THANKSGIVING DAY DOINGS.

Celebration in All Copper Country Towns Will Be Quiet.

The celebration of Thanksgiving Day opened in the copper country last night with the annual grand ball of the Calumet Engineers at the Calumet Armory.

Thanksgiving Day will be observed generally through the country in a quiet manner, as the only public observance planned for the day are religious.

It is probably true that prisoners in the county jail have as little cause for thanksgiving as any people on earth, but Sheriff Byers does not consider that his prisoners are.

IS LOST FOR FOUR DAYS.

Frank Hodges Spends Three Nights in Woods While Hunting.

News of the terrible experience of Frank Hodges, lost while deer hunting near Silver mountain, was sent to Calumet yesterday by Ping Foster, the noted trapper and guide.

Mr. Hodges, with his brother Ed of Butage, and J. Jeffrey of Calumet were hunting together. Ed Hodges killed a deer and sent Frank to bring it into camp.

Mr. Hodges spent the next day walking aimlessly through a wet snowstorm. His clothing was soon soaked through and when the second night overtook him his matches were wet and he had to spend the night stamping around on his feet to keep from freezing.

Mrs. Foster heard the shots from camp and told her husband that night that she thought some one was lost. Ping started out the next morning.

Foster walked fourteen miles from his camp when he ran into Mr. Hodges, but on the opposite side of the Sturgeon, which was running swift at this point.

Red Jacket was born near Geneva, N. Y., in 1761, and succeeded the great Brant as chief of the Wolf tribe of the Seneca "nation."

Red Jacket was a brave warrior, distinguished himself during the revolutionary war.

In 1784 a conference was held at Fort Stanwix to discuss a treaty between the Six Nations and the United States.

Red Jacket argued fiercely against such a treaty and used all his wonderful eloquence to avert it.

The business meeting will be held in the Kauch block, and in the evening the ladies of St. Joseph's parish will serve supper in the new parish hall.

Several high officers of the order will be present, the most noted of whom will be High Chief Ranger Thomas as H. Cannon of Chicago.

Red Jacket gave far more than "value received" for the Washington medal.

Under the rule of the Caesars only a narrow circle knew of the vices and sins of the past.

Red Jacket was as wise as he was cowardly. He foresaw that soon or late the once powerful Indian would be crushed under the advance of progress.

The jury in the Riel-Gauthier case Tuesday night brought in a verdict of $1,500 in favor of Riel.

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies the sound health-giving, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it probably better FOR HIM--it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

RED JACKET A BAD INDIAN. JAMES HENDERSON LOCATED

Story of the Man for Whom Populous Copperdon Village Is Named.

The village of Red Jacket and the Red Jacket mine or shaft were named after the famous Indian, a Seneca, Red Jacket, whose real name was Sagoyewatha.

The tall, stately young Seneca, Sagoyewatha, was the fleetest runner among the Indian scouts employed by the British in the revolutionary war.

BUTTE GOSSIP ON THE COMBINE.

Amalgamated Needs North Butte and Butte Coalition to Keep Its Position.

Whatever other phases there may be to the proposed copper combine, the suggestion that it will include an absorption of the Cole-Ryan companies in the proposed re-arrangement of interests, writes the Butte correspondent of the Boston Commercial.

The North Butte has been a remarkably low cost producer, and if the lessive vein, which will shortly be opened on the 2,300-foot level, shows up satisfactorily at that depth, the former low cost of production, about eight cents per pound, will likely be reduced again.

Both the North Butte and Butte Coalition are producing copper at a rate close to 40,000,000 pounds per annum, the former now at a cost under nine cents per pound, and the Coalition at a cost of a fraction under ten cents per pound.

COPPER METAL MARKET.

In its issue of yesterday, the Boston Financial News published the following: While it is doubtless true that the rise in the price of copper metal the past week or so has been brought about to a large extent by the proposed consolidation of copper properties, leading producers maintain that the improvement in the general business situation is also an important factor.

Water is Impure

Superintendent Kern has received an analysis of a sample of water taken from the intake at the water works plant Nov. 15, from the results of which the secretary of the state board of health says that the sample contained more than traces of sewage contamination and that it is distinctly unsafe in its present condition. The sample was taken during the storm last week.

Asks About Marquette—Officers of the Commercial club have received a letter from a New York firm, asking what Marquette could offer a company that proposes to manufacture roller bearings for all kinds of machinery. The letter states that the company expects to employ 150 men at the start and to increase that number later. Nothing is known locally about the company or how they came to write to this city about establishing a plant.

Lights Expected Tonight

It was stated yesterday afternoon at the office of the light and power commission that the water wheel would in all probability be repaired before tonight so that current for lights could be supplied as usual. The castings were finished by the Lake Shore Engine works early yesterday afternoon and men were working all last night putting them in place in the wheel. Unless the unexpected happens, the plant will be in full operation some time today.

Not Sullivan's Picture—It is not Dan Sullivan's picture in the Hotel Clifton's Thanksgiving dinner advertisement in today's paper, though there may be a striking resemblance to the genial landlord of that hostelry. The canoe and pipe are said to be the ones Dan used when he caught that big fish in the Au Train river last summer, and the knives opposite may be what he uses to prepare that heavenly fish for level fast. Any other questions, Anxious Reader?

Former Decisions Upheld

A decision from the secretary of the interior upholding the decisions of the Marquette land office and the general land commissioner at Washington was received at the local land office yesterday in the case of Theresa Bernard against Oliver Clieh. This suit involved 180 acres in Sands township. Miss Bernard asked for the cancellation of Clieh's entry, on the ground that he had failed to establish residence in the manner prescribed by law. The decision upholds Miss Bernard's contention and the entry has been cancelled.

Firemen Had Big Time—At least 150 couples attended the firemen's hall at Fraternity Hall last evening and the party was generally voted to have been the most enjoyable yet given by the hose company. Troumbly's orchestra furnished the music for the long program, which included several dances, a firemen's march, the grand march, which took place about 10:30, was led by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Maney, T. J. Downs and Mrs. John Siegel. The elaborate decorations showed up to splendid advantage, features being the electric bell, over which incandescent lamps read "M. F. D."; an immense umbrella in the center of the hall, from which was suspended numerous small bells, and the paintings representing firemen in various acts of heroism. About 1 o'clock a fine lunch was served in the lodge rooms over the dance hall by Our Lady Victory Court of Foresters.

TOWN NAME PECULIAR.

Little Missouri Settlement is Flourishing, Nevertheless.

"Name it something peculiar," was the closing phrase in a letter we received from the postoffice department a score of years ago when half a dozen names had been suggested and were all turned down by the department, for our little town in Cass county, Mo., said William Pantz, a grain and stock man of that place.

"Well to make a long story short, we took the word 'peculiar' and sent it back to the postoffice department. They approved it and 'peculiar' we named it, and it has been known as that ever since. 'We have a good town and don't mind how many jokes people crack at our expense. The more they talk about us the faster we grow.'—Kansas City Times.

Accepts a Call from Missouri—Rev. Baxter Waters has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Presbyterian church at Newberry, having accepted a call tendered him by a church at Lathrop, Mo. He has been at Newberry the past fifteen months. He went there from Duluth.

Bullet Pierced His Coat—Hunting in the vicinity of Caspim, Schoolcraft county, Frank Dupois of that place had a narrow escape from being killed when he was shot at by some man who evidently mistook him for a deer. The ball entered the cuff of his coat and came out at the elbow, without injuring the arm.

Small Girl's Novel Pet—A deer a few months of age is the property of Edna Sparks, six years old, of Kinross, Chippewa county. The little girl found the fawn about an hour after its birth and insisted upon having it taken to her home, where she has since cared for it, bringing it up on a bottle. The two are great chums and play together as two children.

Must Be Strong in Discipline—The following notice is being published in Dickinson county: "owing to the resignation of the teacher at Granite Bluff, there is a vacancy in that position. Applications should be made to A. J. Trevarthen, Quinnesec, or to E. L. Parmenter, Iron Mountain. A teacher strong in discipline is required. Successful experience necessary. The records of applicants will be investigated. No applications considered from those now under contract, expressed or implied."

Biggest Deer of the Season—W. J. Bell holds the record for the largest deer killed this season by Sault St. Marie hunters. He went in the woods near Rudyard the other day, and before 3 o'clock had filled his license, one of the pair, a buck, weighing 300 pounds. Mr. Bell is one of the most successful hunters at the Soo, and for the past twenty years has never failed in getting all the deer allowed by law during the open season.

New Plant Contracted For

The Prescott company of Menominee has closed a contract to install a complete new mill for the L. Stephenson Lumber company, at Wells, Delta county. The Wells mill was recently destroyed by fire and it has been decided to replace it with one of the largest and most complete plants of the kind in the Northwest. The equipment will include four band mills, one re-saw, one rift machine and all auxiliary machinery.

Fine Grocery Building—The National Grocery company is this week moving into the fine new building it has erected at Escanaba. The structure is a model of neatness and convenience. It has a frontage of eighty feet, is 140 feet deep and has four stories, including the basement. The offices occupy the entire front of the first floor and are handsomely finished in golden oak. The building has two separate and complete heating plants, and it also has a cold storage department.

Forging to the Front—William McCance, son of Samuel McCance of the Soo, and who was employed as operator in the Western Union Telegraph office at the Lock City until last summer, when he went to Montreal and was employed in the Canadian Pacific railway offices, has received the appointment of telegraph operator in the house of commons of Ottawa. He picked up the business while messenger boy in the Soo office, working at the instrument at every spare moment.

Was a Pioneer Settler

William Miles, whose death has occurred at Ontonagon, was one of the very oldest pioneers of the upper peninsula. He was born in Montreal, Canada, April 20, 1843, and went to Ontonagon with Captain Parker in 1848 when he was fifteen years of age. Dec. 23, 1856, he was married to Mrs. Sarah O'Donnell. Twelve children were born to this couple, only three of whom survive—Mrs. Lizzie Merceau of Greenland and Mrs. Frank Hahn and George Miles.

Christmas Trees Scarce—Captain Martin Coyne has been at St. Ignace the past week with his schooner, the Marletta, getting a cargo of Christmas trees, as has been his wont for a number of years. The trees are taken to Chicago, where there is an excellent market for them. The captain has found it very difficult to get his supply this year and has succeeded in securing only about one-half the usual number. The scarcity is attributed to the forest fires and the progress of the work of the lumbering interests.

The Late James Norton—James Norton, the well-known lumberman of Ewen, Ontonagon county, and who died, three weeks ago, was born in Roscommon county, Ireland, Feb. 14, 1843, coming to this country in 1863, arriving in Marquette, where he engaged in the smelting business until 1871. He then went west in the prospecting and contracting business and later acted as superintendent of the Richmond Consolidated Smelting Works at Eureka, Nevada, subsequently holding the same position in the Le Grand mine of Mexico. In 1874 he married Miss Mary J. Garritty, which union was blessed with nine children, seven of whom, together with their mother, survive him—Miss Alice, who teaches school at Ontonagon; James, Jr., and William, who have been assisting in their father's logging operations; Miss Eleanor, who is attending the University of Michigan; and Margaret, Katherine and Arthur at home. From the west he removed to Ewen, where he engaged in the lumbering and contracting business, which he followed very successfully up to his death. He also leaves to mourn his loss, three brothers—Dennis J. Norton and Bernard Norton of Ontonagon and Patrick Norton of North Dakota. The deceased served as postmaster at Ewen for several years. He was ever alert in everything tending towards the advancement of the community in which he lived, and as approval of his efforts was five times elected supervisor from his township, voluntarily retiring a year ago.

Our advantage over other dealers in manufacturing our own clothing, being in direct touch with the woolen market and style origin, is so pronounced that even the lay mind can readily grasp its significance. MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Although the price movements were rather confusing during the day's session, the stock market as a whole displayed a better tone than has been witnessed for the past few days. New York Central was sold freely by traders who anticipated the same action in the issue as was witnessed in Pennsylvania after the announcement of its new stock issue. The copper metal stocks were easily the feature, and there seemed to be considerable replacement of the lines liquidated on past declines, in view of persistent reports to the effect that markets were progressing favorably in regard to the proposed consolidation. The foreign markets were slightly firmer, and there was not much in the news of the day to account for the action of the market, excepting that sentiment was greatly improved. We still feel that advantage should be taken of the recovery of the lighter lines, particularly of the high priced issues.

Closing prices were as follows:

The number of shares sold during the day were as follows:

Writing from Boston yesterday, Paine, Webber & Co. had the following to say of the stock market:

HERALDOM OF GIRLS; THE HORROR OF INDIA. More Than Ten Million Wives Under Fourteen Years of Age—Betrothed at Four, Married at Seven, Mothers at Twelve.

New York, Nov. 24.—Where is womanhood crushed lowest? In India. And 25,000 American women, representing all sections of the United States are fighting for the women of India. "Here is now the most crushed and most helpless women in all the world," Mrs. Caroline P. Wallace reports from Calcutta, India. It is to Miss J. M. Holmes and Mrs. Wallace, both of Los Angeles, Cal., who visited India as travelers eight years ago, that these 25,000 American women owe their gratitude for an opportunity to fight for the most hopeless womanhood in the world. When Miss Holmes and Mrs. Wallace saw the terrible condition in India, they immediately organized the Indo-American Woman's Restoration league.

The child wife system of India is terrible. India is a nation born of babies; child wifehood, child motherhood, child widowhood—which means that the girl whose husband dies never marries again and must live in seclusion—are the most terrible things that women are called upon to suffer anywhere today on the face of the earth.

Statistics taken in recent years in India show that at that time 358,780 baby girls under fourteen years of age were betrothed. There were 2,201,404 wives whose ages ranged from five to nine years. There were 8,105,759 wives whose ages ranged from ten to fourteen years—in all 10,307,163 wives under fourteen years of age. Hundreds of women were sold by their parents for a few rupees. The faces of India women are the saddest sight the traveler sees on his round-the-world tour. It is a land of stately ruins, an architecture that is the marvel of men, but in the very shadow of its dream like, beautiful Taj-Mahal, there are practices of licentiousness, suffering and degradation inflicted upon its little children, inconceivable to the European mind unless actually witnessed and impossible to set forth in bald language.

"There is no mercy or tenderness shown to these poor child-wives by the brutal husband, who is too often a man of middle age and death is not the infrequent consequence of her sufferings. When the helpless victim is being led pitilessly to the parents that children intuitively seek in extremity the inexorable laws of caste and the superstitions of her religion compel the mother to close her ears and steel her heart against the little one's appeal from a terror she does not understand and she returned to her lord and owner, who knows no impulse but the prompting of his brute-like instincts."

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—There was profit-taking in the December wheat today, but it was offset to some extent by unfavorable crop reports from Argentina and the light primary receipts in this country. There was considerable weakness at times. The final quotations were 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher compared with the previous close. Liquidation of the December long was one of the chief features of the trading, and as a result of this selling pressure the premium on this option over the May was cut down materially. A report that a leading elevator interest had purchased in the neighborhood of one million bushels of Duluth and Nebraska wheat to be shipped here for delivery on December contracts was partly responsible for the heaviness of the nearby options. The December opened at 108 1/4; highest, 108 3/4; lowest, 108 1/4; closing, 108 3/4.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s Chicago's correspondent had this to say concerning yesterday's wheat market: "There was splendid action in wheat prices both early and late, which no doubt proved quite expensive to local traders who attempted to keep track of what the leaders were doing on the one hand and the legitimate news on the other. Cash wheat was strong and higher at St. Louis, and cash wheat premiums in the Northwest continued very firm. There has been considerable liquidation and evening up in the December. We advise, as before, the buying side of May wheat on forced breaks while this month is at such a discount under December and cash wheat."

Cotton Market.

Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say of yesterday's cotton market: "The professionals were against the market almost to a man today and talked and acted very bearish. One prominent firm took a decided stand and issued an extremely pessimistic view of the situation. Members of the exchange averaged 11,241,000 bales for a crop estimate, while a prominent newspaper in the Middle West had 10,157,000 as its view. In the meantime the movement for day is running so much smaller than a year ago that the statistical position shows a radical relative improvement and the lodged long interest in the contract market is very patient for expected results which should follow actual facts. We see no reason for fear of results ultimately, but at the same time do not encourage resistance to the momentary pessimism which prevails, and would think it wise to permit it to run its natural course and exhaust itself."

HARD-WON HARVESTS.

Cultivation of the soil under a climate like ours invariably partakes of the nature of a gamble. The manufacturer, as a rule, can calculate the risks he has to run, and, if he is an adept, avoid them. Not so the farmer. Forces utterly beyond his control may undo the best of his work—English Country Life.

TOO FAT TO BE PUT IN CELL. Man Breaks Law by Selling Liquor, but Is Just Fined.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 24.—Dan Wadsworth profited again by the advantage he has over every other ordinary citizen in Connecticut—he can't be put in a cell. Dan weighs 436 pounds.

When a man is convicted for a third time of selling liquor illegally in this state it is customary to send him to jail rather than to impose a fine. But when Dan was taken before Judge Clark for sentence after conviction Judge Clark could only impose a stiff fine.

AIRSHIPS AMONG THE NEW TOYS. Cook and Peary Games Also Shown, and Roosevelt in Africa Brings Out Miniature Wild Animals.

The aeroplane toys promised last summer by the inventors, following upon the successful flights of the aviators, will make their appearance in the shop windows by the first week in December. Most of these are imported, and the models that will be shown are as numerous as those exhibited in recent races at Reims. The French are the leaders in the species of toy making.

Some of these aeroplane toys are very expensive, wholesaling at $10 apiece. These are really toys for the grownups or for boys who have mechanical skill. There are others, however, made to retail at as low a price as thirty-five to fifty cents. These aeroplanes are made for actual flying, the motive power coming from the ordinary steel spring power familiar to toy handlers or in the real cheap ones, from strong rubber bands that are wound round an axis and send the machine whirling for a short distance. American toy makers are turning out a number of these designs also.

The Teddy bear has not been relegated entirely to the rear by Billy Possum or the polar bear that was let loose in toyland when Peary and Cook began their wrangling. The up-to-date Teddy bear of the French make winds up and is calculated to indulge in a number of ludicrous somersaults. Another member of the bear family that is being made in large numbers, and when round stalks majestically about the room, moving one leg at a time in true quadruped fashion, with his red tongue lolling out over a brass muzzle. This is another mechanical toy, cost, 82 cents, which will sell well. It squeaks, rolls its pink eyes and runs around in circles. The automobile and the motor boat models of which appeared in toyland soon after the first machines appeared, are again to be big sellers. The improvement in these toys has kept pace with the inventive genius of the men who make the real articles, and some very expensive models are found in the factories this year. Electric toys of bewildering profusion are being put on the market. One that hails from France consists of a number of mimic soldiers who are made to go through various maneuvers by electricity secured by the familiar medium of cord and socket.

The solid tendency of the German toy manufacturer is illustrated in what is called "The Aerian Navigation Department." The Germans have discovered a new composition known as metoplast, which is harder and permits of finer finish as well as stronger handling than did the old lead and tin toys. The toy spoken of is made in ten series, to retail from fifteen cents up to $5. The collection is a very complete one at the latter price. There is the model of the airship, with officers and regulars of the aerial navigation battalion, now a distinctive part of the German army. One officer is using a portable telephone, another a field glass, another is telegraphing; there is a regular helicopter and even a shed for the airship to be stored in.

Then ingenious toy men have even taken advantage of the Marathon craze and have reproduced what they call the Marathon racer, a coaster for children. It is proclaimed to be a development of the idea the youngsters have evolved by riding in a cramped position on one side of an express wagon, propelling it with the free foot.

The spinning egg and the jumping frog are two new games that threaten to prove popular. By means of a string an egg is made to spin, and the count is made from the number upon which it finally rests. The frog game consists of a catapult that propels a frog against a netting. When properly made the frog catches upon this netting, and the count is based on where it lights. North pole games will be legion, although most of them are based on old ideas. For instance, a board is marked with the route of the various explorers, and the game is to determine which, by a series of movements, can reach the pole and return first in safety. By means of another board, the question of which reached the pole first, Peary or Cook, can easily be settled. A globe is half circled by two sets of figures running from 1 to 6. Peary and Cook, the players, get six markers each, and these take turns in covering the figured disks. If Peary leads out by putting a marker on 6 and Cook follows with one on 3, he announces the total of 9, and the game is continued until won, the victor being the man who can first reach 31 with his marker. There are many variations of old ideas all applied to the toy. Eskimo dolls, Peary and Cook manikin, rubber balls made in the shape of the globe, with all its familiar out-

LAST OF THE STAGE COACHES.

After standing in the alley west of Patterson's livery stable since 1873 the stage coach Sam Houston was torn to pieces recently and the timber cast in a waste heap. The Sam Houston was the victim of city legislation, it having been ordered moved from the alley, but being in such a dilapidated condition it could not be moved. The coach was torn to pieces and another relic of the early Texas days has passed into history.

If the old stage coach could have talked it could have told of some hair-raising events that would probably make the "hood and murder" stories look like thirty cents Mex. It made its first run between Austin and Brenham in the year 1841, when Texas was filled with Indians and bad men. Six and eight miles were driven to the old coach, six being driven in good weather and eight in muddy weather. In its day the Sam Houston was the scene of many a fight and holdup. The wood was marked in numerous places by bullet holes, which were all that remained in history of many of the fights in which the coach was the center of battle. Guards were always carried along with the coach in the early days to prevent Indian attacks and holdups by bad men who wanted to rob the mails. Some time ago a movement was started to have the Sam Houston preserved as a historic relic of early Texas days, but the move failed to bear fruit and now it is too late.

The Sam Houston made its last run from San Antonio to Austin in 1873. It was abandoned and had to get out of the way, for the railroad took its place, and now it had to be taken out of the alley because it was deemed unsightly and in the way.—Austin Statesman.

CROWN PRINCE ORDERED OUT.

Albert, the crown prince of Belgium, was ordered out of the dining room of an inn in the Tyrol not long ago and the waitress who did the ordering made him go. He was on an automobile tour and his machine broke down in a rainstorm. He walked several miles to the inn and was a rather dirty-looking man when he arrived. The waitress said he could not eat in her dining room in such clothes, so he had to swallow his pride and go to the restaurant at the railroad station.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION OPENS THIS EVENING

LADIES OF MISSION CONGREGATION WILL SERVE SUPPER IN THE CHURCH BASEMENT TO OVER 300 INVITED GUESTS.

The celebration in commemoration of the thirtieth anniversary of the Mission church society of this city will open this evening with a supper served in the basement of the church by the ladies of the congregation. Over three hundred invitations have been issued. The serving will begin at 5 o'clock and will end at 7. At 8 o'clock the jubilee concert will take place.

It is expected that all of the visiting clergymen who are to take part in the meetings to be held the next four days will arrive in the city today. Several former pastors will be here, and Rev.

John Skogberg, for thirty years a member of the board of trustees of the Mission Church.

Mons J. Eggan, who was reared in Ishpeming, is coming from Austin, Ills. After leaving school here Mr. Eggan worked for some years for Myers, Wright & Co., leaving the former's employ some twenty years ago to enter the Union Theological seminary, where he studied for six years, when he was ordained. During the first ten years after leaving the seminary he was the pastor of the Mission church at Moline, Ills. He went from that city to Hartford, Conn., and remained there until he accepted the call at Austin.

The members of the congregation regret very much that Rev. C. A. Bjork, president of the Swedish Evangelical Mission Covenant of America, is not able to be present. Mr. Bjork is over seventy years of age, but is still actively engaged in church work. O. Hogfeldt, editor of the Mission paper, published in Chicago, will be one of the more prominent speakers. Mr. Hogfeldt is a former resident of Ishpeming, having worked in the mines here some twenty-seven years ago. He was one of the early parishioners.

Among the former pastors expected to arrive this morning are Rev. Gust Anderson of Minneapolis and Rev. Andrew

O. Hogfeldt, editor of the Mission paper, who worked in the mines of Ishpeming more than a quarter of a century ago.

Bishop David H. Moore of Cincinnati, Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis.; Samuel Dickie, president of Albion college, Albion, Mich.; Dr. Frank E. Day, and other clergymen will conduct an educational convention at the First Methodist Episcopal church in this city today and tomorrow. The meeting will be held under the direction of Rev. D. D. The convention will open at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon with a Thanksgiving tea, to be served by the ladies of the congregation in the basement of the church. At 7 o'clock a program will be given.

Rev. C. L. Adams, the pastor, received word from Bishop Moore yesterday, advising him that he will be able to speak here but once, that at tonight's meeting, as he will be obliged to leave the city again tomorrow morning.

ELMER JEFFERY'S FUNERAL.

Obsequies Yesterday Attended by Many Relatives and Friends.

The funeral of the late Elmer E. Jeffery, who died Sunday night from appendicitis, was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home, corner of Fourth and North streets. The services were conducted by Rev. M. M. Allen, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The remains were borne to the vault at the cemetery and were followed by a large cortege of sorrowing relatives and friends.

As soon as the bereaved wife has regained her strength, the body will be taken to Green Bay, the former home of the deceased, for interment. It is expected that it will be possible to make the transfer within a week or ten days. Mrs. Jeffery will return to her former home at DePere, Wis.

The relatives from out of town who attended the funeral were Mrs. Flora Jeffery of Green Bay, Wis., mother of the deceased; Mrs. Andrew Wishart, of Green Bay; sister; George Jeffery, of Menasha, Wis., and Clarence Jeffery of Vicksburg, Mich.; brothers; Fred Witzel of DePere; Lillian Wishart of Green Bay and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Witzel, of Green Bay, father, sister and brother and sister-in-law, respectively, of Mrs. Jeffery; and Miss Rose Fenstermaker and Wilson and Charley Fenstermaker, of DePere. Most of the relatives departed for their home last evening. The others will stay here with Mrs. Jeffery until the remains are taken to Green Bay.

DOG WORKS FOR CHARITY.

London Jack Collects Funds for Support of Orphan Asylum.

In a fine large case in Waterloo station stands a lifeless dog fully equipped with the working harness by which he raised hundreds of dollars during his long and busy life, writes Jessie Akerman in the World Evangelist. A hollow saddle was strapped over his back, upon which may be read in bold characters, "London Jack, Collector for the Railroad Employee's Orphan Asylum." An opening in the case provided a means of contributing to the cause and helping in the support of the hundred and fifty children who are deprived of a father's care through accident in the service of the public.

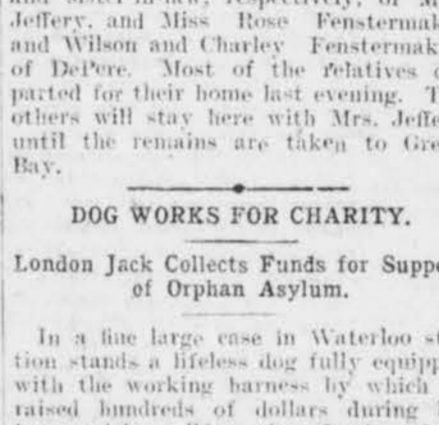

While traveling not long since, as our train steamed into the station, before it came to a full stop, the face of a great black dog appeared at the open window. As we moved slowly along, he kept up with the train, repeating his clever trick of looking in at first one

Rev. Andrew Anderson, a former pastor of the Mission Church.

DOG WILL DIVE.

A dog owned by Professor George Binks, the clever slack wire performer who is appearing this week with the Koxe Vandeville company, will make a dive in front of the theater this afternoon at 2 o'clock. A ladder will be placed on top of the portico in front of the main entrance and the dog will jump from the top of it to the street, a plunge of some thirty five or forty feet. The dog will climb the ladder unaided and will jump at the command of his master. The Koxe company will give matinee and evening performances to-day, it will lay off tomorrow night, giving way to "The Alaskan."

steamed out of sight the panting, excited dog walked over to a bench upon which was seated a woman who seemed to have him in charge. She removed the bank, counted the contents and found that a little over thirty dollars had been collected that afternoon.

It was interesting to see how seriously this dog takes himself. It is said that "we brand ourselves with our own trademark." This wise animal has stamped himself with his own value, and nothing could be more suggestive of brute instinct than the dignified deportment of Jack at the close of a day's work.

I chanced to pass the orphanage a few days after, and through the interest awakened by Jack, I looked in upon the well-housed, well-fed hundred and fifty happy youngsters, and as I saw the contrasting condition to that of the thousands of slum children, I felt sorry that every group of one hundred and fifty helpless children did not have so true and so beloved a friend as London Jack.

A BAFLED INTENTION.

According to the irreconcilable Houston Post, "The Lord intended the offices for the Democrats."

At the same time, it is believed that the successful candidates of the other party will continue to entertain the impression that the election officers' certificates outweigh divine intentions.

In England a dog used to guide a blind person is exempt from taxation.

Rev. C. A. Bjork, who is at the head of the Mission Church in United States and Canada.

THE SULTAN'S PALACES.

Abdul Hamid, like all his predecessors, has had a mania for building. The European visiting Turkey for the first time is astounded at the number of white gleaming palaces which line either side of the Bosphorus. And in every city of the empire there is a kiosk set apart for the sultan, which he never visits, all of them palatial abodes, filled with choice furniture, rare marbles, mirrors and lustres from Venice, mosaics from Florence and Rome, with deepplush carpets, soft and velvety as fur. These magnificent residences are nonnally guarded by major-domos, who live there with their families in comfortable dress and ease and with only one object in life—that of maintaining their places.

SECTION 30 IS VERY PROMISING

RICH ORE BODY HAS FINALLY BEEN DISCOVERED ON VERMILION TRACT IN WHICH GEO. LONSTORF IS INTERESTED.

Section 30, near Ely, Minn., where George Lonstorf of Milwaukee, formerly of Negaunee, and Lou Merritt, Richard Fagan, W. Eaton and L. C. Harris of Duluth, the fee owners, spent over $1,000,000 before securing control of the property, and upon which nearly that much more had been spent in development and prospecting work, now gives promise of being worth many times more than was spent on it.

It is said that if the present practically prohibitive prices for butter continue to intensify, so to speak, oleomargarine may become a staple upon the tables of the moderately well-to-do as well as poor people.

It is predicted that shipments from this new property next season will exceed 100,000 tons, provided the extension of the Duluth Iron Range railway from Winton to Selkirk is completed in time to begin forwarding over at the opening of the season.

LARGE ACREAGE IS DEEDED TO STATE

FOUR HUNDRED DESCRIPTIONS DELINQUENT FOR TAXES NOW OWNED BY MICHIGAN.

MINERAL RIGHTS RESERVED

Tracts Suitable for Agriculture Will Be Offered for Sale in Due Time at Appraised Value.

Notice was received at the county treasurer's office yesterday that certain lands in Marquette county, delinquent for taxes, had been deeded to the state by the auditor general.

At the last session of the legislature, radical changes were made in the law governing lands in Michigan delinquent for taxes, as the result of which it is expected that such lands will be disposed of more rapidly than in the past.

This commission has power and jurisdiction over and has the management, control and disposition of all public lands and leases, all of the duties that heretofore fell upon the Michigan Forestry commission.

Land to Be Appraised.

Once these lands have been turned over to the state, the next work of the commission is to appraise and sell such lands as are adapted for agricultural purposes and may create such lands as are not fit for agriculture into forestry reserves.

When any sales are made by or under the direction of the commission, the deeds shall reserve all mineral, coal, oil and gas rights to the state—a feature which will be of particular interest to prospective buyers in the upper peninsula and especially in this county.

Sold at County Seat. When the commission determines to offer certain lands under its control at public sale, such lands shall be offered at the county seat of the respective counties in which the lands are located.

Just like the chorus in the old "Climes of Normandy," for the last two weeks it has been proclaimed "they say" that turkeys are going to be out of sight this year.

One dealer stated yesterday that he had experienced no difficulty in getting all the turkeys and poultry he wanted, and that the quality was better than usual.

For those to whom the price of a turkey looks like a mountain there are chickens and ducks, and from the large sales of poultry reported last night, it appears that there are comparatively few people in Marquette who will not enjoy a good dinner today, and who do not have many things to be thankful for.
