MARQUETTE, MICH., JULY 23.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

There's at least the satisfaction that the grasshopper crop is having a bad crimp put in it.

President Taft has at least assured himself of an epoch making welcome on all stages of his western trip.

Mrs. Thaw says she is an unusual person. The public is thoroughly convinced that it is a good deal worse than that.

Yes, Cuba has legalized cockfighting. But it will be time enough for us to scoff at her when we have put man-fighting under the ban of the law.

Editor Baldwin's expedient of insisting that Mr. Osborn of the Soo will finally turn up as a candidate for congress has made him, for the time, the best advertised newspaper man in the upper peninsula.

We gather that there are serious differences between the Negaunee and Ishpeming teams and their loyal supporters. Unless they can be harmonized and forever taken out of the newspapers the present season will probably mark the windup of our tiny little league.

A company has been organized in Berlin to provide an airship garage, with landing and ascension grounds. The plant will include 1,000 acres and will be provided with great air sheds, shops and benzine and hydrogen reservoirs. "Air ship garage" is a term that sounds odd now, but we will doubtless become familiar enough with it before many years have passed.

The "more daylight" movement has struck the Soo. Manufacturers and business men are endeavoring to bring about a general agreement to set the clocks ahead two hours during the summer months, in order that there may be more daylight for pleasure when the work is done. The plan should operate admirably, providing only that the people would consent to go to bed according to the new, and not to the old, time.

Senator Burrows and Representative Fordney, the two Michigan members of the conference committee, will stick out for a tariff on iron ore to the end, it is reported. For one thing they are said to be pledged to Representative Young to do so. In Burrows' case expediency would, in any event, dictate that course. He is soon to be a candidate for reelection. And in the case of Representative Fordney his well-known high tariff views would incline him to favor protecting iron ore, even if he had not given Mr. Young assurances as to what his course would be. Unfortunately for the chances of a tariff on ore, the drift of opinion on the conference committee appears to favor free ore, and it is generally predicted that the senate rate will be struck out in the conference bill. There is, in fact, apparently more of a willingness to give President Taft free iron ore than any of the other free raw materials he is seeking.

After weeks of a protracted drought the rain that has fallen the past several days has proved so much of a good thing that a great amount of damage has been wrought throughout the northwest. In Duluth, in Ashland and at other points in that territory the downpour this week attained the dignity of a cloudburst, and the damage in and near Ashland is estimated at $500,000. It includes the wrecking of the White river power plant, which furnished the city of Ashland with electrical service, and much other serious damage. At Duluth great havoc was wrought in the city proper, particularly on the hillsides of the residence districts. Duluth has been nearly isolated, because of the serious damage done to railroad road beds, not the least of the sufferers being the South Shore company. The rain that has prevailed steadily since the cloudburst has served to aggravate the situation, particularly where the railroad roads are concerned. Taken as a whole, it has been the most disastrous midsummer wet spell that has been experienced in the northwest in some years.

Concerning Representative Hamilton, of the Michigan delegation, the Chicago Tribune says: "Although not a member of the conference Representative Hamilton has been doing quiet and effective work in the interest of downward revision of the tariff. It was reported erroneously that Mr. Hamilton went to see the president on Thursday last in the interest of high duties on raw materials. As a matter of fact Mr. Hamilton did not take any part in the conference. He and the president understand each other thoroughly and the Michigan member is working in hearty sympathy with the efforts of Mr. Taft to secure proper revision." Representative Diekmann is quoted in the Grand Rapids Press as making the prediction that there will be free hides or no tariff bill: "Taft means business," he said. "He has made up his mind and will have his way if he keeps congress here all summer. He is showing a side of his character which has not been called forth heretofore in his administration and which is a tremendous surprise to those who have believed that good nature is his all prevailing characteristic. He has a tremendous task to accomplish, and he is going at it without fireworks, but with persistency." Speaking further Mr. Diekmann said: "The president's determination extends not only to raw materials, but to downward revision on the necessities of life. The president's earnestness is shown by the reception which he gave figures to support the free hide contention. I took his statistics showing that five of our middle western states which want free hides have 2,000,000 more cattle than the ten western states which are loudly demanding a duty."

A Saginaw dispatch relates that Representative Fordney's seat is in peril because of his course in regard to the tariff bill. Fiddlesticks. The Saginaw district has an apparently inalienable affection for Fordney. His course before the primaries last fall, when he made no effort to conceal his lack of enthusiasm for Mr. Taft, whom his constituents generally wanted to see nominated, was not a popular one, and there was some talk that his opponent in the Republican primaries would give him a close race, but the counting of the votes placed Fordney several thousand to the good. In fact he was so far ahead that there can hardly be said to have been a second. The sure logic of events goes to show that, despite his penchant for getting on the unpopular side of nearly every question that comes up, Representative Fordney has a firm hold on his district, and one that it will require a political cataclysm to shake. There's one thing that counts in his favor. He's no trimmer, but on all occasions has the courage of his opinions. He steers a steady and consistent course, and cordially invites the people who don't like it to make the most of it. This is an attitude that compels respect for the man, even where there is violent dissent from his views. The Saginaw dispatch about an insurrection among Fordney's constituents might have been expected just about now, but there is nothing in past events in his district to indicate that there is anything in it. For our part we believe Representative Fordney will retire from congress only when he decides that he has had enough of it.

The Escanaba school board this week passed a resolution forbidding amateur theatricals under school auspices, except during the commencement season, and also putting the ban on school dances. This action, the Escanaba Press says, is believed to have been prompted by the complaints of parents of students who failed to pass their final examinations. These people assert that students have been forced to devote time to theatrical work which should have been given to their studies. It is not likely that other school boards will hasten to follow the example of the one in Escanaba. Amateur theatricals are generally held to possess a considerable educational value, if given under capable direction, and are also regarded as an acceptable contribution to the social side of high school activities, which must receive some attention. Proper regulations can prevent them from in any way interfering with the work of the students. A certain good average of standings, for instance, might be fixed as a requirement before any student could take part in them. It is a comparatively easy thing to prevent them from interfering with school work. Dancing under direction of public school classes, and at school entertainments, is a matter regarding which there has been much debate. It, too, can be so regulated—principally by permitting dances at only long intervals—in such a way that it will not interfere with school work, and the number of people who object to it because of scruples of conscience are greatly in the minority. As a general thing the failures in the high schools are not to be charged up against these, or any other activities outside the regular school work, but to the indifference, laziness or incorrigibility of the student, although there is now and then a case where a student may make a conscientious effort to do the required work and fail because of his or her mental limitations.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury. Such ointments will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CONGESTED POPULATION. Speaking the other day of the tendency of the people of this country to flock to the cities, Mr. James J. Hill, the well-known railroad magnate, greatly deplored this fact and declared it is inimical to the best interests of the nation. He called attention to the fact that whereas less than twenty years ago two-thirds of the population of the United States was located in the country and on farms, this condition is now almost reversed. In other words two-thirds of the American people now reside in the cities and villages, while only about one-third is left to till the land and follow agricultural pursuits. And in his opinion this is the main and underlying cause of the greatly enhanced cost of living, which condition promises to grow worse unless something can be done to change this tendency of people to desert the country for life in the congested centers of population, thus increasing the number of agriculturists and helping to increase the total output of agricultural products in order to better balance the relation between food supplies and the demand for the same.

A notable example of congested population is to be found in the case of New York, and particularly in that portion of New York which is known as Manhattan island. This is the extreme point of the narrow tongue of land which lies between the Hudson and East rivers, and which is in reality an island on account of Harlem river separating it from the balance of the strip. It embraces an area of approximately 1,200 acres, equal to about ten moderate sized farms of 120 acres each. Yet this comparatively small area boasts of a population of about two and a quarter millions, or about the same number of people as are included in the entire state of Wisconsin. It is, in fact, the heart of New York, in which nearly all of the great skyscrapers and big business concerns of that city are located, and when one considers the conditions of extreme congestion that there prevails it helps to explain why it is necessary to erect buildings of twenty, thirty and even forty stories in order to accommodate all these people and allow them to live and do business without stepping on each other's toes.

Congestion of population like this is necessarily bad for the people themselves, and also for the nation in general. This is perhaps the worst case of the kind to be found in this country, but a somewhat similar situation exists in many of the other larger cities, and the conditions are constantly growing worse. There has been a good deal of talk during the past few years of a "back to the land" movement, and to some extent this plan has been followed by many who find life in the congested centers of population unbearable. It is to be hoped the movement will grow and spread, for there is plenty of room in the country for a much larger proportion of the population, under conditions that are far more healthful and desirable, and where the food problem is more easily solved by those who are dependent on their own exertions for a livelihood.

A recent writer makes the prediction that within the next fifteen or twenty years the growth of population in Manhattan island will reach its maximum, and that from sheer necessity the people will then be forced to seek other locations, largely in the country districts surrounding New York. With the alluring chances and opportunities to be found in the West, where there is still plenty of land to be had at very moderate prices, it would seem that an organized effort should be made to scatter this surplus city population where it can do the most good. Even here in Michigan there are thousands of acres of land still to be developed and brought under cultivation. And in the development of such land is to be found the best and true solution of this objectionable congestion of population in the cities.

"THE STOCK BOARD." An inspection of an old file of the Lake Superior Journal (The Mining Journal under its original name) revealed this editorial article, under the quoted caption, in a number of the paper dated May 18, 1859, or a little over fifty years ago: Another class with whom it is of no use to reason consists of the victims of the stock board mania. A certain kind of stock, a copper stock, for instance, of a certain mine is brought into market. By reason of favorable developments it starts up, changes hands, and goes up, up, up, at every transfer. A green one looks on and sees the money piled into the laps of the old staggers who know all about it, and he pitches in, thinking it perfectly safe to risk himself in the same boat with such financiers. He sells and makes enough to pitch in again and dips a great deal deeper than before, and other greenies dip in, and thus away goes the stock, high up in the air, only to tumble to the ground later. Who does not see the calamitous result of all this, not only to the greedy but to the mine itself? The mine may be the best in the world—and how good, it will experience a calamitous reaction. The fact that a gambler has been "bit" will create a shyness and distrust that will depreciate its real merits. It is far better for the stockholders to have the stock pushed up by the steady uplifting force of its own buoyancy than to have it caught up and carried away in a whirlwind, leaving the parties interested to search in vain for its whereabouts as to value. But this is a madness; the seeds of which are deeply planted, and when once developed it takes possession of the victim with a mastery which neither time nor experience, neither losses nor ruin itself, will subdue. From which it would appear that folly, like history, repeats itself, for what is above reproduced applies in Marquette, and throughout this peninsula, fully as well today as when the editor of the Journal penned it fifty years ago. Men may come and men may go, but the game that enriches a crafty few through impoverishment of the unformed and credulous many who are enticed into playing it goes on forever.

A MISLEADING ADVISER. One Walker of Boston sends out a weekly letter on copper stocks which is misleading to those who put faith in the accuracy and honesty of his information concerning copper properties. As a sample of his unreliability, this, relative to the Superior & Pittsburg, is taken from his last "weekly copper letter":

A Western newspaper, the policy of which is said to be dictated by the gentleman who was chiefly responsible for Superior & Pittsburg, has been publishing a lot of misinformation concerning the property, the object of which apparently is to make buyers for the stock. It goes so far as to state that Superior & Pittsburg is producing its copper at a cost of seven cents per pound, while eleven cents undoubtedly would be much nearer an accurate statement. According to its annual report the company produced 21,324,550 pounds of copper last year, with sales at an average price of 12.948 cents per pound. Its profit on this was considerably less than one cent per pound. It closed the year 1907 with liabilities of $515,937 in excess of assets, and during the year 1908 reduced its excess of liabilities to $479,382, indicating net earnings of $36,337. During the year, however, it purchased $62,250 worth of stocks in other companies. Taking this into consideration its net earnings could not have exceeded $100,000, which is a little less than one-half cent per pound of its production. The statement, therefore, that it is now producing copper at a cost of seven cents is manifestly absurd.

The fact that Superior & Pittsburg is making copper now at a cost well under eight cents per pound, with all the expense of the development and construction work being done charged against the copper produced each month. Furthermore, the indebtedness with which the company has been burdened has been practically cleared out of its earnings, in face of the fact that the price of copper has been abnormally low since it became a producer, and that a good share of the earnings were, necessarily, diverted to opening up and completing the equipment of the mine.

Any investor who is influenced by Walker's statements regarding copper properties will come out a loser ultimately, as those have who put money into Adventure and other properties of that class on the advice he has been giving them right along. He is either wholly uninformed about the properties of which his "weekly letter" treats so glibly, or is corruptly influenced to mislead the investing public. And equally culpable with him are the brokers who send their rotten stuff to their customers.

STARTING WRONG. The objectionableness of the federal corporation tax is not, however, or even halved, by the determination of the conference committee to make the levy 1 per cent instead of 2 per cent. Even if the percentage imposition were less there would still remain the inequality, the limitation to evasion, the violation of sound economic principles, the creation of a stumbling block in the way of future legislative dealings with corporations.

There is an ignorant way and intelligent way of looking at and dealing with corporations. One point of view is that the corporation, per se, is in itself an evil, and if not exactly suppressed should be penalized. The other point of view is that the corporation, in the last analysis, is but a device by which a large number of men may combine together to form a reasonable unit, and is a good thing. Our assumption is that the corporation is probably a public enemy, and the other that it is probably a public friend. In the olden days, when corporations were new, and were associated with monopoly, difficulties were thrown in the way of corporation organization. Charters were hard to obtain, and were gained only through favor. But more lately sounder opinions have prevailed, general incorporation laws have been passed, and free permission has been accorded to associate, to form an artificial person, and to have the ownership of its property actually divided among shareholders.

The national government heretofore had nothing directly to do with corporations. It has not created them, except the business carried on related to banking. But it has long been observed that over corporations engaged in interstate business the creating state has no effective control. Events have been drifting in the direction of some form of national incorporation with the national government, not possessing other people's children, but its own. With this tendency present it is highly desirable that the first step should be in the right direction—should be based on sound principles. This does not occur when the first principle of national legislation concerning corporations assumes that the corporation is a person, and that it should be taxed. This may be good law, but it is not good economics. Looked at in the large the corporation principle is simply an application of the co-operative principle. We sin against the public when we seek to organize or to organize together the development of cooperation. When men began to build ships so large that they could go to sea together there was a gain over the period when each man put out in his own rowboat. Similarly, the corporation mobilizing small capital into efficient aggregates means great social gain—particularly in the interest of the little fellow.

The corporation, whether formed by nation or state, should be regulated—should be controlled by its creator and should exercise the same responsibility to promote the common good, but to tax a certain form of wealth, innocent in itself, is not regulation—it is harmful discrimination. It sets a precedent that if followed in other matters means a weakening of that co-operative principle that lies at the bottom of all progress toward better civilization. It is worth while to have the national government, entering on a new field, to start right, and

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

The absolute vegetable purity of S.S.S. has always been one of the strongest points in its favor, and is one of the principal reasons why it is the most widely known and universally used of all blood medicines. A great many of the so-called blood purifiers are really nothing more than strong mineral mixtures which act so unpleasantly and disastrously on the delicate membranes and tissues of the stomach and bowels, that even if such treatment purified the blood, the condition in which the digestive system is left would often be more damaging to the health than the original trouble. Not so with S.S.S.—it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and at the same time is an absolutely safe and harmless remedy. It is made entirely of the healing and cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks, each of which is in daily use in some form by physicians in their practice. Years of work and research have proven S.S.S. to contain everything necessary to purify the blood and at the same time supply the system with the purest and best tonic effects. S.S.S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and it leaves the system in perfect condition when it has purified the blood. Book containing much valuable information on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

Upper Peninsula School Board Officers Relected—The Menominee school board met in special session this week for the election of officers for the ensuing year. The following were chosen: G. A. Bloch, president; D. M. Wilcox, secretary; George Eisman, secretary, and Charles Spies, chairman pro tem. The officers are the same as those who served during the past year.

License Problem Settled—The Escanaba common council has made a bold and, it is believed, successful attempt to settle the licensing problem which has troubled the city officials for years. The license fee is to be $50 or $75 a week for peddlers or hucksters who remain in the city for but a short time. A sharp blow directed at the large Milwaukee and Chicago houses who frequently send representatives to the city to take orders for goods was delivered by the council when it was provided that such agents must pay a license of $25 for the first day of their stay in the city and $2 a day for each succeeding day. The ordinance also provides for licenses to be paid for conducting theatrical entertainments and circuses, and for auctioneers, draymen, hackmen, and bill posters.

Bulk of the Fleet in Commission—There are now about 70 per cent of the Lake Carriers' vessels in commission, said President Livingstone of the Lake Carriers' association while on a visit to Sault Ste. Marie during the week. The remaining 30 per cent are not in commission because of the strike but because those in commission can handle all the business at present. The coal trade is slack and the boats can easily take care of all the ore demand. As to the strike situation, we are gaining men every day. I can't make any estimate as to how many of those on the boats are union men who have thrown over the union. When men come to the boat and ask for a position we don't ask them whether they had been union men or not. About 4,000 have adopted the welfare plan and the majority of these are non-union men. We are in no way embarrassed for men, seamen, wheelmen and others are returning constantly. Of course there are a few instances of sporadic outbreaks, but these are merely demonstrations made by the agitators. I would say that this month's movement would exceed last month's. The total for the year will be about 35,000,000 tons. It may possibly exceed that.

An Entertaining Community—A visit to the enterprising village of Gould City, thirty mile east of Marquette on the Soo line, gives an idea of what one may expect in the next twenty years in the development of the upper peninsula as an agricultural region. Gould City is located on a high tableland just the least bit rolling in places, but generally level, with a good rich clay and sandy loam, especially adapted to the raising of all kinds of crops, hay and grain and small fruits of all kinds. There is a good highway running north and south through the village and along this highway are situated some fine farms. Many of the places have been under cultivation for a number of years and are entirely clear from stumps and are very productive. Many acres of contract seed peas are being grown this year and there is a good prospect for a fine crop. Strawberries are grown in abundant quantities, as well as other small fruits and all kinds of garden truck. The farmers are industrious and progressive, as their fine stock, good substantial farm buildings, and well dressed families will bear witness. The village has a population of probably 250 or 300 people and was once the active center of large lumbering operations, but as the timber has been cut away and used up, farming has been the occupation.

Marquette's People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease. The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys create a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's Disease or diabetes. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidney at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills, here's Marquette proof: Mrs. C. Carleton, 340 Alger St., Marquette, Mich., says: "For the past year my kidneys have given me trouble and I have had attacks of backache. Hearing good reports of Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them and sent to the Standard Drug Co. for a box. In a short time I felt better and am now in good health. I also know of others who have used this remedy and the results have always been of the best. You are welcome to use my name as one who endorses Doan's Kidney Pills very highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

CIRCUIT COURT ADJOURNS.

Judge Streeter Sentences Boy Burglars and Takes a Rest.

The term of the Houghton circuit court which has been in session since the last Monday in May was adjourned without a day yesterday morning by Judge Streeter. The final session was called for the purpose of disposing of the cases of Sam Bennetts of Calumet and John Echlin of Houghton, boy burglars.

Bennetts was sentenced to three years in the Inonia reformatory. Judge Streeter told the boy that he seemed determined to be a criminal, and the reformatory sentence was the only remedy that he would be kept there for fourteen years and whether or not he was released at the expiration of three years depended upon himself. Bennetts was convicted early in this term of a charge of burglary at Calumet. Owing to his youth he was released on a suspended sentence and the prosecuting attorney McDonald personally took him in charge. He gave the boy permission to purchase digging clothes on his account at a Calumet store, after securing him a job. Bennetts repaid his friend by framing up a drink for McDonald. McDonald will have to settle. He violated his parole otherwise and was brought back to jail with the result that today he will be on his way to Inonia.

Clemency in Echlin Case.

John Echlin is the boy who burglarized the Shetney store some months ago, taking $4. He was employed in the store and he took the money because he had it coming and thought it no wrong to collect. He was released on parole but violated it by setting drink. Judge Streeter said to him yesterday: "I think that you are filled with the had notion that it makes a man out of a boy to get drunk. That seems to be your trouble. I will suspend sentence on you until the first day of the September term of court, 1910, and will place you in the care of your mother. If you take a drink for another liquor or beer in that time under any conditions, and I hear of it, you will be taken in charge of the sheriff and will be sent to the reformatory. And if I have to send you down I'll make the maximum in your case five years." Judge Streeter discussed the Echlin case before court ended. He said that the Echlin boy is not a bad boy naturally, and that he has been spoiled at home to a great extent because he has no brothers. Older brothers would have whipped a lot of wrong ideas out of him before this, the form of whipping which a father or mother cannot inflict. Judge Streeter has confidence that this boy will grow out of his wrong ideas.

LAURIUM TOURNAMENT FUND.

Committee Will Have Little Trouble in Raising Ample Money.

The businessmen of Laurium are going out after the money necessary to the proper holding of an Upper Peninsula Firemen's association tournament, which is to be the big event at Laurium this year. Already $2,000 has been subscribed and it is expected that $1,500 or $2,000 more can be raised. The committee has as yet not approached any Red Jacket people for subscriptions, and has not even got around to all the Laurium businessmen. But those approached to date have responded liberally. A Cincinnati concern has been given the contract of decorating the streets. This firm will also dress the municipal buildings with flags and bunting. These decorations will excel in beauty even Red Jacket's magnificent dress for the June convention in Houghton County. Electric Light company is figuring on the work of stringing the electrical illuminations. Double strings of lights, incandescents placed not more than fourteen inches apart, will be run from First street to Lake Linden avenue on Hecla and from Boundary to Florida on Third street. Then there will be arches and canopies of lights across the streets at short intervals and every corner will be brilliantly illuminated with hundreds of clustered strings of incandescents of all colors. An effort is being made to make these illuminations the finest ever attempted in this part of the county.

SEARCH FOR THE PAKLINK BOY.

Isle Royale Mine Officials Have Siphoned Hole to the Limit.

The search for the body of Mike Paklink, who is believed to have fallen into an old Huron mine pit at Hurontown two weeks ago, still continues, with no success. For the past week Isle Royale mine officials have been operating a siphon in the hope of unwatering the hole to a depth sufficient to permit exploration for the body. The siphon reached its limit yesterday, it being impossible to operate a siphon through more than about thirty feet. It may be now that the company will install a pump and the old pit to lower the water still further, but this had not been decided upon yesterday.

MOTHER AND SON MEET IN JAIL.

Mrs. A. P. Gillis Here to See Boy Charged With Murder.

Mrs. A. P. Gillis of St. Paul arrived in Houghton Wednesday night to visit her son, Charles Gillis, who is in jail pending trial on a charge of murder. He is charged with killing August Gustafson in a row in a West Hancock resort several weeks ago. The father arrived from St. Paul shortly after the son's arrest, but Mrs. Gillis was then seriously ill and could not accompany him.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY PROGRESS.

Houghton Structure to Be a Beautiful Building When Completed.

The public library building at Houghton, the gift of Andrew Carnegie, is an edifice of unusual beauty, though Contractor Michels said yesterday that he wished the rain would cease, as it is delaying the work decidedly. The stone cutters are getting out the fluted columns of Portage Entry redstone which are to decorate the front of the building, and sections of the stone are in place. Some idea of the general appearance of the building may now be gained. It is a square structure of mottled yellow brick and Portage Entry stone, with a massive stone entrance. The building will be a rich appearance on account of the warm color tones of the material. The main floor of the building, the library proper, is in one large room. Here is an ornamental mantelpiece over the fire place. This mantel is made of Lake Superior redstone, and it promises to be a beautiful feature of the interior. The lower floor is divided into a smoking room, class room and lecture room.

A TRIBUTE TO A CHILD.

Funeral Sermon Preached by Rev. John M. Linn of Houghton.

The funeral of twelve-year-old Grace McVicar of Houghton was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Presbyterian church, and Rev. John M. Linn, leading the service, paid the child the following tribute: "It is the saddest duty of human life, when we look through merely human vision, unenlightened by the glory of the deathless mansions above. In it all that is left to us upon earth of the child we have loved. But sad as this duty is, it is our privilege to see, in this death, another instance of how God, in his moral government, has graciously provided for us a way to the life beyond. The street is mud from one end to another, the rains have washed away parts of it and traffic has suffered as a result. A member of the city council went to the street yesterday and every day it rains. And he is not what is needed there. And he is not the first councilman who has done so. The street is crooked and at the points of the turns very narrow. This street is used more than any thoroughfare in Houghton or Laurium, as over it passes all the traffic between the two towns, and that from Hancock to Ripley and Dollar Bay. It is used by the street railway line and the automobile transportation company. Hundreds of vehicles pass over this street in a day.

FOR HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS.

Gymnasium Is Proposed for Young Women of Calumet Institution.

A prominent Calumet citizen proposes that the board of school district No. 1 shall provide a gymnasium for the girls of the high school. He brings forth the argument that the boys have the Y. M. C. A. and their baseball, basketball, football, hockey and boxing, and that the girls get is walking out and from school or going to an occasional dancing party. Even the boys have some sort of exercise in the school, with their manual training, much of which is hard work and labor. But the girls, in their regular school work, get no exercise, get none of this. As a result, it is claimed, Calumet's future society ladies and mothers will be weak and unfitted for life in this rigorous climate. If they were provided with a gymnasium and a competent instructor in gymnasium work and were required to take some gymnasium work each day they would make better and more healthy women. It is argued, too, that gymnasium training for the girls means better and more sturdy manhood in the future for this district.

Almost every high school boy is a member of the Y. M. C. A. Christian boys who are not members are generally to be found at work out of their school and study hours, but the girls are neglected shamefully. There was some talk at the time the Y. M. C. A. moved into its new home of turning the old building into a Young Woman's Christian association home and gymnasium. The plans fell through, and no one seems to have had sufficient interest in the girls since then to take up the matter again.

RECORD FOR UNLOADING COAL.

Steamer Stanton Discharges 10,000 Tons in Twenty-Five Hours.

The steamer John Stanton, which has been unloading coal at the Copper Range dock, left yesterday morning for Duluth for a cargo of iron ore. The boat brought to the dock 10,000 tons and 1,700 tons. This amount of coal was unloaded in two and one-half working days, or twenty-five hours, which is a record for the dock. The coal at this dock is all unloaded by means of clamshell buckets, with the exception of the last few hundred tons, when longshoremens are called in.

REV. DANIEL STALKER HOME.

Rev. Daniel Stalker of Calumet is home from Ishpeming, where he went this week to attend a meeting of the Lake Superior Presbytery convened in regard to the recent resignation of Rev. H. Platt by the Y. M. C. A. Presbyterian church. Mr. Stalker also transacted other business in the iron country. He is moderator of the Presbytery. Mr. Platt, who is well known in the upper peninsula, has resigned from the Gladstone pulpits to accept a large one in central Indiana. His successor has not yet been named, but a call will be sent out in the near future.

Lots more people would want to live in the suburbs if it was improved to do so.

TUMOR OF FOUR YEARS' GROWTH

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindley, Ind. - "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removed my cyst tumor of four years' growth, which three of the best physicians declared I had. They said that only an operation could help me. I am very glad that I followed a friend's advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has made me a strong and well as long as I live." - Mrs. MAY FRY, Lindley, Ind.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy - tumor. If you have mysterious pains, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been a standard remedy for female ailments, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

MOHAWK.

There is much confidence in the future of Mohawk. This was not been a fact by the recent declaration of only a $1 dividend. The cause for such confidence is attributable very largely to the opening of the new No. 6 shaft, which began within the last month, and the very good reason for expecting that it will develop an unusually good output of the Keamsburg lode. This shaft is located almost exactly midway between Mohawk's No. 5 shaft and the southern boundary of Mohawk. To one familiar with the mineral conditions both north and south of the location of this new shaft, the possibilities for its future are very impressive. By all odds, Mohawk's best showing at present is in its drifts outward from No. 5 shaft toward the territory which will be commanded by the new No. 6 shaft. In fact, one or two of the longer drifts have already entered ground that will ultimately become tributary to No. 6, and in the breasts of these drifts, the copper continues in undiminished value.

Directly south of Mohawk, adjoining its southern boundary, lies Alameda, a remarkably valuable property generally well known. Many of the Alameda's north drifts are now breasted against this boundary, and if any part of Alameda's ground can be picked out as better than the other parts, it would probably be this northern territory, which reaches out toward Mohawk. An attempt to designate the richest part of the Alameda's openings is difficult, however, because the copper is distributed with such regularity throughout its entire developed average. It is, therefore, not surprising that the No. 6 shaft is located with singular advantage in respect to neighboring rich ground on the Keamsburg lode, both north and south of it. It is true that the time when this shaft can become a contributing factor to Mohawk's rock supply is a matter of two or three years, but the showing equals that in either its neighbors to the north or to the south, an extensive and valuable addition to Mohawk's resources will follow. The shaft is to be sunk in the foot wall of the lode and will come to the surface before the first crosscut is driven, consequently, the character of the lode will not be determined by underground openings for several months.

NORTH BUTTE.

It is rumored at Butte that North Butte has purchased the Granite Mountain claim from the Lewislons. The claim lies directly between the Edith May and Jessie claims of North Butte, and crosses from Edith May to the Jessie on the 1290, 1400, 1690 and 1800-foot levels pass through Granite Mountain. They have cut a small vein in the latter's ground, but found no ore. The Lewislons believed the property to contain good ore and after the big North Butte strikes they began sinking a shaft and put it down 500 feet, but then stopped, having become satisfied that the ground was of little value. The ground is useful to North Butte, which on the basis of the probable purchase, North Butte has now engaged in making connections with the Lewislons shaft and raising from the three levels, the intention being to make a second working shaft to be complete down to the 1690-foot level by the first of the year. Connections will also be established with the Budget State shaft of Boston & Montana, principally for ventilation and safety. The crosscut on the 2290-foot level is being pushed north to the Jessie vein and the latter should be reached by the middle of October. The company has great hopes of doing the Jessie good at that level, which would redeem the property or further injure it if the vein proves as disappointing as the Edith May.

PINCHOT'S HAND STAYED.

No Longer the Master of the National Forests.

Status of His Service Is Subject of Controversy Between Two Administrative Departments—Forester May Retire if He Is Not Allowed to Rule the Reserves—How Protection Has Been Gradually Thrown About the National Timber Supply.

Washington, July 22.—Gifford Pinchot, United States Forester, has had his hand under this administration he had under the one which ended March 4 last. He originated the nation's forest policy, and has accomplished things which have made him talked about in every civilized country. From the day he took hold of the rapidly disappearing forests until he has risen, and in which some friends of the forest conservation movement fear will tend to cripple the efficiency of the Forest Service, grows out of seeming conflicts in the law under which the department of agriculture and the department of the interior operate. The public domain is under the jurisdiction of the interior department, and in view of the fact that the forests are on the public domain there has always been the possibility of conflict of opinion as to whether the authority of one department ended and that of the other began. There was no friction under the last administration because Ethan Allen Hitchcock, while Secretary of the Interior, and James R. Garfield, while he occupied the office, considered everything that Mr. Pinchot thought, Secretary Wilson, requested. Mr. Ballinger, the new secretary of the interior, is not disposed to yield where yielding would seem to surrender any of the authority to which his department is entitled.

Why Pinchot May Retire.

The controversy goes to the management of the vast reserves that have been created in the public domain the last few years. Some of the reserves are covered with forests; others are not, and gradually the forest service has acquired the management of these vast tracts. Secretary Ballinger, who is a good lawyer and insists on the law being respected even to the smallest technicality, believes his departments has rights which it must have to exercise. The whole situation has been put up to the attorney general for a decision. If there should be an opinion that the agriculture department, through the forest service, has overstepped the authority granted it by congress, the forest service machinery will, of course, have to be overhauled. Some of Mr. Pinchot's friends are not certain he would care to stay on as the forester if he were not permitted to administer the forest reserves.

On July 1, 1901, the Division of Forestry became the Bureau of Forestry (now the forest service, since the act of March 3, 1905), employing practically all the trained foresters in the United States, and engaged in almost every State and Territory, except the actual administration of the government forest lands, which remain in the department of the interior.

How The Law Originated.

In the meantime, with the increasing realization that the nation's timber supply must be protected, and with the immense growth of irrigation interests in the West, the necessity for retaining permanent federal control over selected forest areas was recognized by a brief section of the act of March 3, 1907, which authorized the president to establish forest reserves, now called national forests. The first exercise of this power was in the creation of the Yellowstone Park Timber Land Reserve, proclaimed by President Harrison, March 30, 1907.

The mere creation of national forests, however, without provision for their administration, was both ineffectual and annoying to local interests dependent upon their resources. On the theory that the management of land, not of forests, was chiefly involved, this law gave the secretary of the interior authority over the forests and provided that their surveying, mapping, and general classification should be done by the United States Geological Survey and the execution of administrative work by the General Land Office.

But the technical and complex problems arising from the necessary use of forest and range soon demanded the introduction of scientific methods and a technically trained force, which could not be provided under the existing system. The advice and services of the bureau of forestry were found necessary, but, under the law, could be but imperfectly utilized. The necessity of consolidating the various branches of government forest work became apparent and was urged upon congress by the President and all the executive officers concerned. Finally, the act of Feb. 19, 1905, transferred to the secretary of agriculture entire jurisdiction over the national forests, except in matters of surveying and passage of title.

This act of 1905 was construed by both the department of agriculture and the department of the interior to divide the jurisdiction over forest reservations as follows: All grants of rights or privileges within forest reserves, which do not affect the title of the land or cloud the fee, are under the jurisdiction of the secretary of the interior. It is probably true that when congress made the transfer of jurisdiction to the department of agriculture it did not realize that in four years the agricultural department, through the forest service, would be administering millions of acres of the public domain.

Ballinger's Old Legal Mind.

The conflict is one over the law in the case, and apparently there is no good reason why advocates of a progressive forest policy such as Mr. Pinchot has introduced, should be exercised about the possibility of the forest policy being seriously crippled; and yet, it is well to bear in mind that the Pinchot policy has many enemies in the mountainous West who would be greatly pleased if what they call the "Pinchot despotism" could be overthrown. Even if Secretary Ballinger had any other motive than to have the law rightly observed (and no one believes he has any desire to injure the service), President Taft could be depended on to see that no backward step is taken. The introduction of Mr. Pinchot's forest policy marked one of the great forward steps of the last few years. The country would hardly acquiesce in any action that tended to weaken the protection which the policy has thrown about the national forests.

FEW NEW CUBAN LAWS.

Session of the First Congress Not Fruitful—A National Lottery, However, Has Been Created.

Havana, July 22.—Cuba's first congress under the restored republic adjourned after an almost continuous session of five months. It was, however, only toward the end of the session that the few important bills which managed to get through both houses were ready to receive the presidential signature.

Among the most important bills which emerged from the congress was the national lottery. This bill went through only at the last moment, the long delay being due to the usual wrangling, and also to the settlement of the question of who should receive the much-coveted post of director of the lottery. The most conspicuous candidate was Morua Delgado, the negro ex-president of the senate, who was finally appointed by President Gomez, but resigned on discovering that Secretary of the Treasury Villegas, of whose department the lottery is a part, had distributed among his friends some of the choicest positions connected with the office. The government expects to sell about $8,000,000 worth of tickets annually and to obtain a net profit of $2,000,000. Brokers here report that they have already received large orders for tickets from the United States which they will attempt to fill in defiance of the efforts of the United States postal authorities to prevent the introduction of tickets into the country.

It is expected that the first drawings will take place early in September. The drawings will be held, as in Spanish lands, publicly in the treasury building. The old Spanish apparatus also will be used, with the curious alteration that, instead of the globes containing the numbered balls being revolved by hand, they will be actuated by a small electric motor, which is supposed to furnish an additional guarantee of the absolute fairness of the operation. As formerly, the numbered balls, as they fall from the globes, will be handled by small boys from the orphan asylum.

The very first law to be passed by congress was declared unconstitutional when submitted to the supreme court. This was a purely political measure, to take the appointive power away from the ablest of municipalities and vest it in the councils, the latter being overwhelmingly liberal, while many of the ablest, including that of Havana, are conservative. The bill legalizing the national sport of cockfighting was the principal slogan of the liberals during the presidential campaign, and it was assumed that the bill, backed by a strong popular demand, would go through with a rush on the opening of congress, but it

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Home of Swamp-Root, Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

H. E. Kellen left last night for the South, where he is engaged in lumbering.

The Normal school faculty defeated the students in a basketball game yesterday; final score, 35 to 23.

John Jacobs has returned from the West, where he has been looking after his mining interests.

St. Mary's guild will meet this afternoon with the Miss Werner's, 121 East Hought street.

Mrs. C. W. Keel and son Carl are visiting relatives in Chicago and Kewanee, and will be absent from the city about two months.

The Kappa Alpha Pi fraternity will give a pavilion dancing party at Presque Isle this evening. The Peerless orchestra will furnish the music.

Miss Corinne Bertrand, cashier at Ormsbee & Atkins' store, and her cousin, Eva Fontaine of Escanaba, are enjoying a vacation trip to Calumet and Lake Linden.

Mrs. Allen Cowden, West Michigan street, has as her guest Mrs. W. H. Jobs of Stambaugh. Mrs. F. C. Mellon, who has been visiting her, has left for her home at Buffalo, N. Y.

Handy Order Lists—Delf's grocery is furnishing its customers with handy order lists, which housekeepers will find it convenient to hang in the kitchen. The outfit contains lists of groceries and provisions, with an erasable tablet and pencil attached.

Islemping Here Sunday—Islemping and Marquette baseball teams will cross bats at the fair grounds Sunday and, if the weather is favorable a record crowd is expected. The members of the Marquette team are anxious to put a stop to Islemping's winning streak and are confident that they will be able to turn the trick.

Rain Stopped Loading—But little work was done at the ore docks yesterday on account of the rain, which fell almost continuously throughout the day. The Shenado, Centurion and England are lying at the L. S. & I. dock, the Gil-herst at the South Shore dock, and the Frontena and Thompson are at the Pickands coal dock.

Caught a Whopper—Dan Sullivan, landman of the Hotel Clinton, sent word yesterday fishing on the Au Train river had returned last evening with seven ten-pound trout, one of which is said to be the largest rainbow trout ever caught in the river. It was twenty-four inches long and weighed about four and a half pounds. The fish was hooked with a spinner in the meadows below the falls and was landed without a net. A. LaValle accompanied Mr. Sullivan and also made a nice catch.

Will Give Organ Recital—Professor Wm. E. Zuehl, of Chicago, is in the city as the guest of Morgan Jophug, and will give an organ recital at St. Paul's church next Wednesday night. Professor Zuehl gave an organ recital here last winter and needs no introduction to Marquette people. He is considered a master of the modern pipe organ and is organist in one of the largest churches in Excelsior. He is an organist in his home very similar to the one at St. Paul's church.

Meeting of Doctors—Aug. 3 and 4 are the dates which have been selected for the annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Medical society, which will convene in Calumet. This event is in the nature of a convention of the medical men of the upper peninsula, who will be the guests of the Houghton County Medical society on those dates. A splendid program will be prepared for the entertainment of the upper peninsula society, and it is expected that a large number of Marquette physicians will be in attendance.

Surplus of Rain—Ten days ago today one was clamoring for rain and today people are just as anxious to have the rain cease. According to the report of the weather bureau, 1.16 inches of rain fell yesterday, 38 of an inch Wednesday and 24 hundredths of an inch Tuesday. This seems like a heavy rainfall and so it is, but it looks pretty small beside the 7.12 inches that fell in Duluth in forty-eight hours. Yesterday, from 3:04 to 3:09 p. m., one-tenth of an inch of rain fell in Marquette and 15 hundredths of an inch fell within ten minutes.

Water Reasonably Safe—Superintendent Kern, of the city water works, has received from the state board of health an analysis of a sample of water taken from the intake about July 15, concerning which the state bacteriologist says: "The chemical findings in this water indicate at the present time a very high degree of purity. The bacteriological findings are numerically very good but a few colon bacilli are present, which is especially significant. The amount of contamination, however, is too slight to be detected chemically and is only slightly indicated bacteriologically, so the water at present may be regarded as reasonably safe."

Silver Wedding Anniversary—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bernard, Jr., was pleasantly celebrated at their home, 2400 Champion street, last evening, about thirty of the relatives being present. A 6 o'clock dinner was served and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard were the recipients of numerous silver and cut glass presents. In this connection it is worthy of note that the parents of both Mr. and Mrs. Bernard will celebrate their golden wedding this year. That of Mrs. Bernard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pellissier, was celebrated last May, and that of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bernard, Sr., will be celebrated next Monday.

Bad Character in Jail—Peter Neimi, whom the police officials regard as one of the most troublesome characters in the county, was brought to the county jail yesterday afternoon by Marshal Twierow, of Islemping, where he will remain until the Superior court term in court to answer to a charge of assault. It is alleged that Neimi while intoxicated broke into the residence of an Islemping family and sought a quarrel, in the course of which he received some nasty cuts about his head. Neimi has often been in trouble in Islemping and Negabee and was up for assault at the last term of circuit court, but was released as the complaining witness did not appear against him.

ROADS BEING RUINED BY AUTOMOBILES
EXPERTS EVERYWHERE STUDYING HOW TO SAVE MACADAM HIGHWAYS—WHEEL TAX PROPOSED.

Automobiles with their many advantages have brought to American cities a new problem in street construction. All over the country they are trying to solve this problem and it is time Marquette county got into line. This was the substance of the statement made by a well-informed citizen yesterday, and continuing he said: "Years ago it was the heavy teaming which we were obliged to contend against, and the macadam or properly made gravel road was a perfect pavement for the lesser traveled roads. Now this is changed. The big automobiles with their wide rubber tires are ruining the streets of the city and the county road and the rapidly increasing number of machines makes action of some kind absolutely necessary. "When the surface of a macadam street is injured it takes only a very short time for the entire street to be ruined. The automobile traffic has a peculiar effect upon streets. The tires seek to suck the dust from the surface and the truth is a street is simply torn up and scattered to the winds. Ruts form and in a short time the crown of the street is carrying off the water instead of the gutters. That means a new street. "In other cities engineers are experimenting with all sorts of bituminous and asphalt macadam preparations, endeavoring to hit upon the proper material. In some kind of asphalt macadam the solution of the problem probably will be found. The hardened asphalt after the voids are filled binds the crushed stone and gravel together and at the same time the dangerous and slippery effect found in sheet asphalt is avoided. The asphalt macadam streets are comparatively dustless and while they are rather expensive they bid fair to solve the question.

Tax the Automobiles. "While I know that such a thing would prove very unpopular it seems to me some method of extra taxation such as the wheel tax might well be levied against automobile owners. One big auto will do more to ruin a street in a season than dozens of carriages and wagons and I fail to see why the auto owners should not be compelled to help repair the damage they make."

Road experts are investigating the merits of bitarva or asphalt oils used in sprinkling streets in many cities. This oil which is a product grown in Spain is soluble in water and is applied with the aid of an ordinary sprinkling wagon equipped with a special spray. It is necessary to close the street for three-six or forty-eight hours in order to allow the stuff to harden after which it is said, a hard and dustless surface is presented, which will last for several months.

In addition to saving the sprinkling expense and eliminating the dust nuisance this asphalt oil is said to lessen much of the wear and tear upon macadam or gravel streets.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. QUESTIONING 'PHONE COMPANIES.
State Tax Commissioners Trying to Arrive at Fair Valuation.

The state tax commissioners are sending a list of eighty-eight questions to all telephone companies in the state to aid the commission in arriving at a valuation of the phone properties for ad valorem taxation purposes as required by the act of the legislature at the last session. These questions are as to the amount of all kinds of property each company owns, as for instance, switchboards, repeating coils, storage coils, ringing machines, pay stations, desks, office furniture, phones in stock, tools and shop machinery, teams and wagons, conduits, poles, manholes, crossarms, brackets, insulators, anchors, guys, cables and private right of way. When the answers have been received agents will be sent out to verify the answers where verification is deemed necessary. By this system the commissioners expect to be able at a minimum expense to complete the valuation of all telephone companies. The companies furnishing all information asked and all work is progressing satisfactorily.

DON'T BE A WHINER.

It is a vital thing to see a young man whining over his lot in life, and exhibiting indifference and inaction because of hard luck or some cruel fate which has put stumbling blocks in his way. No matter what your environment, or what you may be called upon to go through, face it like a man, without whining. Turn your face to the sun, your back to the shadows and look the world in the face without whining. Make the most of your situation, see the beauties in it and not the ugly features. This is the way to improve an unfortunate environment.—Success Magazine.

Economy

is a virtue few cultivate as one of the cardinal blessings of life, the possession of which is almost indispensably necessary to any degree of success.

The spendthrift can never hope to reach the goal of contentment or happiness, for his cravings will remain unsatisfied, his desires unfulfilled. And in time he will come to the end of his resources; constant dropping wears away the hardest stone, and in a like manner the largest fortunes soon can be wasted by reckless expenditures.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s correspondent at New York yesterday telegraphed as follows: "The list rallied in the last hour after being very irregular throughout the session. United States Steel issues were weak early, but later rallied on rumors that prices on finished products would be advanced. News from Washington indicates that the tariff deadline is at an end, and it is expected that there will not be much delay in settling matters. The settlement of the tariff question should stimulate a greater activity in all lines, and will undoubtedly be reflected in the stock list."

North Butte. Boston, July 22.—There has been buying of North Butte today by investors in close touch with Messrs. Cole and Ryan. The purchase of an adjoining claim by the company recently shows that the management is preparing for a larger reduction of the stock. The copper company. Naturally with the amount of the stock so accumulated, it being alleged that a Devonshire street banking house has accumulated 200,000 shares of the stock, or control, presumably in the interest of Amalgamated Copper company. Farmer Loses a Leg.—Both bones crushed and only portions of flesh holding the almost severed section, John Gescon, a farmer living at Bark River, Delta county, cut one leg so badly in a threshing that time will be able to increase the production largely. There is no apparent reason for a reduction in the dividend rate, and investors are not likely to be better than the usual quarterly dividend of 81 at the meeting in August.

Copper Consumers Stocking Up. Boston, July 22.—That copper is selling at the lowest price at which it will sell during the next two months, notwithstanding the unfavorable statistical position, is the belief of several of the largest copper consumers, and they are acting accordingly in buying far in advance of actual needs. One large manufacturing concern, living at Carter Bay, who some time ago was badly injured by the bursting of a gun while shooting a huge pine snake, has profited by his experience. His firm is fairly overrun with the specimen of the reptile tribe, and this week he ran across a serpent over eight feet long. His first thought was to get his gun, and then he remembered his last experience. He killed the snake with a club. The reptile was the largest of its species killed in the county in years.

opinion prevails that the exports will show a falling off. No sign of this as yet is noted, however. The exports up to July 20 were 19,222 tons, or 43,057,280 pounds, which is at the monthly rate of approximately 70,000,000 pounds, or nearly up to last month's exports of 71,000,000 pounds. On July 15 the foreign stocks were reported at 142,195,200 pounds, an increase since the first of the month of 6,451,200 pounds. The visible supply stood at 157,830,000 pounds. At present prices the producers are not inclined to regard the large accumulations abroad as bearing in any way except sentimentally upon the home market.

Boston, July 22.—A private cable today stated that sales of 2,200 tons of copper were made on the London Metal exchange at 290 this morning. The London government appeared as a buyer and took a large tonnage of cash copper. Should the foreign governments re-organize their respective navies as has been intimated for some time there will be a world-wide demand for copper in the European market, which should result in a material depreciation of the existing stocks of the metal.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, July 22.—Another three-cent break in the July, following a slump of similar magnitude yesterday, brought the price of that wheat option here today down to 81 1/2. The market opened extremely weak, and the slump occurred during the first few minutes. The demand for the September was the feature of the trading throughout the day. The market continued nervous throughout the session especially in respect to the July, but the undertone was one of weakness. The movement of the new crop was still on the increase, the crop in the Southwest were from 2 to 3 cents lower, while the advance from Australia indicated a record-breaking crop in prospect. The close was fairly steady, at a net loss of 1/4 to 2/4 @ 2 1/4. The July opened at 112 1/4; highest, 114 1/4; lowest, 112; closing, 113 1/4.

On this market was firm all day on buying by institutional traders. The close was firm, unchanged to 1/4 higher. The July opened at 45 1/4; highest, 46; lowest, 45 1/4; closing, 45 1/2.

gon was abandoned. Subsequently the Menominee River Lumber company sold the surface rights to Wm. A. Turner of Vulcan, and the land is now occupied by several hundred families who work in the mines about Vulcan and East Vulcan. A few years ago Mr. Bull commenced suit against the Menominee River Lumber company for the surface right in the land, claiming that he had not released his rights, and placing his claim at $50,000. After a number of postponements the case was tried in the Dickinson county court during the year 1908, and attracted considerable attention. Judge Stone has recently rendered a decision favorable to the contentions of the Menominee River Lumber company, after having had the case under advisement for a number of months.

WHOLESALE GETTING THEIR CHRISTMAS TOYS

IMPORTATIONS NOW BEING RECEIVED AND MANY NOVELTIES ARE PROMISED FOR THE COMING SEASON.

Santa Claus' advance agents, with their shirt sleeves rolled up, are working like beavers preparing for next Christmas. Such a statement sounds odd, doesn't it, while all are sweating in torrid mid-summer? But it is a fact. The first Christmas toys, importations from Nuremberg and Sonneberg, Germany, are arriving at the distributing centers, and men are unpacking them, arranging them in storerooms, and putting together the parts of those toys that are transported in pieces like machinery.

From now on until the snow begins to fly, other carloads will keep coming to the wholesale toy houses so that those employees of old Santa Claus will have a pretty busy time of it all summer long.

America Now Making Toys.

Many toys will come from Germany, but America is getting into making nowadays. Milwaukee has a factory and there are large factories in Winchendon and Granville, Mass., East Hampton, Conn., Pawtucket, R. I., and Philadelphia, Pa. Electrical toys are an American specialty. Wooden toys are also being made here in large quantities, and the cheap line of dolls, Gipsies, dolls, tinners, turn out drums, little pianos, xylophones, Trinity chimes and a lot of other noisemakers.

One novelty from abroad this year is an aeroplane with a policeman in it, his legs dangling, his movable right arm brandishing a sword and his left arm stiffly extended in the direction of the malefactor he has in view. There are lots of other airship toys, which reflect the general interest that has attached during the last six months to attempts at navigating the air. German toy-makers impartially follow both Zeppelin and the Wrights.

Roosevelt's hunting trip in Africa also has given toy-makers some ideas for novelties in the line of playthings. You will see giraffes, hippos, rhinos, lions and all the other wild beasts of the jungle in the shop windows when they begin to display their Christmas wares. There are also panama scenes from the jungles with Roosevelt, Kermit and guides hunting the black maned lion and other ferocious beasts.

Many Novelties This Year.

These are but one or two of the many new things in the Christmas toy line arriving at the wholesale toy houses, and that is why his branches all over the world, so he won't have to go so far every time the big bag on his back becomes empty.

ASK MANY QUESTIONS.

State Tax Commissioners Plan for Placing Valuation on Telephone Property. Lansing, July 22.—The state tax commissioners are sending a list of eighty-eight questions to all telephone companies in the state to aid the commission in arriving at a valuation for telephone taxation purposes as required by act of the legislature last session. These questions are as to the amount of all kinds of property each company owns, as for instance, switchboards, repeating coils, storage coils, ringing machines, pay stations, desks, hand instruments, handsets, stock tools and shop machinery, beams and wagons, conduits, poles, manholes, crossarms, brackets, insulators, anchors, gins, cables and private right of way.

SERPENTS IN THE CARGO.

Steamer Hohenfels Brings Thirty-Six Cobras and Pythons from India. Boston, Mass., July 22.—After ploughing her way a third of the way round the world, the steamer Hohenfels, laden with a valuable cargo from India, came up the harbor and docked at the Mystic wharf. She came from Calcutta via the Suez canal, and made the long trip in forty-seven days. Her cargo was a queer jumble of articles including a number of products from India, but strangest of all were seven giant cobras and twenty-nine big pythons, brought to supply the demands of American physicians.

During the long voyage the big serpents required much care, and many of the crew of twenty-seven lascars were in mortal terror of a bite from the cobras. As the lascars rattled about the deck in their bare feet yesterday they seemed glad to have reached Boston without any of them being hurt. The pythons were in the iron ore country, entered into an agreement with the Menominee River Lumber company, whereby it leased to him land for townsite purposes near the present station of Vulcan, Mich. He platted and cut out streets for a town named Stragon, but through the influence of the late A. C. Brown with the C. & N. W. company the depot was located some distance west of Bull's proposed townsite, and the town of Stragon was abandoned.

Understood. "There were only two places hotter than Philadelphia yesterday," he remarked to the girl at the soda fountain. "What were they?" "One of them was Galveston, and the other—the other?" "Never mind," she interrupted. "I understand."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Presence of Mind.

"Not dressed yet?" he cried in mild surprise as he entered his wife's boudoir. "No," she snapped. "They've not sent my dress, and I've literally nothing I can wear. I can't possibly go to the horse show. What an earth can I do?" He pondered a moment, until an idea struck him. "You might—you might take a bath," he suggested.

NO HEAD AGAINST TAMMANY

Committee of One Hundred Not Adopting Methods Adequate to Change the Administration. New York, July 22.—True to the fears expressed some time ago, the Bingham incident has come and gone without proper avail being made of it by the anti-Tammany element at this preparatory stage of the municipal campaign.

Best Bulk Lead, 14c lb.

Without the faintest desire to discourage reform, one cannot but recall that the average New Yorker does not concern himself with the personality of the administration in charge of the city. As to material things within his immediate range of observation, he cares more whether the electric light is so placed that it shines in his bedroom window than he does about graft. The city may suffer in the matter of snow or garbage removal, and so long as his own block is kept reasonably clean, it doesn't matter much about his neighbor's.

Best Standard Tomatoes, 6 cans, 55c.

However, the workers of the committee of one hundred are not discouraged by these prospects. Many topics, so their representatives announce, which the newspapers will not discuss because they are too dry and involve too much detail of fact and figures, are to be laid before the people in the course of a general campaign of education which will so improve the intelligence of the populace on things municipal that the veriest child will recognize a debt limit if it meets one in Broadway.

Best Flour, 5 brands, 49 lb. sack, $1.75.

It requires no gift of prophecy to see what Tammany methods will do to a campaign propaganda built up on these lines, particularly now that the police department is once more back in the city. In the interest of good and efficient government the Bingham case must not be lost sight of, and if the committee of One Hundred becomes so interested in its house-to-house canvass that it forgets or neglects the Bingham matter, and the Citizens' union becomes so intent upon the examination of the records of all candidates, irrespective of party affiliations or the tickets on which they are nominated, that it has no time to develop the Bingham issue, then the Republican organization must take the lead.

A Bitter Dose.

An old negro was riding on the train and fell asleep with mouth wide open. A mischievous drummer came along, and, having a convenient capsule of quinine in his pocket, he uncorked it and sifted it well on the old negro's palate and the root of his tongue. The old dorky, awakening, became much disturbed. He called for the conductor and asked, "Boss, is dere a doctor on dis here train?" "I don't know," said the conductor. "Are you sick?" "Yas, sah; I sho' is sick. I sho' is sick."

Without the faintest desire to discourage reform, one cannot but recall that the average New Yorker does not concern himself with the personality of the administration in charge of the city. As to material things within his immediate range of observation, he cares more whether the electric light is so placed that it shines in his bedroom window than he does about graft. The city may suffer in the matter of snow or garbage removal, and so long as his own block is kept reasonably clean, it doesn't matter much about his neighbor's.

Best Bulk Lead, 14c lb.

However, the workers of the committee of one hundred are not discouraged by these prospects. Many topics, so their representatives announce, which the newspapers will not discuss because they are too dry and involve too much detail of fact and figures, are to be laid before the people in the course of a general campaign of education which will so improve the intelligence of the populace on things municipal that the veriest child will recognize a debt limit if it meets one in Broadway.

"A RURAL TRAGEDY"

(A DRAMA OF ACTION)

The roar and crackle of flames, the crash of falling timbers, the hoarse shouts of a frantic mob are mingled with the screams of a woman, caught apparently beyond hope of escape in the burning house, the eager flames licking at most to the hem of her skirts, in the once seen, never-to-be-forgotten climax of this powerful drama of love and hate. There is nothing artificial about this scene. The house is real, the fire is real, and when the last pathetic incident of this exciting story is enacted, all that remains of the pretty country house is a mass of charred and smoking embers.

It is something to talk about, for its like has never been shown in moving pictures before—an actual house, of no flimsy, but genuine, construction, deliberately destroyed by fire, and the final parts of the story acted amid scenes of real danger. When the heroine is rescued from the burning house the danger is vividly true, it is not merely sulphur smoke, but a seething mass of real flames.

The love story leading up to these wonderful scenes is full of strength.

We have other good pictures—"COUNTRY GIRLS' PERIL" and "FOUND ON THE ROCKS" and two new songs for this program. (7-23-24)

FORVILLY'S PREDICAMENT.

Umpire Had Fans and Teams to Satisfy in Marquette-Negaunee Game.

Joe Forvilly, who umpired the game between the Marquette and Negaunee teams at the Union Park grounds a week ago last Sunday, has been criticised because he did not call the game on account of the rain. Forvilly realized that he was in a tight place, but he believes that he did what was right in compelling the teams to play the nine innings. He said:

"If I had called the game in the fifth inning, when the score was nothing to nothing, the fans would have kicked, if I had called it in the sixth, when the score was one to nothing in favor of Negaunee, Marquette would have kicked, if I had called it in the seventh, when the score was two to one in favor of Marquette, Negaunee would have kicked. I did what I thought best and I had no desire to favor either team. In all the games I have umpired I have tried to be as fair as possible and I think from what the different managers have told me my umpiring has been fairly satisfactory. With reference to that particular game, I considered that the grounds were in good condition when play was resumed in the seventh inning, at which time Marquette was in the lead. Negaunee won the game fairly, though I believe that if all the Marquette players had played their positions as well as they did earlier in the contest, Negaunee would not have won. There were two or three balls sent out in the last inning that should have been taken care of, but the players who set them, go by were playing too far from their legitimate territory to get them."

Guess number yards of embroidery displayed in large window. Winner will be presented with pair of cards or certificates at the "After Supper Sale" Saturday night. (7-23)

COUNCIL HAS ORDERED MACHINE FROM RAPID MOTOR VEHICLE COMPANY OF PONTIAC, MICHIGAN—IS TO COST $2,250.

At a special meeting of the council Wednesday evening a recommendation that the city purchase an automobile street sprinkler, to take the place of the wagon sprinklers now in use, was approved. Mayor Keese and the other members of the committee believe that a motor sprinkler will mean a considerable annual saving on the cost of street sprinkling.

A representative of the Rapid Motor Vehicle company of Pontiac, Mich., which is to supply the new sprinkler, was present. The mayor and recorder were instructed to enter into a contract for a 600-gallon sprinkler at a cost of $2,250, f. o. b., Pontiac. The sprinkler will be delivered within thirty days. It will be equipped with a thirty-horsepower engine and is guaranteed to cover from twelve to fourteen miles an hour. The tank is constructed of wood and the equipment is provided with two-ton chassis. The members of the board of public works believe that the motor sprinkler will cover more territory, and do it more satisfactorily, than the three wagon sprinklers. With the motor sprinkler the services of two men and three teams can be dispensed with, so that it will not take a very long time for the sprinkler to pay for itself.

The members of the street committee, as well as the members of the board of public works, have realized that the macadamized streets have been suffering on account of the lack of sufficient water. It is thought that with the motor sprinkler the streets can be kept damp from early until late, and that they will require less attention from the repair crew. Considering the saving that will be effected in labor, team hire and repairs the highway department will be considerably ahead in the course of a few years as a result of the change. The main highway leading to the Negaunee line was improved only two years ago, and it is now in such condition that it will very soon need attention again. Other streets of the city that were macadamized at the same time, but which have been sprinkled frequently, are in much better condition.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT.

The Red Guard band of Montana will give a concert this evening at Ishpeming theater. Several of the prominent Finnish people of the city have interested themselves in the band's engagement and have sold a large number of tickets, so that a good-sized house is assured. A program different from the one given last Saturday evening will be played. It will include some descriptive selections. The band cancelled its Menominee range engagements and the members have been here all week. Most of them have rooms in the Young Men's Christian association's block. The admission for tonight's concert will be twenty-five, thirty-five and fifty cents. Tomorrow night the band will conduct a public hop at Braastad's Hall. Tickets will be fifty cents per couple and the music will be furnished by the entire organization.

Remember, our July clearance sale is still on tap—will continue the balance of July. Special values, interesting. Come and be convinced that "We are right!" (7-23)

OUTLOOK EXCELLENT FOR COUNTY FAIR

EXHIBITORS TAKING LIVELY INTEREST AND COMPETITION IS LIKELY TO BE KEEN.

PREMIUM LIST NOW IN PRESS

Many Liberal Prizes Offered in All Departments—Horse Racing, Cornish Wrestling and Baseball.

The premium list for the twenty-seventh annual fair of the Marquette County Agricultural Society to be held in this city Sept. 6, 7, 8 and 9, is now in the hands of the printer and will be ready for distribution within a short time. The directors of the agricultural society are devoting considerable time to the coming fair, which they expect to be one of the most successful in the history of the organization.

A new poultry and pet stock house is now in process of construction on the fair grounds, and a special effort is being made to secure the largest exhibit in this department ever shown in this county. The poultry house will be made of concrete and will be equipped and arranged in an up-to-date manner, which assures exhibitors that their stock will be housed in sanitary and convenient quarters this year. Heretofore the facilities for taking care of and showing poultry have not been adequate, and many breeders have hesitated to show their birds for that reason. Any such objection has now been obviated and, as the directors have been liberal in their premiums in this department, a bumper exhibit is anticipated.

Liberal Premiums Offered.

The rules of the agricultural society, governing exhibits, exhibitors and the management of the fair will be practically the same as those of last year. In the live stock class an entry fee of 10 per cent of the first premium offered will be charged, but in the other classes no entry fee will be charged. In the horse department forty different first premiums are offered, covering Clydesdales, Percheron Normans, roadsters and carriage horses, grade draft and horses for general purposes, and sweepstakes.

Forty-six first premiums are offered in the cattle department, including Durhams, Galloways, Holsteins, Guernsey and Jerseys. In the sheep department, thirty-five first premiums are offered, and in the swine department, thirteen first premiums. Sixty firsts are offered for different kinds of poultry and pet stock.

The usual number of liberal premiums are offered for grain and field crops, vegetables, fruits, bread, butter and preserved fruits, flowers, fine art, domestic work, children's work and useful arts. Special prizes are offered for art work, drawing and painting done by school children, and special attention is called to class L, in which articles not made in the county may be shown. Special prizes have been offered for certain homemade baked goods and other household articles by Werner brothers, the Roach & Seeler company, and F. B. Spear & Sons. The fair association will give fifty pounds of flour to the person showing the best loaf of homemade yeast bread and twenty-five pounds for the second best loaf.

Extra Good Racing Expected.

The directors anticipate some unusually good racing this year, as a large number of owners of fast horses have signified their intention to bring their fast stoppers here. The management has been assured that about twenty-five of the copper country trotters will be entered in the races. The opening of the Laurina race track has resulted in a revival of interest in horse racing in the copper country and a number of fine horses have recently been purchased. The opportunity to see some of them in action will doubtless be embraced by many people of this county.

The Cornish wrestling, which was such a popular feature of the fair last year, will be one of the big attractions again this fall, and it is likely that Rowell, of Bessemer, Zehr, of Calumet, and possibly others of equal fame will be among the contestants. The usual ball games have been arranged for, and altogether the fair promises to offer many interesting features and should be generally patronized.

FIVE GENERATIONS.

Remarkable Family Group Photographed by Marquette Artist.

A remarkable family group was photographed by M. M. Steric recently, which represents five generations, all women residing in this city, the oldest of whom is eighty-six and the youngest two years of age. Those in the group are Mrs. Florin Bergerson, aged eighty-six; her daughter, Mrs. Adaline Archambeau, aged sixty-five; Mrs. Archambeau's daughter, Mrs. Adaline Truckey, aged forty-seven; Mrs. Truckey's daughter, Mrs. Nellie Young, aged twenty-seven; and Mrs. Young's daughter, Miss Adeline, aged two years.

All of this remarkable family are still in excellent health and have spent the greater part, if not all of their lives in this city. Mrs. Bergerson came here in 1822 and is one of the pioneer women of Marquette, her daughter, who is now Mrs. Archambeau, being at that time eight years of age, and a member of the first class ever confirmed in the Catholic church in this city.

The regular Saturday night hop will be held at Fraternity Hall tomorrow night, music by the Peerless orchestra. (7-23-24)

THE BEE HIVE, L. Getz, Prop., 220-222 S. Front St., Marquette, Mich. (5-19-14)

FLOOD CONDITIONS WORSE.

South Shore Will Not Run Trains to Duluth for Several Days.

The flood conditions in the western part of the peninsula and in the vicinity of Ashland, Wis., were reported to be worse yesterday than the day before, as rain has fallen in torrents for the last forty-eight hours and the streams were still rising yesterday afternoon. As the result of the high water, traffic has been abandoned on the line of the South Shore west of Neshota, and the train that left Marquette at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday is still at Saxon, unable to get one way or the other. Between Saxon and Iron River, Wis., long stretches of track have been undermined and yesterday a washout near Lake Guelgic was reported. Repair crews and two steam shovels have been sent to Saxon to make the roadbed safe for trains, but nothing can be done until the rain ceases and the high water subsides. The bridges were all in good condition up to yesterday afternoon.

On the Chicago & Northwestern between Saxon and Ashland, however, a bridge went out yesterday and that city is entirely cut off from rail communication with the outside world. This will make it impossible for the South Shore to run trains to Duluth via Ashland, over the Northwestern and Northern Pacific railroads, and it is not likely that traffic with the head of the lakes can be resumed for several days. Every effort is being made to at least get the mails through, but this cannot be accomplished until the downpour of rain ceases and repairs can be made. It is difficult to learn just how great the damage has been, as the wires are all down. Until the west end of the South Shore can be put in shape for travel, trains will run only as far as Neshota, where they will connect with the copper country.

Engineer Thomas McNulty, who was on train No. 8, which left Duluth Tuesday evening, reports having witnessed almost continuous lightning between Superior and Lake Neshogamon and that many trees and buildings were struck. He saw four houses burning between the two places. His was the last train that has come out of Duluth.

Do not forget the dance to be given at Harvey Saturday, July 24th. Good music has been booked for. Also a good time is promised. (7-21-24)

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

Office of the City Treasurer: Marquette, Mich., July 15th, 1909.

Notice is hereby given that the general tax roll of the city of Marquette has been deposited with me, and is now in my office in the city hall, and that the amount of taxes therein assessed and specified are due and may be paid to me at any time up to and including the first day of October, A. D. 1909.

Upon all such taxes paid to me before the first day of September a collection fee of one per cent will be charged and on all such taxes paid on or after the first day of September a collection fee of three per cent will be charged. R. P. BYRNE, City Treasurer. (7-21-64)
