

ALABAMA REJECTS PROHIBITION PLAN

Submitted to the Electorate of the Entire State, the Proposed Constitutional Amendment Is Overwhelmingly Snowed Under.

In Only Three Counties, It Appears, Has the Proposition Been Carried—Rural Precincts, Small Towns and Cities Alike Have Mostly Declared Against It, and in the Aggregate the Adverse Majority Is Estimated at Eighteen to Twenty Thousand.

Birmingham, Nov. 29.—All indications point to a majority of eighteen to twenty thousand in Alabama against the prohibition constitutional amendment. The early returns indicated a landslide, and the succeeding bulletins have confirmed the first indications. This county, in which is the largest city in the state, gives a majority of over 1,000 against the amendment, despite the fact that the fight for prohibition was concentrated here. Mobile, Montgomery and Cullman counties show the largest majorities on the victorious side. The amendment apparently has carried only three counties—Talladega, Macon and Sumter—with Lee doubtful.

Today's election cannot be regarded as a straight anti-prohibition victory, on account of the personal politics injected into the issue. Its association with the administration of Governor Comer and his reputed ability to name his successor to the governorship in the person of Judge S. D. Weakley, author of the prohibition bills, have figured prominently in the result.

A significant feature is the fact that the sentiment against the amendment is so widespread. Rural precincts, small towns and cities alike have mostly returned substantial majorities on the winning side.

Nothing like the good feeling shown in Birmingham tonight over the result has ever been seen here. The thousands from outside the city gathered here to see the returns dashed on bulletin boards in downtown streets were full of enthusiasm. While women and children were at the polls at many places, their presence did not affect the vote to any extent.

Today was the first time that an expression of the whole electorate of the state has been secured on the prohibition question. The state-wide prohibition bill was passed by a legislature elected on a local option platform, and while several counties had declared for prohibition the voters of the entire state had never before passed on the question.

In Birmingham, the election was the most exciting ever witnessed. There were crowds around each polling place. Women and children were singing, while bands stationed by the anti-amendment forces were playing patriotic airs. Each polling place today had so high that a few words were sufficient to bring blows. Practically every other voter challenged was required to swear that he was a qualified elector.

Temperance Forces Divided. While today's landslide was an apparent repudiation of prohibition, it is not regarded likely that the state will ever return to the condition existing before the adoption of the statewide law. It is the general opinion that today's result will mean ultimately the modification of the present drastic laws. Counties which had prohibited for twenty-five years voted against putting prohibition in the state constitution, and cities and towns which went heavily for prohibition under local option today reversed their former majorities. Some of the chief temperance leaders of the state fought the amendment.

Mobile Wildly Joyful. Mobile, Nov. 29.—This city gave a majority against the amendment of 2,350. Seventeen precincts in the county voted against it. Never were so great crowds congregated.

Citizens are parading and cheering and bands are playing "Dixie." Many women are taking part in the parades.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Five members of the crew of the gunboat Marietta, who were adrift in a gulf off Port Limon, Costa Rica, were picked up by a rescue party of the gunboat Des Moines today, according to a navy department despatch. The men had gone ashore twenty miles from Limon. The zig was not recovered. Five men who were adrift in the Marietta's whaleboat have not been heard of, but their rescue is expected by one of the searching parties. The men in the boats were missed Friday, but owing to the provisions kept in the boats it is believed they have suffered little from hunger and thirst.

WHITE HOUSE MEETING MAPS OUT LEGISLATION.

That the Administration Will Exert All Its Influence Toward a Comprehensive Revision of the Interstate Commerce Law Is the Announcement Following a Lengthy Conference.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Following a lengthy conference at the White House today, it was announced that the administration will exert all its influence toward a comprehensive revision of the interstate commerce law. A rough draft of the proposed amendment was submitted by the attorney general, but no decision upon it was reached. Interstate Commerce Commissioner Lane, Frank B. Kellogg, the special "trust buster" and Secretaries Wilson and Dickinson gave their views. The president has not yet selected the senator and representative who will be entrusted with the task of putting the legislation through.

Decided Change in Anti-Trust Plan. The president has practically decided that his message will make no detailed recommendations regarding the Sherman anti-trust act. His decision, which is a decided change from his intentions a few weeks ago, is largely based upon the fact that there are pending in the supreme court and on their way to the highest tribunal a number of important cases involving the interpretation of that act.

Labor Leaders Make Recommendations. Recommendations looking toward the improvement of the condition of the laboring man and which it is desired that the president incorporate in his message to congress, were urged upon Mr. Taft today by a delegation of labor leaders, headed by Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell. The most important recommendation is the exemption of labor organizations from the operations of the anti-trust law.

Ad Wolgast Has Much the Better of a Furious Fistic Bout.

Wolgast had the better of the contest from the start to the finish, and his whirlwind rushes and aggressive in-fighting proved a combination that the San Francisco fighter was unable to meet. The Milwaukeean opened the fight fast and furiously. He had Powell's nose bleeding profusely and nearly drove the Californian through the ropes in the first round.

HEEDS THE CRY FOR NAVAL REFORM

Mr. Meyer Announces Sweeping Changes in His Department of the National Government, Effective December First.

With the Subordination of the Bureau Chief as the Keynote of the New Plan, He Hopes to Put the Affairs of the Navy on a Business Basis Beyond the Dreams of His Predecessors in Office—Many Snug Berths Done Away With.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Heeding the cry for the reform of naval affairs, Secretary Meyer will on Wednesday inaugurate the most sweeping changes in the navy department since the establishment of the bureau system in 1842. He hopes to put the department on a business basis beyond the dreams of his predecessors. The keynote is the subordination of the bureau chief. The essential changes are:

The selection of four responsible advisers or aides on subjects within the four groups into which the duties of the department fall, namely, material, personnel, operations of the fleet, and inspection.

The grouping of the bureaus into two divisions of material and personnel, according to the nature of their duties.

The establishment of a comprehensive inspection system.

The elimination of a modern efficiency and cost-keeping system in the department and at the navy yards.

The separation of the navy yard work into two divisions, hulls and machinery. The abolishment of the board of construction and bureau of equipment.

Men Who Fight Gain Influence. Henceforth the officers who fight the ships will have more influence in the department. Chosen men from among them will be the official eyes and ears of the secretary, but not his hands. All the reforms will be effective Dec. 1, except that of abolishing the bureau of equipment, which congress alone can do.

The aide for the operations of the fleet will be Admiral Richard Wainwright, commander of the Third division of the Atlantic fleet. The aide for the personnel will be Admiral W. P. Potter, now chief of the bureau of navigation. The aide for the material will be Admiral Wm. Swift, commander of the Boston navy yard. The aide for inspection will be Captain Aaron Ward, recently supervisor of New York harbor. Captain Reginald Nicholson, a member of the board of inspection and survey, will be chief of the bureau of navigation, vice Potter.

Secretary Meyer evolved the plan of reform after studying the reports of the various naval bureaus appointed to recommend how the various conflicting regulations and customs could best be simplified. "If the secretary can select from officers who have no definite relation to the organization of the department," said Mr. Meyer today, "he gets a view which may be good, but which is not responsible. Such recourse to individuals, however, gives no assurance of continuity of policy or responsibility."

According to the Meyer plan, the board of construction has become useless and will be abolished. The existing bureaus of yards, docks, marine corps and other branches of the department not logically included in either of the four divisions of duties will be placed under the assistant secretary.

He added that he separated himself from his party regretfully, and appealed to his fellow Unionists to reconsider their decisions. "The coming contest," he said, "will be one-sided. None of you will be able to defend your course; you will be at the mercy of your opponents."

Lord James announced his intention to pursue a constitutional path and vote against the proposed rejection. Many other peers spoke, nearly all in favor of rejecting the budget.

The debate adjourned at midnight. Although the result of the division tomorrow is a foregone conclusion, the country has been impressed with the oratorical skill displayed in the upper house, especially the powerful arguments of the Liberal peers.

HOUSE OF LORDS WILL VOTE TODAY

Its Rejection of the Budget With the New Forms of Taxation Proposed by the Ministry Is a Foregone Conclusion.

Nevertheless the Country Has Been Much Impressed With the Oratorical Skill Displayed in the Upper Chamber, and Especially With the Arguments of the Liberal Peers—A Powerful Speech by Lord Morley the Feature of the Final Discussion.

London, Nov. 29.—Lord Morley's powerful speech was the absorbing event in connection with the budget debate in the house of lords today. The secretary for India quoted Burke to the effect that the lords had no right to legislate relative to the disposition of the public purse, and he contended that the budget, with all of its complexities, could not wisely be submitted to referendum. Referendum also would weaken the sense of responsibility in the house of commons. As to the contention that action by the lords would arrest the wave of socialism, he refused to believe the British artisans socialistic; but, even granting that the misery among some classes had produced a movement akin to socialism, it was hardly wise of the lords to take the position of straining the constitution as the champion of the rich against the poor.

Lord Rothschild, a Liberal Unionist, retorted on the difficulty of raising capital, even for the best English enterprises, while Russia and Japan found borrowing comparatively easy.

Lord James of Hereford declared that it was beyond the lords' competency to reject the budget. Precedent, practice, usage and acquiescence were all opposed to it. He added that he separated himself from his party regretfully, and appealed to his fellow Unionists to reconsider their decisions. "The coming contest," he said, "will be one-sided. None of you will be able to defend your course; you will be at the mercy of your opponents."

Lord James announced his intention to pursue a constitutional path and vote against the proposed rejection. Many other peers spoke, nearly all in favor of rejecting the budget.

The debate adjourned at midnight. Although the result of the division tomorrow is a foregone conclusion, the country has been impressed with the oratorical skill displayed in the upper house, especially the powerful arguments of the Liberal peers.

Savage pursued her in a mad race, but she reached the police station, told her story and collapsed. Savage returned to the Barba home and was arrested there. He seemed stupefied.

SHOCKING TRAGEDY IN AN OHIO TOWN.

About to Be Arrested, a Youth Afflicted With Exaggerated Ego Murders His Mother and an Officer, Badly Wounds a Neighbor and His Wife and Puts End to His Own Existence.

Greenville, O., Nov. 29.—After murdering his mother and an officer who attempted to arrest him, and probably fatally injuring another woman and her husband, Clyde Weaver committed suicide here this afternoon.

Weaver had been adjudged afflicted with exaggerated ego and was under suspended commitment of the probate court. This afternoon Sheriff Haber and Deputy William Farra went to Weaver's home to place him in confinement. Weaver fired upon them from an upper window with a shotgun. Farra fell wounded. A woman later Wever's mother rushed from the house, crying "I'm shot," and fell dead.

Weaver, carrying a revolver, followed his mother from the house and, going to the woodshed, where Farra was lying, fired twice at the wounded officer, killing him. He then jumped into the officer's buggy and drove to the home of Levi Minnich, a neighbor, where he demanded protection. When Minnich hesitated, Weaver shot him through the back and then shot Mrs. Minnich twice.

A posse surrounded the house. Subsequently deputies broke through the rear door and discovered the home of Weaver under a bed. He had used his last bullet to blow out his own brains. The condition of both Mr. and Mrs. Minnich is very critical.

TRIED TO KILL HIS MOTHER.

Illinois Man Is in Jail, Charged With a Murderous Assault.

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 29.—Albert Marclay, a farmer, was arrested today while enjoying a play at a theater, charged with a murderous assault upon his mother at their home west of this city. Farmers of Sugar Grove have threatened vengeance, and Marclay is carefully guarded. Mrs. Marclay, who is in a precarious condition, says that Albert returned home Sunday night. Sitting by the fireplace, he mentioned to her that the fire was getting low. The mother knelt before the grate to fix the fire, and the son, with an iron bar, attacked and beat her over the head. Her cries attracted George, another son. He reached to the scene just in time, the brother fleeing with a horse and carriage he had left outside. Albert is said to have been angry with his mother over the disposition of the property left by her husband, who died three months ago. The widow was the sole beneficiary of the estate and decided to sell the farm against her son's wishes.

INQUEST IS BEING PUSHED RAPIDLY.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 29.—The coroner's investigation into the cause of the disaster at the St. Paul coal mine began this afternoon with the taking of identification statements from relatives and friends of the victims whose bodies have been recovered. All day a pathetic line of women passed into the little city hall to produce proof that their husbands or fathers had met their doom.

This evening the identity of thirty bodies had been established. At least three days will be consumed in this work, before the stories of the survivors are heard. The investigation will be pushed rapidly, on account of the general exodus of the miners and their families. The coroner also is not disposed to permit delay, because of the intense undercurrent of feeling demanding that those responsible be held accountable.

Excitement was caused in the office of the St. Paul company this afternoon while the inquest was in progress by the complaints of several miners who assisted in the rescue and who they had not been adequately paid for entering the burning mine. After a long wrangle, the discontented miners departed.

MONTREAL MENDING ITS WAYS.

Civic Clean-Up Precedes Investigator's Expected Severe Indictment.

Montreal, Nov. 29.—Montreal is busy cleaning up. Within a week or two at most, the long expected report of Commissioner Cannon on the civic affairs of the commercial capital will be in the hands of the attorney general of the province of Quebec. The contents of the report are being jealously guarded, but there are indications that it will be such a terrible indictment of civic administration as Canada has not seen for some time. In the meantime, Montreal is preparing for her ordeal by cleaning up. The citizens have already decided to change the erring ways of the city hall by embarking on government by commission, with a city council reduced by one-half. Even the much-maligned police committee has resolved in favor of the creation of a board of morality, to look after theaters, gambling dens, and what not.

of the city council has ruled that girls are not to sell papers on the streets, and to complete the gamut, the good citizens threw up their hands in pious horror a few days ago when the deputy sheriff issued 300 passes for the benefit of those of the public who relish the spectacle of a "private" hanging. Such a general desire for righteousness is unique in the annals of the city. It remains for Judge Cannon to lift the veil.

ILLINOIS MINES TO BE MADE SAFER

Conference with the Governor Outlines Legislation Proposed for Enactment at a Session to Be Called for the Purpose.

Various Plans Curtailing the Danger from Fire Are Decided Upon—Because of the General Exodus of the People of the Town, the Coroner's Inquest at Cherry Is Being Pushed Rapidly—A Pathetic Throng of Women Appear to Give Testimony.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 29.—Arrangements for investigation of the Cherry disaster were discussed today in a conference between the state mine inspectors and the committee appointed by the Illinois mine investigating commission, consisting of President Richard Newcomb, of Peoria; Professor Stook, of the department of mining in the University of Illinois; J. W. Miller, of Gillespie, and Glen W. Trner, of Chicago.

The conferees will go to Cherry Thursday, and the coroner's inquest there will be made part of the investigation of the disaster. At a meeting at Cherry a special committee will be named to continue the investigation.

Governor Duncen participated in today's conference and told the committee that it was necessary to make advance arrangements for the accommodation of those vitally interested in the investigation of the disaster, who are handicapped in the work. The conference outlined possible changes in the mining laws to be embodied in the governor's recommendations in his call for the coming special session of the legislature as requested by the officers of the state Federation of Labor and United Mine Workers of Illinois. These probable changes will be the following: Fire apparatus and water in tunnels and shafts; stables underground to be of concrete, and fireproof timbering at the bottom of each shaft and also for a given area extending therefrom. There also seems under consideration a recommendation of the prohibition of stables underground.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 29.—The coroner's investigation into the cause of the disaster at the St. Paul coal mine began this afternoon with the taking of identification statements from relatives and friends of the victims whose bodies have been recovered. All day a pathetic line of women passed into the little city hall to produce proof that their husbands or fathers had met their doom.

STEINBACH IS CAPTAIN.

Former Hancock Boy Again at the Head of Duluth Hockey Team.

The Duluth News-Tribune says: "The Northern Juniors, winners of the championship last season in the City Hockey League, have organized for the winter with John Steinbach as captain and Roy McEae as manager. The team lost only one game last year, and about the same line-up will be used this season, unless some of the recruits are able to displace the old men. Any player that wishes to get in the game can obtain a tryout with one or another of the league clubs. The Northern players last year were Asher Taylor, Stanley McEae, John Steinbach, Ralph Caudkins, Russell Holgate, A. McFadyen, Harold Feetham and Roy McEae."

CLOSE OF THE DEER SEASON.

Midnight Tonight Will See Last of Killing—One Seizure Made.

The deer season in the upper peninsula ends at midnight tonight. The hunters will then have three days of grace in which to bring their deer out of the woods.

This season has not been a particularly successful one. Houghton county hunters have not reported kills at all in proportion to the number of licenses issued.

County Clerk Richardson had up to noon yesterday issued 1,475 licenses, as compared with 1,524 last year, and he will not be able now to equal last year's record. Two belated hunters secured licenses yesterday, taking their chances on the last two days of the season.

One of the luckiest hunters was M. Levine, the well-known cattle buyer and dealer. He went to Baraga Saturday and returned Sunday morning with two fine specimens, which he reported as killing between Baraga and Keweenaw Pkwy. County Game Warden Wilson does not agree with Mr. Levine, and his disagreement took tangible shape in the seizure of the two deer Sunday night. Mr. Levine may be prosecuted for an alleged violation of the game laws, but he stoutly maintains that he killed the two deer under license and will put up a fight in the courts. He intended one of the deer as a gift to John C. Mann and one for Sheriff Byers and had delivered both deer to the Douglas House before the seizure was made.

VILLAGE COUNCIL MEETINGS.

Red Jacket, Laurium and Amnec Boards Have Call for Dec. 7.

Regular monthly meetings of the Red Jacket, Laurium and Amnec boards will be held Dec. 7. In Laurium, the board will likely take up the matter of further improvement of the water system and especially the extension of the dam water mains for fire protection. The village now is protected by a number of the town's water mains, but the council desires to provide the best and safest.

In Red Jacket the village board will further consider the matter of extending Fifth street from Pine to Spruce, in order to open up the property lying between these two thoroughfares and between Sixth and Fourth streets.

The Amnec board will consider further municipal improvement work to be started in the spring. It is likely the village will build a sewerage system and will also lay considerable concrete sidewalks, besides further bettering the principal streets. Amnec, although the newest organized town in the copper country, is one of the most progressive. Its population is growing rapidly and there is a demand for better roads and sanitary and fire facilities.

SUPER-EXCELLENT DEGREE.

David S. Kendall Council Will Have Preliminary Meeting.

A preliminary meeting of David S. Kendall council, Royal and Select Masters, of Houghton, will be held this evening for the purpose of conferring the R. & S. M. degree in anticipation of the super-excellent degree Thursday night. It is also probable that another meeting of the council for the conferring of the lesser degree will have to be held Thursday afternoon.

The super-excellent will be conferred Thursday night in the Masonic hall and thirty-five candidates will probably prize the class. This will bring the membership of the council up to 183.

David S. Kendall council, which bears the name of a deceased Hancock Mason, was organized in February, 1906. It is now second in the state in the amount of work done, being exceeded in this only by Monroe council of Detroit, the largest in the state, which has all told seventy-two councils.

CONTEST AT MARQUETTE.

Upper Peninsula High School Oratorical and Declamation Tests.

The close of the high school football season brings the high schools of the upper peninsula to a point where they can take up the annual oratorical and declamation contests. John A. Doelle, vice president of the State Oratorical society and chairman for the upper peninsula, said yesterday that he believed a greater interest is being taken in the contests this year than ever before. The Marquette High school alone has twenty students entered for the declamation contests.

Mr. Doelle says that there is less interest in the oratory branch of the contest, probably because the pupils find it harder work and one requiring greater preparation and study.

The upper peninsula in this year is divided into four districts as follows: Copper Country—Principal E. J. Hall of Calumet, chairman.

Eastern—Principal H. D. Hughes of Newberry, chairman.

Central—Principal J. H. McNeel of Marquette, chairman.

Western—Superintendent W. D. Hill of Crystal Falls, chairman.

All of these chairmen are working hard to secure a large number of entries in both contests. The contest is first a local matter, a competition being necessary to determine who shall represent each school. Then there is a district contest and the winners in the district compete to determine who will represent the upper peninsula in the state oratorical contest.

It is probable that in the copper country there will be two sub-district contests. This is due to the fact there will be eight schools entered and a program of sixteen numbers would be too lengthy. The schools to compete in the copper country district will be Houghton, Hancock, Calumet, L'Anse, Lake Linden, Rockland, Painesdale, Dollar Bay.

It is very probable that the upper peninsula contest will be held at Marquette again. The Northern Normal college has asked for it, and the request will probably be granted. No dates have been set as yet for any of the contests, but Mr. Doelle is now in correspondence with the chairmen and may be in a position to announce dates within a few days.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Matter of the Estate of Gertrude C. Phillips Is on Trial.

The matter of the estate of Gertrude C. Phillips, an alleged insane person, came up for trial in the circuit court yesterday morning. The case is an appeal from the probate court, brought by Mrs. Phillips, who was adjudged insane in that court. It was tried in this court a year or more ago and the decision of the probate court was sustained. Mrs. Phillips, through her attorneys Hanchette & Lawton, took the matter to the state supreme court and it was sent back for retrial. The petition was brought by Mrs. Phillips' husband, though John Phillips, her attorney, appears in the case more prominently than the petitioner.

The Phillips case will probably be the last jury trial in the present, November term of court. Judge Streeter has not as yet issued an order in the Hamilton case granting the request of George E. Hamilton's attorneys for a copy of the record of his trial and conviction on a charge of attempting to murder August Beck, while the latter was sheriff of Houghton county. As the request is one which would have no effect in the matter of an appeal for a new trial, Judge Streeter will probably grant it, though not until the present press of business in the court is relieved.

Hear it yourself - the Edison Phonograph

You cannot judge the Edison by hearing other kinds. The Edison is the sound-reproducing machine at its best. It is not a talking machine. It is a Phonograph reproducing every sound faithfully—the song exactly the way the singer sang it; the opera exactly the way the orchestra played it; the two-step exactly the way the band rendered it. That is the Edison Phonograph as Mr. Edison makes it—the object of his constant, daily care.

When he says he wants to see an Edison Phonograph in every home, he means your home. Do you not want one there? Do you not need this amusement maker for your own sake, for your children and for your guests? Hear one today. Hear all the others too and compare. Only in this way can you know that what we say is true.

Edison Phonographs - $12.50 to $125.00. Edison Standard Records - 33. Edison Amber Records (twice as long) - 50. Edison Grand Opera Records - 75.

There are Edison dealers everywhere. Go to the nearest and hear the Edison Phonograph play both Edison Standard and Amber Records. Get complete catalogs from your dealer or from us.

HOUGHTON'S NEW LIBRARY.

Miss Whare Does Not Believe It Can Be Opened Before January 1.

The new Houghton public library, gift of Andrew Carnegie to the people of the Houghton and Portage townships, school district, will probably not be opened to the use of the public before Jan. 1. This is the opinion of Miss Grace A. Whare, the librarian, who is now at the task of getting the books of the Woman's Library association, donated by the association, ready for use.

Miss Whare was found in the women's library yesterday engaged in this work of preparation. The 2,500 volumes in the library are in fair condition generally, but many of them require binding, while others require minor repairs which can be done by the librarian and her assistant. One task is the removal of all labels and catalogue marks because a new catalogue of the library will have to be compiled. It will be a modern card catalogue.

The catalogue will open with about 4,500 volumes, including the Woman's library, and that of the school district. In addition the school board has ordered $200 worth of reference and other non-fiction books. Miss Whare says that the library will open with a good classification of books and the best possible arrangement of the non-fiction section of the Woman's library. She says that it is her intention to make the public library as accessible as possible. In this she is aided by the fact that a men's smoking room has been set apart in the building. Here all the newspapers will be on file for the use of the men. Miss Whare is particularly pleased with the magazine list ordered by the school board. She declares no small library will have a better assortment of magazines, both of a general nature and along special lines, such as engineering, mechanical and financial publications.

The fact that more than a month will elapse before the library can be ready for use is due to the delay in the receipt of the furniture, requiring about fifteen days yet before it will be in place, and the use of a cork carpet on the main floor. It will require several days to lay this carpet alone and get it into condition for use.

FUNERAL OF HERMAN JANSEN.

Man Killed by Minefall Range Last Week Had Calumet Relatives.

The funeral of Herman Jansen, the man killed by a Minefall Range train in Calumet last week, was held at Centennial Heights Sunday. It was found that while Jansen had been a mariner, as shown by a card in his pocket, which led to his being mistaken for a stranger, he had left the lakes and taken up railroad work. He made his home with his brother Marius Jansen of Centennial Heights and it was from his home that the funeral was held.

The deceased, it is said, came to the copper country about a year ago and took employment with the Minefall Range railroad as a car repairer, at which trade his brother worked. The deceased had formerly been employed by the Northwestern road and was, at one time, a sailor on the fast passenger steamer North West. He was in a wreck on the Great Lakes a year ago. It is said, and stopped sailing this year as somewhat the fall season of hardships and exposure approached. Lighthouse Keeper Jonas of Manitowish Island is an uncle of the deceased.

WILL HOLD ANNUAL REUNIONS.

The thirty-second degree Masons of the copper country have decided to hold annual reunions, and for this purpose perfect an organization has been effected.

The following are the officers: President, Hon. Charles Smith, Hubbard; vice president, Robert H. Shields, Houghton; secretary, Wesley Downing, Calumet; treasurer, James T. Fisher, Laurium. The officers will draft by-laws and constitution for the new organization, and will work out plans for the annual reunions and banquets.

MINING COLLEGE RESUMES.

Work was resumed at the Michigan College of Mines yesterday, following the brief Thanksgiving vacation. A number of the members of the faculty and students spent the respite at their homes in other cities and some of the students went a-hunting of the deer, with little success. The resumption yesterday does not mark the opening of a calendar period at the college.

SPECTACULAR RISE IN LAKE.

The most spectacular rise in the market value of a copper issue seen in the copper country in years is being witnessed in the stock of the Lake Copper company. The shares opened around $53 yesterday and sold as high as $63 during the day. There is talk that it will go to $100. Holders of Lake are naturally very jubilant.

PREPARE FOR ICE SKATING.

The roller skating season at the Amphidrome, Palestra and Glaciadome, the big copper country rinks, has closed and the managers are waiting for ice-making weather. Manager McNamara had the hardwood floor of the Amphidrome out of the way within twenty-four hours and says if the weather will come he will open for ice skating next Saturday night.

MURDER SUSPECTED.

The inquest over the body of Matt Kukulka, found dead Saturday at Hancock, was held yesterday afternoon. Death was due to a broken neck. Kukulka, a cousin of the deceased, is held on suspicion of murder. The men had quarreled, it is said. The hearing will be held Friday.

Upper Peninsula

Clergyman Promoted—

Rev. William Poycor, Episcopalian, has received a substantial promotion in recognition of the work that he has done as pastor of St. Mark's church at Crystal Falls. He has been appointed general missionary of this diocese, which includes the entire upper peninsula. He will remain a resident of Crystal Falls.

Fire Home for the Elks—

The Elks lodge at Manistique will soon have one of the finest Elks' temples in the upper peninsula. Work on the building, which will be constructed at a cost of $8,000, will be completed before Christmas and a big celebration is being planned to mark the opening of the lodge home.

Woman Eggs a Deer—

Miss Ethel Hough of St. Ignace was at Ozark last week in quest of deer, as has been her custom for several years. She has a fine modern rifle and is an expert in its use. As evidence of this statement on Saturday she brought home a 200-pound buck with a fine pair of six-pronged antlers which had fallen a victim to her aim. She returned to Ozark to try for another deer to fill her larder.

Fresh Signs of Moose—

Presenting Attorney Wiley, who has returned to the Soo from his hunting trip at the Beaver Head camp, is of the opinion that the upper peninsula will be great moose hunting grounds by the time the law permits their being killed. In the vicinity of Salt Point he saw the tracks of three moose on the shore, and the woodsman in that vicinity says that these animals have been seen at frequent intervals during the summer.

Deer Hunted With Dogs—

Thomas R. Easterday of the Soo has returned from his hunting trip in Whitefish township, and this is the first time in many years that he has got back empty-handed. He says that a party of lower Michigan hunters are in the township hunting with hounds, and that the deer have taken to the deep swamps, and that no one in the district is meeting with success. Even the old settlers, who know every inch of the woods, leave their feet full in filling their licenses.

Will Build at Menominee—

Menominee is to have another new industry—a flooring manufactory. The fire which destroyed the mill of the J. W. Wells Lumber company some weeks ago happened at a most disastrous time, just as ground was being broken for the flooring factory. It is at first apparent that the new manufactory, the building of which is now well advanced, is to be erected on the site of the old mill. It will be of brick. A personage will also be erected in the near future.

New Parish Created—

Bishop Eis has given the Polish Catholics at Iron River permission to withdraw from the parish and build a church of their own. Rev. Father Walch, who has been assistant to Rev. Father Lehner for some months, has been appointed to the pastorate of the church. The society has purchased a block in the Youngs addition for church and educational purposes. Plans have already been accepted for a church edifice to be erected next spring. The building will entail an expense of $18,000 to $20,000. It will be of brick. A personage will also be erected in the near future.

Houses Must Have Ladders—

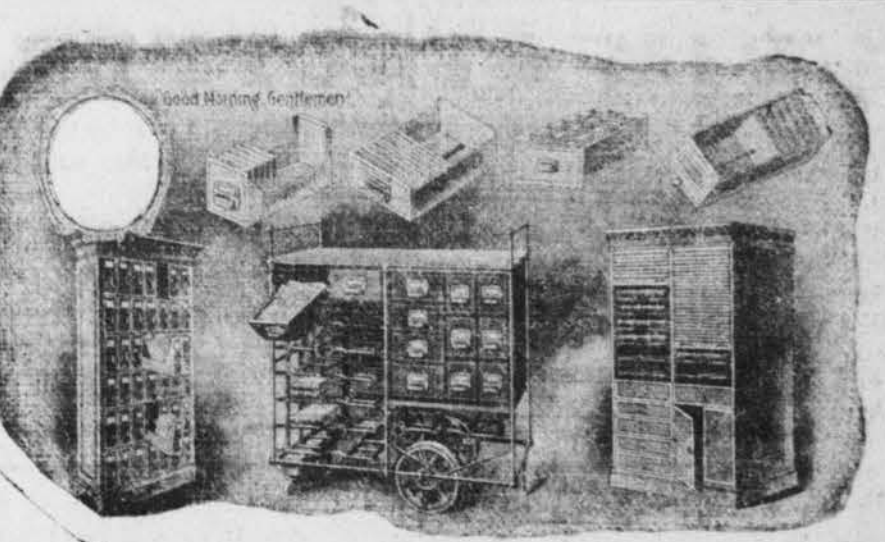

An ordinance adopted at Ontonagon provides the following: That every owner or occupant of any dwelling house, store house, warehouse or other house or building within the limits of the village shall at all times keep such house or building provided with one good and substantial ladder of sufficient length and durability to be conveniently used by the fire company or by the citizens in the extinguishment of fires, provided such house or other building have no convenient way of reaching the roof thereof already provided, either through the roof or otherwise, and shall also provide a convenient means of access to the attic of such building. Any person or persons violating any provision of this ordinance shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not more than ten dollars, together with the costs of prosecution and in default of the payment of such fine and costs shall be imprisoned in the common jail for a term not exceeding twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court; and such imprisonment may, in the discretion of the court, be with labor, which case such labor shall be performed under the direction of the village marshal. This ordinance is ordered to take effect at the expiration of twenty days after its passage.

Lost in Cedar Swamp—

Captain Arthur Powell of the 2nd and George Dicoval of Cleveland had an unpleasant experience one day last week. They started out from the office of the Standard Construction company at the encouragement for a deer hunt on Neeshib Island saying that they would be back by 11 o'clock and noon at the very latest. When they had not returned at supper time, long after dark, considerable concern was felt for their safety, and Superintendent McCallion organized a searching party of twenty-five men, and started out. Fires were lighted and guns fired off and about midnight the rescuers ran across the missing men, coming out of a dense cedar swamp. The hunters had become lost in the swamp in the morning and wandered about until tired out and nearly famished. They had decided to spend the night in the swamp when the deer were attracted by the guns of the searching party which they succeeded in reaching. Two of the searchers became separated from their companions and it was nearly morning before they found their way back to camp.

Trouble-Maker Ejected—

A woman styling herself "Wanda," who was holding forth as a "mind reader" at a picture theater at Iron Mountain, was arrested last week by City Marshal Larkin, charged with being a disorderly person under the state law prohibiting fortune telling. The woman was fined five dollars and ordered to leave town. It seems that the woman, in addition to appearing as an attraction at the theater, has been harvesting a good many dollars as a "fortune teller." It also develops that in the latter capacity, she was instrumental in causing several large-sized family ruptures. One married woman who called to consult "Wanda" was informed that her husband had not only one but four children and was spending his money like a "drunken sailor" in buying diamond rings for the quartet. The distressed married woman immediately hiked homeward and made the hitherto happy home exceedingly sultry for the husband. The startled husband, after learning the source of his wife's information, liked for the police station and as a result of his wife's mischievous "Wanda" was hauled into court. Other tales of a similar nature regarding the fortune-telling of the madam are in circulation.

Girl Is Fatally Burned—

The flaring up of a flame from alcohol in a pan which she had ignited for the purpose of singeing a turkey set fire to the hair of Laura Porter, a domestic, in the home of C. E. Misworth at Sault Ste. Marie, and resulted in burns to her body which have caused death. The girl had just ignited the alcohol. The flame came up further than she had expected, and her hair caught on fire. In an effort to smother the flames, she covered her head with an apron. The apron caught fire, and she fell on the floor. She was taken to the hospital, but died before she could be removed. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the girl died from burns to the face and neck.

Filled License in One Minute—

Ex-Mayor M. Perron of Escanaba has returned from a hunting trip at Gileason, on the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad. He did not kill two deer at one shot, but he did bring down two without moving from one spot and all in the space of less than a minute. Because he filled his license in less than two hours after arriving at camp some of the joys of his hunting trip were cut off, but the experience of killing two deer in the same minute continued

HETTY GREEN'S SON.

Edward H. R. Green, son of Hetty Green, lives in Texas, where, to use his own language, he "has a finger in everything that is going on." Regardless of any interest he may have in his mother's affairs, he owns and manages an extensive railroad system, is president of one bank and director in three others and owns and conducts cattle ranches and cotton plantations. He even raises flowers, and has the best greenhouse with one exception in America. This is not conducted for his personal pleasure but as an investment, which has become very profitable. Last year he sold $100,000 worth of American Beauty roses, wholesale selling price. When he went into Texas twenty years ago it was to look after his father's interests. Now his attention is devoted almost exclusively to his own. At first he lived on a ranch, the headquarters of a railroad, but he got tired of country life and moved to Dallas, where he now lives and conducts his business.

Mining News

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The Boston Financial News of yesterday said: Leading copper interests state that before the Standard Oil decision there was an active demand under which prices were advanced half cent a pound, but with the handing down of the decision the buying of copper practically ceased. The theory is that the copper metal consumers believe that the Standard Oil decision would prevent the carrying out of the copper merger.

A dispatch sent out from Boston yesterday said: "Private advices from Houghton state that the returns to be published tomorrow from the mill run on the rock of the Lake Copper company will probably be staggering. There are those in the Lake Superior district who state that it will not be surprising if the mill shows a mineral yield of between 150 and 200 pounds of copper per ton."

The operations of the Mass mine in the new Mass lode are not resulting in the disclosure of the character of copper ground expected and indicated in the drill borings, according to a dispatch from Houghton. Drifting is in progress in the thirteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth levels tributary to A and B shafts. A further investigation of this lode is being made to the southward of these shafts by means of an adit tunnel. The company's present source of production is in the Butler and Knowlton lodes and is not very encouraging, the ground being exceedingly lumpy and of low average grade, yielding not above twelve pounds of fine copper per ton of rock.

F. H. Vandenberg has secured the services of W. C. Storey, an expert Indiana dairyman, who has had ten years' experience in the business and comes highly recommended.

Frederick M. Steele, formerly of Marquette but now president of a large manufacturing concern in Chicago, was seen in the streets of a song, to the tune of "Baby Mine," which he hopes to have adopted as the state song of Illinois.

If you should see Marshal John Manning patrolling the streets today clad in a fine set of doll's furs, don't think he has gone dippy—he won them at the Cathedral fair last night. Dick Kelly was fortunate enough to get an opera cape on the same occasion.

Death at the Prison—George Cook, an inmate of the branch prison died Sunday night of heart failure. Cook was sent up from Kalamazoo county in 1905 and had been ailing for several months past. An inquest was held before Coroner Cray yesterday at which a verdict was returned in accordance with the facts stated above.

Coal in the Lake—The east end of Spear's coal dock broke through Saturday from the immense weight of coal stored thereon, and in consequence from 200 to 300 tons of soft coal are now in the water. It is thought that most of the coal can be recovered with the aid of the clam shovel and the work getting it back onto a safe part of the dock has already begun.

Public Is Warned—It has come to our notice that some boys are again imposing on the public by collecting money under false pretenses, now for the benefit of the church, then for the orphan school, then for the orphans, then for the Salvation Army. The public is warned against giving these young criminals anything, and we suggest that they be turned over to the police to be dealt with.

Fair Closes Tonight—The St. Peter's church fair at Baraga Hall will close this evening. A very large attendance is expected. There will be a number of special features and the goods still on hand will be offered at bargain prices. It is expected to dispose of all the various articles. In place of supper, the Ladies' auxiliary to the A. O. H. will serve coffee, sandwiches and cake throughout the evening. Fifteen cents will be charged.

ELK's Memorial Service—Marquette ELKs are making preparation to attend the annual memorial service of the Ishpeming, Negaunee and Marquette lodges, which will be held in McDonald's Opera House in Negaunee next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. The Marquette lodge has arranged for a special train which will leave from the South Shore station at 1:45 p. m., and will return as soon as possible after the exercises. James McNamara, a well known Detroit attorney, will be the principal speaker.

Last Day of Season—Today is the last day of the deer season in Michigan, and already many of the hunters have left the woods or are breaking camp. Hunters report that the season has been one of the poorest ever known, the weather conditions having been bad much of the time and deer apparently much scarcer than in former years. According to an official of the American Express company, less than one-half as many deer have been shipped into Marquette over the M. & S. E. railway as last year. It looks as if the day was not far distant when, unless the laws are radically changed, the deer in the upper peninsula will have been exterminated.

Extension of Welfare Plan—Great Lakes vessel owners will begin this week the erection of a $250,000 sailors' institute, to be conducted for the advancement of the social and intellectual advancement of seamen on the Great Lakes. It will be built in Cleveland. Samuel Mather, the millionaire ore, coal and vessel man, is the chairman of the committee in charge. It is understood to be an extension of the "welfare plan" of the Lake Carriers' association.

Died at Newberry—George W. Gibbons, the Witeh Lake farmer who several months ago was sent to the Newberry asylum for the insane by Judge Potter died at that institution Saturday. His unbalanced mental condition was due to his having shot a man while hunting last fall. He was about forty-nine years old and leaves a wife and four children, the eldest about twelve.

COL. HARVEY ON BEER.

Editor of Harper's Weekly Discussed Liquor Question.

In reply to a scorching roast for having accepted an advertisement for a certain brand of beer, Colonel Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly, writes as follows in the current number of that publication:

"Above the article of which you complain are printed the words 'Harper's Weekly Advertiser.' That indicates that the article is a paid advertisement. The word 'advertiser' means as much as 'opposed to beer as you are, or it would not accept such advertisements. It believes that pure beer, properly made and aged, is a much less hurtful beverage than any kind. We think of beer as an article of diet; you seem to think of it only as an article of riot. Of course it is more dangerous than bread or cheese, or even than meat, but it is not, we know, intimately persons who drank a little beer at times, who did not seem to be useless. We do not recommend beer as a beverage to anybody. The doctors do, sometimes; that is their office, not ours. But we think that for the common run of people who are not abstemious, a little beer is a safer drink than a little whiskey, and a great deal more of a somewhat less dangerous and destructive than a great deal of whiskey. We have always favored the army and navy where beer and light wines were sold in limited quantities as being far less destructive than the bad drinks that soldiers have been getting in bad places, since people who feel as you do get the canteen closed. The result of that action has been to give our army the worst hospital record of any civilized army in the world."

Hanksville Hostler Complains of the Narrow-Mindedness of the Rich.

"No, 'Tain't often you hear of a rich man that's liberal with his poor relations," observed the Hanksville hostler as he brushed the drummer's gray mare. "An' you never hear o' one that don't cut out some o' his kin in the deal," he continued. "An' I right?" "Well, as I never had any rich relations I couldn't say," the drummer answered diplomatically. "I can," the hostler remarked. "Take the case of Squire Bradley, for instance. Nobody ever heard o' him until he went west an' made a fortune. Then he bought a house in town and got into society. Ben' the richest man in town, he was natcherly the leader in the 400, which he did was copied by everybody in town. 'He'd been livin' here about six months when his brother Bill happened to strike the place. Bill immediately wanted a lift. 'What kin you do?' asks the Squire. 'I'm a painter by trade,' says Bill, 'but I ain't got no objections to livin' here with you.' 'You don't exactly come up to specifications as a household pet, but I'll set you up in business. I'll give you a job painting my house if you'll give me a rakeoff on all the other jobs I get you.' 'Of course when the Squire had his house painted everybody in town that owned a house had to have it decorated. Bill got the jobs and the Squire got the rakeoff. 'A few weeks later he got a letter from his brother Joe. Joe was a plumber. The Squire told him to come on and he'd give him a job painting my house in his house. He offered him the same proposition as Bill. Then the folks in town saw what a horrible condition their plumbing was in. Now Joe's got the finest plumbing shop in the county. Next came Tom and his rich brother hired him to put a tower on his house. Now every house in town sports a tower and the Squire made enough on the deal to pay all expenses on his. 'By this time the Squire figured that brothers was a mighty handy thing and he sent for the rest of 'em. Brother Jim was in the insurance business an' now everybody in town has their property insured in his company. Charley started a grocery store an' of course everybody in town got their groceries from him an' the Squire gets his free. 'But I don't see where he cut out any of his relatives or showed favoritism,' said the drummer. 'You don't," snapped the hostler; "look at me." "Have you a trade?" inquired the drummer. "Trade?" snorted the hostler disgustedly; "no, I ain't got no trade. I got a profession." "Why don't you work at it?" persisted the drummer. "Ain't I been tellin' you that every-thing that's done in this town is did because Squire Bradley says it first. He won't patronize me." "Are you a lawyer?" asked the drummer. "Lawyer! No, I ain't no lawyer," he grunted. "Maybe if I'd spent four years learnin' law same, I did the 'detakin' business he might broaden out sufficient to let me make a livin' 'stead o' hangin' on to life the way he does. Darn such a narrow-minded, unbrotherly cuss!"

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s correspondent at New York Saturday telegraphed as follows: "That liquidation of the higher priced issues has been conducted on the advance has been the tone of our recent activity, and the many uncertainties surrounding the market have been referred to as being the cause for exercising caution when making commitments on the long side. The situation has been aggravated by the aggressive operations of a prominent Boston operator, which, together with the bullish attitude of room traders, has resulted in the hot being attacked whenever the character of the support tendered has not been of a nature to repel bearish onslaughts. The large increase in the short interest is, of course, to be reckoned as more or less of a sustaining influence, but the action of the market has been such as to probably cause public liquidation on a good scale and thus extend the decline. We feel, however, that the shock side of the market at this time should not be pressed as the foundation of aggressive support must cause a hasty retreat on the part of the short interest."

ed was the heaviest loser, breaking to 84 and closing at the bottom. In the local market all the stocks which have been talked of for the combination were weak and sold off steadily all day. The bright exception to the stocks was Lake, which opened at 82 and sold up on the best kind of buying as high as 83, with a few points reaction at the close. The news from the mine is exceedingly bullish, and the stock certainly acts as if some large interests or a strong pool has accumulated a large percentage of the stock and were holding it for higher prices. Even on the sharp advance today there was no evidence of any important liquidation, and the stock was much harder to buy than to sell. We cannot believe that the proposed merger has been given up after the plans have gone so far, and we think that within a few days it will be announced that operations are under way again. We advise buying coppers on a scale down from these prices."

Copper Metal Prices.

New York, Nov. 29.—Copper on the New York Metal exchange was weak today, with spot and the November and the December closing at 136 1/2, 135 1/2, and 135 1/2, respectively. The market was closed at 136 1/2, 135 1/2, and 135 1/2, respectively. No sales were reported. The London market was lower, with spot closing at 138 1/2, 138 1/2, and 138 1/2, respectively. The market was closed at 138 1/2, 138 1/2, and 138 1/2, respectively. No sales were reported.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Weak cables and liberal receipts in the Northwest inspired considerable liquidation in wheat today, resulting in a net decline at the close of a shade to half a cent. The news of the day was bearish. The cables were weak, owing largely to favorable crop news from Argentina; and the world's shipments were liberal, and the amount on ocean passage showed a moderate increase. Among the domestic conditions, the continued liberal movement in the Northwest was the chief factor. At one time the December was 1/4 below the best market of the day. In addition to the selling pressure on the nearby month, there was free profit taking in the May. The result was an erratic market, with a net decline at the close. The December opened at 105 1/2 to 106; highest, 106 1/2; lowest, 105 1/2; closing, 105 1/2.

Corn.—This market was weak, on selling of the December by cash interests.

The selling was based mainly on the general receipts and the prospect of still larger arrivals. Cash grain was slack. The close was at the lowest point, with the prices 3/4 to 1/2 below the final figures of the previous session. The December opened at 39 1/2 to 39 1/2; highest, 39 1/2; lowest, 39 1/2; closing, 39 1/2.

Gats.—The market opened firm, but finally yielded to the weakness of wheat and corn and closed a shade to 1/2 lower.

The December opened at 39 1/2 to 39 1/2; highest, 39 1/2; lowest, 39 1/2; closing, 39 1/2.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s Wheat Summary.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s Chicago's correspondent had this to say concerning yesterday's wheat market: "Wheat closed about 3/4 lower for both months for the day. This did not begin to represent the good action in the market both early and late. The foreign news was on the side of the sellers for the day. The continental markets were weak and lower. The much larger Northwest receipts of 1,437 cars had bearish effect at the outset. The Northwest markets, however, did not weaken much and this aided in bringing about the recovery here. Dispatches from the spring wheat country claim that country offerings are light and that the present movement will not keep up. Investors are inclined to take the buying side of May wheat on dips, because of the discount under cash prices. There was some bear pressure at the close, in line with the easier corn market."

Cotton Market.

Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say of yesterday's cotton market: "The crop estimate of the New Orleans Times-Democrat, printed this morning, was construed as bullish by the bears and bearish by the bulls. The cables were fairly good, Europe evidently considering estimates under 11,000,000 bales very bullish. The fact that the difference in the weight of the bales will amount to about 400,000 bales difference in the crop will materially lessen the spinning and mercantile value of this year's harvest and spinning interests are beginning to recognize this fact. The market, however, is being sustained at from 14 1/2 to 15 cents and every day subtracts from the world's supply the amount converted into cloth. All question of making any addition to the crop is gone. We think that cotton will eventually go higher."

ATTORNEY GENERAL ACTS.

Missouri State Officials to Fight the Proposed Telephone Merger.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 29.—Application for a commissioner to take testimony relative to the proposed telephone merger in Missouri was filed by the attorney general in the supreme court today. The application alleges that the Bell and Missouri and Kansas Telephone companies have become members of a trust to fix the prices on telephone service and destroy competition. They also are charged with obtaining control of telephone companies in other states. The evidence will be used to determine if ouster, injunction or other proceedings will be begun.

Columbus, O., Nov. 29.—The mystery of the expenditure of millions by unknown interests for the purchase of independent telephone companies in Ohio and Indiana was cleared tonight at a meeting of the committee which is seeking the consolidation of the plants not already sold with those of James S. Braley. It is learned that the plan is that the independents take over the local business and Bell people the long distance. Braley refused to confirm the reported agreement, but it is known that the plan is ready to be effected.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 29.—At a conference of representatives of independent telephone interests here today the reported acquisition of a controlling interest in several companies in Indiana, Ohio, Missouri, and Michigan was discussed. Sam Jeffries, counsel for certain minority stockholders, said that depositions regarding recent stock sales will be taken to Cleveland Friday. The officers of a Cleveland trust company are expected to testify.

WASHINGTON TO DECIDE THE FATE OF ZELAYA.

Whether He Shall Be Permitted to Seek a Haven in Europe Is the Question—Foes Demand His Head and They Are Also Anxious to Get the Millions He Has Accumulated.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The question of whether to save the life of President Zelaya of Nicaragua, and allow him to find in Europe a safe refuge, is one likely to embarrass the state department. This information came today from a former government official, who is well advised as to what is happening in Central America.

All reports agree that the revolutionists in Nicaragua are on top, and that the regime of Zelaya is doomed. It appears that even the slight part in the proceedings that they get him into Europe is a matter of life and death to Zelaya's prestige. The question is whether the Estrada element will do with Zelaya if it captures him. In view of the blood-thirsty nature of Zelaya's regime, his enemies are expected to insist on his execution if he is taken into Europe. His wealth is said to be in the millions, in property and banks abroad. The Estrada following is eager to get its hands on this, while Zelaya, if beaten and deposed, has a chance to go abroad and live on his wealth.

The United States will probably have the problem on its hands of whether to intercede with the revolutionists to prevent Zelaya being executed and deciding whether to decide what shall be done with his property. It is likely to sympathize with the desire of the Estrada following to wrest the property from Zelaya, but if need be to intercede to save his life.

More Details of the Executions.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Included in the state department's Nicaraguan advices today is a more definite report concerning the execution of the two Americans. Members of the Red Cross arriving from Castillo state that Cannon and Groce were captured after a battle and while they were lost on the banks of the San Juan river. The captain of a ship called to them, promising not to harm them, but he failed to keep his word. These allegations are in part confirmed by the Nicaraguan press. Minister General Irias claims to have interceded on the ground of humanity. Nicaraguan lawyers maintain that the execution was unlawful. A Nicaraguan captain is a prisoner for having refused to carry out the president Zelaya's sentence that the Americans be shot. It is also said that General Toledo, whose men captured the Americans, refused to execute them on Zelaya's order, but took both to Fort Castillo, instead.

No Marines at Bluefields.

Bluefields, via wireless to Colon, Nov. 29.—No American marines have been landed here. No American warships have been here since the rebellion began.

San Salvador, Nov. 29.—It is reported here that when Zelaya learned of the intention of the United States to seek reparation, he vainly appealed to Mexico, Calleguas received by the Italian minister here from Managua say that Zelaya offered to place the presidency in the hands of congress, practically abandoning.

Mexico City, Nov. 29.—The Nicaraguan minister tonight said that he was unaware of any appeal by Zelaya to the Mexican government for aid.

FIGHT FOR POSTAL BANKS.

Murdoch of Kansas Promises a Campaign—Weeks Is Opposed.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Representative Weeks of Massachusetts will probably have a fight on his hands at the very beginning of his new duties as chairman of the house postoffice committee. Representative Victor Murdock of Kansas, a member of the committee and a most aggressive insurgent, announced today that there would be a campaign this winter for a postal savings bank law to save the Republican party is committed to such an enactment.

Any such attempt will run counter to the wishes not only of Speaker Cannon, but of Chairman Weeks. The house leaders will endeavor to prevent any postal savings bank legislation, although the late Republican platform declared for it. Mr. Weeks believes the whole matter should be held up until the mem-

tary commission has completed its report. He said that a partial report doubtless would be made his winter, but the final report would not be ready until next fall. After this the chairman of the postoffice committee believes there will be time enough for postal savings bank legislation. Mr. Weeks does not believe in new currency laws when a commission appointed to investigate the whole currency situation is still at work. It developed today that the monetary commission is studying the postal savings bank question and that a report will be made thereon. That postal savings banks would possess certain advantages is admitted, but the problem the commission is now considering affects the disposition of moneys which would be deposited with the government.

About $8,000,000 annually is withdrawn from circulation in the United States, said Mr. Murdoch, and that the government order is to take care of the high fees are charged by the postoffice for taking care of money in this way. This sum is hoarded by domestic savers and is in addition to the $90,000,000 which goes abroad annually, largely into foreign postal savings banks. The money in this country would draw out money which is not now in the channels of currency, without impairing deposits in other savings banks.

SAYS THOS. LAWSON IS A DANGEROUS MAN.

His Only Interest Is His Own, Senator Clark Declares.

Montana Statesman's Palace to Be Finished—He Will Bring His Family from Paris to New York City Within a Month.

New York, Nov. 29.—Senator William A. Clark, who is worth about $150,000,000, believes that Thomas W. Lawson, the Boston stock operator, is a very dangerous man. Said he: "The only interest he has in the world is his own. He has thousands of dollars in advertising in order to benefit the community, but only to work the stock market for himself."

The senator for the first time in many years told about his Fifth avenue palace, the slow work which has made it a matter to New Yorkers. The construction was started seven years ago and it has dragged along with no prospect of its being finished as far as could be learned. But now it is about finished, said the owner; it will be finished within a month, and he will bring his family from Paris and live in the house, one of the most magnificent private homes ever built.

Senator Clark will never ride across the ocean again on the Mauretania nor any other of the fast liners. "It is the socialism that is the danger to our country," he said, "and it will be the last. These boats will touch it."

He said he found financial conditions in Germany and France good, but the discussion over the budget in England had upset things there. What impressed him was the order that it was world most, however, was the march of socialism in Europe.

"Socialism is spreading all over Europe," he said. "The government of France is practically socialist now. No man can forget the future of socialism, and it is spreading itself very strongly in the British budget. It is spreading all over England as well as on the continent."

"The budget affects so many persons that there is a general opinion in England that the future of socialism is a question that the house of lords will reject the budget, or rather that they will postpone action to put the question before the people."

Then an effort was made to get the senator to talk about the Standard Oil decision.

"I can't discuss that now," he said. "Do you think that the Standard Oil company is a bad thing for America?"

"It is a very big corporation," he replied, "but he wouldn't meet the question. I have no affiliations with large corporations, but I have always preferred to run my business myself. I have no directors to answer to, and if anything I undertake is not a success I must answer to only one man. So far my system seems to have been satisfactory," and he smiled. His net worth has so far netted him $150,000,000.

WOMEN TO PURIFY STAGE.

Fifteen thousand women, representing the element that patronizes and keeps alive theatrical and musical enterprises, propose to stamp out indecent plays as far as Chicago is concerned. This censorship will be less ostentatious, but many times as powerful as that wielded by Anthony Comstock in New York. Instead of appealing to the higher natures of the managers, the women will strike at their pocketbooks, and it is not difficult to predict the end of salacious plays in Chicago.

Mrs. James Patton, wife of the wearing and president of the university, proposed to form a dramatic league, composed of delegates from every woman's club and organization in Chicago and suburban cities. Members will attend all the first nights and report to the league. Delegates will be sent to put the same cities to investigate plays booked for this city. Anything suggestive or offensive will be reported to the league and the stamp of disapproval put upon it.

managers by every method open to them. The defiant managers will feel the power of the women in many other ways than in a depleted box office, but it is thought this will be sufficient in most cases.

QUIZZES OF THE CENSUS READ LIKE ORDEAL.

Uncle Sam to Grow Almost Impertinent to Himself in Quest of Self Knowledge.

Chain the Dog, He Begs—He Has Half a Hundred Questions to Ask and Some Are Very Personal.

Washington, Nov. 29.—"Are you the head of the family, or the head out?" This is one of the leading questions that will be put to whoever may come to the door when the census enumerators ring or knock, next April. It is important that the government keep track of every family head, and the answer, though it may cause domestic wrangle, will be recorded from the mouth of one of whom it is asked. That is where the women of the family will get the best of it, as it is likely the men will be at their work when the enumerators call.

"Are you married?" Have you any children? Is your mother-in-law living with you?" These are a few of the multiplicity of questions which, beginning with April 15, 1910, will be asked every housewife in the United States and its territories by Uncle Sam's army of inquirers, known as census enumerators. From house to house all over the country will these inquirers go. Sometimes if the records of census gathering can be taken as evidence, the enumerators will be welcomed and sometimes they will not. They will ask half a hundred standard questions and probably half a hundred more which are not scheduled to be expected. The work of taking the next census, it is hoped by census officials, will be done better and more rapidly than past censuses.

Time to Exercise Patience.

If, when a clean-faced, well-dressed, smooth-talking young or old man jerks the door bell almost out of its socket, or traps the shuffler off his heels, or lays siege with him, if when you happen to be a housewife and answer the summons of the door bell and four of your five children answer it, too, do not scold the enumerator man when he asks if you are married, for he will be receiving, perhaps, some of the very best you pay him, and then it really is necessary to know how big we are. Uncle Sam has not counted noses all over the country for ten long years, and it may be, as some of the pessimists say, the race is lessening, and if it is so, the government wants to do it in order that it can get a better idea of what kind of premiums to offer for Rooseveltian families.

There is one request in particular the government makes of people living in small cities, towns and rural districts, and that is to have all dogs chained, after April 15, at least six months. When the enumerator calls he will be in by asking this question: "What street, road or avenue is this?" "What is the number?"

He will then say: "What is your name? Are you the head of the family? What is the name of each person living here on April 15, 1910? The surname, initial of every person, initial of every person in the home, names, ages, places of birth?"

If you are not the head of the family you will be asked what you are to the head. The enumerator will then take a description of the occupants. He will ask the sex, color and race of every person, the age at last birthday. Then come to questions to the women.

"Are you married or single, or divorced, or widowed?" "If you have been divorced and remarried, you will be asked the number of years of present married life."

"How many children are you the mother of? How many children were born, and how many are living?" The question will be asked in the order named, so don't get impatient and fretful and think the enumerator is asking questions which seem personal and impertinent, for they are for the government.

After assuring you that it is quite important that twice as many more questions be asked, the enumerator will ask your nationality. The government is particularly anxious that this question be answered truthfully.

"What state or territory, if born in the United States? What country, if foreign born?" The place of birth of the person being interrogated; the place of birth of the father of this person and the place of birth of the mother.

The question of citizenship will be thoroughly gone into.

"Were you born in the United States? Were you an immigrant? What year did you come to the United States? Have you been naturalized, or are you still an alien?"

The enumerator will have to ask whether all members in the family speak English, and if not, what languages they do speak.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and cleans, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

THE SMART POLICEMAN AND THE FLEEING MAN.

A little man slunk out of a house on the avenue, glanced up apprehensively at its front windows then darted down the street, says Brooklyn Life. Before he had traversed twenty steps, however, he found himself in the clutches of a huge policeman.

"Let me go, officer," he pleaded, as the grim custodian of the law held him fast.

"Not much I won't. What're you actin' so suspiciously around here for, officer?" "I live in that house there," was the discomfited man's explanation. "Don't hold; let me go, I say."

"Oh, you live there, do you? Come, that's too thin. You just walk back to that house with me and prove it."

"But my wife is getting ready to spend the day out; you'll get me in a fix, officer?" "That's what I'm paid for. Step lively, now, and we'll see what your game is."

So back they went, the officer tightly clutching his protesting charge. When the front door of the house in point was reached an upper window flew up and a woman's head popped out.

"Oh, was he trying to sneak off, Mr. policeman?" she sweetly asked.

"He was, ma'am. He says he lives here."

"He does, officer; thank you; he's my husband."

The policeman stared.

"But bring him in," she continued, "I want him to button the back of my dress before he goes down to his office."

MAXIMS OF ROTHSCHILD.

The following twelve maxims formed part of the will of Meyer Anselm Rothschild, the founder of the great banking house at Frankfurt:

1. Seriously ponder over and thoroughly examine any project to which you intend to give your attention.
2. Reflect a long time, then decide very promptly.
3. Go ahead.
4. Endure annoyances patiently and fight bravely against obstacles.
5. Consider honor as a sacred duty.
6. Never lie about a business affair.
7. Pay your debts promptly.
8. Learn how to sacrifice money when necessary.
9. Do not trust too much to luck.
10. Spend your time profitably.
11. Do not pretend to be more important than you really are.
12. Never become discouraged; work zealously and you will surely succeed.

KING MENELIK AND THE CANNONS.

While we are hearing such contradictory reports of the health of Menelik, it is a variation to read an anecdote of the Negus, even if it shows him in an unfavorable light. A Paris contemporary recalls the story that some years ago Baron Myllius visited the Negus, taking with him among other presents two small mountain cannons. The Negus was delighted. "Yes," replied Menelik, "it was the tree I was thinking about," and it was only with the greatest difficulty that his majesty was prevailed upon to choose another target. However, all's well that ends well. The Negus was delighted with his present, and so was the baron. For he came away the owner of a fine coffee plantation.—London Globe.

HIS BROTHER'S KEEPER.

On Little Spruce Island, on the Maine coast, I found three old men—brothers—William, Daniel and Nehemiah Shanks. They have lived there all their lives in a tumble-down little shelter. They are melancholy old men. They are contented, but the sea has brought to them a strange, brooding, visitation. William and Daniel never married. Nehemiah has had a poor little romance that broke his heart. He went home with his confession of wrong-doing.

"Then you must look out for the boys after I'm dead," he said solemnly, "forgiving him. Nehemiah has spent his life 'locking out for the boys,' who are now infirm old men. "It is my duty in return for my father's pardon of my wrong-doing,"

SUBTERRANEAN ANIMAL LIFE.

The underlife of the caves has a world of its own. Animals are born in subterranean caverns hollowed out by streams; develop, reproduce and die while forever deprived of the sunlight. There is no cave lizard except a rat. There is no cave snake. There are no animals that require much ventilation. Grottoes with underground rivers have the most life. Usually the subterranean life resembles the general types of the country. It has entered the cave and become acclimated there, undergoing divers adaptive modifications. So we generally find, in modified forms, the life of our time. But in some caverns there seem to be the remains of an ancient animal life that has every where disappeared from terrestrial rivers and lives only in certain caverns. The creatures of modern species that have adapted themselves to underground conditions are sharply separated from the light dwellers. Their skin is whitish, or transparent. The eye atrophies or disappears altogether. The optic nerve and the optic line disappear, leaving the brain profoundly modified. Other organs develop in proportion. Those of hearing, smell, touch, become large. Sensitive hairs, long and coarse, appear all over the body. These changes are produced gradually, in animals kept in darkness. It has been possible to see the regression of the eye and the hypertrophy of the other sense organs. With fishes observed since 1900 the absence of light determined a remarkable arrest of growth. Their length was about two inches and their weight less than an eel, whereas similar fish kept in day-light reached five inches and two and seven-tenths ounces. Chicago Tribune.

THE USEFUL RAT.

If a consular report from Calcutta is to be credited, the common, ordinary, every-day rat, despised by everybody and everything except terriers and lean rats, may soon be an article of importance in commerce. Says Consul Perry: "It has been found that the skin of this animal (the rat) is well adapted to a variety of purposes, such as the binding of books, the making of purses, gloves and other articles of feminine use and adornment. It is stated that already the traffic in this commodity amounts to about $250,000 a year in Great Britain, and advertisements have appeared for supplies of skins of the brown rats in lots of 100 to 10,000." Who knows, now that skunk farms are numerous in America, that rat farms will not soon be established. At any rate, here is an industry in which men have nothing to fear from female competition.

TO EMPLOY FIFTY MEN AT SILICA MINE

TALKS TO MINE WORKERS.

Instructors of Y. M. C. A. Will Address Men at the Mines.

General Secretary Robert J. Wise and Physical Director W. E. Hawthorne of the Young Men's Christian association are to give a series of talks to the workmen at the Ishpeming mines. They will visit the dry houses at the noon hour and talk to the men after they have finished their lunch. The mine employes have an hour in the dry house each day and Messrs. Wise and Hawthorne hope to be able to spend at least thirty minutes of this time with the men in a way that will be to the latter's advantage.

The Cleveland Lake mine will be visited tomorrow noon. Mr. Wise will talk on the work the Young Men's Christian association is conducting in a general way and Mr. Hawthorne will give the first of a series of talks on "First Aid to the Injured." The physical director had made a study of this work and has lectured many times on the subject. He will advise the men how they can aid to the best advantage a fellow workman sustaining any sort of an injury. Proper aid given the injured when the accident happens often saves a life.

The Young Men's Christian association has a national organization through which a series of lectures and instructions dealing upon this subject are given. President William H. Taft is the president and all members who advance to a certain point in the work receive a certificate bearing Mr. Taft's signature. It is possible that this work will be taken up by the local organization along the lines laid down by the National of ficers, as it is felt that much good could result from the instructions given on account of so many accidents occurring in and about the mines.

Milwaukee probably is to have a large plant for the reduction of quartz into pure silica. It will be only the third of its kind in the United States, says the Evening Wisconsin.

The Michigan Quartz Silica company, which already has a large plant on its mine near Ishpeming, Mich., has secured an option on the Milwaukee cement company's plants and probably will soon sign a lease for one of them. The company also is considering a plant in Chicago, however.

Directors of the company have determined to build the general offices in Milwaukee and a large suite has been rented in the new engineering building now in process of construction on Second street.

The proposed Milwaukee plant will turn out the greater part of the country's product, although the Ishpeming plant will be operated as usual. The new plant will employ about fifty men and will be equipped with the most modern machinery.

Shipping Facilities

The Michigan Quartz Silica company is capitalized at $500,000. The greater part of its stock is owned in Milwaukee and two of its officers, Assistant Treasurer Charles E. Miller and General Sales Manager Carl F. Keek, are Milwaukeeans. Mr. Keek also is manager of the Milwaukee office.

Milwaukee was favored for the location of the new plant because of its importance and convenience as a shipping center, because better labor can be obtained here and because so much heavy machinery is made here.

Reduction of quartz into silica is a new, but growing industry. Aside from the Michigan company's plant at Ishpeming, there is but one other of its kind in the country—in Massachusetts.

Great carloads of white quartz from the company's mine will be shipped direct to the Milwaukee plant. Here the glistering white crystals will be run through mighty machinery until it is reduced to the finest, white powder. This is pure silica, which is so hard that steel and glass may be cut with it. The highest grade of silica powder is as soft as the talc powder used for toilet purposes.

IRON AND STEEL FIRM.

Expected That November Output Will Be Equal to That of October.

Estimates on the production of iron and steel in November are that the figures will fall very little, if any, below those of the month of October. In the finished steel production, there is still a very heavy run of new business. Specifications against contracts are maintained also at a rate that gives the mills little opportunity to make headway against delayed deliveries. It is said that prices that advanced late in the summer, have now been brought back to their former level. The new prices are paid cheerfully and in some cases unusual premiums have been paid for early deliveries. This applies particularly to sheets, tin plate and iron pipe.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT.

Mrs. Joseph LaParck, who had resided at the Greenwood location for the greater part of the past thirty-five years, died Saturday at the home of her son Joseph at Greenwood, and the funeral was held yesterday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's church. The deceased was sixty-eight years of age. Her husband died about a year ago. Since then her health has not been good. Four sons and daughters are surviving, three of them being residents of Ishpeming.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

The deer season will close today.

"Leaning Willie," a vaudeville attraction at the Bijou this week, will give an exhibition on the roof of Braastad's Hall at 12 o'clock today.

The members of the Senior class of the Young Men's Christian association recently had a group picture taken in the gymnasium by C. D. Cole of Child's art gallery. Pictures of the members of other classes are also to be taken.

The Misses Nellie and Alice Sullivan, who spent their Thanksgiving vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, North Third street, left Sunday night, the former for Anson, on the Menominee range, and the latter for Winona, Mich. Both are teaching school.

The fifteen inches or more of snow that fell two weeks ago today has entirely disappeared from the streets of the city, which were almost as dry yesterday as they are in the middle of the summer. Thermometers here registered above forty yesterday at the noon hour.

Matias H. Aho, aged two years and three months, son of Henry Aho of the National mine location, died Saturday and the funeral was held yesterday afternoon with interment in the Ishpeming cemetery. Rev. G. Fletwood, pastor of the Swedish church, conducted the services. Scarlet fever caused the child's demise.

Henry Mueck, a former resident of Michigan, who has been located in Seattle ever since he left Iron Mountain, some few years ago, is now visiting on the Menominee range. He is engaged in the automobile business at Seattle and is reported to be doing very well there. Mr. Mueck has several relatives in Ishpeming.

The lady relatives and friends of the members of the local lodge of the Knights of Kalem served over 500 persons with supper at the Anderson Hall Sunday evening. Besides being entertained with a very fine program Sunday evening, the visitors from the copper country were tendered a reception and hop Saturday evening at the Anderson Hall.

The management of the Ishpeming Band has reached an agreement with Miss Clara Farm, who will sing at the band's annual concert at the Ishpeming theater New Year's night. The band is now rehearsing the selections that will be rendered on that occasion and the program as a whole will be the best that it has ever offered.

George Rogers, son of Conductor William Rogers of the Northwestern system, who is quite well known here, was united in marriage to Miss Melina Perrin of Escanaba one day last week at the Catholic church at Crystal Falls, Rev. Father Kinnes performed the ceremony. Miss Hazel Rogers, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Charles Clark of Green Bay was best man.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, which has had a crew employed for some two or three weeks past laying new eighty-pound rails on its main line between here and Negaunee, has completed the work as far as Third street in this city. Dennis Monevay, who has charge of the yards on this range, is supervising the work. A crew of between forty and fifty men are employed, as soon as the places are ready.

J. Wahlman & Son have completed ten double houses for the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company at its North Lake location. Work on the buildings was started nearly three months ago. Ten with Bros. are now finishing up the painting. All of the dwellings will be occupied within a week or two and several of the workmen, who are now living in the city, will move their families there as soon as the places are ready.

Henry Carlson, a carpenter in the employ of J. Wahlman & Son, who a few days ago shot a bear that dressed 305 pounds in the woods north of the city, tracked the animal three and a half miles in the snow before he came upon it. He got to within about fifty feet of the bear and he had no difficulty killing it, as the first shot he fired went into its neck and the second into its head. The killing took place near "Pile Dam," north of the hoist.

City Recorder J. D. West, who was called to Minnesota last week on account of the death of his brother, William H. West, is expected to arrive home this morning from Chicago, where the funeral was held Sunday. He will be accompanied by his daughter, Miss Eva, who went down Saturday night. The deceased spent the greater part of his life in Chicago, having left there for St. Paul some five years ago. He is survived by his widow and three children.

See Curran and DeGray in their novelty act, the first three days this week at the Bijou theater. "Leaning Willie" does his thrilling leaning act. Children ten cents on Monday, Thursday and Saturday evenings hereafter. (11-29-24)

MARQUETTE, - - - MICH.

He is everywhere, both male and female. Nearly every little group of workers knows him. And he is a menace, unless the one he singles out for his confidence understands the danger and lets it ripple harmlessly over her head or refuses point blank to listen.

But the disgruntled employe does neither. He confides to you how miserably the office is managed, or with what poor judgment the stock is bought.

No manager is perfect and there are weak spots in every routine, or else there are reasons of which the subordinates know nothing for certain transactions.

But the grumbler, without the dear outline of the head of affairs, jumps on these seeming weak places, and holds forth at length on how much better such things could be managed. He makes mention, out of models of office routine that perhaps might be bettered if the manager hadn't larger affairs to attend to. Safely sheltered in a small position, it is very easy to criticize.

The trouble is the business girl who doesn't realize the danger of listening to these complaints may let them sink in. She may begin to think she has a poor manager, that he doesn't attend properly to details or is indifferent to them. She, too, gets disgruntled with her position, or grows capricious. The other may hint significantly there's going to be a change, and the one who listens, believing it, may think that if a new manager is coming, she might as well relax a little in the performance of her duties.

It is dangerous and disloyal to listen to these disgruntled employes, dangerous to one's own work, disloyal to the manager or employer. Kindly, but courteously, express your belief that the office is going to the dogs. Better yet, help the disgruntled one to see the other side, to take a brighter view of his own duties and consequently to get more pleasure out of them.

WHERE GOOD FAITH PAYS.

Good faith is an immensely important asset in any business enterprise, says the Washington Star. The promise of performance that is kept strictly in the delivery of goods or in the completion of work, is the best possible advertisement. The merchant who holds his subordinates rigidly to accounting for their dealings with customers and patiently to seek re-views when he next needs something from that same line of goods, and, conversely, the customer who is promptly served will go back to the same shop.

Explanations and excuses are no solace to the disappointed patron. Of course, accidents will happen in the best regulated business establishments. Trustee employees will fail to do their work and lapse from the lines of propriety. It is a fortunate employee who can equip himself with a force of absolutely trustworthy, responsible people, and that good fortune is expressed in the terms of a thriving business and large profits. Possibly the highest test of a business man's ability to succeed lies in this matter of securing and organizing his force.

It should be the fundamental rule in every business establishment, large and small, that before a promise of work to be done is made every contingency should be taken into account, so that short of a disaster and absolutely uncontrollable circumstances nothing will prevent execution in season. A business house that is run on such principles will expand and prosper in the roughest seasons.

NORTHWESTERN PLANS EXTENSION TO PACIFIC

PROPOSES TO ISSUE $30,000,000 OF NEW STOCK TO CARRY OUT THE BIG PROJECT.

The management of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company is perfecting plans for an unusually busy year in 1910. The directors, at a meeting held Saturday in Chicago, decided that it will soon become necessary to extend the road to the Pacific coast in order that it may continue to be a strong competitor of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Burlington roads. With this in view the company is preparing to issue approximately $30,000,000 of new stock, which is in the ratio of one to four of outstanding stock. One day last week the company purchased an additional tract of eight acres of land at Butler, near Milwaukee, from the Wetzel brothers. This tract is approximately 400 acres for the yards it will build and its cutoff belt lines. The yards, round house building, etc., will be built on the line dividing Waukesha and Milwaukee counties. In view of this important move it is thought that Butler will in time become a big factory town, and the railway facilities there will be excellent.

It is reported that the Northwestern people have paid liberal prices for farm lands at Butler. One farmer received $27,000 for his tract at a time when he had about closed a deal for its sale to another farmer for $11,000. The papers were about to be made out when the agent of the road came along and made the farmer the offer, which he promptly accepted. The value of the land for some distance from the town has taken a big jump as a result of the Northwestern's move. An electric line has been thrown Milwaukee and Beaver Dam is also passing through the locality, probably a few hundred yards from the Butler postoffice, and this also has had the effect of advancing the value of all parts of Milwaukee county, where a few weeks ago the only demand for land was for farms at the usual acreage prices for first class selections.

The proposition to build a road to the Pacific coast has already been submitted to the office of the several states where state consent is required for the issuance of new railroad securities. It is said that this authority has not yet been given by any of the states to which the proposition has been submitted, which fact may account for the delay of the officers of the company make in regard to the stock issue.

It is also known, although not admitted by the company's officials, that approval has been given of the construction of at least 1,500 miles of road to be completed within the next two or three years. It is said that the extension and branch lines to be built during the coming year will require approximately $16,000,000, and it is said that all of the new stock will not be put on the market as soon as its issue is authorized. The company has completed and approved surveys of lines to three important coast points, including Seattle, Portland and San Francisco.

This does not mean necessarily that the Northwestern will immediately take extensions to all of these cities. The company is, however, in a position to offer itself these routes at any time it sees fit. The detail of the surveys is not known outside of Northwestern official circles. It is announced, however, that the survey extends from London, Wyo., through Idaho and enters the southeastern corner of Oregon in the vicinity of Goose Lake, in the Langley valley. At this point the line will turn abruptly to the northwest for Portland and Seattle. In the region of Goose Lake also the survey extends southward into California and follows the Sacramento valley through its entire length, thereby paralleling the Shasta route of the Southern Pacific.

In connection with the proposed issue of the new stock it is reported that the St. Paul's first step toward a Pacific coast extension was the issuing of existing the same amount of new stock, namely, $30,000,000.

OPENING DELAYED.

J. E. O'Donoghue, who is to open an exclusive music store in the Scandinavian society's new block, on Gold street, will not be able to have the big display he expected, as the manufacturers were not able to ship them as soon as anticipated. He has ordered a carload of instruments from the Starr Piano company of Richmond, Ind. He received a telegram yesterday afternoon from Hancock on the fact that the party, in his opinion, will be held on Saturday evening, Dec. 18. Before coming to this country Kangas won a number of hard matches in Finland, and his friends here believe he will give Wirtanen a hard tussle. The match is to be for $50 a side, and a dividend of the door receipts. As this will be the first catch-as-catch-can match that has been seen in this country in a large number of years it will doubtless attract a large number of the lovers of this sport.

NEGAUNEE MAN TO WRESTLE.

Matt Kangas, who has made Negaunee his home for some time past, has signed articles to wrestle K. J. Wirtanen, a prominent catch-as-catch-can wrestler, of Hancock, on the first of the party, in his opinion, will be held on Saturday evening, Dec. 18. Before coming to this country Kangas won a number of hard matches in Finland, and his friends here believe he will give Wirtanen a hard tussle. The match is to be for $50 a side, and a dividend of the door receipts. As this will be the first catch-as-catch-can match that has been seen in this country in a large number of years it will doubtless attract a large number of the lovers of this sport.

F. J. MERTEN SELLS OUT.

Negaunee Plumber Is to Engage in Business at Oshkosh, Wis.

F. J. Merten, the Jackson street plumber, yesterday sold out his business to P. A. Freiberg, who has been in his employ for the past five years, ever since he engaged in the business here. Mr. Merten is to return to Oshkosh, Wis., where he has purchased an interest in the plumbing business conducted by P. J. Maus, with whom he learned the trade in that city several years ago. Mr. Maus has been in business there a great many years and has worked up a large patronage.

Mr. Merten expects to leave here, accompanied by his family, some time next month, as soon as he can wind up his affairs. He stated yesterday that he has been doing a most satisfactory business here and he regrets leaving Negaunee, but the change is being made principally on account of his father, whose health has been poor for some time past. The old gentleman is now Mr. Clemons receiving treatment and his condition is much improved.

Mr. Merten came to Negaunee seven years ago to take a position with T. W. Simcox, who conducted a plumbing business. Mr. Freiberg is also a plumber of Oshkosh, where he learned the plumbing trade. He worked for Mr. Simcox before Mr. Merten engaged in business. He is a first class workman and is very popular in the city.

DEER SAVING PLAN.

Marinette Man Proposes Animals Be Raised for Commercial Purposes.

While the open season for killing deer has been on many of the upper peninsula sportsmen have expressed an opinion as to what legislation is necessary for the protection of both hunters and the deer. Some have advocated a continuous open season entirely for an indefinite time. A Marinette, Wis., man offers the suggestion that people should be allowed to raise deer for commercial purposes and sell venison from the animals so raised. This solution of the problem, the Marinette man believes would save the game in Wisconsin forests. This plan, he thinks, would also eliminate pot hunters, who are at present the ban of all true sportsmen.

Some of the sportsmen in which deer have grown scarce have adopted the system and have found that it works well. Some parties who have taken up the work have raised as many as a hundred deer in a season and have derived a substantial income from the business. This deer propagate rapidly. In Iowa one farmer is said to have a herd of 300 deer in an eighty-acre tract which he has fenced in with a high wire fence. He has made more money off the deer than he has off the other eighty acres of his farm.

The Wisconsin hunters interested in the deer by the passage of a law allowing the commercial raising of deer venison would be so plentiful that the present demand for it would in a large measure cease, and those who hunted deer would do so for the pure pleasure of the sport.

By making venison plentiful, parties who desire it only because of its scarcity and high price would cut it out as an article of food and wild deer would profit as a result.

SUN BATHS HARMFUL.

Professor Sots Himself Against Latest Fad of "Nature Treatment" Fanatics.

Professor Grawitz, writing to the Deutsche Medizinische Wochenschrift, draws attention to certain injurious effects caused by sun baths. He points out that, contrary to the opinion of the advocates of so-called "natural life," a specific favorable action of sunlight on the organism or on the formation of blood has never been proved, and that the absolute harmlessness of the absence of sunlight even for many months has been demonstrated by the experiences of the various expeditions to the North Polar regions. On the other hand, he has had ample opportunity of satisfying himself that the action of sunlight when unaccompanied by exposure to it for hours together is prejudicial to the human organism.

It has become a popular amusement in some parts of Germany, and especially in Berlin, for men of all ages to lie naked in the sun at the side of a river, entering the water from time to time, then returning to sun themselves on the banks, and so continuing for hours, in some cases with daily repetitions. Professor Grawitz has found that the various of this new therapeutic method are frequently suffered from dermatitis, tachycardia and irregularity of the heart's action. In some instances the area of cardiac dullness was increased toward the right side, the second sound of the heart was intensified, murmurs were heard at different cardiac orifices, and there was an abnormal tension of the pulse. Sometimes syncope occurred in consequence of cardiac insufficiency. The temperature of the patients was sometimes raised, but albuminuria was never present. There might also be headache and general debility continuing for several days.

In other cases the sunlight had marked action on the nervous system, causing a nervous irritability in persons hitherto quite healthy, whose nervous symptoms disappeared as soon as the sun baths were discontinued. Dr. Grawitz had observed the same kind of nervous irritability in healthy children on their return home from the seaside, where they had been in the daily habit of playing for hours in the sun. He recommended that the public should be warned against the indiscriminate use of sun baths and against the advocacy of them by "nature treatment" fanatics.

PERSONAL INJURY CASES NUMEROUS

AT LEAST FIVE ARE LIKELY TO BE TRIED AT DECEMBER TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT.

CRIMINAL DOCKET IS LIGHT

Only a Few Persons Have Been Brought Over Since September and Most of Them Are Charged With Minor Offenses.

If all the personal injury suits that will be on the calendar at the coming term of circuit court come to trial, the session may be of longer duration than has been anticipated. In five such cases the attorneys for the plaintiffs have filed notice that they would like to have the cases tried at the December term. Several of the injuries out of which the suits have arisen occurred several years ago and have been on the docket for a long time.

One of these suits is that brought by John Maki against the Jones & Laughlin Ore company, who asks damages as the result of an accident that befell him while employed by a team on while at near Negaunee Sept. 20, 1907.

Another is brought by Wm. J. McCormick, as administrator of the estate of John Anderson, deceased, against the Pioneer Iron company. The petition in this action sets forth that Anderson received injuries while employed at the Marquette furnace July 29, 1907, which resulted in his death two days later. The accident occurred by the furnace doors blowing open and Anderson being burned with molten metal. The plaintiff asks for $20,000 damages.

A third personal injury suit is brought by August Anderson, an administrator of the estate of Richard Anderson, against the Negaunee mine, Victor Nelson and Gustaf Anderson. The declaration sets forth that the deceased, who was but seventeen years of age, met his death by being struck by a team on while at work in the mine in January, 1907.

Samuel Hosking has a suit against the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company in which he asks for $25,000 for the loss of one leg, which is alleged to have been crushed by a fall of ground.

The last suit of this class is brought by Solomon Risku against the Iron Cliffs company, as the result of an accident which befell the plaintiff while working in the Barnum mine in 1905. Risku declares that he sustained injuries which necessitated the amputation of one leg, and asks for $20,000 damages.

Spear Against Pendell.

The case which will probably attract the most local interest is that brought by John W. Spear against James Pendell for alleged libel. This case has grown out of Pendell's dealings with Spear while the latter was in the stock business in this city. When Spear closed his office, Pendell was behind on his bills and has been very active in the criminal prosecution of Spear for having conducted alleged bucket shop operations. Among other things, Pendell published a booklet, entitled "Facts," the purpose of which was to put Spear in an unfavorable light. Because of this alleged persecution, Spear has brought suit for libel. Another case that is likely to come to trial this term is that of Pendell against Spear, in which the former is suing the latter for $4,000, claimed to be due him on transactions in the same stock dealings.

The criminal docket will be unusually small and what few cases there are will be of minor importance. Several of those to be on the docket were continued from last term. These are: The People vs. Walter Lattrell, larceny; The People vs. O. J. LaCombe, violation of the liquor laws; The People vs. Julius Johnson, violation of the liquor laws.

Since the Warner Cranston law went into effect, only two violations of the liquor laws have been reported, and only one of these actions is against a saloon keeper. Archie Godin of Little Lake is accused of having kept his saloon open on Sunday. Matti Gerolomi of Princeton is accused of having operated a blind pig in that village. If Philip Van Linden of this city is found over to circuit court at the hearing before Justice Byrne tomorrow, his case is also likely to come up at the December term. Van Linden is charged with having kept his saloon open on Thanksgiving Day.

Other criminal cases that will be on the calendar are as follows: The People vs. W. R. Burnside, abandonment; The People vs. Nestor Lindrose, Herman Konster, Alex. Notti and Edward Heiko, all of Michigan; The People vs. Charles Carey, rape.

The term will open next Monday morning and the jury has been summoned to appear at 2 o'clock the same afternoon. Judge Cooper of Gogebic county will be on the bench most, if not all, of the term.

BALDWIN GETS $1,000.

Judge Stone Decides in His Favor in Escanaba Boycott Case.

Judge Stone yesterday handed down a decision in the case of F. L. Baldwin, editor of the Escanaba Journal, against J. J. Cleary and other liquor dealers of that city. Mr. Baldwin brought suit against the Escanaba liquor dealers on a grand that they had attempted to boycott him by inducing merchants to refrain from patronizing the Journal, because of the decided stand that paper has been taking in favor of law observance and prohibition. Some time ago, Judge Stone granted a temporary injunction restraining the liquor dealers from further attempting to boycott Mr. Baldwin in that manner. In his decision yesterday, Judge Stone made the temporary injunction permanent and awarded Mr. Baldwin a judgment for $1,000. The suit has attracted unusual interest throughout the upper peninsula, both because of the unique character of the case and Mr. Baldwin's wide notoriety as a fighting temperance advocate.

PETITIONS FILED WITH COUNTY CLERK

MUCH SPECULATION OVER SUPERVISORS' PROBABLE ACTION ON THE REQUEST FOR A LOCAL OPTION ELECTION.

Most of the local option petitions which are to come before the board of supervisors at their meeting Wednesday were filed with the county clerk yesterday and those from the remaining precincts will be filed early this morning. Almost the sole topic of conversation on the streets and in the business places of Marquette yesterday, with the exception of the slump in the stock market, was the probable action that the board of supervisors will take on the petitions.

Rev. Mr. Rutledge, who attended to the filing of most of the petitions, stated yesterday that they had about 2,700 signatures, which is about 150 more than is required, provided all are found to be legitimate signers, which is altogether improbable. The liquor interests claim to have secured the signatures of about 300 of those whose names are on the petitions, asking that their signatures be taken off, some for the reason that they have changed their minds after mature deliberation, others that they did not know what they were signing, and still others maintain that their names were affixed without their knowledge or consent.

The local option workers base a hope that the supervisors will deem the number of signatures sufficient and declare for a local option election on the assumption that a name cannot be withdrawn from the petitions, unless the signer goes in person before the board and shows that his name was put on the petitions fraudulently. The liquor interests, on the other hand, claim that one can withdraw his name from the petitions, provided he makes a written request to do so before the petitions have been filed with the county clerk.

The county clerk is now carefully counting up the names on the petitions, and comparing the list with the poll books used at last fall's election and will report the result of his findings to the board. Representatives of the liquor interests are also making a careful examination of the petitions now on file in the clerk's office and some of the local option workers are making a similar examination of the written requests for withdrawal from the petitions, filed with the clerk some days ago.

One of the supervisors stated yesterday that he was in favor of referring the question of the sufficiency of the petitions to a committee at the board meeting Wednesday, allow such committee to make a careful investigation of the petitions and the signatures affixed thereto, and report at a future meeting. With reference to allowing persons to withdraw their names from the petitions, the same man said that he presumed the board would be guided by the advice of the prosecuting attorney, who has been making a careful study of the law and court decisions bearing on the question.

SERVICES NEXT SUNDAY.

New Rooms for Christian Science Church Nearly Ready for Use.

The repairs and general renovation of the room on the first floor of the opera house block, on the west side, are nearing completion, and the members of the Christian Science church expect to hold their first service in the new home next Sunday morning. The appearance of the room is now very different from what it was before the changes were made and it will make a beautiful church home for the Scientists of the city. To provide ingress from the street, part of the plate glass has been removed and a door put in its place. In the interior, a new floor has been laid and the walls have been newly kalsomined.

The front part of the room, extending back ten or twelve feet, will be used as a reading room, and will be separated from the church proper in the rear by a draw curtain. The reading room will be handsomely and comfortably furnished with book cases, a reading table and chairs, all in mission style. A liberal supply of Science books and magazines will be constantly kept on hand, and the room will be open to the public from 2 to 4 o'clock every afternoon.

In the larger church room, the chairs used by the church in their present meeting place will be used, but a handsome new reading desk has been purchased and the whole will be arranged in a convenient and harmonious manner. Tapered lights and handsome fixtures have been installed and the furniture ordered is expected before the end of the week. It is expected to hold regular Sunday morning and Wednesday evening services in the new church home.

CITY TEAM AND K. C.'S TO PLAY BASKETBALL

INTEREST IS KEEN IN FIRST OF SERIES OF GAMES TO BE PLAYED AT LEGION HALL THIS WINTER.

Those interested in young men's sports are looking forward to the contest between the Knights of Columbus and City basketball teams, which will be played in Legion Hall tomorrow evening. Both teams are made up of experienced players and the game should be a battle royal. No dance will follow the game but the game itself will be good enough to be well worth attending.

Basketball is unique in that it is a product of necessity, having been invented about twenty years ago in the Young Men's Christian association training school, Springfield, Mass., to supply a definite need for competitive indoor winter work. The game requires speed, skill, aggressiveness, endurance and team work. The picking of a team depends upon the available material. Every team needs a good center, who should be rangy and a good jumper, for upon him more than any other player depends the success of the game. The plays are built around the leaping ability of the center. If he is a good jumper he can direct the ball to any member of his team on the jump-off—an essential factor in the development of team play by signal. This is an advantage, because it puts the opposition on the defensive.

Center Position Important.

On the center falls the brunt of "chasing" the ball, now helping out the forwards and now the guards. This necessitates of the ideal center accurate throwing and good guard qualities, as well as jumping ability. These qualities are seldom found in one man, so plans are made to overcome the weakness. If the center is a good jumper and a good guard, but not aggressive in following the ball he changes position immediately after the jump off with a guard who possesses running and good throwing abilities. Or, if he is a good goal thrower, the center may change with one of the forwards, who excels him in guarding the floor. The change must be made smoothly and quickly, so as not to leave men unguarded. Practices will develop this shift, which may be used to trick the opposition.

Forwards must be quick starters and fast on their feet, so as to escape from their guards and get the ball on the jump off. When the center, in response to signal, lets the ball in a certain direction, a forward must be there to get the sphere and he must be able to pass accurately from any position necessary to assume the center's guard. At least one forward must be an accurate basket thrower. The other, if the center can throw baskets, may be used as a "fodder," or, in other words, take the center's place in running the floor, thus keeping the goal throver supplied with the ball. In general, the best basket throwers should be chosen as forwards. They must be fast, as speed, and the endurance to maintain it for forty minutes without a stop, is what wins games.

Guards Should Be Rangy.

Guards should be rangy and good jumpers. This makes them valuable in intercepting passes. Height is desirable, providing it does not interfere with speed, because the forward has a harder time breaking away from a tall guard for try at goal. It is difficult to make a successful pass over a tall guard's head. Of all men on a team, a guard must not fumble the ball, for if he is weak in this department his errors may prove fatal. He is in the opponents' territory most of the time, and fumble chances for baskets by the other fellows. A fast guard is desirable for his ability to break up plays by quick rushing and intercepting passes. But a slow, careful guard, who uses his thinking often shows up well. A combination of a fast guard to break up plays and one who stays back and works defensively most of the time is ideal.

In choosing men their ability for team work must be considered. Often a star player who cannot work with his teammates is of little use. His idea is to get baskets all of the time and to have the other supply him with the ball. This type must be avoided unless he can be taught to act in concert with the others. For whenever the star is off on his goal-throwing the team will be in the air. Another good quality that must not be overlooked is aggressiveness. A player must not fear a collision, but must not foul wantonly. Aggressiveness, with skill to avoid fouling, cannot be valued too highly. Having selected the men, the next thing is to organize practice so the strong features may be developed and the team work like a machine. A few excerpts from the national rules will be of assistance to local amateur and league players. They follow:

A Player Shall Not.

- Section 1—Run with the ball.
- Section 2—Kick the ball.
- Section 3—Strike the ball with his fists.
- Section 4—Hold, block, push or trip an opponent.
- Section 5—Use unnecessary roughness.
- Section 6—Intentionally delay the game.
- Section 7—While making a free trial for goal, pass the ball to another player; an honest attempt must be made to catch it.
- Section 8—Enter a scrimmage in which two men of opposite side are playing the ball.
- Section 9—Interfere with the ball or basket while the ball is on the edge of the basket.
- Section 10—While making a free trial for goal, cross the foul line until the ball has entered or missed the basket.
