SPEAKER CANNON GIVES PITHY TALK

He States His Views in Contentful Manner in an Address Before the Knife and Fork Club at Kansas City, Mo.

He Defends the House Rules, Raps Cummins and His Progressive Following and Declares the Payne Tariff Law the Best One Ever Passed and Sure to Make the People Happy and Prosperous Notwithstanding the Insurgent Onslaught Against It.

Kansas City, Nov. 26.—When Senators Cummins, LaFollette and Brewster and their so-called "progressive" following joined hands with Bryan in making war upon the Republican members of congress who passed the tariff bill, and upon the president who signed it, I know of but one way to treat them, and that is to fight them just as we fight Bryan and his following.

Such was the declaration of Speaker Cannon, who delivered the principal address before the Knife and Fork club here tonight. Mr. Cannon said that Senator Cummins alone had read himself out of the Republican party. He defended the house rules, saying that they remain substantially as they have been and as they will be as long as there is a congress. "Ever since history began," said the speaker, "the man in the minority has been seeking some device by which he could overcome the will of the majority."

Payne Bill Best Ever Passed.

Mr. Cannon asserted that while the Payne tariff law was not perfect, it is the best one ever passed under Republican leadership; that since the enactment of the law, production in this country and imports from foreign countries have greatly increased, and the conditions are daily improving. "The 'insurgents' and their followers," he said, "are seeking to hinder progress and prosperity by criticism and denunciation. 'The demagogues' have always with us, and, as ours is a government of the people, the only way to dispose of him is to move on. I am perfectly willing to trust the verdict of a prosperous and happy people in the elections in November, 1910, after the new tariff law has been in operation over a year."

Pays His Respects to the Press.

Following the reading of this prepared speech, Speaker Cannon noted a local paper as stating today that "Cannon realizes that his popularity is on the wane." The congressman declared that during his long life he had never turned his back upon a friend or his face away from an enemy. "Will you print that?" he yelled toward the crowd, and added: "I am sorry that the editor is not here to answer me himself."

Mr. Cannon deplored the alleged custom of some newspapers in misleading their readers by ingenious headlines, and intimated that the support of newspapers was not always necessary for the success of a man in public life. He cited the recent election in the Sixth Illinois congressional district, where, he said, the successful candidate was opposed by many of the leading papers of Chicago.

Business Is Going Ahead.

"I believe that the new tariff law will protect our industries and produce the necessary revenue for carrying forward the great policies upon which the government has entered," said Congressmen Cannon. "The monthly summary of commerce and finance issued by the department of commerce and labor shows that for the months of August, September and October under the new tariff law there was a substantial increase in all imports and exports of the same months in 1908. The increase in imports amounted to $73,000,000 over those for the same period in 1908 and $219,000,000 over the same period in 1907, the greatest year under the Dingley law. Our exports for the same months increased over those for last year by $41,000,000 and $25,000,000 more than for the same period in 1907. This is an indication of what we may expect from the settlement of the tariff question. Business that had halted has gone ahead with confidence, knowing just what are the regulations which the government imposes upon importations."

Japanese at San Francisco.

There are other and even better signs in our purely domestic affairs. The railroads, the manufacturing establishments, merchants and producers of every kind are going forward with confidence in settled conditions. It is predicted in railroad circles that there will be as much capital employed in double tracks, increased terminal facilities, etc., in the next five years as there is already invested in these roads.

Danger in Agitation.

"Now, gentlemen, there is only one thing that can halt this confident move forward to give the country another era of prosperity such as we had from 1897 to 1907, and that is agitation for mere purpose of agitation, without any well-conceived healthy purpose in view. The senators and representatives who call themselves 'insurgents' and who voted against the enactment of the Payne bill, voted to increase or maintain the duties on the industries and products of their own states and sections. They were protectionists for their own people, but they were opposed to protection for other people in other sections."

"Senator LaFollette did not vote to increase the duties on lead and zinc, but

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 26.—Harold Perkins, aged sixteen, asked permission at noon yesterday to attend the Drake-Ames football game. His aunt, Miss Estella Campbell, refused. Soon afterward Harold went to his room, adjusted a trunk rope about his neck, fastened the end to the door and jumped from a chair. WIN VICTORY IN GERMANY.

Important Suit Affecting Patents Is Decided in Favor of Americans.

Lepzig, Nov. 26.—The imperial supreme court today interpreted the patent agreement between Germany and the United States in favor of an American company which had a branch office in Berlin. The latter secured a patent under the German law on an invention, but failed to place the invention on the market within three years, the limit of time under the German statute. A German brought suit to vacate the patent rights, and the patent office decided in his favor. The American firm appealed, and in the meantime transferred its patent right to a company in the United States. The court today declared that the German office had wrongfully revoked the patent, and must reinstate it.

PRICES OF STOCKS ADVANCE SMARTLY

Apprehension Over the Standard Oil Decision Which Had Unsettled the Market Seems to Have Almost Entirely Disappeared.

It Is Due Largely to the Revival of Credence in the Copper Consolidation Project That This Uneasiness Is Abated, and Coincidence With the Improvement of Sentiment Values Are Marked Up in General—Trade Advices Decidedly Optimistic.

New York, Nov. 26.—Apprehension over the Standard Oil decision, which had unsettled the stock market for some time, seems to have almost entirely disappeared. The prices of Americans were lifted smartly in London during the Thanksgiving interval. New York accepted the altered appraisal this morning, and added to the gains during the day. The volume of the copper consolidation projects and the speculative tone was somewhat subdued as an aftermath of the anxieties of the earlier part of the week.

The abatement of the uneasiness over the effects of the Standard Oil decision was due largely to the revival of credence in the copper consolidation projects. The constant gatherings of influential copper men with the bankers credited with the authorship of the project fostered the belief that the efforts to organize a combine on the lines of the Steel corporation were still in progress. The new capital requirements to be met shortly, and the belief that other issues of stocks and bonds impend, cause an expectation that the money market is likely to be held at a tension by these requirements after the usual periods of relaxation. The estimates of the week's currency movement show a decided relief of funds from the interior to New York, with the waning of the crop movement. The high premium to which New York exchange at Chicago has risen was a forerunner of this, the balance in favor of New York having run, apparently, over $6,000,000.

The sudden rise in the Rock Island bonds secured by Frisco stocks as collateral gave corroboration to rumors of a coming disassociation of these projects. The prices of all the securities concerned rose on this prospect.

Industrial Expansion Remarkable.

New York, Nov. 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Trade Review tomorrow will say: "The favorable industrial conditions remain unchanged. No production is proceeding at an enormous rate. All through the West the talk of the people is concerned with the things actually produced and the wealth created from the soil. Warm weather has checked the activity in some mercantile lines, while high prices of speculative development work unfavorably in others. This gives a superficial impression of a pause in the business revival. But the basic facts still point to a remarkable industrial expansion. The orders for steel products are even greater than the remarkable tonnage booked in October. With the new and higher basis for cotton prints effected during the week, a somewhat smaller volume of business by jobbers than customary is reported. The demand for woolsens and worsteds continues active, especially in the West. The footwear business is larger than at any time in the past two years. Leather continues strong. Domestic hides are steady, notwithstanding the quality is growing poorer."

Bradstreet's will tomorrow say: "Cold weather and the approach of the holidays have continued to stimulate the retail trade and measurably improve the re-asserting trade with jobbers. Rains and snows have checked an excessive growth of or insect damage to winter wheat and have given moisture to the growing plant, thus placing the crop in good condition to enter the winter. In the wholesale trade, there are some indications of excess currents tending to restrict the fullest activities. High cotton still causes some curtailment of output and also some hesitation by buyers. The Western trade reports reflect slightly more optimism than those from the Eastern seaboard. The industrial reports are generally of large and, in some cases, of record outputs for the season. Collections are good, except in some places at the Northwest and at the South, where producers tend to hold back supplies. The bank clearing at the principal cities of the United States in the past week have been $2,800,136,000, against $2,540,718,000 in the same week of last year."

WILL NET UNCLE SAM ABOUT $25,000,000 YEARLY

Some 122,000 Concerns Will Have to Pay the Corporation Tax, the Regulations Concerning Which Levy Have Now Been Drafted.

Washington, Nov. 26.—The corporation tax regulations are ready for the printer. It has been a great task to meet all of the complexities of the law, and it is expected that attacks upon the regulations will be made by the corporations. The latest estimate indicates that the net revenue under the law will approximate $25,000,000 annually, and 122,000 corporations will likely have to pay the tax.

Improper registration in many cases is expected, but the penalties will apply just the same to those who fail to get the forms and regulations mailed to every corporation. The returns are required to be in the collector's hands by March 1, and then sent to the internal revenue bureau, where the tax will be assessed and the paying corporations notified by June 1, the tax to be paid by July 1.

The government holds that the tax, while for the calendar year preceding the collection, really does not date back; that it is an excise, not an income tax, and is, in fact, merely a license to do business during the year for which it is collected.

BASEBALL FOLKS CLOSE A BIG DEAL

Philadelphia Club of the National League Is Transferred to a Syndicate for the Reported Consideration of $350,000.

President Murphy of the Chicago Cubs Is Said to Be Interested in the New Ownership and Rumor Has It That the Management Will Be Offered to Catcher King—The Latter, However, Says He Is Out of the Game for Good.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—The Philadelphia National baseball club was sold today to a syndicate whereof Horace S. Fogel, of Philadelphia, is the head. The price is said to have been $350,000. As soon as the stock was transferred the representatives of the syndicate proceeded to Camden, N. J., where the club was re-incorporated and elected Mr. Fogel president, William Conway secretary and Frank S. Elliott treasurer. These, with John A. Schwartz and Thomas Curley, comprise the directors. President Murphy, of the Chicago club, was present to see that the provisions of the National league constitution were properly observed. He denied being financially interested in the new management.

The Philadelphia club was formerly owned by Clarence Wolf, a banker; James P. McEniel, a politician, and the late I. W. Durham, a political leader. An offer of $15,000 has been made to Murphy for the release of John King, providing the national commission releases the famous Chicago catcher. It is said he is wanted as manager of the team. Horace Fogel has been a sporting writer on Philadelphia newspapers and at different times has managed the Indianapolis and New York National league clubs.

Reported Deal Is News to King.

Kansas City, Nov. 26.—"I know nothing of any deal by which I am to become manager of the Philadelphia club," said John King here tonight. "It is not my intention to play baseball or be associated with a club next year. Of course I would change my plans if sufficient inducement were offered. In addition to become manager of the Philadelphia team, I would have to be traded to that club. Mr. Murphy has not intimated that he contemplates that."

 the government was about to undertake extermination of his Standard Oil monopoly, and it was out of his profits from that his donation came.

With only thirty days allowed the Standard Oil company to dissolve itself
 in, the violence of the process naturally disturbs the whole country appreciably.
 Wouldn't it be well to give that overgrown octopus an extension of time, so that the dissolution might be accomplished gently?

A Roosevelt admirer says that if Teddy were president now Nicaragua would have been wiped off the map by this time. But do we want the map mutilated in that way? Come to think, we didn't get into war with any other country, even a little thing like Nicaragua, while Teddy was president.

If the producers of "pure" butter want to hold their own against the manufacturers of oleo they can't be too
 quick about arranging among themselves to shade prices, which have risen to about the point that prohibits consumption for people of ordinary means. If butter becomes a luxury oleo will become a necessity for most people.

They are talking of running Roosevelt
 for governor down in York state. Well, if he is willing and they should try him
 again it will be wise for Teddy to bear in mind that the standard for that office has been raised appreciably by the present governor. The man who follows Hughes in the governor's office must expect that the people will be disposed to make comparisons.

An Illinois editor who has been convicted of criminal libel and given a jail sentence of sixty days, Ora F. Havill of Mount Carmel, has moved his sanctum
 into the cell he is to occupy and declares that he will edit his paper from there till he has done his bit of time unless the judge relents. It may be that his creditors will move to obtain his release. They can't get at him in jail.

Recently the board of estimate of New York city adopted a resolution giving the judges of its courts a salary increase of $4,000 annually, from $17,000 to $21,000.
 One of their number, Judge Bischoff, peremptorily declines to accept the raise,
 on the ground that the board was not properly authorized to grant it. The others have not yet been heard from, but as there is much criticism of the board because of its action it is likely they will follow the highly commendable example set by the jurist named. In the eyes of a Michiganian, a salary of $17,- 000 a year seems big enough for any ordinary judge, but officials come high in Gotham.

 He announces that the house-cleaning is to go on until the last of the dishonest

collector has been given to understand that the administration is with him in what he has undertaken to do toward cleaning out the thieves who have nested
 in the New York customs house all these years, undisturbed and unmolested.

The suggestion is made by a correspondent of the New York Times that the present high prices of food partly arises from the development of the cold storage system of preserving many food products in large quantities, this enabling persons who have at control ample capital to corner it in that manner and thus make their own prices. The cold storage system undoubtedly has been a beneficence in the cheaper and more adequate handling of the food supply, but like many other agencies for good it is capable of abuse and of evil.
 This is one of the subjects which could be investigated by a federal commission on the cost of living, and which cannot be adequately investigated in any other way.

Solon P. Chase, founder of the greenback party, who had a numerous following throughout the country many years ago, died at his home in Maine Monday
 at the good old age of eighty-seven years.
 His party passed from the stage long before he made his exit, and so completely that there is not a vestige of it left. He was for a time a newspaper man in a small way, publishing a sheet known as the Chase Chronicle, and was possessed of no little shrewdness and quaint philosophy. He once ran for congress and stumped his district from end to end, driving a pair of steers attached to a wagon from the rear of which he delivered his addresses, but he failed to persuade the voters to his way of thinking and was defeated. Still, his financial ideas caught not a few, and the party he founded had at one time considerable strength in Michigan, Wisconsin and many others of the northern states.

AS TO PROFIT-SHARING.

A paper on profit-sharing was read at a session of the National Civic association's tenth annual meeting, held at New York this week, by Geo. W. Perkins, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., who is also chairman of the finance committee of the International Harvester company,
 and is connected in a managerial capacity with more than a score of other financial and industrial corporations, in the course of which he said many things deserving of the attention of both employers and employed. His paper was based on the experience of his company
 in caring for the interests of its men through benefit and pension schemes, by which a share of the profits of the business is applied to their assistance. The appended extracts from his paper will be found of great interest and value by those who have given the subject any thought—and it is one that merits attention and consideration from every person in any way concerned in the relations between labor and capital:

If, as many of us have come to believe, co-operation in business is taking and should take the place of ruthless competition; if this new order of things,
 to succeed permanently, must demonstrate that it is better for the consumer, then, in order to succeed permanently, it must demonstrate that it is better for the laborer, and if profit-sharing,
 pensions, insurance, and the like mean anything, they must mean co-operation between capital and labor—co-operation in the broadest, most helpful and enduring form.

Plans for profit-sharing, pensions and the like are not new in American business. They have been tried off and on, here and there, in various forms, for a long time; and up to a few years ago
 many of them had fallen more or less short of success. It is my judgment that the reason for this can be found almost wholly in the fact that the unsuccessful
 plans did not embody a true, honest,
 and fair spirit of co-operation. A secret
 —perhaps almost unconscious—purpose
 existed to benefit the business in question out of proportion to the labor employed in the business; and no such plan,
 having such a purpose, can permanently succeed, for the selfish points in it will work to the surface sooner or later, and cause failure.

On the other hand there should be no
 sentimental philanthropy about this great question. It is purely a business question. Profit-sharing, pensions and the like, from a pecuniary standpoint are a profitable thing for the business and also for its labor, or for neither. No American worthy of being called a man wants something for nothing.

In all the inventions and ingenuity
 that have been brought to bear on business affairs in the last quarter of a century, nothing has been found to take the place of a human mind. Nothing has been found to take the place of a man's ability to do—with a proper incentive behind that ability—and no such substitute ever will be found. It is therefore of the utmost importance to American business interests of today
 and tomorrow that every man in any given concern be so associated with that concern that he will give the best there is in him to the performance of the duties assigned to him. There is a vast difference between the work that a human being performs in a perfunctory, machine-like manner and the work that he performs with a keen, loyal interest in what he is doing, and in just this difference does success come to the individual and come to a large concern—
 if it be so fortunate as to have a force of individuals who are working with this spirit.

If profit-sharing means anything, if providing for old age means anything, if caring for those who become ill or injured while in the service means anything, it should mean the fostering of the interest of men in their work—whether that work be sweeping out the office, shoveling coal, or presiding over a great commercial company. In short, it should mean real co-operation between stock holders, managers and employees.

WHY IT LIVES.
 The Duluth Herald asserts that "all that has kept the Republican party
 alive for the past four years is the spirit of Rooseveltism." It drops this inane remark in the course of an argument aiming to make appear that the present administration is retrogressive, and catering to the non-progressive element in the Republican party.

What has kept, and is keeping, the Republican party alive is the spirit among its voters that holds it loyal to the interests of the republic, faithful to the traditions on which it was reared,
 and true to the principles that animated
 the great men who founded it, and the equally great men who preserved it from disruption when rebellion threatened its existence.

That spirit was Lincolnism during the war of the rebellion and Rooseveltism
 when the voters of the party rose in revolt against the invasion of the rights of the people by organized capital. It is as strong now as it ever has been,
 and to its imperishable vigor and patriotic purpose the people of this country
 must look for protection against the dangers that menace their liberties.

That the party has at times fallen
 under the domination of bad leadership is not to be denied. But the intelligence and patriotism of its voters can always be relied on to assert itself for the correction of abuse of power by such leaders, and when their unfaithfulness becomes manifest their retirement from place quickly follow. Roosevelt was the agent of the party for the work he did as president, and not in himself an incarnation of its purposes and policies.
 It produced him and made him president
 because of its conviction that the nation needed just such a man in the presidency. And it will produce others who are needed for work to be done when they are needed.

That is why it has lived, and controlled in the affairs of the republic, for fifty years, and will live while the government that it was raised up to save
 from disruption endures.

ISHPEMING
SONS OF ST. GEORGE
ELECT OFFICERS

BOTH SIR HUMPHREY DAVEY AND TRELAWNEY LODGES OF THIS CITY ARE IN A MOST PROSPER-OUS CONDITION.

The members of many of the fraternal societies of the city are at present showing much interest in their lodges on account of the elections that are to be held during the next week or two. Over 75 per cent of the fraternal societies here will elect new officers at their first meeting in December and in most cases the installation will be held a month later. Among the first of the local societies to elect officers are Sir Humphrey Davey and Trelawney lodges of the Sons of St. George.
 Their elections always occur at the last meeting in November. Both met Thursday, Sir Humphrey Davey in the afternoon, and Trelawney in the evening.

There are now 625 members in the two Sons societies, Sir Humphrey Davey
 having 359 and Trelawney, 275. Sir Humphrey Davey has been the banner lodge of the state in point of membership for a number of years, but Trelawney lodge has the honor of having the largest sum in its treasury of any Sons' society in Michigan. The lodge now has over $4,000 drawing interest, besides a liberal amount that is kept on hand for general purposes. At Thursday night's meeting Trelawney lodge initiated a class of ten members, and Sir Humphrey Davey lodge is now preparing to take in a class.

At the conclusion of Trelawney's
 meeting the members held a fruit social followed by a smoker. At the regular meeting next Thursday evening the newly elected officers of both societies will be installed. The new officers of Trelawney lodge are as follows:
 Past President—Richard Rich.
 President—Fred Stephens.
 Vice President—John Tremain.

 Assistant Messenger—John Hosking.
 Recording Secretary—John Lemm.
 Financial Secretary—Robert Northley.
 Treasurer—James P. Roberts.
 Chaplain—Howard Menner.

A committee has been appointed for the annual supper and entertainment to be given by Trelawney lodge on New Year's night in Anderson Hall. This will be complimentary to all of the members of both societies and their families. A committee also appointed to secure the

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

The safest medicines are those which leave the system in the best condition after their use. This is one of the principal virtues we claim for S. S. S. Being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, it is not in even the smallest degree harmful to any system, but on the other hand its vegetable ingredients make it one of the finest of tonics to build up the health in every way. A great many blood medicines contain strong mineral ingredients which unfavorably affect the bowels, stomach or digestive system, and any blood-purifying effect they might have is therefore offset by their injurious action on the general health. S. S. S. is the one safe and sure blood purifier. It goes into the circulation and rids the blood of every impurity or pollution. It strengthens the circulation and adds nourishing properties to the blood and greatly assists in the cure of any blood disease.
 S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all like diseases, because it purifies the circulation.
 S. S. S. may be taken by young or old with absolute safety, and with the assurance that it will cure all diseases and disorders due to an impure or poisoned blood supply, even reaching down and removing hereditary taints.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.
 Spanking does not cure children of bed-

 for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

MURDER WAS THE RUMOR.

But Mary Magateli of South Range Did Not Shoot Well Enough.

There was a rumor in Houghton yesterday that murder had been committed at South Range. Sheriff Byers ran the matter down and found that it was not murder but would probably have been had Mary Magateli of South Range been a better shot. It appears that Nick Fort of Franklin had gone to South Range Thanksgiving night to see Mrs. Magateli. He attempted to persuade her to run away with him, leaving home and husband and friends. She could not see it that way and advised Nick that he had better get out. He then attempted to drag her off, but she refused to be the second party in this Sabine act and pulled a gun on Nick. As has been said, her aim was bad. Nick was arrested at Franklin yesterday noon.

The officers of the Minnesota alumni were: President, D. C. Peacock, vice president, W. W. J. Croze, treasurer, I. J. Shields, secretary, Victor Rakowsky. "PLANTING" BELGIAN HARES.

First Consignment of New Game Animals Released in Baraga.

The first consignment of Belgian hares which it is hoped to propagate in the copper country for hunting purposes were released yesterday in Baraga county by Calumet sportsmen. Louis Joering took the consignment to LaFare. As the Belgian hares are rapid breeders and it is believed that they eventually will furnish excellent sport. Other consignments of Belgian hares, North Dakota jack rabbits and other species of the rabbit family are to be "planted" in Keweenaw and Houghton counties during the coming winter.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Lake Linden and Calumet Boys Are Strongly Interested in the Work.

Lake Linden and Calumet boys have taken up wireless telegraphy with great enthusiasm and there are many wireless stations now in the copper country. Lake Linden has an organization of boys engaged in sending and receiving wireless messages for amusement and instruction. The names of the boys, their call numbers and wave lengths are here given:

- Meters. Roy Collins, H.L. 600. John McDougall, F.A. 450. Val the Leaning Tower, B.C. 400. Robert Linnick, R.C. 450. Ed. Pullauer, F.W. 500. James Dempsey, F.K. 450. Harry Budge, C.C. 600. Ernest Nelson, U.C. 450. Ray Lane, H.A. 350. A. Walcott, H.L. 400.

Three stations are established in Calumet and communication with other copper stations is common. The three stations, one in the Bolman addition, one on the Palmer building, corner of Second and Osceola, and the third on the residential corner of Second and Peabody are marvels of construction. They were erected by boys who have the spirit of adventure in the fields of the unknown and mysterious. They are having great sport with their wireless, are becoming expert operators and are learning many things about electricity and of controlling the mysterious ether waves. The Lean station suffered a slight accident this week, the antenna becoming disarranged.

It has been proposed among the boys of Laurium and Calumet who are interested in the wireless that a series of stations be formed about the copper country. There are already the three in Laurium and at least one at Lake Linden. With stations in Houghton and Hancock to the south and Michewick to the north there would be a fine circuit about which messages could be sent and which would prove of considerable value, even in a business way during some of the big storms of the winter which generally carry down all telephone wires between the copper country towns.

FOOD FOR POOR PEOPLE.

In accordance with an annual custom, the public schools of Houghton are this week distributing food and clothing to the poor people of the town. Superintendent Doelle said yesterday that the collection of such food and clothing had been going on since Wednesday, but that the general distribution would probably not be begun until Monday. In the meantime the Central school is a good place to send clothing and such contributions of food as the charitable desire to make to the very poor. The schools will close that those goods be properly distributed. A cold winter is coming on. Charity should be all the warmer.

EDUCATIONAL RALLY.

The educational rally of the Methodist Episcopal churches of the copper country in favor of Albion college will open at Calumet this morning. Dr. Dickie, Dr. Martin, President Plantz and Bishop Moore were given a reception in the church last night. The program for the day will consist principally of talks on educational subjects. The visiting clergymen will occupy various pulpits Sunday.

CONSISTORY MASONS DINE.

The first annual banquet of the Thirty-second degree or consistory Masons of the copper country was held last night at the Misewauk club, Calumet. It was a notable gathering. Senator Charles Smith, thirty-third degree, acted as toastmaster. There was some discussion regarding the organization of a Scottish Rite consistory in the upper peninsula, but no definite action was taken.

HOUGHTON HIGHS RETURN.

The Houghton High school football team returned last night from Marinette, where on Thanksgiving Day it was defeated by the Wisconsin champions by the score of 0 to 34. The same day Melonnie lost to Ann Arbor, 0 to 42.

WEEKLY COPPER REVIEW

Gossip of Interest Concerning the Market Situation and Various Mining Properties. (Paine, Webber & Co.)

The one dominating feature of the copper share markets and the general market for industrials and railroads is during the week has been the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals, handed down by Judge Sanborn at the close of the week's operations. This decision calls for the dissolution of the Standard Oil corporation, the court holding that the patent corporation is in existence in violation of the letter and spirit of the Sherman anti-trust act. The action of the court had a dampening effect on the plans for the formation of a copper combine as the public opinion believes that the legality of such a combine would be crippled before its formation. There are a number of important considerations that ought to show that, should the supreme court uphold the decision of the circuit court, and this is by no means a certainty, the outlined plans for the formation of the combination of copper producing interests, were along lines entirely different from those upon which the Standard Oil corporation is based, and more closely allied with the legal lines upon which the United States steel corporation is framed. And while it is acknowledged that the decision of Judge Sanborn is far-reaching in its effect and important in its general scope, it is not confounding in the slightest degree and should the supreme court uphold the circuit court it would simply entail a general re-organization of the petroleum company upon a different basis and with a different holding system. The Standard Oil shares would lose none of their intrinsic value although the alterations would necessarily mean a different working basis for the parent company and the constituent parts thereof. In the formation of the proposed copper combine the legal objections of the organization of the Standard Oil company could be avoided and were designedly avoided in the preliminary plans for the copper combination.

No Change in Purpose.

It is no pretty well known that the court decision in this case will not interfere with the plans and purposes of those who are financially back of the embryo copper combination. We have reasonable assurance that such is the case. During the week two important conferences were held in New York. One of these conferences was for the purpose of considering the legal situation and at this conference the best legal talent in the country gave an opinion that the general scope of the copper combination would not interfere with the purpose of the Sherman law. At a latter conference some important conclusions were reached relative to values of a number of properties which are to enter the merger. While the trading element on the exchange took advantage of the court decision to make a lower market for a number of the copper shares, it is now believed that the further movement will

South Lake's Advance.

The advantageous location of the South Lake property has created a great deal of interest in its possibilities, by reason of the successful development of the Lake Lode. It is not many months since this property, the old Astor, was reorganized, after quite a little effort on the part of the officials to make the shareholders realize something of the possibilities of the holdings, into the South Lake and the collection of a substantial sum of money with which to prosecute exploratory operations. The diamond drill work so far conducted has not produced any sensational results, although two lodes have been cut, one supposed to be the Evergreen and a second as yet unidentified. There has been strong bidding for South Lake during the week, based on the expectation that this property will eventually open the Lake lode in good values. There is every reason to believe that such will be the case.

We have called attention, several times in this same connection, to the possibilities of North Lake and Indian and the speculative opportunities in these issues are not fully appreciated even by those who acknowledge the value of the great development work at the Lake. There has been some trading in these two issues and we believe that either one is likely to prove worthy of serious consideration for the future. Of the two Indian offers greater chances for immediate action as the diamond drill work at that property has now reached a point where results are likely to be of a sensational nature in less time than supposed possible.

Hancock Consolidated.

The persistent and altogether intelligent efforts of the Hancock officials to go ahead in the plain, old-fashioned way of making a mine out of this property are bearing fruit. For two years this work has gone ahead without any bombast and with little publicity but the public which invests in promising copper shares seem now to be awakening to a realization of the results which are coming into evidence. The Hancock is rapidly approaching the point where it will become a profitable producer of copper. When this company was first organized it was the general expectation that the one sure thing would be in the opening of the Quincy's Pewabic lode. The values in that lode are unquestioned and the certainty that they continue in the territory of the Hancock Consolidated was an important factor in making the flotation successful. It will not be many months before this lode is opened and ready for milling purposes on an extensive plan. In the meantime the Hancock has practically proven extensive values in other formations found in the old Hancock shaft and there are already developed thousands of tons of good copper rock from a formation which was always considered of questionable value. There has been persistent buying of the Hancock stock during the past week, and the purchasing has come from those who are usually well posted on the conditions at the property.

Quincy.

The seismic disturbances which have caused so much uneasiness relative to the future of the Quincy have discontinued and for the past ten days there has been no recurrence of the former difficulties with regard to these dangerous underground conditions. Hoisting operations from both shafts, Nos. 1 and 7, have been resumed, although there is still some work necessary underground to move the last evidences of the air-blasts. The net damage done to the Quincy as a result of these troubles is comparatively slight and of no such serious consequence as might have been inferred from the published reports sent broadcast a few weeks ago. The production of the Quincy mine for the month of November will be close up to the regular output if indeed, there is any decrease at all and within another week the operations at the Quincy will continue at the stable pace usually maintained at the "old Reliable".

Coughs and Colds.

At this season when coughs are so prevalent, an effective remedy, and one easily obtained, is Perry Davis' Painkiller. It is no new nostrum, but has stood the test of over seventy years; and those who use the article, internally or externally, will connect with it grateful recollections of its worthy inventor.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s correspondent at New York yesterday telegraphed as follows:

"The industrials and low-priced rails were generally in active demand today, and the absorption of the copper metal issues was on a good scale, with a revival of the reports in regard to the industry which have been in circulation for the past few weeks. The Steel issues were also well taken, and it is said that the market position of the stock has been greatly improved by recent profit-taking and that the selling was absorbed by strong interest. The marine issues were active and higher, with the buying based on the favorable prospects for ship subsidy legislation. Sentiment was slightly improved, but there was no news of importance to affect the trading, and liquidation of the higher priced issues was still apparent on the exchanges. Prospects seem to favor a good bank statement for tomorrow, but the usual weekly realizing will undoubtedly produce irregularity."

Closing prices were as follows:

Boston Stock Quotations.

Writing from Boston yesterday, Paine, Webber & Co. had the following to say of the stock market: "Higher London prices for Amalgamated and Anaconda brought plenty of new buying for the local coppers. For the first hour there was not much change in prices, but from that time on the strength gradually increased until toward the close several of the stocks were showing new high records. Lake was the notable feature, selling up to 54 1/2, closing at 54 bid. Hancock was also very strong, selling at 37 1/2 and closing at the top. Ojibway was more active than it has been for some time, advancing a point and a half to 9 1/2. The Amster Stocks showed good buying, and especially Arizona Commercial. The market for Parrot is getting broad, and there seems to be considerable speculation in the stock around 31. We look for continued speculation and strength in all coppers

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Wheat for the December delivery experienced a severe setback here today when the price dropped 2 1/2 cents as the result of realizing sales. The other options displayed less weakness. At the close prices were unchanged to 1/4 lower, compared with Wednesday's final figures. Liquidation of December holdings was the feature of the trading. Leasing longs began to sell freely soon after the opening, and this induced many smaller holders to sell and also brought out numerous stop-loss orders. Talk of large quantities of wheat bought recently in the West and Northwest "to arrive here" was a factor in causing this selling pressure. The market rallied in the final hour, but the sentiment at the close was still bearish. The December opened at 100 to 109 1/2; highest 109 1/2; lowest 100 1/2; closing 107 1/2. Corn.—The market was somewhat irregular a great part of the day, the December being rather weak and the other distant options firm. The December was subjected to considerable selling pressure, owing to talk of increased receipts. At the close, the prices were 1/4 to 1/2 lower to 1/4 to 1/2 higher. The December opened at 60 1/2 to 60 3/4; highest 60 3/4; lowest 59 1/2; closing 59 1/2. Soybean.—Buying of the May by leading elevator interests imparted considerable strength to the market. Changing from December holdings to those of the May was another feature of the trading. The prices at the close were 1/4 to 1/2 higher. The December opened at 29 1/2; highest 29 1/2; lowest 29 1/2; closing 29 1/2.

Cotton Market.

Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say of yesterday's cotton market: "Today's week-end figures will be very bullish. The amount brought into sight will be about 325,000 bales against 600,000 for the same week last year, and under those circumstances the price must begin to look for his cotton or get left. We are extremely friendly to cotton and do not think those who are lodged long of the market should listen to the rabid arguments that are being urged to induce timid bulls to unload. The situation warrants the belief that for cotton goods will not be lessened because of the very small appreciation in their values. The mills are making money, and as long as they do there is no change that they will voluntarily curtail."

Copper Metal Prices.

New York, Nov. 26.—Copper on the New York Metal exchange was dull today, with spot and all deliveries up the end of March closing at 132 1/2 to 133.

City Brevities

Today's weather: Probably rain Saturday; stationary temperature. Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m., 37 degrees; noon, 42; 7 p. m., 44. Maximum, 46 degrees; minimum, 35.

A. W. Quandt of Houghton is in the city on business.

Mrs. W. L. Mason of L'Anse was in the city yesterday.

The Music club will meet with Mrs. H. C. Davis, Presque Isle avenue, this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

James Fitzgerald, 323 Rock street, was taken to St. Mary's hospital yesterday suffering with appendicitis.

The mild weather of the last few days has thawed off the snow on the streets until there is neither good sleighing nor good wheeling.

Work at the docks is being greatly retarded because of the ice freezing in the cars. At both docks, engines were used to thaw out the cars yesterday.

"A Present-Day Slavery, or the Unjustified Dictation of Employers to the Conscience of Employees," touching a Great Moral Issue Among Us," will be the subject of Dr. Tupper's sermon at the Baptist church Sunday evening.

General Manager Harris of the Cleveland Gulf railway has received a telegram, stating that the steamer Winnipeg has left Buffalo with about 1,500 tons of steel rails on board, which were recently purchased by the company from the Lackawanna steel company. The steamer should arrive today or tomorrow.

Eclipse of the Moon—There was a total eclipse of the moon at 2 o'clock this morning. It was the second to occur this year. The sky was clear and the moon was seen both to enter the earth's shadow and to emerge from it.

Piano Broke Man's Leg—Dennis Herbert of Humboldt was brought to St. Luke's hospital yesterday with a broken leg. The accident occurred while Herbert was moving a piano, which in being tipped to pass through a door, fell over on his leg, fracturing the bone. He was resting as comfortably as could be expected last evening.

Two Bear Shot—Two black bear at Hathway's meat market attracted considerable attention yesterday. The animals were shot in a bog by Charles Rublein, who lives about four miles west of the city. Mr. Rublein was hunting deer when he espied the bear. The larger of the animals weighed 145 pounds and the smaller, a cub, about forty pounds. Both were very fat and covered with a fine fur.

Rifle Club Shoot—The Dupont Rifle club held a Thanksgiving Day shoot Thursday. The shooting was off hand at 200 yards range, with any rifle and sights allowed. A military target was used and in each round twenty-five points were possible. The scores were as follows: Dr. Bradman, 21-21-21; Miller, 20-21-20-21; Westlake, 20-19; Meads, 18-20; Drake, 19-18; Watson, 18-20; Nebel, 18-15; Long, 14-18; Schauer, 12-17.

Has Moved to Palmer—M. Koivisto, who until recently owned a grocery store on Washington street opposite the postoffice, moved to Palmer Thursday, where he has purchased the Palmer Store company's mercantile establishment. This is the only store in the town and does a large business. In Mr. Koivisto, Marquette has lost one of her foremost Finnish residents, and his decision to remove from the city is generally regretted.

Term Opens Dec. 6—The December term of circuit court in this county will open a week from Monday, with Judge Cooper on the bench. Sheriff Lehman now has the list of jurymen drawn for the term, and most of them have already been subpoenaed. The term does not promise to be a particularly long or important one, the number of criminal cases being especially small. Only two violations of the liquor laws have been reported in this county since the Warner-Cramton law went into effect.

Will Not Close Tonight—Although announced to close this evening, the St. Peter's church fair at Baraga Hall will be continued until next Tuesday night. The patronage has been very good thus far, but there are still a large number of articles unsold and it is hoped to dispose of them the first two days of next week. The fair was largely attended last night. Supper was served by the Young Ladies' sodality, and the Peerless orchestra furnished music. There will be music this evening, also. The supper will be served by the Ladies auxiliary to the A. O. H.

Junior Party Last Evening—The Junior class of the Marquette High school entertained a large number of invited guests at a dancing party at Fraternity Hall last night. One hundred couples were present. The party was one of the most enjoyable ever given by the young people of the school. The decorations were very pretty. Excellent music was furnished by the Peerless orchestra. Girls of the class served refreshments. The dance was preceded by a reception at which the guests were received by Professor McNeil, E. H. Bice of the school board and President Leslie LeVeque of the Junior class.

Dr. Day at M. E. Church—The Rev. Frank E. Day, pastor of the college church at Albion, will preach tomorrow morning at the Methodist church. Dr. Day is one of the greatest preachers of the Methodist church in Michigan. He has a gifted mind and splendid eloquence. He carried all before him in the great convention at Ishpeming on Thursday night and it will be a rare privilege for the people of Marquette to hear him. Mr. Maywood goes today to Chatham, where he is to speak at an educational mass meeting, and the pulpit here will be occupied in the evening by Mr. Rutledge who, in view of the intense interest in the local option campaign, is now a conspicuous figure in the county.

Died from Injuries—Manu Salmi, who was struck by a Marquette & South-eastern train while walking along the track near Chatham last Saturday night, died at St. Luke's hospital Thursday. Salmi had spent the day in Chatham and is said to have been under the influence of liquor when he started out to walk on the track to Rumley. The man paid no attention to the warning whistle of an oncoming freight train, and by the time the engineer realized that he did not intend to get off the track, it was too late to stop the train. The pilot hit him and threw him considerable distance, severely injuring his back and spine. He was brought to Marquette on the passenger train that night and was at once taken to St. Luke's hospital.

Can't Withdraw Names—One of the local option workers of this city went to Ishpeming yesterday to talk over matters with Professor Samuel Dickie of Albion college, who has become well known because of his debates on the liquor question with Mayor Rose of Milwaukee. President Dickie said that he had been through a number of local option fights in the lower peninsula and was of the positive opinion, based on supreme court decisions, that a signer of a local option petition could not withdraw his name any more than he could take his name off a promissory note. In case that a name was fraudulently affixed to a petition, President Dickie maintains that to have it stricken from that petition, the man must appear in person before the board of supervisors and swear to his having never signed it. According to Dr. Dickie, affidavits to that effect are not sufficient.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.

Upper Peninsula

Sugar Plant's Best Season—

The last of the season's crop of beets is now being sliced at the Menominee River Sugar company's plant. Manufacture will continue for some time yet, however, and following the close of the plant a force of mechanics will put the machinery in condition for its long rest until next fall. The sugar packing force will be kept busy for some weeks longer, and the extra office force will be employed continually until after the holidays. A number of expert sugar makers, among them James L. Robertson, will leave for Cuba, where they will be employed in the manufacture of cane sugar. The plant has had a most successful season this year. It has run considerably longer than last fall and has not been delayed by machinery breaks at all.

Rabbit Had Heart Failure—

W. T. Feetham and Charles Van Dusen spent a day in the woods of the city of the week, both armed with repeating rifles, shot guns and deer hoes, says the Soo News. They started out early in the morning and it was several hours after the shades of night had fallen over mother earth before they returned. They were tired, hungry and disappointed when they at last tunned their steps homeward. They had not seen a thing all day and when a rabbit suddenly appeared in the road in front of them, their joy knew no bounds. Feetham was the first to fire and bunny tumbled over at his feet. Billy picked up his prize and made an examination to learn where his shot had taken effect. There were no marks; not a single sign of the rabbit having been hit could be found, and their diagnosis was unanimous in that the animal had died of heart failure superinduced by fright.

Doubts Whitefish Are Decreasing—

Considerable discussion has been aroused lately over the question as to whether the whitefish supply is decreasing or increasing in the great lakes. H. P. Marks, superintendent of the Sault Ste. Marie hatchery, maintains that the supply is gradually on the increase, as shown by the statistics of the United States fish commission. No report has been made on the subject for the year 1909, but last year the records show that the catch in Lake Erie was one-third greater than it had ever been before, and there has been an increase in the catches of the other lakes. The greatest increase, however, is in Erie, which furnishes natural feeding grounds, and from the further fact that five large hatcheries put their output therein. Work on the new batteries at the Soo is progressing favorably, and the hatchery is otherwise being placed in position. Lake trout and brook trout eggs are expected at the station any day. Mr. Marks expects 8,000,000 of the former and 1,500,000 of the latter, all of which will be planted in Lake Superior, the St. Mary's river and in the inland streams of the peninsula. The whitefish eggs will not arrive until March, and those of the wall-eyed pike and rainbow trout will be the last to come in April.

Youthful Swindler Convicted—

After a deliberation of an hour, the jury in the case of the state of Michigan versus Raymond Sualter, tried in circuit court at Menominee, a verdict of guilty of larceny to the amount of $45.50 was returned. There was no surprise at the result, as the testimony against the young man was overwhelming. With the close of the case one of the most unusual proceedings which has ever come to the notice of the authorities at Menominee is decided. Raymond Sualter, convicted of having ordered a bill of goods from Sears, Roebuck & Co. of Chicago, in the winter of 1906, having them shipped to a fictitious address, and of having stolen them from the freight house when they arrived, is not twenty-one years of age, and at the time of the swindle was barely sixteen. In his defense he stuck firmly to the story of a mysterious "Joe" whom he claimed had sold him the goods from the catalogue and whom he had paid on the installment plan. His mother and brother, denying the evidence given at the examination in justice court, also spoke of the fictitious "Joe." However under the questioning of Prosecutor Doyle they broke down and made many damaging statements, the brother especially proving a poor witness for the defense. The young man's mother, a slight, bent figure of a woman, who sat in court during the proceedings, enveloped in a huge shawl and fastenings tied over the head, elicited much sympathy from the spectators. She seemed bewildered and when Sualter was led out after the verdict was rendered, she did not grasp the fact until informed of it by one of her sons. Then she buried her face in her hands and sobbed bitterly as she was led from the court room.

SPEAKER CANNON GIVES PITHY TALK

He States His Views in Coherent Manner in an Address Before the Knife and Fork Club at Kansas City, Mo.

he defended the finance committee's schedules of those products in speeches, saying they were not high enough, explaining, however, that he could not vote on the question because he said he had a personal pecuniary interest in the outcome. Senators LaFollette and Bristow and the other insurgents voted to increase the duty on barley and barley malt for the reason that their constituents produce barley. In other words, those gentlemen who call themselves "insurgents" voted with the Republicans on schedules that protected the products of their constituents and with the Democrats on schedules that protected the products of other sections of the country. That is the right, but when they voted with the Democrats against the final enactment of the bill they voted to maintain the old schedules of the Dingley law and were not supporting the pledge of the Republican platform or the pledges made by President Taft.

"There was not one member of the Republican majority who secured in the bill as enacted all that he had contended for. President Taft, Senator Aldrich and myself all accepted more compromises than the so-called 'insurgents' were asked to accept. In Illinois we wanted free lumber, and my constituents wanted a duty on petroleum because they have the greatest independent oil producing district in the world. We were beaten, but we did not make our own interests the only interpretation of the Republican pledge to revise the tariff.

Cummins Reads Himself Out of Party.

"Senator Cummins complains that I have read him out of the Republican party. Other sensitive gentlemen made the same complaint against President Taft. The senator does me too much honor. I have not the authority to read any man out, nor have I the disposition. I think I may say the same for the president. I have been a member of the Republican party since it was organized and I have never known of any man or group of men being read out of any party except by themselves.

"The senator, I think, aptly recalled the story of the three fallows of Tooley street who met and prepared the preamble. 'We, the people of England.' That is a good illustration of the ego that often dominates the minority everywhere, in town meetings, state legislatures, federal congresses, in churches, and in every place where men meet to cooperate. The fallows of Tooley street are even with us, and when they can not be 'we, the people' in action as well as in the preamble, they take it out in reviling and de-laming.

"Senator Cummins declares that the Payne law is a repudiation of the Chicago platform. President Taft when he signed the bill, made a public statement in which he said: 'There have been a great number of real decreases in rates, and they constitute a sufficient amount to justify a statement that this bill is a substantial downward revision and not an excessive rate.' In his own words, the president declared: 'The Payne tariff bill is the best tariff bill the Republican party has ever passed.'

"Senator Cummins declares that the issue from now until the national convention in 1912 is, shall the men who control the party discard the Chicago platform and disregard plain party platforms? President Taft is the recognized leader of the Republican party and the great majority of Republicans are his followers. The president and the Republican majority in congress co-operated in the legislation that has been written on the statute books. With whom did Senator Cummins co-operate? Let the record of the votes on this legislation from beginning to end decide.

"Mr. Bryan wants the war against the Republicans who enacted this legislation to go on. Senator Cummins also wants it to go on. When Lincoln found an army marching on the national capital from the south and a body of sympathizers in the north encouraging that army he said it was difficult to determine which was the most threatening to the welfare of the nation. History repeats itself, and when Senators Cummins, LaFollette, Bristow and their so-called 'progressive' following join hands with Mr. Bryan in making war upon the Republican members of congress, who passed the tariff bill and upon the president who signed it, in that contest I know of but one way to treat them and that is to fight them just as we fight Mr. Bryan and his following.

Champ Clark and the Rules.

"Your distinguished fellow citizen of Missouri, the Honorable Champ Clark, has done me the honor on several occasions lately to take issue with a remark made by me to the effect that the fight against the rules of the tariff legislation, I fight to prevent any tariff legislation, I do not believe that all the gentlemen who voted with Mr. Clark on the rules realized that they were his allies against the Republican party, but it would reflect more seriously than I care to do in this presence on Mr. Clark's knowledge of parliamentary practice and the rules of the house to believe that he did not fully and clearly understand the whole situation. Mr. Clark assumed an attitude of non-interference with the tariff bill, but he knew, or ought to have known, that by his resolution he proposed in the first line to adopt for the first session of the Sixty-first congress the rules of the Sixty-first congress, and that under these rules it would be possible to bring the tariff bill to a vote only by considering every one of the so-called paragraphs of the whole, with each paragraph subject to amendment in the second degree—a method by which the bill could be held in committee of the whole indefinitely—or by the adoption of a special rule fixing a definite time for a vote, which would have only been possible if the action of a majority of the house upon a report from the committee on rules.

"There is where Mr. Clark seemed to exercise the most acute intelligence in naming the members of the committee on rules, to which any special rule would have to be referred. He named on this committee of fifteen five Republicans who participated in the Republican caucus and were in harmony with the administration plan of an early settlement of the tariff. Six Democrats who had participated in the Democratic caucus and who were loyal to Mr. Clark's every wish to prevent tariff legislation, and then he selected four so-called 'insurgent' Republicans, Norris of Nebraska, Carter of Kansas, two of these 'insurgent' Republicans, Norris of Nebraska and Nelson of Wisconsin, co-operated with Mr. Clark in every move against the consideration of the tariff bill, consulted with him freely, and when they spotted a vote in favor of support his contention as loyally as did any Democrat in the house.

"These two gentlemen and the six Democrats would have made a clear majority of Mr. Clark's committee on rules, even had Mr. Gardner, of Massachusetts, and Mr. Hayes, of California, voted with the By-Other Republicans, as I believe they would, in favor of a special rule to fix a date for the vote on the tariff bill. With eight men out of fifteen on that committee to consider a special rule, does any one suppose Mr. Clark would have neglected his opportunity to keep that bill from coming to a vote or an opportunity to embarrass the administration? Had Mr. Clark's resolution been adopted the house of representatives would still be in session considering the immovable amendment proposed by the Democrats, would have offered to the hundreds of paragraphs in the tariff bill, and the United States senate would still be waiting for the bill to be sent over for its consideration.

Wolves Offer Protection.

"Mr. Clark knows Aesop's fables by heart and he has formulated much of his political philosophy on them. In one of these fables the wolves wanted the sheep to discharge the dogs and employ the wolves to defend them. Mr. Clark's committee on rules would have given the same protection to the tariff bill that the wolves would have given to the sheep. The Republican majority of the house, with a clear majority in support of the Payne tariff bill, would have been helpless in any effort to register its will, because any resolution for a special rule to bring the bill to a vote would have had to be referred to the committee on rules dominated by Champ Clark, leader of the minority and leader of the effort to prevent the enactment of the bill.

"To put it in another way, the nominal Republican majority in the house would have been destroyed, if all the minority had co-operated with the so-called 'insurgent' Republicans and the very first pledge of the Republican national convention and the Republican president, Mr. Taft, would have failed as completely as though a Democratic house of representatives had been elected instead of a house with a nominal Republican majority of forty-six.

"Mr. Clark had always been regular in his own party. For his benefit and that of Mr. Bryan I cite the rule adopted by the Democratic majority, August 13, 1894, for consideration of the Wilson tariff bill, for which both Mr. Clark and Mr. Bryan voted and which accorded an blue over 600 separate amendments. This rule was reported by Representative Wilson, of West Virginia, from the committee on rules, but he stated that it was in accordance with the action and will of the Democratic caucus.

Rules of the House.

"Now a word about the rules of the house of representatives which have been so much discussed by people who know so little about them or those who have simply found them a convenient subject for misrepresentation. We have had these rules since the beginning of the government and substantially without change for the past twenty years. Mr. Bryan voted and which accorded an blue over 600 separate amendments. This rule was reported by Representative Wilson, of West Virginia, from the committee on rules, but he stated that it was in accordance with the action and will of the Democratic caucus.

Many large improvements are contemplated or are under way. Chief among these is the power line which is being installed between the main power plant and the company mines at Henrietta and Eliza. This line will carry 11,000 volts and will do away entirely with wicker separated steam plants which have served heretofore. The same plan has already been adopted for each of the other properties. The use of electricity with the central power plant located at Henrietta was rendered possible only a short time since when installation and connection of a 1,500 kilowatt turbine engine was completed. This centralization of power will be another large item of expenses cut off since Dr. L. D. Ricketts took charge of the situation. From that time on it is believed the Calumet & Sonora will be a larger figure in the mining field. On account of the heavy American import duties on the grades of ore it will produce the Calumet & Sonora will ship to Europe, either to Swansea, England, or Antwerp, Holland.

"The demagogue we have always with us and as ours is a government of the people, the only way to dispose of him is to move on. The proof of the pudding is the eating of it, and I am perfectly willing to trust the verdict of a prosperous and happy people in the decisions in November, 1910 after this new tariff law has been in operation for a year."

waited from March until August for the enactment of a tariff bill. During that period, on account of the uncertainty, it has been conservatively estimated that the loss due to the halting of business and production amounted to ten million dollars ($10,000,000) a day. Since the enactment of the new law production in our own country and imports from foreign countries have greatly increased, and day by day their conditions are improving. The farmers, who comprise one-third of our population, are enjoying high and some of them are riding in automobiles. In mine and factory as well as in transportation and commerce opportunities for employment are daily growing better. The revenues of the government are continually increasing.

The Payne tariff law is not perfect—perfection resides in Deity alone—but I agree most heartily with Representative Payne of New York and with the president of the United States in his Winona speech that the new tariff law is the best one ever passed under Republican leadership.

"Neither Bryan, Cummins, LaFollette, Bristow or their followers claim that it can be changed during the coming four years, but they all agree in one thing, namely, that they will agitate—and they are agitating—for additional tariff legislation and as the car of prosperity drawn by ninety million people moves on, they are seeking to hinder its progress by criticism and denunciation, and this too within three months of its enactment.

"The demagogue we have always with us and as ours is a government of the people, the only way to dispose of him is to move on. The proof of the pudding is the eating of it, and I am perfectly willing to trust the verdict of a prosperous and happy people in the decisions in November, 1910 after this new tariff law has been in operation for a year."

Three Persons Dead as the Result of a Pacific Coast Shipwreck.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 26.—A telephone message from Tillamook states that one woman, one girl and a member of a life saving crew were drowned as the result of the overturning of a lifeboat engaged in rescuing the passengers from the steamer Argo, which went ashore on Tillamook bay today. As the Argo was attempting to enter Tillamook bay, she struck the bar. Livesavers put out and took into the boat Mrs. W. C. King, Nellie and Agnes Hunter of Tillamook and an unidentified woman. The boat was upset and one of the Hunter girls and the unidentified woman, landing in 1842 at New Orleans, where the family settled. He lived many years in the Southern states. Thomas Furlong and Margaret Manning were married in Princeton, Prince Edward county, Ontario, in November, 1859. Their children were all born there, the family coming to Michigan in 1881. Thomas Furlong was born at Ballard, county Wicklow, Ireland, July 27, 1834. He came to America with his parents, landing in 1842 at New Orleans, where the family settled. Mining News

SUPERIOR & PITTSBURG.

At the Superior & Pittsburg shafts there have been some very encouraging developments lately, says the Bisbee Review. At the Junction new ore was found on the 1500 and 1400 levels on both the north and south sides of the shaft. Whether or not these are important ore bodies it is too early to tell. The Hoatson shaft has found new ore on the 1200-foot level north of the shaft in the sulphide zone and also in the northeast corner of the claim, in the oxide zone. By far the most interesting developments of the week there has been the development of the six oxide ore body between the 1400 and 1300 levels, which was found on the 1400 level some months past. All the development work done in this ore body has been extremely interesting and encouraging and goes to show that what was prophesied for this deposit when it was first found will be made good. That is, that this is one of the largest ore bodies in the Bisbee district and holds throughout to its first high values.

At the Oliver shaft of the Calumet & Arizona company the development of the mine has been very satisfactory, although nothing particularly new has developed, most of the work being confined to extending the known ore bodies. The new electrical equipment at this shaft was tried out during the week. The 1,000-kilowatt turbine generator proved to be very satisfactory and will go into commission regularly at once.

LOCOMOTIVE.

They used to travel in a cart. Behind the faithful ox: It was not what is now called "smart"—But wheels beneath a box.

Then in a more progressive age Ambitious to go fast, Some genius built a Concord stage: The day of carts was past.

Another genius thought of steam, He brought it into use: It was the climax of his dream, And cooked the Concord's goose.

Nor was this all; the axle next, Was born to burn the miles: The man on foot was sorely vexed, The man on board all smiles.

"This is the end," the people said, But chanced to glance on high, To see, across the blue o'ried, An aviator fly.

AN AMERICAN ON ENGLISH POLITICS

COLONEL SCOTT, JUST BACK FROM ENGLAND, TELLS OF FIGHT ON OVER THE BUDGET.

PEOPLE WOULD TAX LAND

House of Lords, However, Being Heavy Real Estate Owners, Would Establish Duty on Certain Imports.

Col. T. W. Scott, a well-known banker of Mass City and one of the most widely traveled men in the upper peninsula, is spending a few days in Marquette, before going west to spend the winter.

Having just returned from England, Colonel Scott was able to throw some first hand light on the political situation in that country, which is now at white heat because of the near approach of the time when the house of lords will vote on the budget.

In no political campaign in this country during my lifetime have the people been so generally wrought up as they are in England this fall. Immense mass meetings are being held throughout the country every day and the excitement is intense.

The present political crisis in England is most interesting. The pervage of the country owns most of the land, which is now rented at a certain price and the renter pays the taxes.

The average day laborer, clerk and workman of England is just as well off as in this country," he replied. "While American wages are much higher than wages in England, the purchasing power of money is much greater there to offset the difference.

Another thing that impressed me in the British Isles is the system of close inspection of all food products. The government employs many inspectors who enforce sanitary conditions in all dairies, greenhouses and meat shops.

The regular Saturday night hop will be held at Fraternity Hall tonight. Music by the Peerless orchestra.

A RECORD CATCH.

Parker Tug Theora Brought in Over Twelve Tons of Herring.

The crew of John Parker's fish tug Theora returned from a trip to the herring nets last evening with twelve tons, 1,064 pounds of fish on board, which is by far the largest single catch in this season or last season either for that matter.

Mr. Parker states that the herring season this fall is a very good one, and many more fish are being caught than last year. The market for the fish is also much better than a year ago, and he is employing twenty-five men, as compared with ten last season.

Northern Normal Notes.

A great many of the students have gone to their various homes to spend the Thanksgiving holidays.

Several of the faculty members have been spending their vacation at camp on Middle Island point. From all reports, they are enjoying their winter outing.

The Normal was well represented at the Scottish evening held at the Baptist church last Monday evening, and the program was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Miss Hill sails from Italy on the ninth of December and will reach New York on the 21st. She expects to spend the Christmas holidays with her relatives in Flint, Michigan.

A delightful Thanksgiving program was given by the pupils in Miss Melchior's room Wednesday afternoon. Thanksgiving songs, Thanksgiving poems and original Thanksgiving stories were sung, recited and read.

The Thanksgiving offering this year was very abundant. Each child in the training school from the kindergarten to the eighth grade contributed his share.

Tuesday morning Miss Gable had charge of the exercises. A delightful program was given by her pupils. They explained, in story form, the processes through which some of the staple products must go before they reach the consumer.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons of next week there will be an exhibit of pictures held at the Normal. This promises to be one of the best exhibitions ever held at the school and one which will be worth while visiting.

Monday evening Ydrasil held its regular meeting, and in spite of poor lights, the following delightful program was carried out:

The seniors are hard at work preparing their annual. Prizes are offered for the best stories, poems, and class song. Monday afternoon the boys met and organized a basketball team. Sam Fraser being elected captain.

According to reports from other post-offices, a great many post cards never reach their destination, because they are confiscated by the postal clerks in conformance with the regulation making tinselled cards unmailable, unless in an envelope.

A great many people think that double post cards go for one cent. This is true only when there is no writing on them. If the card contains a message two cents is required. That type of card known as "merchandise card" invariably requires a two-cent stamp.

WOMAN MURDERED AT SHINGLETON RESORT

WHILE ALONE WITH GEO. FITZPATRICK, WHO IS ACCUSED OF THE CRIME. HARRIET HILL WAS CLUBBED TO DEATH.

Harriet Hill was murdered in a house of ill repute near Shingleton shortly after midnight Tuesday night, and George F. Fitzpatrick, who was alone with her at the time in the dining hall under suspicion of having committed the crime, Earth Riley, the proprietor of the house, Peter Bolles, Lee Brasil and another man are being held as witnesses.

The Hill woman came to Shingleton from Steuben, near Manistique, a month ago and was about twenty-nine years of age. Fitzpatrick is also a comparative stranger to Shingleton, his home being at Cadillac. It is said that the two have been intimately acquainted for some time.

Fitzpatrick and the Hill woman were in the front part of the house when the fatality occurred. While the Hill woman had not been shot at all, but that her skull had been stove in by some heavy and blunt instrument, such as an axe or ball club, or possibly the butt end of a large revolver. No such instrument was found in the room but the officers are now making further search for the deadly weapon.

VALENTINE AGENTS OUT. What the Loveliest May Send Their Sweethearts Next February.

There will not be a radical change in the valentines which the lover will send out to his lady love next February. The first of the agents having for sale these dainty little messages that sometimes prove a great assistance to Cupid, are making their rounds with samples for the local dealers to inspect and pick out such as they may desire to place in stock.

As far as distinctiveness is concerned, there is nothing to particularly attract one's attention. It is the same old harp, the same old melody standing at the general make-up of the real mifty valentine for next season. A few flying machines were also expected to be conspicuous in the make-up of the real mifty kind this season, but in this the senders of these gentle hints will be disappointed.

In valentines of a comic nature there is no radical departure from the old-time variety. There is the same old scrawny maid with a few teeth missing and the same old face of a man behind the counter of the drug store, the shoe store, meat market and the general store, as well as the picture of the petting-gor with his feet upon the desk and an old clay pipe in his mouth. In fact there is a large array of these kind in event you are seeking for an opportunity to get back at some one with whom you are not real friendly.

"One thing remarkable," said one salesman, "is the fact that we are not selling many of the comies this year. They seem to be losing out more and more every season, people desiring something of a more pleasing nature. Of course, we have to carry a few of the comies but they are mostly always used by the children."
