

ORDER IS RESTORED AT CAIRO, ILLINOIS

With an Entire Regiment on Duty, Bayonets Hold Sway Where the Rope and the Torch and the Pistol Had Ruled.

Mob Spirit Is Quelled With the Arrival of the First Companies of Troops, and No Attempt Is Made to Storm the Jail in an Effort to Lynch the Second Negro Implicated in the Pelley Murder and Who Now Is Safely Out of Town.

Cairo, Saturday, Nov. 13.—There was no trace of the mob spirit in Cairo last night. The streets were regularly patrolled by no evidences of disorder. No further demonstration is anticipated at present.

Cairo, Ills., Nov. 12.—With Arthur Alexander, the last person arrested in connection with the murder of Miss Annie Pelley, safely out of town, and 300 soldiers of the Fourth Illinois regiment on guard in the streets and about the jail tonight, the mob spirit that held Cairo for four days is quelled. No crowds are allowed to gather. Bayonets hold sway where the rope and the torch and the pistol had been in evidence.

Alexander was sent to an unannounced point north of here late this afternoon. He was escorted from jail to a special Illinois Central train by seven companies of militia, two of which guarded the train. There were jeers and defiance for the militia from the small crowd witnessing the departure. At 4:30 o'clock the negro was led from his cell and placed between files of the Vandavia company.

"Will Get Him Yet," Say Spectators. "That is him; he will come back. Burn the nigger. We will get him yet," came from the spectators, who were pressed back half a block from the jail entrance by the Carbondale and Illinois companies.

Two sets of fours were ahead of the prisoner, who was handcuffed and flanked by deputy sheriffs, and two sets of fours followed. As the Vandavia men swung along Twentieth street, three companies cleared the street in advance and a like number followed in the rear, keeping back the crowds that augmented the procession at every cross street of the half-mile march to the train. There were murmurs all along, but no effort to break the line.

Brigadier General Wells, of Decatur, who commanded the circuit court, convinced that the display of force had a salutary effect upon the town. General Wells and Colonel Shaud, of the adjutant general's office at Springfield, refused to state the plans for safekeeping the prisoner. Alexander will not be taken to Springfield. He will be taken off the train at some point far enough north to prevent any attempt at recapture by a mob from this section, said Colonel Shaud.

Lynchers Unknown to Jury. The coroner's verdict on both men lynched was that "they came to their death by injuries at the hands of persons unknown to us." The sheriff, however, told of recognizing several members of the mob who took James from him last night. He named "Mr. Logan," of Cairo, as one of those, and accused the postmaster of Karnak of having accompanied some scouting parties searching the woods in the vicinity of Karnak. What steps will be taken to identify those implicated in the mob is not yet determined.

Mayor Parsons said that he was asleep last night and heard no shots or other sounds indicating that the city was in the grasp of a mob. State's Attorney Wilson stated that he was in several parts of the city, trying to quell the mob spirit, but would not say that he recognized any of the leaders. "I was ready to do everything that my office required of me," he said. "The question of calling a special grand jury is one for Judge Butler, of the circuit court. We will have a regular grand jury in December. I will present any evidence coming into my possession before then. I don't expect to collect that evidence myself, as detective work is not part of my duties."

Sheriff Tells of Wanderings. The sheriff today, after detailing his wanderings in the woods with James, said that he left James with his deputy while he went to Karnak to obtain provisions.

The postmaster at Karnak recognized "me," said Davis. "Because of this, we detoured through the woods. We walked east five miles to Belknap and thence struck through the woods until we reached the railroad track. We entered a house for rest, but were warned that a crowd had left Cairo to intercept us. So we took to the country again, walking across the corn fields a couple of miles and then sitting on a log, awaiting nightfall, under cover of which we began to reach Metropolis, twenty miles east.

"The whistling of a train warned us that the crowd had reached Belknap. We lay down in tall weeds. In a few minutes a party of three passed. In a few minutes another party, one of whom I recognized as the Karnak postmaster. He was carrying a gun. The next party numbered five, one of whom mounted a stump, from which he espied us.

"I told these men that James was in my custody, but the man on the stump fired several shots in the air and I was gathered. One of the party was Mr. Logan, of Cairo. I appealed to him to assure me that no violence was committed, but he said that all they asked was

MOB MERCILESS EVEN AFTER DEATH

Not Only Is the Heart Cut to Pieces and Distributed as Souvenirs, but the Head Is Severed and, Mounted on a Pole, Forms a Ghastly Spectacle at Which Thousands of People Gaze Until It Is Taken Down at a Late Hour in the Morning.

Cairo, Ills., Nov. 12.—Horrifying incidents are related in connection with the lynching here last night of Will James, "The Frog," the negro charged with the brutal murder of Annie Pelley. Before the body was burned, the negro's head was cut off and placed in a pole, the end of which was stuck in the ground. The heart was cut out of the body, cut up in to pieces and then passed among the men as souvenirs. Pieces of the rope with which James was hanged and dragged after being soaked in the negro's blood also were handed about as souvenirs. James' head was not taken from the pole upon which it was stuck until late this morning, and meantime thousands had gazed upon the ghastly spectacle.

Police Say Negro Was Guilty. While the local authorities previously declared the evidence against James purely circumstantial, they today were inclined to lay stress upon the evidences of his guilt. The work of the bloodhounds which traced the negroes was largely corroborated by witnesses, they declared, and they also asserted that the gag had practically been identified as one of several rough handkerchiefs made for James by the woman with whom he boarded. The only ground for holding Alexander was declared to be the dying confession of James.

"A regiment of soldiers could not have stopped last night's mob," declared Mayor Parsons. Sheriff Davis echoed this, adding: "There would have been wholesale bloodshed had the soldiers been here last night."

Blame for the Mob Conditions. Local politics and the failure of the courts to convict are generally blamed for the mob conditions. Some openly charge that the police officers have long been lax in their duties, and that the laxness on the other side of the fence, asserting that it strained the city's finances to support a police force of fourteen men and two officers, and the police had not received the support of public opinion they deserved. He instanced a case in which a policeman was killed by a man whom he attempted to arrest, yet the slayer escaped punishment. He acknowledged that politics played part in many court cases. It is a fact that many men accused of felonies have been acquitted here.

Liquor Issue Bobs Up. Prospect of a Clash in the Labor Convention Agitates the Delegates.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 12.—When it was announced early in the week to the delegates of the American Federation of Labor convention that a temperance mass meeting would be held Sunday under the auspices of the labor department of the Presbyterian church, the delegates representing the brewery workers, hotel and restaurant employes and the bartenders' league began a canvass of the situation with a view to learning whether the liquor question was likely to reach the floor of the convention. Rev. Charles Stelez, a fraternal delegate from the federal council of the churches of Christ, who has been advocating the establishment of a temperance brotherhood among the trades unions, will preside at the Sunday meeting.

In the event of an attack in the convention, the representatives of the liquor interests count on the support of the cigar makers' union, in whose delegation is President Gompers. Mr. Gompers is anxious to avoid a bitter debate in the convention, and today he brought about a meeting between Jere Sullivan, representing the bartenders' union, and Mr. Stelez. Mr. Stelez said that his plans at present contemplate an attempt to induce the unions to stop holding meetings in the back rooms of saloons. President Gompers, it is said, agreed to support the erection of labor temples. Sunday's meeting will be addressed by John Mitchell and Treasurer Lennon, of the federation.

Mr. Gompers Criticizes Jurist. During a brief convention session today, Mr. Gompers was requested to discuss the status of the contempt proceedings under which Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison were sentenced. The president said that the question of appeal and the line of defense would be discussed at a conference between the defendants and their counsel in New York on the 23rd. Mr. Gompers declared Justice Wright guilty of "outrageous conduct" in so cruelly executing the honest conduct of three citizens who undertook to test the law, and in imposing the unusual sentences.

Convicted of Embezzlement. Cleveland, Nov. 12.—George A. Lamprecht, formerly manager of the failed brokerage firm of Lamprecht Bros. & Co., was found guilty of embezzlement today.

THREE PERSONS PERISH IN FIRE AT ONTONAGON. Due to the Explosion of a Lamp, the House of James George Is Destroyed and Mrs. George and Daughter and Paul Kaiser, a Visitor from Rockland, Are Burned to Death.

Ontonagon, Mich., Nov. 12.—In a fire that destroyed the residence of James George in this village at 5 o'clock this morning, three persons were burned to death. The victims were Mrs. George and daughter Mary and Paul Kaiser, a visitor from Rockland, and was a guest of the family. Mr. George escaped, as did two of his three children. A lamp explosion caused the fire. The burned building was owned by John Hawley. An adjoining dwelling house, occupied by Chris Christensen, was badly gutted.

STOCK MARKET SLUGGISH. Prices Rise and Fall as the Money Rate Eases and Tightens.

New York, Nov. 12.—The sluggishness of the price movements in stocks today shifted in somnolence with the varying view of the money situation. The supplies of money on call at 5 per cent and below gave confidence this morning that the banks were out of the reserve limit, so that call borrowers would not be pushed for payment. The anxiety was renewed, however, by the appearance of the preliminary estimates of the week's currency movement and the announcement of further gold exports.

The outgo of cash during the week was much larger than supposed and there were additional large shipments to Chicago today. The cash loss on the week's known movement was approximately $10,000,000 (Chicago's special dividend was not included in the report) and connected with the expectation of an early fall from the controller of the currency for a statement of the condition of the national banks. The immense size of this call, it is reported, found some Chicago banks below the reserve limit, a good proportion of the New York clearing house banks were below the 25 per cent reserve limit in the bank statement last Saturday, and the necessity of recuperation is a factor in the money market position. The asking rates for ninety-day loans advanced a fraction today.

The feature of today's narrow speculation was the diversion to the low-priced stocks. The limited resources of the money market made the handling of these issues most feasible. Stocks fell to the lowest of the day when call loans rose to 6 per cent, and then lunched when the rate eased off.

SEASONABLE TRADE RETARDED. Continued Mild Weather a Detriment to Business in Various Lines.

New York, Nov. 12.—Bradstreet's will say tomorrow: "The continued mild weather is helpful to building and facilitates fall plowing and winter wheat growth, but it is a source of considerable complaint in its effect on the retail trade in heavy dry goods and wearing apparel. In other wholesale lines the reports are still highly favorable, the holiday demand being especially active. Spring business is being looked in good volume except where, as in cotton goods, high prices and the uncertainty of the future prices of raw material check the selling. The general commercial tone is buoyant. Industry generally has full order-books. The commodity prices are still inclined toward higher levels and are now only a small percent below the highest records. The failures in the United States the past week were 221, against 267 in the same week of 1908. The failures in Canada were twenty-four this week, against twenty two in the same week of last year.

R. G. Dun & Co. will say tomorrow: "Further progress is made in the readjustment of the markets to the higher prices which are inevitable in a period of big gold production, reviving industry and active speculation. The iron and steel market find it increasingly difficult to make deliveries. It is estimated that the new structural projects contemplated call for over 100,000 tons of steel. The cotton prices are adjusting themselves to the higher cost of production. There is a continuance of the good reports received from the drygoods trade. Foot wear conditions continue to improve. Leather rates very firm, and hides likewise. The total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet for the principal cities in the United States the past week are $1,599,822,222, against $1,569,093,000 in the same week of last year.

TROUBLESOME GREECE. London, Nov. 11.—The recent course of events in Greece excites a good deal of contempt and exasperation throughout Europe. The complicated comedy that is being played in the little kingdom might be regarded with indifference if it were purely domestic. There is serious danger, however, that the crisis may at any moment cause grave international complications. The English indications that King George's patience is well-nigh exhausted, it would have resigned the throne in disgust several days ago but for an urgent telegraphic appeal from King Edward.

The foreign tutelage of Greece is nominally the completion of England, Russia and France only, and these three powers are in complete accord; but it is a foregone conclusion that Germany and Turkey would intervene in behalf of their special interests should the throne become vacant in the present circumstances. The problems which would then arise would be both awkward and dangerous, and the outcome would be exceedingly uncertain.

GIRL'S CONFESSION CLEARS MYSTERY

How Her Father, a Jeweler at Madison, Wis., Was Murdered, Is Related by Eighteen-Year-Old Clara Brodenheyer.

Luring Him to a Lonely Spot, Her Mother Killed Him on Account of His Alleged Infidelity, She Says, and Then They Charged the Crime to Robbers—Adjudged Insane, and Now in an Asylum, the Woman Will Not Be Prosecuted.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Henry Brodenheyer, of Madison, Wis., a jeweler, who was believed murdered in 1906 by robbers, was killed by his wife, now an inmate of the Dunning insane asylum, according to a confession today by his eighteen-year-old daughter, Clara, to the police. After completing her story, the girl swooned and was taken home by friends. It is unlikely that she will be prosecuted.

According to the police, the girl said that her mother killed Brodenheyer on account of his alleged infidelity. She lured him to an abandoned slaughter house near Madison and shot him twice. The daughter encountered the mother as she hastened away, and the mother excitedly stated that Brodenheyer had committed suicide. The daughter induced her mother to return to the scene, and there accused her of killing the man. She said that her mother thereupon confessed and asked her daughter's aid in concealing the crime.

The woman and the girl fastened a rope around Brodenheyer's neck and attempted to strangle the body over a raft. The rope broke. They then dragged the body into the roadway and concealed it behind some bushes. The following day Mrs. Brodenheyer reported to the police that her husband had vanished with a strange man who pretended he wanted him to repair a clock. Later the police discovered the body and the woman's story was accepted as a fact. A few months later she confessed the mother and daughter removed to Chicago. Chicago detectives paid them many visits, and one endeavored to gain the daughter's confidence. The woman frequently visited the police headquarters, protesting against the detectives' visits, and finally her mind became unbalanced. Five weeks ago she was adjudged insane, and the daughter's confession followed.

Prosecuting Attorney Mason and Sheriff Hulhaub, of Madison, today accompanied detectives to Dunning asylum. They told Mrs. Brodenheyer that her daughter had confessed the mother's crime. Without betrayal of emotion the woman said that she killed her husband because she believed that he was guilty of infidelity. Mr. Mason stated that, being adjudged insane, she probably would never be tried.

PRESIDENT TAFT GIVEN A ROUSING RECEPTION

Apparently Half the People of Connecticut Participate in the Demonstrative Welcome That Marks His Visit to Middletown, Where He Receives from Wesleyan the Degree of LL.D.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 12.—President Taft today visited Middletown and Hartford, attending in the former city the installation of Dr. Shanklin as president of Wesleyan University and participating here tonight in the dedication of the magnificent new state arsenal and armory. The president left tonight for Washington, going to his train from a ball in the armory.

It seemed as though half the people of Connecticut went to Middletown to see the president. In the Hartford armory tonight, when the president made a brief speech, the crowd was so great and restless that few could hear what was said. As part of the installation exercises, Wesleyan University conferred the degree of doctor of laws upon Mr. Taft, Vice President Sherman, Senator Root and others. The president appeared in the academic procession—in collegiate cap and gown.

The city, however, took to itself a large share of the honor and prepared an elaborate military and civic parade, in which Mr. Taft participated.

The installation ceremonies were held this morning in the Middlesex theater, and President Taft's address, which he delivered extemporaneously, came next to the last on the long program. Eminent educators, among them many university and college presidents were present from all sections of the country.

WASHINGTON ASKS CUBA TO EXPLAIN

Trade Agreement That Havana Is Said to Have Negotiated With Madrid Is Not at All Relished by the United States.

Should It Be Found That American Products Are Not to Be "Preferential in Respect to All Like Imports from Other Countries," as Provided by Treaty, the Boom of Reciprocity Will Be Rescinded and the Maximum Tariff Rates Applied.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The state department has called upon the Cuban government for information regarding the new trade treaty between Spain and Cuba, reported practically completed. Upon the answer may depend the abrogation of the reciprocity treaty between the United States and Cuba and the application of the maximum duties upon Spanish imports into the United States, under the reciprocity treaty. United States imports into Cuba have been granted a preferential rate of 25 to 40 per cent, in return for a preferential rate of 20 per cent on Cuban goods coming into the United States.

The new treaty from Madrid is that Spain has completed the trade treaty with Cuba, allowing an abatement of 60 per cent on Cuban imports into Spain, in return for like concessions on Spanish goods entering Cuba. The state department desires to know whether the rates granted to Spain by Cuba diminish the value of those accorded to the United States. The American treaty with Cuba provides that Cuba's concessions to the United States products shall be "preferential in respect to all like imports from other countries."

Havana, Nov. 12.—President Gomez tonight said that Cuba would not consider a treaty with any power that in the remotest degree jeopardized the interests of the United States.

MR. ALDRICH IN MINNEAPOLIS. Senate Leader Is the Guest of the Twin City Bankers.

Minneapolis, Nov. 12.—Senator Aldrich was the guest of the Twin City bankers both at luncheon and dinner at the Minneapolis club today. At the luncheon there was a general exchange of views, and Mr. Aldrich himself asked a number of questions bearing on the currency and banking problems.

The senator was told that thirty to forty million dollars was sent west annually from Minneapolis and St. Paul during the crop-moving period, and the fact developed that ordinarily the money does not return until the next year. After the panic of 1907 it was withheld until the bankers of Minneapolis and St. Paul appealed to Chicago to stand behind them in insuring the ordinary banks to the following year to the various callities. The assurance received, the cash poured in. "Another evidence," remarked Mr. Aldrich, "that credit is as good as cash."

Taking advantage of the fact that a large percentage of the population hereabouts are of Scandinavian origin, Mr. Aldrich tonight reviewed the newly reformed Swedish banking system as worthy of study in any effort at reforming our own. He intimated it as evidence that there might not be great difficulty in bringing ordinary banks to accept a central bank of issue if decided desirable.

"The man higher up" is the contemporary character whom it is hardest to locate.

Many deer carcasses have been received in the city, but fortunately there has as yet been no hurly-burly call for the ambulance.

The exact length of time it will take to fill the post of collector of customs with a new man apparently depends on whether the senators are to work in harmony in the matter or in opposition to one another.

Editor Baldwin says that he has nailed his flag at the top of the Musselman mast, and there it's going to stay. Mr. Baldwin is, as he says, quite within his rights in supporting any candidate he desires to. And it may be said that in Musselman he has picked out a rattling good candidate. The Mining Journal would like to see Mr. Baldwin and his Journal in line with the other upper peninsula papers for the upper peninsula candidate, but if this can't be it is pleased that he is in such good company.

The Lansing Republican remarks: In spite of the discussion by numerous state papers within the last two weeks of the tonnage tax on ores as an issue in the next state campaign and the fact that the state grange is backing the scheme, no candidate for gubernatorial honors has come out with a pledge to favor legislation of this character if elected governor. Unless some one offers himself on this platform in the near future the grange may have to put forward a man of its own to champion this proposition. "Jim" Helme seems most concerned; he might enter the race himself.

The supreme court has held that in case where a property is leased for a long term for saloon purposes the decision of a county to go dry automatically abrogates such lease, and the lessee is no longer under the obligation of carrying out the provisions of the contract with the owner. This decision will operate to relieve many men in "dry" counties who have been paying rent on property leased for saloon purposes after it could not be used for those purposes, under the impression that they could be held liable for the rents agreed on.

The Lansing Journal comments on a report that Puss Palmer of Manistee, one of the candidates for auditor general last year, will manage Chase Osborn's gubernatorial campaign. It has so far been largely in the hands of W. F. Knox of the Soo, i. e., when Mr. Osborn hasn't been looking after it himself. And Knox has been doing capital work with it. He has made it the most talked of campaign of all, for the time being, at least, and publicity is one of the prime assets in politics. Without knowing anything about the plans that are germinating at the Soo, we wouldn't be surprised to see Knox remain at the helm. Puss Palmer, however, would be a most likely manager. He has a wide acquaintance and a practical knowledge of all phases of the game.

Democrats who are arriving at Washington assert that they will not allow the charge of Chairman Parsons, of the New York county committee, that Tammany votes were given to the upholding of the Cannon regime in congress in return for the defeat of election law amendments by upstate Republicans in the New York legislature to lapse, if they can help it. They intend to demand an investigation. Furthermore they will demand that, inasmuch as Speaker Cannon is an interested party, the investigating committee be elected, instead of being named, in accordance with the usual procedure, by the speaker. Whether the Democrats will be able to attain all these things is a question. Perhaps there will be a majority of the congressmen who will want to keep the lid on these charges. They have been given rather too much publicity, however, to make it wise to dodge them. Refusal to authorize an investigation will have somewhat the appearance of a confession of guilt. If Chairman Parsons is mistaken, the best thing the Republican organization can do is to show as much, beyond any question of doubt.

The Democrats generally in the state are probably cherishing a hope that Lawton T. Hemans will be their standard bearer in the gubernatorial campaign next year. The Detroit Free Press, which has apparently had the last word on the subject with Mr. Hemans, reports, however, that he is in anything but a receptive mood. He is now engaged on the production of a "History of Steven T. Mason and His Times," and has little inclination to mix up in another campaign. He can't spare the money, he says, and besides he questions whether the people are appreciative of efforts to bring about changes in an existing government. In short, he conveys the impression that if he is left to his own choice he will probably continue to give his attention to his literary pursuits and other personal affairs. However, the Dems should not despair. If they demand Hemans with sufficient unanimity and noise he will perhaps again become a sacrifice to party duty. He would be far and away the strongest candidate the party could offer to the state, although there is little likelihood of a duplication of the conditions that so nearly resulted in his election last year.

Senator Cummins is not one of the Republicans who are trying to play Col. Roosevelt up as a presidential possibility for 1912, and he is doubtless right in his opinion that the colonel will not again be a candidate, in 1912, or at any other time, as he is also in his expression of opinion that President Taft will be renominated on his record and because of his popularity. Since his return to Washington Senator Cummins has expressed himself in this wise: "The tariff, the speakership and the rules will be the issue in the Republican congressional primaries next year, and I think that candidates for the nominations will be pledged for or against the speaker and the rules. This will be the case in Iowa at least, I believe. But after the Republicans have settled their differences I believe they will get together. I may be prejudiced, but I think that the new tariff law is not well received by the people in our section, but I do not wish it inferred that I am in favor of another revision of the tariff, nor do I believe that the president wants another revision. The trend of sentiment among the people of Iowa is for a tariff commission, and it is probable that it will be a subject of discussion at the next session. After all, the discussion resolves itself into a contest between the progressives and the conservatives, and I do not think that the progressives can, or will, be driven out of the party."

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh has made it clear that he stands squarely behind Collector Loeb in the work he is doing at the port of New York. "We are all single-minded in this matter," he says. "Collector Loeb and the officials at New York, as well as the district attorney's office, are all working in harmony to one end. That end is the rehabilitation of the customs service at that office." It is the chief purpose of the treasury department to find out all the facts. The whole truth is wanted, that an end may be made for all time to smuggling and other frauds against the government. Neither will the department be overparticular about the means employed, as long as the desired end is attained. Secretary MacVeagh makes it clear that he has no fault to find with Collector Loeb, and that he attaches no importance to the criticisms that have been aimed in the collector's direction. The secretary understands full well that the animus behind these criticisms has its origin in the fact that Collector Loeb is interfering with the operations of the men who have been defrauding the government, and that they are the best evidence he could ask that the collector's doing his work well. It is gratifying to learn that there is such complete harmony between Secretary MacVeagh and Mr. Loeb. It assures that the work being done in New York will be thoroughly done, and that at least as long as they are in charge of it the New York customs office will be honestly administered.

A LAUGH OR TWO Easier Spelling.
 A new "copper," just appointed and not long over, was out in Brooklyn. He found a large, dead dog at the corner of two streets.
 He took out his book and wrote: "This morning at 1:45 a. m. I found a dead dog at the corner of —" and he looked up to see what the streets were and discovered they were Keep and Kosciuszko.
 He studied for a long time. Then he dragged the dog by the tail to the corner of Keep and Kent streets.
 One of Tillman's Grimmes.
 Senator Tillman was praising the humor of a Republican congressman.
 "His humor," however," he concluded, "is rather grim. I told him the other day about a mutual acquaintance who had died, a man he had never liked.
 "And his wife is dead, too," I said. He himself died on Monday. His wife died two days later. The papers didn't say so, but I mean, of course, by his first wife!"—Washington Star.
 "Lapsus Lingua."
 At the Hudson-Fulton luncheon in New York, Dr. Henry A. Morse, the well-known Lutheran delegate from Manchester, recounted a number of amusing "lapses" experienced by him.
 "I know of a young divine," he said, "who, wishing to impress upon his congregation the beauty of a child's upturned face, said, 'Ah, dear friends, what is more beautiful than the face of an upturned child!'
 Another divine illustrated the absurdity of talking in prayer instead of humbly and reverently beseeching when he said, 'Paradoxical, O Lord, as it may seem, to Thee, it is nevertheless true that, and so on.
 A third divine, in a funeral oration on a young girl, had his audience bathed in tears. In conclusion he said: 'Finally, brethren, may the bereaved father find consolation for the untimely death of his only daughter—and here remembering there were other daughters, the fruits of a second marriage, he added hastily: 'I mean, of course by his first wife!'—Washington Star.
 Mary Didn't Know.
 Some about while ago a zealous Connecticut person went to catechize a family in his neighborhood, who were not so well versed in the rudiments of divinity as they might have been. When he arrived his thought proper to begin with Mary, the eldest daughter, a girl about eighteen, luscious and blooming as the flowers in May, whose charms had smitten the village male population.
 "Well, Mary," said the person, "I shall begin with you; come, tell me who you are?"
 Mary, with a flush on her cheek, replied: "Why, nobody, as I know you."
 The person, rather surprised at her answer, repeated his question with increasing zeal: "Mary, I say, tell me who you are?"
 Poor Mary, a rather irritated at the inquisitive person, again replied, "Why, nobody, sir; there was one Bob Dawson lay bedrid for me about six months, but folks say he got about again."

NATURE'S CURE
S.S.S. FOR RHEUMATISM

In a disease so painful as Rheumatism, medicines containing opiates and nerve-quieting drugs are often used. Such treatment is dangerous not only because it frequently causes the sufferer to become addicted to the drug habit, but medicines of this nature are injurious to the system. Rheumatism is a disease of the blood, and its cure depends entirely upon a thorough purification of the circulation. As long as the blood remains saturated with uric acid, an inflammatory condition of the nerves, muscles and tendons of the body will exist, and the pains, aches, soreness, and hot, feverish flesh of Rheumatism will continue. The one safe and sure cure for Rheumatism is S. S. S. It is nature's remedy for this disease, made entirely of the healing, cleansing juices and extracts of roots, herbs and barks from the natural forests. S. S. S. does not contain anything that is in the slightest way injurious to the system. It is absolutely and purely vegetable, and free from opiates or sedatives of any kind. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by removing the uric acid from the circulation, it makes the blood pure, rich and healthy so that instead of depositing sharp, uratic impurities into the muscles, nerves, joints and bones, it nourishes every portion of the body with natural, healthful properties. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write and request it.

NO COLOR LINE.
 There was no color line at Cairo. The mob that terrorized the town and surrounding country not only lynched Will James, the negro, alleged assailant and murderer of Anna Pelley, but it also lynched Henry Salzer, a white, whom it took from the jail where he was held waiting trial for murder of his wife. It was in the breaking down of the color line that the Cairo lynching had differed from the usual demonstration of the kind. It has not been the custom for the same mob to take both negro and white blood. The innovation shows progress. It bears witness that it is not entirely race hatred that leads to these crimes of violence.

The Cairo lynchings are sorry business to contemplate. Neither James nor Salzer are any leader than they would have been if they had been executed under a law that had been allowed to take its course. The brief hours of horror with which both closed the periods of their lives had no more terror for them than they would have undergone witnessing the steady approach of a legally set day of execution. If the men were guilty of the crimes alleged, that would have been their fate in Illinois. We hope, under the circumstances, that they were guilty.

If mob law can ever be excused it is when it is an alternative to the entire defeat of the ends of justice. There was no such situation in the case of either James or Salzer. Both poor wretches were in custody, with a certainty that the very strength of public sentiment would have secured their speedy trial and punishment. Now they are gone, but with no more punishment than they would have suffered if they had been killed by the law, and in their killing hundreds of men and women momentarily felt the blood lust, and became, for the time, as fiendish as their wretched victims had been. Law, order and all the decencies were trampled on. There is properly the sincerest sorrow at the spectacle.

In extenuation of the conduct of the Cairo mob there is only the fact that the crime which it summarily avenged was about as brutal a one as ever outraged a community. It will be felt that had it been less repulsive and dastardly the mob might not have taken justice into its own hands. But nevertheless the results of its wild justice have been distinctly bad, and it has accomplished no more than the law would have done.

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT EVERYTHING.
 Using Old Newspapers.
 Old newspapers are almost invaluable in the household.
 "The kitchen stove is kept bright and clean by rubbing it briskly, after the cooking of each meal, with old papers and this saves many poisonings."
 To clean the sink of its grease and sediment, nothing is better, for the greasy paper can be at once burned after use.
 Crushed newspapers are splendid to clean lamp chimneys.
 Turn in shreds, slightly dampened and scattered over the carpet, they keep down the dust when sweeping.
 Many times folded they will serve as a mat to stand hot and blackened pots or kettles on, and thus save soiling the kitchen table.
 To wipe up spilled water or grease from the door they save the wringing out of a cloth.
 Irons not much soiled can be rubbed on old newspapers and thus made fit for use.
 They can even be used for an iron holder in an emergency.
 Wet in water they clean out the stove oven splendidly.

Waterways in France.
 The inquirers into waterways in the United States may derive some information from France. There are 12,000 kilometers of navigable waterways and but one-half of these carry 36 per cent of the waterway traffic. These are the

WEEKLY COPPER REVIEW
 Gossip of Interest Concerning the Market Situation and Various Mining Properties.
 [Paine, Webber & Co.]

We continue to have faith in higher prices for copper shares in the immediate future and assuredly better prices within the next six months. The advice which we have given in the past few months we repeat, with greater force than heretofore. Two months ago it required greater confidence in the metal situation to advise the purchase of copper shares than it does at the present time. In face of all the adverse business circumstances and of all the professional advice to the contrary we have felt confident all along that the metal situation would right itself in its own way, and in its own time and with the corrective betterment in the metal situation would come a betterment in the whole list of copper shares. While we have witnessed quite an advance in the copper shares during the week and a greater activity than we have seen in a long time past, we are of the opinion that this market has just commenced to start. The statement of the copper producers organization was given out during the week. It showed the condition of affairs that existed two weeks ago. That condition was not favorable. In fact there was an increase in the visible supply in this country of over two millions of pounds. While the general opinion expected that report to be more favorable, the professionals took the opportunity to bear the copper shares, only to find themselves carrying lines of short stocks at losses before the day closed. The fact is that while the statement of the copper producers organization is a most valuable report showing actual metal conditions in the past, the large sales of copper for domestic and foreign use were made in November and did not show in the statement of stocks on hand. The sympathetic action of the London metal market for higher prices for copper, as the market has shown a steady and substantial advance during the week. While it is true that the expectation that there is some important news coming out with regard to the copper situation soon has an effect in keeping the metal stocks at present figures and making for still net prices, there is unquestionably some basis for the assumption that there is "something good." We continue to believe in better prices for copper shares and are particularly sanguine that purchases of Amalgamated at these figures will result in profits. Under no circumstances go short in the market for copper shares.

Quincy Underground Trouble.
 It would be untrue to state that the Quincy property has not suffered from the recent airblasts and seismic disturbances, but the fact remains that the total rock tonnage of the Quincy is being maintained so that the mill is not suffering from any lack of rock to handle. The 600 tons shortage of the No. 2 shaft is coming from the Mesnard shaft. At the worst, the rock shipments are not short of by more than 600 tons, and that was but for few days, so that the production of the Quincy mine is not likely to show any material falling off despite the difficulties under which work has continued. However it will require some time and considerable expense to put No. 2 shaft back in readiness for regular operations again. At first it was supposed that the shaft was blocked for a distance of 1,300 feet, but an investigation shows that there are but two bad places where the top walls of the shaft came down and blocked the passage. The debris will be cleaned away rapidly and repair work started. As to the origin of these disturbances local mining and scientific authorities disagree. The consensus of opinion is that the "airblast" theory is the most reasonable one, explaining the earth tremors by the theory that old worked out stopes, levels and drifts came in, forcing an air pressure with such rapidity that the earthquake effects is noted. Others contend that the disturbances are really earthquakes, local in origin, and that the damage is done to the Quincy mine because it is so deep and because it has such large worked out underground openings. It ought to be explained, for the credit of the management of the mine, that every reasonable precaution to avoid these airblasts has been taken. Six years ago the company quit taking out the pillars and started in with the underground filling system, calculated to do a great deal toward preventing airblasts. The directors of the Quincy at their meeting on Wednesday, declared the regular dividend.

Lake Copper Company.
 Great things were expected from the stamp mill test of the copper rock from the Lake and the expectations were more than realized. These letters have repeatedly asserted that no new lode ever opened in the Michigan district made such a spectacular showing as has the Lake lode. It has surpassed in fact the showing of the Baltic or the Champion when the first shafts were started at these mines. And the most remarkable thing about the Lake showing is the fact that it has never pinched out with depth, as the majority of the so called "lodes" are wont to do. In fact the lower openings have been richer than those nearer surface and there has been substantial copper evidence from the time the sod was first turned. This mill test was conducted at the Franklin. A total of 165 tons and 1,000 pounds were sent to the mill. From this copper rock 13,237 pounds of mineral were secured. It is estimated that this mineral will refine 75 per cent at

AN OLD TRICK.
 The tall girl smiled in some embarrassment.
 "Have you any secondhand shoes," she said to the shoe clerk.
 "That, miss?" he reconstrued.
 "No, no; you misunderstand," said she. "I don't mean to wear. I just mean old shoes, too worn for use, that customers have left with you. You see, there's a wedding up at our house tomorrow, and we want something to throw at the bride and bridesmaids."
 "I see," said the clerk.
 He rummaged in a black hole and drew forth an array of dilapidated footwear, says the Los Angeles Times. The girl selected some three, two and one.
 "These will do. Thanks ever so much," she said, and so departed.
 "Big-footed people are always working that on us," said the clerk afterward. "That girl wears eight. She couldn't vary well through such mud-soaked at the bride, so she chose some little and dainty shoes—ones and twos. Oh, yes, it's an old trick with the big-footed."

Weeping Eczema Kept Spreading on Little Sufferer—A Score of Treatments Prove Dismal Failures—Grateful Father Tells of

CURE ACHIEVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"It gives me great pleasure to express my deep gratitude in appreciation of the incalculable benefit that has been bestowed upon my little boy by the use of Cuticura Ointment and Resolvent. He had an awful rash all over his body and the doctor said it was eczema. It was terrible and used to water itself. Any place the water went it would form another sore and it would become crusted along the house and physicians failed utterly in their efforts to remove the trouble. Then I was told to use the Cuticura Remedies. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and before we had used half the Resolvent I could see a change in him. In about two months he was entirely well. When people see him now they ask, 'What did you get to cure your baby?' and all we can say is, 'It was the Cuticura Remedies.' So in our Cuticura will always have firm and warm friends. George F. Lambert, 139 West Centre St., Mahanoy City, Pa., September 26 and November 4, 1907."

SMALL BOY ON WITNESS STAND.

Victim of Shooting at Quincy Testified—Leinonen Acquitted.

Walter Hagen, seven years old, told the story of his shooting by George Ross, the Quincy watchman, on the stand in circuit court yesterday morning. Ross is on trial on a charge of assault with intent to commit the crime of murder, through having shot the boy as the latter, with three companions, was running away from an apple stealing expedition.
The little fellow took the stand after admitting that he knew what it was to swear to tell the truth. He took the oath and told his story. He was asked by Prosecuting Attorney Macdonald if he was in the yard of C. L. Lawton, superintendent of the Quincy mine, the night of Sept. 25. He answered that he was, with his brother and two other boys.
"What were you doing there?" "Eating apples."
Walter said that he saw Mr. Ross "sneaking along the house" and they started to run through the yard. Ross gave chase and fired three shots. The other boys reached the fence first and got over it. Walter's coat caught on the fence and held him up until Ross reached him. Ross grasped him about the waist but his hold broke and the boy fell outside the fence on his knees. He turned and saw Ross level his revolver at him and fire. The 38-calibre bullet went through his arm, and he "hollered," he said. He was taken by Ross to Mr. Lawton's office, the latter having in the meantime captured the other boys. Walter was taken to a doctor and the other boys sent home.
The case excited considerable interest at Quincy. Superintendent Lawton and Captain Kendall and Clevo were present at the trial, as was Chief Clerk McLean. The defendant is represented by Attorneys Angus W. Kerr of Calumet and S. L. Lawton of Hancock.
The case was held up for nearly an hour yesterday morning by the tardiness of Juror Fred Duncan of Hancock. He explained that he thought he had been ordered to appear at 2 o'clock in the afternoon instead of 9 o'clock in the morning. The jury follows:

Twelve Hundred Licenses.

Houghton County Hunters Willing and Numerous, but Deer Are Few.

County Clerk Richardson had issued up to last evening about 1,200 deer licenses, the clerks in the office being too busy to compute the actual number. They are turning out deer licenses at the rate of 100 per day.
But in spite of the large number of licenses the season, now three days old, has not thus far been productive. Only one lucky Houghton hunter is reported. Al. Krause having killed his license. Halfroad, mining and lumbering activity is said to have driven out the deer from the south range woods and other former good hunting grounds and the best hunting is now in the south end of the county and in the Silver mountains district.
The weather so far has been against the hunter, who must have snow to make good. And the weather man said yesterday that the present weather is good for about 26 hours yet, so that the prospects of many Sunday dinners of venison tomorrow are somewhat slim.

Football This Afternoon.

The most important football game in the upper peninsula this season will be played this afternoon at Hancock park between the Houghton and Ishpeming High school teams. The honor at stake is the championship of the Upper Peninsula Interscholastic Athletic association.
The Ishpeming team will arrive at 11 o'clock this morning, leaving Ishpeming at 8 o'clock this morning. It is expected the eleven will be accompanied by a number of rooters as Ishpeming is an enthusiastic football town. The latest news of the arrival of the team will permit any entertainment before the game as well as a number of the Houghton High school boys to be given in the Citizens bank hall.
It is probable that Hubert Brennan of Houghton, formerly of the U. of M. team, will be referee and Ishpeming will probably bring a man to act as umpire.
The Houghton boys have been working hard for this game and declare they are in excellent condition and spirits. The line-up will be the same as in last Saturday's Menominee game, as follows:

NEAT SUM FROM CONTRIBUTION.

Close to $200 cleared by Calumet Associated Charities from the recent Calumet Theater, McKim concert at the Calumet theater, the amount being $197.85. This sum has been put into the working fund of the association and is aiding materially in the work being carried on during the present month.

NO DEVELOPMENTS AT SKANEE.

Inquiries at L'Anse last yesterday afternoon failed to reveal anything new in the condition of Edna Arsenault, the girl who was accidentally shot there last Sunday by Norbert Decormier. The stage driver, who covers the route between L'Anse and Skanee did not bring anything new on the case.
Miss Arsenault is the daughter of Samuel Arsenault, a former Houghton fisherman, now living at Skanee. She was shot by Decormier, who was testing a rifle which he thought was not loaded. The injured girl's condition is said to be serious, because surgical attention was not given her for about twenty-four hours after the accident.

Small Town Is Sold.

For a consideration of $2,800, or $70 an acre, an unusual price for property in that district, the town of Woodlawn, Delta county, has been sold. The deed recorded at the register's office shows the transfer to be from George W. and Serena Ferner to Tossie B. Cook. All the parties mentioned have been resident of Woodlawn. The former owners are to leave for the south where they will make their future home. The town consists of a general store, several dwellings, a postoffice and forty acres of land.

Salvator in Trouble Again.

Laurent Lemay, proprietor of a saloon at Marquette, has been arrested, charged with the violation of the ordinance which forbids the presence of women on premises where intoxicating liquor is sold. Lemay is the first saloonkeeper to feel the weight of this new law of the city, but is an old offender against other ordinances regulating the liquor trade, this being his third arrest. In fact, he has a case pending against him now in the circuit court. Some time ago he was arraigned before Judge Store and was subjected to a scathing rebuke.

Engineer Ripley Promoted.

Announcement has been made of the appointment of Joseph Ripley of Marquette, N. Y., as a member of the advisory board of consulting engineers for the New York State large canal to succeed William A. Brockington, resigned. The appointment was made by Governor Hughes. The salary is $7,500 and expenses per annum, and the term lasts until the completion of the canal which will take several years. Mr. Ripley is also advisory engineer to the state superintendent of public works and is familiar in detail with the work of the large canal. Mr. Ripley was for years a resident at the scene being engaged as engineer on the government canal, at the sea and on work tributary to that port. He became a national figure in 1897 when he was placed in charge of the surveys and plans of the Birmingham canal in Alabama in 1897. After the completion of his work in the south he returned to the sea and became general superintendent of the St. Mary's Falls canal, which carried with it the superintendency of the great government improvements in the St. Mary's river. He remained in charge there until 1904 when he was appointed a member of the advisory board of engineers of the Panama canal and the following year was given further honors by President Roosevelt by being named as assistant engineer in charge of designing and constructing locks, dams and regulating works for the Panama canal. In 1907 he became assistant chief engineer of the Panama canal, which he soon resigned, the climate of the canal zone being detrimental to his health. He was then appointed superintendent of public works of New York, a position which he still holds. Mr. Ripley has two daughters residing in the sea, the Misses Eva and Flossie, and two brothers, Captain Charles Ripley, Park Place, and Captain Norman Ripley, in the employ of the government.

Thought Shutdown Will Be Brief.

The talk at the power house of the Michigan Lake Superior company's plant at Sault Ste. Marie, which has necessitated the shutting down of the canal, is not as serious as was first anticipated. It is now believed that temporary repairs can be made so that the plant can resume operations in a week or ten days. The leak is not in the same place as the one that occurred about two years ago, nor is it considered as nearly as serious a nature. It is located about twenty feet west of the old break and is much smaller, so far as the engineers have been able to determine. As soon as it was discovered the plant was closed down and preparations made for emptying the canal. Material is also being

MILLS CLOSING DOWN.

S. W. Clements of Baraga, manager of the Sauter Lumber company's mill at that place, was in Houghton yesterday. He says that the mill has closed down for the winter because the season's output of logs has already been cut. There will be nothing doing at the big mill until next spring.
The Baraga Lumber company at Baraga, after the closing of the last of its logs and will probably close down for the season next week.

Upper Peninsula Building a Fire Hotel.

Patrick Kelly of Watersmeet is showing his faith in the metropolis of the eastern end of Gogebic county by erecting a modern hotel building. The new house is to be equipped with steam heating and gas plants, and will be up to date in every respect.

New Co-Operative Concern.

A movement is under way for the establishment of a co-operative grocery store at Ironwood. An organization has been perfected, which is called the Ironwood Workers' Co-Operative Store company, and a committee of seven has in hand the active work of establishing the new store. The officers of the company are: President, John Koepf; treasurer, Oscar Mukala; secretary, John Ahola. The capital will be $15,000, divided into shares of $5 each. A considerable number of the shares have already been sold, and the officers of the company expect the sufficient money will be paid in to enable them to begin business some time next month.

Undoubtedly the cricket players of the copper country play as high class cricket as do any others in America, not excepting the crack teams of the East, although this statement has been scouted often. Not until teams from the East and the West can meet, however, is the question decided. It is the hope of the fans of the copper country, that, next season, a series of games, to decide the championship of Canada and the United States can be arranged. Australian and English teams often travel to this country and Canada and Americans and Canadians are generally pretty good pickings for the Britishers. Cricket has been in vogue in America, however, as shown by the fact that the international matches each year are becoming more and more popular.

Cricket Champions' Pictures With Printed Record in Demand.

A series of games may be arranged, at the close of next season, between teams of the West, teams of the Michigan Iron and copper districts, and regiments of players in St. Paul and Minneapolis, where the game is played by former English and Canadian stars as well as by Americans. The twin city clubs have their annual matches with the players of western Canada and generally lose to the Canadians.

Today's weather: Snow and colder. Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m., 40 degrees; noon, 41; 7 p. m., 40. Maximum, 42 degrees; minimum, 39.

Bishop Williams will officiate in the Episcopal church in Menominee tomorrow.

E. F. Kennedy and wife returned yesterday from Omaha, after an absence of two weeks.

Mrs. T. J. Maney and Miss Kitty O'Neil left last evening to visit in Duluth and other Minnesota points.

Mrs. E. C. Ferris is in Escanaba, visiting friends, and while there she will inspect the local chapter of the Woman's Relief corps.

There will be no football game here this afternoon between the Marquette and Negaunee High schools, as scheduled, the management of the Negaunee team having called off the contest.

Fire at Normal—The fire department was called to the Normal school dormitory between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday, because of the floor under the kitchen range having caught fire. The blaze gained headway slowly and it was soon extinguished with the aid of chemicals, once the firemen arrived an electric fire alarm was sounded. The fire alarm, but otherwise little damage was done.

Steamer Falcon Ashore—The wooden steamer Falcon of the Cleveland-Cliffs fleet, which has often carried pig iron out of Marquette, is ashore on South Fox Island, near Cleveland. The stranded boat, which is in bad shape, is said to have broken in two. All members of the crew were picked up and landed at Northport by a fishing tug. Northport is about twenty miles from where the vessel stranded. The Falcon left Escanaba Sunday with a cargo of ore. The stranded boat is in an exposed position and may be a total loss.

Few Deer Killed—Three days of the deer season have passed, yet probably not more than ten deer have been brought into the city to date. While it is probable that many of the local hunters still in the woods have one or more of the animals hanging up, a goodly number have returned without having brought down a quarry. This class state that the weather conditions are all against good deer hunting and that the kill this season will be much smaller than usual, unless snow and colder weather arrive within a very few days.

Local Firemen May Join—Morse Hose company has received a letter from the Michigan State Firemen's association requesting the Marquette firemen to join the state organization. Though no formal action has yet been taken, individual members of the local hose company have expressed themselves in favor of accepting the invitation and it is not improbable that some action will be taken at the next meeting of the company. Membership in the state association would doubtless be of benefit to the Marquette fire fighters in many ways, and by sending delegates to the annual convention new and valuable ideas might be obtained. The next convention will be held in Bay City, the first Monday of next June.

Contracts for Lake Ships—Lake shippers have under contract twenty-four vessels for 1910 delivery. James C. Wallace, president of the American Ship Building company, closing last week orders for four bulk freighters to be of the type 1000-ton class, being 224 feet over all, 504-foot keel, 54-foot beam and 30 feet deep. The names of the contracting parties are for the present withheld. This makes fifteen vessels that the American Ship Building company has under order for next season's delivery, eleven being bulk freighters, two package freighters and two passenger boats. The Great Lakes Engineering works has under order eight vessels, seven being bulk freighters and one package freighter. The Toledo Ship Building company is also building a bulk freighter.

Packed House Greeted Howe—A house that taxed the capacity of all the opera house witnessed Lyman H. Howe's moving picture entertainment last evening. The pictures shown were up to the usual Howe high standard and, of course, the audience was delighted. One of the most interesting films shown was that showing the manufacture of the big guns used on the United States battleships, which was the closing number on the long and varied program. The series of pictures entitled "Winter Sports" was also particularly good. Besides, there were a number of excellent water scenes, and interspersed throughout the program were some excitingly funny comic numbers. The high standard of Mr. Howe's entertainment last evening assures him of a liberal patronage when he again visits Marquette next February.

Northern Normal Notes.

The enrollment is now 205. The last to enroll is Zoya Kihara, our first Japanese student.

Miss Bill gave a brief sketch of the short story at chapel Tuesday morning, and read Hawthorne's "Dr. Heidegger's Experiment."

Enthusiasm is at present running high along literary lines. Both Osiris and Ygrasil are working for increased membership, and both societies are planning some entertaining and instructive programs for the remaining meetings to be held this term. There is excellent material in each, and these promises to be a series of splendid meetings.

Last Friday evening the girls at the dormitory held a home party, somewhat in the nature of an initiation, the seniors introducing the juniors to their mysteries. After proper initiation ceremonies, a sumptuous repast consisting of apples, onions, and stick candy, was served. Dining was enjoyed for a couple of hours, and altogether it was a most enjoyable evening.

Miss Content Bottom, class of '08, is now teaching in a kindergarten at Ponce, Porto Rico. She writes most enthusiastically of her work. She has both native Porto Ricans and white children in the latter attending the morning session, while the natives come in the afternoon. She is assisted by Porto Rican girls who are studying at the Normal and who are to come to the United States to complete their work.

A pleasing program was given Thursday morning at chapel under the direction of Miss Oltman. Miss Agnes Bergh sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Miss D'Obge rendered D'Hardelo's "I Know a Lovely Garden." This was Miss D'Obge's first appearance in chapel, and her numbers sang in a rich contralto voice were enthusiastically received. Miss Audrey Schunk read an excellent original abridgment of two scenes from "When Knighthood Was in Flower." Miss Christina Croer also sang the old English folksong "The Maid With the Delicate Air" by Arne.

Last Monday evening Osiris held its regular fortnightly meeting. A short but thoroughly enjoyable program was rendered as follows:

Reading, Riley's "Bear Story"..... Miss Eva Watt.

Piano solo "Claude Penill".....

Reading, "The Fair Scheme"..... Mrs. Rushmore.

After the program, the members and their guests indulged in an hour's dancing. The officers of Osiris are: President, Marie Deary; vice president, Catherine Fox; secretary, William Mullaly; treasurer, Haven C. R. Stewart.

On Monday afternoon, Mrs. Rushmore's expression class entertained at a very delightful meeting, which was a most interesting program was given. Claude Penill played a number from Grieg, after which Miss Eva Watt read her new abridgment of Longfellow's "Evangeline." This was Miss Watt's first appearance in public and the effort reflects great credit on Mrs. Rushmore and her pupil, Miss Watt. The abridgment was well made, giving the reader opportunity to show her unusual dramatic ability. This ability is strengthened by a good voice, that mellow middle register, which, combined with other qualities, promises much for Miss Watt in the future.

On Wednesday evening Ygrasil held its first meeting for the year. There were only a few members left in the school at the beginning of the year, but through their united efforts, fifty-four persons signed the constitution. Officers were elected as follows: President, Claude Penill; vice president, Alice Hessel; secretary, Margaret Kennedy; treasurer, R. D. Shepherd. Miss Hessel gave a short sketch of the meaning and purpose of Ygrasil. Miss Emma Sanders read an original abridgment of a chapter from Wigan's Rebecca of Sarnabyrook. Emma; Miss Genevieve McDonald gave a recitation and Miss Alice Stegath told a story. School songs were sung, and tea was served.

When the people know — when a discriminating public is convinced that one store's facilities for serving it are better than those of another it is but natural that the tide of traffic should turn in the direction of that one store. Our advantage over other dealers because of manufacturing our own clothing, being in direct touch with the woolen market and style origin, is so pronounced that even the lay mind can readily grasp its significance. Buying direct from the maker means no middle men's profit to figure with—it means a first hand knowledge of qualities and style. It means better clothing at less money.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co's correspondent at New York yesterday telegraphed as follows: "Despite the intense dullness which prevailed during the greater portion of today's session, the stock market displayed a firm undercurrent, and in the last hour aggressive short covering by the floor traders caused fractional gains in the leading issues. The New York reaction, with copper, were in active demand, and the sentiment was slightly improved by the easier tone of call money rates. There is considerable discussion in regard to the probable developments at the next session of congress, and although sentiment is somewhat improved in regard to the foreign money situation, in view of the better showing of the Bank of England, still a feeling of uncertainty continues to exist in domestic circles, because of the heavy demand from interior points. Specialty operations are likely to continue, with the balance of the list fluctuating within narrow limits."

Boston Stock Quotations.

Writing from Boston yesterday, Paine, Webber & Co. had the following to say of the stock market: "It was reported from the mine this morning that North Butte had struck the lead in the Jessie, and this brought in a flood of buying orders on the stock. The rally was sharp and the strength was maintained throughout most of the session. North Lake and Lake were both active, but showed no change in price. Ojibway was a little stronger and seemed in better demand. The balance of the list was quiet, and confidence is growing that speculation will be much broader next week."

Copper Metal Prices. New York, Nov. 12.—Standard copper was dull today, no sales being reported on the New York Metal exchange. Spot and the November and the December closed at 12.50@12.75, the January at 12.70@13, the February at 12.80@13 and the March at 12.85@13. The London market closed steady, with spot quoted at 128.17 1/2, 6d and futures at 60. The sales there included 200 tons of spot and 1,000 tons of futures. Local dealers quote Lake copper at 19@13.25, electrolytic at 12.87 1/2@13 and casting at 12.75@12.87 1/2.

Sluggish Blood causes nine-tenths of all sickness. Indigestion followed by headache, general listlessness, despondency, enfeebled action of the mind and body, cold, clammy feet and hands and paleness are sure signs of poor circulation. If not taken in time, serious trouble will follow. That tired feeling comes from sluggish blood. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey The World's Greatest Medicine will brighten you. A teaspoonful 3 or 4 times a day in half a glass of milk or water will make you strong and healthy. It enriches the blood, strengthens the circulation and tones up the whole system. It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, producing a liquid food, requiring no digestion, which is one of the most effective tonic stimulants and invigorators known to science; its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach. quoting at 128.17 1/2, 6d and futures at 60. The sales there included 200 tons of spot and 1,000 tons of futures. Local dealers quote Lake copper at 19@13.25, electrolytic at 12.87 1/2@13 and casting at 12.75@12.87 1/2. N. O. Bagge, of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, who has just returned from Europe, says: "While copper consumption is increasing in some European countries, the demand is not keeping pace with the production. The present consumption is the greatest in Germany, Sweden and Norway. In Germany the activity in building construction and the electrification of railroad terminals are creating greater demands for copper metal." With regard to the copper merger, he says: "It may be possible to effect a consolidation of the Amalgamated and Butte Coalition, with the Guggenheim and Cole-Ryan properties, but to my mind such a consolidation could do very little toward controlling production or regulating the price of copper. I do not think it will be possible to get the Calumet & Hecla or the Phelps-Dodge interests to join in any such consolidation. The Calumet & Hecla copper is always in demand, because of its superior conductivity, and never has to seek a market. The Phelps-Dodge interests, which control large producing mines, are among the largest producers in this country. They hold the key to the situation in the Southwest, and if they can be induced to join in any consolidation it will be on terms most advantageous to Phelps-Dodge."

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—A lively demand for cash wheat in the Northwest and Southwest prompted urgent covering by shorts here today, resulting in material gains. At the close the prices were up 1/2 to 1 1/2@1 1/2 compared with yesterday's final figures. The market was strong all day. The increased congestion in the December was the feature of the trading and was the occasion for a two cents advance. One of the prominent shorts was said to have purchased more than two million bushels of the December today. Reports from Duluth indicated that wheat there was being rushed eastward in large quantities, and it was predicted the stocks there would decrease nearly 1,400,000 bushels during the week. A Minneapolis cash grain was in demand at 26 1/2@27 premium over the December, which precludes any movement of wheat to Chicago for the December delivery. The close was active and strong. The December opened at 165 1/2 to 165 1/2; highest, 167 1/2; lowest, 165; closing, 166 1/2.

Corn.—Wet weather extending over the greater part of the corn belt was the principal reason for the moderate strength displayed today. The shipping demand for cash corn was brisk, but the offerings were light, which resulted in an advance of 1/2. The market also was bullishly affected by the bulge in wheat. The close was firm, 1 1/2@1 1/2 to 1 1/2@1 1/2 higher. The December opened at 50 1/2 to 50 1/2; highest, 50 3/4; lowest, 50 1/2; closing, 50 3/4.

Oats.—This market was firm, but the volume of the trading was small. The close was firm, 29 1/2@29 1/2 to 29 1/2@29 1/2. The December opened at 30 1/2 to 30 1/2; highest, 30 3/4; lowest, 30 1/2; closing, 30 3/4.

Paine, Webber & Co's Wheat Summary.

Paine, Webber & Co's Chicago correspondent laid this to say concerning wheat: "The market is beginning to show a decided effort to get in line and cover for both December and May on an advancing market the last hour today. There was a lot of foreign news to consider, both early and late, but it really was not important in shaping prices. The damage claims from Argentine were contradicted. The late messages from St. Louis told of a report of Hessian fly in the Illinois wheat fields. About the same time the Modern Miller report claimed that the winter wheat crops are not getting a start and are inclined to hold the balance of the crop for higher prices. Back of everything else is the fact that certain strong elevator interests here have the December wheat bought and kept off the market. Some of the leaders, who have been mostly bearish, are beginning to express the belief that the present conditions may run prices still higher and are advising against short sales. At times there is buying of December and sales of May for the same account. The market closed without any indication of a top-heavy market even at the advances."

Cotton Market.

Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say of yesterday's cotton market: "Cotton seems to have narrowed in the volume of trading and the lower levels were followed by liquidation by those who were immediately prepared for results. The week-end figures of the movement were about 150,000 smaller than the week of last year, but it is thought the mill takings will show a similar shrinkage. The professionals are very decidedly against the market and would be vigorous sellers if they dared. The spinners of the world are rapidly using their warehouse stock and show some hesitancy about buying at levels not yet unqualifiedly established. The farmer of the South, however, has so nearly come to the end of his rope that he has been so satisfactory that if his final crop is only two-thirds of that of last year its money value will be identical as the present prices are fully 50 per cent above those of a year ago. The bull side of this market is safe in the long run. The bear side is dangerous at all times. We won't have cheap cotton."

INDIANS LOSE THEIR CASE.

Suit of 13,000 Choctaws and Chickasaws Turned Down by Supreme Court.

Washington, Nov. 10.—In an opinion by Justice Holmes the supreme court of the United States has decided against the complainants, the case of the 13,000 Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians who asked for redress for being excluded from the citizenship rolls of those nations when they were prepared by Secretary Hitchcock of the interior department on March 4, 1907. The suit was instituted by one J. E. Fleming, in the United States circuit court for the Eastern district of Oklahoma, and was enjoinable in its charges. It was alleged, among other things, that the citizenship rolls had been prepared on fraudulent lists; that the citizenship court had been bribed; that $750,000 had been paid to the Oklahoma legal firm of Mansfield, McMurray & Cornish as the result of unlawful conspiracy, and that notwithstanding these charges had been brought to the attention of Secretary Garfield, he failed to investigate them. It was also asserted that the secretary had with-

The Clothes Young Men Want

There's something within every Young Man that makes him want the best the world can give—education, opportunity, success, friends, pleasure and—smart clothes. He may be excused if he doesn't secure all the good things in life; but not if he fails to have good clothes.

Young Men's clothes are a different proposition here than elsewhere. They're Young Men's clothes from Young Men's makers. That means more than you think.

The patterns are different than would be selected for Men. The clothes are cut and tailored on different lines. The style is distinctive.

It takes men with a knowledge of the Young Man's figure to make your clothes. In fact it requires specialists. That makes the clothes different. That's what you want.

The makers of these clothes, Ederheimer, Stein & Co., have a wide reputation as experts on Young Men's clothes. We sell their styles for this reason.

The purposes of the league are as follows:

- (a) To work for the betterment and enlargement of the Sunday schools in Ishpeming by developing character through athletic contests and by making Sunday school attendance a condition of membership.
- (b) To engage in such forms of Christian work as in its judgment can better be accomplished by the organization than by the individual efforts of single Sunday schools; to afford opportunities for the young men and boys of these Sunday schools to engage in athletic work under Christian control and against competitors, who, as far as the teachers are able to effect it, are invited to participate in the same.
- (c) To maintain a high standard of honesty, courtesy, and manliness in athletic sports.

Any Sunday school in Ishpeming is eligible to membership in the league, and those desiring to become associated with it must sign a written application. Senior applications must be accompanied by a fee of twenty five cents. The junior applications must be accompanied by a fee of ten cents. Any person who is a bonafide member of a Sunday school and a regular attendant, shall be eligible for registration. No boy registered in the league shall be permitted to participate in public athletic events on Sunday. Failure to observe this law shall render the member liable to suspension for six months. At the business meetings each Sunday school shall be entitled to four delegates, who are to be appointed by the Sunday school superintendent or pastor of the church.

The trophy to be given the winning team shall have a value of over $15. Team championship entitles shall be the property of the Sunday school, and not of the boys winning them.

The officers of the league, together with the secretary and physical director of the Y. M. C. A., shall constitute the governing board. They shall have general charge, management and control of the affairs of the league, and shall authorize and control all Sunday school competitions. They shall have full power, and it shall be their duty to carry out the purpose of the league, as set forth in the constitution and by-laws.

GREENLAW MAY GET AWAY.

Attorney for Broker's Wife Thinks He May Have Fled to Honolulu.

That Walter R. Greenlaw, the Milwaukee broker, who fled Philip Kennedy, formerly of this city, and his other business associates, and who was arrested in Los Angeles, Cal., Tuesday at the instigation of the district attorney of Milwaukee, has left Los Angeles and gone to San Francisco, probably with the intention of taking passage for Honolulu, is the declaration made by Attorney Thompson, counsel for Mrs. Greenlaw. The word Mr. Thompson has received from Los Angeles is that Greenlaw was accompanied by Effie Scott, his affinity, who fled with him from Milwaukee. Greenlaw and the woman are being shadowed by California officers and it is possible that Attorney Thompson will follow them.

It has not yet been decided whether or not the district attorney will decide to have the state of Wisconsin bear the expense of bringing Greenlaw back to Milwaukee. Mrs. Greenlaw was left penniless by her husband and her attorney has declared that inasmuch as she has not enough to bear the extradition expenses, he will take the case to the governor, if necessary. Thompson believes that the county of Milwaukee should loosen its purse strings to prosecute to a conviction a case wherein warrants have been issued and arrests made. He said the example set by this case thus far seems likely to encourage wide desertion for the latter day affinity.

If your piano needs tuning, William Leininger will take your order, and M. J. Olson will do the work. (6-28-4)

INDOOR BALL GAME TONIGHT.

The Ishpeming City and Y. M. C. A. indoor baseball teams will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. There will be no admission charge. The ladies are especially invited. The Y. M. C. A. team will be composed of Arthur Erickson, catcher; W. E. Hawthorne, A. S. Maitland, of John McDougal, pitcher; Phil Haglund first base; Joe Martin, second base; Ed Haglund, third base; Harold Shaddock and Steve Terrill, shortstops; John Martin and George Jacobson, fielders. The City team will be composed of Nicholas, catcher; Wall, pitcher; Hooper, first base; Cox, second base; Devine, third base; Harrington and Peterson, shortstops; J. Erickson and Collins, fielders.

Just received, a carload of winter apples, which will be sold very cheap, at 213 Main street, Ishpeming, Mich. (11-12-3t)

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

The opening in New York was generally lower, and on a dull sluggish market prices gradually advanced to about yesterday's close. There was little news, and the dullness is attributed to the high money rate, which restrains buying in several issues. There was good buying of North Butte on a report of a rich strike on the Jessie. Hancock sold up to 15 and is said to have cut enough mineralized veins to assure a fair mine before cutting the Hancock lode.

The Boston market was strong. While there was no special feature, the trading was well distributed, with small advances in several issues. There was good buying of North Butte on a report of a rich strike on the Jessie. Hancock sold up to 15 and is said to have cut enough mineralized veins to assure a fair mine before cutting the Hancock lode.

There was but light scattered trading on the curbs, quite a number of issues participating. Live Oak was strong and sold at 7 1/2. Ray Consolidated advanced a fraction. Colorado was lower on the forced selling of a large block. The drastic legislation which has been in progress for weeks in the Utah stocks must be nearly completed, and present low prices should be taken advantage of by buying the good ones. We again recommend Colorado and Grand Central.

PRICE OF POLITICS.

In his reminiscences of Grover Cleveland George F. Parker tells a story concerning prodigal expenditures in politics. A rich man who had been bidding at the Democratic nomination for governor of New York asked William C. Whitney's advice. This is the advice: "Of course, you ought to run! Make your preliminary canvass and when you have put in $200,000 you will have become so much interested in it that you will feel like going ahead and spending some money."

LITTLE LAKE PEOPLE HAVE BAD SCARE

DYNAMITE SIGNS ON A BURNING FREIGHT CAR CAUSE RESIDENTS TO FLEE FOR LIVES.

Signs reading "dynamite," tacked on a Chicago & Northwestern freight car on the siding at Little Lake, caused many of the residents of the place to flee for their lives at an early hour yesterday morning, when it was discovered that several of the cars in the train were on fire. It was not known that the dynamite had been unloaded from the car a few miles farther down the line.

Largely through the efforts of B. J. Goodman, Jr., and his workmen, who are employed at the foodman mill at Little Lake, nine of the cars and their contents were saved from destruction. The fire was not gotten under control, however, until seven box cars were destroyed. Two of the cars contained chemicals in transit to the Munising camp, another was a refrigerator car, containing meat and other provisions, and two were loaded with pig iron. Nothing could be saved from the refrigerator car. The chemicals spread over the track and into the gutters, and the fumes from them almost suffocated the men who worked about the fire.

The cars were brought into Little Lake on train No. 289 bound for Ishpeming. It arrived at the location about 11 o'clock Thursday night and the fire broke out at 1:30. The blaze got a good start before it was discovered, but within a few minutes every family in and near Little Lake had been aroused. The report that there was dynamite in one of the burning cars spread like wild fire, and excited men, women and children were soon scattering in all directions. Some of them went out into the woods, where they remained all night, and others went south on the Northwestern track, from two to five miles distant. The fire burned the greater part of the night and Mr. Goodman and his men devoted most of their energy to keeping the blaze away from the car believed to be loaded with dynamite. A call for aid was sent to Ishpeming and a locomotive and caboose were sent down with all the men that could be picked up hurriedly.

It is not known how the fire originated, but it is thought that it may have been started by a spark from the locomotive of a passing train. Sweet and boiled cider at Haupt's grocery. (11-1-11)

BIG HOLIDAY TRADE.

Merchants of Negaunee Will Prepare for Rush of Business.

"We expect the biggest holiday business this year that we have ever had, and we are going to make preparations accordingly," said one of the Negaunee merchants yesterday. "We have purchased an unusually large stock of novelties and toys. We have not for some eight or ten years past that the demand for holiday goods increases steadily. Our holiday trade started in last year fully a month before Christmas. This year we have made more than 10 to 15 per cent larger stocks than we have ever had before, and I believe that we will need them."

Retailers who have not already purchased their holiday goods will have difficulty getting choice articles, as the market is crowded with buyers. The demand upon the wholesalers is the heaviest that they have ever experienced, and they expect to be entirely cleaned out of goods not later than Dec. 15. Their customers are buying heavier than ever before.

Many very fine toys will be on the market, and the wholesalers tell us that the demand for the more expensive articles has increased from 75 to 100 per cent over a year ago. An unusually supply of expensive toys has been received from the foreign markets. America has practically monopolized the foreign market and that nearly 75 per cent of the better class of articles made in Europe were shipped to America this year. The Americans seem to prefer the foreign made article, and they are willing to pay better prices for them."

Some of the Negaunee merchants have this week received consignments of their holiday goods and are now preparing their stores for their displays. Some good assortments will be on view by the middle of next week.

FOOTBALL TOMORROW.

The management of the Tigers football team will not accept the challenge of the Ishpeming City team for a game tomorrow, but they will be taken on next Sunday. The Tigers have to defeat the Ishpeming team the next time they meet. A game between two Negaunee teams has been arranged for tomorrow afternoon at the Union Park grounds. The best players will be selected for the contest with the Ishpeming team. The teams will be known as the "Scrubs" and the "Cubs." The "Scrubs" will be made up of McNabb, fullback; T. Hogan and C. Wasmuth, halfbacks; Chouette, quarterback; Lemire, center; W. Johnson and H. Connors, guards; Northey and Grubbe, ends; Stirling and Holman, ends. The "Cubs" will be composed of John Nadeau, fullback; Ed Hannala and Burge, halfbacks; Joe Cons, quarterback; Bean, center; Hodge and Foy, guards; Hawkins and I. Hannala, tackles; S. Johnson and Clyde DeFrance, ends. There will be no admission charge.

FIRE AT UNION DEPOT.

Blaze Started by Crossed Wires Nipped in the Bud Thursday Evening.

A telephone wire coming in contact with an electric light wire started a fire under the counter in the American Express company's office at the union depot Thursday evening shortly after 7 o'clock. The telephone had been ringing for some time, and Henry Carley, Agent Cyril Houle's assistant, was endeavoring to answer it when finally a heavy volume of smoke burst out from underneath the counter. Some papers nearby had become ignited and had it not been for the fact that Messrs. Houle and Carley were on hand the fire would have gotten a big start within a short time. The blaze was extinguished without the aid of the fire department and without any particular damage being done.

TO MOVE TO MEXICO.

George Yehrike and family, old residents of Negaunee, will leave tomorrow or Monday for Mexico, where they are to locate permanently. The change in location is being made principally on account of Mrs. Yehrike's health. Her brother, H. The latter recently sold his home on Lincoln street to another brother-in-law, Joe Bilodeau.

AU TRAIN MAN WAS KILLED BY TRAIN

IDENTIFIED BY A BROTHER

Disfigured Beyond Recognition, Identity of Victim Is Established by Shoes and Shirt He Wore.

Literally ground to pieces, the remains of what was once a man were found early yesterday morning along the Marquette & Southeastern railway track at Duke's Siding, a few miles this side of Lawson. The shoes and shirt he wore, the victim was positively identified last evening at Tonella & Johnson's undertaking rooms as John Larmond, Jr., of Au Train, by his brother, David Larmond, who chanced to be in the city.

As soon as the news of the gruesome find was received at the Marquette & Southeastern railway office in this city yesterday, Coroner Cray was notified and General Manager Harris arranged for a special train to take the coroner and jury to the scene of the accident. G. W. Brown, J. L. Johnson, Roland Primeau, Henry Hallam, W. J. Lupton and John Olin were impounded as the jury.

Arriving at Duke's Siding, the coroner and jury viewed the dismembered remains and took the testimony of several witnesses, the most important of whom was Sidney Ward, a farmer who lives in that vicinity, who had seen a man get off the passenger train at the siding Thursday night and had left him sitting on a stump near the track. Circumstantial evidence pointed strongly to him as the man who had been killed by freight No. 25, which passed through Duke's Siding about an hour later. From the evidence adduced at Duke's Siding yesterday and at another session held in Justice Cray's office last evening, the story of the accident is something like as follows:

Got Off Passenger Train.

Larmond was a passenger on the train from Munising to Lawson Thursday night and at Lawson had transferred to the train going to Marquette. He first told Conductor St. Cyr that he wanted to go to Marquette, but as he had only eight cents, he said he wanted to go as far as that amount would take him. Accordingly, the train was stopped at Duke's Siding and Larmond got off, with apparent willingness.

At the siding he conversed with Mr. Ward, who advised him to go to a nearby house, where he could probably get a place to spend the night. Larmond, however, remained where he was and Ward left him sitting on a stump. Neither Ward nor the conductor knew the man, but C. O. Beagan, the operator at Princeton, who was on the train, recognized him as Larmond.

About an hour later a freight train came along and it is thought that Larmond became bewildered at the headlights and got on the main track where he was struck by the engine. The train crew knowing of having killed a man, but blood and flesh on the pilot and wheels of the locomotive, found yesterday morning, were certain evidence of the manner in which he met his death. At the siding it was evident that Larmond had been struck directly opposite the stump where Ward left him.

Positively Identified.

Up to last evening, there was some doubt as to the dead man being Larmond, but while the jury was in session, a younger brother of Larmond's called at Justice Cray's office and asked permission to view the remains. It was granted, and he at once declared that it was his brother John, who had been killed. Identification was possible by the shoes and shirt the dead man wore, both of which the brother said had once been his own property.

With these facts before them, the jury last evening returned a verdict of accidental death by being run over by freight No. 25 on the Marquette & Southeastern railway. Larmond's father at Au Train has been notified of his tragic death and it is probable that the remains will be shipped to Au Train today. The deceased was about forty-five years of age.

FIRE AT LITTLE LAKE.

Seven Box Cars Destroyed Early Yesterday Morning.

Seven box cars were totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin at Little Lake early yesterday morning. The cars were standing on the transfer switch, four having been turned over by the C. & N. W. to the M. & S. E. a few hours before and three by the M. & S. E. to the C. & N. W. early Thursday evening. Therefore, the M. & S. E. is held responsible for four of the cars and the C. & N. W. for the remaining three.

Two of the cars destroyed were loaded with general merchandise, hauled to Marquette, one with limestone for the paper mill at Munising; one with sulphuric acid for the Munising tannery; and three with pig iron, which had been shipped from the Pioneer furnace.

The fire, which started in the car of sulphuric acid, was first noticed about 1:45 a. m. and had then gained considerable headway. The flames spread rapidly to the adjoining cars and in a short time the whole seven were in ruins. There seems to be no clue to the origin of the blaze. The car loaded with sulphuric acid, together with the one loaded with limestone and the two loaded with merchandise, were left on the transfer switch by a fast Northwestern freight about 11 o'clock, and until the fire was discovered nearly three hours later, no one seems to have seen anything that was unusual. The four cars for which the Marquette & Southeastern is responsible were fully insured.

This large and commodious room, in the rear of the bank proper and immediately back of the directors' room, is now occupied by two stenographers and also contains the multigraph, the addressograph and other bank property and papers. It is well furnished and can when necessary be used for consultation or the transaction of private business. By making use of this room, the bank also has better access to one of its storage vaults.

The First National bank is now one of the largest and best equipped banks in northern Michigan, employing a large force of help, and is equipped with every convenience for handling its business promptly and to the satisfaction of its patrons and customers. One novel feature of the equipment is an adding machine, which is operated by electricity instead of foot power. The safe is of the most modern style and is considered fire and burglar proof. CHIEF CONSOLIDATED A GOOD INVESTMENT

J. R. Van Evera, one of the large stockholders in Chief Consolidated, stated yesterday that he was not at all surprised at the report of the president of the company, published in the Segunee department of The Mining Journal yesterday, stating that the net earnings of the company were now about $1,250 per day, as he had long been of the opinion that the mine had great possibilities.

He stated that the company now owned 400 acres, which extended 1,000 feet along one of the best ore formations in the region. Lead, silver and gold are being mined at the 1,300-foot level, and another mine south of the Chief property in the same vein is mining still higher grade ore at the 2,000-foot level. The company now has something like $150,000 in the treasury, he said, and its property is all paid for.

In the near future, surface improvements that will cost about $25,000 will have to be made. These include a larger hoisting plant, new ore bins, a new engine house and a ventilating system. Development work is being carried on along with the mining of ore and Mr. Van Evera expects the mine to be a continuous producer from now on. He states that the directors believe in a conservative policy and that it is not likely that any dividend will be declared until the necessary improvements are made and there is a surplus of $250,000 in the treasury. It is intended to operate the mine on a sound financial basis and to keep enough money on hand to provide for any unexpected contingency, the occurrence of which has wrecked several good propositions in that district.

Mr. Van Evera states that the company is making no effort to advertise or boost the stock on the market, and that those most heavily interested are holding on to their stock, with the confident expectation that it will net them big returns within the next few years. "It is future returns, not immediate dividends, that we are looking for," said Mr. Van Evera, "and we think that we have a mine that will be just as much a mine twenty-five years hence, as it is today."

BOARD COMPLYING WITH LAW.

Member Cites Statute to Show That Flag Need Not Be Outside School.

Replying to the criticism that the board of education in Marquette was not complying with the flag law, a member of the board, citing from the Michigan statutes, article 4803, to show that flags need not necessarily be displayed outside school buildings, provided they are conspicuously displayed within. The member stated that a large flag was hanging in the hall of every school building in the city, which was all that the law demanded. He further said that on pleasant days, it was the custom to display a flag outside the building, but that in bad weather flags were quickly flapped to ribbons, and that the board considered it poor policy to expend the money that would be necessary to have the flags up outside the school buildings every school day. The law referred to reads as follows:

"The people of the state of Michigan enact, that the board of education of the board of school trustees in the several cities, townships, villages and school districts in this state shall purchase a United States flag of a size not less than four feet, two inches, by eight feet and made of good flag bunting 'A,' flag staff and the necessary appliances therefor and shall display said flag upon, near, or in conspicuous place within, the public school building during school hours and at such other times as the school board may deem proper; that the necessary funds to defray the expenses to be incurred herein shall be assessed and collected in the same manner as moneys for public school purposes are collected by law. And the penalties for neglect of duty provided in section 2, chapter 13, of the general school laws, shall apply to any school officer refusing to comply with the provisions of this act."

FOOTBALL NOT THE ONLY RISKY GAME

As is usual at this time of year, people throughout the country are discussing the great college game of football, especially with reference to its brutality and the great loss of life that entails each fall from the sport. By some it is characterized as a relic of barbarism that Nero missed, while by others it is recognized as a clean, healthy, manly making sport, in spite of its element of danger. Every fatality or even minor accident is published far and wide, and the general public has come to believe that football is far and away the most dangerous and brutal of American sports.

This being the case, it is interesting to scan the following comparative figures showing the number of deaths that resulted from football and baseball during the last five years, which have been compiled by the Cornell University and which show that in that period the great national game has claimed the greater number of victims.

Years.	Baseball.	Football.
1906.	19	16
1907.	13	13
1908.	42	21
1909.	50	78
Totals.	115	78

Game Still Too Hazardous.

Nevertheless, however accurate these figures may be, there is little question that football is more hazardous than it should be and that it need be, and still retain the game with all its interest and man developing qualities. A few years ago a set of new rules was formulated prohibiting what was known as mass formations and providing for a more open style of play. This change has resulted in games that are more interesting and spectacular from the spectator's standpoint, but it does not appear to have materially reduced the number of fatalities and serious injuries. That the rules need further revision and football is generally admitted.

When one man under the new game essays to carry the ball he is not surrounded by three or four others, who form a wedge or a chisel shaped group, which seeks to crush the opponents to earth.

He usually fans alone, one of his companions may seek to block a certain player and another companion seek to block another player. A third may essay to get in such position that he can ward off runners who try to seize the man with the ball. A fourth may try to get into a position where he can prevent the back from checking the advance of the ball. That isn't mass play. It is a running formation and its purpose is to scatter the defense and not let it be welded into a compact body, because another compact body is trying to break through the line. That was what resulted under mass play in other days.

To attempt to stop a running formation on the football field by diving head foremost at the player who has the ball, and whose interference is ranged on both sides of him, seems to be taking a risk which is not warranted and which is not theoretically good football.

Not a Sound Play. The diving tackle, while it almost seems at times to the anxious football player to be the only manner in which he may accomplish his work to stop the advance of the ball, is foolishly and unsound. The tackle loses command of himself as he hurls his body at his adversary, and if he misses him is wholly out of the play. If, on the other hand, if he attempts to body check the player he is likely to make his tackle successful at the same time.

When the cause of four or five of the injuries of recent occurrence on the football field is thoroughly analyzed it is possible that it will be ascertained that mass play is not so much the reason for them as a faulty method of tackling. So far as young players are concerned, the diving tackle should be absolutely prohibited and if there is no other manner in which to prohibit it a penalty should be charged against a team one of whose players offends. It is not at all difficult to tell when a player makes a diving tackle. If older players are to stop his advance with the ball it is not good football and there is no reason why they should not be penalized for a play that has little to commend it. There seems to be no reason why a system of tackling which is forbidden cannot be exchanged from the game as well as other faults.
