

ALDRICH DEFENDS THE SENATE BILL

That It Would Impose Additional Burdens Upon the Consumer Is a Charge the Finance Committee Chairman Denies.

Washington, July 11.—This week should witness a revival of the concern in the interest of the "ultimate consumer," for the tariff bill, now in the hands of the senate and house conferees, has reached the crucial stage, where the influence of the president in its final shaping may be watched with lively anticipation.

Five Republican senators and six Republican representatives have shouldered the responsibility of evolving from the house and senate tariff bills a law acceptable to both houses of congress and to the president and, above all, to the people generally.

Senator Aldrich reiterates that the senate bill would not impose additional burdens upon the consumer. "Isolated cases of increase of rates are taken and the entire bill condemned as a measure of these," said Mr. Aldrich today.

Prolonged Struggle Predicted. Few members of the conference committee are willing to place the time necessary for the completion of the bill in the conference committee at less than ten days, notwithstanding the large number of purely verbal amendments.

Senator Aldrich defended the senate bill, judged from the standpoint of the interest of the general public, as materially lower than those of the senate bill.

Corporation Tax May Be Halved. The corporation tax amendment has not been considered by the conferees in any way. Nevertheless it was predicted in congressional circles tonight that the proposed tax on the net earnings of corporations would be reduced in conference from two per cent to one.

Corrected figures show that 255,000,000 marks of the new levy under the finance bill will be collected from the consumers, the rest coming in the form of taxes on coupons, checks and trade transfers.

DAILY MINING JOURNAL

A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED.)

Representative Fordney of Saginaw will be another conference bulwark for the senate duty of twenty-five cents a ton on iron ore.

In the current issue of his Journal Editor Baldwin devotes considerable space to making a mystery out of Mr. Osborn's political plans.

Justice Montgomery's Lansing friends are organizing a Montgomery club that they expect to make a lively factor in the campaign next year.

The Escanaba Journal, in its enthusiasm for Mr. Musselman, makes short work of the other possible candidates for governor.

The General Motors company, which is making rapid progress with the absorption of the Michigan automobile companies, is a New Jersey corporation with a capitalization of $12,500,000.

The rival dailies at Escanaba are quarreling about the city printing. Four papers bid for it some weeks ago and quoted the city prices that did not permit a cent of profit to anyone.

The National Educational association, in session at Denver, took a stand against high school Greek letter fraternities, declaring them to be opposed to the spirit of democracy. The fraternities are coming into increasing disrepute among educators, and the movement to drive them out of the high schools is getting more and more momentum.

Negaunee is to be congratulated on being in a fair way of settling the long discussed question of a new cemetery site. For, in these many months this cemetery matter has cropped up in the council meetings, and has arisen in between to plague Mayor Winter and other city officials.

The first meeting of the public domain commission provided for by an act of the last legislature was held last week at Lansing, when the preliminaries to perfecting an organization and taking up the commission's work were disposed of.

It is a matter of interest to note that during the three years from 1904 to 1907 the United States increased its railroad mileage by 7.4 per cent, an average of more than 2.4 per cent per year, says the Iron Trade Review.

In the same connection The Iron Trade Review comments very interestingly on the amount of iron and steel involved in present railroad trackage and equipment. It says that roughly speaking there are about 45,000,000 tons of iron and steel in cars and locomotives, and perhaps 10,000,000 tons more in bridges, viaducts and buildings.

IMPURE ICE. In these days of stirring warfare against disease of all kinds, and the germs, microbes and other agencies that produce them and scatter them about, the attention of the public has been directed to the possibilities of these agencies lurking in almost everything that is in common and everyday use.

By consulting the telephone directory before making calls, this obviates the many errors due to calling numbers from memory in one's head, mind, and butler are cut. By speaking directly into the transmitter in a clear, distinct voice.

The note of warning in the above is worthy of serious attention by everyone. For of course practically everyone consumes foods and drinks that have been in more or less close contact with ice as a preserving or cooling agency.

WHY SHAKESPEARE FAILS TO DRAW. Judged by the requirements of to-day, Shakespeare's plays are as much an anachronism as would be Robert Fulton's steamboats. Marble is entirely out of date. Granite soon gets moss-grown, discolored, requires constant expense and care and eventually crumbles back to Mother Earth. Bronze is strictly everlasting. It cannot crumble with the action of frost. Moss growth is an impossibility. It is more artistic than any stone. Then why not invest in it? It has been adopted for over one hundred public monuments, and by thousands of delighted customers in all parts of the country. It has been on the market over 25 years and is an established success. Many granite dealers have bought White Bronze for their own burial plots. I have hundreds of beautiful designs of all grades of work, and want to have you see them if you are interested in a monument, headstone, marker or grave cover. Mrs. A. W. Sherwood and Miss Ruth Stevens, of Negaunee, are visiting at the home of Frank Moffatt, on Prospect street.

Ed. Ward, of Chicago, is in the city spending a relative's visit. Mr. Ward is an engineer in the employ of the Chicago City railway.

Mrs. D. W. McDougal, Mrs. H. F. Shier and Miss Mary Bourne of Munising have been spending a week at the home of E. S. Case, Spruce street.

E. H. Bush, charged with violating the liquor laws by having his place of business open after hours one night last week, waived examination before Justice Byrne Saturday, and was bound over to circuit court.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaBonte, Sr., were called to Munising yesterday morning on account of the sudden death of Mrs. LaBonte's sister, Mrs. Peter Murry. The remains of Mrs. Murry will be taken to Florence, Wis., for interment, and Mr. and Mrs. LaBonte will accompany the funeral party there.

Commercial Club Tonight—The Queen City Commercial club will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the city hall. As officers are to be elected a large attendance is requested. Secretary G. A. Carlson wishes to remind the members that dues are payable to him at any time.

News of the Box—At the South Shore docks, the Thompson cleared for Ashland yesterday, and the Bay is due to load today. The Lyeomine is unloading coal at Spear's dock, and the Pontiac and Sweetheart at Pickands' dock. The Ishping and Kensington cleared from the L. S. & I. dock Saturday.

Much Needed Rain—The copious rainfall yesterday afternoon and evening was hailed with gladness by nearly every one. The farmers, especially, are rejoicing as the ground had become very dry and threatened serious damage to this year's crops. It is thought that the rain will also lessen the number of grasshoppers, which are creating great havoc with the pastures, meadows and other green vegetation. Within the city the rain will be of great benefit to the lawns and parks, and the home gardens, as well.

Large Field of Corn—F. H. Vandenberg is the helmsman in the largest field of corn ever planted in the upper peninsula. He now has under cultivation forty acres of the "king of crops," the large plant having been made largely because of his success in ripening a fine crop last season. Mr. Vandenberg is enthusiastic over the possibilities of corn in the upper peninsula, although it has never been grown here to any great extent. He states that this year's plant has resisted the recent drought well, and expects a good crop, most of which will be used as silage.

Changes in Manning Schools—There will be a number of changes in the Manning schools next week. Miss Mary Bourne, who has served for four years in different capacities, beginning in the third grade work and finishing in high school, has resigned her position to accept one in the Presbyterian Collegio Americano at Mayaguez, Porto Rico.

Noted Salvationist Coming—Commissioner Thos. Estill, of Chicago, who is in charge of the entire operation of the Salvation Army in the western states, will visit Marquette on July 20. A welcoming meeting in his honor will be held at the Guild Hall, in which it is expected that the clergy and many prominent citizens of the city will participate. He will be accompanied by Colonel George French and Brigadiers Fynn and Cousins. Mr. Estill has been in Salvation Army work for upwards of thirty years, and prior to being transferred to America, was stationed in Japan. As he is a man of world-wide reputation, the meeting at the Guild Hall will likely be largely attended.

Birch Team Is Defeated—In a close contest free from errors and bad plays, Birch lost her first game this season to the second team of Marquette by a score of six to nine. At no stage of the game was Marquette in danger of losing, except in the ninth, when, with two singles and an error, Birch scored two runs. In Pete Gerard, Marquette is believed to have one of the best catchers among the second teams, his throwing to second being especially good yesterday.

The line-up of the Marquette team was as follows: Gerard, catcher; Ormishoe, third base; Beaudin, short stop; Howard, first base; Smith, pitcher; Pelky, left field; Trombley, center field; Bastien, second base; Blake, right field. Next Sunday the second team will go to Negaunee.

Revenue Cutter Here—The United States revenue cutter Tuscola visited the harbor Saturday and cleared early yesterday morning. The mission of the vessel on the great lakes is to inspect the motor boats owned at the various ports, in order to make sure that the federal regulations regarding lights, equipment, etc., are being obeyed. This is the first year that a government revenue cutter has been similarly employed but it is probable that she will make at least one other visit to Marquette this season. The officers of the vessel conducted their investigations in a manner known to themselves, and have as yet made no report of their findings to the local revenue office. It is generally believed that the boat owners of this city have more generally complied with the law than is the case in many other ports.

Fans Dissatisfied—Although yesterday's game at Negaunee was generally considered a close and exciting one, with plenty of sensational playing, many of the Marquette fans expressed dissatisfaction with the umpire in forcing the contest to run the nine innings, after suspending play after the first half of the seventh inning, on account of rain.

It is said that rain fell continuously while the last two and a half innings were being played and that the ball became so slippery that good playing was impossible, making the last part of the game little more than a farce. When play was suspended during the seventh inning, the score was two to one in favor of Marquette, but Negaunee scored two runs in the last half of the ninth, due in part, it is alleged, to the wet and slippery ball.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. AN INTERESTING PROCESS.

How Percentage of Butter Fat in Milk Is Obtained.

The process of testing milk, as is now being carried on by Inspector Edwards and assistant, of the state dairy and food department, on the second floor of the city hall, is an interesting one. The inspectors expect to remain in Marquette several weeks, during which time they will make several tests of the product supplied by the many dairymen selling milk and cream in this city. A single test is not a fair indication of the quality of milk that is being dispensed by a given dairyman, say the inspectors, as the sample may be taken on an off day, when the milk is not up to its usual standard, or vice versa. No dairy can be kept up to exactly the same standard day in and day out, as the milk will vary in quality, with the feed, water and weather conditions affecting the cows. By making a series of tests at different times, however, they hope to strike a fair average of the quality of milk sold by every dairyman in this city.

"The greatest invention of recent years in the dairy industry from our standpoint," said Mr. Edwards, "is the Babcock tester, invented by Professor Babcock, of the University of Wisconsin, who might have made a million dollars out of his invention. However, he refused to have the tester patented, and by so doing gave the world the benefit of his device at a lower cost than would otherwise have been the case.

"With the Babcock tester, the determination of the percentage of butter fat in any given sample of milk is a simple matter. A certain quantity of milk is measured out and mixed with sulphuric acid, which dissolves all the solids but the butter fat. The mixture is then placed in the tester, which is turned rapidly for a few moments, which process by the action of centrifugal force, drives the butter fat to the top of the mixture, it being the lightest of the ingredients of the milk. The per cent of butter fat thus obtained is easily measured by a graduated scale on the testing tube. The test is an infallible one, and can be repeated again and again with exactly the same results.

"The state law requires that all milk shall contain at least 3 per cent of butter fat, but the average amount found in milk is about 4 per cent."

AN ATTRACTIVE FOLDER.

Northern Pacific Issues Booklet Explaining the West.

The Mining Journal is in receipt of a copy of a very attractive folder, handsomely printed in colors, from the general passenger department of the Northern Pacific railway at St. Paul, exhibiting the seventeenth national irrigation congress, to be held in Spokane, Aug. 1-11, 1909.

The cover, in colors, is a reproduction of a photograph depicting the effects of irrigation in one of the many fertile valleys of the Northwest which the Northern Pacific traverses. Half tones from photographs of this kind sprinkled throughout the publication, show the benefits of irrigation, and it is sufficient to examine these pictures, without perusing the text, to form a good idea of what irrigation means in the arid sections of the country.

The city of Spokane is pleasingly illustrated and described and a convenient list of hotels and lodging houses in that city is included. A map of the territory adjacent to Spokane is shown, together with a map of the entire Northern Pacific system and its relation to the sections in which irrigation projects are either in active operation, or contemplated. The excellent facilities afforded by the Northern Pacific for reaching Spokane are fittingly described, and a roster of representatives, through whom train accommodations can be secured, is shown.

Copies of the folder may be obtained, without charge, by addressing A. M. Cleland, general passenger agent, Northern Pacific railway, St. Paul.

Life Insurance Refused

Thousands of men are refused life insurance every year because of some slight disability or for some similar trouble back in their family.

If you have been refused life insurance for any reason and want to insure those depending on you, it is an easy matter to provide a fund for their protection in case you die. Pay your "premiums" to the bank. Deposit regularly a certain sum with us. You can pile up money rapidly if you do it with system. It is payable to your estate. There is no trouble getting it out.

Many men keep two accounts at the bank—one for checking purposes, to pay bills, kept posted on expenses, etc.; the other a trust fund, to be added to regularly and which they never draw out—a protection for their families in case of death.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s correspondent at New York Saturday telegraphed the first part of today's session, and an attack was made on Reading in an effort to force selling in other quarters, but in the last hour a general covering movement caused slight advances in the active issues to slightly above last night's close. The bank statement was fully as good as expected, and there was nothing in the gossip to affect trading. It is thought that an industrial boom is not unlikely after the adjournment of congress, as large contracts are known to be awaiting the definite settlement of the tariff schedule. The very small outside interest tends to give the market a narrow appearance, but the indisposition among holders to liquidate at these levels seems to speak well for the stability of the market.

Boston "Coppers."
 Writing from Boston Saturday, Paine, Webber & Co. had the following to say of the stock market:
 "North Butte was again the weakest feature in the local market, heavy selling from Pittsburgh causing a sharp break of three points to 27 1/2. Some stop orders were caught around 49, and this helped the decline. The balance of the list was very dull, but prices were well maintained. The whole New York list was steady with small transactions. In any sharp break in North Butte on Monday we think it safe to buy for a turn."
 Closing prices were:

reached a sort of climax this morning, when the July price went up another 2 1/2 cents, nearly 5 cents in two days, to 119 1/2. December sold to 109 3/4, and September within a scratch of 111 1/2. Practically no new wheat is headed for Chicago. The stocks are redolent again heavily in the Northwest, and here this week the receipts are abnormally small. If the farmers just take a notion to sell sparingly and the interior millers, who have been idle because of the high wheat prices for weeks, are forced to buy to replenish their stocks of both wheat and flour, we can see how an unusual situation will develop. All that will be needed to start a spring market will be a drop in the wheat crop condition after a month's rest, or a sharp advance in the Argentine wheat acreage. These factors will quickly outweigh any supplies Russia has to offer. The forecast is for more wet weather. The reaction at the close was only moderate. We would limit buying orders to soft spots, if there are any.

JAILED FOR STUPIDITY.

Judge Sentences a Man Who Couldn't Take a Joke.
 Omaha, Neb., July 11.—Has any man a right to wake another by tickling the sole of his foot, John Mullen. Thirtieth and Douglas streets, put that question up to Judge Crawford.
 Mullen said he was sleeping peacefully in his bed when Charles Conway of Fourteenth and Douglas woke him up. Mullen said into Conway, and when the light was over, Conway had a broken head and Mullen a cut lip.
 Judge Crawford gave Conway, the tickler, 85 fine and costs. Mullen is sent to the county jail for ten days for not being able to take a joke.

LITERARY COYOTE.

Kant, Spencer and Spinoza Among Vol. umes Animal Study From Library.
 San Antonio, Tex., July 11.—This city has developed a literary coyote with a strong penchant for philosophy. A day or so ago the assistant librarian at the Carnegie Library heard a suspicious noise late in the afternoon in the book alcove, and upon investigation found a tame coyote belonging to a family near by sneaking out with a book in his mouth. True to his hereditary instincts, he chose a sheep-bound book, none other than Heburn's "Contest for Soul's Money." When trailed to his den, under the porch of his master's home, the literary coyote was found to be surrounded by a number of heavy volumes, including Kant's "Theory of Ethics." Spencer's "Data of Ethics" and Spinoza's "Life and Philosophy." In order to digest this heavy dose of mental pabulum the coyote had been chewing on them industriously.

WHIST SAVES WIFE'S LIFE.
 Iowan Loses Card Games, But Wins in Contest Against Death.
 Des Moines, July 11.—To keep his wife from succumbing to a dose of laudanum, taken with suicidal intent, Attorney J. G. Gallagher played a two hours' game of whist with her. After the laudanum had been taken from the woman's stomach by physicians, they prescribed this odd method of keeping her from going to sleep. She has always been fond of whist and was immediately interested. Gallagher defeated his chief opponent, Death, but lost the several games to his wife.

LOST DIAMONDS RETURNED.
 New Yorker Drops $18,000 Worth and Gets Back All But Two.
 New York, July 11.—Samuel Lowery, a diamond merchant, is thankful that the average person in New York is honest. The diamond merchant was returning from a trip to Springfield, Mass., and had $18,000 worth of diamonds loose in his pockets. He was standing on the rear platform of the train. It stopped suddenly. He was thrown into the crowd, the glittering stones flying from his pockets. Bystanders began to pick up diamonds, while Lowery was carried to the station unconscious. He counted the stones returned and said that all were returned but two worth about $100 each.

SINKING MAN LAUGHED AT.
 Slipped Overboard and, Bewildered, Swam Away From Bank.
 Malaka, N. J., July 11.—Mark Adams, who carried the mail from the West Jersey depot at Malada to the postoffice in the town, was drowned in Richman's mill pond in a strange manner. While standing on the bank joking with a fish, he slipped and fell into the water. A shout of laughter followed the splash, and when the man began to swim away from shore his companions thought he was fooling.
 It is now believed Adams got bewildered and thought that he was going toward shore until his strength failed and he sank in twelve feet of water. A boat was secured and his body brought to the surface with an ice hook.

ROOSTER STOPS TRAIN.
 Then the Crew Takes Him as a Memento of the Hold-up.
 Allentown, Pa., July 11.—Bowling alone at a rate of sixty miles an hour en route to New York, the Reading-New Jersey Central railroad's fast express train "Queen of the Valley" came to a sudden stop between Bethlehem and Freemansburg, following the application by the crew's engine driver of the emergency airbrake under the locomotive.
 With such abruptness did the train stop that the passengers were thrown about in their seats.
 By the time they had an opportunity to leave the cars, Engineer Trisler found the cause of the trouble. An eight-pound Plymouth Rock rooster, scratching along the track, had been drawn under the engine by the section of the train with such force as to sever the air connection and stop the train.
 The crew took the bird with them as a memento of the first train hold-up that was ever pulled off by a chicken.

BEAN AS DRINK CURE.
 Jail Soup Keeps Former Drunkards Sober, Say the Officials.
 Burlington, N. J., July 11.—The "bean soup" remedy introduced by Sheriff Willard W. Worrel to help reform drunkards, is not only saving Burlington county several hundred dollars monthly, but it is making more real converts for temperance than any number of "gold cures."

BALL FAN BURSTS AN ARTERY.
 Collapses When the Umpire Calls an Over-the-Fence Hit a Foul.
 Elizabeth, N. J., July 11.—With William Freney as Denny McGeehan, captain of the visiting team in a game between Elizabeth and Allentown, hit a long drive over left field fence, Martin McGeehan came to bat in the ninth, with the score 2 to 2. He hit one over left, and McGeehan, the only visiting rooster, shouted himself hoarse, thinking it was a homer. When the umpire called "foul," McGeehan turn purple gave a yell like the bleachers, headfirst, to the ground, writhing in agony.
 Allentown players said that McGeehan has been following the team all over the circuit, seemingly daffy on baseball.

LONG HUNT FOR HUSBAND.
 Deserted in Vienna, She Finds Him in Indiana After Nine Years.
 Laporte, Ind., July 11.—An exciting chase for a husband, covering two continents and lasting more than nine years, culminated in Laporte when Alexander Kurley, who has been working on a farm near here, was lodged in jail on complaint of his wife, who charges abandonment.
 Kurley became a benedict in 1900. A wedding trip to Europe was suggested by him and the young bride gladly accepted. The couple toured the old continent and all was as serene as a school boy in vacation time until Austria was reached. Soon after William Van Voors, of Vienna, Kurley discovered that she was minus a husband.
 She searched the Austrian capital for her missing spouse without result. Then she began to scour the world to find him.
 She travelled over Europe and America in her quest, but until she reached Laporte she did not find him. And now he is in jail.

TO REFORM BAD BOYS.
 Humane Officer in Tacoma, Wash., Advocates Novel Food Theory.
 Tacoma, July 9.—A diet consisting solely of nuts and fruits, with cold water as the only beverage, as a substitute for the food supplied in reformatories and jails has been advocated for years by humane officer William Van Voors, of this city, who, encouraged by the results he has obtained in treating boys turned over to his charge, is about to realize on his movement to secure a permanent home for waifs and unfortunate placed under his charge.
 Van Voors not only preaches but practices his doctrine. For three years he has confined himself strictly to a diet of fruit and nuts. He declares that the people of this country after riding themselves of the evils of liquor have a bigger contract in getting rid of it.
 "We are the best and the poorest nourished nation on earth," he says. In order that he may demonstrate the value of his ideas concerning the connection between crime and diet, a tract of ten acres will be secured on Washou Island, in the sound, where a home will be erected and boys and men of criminal

HOOSIERS FISH FOR RATS.
 Petersburg, Ind., July 11.—Walter Darnall, proprietor of a fish market, has been annoyed lately by hundreds of rats. He baited fishing hooks attached to strong lines and dropped the baited hook into the rat holes. Only a few minutes' wait brought a tug on the line and the novel fisher landed his prize. The rats are all sizes, and Mr. Darnall's success as a rat exterminator has caused a number of others to put into practice his idea, with the result that hundreds of rats are being caught.

BRONX ZOO THE LARGEST.
 Arrival of 300 New Specimens Gives Collection First Rank.
 New York, July 11.—With the arrival of the steamship Minnehaha here today, the Bronx zoological gardens becomes the largest and the most comprehensive in the world. On the Minnehaha Raymond L. Ditmars, the curator of the institution, brought 300 specimens, including ninety-eight species not at present represented in the zoo. Professor Ditmars has been collecting the animals from the various zoological gardens throughout Europe for several months. These new specimens make the Bronx zoo the largest collection of animal life in the world.

FOUR CHILDREN AT ONCE.
 Wife of Preacher from Chicago Is Quadruple's Proud Mother.
 Northampton, Mass., July 11.—Residents of the little county town of Goshen have an interesting subject for gossip in the arrival of the new preacher from Chicago with eight children, four of whom are a double pair of twins, or quadruplets. The mother is the wife of Rev. Samuel Howe Secombe, who has come to a pastorate which pays only $800 a year. The oldest child of the family is fourteen. The four babies are three weeks old. The mother is forty-five years old and the father fifty. The father is a native son of New England, but has lived in Chicago many years, and until this quartette came no children had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Secombe for four years. The weight of the quadruplets, two boys and two girls, is: First boy, seven pounds; second boy, five pounds; first girl, four pounds; and second girl, four and a half pounds.

BABY ALIVE UNDER CARS.
 Run Over by a Car, Apparently, But Fell Into a Depression.
 Allentown, Pa., 11.—Hattie, the infant daughter of Louis Lichtenstein of 614 Groat street, wandered in front of a trolley car and was knocked under it.
 Everybody thought the child had been killed, but the frantic mother dived between the wheels and pulled little Hattie out by the hair, then ran home with her in her arms. There an examination by a physician showed that the baby had only sustained a few slight bruises.
 She had fallen into a depression in the roadbed and the car had passed over her without touching her.

BIG MAN BROUGHT TO LIGHT.
 Is Credited With Conceiving Original Idea of Our Federal Government.
 Who was Peletiah Webster? A native of Connecticut, graduate of Yale and preacher for a season, who in time found his way to Philadelphia, prospered as a merchant, applied his mind to problems of finance and currency, on which he advised the colonial congress. Indeed, as early as 1781 he saw the weakness of the articles of confederation and the necessity of a federal union with power to assess and collect taxes. Thus much the brief biographies of him give, with the additional fact that in 1783 he published a tentative draft of a federal constitution for the people of America. But of the merit of that plan, its effect upon the deliberations of the constitutional convention, which came four years later, these sources of information, as well as the standard histories of the period, are silent.

It is the contention of Hamis Taylor and he is pressing it for congressional recognition and action, as well as to arouse interest among students of comparative political philosophy, that the original, unprecedented form of federal government upon which the 1787 convention agreed after debates in which Madison, Charles Pinckney, Roger Sherman and Alexander Hamilton were conspicuous, was essentially outlined in a resolution of the Political Union and Constitution of the Thirteen United States of America, issued in 1783. Beyond doubt "the principle of a federal government operating directly on the individual, instead of upon the states as corporations; the division of a federal government into three departments—legislative, executive and judicial; the division of a federal legislature into two chambers on the bicameral plan, and a federal government with delegated powers in the states"—are features of Webster's pamphlet of 1783. It was circulated about the colonies, Webster was resident on Philadelphia when the '87 convention met. It is conceivable that his plan had been the germinal one out of which the distinct and unique features of the constitution grew. But it is difficult to explain why all this was not so stated by men of the character, ability and superiority to pettiness, of those who led the convention. On the other hand, the new form of federalism, as it is now claimed that Webster did, would not have eluded the honor, and had it conceeded to him?
 Mr. Taylor claims for Webster the title of architect of the constitution, following whose plan and suggestion the delegates to the convention were supposed to have made it. It was only master builders. The claim having been made by such an advocate, investigation must follow which will do justice ultimately to more than ordinary sagacity, initiative and constructive power.—Boston Herald.

QUEER TASTE OF WOMEN WHO USE REPULSIVE THINGS IN HEADGEAR.
 The corpse of birds or the parts that tell the tale of their slaughter on women's headgear should be repellent to all normal and healthy minds. The suggestion of death for the purpose of adornment is as uncivilized as the display of skulls by the people who originally occupied this country. The ostrich feather and the plume de coque can be obtained without injury to the birds, or at least without slaughter, for the purpose of robbing them of their plumage.
 But the sacrifice of animal life in response to a fashion does not do it. The miser's headgear should be repellent to all normal and healthy minds. The suggestion of death for the purpose of adornment is as uncivilized as the display of skulls by the people who originally occupied this country. The ostrich feather and the plume de coque can be obtained without injury to the birds, or at least without slaughter, for the purpose of robbing them of their plumage.

SLY RATS KILL TURTLE.
 Darby, Pa., July 11.—Attacked by a swarm of rats, a big land turtle belonging to Frank Singleton, 1126 Chestnut street, Darby, put up a desperate battle with the hungry rats for its life, but the rats proved too many for the turtle, which finally succumbed to mere force of numbers. The fact that three cleanly severed front legs of the rats were found beside the dead turtle in the cellar proves that the victim maimed many of its enemies before it was killed.

DIVORCE HALTED IN TIME.

Happy Couple Start on Honey-moon as Their Case is Called in Court.

Come face to face in the corridor just outside the court house door, a remarkably pretty woman, stylishly gowned, and a man paraded and regarded each other for a moment the other day.

"Ruth," cried the man, "please listen to me for a minute. In a few moments it will be too late, and our lives will be wrecked."

The young woman nodded. At first she had regarded the man with an eye stare, but gradually the expression softened and a half tender, reminiscent look crept into the pretty eyes.

The woman was Mrs. Ruth Evans and the man was T. O. Evans, owner of the Hotel Deane at Ocean Park.

Mrs. Evans was about to enter the court room to attend the trial of her suit for divorce against her husband and he was on his way to contest the action. Both sides had employed eminent counsel and the case was the next on the calendar.

There was no resisting the pleading in the man's eyes and the couple were soon pacing up and down the court corridor, the man talking earnestly and the woman listening with more and more willingness.

"At this juncture the attorneys began to arrive."

"Come into the court room, our case comes up next," said one of the lawyers.

"There won't be any case," said Mr. Evans, happily. "Neither of us wants a divorce. It's all a mistake. She is the only girl I ever loved."

"No, I don't think I want any divorce. I have changed my mind," said Mrs. Evans, blushing and smiling under her big picture hat. "I have never loved any man in the world, and I am sorry I listened to those horrid gossips. But, anyway, he hurt my feelings and I wouldn't have forgiven him if he hadn't asked me so nicely."

The lawyers threw up their hands and when the judge called the case of Evans vs. Evans it was promptly stricken from the docket, and a happy pair left the court room to start on a brand-new honeymoon.—Los Angeles Examiner.

A VISIT TO CHINESE RESTAURANTS

In visiting the Chinese restaurants of Boston at all hours of the day and night, gathering material to prove the fallacy or truth of the faint of such places, I was more impressed with the mixture of Orientalism and Americanism than with any dread dye-in-wool horrors. In fact, the most disagreeable sight was an endless moule minute stew eat, where for one solid ten minutes a man endeavored to extricate himself from a dish of noodles.

Like any restaurant or hotel dining-room the crowd of Chinese waiting places is a motley one, especially at night. The sourette and "lady friend" enter after the theatre, with an air of "a little music here" and the accompanying overdone unconscious manner so common with this type of the "Profess." They saunter by a corner table, while near at hand is a group of most sensible stout ladies; while farther on sit a party somewhat influenced by spirits, obtained outside, for no liquor is served

In these restaurants you feel the in-harmony of the beautiful inlaid carved tables, Chinese embroidery with the "mickel in the slot" piano, so typical of America's strenuous search for gain. There is something jarring in eating Chinese food to a ragtime tempo, or to be handed an American check punched according to your expenditure which is flashed before you in the cash register as the money is recorded there, while the electric fan overhead blows your hair away. You feel deceived, you came to get into an atmosphere of artistic Eastern customs and you find yourself surrounded by up-to-date American business methods. Not only are most of the waiters in American dress but many of the proprietors are bedecked with diamond rings and gorgeous watch chains.

Strangely inconsistent with these United States methods is the service for two to an order for one without a cent extra for the second "set up." And the orders called "small" are really huge. Take, for instance, a dish immediately liked by the Americans as it contains our food—noodles, onions, sprouts, celery and chicken. One small order of this will last two persons an hour of steady eating. Perhaps it is because of its need of mastication, or it may be the conversation which goes with it.

Alas, the American tipping habit finds its way into these restaurants, with this difference only—the waiters put the tips in their ears. "Good luck" grinned one truly Oriental when asked why he did it.

Some of the restaurants are so up-to-date that the furniture is not only of the latest mission effect but the folio menus have this satisfying suggestion on the cover: "To Our Patrons Is 'The Secret of Our Success.'" with several like notices "To Our Patrons" on the last page. It is impossible to doubt that some American assisted in getting up that bill.

It is plain, even in the kitchen, that these restaurateurs are bound to keep abreast of the times even to serving American dishes in American style. When one goes for chow mein but feels obliged to eat it with a fork rather than attempt to do so with chop sticks, perhaps it is not logical to put the American on a table on another table out of sight. Still that has been done, such is the hectic attempt to get into the "atmosphere," as much as possible.

A visit to the cuisine kills the "atmosphere" for here everything is just like any hotel kitchen. Nothing, nothing nice and Chinese. But wait, what are those mysterious little packages in bamboo leaves and tied with a bamboo fibrood? They are in a big clothes basket. Is it the wash? Or what? On making inquiry it was found that they were Chinese rice puddings ready to be baked. "American don't like it," said one of the cooks, with scarcely an accent. "They don't like any of our foods that don't taste something like what they are used to."

And that, when we were beginning to think that we enjoyed Chinese dishes!

Some men are honest because they are too poor to be otherwise.

ISHPEMING BEATEN BY RAPID RIVER, 2 TO 1

ISHPEMING'S NEW PITCHER, CHAPUT, PUT UP A STRONG GAME AGAINST RAPID RIVER'S CRACK NINE, ALLOWING BUT FOUR SCATTERING HITS.

Rapid River, which defeated Ishpeming 2 to 1 Saturday, has a fast baseball team; it has the strongest infield that has played on the Union Park grounds this season. Were it not for a one-hand miff of a pop-up behind second base by Raaseh, in the eighth inning, and a wild throw by Cole to first in the ninth, the team would have played an errorless game.

At that Ishpeming led the victory slightly through its hands. With Chaput the new pitcher, in the box, the locals had somewhat the better of the pitching argument, though Frost did excellent work, while Walsh, the Marquette backstop, who took Nichols' place on account of the latter not being in the best of condition, had some of the best of the latter also caught a fine game. Walsh's work was faultless.

Rapid River earned its run in the ninth, but the one in the third was a gift. Ishpeming scored its only run in the ninth, and a hit by the last man up would have tied the score, as Gorman had reached third.

The contest was interesting and well played by both teams, though at times there was an absence of ginger among the Ishpeming men. Gunstrom, the first man up for Rapid River in the third inning, sent the ball into left field for three bases. Frost framed, and Gunstrom scored on the fumble of a grounder by Gorman.

In Ishpeming's half of the sixth Burke, in getting away from first on Olson's clean hit, was struck by the batted ball and was called out, after two men had been retired. In the seventh, Ishpeming lost another chance of at least prolonging the inning, when Raaseh failed to hold McLaughlin's pop-up, the latter not attempting to make the base, though the ball went so far out of reach of the infielders that he had all kinds of time to land safely. This also retired the side.

Ishpeming worked out a tight place in the fifth. Birch opened for Rapid River, going to the mound for the first fumble; Gunstrom fanned, but Frost reached first on Burke's fumble; Raaseh singled, this filling the bases; Grovelle flew out to Gorman and on the next ball pitched Raaseh loafed between first and second in order to give Birch a chance to score, but the latter was caught at the plate on Burke's throw from second.

Ishpeming had the ball rolling in fine style in the ninth, which opened with Chaput at the bat; he fanned; Olson followed with a clean single; Grovelle fumbled; Gunstrom fanned, but Frost reached first on Burke's fumble; Raaseh singled, this filling the bases; Grovelle flew out to Gorman and on the next ball pitched Raaseh loafed between first and second in order to give Birch a chance to score, but the latter was caught at the plate on Burke's throw from second.

"THE BURGOMASTER."

William P. Cullen's Production is Praised by Toronto Globe.

The Toronto, Ont., Globe of recent date, in commenting on the performance of "The Burgomaster," which will be seen at the Ishpeming theatre Thursday evening, had the following to say:

"The 'Burgomaster' does not pretend to have any deep laid plans, nor, as the programme announces, to be free from anachronism, but it does provide three hours of pretty scenes, sparkling music and lots of fun combined. The piece was welcomed by a crowded house at the theatre last night, and its reception only forecasted the success which will doubtless attend it during the week. In the title role it need only be said that Harry Hermesen was all that his admirers expected him to be, and Miss Ruth White, who was again seen in her original part, 'Willie,' achieved the success of the evening. As Doole Von Call, the Burgomaster's secretary, Leo Kendall exhibited a quaint drollery which was irresistible, while Miss Marjion Mack's burlesque of the lady Theosophist evoked roars of laughter. The charming voice of Miss Marie Grand was heard to advantage in the character of Catherine Van derbeek, while the remaining roles are all adequately filled. 'The Burgomaster' is exceptionally staged, and the piece went with a swing from start to finish."

KEROSENE FOR LOCOMOTIVES.

Oil May Be Used for Fuel Instead of Coal—Would Prevent Forest Fires.

A plan suggested in Wisconsin by men who have made efforts to preserve the forests in the northern part of the state from fire is the use of kerosene oil for firing locomotives instead of coal. If oil were used there would be no sparks to cause fires along the railway lines.

It is reported that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company is to give kerosene a test on its Western division, and in the event it is proved successful the locomotives on some Wisconsin mileage will be equipped to burn it.

It is said that the expense would be no greater than that of coal, but that it would mean more work for the firemen of the locomotives, as well as round-house men who care for the engines.

The presidents of all the leading railroads of the country have been approached by Gifford, chief of the United States forester, to practice forest conservation. The report of the forest commission, recently issued, shows that the forests are being cut three times faster than they are growing; that much large timber and young growth are destroyed annually by fire; that the nation has used lumber wastefully and extravagantly, and that the only way to get the supplies needed in future years is to keep all the forest land of the country constantly growing timber.

The commission recommends to the railroad managers that they use chemically treated ties wherever possible; so-called inferior wood can be used for ties when treated, reducing the drain on the better qualities of timber now being used for that purpose.

The commission also recommends to the railway companies that they purchase land bearing mature timber which can be used immediately, and of second growth timber which will meet the needs of the future. Such lands, if properly managed, will insure a perpetual supply of ties and lumber at the cost of production. The planting of trees upon railway companies' non-agricultural lands is also recommended.

Co-operation with timberland owners and state officials in fire prevention is suggested with a view to bringing about conditions which will make the practice of forestry profitable.

GLASSY DISCOVERS A NEW MOTIVE POWER.

"Yes, my name is Chuppiss," said the head of the manufacturing firm, turning around in his revolving chair, "what can I do for you?"

"My name is Glassy," said the caller, a tall, slender man in a suit of faded black. "Possibly you have heard of me. I am the inventor of Glassy's footpad, a discourager, an ingenious device by which the boldest holiday man can be reduced to submission in the twinkling of an eye, and—"

"No, sir; I never heard of you."

"Well, I worked it one night with a signal success as a footpad myself, but I never sold any. Let it pass, I also invented a mechanical arrangement by the use of which a timid woman, merely by passing a spring can repulse any tramp or suspicious character who may try to enter the door of a dining room, or kitchen—"

"I never heard of it. Look here, Mr.—"

"Glassy, I will detain you only a few minutes. I am the discoverer, Mr. Chuppiss, of an entirely new motive power, but I lack the capital to develop it and bring it before the public—"

"I have no money to lend on schemes of that sort, sir."

"I am not trying to borrow any money, sir. I am simply proposing an arrangement by which both of us can make money. I furnish the idea. You furnish the capital to exploit it if the idea commends itself favorably to you. The human brain, Mr. Chuppiss, for the size of it, and considering its limitations, is the most powerful motor in the world. It never stops. It works day and night, with tireless energy. To illustrate its power, cross one leg over the other, allowing your foot to hang free. Then note how, with every pulsation of the heart, the foot will vibrate up and down, describing an arc of perhaps a quarter of an inch. The late Abraham Lincoln once noticed this peculiar vibration of the crossed leg and made a liberal remark about it. Imagine 10,000 or 100,000 human beings, Mr. Chuppiss, sitting with their legs crossed, not necessarily in company, but controlled by electrical currents converging to a common center and tell me, if you can, what limit can be placed to the tremendous energy thus developed by the simple motion of 100,000 human feet, moving through an arc—"

"Excuse me a moment, Mr. Glassy," hurriedly interrupted the other, rising to his feet and stepping into the next room, closing the door behind him.

Half a minute later an agitated voice was talking through the telephone.

"Hello! Is that the central police station? This is the Chuppiss Manufacturing company. Send a couple of strong policemen here at once! There's a raging maniac loose in my office!"

PHOTOGRAPHING THE DEAF.

People So Handicapped as a Rule Yield Poor Pictures.

If deaf people had the same dread of photographers that photographers have of them they would not often have their pictures taken. The artist dislikes them because they take poor pictures. "Why do they show up so badly in a photograph?" asked a visitor in whose presence a complaint had just been made. "I don't know why," was the reply, "but they do. Judging by their expression at that time they must be expecting the camera to go off at a decisive moment with a Fourth of July racket, and they are all on edge 16 hours it. Their eyes never look like other people's eyes, nor their mouths like other people's mouths. I suppose that is partly due to the difficulty of live better on less than they need. I may pose a deaf man before a camera ever so artistically, but before I get five feet away he is dropping over again in the most dejected attitude.

"Hold up your head!" I shout to him. "He opens his mouth wide and exercises his ear with his palm."

"What's that?" he says.

"I go back and jerk him into shape. We repeat that performance half a dozen times. By the time the poor fellow gets an inkling of the requirements of a photographic subject he is in a state of nervous collapse that does not aid to his physical attractiveness. But after all that preparatory tussle we do not like to postpone the great event, so we take a picture. Naturally, it is not a good one. The man is not satisfied, neither am I, but it is not much use to repeat the performance, for he is not likely to get a better one."

"Altogether there is a strained, tense look on the pictured face of a deaf person which not even the pencil of the photographer can soften, and if the photographer's art were to be judged by that small portion of his work he would soon suffer so in reputation that he would have to shut up shop."—Washington Post.

THE DEBS CROW.

Mrs. Isaac L. Rice, the brilliant leader of the anti-noise crusade, has carried noises, as she quaintly calls them, which she illustrates her eloquent addresses. Mrs. Rice, that is to say, demonstrates with actual phonographic records the hideous street din of New York.

Discussing the other day animal noises—the night noise of prowling cats, the sunrise noise of roosters kept in allays—Mrs. Rice said:

"An anti-noise man got the better of an inconsiderate socialist last month. It is a queer story.

"The anti-noise man, a nervous journalist, lives in a Brooklyn flat, and the socialist, his landlord, lives below him. The socialist kept a talking crow, you know crows talk if their tongues are split, and this bird, from its cage on the balcony, hurled all day long:

"Hurrah for Debs! Hurrah for Debs!"

"All through the presidential campaign the socialist kept on shouting in account of the crow's socialistic cheers. Though no great foe to socialism, he came to loathe the very thought of Debs.

"He tried to buy the crow, offering as much as $25 for it. In vain. He besought its owner to keep it indoors. In vain. This unsocial socialist took pride in his crow to curtail a moment of its noisy Debs enthusiasm.

"The journalist was afraid to kill or steal the crow lest the owner, discovering his guilt, turn him out of the flat house. He did, instead, a wily thing.

"He went to a pet stock dealer, bought a crow that couldn't say a word, and the next day, watching his chance, substituted the dumb bird for the loquacious one.

"The journalist met the socialist in a cigar store the other day. He said, 'You refused my liberal offer for your talking crow?'

"No, sir!" exclaimed the socialist warmly. 'I value that bird more than ever now. Why, man, would you believe it? Ever since the defeat of Eugene V. Debs the crow hasn't opened her lips!'

STOMACH IS THE MASTER.

Fletcher's Rules Teach How to Reverse This Arrangement.

Fletcherism was not started as a reform like Edward Atkinson's one time famous series of lectures to teach the poor sugar to live better on less than they earn. Fletcher himself was so rich and had traveled so much and seen so many things he was getting blasé with it all until he found a new way to eat. That gave him so much of a zest in life, it was such a good way that he wanted to tell anybody about it and has been doing it ever since. He discovered that almost all the ills to which the flesh of man is heir had their percentage in overeating; in stuffing the digestive organs like a stoker who feeds his furnace until he chokes out the fire and the engines go all wrong. He says man builds his food and leaves it to the stomach to grind up; that the stomach was never built for grist mill or crusher purposes, but is merely a distributing agent something on the order of what a milling man could call a classifier. To get the full benefit of one's food it should be ground by the teeth and so mixed with the saliva generated in the process that it would find its way to its proper place without the process of swallowing.

If properly eaten in advance the food sets at once on its business without help from the throat it is not a proper food and should be rejected before it has been sent to where it can work worse damage. Those who have taken it find that a great many foods of which man has heretofore been fond positively refuse to "Fletcherize" and so better unswallowed. Wheat bread is almost impossible unless it has been baked to a crisp. Some forms of meat are beyond salvation. But the best part of all is that Fletcher discovered, and nobody has refuted his proof that no thousands to whom money saving is no object, have introduced his diet that is no less than one-third of what the ordinary eater puts into his stomach and never seems to get any benefit out of a "Fletcherizer" will get fat and be fit to run Marathon races and win prize fights—Denver Republican.

KEEPER PROPERTIES OF JAM.

Every housewife who makes jam knows that the keeping powers of the several batches made vary. Some seem to hold up better than others, while others will keep in good condition almost indefinitely. The differences observed may be due to some jams being more concentrated than others, as is the case with jam made from the seeds of the fruit which should change enough cane sugar

MEN ARE EASILY UPSET AT HOME.

"I think the attitude of men toward home-keeping," said Mrs. Billings, "is the most remarkable thing."

Mrs. Billings was at that moment engaged in tearing the parlor apart and moving everything out into the adjoining dining room, preparatory to what she calls a thorough sweeping and dusting, and her remarks had been prompted by Mr. Billings' exclaiming, when he looked into the room and saw what she was doing:

"Heavens! What are you up to now?" Mrs. Billings continued, as she tilted up a chair and wiped its legs gently but firmly with a dust cloth.

"You mean you are so easily upset. I suppose you like things clean, but it always upsets you completely to have any cleaning done. If men could have their way I don't suppose there'd ever been a carpet taken up or a rug shaken. You'd just scold in the best and be no certain either, that you'd never know if it was there but you would rather have it there than have it taken up. Now wouldn't you really, Ezra?"

"You do so dislike to be disturbed, I don't suppose that men would ever clean house, but that is what women are doing all the time. What sort of a house do you suppose it would be to live in if it wasn't dusted and cleaned?"

"I guess it would be something like your desk used to be before I got at it," said Ezra, who had not known the nature of the offense as he told his companions what he had done and showed them a number of the fish he brought home.

POOR HAY CROP.

Most of the farmers in and near Negaunee are harvesting their hay. Some of them are cutting earlier than they expected. The grasshoppers have raised such havoc that they came to the conclusion that it's better to save any of the hay they had better begin cutting at once. None of the Negaunee farmers will get 50 per cent as large a crop as they had last year, and others will harvest less than 25 per cent. John Schwartz, who procured six tons from a little patch on his place last summer, cut his hay last week and got only about a quarter of a ton.

NEGAUNEE WON IN SPECTACULAR FINISH

IN SPIKE OF RAIN IN THE LAST THREE INNINGS, YESTERDAY'S BALL GAME WAS A FAST AND MOST EXCITING CONTEST.

What promised to be the snappiest ball game of the Marquette-Alger county league series on the Union Park grounds thus far this season was spoiled yesterday by a drizzling rain, which started in the sixth inning when Negaunee had one score over Marquette. It looked like a victory for the visitors up to the last half of the ninth, when by timely hitting two runs were scored by only one man out. Marquette scored its two runs in the seventh.

Negaunee was blanked during the first five innings, and Marquette received similar treatment in the first six. Up to that time the game was fast, both pitchers being effective and receiving gladsome support. In the sixth, Messier doubled into left field, reaching home on Harshman's hit to Clinton, who in attempting to throw Messier out at third, failed to notice that Richardson was not covering his sack. The ball went over the head of Harshman and advanced to second. Swick hit a fly to Woodman, who doubled on Harshman, who led to far second. In Marquette's fourth, Swick and Roberts doubled on Dunlavy and Richardson, the former catching Dunlavy's hit and throwing out Richardson at first.

In Marquette's half of the seventh, when the two runs were scored, Richardson opened with a single; Dunlavy out a grounder to Swick, who threw at Richardson for Messier at second; Larkin hit into right and the ball went to Paul, Dunlavy scoring, and Larkin bringing in third; Shields hit to Messier, bringing Larkin home; Clinton sacrificed, advancing Shields to second. Woodman led out to Swick, retiring the side.

In Negaunee's half of the ninth, Roberts started with a two-bagger, reaching third while the ball was being juggled in the infield; LaFave batted for Gannon, bringing Roberts in with a single into left field; Mitchell was called in to hit for LaFave; second; Schellental led out to Shields and LaFave scored on Rains' hit to center, which Woodman caught a trifle low to catch.

After Marquette's half of the seventh, the game was stopped for fifteen minutes in pouring rain, and when play was resumed the pitchers were at a disadvantage as it was impossible to keep the ball dry. In spite of this handicap both did well. Clinton, Marquette's new twirler, is a heady player, looked into the batter's box, and threw to bases. Harshman, who caught for Manistique's crack infield team last season, was behind the bat for Negaunee, giving a good account of himself. Aside from the work of both pitchers, the features of the game were the batting of Richardson and Messier, the former having three hits and the latter two doubles. Both doubles were in left field over Rios' head. Messier being a left hand batted, the field did not look for long drives in that direction.

KILLED MANY FISH.

Negaunee Boy Arrested on Charge of Violating Game Laws.

The officers of the Negaunee Gun & Rod club were instrumental in securing the arrest of a fourteen-year-old boy, named Roberts, residing here, on the charge of violating the game laws. The boy recently blasted a spawning bed in the Dead river north of the city, killing many trout of various sizes, some of them over three inches in length. He brought home about a bushel of the fish and others that he could not carry were left on the shore or floating in the water.

The case was placed in the hands of Deputy Game Warden Harrington. The boy's evidence did not know the nature of the offense as he told his companions what he had done and showed them a number of the fish he brought home.

RAPID SHOVEL WORK.

One day last week Richard Eddy, steam shovel operator at the Mary Charlotte mine, loaded fifteen cars in one hour. The cars averaged between thirty-five and forty tons each. The record is a good one, being at the rate of 150 cars in a day of ten hours work. Mr. Eddy is one of the best operators on the range, and he has several big days loading to his credit.

MAY SUE THE CITY.

Bob Thompson, the ice man, pleaded guilty in Judge Argall's court to the charge of breaking into the city pound. He was assessed $12, which he paid. Mr. Thompson said Saturday that he will probably begin suit against the city with a view to recovering damages. He maintains that the poundmaster neglected his cows and he believes that he has a strong case.

FALLACIES ABOUT CIGARS.

There are now five kinds of cigars marketed in this country. The "imported" made in Cuba; the "clear Havana," made in the United States, exclusively of Havana tobacco, by Cuban workmen and in the Cuban method; the "seed and Havana," made by American workmen, with a sumatran wrapper, a domestic binder and a Havana filler; "cheap cigars," by which is meant the nickel and stogie variety, made entirely of domestic tobacco by American labor and machines; and Porto Rico cigars made in Porto Rico, of Porto Rico and American tobaccos. About a million pounds of American leaf is shipped to Porto Rico every year.

Who has not seen a purchaser of a cigar hold it horizontally under his nose, close to the nostrils, and sniff at it, with what he believes to be the air of a connoisseur? No tobacco man can observe the movement without smiling. The best one can possibly get from that sniff is a faint odor of tobacco.

The oldest and most experienced tobacco expert could not tell Pennsylvania from the finest Yuelta Abajo from sniffing at an unlighted cigar. Indeed, it is doubtful if he would stake his reputation as to whether it was made of tobacco at all.

Hand a cigar to an expert and ask him for an opinion without inviting him to light it; he will use his eyes, not never his nose. He will tell you it has a Havana wrapper or a sumatran wrapper or a Connecticut wrapper, as the case may be. If it is of a greenish, unripe cast, or has coarse veins, he will say it is a poor wrapper. He may also express his views on the workmanship, whether it is a carefully or a slovenly made cigar. But he will never tell you positively, whether the cigar is good or bad or indifferent until he has smoked it.

And when one considers that only about one-twentieth of the tobacco in a cigar is visible to the eye, it is not difficult to understand the expert's reluctance to commit himself on an ocular test.

Men in the business appraise cigars on five counts: first, "burn;" second, aroma; third, taste or flavor; fourth, color; and fifth, workmanship. They put "burn" first advisedly. If a cigar doesn't burn freely, all the other merits combined will not save it from condemnation. By "burn" is meant the degree of combustibility. If the cigar holds its fire say three or four minutes without being puffed, and is consumed evenly on all sides, and shows no thick black ring of carbon when the leaf meets the ash, then the burn is good; if not, the burn is poor. As to the second and third counts—aroma and taste—it is sufficient to say that if there are agreeable they are merits, and if they are either disagreeable or merely lacking, they are not merits.

As to the fourth count, color, the good cigar must not be of a greenish cast or too light in color, as these signs indicate an insufficient cure. Cigars should be brown—rich, ripe brown. The popular shade of brown is a matter of individual preference, and the popular fancy on this point is very unstable. At one time there was an overwhelming demand for extremely dark cigars. It became so general that the packers of leaf tobacco could only half supply it. To meet the exigency, coloring liquids were concocted, and many of the manufacturers darkened their light tobaccos by dipping them in these concoctions. Just now the popular demand is for light to medium colors, and wrapper tobaccos of these shades bring a much higher price than the dark leaves.—Carl Werner, in Harper's Weekly.

REIGN OF TALL GIRLS.

Brigades of exceptionally tall girls practically rule hospitality all over the country, declares the English Lady's Pictorial. They need not be pretty or intelligent, for they are expected to do nothing except be tall.

A tall girl season now means that every hostess must endeavor to produce a predominating impression of tallness at her parties. Tall dinners, and tall dances become a social ambition; small men find themselves suddenly useful, as an effective means of creating a contrast when semi-amazons must be entertained.

There is no limit which can be regarded as reasonable when once the craze for tallness commences, yet at the moment when it mysteriously subsides, the feminine nature tall girls seem to be looming up in all directions, the edict goes forth that her reign is over and the little woman is in the ascendant.

Men would seem to have rather ingeniously guarded against fashions in height by becoming almost uniformly of medium stature.

LICENSED DAIRYMEN; CERTIFIED MILK

SUCH ARE THE CHIEF PROVISIONS OF ORDINANCE NOW BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL.

REQUIREMENTS ARE DRASTIC

If Adopted as Drawn, Will Be One of the Most Advanced Measures in Effect in Any Municipality.

One of the interesting subjects that is likely to come up at tonight's council meeting is the proposed city milk ordinance, which was introduced by the health committee and referred to the committee on ordinances and rules at the meeting last Tuesday night.

The ordinance as submitted by the health committee is more drastic than any in effect in this immediate locality, but no more so, it is claimed, than ordinances adopted in many cities in other parts of the country, as the result of which the infant mortality and number of deaths from tubercular diseases, has been greatly reduced.

How Licenses May Be Obtained.

The two most common methods of regulation and restriction adopted elsewhere have been incorporated in the Marquette ordinance, namely: Certified milk and licensed dairymen. The ordinance proposes to make it unlawful for any person or persons to sell or offer for sale in the city without having first secured a license.

All dairymen applying for a license to sell milk, the applicant shall set forth in writing his name, postoffice and location of his dairy; the number of cows from which milk or cream is obtained, or if the applicant does not keep cows, the source from which he obtains his product; an affidavit that all the cows from which milk or cream is sold have within one year been tested for tuberculosis by a registered veterinary and shall file a certificate of good health signed by the examining veterinary; that the applicant shall consent to any properly authorized health officer inspecting the dairy at any time, and that only after such an examination and subsequent finding by the health officer that the premises are well kept and that the applicant is a fit person to conduct the proposed business, shall the recorder issue a license to the applicant.

All dairy licenses shall expire on the first Monday of every June, unless previously revoked. The cost of dairy licenses is fixed at twenty-five cents per cow; for nine cows or less; between ten and nineteen cows, twenty cents per cow; between twenty and twenty-nine cows, eighteen cents per cow; thirty cows and over, fifteen cents per cow, and for all stores, saloons, milk depots, etc., where milk is offered for sale $1 per year.

All licensed dairymen and others shall cause their names, names of business and number of their licenses to be kept in a conspicuous place on all vehicles used in distributing milk or in the place of business where milk or cream is sold, and where milk is delivered by hand in cans, the name of the dealer and his license number shall be posted on the cans used in delivery. The deliveryman must at all times have in his possession a certified copy of his license, for exhibition whenever so requested by any patron or city official.

The board of health is empowered to at any time make such further regulations respecting the sanitary conditions of the stables, handling of milk and delivery of same, as it may deem proper.

Cows Must Be Healthy.

No license shall be issued until all the cows of the applicant have been examined and found free from tuberculosis and other contagious and infectious diseases at the expense of the applicant by a registered veterinary, approved by the board of health, who shall file with the city recorder a tuberculosis certificate for every herd inspected. This certificate shall give an accurate description of the different cows, and their tag number, which shall be inserted in the ear by the testing veterinarian. No cow shall be tagged unless found in a healthy condition and free from tuberculosis. Any additional cows added to a dairy must be tested and tagged as hereinbefore provided, before milk from the herd can be sold. Whenever it is found that any cow in a dairy is affected with tuberculosis or other disease rendering the milk impure or unwholesome, sale of the milk from the herd shall be stopped until the herd is again up to standard.

The sale of adulterated and impure milk is forbidden. Adulterated milk shall be taken to mean that with a specific gravity of less than 1.029 or more than 1.033, less than 3 1/2 per cent of fat, or cream which contains less than 18 per cent of milk fat; furthermore, milk drawn from cows within fifteen days before or seven days after parturition, milk drawn from animals fed on fermented or decomposed food, from cows supplied with impure water, from cows in stables where there is insufficient light and ventilation, where any of the dairyman's household or employees are suffering from a communicable disease, or milk that has been diluted with water or to which any foreign substance has been added.

Persons violating any part of this ordinance shall be liable to a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50, or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than five nor more than thirty days. Complaint may be made against any dairyman by any resident of the city upon the board of health shall investigate the complaint, and, in their discretion, the conditions warrant, the board of health shall revoke the milkman's license.

TETANUS FROM PISTOL SHOT.

Joseph Sheridan, Aged Twelve, Critically Ill at St. Mary's.

Small boy, toy pistol, lockjaw. This, the same old story that is being enacted all over the country, following the Fourth of July, has a parallel in Marquette. The victim in this instance is Joseph Sheridan, aged twelve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Sheridan, of Rock street, who now lies critically ill at St. Mary's hospital.

While loading a toy pistol with a blank cartridge on June 26, the load was discharged into the palm of the Sheridan boy's hand, causing a very slight wound, which he said nothing about to his parents for several hours. Meanwhile, the lad attempted to doctor it himself and late that day the wound came to the knowledge of his parents. Some salve in the house was applied and the wound was apparently healing, but about five days after the accident, the boy complained that his hand was stiffer than usual and that his jaws were sore. He was at once taken to a physician, where, the parents say, informed them that the wound seemed to be healing satisfactorily and that the supposed stiffness of the jaws probably existed only in the boy's imagination.

GUILD HALL GROUNDS TO BE BEAUTIFIED

PROCEEDS FROM "BIBI" WILL BE DEVOTED TO THAT PURPOSE—BASEBALL AND BASKETBALL TEAMS TO BE ORGANIZED.

The Young Women's guild of St. Paul's church have turned over to the Guild Hall building committee the proceeds of "Bibi," the first amateur play given at the Guild Hall, amounting to $170, and the committee will devote the money to the beautifying of the premises around the building operations. The improvements are in charge of Kirby Bailey and will be completed in about ten days. A lawn driveway similar to that in the rear of the public library will extend from Ridge street to the rear entrance of the Guild Hall and will be continued in the rear of the plume building through to Arch street. The grounds in front will also be graded, terraced and sodded and a concrete walk will be put in from High street to the side entrance. The work when finished will give the Guild Hall premises a most attractive appearance.

The various gymnasium classes in charge of Mr. Houghens and Mrs. Lindstrom are being well attended, in spite of the summer weather. Mr. Houghens is at present conducting afternoon classes for the older and younger boys, and evening classes for men, and is also keeping a watchful eye on the bathers in the plunge both afternoons and evenings. The businessmen's class from 5 to 6 o'clock on two afternoons each week will also probably be revived.

SAND LOTS DEAL VETOED BY MAYOR

CHIEF EXECUTIVE SUBMITS REASONS FOR DISAPPROVAL OF COUNCIL'S RESOLUTION.

CITY ALREADY HAS SAND

Is of the Opinion That Unlimited Quantity Is to Be Found on Property Adjoining the Lighthouse Reserve.

Mayor Vaughan filed with the city recorder Saturday his veto of the resolution of the common council, passed last Tuesday evening, authorizing the payment of $2,000 from the city treasury for the ten sand lots at the foot of Hewitt avenue, which were illegally purchased by the park, cemetery and street commission a year ago.

In order to purchase the lots over the mayor's veto, the affirmative vote of seven aldermen will be necessary, according to the following provision of the city charter: "All resolutions of the common council involving the expenditure of public moneys shall be approved by the mayor, or other person for the time being performing the duties of his office, but such resolution shall stand as approved unless the mayor, within five days of the passage of such resolutions, shall file with the city recorder a written statement expressing his disapproval of the resolution and giving his reasons therefor. After the filing of objections to such resolution by the mayor as aforesaid said resolution may only be passed and re-enacted by a two-thirds vote of all the aldermen present."

Text of the Veto.

The mayor's communication to the city recorder reads as follows: "Marquette, Mich., July 10, 1909. To the Recorder of the City of Marquette.

"Sir: I hereby disapprove of the resolution of the common council adopted at a session thereof held on July 6, 1909, in effect ratifying the purchase by the park, cemetery and street commission of ten lots in Ely Park addition, in this city, and authorizing the payment of $2,000 and interest, as balance of such purchase. "My reasons for this action are that the lots are not necessary for the purpose for which the purchase is desired, to-wit: the obtaining of sand for public improvements, as the city now owns a strip of land eighty feet wide across the north end of which strikes the lake on the north end at an angle of about one hundred feet of beach. This strip was acquired in 1901 by deed from the government lighthouse board, upon a purchase made at public auction by Peter White, acting in behalf of the city, and from this strip an unlimited quantity of sand can be procured in future.

"The park, cemetery and street commission has not the power to make the purchase, and entered into an illegal transaction thereto without authority of the common council or advice of the city attorney as to their powers; and for the common council to approve of the action of the commission would be to establish a very bad precedent, because in the future the commission might thereby be encouraged to enter into other illegal transactions in the expectation that the common council would later approve their action, whereas the proper course is to first obtain the consent and authority of the council before making contracts of this character, which should also be made in the name of the city, and not of the commission.
