED.
Arrangements Made for Big Harness Meetings at Calumet.

The permanent organization of the Calumet Laurium Matinee club has been perfected. President—Charles J. Wickstrom, Vice President—Richard Thiele, Secretary—W. J. Raker, Treasurer—James McTear, Directors—James T. Fisher, Dr. D. K. McQueen, Thomas Bastian. It was decided to hold a two-day racing meeting at the park the afternoons of Wednesday and Thursday, June 8 and 9, the last two days of the regular state convention in Calumet. An excellent card of races is planned for both days. Wednesday there will be a 2:10, a 2:20 and a 2:30 class and Thursday there will be a "free-for-all," a 2:30 and a "green" race. It is also planned to hold matinee meetings every Saturday afternoon during the summer, beginning with June 12. Paul P. MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCE.

Military Orders of the Copper Country Conducted Programs. Memorial Day was observed yesterday in Calumet and Hancock. In the former place the usual parade was held by the Calumet Engineers and Civil and Spanish war veterans. The exercises were at Lake View cemetery, where Hon. W. R. Oates of the state legislature was the speaker. The Hancock and Houghton observance was held in Hancock. The G. A. R., Spanish war veterans, Houghton Light Infantry, Hancock Naval Reserve, Hibernian Rifles and the fire departments of Houghton, Hancock, South Range and Atlantic, as well as the city council of Hancock and the village council of Houghton, participated in the parade. At Montezuma Park, Hancock, an address was delivered by Graham Pope of Houghton.

NEW BROOK TROUT HAUNT.

Webber's Lake is Turning Out Beauties—Nice Catches Made. There were displayed yesterday in the window of Charles Mills' meat market at Houghton four of the finest specimens of brook trout seen in the copper country in years. They were taken from Webber's lake Sunday afternoon by Dr. Jackson and Mr. Mills. The largest weighed three pounds and the others nearly equalled it.

Webber's lake was planted in trout about six years ago and the fry have been added every year so that there should be thousands of trout in the lake. The water there is still and the fish grow to great size through inaction and over-feeding. They are not as gamy as a trout taken from a stream and are said by some fanciers to be too fat for good eating. But they are mighty good fish to show for a catch.

METERS FOR ALL RED JACKET.

The water department of the village of Red Jacket will, it is believed, be in a better position from now on to pay its own expenses and the rather high bills received monthly from the Calumet & Hecla Mining company for service. The wasting of water by many consumers, it is thought, is what is keeping the bills up. But now every consumer of both lake and dam water will have his supply of water measured by meter. Meters are to be installed on every service pipe not already so equipped. There are about 300 services in the village and about 200 of these remain to be equipped with the meters. These meters are being installed now. Superintendent J. F. D. Smith and his assistant, Joseph Carne, of the water department, are doing the work. The meter being installed in the Tidwell. It is claimed the sand in the water will not clog this meter. The consumer is charged $1 for

TAMARACK.

There is more value in the undeveloped lands of the Tamarack than has generally been supposed, says the Boston Financial News. With a fair price for copper the Tamarack could show a profit on the operations in the old mine, yet despite the fact that the property has been worked at a loss during the past couple of years the management has been giving considerable attention to the opening of the ground in the neighborhood of the Ojibway. The Ojibway has opened rich rock on the Kearsage lode and as the character of the rock in this lode is the same throughout there is good reason to suppose that the new shaft of the Tamarack now in preparation for sinking will encounter a rich lode. In fact, the diamond drill has already shown that the Tamarack will have a good mine close to the Ojibway for the core which was taken out more

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The Isle Royale property is leaving its period of incubation and will within the next two years take rank with some of the best mines at the lake. While it is true that the Isle Royale lode is of a low grade the deposits of copper are extensive. In addition to this the Baltic lode crosses the property. Although the rock in the Baltic shaft was at first found to be of a low grade it is gradually becoming of a better character and the indications are that the Isle Royale will open a mine on this lode. The Cumberland-Ely is one of the new producers of the past year or two which should get on a dividend basis within a year. The earnings now are said to equal about seventy-five cents per year for the stock and by Jan. 1 it is believed that the output will be enough larger to warrant the directors in inaugurating dividends at the rate of one dollar per share per annum. The output of the Steptoe smelter, which is owned jointly by the Cumberland-Ely and the Nevada Consolidated is becoming one of the large factors in the metal situation and will soon become a larger one. The recent developments in the Mass property on what has been termed the new Mass lode have started the Advisory management looking for the same lode and surface indications have been found which look very promising. The work of sinking the new shaft will soon be started in earnest as the power drills are expected in two weeks. It is expected to reach No. 1 lode in the property at a depth of 1,000 feet. The rich showing in the new Mass lode, however, has been secured on the Mass property at a much greater depth but aside from the Mass lode the Advisory has located three other lodes by diamond drilling. The Franklin management is still giving attention on the developments in the Franklin Junior and the openings on the Franklin lode are looking well both north and south of the shaft. With any substantial advances in the price of copper the metal management will be prepared to manage to make a good profit. The Franklin management is well supplied with cash operations will

Mining News

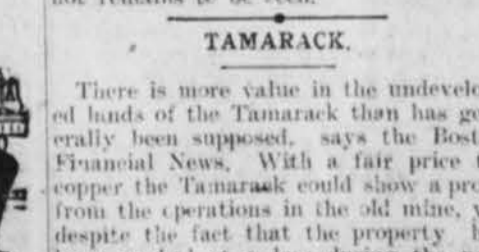

The action of North Butte continues to puzzle the holders of the stock and the speculative public as well, comments the Boston Financial News. It is beginning to look very much however as though the object of the manipulation now was to accumulate it. There is buying done on a wide scale which means that to advance this buying stops and the price runs off on selling of a comparatively small amount of stock. The news from the property, in the meanwhile, which comes to stockholders and friends from the officials of the company is all of a reassuring character. There have been many reports lately that engineers representing different brokerage houses have examined the mine and the reports are accompanied by the statement that the company is out of tonnage ore. We wired our correspondent and he replies by saying that positively no brokerage houses have had engineers in North Butte recently. There is a general feeling that it would be well for the management to make an official statement of the conditions at the mine as stockholders should be protected from rumors which have no foundation, and are entitled to information as to the exact conditions. It is obvious that the rumors regarding the manipulation of North Butte are being used for various purposes, including an attempt to show the greater reliability of the low grade deposits. One enthusiastic boomer for the Davis-Daly has advised the sale of it. North Butte and the purchase of Davis-Daly on the ground that the Hecla stock would pass the former in price. The use of the weakness in North Butte for these purposes should lead the management to set the stockholders right, and they should also be protected from anyone manipulating the market to induce selling by frightening timid holders. The indications are however, that what is going on in North Butte is going on in other Cole-Ryan issues, and that the effort of the manipulation is to accumulate Butte Coalition, Green and Glynn as well as North Butte. Whether this is an anticipation of some sort of a combination of the Cole-Ryan properties or not remains to be seen.

MICHIGAN SERVICE FOR MICHIGAN PEOPLE

It is often stated by our competitors as a fact detrimental to our Company that the Michigan State Telephone Company is not a local enterprise. This statement means that we are not local to Detroit, nor to any other city in the State. Of course, if the statement is made by our competitors for the purpose of pointing to an advantage which they enjoy, they must claim the converse—that they are local in some particular city or town. Local telephone service necessarily means restricted telephone service. In order to serve a community properly, it is necessary not only to furnish local service, but to have the facilities for instantly connecting local subscribers in different localities throughout the State, and even throughout the United States. This Michigan State Telephone Company can do. It is the only company operating in the State having such facilities. The Michigan State Telephone Company is local, not only to Detroit, but to the entire State of Michigan, in its operating management, ownership and independence from outside interference. It is just what its name implies—A state-wide Michigan proposition.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy. The genuine has its outside wrapper the Signature. You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, fine granules, easy to take as candy.

The ship was sixty-five days coming from Chili to Montreal and carried a cargo three times the size of that carried by the Lambert. The mineral was shipped in small sacks, weighing about 20 pounds each, and was unloaded by derricks, carried on the boat. The captain of the Lambert stated that he did not consider his cargo a dangerous one, for, although saltpeter is inflammable it is not explosive.

DOUBLE TRACK POSSIBLE.

Big Improvement in Store for South Shore, According to Report.

It is reported from Duluth that one feature of the extensive plans of the Soo line in the Northwest is that of double tracking the South Shore road from Superior to Saint Marie. It is not expected that this work will be undertaken at once, but it will be one of the several projects which the Soo people have in view and which will require several years to completely work out. The South Shore road, according to all reports, will be taken over by the Soo line soon, and the headquarters at Marquette will be removed to Duluth.

The main reason for the Soo line double tracking the South Shore would be for the handling of its extensive coast to coast business. The Soo line and the South Shore, as is well known, are units in the Canadian Pacific system. It is expected that the Canadian Pacific will route most of its coast to coast business via the head of the lakes in bond, in order to get the benefit of more favorable grades that it now has in the route north of Lake Superior. This will include through passenger and mail service. There would be a small advantage in distance as well as lower grades. The arrangement would vastly increase the amount of tonnage passing through the head of the lakes.

TRIBUTE PAID TO THE SOLDIER DEAD

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES AT THE OPERA HOUSE LARGELY ATTENDED—EXCELLENT PROGRAM.

Memorial Day passed off auspiciously in Marquette yesterday, the weather being warm and pleasant, although threatening rain. The official observance of the day was in charge of the Albert Jackson post, G. A. R., and both the parade and the exercises in the opera house attracted large crowds.

The parade formed on Washington street in front of the postoffice shortly after 9 o'clock in the forenoon, with Edward E. Homicer, as marshal of the day. A score of Civil war heroes fell into line behind the Negannee band, and a half dozen or more in carriages brought up the rear.

The line of march, was down Washington street to Front street, and to the high school building, where the children of the public schools were waiting to fall in line, all of whom carried small flags. The procession then returned to the opera house, by way of Arch, Ridge and Third streets.

At the Opera House.

The lower floor of the opera house was well filled by the time the soldiers and school children arrived, and, upon their entrance, was crowded to overflowing. The building had been appropriately and beautifully decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting, and flowers, ferns and stacked muskets adorned the wings of the stage. The members of the G. A. R. and those who had part in the program were seated on the stage, and looked on a waving maze of flags in the hands of the children in the audience.

Post Commander C. E. Moore called the assemblage to order and Rev. J. M. Rogers offered prayer, following which he read Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Orders for the observance of the day from the state commander were read by Adjutant A. A. Cole, following which the post rose and gave the solemn and impressive salute to the dead. The ladies' quartet, composed of Mrs. Palmer, Misses Moss, Withey and Ross, sang a beautiful selection appropriate to the occasion. Mrs. Rushmore recited in her own inimitable manner the beautiful story of Tyrolean maiden who heroically saved her native town from destruction at the hands of a hostile army. The Negannee band rendered a difficult melody of patriotic airs, in an excellent manner that brought the audience to its feet in an outburst of patriotic enthusiasm. Two vocal numbers followed, a solo by Miss Norma Ross, and a selection by the high school quartet, composed of Messrs. Ross, McCarthy, Patrick and Pendill.

Dr. Tupper's Address.

Dr. Royce Tupper, the speaker of the day, was then introduced by the post commander, and spoke eloquently for forty-five minutes on the heroism of our country's soldiers and the part they had had in making this nation the great and glorious land of freedom. That it is the duty of every citizen to stand by the side of the soldier, and to fight for territory, glory and other selfish motives, but that every one of our five wars had been for liberty, humanity and righteousness.

As the result of the terrible struggle of 1861-65, he said, slavery was forever banished from American soil, and, more than that, this nation was now a loyal and undivided commonwealth, not a mere confederation of states. As an illustration of the entire absence of sectionalism at the present time, he cited the Spanish-American war, where generals and soldiers from the North and from the South had fought and died together, in order that Cuba might be delivered from the hand of the oppressor.

In closing the speaker paid a beautiful tribute to the flag, stating that on June 14, 1777, the men and women of the Revolution took thirteen stars from the heavens, blue from the firmament, red from their own patriotic veins and white from the purity of American womanhood, and fashioned therefrom a fitting emblem for the home of the free and the land of the brave.

Following the exercises the members of the post and their friends repaired to the Guild Hall, where dinner was served by the members of the Young Women's guild of St. Paul's church. Covers were laid for sixty and the Negannee band rendered a number of patriotic airs during the course of the repast.

The Savings Bank Habit is not so bad as the Cab Habit—not so costly to your health and wallet as the Cigarette Habit. The man with the savings habit is the one who never gets laid off; he's the one who can get along without you, but you cannot get along without him. Many granite dealers have bought White Bronze for their own burial plots. ESCAPED PRISONER FOUND AFTER YEARS

A LONG CRIMINAL RECORD

Strange Story of Richard Manning, Post-office Robber and Burglar, and His Many Convictions.

M. W. McClaughey, special agent in the employ of the government for the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., arrived in the city yesterday, and will return today with Richard Manning, whose sentence of eleven years for burglary from Gogebic county expires this morning. Manning's real name is Charles Pearce and he escaped from the Leavenworth prison May 12, 1897, where he was serving time for breaking into a postoffice near Topeka, Kan.

Manning, or Pearce, has a most remarkable criminal record, and has spent most of his time in prison since his escape from Leavenworth twelve years ago. Six months after this escape he was received at the South Dakota penitentiary, at Sioux Falls, under the name of Dick Austin, for robbing the postoffice at Lincoln, Neb. He was released April 6, 1900, and on Feb. 23, 1901, was sentenced from Bessemer to the branch prison for a term of eleven years, which term expires today, having been shortened by good behavior.

The Gogebic county sentence was imposed for burglary, the prisoner and a companion having broken into a meat market at Ironwood and held up the proprietor at the point of a revolver. He is also thought to be the man who killed a policeman in the freight yards at Joplin, Mo., in 1897, although this is yet to be proved.

How He Was Traced. Pearce, alias Austin, alias Manning, was traced to Marquette by Mr. McClaughey by a remarkable piece of detective work. The man who escaped from the federal prison with Pearce was located in South Dakota in prison in 1908, while being taken back to Leavenworth by Mr. McClaughey. He was led to admit that Pearce was probably operating in northern Minnesota or Michigan with a gang of burglars. McClaughey did not know whether or not the prisoner was telling the truth, but watched the papers of the Northwest closely for accounts of burglaries. He finally read of the Ironwood burglary and held up and at once got into communication with George Freeman, who was then warden of the Marquette prison. Pearce was a difficult man to identify as he would not allow his picture to be taken. However, at the Marquette prison he was photographed and his Bertillon measurements were taken, which were forwarded to Mr. McClaughey. This photo and the set of measurements did not exactly fit those of Pearce on file at the federal prison and Mr. McClaughey knew that he had his man.

Thus the matter has been lying in abeyance for several years, Manning having no inkling that he had been discovered by the federal authorities. Yesterday Mr. McClaughey faced the prisoner, neither of whom had ever seen the other, and, after looking him over carefully, said, "I guess you are Charles Pearce, who escaped from the Leavenworth prison in 1897." The prisoner was caught completely off his guard and his looks betrayed his identity. However, he bore up bravely, and later became sullen, and blamed his companion in the escape from Leavenworth for giving him away.

A Sensational Escape. The escape of these two from the federal prison was a sensational one. Both were in the hospital ward, ill with measles. They succeeded in breaking the locks of their cells and climbed into the attic and broke a hole through the roof. From the roof they slid down into the prison enclosure, and sealed the low wall to freedom, in the darkness and rain. No traces were found of either of the fugitives until they again landed in prison, one in South Dakota and the other at Marquette.

Mr. McClaughey will return to Leavenworth with his dangerous prisoner alone, and states that he is not traveling in that manner. The prisoner will be securely shackled and handcuffed and most of the traveling will be done in the day time. He anticipates no trouble with this captive.

Impressed With Prison. Mr. McClaughey stated last evening that he was very favorably impressed with the prison at Marquette, which he found very clean and sanitary. He also spoke of the splendid scientific and the degree of obedience that obtained under the present management, he considered quite remarkable.

The passengers of the Acapulco were not permitted to land in LaUnion until they had obtained passports from the commandant.

MEET IN THE CEMETERY WHERE THE BODY RESTS

With Thousands of People Participating, the Andrew Johnson Memorial Association Is Organized at Greenville, Tennessee.

Greenville, Tenn., May 31.—Scattered over the green swags of land surrounding the National cemetery, which, for the past forty years, has served as the resting place for the body of Andrew Johnson, the seventeenth president of the United States, thousands of the descendants of his old time neighbors and friends in East Tennessee today took advantage of the first memorial celebration since the transformation of the private cemetery into a national institution to do honor to the memory of the former distinguished citizen by organizing the Andrew Johnson Memorial association.

The people came from all portions of the vast and picturesque East Tennessee country, and while most of them were of the present day generation, there were some old timers who boasted of having known the Tennessee Commemorative in his day, and who spoke of the fact with much pride. The orator of the occasion, Martin W. Littleton, came all the way from New York to speak in terms of highest eulogy of the one president who, during his term of office, was tried on impeachment charges.

Mr. Littleton is a native of East Tennessee, and he expressed high appreciation of the honor conferred upon him in making him the orator of the occasion. His review of the great length of the distinguished men in whose honor the people had assembled, and predicted that the day would come when the entire country would be pleased to do homage to the memory of Andrew Johnson.

The place at which the celebration was held was on the edge of the city burial place, which a year or two ago has since been made into a national cemetery. It is a beautiful spot just outside of the town in which, for several years in his early life, Mr. Johnson worked as a tailor. It is splendidly cared for and commands a fine view of the mountain range, which separates Mr. Johnson's adopted state from North Carolina, the state in which he was born.

Among those present and participating in the proceedings was Hon. Walter P. Brownlow, member of congress from this district, himself a near relative of the late Parson Brownlow, Mr. Johnson's most distinguished supporter. Mr. Brownlow was largely responsible for the erection of the national cemetery, and while he occupied no assigned part on today's program was by common consent awarded a position of general prominence.

In addition to Mr. Littleton's speech, the program consisted of the singing of "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner," by a choir of 200 voices; an invocation by Rev. John S. Eakin, and the introduction of Mr. Littleton by Hon. James C. Park, closing with the organization of the memorial association. There was a notable orchestra attendance, several members of which were old time fiddlers, who had furnished music at the political gatherings during the notable Johnson-Gentry campaign for governor before the Civil war. Many of them were in retirement mood, and between times manifested great willingness to entertain visitors with stories of the dim and distant past. Altogether it was a memorable day

"GAME BUTCHER," SAYS LONG.

Stamford, Ct., May 31.—Dr. William J. Long, the former minister and nature writer, some of whose writings were bitterly attacked by Theodore Roosevelt when he was President, in an interview on Mr. Roosevelt's African hunting trip, said that the worst feature of the whole business was the brutalizing influence which the reports from African had on thousands of boys. He added: "As there are no reporters with Mr. Roosevelt, these reports of frequent killings must come chiefly from himself, and are such as he himself chooses to send out. If they are true, it proves what I said a few years ago, quoting from his own books, that he is a game-butcher, pure and simple, and that his interest in animals lies chiefly in the direction of blood, butchery and brutality."

ENLARGE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Washington, May 31.—Acting on a suggestion made by President Taft recently at a dinner tendered by a number of Washington business men, Representative Hayes has introduced a resolution in the House providing for the restoration to the District of Columbia of the land which was ceded to Virginia in 1846, and which prior to that time had been a part of the District of Columbia. This land comprises many thousands of acres in Alexandria County, across the Potomac River from Washington, and is used chiefly for agricultural purposes, although the town of Alexandria is included. Mr. Hayes's resolution provides that this land, originally ceded to the United States by Virginia for the purpose of creating a national capital and afterward ceded to Virginia by an act of the Twenty-Ninth congress, be again made part of the District, except the town of Alexandria. The resolution authorizes the president to open negotiations through the War Department and to complete the transfer by July 1, 1910. It authorizes an appropriation of $100,000 for the transaction. The resolution was referred to the District of Columbia committee, and will not be acted on until the next session.

SIXTY MILES AN HOUR.

Northern Pacific's New Motor Car Is Capable of That Speed.

St. Paul, May 31.—The Northern Pacific on display today on a switch track adjoining the General Office building a new gasoline motor car which is designed for suburban traffic on the branch lines out of Duluth. It is an entire steel car, pointed at the forward end to encounter the minimum of atmospheric resistance. Finished on the exterior in brilliant maroon with gold lettering and brass trimmings and on the interior in Cuban mahogany, with ceiling in light buff, seats in green leatherette and specially designed acetylene side-lights and oval roof, together with its sharp pointed forward end and pilot, give it a look of speed and a "built-for-business" all of which is a delight to the eye not alone of the railroad man but of the casual observer as well.

The width of the car is ten feet three inches, height twelve feet two inches, seating capacity sixty passengers. It has a 200 horse power, six-cylinder, internal combustion engine; brakes operated by the direct air system; gross weight 60,000 pounds. A unique system of ventilation by suction, whereby air is changed every four minutes, insures an ample supply of pure air all times.

The car is heated by jacket water from the engine, with radiation from exhaust pipe. The car is capable of a speed of sixty miles per hour. The round windows give an extended view and are absolutely dust, water and wind proof. Being all steel it is fire-proof and practically indestructible. The engine is in the forward part of the car on the front truck, which prevents vibration. Immediately following the engine is a baggage compartment, followed by a smoking room, behind which are a central entrance and exit. In the rear of the car is the passenger section with unusually wide seats and a semi-circular settee around the rear end, which might well be termed

Forest Fires in Schoolcraft—

Forest fires have been prevalent in various portions of the country contiguous to Manistiquette during the past week, and much damage has been done to standing timber. Much of the timber on the Willow farm, northeast of the city, was badly damaged, and some cordwood was destroyed. The big slashing in the woods was the property of Jos. VanDyck. Settlers in that vicinity were in grave danger of losing their homes a few days ago. The fire drove many wild animals into the clearings where they were easily captured. The big slashing in the vicinity of Hiawatha, where the South Side Lumber company has been cutting timber, was also on fire, and in the vicinity of Cooks much damage is reported also. The lack of rain and the prevailing high winds made the burning of brush a serious matter.

River Claims Little Victim—

Thoughtlessly stepping from a row-boat onto a log boom near the Peninsula park and Lumber company's dock in Algonquin, a suburb of the Soo, Channing, the nine-year-old son of C. S. Hodson, 1726 South street, slipped and fell into the river. Twenty minutes later his lifeless body was picked out of the water by Frank Allen, who had jumped into the cold water between the logs at the risk of his life, to search for the child's body. In company with his five-year-old brother, Willard, and a neighbor's child, John Carroll, Channing started out in a row-boat to fish. Death was caused by general paralysis, which was not to go out far. The youngsters did not fish long, but finally rowed in close to the log boom. Not realizing the great danger in which they were placing themselves, Channing and the other boys stopped on the boat on the boom. Channing almost immediately lost his balance and pitched headlong into the river.

Was a Pioneer of Menominee—

Judge William Lehmann, who had been a resident of Menominee since 1862, and a justice of the peace for the past twenty-four years, has passed away. Death was caused by general paralysis due to old age, the deceased having been in ill-health for some time. William Lehmann was born in Germany, Sept. 13, 1822. His father desired to educate him for the practice of law, but he ran away from home at the age of thirteen years and learned the blacksmith trade, which occupation he followed for fifty years. He was a citizen soldier in the German revolution in 1848, and like many others, was obliged to come to America, landing in this country May 5, 1852. In the spring of 1858 he became an employee of Nelson Ladington at Escanaba, and in 1862 went to Menominee, where he had since resided. In 1865 he erected a shop on the lot now occupied by the Spies building, for which he paid $50, and in 1892 sold it for $8,000. William Lehmann was married in Germany, Oct. 3, 1846 to Miss Ernestine Wilhelmine Yachman, the celebration of their golden wedding taking place in 1896 and on which occasion the prominent citizens of Menominee tendered them a public reception. In political matters, Judge Lehmann was a Republican, and in 1884, at the organization of the city, he was elected justice of the peace and had served in that capacity ever since. Besides his wife, the deceased is survived by five children. They are: Mrs. William Cordes, Mrs. Mary Bemis, Mrs. Edwin Quimby, William Lehmann, of Menominee, and Mrs. Robert No-Wack of Channing. Twenty-seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren also survive him.

SENSATIONAL FINISH IN YESTERDAY'S GAME

WHEN SCORE WAS SIX TO TWO IN ISHPEMING'S FAVOR, NEGAUNEE WON IN THE NINTH INNING BY STRONG AND TIMELY HITTING, ASSISTED BY ERRORS.

Yesterday's baseball game between the Ishpeming and Negaunee teams, won by Negaunee, 7 to 6, was perhaps the most sensational and exciting ever seen here. Not since the time the Towns supported professional teams some sixteen or eighteen years ago has such enthusiasm been shown. It is estimated that there were between 5,000 and 6,000 people on the grounds yesterday. The crowds from both cities, and particularly from Ishpeming, began moving to the park three hours before the time set for the game. Every street after 12 o'clock was crowded and hundreds walked to the park. More than an hour before the play was called, every seat in the grandstand and bleachers was occupied. The crowd was so large that the management was obliged to permit people to sit on the ground in the field near the east, west and south fences.

Ishpeming had the game within its grasp up to the last half of the last inning, when its balloon went skyward and Negaunee scored six runs and won by a score of seven to six. Pandemonium reigned for fully thirty minutes while the crowd was leaving the grounds and hearing the scolding street cars. Negaunee men threw their bats high into the air and yelled themselves hoarse, the women screamed with delight and the small boys were so "tickled" that they hardly knew what to do with themselves. The playing field was crowded by friends, and were all but carried out of the park on the shoulders of the fans.

Up to the ninth inning the Negaunee players were unable to do but very little with Goulette, but when the batter started hits and errors came in rapid succession. Imerson, the first man up in the ninth, sent a pop fly back of second base. Gorman attempted to get it, but failed. Roberts came next with a single, sending Imerson to second. Lafave followed with another single, bringing Imerson and Roberts across the plate. Siebenthal next touched the ball for two bases. The question as to whether it was a fair or foul ball was raised, but the umpire declared it fair, it having struck on or very near the line back of first base. The hit brought Roberts and Lafave home. Messier followed and knocked a ball to Goulette, who threw wild to first, Siebenthal scoring. At this point Gouney removed Goulette and Tomman was put in the box. Swick, the first man up, touched him for a single and scored Messier. Scanlon sent a grounder to Gorman, who fumbled it, and Faulf sent one to Cooney, he also making a misplay. Swick scoring, and winning the game without anyone being put out.

Murray Injured in Second.

Up to the last of the ninth inning Goulette had pitched gilt-edge ball. Negaunee had secured only five singles, three of them by Scanlon, one by Messier and the other by Cannon. The game opened with Messier at the bat. He struck out. Swick went to first on an error by Goulette on a ground hit, advancing to second on a wild pitch. Scanlon brought him to third on a single. Faulf and Cannon followed. In Ishpeming's half of the first inning Burke was presented with four balls, Nichols struck out and Goulette was thrown out by Swick to Roberts. Simpson struck out and retired the side. In Negaunee's half of the second Imerson hit a grounder to McLaughlin, who threw him out at first. Roberts struck out, and Lafave went out from McLaughlin to Olson. Cooney opened the half for Ishpeming, sending a grounder to Swick, who threw him out at first. Laxstrom sent a long fly into right field that Faulf dropped. He stole second and Gorman flew out to Scanlon in left field. Olson hit for a single and Laxstrom came home. In running to the plate he collided with Murray, who was pitching, and the latter was knocked out for some minutes. After he had been brought around he attempted to pitch, but his arm was injured and Siebenthal took his place. McLaughlin was the first man to face Siebenthal. He knocked the ball

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

LILLIAN RUSSELL PRAISED.

Western Critic Speaks in Highest Terms of Noted Star and Her Company.

The Seattle Times of Sunday, May 2, commenting on Lillian Russell's successful engagement at the Moore theater, supplemented its original hearty endorsement of "Wildfire" in a lengthy and carefully written review, of which the following is an extract:

"The fair Lillian Russell has gone away from Seattle, and she has carried with her the freely bestowed favor that the theatergoers of this city lavished upon her delightful self and her eminently pleasing comedy 'Wildfire.' It seems superfluous to remark that Miss Russell is certain to receive the same enthusiastic welcome wherever she may care to lead her present production. 'It is seldom that Seattle folk are given the opportunity to see such a thoroughly delightful and natural comedy as 'Wildfire.' This is a reasonable explanation of the ovation this city laid at her feet during her engagement at the Moore this last week."

"It would seem that Messrs. Broadhurst and Hobart in writing this were entirely conversant with the sort of comedy this famous stage beauty might be seen in to best advantage, in relation both as to a display of her charm and personality, which have been on the tongue of the patrons of the theater for many years, and to fit her with a production that gives her such an excellent foundation for a realization of success such as she has attained."

MEMORIAL EXERCISES LARGELY ATTENDED

The Memorial Day exercises, held yesterday afternoon at McDonald's Opera House, under auspices of the Negaunee Towne of the Grand Army were well attended. The Civil War veterans and members of Company I, Michigan National Guard, decorated the graves of the departed soldiers in the Ishpeming cemeteries in the morning and the graves in the Negaunee cemeteries were decorated prior to the exercises in the afternoon. The program was an exceptionally interesting one. Orr Schurtz, superintendent of the Negaunee public schools, presided and also read the Gettysburg address. Rev. R. E. J. Hicks, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, offered prayer, the Negaunee school children gave several appropriate selections and other musical numbers were furnished by the Ishpeming Light Guard band.

The speakers were Rev. W. B. Coombe, pastor of the Mitchell Methodist church, and E. E. Scribner, superintendent of the Ishpeming schools. Mr. Coombe opened his address by a reference to the Grand Army as it exists today. He declared that the same spirit that animated the members of the Grand Army at the outbreak and during the war, animated it today, and that throughout this country millions of people are paying homage to the honored dead. He referred to the first call for troops, when some 75,000 men volunteered, but soon the numbers in the fighting line numbered millions. "Today," he declared, "tens of thousands of cemeteries are being visited by faltering veterans, strong men, tender women, and wondering children. They are more generously or more appropriately spread upon the graves of the dead. As the marching soldiers follow the beat of the drum to the cemeteries, millions of hearts beat in reverence for the men who saved the nation."

"The spreading of flowers in grief means honor; the flowers of crosses mean suffering; flowers of anchors mean hope, and evergreens mean immortality. All bitterness is gone out of the heart, and no day is so bright as the day when we are reminded of the whole land, a reunited people will scatter flowers over mounds beneath which lie our soldier dead.

"So much has peace pervaded our people that today the boys in blue and the girls in gray will march side by side to God's acre. There shall be flowers and tears for the boys in blue and tears and flowers for the boys in gray.

"Let there be no one neglected, whether they sleep in golden handled caskets or in plain boxes, in marble vaults, or in the earth. Let every our savior and all today are sleeping their last loving sleep with their battle armor on. Officers and soldiers are holding their last long solemn bivouac, watched only by the silent sentinels of stars. But these are not alone, these to whom we would render homage. There is no less glory in having fought and bled and returned to the home again, than to have fought and bled and died upon the battlefield.

"I do not mean to praise you, or to unduly praise you, if such a thing is possible, but this I do affirm, that no man, no band of men, ever set out upon a great undertaking unless lured by the hope of gain or the phantom of glory than did those who composed the early armies.

"But some ask, why do we do it? Have they requested it? No voice of theirs from their graves have come up and said pay us homage. We do not honor them by anything we could do, we only honor our selves."

Tribute to Mothers and Wives.

The speaker paid a beautiful tribute to the mothers and wives of the veterans who left home to fight for their country. He reviewed the trying conditions which they had to undergo in tending the soil and in other ways earning a living for their children.

Continuing he said: "Nothing is so trying as uncertainty. News from the battlefield was eagerly sought. Long lines of men, waiting in vain, through the streets only served to emphasize the anxiety and sorrow of those who remained at home.

"The contest between the armies of the north and the armies of the south was to decide in some way or another, a judicial tribunal to settle. National government or state rights was the great question that shook this land from center to circumference.

"We argued in faith from Sumpter to Shiloh; from Wilderness to Gettysburg; from Lookout mountain to the Wilderness, until that memorable day, when at Appomattox Lee gave up his sword to Grant and said, 'You are the victors' and our great martyred president, moved by the spirit only such a great man could know, replied, 'Let us have peace.'

"While high on forty-five years have passed since that day. No more is the south plowed by shot and shell. The grassy meadows cover the walls where once stood our guns. Children chase away the sunny hours in meadows where armies once waged war, all forgetful of the carnage that raged there. Hushed is the slogan of charging lines, the blast of bugles and the whirring of drums in long years past, the shredded and riddled banners that once waved in the front of the battle have been buried, and today we put a garland on peace.

"In conclusion let me say: 'Throng of departed heroes stoop down and breathe the perfume of a nation's thanks; stoop down and take the kiss of a nation's love; stoop down and hear the cheer of a nation's joy. To you who are with us today, bear from this place the fragrant of a nation's gratitude, brave in the presence of death in the days that are gone. May you who leave when this day shall come silent and alone, you shall meet the grim foe, and may the great commander say to you, 'Well done; enter into my joy.'"

Mr. Scribner's Address.

Professor Scribner spoke, in part, as follows: "After the lapse of more than forty-five years since General Lee surrendered

HAS REACHED THE LEDGE.

Foundation Company Has Made Good Headway With Concrete Shaft.

The workmen in the employ of the Foundation company of New York have made very satisfactory progress with the concrete shaft being sunk for the Cleveland-Chiles iron company at its North Lake property. The work was started less than three months ago and the superintendent believes that he will be able to remove his crew and outfit within from four to six weeks, as the concrete is now down to the ledge. It will be extended into the rock a few feet, making the total depth of the concrete in the neighborhood of eighty feet.

The men employed in the shaft have been working on three-hour shifts for a few weeks past, but it is possible that it may be necessary to reduce the length of service before the shaft is finished. As a rule, the working time is reduced as depth is attained. All of the men employed in the shaft are experienced in that line, practically all of them having come from Chicago and New York. Several of the thirty or more men who arrived here from Chicago less than a month ago have quit. Some of them were unable to stand the air pressure in the shaft.

During the last few weeks before the completion of the Cleveland-Chiles iron company's Kiddier mine shaft on the Swaney range, concrete for which was also put in by the Foundation company, the workmen remained in the shaft only forty-five minutes at a time. They worked double shift, putting in ninety minutes in each twenty-four hours. As a rule, the shorter the working time the larger the pay. Some men are unable to stand the pressure, while it does not affect others. The concrete in the Kiddier shaft extends to a depth of 110 feet.

JOHN D. RYAN GETS DUCKING.

WellKnown Mining Man Misses Jump and Has Narrow Escape.

A dispatch from New York states that John D. Ryan, president of the Anaconda Copper company, which has an office at 42 Broadway, had a narrow escape from drowning.

He had taken a yacht ride with Erivan H. Broughton, son-in-law of the late Henry H. Rogers, and when the yacht ran along the north side of the New York Yacht club pier, Mr. Broughton made the jump from the deck to the pier in safety, but Mr. Ryan with a tremendous splash, tumbled between the yacht and the pier.

"He can't swim!" Mr. Broughton called out. Michael Mulligan, a youthful attendant of the club, dived off the pier and grabbed Mr. Ryan just as the latter floated to the surface and with the help of several men the copper man was drawn into a launch.

WASHINGTON CHAT.

Washington, May 31.—Secretary of War Dickenson is the first of the Taft cabinet to get into a diggum dig. He begged a trophy down in Panama which should make some other candidates for fame in the "gold cabinet" envious. It happened like this: While the secretary was in the canal zone, receiving from sickle and inspecting the big ditch, some of the officials invited him and his party to an alligator hunt. They went up the Chopo river, on the west coast, the hunters including the distinguished Tennessee who is secretary of war, General Bell, chief of staff of the army, and General Clarence Edwards, chief of the insular bureau and right-hand man to presidents and cabinet officers.

Something must have happened. Perhaps the alligators had been tipped off by several of the Washington officials were on their trail. Anyhow, according to reports which have been noised about the capital, Secretary Dickenson was the only member of the outfit who saw a gator. He banged away at the reptile and laid him low. But the secretary didn't bring his game back with him. One of the native guides ruined the "poit" in skinning the ugly beast. How, the secretary of war has qualified.

A Missouri congressman was telling a story about Curtis Guild, ex-governor of Massachusetts, around the Capitol the other day. According to the yarn, Governor Guild was in South Dakota with a party of spellbinders in the Roosevelt campaign, the party including the strenuous one himself. Also Senator McCumber of North Dakota was along. Frequently it fell to the duty of the statesman from Walpole to introduce to anxious audiences the "distinguished Massachusetts citizen." On such occasions he invariably pronounced the name of the Bay state as though it were spelled "gaid."

This quackly pulled upon the owner of the name, and according to the "Mazurka" law-giver, the governor appealed to President Roosevelt for protection against the man who never could pronounce his name.

"Well," said the Missouri statesman, "President Roosevelt became interested and asked what member of the party had been guilty of such a protection."

"Why," said Governor Guild, it is Senator McCumber."

Almost every day some one turns up at the White House offices with something novel. The other day Secretary Carpenter was handed a card bearing the following inscription, all engraved in Old English:

W. D. Johnson
Has an Appointment
With President Taft
Through Secretary
Fred W. Carpenter.
Today at 12:30 O'clock.

Lots of people have appointments with President Taft through Secretary Carpenter; and they come on time and tell him so. But W. D. Johnson, who is a Kentuckian from Lexington, has beaten them all in his elaborate method of announcing himself.

The gradual disarmament of Senator Smith of South Carolina, which has been in progress for some time past, has caused much amusement to his friends. Down in "Soul Carling" he was known as "Gatling Gun" Smith, by reason of the buzz-saw brand of oratory which he was wont to get off before Palmetto audiences. Unfortunately for great reputations, they do not always last in the national capital. In Washington, the senator has been called "Popgun" Smith.

MERGER IS ANNOUNCED.

United States Steel Corporation Not Affiliated With New Combine.

What is believed to be a merger of the many independent steel and iron interests of the country is announced. It is stated that the Imperial steel corporation has been incorporated under the laws of Delaware. It is capitalized at $3,000,000, and provision is made for further increases of its capitalization to $750,000,000. It is said that there are many strong iron and steel interests in the combine that are not affiliated with the United States Steel corporation, and it is supposed that the success of the latter concern has led the independents to form a corporation similar to it.

Although no definite announcement as to the companies included in the combination has yet been made, it is believed that several of the independent corporations operating iron properties in various parts of the Lake Superior district are to be affiliated with it. Among the independent companies whose iron interests are important, and who, it is thought, are to be included, are the Shenango Furnace company, M. A. Han-

LONGEST ATLANTIC TRIP.

Floating Crane to Be Used at Montreal Bested Columbus Record.

Montreal, May 31.—The record of Columbus in Atlantic crossing has been broken by the new floating crane which is expected to be at work in Montreal within the next few days. Last summer the crane left the works of Messrs. Vickers' Sons & Maxim, Barrow-in-Furness, England, for Montreal, in tow of the tug Iwanna. The waves were unkind to the Ocean, and she had to make for the nearest port, leaving the crane to the sport of the waves.

After several days' wandering the crane was picked up by a couple of steam trawlers, taken to Stormway and later back to Barrow. Here the machinery received an overhauling, and the trawlers presented a little bill of about $26,000.

Some weeks ago the crane started out again, this time towed by the Rooderze, and is now at Sorel, between Quebec and Montreal. The crane has a length of 200 feet, with a lift above water of 100 feet. Its capacity at 51 feet radius is 75 tons.

PROUD DAY FOR NEGAUNEE.

Negaunee's victorious ball players were given a great ovation last evening on their return from Union Park, where they had triumphed the Ishpemingites to the tune of 7 to 6. The fans went fair, wild in their enthusiasm. Various players were picked up and carried around on the shoulders of admirers. The fans were not only happy because the ball team had won, but because, it is said, a nice bunch of Ishpeming money had come Negaunee-way. Everybody was delighted, in any event, and nothing was too good for the ball players. With these games won and no games lost, Negaunee leads in the pennant race, and the supporters of the team are confident the club will keep at the top of the heap.

Hicks, the rector, will preach an appropriate sermon, and special music will be rendered by the choir. MUNISING WON LISTLESS GAME

BAKER WAS A PUZZLER

New Recruit from Flint too Much for Home Boys, Who Could Make But Six Infield Hits Off His Delivery.

Marquette lacked ginger and could not hit Baker, Munising's new recruit from Flint, and went down to defeat to the tune of four to one. That tells the story of the baseball game at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon. Manager Fox did not appear on the side lines until the seventh inning, which may have been the cause of the home team playing the most listless game of the season, or it may have been that they were tired from their sixteen-inning battle of the previous day. Something was wrong, that's sure, and Munising took advantage of the opportunity offered them.

But Munising did not play especially fast ball either, and Marquette's defeat was really due to Baker, Munising's pitcher, who had the Indian sign on his opponents all through the game, allowing but six scattered singles, two of which were decidedly of the scratch order. He fanned thirteen men and had the Marquette batters at his mercy, so much so that none of Munising's outfielders had a put-out or an assist to his credit. In the fifth and ninth he struck out the side in one, two, three order, and but thirty-two men facing him during the entire game.

time that a Marquette player got beyond second base. Munising got her first run in the fourth, when Cragg fumbled Gunstrom's grounder and then threw wild to first, allowing Gunstrom to make the second sack. Baker sacrificed and Gunstrom went home on a passed ball. In the seventh Brissette hit to deep left. Leach sacrificed and Adamson was hit by a pitched ball and went to first. With two on bases, Hagel slammed a liner to left, but Brissette was out at the plate. Finkbinder followed with a single, which brought home Adamson and Hagel. The game was lost to Marquette from this time on.

THEATRICAL.

"Lillian Russell."

Lillian Russell will appear at the opera house Saturday night in her racing comedy success, "Wildfire." Miss Russell is returning eastward from a trip to the Pacific coast where she has met with wonderful success.

The engagement of the famous American beauty in her present vehicle will be one of the treats of the season. "Wildfire" has been proclaimed by critics everywhere as the best story of the American turf ever staged in this country. Its success has been phenomenal and the reason is that the play and star establishes one of the happiest combinations ever discovered.

Theatergoers are more or less familiar with the story. A brief outline is not out of order, however. The central character played by Miss Russell is that of a young widow who finds, upon settling up her husband's estate, that about the only tangible property left her is a racing stable which her husband has conducted in secret.

On and after June 1st the Marquette City Dairy will put out a special milk for infants. This milk will be packed in ice immediately after going through the perfection Aerator and cooler and will be kept packed in ice until placed in the home of the infant. This milk will be furnished to all who desire it at 10 cents per quart. (6-1-1w)
