

MACVEAGH'S ADDRESS OCCASIONS A FUSS

Aroused at the Chicago Speech of the Secretary, Republican Congressional Leaders Hasten to the White House to See About It.

They Learn That the Treasury Head Had No Authority to Pose as the Mouthpiece of the Administration, That Mr. Taft Was Not Aware of the Tenor of the Utterances Before Their Delivery and That There Is No Danger Tariff Bill Will Be Vetoed.

Washington, June 8.—The senate and house leaders who are directing the course of the tariff bill through congress, and who will be members of the conference on the measure after it has passed the senate, took measures today to ascertain whether there is any foundation for the reports that President Taft would veto the bill.

Speaker Cannon, Senator Aldrich and Representative Payne individually have been to the White House several times in the past few days, and they say that if President Taft is dissatisfied with the course the bill is taking through congress he has concealed his dissatisfaction very successfully. As late as this evening the president told one of the Republican leaders that no one had authority to suggest that he had in mind the veto of the tariff measure.

Senator Aldrich was at the White House today, and was with the president for some time. When he returned to the Capitol he told his colleagues that the president did not appear to be at all perturbed about the tariff situation, and that he had expressed confidence in the members of the finance committee.

MacVeagh Not Taft's Spokesman. It was learned today upon the highest authority that the president had not read the Chicago speech of Secretary MacVeagh before the secretary left Washington for Chicago, and the president was not aware of the character of the speech to be made.

CALLS IT A CHIMERA. Bishop Doane Antagonizes Woman's Suffrage and Plays the Suffragettes.

Albany, June 8.—Addressing the graduating class of St. Agnes school today on the subject of "Womanhood," Bishop Doane had the following to say on the woman's suffrage question: "I cannot call it necessary and perhaps it is not wise, for me to caution against the lady who stroked out to give woman the right to vote and to be voted for. I am disposed to think that the quiet and decent appeal of a few of the so-called suffragettes that it will fail of any effect. At any rate, the argument should be addressed rather to legislators than to you, except so far as one is justified in saying here to you that your womanhood will gain nothing by suffrage and by losing even the day in dignity and its true influence by the hysterical clamor which is employed in the pursuit of this chimera."

CELEBRATION AT DETROIT. Detroit, June 8.—The centenary of the introduction of the printing art into the old Northwest Territory was celebrated here today. Editors and public men from many parts of the state, with hundreds of citizens of Detroit, attended the exercises. Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, made the principal address at the celebration.

GOLD MINE FOR ILLINOIS. Springfield, Ill., June 8.—The Illinois Central today paid into the state treasury the sum of $363,000, that being 7 per cent on the great proceeds, earnings and receipts of the company on the 709 miles of its chartered road in Illinois for the six months ended April 30, 1909. This makes more than $1,100,000 that the state has received from this road the past year.

BUCKETSHOP MEN SENTENCED. Cincinnati, June 8.—Louis W. Foster, John M. Gorman, Walter Campbell, A. C. Baldwin, Edwin Hill and J. M. Scott were today each sentenced to a term of six months in jail and to pay a fine of $200 and the costs of trial, for using the mails to further schemes to defraud in conducting bucketshops.

SENATORS SMOKE THE PIPE OF PEACE

In an Amicable Frame of Mind, Notwithstanding Their Differences of Opinion on the Tariff, They Bury the Hatchet for a Day.

With DOLLIVER the Central Figure, Much Good Humor and Many Pleasantries are Injected into the Debate on the Woolen Schedule, and the Proceedings are Devoid of the Bitterness So Marked at Times—A Happy Colloquy Gives Much Amusement.

Washington, June 8.—There was a great deal of good humor and many pleasantries injected into the debate on the woolen schedule in the senate today, Mr. DOLLIVER, of Iowa, being the central figure. He offered several amendments and announced his intention of presenting a number of others, appealing to the Republican members to vote with him because, he said, these amendments would justify the attitude of the Republican party in advocating a protective tariff.

A Lecture an Interesting Feature. One of the interesting features of the day was a lecture on the woolen industry, from beginning to end, by Senator Carter, who brought forth a large box filled with samples of various grades of wool.

MacVeagh Not Taft's Spokesman. It was learned today upon the highest authority that the president had not read the Chicago speech of Secretary MacVeagh before the secretary left Washington for Chicago, and the president was not aware of the character of the speech to be made.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT SCORES DOLLIVER.

Unable to Keep an Engagement to Deliver a Commencement Address, Iowa's Senior Senator Is Taken to Task by a North Carolina Educator.

Durham, N. C., June 8.—Incensed at Senator DOLLIVER of Iowa because he cancelled at the last moment an engagement to deliver the annual address at the Trinity college commencement tomorrow, President Edgar, physical education instructor, accused the senator of unfair treatment.

"Trinity college has always tried to be fair to its audiences," said Dr. Kilgo, "and this is the first time that any man has treated us unfairly. Senator DOLLIVER had had a long physical examination, and he waits until the last moment to embarrass us."

Retires for the Night, Exhausted. Washington, June 8.—When the news reached Washington this evening that Senator DOLLIVER's failure to keep his engagement at Trinity college had been bitterly discussed by the president of the college, the senator retired for the night. During the past ten days Mr. DOLLIVER has taken a leading part in the debate on the tariff bill in the senate, and he consumed most of today in addressing the body during the discussion of the woolen schedule.

LOEB RAISES A STORM. Reduces 73 Customs Inspectors From Fat Posts to the Lean Jobs of Watchmen.

New York, June 8.—A protest against the action of Collector Loeb in reducing seventy-three customs inspectors from positions paying salaries of $1,400 and $1,825 a year to the rank of watchmen, was made today by several prominent politicians, who endeavored to obtain from him a reversal of the order. Mr. Loeb, however, refused to restore any of the inspectors to their old positions, and it is understood, will be carried to Washington, where the intervention of President Taft will be invoked.

COST OVER $50,000,000. Eighteen Hundred Public Libraries Founded So Far by Andrew Carnegie.

New York, June 8.—Andrew Carnegie has founded 1,800 public libraries, representing donations aggregating $31,296,903, according to his own statement in the current number of Collier's Weekly. Up to Dec. 31, 1908, the philanthropist says, he had erected in the United States 930 library buildings, with 208 branches, at a cost of $34,870,745. England and Wales come second in the list, with 329 buildings and fifty-nine branches, at a cost of $7,859,550. Mr. Carnegie thinks that, considering the population of the two countries, he has done almost as much for Canada as for the United States, having erected there eighty-six buildings and established five branches, at an outlay of $2,059,415. He says that he is satisfied with the results of his expenditures in the library line.

CRACK PATROLS DRILL. Various Spectacular Features Mark the Annual Convention of the Shriners at Louisville.

Louisville, June 8.—The Shriners were busy today from early morning until late tonight, with drilling and marching. The imperial council, amid the spectacular features of the day, managed to meet and hold an important session, at which an unusual thing was done. This was to make James W. McGinnis, potentate of Ziyra temple, of Utopia, N. Y., a member emeritus ad vitam, an honor which has been conferred on but four other men in the history of the Shrine. A committee was appointed by Imperial Potentate Edwin J. Alderman of Cedar Rapids, Ia., to report tomorrow upon the choice of the city for the 1910 convention.

Drills all afternoon by various patrols provided excellent entertainment for thousands of people. Tonight, despite a rain, the most remarkable pageant in the history of Shrinism was held. All the crack patrols which have made the order famous were in line, under lights and colors that reminded the historically inclined of the Zouaves of Aboukir marching to battle. This parade consumed almost an hour to pass a given point.

At the meeting of the imperial council during the day, it was shown that the present membership of the shrine is 140,000, an increase of 12,000 during the past year, while the financial condition showed a surplusage that would buy a corner in Wall street. It was declared tonight by those enabled to know that George K. Street, of Richmond, Va., may not, as is the custom, move up from imperial deputy potentate to imperial potentate. There are other candidates. If custom is not followed, W. Freeman Kendrick, of Lulu temple, Philadelphia, may win his strong fight for imperial outer guard. If custom is followed, it is likely that Ellis Lewis Garretson, of Tacoma, Wash., for whom the Northwest is working as one man, may win the prize.

HE WROTE THE BOOK TO SAVE THE CHURCH.

Defending His Published Views, Prof. Foster Declares He Will Not Withdraw from the Ministry No Matter What Pressure Is Brought to Bear Upon Him.

Chicago, June 8.—"It was to save the church, to defend it from its most potent enemies, that I wrote the things which have angered my fellow ministers in the Baptist faith. I had no thought of creating dissent; but I saw a great exigency, to face which successfully the church must cast aside the baggage which it has brought down from unenlightened ages while keeping only the essence to true religion."

Stated Professor Foster, of the University of Chicago, author of "The Function of Religion," which has caused a furor among the Baptist clergy, when asked today to define the relation of his teaching to the creed of the times. That to weather the gales of modern thought the church must be freed from the dogmas it has borrowed from past ages, and that it cannot retain the respect and faith of intelligent minds while clinging blindly to tenets that belittle intelligence, were the sentiments expressed by Professor Foster today. The educator and clergyman added that he was a loyal Baptist, and would not withdraw from the ministry no matter what pressure was brought to bear upon him.

TRAVELED 370 MILES. Balloon University City, Landing on Lookout Mountain, Seems Winner of Aerial Race.

Indianapolis, June 8.—Although many conflicting reports have been received concerning the landing of the balloon Indiana, which started in the national race Saturday, it is believed that she has been defeated by the University City. This balloon was originally reported to have sought the earth at Blaine, Tenn., 325 miles from Indianapolis. Pilot Berry wired tonight, however, that he had landed six miles southeast of Fort Payne, Ala., near Lookout mountain. This is about 370 miles from Indianapolis, and if proved to be the correct landing place will probably give this long distance prize to Berry and McCallough. A. Forbes had been credited with this honor with his New York, which landed at Corinth, Miss., about 353 miles from Indianapolis.

St. Louis, June 8.—Confident in his belief that he is the winner of the national balloon race which began at Indianapolis Saturday afternoon, John Berry, pilot of the balloon University City, arrived here today at 7 o'clock, accompanied by his side, P. J. McCullough. The balloon landed on Freestone peak of Lookout mountain, Ala., at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. Berry was in the air for thirty-six hours and thirty-five minutes, and he figures that he covered 375 miles. The landing was made nine miles from Fort Payne, Ala. Berry and McCullough rode into Fort Payne Monday morning in an ox wagon. The landing was made on a tree stump, without the rip cord being pulled. The balloon was towed to an open place, and deflated, and was then covered for the night. The occupants spent the night with a mountain preacher. The trip was a delightful one, with no unpleasant incidents to mar the flight. Berry said that they could have remained in the air for at least twenty-six hours longer if the wind had been favorable.

REAL CONTEST NOW BEGINS. Bound for Seattle, the Racing Autos Leave Kansas City This Morning.

Kansas City, June 8.—The two Ford cars leading in the New York-to-Seattle race reached here at 7:35 o'clock this evening. An hour later, the Aene and Slavator cars arrived. The Ford cars were only a few minutes ahead at Glasgow, Mo., but reached the Missouri river ferry first and the other cars were delayed in consequence. The racers will leave here early in the morning. It is from Kansas City to Seattle that the real race will occur.

REMARKABLE OCEAN RACE. Hamilton, Bermuda, June 8.—As far as can be figured tonight, the schooner Hargrett has won the sailing race from New York to Bermuda by about four and one-half hours. Three of the yachts crossed the finish mark off St. David's head this afternoon, in one of the most remarkable contests that has ever taken place on the sea. Less than two minutes separated the schooner Amorita and the Margaret. The former was the first over, but as the Margaret had an allowance of four hours and thirty minutes, she finished right on the Amorita's heels, and Margriet proved the winner on her allowance. The schooner Crusader II came over the line thirty-nine minutes after the Margaret. The start was made from Gravesend Bay at 10 a. m. Saturday.

CHICAGO BOWLERS SURPRISE. New York, June 8.—Two all-star five-men teams of Chicago bowlers appeared unexpectedly on the Madison Square Garden alleys late tonight and rolled two of the best games of the tournament. The Knights of Columbus scored 2,824, taking sixth place.

DESPERATE GANG IS ROUNDED UP

That They Have Corralled a Bunch of "Black Hand" Men Is Announced by Postoffice Inspectors at Work in Ohio.

Operating from Marion and With Lines Reaching Into a Number of Big Cities of the Union, the Prisoners, All Italians, Are Said to Have Fleeced Fellow Countrymen Out of Thousands of Dollars the Past Few Months, by Threats to Use the Bomb.

Cincinnati, June 8.—In several arrests made in Columbus, Marion and Dennison, O., today, the local federal inspectors and the detectives who worked in conjunction with them in the case believe they have unearthed the biggest and best organized branch of the "Black Hand" in this country, Marion, O., being probably the headquarters of the organization.

Fleeced Many Persons. Chief Postoffice Inspector Holmes of Cincinnati, who is in charge of the work which has resulted in the arrests so far made, is authority for the statement that evidence has been secured showing that the gang, operating from Marion, and with lines reaching into a number of the big cities of the country, has fleeced different persons in this and other states out of thousands of dollars in the last few months by the application of "Black Hand" methods.

The arrests made today were Sam Lima and Joe Rizzo, at Marion, and Antonio Viscario and A. Maris, at Dennison. Early tonight Inspector Holmes said that he was expecting word from Belmont, O., of two arrests, and these two, he said, would be as important as those already made and perhaps more so. Inspector Holmes says that the gang which conducted its operations from Marion was composed of Italians and worked exclusively upon their countrymen. He has obtained evidence that as late as two weeks ago the men sent from the Marion postoffice money orders aggregating $1,000 to confederates in Italy, this being the division of the blackmail funds in one case. Many such bits of evidence, it is claimed, are in the possession of the inspectors.

Resorted to the Bomb. Discussing the case tonight, Inspector Holmes said: "The proof we have found against the Marion gang convinces us the men have worked their game successfully on many Italians, principally well-to-do Sicilians. We have not found where they went after a single American. They meant business when they made their demands for money. If their demands were ignored, they resorted to the bomb to either bring their victim to time or to avenge their persistent refusal to submit to blackmail."

Search has been prosecuted for six months for the men who sent threatening letters to John Amican, a fruit dealer of Cincinnati, who died suddenly several weeks ago, after refusing to obey the demand of a "Black Hand" letter to give up $1,000 or forfeit his life. He died soon after eating a banana given him by a stranger. At Marion the inspectors opened a safe in Joe Rizzo's store, and they claim to have found evidence that hundreds of businessmen in all parts of the state have been paying tribute to the gang. The inspectors also claim to have evidence showing that Sam Lima is the head of the organization that had headquarters at Marion.

NEW WAR CLOUD VISIBLE IN EUROPE

Due to the Situation Arising from the Impending Evacuation of Crete, No Small Amount of Anxiety Has Been Occasioned.

The Four Protecting Powers Having Decided to Withdraw Their Forces July 31, and Turkey Having Served Notice the Island Must Turn to the Ottoman Flag, Serious Trouble Looms Up, Greece Contending the Territory Rightfully Belongs to Her.

Paris, June 8.—The Cretan situation is causing considerable anxiety in Europe. The protecting powers—Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy—have decided to keep their engagement to evacuate the island July 31. Turkey has served notice that after this date the island, while preserving its autonomous regime, must turn to the Turkish flag, and she is prepared to go to war on this issue. Greece, on the contrary, thinks annexation to her should follow the evacuation by the powers, but the efforts of the king of Greece to secure the support of the powers to this idea have, up to the present, been unavailing. It is understood that Germany sides strongly with Turkey in the matter.

ABOUT CITY PRINTING.

The council Monday evening passed a resolution designating The Mining Journal as the official city organ for the ensuing two years and providing that all notices, official records of council sessions and other business of the kind shall be published in its columns. The passage of this resolution followed the defeat of a substitute, offered by Alderman Ward, that the recorder be instructed to call for bids for the work, and that he be empowered to enter into a contract with the lowest bidder.

Mr. Ward's motion sounded fair and plausible enough, and the talk he gave the council previous to action on the matter was also calculated to impress a listener who had given the matter but casual attention. In the light of Mr. Ward's high-minded demand for the square deal the action of the majority of the council seemed woefully low-browed and unbusinesslike. But was it?

As a matter of fact none of the city's business is done on a competitive basis, except where contracts for machinery are let to outside firms. When supplies are purchased locally, whether they be coal or cement, or a scrub brush for the city hall janitor, the city is paying the full rates charged to individual buyers. True, bids are called for in some cases, but it is a peculiarity of the bids that they all quote the same figures, the going market price for the various supplies that the city may happen to want.

This is properly so. There is no good reason why established business men, who are paying hundreds of dollars in taxes annually, and whose enterprises contribute materially to the maintenance and upbuilding of the town, should do business with the city for the fun of doing it. They are entitled to the same profit that they get in doing business with individual customers, and we have heard no fault found that they get it.

But when a junk newspaper shop opens its doors to spend a passing hour in Marquette, to the consequent worry of creditors and the despair of everyone who tries to have business dealings with it, a different face comes over the situation. Then there is an immediate demand from some source or other that The Mining Journal get into competition with the hay wire outfit, whittle the fair profit it may be making out of the city's business or allow the business to go by default.

There have been numerous instances of this in the past. They have been as numerous as the abortive attempts to establish other newspapers in Marquette, and these attempts have always been followed by a train of mournful creditors and disappointed hopes. Alderman Ward knows all about this. He was one of the moving spirits in the establishment of the Marquette Evening News, not long since defunct after a brief and troubled existence. The local history of the News is recent and well remembered. More than one employe of that concern is still regretting an unbalanced labor account; more than one creditor has charged off some of its accounts to profit and loss.

The position of The Mining Journal in regard to city business is today what it always has been. It maintains a plant that represents a big investment and it has a large payroll. It contributes materially to the support of the city's other business interests and, along with its owners, is a heavy taxpayer. The only terms on which it wants the city's business is on prices such as it charges to other users of its columns. These prices, it is granted, admit of a fair profit, but if there is any business in the entire city that is entitled to this profit from the city it is The Mining Journal, which has a record of a half century of steady and consistent work for the advancement of all the interests of the community.

It may also be suggested that bids for printing proceedings and notices are on a different basis than any other bids, for the reason that the bidding mediums have, in the nature of things, different relative value for the work to be done. The element of circulation, and other considerations, enter in. These considerations have always made The Mining Journal several times more effective for publicity in this city than any of the "fly by nights." When the council gets ready to turn its business over to any sheet that chances along and endeavors to make a noise like a newspaper it can do so, but it will not find The Mining Journal trying to meet junkshop competition. It is a matter of principle with it that a good newspaper is worthy of its hire, and it is not its present purpose, and will not be its purpose at any time in the future, to bid for business it is fairly entitled to against every shyster outfit that conceives that it has capacity to run a newspaper.

There were six members of the council Monday evening who took the same view of the matter indicated in this article. When a new council is elected and qualified we have an idea that there will be even a greater number committed to it.

MEET HERE SATURDAY.

The officers of the Lake Superior Press association have issued a hurrying call for a meeting to be held in Marquette Saturday next, and hope that there will be a representative attendance of upper peninsula newspaper men, despite the fact that only late notice of the session could be given. There are a number of important matters that the membership of the association should consider, and it is also time to elect the officers for the ensuing term. The members present will be the guests of The Mining Journal at its anniversary banquet to be held at the Hotel Clifton Saturday evening, and the publishers hope to have the pleasure of entertaining a goodly number.

It is reported that Professor Wenley, one of the most prominent members of the University of Michigan faculty, the head of the department of philosophy in the literary school, was the subject of discussion at the meetings of the board of regents last week, and as the story goes there was some support for the opinion that the university would be the gainer if Professor Wenley's connection with it should cease. The fault found is on the score of the heterodox nature of much of his public utterances and his writings. There is no possible question about Professor Wenley's ability; it is of a high order. He is partial, however, to sensational statements; he likes to cause his listeners, and readers, to sit up in their chairs and blink their eyes. He is, whether he likes it or not, much in the newspapers, and most of the matter written about him is of a nature to give the impression that he is a radical thinker and teacher, who is as likely, as not to lead his disciples out of the trodden paths into new and dangerous footing. This idea may be in a large measure unjust to Professor Wenley, but it is the impression that has gained a wide currency. However, for the regents to move in any formal manner against him would create a storm, for he has many friends and admirers, and besides there is an important element of people who resent interference with able men in universities for no better reason than that they exhibit independence in their thinking. It is possible, however, that the report in Professor Wenley is much overdrawn, and that we will hear no more of the matter.

The council Monday evening passed a resolution calling for the framing of an ordinance that should have been enacted years ago. It is to provide that when a street is newly macadamized in the future it shall be provided at the time with concrete curbs and, when necessary, with concrete gutters. This will mean that all new work will be completely finished. The practice in the past has been to lay the macadam and then some years afterward rip it up to put in curbing or gutters, or both. The result has been unnecessary expense and the city has not had as attractive an appearance as it would have had if every street was put in first-class condition when it was first built. The ordinance is also to provide that lateral sewer mains and water and gas pipes must be extended to each lot before any street is macadamized and finished. This is also an admirable provision and will result in time in saving the city much money.

The work of the Michigan legislature during the session lately closed has been scolded in some quarters, yet it stands up most favorably in comparison with the record of the legislatures of Illinois and Wisconsin. The former consumed most of its time in the Hopkins-Lorimer fight. Important legislative projects received but scant attention, and the significant legislation that was passed was crowded into the few closing days, and received no adequate attention. At Madison a large part of the time was given over to the inquiry into the manner in which the senatorial primary was conducted last fall—a useless inquiry, apparently, for it has had no result of any consequence. Compared with these two states, the Michigan legislature stuck fairly close to its knitting and its output of laws was better and more carefully considered.

Detroit Saturday Night will please note that Corrigan, McKinney & Co. have ordered the closing down of the Colby mine at Bessemer because they hold the recently fixed assessment to be much too high and say the resultant taxes will not permit the property to be worked at a reasonable profit. This hardly accords with Saturday Night's theory that there isn't a mine in the entire upper peninsula that is assessed high enough.

Speaking of past newspaper fiascos in Marquette reminds that D. Z. Curtis, who this year furnished the biennial scandal for the state legislature, was one of the proprietors of the old Times. The council one year tried the experiment of giving Dizzy's organ the city printing at cut rate prices, and was quickly jolly well sick of its job. Dizzy's paper mused up legal notices and created no end of trouble. We have had other people since Dizzy who have called themselves "publishers," but they have all been of the same pattern.

The campaign plans of Lieutenant Governor Kelley are now said to be fairly well outlined. He will give his time personally to his canvass and will speak throughout the state. An interesting report runs to the effect that Mr. Kelley, who is not a wealthy man, will have a sufficient "doughbag." Just who will fill it is not stated, but the assertion that it will be full is made with considerable confidence.

It is reported that the politicians in Grand Rapids told Lieutenant Governor Kelley that they wouldn't know where they were at in regard to the gubernatorial situation until Amos Musselman made his intentions known. It is generally believed, however, that Mr. Musselman will not be in the race, and that Grand Rapids will be free to divide its votes between Chase S. Osborn and Mr. Kelley.

The latest report anent the case of General Bates, who, it has been said, would likely be court-martialed on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer, runs to the effect that he has cleared up the situation to the satisfaction of his fellow officers, and that there will be no court-martial after all.

A Chicago motorist has killed a paralytic. No trick at all to do that. A real artist at the business of swelling the death rate behind the steering gear of a large enough car can catch the quickest athlete ever trained.

"Iron trade on the eve of a great boom" says a newspaper headline. And when iron booms everything will follow closely after, or else one of the accepted laws of business will be violated.

Neither the management nor fans are discouraged, but at the same time they would be greatly pleased if our Marquette Colts would stem the tide of disaster and pull down that next game.

The council hopes that a word to those wise motorists will be sufficient. It would hate awfully to be put to the expense of putting on a corps of automobile policemen.

A NAVY FOR CANADA.

Dominion Government to Build Eight Cruisers and Many Auxiliaries.

Montreal, June 8.—The Dominion of Canada has finally decided to show its imperial spirit by building a navy of its own, to act, should the occasion arise, as an auxiliary force to Great Britain's fleet. Canada's contribution to the force of the empire will consist of eight first-class cruisers, ten torpedo boat destroyers and ten torpedo boats. The government is prepared to pay one-fifth of the cost for laying down the whole fleet immediately, the other four-fifths to be guaranteed paid within the next five years.

All the contracts for building the vessels will be made with British firms, and arrangements have already been made for building several of the torpedo boats and destroyers with the firm of Hawthorn, Leslie & Coote of New Castle on Tyne. Arthur Coote, one of the directors of the firm, has been in Canada for several weeks going over the specifications for the different classes of vessels with the Hon. W. P. Borden, minister of marine and fisheries. The larger vessels will be built on the Tyne, but for the construction of the smaller craft a shipyard will be opened on the great lakes, probably at Collingwood, Ontario. It is not stated positively how much the government is prepared to spend, although Mr. Coote seems to think that between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 a year for five years a fair estimate.

The climate of Scotland is such that waterproof garments are usually required more or less during every month of the year. The average annual rainfall is about 45 inches.

NATURE'S WARNING.

Marquette People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously. But nature always warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If there are settlements and sediment. Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time then to use Doan's Kidney Pills. To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes. Doan's have done great work in this locality.

M. Brown, 306 S. Jennie St., Escanaba, Mich., says: "About two years ago I began to suffer from pains in the lower part of my back, and after a hard day's work I was so lame I could hardly straighten. In the morning upon arising, I felt lame and sore and the kidney secretions were often scant. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and I accordingly procured a box. My kidneys were soon strengthened and the pains in my back disappeared. Recently when I had a return of pain, I again used Doan's Kidney Pills, and am glad to say that they promptly relieved me. I gladly tell of the great benefit I derived from this remedy." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MINING NEWS

BUTTE'S SMALLER COMPANIES.

Only a Few Out of More Than a Score Weathered the Financial Panic. Among more than a score of new mining companies that were organized in Butte several years ago, less than half a dozen passed through the financial panic unscathed.

FINDS FLOATING CORPSE.

Lightkeeper at Huron Island Takes from Lake Body of Drowned Man. Lightkeeper Frank Wittie of the Huron Island light found the body of a man floating near the island Sunday evening. It is believed that it was the body of a member of the crew of the schooner George Nester, which was wrecked off the island May 1.

AMAZON-BUTTE COPPER.

The Amazon-Butte Copper company is another that will likely be able to resume work as soon as money is available for copper prospecting. The company's stock is closely held, and the stockholders believe they have a property which will some day become a great copper mine.

BUTTE-MILWAUKEE COPPER.

There are a half a dozen of the more promising of the other young companies, whose stock is widely distributed in Butte and elsewhere, that expect to resume operations before long. Among these are the Butte-Milwaukee Copper company, controlled by an eastern company, called the Butte-New York Copper company.

IDA-MONTANA.

The Michigan interests in the Ida-Montana company have been also making preparations for a resumption of work and expect to raise capital soon. This company owns three claims which are developed to a depth of 480 feet by a three-compartment shaft.

REINS COPPER.

The Reins Copper company, owner of the Combination mine and two fractional shares in the great kidney and Swamp-Root, is the only one of the old-time copper companies that has not been affected by the financial panic.

company, whose stock is being traded in on the New York curb. The Butte & Milwaukee owns the Pollock and Colonel Sellers group of claims north of the North Butte mines.

BUTTE CENTRAL COPPER.

The Butte Central & Boston Copper corporation has been reorganized as the Butte Central Copper company, and is backed by a number of eminent financial men of London, Montreal, Boston and New York.

It is now 500 feet deep and a short level has been opened at that depth, the vein there giving some good copper assays. Superintendent McConnell is confident that he can make a big copper run out of the Ophir, and the eastern stockholders, who are putting up the money, have satisfied themselves that the chance is a good one.

BUTTE & BACORN MINING.

It develops that there is good ground for hope that the Butte & Bacorn Mining company will be able to resume its development work before long, the management not being at all satisfied that the ground has been sufficiently explored to prove that copper does not exist in that section of the Butte district.

RAVEN MINING.

The Raven Mining company, while not among the recently organized companies, nevertheless comes in the list of those that suffered through the financial panic. It also suffered through other causes that are mentioned in Butte, in Boston and elsewhere.

BUTTE & LONDON DEVELOPMENT.

Similar conditions prevail as to the Butte & London Development Copper Mining company, organized and promoted by the same men who organized the Colusa-Leonard. The Butte & London owns 113 acres or ground some distance north of the Colusa-Leonard, and has one of the best surface plants among the new companies in Butte.

PILLOT-BUTTE COPPER MINING.

The Pilot-Butte Copper Mining company, owner of the Pilot claim in the North Butte section of the district, is in the hands of some Milwaukee German capitalists who have been unable to finance the company and failed even before the financial panic came upon the country.

ALLIANCE-FARRELL.

The Alliance-Copper company, and the Farrell Copper company own some mining ground in the southern part of the Butte district and have a joint shaft a few years ago. Both found good copper-bearing veins but ran short of funds and had to stop work.

AMAZON-BUTTE COPPER.

The Amazon-Butte Copper company is another that will likely be able to resume work as soon as money is available for copper prospecting. The company's stock is closely held, and the stockholders believe they have a property which will some day become a great copper mine.

involved financially and a great many claims were filed and attachments levied. These, it is understood, have been gradually cleared up and when the Pittsburgers get on top again, work undoubtedly will be resumed on the Reins, as it is now conceded that the company can easily be placed on a paying basis.

Another promising company in the same section of the district, the Colusa-Leonard Extension Mining company, owns forty-seven acres of land in parallelism, and is situated that it seems probable that it carries the extension of several of the rich vein veins. The company sunk a shaft 800 feet deep of three compartments, and cut several small splinters of ore assaying high in copper and silver.

The North Butte Extension Development company, the reorganization of the North Butte Extension Copper Mining company, will resume work on its property situated east of the Berlin group of the North Butte just as soon as it can raise the necessary money, and it seems to be having a difficult time of it.

There will be no assessment on Ophir stock until February of next year, according to information which comes from a source close to the management. The treasury of the company has ample funds with which to carry forward the work at the present rate of expenditure.

CHARGES AGAINST PATENT MEDICINES. Most of the charges against patent medicines as a class have no foundation in fact and are manifestly unfair and unjust. There are a large number of standard remedies like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound used in thousands of American homes which have saved hundreds of dollars to families who could not afford to consult a physician, and they have answered the purpose equally as well.

Marble is entirely out of date. Granite soon gets moss-grown, discolored, requires constant expense and care, and eventually crumbles back to Mother Earth. Besides, it is very expensive. WHITE BRONZE is strictly everlasting. It cannot erumble with the action of frost. Moss growth is an impossibility. It is more artistic than any stone. The why not investigate it? It has been accepted for over one hundred public monuments, and by thousands of delighted customers in all parts of the country. It has been on the market over 25 years and is an established success. Many granite dealers have bought White Bronze for their own burial plots. I have hundreds of beautiful designs of all grades of work, and want to have you see them if you are interested in a monument, headstone, marker or grave cover. On receipt of a postal card will be pleased to call with designs and samples of White Bronze.

Homestead Contest—The land contest hearing of Henry Norman against Fred Zahl, involving the latter's right to 146 acres on Isle Royale, was up for hearing at the Marquette land office yesterday, and will be continued today. The complainant maintains that Mr. Zahl has forfeited his right to the homestead by failure to comply with the homestead laws.

Treat for Music Lovers—The final recital of the season, under the auspices of the Saturday Musical club, was given at the residence of H. N. Ormsbee, corner Hewitt and Spruce streets, last evening, in the presence of forty or fifty guests. The various numbers were delightfully well rendered and reflected great credit on the ability of the performers and the good work done by the club during the winter months.

He promises the best list of attractions over this circuit next season in the history of the circuit. There will be more and bigger and better shows than ever before. The producers of shows are feeling very optimistic over the business outlook and are putting money into them with greater freedom than for the past couple of years.

JUNE SESSION OF U. S. COURT OPENED

TIMBER TRESPASS CASE NOW UNDER CONSIDERATION BEFORE TRAVERSE JURY—SPEAR CASE TODAY.

The June term of United States court opened yesterday forenoon with Judge Loyal E. Knapp on the bench. There was some delay in getting the wheels of justice in motion and it was not until afternoon that the trial of a case was started.

The grand jury got to work promptly and held a secret session throughout the day. None of the deliberations or findings can be made public until their work is completed, which, judging from the past terms, may be two days yet. Private John Gibson, who is accused of the murder of another soldier, John McManis, at Fort Brady last winter, was taken before the jury during the afternoon, and it is altogether probable that an indictment will be returned against him.

The case on trial in the court room yesterday was that of the United States against David Lameer, who is charged with willful trespass on government land. The land involved is eighty acres on Drummond island, near the Soo. The government charges that Lameer induced a Mr. Pardee to make entry on this land with no intention to reside thereon, but simply to cut the timber therefrom, which, it is alleged, was to be sold to Lameer. Pardee was to be paid and cut timber valued at about $30, and then cancelled the entry, when Lameer did not take the timber. Pardee declares that the entry was made in good faith. Lameer denies any collusion with Pardee in making this entry, and states that he refused to buy the timber because he feared that trouble with the government might result.

The testimony in the case was received yesterday, and U. S. Attorney Covell made his statement of the government's case to the jury. The attorney for Mr. Lameer will argue to the jury this morning and it is probable that the case will be decided before noon.

Mr. Covell stated last evening that he expected to take up the case against John W. Spear, following the Lameer case. Mr. Spear is accused of using the United States mails in a scheme to defraud.

"THE BALL GAME"

Interesting Picture on Exhibition at Archambeau's Store.

The picture, entitled "The Ball Game," now on exhibition at Archambeau's clothing store, is a characteristic illustration of America's greatest sport, and will interest every lover of the game. It shows in a clever way many characters whom anyone will recognize; the small boy whose love of the game leads him to climb the fence; the thirty-third degree "fans," who occupy honorary positions on the broken chair and the soap box in the field; the noisy fellows in the grandstand. They are all there—the "Well-well" man; the "Hit 'er out" man; the "Kill the umpire" man. You will see someone you know in the picture.

In the pose of the batsman and the tense attitude of the catcher, the picture reveals that the game is at a critical stage; the score is presumably a tie; two out, a man on third, and with two strikes and three balls on the batsman. The batsman, all set to swing at the ball, might be the double of the immortal "Casey."

The picture was drawn for Hart Schaffner & Marx, and is one of the best things that Samuel Nelson Abbott, a New York artist, has done.

MICHIGAMME WILL CELEBRATE.

Michigamme is to have an old-time Fourth of July celebration which, it is declared, will eclipse all other previous efforts of that village in that direction. Over $400 has already been raised for the purpose, and a gorgeous and varied program is now in preparation. Among the attractions will be a baseball game, drilling contests, wrestling matches, a fine parade and other miscellaneous sports. A firemen's dance will be given in the evening, and a magnificent display of fireworks is promised.

GRAND LODGES FOR SCANDINAVIAN SOCIETY

FANS TOO GAY.

Baseball Enthusiast Offers Suggestions to Ishpeming and Negaunee Men.

"I would like to suggest to the managements of the Ishpeming and Negaunee baseball teams that they try their best to curb rowdiness at the games, also to eliminate other objectionable features," said a fan yesterday. "At the game with Negaunee on Decoration Day, also last Sunday's contest with Marquette, Negaunee fans threw whole and parts of lemons at the Ishpeming twirler at critical times. I have heard the Ishpeming fans declare that they will go to the park a week from next Sunday prepared to throw eggs, turps, or anything else they can lay their hands on, at the Negaunee twirler. As one who believes in clean sport, I want to enter a protest right here. The fans are giving the teams loyal support and it is such work as this is permitted to go any farther, I know a whole lot of men who would quit going to the games entirely. Fans who cannot confine themselves to decency should be refused admission at the games. It is all right to root for a player, or a team, but personalities and the throwing of lemons, etc., should be eliminated.

"I have heard language used at the grounds that was unfit for any one to listen to. Personally, I would like to take my wife to all of the games, but I would not care to have her listen to some of the talk that was indulged in by fellows on the bleachers and side lines during the last two or three games. I have no objection to the Negaunee rosters yelling for the Marquette or Munising teams when they play against Ishpeming, or vice versa, but I do believe that the managements, together with the officers, should take a hand in suppressing rowdiness. I realize that there is a very bitter feeling between the fans of the two cities and if the throwing of lemons, etc., at the pitchers is permitted they will soon begin to use stones, or perhaps engage in fist encounters."

CONVENTIONS WILL BE HELD IN EACH SEPARATE JURISDICTION PRIOR TO THE NEXT SUPREME LODGE MEETING IN MINNEAPOLIS IN JUNE, 1911.

Fred J. Egan and Christ Presthus, of this city, who attended the supreme lodge session of the Scandinavian Society in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Washington, Oregon and British Columbia. The president of the supreme lodge will appoint a president and secretary for each grand lodge prior to their first convention, the dates for which will be determined by the supreme board of trustees. They will probably be held a few weeks prior to the next supreme lodge convention to be held on the first Tuesday in June, 1911, at Minneapolis. At the first sessions of the grand lodges, a complete list of officers similar to those governing the supreme body will be elected.

At the future supreme lodge conventions the grand lodges will be entitled to representation on a basis of one delegate to each 200 members in its jurisdiction. There are now about 6,000 members in the sixty-two lodges affiliated with the supreme body. On this basis there will be in the neighborhood of thirty delegates attending the supreme lodge.

The meeting at Rhinelander was attended by in the neighborhood of forty delegates, representing nearly as many lodges. Some of the far western lodges were not represented.

Ishpeming has the honor of having the oldest lodge in the United States, the local organization having been perfected nearly thirty-five years ago. The membership is larger in Michigan and Minnesota than in any of the other states, but it is a question which of the two states is in the lead. Minnesota has added a number of new lodges in the past two or three years, with a substantial increase in membership in many of the old lodges, so that if the rate of increase continues in that state during the next two years as it has in the past two, Minnesota will have the banner jurisdiction.

The supreme lodge officers elected for the ensuing three years are as follows: President—Oscar W. Samuelson, Cloquet, Minn. Vice President—A. C. Danielson, Rhinelander, Wis. Secretary—Andrew F. Olson, Wakefield, Mich. Treasurer—Adolph W. Peterson, Ironwood, Mich. Marshal—Andrew Stendahl, Grand Forks, British Columbia. Chaplain—M. C. Anderson, Escanaba, Mich. Inside Guard—Frank Dahlberg, Virginia, Minn. Outside Guard—Louis J. Levin, Duluth. The above, together with Adolph Nelson, constitute the board of trustees.

JUNE WEDDINGS.

On Monday evening John Tremblay of Republic and Miss Beatrice Tonkin of this city were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tonkin, 411 North Second street. Rev. C. L. Adams, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, performed the ceremony. On Saturday evening Rev. Adams united in marriage Harold Williams and Miss Anna Nelson at the bride's home on North Second street. On the evening of the 2nd William J. Schott, p. and Miss Alice Medlyn were married by Rev. Adams at the home of the bride's father, Isaac Medlyn, 347 South First street. Mr. Betts is in the employ of the Western Express company.

CIRCULATION STILL GROWING.

Judging from the continuous increase in the circulation of books for home reading at the Carnegie Public Library, another new high mark will be established this year. The circulation in May was 5,194, compared with 4,444 in May, 1908, a gain of 750. The increase already this month, over a corresponding number of days in June last year, is 300, with indications that the total increase on the month will be at least 1,000. Last June was the smallest month of 1908, the total number of books circulated being 3,690.

SPECIAL MEETING TODAY.

Ishpeming lodge, No. 214, F. & A. M., will hold special communications this afternoon at 2 and this evening at 7:30 at the home of the lodge on First street, to which a class of five will be received. At 6 o'clock supper will be served in the dining room of the hall.

YOUNG GETS BERTH.

Ishpeming Congressman to Be Member of Rivers and Harbors Committee.

It is reported from Washington that the centest for the six vacancies on the rivers and harbors committee is taking a wider scope than mere personal preferences. This is brought about by the assurance that there will be a $15,000,000 bill introduced at the next session of congress and a prospect for an annual appropriation of about that sum.

Although Speaker Cannon has given no intimation as to the names of those he will appoint to the vacancies, the members representing the interests of the Great Lakes are making a strong fight to have additional representation in the person of Representative Cassidy, of Cleveland, to succeed Senator Burton, formerly chairman of the committee. In addition to Representative Cassidy the Great Lakes will have two other representatives on the committee, these being Messrs. Young, of Ishpeming, and Davidson, of Wisconsin. It is reported that Speaker Cannon will most likely select Representative Alexander, of Buffalo, as chairman of the committee.

Ever since Mr. Young has been in congress he has taken an active interest in the affairs of this committee and has done a great deal toward securing improvements for a number of the harbors of the Great Lakes.

BIG SHOW AT POPULAR PRICES.

The Blackville Strollers, a two-act musical comedy, in which the "Black Patti Troubadors" are making their annual appearance this season, is said to be a clever musical comedy. Besides the original "Black Patti" (Sissieretta Jones) there are Billy Young, Will Cooke, Sarah Venable, Jeanette Murphy, Sarah Green, Anthony Byrd and a chorus of strong colored singers. The company will be at Ishpeming theater Tuesday night, the 15th, playing at popular prices, twenty-five, fifty and seventy-five cents.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors for their sympathy and aid during our bereavement. So numerous were those who came to our assistance that it would be impossible to thank all personally, much as we would like to do, but we desire to assure them that we most sincerely appreciate their kindness. We feel under particular obligations to neighbors who rendered aid, to our home, also to friends for floral offerings.

BUSINESS MEN LOSE.

Bankers & Brokers of the Two Cities Won Monday's Game.

The members of the Ishpeming Business Men's and Bankers & Brokers' clubs were active, but showed no great change in price. Cumberland City was fractionally lower, Chief Consolidated and Cactus unchanged. Davis Daly 1/2 higher, on the report that they struck the lead rich this morning on the 1,400-foot level. From Arizona, gained 1/2 point on the report that ore has been encountered on the 1,250-foot level. It is native copper in lime. The market for the metal is firm and unchanged. A comparison of the market for copper shares and that for rails and industrials would lead us to believe that profits realized in the latter two classes are being reinvested, at least to some extent, in copper shares. This of course is a natural consequence. While it is true that coppers have enjoyed something of an advance in certain quarters, it is nevertheless a fact that the average level of prices has not followed the late advance in the price of the metal. Every thing points to unbounded prosperity in the iron and steel trade, and copper will be a close second. The weakness in New York in the last hour, due to profit-taking, was reflected to some degree in coppers, but we continue to advise purchases on the weak spots."

The Cole-Ryan stocks were the leaders and the feature of the Boston board today. North Butte rose a fraction better than five points, touching 61 1/2. Very little stock was met between 55 1/2 and 60, but some little selling above the latter price caused a recession of about two points. Calumet & Arizona was up five points, Butte Coalition 3/4 and Superior & Pittsburg 1/2, while Greene Cananea and Gironx ruled about unchanged. Copper Range advanced 1/2. Old Dominion 2, Osceola 3, and Utah Consolidated one point. Trading on the curb was active, but showed no great change in price. #### Fell 100 Feet to Death—

John Cossatta, a miner employed at the Yale mine, near Bessemer, was killed some days since by falling from a raise to the level below, a distance of nearly a hundred feet. His body was badly mangled. Cossatta was a single man.

Saloon Keeper Arrested—

On complaint of Policeman John Peterson, Bat Gouyca, a Manistique saloon keeper, has been arrested, charged with having his barroom open at a time when the law says it should have been closed. The liquor dealer appeared before Judge Knox and waived examination and the case will go to the next term of circuit court. The story told by Gouyca is that a friend who had been in the place the Saturday night before had left a parcel there and wanted to get it, so he went in. The policeman was on deck, however, and the arrest followed. The lid was put on at Manistique a few weeks ago.

Killed by Falling Ore—

Anton Sieldecki, a Polish miner, is dead at Ironwood, the result of an accident at the East Norrie mine, where he had been employed for seventeen years. The accident occurred on the sixteenth level of D shaft. Sieldecki was working in clean ore on the foot wall, when a pit boss came along and, noticing a large piece of ore over the place where the man was standing, told him that he had better get it down, as it was dangerous. Sieldecki took a bar and pried the piece of ore down, but stood directly under it as he did so, and was struck in the head and instantly killed. He undoubtedly thought that the piece of ore was much smaller than it really was. He was forty years of age and leaves a wife and four children living at the Aurora location.

He Talked Too Much—

Charles Ferris, who gives Sumner, Mich., as his place of residence, is up against the prospect of paying a $75 fine or spending sixty days in jail, all because he didn't know enough to keep his mouth shut. Ferris was in a South Shore train and in conversation with a companion disclosed the fact that he had been training beavers. It happened that Deputy Game Warden Frost of Munising was sitting in the seat behind and overheard enough of the conversation to arouse his suspicions. A search of Ferris' baggage followed, disclosing one beaver skin and other evidence of infractions of the game laws. Frost placed his man under arrest, and took him to Newberry for a hearing. Judge Harris gave the prisoner the alternative of paying a $75 fine or spending sixty days in jail. The Munising News says: Ferris had been training beavers by the wholesale in the northeastern part of Alger county. In his possession were found four beaver tails, one beaver pelt, two skulls, and nine pairs of castors, showing that he had killed at least nine beavers. Ferris admitted having sold a number of beaver skins, but declining to say how many or to whom he had disposed of them.

Lost for Fifty-Three Years—

Recently Sam Kirvan, the Isaac Walton of the Soo, was digging for fish-worms on the old Gurnee home lot on Ridge street, opposite the Soo Wooden Mills, when he discovered a solid silver ring which had been the property of John Gurnee, who had resided on the property for sixty-three years next previous to his death, says the Soo Times. Mr. Gurnee was born in the Soo ninety-three years ago, and for many years was the faithful and trusted friend and interpreter for the United States officials in their dealings with the Chippewa Indians. The ring had been presented to Mr. Gurnee in his young days by an Indian agent of the government, as a token of esteem by that officer. The ring was lost at the time of the "great wind" which visited the Soo April 18, 1855, and destroyed nearly all the structures and most of the trees in what is now the city of Sault Ste. Marie. Mr. Gurnee's cabin was entirely swept away, except one or two logs in the wall. It was rebuilt that year and still stands a dilapidated landmark to the memory of the faithful old Indian owner. The ring when found was promptly turned over by Mr. Kirvan to Mrs. Belle Johnson, the daughter of the one who had greatly prized himself on its possession at one time and, later, bitterly mourned its loss. It will remain in the family as a choice souvenir and keepsake.

DIVIDE WARSHIP WORK.

American Shipbuilders Have "Gentlemen's Agreement."

Bids Arranged So That Each Firm Shall Build One Vessel—Navy Department Offers No Objection to the Plan—Proposals to Be Asked for Two $10,000,000 Battleships—They Can Be Built a Little Cheaper in This Country Than in England or Germany.

Washington, June 8.—For some weeks official Washington has been hearing rumors of a movement to consolidate the shipbuilding interests of the Atlantic coast into a single trust. A high official is authority for the statement that a tentative plan for such a consolidation has been drawn up and has been given consideration by four of the five shipbuilding companies on this coast. That these concerns are operating under what might be termed a "gentlemen's agreement" is well known to the Navy Department. There is convincing evidence of this fact. Last year when the department advertised for bids for the construction of ten torpedobats the five firms on the Atlantic coast divided the work between them. Each company submitted bids for two vessels and no more. The department accepted the bids and the work was awarded practically without competition. Last Saturday the department opened bids for the construction of five additional torpedobats. The same combination of five firms bid each for one vessel. There is no doubt that the department will award the contracts just as the bids were made. The significance of this coincidence was not lost upon the

DEPARTMENT.

It was deemed impossible that five firms could twice so divide their bids as to secure for each the same amount of work. Without going further into the matter, the department officials took it for granted that the various companies consulted with each other before making their bids and agreed to divide the work. The Five Firms. The five firms which are in the supposed gentlemen's agreement are the Newport News Shipbuilding company, the Bath Iron Works, the New York Shipbuilding company of Camden, the Fore River company and the Cramps. Last year each of these firms submitted a bid for two torpedo boat destroyers. The bids ranged from $610,000 to $855,000 for each vessel. The bids of the same companies for the destroyers last week showed less difference ranging from $629,000 to $859,000. The Maryland Steel company of Baltimore apparently is not working with this combination. It was the only concern to submit a bid last Saturday for more than one boat. It put in a bid for one destroyer at $890,400, and for two at $890,000 each. In some quarters it is believed that this was also prearranged so that some semblance of competition might be given. The fact that the Maryland concern is building three colliers and has almost a monopoly on this kind of naval business is taken to mean that it is not to interfere with contracts for other types of warship. The Cramps are the only other contractors on this coast who are building colliers. In view of the fact that the shipbuilders are suffering because of the scarcity of work, the self-restraint shown in asking for only one vessel each is taken as conclusive proof of a working agreement among them. The builders have complained bitterly in recent years that they were making no

NO OPPOSITION TO AGREEMENT.

The Navy department will not attempt to cause trouble because of the evidence of an agreement between the builders. The government got reasonable prices for the destroyers last year and this year. This is the chief concern of the authorities and until there is a disposition to raise prices and squeeze the government no attempt will be made to force competition. "It is perhaps desirable," said an official of the Navy department, "that the yards should divide what little government work there is in order to keep all their plants going. So long as there is no attempt to take advantage of the government no fault can be found with the scheme of distributing work in order to keep the private yards busy. Congress appropriated $800,000 for each of the five destroyers. The average price for these vessels will be about $650,000. This is well within the limit of the appropriation and shows that the government is being treated fairly. So long as this condition continues I don't believe the government will attempt to break up the combination." In a few days the department will ask for bids for $10,000,000 battleships. It will be determined whether or not the combination is to extend to big contracts of this sort. Only four yards on this coast are capable of building battleships. They are the Newport News company, the New York Shipbuilding company, the Fore River company and Cramps. One Yard Could Handle All. Another official of the department, who has heard rumors of the proposed consolidation made this comment today: "Any one of the four big shipbuilding yards on the Atlantic coast could handle every bit of the present available work. I believe that some of them are operated at an annual cost of $10,000,000. The contracts that were taken without expectation of making a dollar. The companies merely wanted to keep their force intact and their machinery from rusting. To a greater or less extent this is the situation at all of the yards. Of course it cannot be known at this time which of the yards is best equipped. It has been the hope of the passage of the ship subsidy bill. This legislation, if ever enacted, will stimulate shipbuilding and provide plenty of work for the private plants. Some of the men who have their money invested in this business are growing worried over the long delay in passing a subsidy bill. The repeated defeats of this measure in congress have led them to believe that it will never get through. These men are responsible for the talk of the formation of a shipbuilding trust. They believe that by pooling their interests they can cut down their operating expenses and conduct the business on a better basis. I am informed that a tentative plan for such a consolidation has been drawn and submitted to the various men concerned." Warships Cheaper Than Abroad. An official of the Navy department is authority for the statement that a battleship can be completed in this country at a cost a little less than that of a British or German battleship. Merchant ships can be constructed so much cheaper abroad than here that nobody builds them in this country, and consequently there is apparently no American merchant marine. The difference in the cost of warship construction is due to the low rates obtained by our government for armor. The armor plate for the Arkansas and Wyoming, the two 26,000-ton vessels just contracted for, will cost the government about $400 a ton. There will be nearly 5,000 tons of this material used. For practically the same amount the British government is charged $600 a ton. An international treaty regulates the cost of armor plate. About ten years ago congress became aroused by the exorbitant prices for armor exacted by the manufacturers here, had an investigation, established a limit of $300 a ton and threatened to build a government armor factory. This gave the trust such a fright that there has been no attempt since then to gouge the government. The limit of $300 a ton was afterward removed because of the adoption of a more expensive process of hardening steel. The price has gradually been raised to $400 a ton, although England is just now paying $600 for practically the same material. The steel for the hull and other portions of a battleship cost considerably more here than in Europe, but the saving figured on armor is sufficient to make the total cost less than that of European battleships. Speaking of love, a man should look before he leaps—otherwise he may fall in. TO DETROIT AND RETURN, $7.00 Via the South Shore in connection with steamers of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co., leaving Marquette June 9, 12, 17, 19; Toledo, $7.50; Cleveland, $8.50; Buffalo, $9.00. ### TO INCREASE VALUE OF LOW LYING LANDS

DEMONSTRATION BEING CONDUCTED BY THE UPPER PENINSULA LAND COMPANY MAY RESULT IN MAKING SENEY AN IMPORTANT GRAZING DISTRICT.

The Upper Peninsula Land company, of which F. J. Merriam, 935 First National Bank building, Chicago, is general manager, is conducting a demonstration at Seney that will doubtless result in much benefit for that particular district, as well as for other districts in the state where there are lands of similar character. The company, which has control of nearly 1,000,000 acres in the upper peninsula, is working on a tract of low lands. The surface is being drained with a view to making the tract desirable for grazing and raising hay. There are a number of influential Chicago men interested, and in time there will probably be a good-sized stock farm where the experiments are being made. It is also expected that within a few years a considerable tonnage of hay will be obtained annually, as there is an unusually large acreage suitable for that purpose. A Negaunee man, who is interested in the company, yesterday said that there are thousands of acres of land in Schoolcraft county that could be made desirable for farming and cattle raising if properly drained. The black muck in the low lands, where the work is being carried on, averages about six feet in depth. There are hundreds of acres along the shores of the Manistique river and there is practically not a stump in the district. The river traverses sixty miles between Manistique and Seney, and the distance between the two places by rail is less than thirty miles. The river is crooked and shallow in places and with proper drainage some rich lands could surely be reclaimed. Officials Should Busy Themselves. "If the people of Schoolcraft county, and Seney township in particular, fully appreciated the value of their lands they would make an effort to have them properly drained," said the Negaunee man. "The county and township officials should be foremost in the movement, and by working in the proper direction I believe they would soon secure state aid. The state of Wisconsin, also many of the Eastern states, are taking up the work and their lands are being reclaimed in many places. Particular attention is being paid to swamp lands, which are rapidly being converted into desirable grazing and hay raising territory. Michigan has never done anything of the kind, but it is a fact that the time is not far distant when the matter will be brought to the attention of the proper state officials. I am satisfied from what I know of Schoolcraft county that if people do not fully realize the possibilities of their lands, the drainage project will be carried out properly the expense of putting the lands in condition for grazing and hay raising would not be very great as compared with the benefits that would be derived within a few years. "The company will, in time increase operations, as the officials are now satisfied that work similar to that being conducted at Seney can be carried on with good results. "The Upper Peninsula Land company was organized eight years ago. The demonstration being conducted at Seney was started two years ago, but up to this time the work has attracted no particular attention. We have worked slowly, making sure that we were working in the right direction, and are well satisfied with the results thus far obtained. It will surprise me if the Chicago people interested do not develop a big grazing farm at Seney, as there are very few places that I know of as convenient to Chicago where hay can be produced and cattle raised to equal advantage. "The Upper Peninsula Land company is selling its land outright, and it has been doing a fairly large business during the past few years. When it is proved beyond a doubt that the low lands can be used to advantage for hay raising and cattle grazing, or other purposes, I am satisfied that lands that are now not looked upon with favor will sell readily. There are many tracts of low and favorably located, in this section, where excellent farms can be made if the improvement work is conducted along proper lines." BIJOU CHANGES HANDS. Soo Man Buys Out Negaunee Vaudeville and Moving Picture House. Charles B. Clifford, who formerly managed Driveland theater at Sault Ste. Marie, has bought out the Bijou in this city, which has been conducted for several months past by C. A. Crinan, proprietor of the Bijou at Ishpeming. Mr. Clifford has arrived in the city and has already taken possession of the house. He said yesterday that he will offer high-class vaudeville and moving pictures and that he will seek the patronage of ladies and children. He said that he had not yet completed his arrangements, but that he expects to have everything in readiness for an opening before the end of the week. The Bijou has been doing a very satisfactory business under Mr. Crinan's management and Mr. Clifford expects to make it a paying proposition. He has had many years experience in the theatrical business. His theater will be on the same circuit as the Soo houses, and all of the good attractions appearing there will be secured for the house. The eighth grade exercises, held last evening in the auditorium of the new high school building, were largely attended and the operetta, "The Whole Year 'Round," was greatly enjoyed. The young people acquitted themselves admirably. The seniors of the school will give their class play tonight in the auditorium. It is a parody on Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice." This will be the first attempt by Negaunee students to produce a class play. The entertainment is to be given under supervision of the high school faculty, and the boys and girls have had excellent training. An admission of twenty-five cents will be charged and the proceeds will be used to purchase pictures or works of art for the new auditorium. The cast of characters will be as follows: The Duke of Venice... Alex. Fredericksen Antonio, a Senior... captain of high school football team. ### WASHINGTON CHAT.

Congress Likely to Vote Taft's Expenses for Western Trip.

Washington, June 8.—A big surprise will be handed out to a whole lot of people if congress fails at this session to make ample provision for travelling expenses for the president this summer. President Taft will be keenly disappointed himself, but the shock will be more deeply experienced by "the people." Incidentally, congress doubtless will receive a toll if it refuses the appropriation, and the chances are that a good sum will be voted, though no other business except the tariff be transacted. Hundreds of invitations have been pouring in upon the White House. They have been coming from all parts of the nation. Boards of trade, chambers of commerce, patriotic societies, cities, counties and states—all are anxious to be hosts. Perhaps there is not a congressional district in the land which hasn't some sort of interest in a visit from the president, hoped for, longed for and to be insisted upon. Hence no congressman, Republican or Democrat, would care to antagonize sentiment among his constituents by voting against a generous travelling expense account for the president. All the invitations accepted by the president have been conditional upon congress appropriating a fund for travelling expenses. Should the president go to the Northwest and make a journey to Alaska, the trip could not possibly be made in less than two months. A swing around the Southwest, into Colorado, which he is urged to make, would take two weeks more. A visit to New Orleans, which the president would like to make, would take another week at least. So if the president accepts even a part of the many invitations he has received to visit various parts of the country this summer, the chances are that he will spend but a very short time on the North Shore of Massachusetts. That the president does not propose to remain cooped up during the hot days in his summer home at Beverly may be taken for granted. Recently he has been inquiring of Massachusetts congressmen and others familiar with local conditions as to the condition of the roads in that state. He has been assured that the roads are in first rate shape and that he will be able to enjoy numerous beautiful automobile trips. The White House cars will be taken north for the summer, and in those rather than by train, will the president make those trips about the state necessary for the fulfillment of the social engagements he has contracted. Too Much for Calculating Machine. Apprais the Aldrich-Meyer bet as to the time of adjournment, Clerk Shelton of the committee on finance is not without curiosity. The day before the bet was made, Mr. Shelton went to Harcourt L. Stevenson, the wizard who works the "Millionaire," and told him he had work for him. Let the reader be warned, it should be stated that the "Millionaire" is the wonderful German calculating machine that has computed all the duties and percentages which appear in the voluminous estimates of the finance committee. Mr. Stevenson was borrowed from the Interstate Commerce commission because of his skill with this marvelous contrivance; and he has done work in two days, which, without it, would take the time of fifteen or twenty clerks for two weeks. "Go on," said Stevenson, seating himself at the machine, "call them off." Shelton picked up a sheet of figures and started in "Figure out when congress will adjourn," he said. A very burst from Stevenson, who got top and ran; while the machine, the other clerk says, struck eight bells without a finger being near it, and began to buzz like an alarm clock. All of which goes to show that the man who bets on the adjournment of congress is taking chances. Captain Riley and the Press. Captain Riley, the veteran charge-d'affaires of the private elevator which the senators and newspaper men reach the senate office building, is a warm friend of the correspondents. They all like him, and the captain never misses a chance to do them a favor. While the captain's elevator is "private," many outsiders travel in it in the course of the day, for it is impossible for the elevator man to know everybody. Two newspaper men were in the car the other morning, hurrying to the gallery, when a big man, accompanied by a little brown man and a little brown woman, got in. Apparently the big man wanted to go down, but the captain turned the crank and the car shot heavenward. "Why do you go up?" asked the big man pleasantly, but in some surprise. "I have a couple of representatives of the American press aboard," replied Captain Riley proudly. The big man laughed. He was Representative John W. Weeks of Massachusetts and the dark little people were Baron Uru, vice admiral of the Japanese navy, and Baroness Uru.

FORESTERS' MEETING A ROUSING SUCCESS

STATE CONVENTION NOW IN SESSION UNDER MOST AUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

FINE BANQUET LAST NIGHT

Excellent Menu Furnished by Lady Foresters and Eloquent Speeches Rounded Out Happy Occasion.

The eighth session, Michigan state court, Catholic Order of Foresters, opened at Baraga auditorium yesterday morning with a full quota of delegates in attendance. Yesterday's meetings proved both entertaining and instructive and the visitors are enthusiastic in their praise of the city of Marquette and the treatment they are receiving at the hands of its citizens, and especially of the royal welcome they have received from the members of Bishop Vertin court and the auxiliary ladies' societies.

The convention opened at 8:30 with mass at St. Peter's cathedral, read by Rev. Father Pinter. At 9:30 the convention was formally opened by Chief Ranger Daniel C. Grobbell in the usual form. The committee on credentials reported all delegates present and recommended that they be seated, which recommendation was adopted.

The following delegates were seated in the convention:

Jacob Hetz, Muskegon; Charles McKenzie, A. J. Slovey, F. J. Murphy, J. J. Dunn, Joseph Bretz, J. J. Donovan, L. Lauer, John Koss, J. P. Frantz, Peter

tionally interesting one, all of the speakers displaying much thought and eloquence in their manner of delivery. Thomas J. Flynn, of Negaunee, acted as toastmaster and introduced each one of the speakers in a happy manner.

In the absence of Rt. Rev. Bishop Eis, Rev. Father Pinter responded to the toast "Catholic Societies." He spoke of the presence of the general and the laity as the soldiers of a great army. As an army was useless without efficient soldiers, so the church was useless without a well-organized laity. The unity obtained through Catholic societies was valuable in establishing a Catholic opinion and in maintaining a Catholic press, he declared. He spoke in favor of the movement to confederate all the Catholic societies, in which the Foresters have taken an active part. As a special field of endeavor for Catholic societies, he suggested the needed reformation of the public school system. Lack of organization among the laity, he said, was the cause of the present condition of Catholicism in France.

Daniel C. Grobbell spoke on "The Church." He declared that the Catholic church was the most venerable and powerful institution among men, that it had been the inflexible guide of humanity for centuries and that our present high civilization should be ascribed to its efforts. That the church would endure as long as the earth should endure was his prophecy.

T. W. Guoin had for his subject "The State Court," and spoke briefly on the satisfactory progress that had been made in this state, stating that the membership had steadily increased since its organization, and that in the last two years the increase had been over 600 members.

Dr. P. Scheller, of Hancock, delivered the eloquent invocation "The First Forester." He said that Thomas Taylor, who twenty-six years ago organized the first court of the C. O. F. in Chicago, was usually considered the first Forester, but that in reality the original Forester was to be found farther back through the vista of years, naming the Massachusetts organization of 1873, St. Convent, the patron saint of the order, and ended by saying that Adam was the first Forester. The latter part of his talk was devoted to an eloquent eulogy of Fathers Marquette and Baraga, the former of whom was the first missionary to traverse these untrodden wilds, and the latter the first bishop of this diocese. "From the character of these two men let us learn the cardinal principles of our order," he said in closing.

Wm. A. Burns had for his subject "Our Order," and briefly outlined what had been accomplished as a fraternal organization. He said that during its history $10,500,000 had been paid out to beneficiaries of deceased members, and that its organization now numbered 137,000 members. At the twenty-fifth anniversary of the order, held in Chicago a year ago last month, those present had pledged themselves to increase the membership to 500,000 before the fiftieth anniversary, and he asked that the Foresters of Michigan do their part toward fulfilling that pledge.

Father Moriarty spoke briefly on the benefits to be derived from Catholic societies and their relation to the church. The closing toast was given by J. J. Fern, who is about to move to Chicago after years of faithful service as an officer of the Michigan state court. He spoke especially of the importance of the subordinate courts and recommended one for every parish, wherever possible. He spoke of his pleasant relations with the Michigan organization and his regret at leaving his native home for Chicago.

Between the speeches, songs were rendered by the girls' choir, which were highly appreciated and received enthusiastic applause.

The program today provides for a business session this forenoon, during which officers for the coming year will be elected, and the place of holding the next convention will be decided upon.

Escaaba and Menominee are said to be the leaders in the fight for next year's meeting. In the afternoon, the closing business session will be held, following which the delegates will be taken about town in automobiles and then will have an opportunity to go through the branch prison.

Convention Notes.

Just before adjournment yesterday a telegram was received from High Chief Ranger Thos. H. Canon, expressing to the Michigan Foresters the best wishes for success throughout their deliberations.

Brother Dan Grobbell, state chief ranger, and Brother William Burns, state secretary, seem to be in line for reelection. These two have proved themselves efficient and painstaking officers, and the delegates have the utmost confidence in them, and that the interests of the order are in the best of hands.

Brother Guoin of Detroit, the genial trustee of the state court, is very much in evidence at the convention. Brother Guoin is still in the unmarried class, but the members need not be surprised if after Monday night's reception given by the Lady Foresters, he goes away with one of Marquette's fairest maids.

The delegates are high in their praise for the grand reception which was given to the delegates to the convention Tuesday night. It was an unlooked for pleasure, and, although the delegates were very tired after their long trip, especially those from Detroit, they forgot all about that feeling and enjoyed themselves to their heart's content.

WILLIAM H. GREENE ENTERS INTO REST

VETERAN RAILROAD MAN SUCCEEDS AT ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

William H. Greene, an ex-mayor of this city and the oldest engineer in point of service on the South Shore road, passed from life at St. Mary's hospital shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday morning following an illness of long duration with bladder trouble. The end had been expected for several weeks, and that he held out as long as he did was a matter of comment among those most familiar with the case.

He has not been in good health since jumping from his engine in a tail-end collision between Ishpeming and Nesteria in 1897, although it is only within the last two months that he has been incapacitated from work. Last spring he went to the Mayo hospital at Rochester, Minn., for treatment, but was told that his case was hopeless. Two weeks ago an operation was performed by Dr. S. M. Jans at St. Mary's hospital, from which he rallied and it was hoped for a time that he might recover. However, the trouble was too deeply seated to be shaken off, and at last the strong constitution gave way.

Because of his long connection with city affairs in an official capacity and his position as traveling engineer on the South Shore, he formed an unusually wide acquaintance all over the upper peninsula, by all of whom his passing is sincerely mourned. He was a member of the light and power commission when it was first organized, later was elected chairman from the Second ward, and was mayor of the city from 1904 to 1905. At the time of his death, he was a member of the board of fire and water commissioners.

His career as a railroad man began in 1877 when he started as a fireman on the old M. H. & Q. road, which then ran from Marquette to L'Anse, and was later absorbed by the South Shore. Since that time he has been continuously in the employ of the road. He was given an engine in August, 1879, and on June 11, 1898, was appointed traveling engineer, his work being to travel over the line and inspect the engines and see that they were being properly cared for.

The deceased was born at St. Jerome, Canada, near Montreal, Dec. 25, 1848, and was sixty-one years of age at death. At the age of eighteen he came to the Lake Superior country, and has resided here ever since. In 1869 he married Miss Sarah Elmer, of Watertown, Wis., who with the nine children that have been born to them, survive him. They are Mrs. John Heron, of this city; Mrs. Thomas Duffy, of Hancock; Mrs. A. Swinton, of Muscatine, Ia.; Elmer W. Greene, of Mont Clova, Mexico; Albert, of Oklahoma; Mrs. Harry Kraft, of Warren, Ark.; Mrs. Thomas Piggott, of Frankfort, Ky.; and Mrs. E. E. H. With the exception of Albert, all were in the city when the end came, he having returned to his home in Oklahoma only a few days ago.

The funeral will be held from St. Peter's cathedral Friday morning at 9 a. m. with interment in Holy Cross cemetery. The deceased was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers, the Traveling Engineers association and the Knights of Columbus, having been a charter member of the local lodge of the Brotherhood and the Knights of Columbus.

Convention Committees.

The first business was the appointment of convention committees, as follows, who will report before the close of the session today:

Investigations—Devine, Kelly, Trapp, Sloan, Fitzgerald, Doherty, Koss.

By-Laws—Flynn, Cook, Bonrie, Van Lanen, Morrish, Donovan, Visnera.

Petitions—F. J. Murphy, Mongoski, Trepianer, Richards, Delomay.

Press—Bretz, Carpenter, state secretary.

Appeals—Finnigan, Coffey, Schlicker, Toupin, Franz, Goranowski, Devant.

Credentials—Sheller, Cook, Leuniger.

Good of Order—Hern, Prince, Pitlock, Nadeau, Holland, Kiefer, Bohl.

Finance—Connors, Leiniger, McKenzie, St. Jacques, Slovey.

The report of the state chief ranger was full of valuable suggestions, as to ways of improving the order, and was listened to with strict attention. A strong plea was made that all members attend the subordinate court meetings and that renewed efforts toward increased membership be made.

The report of the secretary showed that there were now forty-five courts in the state with a total of 3,723 members. During the last year three new courts were installed and 366 new members were admitted. The net gain in membership during the year was 108. The order paid $28,000 in death claims during the year.

The report of the state treasurer showed the finances of the state organization to be in good condition with a most rosate outlook for the future.

Another business session was held in the afternoon at which numerous matters of interest to the members of the state organization were discussed, but action on most of them was postponed until today, when the reports of the different committees are to be received. The utmost harmony exists among the delegates, all of whom are working for the best interests of the order and the church which they represent.

Following the afternoon session, the delegates enjoyed a trolley ride to Presque Isle, and walked around the island. All were delighted with its remarkable beauty and it was with regret that many of them departed from the enchanted spot, so near to Nature's heart.

But the most enjoyable feature of the day came in the evening, at the banquet served by the Lady Foresters of the city and the ladies of St. Peter's parish at Baraga auditorium. The tables, attractively decorated with flowers and ferns, were arranged in the form of a square, and laden with homemade delicacies, presented a beautiful and appetizing appearance. While the courses were being served, music was rendered by the pupils of the convent school, which was enthusiastically applauded.

The program of toasts were an excep-

In the afternoon, the closing business session will be held, following which the delegates will be taken about town in automobiles and then will have an opportunity to go through the branch prison.
