

HARRY K. THAW GOES BACK TO THE ASYLUM

Handing Down a Seven Thousand-Word Opinion, Justice Mills Upholds All the Contentions of District Attorney Jerome.

Finding That the Release of the Slayer of White Would Be Dangerous to Public Peace and Safety, He Directs His Return to Matteawan, at the Same Time Recommending That He Be Allowed Greater Privileges—Family Will Continue the Fight.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Harry K. Thaw's latest attempt to gain his liberty met with complete defeat today when Justice Mills dismissed the writ of habeas corpus and declared that the release of the petitioner would be dangerous to public peace and safety.

In a seven thousand-word opinion, the court upholds all the contentions of Thaw's adversary, District Attorney Jerome. It declares Thaw still insane, still suffering from persistent delusions, and still as much a paranoiac as when he shot Stanford White.

Fight Will Be Continued.

Thaw, in jail at the rear of the court house, received the news with forced calmness. His family and attorney seemed stunned. They simply asserted that he was not disinterested and would continue his fight for liberty. "My next efforts," he said "will be centered upon the court of appeals, through which I expect to secure a hearing before a jury."

The case came before Justice Mills last October, when Thaw applied for an order setting aside his commitment, on the ground that the court was without power to issue such order, as Thaw at the time was not on trial on the question of his sanity. He asked also to have the question of his mental condition submitted to a jury. When Justice Mills denied this application, the case was appealed to the appellate division, which sustained Justice Mills. Thaw's attorney has already made a second appeal.

Evelyn's Stories Exaggerated. Today's decision characterizes Evelyn Thaw's tale of the Madison Square tower room, and similar stories about White, told at the hearing, as "wild and grossly improbable and evidently grossly exaggerated." The judge asserts his belief in the testimony of Susan Merrill regarding Thaw's alleged profligacies, and points out the contrast between Thaw's chivalrous attitude as a protector of young womanhood and his private life.

Justice Mills sympathized with Thaw's motion. This evident prompted his recommendation that Thaw be allowed greater privileges at Matteawan. A significant sentence in the decision, in the opinion of the lawyers, is the one declaring that Thaw's "delusions had become fixed prior to the time of his marriage." It is pointed out that this sentence may, if desired, prove ground for proceedings by Evelyn for the annulment of the marriage.

Harry's Mother Issues Statement.

Tonight Thaw's mother wrote a statement for the Associated Press, in which she says: "Let no one imagine that Judge Mills' opinion means a victory for District Attorney Jerome. Every prop was taken from under that arrogant, vindictive persecutor of a son, acquitted man. It is impossible to fathom the workings of the human mind, so the reason for this cruel decision of the trial judge must remain a mystery. "Meanwhile my son, my daughter and I will take up again the burden that I had every reason to believe was behind us for ever. We, exiled from our home, will remain close to the gate so we may help our son and brother endure an exile which, if repeated, would be far worse than death, trusting in God's overruling providence in his own good time to vindicate the right."

Y., Aug. 12.—Edward Ewaldt, a former employe of Holy Sepulchre cemetery, was jailed tonight, suspected of being the murderer of Anna Schumacher, whose body was found hastily buried by the murderer. FIVE PERSONS PERISHED IN THE RIPLEY FIRE.

Rushing Back Into the Burning Building in an Endeavor to Rescue Her Babe, Mrs. Wm. Dionne Met Her Doom Along With Four Small Children.

Hancock, Mich., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Five persons lost their lives in the fire which destroyed the residence of William Dionne at Ripley late last night. The dead were: Mrs. William Dionne, aged forty-eight years; Lamma Dionne, aged ten; Edward Dionne, eight years old; Leo Dionne, aged three months; Miss Racine, aged ten years.

Edward was rescued from the flames by his brother William and a man named Edward Marlowe, but died half an hour later at a nearby residence. At 2 o'clock this morning the body of Mrs. Dionne was found with the infant tightly clasped tightly in her arms, and a short distance away were the charred and blackened remains of the Racine girl, who was a niece of Mrs. Dionne and who had been visiting at the Dionne home. Several hours later the body of Lamma, the ten-year-old daughter, was discovered.

The origin of the fire will forever remain a mystery. When the flames were discovered there were in the house Mrs. Dionne, her nine children, the Racine girl and six boarders. Mrs. Dionne was among the first to leave the burning building, but upon reaching the outside she thought of her baby, asleep in its bed. Without a word of her intentions to anyone, she plunged back into the burning building, secured her child and was then overcome. Not until her corpse was found was it known positively that she had met her death.

While the fire was in progress there were many wild rumors afloat. At one time the mother and missing children would be reported safe; the next minute they were among the missing again. William Dionne, the father, is employed as night watchman for the Houghton Lumber company at his mill, less than a quarter of a mile from the house. He worked frantically to find his loved ones. The fire burned rapidly and the large house was quickly consumed. Hundreds of people from Ripley, Hancock and Houghton were attracted to the scene, as were the fire departments of Houghton and Hancock.

GRAND ARMY HONORS A FORMER GOVERNOR.

Samuel R. Van Sant of Minnesota Is Elected Commander-in-Chief of the Civil War Veterans' Big Organization—St. Louis in the Lead for Next Encampment.

Salt Lake, Aug. 12.—Samuel R. Van Sant, of Minnesota, was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic this evening, winning over Judge Wm. A. Ketcham, of Indiana, by the vote of 387 to 156.

Mrs. Jennie L. Berry, of Des Moines, Ia., was chosen national president of the Woman's Relief corps, after a contest wherein three ballots were taken. Mrs. Berry was elected over Mrs. Belle Harris, of Kansas, by the vote of 213 to 90.

The Grand Army's order of business did not provide for a decision today, but the increasing departure of delegates warned the encampment that an early choice would be necessary to secure a full expression of the will of the majority. In addition to Governor Van Sant, the following were elected: Senior vice commander, W. M. Bostaph, Oregon; junior vice commander, Judge Alfred Beers, Bristol, Conn.; surgeon general, W. H. Lemon, Lawrence, Kas.

The nominations for chaplain were made, but owing to the lateness of the hour the election of chaplain and the selection of the next meeting place were over until tomorrow. A poll indicates that the chances of St. Louis for the forty-fourth encampment are much brighter. Atlantic City does not want the encampment in August, and the veterans are loath to change the month of meeting. No business of public interest, except the annual address of the retiring Commander Nevins and the election of officers was transacted today.

SPOKANE AT BRINK OF GREAT DISASTER

Bitter Against a Power Company Which Has Dammed Up a Once Prosperous Valley, an Idaho Man Shouts a Warning.

Unless Something Is Done to Preserve Their Homes, He Tells the Irrigation Congress, There Are Persons in His Town Who Will Resort to Dynamite, and With a 40-Foot Wall of Water Freed What Will Happen Then Will Far Out-Do Jamestown Horror.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 12.—John Wilson, former Idaho states senator, from Washington, and John Farson, a Chicago millionaire, today came to the defense of Secretary Ballinger before the National Irrigation congress.

Ex-Governor Farson started today's argument over the reclamation controversy by again accusing Secretary Ballinger of permitting the opening for entry of valuable waterpower sites. Millionaire Farson arose and asked Mr. Pardee if he meant to insinuate that the secretary was dishonest. With Mr. Pardee's reply that he meant no such accusation, the incident was dropped.

W. W. Ferrell, of Ferrell, Idaho, shouted an attack on the Washington Power company, which supplies power to Spokane. "After a quarter of a century, wherein we've worked hard to make their homes, the Washington company damned up our valley, overflowed our lands and drowned our crops," he said. "There are men in my town who will smash that dam with dynamite and send a forty-foot wall of water down this valley, and what will happen to Spokane will make the Jamestown flood look like shedding tears, if something is not done."

Former Senator Wilson replied: "There may be water power companies that disobey the law, but I stand for Mr. Ballinger and I shall hear no man say he is dishonest. If necessary, I defend Mr. Ballinger's superior, President Taft. What they have done has been done under the law. It is for the people to support the government, not the government to support the people. I say private enterprises should reclaim these deserts."

Steps Work on Government Lands.

San Francisco, Aug. 12.—In consequence of orders said to have been issued by Secretary Ballinger of the interior department General Forsythe, in charge of the troops in Yosemite valley, has prevented the erection on government land of temporary buildings to shelter the workmen sent out by Engineers Hays and Hammond as his opponent today, and lost an eight-hole match, one up.

Secretary Nagel is coming tomorrow to recommend the appointment of more than three hundred census supervisors to the United States. Chang Yin Tang, the patronage expert of the cabinet, also will be here. E. Dana Durand, director of the census, too, will be present at the patronage feast, and probably Assistant Secretary Mellerg, of the department of commerce and labor, also.

Secretary Carpenter today telegraphed every city where Mr. Taft is scheduled to stop during the coming trip, asking the committee to send their programs at once. The president has the last say about the programs, and doubtless a number of changes will be made.

Mr. Taft will be unable to go to Panama next year, as he intended. With a long session of congress all next winter and spring, he thinks the chance of getting to Panama at a reasonable time very remote.

FORT WILLIAM, ONT., UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Enraged by the Importation of Special Canadian Pacific Police from Winnipeg, the Striking Freight Handlers Begin Rioting.

City Officers Are Unable to Control the Situation, and Finally a Pitched Battle Is Fought, in Which a Score of Men Are Injured, Three of Them Fatally—A Regiment of Militia Has Now Been Called Out, and a Force of Regulars Will Arrive Today.

Fort William, Ont., Aug. 12.—Fort William is under martial law. A thousand dock laborers, principally Greeks, Hungarians and Italians, who have been on a strike for a week, enraged by the arrival of thirty special Canadian Pacific police from Winnipeg, began rioting today, and three hundred then engaged in a pitched battle with the police. A score of men were injured, Chief Ball, of the railway company's local force, and two Greeks fatally. Chief Ball was shot in the stomach. Five of the wounded are special policemen, three are Greeks, one is a reporter and one a police sergeant. A regiment of militia was called out this afternoon, and part of it is already on duty in the disturbed district. Two hundred regulars from Winnipeg will arrive early tomorrow.

The police today were unable to control either the imported constables or the strikers. They were called out and ignorant, and they shot in any direction, regardless of whom they hit. It is believed that the first shot was fired by one of the imported constables, in disregard of orders. It was heard when the constables were going through the railroad yards to a boarding house opposite the freight house. Fire arms of every description were immediately drawn by the strikers, and a melee ensued. At the city hall the railroad officials had just agreed to grant the demands of the men for increased pay when the rioting began. The officers then notified the mayor that they would fight the strike out.

For an hour this afternoon volleys of shots were heard in quick succession. The strikers drove the constables into a bunk house, where this evening they are undergoing a siege. The strikers were preparing to storm the house when the city police induced them to refrain. The constables had been firing from crevices and through the windows. All the windows in the bunk house and railroad yard buildings were smashed by bullets. The strikers retreated only a little way, and then kept up an intermittent fire under the very eyes of the police officials. The strikers threatened tonight to burn the Canadian Pacific grain elevators. The saloons have been closed, by order of the mayor.

President Taft is wise in taboos politics for as long as he can. He will find it difficult to keep away from them on that western trip.

Of course President Stickney wishes it understood that the Chicago Great Western is not addicted to any of the nefarious practices that he ascribes to the other railroads.

There is a lurking suspicion that much that Collier's Weekly related about Fingy Conners was true; otherwise it would hardly have taken Fingy over a year to get hot about it.

Baillie Maxwell of Glasgow thinks that Chicago is ready for municipal ownership of its traction companies. That's what former Mayor Dunne thought, but a majority of Chicagoans couldn't, when it came to the showdown, see it that way.

The disparity between the government temperature records and the discomfort of the individual is frequently accounted for by the fact that these records are taken among the breezes of the roof tops while the good people have to live and work down in the broiling streets.

It is said that Seneca Payne will take up golf to reduce his flesh. If the long tariff siege, his trials as a member of the conference committee, and the sweltering heat of a midsummer Washington did not avail to that end we should think his case might properly be described as hopeless.

The encampment of the Michigan state troops at Ladington is reported to be one of the most businesslike camps that has ever been held there. The troops are kept busy with well-planned maneuvers, which are being executed in a creditable and satisfactory manner. The spirit of the camp is said to be excellent, and its appearance to be the best ever attained.

Naturally President Taft refuses to refer to midsummer discussions of other candidates for 1912. As for Cummins in particular, Cummins' expressions of approval of his course and warm admiration show where Cummins stands. In any event, President Taft will not begin to give thought to 1912 for many months to come. The immediate future has important work in store—work that will demand all his time and ability.

The demand for plenty of baseball and liberal prizes therefor at the county fair is made on all sides. It appears to be generally agreed that baseball is the most attractive drawing card that the directors can offer. The interest in the game has never been more pronounced than at present, and, as has been remarked, the teams in this county are more evenly matched now than at any previous time this season. A series of games for substantial prizes will attract wide attention, and will do much to send the fair crowds home well pleased.

President Orion, of the Chicago board of school trustees, has declared unrelenting war on high school fraternities in that city. As the Tribune puts it: "There will be a war of extermination. The strict rules will be enforced. The evasion which has been practiced by the boys and girls will be in vain. Before the school year ends every fraternity and sorority will be wiped out of existence. No quarter will be given. The barnacles will be removed." There is no doubt of the ability of the governing powers in the schools to end the activities of the fraternities when they finally decide to go about it vigorously. The fraternities may be able to put up stubborn resistance, by holding secret meetings and initiations and conducting other underground activities, but they can be smoked out of even this. And in a system of schools of the size of the one in Chicago, where they have begun to cause considerable mischief, it is essential that they be finally blotted out. President Orion's determination that they shall meet this fate will be approved by practically all students of problems of education.

A Flint, Mich., dispatch relates that the police are about to compel the removal of some 2,000 persons—squatters—from Oak park. Families are living in tents or improvised shacks. Most of the men are earning large salaries in automobile factories and all the families are self-supporting. The reason for their informal way of living is found in the fact that Flint has outgrown itself and the builders and contractors have not yet caught up with the job of providing homes for all the people resident in the city. It's an embarrassing state of affairs, but where's the city that would not welcome similar embarrassments?

The members of the New York commission on inquiry into the merits of the direct nominations plan are now visiting Illinois. They should find Illinois a fruitful field for study. To be sure, they cannot learn much there about what a primary law should be, but the three, or more, statutes that have been declared unconstitutional by the Illinois supreme court afford an excellent opportunity to get a line on what such a statute should not be. The New Yorkers could visit a state with a more checked primary law record than Illinois.

Besides finding there the discredited laws we have referred to, they will learn how it came about that Senator Lorimer, who was elected to the upper house a few months ago, came to be chosen when he was not one of the candidates who went before the people in the primaries. If New York is going into direct nominations seriously the legislative committee cannot give too serious attention to the chance to learn in Illinois what pitfalls should be avoided, for the Illinoisans have, apparently, not missed a single obstacle in the way of a practicable and reasonable law.

There is a growing conviction that the interior department at Washington is not going to be big enough to hold both Secretary Ballinger and Forester Gifford Pinchot. There appears to be increasing friction between them. Secretary Ballinger stands for a strict compliance with the letter of the law. He believes in the department doing only those things it is permitted by statute to do, rather than those things it is not prohibited from doing. His practice and the practice that prevailed during the concluding years of the Roosevelt administration are essentially different. Out of this difference has grown the friction between him and Pinchot. To see Pinchot retire from the government forestry service. He gave it its first organization and has been an effective upholder of its activities. The country owes him much, and his capacity for good service is no greater than ever before. The opinion that it would be easier for President Taft to get a man at least equally as good as Ballinger in the interior department than to replace Pinchot as forester in a satisfactory manner is, we believe, one that will be generally held.

BUMPER CROPS ASSURED.
The government monthly crop report, which has just been issued, gives new estimates of the probable yield of the leading cereal crops of this country, estimates that not only confirm those previously made, but which are even more rosy in their predictions of a bountiful harvest. In fact, it is now assured that most of the leading grain crops will exceed in quantity and value all previous records. For wheat the estimate is 724,233,000 bushels, of which 432,000,000 bushels will be winter wheat—a considerably larger yield than was anticipated a month ago. This crop will fall a trifle short of the best previous record, but corn and oats will both yield larger returns than ever before. The corn yield this year is estimated at 2,943,102,000 bushels, as compared with 2,927,410,000 bushels, the best previous record, and oats will yield 998,598,000 bushels, as compared with a previous record of 987,843,000 bushels. For barley the estimated yield is 179,000,000 bushels and for rye, 30,000,000 bushels.

It is a matter of easy calculation to figure out the approximate value of these estimated grain crops at prices which at present prevail, and the result would be about as follows: Wheat, $718,000,000; corn, $1,894,000,000; oats, $390,250,000; barley, $107,500,000; rye, $22,500,000. In other words, the aggregate value of these leading cereal crops will be somewhere around three billion dollars, or approximately five times as much as the total value of all the gold and silver produced in the world during the year 1906, the last year for which these statistics are available.

Moreover, this represents only a portion of the prosperity in store for the farmers of this country, for there are the cotton, tobacco, potato, hay and fruit crops to be taken into consideration, and the scores of other farm products of less recognized importance, to say nothing of livestock, eggs, poultry and the products of the dairy and cheese factory, although the returns from some of these are continuous throughout the year, instead of coming "all in a bunch," as is the case with the crops that are garnered at harvest time. Altogether,

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD

During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has so many words of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, leucorrhoea, nervousness, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.

however, the American farmer seems to be living in clover, figuratively speaking as well as in a literal sense. His crops this year will bring him a more bountiful supply of prosperity than he has ever before known, and his great prosperity will surely serve to augment and promote the prosperity of the country in general. Good crops and good times go together, ordinarily, and with the former now assured there will not be a long wait for the latter times that have so long been promised.

THE ANDEAN WAR CLOUD.

South American war clouds form rapidly, and, fortunately, as a rule as rapidly disappear. A few years ago the relations of Brazil and Argentina were strained, but the breaking point was not reached, mutual explanations arising satisfactory, for a time at least. Between Chile and Argentina there is jealousy, due in part to commercial rivalry, and to some extent to a cloudiness of titles in the Andean region. To this cause the status of a vast tract long in dispute, and dissatisfaction with an arbitral decree that gave to the frontier of the litigants all, is due to the friction between Bolivia and Peru. Both countries submitted their claims to the arbitration of President Alorta of Argentina, who decided in favor of Bolivia on some points, and of Bolivia on others. Apparently the weight of his decision favored Peru, for Bolivia protested, and in its indignation forgot courtesy so far as to issue an insulting commentary on President Alorta's motives. Peruvian consuls and citizens in Bolivia were molested, and throughout Bolivia the cry for war. Peru has retorted officially, that is decorously and now the question is whether the newly installed president of Bolivia will be allowed by the army and politicians to keep his country at peace, pending a new attempt at adjudication of the dispute.

Late dispatches indicate that Chile is taking a hand in the dispute. Chile's perfectly "correct," frigidly courteous relations with Argentina dispose Chilean public men to welcome any opportunity to humiliate the Argentine administration, and it is at least plausible that its government is egging on Bolivia to hold out. Moreover, Chile has not lived up to its agreement to allow the people of the "intricate" provinces it wrested from Peru in 1883 to vote as to their permanent allegiance. Peru is crippled, and this perpetually open question keeps it subordinate to Chilean politicians.

The politics of the entire western coast of South America more or less turns on Chile's retention of what Peru claims if Bolivia, which has recently gone in for great railroad development, but is wholly an inland state, could get a port on the Pacific, such an acquisition would "fall in" with Chile's program of keeping Peru always secondary, always in a measure dependent. Bolivia has coastal territory on the Pacific previous to 1883, but having sided with Peru and been defeated it had to yield its ports to Chile, which now by a small restitution might link Bolivia to its policy. There are elements of trouble in the present situation which give the present war cloud a darker hue than most of the disturbances that loom in the politics of our southern neighbors.—Boston Transcript.

SENSIBLE ADVICE.

Many are the stories which are told of the wit of Herr Rosenthal, the well-known pianist, who recently made his reappearance in London after an absence of nine years.

"I am losing a tremendous lot of money in connection with my recitals," said a not too successful pianist to him one day. "What shall I do?"

"Give fewer concerts," was Rosenthal's quick reply.

Upper Peninsula

No Snow on the Ground—The meteorological report of the department of agriculture, as calculated for this latitude, announces that there was no snow on the ground at the end of July. Superficial inquiry tends to confirm the truth of the story.—Gladstone Delta.

Killed in the Far West—Word has been received at Manistique that Robert Hammonson of Thomas Hammonson of that place, had been killed in the far west. No particulars have reached the city as yet, but it is thought that he was killed while engaged in railroad work, as he was an engineer on a logging road in Washington.

Gets Carload of Copper Wire—The Twin City General Electric company of Ironwood has received a carload of copper wire, included in which is the trolley wire for the new interurban line between Ironwood and Bessemer. The shipment was the largest of its kind ever received on the Gogebic range. Manager Pearce expects the first consignment of rails within a few days.

Is Afraid of Hydrophobia—William Leavek was out berrying on Knapp's marsh the other day and took a cat along, which he intended to drown in the lake close by, writes a Daggett (Menominee county) correspondent. As he threw the cat into the water it grabbed Leavek's hand and tore it very badly. Now he is afraid that rabies will result and wishes that he had left the feline alone.

Wants to Make Restitution—Tim Mahon, agent at Iron River for the Chicago & Northwestern company, received an interesting letter a few days ago from a man in the northern part of the lower peninsula. The writer stated that some years ago he stole a ride on the railroad from Iron River to Kenton, when the country was wild and woolly; that he had since settled down and was leading a different life, and desired to know the fare from Iron River to Kenton, as he wished to make restitution. Mr. Mahon referred the letter to the general passenger agent at Chicago and has not been informed as to what action that official took.

Favors Later Fishing Season—Superintendent Marks of the state fish hatchery at Escanaba is an advocate of the proposition of making the fishing season for brook trout cover the period between May 15 and Sept. 15. Under the present law, the upper peninsula gets but about six weeks of good fishing as the surface water prevents it early in May and mosquitoes and other insects make life on inland streams almost unbearable until July. The change to September 1st helps some, but Mr. Marks is still of the opinion that the season should remain open until the middle of September, which, he contends, would do no harm whatever to the fishing interests.

Forest Fires Doomed—Posters have recently been nailed up in the highways and byways of this county, laying down one law about forest fires, comments the Crystal Falls Drill. Of course these posters will stop all the fires. Timber owners and others having property subject to fire need be awake no more at night, worrying. Those placards will keep the fire away. The first locomotive accustomed to vomiting sparks will automatically stop an arrester when it runs up against one of these placards nailed on a telegraph pole. The careless fisherman who left a fire burning several miles in the rear will turn back and quench it on meeting the first of these placards. Oh, yes. The state of Michigan has been doing its fire fighting in this manner now for several years and—witness the result.

Father Marquette Monument—The following is the inscription prepared by Commissioner Chas. Moore of Detroit for the Marquette monument to be erected and dedicated at Mackinac Island some time this month: Front, Marquette, 1637-1675. Left, Father Jacques Marquette, with Louis Joliet, discoverer of the Mississippi river, founder of St. Ignace and Kaskaskia missions; an explorer and a resourceful; a shepherd who gave his life for the sheep. Right, to Nicolet, Raymbault & Joliet, Radisson & Groselliers, Menard, Alouez, Saint-Lasson & Perrot, the careless fisherman who left a fire burning several miles in the rear will turn back and quench it on meeting the first of these placards. Oh, yes. The state of Michigan has been doing its fire fighting in this manner now for several years and—witness the result.

once known, and but a few years will see this one of the recognized agricultural districts of Michigan. The plans for the celebration, originated by the farmers, have been taken up by the Escanaba business men, and a county fair, with races, prizes, and many other attractions, will be conducted on those two days, Friday and Saturday.

Local Optimists' Plans—Rev. C. H. Rutledge, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league for the upper peninsula, who was in Escanaba the other day, said that the local option fight will be carried into Alger and Mackinac counties next spring, and the preliminary organization work has already been started. It was at first intended to make the fight in only two upper peninsula counties, he said, but other counties have been coming into line one by one until there are now only seven in which it has not yet been decided to make local option an issue. These seven are Houghton, Delta, Gogebic, Ontonagon, Iron, Baraga and Keweenaw. There is a possibility, however, that the issue will be raised in Iron county. The peninsula has always been considered hopelessly wet, and the outcome of the fight next spring will be awaited with great interest.

Baseball Team Disbands—The Ironwood baseball team was disbanded and the players have received their final settlement. Nearly all of the men have already signed with other teams, Schmirer going to the Duluth White Sox, Forcier to the Escanaba and Parker to the Keweenaw team at Mercer. Murphy and Poller will play with Bessemer for a time at least. The decision to disband the team was arrived at by the directors of the Athletic association for the reason that it was impossible to secure a competent pitcher who was willing to take hold of the team and manage it, giving it the time and attention that would be necessary to make it successful, and unless this could be done, and some new ginger put into the situation and games arranged with the outside teams, baseball would be a losing venture for the balance of the season. The Hurley team has also gone to pieces. Ironwood will probably have a team next season, as it is one of the best ball towns in this part of the country and the material is sufficient to support a first class team.

School Board's New Rule—According to action taken by the board of education the parents or guardians of seniors in the Escanaba public schools will be notified two weeks before commencement whether or not their children or wards can receive diplomas, and ten days before the diplomas are awarded the superintendent of schools must file with the board of education a complete report of the seniors who have passed with satisfactory standings, together with the standings of those who have failed. A resolution making such a report compulsory on the superintendent was offered and after being fully discussed was unanimously adopted. The action of the board will mean that the senior examinations will begin one week earlier than has been the plan in the past and all members of the board, together with their parents or guardians, will be informed in sufficient time in advance should they fail in the final tests to prevent them from preparing for graduation. Sufficient time will also be given under the new rule to allow those who are capable of doing so to make up their conditions before the close of the school year.

WATERWAYS TO COME FIRST

This Fact Emphasized by the President's Program—He Will Attend Three Conventions This Autumn—Biggest One of These the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Congress.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Now that the atmosphere has cleared with respect to the tariff, men interested in public affairs are awakening to the fact that a great, new governmental movement with a monstrous force back of it has come into existence and that the big issue that faces the American people in the immediate future is the improvement of the waterways. There has crystallized in the immediate past a sentiment that has long had a place in the conviction of the people to the effect that transportation facilities were inadequate to handle the growing business of the country and just now there is taking shape a thing that will center the attention of the people for twenty years to come and beside which such enterprises as the Panama canal which has been regarded as Herculean, sink into insignificance in comparison. All the waterways of the country are to be dug out within the next score of years, and the ocean is to be brought to the farmer.

The primary indication to the effect that this thing is actually to be done lies in the fact that congress has appointed a joint commission of nine men to visit the waterways of Europe where a similar task has been accomplished and to bring back a report as to the manner of its doing. This commission was not instructed to report on the advisability of doing this thing, but to lay down a plan for its accomplishment. Congress wants to know the manner of digging out the streams, having already made up its mind as to the advisability of it.

The second great influence that is being brought to bear upon the immediate setting about the task of actual accomplishment is that of the present administration. Mr. Taft has given repeated intimation of his intention to push in line waterways improvement above all the other conservation measures that have found favor with the people. Recently he issued a statement to a Chicago magazine, in which he stated that he was in favor of the broad policy of conservation, but in this he placed waterways above all else. Then he received an invitation from the Mississippi valley people who are favoring the project of improving the channel from the Lakes to the Gulf, from Chicago to the mouth of the Mississippi. It asked that he attend the convention to be held in New Orleans in the early fall and that he travel down the Father of Waters from Memphis on that occasion. Mr. Taft has accepted the invitation.

Then came the invitation of the Atlantic Deep Waterways' association, which has in mind the establishment of an inland water route from Boston to Beaufort, N. C., the biggest project in the nation next to that of the Mississippi. This invitation was for Nov. 17-20 at Norfolk, and was likewise accepted. Finally there came an invitation from the National Rivers and Harbors congress, the parent and national society of them all. Then, finally, there comes the official endorsement of the government's regularly accredited representatives appointed for the purpose of making a report as to what waterways are the conditions with reference to water transportation. Herbert Knox Smith of the bureau of corporations, department of commerce and labor, has been at work for two years in an attempt to establish the facts as to just what conditions exist as to water transportation in this country. In his findings, he says:

"Our increasing commerce demands that our waterways be made an active part of our transportation system. Our inland rivers are not so now. Waterways themselves and their conditions must be improved so that they may carry a share of the nation's traffic proportioned to their real possibilities, and shall so supplement the rail system as to prevent the recurrence of disastrous traffic congestions. Under a general plan our inland waterways can be made more of a continental unit. They must be placed in such a position that they can secure a larger proportion than now of the country's traffic. River and canal traffic is now insignificant as compared with rail traffic. It is sufficient to say that terminal improvement is greatly needed and is entirely possible. There has been very little co-operation between the central and local authorities. This has resulted in inevitable lack of uniformity and comprehensive plan, and a lack of any proportionate contribution from the localities benefited. Enormous quantities have in many cases dissipated the cost of waterways improvement upon localities in some ratio with the special benefits received. Such co-operation is worthy of careful consideration in any comprehensive plan of waterway improvement."

In like manner the findings of the special investigation point in every finding to the necessity of action on the part of the central government. All those interested in the project that is destined to be the biggest undertaking that this government has ever attempted, through this report given authoritative and unbiased facts as to the actual status of the waterways.

LAST OF THE BIG MEETINGS. Calumet Croatiens Are Arranging for Their Annual Convention.

The last of the big conventions to meet in Calumet this summer will be that of the National Croatian union, which will be in session from Sept. 20 until Oct. 2. As yet the plans have not been entirely arranged, but there is evidence of the Japanese gathering in a letter from the national president to the Calumet organizers, received yesterday.

This communication states that as yet it is impossible to determine how many delegates will be present, but the president asks that arrangements be made for three hundred at least but that possibly 400 will be on hand and the committee should bear this possibility in mind.

The near approach of the Croatian convention, which will attract to Calumet a great number of people from all parts of the United States, indicates that the biggest convention summer in the history of the upper peninsula is about at an end. It has been a season of festivity in Calumet and also one of hard work for the various committees.

Odd Fellows to Houghton. A large number of the citizens of Calumet, both men and women, will have the opportunity tomorrow of testing the hospitality of another community. The annual reunion of the Odd Fellows of Houghton and Keweenaw counties will be held in Houghton tomorrow, and Calumet will be represented by six organizations.

Two Good Fistic Bouts. Lovers of good boxing are looking forward to the coming week with more than the usual interest, this because two of the best bouts ever held in the district are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Popular Singer Returns. J. A. Marshall, the sweet voiced tenor who up to three months ago was wont to charm the patrons of the Grand theater at Calumet with his singing, returned yesterday and opened at the Grand once more. He is singing today "Somebody Misses You Every Day" and "When the Moon Plays Peek a Boo."

Both offices open evenings. Phones, Calumet, 64 and 75. Laurium, 450, 520 and 605.

WHITE BRONZE
Marble is entirely out of date. Granite soon gets moss-grown, discolored, requires constant expense and care, and eventually crumbles back to Mother Earth. Besides, it is very expensive. WHITE BRONZE is strictly everlasting. It cannot crumble with the action of frost. Moss growth is an impossibility. It is more artistic than any stone. Then why not investigate it? It has been adopted for over one hundred public monuments, and by thousands of delighted customers in all parts of the country. It has been on the market over 25 years and is an established success. Many granite dealers have bought White Bronze for their own burial plots. I have hundreds of beautiful designs of all grades of work, and want to have you see them if you are interested in a monument, headstone, marker or grave cover. On receipt of a postal card will be pleased to call with designs and samples of White Bronze.

More than three decades ago Dr. Coyle was the Presbyterian pastor here. He left Marquette thirty-one years ago.

Fined and Released—Frank Luoma and Kustu Soutanen, the two Finns, who were arrested by Sheriff Lehman Wednesday, on complaint of residents of Chicago, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct before Justice Cray yesterday, and were fined $8 each, which they promptly paid and were released. It is stated that the two drove a number of Chasolay people into hiding, by running up and down the street, brandishing knives and making terrible threats while under the influence of liquor.

Subscription List Started—R. J. Klamer, director of Our Boys' band, started the circulation of a subscription list yesterday, the purpose of which is to obtain the necessary funds to take the band to the women's tournament at Laurium next week. It is estimated that $150 will be needed to enable the boys to take in the tournament for three days. Mr. Klamer stated last evening that he had met with a generous response from the men he had approached yesterday, and that about one-third of the amount needed had already been subscribed.

Sunday School Picnic—Providing the weather is favorable, the annual picnic of the Presbyterian Sunday school will be held at Lake Independence today. The train that will be taken will leave the Marquette & Southeastern station at 9:15 a. m. and returning will leave at 3:30 p. m. It will be a basket picnic and those who wish to take their lunches will bring them. In the event that the weather is unfavorable, the picnic will take place tomorrow.

Death of Infant—Gertrude A., the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lemon, 424 Pine street, died yesterday after a brief illness, at the age of five months. Lawn Social Tonight—The lawn social, which was postponed Wednesday evening, owing to the inclement weather, will be given this evening. If the weather is pleasant, the social will be given in Lakeside park, but if it should be disagreeable outside it will be held in Barga auditorium. Music has been arranged for and a good time is promised those who attend. A fee of ten cents will be charged and the public is invited to attend.

Tags for Automobiles—The secretary of state's department is making a study at present of various styles of automobile and motor cycle tags for use under the new automobile license law, which requires that a different colored tag be issued each year by the department in order that owners may be able to tell at a glance whether a driver has secured his state license for the year. Deputy Secretary of State Mears is inclined to favor a white enameled tag with black figures and letters for this year and for certain reasons will probably select a red letter tag for next year. Under the law the state furnishes these tags free of charge to the licensees who, however, are required to pay $3 for their license, under which scale the state nets a nice little profit on each tag. It will probably require an investment of about $10,000 or $15,000 by the state to begin business as there are about that many machines in use in this state and the tags will cost about sixty cents for the large size designs for the front end of the automobiles in addition to the smaller ones required on the rear end.

Golf Expert Here—Members of the golf club consider themselves exceptionally fortunate in having been able to secure the services of Mr. and Mrs. King of Chicago, expert golfers, to take charge of the club house and grounds. Mr. and Mrs. King have come here on recommendation of A. G. Spalding & Co., and are to remain permanently, making their residence in the club house. Mr. King is said to have had wide experience, both in laying out golf links and in playing and teaching the game, while his wife is an expert caterer. Mr. King has been in the business of getting the golf grounds in shape for play temporarily, but it will take him some time to get the tees and greens in first class condition. However, it is thought that the links will be available for play today. Mrs. King will take immediate charge of the club house and will be able to serve refreshments within a very short time. Mr. King will also instruct the members of the club who are novices in the fine points of the game.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. HOME-COMING WEEK NEXT YEAR, MAYBE COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS STARTED MOVEMENT FOR CELEBRATION OF CITY'S SIXTY-FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

At a recent meeting of the Queen City Commercial club, a committee was appointed to start the ball rolling for a home week celebration to take place some time next summer, probably in the month of July. The city was sixty years old on July 10, last, which anniversary passed unmarked, but it aroused in the minds of some of the business men the idea of a home coming celebration next year, in observance of the sixty-first anniversary of the city's existence. President Saindin, of the club stated yesterday that an effort would be made to make this one of the biggest celebrations ever held in Marquette, and that it would be talked continually from now until next summer. Home-coming celebrations have proven a great success in other cities, and it is intended that Marquette's celebration next year shall eclipse all other efforts in a similar direction in this part of the country.

It was also brought up at the meeting that now but one freight boat line discharges or receives merchandise at this port, whereas a few years ago, the city was served by several lake transportation companies. It was stated yesterday that the merchants needed especially a direct water route to Chicago. A number of merchandise vessels make regular trips between Chicago, the copper country and Duluth, but none of the boats stop at Marquette. The same is true of water lines operating between other lake ports. Accordingly, a committee was appointed whose duty is to confer with other transportation companies operating on Lake Superior with a view to getting them to make this city a stopping point next year.

A member of the Commercial club stated yesterday that some of the members were not taking the interest in the organization that they should and, in fact, never attended the meetings except when they had an axe to grind. He declared that such persons were not doing the club or the city's interests any good, and that the city would enjoy the growth and prosperity that is its due, only when all the business men were willing to put their selfish interests in the background and pull together for a "Greater Marquette."

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

"New buying was in evidence this morning, and under the leadership of Amalgamated, several new high records were made. The former opened at 89, which was the high for the day. First sales of Lake Copper were made at 35, and on persistent buying it rose to above 36. North Lake was stronger in sympathy, but gained only a small fraction. A regular dividend of $1 was declared on North Butte, upon which announcement this stock advanced to 59%. Centennial was stronger, and Atlantic touched 12 1/2. Cactus was in better request, and it now looks as though the upward movement in this issue would be resumed. The plan of reorganization, regarding which many rumors have been afloat, will likely be made known in the near future. It is stated the plan will be distinctly favorable to holders of the development stock. Ohio Copper, Cumberland Ely, Davis Daly, Live Oak and First National Copper were among the other active issues. Chief was quiet and unchanged.

Ishpeming Department

TO FIGHT OFFICERS OF RUBBER COMPANY

ATTORNEY HERE FROM CHICAGO IS INTERESTING THE BOND-HOLDERS OF THE SAN MAGUEL RUBBER PLANTATION COMPANY TO JOIN IN THE EFFORT.

The upper peninsula people, who, during the past seven or eight years, purchased bonds in the San Maguel Rubber Plantation company of Mexico, will do well to read over even a portion of the money they have invested. For some months past Ishpeming people who purchased the bonds have suspected that something has been wrong with the company.

It now develops that there has been much misrepresentation of the plantation and the company's affairs by the promoters, who, it is alleged, collected not less than $450,000 on the sale of the bonds. W. J. White, a Chicago attorney, who is leading the fight against the company's officers, was in Ishpeming Wednesday, conferring with the bondholders. Mr. White advised them that the combination being formed to fight the promoters is a strong one and that it includes most of the bondholders.

Mr. White says that more bonds were sold in the upper peninsula than in any other region. Several upper peninsula men were induced to visit the plantation a few years ago. They came back with favorable reports, but those collections have been made as usual it seems that the promised improvements have not been made. The bonds sold at $300 each and were payable in monthly installments. The first year year the bondholders paid $7 per month, with an increase of from $1 to $2 on each installment after the first year period. A number of Ishpeming men invested in from two to five bonds, and there is one man in the city who purchased sixteen. One of the bondholders yesterday said that as nearly as he could ascertain most of the bonds held here have been paid for in full, so that the holders are out a considerable sum. He said that he had paid about $700 for three bonds, two of them having been paid for in full.

In order to keep selling the bonds, the promoters paid small dividends out of the money they received in the monthly payments from the original bondholders. The dividends, however, were small in comparison to the assessments. While Mr. White has been unable to ascertain just what sum has been paid out in dividends, he expressed the opinion that much of the assessment money has been pocketed by the promoters, three of whom have already been indicted.

An effort has been made to have the matter taken in hand by the postal authorities. Mr. White is now endeavoring to interest the legislators, also the congressmen and United States senators in several states, where the fraudulent work was carried on, with a view to having laws passed that will prevent other similar frauds.

BASEBALL TONIGHT.

The city indoor baseball team and the Young Men's Christian association and school team will meet this evening at the association gymnasium. The game will start at 7:30. The senior team will line up as follows: Jack Martin, catcher; J. McDougal, pitcher; George Tucker, first base; Joe Martin, second base; Will Andrews, third base; John Small, right short; Ted Butler, left short; Will Cooley, left field; Russ Terrill, right field; Shaddock, substitute.

Mrs. William Buckett and daughter, Marie, have returned from a six weeks' visit with relatives in Illinois.

Al Beeson, head bookkeeper with Swift & Co., is enjoying a vacation this week. W. G. Matthews is here from the Chicago office, filling his place.

James Scanlon, a former resident, was here yesterday for Crystal Falls. He has been engaged in diamond drill work on the Menominee range for a number of years past.

It is not likely that the Ishpeming, Negaunee and Marquette fire departments will combine in taking a band to the firemen's tournament at Laurium next week. Members of all three departments will go to the copper country on the same train next Wednesday morning.

St. John's parochial school will open for the fall term on Tuesday, Sept. 8.

J. J. Lefler has installed one of the American account and register systems at his place of business. It is a much more convenient device than the system formerly in use and will hold 280 accounts. John Keyes of Hancock is the company's agent in this territory.

Mrs. D. E. Rice of Calumet joined her husband here Wednesday evening. Mrs. Rice was formerly Miss Bertha Ruttenberg of this city. Her husband recently bought out the Bijou theater in Negaunee, and will conduct it in addition to his Grand moving picture theater at Calumet. He opened the first moving picture house in the copper country some three years ago.

The taxpayers of Coleraine, on the Mesaba range, where many former Ishpeming people are located, are to vote on an $40,000 bonding proposition on the 19th. The money to be raised will be used for the erection of a village hall. The Canisteo and Walker mines of the Oliver company at Bovey were flooded Wednesday by a heavy rain and will be idle for a few days.

Bernan Jaelcke has a house that he will sell at a bargain figure. He wants to dispose of it because the site is desired for other purposes, and he wants to dispose of it at once. The house is that which occupies the rear of the Taylor property at the corner of Pearl and First streets. It faces on the alley. The purchaser will be required either to remove the house to another site or tear it down.

ATTRACTIVE STORES.

Improvements at Odd Fellows' Block Rapidly Nearing Completion.

When the improvements at the Odd Fellows' block completed M. A. Kahn and N. E. Skud will have attractive stores. Mr. Kahn has just completed installing twelve of the Welch patent section clothing cabinets on the south side of the rear building also four hat cabinets. These not only add to the beauty of the interior, but they are convenient and furnish capacity for an increased number of suits. Each clothing cabinet will hold from seventy-five to eighty suits, and each of the hat cabinets will hold 150 hats exclusive of the drawers at the bottom, which will be used for caps.

The clothing cabinets are of solid oak and in two sections, and each suit will hang separately. The cabinets have nickel trimmings and are dust proof. In the rear cabinet there is a large panel mirror. The hat cabinets have a shelf at the base, to be used when the goods are being shown to the customers.

The tables in the center of the room are to be replaced by new show cases with glass on either side. Show cases are also to be extended along the north side opposite the men's furnishings and shoe departments. The space on top of the cabinets will be trimmed and all of the surplus goods are to be kept in the basement, where there will also be a specially fitted up trunk and valise department.

The office has been moved to the rear and the room has been redecorated and provided with steel ceiling. Mr. Kahn now has nearly twice as much floor space as formerly. Large arc lights are to be put in to replace the present lights.

With the addition at the rear and the basement, Mr. Skud has more than double his former floor space. A hallway is being erected in the rear and the office will be located there. New cloak racks are to be installed and a number of minor improvements made. The center wall has been replastered and the interior is to be replastered and repainted. A second entrance has been made on the south side to correspond with the one on the north. This increases the space for window displays by several feet. A cash and parcel carrier system is to be installed and all of the departments will be provided with new lighting equipment.

The rooms on the second floor are being plastered and the carpenters will soon be able to commence the finishing work. The lodge hall will have a steel ceiling but the ceilings in all of the other rooms will be plastered.

CHARLES T. FAIRBAIRN GETS NEW POSITION

FORMER ISHPEMING MAN ADVANCED TO OFFICE OF GENERAL MANAGER OF REPUBLIC IRON & STEEL CO.'S MINES.

Charles T. Fairbairn, manager of the Lake Superior iron mines of the Republic Iron & Steel company, has been promoted to the position of general manager of the corporation's mines. The company has iron mines in the coal and coal mines in the East, in addition to its several Lake Superior properties, and Mr. Fairbairn will have charge of all of them. His new duties will take him to Pittsburg, where he will take up his residence the first of next month. He has been located in Duluth for some time past, but much of his work has been done on the Mesaba and Marquette ranges.

Mr. Fairbairn is one of the best known mining men in the Lake Superior district and his friends will be pleased to learn of his advancement. He is particularly well known on the Marquette range, where he started in the mining business under the late Captain William Oliver at the Nelson mine, more than twenty years ago. He went from there to the Winthrop, and for a time had general supervision of that property for F. Braastad.

After the Winthrop properties were closed down Mr. Fairbairn was appointed manager at Ishpeming, a position he held until he accepted the Mesaba range management of the Jones & Laughlin properties, with headquarters at Virginia. He held this position until less than three years ago, when he accepted the management of the Republic Iron & Steel company's Lake Superior properties, succeeding Alexander Maitland.

The Republic Iron & Steel company's Lake Superior holdings have increased during the time Mr. Fairbairn has been at the head of the mining department. Several new Mesaba range properties have been opened, and the company is now working a larger force than ever before. Its only properties on the Mesaba range are the Cambria and Lillis at Negaunee.

It is not announced who is to succeed Mr. Fairbairn as manager of the company's Lake Superior properties, but it is thought that F. J. Webb, of Ely, will be the man. Mr. Webb has been the general superintendent of the company's Mesaba range properties.

PALMATIRE SISTERS.

The Uniform rank, Knights of Pythias, has engaged the Palmatire Sisters for an entertainment at Braastad's Hall for the evening of Sept. 2. There are five sisters, all of whom are said to be clever musicians. The members of the organization are considering the advisability of giving a hop at the company's office of the entertainment, the music to be furnished by the Palmatire orchestra. Tickets will be fifty cents each. The Daily Times of Joplin, Mo., said of the company: "Should these talented and gifted artists come to Joplin again, it will be necessary to display the 'R. I. S.' sign as our largest public buildings are so small to entertain an audience that would turn out to hear them."

ROAD MAY NOT BE BUILT THIS YEAR

COUNCIL MAY DECIDE, AT ITS NEXT MEETING, TO DEFER CONSTRUCTION OF HIGHWAY EAST OF MINES ON EAST RANGE.

It is not likely that a new road will be built to the city line, extending from a point near the east range properties, this year. The members of the council looked over the territory this week and it is their impression that the need for the new road is not pressing. It will be necessary, however, to abandon the present road within a year or two, as a part of it is being undermined by the Oliver Iron Mining company.

The proposed new route will be much shorter than the present one, and will be more convenient in some respects. It will be possible to connect it with the Goose Lake road, shortening the distance about half a mile. The farmers to be benefited have sought the improvement for some time, but as it will be an expensive job it is likely that the council will put it off for at least a year. A portion of the road to be abandoned was constructed only about two years ago. The new road will run parallel with the Chicago & Northwestern railway for a considerable distance below the mines.

It is expected that ultimately a good wagon road will be provided between Negaunee and the Saganaw range towns. The Cleveland-Chiff. Iron company has secured a right-of-way for its steel towers, which are to carry the wires for the proposed electric transmission line. It follows the highway leading to Palmer a considerable distance, but from Palmer to the Saganaw range will pass through unbroken country. The company will likely find it necessary to construct a road along the right-of-way, to be used in the event repairs to the line are necessary. A member of the council yesterday said that he thought that the city and townships should co-operate with the company in the construction of such a road, as it would be of much benefit to the general public. The company has designated locations for all of its towers along the line and other preliminary work is well advanced. The towers will be constructed of steel.

Rosen Bros. & Klein announce a "yellow tag sale" to start tomorrow morning. Extra hands have been employed the past few days rearranging the stock and marking down the prices on the goods. The firm is offering inducements to outside patrons. The sale is to be for cash.

BASEBALL AND WRESTLING.

Members of Lake Superior Mining Institute Will Be Entertained Here.

The committee in charge of the entertainment for the members of the Lake Superior Mining Institute, which is to hold its annual meeting on this range a week from next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, has made arrangements with the managements of the Ishpeming and Negaunee baseball teams to play a game at the Union Park grounds. There will also be a Cornish wrestling match at the park. The prizes for the wrestling will be provided by the committee and will be $15, $9 and $6. The arena will probably be placed on either side of the diamond in view of the grandstand and bleachers. The wrestling will start at 2:30 and the ball game at 3. One-half of the grand stand will be reserved for members of the institute, who will be admitted to both the grounds and grand stand by their badges. For others, the usual admission will be charged.

The members of the institute are to be served with a lunch at the Golf club house at noon and it is expected that most of them will remain there until the time to go to the Union park to attend the sports. The officers of the organization expect that there will be between 400 and 500 members present.

Entries for the wrestling may be made with Captain J. H. Rough of this city or Mayor Keesee of Ishpeming.

STUDY OF WOOD INDUSTRY.

Wisconsin Forest Service to Conduct Important Investigation.

The state of Wisconsin is soon to begin the study of the wood-using industries, with a view to ascertaining where waste can be avoided. The large number of hard and soft woods produced in both Wisconsin and Michigan, coupled with power development on many rivers and the excellent rail and water facilities offered manufacturers and shippers, has resulted in these states having a diversified wood using industries as any two other states in the union.

The wood products are used in the manufacture of thousands of articles, and it is expected that the proposed study of the industry will bring forth many new facts of interest, and result in devising means by which the wood products can be more extensively used than at present. The investigation will be conducted by the forest service, in conjunction with the state board of forestry.

There are over 600 manufacturing in Wisconsin that will be requested to give information, and the report is to be distributed in printed form. Wisconsin ranks fifth among the states in the production of lumber, and it is believed that the proposed study will show the state to rank well up in the production of articles manufactured from lumber out within its borders.

IMPROVING CHURCH PROPERTY.

The trustees of the Presbyterian church, at the corner of Case street and Pioneer avenue, are making some substantial improvements. Concrete openings are being constructed around the basement windows and concrete steps and a platform have been built at the entrance. The construction of a concrete walk and curb, to conform with the new walks recently completed at the new high school, also the case street building, will be started within a few days.

LOCAL LACONICS.

James Davey has completed a foundation for a dwelling in the Cyr addition, facing Snow street.

H. J. Peterson, the tailor, has a permanent position to offer a pants maker. He will pay good wages.

Mrs. B. Carmichael and family are preparing to leave for Grand Rapids, Mich., where they will locate permanently.

Plans for the new fire hall, which can now be seen at the city recorder's office, have been inspected by a number of Negaunee people during the past few days.

Mrs. E. P. Kelly of Detroit and Miss Amy Bly of Eaton, O., left yesterday for their homes, after spending three weeks visiting George J. Haupt and family.

The fourteen-months-old son of Postmaster Thomas Connors died yesterday morning after a three weeks' illness. The funeral will be held this afternoon from St. Paul's church.

Andrew Lindquist began excavating yesterday for the foundation for the society's new building on Gold street, for which he was awarded the contract Wednesday.

The picnic for the children of St. John's Sunday School society, to have been held yesterday, was postponed on account of unfavorable weather. It will be held some day next week.

Henry Kronberg has started to remodel his home on Jackson street. The smaller dwelling that stood on the rear of the lot has been moved to one of the lots in the Cyr addition, facing Heath street.

Florence, Thomas and Daniel Sullivan, and relatives who accompanied, the remains of their mother to Negaunee a week ago tomorrow, left Wednesday night for their homes on the Mesaba and Gogebic ranges.

The Cleveland-Chiff. Iron company has resumed operations at the South Jackson property, which has been idle the greater part of the past two years. A full force may not be employed for some days as all of the men desired are not available.

J. L. Kuhlman is making a number of improvements at the house recently vacated by Mrs. Sorenson on Pioneer street. A complete new bath outfit is being installed and all of the rooms are to be redecorated. The dwelling is also being resingled. Sam Parson has the plumbing contract.

John Ward was here yesterday from Escanaba visiting his brothers-in-law, John and Daniel Sica. For nearly two months past, Mr. Ward, who is a passenger conductor on the Northwestern system, has been employed at the main office in Escanaba, examining brakemen on the Peninsula division.

Mayor Water has received a number of complaints regarding the condition of the Iron street crossing, which contained about six inches of water in places after the rain Wednesday evening. The Northwestern company raised its east track several inches above the walk, leaving holes that catch the water. It was necessary to lay planks from the edge of the walk near the bank building to the railway track Wednesday evening, following the storm. The Northwestern and street car managements will be requested to put the street in as good condition as it was before they made their recent improvements.

THE BUSY TREASURY.

New and Heavy Burdens on the Department.

Tariff Law and Corporation Tax Important and Exacting Problems—The Revenue Outlook Not Very Promising—Report of Monetary Commission Coming for Next Congress—Secretary MacVeagh Selecting Young Men for the Responsible Positions—New Revenue Collector a Conspicuous Example.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The treasury department for a good many months to come is going to be much in the limelight. It has a number of new burdens and responsibilities imposed upon it, all of them of the utmost importance. Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh evidently appreciates this fact, and he is getting ready for it.

The enforcement of a new tariff law alone is enough to make the head of the treasury department lie awake nights. But there are other things demanding attention. The collection of the corporation tax will be a hard and perplexing problem. Then, the outlook for revenue in the new year is not the best, and Secretary of the treasury is making the prospect of having to issue certificates of indebtedness. Aside from these things, the report of the monetary commission will be forthcoming late in the next session of congress and this, with the consideration of legislation in consequence of it, will impose a great deal of responsibility and effort on the treasury department.

Secretary MacVeagh has apparently set out to get young and vigorous men for the responsible places in his department. This has been emphasized lately by the appointment of Professor A. Platt Andrew of Massachusetts to the position of director of the mint. It has been still further emphasized by the appointment of Royal E. Cabell to be commissioner of internal revenue, a young Virginian with a fine capacity for doing things, aside from being a politician of shrewd ability. Already Secretary MacVeagh has in his office Assistant Secretaries Norton, Hillis and Reynolds, all young men, and a young man, Lawrence O. Murray, as comptroller of the currency. It is understood other young men are to be gathered about Mr. MacVeagh in the near future, at least in the case of one important appointment.

Mr. Cabell's appointment is viewed here as one of the utmost importance, both in a political way and otherwise. It is well known that the President would like to make inroads on the Solid South. He sees in the wrangle between the Virginia Democrats a chance for the Republican to make gains in the state and perhaps carry it. On this account alone the appointment of Mr. Cabell is of moment. The latter is no spring chicken in politics even if he is young. The office of commissioner of internal revenue has always been a fertile field for the operations of a politician. Many revenue officers are at work in Virginia and it is needless to say Mr. Cabell will have numerous opportunities to do the Republican party some good in the Old Dominion.

But aside from the political phases of the appointment of Mr. Cabell, there is reason to believe that Secretary MacVeagh has got a capable man for the administration of an office that has been made doubly important by the enactment of the corporation tax law.

Mr. Cabell has been in Washington this week, looking over the scene of his future activities in collecting revenue for a government that needs it. He is only thirty-four. President Roosevelt can claim the credit for having discovered him. It was Roosevelt who appointed him to the office of postmaster at Richmond. The office was sadly in need of a good man and Mr. Cabell proved his capacity by reorganizing it and putting it on its feet. The postoffice department's attention was attracted to him. He is still postmaster but will, of course, give that up to take the office of commissioner of internal revenue.

Mr. Taft has heard of Cabell but he did not really take his measure until the campaign of last fall. Then the young postmaster organized a political meeting at Richmond which the presidential candidate addressed. It is said to have been one of the greatest. Taft was much pleased at the showing, and, now that there is what seems a close fight on in the Old Dominion, he naturally is glad to have a man like Cabell about whom he can advise with him and to give Virginia the benefit of an important appointment. It was the president who introduced Cabell to Secretary MacVeagh, and the latter at once concluded he was the sort of an appointee that would suit. Postmaster General Hitchcock is well acquainted with Cabell and is one of his warm admirers.

The Cabell family is one of the old ones of Virginia and is well known. Young Cabell is tall, dark-eyed, broad-shouldered and built like a football player. He studied at Princeton and the University of Virginia. His family is Democratic in tradition, but he has forsaken the old faith. He is a pretty good type of the New South, a product which President Taft hopes to see liberally represented in his administration. It will be worth while to watch the course of things with respect to this young man, and the more so because if the president cannot advance the cause of the Republican party in the South by pushing forward young men like him then it would seem to be an almost impossible task.

The reason a mother is sure her daughter's decorum is proper is sometimes she fears it isn't.

A dead beat always gets more credit than he deserves.

Many a man is the moving picture of an unpaid tailor bill.

GIVES COUNTRY REST FOR WORKING GIRLS

Free Vacation Provided Boston Visitors at Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer's Comfortable House in Lancaster—Hundreds Benefited by Work of Charity.

Lancaster, Mass., Aug. 12.—"Goodrest" is the name given the delightful old-fashioned country house occupied all summer and every summer by working girls of Boston, who enjoy their much needed periods of rest and country idyllication as the guests of Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer of this town and Boston. This work has been going on for twenty years and a good many hundred girls have enjoyed the delights of being Mrs. Thayer's guests.

The old-fashioned house and ample acres about it were bought by Mrs. Thayer and after renovation of the building the work was begun. The house is over a century old, but its charming colonial interior woodwork, its wainscoting and hand-carved woodwork ornamentation are still in position to charm the eyes with their fine lines of beauty and the generous-sized rooms invite to rest and repose. A broad piazza affords comfort for out-of-door lounging and the second story of it gives privacy and security for out-of-door sleeping at nights. The house fronts the Boston river from Lancaster center to Bolton, and is in part surrounded by fine old trees. Within the rooms are daintily papered and comfortably furnished, some very rare pieces of old-fashioned furniture being in use among the more recent installations.

The house accommodates twenty girls at a time and they come and go according as their individual cases warrant, and if a girl needs more than the conventional two weeks' holiday and is able to take it, that she enjoys. There is a long waiting list, for the best advertisement of the delights and benefits of "Goodrest," so well named, come from the enthusiastic praise by those who have enjoyed its welcome and beneficent shelter. Miss C. J. Nichols is matron and has been since it opened, and assisted Mrs. Thayer in her charitable work. She said:

"Where do the girls come from and how do we get them? Mrs. Thayer's own activity in philanthropic work in Boston of itself brought her into contact with just the sort of women she wished to have enjoy this summer vacation in the country. Being in close touch with the different bureaus and agencies in Boston she had no difficulty at all in getting enough to be her guests, for there is literally no cost to these girls at all. The girls told the story to their friends, and as a consequence we have a long waiting list of would-be visitors. Selection is made according to need of what we can give and in ways which are our own, we select our guests. The visitors have nothing to do save their own room work, and taking care of the house and dining room. They stop there for the kitchen is in the hands of a hired cook and help, so the light housework is nothing of a burden or a limitation upon a vacation rest.

"Milk and vegetables are supplied from Mrs. Thayer's farm and gardens and the country diet, so beneficial, is provided unostentatiously. There is really but little more to say. The girls come and rest, and go away to their work again, rested, invigorated, grateful, happy and renewed in body and spirit. There are twenty here at a time and that makes a household large enough to furnish their own social life, and stimulate and so we have a happy family and are doing a great work."

MANY GOOD THINGS FOR THEATROGOERS

SEASON PROMISES TO BE LIVELY AT OPERA HOUSE, ESPECIALLY NEXT MONTH.

THE "THREE TWINS" COMING

First of Long Run of High Class Attractions to Be Presented Next Wednesday Evening.

Judging from the number of attractions that have been booked by Manager A. F. Koepcke, the patrons of the opera house will have the privilege of enjoying a surfeit of good things during the coming fall and winter, especially during the month of September.

The "Three Twins" is a musical comedy with a plot and many novel features. The conglomeration of nonsense, the riot of color and the spirited movements make such an agreeable attack on one's senses that it matters not under what name the revelry goes.

BANE OF HOTEL MEN.

Landlords on the Alert to Suppress Souvenir Fiends.

Now that the tourist season is in full blast, everybody in any way connected with the hotels is on the alert to suppress the souvenir fiend, who thrives such times as these. It is not that the men and women who make up the tourist body are worse than men and women in general, but they seem possessed with the mania to grab something around the hotel as a reminder, a souvenir, of their trip, and there is no limit as to what they will do to satisfy a foolish longing.

Other articles around the hotel, including the silverware, with the name of the hotel engraved on it, are grabbed for souvenir purposes. Doubtless local hotel keepers have their troubles about about this time, just as hundreds of other hotel keepers throughout the land, when the vacation season is in full blast.

JULY ORE SHIPMENTS.

Second Largest Movement in the History of the Trade Reported.

Notwithstanding cloudbursts and washouts on the ranges which crippled Duluth and Ashland for a week in July, says the Marine Review of Cleveland, O., the ore shipments of that month were 6,893,025 tons, which is the second largest shipment of any month in the history of the trade, the record being made in August, 1907, when 6,806,810 tons were moved. As-ore is now moving with wonderful celerity it is expected that the present month will establish a new record.

Some new machinery is now being installed at the South Shore shops, which will greatly increase the efficiency and capacity of the plant. It's Foolish to Hoard Your Money.

Why? Well, there are many good reasons why you should not carry your savings about with you, or tuck them away in some private place of fancied security.

You take big chances with money so disposed of. It may be stolen, burned, lost or foolishly spent. You may be tempted by some reckless "gamble" or speculative "investment" which would not appeal to you if your savings were safe in the bank.

And, above all, hoarded money earns nothing for you. We not only give you absolute safety and protection, without charge, but we pay you 3 per cent (compounded semi-annually) for the privilege of serving your interests.
