And we don't believe it will start. Despite the apparent willingness of some men in the Republican party to show them the door, the so-called insurgents, who would have to furnish the nucleus for any third party movement that would be worthy of a moment's consideration.

MICHIGAN POLITICS

Another federal job to be filled, with of course another row over the usual possibilities of trouble between the two United States senators.

SAFER FOOTBALL.

The numerous fatalities that have occurred on the gridirons of the country the past few weeks have given rise to a demand for a further modification of football with the purpose of making it safer.

This subject will likely be fully discussed at the meeting of the Western Intercollegiate conference, the "Big Eight," to be held in Chicago today, and which will be attended by representatives of all the leading universities of the west, except Michigan.

SPLENDID PROGRAM CLOSED INSTITUTE

TWO DAYS' SESSION, WHICH WAS POORLY ATTENDED, CAME TO AN END LAST NIGHT.

ADDRESS BY A. E. STERNE

County School Commissioner Discussed the Needs of Our Schools, and Mr. Taylor Talked on "Forces That Win."

The attendance at the Farmers' institute yesterday was again disappointing, but small, although larger than that of the previous day, and at neither of the day sessions was it deemed advisable to carry out the regular program.

At the evening session, there was a fairly large number present and a splendid program of general interest was carried out.

"While it is not the province of the public schools at present organization, to teach the trades, it is their privilege and their duty to put the child in intelligent touch with the life about him and to use all the means at hand in the process of education.

"Much has been said about the tenancy among boys to leave the farm for the town, and many attempts at explanation and justification have been made.

"With the lessening of distance between the town and the country by telephone, interurban, rural routes, with the conveniences of life beyond the very door of the farmer, with much of the drudgery of farm life removed by machinery, it looks as though the time might turn from town to country, or at least as though the exodus from the farm might be stayed.

"An essential factor in education which for the most part has been overlooked, is to be found in the environment of the child. One's power of interpretation is bounded by his experience, and yet we have gone on trying to fit a strange world down on the child.

"The teacher, therefore, must be a student of community life as well as of text books. He must be familiar with the institutions and interests of the community. He must know what the children know, how they think, and in what terms they express themselves.

Principle of Relation.

"Any new truth which the child gets must be related to what he already knows. The closer the teacher gets to the real experience of the child the more likely he is to awaken a live interest.

"Arithmetic truth must be cast in the concrete terms possible. A little local coloring often makes the problem at once out of the realm of the abstract.

"Of course this calls for a complete knowledge of the community. The teacher should know the history in every detail—its extent in every direction: its earth facts, such as streams, hills, valleys; its houses; its acreage in wheat, corn and oats; its others. These things he can use in his work to great advantage, in concrete application of the principles he is trying to teach.

Especially Prepared Teachers.

"Not to detract from the work of the teacher of the past that has trained some of the greatest men and women of all time, nevertheless, the great need of our rural schools, for that matter any school, is the specially prepared teacher. While this is the demand of the hour, it is a matter of no acute discernment to see that the teacher who can meet the demand of the present must be a natural and trained artist at once.

There may be some who are coming to realize the interests for which it stands are coming to take on a broader significance than ever before cannot fail to be evident to even a casual observer.

Whether the position is an exaggerated one is a question, but the conditions are present and whether desirable must be met. More and more the world is becoming conscious of the fact that moral integrity, industrial and civic righteousness, and high ideals are essential to happiness and prosperity.

"The necessity for a closer relationship between the home and the school is evident to every thoughtful observer. The school is supposed to supplement the home in the matter of fitting boys and girls to take up their part in the world's activities.

"The school is supposed to supplement the home in the matter of fitting boys and girls to take up their part in the world's activities. And yet, despite this, the school is not doing its duty.

"The school is not doing its duty. It is not doing its duty. It is not doing its duty. It is not doing its duty. It is not doing its duty.

"The school is not doing its duty. It is not doing its duty. It is not doing its duty. It is not doing its duty. It is not doing its duty.

THE INDIANS OF NICARAGUA.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Zollhofer, Moravia church missionaries to the Indians in Nicaragua, are at the Grunwald Hotel.

"The Indians of Nicaragua are at the Grunwald Hotel. They are returning now from a year's vacation at the homes, and have heard nothing as to the trouble in Nicaragua.

"Our work in Nicaragua is confined to the native Indians," said Mr. Zollhofer recently, "and we have now about six thousand of these former heathen worshippers under our control."

"The basis of the Indian superstition was that there were two gods, one a male and one a female, but there was no joint control by these two. 'The male god,' said he, 'is called Womass, which means in the native language 'our father'.

"This goddess is supposed to dwell in the Indian heaven, and to rule the spirits of the departed. Their idea of this heaven is like that of the Turkish or Moslem, and is a very crude superstition.

ISHPEMING CONTRIBUTED $15,000 TO CHURCH COLLEGE

FORMER ISHPERING MAN, WHO ACQUIRED WEALTH IN ALASKA, MAKES LIBERAL DONATION TO CHICAGO INSTITUTION.

John Brynteson, who eleven years ago was a laboring man working for less than $2 per day in Ishpeming, but who is now reputed to be worth nearly a million dollars, which he made in Alaska, where he and three others were the original discoverers of gold in the Nome district, has contributed $15,000 to North Park college, Chicago, which is under control of the Mission church.

Mr. Brynteson is now living at his former home in Sweden, and he expects to spend the greater part of the remainder of his life there. He is heavily interested in real estate in Los Angeles and a few years before the earthquake he erected a home in the city that cost him a large sum. He still retains his interests in the Pioneer Gold Mining company, which is the largest mine operating in the Nome district.

Several of his friends whom he took with him from Ishpeming are looking after his interests at Nome.

In the booklet just issued by the Mission church, which is to celebrate its thirtieth anniversary next week, there is a picture, together with a brief sketch of the life of Mr. Brynteson.

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

The interest in the New York market was again centered on the coppers, with some attention given the Stocks, Union Pacific and Reading. The tone was generally strong, with advances of about a point in the leaders. The New York brokers look for higher prices.

In Boston, the Cole-Ryan stocks will hold the lead, though on well-distributed trading the entire list showed great strength. Selling by the public still continues, but there is no hesitation in the East in taking all offerings. North Butte made the largest gain, advancing nearly three points from the opening. Lake advanced two points. Butte Coalition, Greene, Groux, Calumet & Arizona, Copper Range and Superior & Boston were all higher. It is said Calumet & Arizona will declare a $1.50 dividend at the coming meeting. The Wall Street Journal has published an article today saying that the capital stock of the copper combination will be $700,000,000, and that J. P. Morgan & Co. will head the underwriting of it. The consensus of opinion is that higher prices will be reached for all the good coppers.

There was little trading in the cubs today. There was some demand for San Antonio, Chief, Indiana, Ohio Copper, Davis Daly and Cordova, and all were strong. The drilling at Indiana which was stopped after going through five feet of copper ground, has been resumed, and now shows the hole to be thirty feet wide. The better class of cubs will naturally follow the listed stocks shortly, and should be bought now to insure the largest profits.

Yesterday's prevailing prices were:

PLANS MEMORIAL TO WASHINGTON.

Association to Carry Out Idea He Wrote in His Will. Starts to Raise $2,500,000—New York Woman Heads Organization to Erect Building for Science, Art and Education.

New York, Nov. 18.—General George Washington wrote in his will, dated in July, 1799—a few months before his death—the following clause: "It has been my ardent wish to see a plan devised on a liberal scale which would have a tendency to spread systematic ideas through all parts of this rising empire, thereby to get away with local attachments and state prejudices, as far as the nature of things would, or indeed ought to, admit, from our national councils."

The father of his country then added a clause in which he made known that he wished $25,000, a large sum of money in those days, set aside to be used "for promoting institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge." That bequest to the United States never became available and more than a century was allowed to pass before an effort was made to carry out his dying wishes.

In fact, an effort is only now being made to erect a $2,500,000 George Washington Memorial Building at Washington, D. C. as headquarters and auditorium for every scientific, educational, patriotic, art and literary organization in this country.

With the active support of the Washington Academy of Sciences, the National Federation of Art, the National Academy of Sciences, the American Medical Association, the association of American Physicians, and other similar bodies, it is planned to raise by popular subscription a building fund for this purpose before Feb. 22, 1910, the 178th anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Senator Elliot Root, Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, Dr. William Welch, Prof. Alexander Agassiz, Gen. Horace Porter, Prof. H. Fairfield Osborn, and Dr. Ira Remsen have volunteered to serve on an advisory council with Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, who is leading the movement.

With the will and last words of Washington as their warrant, the originators of this new undertaking are to-day preparing to enlist every American in its support. With every national institution for the spread of knowledge seriously hampered to-day by the lack of convention and central facilities at Washington, it is urged that a rare opportunity is offered for the country to pay the moral debt it owes to fulfill the wish of George Washington.

In the dollars and dimes of the people of every part of the country Mrs. Dimock has to-day prepared to receive this $2,500,000 building fund at 25 East Sixth street, in the city. Souvenir certificates of part ownership and perpetual record are to be delivered to every contributor of a dollar or more. From today until next Washington's Birthday plans have been made to receive the people's tribute to Washington's memory through churches, schools, civic bodies, and other channels in every community in the country.

"Among the eighty millions of Americans we feel sure we will find enough support to assure the two and a half million dollars required to give George Washington this much-needed memorial," said Mrs. Dimock to-day. "This is no ordinary contribution that we are asking of the American people; it is a distinct debt that each of us has long owed to the Father of our Country."

FEAR CANADIAN TARIFF.

Effect of the French Treaty May Send Factories Across the Border.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The administration through various channels is taking notice of the maximum tariff situation with reference to Canada. The tariff commission is immediately concerned, of course, in gathering information about preferential rates granted by the Canadian authorities. It is keeping in touch especially with developments at Ottawa bearing upon the ratification of the treaty with France. The French chamber of deputies has already approved of the document.

The impression prevails here that the French treaty, if ratified at Ottawa, may be the only obstacle to the continuation of our minimum rates after next March. It is believed President Taft will rule that the preferential rates for Great Britain do not constitute undue discrimination.

Many business firms, engaged in trade with Canada, are showing a very lively interest in the situation. If the maximum tariff is to be applied to Canada, it is said here that many more branch factories will be built in Canada. The department of commerce and labor has collected statistics showing that there are 147 such branch factories now in Canada, representing an investment of $125,000,000. Of these forty-nine are in Toronto and eighteen in Montreal. They manufacture a great variety of articles and most of them have been established in recent years to avoid the high tariffs imposed by the Canadian government.

SCHOOL LUNCHEONS. According to a report in the Star last evening, the problem of lunches for school children may be solved by the public schools themselves. It would be a creditable achievement. The school child's lunch has been productive of much perplexity on the part of parents and school authorities and of some disturbance and indignation in the children themselves. The Armstrong manual training school is conducting a cooperative lunch. The experiment was begun two weeks ago and thus far has been successful, and its promoters aver that even when the novelty of the enterprise shall have worn away the cooperative school lunch will continue popular. The Star's report says of the undertaking that, although the object is not to make a profit, the zealous girls behind the movement have already cleared $11, and every one knows that in school days that sum is a fortune. It has been invested in equipment—knives, cups, spoons and other familiar utensils. It was the girls of the cooking classes who started this lunch, and those members of the student body are not only preserving their schoolmates from the ill-effects of the lunchroom so much affected by young pupils, but are enlarging their own experience in the purchase, preparation and service of food.—Washington Star.

for faithful but superannuated servants in such a home, and their are other advantages of such a home which readily suggest themselves.

After due consideration, Miss Walz is of the opinion that the proposed institution should not be managed by any particular society or organization, but by a representative body of women interested in the uplifting of the more unfortunate of their sex.

The project is one in which Miss Walz feels that all the women's societies should take an active interest and have a large representation present at the meeting to be held Dec. 6, at which the plan most generally favored will be adopted.

$35 Black Broadcloth Coats for $24.98

One of the luckiest purchases of the season places in our store 25 of these beautiful black and colored coats at this exceptional price. We offer them to you, right now at the beginning of the season--no waiting until the Winter is half gone--but now we spread before you the greatest money saving opportunity of the season. We could place the coats in regular stock and get regular price for every one and they would be worth it--but we want to sell every one of them in a week. We want to break records in our cloak and suit section--we want to set a high water mark for sales and we are going to do it with these coats--that's the reason for the prices--the plain common sense reason of more business. Gather to yourself the benefit of low prices--leading styles and known quality.

Every Garment Bears the Printzess Label

This assures you quality of the first rank. Every garment is made from fine wool broadcloth, serge and chevots, full 56 inches long and lined to the bottom with good quality satin. Look at the illustrations--or better still, just clip out the garment that appeals to you--bring the clipping down to the store and put the coat to the test of a try-on. "PRINTZESS" garments are noted for their perfect fit at collar, shoulder, front and hip, the test points of all garments. But don't put off buying until the last. We have most sizes now--but we won't have them long at these prices.
