FIRE DEPARTMENT'S LOSS.

Second Horse to Die This Fall Is the New One Recently Bought.

"Chief," one of the Houghton fire department horses, died yesterday morning at 8 o'clock and is already in the equines' last resting place, the garbage grounds. No one at the horse house yesterday could tell of what malady the animal died.

The horse was purchased about two weeks ago at a cost of $325, to replace one which had died. The department considered it had secured a good animal, but it is now believed that at the time it was purchased it had some unsuspected disorder.

The Hancock fire department also lost a valuable horse this week.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

There is nothing that causes more worry and discomfort than a chronic, festering ulcer. As it lingers, slowly eating into the tissues and surrounding flesh, and by its tendency to grow worse in every way, it suggests the possibility of being cancerous in its nature.

Efforts to heal the ulcer by means of salves, ointments, and other remedies, because such treatment can have no possible effect on the blood where the impurities and morbid matters form, and are carried through the circulation to the place, to keep it open, irritated and diseased.

The impurities in the blood must be removed before the healing process can begin. S. S. S. goes to the fountain-head of the trouble, and drives out the germ-producing poisons and morbid impurities which keep the ulcer open.

Then, as this rich, purified blood is carried to the diseased place the healing commences, the inflammation gradually leaves, the discharge ceases, new tissue and healthy flesh are formed, and soon the sore is permanently cured because the source has been destroyed.

S. S. S. does not make a surface cure, but by supplying the blood with healthy, life-giving properties it begins at the bottom and causes the flesh at the diseased spot to firmly and permanently knit together, and the place is left sound and well.

ALBION COLLEGE BANQUET. Ladies of the Calumet M. E. Church Will Entertain for Divines.

Bishop Moore, Dr. Plantz, president of the Lawrence (Wis.) university; Dr. Dickie, president of Albion college, and Dr. Martin, secretary of that college, are to conduct in Calumet tomorrow a convention for the purpose of promoting interest in the college.

The change is made because of an informal ruling by Luther L. Wright, state superintendent of public instruction, who stated at the recent meeting of school officers in Houghton that the school boards had no right to create holidays and that school work could be suspended only on days commonly and generally observed as legal holidays.

THINGS MEN DO.

Most Important Results of Life Often Merely Incidental.

The most important results of our lives are often those which we think of as merely incidental, and indeed we notice them at all. Men have slaved on, year after year, perfecting a piece of machinery which they dreamed would revolutionize the factories of the world.

One day they stumbled, seemingly on a simple contrivance that they thought quite unimportant; but that trivial device has later been counted by the world as the main work of their lives.

Men are nearly always mistaken in the relative estimates they put on different parts of their work, says a writer in the Sunday School Times. This is often seen in reading the lives of literary workers. The volume or poem which they held to be their masterpiece was not infrequently rescued from oblivion at the whim of some competent judges, while verses they wrote, perhaps in some moment of leisure have spoken to men's hearts and can never die.

George Matheson wrote many devotional and theological books, each of which required hard toil to perfect, but one evening after a time of great mental suffering, he produced in five minutes a little poem that is in the hands of the world just as he wrote it, save for the subsequent change of one word. It, when he wrote these verses, had been asked what he considered his most important contribution to the religious thought of his time, he would probably have pointed to one of his many valuable volumes; but, while his "Portraits of Christ" may be forgotten, whereas men and women have suffered and found companionship and strength in Christ, there will they sing, "O love that will not let me go."

Cardinal Newman was one of the great religious controversialists of his time, and wrote many learned volumes. Who reads them now? He wrote one little hymn, "Lead kindly light," and though it was one of the smallest in compass of any of his work, it will live on unimpaired in the hearts of men wherever the soul longs for God.

Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m., 36 degrees; noon, 37; 7 p. m., 33. Maximum, 41 degrees; minimum, 35.
Today's weather: Light to moderate north-west winds with local snow and colder.
J. F. Hutt of Manistique is in the city on business.
R. C. Young and family spent Thanksgiving in Escanaba.
Miss Roh left to visit relatives in Centralia, Ills., last evening.
Austin Farrell and Dr. E. J. Hudson left for Chicago on business last evening.
Mrs. George Mackey left yesterday to spend the winter with relatives in lower Michigan.
Oscar Levin of Hancock spent Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Levin.
The Young Woman's guild of St. Paul's church will meet in Guild Hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon.
There was nothing doing at either of the ore docks yesterday, though several vessels were in port.
Thanksgiving passenger traffic on the Marquette railroads has been very light, according to local agents.
The Degree of Honor will give a card party at Keough's Hall at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The public is invited.
The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pearce, 341 West Bluff street.
The Woman's society of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual praise meeting in the church parlors at 3 o'clock this afternoon.
Local fishermen report that the catch of herring has been exceptionally good so far this season, though the stormy weather has been hard on the nets.
St. Peter's Church Fair—At the St. Peter's church fair at Baraga Hall this evening, the Young Ladies' sodality will serve an oyster supper, beginning at 5:30 o'clock. There will be music during the supper, and afterwards, at 8 o'clock, Miss Lillian Cartier will give a program of vocal and instrumental numbers. The fair is being well patronized. It will close tomorrow evening.
Goes Higher Up—The current number of the Railway Age contains the announcement that G. H. Collier, formerly a resident of this city, has been promoted to the position of assistant superintendent of the Oregon Short line, one of the foremost of Pacific coast railroads. Mr. Collier was for some time a train despatcher on the South Shore and employed in the Marquette office.
Thanksgiving at Prison—Thanksgiving at the branch prison yesterday was observed with a sumptuous dinner, cooked and served under the direction of Chef J. L. Dungan. The men were given yard privileges and made the day one of great enjoyment. Strange to say there was not a man who was paying the penalty of misconduct and every one of the prisoners was allowed to take part in the Thanksgiving festivities.
Light Turned on Again—The broken school at the power plant of the city light and power commission, which has left the residences of the city in darkness for several nights, was repaired yesterday afternoon. In order to make the repairs as quickly as possible men have been at work almost constantly since the break. The lights last evening were unusually bright and it is thought there will be no more trouble.
Married Twenty-Five Years—Thirty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Bertrand unexpectedly gathered at their West Michigan street home last evening to assist in the celebration of their silver wedding anniversary. The visitors brought an abundance of gifts with them and the evening was most enjoyably spent in cards and other games. Before the self-invited guests departed, they presented Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand with a beautiful silver tea service.
Little Basketball Talk—There seems to be very little talk of basketball, considering that the season is getting well advanced. The Marquette City team organized some time ago but no games have been played as yet and there has been no public announcement of any having been scheduled. The game between the M. C. M. and the Ferguson Business college last week was attended by a large crowd and demonstrated that the game has a large number of followers in the city. Many of the players seem to want a city league, but there seems to be no one to make the first move for its organization. There are quite a number of teams that would probably be glad to join a league, but unless someone starts the ball rolling soon, the winter will have slipped away without anything being done.
Preparing for Christmas—With Thanksgiving out of the way, local merchants will now get busy in earnest in preparation for their Christmas trade. Many consignments of goods have already been received but few of the novelties have as yet been unpacked and displayed on the counters. Merchants are expecting an unusually good trade and have bought a large selection of holiday goods that should be able to satisfy the most exacting purchaser. It may not be amiss to repeat the annual advice to do your Christmas shopping early, while the lines are unbroken and the clerks have time to give you better attention than they will be able to later. The stores will shortly begin taking on feet to keep open more evenings in the week. Christmas comes on Saturday this year.

THANKSGIVING NOW AND IN OLDEN DAYS
OUR FOREFATHERS WERE THANKFUL FOR HAVING BEEN SPARED FROM THE TOMAHAWK; TODAY WE REJOICE IN PROSPERITY.
A comparison of the Thanksgiving Day of colonial times with that observed quietly in the homes of Marquette people yesterday reminds one very forcibly that Thanksgiving is not as it was in the days of Miles Standish and the puritan fathers. No longer does the festive red man, with his penchant for lifting scalps, shooting prisoners full of blazing arrows, burning the white man's dwellings and making himself generally disliked, play any part in the day's proceedings. The pursuit of the red man, which furnished such frequent diversion for our forefathers, caused each of them who found his forelock in its natural place when another year had rolled around, instead of ornamenting the belt of some crafty Indian, to offer up a prayer of thanksgiving on the day set aside for that purpose, has given away to the chase after the all-night dollar, often no less elusive than the copper-colored, feather-bedecked warrior who would seemingly rise out of the ground and disappear from view in the twinkling of an eye. Now he who gathers with his fellow-men to offer up thanksgiving is prone to attribute his lot to the degree of prosperity he has enjoyed during the year, rather than that he has been spared from the tomahawk of marauding Indians.
Ask him to tramp long miles through the snow to church, as was the custom of his forefathers, and he would plead another engagement. It is sufficient that he boards a street car, walking a block or so at each end of the line, if need be. In the average mind the occasion is associated chiefly with the close of the football season and the assurance that a plentiful repast will be served some time during the twenty-four hours without any undue exertion on his part.
There's a reason for this, too. In the good old days, of which we hear so much, it was customary upon the approach of Thanksgiving for the head of the household to don his buckskin and bullet horn, shoulder the flintlock blunderbuss and sally forth into the forest in quest of game for the Thanksgiving dinner. Now the housewife steps to the telephone, calls up the market, and in due season the butcher's boy hands her the choicest of fowls already ready for the oven. Accompanying it are all the little delicacies that count for so much in a repast of this kind, ready to be served without fuss or flurry on the part of the housewife.
Possibly romance has been eliminated from Thanksgiving. Certainly the observance of the day is vastly different and far less thrilling than in the times when every man and boy carried his trusty gun to church, and while he returned thanks for past blessings kept a sharp lookout for Indians. But even advocates of the strenuous life and those whose delight is in the chase will admit that the present system has advantages over the old way.

CHICAGO'S HOPE OF FIVE MILLIONS
Francis A. Eastman, the city statistician, predicts that in the year 1941 Chicago will have five million inhabitants. In the light of past predictions we must hold, modestly, that Mr. Eastman is given to moderation in his prophecy. In 1849 or thereabouts one of the early residents of Chicago, looking with a proper pride on the families that were moving in weekly, said that, while others might laugh, it was his firm belief that in fifty years Chicago would have seventy-five thousand people within its borders. The seventy-five thousand were here with a good many more thousands to make the measure run over. Ordinarily it is only the man staking out residence and business lots in a prairie-dog village who lets the prophetic desire master his sense. In the seventeenth century John Evelyn looked on London and said it was growing fast, and that he feared it might grow faster. He added that there were too many people in the city already to bear proper proportion to the population of the rest of the island. It would be interesting to know what Evelyn thinks of London today, if he can see it through the fog and smoke as he looks down on it from above. Evelyn was a man of good habit of life. Our chief statistician is to be commended for his modesty, which is in keeping with the Chicago spirit, not given to vain boasting. It is easy traveling to the five-million mark and the road is no harder ahead.—Chicago Evening Post.

HOPKINS PORTRAYED AS STOCK JUGGLER

Deals of Former Ishpeming Broker Had Queer Angles, According to Witnesses Who Appear in Court Against Him.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Wallace Hopkins, the former stockholder, once of Ishpeming, Mich., was denounced yesterday by his alleged victims during his trial on charges of using the United States mail to defraud.

How He Is Said to Have Played Some of His Alleged Victims Against Others in Complicated Transactions Involving the Use of Securities Bought for Patrons as Collateral to Negotiate Loans Is Related at the Trial of the Man in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Wallace Hopkins, the former stockholder, once of Ishpeming, Mich., was denounced yesterday by his alleged victims during his trial on charges of using the United States mail to defraud.

Foiled by Promises. "How did you come to give your money to Hopkins?" asked Assistant District Attorney William R. Medaris, conducting the examination of Miss Lamb.

Kept Stock; Sold Collateral. Mrs. Treloar said she bought $1,100 worth of copper stock and put up collateral with Hopkins to guarantee the purchase.

George C. Bent, who lives in Portland, N. M., but who lived in Oskosh when he invested his money through the Oskosh branch office of the Hopkins company, told of a tangled deal in which he lost $4,512.50.

Correspondence showing Bent's efforts to get the stock was introduced in evidence. Besides writing letters Bent said he tried to get his stock by repeated personal talks with Hopkins, who always promised to produce it.

Plenty of Advertising. Harry A. Goldsmith, of Calumet, Mich., advertising manager for Hopkins, was called to the stand for the government.

Very few of the people who are proud possessors of belts, pocketbooks, card-cases, and numerous other articles of snobskin, realize the agony that the demand of civilization for fads has meant to the original owners of the material from which these articles are made.

A RIVER ON A RIDGE.

The Bed of an Oklahoma Stream Higher Than the Surrounding Country.

Save one other, the Yukon in Alaska, the North Canadian river in Oklahoma is the only stream in the United States whose bed has a higher altitude than the country on either side of its course.

The watershed of Oklahoma slopes from the high plains country of the extreme western part of the state eastward to the Arkansas river and in some portions of the state southward and south-easterly to Red river, which separates Oklahoma from Texas.

None of the tributaries of the North Canadian extends further back than five or six miles from its channel. In several instances, notably at Oklahoma City, it is only about two miles northward from the channel of the river to where the watershed of the Cimarron begins.

FIRE DEPARTMENT GIVES FINE PARTY

"THE ALASKAN" TONIGHT.

Wm. P. Cullen's Big Comedy Success Will Be at Ishpeming Theater.

A brand new revised edition of "The Alaskan" new made over into a genuine fun-making musical melange, will be the attraction at the Ishpeming theater tonight. "The Alaskan" has not been seen here before in its present form. It comes from a phenomenal five months' run in Chicago, where the entire press of that city lauded it as "the bulkiest musical show seen there in years." Manager Wm. P. Cullen, who has given the upper peninsula theaters other good things, including "The Burgomaster" and "The Tenderfoot," is the producer, and he has been especially happy in the formation of the present company. The complete Chicago production, intact, will be brought here.

Richard F. Carroll is responsible for many of the new, novel surprises and exclusive features with which "The Alaskan" is so richly laden, and in the part of Walsingham Watt, a stranded theatrical manager, has a part exactly suited to his peculiar talent. Gus Weinburg, as Professor Kaleklobien, is given ample opportunity to extract many laughs with the aid of his "laughing potter," not saying anything about his natural spontaneous humor. Detmar Poppen will be welcomed as Tomam Pole Pete, while John R. Phillips will show his splendid voice to advantage as Richard Atwater. Jessie Stoner as Arlee Easton, Alice Kean as Mrs. Good Better Best, Etta Lockhart as Kukoo, an Eskimo child of nature, also Fairy Plumb as La La La, not forgetting Sidney Algiers in the now famous character of Snowball the Polar bear, will all be seen.

The many new musical interpolations include "Snowballing," in which the entire audience takes part and the self-same audience is allowed to pet back. Then there are "Laughing Potatoes," "Hi Hi Hi," "The Face of the Girl I Love" and many other song bits, including "My Tiram Pole." The large chorus of Eskimo girls and miners is again a strong factor in this season's organization.

The Ishpeming fire department, which for many years past has had the reputation of giving the most successful public dancing parties that are held here, entertained nearly 800 people at its nineteenth annual ball Thanksgiving eve at Braastad's Hall. The firemen's parties are always well managed and this fact is so generally known that people do not hesitate to attend them. As a rule every active member of the department is present in full uniform as was the case Wednesday night. A special order is always issued prior to the ball requesting all members to appear in full uniform and urging them to attend with their families.

Although the grand march, which for many years was a leading feature of the parties, has not been given at recent dances, other enjoyable features have not been overlooked. The firemen's dance is still looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by members of the department as well as others who have but one opportunity each year to participate in it. This dance was first introduced in Ishpeming over thirty years ago by Peter Fitzpatrick, the veteran promoter. Its original name was "Portland Fancy." During the first few years it was danced here it was so popular that it was usually repeated three or four times at each party. Most of the dancing clubs gave it a place on the program, though in late years the firemen are the only ones who have this number.

Most of the dancers arrived early and it was after 4 o'clock yesterday morning before the final waltz was played. While the first half of the program was being danced the floor was at times badly crowded, though all seemed to have a most enjoyable time. The decorations were among the most attractive ever seen in the hall. The platform occupied by the orchestra was surrounded by a canopy decorated with the national colors, while wide strips of red, white and blue crepe paper were draped from the ceiling to the side walls around the entire room. In the center of the ceiling were a large number of American flags played. On the side walls firemen's trumpets and other trophies, won at tournaments, were displayed.

Clifford's orchestra furnished satisfactory music and the ladies of the Presbyterian church congregation served supper to a majority of the dancers, in the basement of the church. The ball was not only a social success, but it also added several hundred dollars to the department's treasury, as in the neighborhood of 500 tickets were sold. The chiefs of all of the fire departments in the upper peninsula were invited to attend and those who came from outside were Frank Lyhane, chief of the Michigan department, and James Tolan, who served as chief of the Escanaba department for twenty-three years until last spring. Mr. Tolan is now in the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company's employ as an officer.

SERVICES WELL ATTENDED.

Large Congregations at the Methodist Church Yesterday.

The union services held yesterday morning at the First M. E. church were largely attended by members of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist congregations. Dr. Frank Day, a prominent M. E. minister from the lower peninsula, delivered the sermons and the choir rendered special music. Another large congregation was in attendance last evening, when Bishop David H. Moore of Cincinnati spoke. The bishop will leave today for the copper country.

The educational convention to be conducted under direction of Rev. D. D. Martin, D. D., secretary of education for Albion college, will convene this morning at 8:30. The day's program will be as follows:

- 8:30 a. m.—Convention prayer service conducted by J. J. Strick.
- 9 a. m.—The Purpose and Plan of this Convention, President Samuel Dickie.
- 9:30 a. m.—The Real Place and Function of the Christian College, A. A. Myerwood.
- 10 a. m.—Is the Church College meeting the Demands of the Times? President Plantz.
- 10:30 a. m.—Is the Church Meeting Her Obligations to the College? D. C. Planette.
- 10:50 a. m.—What Is the College Doing for the Church? Frank E. Day.
- 1:15 p. m.—Round table, discussions and question drawer, conducted by President Dickie.
- 2 p. m.—Report of committees on policy and resolutions.
- 2:30 p. m.—The Place of the College in the Program of Every Church, C. L. Finch.
- 2:40 p. m.—What Plan Will Bring Largest Returns, President Plantz.
- 3:10 p. m.—The Influence of the Christian College on the Public School, Professor Wm. M. Parrish.
- 3:30 p. m.—The Future of Albion College, Dr. F. E. Day.

If your piano needs tuning, William Leininger will take your order, and M. J. Olson will do the work. (6-28-1f)

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by The People's Drug Store.

HAD A FINE PARTY.

The members of the Princeton Fire department, on the Swanzy range, gave their second annual ball on Thanksgiving eve in the firemen's hall. The attendance was the largest that had ever assembled in the hall for a dancing party and the affair was not brought to a close until an early hour Thursday morning. Supper was served at the Johnson house and the spread is said to have been an exceptionally fine one.

ALCOHOL IN MEDICINES.

Alcohol is the best known preservative of medical compounds, and the average proprietary medicine contains from 15 per cent to 22 per cent, which is the smallest possible amount to preserve the ingredients, while the average doctor's prescription contains from 25 per cent to 50 per cent.

Such standard preparations as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contain but 18 per cent, and they even put the compound up in tablet form, which the over-scrupulous woman, who objects to alcohol in any degree, may use.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

A Lavasseur and family spent Thanksgiving with relatives at Marquette.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Powers of Marquette spent Thanksgiving with relatives in the city.

Mrs. Davis of Oconto, Wis., is in the city visiting her daughters, Mrs. H. G. O'Keefe and Miss Jane Davis.

The soft weather yesterday put a bad crimp in the sleighing, which had been excellent since the storm of ten days ago.

Percy Frances, who is a student at the Michigan College of Mines, is spending his Thanksgiving vacation with his folks here.

Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper will lecture at the Ishpeming High school Monday evening. His subject will be, "The World Made Better."

Dr. Roberts and family arrived from the copper country Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Roberts' mother, Mrs. West, of East Ridge street.

Thomas Johns, a former resident, who has been located in the copper country for several years past, is spending a few days with relatives in the city.

There has been fairly good skating on Lake Bancroft the past few days. There were several hundred people on the ice yesterday afternoon and there were also good sized crowds Wednesday night and last night.

The second dancing party of the Masonic series, held at the lodge hall Wednesday evening, was a most successful event. More than fifty couples were present. The hall was attractively decorated with electric lights.

The funeral of the late Charles McGee, brother of James McGee of this city, who died a week ago today at Battle, Mont., was held yesterday at the Hubbell, in the copper country, where the deceased lived for some years before going West.

The Kora Vaudeville company, which has been at Ishpeming theatre the past four days, will give way tonight to "The Alaskan," and will fill the open night at McDonald's opera house, Negaunee. A matinee will be given tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

The local option advocates, who have charge of the petitions circulated among the voters of the county, will present them to the county clerk not later than next Tuesday. It is expected that the board of supervisors will act on the petitions at its regular monthly meeting next Wednesday.

The first of the series of Assembly parties given by five young men of this city was held at Braastad's Hall last night and was largely attended. Trombly's orchestra furnished the music.

Some fifteen couples were present from Negaunee. They returned home after midnight on a special street car.

In connection with the thirtieth anniversary celebration being held this week at the Mission church there will be a reunion of former members, and pastors this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. At the service this evening Rev. Gust Anderson of Minneapolis and Editor O. Hogfeldt of Chicago will be the principal speakers.

INJUSTICE.

A recent order prohibiting gambling among the enlisted men detailed at the West Point Military Academy caused, it would appear, much trouble for certain of the soldiers there. An old sergeant of a negro regiment, who was sent to the post, suggested a game of craps soon after his arrival. Other soldiers told him of the rule against gambling and refused to join in the game. "Dis yere ain't right," said the new arrival, "and Ah'll see de cap'n 'bout it." Upon being admitted to the commanding officer's room the sergeant said, with some show of heat, "Cap'n, Ah understand dat gamblin' ain't 'lowed here no mo'." "That's correct," said the officer. "Well, lat's an injustice to enlisted men, sah, 'cause I've got a large family to support."

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 36 years, but it is always a welcome story to these in search of health—there is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by The People's Drug Store.

THE TROLLEY CARS AND THE FARMER.

"It was the same story with the small storekeepers," he continued. "They thought judgment day had struck 'em along with the trolley. And, at first, their trade did fall off considerably. But bit by bit they saw people's wants increasing. So village trade picked up. And then the city folks began swarming out of town and building homes along the trolley line. They were awfully glad to get into the country, and grew loyal to their new homes and traded with the local stores. The upshot is that the trolley has helped all village tradesmen except the clothiers."

PLAY HERE TONIGHT.

The Koxe Vaudeville company will give an entertainment at McDonald's Opera House tonight. The prices will be thirty cents for reserved seats, twenty cents for adults' general admission and ten cents for children. The entertainment will consist of two one-act comedies and five vaudeville turns, including a character sketch by Dr. Koxe, a dancing turn by Tricie Monroe, a song by baby Dorothy, a comedy juggling act by Professor George Banks and a slack wire act by Mr. and Mrs. Binks. Reserved seats are on sale at Perkins' drug store.

CHRISTMAS SALE.

The ladies of St. John's Episcopal church are making a large variety of fancy articles for their annual sale, to be conducted at Shea's Hall next Thursday afternoon and evening, Dec. 2. The hall will be very prettily decorated and several booths will be erected. In one of the booths nothing but handkerchiefs will be sold and in two others there will be displays of fancy work. There will also be a candy booth in charge of the members of the Altar guild. The members of St. Agnes' guild will also have a booth. Supper will be served between 5 and 7:30 o'clock in the evening and there will be music later. The ladies meet regularly to make articles for the sale.

Miss Florence Wells left Wednesday night for Chicago, where she will spend a few days visiting her sister, Cora Lee, who is a student at the Chicago university.

A large delegation of Negaunee theatergoers will take in the production of "The Alaskan" at the Ishpeming theater tonight. Special street car service will be provided.

Miss Beatrice Craine left Wednesday evening for Chicago to spend Thanksgiving holidays with her aunt, Miss Louise V. Cyr, who has been in the city for more than a week past.

In the neighborhood of 100 young people of this city attended the Ishpeming fire department's annual ball Wednesday night. Many of them returned home on the South Shore train at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

Cornelius, aged five years, oldest son of C. B. Driscoll, died Wednesday evening from typhoid fever, from which he had been suffering for three months. Death did not come unexpectedly, as the boy's condition had been precarious for a week or more. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's church.

PUMPING FROM THE LUCY WORKINGS

CLEVELAND-CLIFFS IRON COMPANY'S PROPERTY WILL BE READY FOR RESUMPTION OF WORK WITHIN A MONTH.

At the rate water has been coming out of the Lucy mine since the blowers were started Sunday last it will not be more than three weeks before the workings will be pumped dry. The water is going down from five to seven feet every twenty-four hours. Both shafts are about 335 feet in depth. The water, which was within some feet of the top when a blower was started, has already been lowered to a point nearly 100 feet below surface. It will not be possible to operate the blowers many days more, as the pipe extends only 125 feet from surface. As soon as the bottom of the blower pipe is reached pumps will be installed on the balance of the water will be removed with that equipment. The discharge pipe from the blower is five inches in diameter and there is a constant flow of water from it.

The preparatory work at the mine is about completed. The ore trestle, which extends some distance north from No. 1 shaft, is in splendid condition. The structure was erected while the mine was in operation some six or seven years ago and it will need no attention at this time. The incline tram, extending from the coal trestle to the engine house, has been repaired, and can be used any time, though the road now being consumed is being hauled by team.

The hoisting plant, consisting of an engine and two drums, is in good condition, and will need practically no attention. Pumps and other equipment necessary for operation of the compressor have been installed and both boilers are now ready for use. W. T. Cole, the Ishpeming boiler maker, who overhauled the boilers, also built two new smoke stacks, the last of which was put in position Wednesday.

The mine buildings are in as good condition as they were when the mine closed down. Besides the engine and boiler house, there is a dry and shops building. Neither of the shafts is equipped with an inclosed shaft house, though it is likely that larger and more substantial ones than the structures now in use will be erected before the mine is long in operation. Above No. 2 shaft there is merely a tripod, though the structure at No. 1 shaft is of fair size and is in good order.

The Lucy produces a silicious ore, which can be used to excellent advantage as a mixer with the higher percentage ores produced at some of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's other mines. It is thought that the ore body will be found to increase in size as depth is attained and it is also thought that quite a large deposit will be developed at the South Jackson mine, immediately to the west. These two mines are close enough together to be combined in one property, and as such they could be worked to advantage. The South Jackson produces a harder ore than that obtained at the Lucy, and it requires crushing. Operations at the South Jackson have been limited to a few months during the shipping season for some years past. Some of the open pits there are of good depth, though there is still considerable ore near surface.

The ores from the Lucy and South Jackson properties will be handled by the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway system. The track comes up to within a short distance of the trestle at the Lucy. There is a considerable area available for stocking ore at the latter property and although there is a heavy grade leading to the mine the cars can be handled to good advantage.

It is expected that a force of about seventy-five men will be employed at the Lucy at the start, but it will not be long before there will be room in the mine for a larger number. The air compressor will furnish power for about ten drills, which is more than will be needed for some time. About a dozen men are now employed about the property.

DR. COOK THOUGHT TO BE A FAKER

A LAND OF OPPORTUNITY

Val Diebold Tells Something About Great Mineral Resources of "Refrigerator of the United States."

Alaskans are generally of the opinion that Dr. Cook is a gigantic faker, says Val Diebold, who has recently returned from that country, where he claims to have climbed Mt. McKinley.

Mr. Diebold unexpectedly returned to Marquette a few days ago to visit his sisters, whom he had not seen for twenty-one years.

"The opportunities in Alaska are greater now than they have ever been," said Mr. Diebold yesterday. "Many people here seem to have the idea that the cream of the gold in that country has been panned out, but the fact is that the mineral resources of Alaska have only been scratched as yet."

Rich in Copper. "People here are inclined to doubt me when I tell them that there is more copper in Alaska than in Michigan, Montana and Arizona combined, but such is the truth."

"But don't get the idea from this that there is untold wealth in Alaska for the asking. I have been prospecting there for seven years and it is only within the last two years that I have succeeded in cleaning up anything to speak of."

"The mines in which I am interested are located in the Fairbanks district, north of the Alaskan range. Placer mining is the system almost universally used in that locality, though in some sections quartz mining is being taken up on a small scale."

Summers Are Delightful. "In southern Alaska and along the Pacific coast the climate is not much different from that of northern Michigan, but in the interior, where our mines are located, it gets very cold in the winter and there is not so much snow as near the coast."

For the past few years the government has been doing great things for Alaska, but prior to that time the country was badly neglected."

Transportation Charges High. "How do you get from the coast to Fairbanks and the interior of Alaska?" was asked.

"During the summer one may go by either water or land," Mr. Diebold replied. "If one goes by boat, he should start from Skagway and go up the river. This is the more comfortable route, but the cost of navigation is so late that the best part of the mining season is lost before one gets to his destination."

There is a stage route from Valdez to Fairbanks which is in operation the year round and many prospectors get into the country in April and May over that route.

"The roughness of the Alaskan cities is greatly overblown by the magazine writers and shooting scrapes nowadays are uncommon. The order in Alaska is infinitely better than it was in Montana when I lived there some twenty years ago."

TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL.

People to be Asked to Vote for a $15,000 Bond Issue in Spring.

There seems to be considerable doubt as to the status of the proposed county tuberculosis hospital, for the erection of which the board of supervisors recommended an expenditure of $15,000 a few months ago.

NOVEL IDEA SUGGESTED.

Wisconsin Sportsmen Believe Deer Could be Raised Commercially.

From Wisconsin comes the suggestion of raising deer commercially as a means to increase their number and prevent the ultimate extinction of the species.

"The opinion of local sportsmen, one of the best plans for keeping our Wisconsin forests stocked with deer is to allow Wisconsin people to raise deer for commercial purposes and to sell the venison from the animals raised in this manner."

"The local hunters interested claim that by the passage of a law in this state allowing the commercial raising of deer that venison would be so plentiful that the present demand for it would be met."

STATE INSURANCE FOR ALL EMPLOYEES

MICHIGAN WATCHING OTHER STATES NOW INVESTIGATING ADVISABILITY OF A COMPENSATION FOR INJURIES LAW.

Agitation has been started in Michigan for an investigation, such as other states are making, of the proposal for an employees' compensation act which would provide for insuring all employees against injury, except through willful carelessness, while about their daily tasks, and fix by the terms of the act the amount which an employee should receive for any injury he might incur.

Mr. Barry who attended the meeting at his own expense to secure information regarding the results obtained by the inquiry, states that the first great obstacle confronting the friends of the plan, is that unless all the states adopt the system at the same time, it will work a hardship on manufacturers in the states which do adopt it.

INCREASED COST OF PRODUCTION.

It is estimated that the scheme, if adopted, will increase the cost of production approximately 2 per cent. Of its great value to labor and the welfare of the nation, there is said to be no disagreement among the investigators but they have reached no decision as to how much of the cost should be charged direct to labor.
