MOTOR CAR RACERS MAKE FAST TIME

Ten-Mile Record Is Shattered at Indianapolis When Zengel Covers the Distance in Eight Minutes and Twenty-Three Seconds.

Feature of the Day Is the 100-Mile Event, However, and the Honors in This Contest Go to Louis Strang—Driving a Buick, He Leads All the Way from the Start, Winning Easily, in 1:32:48, and Finishing Ten Miles Ahead of Nearest Rival.

Indianapolis, Aug. 20.—Strang and Zengel shared the honors of the second day of the automobile racing meet. The former won the fastest one hundred-mile race ever held in this country, while the latter established a new ten-mile record.

The feature was the easy victory of Strang in the 100-mile race, the start event of the day. Driving a Buick, Strang led all the way from the start and won by about ten miles in the exceptional time of 1:32:48. At first it was thought that this was a new 100-mile record for this country, but the officials announced that they had decided to allow the mark of 1:32:19.10 made by Chevrolet in the first hundred miles of the 250-mile race yesterday to stand, despite the fact that Chevrolet did not finish the race. Strang, however, beat Chevrolet's record for nearly all distances between twenty and 100 miles.

Strang's time was more than eleven minutes better than the 100-mile track record set by Burman at Columbus, O., July 3, last. Burman's record was made on a one-mile track. The following are the figures:

Mile-tracked record.	Mile-tracked record.
Strang, 100 miles, 1:32:48-10	18:45-2.5
Zengel, 100 miles, 1:38:29-10	28:38-2.5
Strang, 50 miles, 37:01-10	38:41-4.5
Zengel, 50 miles, 41:44-10	1:08:12-2.5
Strang, 25 miles, 1:14:18	1:30:40-1.5
Zengel, 25 miles, 1:32:48-10	1:44-0

Dewitt, in a Buick, finished second in the long race, in 1:41:32-10, and Stillman, in a Marmon, was third, in 1:42:37-10.

New Ten-Mile Record.

Before Strang started on his wonderful race the honors had gone to Zengel, who established the ten-mile record in his Chevrolet. This was the second time in the meet that this record had been broken. Yesterday Chevrolet recorded Oldfield's old mark of 9:12:3.5 when he won the ten-mile race in 8:54:4.0, and Zengel slashed this to 8:23:2.0 in the ten-mile free-for-all today. Aiken, in a National, who finished second in that event, had the honor of breaking Chevrolet's old mark, as his time was 8:32:10.

Wright, in a Dayton-Stoddard car, easily won the fifty-mile race, taking the lead after the ten-mile mark was passed and holding it to the end. His time was 59:23-1.0. The five-mile free-for-all handicap was the most closely contested race of the day. It resulted in a victory for Metz, who drove a National, while his team mate, Aiken, finished one-tenth of a second behind him, according to the electric scoring machine. Aiken really made the better time, as his handicap was ten seconds, while Metz received an allowance of twenty seconds. The time of the winner was 4:25.

The ten-mile race for machines which will compete in the 200-mile race tomorrow resulted in another victory for the National. This time it was Aiken who piloted the car to victory in the creditable time of 9:26:10. Herbert Lyttle broke into the limelight for the first time during the meet when he finished second in his Apperson, nearly ten seconds behind Aiken.

FIRE ON SHIP PUTS LIVES IN JEOPARDY

Steamer Fred Swain, Enroute from Peoria to La Salle, Ills., With Forty Persons on Board, Burns to the Water's Edge.

Discovery of the Blaze Causes a Panic Among the Women and Children, and to Add to the Excitement Some Passengers Are Precipitated Into the River When the Ropes Supporting the Gang Plank Burn Away—However, No Fatalities Occur.

Peoria, Ills., Aug. 20.—The steamer Fred Swain, leaving Peoria for La Salle at 3 o'clock this afternoon with twenty-five passengers and a crew of fifteen aboard, caught fire off Averyville at 3:20 o'clock and burned to the water's edge. No lives were lost and but two persons were injured, one seriously. The injured are Joseph Casler, of Paucal, Ky., the engineer, seriously burned about the face and body, and Charles Reicheberger, of Peoria, Ill., right arm broken. The loss is estimated at $35,000.

The majority of the passengers were women and children, and the discovery of the fire in a stateroom on the second deck caused a panic. To add to the excitement the ropes supporting the gang plank which had been lowered to enable those aboard to board the shore, burned, letting about fifteen persons, including several women and children, into the water. All were rescued, however, and reached shore in safety. The others were taken off the steamer by people in rowboats and were brought ashore. Engineer Casler, after attending to the boiler, guarding it against explosion, secured the pumps, remaining there until the flames scorched his face and body. He reached shore in a rowboat and was taken to a hospital.

The fire was discovered by a cabin boy on opening the door of a stateroom. He gave the alarm, but all efforts to subdue the flames proved fruitless. Captain Swain, realizing that all hopes for the vessel were gone, ordered Pilot Martin Husted to beach the boat, and the crew to take to their life preservers. Captain Swain was the last one to leave the steamer, which was totally destroyed, together with all the personal belongings of the passengers.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—An alleged attempt to take over the plant of the Pressed Steel Car company at McKees Rocks, followed by much disorder there, striking employees of the company fired several shots at over one hundred new men who were being taken into the works at noon, kept the state constabulary and deputy sheriffs on the alert for twelve hours today. New cars shipped away today indicate that the company is operating the works at least on a small scale with the imported men. The attempt to start a fire inside the plant of the company was made early today. Several large bundles of burning excelsior were thrown over the mill fence, but were extinguished by the guards. Tonight the conditions in and about the car plant are quiet.

HEARING ON FREIGHT RATES.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The interstate commerce commission will start work in about a month on one of the most important trips it has made since the passage of the Hepburn law. It will conduct hearings which will involve freight rates from New York and other eastern points through to many far western shipping centers, and to the Pacific coast. Local rates also will be involved. The first hearing will be at Spokane, Oct. 4. Other hearings will be at Reno, Salt Lake City, Portland, Seattle, San Francisco and Billings. So important are the controversies involved that the whole commission will make the trip and will be gone six weeks or more. One of the questions involved is whether the railroads shall be allowed to charge higher through rates to interior cities like Spokane, Salt Lake City and Reno than to the Pacific coast cities. It is possible the whole structure of freight rates applicable to the Rocky Mountain region and the coast will have to be overhauled, both as to local rates and through rates from eastern points.

CHANCE FOR DRUGS IN BRAZIL.

American Product Is Liked There, but Few Articles Are Now Sold.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Cod liver oil preparations, homeopathic medicines and pine resin are the only American drug preparations which have a market at present in Bahia, Brazil, according to Tarleton B. Taylor, American consul there. He is of the opinion that America could secure a much larger market there for other drugs and drug preparations, as American goods when once known are preferred to those of France, Germany and England, which countries are more active in their efforts to secure the Brazilian drug market than America.

GRAVE TROUBLES BREWING IN MEXICO

Political Situation Is Serious, According to Advice from the Capital City, and an Armed Uprising Appears Not Improbable.

Gen. Reyes, Governor of Nuevo Leon and Opposition Candidate for the Vice Presidency, Is Surrounded in the Mountains by a Detachment of Federal Troops and Some of His Followers Have Been Jailed—An Outbreak on the Taps at Monterrey.

Mexico City, Aug. 20.—General Bernardo Reyes, governor of Nuevo Leon, and opposition candidate for the vice presidency of the republic, is surrounded by a detachment of government troops in the mountains near Galeana, Nuevo Leon. No overt act has yet been committed, and it is reported that General Reyes is merely being held under surveillance by the federal authorities. A number of members of General Reyes' party have been arrested at Torreon and Xochimilco for holding meetings. The charges against them are "disorderly conduct."

A despatch from Monterrey to the Mexico Daily Record says: "Not a weapon of any kind could be bought here today. Half the men in town are carrying concealed weapons. Lodges of clandestine Masons, who recognize General Reyes as chief, are preparing a demonstration at Alamogordo. 'Trouble' is feared."

MEXICAN ENVOY AT BEVERLY.

He Sees Mr. Taft, After Which He Sends Many Cipher Cablesgrams.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 20.—President Taft today accepted an invitation to visit Mexican territory Oct. 16, next, when he will exchange visits with President Diaz, of Mexico, at El Paso and Ciudad Juarez. Senor Don Francisco Leon De La Barra, the Mexican ambassador, personally conveyed the invitation from President Diaz to Mr. Taft today.

Incidentally the ambassador briefly discussed with President Taft the situation in Central America, where he is reported that there is considerable unrest over a report that the United States and Mexico, acting in common, may exert still stronger influence for the settlement of the constantly arising difficulties among the little republics by amicable means and thus put an end to the frequent wars and revolutions. The ambassador declared at the conclusion of the interview that there was little of political significance in his visit. Later, however, he sent a series of long cablegrams in cipher to the city of Mexico.

All that the Prison baseball team has to do now is to be clearly entitled to the Marquette-Alger County league pennant, is to defeat Ishpeming and Munising.

As far as he has gone with his recital of why he was removed former Police Commissioner Bingham of New York has failed to turn up anything either particularly new or particularly sensational.

A movement is on foot at Saginaw to erect a statue of the late Governor Bliss. The late governor must look larger to Saginaw people in retrospect than he did when he was one of their contemporaries.

President Taft is a good lawyer, Attorney General Wickersham is a good lawyer, and Senator Root is another good lawyer. If they are unanimous in an opinion that the corporation tax law is good law we believe the issue will prove it to be such.

Governor Marshall of Indiana, speaking at Petoskey, said that party platforms, as a rule, are too voluminous. Certainly most of them contain things that the respective parties have no idea of carrying out if they can avoid being forced into it.

The New York committee investigating the workings of direct nominations laws has reached Wisconsin. There the members will learn that the laws are pretty expensive for candidates, unless they are supplemented by some provision limiting the amount of money that can be expended in seeking nominations.

If the president, war department and officers in charge of the military academy at West Point are persistent enough, and make a sufficient number of expulsions as the occasions arise, in the course of a decade or two they may be able to convince the cadet body at West Point that the order against hazing is not intended as a joke.

Former Warden Armstrong, of the Jackson prison, was this week arraigned in circuit court at Jackson on the nine counts found against him by the grand jury and his trial was set for the September term. His guilt is practically confessed. Interest in the trial will be largely centered in whether Armstrong was given any promise of special consideration because of his freely given testimony when the grand jury was in session.

In Flint, which is prohibition territory, twelve "drunks" were arraigned in police court the other morning, and not one of them had a cent with which to pay a fine. As furnishing an index to the reason for this damp condition in a presumably "dry" town it is stated that one druggist reported 731 liquor sales for a single week. In practical results in many lower Michigan counties local prohibition simply means the transfer of the liquor business from the saloons to the drug stores and the "blind pigs."

The old settlers picnic at Ishpeming was a great success. Practically all the persons enumerated in the list of pioneers were present, and large numbers joined with them in making the day a memorable and enjoyable one. Mr. Scribner's address was interesting and admirably attuned to the occasion. The idea is one well worthy of being taken up and carried out in the other cities of the county. of interest and that could be made the occasion of a gala day, and the same thing is true of Negaunee. Nothing of the kind has been held in this city.

Prosecutor Foster, of Ingham county, has been presented with the unique request that he arrest Sheriff Cline for failure to observe the law. The request is made by a firm of Lansing attorneys who assert that the sheriff appointed a deputy not legally entitled under the law to serve in that capacity. The trouble is the outgrowth of a vigorous campaign for law observance made by the prosecutor and sheriff. Mr. Foster has not yet seen fit to book the sheriff, and the probabilities are that the attorneys making the demand will have to try and carry out their threat to have the prosecutor removed because of his failure to do so.

Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, is something of a wag. A great reception at St. Paul is planned, at which the "insurgent" members of the Minnesota delegation are to be the guests of honor. Representative Tawney wasn't an "insurgent." Being a member of the house ways and means committee, which made the Payne bill, he could not well be. He has, however, addressed an open telegram to the chairman of the committee on arrangements for the reception, suggesting that it would be well to make careful inquiry into how many of the alleged "insurgents" had promised their votes for the tariff bill, if they were needed, thus suggesting that much of the Minnesota "insurgency" was more apparent than real. He has provoked a storm of protests from Minnesota members that they were simply pure, dyed-in-the-wool "insurgents." But were they? Representative Tawney's suggestion will perhaps raise some doubts on that question.

The Louisiana legislature at its last session enacted a statute penalizing "the disclosure of business secrets by employees of common carriers." Two express company employees have now been arrested in New Orleans under this law charged with selling to a city wholesale liquor dealer a list of 2,000 names of customers in "dry" territory to whom liquors were being shipped by dealers via the express companies by which the arrested parties were respectively employed. The effect of the prohibition law in "dry" territory—counties and townships under local option, as well as in "dry" states—has, it is said, been largely nullified by such express "small-package" shipments. The list of names thus secured was supposed by the sellers thereof to be wanted by the liquor dealer for use in his own business; but in reality the latter was doing a bit of detective work. Similar lists of names had before been sold to prohibition agents by express company employees, and this method seems to have been taken to get proof as to who were doing it with a view of stopping the leak.

State Game Warden Pierce comes forward with a prompt refutation of the charges contained in a Washington dispatch, published in the Detroit Free Press, that his management of the department has been characterized by undue extravagance, coupled with ineffectiveness. "The report of the operations of this department for the years 1907 and 1908, which I am now preparing, is all the answer necessary," Mr. Pierce says. "I deny the allegations that the expenses of the department have been needlessly increased, and the figures will show that I am right." The report that will be forwarded to Washington within a fortnight will show that while the expenditures of the department in two years were $68,848.97 the receipts during the same time were $77,993.79, leaving a considerable balance to its credit. As the Mining Journal remarked yesterday, the article in the Free Press was too general in its nature to be of any particular value as a criticism of the department. What Mr. Pierce has to say also indicates that they were made without the actual figures on the operations of the department during the past two years being available.

In a discussion of prison binder twine plants in the Houghton Gazette we find this: "Those who asked for precedent were told of the way the scheme worked out in Wisconsin. Great Reformer, Senator, once Governor, LaFollette, had originated the proposition in that state and we were told everything had worked out nicely in Wisconsin. Now we understand that the Wisconsin plant is a lament." We know the Gazette doesn't like LaFollette, but in his behalf we protest against this saddling him with the responsibility for a venture that Wisconsin has not yet seen fit to try. The Wisconsin legislature last spring, some four years after LaFollette was elected senator, considered a bill to put in a binder twine plant at Waupun, but finally rejected it. LaFollette proposed a great many things while he was governor of Wisconsin, but we don't believe he ever mounted this particular hobby. As for our Michigan plant, is it such a failure? It showed a considerable profit last year, and it is said that prices for twine are lower than when the business was monopolized. The great success of the Stillwater, Minn., prison plant shows beyond debate that it is possible to make these plants big winners, if the right men are placed in charge.

HENEY TO RUN. Francis J. Heney, the prosecutor of the San Francisco graft cases, though nominally a Republican, will be the Democratic candidate for district attorney in the election to be held the coming fall. Heney, it is presumed, would have preferred to run as a Republican candidate, but he was refused endorsement by the Republican and the Union Labor parties alike. One Charles Flickert was the Republican candidate in the primaries. The Democrats had no candidate, the primary ballot being left blank after the office of district attorney, with the express purpose of allowing voters to write in Heney's name, the courts having held that it would not be legal for the Democrats to print on their ballot the name of a candidate not regularly of their party.

The inability of Heney to get the endorsement of the Republican organization in San Francisco is easy to understand. The organization is in the grip of the big business interests, and particularly the Southern Pacific, which is the most potent political power in all California. Big business approved of Heney's graft prosecutions as long as they were directed against the miserable creatures who were trafficking in vice. But when they were directed against the men "higher up," when citizens like Patrick Calhoun, the street car magnate, were indicted and tried, big business broke away from Heney, and has since devoted itself industriously to putting him out of business. The hostility of the Union Labor organization is even easier explained, and can be attributed to Heney's success in smashing the influence of the Union Labor political machine by jailing recent officials whom it had placed in positions of trust.

The votes polled for Heney in the primaries and those polled for Flickert, the Republican candidate, are said to be about equal in number. Flickert is a young lawyer, selected for the nomination for the reason that if he would not be actually subservient he would at least be tolerably complacent. In any event it is certain that he would not give to the graft prosecutions the untiring vigor that Heney has put into them. The campaign should be an epoch-making one. Heney is a tremendous fighter, but never has he been pitted against heavier odds. There is a certain measure of disappointment that he has not obtained greater results, and he is opposed by interests possessed of unlimited means and willing to draw on them with the utmost prodigality if he can only be put out of the way. Furthermore, the electorate of San Francisco is not one that rallies readily to the battle cry that Heney and his friends will raise in the approaching campaign. It was systematically debauched under Ruef and Schmidt, when there was a price on everything, and while conditions are better today there is still a vast purchasable vote to augment the considerable body of men in whom hatred for Heney and everything he stands for has come to be a controlling motive.

Heney ought to win his fight. He has made mistakes, doubtless, and is not the perfect man by any means. But he has had the right of the long and tedious contest in San Francisco. He has broken up a gang of unconscionable scoundrels, and no one will gainsay the inherent justice of his attempt to carry the war against the men in high places whose greed for special privileges, and political power by which those privileges could be safeguarded, has been the real source of the corruption he has been instrumental in uncovering.

Sustained and clever attempts will be made to obscure the fundamental issue. Heney and his friends will be the target for many and vicious attacks. The forces arrayed against them will command unlimited money, many newspapers, the services of influential men and the assistance of the powerful state political machine. If under these circumstances the people refuse to be fooled and elect Heney to continue his work, the country will see one of the greatest triumphs to be credited to the discrimination and incorruptibility of the mass of the voters.

The government wants people with common sense to take the examination, and will pay them well and give them an annual vacation with full pay. No matter where you live, city or country, you can get one of these positions. The Government Positions Bureau of Rochester, N. Y., with its thorough knowledge of the requirements of the examinations, can fit any one in a few weeks to pass. A government position means employment for life. CURED HAY FEVER AND SUMMTR. COLD. A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Sold by all Druggists.

COMMUNICATED. To the Editor of The Mining Journal: I have been a little annoyed by well meant complimentary statements about my proposed trip abroad and its probable consequences in England. I am not going to England, and the vivid imagination which has seen me occupying an honorary seat in the House of Lords has sprung something entirely fresh and new on the public. There are no honorary seats in the House of Lords. The so-called courtesy titles borne by the eldest sons of some peers during their fathers' lifetime do not entitle them to seats in the House of Lords. Lord Randolph Churchill sat in the House of Commons; so did Lord John Russell. There were courtesy titles of a second grade.

Finally, I may be a number of things, but as far as an English lord is concerned, I am far from being devoted to Trans-Atlantic fashions. "I, too, am an American," and quite contented with a democratic ancestry.

When my forefathers came, They left no haughty peerage, But without a bit of shame, Took passage in the steerage. But when they came ashore, With all their sons and daughters, 'Twas then, and not before, In the cabin they had quarters. They left the stocks behind, And kept one thing in mind, And so they got religion. They owed the stocks and rack, Well, not so much as "thank'ee." And when I'm in England, I'm going as a Yankee. Respectfully yours, G. MOTT WILLIAMS.

THE NEW PANDORA. The New York papers have made merry over a traveling bag found on a sound steamer, whose owner was invited to claim it. To refresh the memory of the owner the manager of the steambot line and the metropolitan papers published in great detail a list of the contents of the bag, so that any one with the clipping in his pocket—or in his mind—would have no trouble in "proving property." It was intimated, however, that it would be a bold person who would claim the bag on account of its heterogeneous contents. The bag, however, was promptly claimed by a young man, who was able to give a few minor details of the contents which the manager of the steambot company had neglected to mention to the reporters.

The opening of this bag might be expected to create as much trouble as the opening of the Pandora's box. We are not willing to admit that the presence of a New Testament indicated the sex of the owner, but if the bag belonged to a woman, what were the whiskey and the playing cards and the cigarettes and the photographs of an actress doing there? But it is the manner in which the bag was packed that baffles description. Of course, it might have belonged to his wife. And, on the other hand, if the bag belonged to a married woman, the whiskey and cigarettes and poker deck could only have belonged to her husband. But there are the photographs of the actress; would she have taken charge of them for her husband, or would she have wondered how any woman could be so homely and have promptly torn up the pictures?

In spite of all the difficulties presented by the "fluffy underwear that baffles description," we believe that the claimant was a man in woman's clothing. Upon recovering the handbag the claimant did not hurry away, but asked who found him, and on being told that it was the colored porter, he took a $100 bill from the wad of $2,755 which was mixed up in the lingerie and cigarettes and cards in the bag and sent it to the man. If she had been a woman she would have left 10 cents for him, with honest admonitions not to spend it for drink.—Philadelphia Record.

A ROYAL WINE CELLAR. Not many people are aware that the huge vaults that extend under practically the whole of St. James' palace are utilized for the storage of the wine required for the various royal residences, and there is a very complete bottling establishment there. The still wines for the king's table, such as hock, chablis, port, and claret, are all brought in bulk, and after being allowed to mature properly are bottled there, and stored away until they are required. In addition to Buckingham palace, Windsor castle, and Sandringham, bottling takes place here for Marlborough house, Clarence house, and other residences of the different members of the royal family.

Large purchases of wine are made every year as opportunity offers, and experts are constantly employed in traveling about the vineyards of the continent seeking suitable vineyards. It will be gratifying to colonial cousins to learn that of recent years both the king and queen have shown an increasing liking for the light wines of Australia, and a large stock of these wines is now maintained at St. James' palace. All the wines bottled carry plain white labels with the name of the wine and the vintage on them in gold letters, surmounted by the royal crown.

WOOD AND BUILDING MATERIAL I ALSO HANDLE Artistic Monuments COST NO MORE THAN PLAIN ONES IN WHITE BRONZE Marble is entirely out of date. Granite soon gets moss-grown, discolored, requires constant expense and care, and eventually crumbles back to Mother Earth. Brackets, etc. is very expensive. WHITE BRONZE is strictly everlasting. It cannot crumble, and its growth is an impossibility. It is more artistic than any stone. The why not investigate it? It has been adopted for over one hundred public monuments, and by thousands of delighted customers in all parts of the country. It has been on the market over 25 years and is an established success. Many granite dealers have bought White Bronze for their own burial plots. I have hundreds of beautiful designs of all grades of work, and want to have you see them if you are interested in a monument, headstone, marker or grave cover. On receipt of a postal card will be pleased to call with designs and samples of White Bronze.

LAST OF THE TOURNAMENT.

Firemen's Gathering at Laurium Will End This Evening.

The fifteenth annual tournament and convention of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association at Laurium will come to a close this evening. The last of the races will be held today, and with the usual noisy demonstration tonight the tournament will end. Laurium has more good and the firemen's annual has been a grand success. With the exception of the Croatian national gathering in September, the tournament is the last of Calumet's big conventions for this year.

A feature of the tournament was "Red Jacket night" on Thursday evening. This designated, the Calumet Businessmen's association engaged the Red Jacket City band, and a parade, in which thousands of men participated, took the Laurium midway by storm. The paraders carried Roman candles and red lights. The night was one of merry-making and unrestrained joy.

Red Jacket Takes Association Prize.
The track contests were concluded yesterday afternoon, the Red Jacket firemen taking most of the honors, with a total of ninety-six points. Red Jacket broke the association record when it ran the flag race in sixty-five seconds. Red Jacket also took first and second in the firemen's foot race. The day's results were:

Flag race—First, Red Jacket; second, Hubbard; third, Iron River. Time, 65 seconds.

Novelty hook and ladder race—First, Red Jacket; second, Iron River; third, Hubbard. Time, 19 seconds.

Firemen's foot race, 100 yards; starters, Dooley and Nekervis, of Calumet; McKenna, of Iron River, and Noble, of Gladstone—First, Nekervis; second, Dooley; third, McKenna. Time, 10:13 seconds.

Ladder climbing contest—First, Iron River; second, Hubbard, third, Red Jacket. Time, 5 seconds.

Hub and hub race—First, Red Jacket; second, Iron River; third, Hubbard. Time, 17:45 seconds.

Regulation hose race—Iron River (only entry). Time, 2:15 seconds.

Regulation hub and hub—First, Red Jacket; second, Hubbard. Time, 21:25 seconds.

Red Jacket, by capturing the most points, won the association prize—a silk American flag. Iron River ranked second.

Fire Chiefs Banquetted.
The chiefs and heads of the various fire departments represented at the tournament were entertained at a banquet given at the Laurium Social club rooms Thursday evening by the tournament committee. The members of the Central Councils of Red Jacket and Laurium and other prominent residents were present. Covers were laid for seventy-five persons.

Attorney Angus W. Kerr, postmaster, was introduced by Chairman J. T. Fisher. Tents were responded to by John P. McDonald, chief of the Hubbard fire department; John D. Cuddihy, of Calumet, who was in the committee room at the time the Red Jacket tournament was held nine years ago; Chief J. T. Maney of Marquette; Representative W. R. Oates of Laurium; Chief T. R. Payless of Bessemer; Chief Edward Campbell of Sault Ste. Marie; Attorney P. H. O'Brien of Laurium and Mr. Fisher.

CHILDREN'S FLOWER SHOW.
Houghton Woman's Club Will Award Prizes for Gardens.

The results of the efforts of the Houghton public schools to interest the school children of the district in flower culture will be shown next Wednesday night at an exhibition at the Central school next Wednesday night under the auspices of the Houghton Woman's club. The exhibit will be of flowers grown by the school children at their homes.

These gardens were planted at the request of the school teachers. The seeds were sold at cost. Each child who undertook a garden was placed on record, and now in anticipation of the opening of the schools the Houghton Woman's club is ready to announce the awards.

The first prize for the best garden will be $1 in cash, and for the second fifty cents in cash. Prizes of fifty cents and twenty-five cents will be awarded for the best flowers.

The gardens have been visited and inspected by a committee consisting of Miss Mills, chairman, and Mesdames Forbes, Reeder, McNair, Grant, Fruit and Moss. This committee will also select the judges.

MARY HUGHES IS FORTUNATE.
Word has been received that Miss Mary Hughes, a former Hancock girl and now a school teacher in the Butte schools, was one of the fortunate participants in the drawing for claims on the Flathead reservation. She is said to have drawn a lot of land which will be able to choose one of the best parcels of land. Engineer John Hughes of Hancock is a brother of Miss Hughes.

GRUESOME FIND IN WOODS.

Little Girls at Houghton Discover the Body of a Man.

The body of a dead man was found in the woods south of East Houghton, at the corner of the street. Thursday afternoon by two little girls, Helen and Esther Mark. They thought the man was sleeping and so reported to their grandmother, Mrs. Houghton, of the Keeweenaw club, who was following them up the hill. Mrs. Houghton attracted the attention of a passing man, and he specifically determined that the man was dead. The sheriff's office and the coroner were notified.

Sheriff Byers and Coroner Brand took charge of the body and after calling Frank Wilkes, Frank Mielke's, Frank Frempton, Frank Donnell, John S. Allen and C. C. Houghton as a jury had the body removed to Lange's morgue. Before the remains were removed they were identified by people from Swedetown nearby, as those of Henry C. Kallio, an old carpenter living at Swedetown and formerly employed by the Isle Royale. He was fifty-two years of age, a widower, with a married daughter at South Bay.

Kallio left Swedetown Wednesday morning with an axe, evidently in search of wood. He was not seen since, until the body was found, and it is thought that the man died of heart failure. The coroner's inquest was adjourned until Monday afternoon.

TWO FATAL MINE ACCIDENTS.

John Maki, Champion, and Daniel Giuliantte, Trimountain, Killed.

The South range mines contributed two deaths yesterday to the August list of fatalities in the copper country. John Maki was instantly killed at the Champion mine, Painesdale, and Daniel Giuliantte met the same fate at Trimountain.

Maki was returning to work in "G" shaft of the Champion after the lunch hour at midnight, and he passed a point in the mine where he had no business to be, according to the officials. A mass of hanging rock, weighing several tons fell upon him, killing him instantly. The mass was so large that it was necessary to blast it to get it from the body; in fact, at a late hour yesterday afternoon the body had not yet been recovered.

Maki was thirty-three years of age and was a wife and family in Finland. He had been in this country since April and had worked at the Champion about two months.

Giuliantte was one of the oldest employees at Trimountain. He was going to work at 7 o'clock yesterday morning and when the mancar reached the ninth level he left the car on the wrong side, a piece of carelessness which cost him his life. He fell from the ninth to the thirteenth level. His body was terribly mangled. Though he deceased was an old employee of the Trimountain, nothing is known of his age or of his relatives.

Houghton County Statistics.

Michigan Manual for 1909 Presents Some Interesting Figures.

County Clerk Richardson and the various representatives in the legislative assembly, Houghton county yesterday received copies of the Michigan Manual for 1909, the red book of historical and statistical information for Michigan for the present year. The book is as usual interesting to the seeker for hard facts.

A brief review of the book offers some figures regarding Houghton county, that may be of interest. For instance, Laurium is the largest village in the state, according to the census of 1904. The last official census taken, Laurium had a population of 7,435. Houghton is the second largest village, on the same census basis, with a population of 4,345 and Red Jacket is third, with a population of 3,784. Of course these three towns have grown greatly in the last five years. The body was terribly mangled. Though he deceased was an old employee of the Trimountain, nothing is known of his age or of his relatives.

NEW LIGHTS NEXT WEEK.

Houghton County Electric Light Company Receives Franchise.

The work of building and erecting the new lighting system for the village of Laurium will begin next Monday morning. The Houghton County Electric Light company, which has a contract to put in the system and furnish power for a period of five years, has received the necessary fixtures and equipment and will put a large force of skilled electricians at work. It is hoped to have the system in working order within ten days or two weeks. The installation of this new plant will mean that Laurium will be the best and most thoroughly lighted town in Michigan. There will be a light on every corner, two lights on each of the busiest corners, and a light in the center of each long block.

WATER IS CONDEMNED.

Cole's Creek Fluid Is Not Fit for Drinking Purposes.

Dr. Victor G. Vaughan, member of the state board of health, and dean of the medical department of the University of Michigan, has forwarded to Dr. Robert B. Harkness, physician to the Michigan Smelter company, his report on the samples of water presented to him a week ago for bacteriological examination. Dr. Vaughan condemns the water in unqualified terms.

The examination was made because a large number of the employees of the smelter are ill with typhoid fever. The smelter water supply is Cole's creek. The water will not now be used until the source of the infection is found and removed, a search to that end being now in progress.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unprepared for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organism and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous results.

It makes Weak Women Strong. It makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drug. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

SUPERIOR & PITTSBURG.

Is Paying Its Indebtedness at the Rate of $100,000 Per Month.

The statement has been freely circulated that Superior & Pittsburg has "put itself out of debt" since the first of the year. As the annual report showed a net profit of $1,000,000, it is not surprising that the company is paying its indebtedness at the rate of $100,000 per month. The statement without qualification is misleading, because it is based on the truth that Superior & Pittsburg has paid off over a million and a half of indebtedness in less than six months, while at the present time it is paying its indebtedness at the rate of $100,000 per month. The fact is, as learned from an authoritative source this week, are that during the first six months of 1909 Superior & Pittsburg paid up in round numbers, $3,000,000 of its indebtedness. This was accomplished by its earning and paying up approximately $1,000,000 per month.

LAKE.

Lake is about to begin diamond drilling to demonstrate the strike of the Lake lode northwest, with a view to sinking a second shaft thereon.

The new shaft will probably be located about 2,000 feet north of the single shaft now in operation. Operations in the mine continue productive of good results and though some of the statements concerning the new developments are rather sensational, there is no denying that the general average ground is exceptionally rich. The ground, however, is variable and has stretches of poor ore interspersed through the ore which they secured on the stock July 14, at $1 a share.

GIROUX CONSOLIDATED.

In December of this year the Giroux company will have the new deep shaft completed and will also have completed a smelter in the vicinity of the new shaft for the direct smelting of the Alpha ore.

The new shaft on the Alpha will be known as the "Star" shaft and is the largest in the state. Work on it has been progressing for some time from the 770 and 1,000 levels, with the result that about 200 feet of work has been accomplished up to date.

Plans for concentrating the low-grade ore from other parts of the property have not been completed, but there is evidence pointing to the fact that a plant will be built in Stapeau valley, where the company owns a large area of land with two-thirds of the water rights on Stapeau creek. To connect the mines and concentrator, a railroad will be built for the Keystone to the valley and through Hercules gap. Thomas E. Cole was so much interested in this feature of the company's plans that he climbed the highest mountain in the vicinity of the Keystone for the purpose of getting a bird's eye view of the route through the gap.

Four months is the time limit set for the completion of the "Star" shaft, during which the erection of the smelter will go ahead and it also will be completed within four months. This means that a large number of miners must be put on before that time to continue the development of the high-grade copper deposits through the Alpha shaft and to extract a supply of ore for the furnaces when they are ready.

In regard to the lower-grade deposits, it has been established that the company has a splendid steam shovel capacity, which will be operated on a large scale when a concentrator is erected. It is likely the plant outlined in the Explorer some months ago will be adopted and the work by the steam shovel will be commenced south from the Alpha shaft, from which place the shovels

ARIZONA-MICHIGAN.

The Telfair shaft of the Arizona-Michigan company is down to a depth of 500 feet and the work of crosscutting on this level, both north and south, has been commenced. According to Superintendent N. A. Nelson the crosscuts are both in line of practically the same nature as those which were commenced in the shaft. This rock is very hard and as a result progress by means of hand drills is slow on both crosscuts. On the south crosscut, it is figured that the ore body will be encountered within less than 100 feet. On the opposite working, it is thought that it will be necessary to drive the crosscut between 200 and 300 feet, before any important developments appear. In the sinking of the Telfair shaft and the subsequent work, the Arizona-Michigan has been very fortunate in the fact that no water has been encountered. It has not been necessary to use its pump either in the shaft or in the crosscut which has been started. Superintendent Nelson considers the outlook very promising and expects to make ore strikes within the next few weeks.

Married in Calumet—Katie Isabelle, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hume, of this city, was united in marriage to Peter Nampi, at Calumet Wednesday evening, the Rev. Mr. Fruit officiating.

Friendly Scuffle Costly—Albert Rantell and William Ranteen engaged in a friendly scuffle in a North Marquette saloon Monday evening, which resulted in Ranteen swearing out a warrant against Rantell for assault, which cost the latter $8.50 in Justice Byrne's court yesterday. It appeared that when Rantell was getting the worst of the scuffle, he became angry and pitched into Ranteen in dead earnest.

Chimney Fire—The fire department was called to the home of Arthur Somers, 320 West Hampton street, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon to put out a chimney fire. The blaze was extinguished by the use of chemicals and no damage was done. This is the second call the department has had this week, while most of the company has been at the Laurium tournament.

Work on Piers Begun—The work of building the concrete piers to replace the rotted wooden ones under the steel flume at the light and power plant, was begun yesterday. The piers are being constructed by men employed by the commission and the material is being made on the ground. The concrete used is made thinner than that used in sidewalk work, in order that there may be no air voids when it hardens.

Many on the Links—The golf club grounds are much frequented by the members of the club in the afternoons and already some lively games have been played. It was hoped that Ishpeming might play off a game with the Marquette club at the new links this afternoon, but the up-the-road men have sent word that they will not be able to come. The clubhouse is not yet in shape for use, but everything is expected to be in good shape by the last of next week.

Both Will Be Candidates—E. S. Bice and James O'Reilly, members of the school board whose terms expire this year, will both be candidates for reelection, and are now soliciting the support of their friends. The election will occur on the first Monday in September, as usual.

Upper Peninsula

Fought Desperately for Life
That John Launderville, who lost his life near the Stephenson dock at Escanaba, made a terrific fight for life was proved when a shoe that had been taken off by the drowned man as he struggled in the water was found. Realizing that he was in danger because of the heavy weight of his clothing, while attempting to save his son, the shoe recovered showed that he had taken his knife from his pocket and cut the laces on at least one of the encumbrances on his feet. Battling against death, Launderville, who wore a pair of woodman's high shoes, had shown sufficient presence of mind to attempt to remove his clothing while in the water. The laces, of tough bueskin in the shoe recovered, had been neatly cut from the top to the bottom, but in operation the unfortunate man was evidently choked and went to the bottom like a log before rescuers could reach his side. The body had not been recovered, at last advices.

Incendiarism Suspected
Fire at Engadine, Mackinac county, has destroyed the sawmill of the Freeman Lumber company. While the origin of the blaze is a mystery, incendiarism is suspected. The mill was closed down just before the fire broke out and at that time it was swept out perfectly clean; in fact, was swept a second time in order that there might be no accumulation of dust or anything that would cause spontaneous combustion, and after that the interior was whitewashed with a strong solution of lime and salt. All oils were removed from the oil room and nothing was left that could have generated heat. The building was then securely nailed up. On the day of the fire, four workmen had been employed in the engine room, removing a smoke-stack, but they were men who did not smoke and had no fire about the premises. When the fire was first discovered it seemed to be all over the building. The loss is estimated at about $7,000, and there was no insurance on it. The plant will be rebuilt, it is stated.

A Shocking Fatality
One of the most shocking fatalities ever recorded at Manistique occurred when David Blomquist, seventeen years old and a son of Eric Blomquist, came to his death in a terrible manner at the sawmill of the Weston Manufacturing company. It appears that the boy had started to clean the sawdust and debris from beneath the trimmer saw, it being the time when the daily cleaning up was done so that the night crew might find everything in readiness. The first it was known that there was anything wrong was when a man tried to start the trimmer and it failed to work. Then the boy was found wound to the shaft, which, it is said, makes about 300 revolutions a minute. The machinery was stopped and a physician was summoned, but the sufferer lived only fifteen minutes after being cut loose from the shaft. The father and brother and uncle worked with him and were among the first to witness the awful spectacle. The injured boy was perfectly conscious and asked if he would die. He then uttered a prayer in the Swedish language and died with the prayer on his lips. The nature of the young man's injuries were much worse than at first thought and the greatest wonder is that he was alive when found, for every large bone of his body, legs and arms was broken and his feet and legs below the knee were reduced to a pulp from the terrific crushing against the floor and timbers. The clothing was entirely torn from the body except a narrow strip that was wound about him and held him to the shaft. Even the shoes and stockings were stripped off.

L. D. HECKMAN
A Former Student of the Ferguson Business College.

Mr. Heckman took a course in the night school of the Ferguson Business College in 1907. In September, 1908, he was placed in charge of the Ferguson Business College at Ironwood. His work at Ironwood was very satisfactory to all concerned, and at the close of the year he was offered a higher salary to stay another year. He, however, received a better offer from the Port Arthur Business College at Port Arthur, Texas, and accepted. He will now receive a salary more than double the amount he received when he entered the Ferguson Business College less than two years ago. He has secured an excellent position with an endowed school. Mr. Heckman highly recommends the Ferguson Business College.

What this school has done for Mr. Heckman it can do for any ambitious young man who is willing to work earnestly. In future issues of this paper we will tell you about other successful young men and young women who have got their start in life by attending the

FINANCIERS LOOK FOR GREATER BOOM

Harriman's Return and Decision of World-Famous Banker to Cancel Vacation Caused by Expectation of Prosperity—Sound Business, More Gold and Big Crops the Factors.

New York, Aug. 20.—Perhaps in no better way can there be good suggestion of the view some of those who are foremost in industrial and financial activities take of the character and magnitude of the business prosperity which is now beginning, or even well advanced, than the fact that several of them who had planned a departure for Europe by the first of September have postponed their sailings.

Today one of the world's foremost bankers, a man whose name is as well known and whose authority is almost as great in Europe as in the United States, said to his friends that he had cancelled the passage for Europe which he intended to take this week.

Another man whose name is as well known and whose authority is almost as great in Europe as in the United States, said to his friends that he had cancelled the passage for Europe which he intended to take this week.

in part due to other reasons than mere contemplation of the agricultural transportation which is to be offered to the railroads this fall.

So it is that these men of larger affairs are speaking in such a manner that they seem to be almost holding their breath, since they cannot find words fully to describe their appreciation or understanding of it.

The great builders of the United States, the men who accept contracts for the construction of vast business structures, are sharing in this enthusiasm.

Money is so plentiful, the insurance companies and the trust estates being so anxious to lend funds for a long time upon the security of bond and real estate mortgage, and the expectations of business prosperity being what they are, it should cause no wonder that we are to have a season of real estate activity coincident with, and not, as heretofore, following after, the revival of business prosperity.

The prediction made by Mr. Lawson of Boston a year ago, of the greatest industrial and financial activity the world has ever known, is now to be justified, and it is said in this city that in only one feature of that prophecy will Mr. Lawson be found to have erred, namely, that he fixed the time some months ahead of the actual demonstration.

GOOD WORK ON PURE FOOD. Progress by the Federal Department of Agriculture.

Criticism That the Policy Is Not Being Carried Out Seems to Be Without Substantial Basis—Within a Week 125 Cases Have Been Reported to the Attorney General—Courts Seem Friendly Toward the Law, and Manufacturers Are Willing to Comply With It.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The row over ounces of soda in connection with the enforcement of the pure food and drugs act and the difference of opinion over several subjects in controversy arising from enforcement of this measure, have given rise to more or less criticism of the department of agriculture to the effect the pure food policy is not being carried out with the vigor which the country demands.

The pure food and drugs act provides for the seizure and condemnation of shipments of food or drugs which are in violation of law and for the criminal prosecution of persons who violate the law. Since the law went into effect, nearly 6,000 cases have been reported to the attorney general for criminal prosecution and the seizure of about 240 consignments of goods has been recommended.

cannot afford to have it go out to the world that the brands of goods they manufacture are of low standard.

In the course of the three years the law has been in effect, the department has uncovered a long and most amazing list of frauds in the shape of food and drug products.

Still another development is that state food and drug authorities have been encouraged to much greater activity since the federal pure food law has been enforced.

Secretary Wilson has taken a close personal interest in the enforcement of the pure food and drugs act. He has given about a third of his time to its enforcement and it has increased the burden of duty on him enormously.

One of the features of the work under the pure food and drugs law which is of much importance is the inspection of the milk supply of cities.

Probably the second most important development is that the large manufacturers of agricultural products seem generally anxious to comply with the law. They are averse to getting into any controversy over the quality of their goods.

The smelter production of lead in the United States in 1908 was 408,323 tons of 2,000 pounds, against 442,015 tons in 1907 and 418,899 tons in 1906.

WEEKLY COPPER REVIEW

Gossip of Interest Concerning the Market Situation and Various Mining Properties.

[Paine, Webber & Co.]

General Situation.

The copper shares have been heavy and inactive during the week with the exception of the one specialty, Lake Copper. Early in the week there was some action and some strength noted, but as the New York market sold off and the general situation did not respond to favorable news, the public refused to participate in the market and the professional traders saw an opportunity to bring about a slight reaction. It did not go far, however, and the leaders of the upward movement had the situation in perfect control all the time and easily turned the tide whenever it seemed at all likely that the movement might become a menace. As we pointed out in our previous letters, there is always this tendency toward a reactionary movement whenever the pace becomes a little too strong. The ultimate tendency of this market is upward, like every other prolonged market upswing, there are always periods of recuperation and periods of halting. This is necessary to keep the situation in a healthy condition and prevent the enthusiastic followers from buying prices too high and with too much rapidity. We do not expect to see these periods of hesitancy. There is, however, nothing in the situation or in the outlook for the future to cause uneasiness. The whole country is feeling the benefit of business increase and business progress. The railroads are actually fearful of a shortage of cars. The steel business is running full blast again, the farmers are getting in readiness to harvest the best crop the nation has ever seen and manufacturing plants are getting in line for larger and more aggressive expansion policies. All of these things are having their effect on the copper market. We are not expecting any rapid advance in the price of copper. We do not expect wonders to be performed overnight in the metal situation, but the fact remains that the demand for copper is better than it has been for three years and we do expect to see the price gradually attain a higher level within a few months. We believe that good profit can be made in purchasing any of the good copper shares at every little reaction.

Challenge Decides to Quit.

The failure of the long drawn out exploratory operations of the Copper Range Consolidated company to locate a paying copper formation on the Globe tract of land, immediately south of the Champion mine, is now followed by the failure of the Challenge, situated just beyond the Globe tract, to find anything of value or anything worth mining on a large scale. The announcement was made during the week that work had been discontinued at the Challenge property. This work has been along lines similar to those conducted at the Globe with practically the same unsuccessful, non-remunerative results. The property is located three miles south of the limits of the Champion mine and directly in line, as was the Globe, with the Baltic formation. The Challenge sent a shaft down over 800 feet and did considerable drifting and crosscutting on various formations that appeared to carry copper values of merit. In each case nothing of permanent richness was opened. The Baltic lode was identified in the course of the work, but it was practically barren of copper, except in one or two little patches which soon ran out of the metal. The Challenge company was organized by the St. Mary's company and practically all of the cash expended in the development work was put up by the mineral land corporation, a very small amount of the capital getting into public hands. This work, with the work at the Globe, seems to show rather conclusively that continuous richness of any copper formation is not assured, for unless the Lake showing is the Baltic lode, and that is a much doubted assurance, so far nothing has been shown to the south of the Champion mine that would indicate the continuity of the rich Baltic formation that has paid such rich dividends in the Champion mine. The Globe management did extensive exploratory work with diamond drills, making a complete cross-section before giving up the Challenge property as a failure. This is one of the studies in copper mining that might be presented to the Michigan tax commission for proper consideration.

Superior & Pittsburg.

We pointed out in these letters some weeks ago that the statement that the Superior & Pittsburg company had paid off its note indebtedness to the Calumet & Arizona was not exactly true and that it will be some little time before this indebtedness will be completely liquidated. It is unfortunate that this misunderstanding has become so general with reference to this property and we repeat here that while the company is meeting all its operating costs and is paying the Calumet & Arizona treasury at the rate of close to $100,000 a month, the fact remains that dividends from the Superior & Pittsburg cannot be expected by the shareholders for some time to come, unless we see a pronounced improvement in the copper metal market at once. This would, of course, make a decidedly better showing for the Superior & Pittsburg property. However, as a matter of fact, the important consideration is that the company is making a goodly profit on a substantial production at the present price of copper. The junction shaft drifts are all in good ore, particularly fine showing of eighty-five feet being cut on the 1400-foot level drift. On the 1300-foot level drifts the openings have not as yet been extensive enough to warrant an opinion as to the merit of the showing. The best ore showing on the Superior & Pittsburg property is, however, on the Hoatson shaft, at the 1200-foot level, where an ore body 700 feet long by 600 feet wide is already demonstrated, and it is expected to go down with depth, although this has not yet been proven. This ore body is today one of the best that has been opened in the camp. It is high grade in character and carries sulphides. We understand that the costs at the Superior & Pittsburg property are now just a little above eight cents a pound and that within a month they will be under that figure, indicating that the property is in very good condition for future prospects.

C. & H. Expansion Talk.

It continues to be the general belief that the Calumet & Hecla interests are buying the control of the Lake in the open market, notwithstanding the fact that it seems strange this company does not make overtures to the management for the purchase of treasury stock, with such an object in view. At the same time brokerage houses, usually active for the Calumet & Hecla, are buying up buyers of this stock at the top prices. There was a generally unconfirmed rumor in circulation this week that the Calumet & Hecla interests are negotiating for the control of the Atlantic. Later the story enlarged until it included the St. Mary's properties, the Wolverine, Mohawk and Michigan. We understand from a source of unquestioned knowledge that the stories are not true; that the Calumet & Hecla is not seeking any of the mines mentioned and that the Stantons have no thought of retiring from the field of active copper producers in the Michigan district, with which they have been associated all their lives, in a successful and altogether honorable and praiseworthy way. With regard to the work at the Atlantic, there is no doubt at all that it has been quite profitable. In fact, it is in a position to locate the Baltic lode in paying quantities, but the management has by no means given up hope and the operations are to continue in a practical way.

Calumet & Hecla.

One of the significant happenings at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Calumet & Hecla meeting was the offer on the part of Calumet & Hecla's president, Mr. Agassiz, to answer questions for shareholders. That none were asked is not pertinent, except that it perhaps indicates a general satisfaction on the part of the shareholders with the way the business of the company is conducted, but the fact that the president took the trouble to inquire if shareholders wanted information shows that the public mind, by a proper appreciation of the rights of the shareholders. This policy, following so soon after the voluminous annual report of the Calumet & Hecla, in sharp contrast with the little shareholders' meetings, conclusively indicates as possible the fact that the Calumet & Hecla officials have nothing to hide in their conduct of the affairs of the company and are willing to let the shareholders have all the information desired. Such evidence of publicity are good things for the copper producing business.

Calumet & Arizona Dividend.

The directors of the Calumet & Arizona did not increase the dividend disbursement at the meeting at Calumet on Wednesday. Quite a few of the shareholders expected a large disbursement at this time. However, the decision to refrain from paying a large dividend would seem to be the wisest policy to pursue under the circumstances. The Quincy directors announced the same dividend at their meeting. The permanent improvement in the metal situation must become a reality before larger dividends can be paid by any of the producers and even then it must be remembered that the betterment of metal prices does not act on the assets of the company for several months after the announcement thereof.

Ahmeek Continues to Improve.

The underground condition of the Ahmeek mine continues to show even bettered showings of copper, and while at the present time the rock is practically all coming from the drift stopes, which means a small percentage of the best rock is handled, the reserve stopes are carrying a grade of copper rock which we are quite certain, will make even better returns than will now be obtained. In July the Ahmeek rock ran twenty-five pounds refined copper to the ton, half a pound better than the month before.

ARMY NEEDS SURGEONS.

Medical Corps Has More Than One Hundred Vacancies.

Offers an Attractive Career to Young Graduates—Dr. Stokes Asks for More Hospital Vessels—A Great Lack of Facilities for Caring for the Wounded.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The military obligations of the medical profession are discussed in a series of articles in the current issue of the Medical Record. Lieutenant Colonel Jefferson R. Keam, U. S. A., in writing of the need for a full quota of trained medical officers in time of peace, says: "We need, however, something more—we want men. The granting of a logical promotion will not help us unless we can fill it with capable, efficient young men. There are at present 104 vacancies in the medical corps of the army. The pay, allowances and status of medical officers and their prospect of promotion have all been recently greatly improved by the action of congress and we can now offer what we could not a year ago—an attractive career to the young medical graduate.

"A young medical officer upon admission to the corps is given a rank of first lieutenant and his pay is $2,069 a year. He is furnished, in addition, with a commodious home, furniture, horses, fuel, lights, forage, professional books and instruments. He receives many things in the way of gratuitous personal services. He is provided with a car by the government at cost. When he travels under orders his expenses are paid and the government pays and transports his property, and when necessary stores for him without charge. At the end of three years he is promoted to captain and his pay is raised to $2,400; at the end of two years more he receives a further increase to $2,640.

"I think it is a fair estimate to say that upon entering the service he gets in the way of the army at least an equivalent of $3,400, and at the end of five years' service the equivalent of $4,000 a year. I am inclined to doubt whether the pathway of the beginner in civil practice is so strewn with roses and with dollars and whether his professional services are in such demand that these positions can be considered unworthy of notice. It must be that young graduates are not well informed as to the excellent prospects afforded by the medical service of the army and navy. Dr. Charles F. Stokes, U. S. N., discussing the medical department of the navy in times of war, writes: "Theoretically all departments of the navy should be on a footing at all times. It is only in late years that the navy has been left to attempt to expand. If actual hostilities were to be declared today the medical department of the navy would be as appalling as any that has occurred in recent times. First aid instructions as now given is utterly ineffective. On a battleship carrying nearly a thousand men, two medical officers have this instruction to give and this for short periods at comparatively long intervals. The matter is not taken seriously.

"Let us suppose that the Atlantic fleet on its recent cruise had engaged an equally powerful enemy, what would have been the result? From the lessons of the Russo-Japanese war we have learned that we must provide for 40 per cent of casualties. What would we have done with the 5,000 wounded if the army had taken place at a point far removed from a base? The hospital ship Relief, with its 215 beds, would have been about as much use as a dressing station to the fleet. The ship in question was denied this ship, in order to keep within strict distance, it would have been obliged to remain within the danger zone and would, therefore, have had a good chance of being destroyed. When one gives the fact that there is in our country a single hospital ship, it is in one for one's country and one's flag, common humanity demands, aside from all proper provision be made to minimize one's suffering and make recovery possible should one be wounded.

LONGEST RAISE IN THE IRON REGION

NEW SHAFT AT THE NEGAUNEE MINE WAS BROUGHT UP FROM THE BOTTOM LEVEL, A DISTANCE OF 730 FEET, IN A SINGLE LIFT.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's engineers and miners have accomplished a notable piece of work in the completion of the 730-foot lift for the new shaft in the Negaunee mine field, reported in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal. This is, so far as is known here, the highest raise ever completed in a Lake Superior iron mine in one lift. Nearly the same crew of men was employed throughout the work. There were no accidents, despite the fact that work of this character is at times dangerous. The men work on stages, and if the roof is not properly protected are likely to be struck by falling ground. In this particular case the men were protected by a specially constructed steel shield.

Before the raise was started several tests of the ground were made from surface. It was thought that quicksand might be encountered. This proved to be the case, and it was necessary to sink four or five pits before a solid sand formation was found. The ledge is seventy feet below the surface. The company plans to make the shaft one of the best and most substantial on the range. The timbering was carried up from the bottom as the workmen descended. The portion between surface and the ledge will be lined with concrete. The task of putting the concrete in position will be easy compared with the work necessary in lining shafts through quicksand from surface before the raise from the underground workings is thought up. The Negaunee mine job has been generally commented on by the miners of the city. The vision of attempting such a great raise by a single lift was questioned by some who are familiar with this class of work.

INSPECTING PHARMACIES.

State Official Finds Little Cause for Complaint.

E. L. Henderson, state pharmacy inspector, working under supervision of the Michigan board of pharmacy, paid Negaunee an official visit yesterday. This is the second time since the board was established that the pharmacies of this region have been inspected. Mr. Henderson's predecessor, Mr. Campbell, having been here two years ago. Mr. Henderson was engaged in the drug business in the Upper Peninsula for thirty-seven years, having been located most of the time at Jackson, where he still makes his home.

The principal work of the inspector is to see that the druggists are not violating the law in regard to the sale of toxicating liquors and poisonous drugs. Persons purchasing drugs containing poison are required to sign their names in a book, provided by the druggist, upon receiving the articles. The same thing is also necessary in cases where the druggist sells liquor for medicinal purposes. Mr. Henderson has found many violations of the law the past year, but he has no reason to complain of the way the drug business is conducted here. He said that the druggists of the upper peninsula are doing their business. His present trip is a herry-up one, and he will not be able to visit the smaller towns. His territory is the entire state.

He had a druggist arrested at a lower peninsula summer resort a few days ago for selling liquor to a minor. It is a serious quantity of beer to resorts. He learned that the druggist was disposing of two wagon loads a day. A druggist cannot handle beer, but, according to the inspector, some of them have in the past been doing it. By the strict enforcement of the provisions of the law, the pharmacy board is gradually improving conditions under which liquor and poisonous drugs are handled. Before the board was established many of the pharmacies were not allowed to carry poisons, to whom they sold poisonous articles and in consequence they sometimes got into the hands of people who did not know how to use them properly. The board is strict on this point and druggists have been repeatedly warned to be careful. No pharmacy should be run without a registered pharmacist. Mr. Henderson said that there has been considerable dodging of this provision in the past, but at the present time there are practically no drug stores in the state without registered pharmacists.

GAMES IMPORTANT.

Negaunee Has Good Chance of Capturing First Place.

The outcome of the games to be played tomorrow afternoon between the Negaunee and Marquette teams at the Union park grounds will go a long way toward determining whether the Negaunee team will be able to overtake Ishpeming in the race for league honors. If Negaunee wins both games and Ishpeming loses to Munising the teams will be a tie, but if Negaunee loses either one of the two games to Marquette it will be farther away than at present from the top of the percentage column. Marquette has a chance of getting into second place and possibly climbing to the top, and for that reason the team is going to win every game possible. It is generally conceded that the Marquette team has a stronger line-up than at any previous time this season.

The management, as well as the fans here, have great confidence in Stank's pitcher, who shut out the Ishpeming team a week ago last Sunday. He is in the form. With favorable weather there should be a record breaking attendance tomorrow. The first game will be started at 1:30 p. m. Extra cars will be on the line by 12 o'clock.

STARTED ON ELECTRIC LINE.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company put work yesterday preparing for the erection of the steel towers and lines for the proposed electric transmission line. The first outside work will be the extending of the line over the right-of-way recently secured by the company between the Maas mine and the central station at Princeton. Practically all of the tower and other material needed has been received, and the work will be pushed forward with vigor from this time on, with a view to finishing it up before the bad weather sets in. There are so many towers, some of them as high as fifty feet in height, that their erection will be a big job, in spite of the fact that they will be erected in sections ready to be bolted together.

The views were clear and all of the players, as well as many of the fans, could be recognized.

E. A. Anderson of Calumet was a business visitor in the city yesterday. Sam H. Adler, the well-known commercial man, called on Negaunee patrons yesterday.

Misses Katherine and Mary Weber of Rose Branch, Mich., are in the city visiting their uncle, George Arnett, and family.

Clark Kirkpatrick spent Thursday in the city, visiting C. L. Sporley and other friends. He left that night for Duluth on a business mission.

C. L. Sporley went to his camp near Swanzy yesterday to spend a few days with his family. He was accompanied by Miss Marion Pellow.

Captain Joseph Thomas of the Maas mine left yesterday for the copper country, where he will remain until Sunday evening, when he will be accompanied home by Mrs. Thomas, who went up early in the week.

The members of the Negaunee fire department who attended the tournament this week at Laurium are expected to arrive home today. Most of the visitors from here will be down on the evening train tomorrow.

The Trombador Amusement company gave a pleasing concert Thursday evening at the Mitchell Methodist church. The organization has been here several times before and its entertainments have always been of a high class.

Will Yates, who came up from Milwaukee Monday on a few days' visit to his parents, left again last evening. After remaining in Milwaukee for a day or two he will go to Dallas, Tex., where he is to take a responsible position with the Allis-Chalmers company.

The raspberry crop still continues good in the vicinity of Negaunee and many children are picking the fruit. The blueberry crop is also good, but a majority of the Negaunee people are now gathering raspberries, as most of them have put in a good supply of blueberries.

Practically all of the members of English Oak lodge, Sons of St. George, will have a holiday today in order to attend the picnic, to be held under the society's auspices at Cleveland Park. Refreshments of various kinds will be served on the grounds and there will be dancing both afternoon and evening.

Upper Peninsula

Railroad Man Promoted—

George W. Heath, a popular conductor of the Northwestern road, and who has been running out of Escanaba, has been promoted to the position of acting trainmaster of the Peninsula division. He will act with W. J. Keating, the regular trainmaster of the division, the two officials dividing work that is offered in that department.

Indian Centenarian Passes—

Old "Honest Injun" Anthony Shawn of Sault Ste. Marie passed away to his happy hunting grounds during the week. The death occurred in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alexander Boucher. Anthony saw a good deal of time pass in this old world, having been born 102 years and twenty-eight days ago. He was born and saw his boyhood days on Sugar Island, St. Mary's river. Through his life, it is said, he did but little manual labor, having gained sustenance by hunting, fishing and assisting tourists. He located at the Sault Ste. Marie soon became a familiar figure about the city. Until about four years ago when a stroke of paralysis overtook him, Anthony was quite active and agile, he being a big and strong man. There are four children and a widow aged ninety-seven, surviving.

Building Three Logging Railroads—

The Sawyer & Goodman company has started the work of grading for another logging road several miles in length and located about four and a half miles north of Iron Mountain. The road will connect with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. It will tap a tract of timber land estimated at between 20,000,000 and 30,000,000 feet. Large logging camps will be started in the vicinity at once. The Sawyer-Goodman concern has also commenced work on a logging railway which is to connect with the St. Paul road at a point near the Dunn mine in Iron county. This road will be nearly eight miles in length and will penetrate a belt of timber containing about 30,000,000 feet. The Goodman Lumber company, an affiliated corporation, is building a railroad twenty miles south and west of Iron Mountain, in Wisconsin. The concern owns an immense tract of pine, hemlock and hardwood timber in that district. The logs will be hauled to the new town of Goodman, where a large sawmill is now in course of erection. The Sawyer & Goodman concern will continue to operate heavily to the south of Iron Mountain, at Catalina, on the St. Paul road. A lumberman familiar with conditions says that the timber in twenty years and that a thousand men will be employed in the camps.

NEW POULTRY HOUSE A FINE BUILDING

FAIR MANAGEMENT NOW ABLE TO FURNISH IDEAL PLACE FOR SHOWING FINE BIRDS.

FINE CATTLE TO BE SHOWN

Stock from Both the Roycroft and Em-blaganer Danies to Be Exhibited
This Year—Other Attractions.

The new poultry house which is nearing completion at the county fair grounds, promises to be not only the finest building on the grounds but one of the most up-to-date buildings of its kind in this part of the country. The material used in its construction is concrete and the work is being done by J.
E. Handford. The building is located just south of the dining hall and is built to conform to the elliptical arrangement of the other buildings.

The specifications call for a structure twenty-five by fifty-three feet in size, to be built at a cost of not to exceed $800.
There will be double doors at each end,
and all the light will come from above,
there being no windows in the sides.
Coops are to be built around the sides,
on the interior, which exhibitors will be expected to use.

The fair directors hope that the new building will result in the largest exhibit of poultry and pet stock ever shown at the fair, as it is believed that a number of poultry raisers have refrained from showing their stock heretofore, because of the lack of conveniences and sanitary quarters provided. It is said that there is enough blooded poultry in the county to make a splendid exhibit, and there is reason to believe that a large proportion of it will be shown.

Good Stock Exhibit.

The exhibit of stock this year promises to be an exceptionally good one, especially in the cattle department, as both the Roycroft and Emblaganer herds are to be represented. These herds are owned by Prickett of Sionay, and J.
M. Longyear, respectively. The last time that a fine herd of blooded cattle was shown at the fair was when the Cleveland Cattle company exhibited their herd of Jerseys, several years ago. The secretary reports that the number of entries in other departments promises to be unusually large.

A committee of the fair directors will meet the officers of the Marquette-Alger county baseball league at Negamie Sunday to arrange for a series of ball games to be played at the fair. The ball games last year proved to be the fair attraction of most general interest, and it is hoped that this year's games
will be no whit less interesting.

As has previously been stated, the races this year promise to be better than usual, as a large number of horses from the copper country are expected, which have not been entered here in the past.
The committee on Cornish wrestling intends to make this attraction a good one, and Harrington, Rowett and Ziehr are among those that will be asked to participate.

STYLES MORE CONSERVATIVE.

Fall Clothing Will Be Marked by Modest Cuts and Patterns.

The coming fall season in men's wear
will be characterized by a return to conservatism, according to local clothiers.
By refusing to buy the extreme patterns and cuts in large numbers, the public has forced Dames Fashion to proclaim more modest styles for the fall and winter.

The extremely long coats with the wide flares and buttoned pocket lapels are doomed to go, it is said, and will be replaced by clothing of less complicated cut, although the coats will still be rather long. The prevailing colors will be olive, brown and gray,
both in mixtures and solid colors.

In overcoats the military styles which originated last winter will be all the rage. The coats will be long and largely of mixed patterns, though not especially loud. One of the new things is the convertible coat, which may be worn military style in stormy weather,
and with a low collar when the weather is pleasant.

The recent advance in woolen and cotton goods, for which the tariff is held to blame, did not come until most of the merchants had purchased their fall and winter lines and the prices will not be materially higher than a year ago.
Next spring, however, it is stated that clothing will have to sell for from 15 to 25 per cent more than is charged this summer.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES.

pastor, will preach in the morning. There will be no services in the afternoon. Sun-

G. Bart being in camp with the church choir.

of the Salisbury church, Ishpeming, will preach morning and evening tomorrow.
Sunday school will be held at 12 o'clock noon and Epworth league meeting at 6:45 p. m. The public is invited to attend all of these services.

preaching. Sermons by Dr. Tupper on "A Message for the Impatient Spirit," and "A Message for the Worldly Life."

meet with this church from Tuesday to Thursday of next week. The public is cordially invited to all the sessions.

MRS. LABADIE'S RECITAL.

"The Servant in the House," by Chas.
R. Kennedy, one of the most remarkable plays produced in the last five years, will be given at the Marquette Opera House, on the evening of Aug. 27,
by Mrs. Harriet R. Labadie of Philadelphia.
The play is didactic in form and through its symbolism appeals to the truly literary mind. On the other hand, the theme is so modern and treated in a manner so familiar to all that the result is fascinating to the great mass of people who wish to be amused. As for the interpretation of this great play, too much cannot be said of Harriet R. Labadie. The moment she makes her appearance, her audience is impressed that here is a woman who appreciates the best, who knows life and can picture it to others.

She has been termed throughout the eastern cities "the most psychological reader before the public, today." Her wonderful voice and unusual facial expression make it possible for her auditors to see not only the beautiful line of the vicar, but to feel the presence of each character in turn. Her technique is beyond comprehension when one notes how it is hidden under the guise of Robert or Mary, or the old bishop, their anxiety and again descends to the page boy, with his cockney dialect.

It is understood that our people have responded well to the sale of seats and it is believed that Marquette will show their appreciation of an opportunity not often offered. Mrs. Labadie is on her way to California, from whence she sails westward on a contracted trip around the world.

BIG WEEK AT ESCANABA.

A number of Marquette people are likely to attend the home-coming, community fair and farmers' picnic at Escanaba next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
The Delta county city is making great preparations for the series of big events
and their success is already assured.
Among the many attractions that have been secured are two big brass bands,
a human hand ball team, a basketball and baseball team, and a baseball team afternoon. There will also be a big parade Friday morning, which is heralded as the finest ever seen in the city, which will be followed by speaking at a picnic at city park. There will be street attractions each day, and horse racing will be a feature of the Friday afternoon program. Excursion rates will be offered on all railroads.

THEATRICAL.

"A Royal Slave."

"An exceedingly interesting revival was made at Forcough's, where the Bennett company appeared in 'A Royal Slave,' says the Philadelphia Ledger.
"Two large and responsive audiences gave their entire approval to the play,
the players and to the effective production. 'A Royal Slave' is a dramatization by Clarence Bennett of General Lew Wallace's story, 'The Fair God.' The action is laid in Mexico during the reign of the Emperor Maximilian, and the plot centers around the adventures of a slave who is the last descendant of Montezuma. The plot is unfolded in a keenly interesting manner and gives rise to many dramatic episodes.

The scenery displayed was unusually handsome, and the tropical beauties of picturesque Mexico were strikingly shown. Walter Hubert appeared in the leading role. His impersonation was marked by consistent vigor, and was satisfactory at all times. Excellent characterizations were presented by the other members of the company. "The Royal Slave" will be presented at the opera house Monday evening.

HOUSE BUILDING HAS BEEN LIVELY

MANY HANDSOME RESIDENCES ARE IN PROCESS OF CONSTRUCTION
THIS SUMMER.

FEWER CONTRACTS FOR FALL

Probably Less New Work Will Be Started Than a Year Ago, Owing to Large Amount Already Done.

There has been a large amount of building in the city this summer, according to local real estate men. At present there are a large number of houses in process of construction, but the number of buildings under contract for fall is said to be not quite so large as at this time last year. This condition is probably due to most of those who intend to build having already taken advantage of the lower prices of building materials, which have prevailed for the last two years. Again, the large number of houses that have been completed recently has to some extent satisfied the demand for dwellings, and it is easier to find a desirable place to live than for some years past.
The structures now under contract are largely for the better class of dwellings, and few cheaply built houses are going up.

Among the buildings that are now in process of construction may be mentioned the following:
Dr. H. T. Carriel has started the erection of a fine home at the northeast corner of Ohio and Pine streets, the foundation for which is about completed.
The new residence of Harry De Haas on Michigan street, between High and Pine, is enclosed and carpenters are now working on the interior.
H. A. St. John's residence, on East
Hewitt avenue, is also near completion.
The residence which is being built by Mrs. Johanna Boven, on Hewitt avenue, near the corner of Pine street, is enclosed and will soon be finished.
L. W. Biegler is building a home on East Prospect street, which is enclosed and promises to soon be completed.
Thomas McGuire is building a fine residence on Front street, between Prospect and Crescent streets.
James Bapocok is building a one-story grocery store on Champlain street, just south of his residence.
John Quillan is building a two-story house on Newberry street, west of Division street.

Asire & Palmer are building a four-room cottage at the corner of Cedar and Ohio streets, for Arne Maki.
Carl A. Norgard is building a six-room house on Cedar street, between Ohio and Hewitt.
Wm. Bowden is erecting a concrete house on East Hewitt avenue, below
the spring.
A. P. Wilson has begun the construction of a double brick house at the corner of High and Prospect streets, which will be for rent when completed.

Steve Richardson is building a six-room house on East Prospect street, near the M. & S. E. track.
One of Martin Vierling's new houses
on Front street near Arch, has received the first coat of paint, and the other is enclosed.

NOTED WOMAN HERE.

Miss Maggie J. Walz, of Drummond Island, in the City.

Miss Maggie J. Walz, of Drummond Island, a noted newspaper woman and journalist, is in the city, and will occupy Mrs. Emor Calkins, state president of the W. C. T. U., on her tour of the upper peninsula.
Mrs. Calkins will speak in the Methodist church next Tuesday evening, and it is desired that she should be greeted by a large audience. Mrs. Calkins has been here before and is a favorite with temperance people. She is a public speaker of much merit and her thoughts are clothed in admirable language and expressed with elegance of diction enabling her to hold the interest and attention of her audience. On Wednesday evening, Mrs. Calkins will speak in Ishpeming, Thursday night at Champlain, Friday night at Michigan, and from there she will go to the copper country.
Miss Walz was formerly editor of the Calumet Journal and is still engaged in newspaper work, though most of her time is devoted to locating Finnish people, who desire to get away from bad associations, on Drummond Island. She states that a large number of people are now comfortably located on farms on the island, many of whom were being ruined by the drink habit before they came there. No liquor of any kind is made or sold on the island.

The regular Saturday night hop will be held at Fraternity Hall tonight. Music by the Peerless orchestra.
