

TARIFF STRUGGLE WILL END THIS WEEK

That at Least Is the Expectation—Only a Prolonged Discussion Will Defeat the Plan, and This Is Not Looked For.

One Day Suffices to Get the Conference Report Through the House, and Now the Senate Will Begin Its Consideration—That the Measure Will Go to the President Thursday and Congress Will Adjourn Friday Is Present Outlook.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Unless something happens to provoke heated political discussion, the new tariff bill should be enacted and the extraordinary session of congress adjourned this week.

As amended by the conference committee, the bill passed the house at 9 o'clock last night by a majority of twelve votes.

Chairman Payne defended the report and appealed to his Republican colleagues to support it, prophesying at the same time that when the bill was carried into law it would meet with the approval of the country.

"Our revision has been downward and yet we have held the scales so evenly that we have done no injury to any person or industry in the United States.

Thunderous applause greeted Mr. Payne as he took his seat.

His curiosity was aroused, however, and an English-speaking clerk in the store was called upon to translate the strange message.

MARQUETTE, MICH., AUGUST 2.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

It takes an emergency to give a line on the reality of a man. The country has been getting acquainted with the real Mr. Taft.

The Wright brothers having shown that their aeroplane comes up to advance notices, the government will no doubt become a pleased purchaser.

However, if it is established that an "exaggerated ego" is a sign of legal insanity there will be many good people, heretofore believed to be sane enough, who will be in serious danger.

The most charitable view to take of the Ishpeming baseball team's petulance is the one that it is merely a bluff, and that the idea of "quitting" is, in fact, far from the minds of both the management and players.

That American league baseball race appears to be closing up somewhat once more. It may again become acutely interesting. But if they are pressed those Tigers will doubtless work up steam enough to pull themselves out of their hole.

Dickinson county is taking active steps to complete its part of the Dickinson-Marquette county road. Within two or three years a trip of excellent wagon roads from Marquette to Iron Mountain will be possible.

Mr. Jack Johnson is in Detroit running one racing automobile around while he is attending to the details of the construction of another. If he follows the course of his predecessors in the pugilistic championship it will be but a few years when his friends will be arranging benefits with the purpose of keeping him out of the poor house.

President Taft's opinion that there are many points on which the tariff bill could be better, as well as others on which it could be worse, doubtless reflects the prevailing sentiment in the country.

President Taft ought to be able to at least begin packing his trunks for Beverly, Mass., by the end of the week. And it won't be long before the M. Ca. will be journeying home to see how their districts have survived the long tariff struggle, and to take note of how they stand with the sovereign voter as a result of the various phases it passed through.

M. Bleriot professes himself as willing to take on the Wrights in a series of aeroplane tests to be held at the Seattle exposition. We know of no contest that would create a more lively interest. We are doubtful if the Wrights will be found agreeable, however.

The Marquette Mining Journal is showing up some of the inconsistencies of Walker, the broker, and writer of what he is pleased to term "copper news," says the Ishpeming Iron Ore. Walker has been at that sort of work a long time and he isn't any better authority on such matters now than he was at the outset.

The results of these tests are being anticipated with great interest by forest service engineers and by the lumbermen of the northwest, because they are expected to give some practical idea of the strength of fire-killed timber.

To one who has been brought up in the United States, where the office of vice president is a sort of political graveyard and where the problem is not to pick one of the innumerable leading American statesmen for the office, but to find someone with proper ability willing to accept it, it is something of a surprise to see a near-revolution over a vice presidential office.

Mexico has long since ceased to have any competition for the office of president. It has a permanent president, who is apparently holding a life job and who is recognized as a political fixture at the head of the government.

President Diaz is now completing his seventh six-year term as chief executive of the Mexican republic. This is a continuous service of forty-two years as leader of the nation, during which time his power has been supreme. And during this time, also, he has educated Mex-heavily discounted in this region. It seems to be written according to his movements in the market, and he isn't always a good judge.

Frank T. Wagner, who during the session of the Wisconsin legislature swore, before the special committee investigating the senatorial primaries in the state, that he saw agents of Senator Stephenson pay over large sums of money to the Democratic members whose absence from the joint session made possible Stephenson's re-election at the time it occurred, has been convicted of perjury by a Madison jury.

Wagner's story was disproved shortly after it was related, and his arrest on the perjury charge followed with little delay. Wagner's recital was effectively discredited, and it was shown that whatever high crimes and misdemeanors might be charged to "Uncle Ike" and his agents the bribery of the Democratic members in the manner described by him was not one. The motive for Wagner's false statements has not been clearly shown.

Possibly he wanted to enjoy the limelight, in which case his experience has doubtless proved more serious than he expected it would.

Now all that the United States needs to be up to the minute in aerial navigation is the appearance of an American with a design for a dirigible airship of efficiency equal to those designed and built by Count Zeppelin for Germany.

The Wright aeroplane is the most successful heavier-than-air machine that has been designed, and the success of the Fort Meyer tests indicates that presently it will be an entirely known quantity, one that can be used practically for war purposes.

But there is nothing in America today that remotely approaches the latest of the Zeppelin dirigibles, which carries a military crew of nine men, is capable of sustained flights under perfect control, can be maneuvered and landed in all sorts of weather and has already been so developed that it can be employed not only for spying on a possible enemy but as an actual aerial warship, from which gun fire can be directed at an enemy's troops or ships.

If America may be said to lead in the development of the aeroplane, Germany is the unquestioned leader in the development of the dirigible, with France her only serious rival, and with Great Britain so far in the rear that there's no telling when her periodical war "scars" will end.

How long will timber remain commercially valuable after it has been swept over by a forest fire? is a question discussed by a bulletin issued by the United States forest service. Timber land owners, as well as the federal government, are much interested in obtaining this information, and the government has just begun an investigation of a large number of fire areas in Oregon and Washington in order to determine, if possible, the length of time which must elapse after a forest fire before the timber deteriorates to such an extent as to decrease its commercial value.

All the information in connection with the investigation will be obtained first hand by the forest service, either from government timber land or from private holdings where logging operations are under way.

In this connection the forest service has also undertaken an investigation to determine the relative strength of green and fire-killed timber. The material which is to be tested is being sawed at the mill of the Eastern & Western Lumber company of Portland, Ore., where it will be surfaced to exact sizes and then transported to Seattle, where tests will be made in connection with the forest service exhibit at the Seattle exposition.

The fire-killed trees which are to yield material for these tests were selected by representatives of the forest service. This timber was burned over seven years ago and represents fairly well the average of burned timber found in the Pacific northwest. The logs, which vary from three to four feet in diameter, were sawed in thirty-two-foot lengths. These are being manufactured into sixteen-foot floor joists and bridge stringers.

The results of these tests are being anticipated with great interest by forest service engineers and by the lumbermen of the northwest, because they are expected to give some practical idea of the strength of fire-killed timber.

is found only in ordinary, inferior vanilla—never in Burnett's Vanilla.

The rich, subtle flavor of Burnett's Vanilla is too precious to ruin by adding too much alcohol. That is why the delicious, delicate flavor never varies.

But President Diaz is not immortal. He now faces the coming election as an old man. President again he will be, for the nation has refused to part with the services of one who has conducted its affairs for so long, despite his efforts, made at various times, to withdraw.

It is not likely that he will be able to survive another six-year period. Consequently the vice president is likely to succeed him and the prestige of the office may mean the incumbent's election six years hence and thus give entirely into his hands the important and stressful period which must immediately follow the loss of Diaz.

Diaz himself has favored Ramon Corral, the incumbent, as vice president, and a considerable number of the voters want General Reyes to hold the office. Thus, curiously enough, the anti-Diaz demonstrators now are not directed against Diaz's candidacy, but against his choice for vice president.

The spectacle of a country deliberately selecting its future president through the vice president's office and of the president, about to be re-elected, attempting to choose the successor who shall take up the reins when he drops out is somewhat startling.

Spanish subjects the risk was taken of offending the Spanish people generally and jeopardizing the stability of the government itself. It is hard to see how the government can now back down and adopt a different program without confessing its own weakness and poor judgment.

As was expected, England's big battle-ship party has carried the day again. The admiralty announces that after very anxious and careful examination of what is going on in foreign countries the government has concluded to lay down next spring for additional Dreadnoughts of the largest size, to be ready in March, 1912.

Unfortunately for England she cannot now very well set the pace though she started the game. The least exhausted of her pursuers can always force her to go a bit faster. As long as she maintains her traditional attitude all of them must be regarded as possible enemies.

Only one event apparently can arrest the mad chase, and that is the very thing the big ships are supposed to be ready to avert. A decisive war putting one first-class navy out of business would undoubtedly bring to an end the destructive rivalry, or possibly change the fashion by demonstrating that, after all, the experts, who insist on the biggest ships, are wrong.

The spectacle of a country deliberately selecting its future president through the vice president's office and of the president, about to be re-elected, attempting to choose the successor who shall take up the reins when he drops out is somewhat startling.

Marble is entirely out of date. Granite soon gets moss-grown, discolored, requires constant expense and care, and eventually crumbles back to Mother Earth. Besides, it is very expensive. WHITE BRONZE is strictly everlasting. It cannot crumble with the action of frost. Moss growth is an impossibility. It is more artistic than any stone. They why not investigate? It has been adopted for over one hundred public monuments, and by thousands of delighted customers in all parts of the country. It has been on the market over 25 years and is an established success. Many granite dealers have bought White Bronze for their own burial plots. I have hundreds of beautiful designs of all grades of work, and want to have you see them if you are interested in a monument, headstone, marker or grave cover. On receipt of a postal card will be pleased to call with designs and samples of White Bronze.

Milk, cream and butter are all short, and prices have advanced considerably over the normal.

The young lady's play is interspersed with specialties given by clever people. The play has a vein of strong drama running through it, which is relieved by a number of good comedy parts. Dan Molloy, a well-known character actor, and Hazel Corrine are prominent in the cast.
Council Meets This Evening—The August meeting of the council will be held this evening, and it is expected that there will be business enough before the adjournment to keep them busy until well into the evening. It is possible that the mayor's veto of the proposed purchase of the sand lots will be taken up, though it is said it may go over until there is a report from George Cummings, the engineer, in regard to the matter. Mr. Cummings being out of the city at present.
At least one other important matter is said to be slated for presentation to the council.
Many on Berry Plains—Over one hundred people took advantage of the trip made by the South Shore ferry train to Saults and intervening points to visit the plains for the first time Saturday. The pickers returned in the evening with their pails well filled, and reported that the prospects for an excellent crop in the region east of the city are good. At Saults a number of parties are camping, intending to spend the greater part of the season on the plains. Buyers are already established at several points east on the South Shore, and they say that there is a promising outlook for a good market.
Meeting Adjourned—It was expected that the board that has the selection of a state geologist would meet in Marquette Saturday to choose a successor to Professor Lane, who has resigned the office, but Governor Warner and D. M. Ferry of Detroit, two of the members, could not be present. L. L. Wright, state superintendent of public instruction, being the only member in the city. The board is now expected to meet in Detroit on the 8th inst. Alfred H. Menzie, a resident of the copper country, and an assistant to Professor Lane, and Professor Allen, of the geological department of the University of Michigan, are aspirants for the office. Professor Allen has been doing some geological work in Iron county, and lately visited a number of upper peninsula cities to interest prominent men in his candidacy.

CONTRACT LET FOR IMPORTANT WORK
DICKINSON COUNTY HAS BEGUN BUILDING HIS WAY TO MARQUETTE COUNTY LINE—MARQUETTE TO CO-OPERATE.
The highway connecting the Menominee and Marquette ranges is to be constructed forthwith, says the Iron Mountain Press. The contract for the Dickinson county end of the highway was let at a meeting of the county road commission at the court house Saturday.
The contract calls for the construction of a highway from a point at Sawyer Lake, a short distance north of Channing, to Floodwood. It will be known as the Sawyer Lake-Floodwood highway. It will be about six miles in length. The roadbed will be eighteen feet wide, and no grade will exceed five per cent.
The contract for the construction of the remaining link in the highway—from Floodwood to the Marquette county line—a distance of two miles—will be let as soon as the Marquette authorities decide definitely on the location of the steel bridge across the Michigan river.
Engineer Carpenter has received assurances that the Marquette county commission will let the bridge contract on or about Oct. 15. The bridge will be constructed of steel with concrete abutments. The span will be about ninety feet. Unless present plans are changed the bridge will be built across the Michigan river at a point about three hundred feet east of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway bridge.
The highway from Sawyer Lake north to the county line follows the St. Paul road on the east side, a short distance from the right of way. In Marquette county the highway continues on the east side of the railroad until it meets a small stream known as the Witch Lake outlet, where it will cross to the west side of the track and continue on the west side to Witbeck, where it again crosses to the east of the railroad and continues north to Republic.
This highway will open up a country now without a roadway worthy of the name. There are a number of excellent farms along the route. The settlers in the past have been badly handicapped in reaching a market, the railway accommodations being poor and expensive, and the construction of the highway will add very materially to their prosperity. Much of the soil is excellent for farming purposes, yielding large crops wherever cultivated, and the new road will no doubt result in the settlers increasing their acreage and in the opening of many new farms.
While in the city lately Deputy State Highway Commissioner Rogers inspected the recently completed Pine Creek road, and was so well pleased with the work that he will recommend the usual state bonus for stone roads. The contractor expects to finish the Sturgeon Mill-Laquette highway about the tenth of August. This link in the trunk system is about one and a quarter miles in length and of stone construction. It is not known when the contract will be let for the extension of the Dickinson county system to a connection with the Menominee county system. This work depends, in measure, on the future action of the Menominee authorities. The extension of the Menominee river road in a direct line to the river from the south end of Carpenter avenue will also be undertaken at an early date.

ISHPEMING TAKES TWO FROM MUNISING

VISITORS' KALAMAZOO TWIRLER, IMPORTED FOR YESTERDAY'S GAME, WAS SLAUGHTERED BY ISHPEMING IN FOUR INNINGS.

Ishpeming scored eight runs and blanked Munising nine innings in yesterday's game at the Union Park grounds. Goulette pitched in fine form, and was ably assisted by Liston, Ishpeming's new catcher. The "south paw" fanned eleven, allowed but four hits, and passed one. In the fifth when Daniels singled, second went to third on a passed ball, Goulette fanned the next three batters.

Sleezer, a Kalamazoo twirler, imported by the Munising management to pitch the game, was put to the woods very quickly. Burke and Simpson, the first two Ishpeming men to get hits, got clean hits. McLaughlin, the third, got up, also made a safe hit into center, but as Simpson was forced out at second he was deprived of credit for it. Sleezer lasted but four innings, during which he was touched up for seven hits. One of the hits was a pretty three-bagger by Main. Nelson, who succeeded Sleezer, did very well, allowing but two hits and walking but one man.

In the sixth Munising had only three men to bat, and but four faced Goulette each in the fourth, fifth and ninth. Daniels fanned at third base, the last time on his three-bagger, after two had been out. He was put out by Liston in an attempt to steal home. The Munising pitchers received better support than was given Baker and Vandain the previous day.

Ishpeming started the run-getting in the first inning, when Olson brought Burke across the plate on a sacrifice fly to Leitch in right field. Laxstrom sent a grounder to Daniels at first, this retiring the side, with McLaughlin on second. In the second Heindel went out, Baker to Daniels, when Main followed with a three-bagger, coming home on Liston's sacrifice. In the fourth Ishpeming's batting feet netted four runs, Olson, Heindel, Main and Burke each getting a bingle. Laxstrom walked and Goulette sacrificed. The prettiest play of the game was a double in the sixth, after Ishpeming had scored two runs. Goulette sent a grounder to Nelson, who put out Simpson at third. Frost then throwing Goulette out at first. In Ishpeming's seventh Laxstrom singled, after two had been retired, but did not leave first, as Heindel flew out to Leitch in right. In the eighth the batters were retired in one, two, three order.

DO BIG WORK.

Representative of Shovel Concern Times Lake Angeline Men.

Walter T. Ball, representative of the Sawyer Steam Shovel company, unexpectedly dropped around to the Lake Angeline mine Friday, and while there timed the crew operating the shovel made by his concern, while they loaded twelve Lake Superior & Ishpeming steel cars, each having a capacity of sixty tons. The steady state of the men did not know Mr. Ball was holding his watch on them until they had worked for some minutes.

The train was spotted at 2:23 o'clock and at 3:02 all the cars were full. The exact time taken was thirty-nine minutes and ten seconds, or three minutes and 15.3 seconds for each car. The shovel was moved three times during the run. It is thought that the record made in the second moving has never been equaled on similar work. It required one minute and thirty seconds to move 180 tons of material, or one minute and five seconds, the second, and one minute and thirty seconds, the third. The moving time is included in the thirty-nine minutes and ten seconds.

On the above basis the cars were loaded at the rate of eighteen an hour, or 180 in ten hours. At this rate a total of 10,800 tons would be loaded in a day, which is a record that is seldom approached and so far as the Ishpeming mine know has never been exceeded in loading from stockpile. The shovel dipper per lifts five tons at a time, so that it required twelve lifts to fill each car.

The shovel crew was composed of John Murphy, runner; Hart Gregg, crane-man, and William Prin, Jr., fireman. They were assisted by five men in front of the shovel.

RURAL COMEDY TONIGHT.

"When the Harvest Days Are Over," a rural comedy of merit, will be offering at Ishpeming theatre this evening. The company is a large one, and includes a brass band and orchestra.

"When the Harvest Days Are Over" is a realistic play of country life, interspersed with comedy that furnishes an exceptionally fine entertainment. The play is in four acts and five scenes. Specialties are introduced during the play, and a splendid orchestra for the musical numbers makes it all the more interesting.

CAPTAINS TRANSFERRED.

Captain James Stephens, in charge of underground operations at the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's shafts mine for some years past, is to have charge of the mining at the corporation's new North Lake mine, west of Ishpeming. Captain Duncan Campbell is to be transferred from the Moro hard ore property to the Cliffs shafts, and Alderman John H. Gill, underground foreman at the Moro, has been advanced to the captaincy, succeeding Captain Campbell.

MINING INSTITUTE.

Program Completed for Fourteenth Annual Meeting Here This Month.

The program for the fourteenth annual meeting of the Lake Superior Mining Institute is one that will greatly interest the members, as it includes visits to not only the mines of this range, but also the Swanzy range, the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's furnace and the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company's docks at Marquette and Munising.

The Institute's membership is now in the neighborhood of 500, there having been an increase almost every year since the organization was perfected at Iron Mountain in 1893. With the exception of three years the Institute has met annually, and sessions have been held on all of the five developed iron ranges, in the copper country and in Milwaukee. There are four honorary members, C. R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin; James Douglass, general manager of the copper properties of the Phelps, Dodge company; Raphael Pompey, geologist, of Newport, R. I., and K. H. Winchell, geologist, of Minnesota. The officers are:

President--M. M. Duncan, Ishpeming. Vice Presidents--D. T. Morgan, Ishpeming; D. E. Sutherland, Ironwood; Norman W. Haire, Houghton; Charles Trezona, Ely, Minn. Treasurer--L. M. Hardenburg, Hurley, Wis. Secretary--A. J. Yungbluth, Ishpeming.

The usual week-end profit taking was included in some extent today, but all offerings were readily taken, and the market closed steady and shows fair gains over yesterday's final figures. The greatest activity was again centered in United States Mining & Smelting, Lake Superior Copper, Superior Copper and North Butte. Amalgamated made a new high mark for this movement, selling at 85. The market is steadily broadening, and as the activity increases, a higher level of values must naturally result. Strong interests continue to accumulate stocks, and there is little question that the prices will be put very much higher. The coming week promises to give us a wider public participation, and without doubt some further sharp advances. We continue to favor increases of the standard copper shares. Boston Mining that those best informed as to conditions in Butte Coalition say that the present price of the stock is very low. Its earnings are the best in its history, and the systematic developments has placed a vast reserve of ore in sight. Cumberland Ely is regarded as one of the good cheap ones. The Superior mill test for a period of six months shows 25 pounds of ingot copper per ton. The Mayflower Mining company has let a large diamond drilling contract and will begin to explore the eastern portion of the property along the sandstone thought to overlie important copper deposits.
