Full for the Tigers!

Perhaps George will do it again.

Both Mr. Cook and Commandant Peary promise to wear out their welcomes home.

It is reported that Chase S. Osborn of the Soo is likely to announce his candidacy for governor today. It has been demonstrated that there is a big demand for it.

The Boston American league team disposed of the New York Giants in most effective fashion, allowing them but one game in five. In the course of the series the Boston players met the best that the Giants had, even to the mighty Mathewson, but they played better ball than the Giants practically the entire distance. Now if Detroit gets the big end of the score today American league baseball will, on the dope available, appear to this year have a slight margin of excellence over the National league brand.

Justice Gaynor will find it impossible to satisfy voters who are seeking the truth with generalities in answer to the definite and detailed charges made by William M. Ivens and Assistant District Attorney Elder. And he will make a serious error if he insists on assuming that the voters hold these charges as lightly as he, apparently, does himself. Their seriousness is patent, and there is a conviction abroad that Ivens and Elder would not have made them without excellent warrant in facts for their course. Unless they are disproved they are going to be a heavy burden for Gaynor to carry. Mr. Murphy ought to get word to his candidate to at once undertake the task of refuting them.

The Detroit police are again active in the Mayhew Millman murder mystery. Dr. George Fritch, who is suspected of having performed a criminal operation on the young woman before her body was dismembered, placed in sacks and thrown into the waters of Ecorse creek, has been re-arrested, on the strength of new evidence, and it is apparent that a determined effort is to be made to fix the responsibility of the girl's death on him. The police haven't been showing their hand in the case to the public for some weeks past, but have, presumably, been busy working on it. Recent developments indicate that they have not labored in vain. It will be a matter of wide satisfaction if the guilt for the terrible crime is fixed, and all who were implicated are punished as severely as may be possible. The crime was a fiendish one, and the sort of illegal practice that probably led up to it is much too common in Detroit, as several notorious cases have shown.

President Taft's dispatch to Mr. Crane, via the state department, informing him that his resignation was accepted, was formal to the point of frostiness, and could not have increased Mr. Crane's ease of mind. There was no reason, however, for expecting any other sort of reply from Mr. Crane's dispatch direct to the president. It could have safely been taken for granted that Secretary Knox and the president were in close communication in regard to Mr. Crane's case, and that before he moved definitely Secretary Knox had assurance that he would be upheld. His knowledge that the president had personally selected Mr. Crane for the Chinese mission would lead him to make a particular effort to ascertain the president's desires. There is much sympathy with Mr. Crane at the inglorious ending of his brief diplomatic career, and it is tinged with a feeling that the unfortunate incident could have been easily avoided by proper co-operation between him and President Taft and Secretary Knox. The affair is going to be bitterly resented by Crane's friends. It wouldn't take many similar occurrences to put a considerable crimp in the popularity of any administration.

The indefinite charges that Dr. Cook did not, as he reported and as he relates in his book, reach the top of Mt. McKinley, which have been hinted at for some weeks, have now taken tangible form in an affidavit by Edwin N. Barrill, who was with Dr. Cook on the date that Mt. McKinley was, according to Dr. Cook's records, conquered and who now relates that they were, at their nearest point, fourteen miles from the summit and that the highest elevation they attained was 10,000 feet. There is a corroboratory affidavit from the photographer of the expedition. These affidavits will, of course, raise doubt as to whether Dr. Cook's story of the ascent of Mt. McKinley was true. Dr. Cook is as positive in his statement that he climbed Mt. McKinley as he has related as in his assertion that he was the first man to reach the pole, and asserts that the first party that again ascends that mountain will find the records that he deposited on its top. The issue raised is principally one of veracity between Dr. Cook and Barrill. Why Barrill should give a false affidavit in the matter is hard to understand. The doubt raised over this other exploit of Dr. Cook will increase the feeling of uncertainty as to the standing of his polar achievements, and further befuddle the public that has been eagerly seeking clues to the truth in this perplexing matter. It's a thing for deep regret that I took a-shoo and App-leah, together with all records and instruments, are not even now available that we might have the disputed questions disposed of without delay.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION CALLED.

Governor Stubbs of Kansas has issued a call for a convention of the National Good Roads association to meet at Topeka December 14 and 15, and urges in his proclamation the desirability of hearty support and co-operation on the part of the press of the country to help make this convention a success. Delegates will be named by the governors of the different states and it is hoped to make the gathering a truly representative one, and to accomplish real progress in the promotion of the good roads movement. Governor Stubbs is himself one of the pioneer advocates of this movement and he is anxious to keep it before the attention of the people, not only of his own state but of all others. What he desires most of all at present is to get the farmers interested in better roads, and this will be one of the principal questions to be discussed at the coming convention at Topeka.

The interest and activity of the Kansas governor in this direction is to be commended, and it is very probable that the coming meeting at Topeka will result in a large attendance and in discussions that will give the good roads movement fresh impetus in this country. The question has not been lost to sight by any means, but it has been somewhat neglected during the past year or so. The Topeka convention should serve to give it a fresh start, and with the papers and people again talking better roads the agitation will serve to stimulate legislators, and thereby result in actual progress. As yet the improvement of the country roads depends too much on individual effort. What is needed is a system that will result in co-operative effort, and when this is secured the making of better roads will go on rapidly.

SENATORS BY DIRECT VOTE.

"Congress shall on application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the states, call a convention for proposing amendments to the constitution." This provision of the federal charter is to be invoked at the coming session, according to reports said to emanate from Oklahoma, Iowa and Wisconsin members, in order to secure the submission to the states by congress of an amendment providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. "Summer" staff Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald, is authority for the statement that thirty-one of the forty-six state legislatures—just the required number—"have already carried out the spirit of the prescribed call, though some may not have adhered to its strict letter." The following twenty-six states, however, have done so, according to this authority, although many of them have included a special request for submission of the senatorial amendment as well as for the calling of a convention. Arkansas, Minnesota, Utah, Kansas, Texas, Illinois, Indiana, South Dakota, Idaho, Washington, North Carolina, Tennessee, Montana, Nevada, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Michigan, Oregon, Louisiana, Colorado, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, Oklahoma, New Jersey.

The other five states counted to make up the thirty-one—Alabama, California, Ohio, North Dakota and Wyoming—have simply requested congress to submit an amendment for the direct election of senators, but have not called for the summoning of a convention; so it may well be claimed that, technically, the constitutional requirement has not yet been complied with. This point, however, is one for congress itself to decide—and by a majority vote in each house, it is claimed—and it is around this question, by means of a joint resolution for calling a constitutional convention, that the issue is expected to be raised at the coming session.

Four times has the house by the requisite two-thirds vote adopted a joint resolution for submission of the direct-election amendment, but never has such a resolution passed the senate. What will result from raising the issue in its new form remains to be seen.

The first states of the thirty-one having amendment resolutions on file in Washington are Idaho and Wyoming, in 1895; Ohio followed in 1896; while the latest state to act is Alabama, at its recent legislative session, which ratified the income tax amendment. It seems to be the hope and wish of movers in the matter to secure the submission by congress direct of the senatorial amendment rather than the calling of a constitutional convention which, it is claimed, would have full power, once in session, to submit any amendments it should see fit to frame.

COOK AND THE ESKIMOS.

Commander Peary, informed on his arrival at Little Harbor that Dr. Cook had claimed to have reached the pole, advised the world not to take seriously the Cook narrative; he said that the testimony of the two Eskimos who were Cook's companions during his year-long wandering in the Arctic region contradicted the story that the expedition had reached the pole, and that this contradiction was corroborated by other members of the tribe. In the statement published this morning, signed by Commander Peary and other members of his party and containing a transcript of conversations with the two Eskimos and their father, a convincing evidence that Commander Peary told the exact truth in the message that the hasty said was born of anger, envy and spleen.

Nemo esset the wildly prejudiced will hesitate about accepting as truthful this statement. The two Eskimos told the story they are represented as having told, and they told it under the circumstances described. Peary, Captain Barlett, Professor McMillan, George Borup, and Matthew Hensen, whose signatures are attached to it, are all men of honor and unblemished reputation. Even if disposed to deceive, prudence would prevent them from vouching for something which could be disproved if untrue. It is no manufactured record that is laid before the world, but a veracious account of the examination that took place at Etah last summer when the Peary party, knowing Dr. Cook, began to suspect him of a pretense to "take" the world. As much faith and credit attaches to the record then made and now published as attaches to a record of a court. In considering the statement the starting point must be that it is no fiction—that its statements are true and accurate.

It appears that the two Eskimos, before credible witnesses, denied that Dr. Cook had gone to the pole or anywhere near it. Examined separately each traced, without knowledge of what the other had done, the route that Cook had traveled. Compared, the two tracings coincided. It is inconceivable that these ignorant savages could have so agreed if not telling the truth. The theory that they omitted any description of a journey to the Big Nail in response to instructions from Dr. Cook is untenable. Extraordinary must have been their cunning to have been able, each telling the story independently, to avoid contradictions and inconsistencies.

The one would not exactly know what the other had omitted and included, and the narratives would not dovetail. Moreover, it is preposterous to think of any sufficient motive for the telling of so complicated and detailed a joint lie, even though it was possible. Every consideration of personal and tribal pride would lead them to assert that they had been to the pole if they had been there. From Dr. Cook's request for them to keep silent they must have suspected something. If they lied to Commander Peary and Professor McMillan they were lying against their self-interest.

The backbone of the Cook narrative is thus smashed. Even should the two boys be brought down and induced to reverse themselves there is greater likelihood of their having told the truth last summer. Finally, it is preposterous to think these lads would be returned from the pole and restrained from telling their father and members of their tribe about it. Yet the father had no knowledge of pole reaching, and when the Roosevelt first encountered the Eskimos on their return, it received an accurate hearsay account of where Cook had actually been.

The main contention of Dr. Cook having broken down, it is proper to refer to collateral matters. He has never been able to give a good reason why he asked the Eskimos to remain silent. He told the boy Pritchard of "discovery" and Pritchard, he knew, would be picked up by the Roosevelt on the way down. He told Whitney, and Whitney he left at Etah waiting for the Roosevelt. The natural guess is that he feared exactly what happened—that the Eskimo boys would be subjected to rigid examination. His only chance was in their complete silence. Next, most disagreeable inferences are natural. In view of Dr. Cook's haste to get out of his alleged exploit and his refusal to submit his so-called proofs, it may be suspected that there are no proofs. Finally, the alleged climbing of Mount McKinley, the more it is inquired into the more and more it is doubted. It is certainly a remarkable circumstance that the men of science and repute who journeyed to Alaska, and who are familiar with all the facts, unanimously say that Cook never reached the summit of the mountain. If Cook pulled off one feat with fair measure of success, can he really understand how he convinced himself that it was possible to do it again on a larger scale. It looks as if we are approaching the exposure of the biggest piece of humbuggery this century has known—an exposure so complete that even the credulous will be convinced.—New York Globe.

USES OF IRISH POTATO. There is nothing better for removing warts from the hands or any part of the body than the common Irish potato. Keep one in a convenient place and rub the juice over the wart four or five times a day, and keep it up until the wart disappears entirely. An Irish potato cut into small pieces and put in vinegar cruet or toilet bottles with plenty of hot suds, letting them stand over night and then giving them a vigorous shaking in the morning, will clean them perfectly. A piece of potato dipped in brick dust and used for cleaning steel knives will keep them bright and shining. To prepare a new iron kettle for use fill it with potato parings and water, boil them for an hour without fear of wash in hot soapsuds, wipe dry and rub with a little lard. A potato sliced up and boiled in lard that has become strong will freshen it and make it almost as nice as new lard. A good way to preserve the color in cotton fabrics is to soak raw chopped potatoes in cold water, then dip the garments in this water and wash them through suds made by stirring enough pearline in warm, soft water to make a nice lather. Wash the garments quickly through the suds. The most delicate colors can be washed in this way without fear of fading, in woolen goods as well as cotton fabrics. An excellent poultice for a boil or carbuncle is made by grating a raw potato, adding as much water as you have of the grated potato, and then cooking until quite thick, stirring constantly to make it smooth. Spread this on a cloth and apply as hot as can be borne over a piece of this cloth. There is nothing better for a burn than a thick layer of scraped raw potato. In caring for lamps, pour all of the oil out occasionally and wash the inside of the bowl out with hot potato water in which a little soap is dissolved, and the lamp burners can be cleaned by boiling them in strong potato water and then rubbing with dry ashes. Renew your wicks before they have time to burn out and your lamps will not only look better, but will give a much brighter light.—Exchange.

STANDS HIS GROUND.

President Miller Refuses to Reinstates Suspended Officers.

Officers O'Connell and Harrington of the Houghton night police force, suspended two weeks ago by President Miller for alleged dereliction of duty, had a second hearing before the village council Thursday night, with the result that the members of the council seemed to feel that the policemen had been unjustly treated. President Miller stood by his guns, however, declaring he saw no reason for relieving the suspension, and the matter is in statu quo, so to speak.

The charge made against the officers is that O'Connell and Harrington were present when William Lucas gave Enache Croze a beating. Mr. Croze was present and told his story, and his evidence was all that was presented to the council. The president was correct in his stand. O'Connell and Harrington both claimed to have been absent from the scene when the fight was on, but that they went there on the run and as soon as they could. The president then held them guilty of failure to perform their duties by not arresting Lucas then and there or immediately the next morning.

The matter was not cleared up definitely one way or the other. The councilmen seemed to stand by the special assessment law. It appears that a number of people in West Houghton who have recently purchased property find that the original owners had not paid their first installments of $11 on the special assessment for the extension of the West Houghton sewer, and that now they have to pay the entire five installments, or $55, plus 10 per cent. Attorney Harbittzer explained the law, which the council is made of course to change, modify or disregard.

Special Assessment Law.

When a special assessment is made against any property it is divided into five equal parts. The first part must be paid the first year and one part each year thereafter until the whole is paid. If a property owner fails to pay his first installment, the whole assessment is levied against his property in a lump the second year, plus 10 per cent for penalty. If it is then not paid, it goes to the county treasurer as delinquent, first having been transferred to the general tax roll, and the property owner is responsible to the county and eventually the state for the payment, with additional collection fees, penalties and red tape. This is the law, the council cannot change it and the West Houghton property owners will have to abide by it.

CANADIAN-AMERICAN DOINGS.

Supreme President Dr. A. E. Brien of Manchester, N. H., and District Organizer Joseph Franconer visited the Calumet lodge of the Canadian-American union Thursday evening and were entertained by the officers of the lodge in the offices of Dr. A. T. LaBarge in the Quella block. Both speakers made a short program of musical and speaking numbers, followed by a social session and a smoker. The visitors expressed themselves as being very well pleased with the advance of the society in the copper country and highly gratified with the manner in which they were entertained. They left yesterday for points in Wisconsin and will later go to Detroit, where large lodges of the society are located. The visiting officers were entertained at Lake Linden Wednesday evening.

ONTONAGON COUNTY ROAD.

Board of Supervisors Will Spend $13,000 in Improvements.

The annual meeting of the Ontonagon county supervisors was held this week, adjourning Thursday afternoon. The action of the board in which the widest interest is taken was its appropriation of $13,000 to be expended in building a road from Ontonagon to Winona and which will pass through the Lake, North Lake and Indiana mining properties. The construction of the highway will be undertaken early next spring. The completion of this stretch of road will furnish a good, smooth highway from Houghton to Ontonagon.

MATCH AND GASOLENE LEAK.

Combination Came Near to Being Serious for Captain John Hyatt.

One seeking to locate a leak in a gasolene tank should not make use of a match or other naked light in so doing. Captain John Hyatt's gasolene boat, which runs between Houghton and the Portage Entry quaires, narrowly escaped destruction in the lower canal, near Big Portage, in the big storm. The boat was headed for Houghton, carrying B. F. Froyey, manager of the quaires, and another passenger whose name was not learned. When the boat got out into Big Portage the sea was so high that Mr. Froyey advised the captain to turn back, and he agreed to do so. In turning the boat was so knocked about by the waves that its gasolene tank, located forward, was broken loose and the pipe feeding gasolene to the engine was broken in two.

Mr. Froyey and the other passenger hastily tried a quantity of waste and jorlup around the pipe to insure feeding the engine until the leak could reach the first revictment of the canal. Mr. Froyey then suggested to Captain Hyatt that he had better hurry back to White City, because there was another leak in his tank and he might be in time to save his gasolene. Then the other passenger very foolishly scratched a match to look for the leak. As he scratched the match, Mr. Froyey involuntarily jumped for the revictment and started for a place of safety, being sure an explosion would follow. But all that happened was the setting of the gasolene in the bottom of the boat afire. Captain Hyatt and his passenger succeeded in putting this fire out before it reached the tank. They were painfully burned.

SOPH-FRESH FOOTBALL GAME.

Michigan College of Mines Class Teams Will Meet Today.

The annual class game of football between the Michigan College of Mines Sophomore and freshman teams will be played this afternoon at the Hancock park. Coach Bothaus of the sophomore team will play the following men: Hayes, Captain; Jarchow, Welcher, Gontly; fallback, Wenzel; quarterback, Ferris; ends, Snyder and Winne; tackles, Moir, Morning and Klepcko; guards, Roth, Rotherland Worcester; center, Stillwell.

Coaches Kohlhaas and Brewster will lead in the following freshmen: Center, Van Valkenburg; guards, McNair and Hood; tackles, Schmidt and Schlutz; ends, Wortley, Barret and Hanchett; halves, Thielcke, Thurber and Aldemus; quarter, Shanber, formerly quarter on Purdue.

The game is to referee and Botsford will be the umpire. Preceding the game the teams will parade to the park, accompanied by class rosters and seniors. This annual game is one of the fall diversions of the college. It marks the close of the new year's inauguration sports and means that hereafter the students will settle down to business. There will be no more hazing or other class fun during the year. In preceding games the sophs have usually won, but this year the freshmen claim to have a considerably stronger and fast team and that they will play such football as the sophs never heard of.

LOOKING FOR HATCHERY SITE.

Harry H. Marks of the Soo Is Heated This Way on a Mission.

W. H. Foster of Houghton is in receipt of a letter from D. H. Power of Pontiac, a member of the state fish commission, in which he says that Harry H. Marks, the fish culturist in charge of the Soo hatchery, is coming to Houghton to look over the ground with a view to selecting a place to locate a hatchery.

Mr. Foster says that the hatchery is the present state hatchery at the Soo, which must be moved to make way for the new one, but when Mr. Power was here during the Copper Country fair he gave the impression that it was the bass hatchery in the lower St. Mary's river that is to be moved. Whatever hatchery it is, Houghton or this vicinity will have a good chance to get it, if the water here is favorable to the propagation of fish. Mr. Power made a pretty close search into conditions while here and it is believed he favors Houghton, providing the water is right.

ALL EQUINES ALIKE TO HIM.

Isaac Haaramiemi Thought Ole Burgan's Horse Was His.

Isaac Haaramiemi was somewhat intoxicated in Hancock Thursday evening, having driven up from Arcadian apparently for that purpose. He is employed in that locality by a farmer. After loading up he decided to go home and leave the horse in the care of the farmer, but when he landed in front of Gartner's store, Ole Burgan of Point Mills had driven up to Hancock on business and left his horse in front of Gartner's. When he came out it was gone. It was his rig that Isaac had taken. Three hours later Isaac was captured by Giber Hollister on Portage lake bridge as he was driving to Houghton. Where he had been in the intervening three hours no one will ever know. In Justice Croza's court yesterday morning he explained through an interpreter that he was so drunk he had made a mistake in the rigs. That being the case he was merely charged with being drunk and disorderly and he paid a small fine.

STORM DAMAGES BREAKWATER.

Superintendent Banks of the Portage lake waterway was advised yesterday that the storm of the past few days had ruined so severely at the canal that considerable damage had been done to the protective breakwater. The telephone lines between Houghton and the canal were down again yesterday and it was impossible to secure details.

A woman's ability to pity others gives her a lot of pleasure.

Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membranes, and the most obstinate cough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed, and the protective breakwater. The telephone lines between Houghton and the canal were down again yesterday and it was impossible to secure details.

A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG. SICK WOMEN WELL.

The many and varied symptoms of woman's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in Plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1008 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date Edition of which, cloth-bound, will be mailed free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address as above.

EQUALIZATION COMMITTEE.

Houghton County Board Preparing to Levy Taxes for 1909.

The equalization committee of the Houghton county board of supervisors has been in session this week and will probably be busy again today. The session is not held in public, but the committee is not empowered to take final action and the extent of its work will not be made known until the report is read at the board meeting next Tuesday.

The equalization committee has as its duty the equalization of the assessments made by the various assessing officers in the county, particularly as to townships and the wards of the city of Hancock. If the committee believes that the assessing officers have not valued high enough it will increase the valuation, and vice versa.

The adjourned meeting of the annual session of the board next Tuesday is largely for the purpose of hearing the report of this committee and acting upon it. The meeting will take up other matters, too, important affairs that were touched upon at the last session. The prosecuting attorney will appear with a written opinion regarding the board's duties in connection with establishing a county road system. A special committee will report a plan for the care of the county indigent tuberculosis cases this winter. The matter of the request of the Houghton County Agricultural society for a donation of $1,500 will be taken up. Several other matters will come up, and the meeting will be one of the most important of the year.

DUCE CASE GOES TO JURY.

Suit Against Sparrow-Kroll Lumber Company Nearing End.

The suit of Joseph Duce vs. the Sparrow-Kroll Lumber company, which had been in progress in the circuit court the past three days, went to the jury yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff had his testimony in Thursday noon, and a motion on the part of the defense to take the case from the jury was overruled.

The case of the defense was principally presented in depositions from Charles B. Kroll and Charles E. Strothers, who are now in Seattle, still in the employ of the Sparrow-Kroll company. Mr. Kroll, in his deposition, stated that he did not see Strothers hit Duce with anything that he had not ordered him to hit Duce and that if Strothers did hit him it was when he (Kroll) was out of the store for a few minutes. On his return he found Duce on the floor and had assisted him out and that Duce walked away. He did not help to drag him out by the feet and had not seen anyone else do so.

Strothers' deposition stated that he hit Duce on the head with the handle and not the head of the hammer.

TONY ROSS ARRIVES.

Big Boxer from Pennsylvania to Meet Mike Sheek Next Monday.

Tony Ross, pugilist, of Newcastle, Pa., accompanied by his manager, Jimmie Dime, has arrived in Houghton for his battle next Monday evening at the Amphidrome with Mike Sheek of Cincinnati. Manager Ferguson says that all in readiness for the bout. Thos. J. Madden, referee, of Duluth, has agreed to be here and that Joe Sheehy, an old-time fighter, will be with him, as will a number of Duluth and Superior sporting men. Duluth would probably like to see Sheek defeated, because Mike beat the pride of Duluth, Dusky Walter Whitehead, at Houghton 3 weeks ago.

Joe Sheehy will probably be a spectacular feature of the evening's entertainment. He is one of the most picturesque characters in the Northwest. He was formerly a fighter of good weight, but age and other drawbacks drove him into the employment agency business and he has made a lot of good copy for Duluth and Superior newspapers in the past ten years or so. It will probably take four policemen and both fighters to keep Joe from making a speech, which prohibition would be unlikely to the crowd, as Joe's oratory is something to give joy to the Gods.

The absurdity of attempting to get his longitude by an observation when only fifteen miles away from the pole is such that, if we were to judge the whole story by this single fact, he would have to be put down as either an absolute ignoramus or an impostor. This point, and every other reasonable one, Dr. Cook ought to welcome an immediate opportunity of clearing up by a simple, straightforward statement.

It is not with any view to pronouncing on the whole question that we bring forward this aspect of the case. It is simply in the interest of common sense. The truth will doubtless be established in the course of time; but in the meanwhile a wave of excitement is being the pole along, and it is necessary to bring attention back to the main fact. That fact is that Dr. Cook has done nothing to remove the substantial doubts that have all along existed as to his achievement. Of many specific circumstances that were pointed to as suspicious he has, as we have before mentioned, successfully disposed, but he has thus far steadily placed himself in the attitude of one who is unwilling to meet legitimate and competent criticism by prompt and adequate statement. If he or his champions reply that Peary likewise has not yet made his report, the answer is obvious that Peary's claim to have reached the pole has not been questioned in any quarter worth considering, while Cook's is most seriously questioned in every country in the world except Denmark. It is his urgent duty to remove as much as he can of this doubt at the earliest possible moment.

COOK SHOULD GIVE PROOFS.

New York Paper Declares That in View of the Way the Public Have Paid Him, It Deserves to Be Assured He Is Not Impostor.

New York, Oct. 15.—The Evening Post commenting on Dr. Cook's claim to the discovery of the North pole, says: There are two circumstances that make the present a timely moment for taking a look at the situation presented by Dr. Cook's relation to the public, as he has developed in the past six weeks (we refer, on the one hand, to the fact that the board of aldermen of the city of New York are to confer on the explorer the freedom of the city, and, on the other, to the statement just made on the part of Dr. Cook, that it will still be three months before he has his data ready for submission to the University of Copenhagen). The conjecture is significant. For, though the board of aldermen is not a body that inspires reverence or awe in the minds of the people here at home, the conferring of the freedom of the great city of America upon the explorer is not a matter to be taken lightly in the civilized world, and will, doubtless, be generally looked upon as evidence that, after weeks of discussion and inquiry, American opinion has settled into acceptance of the doctor's claim; while, on the other hand, so far as the public is concerned, we are not only no further advanced than we were at the beginning, but are calmly informed that three more months are to pass before even a beginning can be made of a real inquiry.

Now, this might be allowed, perhaps, to pass without comment, were it not for the fact that Dr. Cook has been utilizing this period of suspended judgment on the part of competent critics to transmute into very handsome profits the unscrupulous enthusiasm of the multitude, and that there is no indication that he means to do anything with an additional time that may be gained by further postponement of a decisive test. That this is not a situation in which a man of delicate sense of personal honor would be willing to place himself goes without saying; but the public, and the opinion of the public, have no concern with the question of Dr. Cook's standards of propriety in such a matter. What they do have a concern with is the possibility that the public is being exploited—that it is being led into delivering both honors and money to an impostor. And the time seems plainly to have come when, without in the least prejudicing the case, a protest should be made against any further continuance of it on its present footing. Dr. Cook has finished his publication of his serial newspaper story; he has given a number of lectures in various parts of the country at high admission prices, to great audiences; now let him address himself to the task of establishing his case to the satisfaction of competent and impartial inquirers.

And by this we mean not only that he devotes himself to the work of preparing his data for the University of Copenhagen, but also that, by the appropriation of a fraction of the time he has been giving so lavishly to his profitable newspaper story and lectures tours, he prepare a brief statement, in plain, businesslike language, covering the main points connected with his journey. What these main points are might be left to some committee of geographers or scientists to determine. One point, for instance, that obviously requires explanation is the question of how he determined his longitude. It is somewhat curious that he should have given determinations of longitude at all when he was within a few degrees of the pole. Anything even approaching an accurate determination of it is there very difficult, and would involve more time than a man with Cook's task before him could possibly be supposed to give, and yet he keeps on giving it to the minute. Even on the day before reaching the pole, with his latitude 80 degrees 46.5 minutes, he tells us "his observation" gave his longitude as 94 degrees 32 minutes.

MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s correspondent at New York yesterday telegraphed as follows: "We feel that stocks will ultimately sell higher, but do not think that the conditions surrounding the market warrant a sustained upward movement at this time, for which reason we would confine purchases to declines, taking moderate profits on the sharp advances. The pools were quite active, and trading of this character is likely to be the feature pending an adjustment of money conditions. At & T. continues to be absorbed by string interests."

Boston Stock Quotations.

Wiring from Boston yesterday, Paine, Webber & Co. had the following to say of the stock market: "Although very bare of orders, the whole list showed considerable strength today. Isle Royale and Atlantic showed the same buying which made them conspicuous yesterday. The houses connected with Calumet and Laurium were busy. Green continued to be accumulated, one house taking all stocks offered today up to 10 1/2. Butte Coalition was also very scarce, and the floating supply around this level seems to have been taken out of the street. The feeling is gradually becoming more confident that important developments will soon be known in the copper business, and the wise traders are accumulating good lines of stocks in anticipation of an advance in the price of the metal."

Cotton Market.

Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say of yesterday's cotton market: "Fortune favors the bulls. In fact, it is probable, as Bonaparte said, 'The Love favors those who have the most cannon.' There can now be but little doubt that the bulls have the best artillery and the best ammunition in the cotton market. Advances of disappointingly short yields come from all sections. Short sellers realize the crop movement will be at an end and signs of exhaustion are already apparent in many sections of the southwest. No heavy long interests ex-

RAT CAPTURES A STORE.

Drives Owner Out by Biting His Bale Feet on Night Visit.

A vicious rat routed Richard C. Baker in his own store at Shortleay, near Georgetown, Del., and compelled him to take refuge in his house across the way.

A party driving to Seaford wakened Baker to learn the road and buy some tobacco. Baker entered the store with a lantern and noticed a big rat glaring at him from a shelf. With a shovel he started to drive the rat out, but after it had knocked down a lot of glassware, the rodent turned and attacked the man, biting his bare feet.

Without giving an inch the rat stood his ground, making frequent dashes, and after several attempts at biting him had been made without success the party retired discomfited, without the tobacco, leaving the rat in complete charge of the store.

BOTH BOYS SAVED.

Louis Boon, a leading merchant of Norway, Mich., writes: "Three bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar absolutely cured my boy of a severe cough, and a neighbor's boy, who was so ill with a cold that the doctors gave him up, was cured by taking Foley's Honey and Tar." Nothing else is as safe and certain in results. Sold by all druggists.

Ethel J in Commission—The fishing tug Ethel J, which has been tied up because of court litigation for the last two summers, is to be put in condition for service during the herring season next month. The boat is to be operated by Dan McCormick of Bay City, who is said to be an experienced fisherman.

Farmers' Institute—Farmers of this county are evincing unusual interest in the institute to be held about the middle of next month in the city hall. The institute will last two days and a fruit, grain and vegetable show is planned in connection. At least two of the prominent agriculturalists of the state will be in attendance and make addresses upon subjects of interest to the tillers of the soil.

Scott-Cowle Case Hearing—The masters and first officers of the steamers Scott and Cowle, which collided in Whitefish Bay July 14 last, the Cowle sinking with fourteen of her crew, were under fire Thursday at the United States Inspectors' office, where an investigation of the accident was taking place. The officers of the Cowle were represented by Attorney Fred Lesky of Cleveland. Inspectors York and Gooding have not yet given out their decision fixing the blame for the collision.

One Movement Retarded—The stormy weather of the last few days has greatly retarded the one movement down the lakes, as nearly all the boats have been delayed by rough and thick weather. Many vessels are reported overdue and a large fleet is reported at anchor in the lee of Whitefish point. The crew of the steamer J. L. Weeks report having seen a sailing steamer off Whitefish point a few days ago, but no boat is known to have gone down and there is inclination to doubt the report. The steamer Trevor is aground at Isle Royale but it is believed to be in no immediate danger.

Played to Packed House—Every seat in the opera house was occupied last evening, when D'Urban's Italian band opened their second even's performance in this city. The program rendered was even more enthusiastically received than that of the night before, and the musicians were greeted with deafening applause at the conclusion of every number. A large audience listened to the close of the evening's performance in this city today, with a matinee at 2:30 this afternoon and a concert at 8:20 this evening. The seat sale has already been heavy and it is believed that the house will be entirely sold out at both performances.

Will Begin Monday—The formal investigation of the charges preferred by Robert Shaw and others against Alger J. Libby, supervisor of West Branch township, will be taken up Monday before Circuit Court Commissioner George P. Brown and Prosecuting Attorney F. A. Bell. The investigation is being made upon the order of Governor Warner, he having been asked by the Shaw faction to remove Supervisor Libby from office. This is the latest development in the political turmoil which has disturbed the peace and quiet of West Branch township for the last two years. As the result of this ruction West Branch has come up from one of the least known to one of the most notorious townships in the county.

E. C. Anthony Appointed—At a joint meeting of the various prison boards held in Lansing Wednesday, Governor Warner, in accordance with an act of the last legislature, appointed the following members, who with himself, will act as a commission in other states to determine whether convict labor should be abolished: E. C. Anthony, of Negaunee, member of Marquette prison board; John W. Adams, of Kalamazoo, of the Jackson board, and Leon Freeman, of Pontiac, of the Leoni board. It is said that there is some opposition among members of the boards to abolishing the convict labor system, while others are of the opinion that it hurts outside industries and should be discontinued.

Interest at White Heat—Interest in the outcome of the final contest between the Pirates and the Tigers this afternoon is intense among all Marquette base-ball fans. Though the fans are almost to a man rooting for the Tigers, not a small number placed bets on the Pirates before the beginning of the series, which naturally affects the fervor of their loyalty to the Michigan team. Some are prophesying that Detroit will win the final game, while others are just as certain that the sluggers from Pittsburg will take the game and series this afternoon. One noticeable feature of the game is the great furore of philosophers' dissertations on how Detroit could have won more games if Manager Jennings

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.

THEATRICAL.

"The Girl Question"

Manager Koepke, of the opera house, has secured the new musical comedy, "The Girl Question" and will offer it to his patrons next Wednesday evening.

"The Girl Question" is under the management of J. H. Frazer and the music is by Joseph E. Howard. George Marion staged the production and his name is synonymous with striking originality, grace and action.

The first act is laid in a Chicago restaurant, where "Con" Ryan, a slungy illiterate, but "on the level" product of the under world, is manager. He is in love with a pretty girl who acts as cashier, but who is too young and frivolous to appreciate his devotion. The head waitress, "The best and truest pal a fellow ever had," is in love with him. The restaurant is frequented by a conglomerate crowd who range in social position from "Skinny" Jones, the president of the Iron Workers' union, to F. P. J. Sears, a millionaire who owns pretty near all of Chicago and the rest of the United States. Ryan is given an interest in the business, and, to celebrate determines to propose to the cashier and give a ball, and asks the head waitress to help him do both properly.

The second act shows a roof garden in Chicago at night, with the ball in full swing. Baron Von Tesner, a young German who has come to America in search of the rightful owner of a block of railroad stock which has been left in his trust for a girl named Foster, discovers that the owner is the head waitress, just as a deputy sheriff rushes in, declares that Mr. Sears has foreclosed a mortgage he holds on Ryan's restaurant and that it is to be thrown into the street, and the act ends in a scene of glorious confusion.

In the third act the waitress, transformed into Mr. Sear's private secretary, discovers that her block of railroad securities form the balance of power which Sears must acquire to carry out a vast deal. She sells to him on condition that he restore Ryan's old restaurant to its former condition and lease it to him, rent free, for three years, puts Ryan in charge and makes him acknowledge that his infatuation for the cashier was only a moment's passing fancy and that she was the girl he really and truly loved.

A Winter Precaution

Fall and winter is the season for colds and coughs. It is the time when serious throat and lung troubles get their start. Every cough is a threat against life and should be rightly cured. Coughs must not be dried up or drugged into silence; they must be soundly cured by removing the cause.

This Should Interest You

It is told that a merchant in New York city advertised for a young man to fill a certain position. The next morning he found six applicants in waiting. The merchant asked:

"How many of you young men have savings bank accounts?" Only one replied that he had. "I'll take you," said the merchant.

His bank account was a recommendation. It suggested at once to the merchant, the possession of qualifications he desired in his service.

You can start an account with this bank with $1.00, $5.00 or any other amount. We allow 3 per cent interest on deposits in our savings department.

FARMERS SATISFIED WITH YEAR'S HARVEST

WITH THE EXCEPTION OF HAY, GOOD CROPS ARE REPORTED IN MARQUETTE COUNTY—DAIRY-MEN NOT SO FORTUNATE.

Agriculturally speaking, this has been a very fair year for the farmers of Marquette county, according to all reports. Though the planting of crops was retarded by the late spring and later by lack of rain from July on, the growth of all vegetation has been rapid, and, with the exception of hay, which was practically ruined by grasshoppers, the harvest has been a plentiful one. The hay crop in this vicinity is estimated to have been not more than 35 per cent of the normal, and local dealers are buying entirely from outside. In spite of the late planting, corn has done better than usual in the upper peninsula, and some fields are reported to have ripened before frost came. The best crop of corn in the county was undoubtedly grown by Frank H. Vandenberg, who has harvested forty acres, which has netted some 500 tons of silage, and has picked 100 bushels of ripe corn. Others have not had so good success with their corn crop, but Mr. Vandenberg is emphatic in his declaration that corn can be successfully and profitably grown in this climate in an average year. Potatoes in this immediate vicinity are said to be not quite so good a crop as last year, due to the dry weather early in the summer. More small potatoes than usual have been found in the late digging, but otherwise the quality is excellent, the skins of the tubers being unusually smooth and no rot has been found. In other places potatoes are said to be a bumper crop and the price bids fair to be less than for several years. Oats have been the best crop for four or five years and forty bushels per acre is about the average yield, while some farmers are claiming a yield of twice that amount and more. Apples are estimated to be about 80 per cent of an average crop, with the quality excellent. Individual apple trees do not bear profusely often, but every other year, as a rule, which is thought to account for the small yield this year. Plums and other fruit are a fine crop, both in quality and quantity. The cabbage crop was practically ruined by the grasshoppers, and other vegetables suffered to some extent, but, on the whole, vegetables may be said to be a very fair yield, with the quality better than usual. Though the year has been a very satisfactory one from the general farmer's point of view, the dairymen are not so well satisfied, because the price of hay and milk feed is higher than for some

Refused to Work; Fined—

Fines of $10 and costs or imprisonment of fifteen days were imposed by Justice Glaser of Escanaba upon seven foreigners who came from Chicago to Kates at the expense of the I. Stephenson company and then refused to work. Two of the men were able to pay their fines. The other five are in the county jail, serving the terms.

Gladstone Strike Settled—

The difficulty which developed at Gladstone between the single weavers employed by the North Western Co. and Lumber company, and the corporation over an employe insurance plan which was recently inaugurated has been settled. The men objected at first to the plan, but after a walkout which resulted in a walkout, have been amicably settled and the men have returned to their regular work.

Good Hunting in Escanaba—

Escanaba hunters in search of partridge would probably do as well to remain in the city instead of trudging through the woods if the records of the past few days is to be taken as a criterion. A few days ago a dozen partridge was killed at the rear of the store of D. A. Oliver and now Simon Kratzke has picked off a big partridge immediately at the rear of Kratzke Bros. upper store. The bird evidently flew from the woods and dashed against one of the windows at the rear of the building. Mr. Kratzke dragged out an old long unused gun and brought down the game as it was perched on a shed at the rear of the store.

New Industry for St. Ignace—

F. J. Schallmeier of Milwaukee, the manager of a new cement manufacturing corporation, accompanied by the engineer of the company has been here looking over the locality, says the St. Ignace Enterprise. He met a number of the businessmen and explained fully the project. He named certain concessions that his company would expect if located here; he declared that conditions were most favorable as a location, and that with such concessions granted it was reasonably certain that the plant would be established at this point. These concessions the citizens are fully prepared to make, and therefore the project may be regarded as certain of fulfillment, with work beginning in the early spring. Plants of this nature are always of large proportions, the cost involved is great, and employment is provided for from 200 to 400 men. The necessary raw material is here in abundance, in fact, its presence in practically unlimited quantities is the great attraction that drew the promoters hither.

Serious Charges Against Hopkins—

Alleging a $500,000 "get rich quick" fraud scheme the federal authorities at Chicago have secured the joint indictment of W. H. Hunt, president of the now defunct Pan-American banking concern and Wallace H. Hopkins, book-keeper, who formerly was in business at Ishpeming. A separate indictment was returned against Hunt also. The contents of the federal authorities may be summarized thus: Alleged frauds by Hunt and Hopkins by sale of stock in the Consolidated Zinc company, $100,000. Alleged frauds by Hopkins in brokerage business, $200,000. Alleged frauds by Hunt in sale of Zinc stock, $200,000. The government claims that Hunt sold stock in the Consolidated Zinc company, advertised extensively as a $20,000,000 capitalized concern, and raised a harvest by alleged misrepresentations and sales. That Hunt and Hopkins jointly operated the Consolidated Zinc company at 290 Clark street and by alleged misrepresentations disposed of large amounts of stock in the zinc concern. That Hopkins conducted a brokerage business and defrauded his customers out of thousands of dollars by accepting orders for a specific stock, failing to buy same, and entering on his books that he had bought the stock; that he dealt in margins and did not settle with his customers. Suffocated as They Slept—

Evidently suffocated while they slept, Mrs. Commodore Jackson and Joseph Gallagher, proprietor of the Washington Hotel at Escanaba, were found lifeless in a room at that hostelry at 6 o'clock in the morning. The bed was ablaze when Fred Kaufman who was sleeping in an adjoining room, was aroused by one of the maids and breaking in the door pulled the two ladies to the outside. The burning mattress and bed clothing were thrown through a window and a serious fire was prevented. Although a physician was called immediately after the couple had been removed from the room, it was found that both were dead. The woman was married only last week, attracting considerable attention when she was wedded to a man who on the previous day had assaulted her and who to escape being married on Friday called out the county clerk and Judge O. V. Linden late Thursday night to have the ceremony performed. Her husband returned to his work in the woods last Monday. It is claimed that both the woman and Gallagher were intoxicated and it is believed that while smoking cigarettes on the bed in the room sparks ignited the clothing and the fumes soon suffocated the pair. The body of the woman was found by Kaufman directly in front of the door, while that of Gallagher was under the bed, they having apparently unconsciously made an effort to escape from the smoke-filled chamber.

WALKING WITH A WIDDER-MAN.

It Means Marrying Him Present, Especially if He's Got a Home.

"No, m'm, it were not too salt, m'm," said Mattie firmly, and then while I still gazed astonished, she sat down and burst into noisy, childish weeping. As she seemed to be apologizing and saying she "couldn't think what made her act so silly," I told her I would overlook it.

"It's my sister, m'm, is going to marry such a beast of a man," she explained. "Nothing else would have made me fly out so obscenely." She resumed her tears with an energy which seemed to demand and violate sympathy or summary dismissal. "Not that she could have looked for a high marriage, being so inoffensive and with hair as strite as a point of candle." Mattie vent on. "But him being in a show, it's beyond!" "A van, m'm—a traveling show," she explained. "She walked out with him Sunday week, and never wrote word to me, though I was let know by many kind friends as despised her for it, let alone others that congratulated me like snakes in the grass. And yesterday she done it again—walked down Meeting lane on Sunday afternoon, and ain't ashamed to own it."

To the outsider, the case seemed far from desperate. Did not Mattie walk out her eleven years with a middle-aged butcher boy, and announce her consent to marry him at the end of it as a hair-raising surprise? "Perhaps she will change her mind and give him up," I suggested. "Cook dried her eyes and nose, obviously ashamed of having exhibited her woe to me without understanding. "He's a widder man, m'm," she said, reproachfully. "You can't walk out with a widder man without marrying him pronto. He's got a home." "But you said it was a van," I objected. She smoothed her apron and carefully broke an egg into a cup. "It's the same to marry into, though not similar to live in," she said. "If I was to speak to him like you knows I can't draw tears at the first word is what I'm accustomed to in the home should give him up. But I couldn't have it said as a sister of mine had held out leipes to a man with a house and fam-

 (Additional Ishpeming on Page Seven.) ENTERTAINMENT THIS EVENING.

Program Will Be Given at Salvation Army Barracks.

Y. M. C. A. ROOMS TO BE OPEN ON SUNDAY

ENTERTAINMENTS OF INTEREST TO MEN WILL BE GIVEN DURING THE WINTER MONTHS.

During the winter months the rooms of the Young Men's Christian association building will be open to men on Sunday afternoons. This decision by the officers will surely be approved of by the members. The religious and social committees will plan an informal program for each Sunday, to be given in the lobby at 3:30 o'clock. The programs will consist of song services, vocal and instrumental solos, addresses, etc. There will be no admission charge and no collection will be taken up.

There being an apparent demand for a class in mechanical drawing in connection with the association's night school, arrangements have been made whereby C. L. Webb, instructor of manual training in the public schools, will teach it. The board of education of the Ishpeming school has promised the use of the equipment necessary free of cost. All who wish to join the class are asked to call at headquarters for full information or to see Mr. Webb. The course will cover six months and the tuition charge will be $6 for the term. The class will be organized within a few days.

It is now evident that the night school, started two weeks ago last Monday, will be the biggest kind of a success. The enrollment is larger than was expected, and new members are being taken in daily. A number of foreign-born men, who have been in the country from a few months to a year or two, are taking advantage of the opportunity to learn to speak, write and read English. They are showing much interest in their work and most of them are apt students. A large majority of the foreign students are Finns and Italians, though several other nationalities are also represented. The membership of the athletic classes is increasing as the weather becomes colder and the members are much interested in their work.

MINISTERS SCORE TEACHERS FOR DANCING

FOUR ISHPEMING CLERGYMEN EXPRESS THEIR DISAPPROVAL OF THIS DIVERSION AT U. P. EDUCATIONAL MEETINGS.

The following communication, signed by four pastors of churches in Ishpeming, is of interest:

To the Mining Journal: We have this week within this city a large majority of school teachers of the upper peninsula. It is an intelligent body of ladies and gentlemen—the instructors of our children, the promoters of knowledge, culture, patriotism and morals, high thinking and high living; as such they cannot be too well received to our hearts and homes.

But that the Educational association of the upper peninsula, in order to be entertained, need a dancing party in the program, and that the senior class of the high school is in charge of it, lower them both so much in our estimation that it is with a feeling of great reluctance that we, as members of the church, shall entrust our children into their hands for training. It is not only what is taught by words, but character and example, that tells on the character and the lives of the pupils.

You invite, in your announcement the day before yesterday, all Ishpeming people to attend the dance. Do you forget that our people from early childhood have been instructed that dancing, for a good many reasons, is improper to be partaken in by Christians? Is it not shameful for you to use your position and influence to draw our children and young people into those ways which we have made great efforts to keep them out of? Is it not unworthy of one supported by the hard-earned dollars of our people to countenance by his example those things that they often from sad experience deem to be diametrically opposed to the best interests of their children and youth?

We protest against this state of things, in our own name and those of our people.

T. AUG. LILLEHEI, Pastor, Norwegian Lutheran Church.
J. SALLSTROM, Pastor, Swedish Mission Church.
G. FLETWOOD, Pastor, Swedish Lutheran Church.
C. L. ADAMS, Pastor, First M. E. Church.

Ladies! We can surely save you from $5 to $15 a garment. Let us prove it. (10-12-11) F. BRAASTAD & CO.

CLOSING OF INSTITUTE.

Most of the Teachers Will Return Home This Evening.

The fourteenth annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Educational association will be brought to a close today noon. There will be but one session this morning, and that will be held in the auditorium. Professor D. P. Waldo, of the Western State Normal, at Kalamazoo, and H. R. Pattengill, former superintendent of public instruction, will be the speakers. Mr. Waldo will talk on "A Chapter of American History," and Mr. Pattengill's address will be on "The Use of Libraries in Public Schools."

Officers will be elected for the ensuing year and the committee on resolutions will submit its report. The only musical number on the program will be a song by the girls of the Ridge street school. The meeting held last evening in the auditorium was very well attended. Professor J. Carter Troop was the speaker and there were musical numbers by the Girls' Glee club and orchestra and a reading by Mrs. Julia G. Rushmore.

SIGNS WITH LOS ANGELES.

Former Ishpeming Man Will Play Baseball Throughout the Winter.

John Gray, who spent a week or more in Chicago with his brother, Will Gray, who was on the pitching staff of the Washington team this season, has returned home. Will Gray intended to come to Ishpeming to visit relatives for a few days before going west again, but having accepted an offer to play with the Los Angeles team during the winter he was instructed to report for duty the latter part of this week. He will pitch for Los Angeles until March, when he will return east.

Gray's return to California will be welcomed by the fans, as before he joined the Washington team he was considered to be one of the best twirlers in the California league. Manager Cantillon of Washington used Gray more than any other pitcher the past season. He pitched four of the last eight games with Boston, and his work was up to his usual standard in spite of the fact that he had not yet fully recovered from the injury he received six weeks ago in the eighteen-inning game at Detroit. In that contest only twenty-four men faced him in eight innings, and he allowed but one hit, that being in the first inning. He strained himself in reaching for a ball that was returned by the catcher.

While in Chicago, John Gray saw the first three games of the championship series between the Cubs and Sox. His brother introduced him to members of both teams, and he heard them express opinions as to the ability of different players in the two leagues. He said that the members of the Sox seemed to be unanimous in the opinion that Ty Cobb of Detroit is the best all-around player that the world has ever produced.

It is thirteen years since Will Gray left here for California, and this was the first time that the brothers had seen each other since that time.

We expect to do a tremendous business today. Our stock will be in great shape. So will our service. (10-12-11) F. BRAASTAD & CO.

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

The New York market opened considerably higher for the whole list, and on heavy buying, especially of Steel common, gained steadily during the morning. About noon it became quiet, but afterward the buying was resumed. There is no news to account for today's advance, but the buying is said to be by the strongest interests.

The Boston coppers were also strong, and in most cases somewhat higher, in sympathy with New York. Greens was the feature, heavy buying advancing it to 10 1/2, with numerous transactions at that figure. Arizona Commercial, Atlantic, Butte Coalition, Isle Royale, North Butte and Superior Copper were all higher. Michigan and Adventure were weak, selling down to 6 and 5 1/2, respectively. The others about unchanged.

The cubs are still quiet. There is very little trading and the changes are of but slight consequence. The Tintic stocks secure most of the attention among the low-priced issues, and in our judgment deserve it. Two of these stocks are now and have been for the past year paying monthly dividends at the rate of 64 and 101 per cent per annum, respectively, on the present selling price.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

S. J. Letcher will return to the copper country today after a week's visit with relatives here.

Patrick Hickey of Lake street submitted to a surgical operation at the Ishpeming hospital yesterday.

Walter Trowek left last night for Great Falls, Mont., after a three weeks' visit with his mother, Mrs. William Keunnaugh.

Harry Scott's company, producing "The Girl from U. S. A.," was greeted by a fairly large audience last evening at the Ishpeming theater.

Frank Olson, who was formerly in the employ of J. J. Ledler, has accepted a position with F. Braastad & Co., and will begin work this morning in the grocery department.

Ernie Burke, who filled a number of positions on the Ishpeming baseball team the past season, has gone to Toronto, Can., where he will spend the winter. He expects to return to Ishpeming in the spring.

The services at Calvary Baptist church tomorrow will be held at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. Rev. W. J. Meade, the pastor, will preach in the morning on the theme, "Co-Laborer With God." His subject in the evening will be "The Struggle for the Pennant."

Everybody in Ishpeming is urged to save old papers, books and magazines for Mrs. J. D. Spitzer's division of the Presbyterian church. The ladies are trying to fill a box car with such material. Those having old papers, books and magazines will please telephone or write

Mrs. Spitzer. Papers will be collected early in November.

The Oliver Iron Mining company's pay-days will begin today, when the men at the Queen and Hartford mines, Ne-gamucc, will be paid for last month's work. The employees at the Hard Ore and Section 21 mines will be paid Monday; those at Section 16 and the Hematite; Tuesday, and those at Champion and Stegmiller, Wednesday.

The football game between the Ishpeming and Negaunee High school teams, to be played this afternoon, promises to be well attended, the elevens having played a tie game the last time they met. Both elevens are stronger than they were three weeks ago, and a faster game is looked for. The contest will start at 2 o'clock. The admission will be twenty-five cents for adults and fifteen for children.

In the clock guessing contest at L. W. Atkins & Co.'s store, Ed Kennedy, of West Division street, was awarded first prize, and John Sjolund second prize. The clock will be unveiled every Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock until Dec. 17, the first unveiling having taken place yesterday. The two patrons who each week guess the nearest to the time that the clock stops running will be declared the winners, though they must be at the store with their coupons when the unveiling occurs.

WHISKY 86 YEARS OLD DEALT OUT WITH SPOON

Workmen engaged in tearing down the old Owen county court house at Spencer, Ind., found a gallon jug of whisky buried in a crevice in the foundation stones, under the northeast corner of the building. The jug was sealed with sealing wax and bore on one side a discolored paper label inscribed as follows: "Deposited by Joseph Froelich, 1826; distilled in Owen county, 1827," which would make the liquor about eighty-six years old.

The jug was an old time pattern and showed the marks of age. About half of the contents had evaporated. The liquor is now in the possession of the county auditor, who has purchased a new spoon, preparatory to dealing the precious liquid out in limited quantities to county officials and others who have been taking an active part in establishing the new court house.

Thomas McNaught, the father of Gen. F. A. McNaught, of Spencer, was one of the county commissioners at the time the old court house was constructed in 1828 and he had told his sons that the jug of whisky had been placed under the corner of the building; but so many years had passed since his death that the story was regarded as a legend, and was not believed until the jug was unearthed. Owen county is "dry," and the news of the find spread rapidly and hundreds of people flocked to the scene, but no one was permitted to drink more than a teaspoonful of the liquor.

Mining News

BOSTON & CORBIN.

The report of the Boston & Corbin Copper & Silver Mining company for the year ended July 31, 1909, says: "During the year we have done about 4,000 feet of development work. The company has had engineers at work laying out a line to connect the mines with the Missouri River Power company's main line so as to secure electric power, which will greatly facilitate operations and decrease the cost of operation. It is hoped that the power plant will be completed and in operation by Nov. 15. The 700-foot level will then be aggressively developed and the shaft carried down to the 1000-foot level.

"The 500-foot level is the deepest developed level in the mine, and shows the most extensive ore bodies. It is, therefore, not unsafe to assume that when the 800 and 700 foot levels are opened they will add materially to the tonnage of ore in sight. The vein has shown great persistency both in length and depth. On the 500-foot level it has been proved up for a length of about 1,000 feet and is still in ore.

"With the opening up of the 700-foot level, which should be within the next sixty or ninety days, it is the opinion of the superintendent that the property will be in a position to supply a concentrating mill with ore at the rate of 300 tons per day, and with the opening of the next three levels below, that is, down to the 1,000-foot level, this tonnage should be considerably increased. The company should be able to produce a copper at an unusually low cost, as the ore will carry enough silver and gold to more than pay the cost of mining."

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The Erb-Jarvis and Heinze factions in the Davis Daly Copper company, who have recently been engaged in a sharp contest for control, have compromised their differences. The annual meeting held at Portland yesterday was, therefore, perfectly harmonious. A new board of directors was elected, including three Boston men, representative financiers and business men, whose entrance into the management will add much strength thereto.

The Boston Financial News says in its issue of yesterday (Friday): "The advance in the price of Isle Royale yesterday was accompanied by reports that the company had struck the Butte lode. This statement was, however, denied in fairly authoritative circles, where it was said there was not the slightest truth in the report. What appeared to be a much more likely story was that Calumet & Hecla was buying the Isle Royale and Atlantic for the purpose of operating these properties conjointly with Superior. It has been noted that ever since the announcement of the purchase of a large block of shares of the Isle Royale company by the Calumet & Hecla, the price movements of the former's stock have been very erratic. Just prior to the definite announcement that the deal had been effected, Royale advanced to 33 1/2. This high mark has never been reached since, while in the meanwhile the stock has sold as low as 22 1/2. According to a number of the leading brokers on the street the stock is one of the hardest to buy at the market quotation when any considerable block of shares is wanted, any real demand causing an immediate advance in price. The indications are that this stock is left unsupported until it declines to a satisfactory price, and then is absorbed until the buying ends the price up. This buying is believed to be for Calumet & Hecla. It is known that at the time the Bigelow holdings were purchased an offer was made for another large block, which, however, could not be had at the price offered.

Mr. F. G. Fritz, Oneonta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is mild, pleasant and effective, and cures habitual constipation. Sold by all druggists.

Broke Out on Hips and Legs—Was So Sore, Irritating and Painful that Little Sufferer Could Not Sleep—Scatched Constantly and Kept Growing Worse.

CUTICURA'S EFFECT QUICK AND PERMANENT

"When about two and a half years old my daughter broke out on her hips and the upper parts of her legs with a very irritating and painful eruption. It began in October, the first I noticed was a little red surface and a constant desire on her part to scratch her limbs. She could not sleep and the eruptions got sore, and yellow warts came out of them. I had two doctors treat her, but she grew worse under their treatment. Then I bought the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent, and only used them two weeks when she was entirely well. This was in February. She has never had another rough place on her skin, and she is now four years old. I used only half the bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and less than a box of Cuticura Ointment. Mrs. R. L. Whitaker, Winchester, Tenn., Sept. 22, 1908."

WOMEN Everywhere Use Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment

For preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff, for dry, thin and falling hair, for softening, whitening and soothing red, rough and sore hands, for removing irritations and ulcerative weaknesses, and for many sensitive, antiseptic purposes as well as for all the uses of the toilet, bath and nursery. ## WEEKLY COPPER REVIEW

Gossip of Interest Concerning the Market Situation and Various Mining Properties.

(Paine, Webber & Co.)

During the week the copper share market has about maintained its balance, without material losses or gains. There have been two important considerations which have occupied the attention of those who are most interested in the copper metal and copper share situation. One of these and, to our opinion, the most important consideration, is a more general realization that the price of the metal has not risen because manipulative tactics have played a prominent part in keeping the market price for the product of the mines at its present low level, despite the advance in general business conditions and the rise in other stable metals, such as iron, lead and zinc. The price of the metal cannot be kept at such a low figure for a very long period for the natural demand for the product is steadily making itself felt in domestic consumption business and the policy of large metal manufacturers of operating their plants by hand-to-mouth methods will not avail for any lengthy period from this date out. The other consideration has been the generally credited rumor that the Morgan financial interests of New York have decided to take a hand in the work of formulating a big copper combination. There seems to be some basis for this rumor and among well posted copper producing interests there is a feeling that this thing had to come some time sooner or later and that the Morgan people are the strongest people in the world to handle it and that that house is the only house which could work in harmony with all of the various interests of importance now in the copper producing business. It is believed that representatives of the Morgan people could approach the Calumet & Hecla people with some hope of bringing them into the arrangement. The financial responsibility of John P. Morgan and his allied interests will assure that the marketing of such a corporation as is planned could be arranged without much difficulty as the Steel corporation financing has stood the test of time and added strength and prestige to the Morgan people. If the Morgan people are taking an interest in the copper situation with a view toward the formation of a copper corporation along the lines of a steel corporation it is quite certain that there will be some exciting market incidents in the interval between the origination of these plans and the consummation of them.

Calumet & Arizona.

The report from Bisbee that the Calumet & Arizona people have been considering the purchase of the Shattuck property on a basis of $35 per share for control is not given credence by those who know. At the same time it is generally understood that the Calumet & Arizona people would not be adverse to securing control of the Shattuck if the terms can be made reasonable. The Shattuck has a very valuable ore body well developed. The company has complete equipment and is in good financial condition. The property adjoins the Calumet & Arizona and the ore body runs into the Calumet & Arizona territory. It is at some future time there must be a working agreement reached as to the limitations of the ore. The Shattuck officials assert that they have opened in the mine which has a net value of at least $12,000,000. This sum may be considered somewhat extravagant but the ore is exceptionally high grade, in fact it is in about the same high class ore as the Irish Mag shaft developed when the Calumet & Arizona first entered the ranks as a producer of copper. We understand that while no agreement relative to the transfer of control have been made formally, tentative considerations have been offered and the price suggested by the Shattuck people is considered out of reason. There is very reasonable expectation that there will be a further attempt to reconcile the difference now existing and to bring about an affiliation later on the Calumet & Arizona has made another sound payment on one claim in the Courtland district but the regular payment on the most important property upon which the great amount of development work has been done has not yet been made and the option has been extended for some time pending further opening at greater depth. During the week the Calumet & Arizona stock has been very weak in the market and there seemed to be some evidence of forced selling. We are rather inclined to the opinion that this stock can be purchased with impunity on any day on a horizontal buying that will appreciate very rapidly in value once the metal situation begins to show evidences of greater strength.

Lake Copper Company.

Each week brings further developments at the Lake Copper company which continue to further prove our original contention that the Lake will become a valuable addition to the copper producers of the Michigan district. The most remarkable showing of the richest copper yet found in the shaft is in the third level. At the extremities of the drifts on this level, a distance of 700 feet apart, they are in the richest opening showing it is possible to get out side of solid mass stuff. In the lower level openings, at a depth of 750 feet the latest shafts continue to display good looking copper. The fear that the values will be lost with depth by reason of a horizontal faulting does not seem to be well grounded. In all the history of copper formations in the Michigan horizontal faulting is a rare thing and there is no more reason to fear that the bottom of the Lake copper values will be thrown to the east or west as must be, if faulted as described, than there is to fear that the bottom of the Wolverine or the Quincy is faulted in the neighborhood of any certain shaft. The ledge at the Lake may fault but it will come in again as it has in some of the levels or it may make a big curve in adjoining territory but the fear that the bottom of the mine is faulted to the east or west is not based on practical or geological reasoning and is considered in the copper district of Michigan as an unreasonable and unfounded explanation.

Greene-Cananea.

The strong buying in Greene-Cananea which has been in evidence for the past three weeks has been largely for investment account and the purchases have been entirely for those who are usually in position to know the actual condition of the metal market as well as the physical condition of the property and its capacity in the way of copper production. During the past three years the underground and above surface equipment of this property has been overhauled, improved and made modern in every respect, so that today the company can produce copper at a rate lower than at any other time in its history. Extensive outlays have been made for equipment to make this possible. Of course the exploitation of the Greene-Cananea is so large that there must be a material advance in the metal before it reflects in a large way in the market value of the shares but the fact remains that Greene-Cananea is capable of production at the rate of 50,000,000 pounds yearly and the September record of close to 4,000,000, but an indication of what may be expected in the future when the metal warrants the increase of the output.

Michigan.

Michigan has decided to discontinue the annual struggle until the price of copper goes higher. This is the company laid off 150 men and there are but twenty-five men remaining at work at the property and it is understood that this number will constitute the working force at the mine for the remainder of the winter season. If the price of copper should go higher there is a possibility that the Michigan will resume operations on the old scale but the expectation is that no attempt will be made to resume operations again until next spring. In the meantime the diamond drill exploration and other exploratory work will be continued in the hope of finding copper formation that carry greater values than those upon which the Michigan mine has operated for the past few years. The rumor that the officials of the Mass company had decided upon a similar course of action is denied. At least nothing is known locally of such a course.

Wolverine.

In commenting on the desirability of Wolverine as an investment purchase among the list of coppers one often hears the statement that the life of the mine is limited. The assertion is quite true but it must be remembered that the Wolverine has ground opened in advance for fully ten years and this ground all shows the average Wolverine grade of Keersarge ledge rock. It mainly takes a producer of refined copper of close to 400 tons per month and it can be counted on to keep up this record for at least ten years ahead and we are of the opinion that ordinary expectations justify the prediction that the life of the mine will be limited to the next twenty years of continued dividend activity. This is based on the fact that the lower openings show a continuance of good values and there is no reason to fear that the company can maintain its production record at the rate of 10,000,000 pounds yearly in the future as it has in the recent past.

RAILROAD EXTENDS TO CUYUNO.

Resides the exploratory and development work being done on a large scale in the Cuyuno district of Minnesota, work is now being started on a railway leading to the principal properties. The line will extend out from Acker, Minn. The Soo line is also doing extensive railroad work in that district, though the branch now being constructed over the Lawrence and McGregor will have in connection with the new line leading to the Cuyuno properties.

LOCAL LACONICS.

John Hagerty.

John Hagerty, the well-known commercial man from Green Bay, was here yesterday.

Miss Elliott.

Miss Elliott, who spent the past several weeks in the city visiting her son, S. R. Elliott, left Thursday night for her home.

The walls of the Scandinavian society's new block, being erected on Gold street, have been completed to the top of the second story.

Mrs. B. Lavine of Republic and her daughter, Mrs. J. Davidson of Green Bay, visited Acker and Phil Lavine, and their families, here Thursday.

D. A. Davies, a well-known Chicago athlete, will conduct a demonstration of the Rexall body exercising next Monday at J. E. O'Donoghue's drug store.

Anton Hordhickson began work yesterday on a concrete crossing on Iron street, extending from a point opposite the Miller block to the Barab block.

H. J. Cohn, representative of the Swift company, from South St. Paul yesterday arranged several attractive displays of Swift's Pride soap in Negaunee stores. He left for his home last night.

Lavine Beck, of the Savings Bank store, will celebrate their ninth anniversary today. The store will be attractively decorated and Trombly's orchestra will furnish music this evening between 7 and 9 o'clock.

The employees of the Regent group, Hartford, Rolling Mill and Cambria and Lake mines, will be paid today. The Mary Charlotte and Berling-Hemlock employees will receive their checks next Wednesday, the 20th.

The Breiting House has had an unusually large number of guests the last two or three days on account of the teachers' institute at Ishpeming. Many of those attending the institute have made their headquarters here.

Commencing Monday, and continuing for an indefinite time, the British cinema on the Sunberg block will have a complete change of moving pictures every night. The house is doing a satisfactory business, and the entertainments are of a high order.

W. C. Mather, president of the Cleveland Cliffs iron company, spent a short time in Negaunee yesterday morning, having arrived here on the Northwestern train, which was about an hour behind schedule. He left on the 9:50 train for Givins. It is expected that Mr. Mather will spend a few days in the country before returning to Cleveland.

Coughs and Colds—At this season when coughs are so prevalent, an effective and readily and one easily obtained, is Perry Davis' Painkiller. It is no new nostrum, vended by unknown agents, but has stood the test of over seventy years; and those who use the article, internally or externally, will connect with it grateful recollections of its worthy inventor.

Superior & Pittsburg.

Officials of this property recently returned from their regular visit to the great northwest are somewhat optimistic about the future of the Superior & Pittsburg than they are about any other property they visited. The latest developments in the thirteen hundred foot level of the Hoatson shaft indicates that the original contention of Captain Hoatson that the greatest value in high grade ore would be found with the greater depth was based on a pretty good knowledge of the situation in the Superior and Pittsburg companies. It is unusually strong ore bodies and that the return from the lower openings in these ore bodies indicate a higher percentage of copper than in the lower levels.

Indiana.

In view of the interest taken in Lake stock in the market attention is wisely directed toward the Indiana and the North Lake properties. At the latter an outcrop has been located on the surface, near the railway track and a diamond drill is being set up in the formation and will start drilling at once. This will save going through the heavy overburden which is met at the previous diamond drill work at the North Lake. At the Indiana the two drills are doing good work and making good time. The advantageous location of the Indiana seems to indicate that it might locate the best in one of the drills within a month or six weeks.

METALLIC RIBBONS.

There is a process in use in England whereby a metallic ribbon a mile long can be turned out in about the same time that it takes a locomotive to travel a mile—that is, one minute. The molten metal is caused to flow through a nozzle in a thin stream upon the outside of a rapidly rotating water-cooled drum. The metal solidifies immediately and is thrown off from the surface of the drum in the form of a continuous and uniform ribbon. It is possible to obtain the metallic ribbons as thin as one-thousandth of an inch. The metals used in the making of different ribbons are aluminum, lead, zinc, tin, copper, silver and gold.

BRITISH ORDER HINTS OF WAR.

Mariners Are Warned to Use Care in Entering the Ports at Night.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—A circular has been issued from the office of the British consul, Herbert Powell, in this city, which has aroused much curiosity. The circular reads, in part, as follows: "Notice to Mariners—Caution when approaching British ports. My lord commissioners of the admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that circumstances may arise in which it may be necessary, on account of periodical exercises, manoeuvres or otherwise, to forbid all entrance to naval ports at night, this is to give notice that in approaching the shores of Great Britain or any port of the British Empire, it should be observed to be in constant operation, the naval ports should be approached with great care, as it may be approached that obstructions may exist outside or that the entrance may be altogether closed.

Coughs and Colds—At this season when coughs are so prevalent, an effective and readily and one easily obtained, is Perry Davis' Painkiller. It is no new nostrum, vended by unknown agents, but has stood the test of over seventy years; and those who use the article, internally or externally, will connect with it grateful recollections of its worthy inventor.

Superior & Pittsburg.

Officials of this property recently returned from their regular visit to the great northwest are somewhat optimistic about the future of the Superior & Pittsburg than they are about any other property they visited. The latest developments in the thirteen hundred foot level of the Hoatson shaft indicates that the original contention of Captain Hoatson that the greatest value in high grade ore would be found with the greater depth was based on a pretty good knowledge of the situation in the Superior and Pittsburg companies. It is unusually strong ore bodies and that the return from the lower openings in these ore bodies indicate a higher percentage of copper than in the lower levels.

Indiana.

In view of the interest taken in Lake stock in the market attention is wisely directed toward the Indiana and the North Lake properties. At the latter an outcrop has been located on the surface, near the railway track and a diamond drill is being set up in the formation and will start drilling at once. This will save going through the heavy overburden which is met at the previous diamond drill work at the North Lake. At the Indiana the two drills are doing good work and making good time. The advantageous location of the Indiana seems to indicate that it might locate the best in one of the drills within a month or six weeks.

GREAT INTEREST IN BASEBALL SERIES

NEGAUNEE FANS HAVE FOLLOWED CLOSELY DETAILS OF EVERY GAME THAT HAS BEEN PLAYED.

The Negaunee people who are interested in baseball will now turn their attention to the indoor game. Teams will probably be organized within a week or ten days and an effort will be made to arrange a series of games with the Ishpening City team. There will be greater interest in the indoor game this season than ever before. The Adelphi rink will be available for baseball three evenings a week.

More interest is being shown here in the world's championship series than in any previous year. The accounts of the games are closely read, and the telegraphic reports received while the games are in progress are read over and over by the fans who congregate at Katz's book-keeping office in the bank building. While the last two games were being played many were unable to get into the rooms. Excitement was at a high pitch Thursday, when it looked as though Pittsburg would at least tie the score in the ninth inning.

Almost as interesting as the outcome of the world's championship series, is the struggle between Wagner and Cobb for all-around supremacy in the game. Cobb has more admirers here than any other player in either league, but all concede that Wagner is his equal in many respects.

At this time Wagner leads Cobb in batting in the world's series, but in general playing the Detroit star has it over his rival. As a pinch hitter Wagner has not shown up ahead of Cobb. He has performed well on the bases, but his work has not been up to Cobb's. The latter's steal of home in the second contest at Pittsburg was perhaps the most brilliant play made in any game of the series.

In the field Cobb has played faultless ball while Wagner has had several errors, but a comparison cannot very well be made because the men play different positions. Even if Wagner outdoes the American leaguer in batting in the present series it is doubtful if the fans here or elsewhere in Michigan will concede that he is the greater ball player of the two.

FOOTBALL TODAY.

Negaunee and Ishpening School Teams Will Meet in Second Contest of Series

The game of football at the Union park this afternoon between the Negaunee and Ishpening high school teams will doubtless be an interesting contest, as the elevens are evenly matched. The game will go far toward deciding the championship of the county, as the last game the teams played resulted in a tie of five to five.

Much interest has been aroused in the series. Both Ishpening and Negaunee have won from Marquette and one of the teams in this end of the county ought to carry off the championship. The Negaunee team is the lightest of the three, but it has a few speedy players. Ernest Burge, the star of the team, is conceded to be the strongest player in the county.

It is expected that copper country school men attending the institute meetings at Ishpening will be the officials. The game is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock and the admission will be twenty-five cents for adults and fifteen for school children.

MINING COMPANY FORMED.

The Summit Mining company has been organized by Duluth men, and preparations have been completed for the development of claims in the Summit district of the Cour d'Aloues, in Idaho. Robert W. Whiteside is president of the company; T. J. Hodgson, vice president, and W. P. Robertson, secretary and treasurer. These three men with John T. Murphy of Murray, Idaho comprise the board of directors. Twenty claims have already been proven and they are said to contain valuable ore deposits. The Idaho Northern railway extends to the property.

MOVING PICTURES DRAW THE CROWDS

ONCE POPULAR VAUDEVILLE PERFORMANCES GIVING WAY TO NEWER FORM OF AMUSEMENT.

FILMS GREATLY IMPROVED

High Class Actors Now Playing Before the Camera, While Second Rate Players Look for Jobs.

Are the moving picture shows displacing vaudeville performances in the favor of American playgoers? It certainly looks that way. Five years ago moving picture houses were to be found only in the large cities; now every town and village of any size at all has at least one such place of amusement, while in the larger cities there are hundreds of them.

Meantime, the vaudeville houses have steadily decreased in number until today in Chicago and New York there are thousands of good vaudeville actors seeking engagements. Many of the vaudeville houses have installed moving picture machines and so have held their crowds, while other have persisted in offering the shop-worn vaudeville stunts until they went broke, playing to empty seats. At the same time, the moving picture man next door may have been hanging out the S. R. O. sign nearly every afternoon and evening.

As one result of this change of taste on the part of the popular theater-going public, hundreds of vaudeville artists who once drew big salaries are now out of a job and are looking for the price of their next meal. On the other hand, good actors are being sought for by the moving picture manufacturers, who are running their factories overtime in order to get out films to satisfy the ever increasing demand of the public.

The moving picture craze has cut into the business of stock companies and other cheap shows to some extent, but the vaudeville theaters have been the hardest hit. The higher priced attractions have suffered scarcely at all, though their business has been light because of the general shortage of money.

Pictures More Artistic. The regular Saturday night hop will be held at Fraternity Hall tonight. Music by the Peerless orchestra.

pictures and the rehearsals and final presentations are conducted with the same care as to precision and details as are customary in presenting stage productions before an exacting audience. Granting that great strides have been made in this comparatively new form of theatrical attraction, the moving picture nevertheless declares that the day of the moving picture has only dawned, and that the coming months will witness a continued improvement in the films shown and a correspondingly increasing patronage.

FOOTBALL TODAY.

Guild Hall and Normal Teams to Meet at Fair Grounds This Afternoon.

What promises to be an exceptionally interesting contest will be the football game this afternoon between the Normal and Guild Hall eleven. A larger number of men students than ever before are attending the Normal school this year and a good football team is a result. Some hard practice has put the team into prime condition and at tomorrow's game Marquette people are likely to see a fine exhibition of football.

The Guild Team is said to have some wonderful formations and passes that will sweep the Normal team off their feet, and the Normal men have some trick plays that they expect to work against the Guild Hall as easily as if the latter were blindfolded. The new football rules make the game much more interesting and pleasing to watch. There is no more piling up or rough, brute playing, the new rules prohibiting the old style of neck-breaking play. It is hoped that the people of Marquette will turn out and see the game. Following is the probable line-up of the teams:

Car service has been arranged for and cars will leave from downtown at 1:30, 2 and 2:30 o'clock. An admission fee of fifteen cents will be charged children, ladies and Normal and high school students. The admission for others will be twenty-five cents.

BILL OF PARTICULARS ORDERED BY THE COURT

GOVERNMENT ATTORNEYS MUST SPECIFY CHARGES MADE AGAINST GEORGE H. BEDDOW, ACCUSED OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

Attorneys for George H. Beddow, the assistant cashier of the defunct First National Bank of Ironwood, now under indictment by a federal grand jury for embezzlement, feel that they have scored an important point, in that Judge Knappen has made an order requiring the United States district attorney to within twenty days file a bill of particulars as to the counts in the indictment charging the abstraction of $25,000 from the bank's funds.

This alleged embezzlement of $25,000 is not particularized in the indictment, though the government officials admit that crime charged did not consist of one, but of a large number of illegal entries and abstractions, the total of which was the amount named in the indictment. M. M. Riby, Beddow's attorney, at the last term of court asked Assistant District Attorney Clute for the specific items embraced in the indictment, but was refused, the assistant attorney declaring that he would not give away the government's case, until compelled to do so by order of the court. Having been refused their request, Beddow's attorneys maintained that it would be necessary for them to wade through all the transactions of the bank for the last five years in order to ascertain with what their client was charged, and the time necessary to do this was one of the chief reasons given for asking that Beddow's trial be put over until next May.
