

STATES POLICY OF THE LIBERALS

Addressing a Meeting in London. Premier Asquith Outlines the Platform on Which His Party Appeals to the Country.

It Seeks the Limitation of the Power of the Lords, Not the Abolition of the Chamber, He Says, and It Pledges Itself That if Returned to Power It Will Grant to the People of Ireland Home-Rule in the Matter of Purely Irish Affairs.

London, Dec. 10.—Premier Asquith, at a meeting tonight at Albert Hall, laid down the policy on which the Liberal government appeals to the country. He declared that if the government was returned to power it would demand the limitation of the power of the house of lords, and pledged the party to grant self-government to Ireland regarding purely Irish affairs.

Women Denied Admission. The audience filling the vast hall was composed entirely of men, women being denied admission in fear of a demonstration by suffragettes.

Mr. Asquith said, "that we have a task which dominates and transcends because it involves every beneficent social and political change upon which our hearts are set. That is to vindicate and establish upon an unshakable foundation the principle of representative government."

Of the Irish question, the premier said, "Before my accession to the premiership, I described the Irish policy as the undeniable failure of British statesmanship. I repeat this tonight, it is a problem to be solved in only one way—by a policy which, while safeguarding the supreme and indivisible authority, means that the imperial parliament can set up in Ireland a system of full self-government as regards purely Irish affairs. There is not, and cannot be, any question of separation. That is the Liberal policy. The present parliament was dissolved in proposing such a solution, but in the new house the Liberal government will be in this matter entirely free."

Three Constitutional Innovations. Mr. Asquith said that the lords' rejection of the budget had resulted in the government being confronted with three constitutional innovations: First, the claim of the lords to control in the levying of taxation; second, the lords' claim to compel the dissolution of the popular chamber; third, the lords' assertion of its power to make or unmake the executive government.

"It is our first duty to make a recurrence of this impossible," said the speaker. "We therefore demand authority from the electorate to translate an ancient, untried usage into an act of parliament setting forth the fact that it is beyond the province of the lords to meddle with any law of national finance."

The Liberal party, Mr. Asquith declared, was not promoting the abolition of the house of lords, or the setting up of a single chamber, but it asked that the lords be confined to its proper functions.

Balfour Issues a Manifesto. Mr. Balfour, the opposition leader in the house of commons, made a simultaneous plea in a dignified manifesto addressed to the electors of the city of London who have chosen him as their candidate. Mr. Balfour made no attempt to define tariff reform, but concentrated his attack in the accusation that the Liberal government was engaging in a conspiracy to destroy the constitution by substituting a single-chamber government.

Mr. Balfour cited the United States, where the principle of the constitution is that every class of property be taxed alike, and said that no measure like the British budget could be adopted there without a general property tax of both houses, or become a law without a national mandate from the majority of the country, while even if the house imposed special taxation it could be rejected by the senate or vetoed by the president.

Dublin, Dec. 10.—Premier Asquith's declaration on the Irish question in London tonight, was eagerly received here. The Irish party will make its pronouncement on the declaration next week. It is believed here that the Irish vote in England will be given the Liberals.

TRUST IS FOUND GUILTY. American Ice Company Is Convicted at New York and Fined $5,000.

New York, Dec. 10.—The American Ice company was convicted today of restricting competition and attempting to create a monopoly of the ice of the city. The court imposed the maximum sentence—a $5,000 fine. The conviction is the first under the new anti-monopoly law and probably will be carried to the highest court in New York state.

The significance of the verdict lies in the intimation of the court that the defense that the finding against the company, which supplies 8,000,000 customers, would make the first step in its dissolution.

The company was incorporated in New Jersey for $10,000,000. It has plants in New York, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia. It has absorbed smaller companies along the Hudson and in Maine. Charles W. Morse, the convicted banker, formerly was the active promoter of the company's affairs.

HOPE FOR HER SAFETY HAS BEEN ABANDONED.

Little Question Now That the Car Ferry Marquette & Bessemer No. 2 Has Been Lost on Lake Erie and That 32 Men Have Gone Down With Her.

Detroit, Dec. 10.—Hope that the car ferry Marquette & Bessemer No. 2, which was operated by the Capt. McLean and his crew of thirty-one, had gone down to death with the big truck.

The ferry left Conneaut, Ohio, Tuesday for Port Stanley, Ont., with thirty loaded coal cars, and under ordinary conditions she should have arrived at her destination the same afternoon. An empty green yawl boat and some wreckage have been seen near Long Point, in the course which the ferry would have taken. The yawl boats of the steamer were green.

The lost craft was valued at $350,000 and her cargo at upwards of $100,000. The boat was operated by the Capt. Marquette and Bessemer & Lake Erie railroads. It is not definitely known whether any passengers were aboard.

BRUTAL MURDERERS GIVEN LIFE TERMS.

Charged With Killing Little Hatie Zinda at Milwaukee, the Two Russian Poles Captured in Upper Michigan Plead Guilty and Are Sentenced to Prison.

Milwaukee, Dec. 10.—Carl Wojciechowski and Adam Pietrzyk, the murderers of Hatie Zinda, were arraigned in district court this afternoon, waived a hearing and were taken to the municipal court for trial. There they pleaded guilty and were about to be sentenced for life when Pietrzyk, who had confessed to the murder of Wojciechowski while he himself stood guard outside, asked for an attorney to secure clemency. This resulted in delaying the sentence, and the regular hearing immediately proceeded.

After a hearing lasting three hours, the men were sentenced to life imprisonment and arraigned on charges to start them for state prison before daylight tomorrow. The hearing was held in closed doors. Heavy guards of police were present to prevent disorder. Before their sentences, both men confessed to assaulting the girl.

Pietrzyk's second confession was made in court. He said he had assaulted the girl, but denied a share in the murder. Then for the first time Wojciechowski spoke. He said he had assaulted the girl, but that Pietrzyk was the murderer.

MAN HUNT IN PROGRESS AT SAVANNAH, GEORGIA.

Wanted on the Charge of Murdering Three Women Found Dead in the Heart of the City, a Negro Is Sought by Posses and Blood Hounds.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 10.—Mrs. Eliza Gribble, aged seventy, was killed; Mrs. Carrie Olando was first assaulted and then killed, and a third woman—Mrs. Maggie Hunter—was badly beaten this afternoon by a negro who has not yet been captured. The injured woman was so badly beaten that she has since died. The assaults were committed in a house in the center of the city. The negro blows on the heads of his victims with an axe.

Mrs. Gribble and her daughter, Mrs. Olando, were found dead in their home, while Mrs. Hunter, who was found just inside the front door, was dying. Physicians state that Mrs. Olando was criminally assaulted before she was killed.

One hundred and fifty negroes have been arrested in Yamacraw, the negro section of the city. They are prisoners on the theory that the negro, having planned an assault upon Mrs. Olando, was compelled to commit the other crimes in order to escape. Other arrests have also been made, until now every negro in the city who resembles a man who for the last three days was seen frequently about the premises of the murdered women is a prisoner.

On the floor beside the body of Mrs. Gribble were found a newspaper she had been reading, and her spectacles. Her gray head, blood matted, shows the imprint of an axe. Probably Mrs. Hunter was the first struck down as she met the murderer at the front door, and it is believed that the murderer stealthily approached Mrs. Gribble from the rear and killed her. It is thought that Mrs. Olando was attacked as she left her room and entered the hallway, where her body was found. Mrs. Hunter's skull was crushed and her death was a matter of only an hour.

It is believed that if the negro suspected of the crime is caught he will be quickly identified. Bloodhounds are at work in an effort to take the trail from the woodshed where the axe was found by the murderer, but as the house is in the heart of the city and the murders were probably committed several hours before they were discovered, the dogs are of little use. Persons have been found who state that the negro suspected was seen entering the house with an axe in his hand and was seen closing the shutters when leaving the premises. The negro's description has been printed on handbills and scattered broadcast. Posses are everywhere.

One thousand reward has been offered for the culprit's capture.

RUNS AMUCK; KILLS SHERIFF.

Ohio Maniac Spreads Terror for Hours Before Finally Being Killed.

Shreve, O., Dec. 10.—After murdering Sheriff Bell, of Holmes county, then running wild for forty-eight hours and terrorizing the countryside, O. E. Boley, an escaped patient from the Massillon state hospital for the insane, was shot and captured tonight and was started for Wooster. He died, however, enroute.

COTTON EXCHANGE WILDLY EXCITED

Not Since the Memorable Scully Boom of 1904 Has the New York Market Witnessed a More Spectacular Rise in Prices.

Eager Buying Begins When the Government Reports the Smallest Crop in Six Years, and Notwithstanding That Bull Brokers Unload Their Holdings on an Enormous Scale the Quotations Go to New High Records, With Gains of More Than $2 a Bale.

STOCK MARKET CHOPPY.

Profit-Taking in Wall Street Makes the Price Movement Uneven.

New York, Dec. 10.—The choppy, uneven movement of stocks today was partly traceable to profit-taking operations. Some disquieting rumors were spread about the market, however, still showed the beneficial effects of the interpretation placed on the president's message and the clearing of the money situation by the reduction of the Bank of England discount rate.

The November statistics of the Copper Producers' association were stimulating. The nominal decrease of stocks in the hands of producers resulted from a reduction in output, the deliveries for consumption and export falling slightly below those for October, despite the stimulating effect of the rumors of a combination of producers to restrict output. There was much interest in a report that sales had been effected of a block of United States Steel stock, reported to be 100,000 shares, which was taken by a syndicate of French banks when the project for listing steel on the Paris bourse was attempted. The market price at the time the transaction was accomplished was about 60. It is believed that the placing of this block by the banking house closest to the Steel corporation will have a stimulating effect, and also market management, and that it was an integral part of the market campaign in this stock.

The week's express currency movement with the interior has yielded a heavy balance in favor of New York, enough to yield a small net gain in cash for the banks, after allowing for the $4,400,000 absorption by the sub-treasury corporation and the gold exports of $1,700,000.

The St. Paul company today announced a sale of $25,000,000 of general mortgage 4 per cent bonds. Corporation financing will make increased demands on the money market the rest of December and January.

Copper Producers' Statement. New York, Dec. 10.—The monthly report of the Copper Producers' association for November showed a decline in the stock on hand Dec. 1 amounted to 153,063,527 pounds. The production during November was 121,618,369 pounds.

UPHOLDS ANTI-TRUST LAW.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 10.—The supreme court today denied the application of the American Telephone & Telegraph company for a writ of mandamus to compel the secretary of state to admit the corporation to do business in Michigan, both telephone and telegraph. The court said that the policy of the state is to keep the telephone and telegraph lines under separate control, for the benefit of healthy competition, and that the legislature, in passing the anti-trust law under which the admittance was refused, plainly intended that the two agents of communication be kept independent.

NEGRO'S SISTER EXAMINED.

Cairo, Ills., Dec. 10.—The grand jury today examined the sister of Arthur Alexander in an effort to trace Alexander's movements the night that Anne Peley was murdered. Another negro, Ad. Ross, also was a witness. The jury adjourned tonight until Monday.

EXPLORER PEARY HONORED.

New York, Dec. 10.—Commander Peary tonight was re-elected president of the Explorers' club.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Local snow, Saturday and probably Sunday; moderate north winds.

SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE THREATENS TO SPREAD.

President Gompers Pledges the Support of the American Federation of Labor, and This May Involve Other Union Organizations of Railroad Employees.

Cincinnati, Dec. 10.—The American Federation of Labor will support the switchmen on strike in the Northwest to the extent of its ability, both morally and financially, said Mr. Gompers. He refused to state whether this meant the extension of the strike, but he asserted that he was satisfied the demands of the strikers were just and reasonable and merited the support of all unions.

President Hawley is jubilant over President Gompers' decision. He ridiculed the assertions of the railroad officers that the strike was practically ended, and exclaimed: "They cannot beat us, now that the great Federation of Labor is behind us."

According to Mr. Hawley, a shortage in the coal supply of the Northwest is imminent on account of the strike. He said that 500,000 tons of coal were already apparent in the lack of fuel for the Minneapolis collieries.

"I'm sorry," said the switchmen's leader, "that a tie-up of business must result, but when we are fighting for our rights we cannot afford to consider these things."

STRIKERS MUCH ENCOURAGED.

St. Paul, Dec. 10.—Aly interpretation of the Cincinnati message is that the federation has offered its assistance, expected by Mr. Hawley, said Vice President Harshbarger, of the switchmen's union, here tonight.

"What would be the nature of that assistance?" was asked. Mr. Harshbarger, "that we are not agitating nor anticipating sympathetic strikes involving other unions. We have, however, expected their moral and financial support if the strike is prolonged. The strikers are much encouraged at the news of President Gompers' decision. Mr. Harshbarger, "that we are not agitating nor anticipating sympathetic strikes involving other unions. We have, however, expected their moral and financial support if the strike is prolonged. The strikers are much encouraged at the news of President Gompers' decision."

BROKEN RAIL RESPONSIBLE.

Coal Train Is Wrecked in Illinois and Three Men Meet Death.

Peoria, Ills., Dec. 10.—Three trainmen were killed when a coal train of twenty-eight cars on the Burlington railroad was wrecked at Gilson today. The dead were: G. C. Hoffman, fireman; H. E. Hibbs, brakeman; and W. P. Burns, engineer. All lived in a Gallegus, a freight car which was broken in two. The engine and all the coal cars rolled down an embankment and tore up the track for a great distance. The three killed were extra men who had relieved the regular crew on account of a thirty-minute delay in making connections.

FATAL EXPLOSION AT ST. PAUL.

St. Paul, Dec. 10.—An explosion of dynamite in a freight car at the Minnesota transfer yards this afternoon resulted in the death of Claus Larson, the fatal injury of Andrew Anderson and serious injury to Charles Stille. Great excitement was caused by a report that striking switchmen were involved, but it was ascertained that the explosion was purely accidental and occurred while dynamite was being removed.

BANK VAULT DYNAMITED.

Yeggan Operating Near Des Moines Adds $3,000 to Their Loot.

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 10.—Dynamiters wrecked the vault of the Farmers' Savings bank at Carlisle this morning, obtained $3,200 and escaped on a hand car which was found in South Des Moines later. The robbers broke into a Rock Island tool house and secured crowbars with which they broke down the front door of the bank. They blew a large hole in the side of the vault, whereupon one yeggan crawled inside, released the combination and opened the vault door. Three other explosions tore off the other doors. In three robberies near Des Moines within two months, $6,500 has been secured.

WOMAN A DEFAULTER.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Defalcations amounting to several thousand dollars from the Daughters of the American Revolution by a clerk employed in the national headquarters of the society here were made known today. The officers of the society will not prosecute the woman, whose name is withheld. She has confessed the defalcation, which covers a period of at least three years. She has been dismissed.

WISCONSIN DEBATERS DEFEATED.

Madison, Dec. 10.—The University of Illinois today defeated the University of Wisconsin in a joint debate, the question being the incoherence and its relation to low-salaried people.

REVOLTING TRADE GIVEN AN AIRING

Reporting to Congress, the Immigration Commission Tells of Its Investigation of the So-Called "White Slave Traffic."

It Lays Bare the Horrible Details of Discoveries by Its Agents, and It Says the Business Has Assumed Such Large Proportions and Is Exerting So Evil an Influence Upon the Country That Most Vigorous Legislation Is Imperatively Demanded.

Washington, Dec. 10.—All but incredibly revolting are the disclosures of an international system in both enforced and voluntary degradation of men and women contained in a report on the "white slave trade" submitted to congress today by the immigration commission. A large portion of the report is unsuitable for newspaper publication.

When the report was presented to the house, Champ Clark, the minority leader, objected to its being printed as a house document, but he later withdrew his objection. It was promptly renewed by Mr. Sabath, of Illinois.

The commission says that the effect of the importation of degraded women is one of increased degeneration and death for the women, and contamination and corruption and disease for those with whom they come in contact. It adds: "The economic loss from the shortening of life by the multitudes of women who are sold into the hands of vice is great, while the horrible effects of prostitution come alike to the guilty and innocent."

The report says that the immoral traffic is not confined entirely to women, but "it is clear that there is a continuing traffic in boys and men for immoral purposes. The vilest practices are brought from Europe, and beyond doubt there come from the imported women and their men the most bestial attainments of depravity."

The commission asserts that while many of the girls are innocent and ignorant, far the greater number come largely of their own accord. Most of the women it is said, come through New York, San Francisco and Seattle. Many have lately come via Canada, frequently disguised as the wives or sisters of their procurers. The importations come from all countries, France leading. The "market" price varies from $300 to $1,000 for each alien woman.

Has Assumed Large Proportions.

In explanation of the act of laying bare to the public the horrible details of the discoveries by its agents the commission says that the "white slave traffic" is the most pitiful and the most revolting phase of the immigration question. This business has assumed large proportions, and it has been exerting so evil an influence upon the country that the commission declares that it felt compelled to bring the subject of a thorough investigation.

No attempt was made to investigate the conditions in every important city. But the commission believes that enough of different races and nationalities and living under different conditions have been obtained from localities sufficiently scattered to warrant the reports being used as a basis for legislative and administrative action.

The report deals at some length with methods used by men and women procurers to lure women into this country for immoral purposes. These methods differ as adapted in different countries. In some countries men and women in the business of enticing innocent girls to the United States resort to proffers of attractive positions, and in many cases the men offer themselves in marriage and frequently risk prosecution on charges of bigamy in order to attain their desires.

The report says, concerning the talk of a great monopolistic corporation whose business it is to import and exploit these unfortunate women, that the commission has been unable to learn of any such corporation and does not believe in its existence. It is stated, however, that persons engaged in such importing business sometimes have a wide acquaintance among themselves, and in many instances they have rather close business relations, one with another, so as to prevent their victims from getting out of their clutches before they have realized the desired profits from their base ventures.

European Co-Operation Difficult.

Under the head of "Recommendations," the commission says: "Owing to the difference between European and American views regarding prostitution, co-operation for the suppression of the white slave traffic can be expected from most of the European nations only along certain lines. Most European countries are rigid in their regulations regarding the procuring for purposes of prostitution of minor girls or of any women by means of fraud and deceit. Women who are of age however, and who enter the business of their own accord are not interfered with."

"From continental countries where these conditions exist, practically no co-operation could be expected to prevent professional prostitutes from sailing to the United States. Such governments probably would co-operate to prevent the seduction of minors or the fraudulent or forcible exportation of their women. In the main, however, the United States government must rely on its own officials for the prevention of this traffic."

Legis in the United States to arrest women engaged in immoral practices and deport all possible, that the limit of three years after landing within which such persons may be prosecuted be removed, that the keepers of immoral houses wherein alien women are found be subject to deportation, and that state and municipal governments be urged to co-operate.

WANTS ZELAYA PUNISHED.

Senator Raynor Calls for the Arrest of the Nicaraguan Dictator.

Washington, Dec. 10.—A resolution authorizing the president to take the necessary steps for the apprehension of President Zelaya of Nicaragua and for his punishment on the charge of murdering the two Americans, if the facts in the possession of the state department warrant such action, was introduced today by Senator Raynor, of Maryland.

Evidence is multiplying that Zelaya intends to retire from the presidency. The American consular officers give evidence to the reports. The latest news from Nicaragua reached the state department this morning and stated that Jose Madriz was being talked of as Zelaya's successor. Madriz's selection as president of Nicaragua would not be satisfactory to the United States.

BLOOD OF HUNDREDS STAINED HIS HANDS.

For Years Penniless and Helpless, Supported by the Government, Chief Red Cloud, a Veteran of Two Hundred Battles, Dies at the Age of Eighty-Six.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Red Cloud, the famous Sioux Indian chief, is dead. The report of his demise was received today from the Pine Ridge Indian agency. Red Cloud was eighty-six years old.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—Red Cloud, whose death was announced from the Pine Ridge agency today, was one of the most noted and fearless Indian chiefs of recent generations. In 1848 he began a series of attacks on the whites, that lasted for more than thirty years.

After he had become practically the war lord of Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Wyoming and parts of Iowa, his territory was invaded and robbed and killed by the Indians. Red Cloud slew some of these invaders and declared war upon the rest. The government rushed soldiers for the protection of the settlers, but hundreds of those were killed by Red Cloud and his followers. Red Cloud then attacked Major Powell and a detachment of soldiers. During this battle Red Cloud lost three hundred men. This, in 1880, practically ended his career as a war lord and the Sioux chief consented to sign a peace paper.

A stormy career of two hundred battles ended, Red Cloud, penniless and old, drifted into oblivion, supported by the government. For several years prior to his death he was blind and deaf.

TEN TEAMS HAVE QUIT.

Only Nine Now Competing in the Six-Day Bicycle Race.

New York, Dec. 10.—Once this afternoon all the ten remaining teams of the nineteen that started in the six-day bicycle race were within one lap of even terms, but the failure of Lawrence, whose weakened knees forced him to quit on the doctor's orders, and an accident to Fye, who broke his collar bone, completed a brilliant career of two hundred battles. The stormy career of two hundred battles ended, Red Cloud, penniless and old, drifted into oblivion, supported by the government. For several years prior to his death he was blind and deaf.

PRIZE CORN COMES HIGH.

Ten Ears Sold at the Omaha Exposition Bring $355.

Omaha, Dec. 10.—At the Corn exposition today, E. E. Raville of Des Moines paid $345 for the prize ten ears of corn grown by J. R. Overstreet, of Franklin, Ind. Arthur Carter of Topeka, paid $250 for seven ears. H. E. Kruggen of Beaver Dam, Wis., who won the sweepstakes on wheat by producing the best peck that the world has ever seen, besting the judges, paid $104 to retain it, and take it home for seed.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN DIE.

Explosion of an Oil Stove Costs Four Lives at Concordia, Kansas.

Concordia, Kas., Dec. 10.—At Wayne fourteen miles north of this place, Mrs. Frank Hicks and four children—two girls and two boys—aged three to ten, were burned to death today when an oil stove exploded. The mother saved her baby and perished in an effort to rescue the other children. Frank Hicks, the husband, was severely burned in trying to extinguish the fire.

EARTHQUAKE SHAKE GUAM.

Washington, Dec. 10.—An earthquake occurred on the island of Guam today according to a cablegram to the navy department. The women's and children's hospital was wrecked. There were no casualties. From the wording of the dispatch, the principal damage occurred to the hospital, which is described as untenable and requires $6,000 for repairs.

EMBEZZLER IS SENTENCED.

Cleveland, Dec. 10.—Harry H. Hayes, junior member of the brokerage firm of W. J. Hayes & Son, was convicted today of embezzling bonds of the Cincinnati, Bluffton & Chicago railway and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Hayes' father has also been indicted.

CUMMINS FIRES THE FIRST GUN

Iowa Senator Introduces a Bill in Congress, Proposing the Radical Amendment of the Law Regulating Interstate Commerce

Thus There Is Launched a New Controversy Over Railroad Legislation, and in Intensity of Interest and Gravity of Importance It Gives Promise of Surpassing Even the Desperate Conflict Waged Over the Rate Question Four Years Ago.

Washington, Dec. 10.—A controversy over railroad legislation will be precipitated in congress this winter, which in intensity of interest and gravity of importance promises to surpass the legislative conflict over railroad rates four years ago. The first gun was fired today by Senator Cummins, of Iowa, when he introduced a bill proposing radical changes in the interstate commerce act.

In large sense, Mr. Cummins' measure is a practical substitute for the present interstate commerce act. It requires uniform classification and rates; authorizes the commission to fix the minimum rates, the changes of rates by railroads to have no effect until approved by the commission; prohibits the acquisition of parallel and competing lines, and provides that all capital stock must be represented at par by money or property.

Congressional Setting Is Brief.

The senators today introduced more than 350 bills and resolutions. Many of these failed of passage at the last congress, and 90 per cent of them will receive scant consideration at this session. Many are private pension bills. The house was in session an hour and a half. Many measures were introduced. The most striking feature was a speech by Mr. Kustermann, of Wisconsin, deploring that his interest in German shipbuilding was so great as to cause him to antagonize the bill for the relief of the merchant marine. Mr. Kustermann was in jovial humor and his speech was generally enjoyed. Senator Lorimer's successor, Mr. Moxley, of Chicago, was sworn in as a member.

As no reports were made from the committees, both houses were without subjects for legislation. The senate adjourned until Monday, and the house until Tuesday.

Waterway Convention Adjourns.

What was declared to have been the most successful convention of its kind ever held ended today when the National Rivers and Harbors Congress adjourned after a three days session. Representative Hanshell, of Louisiana, was re-elected president, and Captain J. F. Ellison, of Cincinnati, secretary and treasurer. Vice presidents to represent the various states were named. The new board of directors met after adjournment and discussed the question of the date and place of next year's convention. Toledo and other cities sought to secure the convention, but a number of the directors pointed out that the convention should be held in Washington, coincident with the convening of the national congress. The matter was deferred, after considerable discussion, until a later date. It was declared, however, that the great majority of the board was opposed to any change in the time and place of the convention.

Representative Mann, of Illinois, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, introduced a bill providing that before dams across "navigable or non-navigable streams" can be constructed, permission and approval must be obtained from the secretary of war and chief of engineers. The government also is authorized to regulate absolutely the charges for power derived from such sources.

Clarkson to Serve Until Term Expires.

General James S. Clarkson, surveyor of the port of New York, will continue in that office until April 18, when his term expires, unless he voluntarily retires sooner.

A statement issued tonight from the office of acting secretary of the Treasury, Norton says that when the question of General Clarkson's continuance, it was understood that he would serve out his term. Unofficially the belief has been that Clarkson would not be continued in office beyond Jan. 1, but it is said that his Iowa friends resented the idea of his removal before his term expired.

New Mexican Appointments.

The president today sent to the senate the names of Wm. J. Mills and Wm. H. Pope, both of New Mexico, to be governor and chief justice, respectively, of that territory.

EGG COMPANY HIT.

Judge Humphreys Upholds a Seizure by Government Inspectors.

Peoria, Ills., Dec. 10.—Federal Judge Humphreys today decided that the seizure of fifty cases of preserved eggs by the government inspectors was justified, in the total resources of $213,131,345 and the essential features shown in a statement by the controller of the currency giving the condition of the national banks Nov. 16.

are pending before the common council.
Look them over and take your choice.

What President Taft said to Sherman and Uncle Joe and what they said to the president are unfortunately involucred secrets of the inner chamber, but doubtless the issue will tell.

The newspaper reporters are finding the newly selected minister to China quite unresponsive to their efforts to obtain interviews. The experience of the preceding appointee, the talkative Mr.
Crane, is obviously both an example and a warning to Mr. Calhoun.

Of fourteen cities in Massachusetts that were carried for prohibition last year four voted to return to the license system in the elections Tuesday, while one, Haverhill, decided by a close vote to give the prohibitionists a trial. It is stated that there is a noticeable reaction from the prohibition wave that swept the state a year ago in Massachusetts. It need not be a surprise if we hear next that the state has gone over to the Democracy.

Martial law has been declared in Honduras as a step toward heading off a revolution set a-going by the deposed president, Manuel Bonilla. They don't take kindly to separation from office in those South American republics. As soon as one of their presidents has been let out he begins to plan a revolution in the hope of getting in again. Sometimes the disgruntled leader wins, and sometimes he gets shot, but the game goes merrily on just the same.

Commenting on the assertion of a banking expert who has figured it all out, that a dollar is doing twice the work today it did a few generations ago,
the Detroit Free Press remarks that "the average man is doing twice the work to get one." But how about the man a bit above the average? Don't the dollars come his way much more readily now than they did in the days of our granddads? If not, how is the accumulation of so many enormous fortunes in our time to be explained?

Says Mayor-elect Gaynor of New York: "The long line of officials and bosses who made themselves millionaires out of the government of this city, some of whom live abroad and impudently visit us occasionally, now that the statute of limitations has outlawed their villainies, is a standing disgrace to the moral tone of the community." Can the mayor-elect, by any manner of means,
have Dick Croker, that estimable retired Tammany statesman, in mind?

Much of the newspaper comment on the president's message indicates that the papers making it didn't find the message exciting enough. But wasn't it a desire of the bulk of the people to have a man in the presidential office who would enable the country to take needed rest that rendered Taft so strong as a candidate for that position? When Roosevelt was president the complaint most frequently heard of him was that his state papers were too dynamic. The people wanted a change; they got it, and they should be content.

Some little surprise will be occasioned
by the announcement that Salt Lake City will get the Johnson-Jeffries fight.
It had been regarded as one of the places that might be selected, but it had been the accepted opinion that the mill would be held either in or near San Francisco.
However, if Salt Lake City pleases the promoters and pug, the rest of us ought to be satisfied. It is more centrally located than San Francisco. The fight fans from the East will not be compelled to journey so far to get to the ringside.
It is said that solid Salt Lake City business men have guaranteed that the fight will be held without interference. Wonder if any of the Mormon bishops are included in their number?

New York Wednesday night, the principal speaker was a clergyman from Riv-erhead, L. I., Rev. William Wasson, and he didn't pick soft words in telling how much of "froth and hypocrisy" there is in the prohibition movement as he sees it.
One statement of his is likely to be vehemently challenged. "For sixty years," he said, "a great religious demonination has been teaching that the use of any alcoholic beverage is a sin.
This doctrine is a menace to the industrial and moral welfare of our people,
but the fault for its widespread popularity lies largely with ministers who detest the prohibition movement but do not make their opinions public." The ministers accused of moral cowardice will now be heard, if they are not afraid to speak out.

Apropos the movement for affording relief to the sufferers by the Cherry mine disaster, there are the charges of bad management and expediting delay in getting supplies to the needy ones almost always heard when work of this kind is left to committees and commissions chosen hurriedly, and without regard for the competency of the persons to whom it is entrusted for the service required of them. In this instance the disaster itself was so heartrending that it is intolerable that the effort to aid
the worst sufferers from it, the widows and orphans of the men who met death in the mine, should be hampered by incapacity on the part of those charged with the distribution of supplies donated by the public. Somehow there appears to be a sad inaptitude for the practical side of charitable work in most of those who are readiest to undertake it.

Walter Camp, Yale's graduate advisory coach, is on record as favoring further modification of the football rules to make the game safer. "I am positive that there should be alterations
in the rules, looking to a distinct minimizing of the chances of serious accidents," he is quoted as saying. "I do not know that I am sufficiently prepared to say what those changes should be, but I am collecting such facts
as I can that will lead to a knowledge of how to effect the best results." Mr.
Camp is one of the most influential factors in determining how football is played, and that he will advocate changes in the rules makes it almost certain that changes will be introduced.
If the game is to escape being put under the ban in many schools and colleges it will have to be made safer, and the general disposition on the part of coaches and athletic directors to favor such changes as may be necessary is gratifying to those who would like to see it preserved.

Duluth clergymen are now vigorously engaged in discussing the credibility of the scriptural account of how Gideon caused the sun to stay its course until he had time to do up his enemies, as related in the book of Joshua. Some maintain that the narration should be taken literally, while others hold that it is to be interpreted as figurative, just as Oriental Munchausenism, so to speak.
Time must hang heavily on the heads of the clerical gentlemen engaged in this dispute. Joshua may have been only "joshing" when he claimed that he compelled the sun to wait on his pleasure, or he may have actually forced the lunary to obey his will, but in either case the story is rather a stale one for discussion in our time. With all the poverty existing in Duluth, the papers there tell about, might not these Duluth clerics find occupation in locating and relieving some of it, instead of wasting their time in trying to settle questions arising from Bible accounts of things that happened, or are said to have happened, thousands of years ago?

The State Association of Farmers' clubs
this week gave notice to the politicians to keep their hands out of the fight between Senator Burrows and Representative Townsend for the United States senate. The farmers do not question the right of the politicians to play whatever part they may desire in the primary campaign. What they object to is the pledging of candidates for the legislature to this or that candidate, with the idea that they shall vote for him irrespective of what the voters show, in the primaries, is their will. The resolutions demand the opportunity "to name a candidate for United States senator who will represent the people as well as the special interests and who will refuse to be subservient to the mountpieces of the special interests in the senate," and they urge on the voters to see that their legislators "are pledged to vote for the candidate for United States senator who receives the greater number of votes in the entire state." Representative Townsend has already subscribed to this "latter proposition. Senator Burrows should do it. It should be settled in advance that the will of the people, as recorded at the polls, will be carried out by the legislature. There will be little disposition on the part of members of that body to buck on this if both the candidates agree in advance that it is the proper thing. In Michigan we are going to have a straight forward contest for the senatorial office between two men. The issues will be clearly defined and the decision of the voters arrived at with deliberation. It should be respected by the legislature, whoever is favored.

A Blow in the Back.—An overcoat is a necessary nuisance and the tendency to take it off on warmish days in late autumn and winter is as strong as it is unwise. A treacherous wind hits you in the back and the next morning you have lumbago. Rub well and often with Perry Davis' Painkiller and you will be astonished to find how quickly all sore-ness is banished.

AFTER COOK AGAIN.

Quite the most astounding charges that have been made against Dr. Cook are those contained in the affidavits and retials of George H. Dunkle and Captain August Loose, to the effect that Captain Loose supplied Dr. Cook with many of the observations contained in the data that have been placed in the hands of the savants of the University of Copenhagen. Coming on top of the Mt. McKinley "revelations," they convince that Dr. Cook is either a monumental fakir or a man who is undergoing a relentless and cleverly planned prosecution.

It should prove possible to form an absolutely final judgment as to the nature of these latest charges. The New York Times has copies of the data prepared by Loose and full information in regard to it. If the records made public in Copenhagen contain this data they will carry prima facie evidence that Loose, as he claims he did, had an important part in its preparation, and will destroy practically all lingering confidence in the honesty of Dr. Cook's retial.

The story related by Dunkle and Loose is an interesting and dramatic one.
They were early impressed, they say,
with a belief that Dr. Cook was not sure of his ground, and conceived the idea of turning Captain Loose's skill as a mariner to their mutual profit by bolstering up Dr. Cook's records, for a substantial consideration. Dunkle conducted the preliminaries delicately, and the deal was arranged. The service was to be rewarded by the payment of $4,000, and the cause of the present publicity given the deal is the fact that Dr. Cook disappeared when $240 had been paid.

It would be idle to deny that the retial of Dunkle and Loose will seriously shake the already impaired confidence of Dr. Cook's friends. It is established that there was considerable intercourse between him and these men, and the latter's stories have been checked up on such points as the purchase of charts and other materials that would be necessary in the work of fitting
Dr. Cook out with a set of observations. Furthermore their story would explain the long delay in getting
Dr. Cook's records off to Copenhagen, a thing that those who have believed in him have found difficult to understand.

There can be no disputing the fact that Dr. Cook's course throughout has been ideally the one which would be expected in a man who was pulling off a monumental fraud. His sollitude for lecture receipts, his delay in forwarding his records, the charges that his story of having reached the summit of Mt. McKinley was false, and now this story that he bought his polar records in the open market, all combine to raise a strong suspicion against him. The only thing that will effectually dispel it will be the discovery that his records contain none of the data Captain Loose says he furnished to Dr. Cook, but, on the other hand, bear evidence of having been originally Dr. Cook's work, and can stand the closest and most discerning criticism and analysis without being disproved.

If there is little expectation that this will be the case Dr. Cook has no reason to complain. It is he that has raised up the cloud of suspicion against himself;
it is his course of conduct—explicable it would seem only on the theory that he is a fakir—that has wrecked the belief in his reported achievement generally held in the weeks after his story was first reported to the world.

GRADED SALARIES.

Certain members of the legislature
last year supported a bill to introduce civil service in the state departments at Lansing. The plan was not popular either in the legislature or in official circles at the capitol. The state at large showed no great interest in it,
and there was conspicuously lacking the popular demand that it be carried out which alone would have enabled its sponsors to push it through. In its place was proposed graded salaries for department clerks, and this principle was embodied in a bill that subsequently became a law.

The salaries will be graded the first of the year. Auditor General Fuller's department is most affected by the act.
He is quoted as saying: "We have been keeping a record to determine the efficiency of each clerk, and shall endeavor to obey all the provisions of the law, grading their pay from $800 to $1, 200, as is prescribed. That was certainly the intent of the law, and I think it is better than civil service, which may follow if the provisions of this act are not carried out."

The statute provided for a grade C salary, $1,000, which is now paid, and it will be the minimum for clerks now in the service. New clerks will be started at $800, and will have to work at that minimum for six months at least. They will then be advanced in grade accordingly as they show devotion to duty and do effective work, with the maximum $1,200.

The value of this plan, it is obvious, depends entirely on the way it is handled by the heads of the different departments. If the efficiency records are kept conscientiously, and if it becomes known that no clerk can be advanced in salary unless the quality of his work recommends him, if the principal of demotion from higher grades when the quality of the work done deteriorates is introduced, the new law should operate to greatly improve the standards of service in the state offices. On the other hand, it is easy to see how a complaisant head of a department could make of the law merely an instrument to give a substantial increase in salaries all round, with little regard to merit.

The working of the law will be closely scanned, if for no better reason than because there are many people who have little faith in it. It is to be hoped that the manner in which it is applied will justify the predictions as to the improvement it would bring made by those legislators who were most insistent that it be passed.

ANOTHER BIG CLASS PLANNED.

New Temple, D. O. K. K., of Laurium, Proving Very Popular.

It is likely that Konyah temple, Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorsan, will initiate another very large class about midwinter, following the suggestion of Imperial His Solomans of Grand Rapids, who assisted in instituting the temple Monday evening. The 140 tyros who took the work were so well pleased that many other Knights of Pythias members of the Laurium, Calumet, Houghton, Hancock and Chassall lodges, have expressed their wish to be initiated into the mystic of the Khorsan. The temple has a membership now of between 150 and 200. This will likely be swelled to close to 400 within a year. It has been suggested that the temple hold ceremonies about once each month. New equipment for putting on the work is to be secured and the next class to be taken in will be given an even better and livelier time than was the big class admitted Monday.

KUKULIA IS RELEASED.

Man Charged With Murder of Cousin Is Out on His Own Bond.

The examination of Leander Kukulia, charged with the murder of his cousin, Matt Kukulia, has been completed in Justice Oliver's court at Hancock. The testimony is still to be transcribed, however, and the case has been continued until next Thursday. Kukulia, who has been in jail ever since his arrest, has been released on his own recognizance. Matt Kukulia disappeared the night of Saturday, Nov. 26, and was not seen alive again. He was found in a ravine on the side of Quincy hill a week later, with his neck broken. Leander Kukulia was the last man seen with his cousin. They had been in Hancock, and had had several drinks. The men had had trouble, and it was reported that Leander had made threats against his cousin. After the inquest Leander was arrested and has been in jail ever since.

FEED FOR THE NEWSBOYS.

B. Barnham Will Give Kids a Grand Spread New Year's Night.

B. Barnham of Calumet, proprietor of the Calumet Dye Works, has become the patron saint of the newsboys of Calumet. He announced yesterday that he would give all the newsboys of Calumet a big turkey feed New Year's night. Mr. Barnham will be assisted in this by President Schumaker and the members of the Red Jacket council and their ladies. Mr. Barnham bears all the expenses, however.

There are about one hundred and fifty Calumet youngsters who will enjoy Mr. Barnham's hospitality.

APPEALS THE DOG CASE.

A. A. Tillman of Hancock Will Go to Circuit Court With It.

A case which promises to become celebrated in the annals of litigation in Houghton county is that of Myron Van Sickle's dog. Van Sickle is dead and the dog is missing, but their memory is being kept green by A. A. Tillman of Hancock.

Myron Van Sickle is the barber who was drowned in Portage lake last summer. He left behind a lanky greyhound and his wife informally gave the dog to the village of Houghton, the fire department, Chief Voetsch or Corporal Brand. In any event it lingered around the fire hall for weeks. Judge Streeter recalled that he had a bill of sale for the dog. He proceeded to replevin it. Justice Oliver of Hancock gave Mr. Tillman possession of the dog while the case was pending, but in the night the animal gnawed his rope and returned to the Houghton fire hall. When the case came up the dog was missing. No one knew where he was, no one cared. It had become a matter of the costs now. Mr. Tillman's ownership of the dog was admitted, but he was to pay the costs in the matter. This is what he dislikes doing, and now Attorney J. F. Hammitz, who represented the Houghton parties in the matter, has been notified that Mr. Tillman has appealed the case to the circuit court.

HERE'S A POSITIVE NOVELTY.

Sam P. Quarles of Kansas City Sells Insurance by Slot Machine.

Sam P. Quarles of Kansas City is showing a positive novelty at Houghton—a slot machine for the sale of accident insurance. Mr. Quarles represents the International Recording company, which owns these peculiar vending machines, and is here for the purpose of interesting copper country investors in the stock of the concern. He is accompanied by E. S. Jackson of Kansas City, one of the two inventors of the machine.

Mr. Jackson was a general insurance agent seven years ago, and with a partner he came to the conclusion that accident and health insurance might be sold through a slot machine. The men have spent seven years and all of their means in perfecting the machine, which is a handsome piece of mechanism. The machines will be set up in railroad stations, and all that is necessary for a traveler to do is to put a nickel in the slot and receive a policy for $1,000 good for twenty-four hours. The machine automatically records the day, hour and minute on the policy. A portion of the policy is detachable. This portion is returned to the machine after the insured has signed the name and address of himself and his beneficiary upon it.

An ingenious device makes it possible to detect the exact coin which is used in paying for any particular policy and if that coin be counterfeit the policy is void.

HOCKEY PRACTICE SUNDAY.

Houghton Team Will Turn Out for the First Time for Work-Out.

The Houghton hockey team of the Copper Country Amateur hockey league will turn out for practice Sunday for the first time. The entire seven of last year will appear in uniform, including Carlos Haugh in goal, Captain Bill Trathen at point, Bobby Shea at cover, and Haron Bourbonnais, Jack Malan, George Heinz and Elmer Croft on the line. One Huns and "Ching" McCurdy are candidate for places. These players have shown up well in high school teams and are promising material. It is said also that there is a student at the Michigan College of Mines who is a fine hockey player and who will try for a place. His name could not be learned yesterday.

John C. Conlon, president of the Hancock Amateur Hockey association, has called a meeting for this evening. This will be the annual meeting and officers will be elected, reports read and arrangements made for the season which is about to open.

Mining News

SUPERIOR & BOSTON.

The third annual report of the Superior & Boston Copper company for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30 shows that the total receipts were $971,957, of which $292,842 was carried over from the previous year. There was expended in mine development $277,739; for payments on mining claims, $369,678, for construction and equipment, $102,495, which with the inclusion of other miscellaneous items made total disbursements of $673,433, leaving a balance on hand Oct. 1, last, of $298,544.

William G. Rice, president, says: "Within the past year not only has the balance of the debt due on the original mining property been paid, but the mine has been liquidated, the Collins-Doyle group of claims have been acquired at a cost of $148,733. In addition, important development work has been carried forward and a surface plant installed at the new McGraw shaft, capable of handling a large tonnage of ore, so that the company enters upon the new year with its property entirely paid for and with a substantial balance in the treasury."

"Greater progress in the development of larger ore reserves and a gradual increase in production confidently may be expected from now on. Plans for the early development of the Old Dominion vein through the McGraw shaft, as well as encouraging evidence of an approach to the ore body in the Gardner, make the immediate future particularly interesting, for the discovery of new ore bodies in either or both the Gardner and McGraw shafts would add materially to the tangible assets of the company and greatly enlarge the possibilities for production."

The close of navigation on the Great Lakes finds very little copper at the Houghton county smelters. A single shipment made by water last week totaled 3,000 tons and practically cleaned up all to be had at the Copper Range. That is, it is at the present time less than ten tons of the metal are in sight at that point. Calumet & Hecla has been a continual shipper throughout the season of navigation and continues to ship at the rate of 500,000 pounds of refined copper daily by rail. The company expects to maintain this rate for the next thirty days, the total production of the Lake Superior district continues well over 20,000,000 pounds of fine copper monthly.

An announcement authorized by Captain A. B. Wolvin, president of the Butte & Superior company, makes certain the speedy milling of ores from the property has been started and it is expected that the company will be shipping to the concentrator within a few days. The contract stipulates that the minimum shipments are to be 200 tons a day, and the maximum shipment 600 tons every day just as soon as the spot is finished and other preliminary arrangements for the handling of the ore completed.

For the calendar year ending Dec. 31 the Mohawk output of refined copper should be the largest on record, although the rock yield shows no great improvement. Through the installation of a larger skip at the No. 1 shaft, a slightly larger tonnage of rock can be handled with no additional cost for hoisting. The No. 6 shaft will be in operation about the middle of 1910, and it is from this shaft that Mohawk expects to compensate for the lowering rock values. The shaft is now down about 200 feet, sixty-five of which was accomplished in November. The construction charge on account of No. 6 shaft the current year will be about $100,000. By reason of the heavy overburden, the expense of constructing this shaft has been large. The cost of production this year will be about the same as last, namely, ten and one-half cents per pound of copper. Including construction, it will be more than eleven cents.

The New Baltic Mining company is capitalized at $2,500,000, or 100,000 shares, par value $25. Of this amount, 30,000 shares are offered at $8 first to holders of the 10,000 shares of Exploration stock, who, in addition to receiving share for share of mining stock for Development stock, will also have the privilege of subscribing for three additional shares at the rate of $10 per share for the new stock offered to the general public. The 20,000 shares will be underwritten. Of the remaining 60,000

Wedded Half a Century.

A half century of married life, the greater portion of which has been spent by the couple in Escanaba, was celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Haring this week in the Delta county metropolis. Children, grandchildren and great grandchildren joined with the couple in observing their golden wedding. Three members of the family, who are in the West, were unable to be present, but a company of twenty-two made up the party at the Haring home. Mr. and Mrs. Haring were married at Beaver Dam, Wis., Dec. 3, 1859. Thirty years ago they moved to Upper Michigan and have since made Escanaba their home. Both are hale and hearty.

Reward for Lost Hunter.

The common hunter of Ironwood has offered a reward of $100 for the finding of Antoine Lepusha, dead or alive. The citizens of Jesselville have collected the sum of $75 for the same purpose. Lepusha is the hunter who disappeared from Dominic Bonazza's camp at Mud Creek, about ten miles north of Ironwood, the morning of Tuesday, Nov. 16. When last seen he was evidently following a deer. A heavy snow storm, which finished his earthly career, A. A. bounty of $25 is at stake, both parties claim the money, but they cannot agree as to who was the wolf-killer—Newbauer, who gave it the deadly blow, or Kaiser, who gave it the finishing blow. It is possible that they may call a Philadelphia lawyer to settle the controversy. Meanwhile Kaiser has collected the bounty and holds the money.

Divorced Man Makes Trouble.

By flourishing a revolver and making threats, it is alleged, Yes M. Lanning endeavored to have his own way in the home of the parents of his divorced wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Robotom, at the Soo, late the other night. A telephone call to the police station, while Lanning was away, brought up a patrolman, who arrested him. He is being held upon the charge of carrying concealed weapons, but this may be changed. Mrs. Lanning secured a decree from her husband some time ago. He had gone away, sailing on the Lakes. The other night about 11:30 o'clock he presented himself at the door of the Robotom residence and demanded admittance, which was given him by Mr. Robotom. Lanning said he wanted to see the baby. After he had seen the child, it is alleged, that he drew a revolver and pointed it at Mrs. Lanning and otherwise acted in a threatening manner. Before the revolver episode, Mrs. Lanning, seeing Lanning in an intoxicated state, suspected more trouble and called the police. Lanning did not know where he was, a telephone in the house, and was entirely unaware of his actions being reported until the officers arrived.

Fortune Comes After Death.

Seven years after his death from starvation and exposure in the Red Hut in which he lived, a pauper, near Sidway, in the upper peninsula, word comes that there is a small fortune awaiting John Melsaas, says a dispatch from Saginaw. He was a Civil war veteran, and twenty years ago was a member of the Saginaw police force. An effort will be made to find the man's wife and several children, but they may have died in the interval. The police have received a letter from the G. A. B. post of Springfield, Mo., asking that Melsaas be located. The last heard from him in that place was when he was a Ten thousand Christmas trees will be shipped from Rudyard, Chippewa county, this month to the cities, there to make glad the hearts of the rising generation as well as many of the wisest of the adherents of his own church, but by people of all creeds outside of it. Mr. Tourtellet has ministered to the Presbyterian congregation of Ironwood for exactly five years, and his pastorate has been eminently successful. The handsome new church edifice of the society was erected during that period, and under his leadership the church has enjoyed highly satisfactory spiritual and material growth. Outside of the church, Mr. Tourtellet has formed friendships which will be lasting, and by none will his departure be more keenly felt than by those who have been his companions on vacation trips to the woods and lakes and streams of the region.

Popular Pastor Resigns.

Rev. George M. Tourtellet, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Ironwood, has received a call from the congregation of that denomination at Manitowish, Wis., and has forwarded word of his acceptance. The news came as a complete surprise to members of his present congregation, and his decision to leave Ironwood is regretted not only by the adherents of his own church, but by people of all creeds outside of it. County Poor Farm Secured.

That the Delta county poor farm is in a deplorable condition and that it comes close to state notoriety is admitted by Superintendent of Poor Fred Olmsted. Early in October M. T. Murray, secretary of the state board of corrections and charities, made a visit to Escanaba and inspected the county institutions. He told Superintendent Olmsted that the poor farm was by far the poorest arranged institution of its kind in the state and that he would have to report unfavorably. This he has now done. Superintendent Olmsted admits that the conditions are not what they should be, and explains that he cannot get sufficient money to make the necessary improvements. Several times he has made an effort to improve the farm and after the people had once turned down a proposition to raise money to erect better buildings a measure went through to spend the small sum of $8,000 for a new building. This money was used to the very best advantage. It is still necessary, however, to use the old building for a while, but as the old building is about thirty-five years old Mr. Olmsted says that it is not only very inconvenient, but decidedly unsanitary. At the last meeting of the county board, Mr. Olmsted advised selling the county hospital and using the money to make a better county work, but the proposition was turned down.

Soo Has Seventy Saloons.

Treasurer McDonald of Chippewa county has filed his annual liquor report. It contains much interesting data relative to the liquor traffic of the county and shows that there has been collected for licenses during the year the sum of $42,306.66. Ninety-one licenses were issued, seventy-five, including the warehouse agencies, five in number, being credited to the Soo, leaving seventy places in the city where liquor is sold at retail. The others are located as follows: One in Thrice, three in Brimley, three in DeTour, three in Trout Lake, one in Sugar Island, one in Dick and one in Raber. Under the new ordinance adopted by the city council last month the greatest number of saloons that the Soo can possibly have next year will be twenty-three, forty-seven less than are now allowed to do business. The district is also restricted, and there will not be the same opportunity for joints in the outlying district as is the case under the old law. This arrangement has met with the commendation of a large proportion of the temperance element, who see with the reduction an opportunity to exercise police supervision and a strict observance of the law under the Warner-Cramton act.

AGED MINISTER IN PULPIT.

Vermont Divine Preaches at Celebration of His 100th Birthday.

Middlebury, Vt., Dec. 11.—The Rev. Sedgewick W. Bidwell preached a sermon at the Methodist church in East Middlebury, his home today, in observance of his one-hundredth birthday. He is said to be the oldest living minister, and has a record of seventy-six years as a preacher.

While not in active service, he has appeared in the pulpit at various times during the last decade, and today he gave an address that would have done credit to a much younger man. The Rev. Mr. Bidwell is so well preserved that he still enjoys out of doors the greater part of the day, and he can read and write without glasses.

As evidence that he was destined for the ministry, he relates an incident that happened when he was five years old. At the close of school one day he mounted a stump and invited his schoolmates to listen to him while he gave a speech. At the age of seven he could declaim better than many older scholars, and he won a prize.

Mr. Bidwell is a native of Starksbury, where he was born, Dec. 6, 1809. His parents were English, and were among the first settlers of that town. He attended the schools in that section until the age of eighteen, and during the winter of 1830 and 1832 he taught the district school.

During this time there was a religious revival in the town, and he became converted at a meeting at his own schoolhouse. One year later he attended the Hinesburgh Academy, and the same year was admitted to the Methodist church on probation for six months, subsequently being admitted to full membership.

In 1834 he was given a license to preach by the presiding elders. He was then twenty-five years old, and for nearly three-quarters of a century he has been serving his church. During this time he has preached in twenty-two towns in Vermont and New York. Mr. Bidwell was twice married. He has officiated at more than 1,500 funerals and about 400 weddings. Several occasions he performed a marriage ceremony when he only received in return a bushel of potatoes or a bushel of corn.

Mr. Bidwell has a wonderful memory, extending over three generations. He recalls hearing the boom of cannon during the battle of Plattsburg.

Even the weather man should be by a few predictions for a rainy day.

It is also a long lane that has no turning.

City Brevities

Marquette news will be found on pages 4, 6, 7 and 12 this morning.

Today's weather: Snow; stationary temperature.

Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m., 18 degrees; noon, 20; 7 p. m., 25. Maximum, 25 degrees; minimum, 17.

General R. J. Bates of the Soo spent yesterday in the city.

Attorney J. C. Wood of Manistique was in the city on business yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cowden and daughter, Carrie, are visiting friends in Duluth.

C. E. Fenton and James L. Carr were Marquette visitors from Escanaba yesterday.

Miss Frances Graff has gone to Milwaukee to take a course in nursing at Trinity hospital.

E. F. Kennedy was taken to St. Mary's hospital last evening. He is suffering with peritonitis. His condition is not serious.

A meeting of the Commercial club is to be held in the city hall Monday evening. Several matters of importance are scheduled for consideration and a large attendance is hoped for.

Merchants report that Christmas customers are beginning to make their appearance in goodly numbers and that their trade has been brisk, considering that it is still early in the season.

Monday evening there will be a basketball game between the Guild Hall and Knights of Columbus teams at Legion Hall. Twenty-five cents per couple will be the price of admission.

The announcement that something was to be given away attracted the usual large crowd of youngsters to the Hub clothing store yesterday afternoon, and each of them was given a nice tablet.

Too much bad whiskey started a row on board the steamer Yuma yesterday, which might have resulted seriously, had it not been for the prompt arrival of several policemen, who took the troublemakers in tow.

Two Bankruptcy Cases—Two bankruptcy cases were filed in federal court yesterday. William Mueller, Jr., who is engaged in the lumber business at Blauvelt, is one of the applicants, and Herman C. Berthold of Menominee, a workman and dealer in sheet metal and furnace supplies, is the other. The cases will be adjudicated by the federal judge at a later date.

Marquette Mayor Praised—The December number of The Northwesterner, one of Roger M. Andrews' publications at Menominee, contains a highly commendatory article on Dan Vaughan, accompanied by a fine likeness of Marquette's mayor. The mayor is particularly complimented on his policy of strict enforcement of the liquor laws and the laws regulating vice and crime.

Elevator at Werner Bros.—Werner Bros. have installed an electric elevator in their grocery store for handling goods to and from the basement. The device will be a great convenience in moving articles from the storage rooms to the sales department on the ground floor. The elevator was put in by the Otis Elevator company of Milwaukee, their mechanic, Mr. Rosenberg, having been in the city the past two weeks engaged in the work.

Car Ferry from Munising—President Eugene Zimmerman, of the Ann Arbor railroad, has announced that his road will build a big car ferry, capable of carrying thirty-two cars, and that it will be operated between Munising, Mich., and Port Arthur, Ont. Last August, the Ann Arbor purchased the Manistique & Lake Superior, formerly the Manistique, Marquette & Northern, running northward from Manistique, on Lake Michigan, to Shingleton, on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic. It is announced now that the road will be extended to Lake Superior, making its terminals at Munising, and it will connect there with the proposed ferry across Lake Superior. The Ann Arbor now has four ferries operating on Lake Michigan, and one of these, Mr. Zimmerman says, may be used on Lake Superior.

Frank H. Leonard Tonight—At 8:30 tonight Frank H. Leonard will deliver his lecture on Christian Science at the opera house. The expenses of the lecture have all been met by the congregation of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city, and consequently nothing will be charged the public for admission. Advertising has been done both at Negaunee and Ishpeming, as well as in the city, and a fair sized party of people is expected from there. Mr. Leonard is a well-known and merited lecturer on this subject, and never fails to keep his listeners thinking. He has lectured on Christian Science in all parts of the United States to packed houses, and it is hopefully expected that he will be received here in the same way, when he makes his appearance at the opera house this evening.

A Good Game Expected—Tonight basketball teams representing the Ferguson Business college and the Northern State Normal will meet in a game at the Normal gymnasium. It would be difficult to predict the outcome of the game. The Normal undoubtedly has a strong team, and they have been doing some vigorous practicing. The Business college team has just started to practice, but it has some excellent players in what will be the regular Ferguson Business college team, have been filled by two young men from the high school. The line-up is a strong one, and if the team fails to give a good account of itself tonight it will be through lack of team work. What is to be the regular Business college team this season, will not be ready to enter the field of action for a few weeks, as some of the players are new at the game. It has the material for one of the strongest teams in the city, and since it has secured Armory Hall, it has an opportunity for practice. The game tonight will start at 8 o'clock. The admission will be twenty-five cents for gentlemen, and fifteen cents for ladies.

Northern Normal Notes.

Ostris and Ygdrasil each has its own basketball team, and they expect to play a series of good games this winter.

The various training school rooms are busy with Christmas work. Simple Christmas programs will be carried out in each room.

Mrs. Frances Martin Kelsey and Miss Flora Elsie Hill will both resume their duties at the Normal with the opening of the winter term.

The Johnson heat regulating system is being installed in the buildings so that the temperature throughout all the rooms may be kept uniform.

School closes for the Christmas holidays, Friday, Dec. 17. Tuesday, Jan. 4, is registration day for the winter quarter. The training school opens Wednesday morning, Jan. 5.

Tuesday morning the entire school took part in chorus work under the direction of Miss Linton. Our own school songs and the well-known songs of other colleges were sung and enjoyed by all.

This evening at 8 o'clock the Ferguson Business college basketball team will play the Normal team in the new gymnasium. A good game is promised. A nominal admission fee will be charged, twenty-five cents for men and fifteen cents for ladies.

Thursday morning Mr. Parker took charge of chapel exercises and gave an excellent talk. His subject was differences in points of view, and he developed the idea that right and wrong are relative terms. This was shown by the comparison of the views of life as held at different periods in the history of civilization.

Ostris Literary society and the faculty were guests at the last regular meeting of Ygdrasil, held last Tuesday evening, in the new gymnasium. As it was in the nature of a children's party most of the members of the two societies appeared in children's costumes. The gymnasium was prettily decorated with greens and festoons of colored paper suspended from the ceiling. A short program preceded the social part of the meeting. After roll call, to which the Ygdrasil members responded with Mother Goose rhymes, Miss Adell Hessel gave a reading; Love's Old Sweet Song was sung by a mixed quartet consisting of the Misses Schumacher and Hansen, Messrs. Pendill and McKereghan; Miss O'Keefe sang Kate Vernal's lullaby; the wooden doll trio, ushered in by a very ceremonious little French leader, added a great deal of amusement. The closing number was "The Appearance of Santa Claus," a scene in which two little girls supposedly asleep caught sight of Santa Claus as he was filling the stockings. They immediately jumped up, examined their stockings and sang the song "The Wonderful Tree," just as the lighted tree was brought into the room. On it were appropriate gifts for all present. After the exercises games and dancing were enjoyed.

MANY GOOD SHOWS ARE COMING SOON

"GRAUSTARK," TO BE PRESENTED TUESDAY NIGHT, WILL BE FOLLOWED BY SEVERAL OTHER STRONG PRODUCTIONS.

After a lull of two weeks, Marquette theatergoers are to be regaled with an unusually large number of good shows within the next four weeks. The first of these will be "Graustark," a dramatization of Geo. Barr McCutcheon's novel of the same name, which has been attended with most flattering success in both eastern and western dramatic centers. Those who have read "Graustark" will realize the wonderful dramatic possibilities of the story, and Mr. Baker, who made the dramatic version, is said to have made the most of the many thrilling situations and at the same time kept the theme and plot of the book admirably intact.

"Graustark" will be seen at the opera house next Tuesday evening, with Miss Gertrude Perry in the role of the regal yet womanly Princess Yelvo, while Bradford Lory, the American hero, will be played by William Wagner, formerly with Julia Marlowe. Both the leading roles are said to be in abundantly capable hands, and the supporting company is understood to be of a high standard of merit.

Following "Graustark," on Thursday evening, "St. Elmo," a dramatization of a book of the same name, will be the offering. This will be a moderately priced play, which is recommended as well worth the money.

The next evening, Dec. 17, "A Stabbed Ciderella," one of the great spectacular presentations of the year, will hold the boards. This company is said to contain sixty or more people and an immense scenic equipment, and lovers of elaborate stage settings and mystifying electrical effects will doubtless be able to satisfy their desire for that sort of thing. The cast is headed by Honor B. Mason, with the original Princess Theater (Chicago) in an abundantly strong company.

The next attraction booked is "The California Girls," for Dec. 23. This is a Chicago show that is being put out at popular prices and will probably draw its full share of patronage.

On Christmas eve the Oberlin (O.) College Glee club will make its first appearance in this city. This club is made up of twenty first class musicians who are making an extended tour of the northwest during the holiday vacation.

Oberlin won the football championship of Ohio this fall and is one of the strongest colleges in that state. The concerts given by her musical clubs in the past guarantees that the program that will be given here will be of a high order of excellence.

On the night of Dec. 27, Hortense Nielsen will make her second appearance this season in Marquette, her vehicle being "Malaga," another of Ibsen's plays. Miss Nielsen, in her presentation of an Ibsen play early in the fall, showed herself an actress of ability, but it is hoped that her support will be stronger than it was on that occasion.

Among the many good things booked for the early months of 1910 may be mentioned "The Climax," Jan. 4; "Miss Petticoats," Jan. 6, to be followed in due time by "A Knight for a Day," "Paid in Full," "The Time, the Place and the Girl," "The Great Divide," "The Man of the Hour" and it is hoped that Grace von Stoddard may be seen and heard here some time in April.

$500 REWARD

will be paid for finding of Robert Bielby or his body if within five (5) months from December first, 1909. Lost in the woods near Sidnaw, Mich., Nov. 16, 1909. Left Camp Tunis at seven a. m. going in a southwesterly direction, his tracks were last seen about 11 o'clock on west side of Perch creek. His age was 60 years, height 5 feet 10 1/2 inches, grey hair and beard, bald on top of head. Dressed in corduroy coat, grey trousers, grey striped woolen shirt, new salmon colored woolen underclothes, on his feet mackinaws and rubbers and blue woolen socks with white top and toe, wore a fur cap and carried a Winchester 38-50 rifle with Lyman sights, with center sights missing, carried an 18 size Elgin movement gold watch with his initials, R. B. engraved on outside, gold chain and charm with image of a dog engraved on it, also in pockets carried a brown leather pocket-book with ten or twelve dollars, return ticket to Benton Harbor and a hunter's license, No. 2949 in it, also wore a grey striped vest. DISMISSED TILL WEDNESDAY.

But One More Jury Trial for this Term of Circuit Court.

The case of Samuel Hosking against the Cleveland Iron Mining company, which was on trial in circuit court yesterday, was taken from the jury by Judge Cooper, on the ground that there was no cause for action against the defendant company. Hosking was employed as a miner and in timbering up a shaft was injured by a fall of ore, as the result of which his leg had to be amputated. He sued for $25,000 damages but the court held that his employers were in no way liable for the injury. P. H. O'Brien, the attorney for Mr. Hosking, announces that the case will be appealed to the supreme court, as well as that of Solomon Risku against the Iron Cliffs company, which was thrown out of court in the same way the day before.

The personal injury suit brought by John Mack against the Jones & Laughlin Ore company, having been amicably settled out of court, there is left but one more jury trial on the calendar for this term. This is the case of John L. Van Horn vs. The Eastern Fire Insurance company, which is set for next Wednesday. All of the juries were dismissed yesterday until that date, and those not living in Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Chocoma, Marquette and Ishpeming townships, were excused from further service.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Cooper granted a divorce to Linus Anderson of Michigan. Anderson set forth that his wife, Christina Anderson, had been guilty of habitual drunkenness and cruelty, and the court found his assertions to be in substantial accordance with the facts. Mr. Anderson was given the custody of their thirteen-year old son.

A TIMELY CAUTION.

How to Prevent Disastrous Fires During Holiday Season.

Timely warnings are being sent out by fire wardens in many cities regarding the extraordinary danger from fires during the holiday season. Because of the inflammable nature of holiday decorations and their often careless handling and the special electric wiring that is often done, there is unusual danger of a disastrous fire breaking out. The fire warden of a nearby city has issued the following circular:

"Gentlemen: I take this opportunity to call your attention to the fact that Christmas decorations in stores and other places installed for the purpose of making the premises more attractive, and to show off goods to better advantage, add greatly to the danger from fire. A fire in a store, church, theater, schoolhouse or any place where a number of people assemble may cut off the avenue of escape and create panic with loss of life.

"It is important to be careful in the use of decorations.

"Do not put in any additional electric lights or wiring system in any manner, except under the supervision of a competent electrician.

"Do not use cotton batting or other highly inflammable materials for decorating purposes.

"Do not trim electric wires or fixtures.

"Keep your premises clean; basements in particular.

"Keep some means for extinguishing fire in convenient places.

"Instruct your associates and employees to be careful of fire. Tell them what to do in case of fire and how to send in an alarm."

BITTER ROOT VALLEY.

The following letter written by George W. Hibbard from Seattle, Wash., will no doubt interest the many friends of the writer, most of whom are readers of The Mining Journal, and some of whom have bought lands of the Bitter Root Valley Irrigation company, in Bitter Root valley, which company is represented in Marquette as sales agents by A. Mathews & Sons.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 19th, 1909.

My Dear Eddy: I was very glad indeed to receive your letter, and to learn of your connection with the Bitter Root Valley Irrigation company, as I believe you are identified with a company for which there is a great future.

On my way West I stopped off at Missoula, and made a side trip up the Bitter Root valley, to Hamilton, (Mont.) and there met the representatives of your company. With Mr. Geo. B. Haynes, our immigration agent, whose headquarters are in the Marquette building, Chicago, I had an opportunity of learning a great deal about the work that your company has in hand in the Bitter Root valley, and I can't help but repeat what I said before regarding the future outlook of the company and its development work.

As the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound railway passes through Missoula on the south bank of the river and as Missoula is the gateway to the valley, we are naturally interested in the growth of that most favored fruit district, and money invested there at the present time should bring good results.

When you come to Missoula you must extend your trip West to include Seattle, for we certainly will be glad to see you, and do everything in our power to add to the pleasure of your visit to the Puget Sound country.

I met with a rather severe accident on Sept. 15th, but am making rapid progress toward what I hope will be a complete recovery, and I thank you for your kind words of sympathy.

Sincerely yours, GEORGE W. HIBBARD.

R. Eddy Mathews, Chicago.

It will be remembered that Mr. Hibbard is now general passenger agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railway company, with headquarters at Seattle.

COLLECTORSHIP FIGHT TAKES ON NEW ANGLE

ARTICLE OPPOSED TO BYRNS WOULD MAKE CAPITAL OUT OF HIS CONNECTION WITH THE IRONWOOD BANK SMASH.

A new chapter has been written in the collectorship contest. It introduces the recent Ironwood First National bank failure. C. J. Byrns of Ishpeming was a stockholder in that concern, and is now, along with other stockholders, standing suit for his liability. Those opposed to his candidacy have used this fact as an argument against his recognition. Mr. Byrns left for Washington Thursday night, to confer with the senators about the appointment. The Washington correspondent of the Grand Rapids Press has the following interesting article on the contest:

A complete break is threatened between Senator Burrows and Smith over the Marquette collectorship. Evidence is increasing that each senator is greatly dissatisfied with the course of the other, and that this may be made the occasion for that final political fight which has long been impending. Both senators recognize the disadvantages which would come from such a split, not to mention the uncomfortable situation they would face in their daily work, which of necessity throws them into contact. Both camps realize that the split must come sooner or later, but both have thus far shown a desire to postpone it. Now the question is whether this desire will outweigh the growing friction over Senator Smith's determination to land Charles Byrns in the Marquette job.

Burrows Slips Over to White House. Since Senator Smith reached Washington it has been impressed upon him that Senator Burrows has been listening to the enemies of Byrns in the upper peninsula. The chief evidence of this is that Senator Burrows is said to have entered grounds of objection to Byrns with President Taft.

Senator Smith knows of the fight which Byrns' enemies have been making on the grounds of the Ironwood bank failure. A disposition has been shown in the opposition camp to make a great deal of the situation in which Byrns has been placed. Through action of the bank's receiver, he has been made defendant in a suit in which the United States appears as the complainant. The action is to compel him, as a stockholder, to produce cash with which to help meet the bank's obligations. Inasmuch as the Ironwood failure was a bad one, involving loss of savings on the part of many in modest circumstances, this has made a great political card for his opponents. They ask why Mr. Byrns, with his fine salary, did not step up and pay his entire obligations to the bank, relieving to that extent the losses of depositors.

The Federal Suit Against Byrns. Now the answer to this question is deemed by Senator Smith to be quite sufficient, and in his camp it is claimed that he knew all about the Ironwood bank situation before he announced himself for Byrns. The story as the senator has it is that Byrns has been advised by his lawyer not to settle the court action on the grounds of false pretenses. Byrns has told the senator, it is understood, that he would be very willing to pay up, but that his lawyer has told him that he was under neither moral nor legal obligations to do so.

His defense rests upon the inducements offered him by a bank official. It is claimed that he was besought by the president of the bank to take stock and that the president represented to him that the stock would be worth 200, but offered it to Byrns for 150. His offer was accompanied with every assurance of the bank's excellent condition. Byrns, according to this version, told the banker that he had no money for such an investment. Thereupon the banker offered to take his note for the entire amount. That looked good to Byrns and he went in on that basis.

Was Byrns Buncoed? But at that very time the bank was tottering to its final fall, as Senator Smith has the story, and the stock instead of being worth 200 was not to be accepted with the obligations attaching to a stockholder as a gift. Byrns' friends say, therefore, that it was a plain case of false pretenses, and Senator Smith has proceeded upon the belief that a candidate for public honors is in a sorry state if he cannot defend himself from false pretenses. Thus Senator Smith endorses his determination to stick to his man to the limit, while it is beginning to be evident to him that Burrows is giving willing ear to the tales of Byrns' enemies.

It has come to the attention of the Smith camp that Senator Burrows feels aggrieved over Senator Smith's public announcement in favor of Byrns, made before Burrows joined in the recommendation. And it has even been represented that Smith made the announcement without conferring with his colleague.

The other side of the story is a little different. In the Smith camp it is claimed that Senator Smith accepted an invitation to call upon Senator Burrows at his customary headquarters in Grand Rapids—the office of Samuel M. Lenson. There he found John W. Blodgett, Samuel M. Lenson and the rest of the senator—although that isn't just the way the polite William Allen would put it. The composite senator wanted to know about the Marquette appointment, according to this story. Senator Smith set them down. He told them right out from the shoulder that he was for Byrns first, last and all the time. Then Mr. Burrows wanted a chance to write letters and find out about Byrns. But Senator Smith said that delay would be embarrassing to him and that the only fair thing he could do was to come out flatly and publicly for his friend. And that's just what he did.

For Burrows it was a sort of beggar's choice, even according to this vision. He could take Byrns or leave him alone, but William Allen's mind was made up. But it was Senator Smith's view that if Senator Burrows really wanted to be friendly with him, that was a most excellent opportunity for him to demonstrate it. He (Smith) had long been under obligation to Byrns, and he declared he could do nothing else than stick for him.

Are There Other Byrns? It is alleged on the other side that the Burrows people are given concern lest it should develop that Senator Smith has not a few such obligations. Thus far he has shown his ability to put his friends where he wants them, and they wonder just how extensive his program is. There are nine pleasant federal jobs to be filled between now and the senatorial primaries, and Senator Burrows would like to have a hand in filling them.

That is one reason he would prefer remaining on friendly terms with his determined colleague. A falling out now might mean a complete deadlock on federal patronage in Michigan, with the consequent inability of the senior senator to reward his workers.

But what if William Allen has a dear friend like Byrns for every one of those jobs? It is alleged for instance that Nick Whalen of Holland is slated by William Allen for Walter L. Lillie's place as collector at Grand Haven. Is it so with the other eight? If so the Burrows forces figure that, so far as patronage is concerned, they might just as well be frank with it with Senator Smith and be done with it.

Senators Burrows and Smith will hold a conference this afternoon to determine whether there is any possibility of getting together on the Marquette collectorship and on patronage generally. It is understood that Chas. J. Byrns is expected here to present his own case.

WEEKLY COPPER REVIEW

Gospel of Interest Concerning the Market Situation and Various Mining Properties.

The market has gained materially during the week, not so much in an uplift in price values, but in a firmer foundation for prices. There is a strong possibility of a general market condition and perhaps some fireworks, all of which will be acted upon based on the most substantial foundation we have ever seen in a prolonged campaign of real appreciation of value in the minds of the public and in the markings of the exchange boards. In this respect the copper share market is in a particularly favorable position. It was announced early in the week that further details of the proposed merger of the copper trusts which must necessarily be forthcoming for several weeks, that the interests back of this proposition will await the decision of the courts in other combinations of capital actions which have been attacked legally, so as to be in position to guard against any possible errors of a legal nature. The formation of the new corporation of copper mining interests. This is wise in more ways than one. It does not mean, however, that the plans for a copper merger have been suspended or even held in abeyance. In the meantime the large amount of detail work which must necessarily be arranged satisfactorily before anything important can be carried forward in this big proposition will be tentatively agreed to and the way paved for the easy consummation of the plans when the time is ripe and the occasion propitious. In the meantime the copper shares are benefiting to a more appreciable extent than we have observed in three years past in the general improvement in business conditions. The metal is in a stronger position, based on actual business demand for copper, that it has been in three years. The demand is steady and urgent and prices are fairly good. The tendency of the metal market is upward, gradually. The mines are shipping largely to domestic consumers at the present time and shipments are not delayed in transit. The foreign demand is likely to make itself felt with increasing force. The domestic demand is continuing stronger than it has been at any time since the break in the market in 1907. Most of the big producers are well sold ahead, some as far ahead as February and one big producing interest will make no more contracts for March delivery. Good prosperity has finally reached a point where it is having an influence on copper metal prices.

When the copper share list for the past year is taken into consideration, the advance during 1909 has been very limited, excepting in the cases of a few specialties. At the beginning of the year we pointed out that the greatest opportunities for speculative profits during 1909 would be shown in those newer copper properties which were getting affairs in such condition that they could enter the ranks of the producers and whose exploratory work might show sensational exposures of values, rather than in the dividend paying copper shares which were then selling at prices which discounted a fourteen or fifteen cent market. The metal market has not as yet reached the fifteen cent point, and the dividend paying copper shares are, for the most part, selling at figures which show little betterment in price. We now look for better prices for those properties which will profit most by a rapid rise in the metal prices, for this is coming early in the year and when it does come it will not see any immediate decline. We look forward with a great deal of confidence to higher prices for all copper shares and a bull market of exceptional interest would not cause us any surprise.

Superior & Boston. The annual report of the Superior & Boston company is in the hands of the shareholders. Like previous reports of this company, the shareholders are given every detail of information. The report is complete and comprehensive. The treasury is in a particularly good condition, with practically $300,000 in cash on hand. During the year a like sum has been paid for property, enormous sums paid for permanent hoisting and other equipment at the Green Easton mine and a substantial outlay made for exploratory work. In three years this company has reached a point where it can now commence active earnings on a substantial or reserve which is ready for immediate tapping. It will enter the ranks as a permanent dividend payer at the first of the year, according to the latest

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Office of the Park, Cemetery and Street Commission. Marquette, Mich., Dec. 8th, 1909. Pursuant to resolutions of the common council of the city of Marquette, notice is hereby given that separate sealed proposals will be received at the office of this commission until 5 o'clock p. m., Dec. 15th, 1909, for furnishing all the following improvements, viz: (1) The construction of an eight-inch lead sewer, with four-inch "Y's" in front street, from mainline in Michigan street to a point 125 feet south of the south line of Ohio street, in accordance with plans and specifications therefore, on file in this office. (2) The construction of a wooden bridge across Dead river at the electric light plant, cost of said bridge, not to exceed the sum of $700. Bidder will be required to furnish plans and specifications of such bridge, and to file such plans and specifications together with the proposals for construction of said bridge. Proposals for each of said improvements must be in separate sealed envelopes, marked so as to designate the improvement to which they refer, and must be accompanied by a contractor's bond with two good sureties in a sum at least twice the amount of the bid; conditioned for performance of contract, payment for labor and materials, etc., in accordance with form on file in this office. The commission reserves the right to reject any or all bids. JOSEPH F. ANDERSON, (12-9-3d) Secretary.

Sluggish Blood

causes nine-tenths of all sickness. Indigestion followed by headache, general listlessness, despondency, enfeebled action of the mind and body, cold, clammy feet and hands and paleness are sure signs of poor circulation. If not taken in time, serious trouble will follow. That tired feeling comes from sluggish blood.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

The World's Greatest Medicine will brighten you. A teaspoonful 3 or 4 times a day in half a glass of milk or water will make you strong and healthy. It enriches the blood, strengthens the circulation and tones up the whole system. It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, producing a light food, requiring no digestion, which is one of the most effective tonic stimulants and invigorators known to science; its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold in sealed bottles only. All druggists and grocers, and a bottle. Malt Whiskey sold free to anyone who writes Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N.Y.

information from the property. The company has no further outlays to make requiring cash and the receipts from ore gradities add to the treasury in a surprisingly strong way, because the cost of mining at the new McGaw shaft will be very small. The Great Eastern ore body has already been exposed, so that a known tonnage of exceptionally high grade ore can be mined through the McGaw shaft for 15 years at the rate of approximately 250 tons a day, conservatively estimated. The ore reserves will be increased by a most substantial amount when the sixth level is cut by the crosscut from the McGaw. This important piece of work is being pushed with all possible speed. Superior & Boston has not been active in the market, to any great extent for the past year. It is today selling at a price which does not represent the actual value in ore blocked out in the Great Eastern mine, without considering development possibilities at the sixth level or without consideration of the probabilities of the Gardner work or the Old Dominion vein. East Butte.

While the labor difficulties on the railroads have interfered materially with the work at the East Butte during the week, the shutdown is only temporary and will have no permanent ill effects. A majority of the mining force is kept at work underground, operating on ground in advance of the East Butte shaft now earning substantially for the shareholders and the underground developments of recent date have been most satisfactory since the work was first undertaken by the present management. We are confident that the East Butte, at present, offers excellent speculative and investment value and merit.

New Baltic. Plans for the organization of a mining company out of the exploratory association which furnished the funds to pay for the conduct of the work which resulted in the discovery of the New Baltic lode at the East Butte shaft, state. Formal announcement will probably be made within a few days. It is known that the stock of the New Baltic company will enter the mining company at a value of 88 per share and that the stock of the East Butte, at present, will assume a proportion of the new stock at its equity in the new company by reason of joint ownership in the property.

Oneco. No. 2 drill or No. 4 hole is expected to cut the Oneco lode at a depth of about 350 feet in a few days. About two weeks ago No. 1 drill cut the same lode close to surface and it was well mined. The discovery at this depth is watched with great interest by the Oneco stockholders.

CITY RECORDER'S OFFICE.

Marquette, Mich., Dec. 8th, 1909. The following are forms of proposed ordinances ordered by the common council of the city of Marquette to be published.

DANIEL S. DONOVAN, Recorder. AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE SALE OF MILK AND CREAM.

The City of Marquette Ordains: Section 1. No person shall sell or deliver in this city any milk or cream from any animal which he knows or has reason to believe is affected with tuberculosis, or any disease whatever; nor shall any person sell or deliver in this city any milk or cream from any animal suffering from any injury causing fever or rise of temperature above normal, or any cow within fifteen days before or seven days after parturition, or any animal fed upon any substance in a state of fermentation or decomposition, or supplied with impure or unwholesome water; or any animal kept in any stable which is crowded, filthy or unclean, or in an unsanitary condition or not well lighted and well ventilated; or milk or cream which has been drawn or handled by any person affected with any communicable disease, or drawn or placed in any vessel or receptacle in any room in which any such person may be.

Section 2. No person shall sell or deliver in this city any milk or cream that has been diluted with water or any fluid, or to which has been added or to which has been introduced any ice or other foreign substance, or any cream which any cream has been abstracted, unless sold or delivered and represented to be skimmed milk, or buttermilk.

Section 3. No person shall sell or deliver in this city any milk or cream which at any time, thirty minutes or more after being drawn from the dairy, shall be at a temperature above fifty-five degrees Fahrenheit; or any milk of specific gravity of less than 1.029, or more than 1.033 at a temperature of sixty degrees Fahrenheit; or any milk containing less than three one-hundredth per cent of milk fat, or less than eight one-hundredth per cent of solids, not milk fat, or containing more than 500,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter, or any cream which contains less than eighteen per cent milk fat, or more than 300,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter; or any milk or cream containing to exceed one one-hundredth of one per centum residuum of foreign substance, when dried.

Section 4. No person shall sell or deliver in this city any milk in quantities of less than one gallon, unless in sterilized glass or paper bottles, filled and sealed at the dairy where the milk was drawn from the animal.

Section 5. The health officer, and all inspectors authorized by him or by the board of health, are hereby authorized to enter all dairies, and all buildings and parts thereof, and all buildings and premises where cows are kept from which milk or cream is sold or delivered; and also the milk depots and places where milk or cream is kept for sale; and also all vehicles used for the delivery of milk or cream; for the purpose of inspecting such dairies, buildings, premises, cows, milk depots and vehicles; and such officers and inspectors are hereby authorized to take for testing and analysis, samples of milk and cream, not exceeding one pint of milk and one-half pint of cream for each sample, from any and all milk depots, dairies and places where milk or cream is kept for sale, and from all vehicles used for the delivery of cream or milk. No person shall hinder or prevent any such entry or inspection or the taking of such samples; provided there shall be paid by such officer or inspector, taking such sample, five cents for each such sample of milk and ten cents for each such sample of cream; for which payments any such officer and inspectors shall be reimbursed by the city.

Section 6. Any violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars or more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the city lockup or jail of the county of Marquette, for a period not exceeding ninety days; or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court before whom any conviction under this ordinance may be had.

AN ORDINANCE LICENSING AND REGULATING THE SALE OF MILK AND CREAM.

The City of Marquette Ordains: Section 1. After the first Monday in June, 1910, it shall be unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale in the city of Marquette, any milk or cream, other than condensed or evaporated milk or cream, in sealed packages, without first having obtained a license as a milk dealer.

Section 2. Any person desiring to be licensed as a milk dealer shall file with the recorder his application therefore in writing, under oath, setting forth: 1. The name, residence and postoffice address of the applicant, and the location of his milk depot, dairy and place where his cows are kept, in case he is to keep cows.

2. The number of cows and the particular description of each, owned or controlled by the applicant, from which milk or cream is to be obtained for sale or delivery; and if such cows have been tested for tuberculosis by the tuberculin test, the date last so tested and by whom and the result thereof.

3. The source or sources from which the applicant obtains and is to obtain milk or cream for sale or delivery, in case the applicant does not himself keep the cows from which such milk and cream are to be obtained.

Section 3. Upon the filing of such application and payment to the city treasurer of the fees hereinafter provided for, the recorder shall issue to such applicant a license as a milk dealer; and all such licenses shall specify the location of the milk depot or dairy or place where cows are authorized by such license to be kept and the number of cows permitted to be kept; and all such licenses shall expire on the first Monday of June, following the date thereof.

Section 4. The license fees to be paid by each such applicant for each year, or fraction thereof, shall be as follows: For each milk depot other than a regular dairy, one dollar; for each dairy and place where cows are kept, one dollar.

Section 6. Each licensed milk dealer having a milk depot, shall at all times have his license conspicuously posted on the wall of the room of his milk depot where the sale of milk is carried on; and each other licensed milk dealer shall at all times have his license conspicuously posted in the office of his dairy, or in the room or place of his dairy from which milk or cream is usually loaded into vehicles for delivery.

Section 7. After the first Monday of June, 1910, no person shall use any vehicle for the sale or delivery of milk or cream in this city, unless there shall be conspicuously painted or kept on both sides thereof a sign on which shall plainly appear in letters at least two inches in height the words: "Licensed Milk Dealer No. ..." with the number of a milk dealer's license then in force; and like signs shall be conspicuously painted or kept upon the outside of the milk depot, and the principal building of the dairy of each milk dealer licensed under this ordinance. It shall be unlawful for any person to use in this city for the sale or delivery of milk or cream any vehicle with any such sign thereon, unless such vehicle is used in the business of a licensed milk dealer, whose license number appears thereon.

Section 8. No person shall sell or deliver in this city any milk or cream from any animal which he knows or has reason to believe is affected with tuberculosis, or any disease whatever; nor shall any person sell or deliver in this city any milk or cream from any animal suffering from any injury causing fever or rise of temperature above normal, or any cow within fifteen days before or seven days after parturition, or any animal fed upon any substance in a state of fermentation or decomposition, or supplied with impure or unwholesome water, or any animal kept in any stable which is crowded, filthy or unclean or in an unsanitary condition, or not well lighted and well ventilated; or milk or cream which has been drawn or handled by any person affected with any communicable disease, or drawn or placed in any vessel or receptacle in any room in which any such person may be.

Section 9. No person shall sell or deliver in this city any milk or cream that has been diluted with water or any other fluid, or to which has been added or to which has been introduced any ice or other foreign substance, or any cream which any cream has been abstracted, unless sold or delivered and represented to be skimmed milk, or buttermilk.

Section 10. No person shall sell or deliver in this city any milk or cream which at any time, thirty minutes or more after being drawn from the animal, shall be at a temperature above fifty-five degrees Fahrenheit; or any milk of specific gravity of less than 1.029, or more than 1.033, at a temperature of sixty degrees Fahrenheit; or any milk containing less than three one-hundredth per cent of milk fat, or less than eight one-hundredth per cent of solids, not milk fat, or containing more than 500,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter, or any cream which contains less than eighteen per cent milk fat, or more than 300,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter; or any milk or cream containing to exceed one one-hundredth of one per centum residuum of foreign substance, when dried.

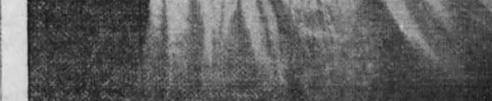

Section 11. No person shall sell or deliver in this city any milk in quantities of less than one gallon, unless in sterilized glass or paper bottles, filled and sealed at the dairy where the milk was drawn from the animal.

Section 12. The health officer, and all inspectors authorized by him or by the board of health, are hereby authorized to enter all dairies, and all buildings and parts thereof, and all buildings and premises where cows are kept from which milk or cream is sold or delivered; and also the milk depots and places where milk or cream is kept for sale; and also all vehicles used for the delivery of milk or cream; for the purpose of inspecting such dairies, buildings, premises, cows, milk depots and vehicles; and such officers and inspectors are hereby authorized to take for testing and analysis, samples of milk and cream, not exceeding one pint of milk and one-half pint of cream for each sample, from any and all milk depots, dairies and places where milk or cream is kept for sale, and from all vehicles used for the delivery of cream or milk. No person shall hinder or prevent any such entry or inspection or the taking of such samples; provided there shall be paid by such officer or inspector, taking such sample, five cents for each such sample of milk and ten cents for each such sample of cream; for which payments any such officer and inspectors shall be reimbursed by the city.

Section 13. Any violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars or more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the city lockup or jail of the county of Marquette, for a period not exceeding ninety days; or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court before whom any conviction under this ordinance may be had.

Section 14. No person shall sell or deliver in this city any milk or cream from any animal which he knows or has reason to believe is affected with tuberculosis, or any disease whatever; nor shall any person sell or deliver in this city any milk or cream from any animal suffering from any injury causing fever or rise of temperature above normal, or any cow within fifteen days before or seven days after parturition, or any animal fed upon any substance in a state of fermentation or decomposition, or supplied with impure or unwholesome water, or any animal kept in any stable which is crowded, filthy or unclean or in an unsanitary condition, or not well lighted and well ventilated; or milk or cream which has been drawn or handled by any person affected with any communicable disease, or drawn or placed in any vessel or receptacle in any room in which any such person may be.

Section 15. Any violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars or more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the city lockup or jail of the county of Marquette, for a period not exceeding ninety days; or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court before whom any conviction under this ordinance may be had.

DEATH CAME IN UMBRELLA.
Bristol (R. L.) Man Snatched It from Daughter; Stabbed in Eye.
Providence, Dec. 10.—James McKeveit, seventy-eight years old, of Bristol, died at the Rhode Island hospital today from blood poisoning in his eye, which was stabbed by the point of an umbrella he had snatched from the hands of his daughter Minnie. In a friendly tussle he tried to take it from her, and as the umbrella slipped from her grasp the sharp point was snapped into Mr. McKeveit's right eye.

Harvey Wanted by Pennsylvania Railroad, but Not After He is 45.
Washington, Dec. 10.—If J. M. Harvey of Pittsburgh can secure a pardon from the penitentiary by Feb. 1, 1910, the Pennsylvania railroad will give him a responsible position. Harvey is serving a sentence for complicity in the wrecking of the Enterprise National bank of Pittsburgh. The original term of seven years was reduced to three, and the term will expire in September, 1910.

BASEBALL TONIGHT.
The Young Men's Christian association's indoor baseball team and a game representing the Ishpeming fire department will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Wall and Nicholls will be the firemen's battery and John Erickson and Joe Martin will fill the points for the Y. M. C. A. team. Both pitchers are members of the Ishpeming City team, and Nicholls is the City nine's regular catcher. The Y. M. C. A. has developed a number of good players and a close contest is expected. The admission will be ten cents.

CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. WALTER VICARY, RESIDENTS OF ISHPEMING SINCE 1878, WERE FIFTY YEARS MARRIED YESTERDAY.

Walter Vicary and wife, pioneer residents of Ishpeming, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage last evening at their home at the Salisbury location. The lives of this worthy couple have been interesting, and were fully reviewed by Samuel Davis, one of their sons-in-law, who addressed them in behalf of their children and grand children present.

Mr. and Mrs. Vicary are the parents of fourteen sons and daughters, eleven of whom are living. They have forty-five grandchildren and one great grandchild, the latter being the daughter of Mrs. Alberta Crisp Grege. The sons and daughters are Mrs. Celia Grege, Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Davis, George Vicary, Mrs. Susan Rowe, Mrs. Sarah Cor-kill, Mrs. Martha Christian, Walter Vicary, Mrs. Emily Leese, Gilbert Vicary, Chester Vicary and Mrs. Miriam Lavry. Mrs. Crisp is the mother of ten children; Mrs. Davis, four; Mrs. Rowe, eight; Mrs. Corkill, three; Mrs. Christian, two; George Vicary is the father of eight children; Walter, one. Gilbert is the only one not married.

The number in the several families, including sons, daughters, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law and grandchildren, is sixty-six.

Mr. and Mrs. Vicary were married in Canada, where they lived about fourteen years. In 1873 they moved to the Iron Cliffs location in this county, living there about one year, when they moved to Negaunee. For a time Mr. Vicary worked at the Pioneer furnace, also at the Iron Cliffs furnace, and in 1878 the family moved to the Salisbury, where he was given charge of the mine machinery, a position he still holds with the Cleveland Cliffs iron company.

Mr. Vicary was a member of the state legislature for a time, and he has also served as a member of the board of supervisors.

Mr. Davis' Address.

In reviewing Mr. and Mrs. Vicary's lives and presenting them with a purse of gold, Mr. Davis spoke as follows: "Just about a year before the corona-

TELLS INTERESTING STORY.
"A Stubborn Cinderella" Is Said to Have a Consistent Plot.

The first act of "A Stubborn Cinderella," the latest musical comedy success of Messrs. Hough, Adams and Howard, authors of "The Time, the Place and the Girl," and other successes, which comes to the Ishpeming theatre next Tuesday evening is laid on the campus of the University of Columbus, at the unveiling of a statue. The second act depicts a realistic railway wreck and the third an orange fête at Del Coronado Beach, California. The plot of the piece is unusual and concerns the daughter of a Scottish earl who has never spoken to a stranger. She is among the guests at the unveiling of the statue of Columbus and meets Mac, the leader of the college, with whom she falls in love at first sight. She, however, is engaged to Grand Duke Boris, so Colonel Hunt, her body guard, interrupts the affair with Mac. The young couple next meet at an orange fête in Del Coronado Beach, California, where Lady Leslie is to see for the first time her affianced husband, Grand Duke Boris. It is here that she becomes obstinate and chooses Mac. Homer B. Mason will be seen as Mac, and Constance Farmer is the prima donna. Others prominent in the cast are Grace Kenney, Lillian Reeves, Marguerite Keeler, Frank Carter, Ezra C. Walk, Geo. Romaine, Chas. Duncanson, Mable Devois, Bessie Graham, Clyde Humewell, Walter Shove, and many others, including a large chorus of girls who can sing, dance and act.

"GRAUSTARK" PLEASURES.

One of the most enjoyable attractions offered the Ishpeming theatre goes this season was the production of "Graustark," a dramatization of the successful and widely read novel of the same name by George Barr McCutcheon, which was witnessed by a good-sized house last night. The pretty love story unfolded by the action of the play is dainty and charming, and there is plenty of action also. Grenfall Lory and his happy-go-lucky friend, Harry Anguish, become embroiled in all manner of escapades, and have a real Dickens of a time getting out of their troubles. Miss Gertrude Perry, as the Princess Yette, is one of the most finished actresses ever seen here. She portrays the capricious, petite princess, with her ever changing moods, in excellent style, and her audacious flights from grave to gay are a constant delight and wonder to her audience, as well as to Lory, her American lover, well taken by William Wagner. The remainder of the cast was in capable hands. The scenic effects were elaborate and added much to the production.

OLIVER COMPANY TO MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

NEW STEEL SHAFT HOUSES TO BE ERECTED AT SECTIONS 16 AND NO. 7 MINES—OTHER NEW WORK ALSO TO BE DONE.

The Marquette range officials of the Oliver Iron Mining company have planned a number of important improvements at the mines for the coming year. It is estimated that it will require about $80,000 for the work planned for this range. Among the more important improvements will be steel shaft houses at the Section 16 and No. 7 Hard Ore mines in this city; docks at No. 1 engine house here and at the Prince of Wales mine, Negaunee; a captain's dwelling at the Stegmiller mine, on the Swanzy range, and the overhauling of the ore trestle at the Champion mine. The latter work has already been started.

The shaft house to be erected at the Section 16 mine will be similar in design to the one put up at the Prince of Wales property in 1907. The new shaft house at No. 7 mine will replace the oldest frame structure now in use on the range. The shaft house is still in fairly good condition, but it is the company's intention to replace all timber shaft houses at the permanent properties with steel, whenever the former become inadequate.

It will be impossible to extend the No. 1 coal dock direct to the boiler plant, because of the location of the building and the No. 1 shaft. The trestle will be started at a point near Captain John McEnroe's office and will extend to within 100 feet, or so, of the boiler plant, and the coal will be hoisted to the engine house by an elevator. The fuel for No. 1 is now stored at the trestle between the laboratory and the barn and is hauled by team. The enclosure beneath the present trestle will be used for storage purposes. The new No. 1 dock, also the one to be erected at the Prince of Wales mine, will have a capacity of about 5,000 tons.

The trestle being repaired at the Champion is the one leading from No. 7 shaft, through which the greater part of the ore has been hoisted for some few years past. Six carpenters are now employed on the job.

The company plans on doubling its working force at the Stegmiller mine about the time the shipping season opens next spring. Up to this time the work underground has been largely of a development nature, but 40,000 tons were shipped this year. The workings will be in condition to produce several times this amount next season. The shaft there is down 300 feet and the mine has a complete new outfit of machinery, also new buildings. It is located between the Cleveland-Chiefs Iron company's Princeton Nos. 1 and 2 mines, Captain Thomas Trebilcock, formerly of this city, has charge of the property.

R. J. Wise, and W. E. Havtmore, officers of the Young Men's Christian association, are meeting with success in their series of lectures to the miners, employed at the Cleveland Lake property. They visit the mine every Wednesday noon. Mr. Hawthorne is giving lectures on the first aid to the injured. Last Wednesday noon a picture was taken of all the men assembled in the dry. After completing the series in this mine, other properties will be visited.

C. Hawes, Sr., will talk to the men Sunday at 3:30. His subject will be "Character Building." The invitation to come is for all men.

Harold Shaddick will assist Physical Director Hawthorne with the boys' gymnasium classes. The boys' membership is now 128, and the classes are becoming too large to be cared for by one instructor.

Sixty-seven new lockers have been ordered and should be in place in a few weeks. This will likely supply the demand for lockers for a while, at least.

Donald Hayden will represent the Ishpeming association at a state conference in Cadillac this week. While there he will present a paper on teaching English to foreigners. Mr. Hayden has been teaching a class of this kind in the local association with great success and is well qualified to talk on the subject.

The annual membership meeting of the association occurs in January, when directors will be elected for the ensuing year. Plans are being considered for making this the time for an annual banquet. Definite announcement will be made later.

NAVY NEEDS MORE OFFICERS.

Has Not Enough Captains and Commanders, Says Admiral Porter.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Rear Admiral William P. Potter, as chief of the bureau of navigation, who was recently transferred to work for personnel under the Meyer organization plan, has made his report to the secretary of the navy. He finds that there is an insufficient number of captains and commanders to perform the necessary duties to which officers of these grades are by regulation eligible for assignment. He recommends that ten captains and seventeen commanders, formerly engineer officers, who are transferred to the line to perform engineering duty, be made extra number, thereby preventing officers who are not eligible for sea duty from occupying the authorized numbers intended by congress to perform sea duty and giving about one year's promotion to the junior commanders and lieutenant commanders, thus bringing officers into commanding rank at an earlier age. It is also recommended that the age for admission of candidates to Annapolis be reduced to between fourteen and seventeen years instead of between sixteen and twenty years as is now prescribed.

Admiral Potter also recommends that the grade of vice admiral be created in the navy.

"It appears unnecessary," he says, "to point out the fact that with the increased responsibility due the enlarged fleets which we now have in commission, the officers in supreme command should be given appropriate rank, rank which will at least place them on a par with officers of foreign navies. International relations custom has prescribed certain fixed grades for officials who represent their governments. Not only is this the rule of the diplomatic corps, in foreign navies there are three distinct grades which are above the rank of rear admiral, and it invariably happens that in all international assemblages of men of war the officer in command of the United States fleet is outranked by a foreigner."

Discussing the Atlantic fleet's cruise, Admiral Potter says:

"The fleet arrived in Hampton Roads in excellent condition as regards efficiency and readiness for any service required. The marked advance in the economical upkeep of the ships, the ability to keep the vessels self-sustaining while away from a base and the improvement in the fleet work were all sources of gratification to the bureau."

Some how or other fortune never seems to call on our days at home.

NO KICK ON WEATHER.

County Has Had Higher Temperatures This Week Than Many Other Places.

Although the absence of sufficient snow for sleighing is regretted, especially by the business men, this region has been especially favored by the weather man, as only once during the present cold spell has the mercury dropped to the zero point. In many places in the Northwest below zero weather has prevailed for several days. Sleighing has been in use in the upper country since early in the week, but there is not sufficient snow in either Ontonagon or Baraga counties for sleighing. Sleighs are also in use on the Mesaba range. A Negaunee man at Hilling last Tuesday advised relatives here that he has eighteen below zero. The coldest spot in the United States on Thursday was Devil's Lake, N. D., where the mercury reached twenty-two degrees below zero. This report was given out by the weather office here, but it is said that many thermometers in the county registered from twenty-four to twenty-six below. Moorehead, Minn., had a temperature of twenty below, and Winnipeg, Man., reported thirty degrees below.

Thermometers here registered from ten to ten above yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, and the temperature was about the same the previous morning. The blacksmiths of the city are having an unusual rush of horseshoeing on account of the condition of the streets and roads. Some of them have been working overtime the past few days.

LOCAL LAONICS.

E. F. Sherell and wife of New York visited in the city yesterday.

John Jacka of Calumet looked after business in Negaunee yesterday.

John Marshall, a well-known Houghton man, was a Negaunee visitor yesterday.

Miss Evelyn Raymond has been a sufferer with the grip for the past several days.

J. R. McDonald, deputy revenue collector, was here yesterday from the copper country.

Charles H. Teichert, traveling representative of the Menominee Brewing company, was in the city yesterday.

Con Curran and two sons returned to Green Bay yesterday, after a short visit with his mother and other relatives here.

Charles Johnson, who has been confined to his home for several weeks with typhoid fever, has resumed work in the Iron Herald office.

The members of St. Agnes' guild of St. John's Episcopal church will serve coffee on the afternoon and evening of the 18th at the rectory.

The Symphony orchestra will give a program this evening at E. O'Hara's new music store, in the Scandinavian society's new block, on Gold street.

Owing to the illness of some of the officers and members of the local branch of the Eastern Star society, the regular meeting next Monday evening has been postponed.

The South Shore steam shovel crew which has been employed for a week or more on the new railway line being extended to Palmer will finish the grading tomorrow or Monday.

The Dougherty stock company will appear at McDonald's Opera House all next week, opening Monday night in the comedy drama, "The Gambler's Wife." The prices will be ten, twenty and thirty cents.

Victor Raappanen fell over a hydrant on the western end of Iron street while in an intoxicated condition Thursday and was badly injured. It required sixteen stitches to sew up one of the cuts on his face.

The services at St. John's Episcopal church tomorrow will consist of holy communion at 8 o'clock; morning prayer and sermon at 10:30; Sunday school at 12 and on the following day, 7 o'clock. The choir and Sunday school are preparing special Christmas music for the services Christmas day. On the Sunday following the Sunday school will give a special program of Christmas music at 2:30 o'clock in the church.

ATE EGGS TO PROVE 'EM GOOD.

Grocer Accepted Court's Test and Complaint Was Dismissed.

Wilkesbarre, Dec. 10.—When Dominick Sarvo, a grocer, was arrested on the charge that he sold to Mrs. Marie Olesky were not fresh, Alderman Donohue suggested that the best way to decide the case was for Sarvo to eat the eggs in question. Mrs. Olesky had broken six of a dozen and a half and she swore that they were bad, and she produced the remaining dozen as evidence. Sarvo said the eggs were good and that he and his family used them.

"All right," directed the alderman, "prove what you say by eating these twelve."

Sarvo was willing, but said twelve was too heavy a meal. His brother-in-law, Michael Allgriss thereupon volunteered to eat half. Each man then ate six of the eggs with apparent relish, and Sarvo was discharged.

Strickland, a sophomore at Brown University, a member of the Sigma Kappa fraternity, has been explained; also the absence from Providence of Edith M. Hanes, a nineteen-year-old shoptell, daughter of Noah Hanes, a carpenter. The couple were married at Baltimore, Nov. 23. Strickland dropped out of sight completely that night of his classmates could find him. He went to Baltimore, obtained work, and afterward sent for Miss Hanes. She told her mother, and the parents escorted her to the train and sent her away with their blessing. They refused to say where Edith was, and this led to the story that there had been an elopement.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation that he would do for them what he has done for so many others. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if it were confined to the treatment of women only. But when cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of half-a-million women in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as with-outside, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

GIVES INFORMATION ABOUT THE CENSUS ENUMERATORS

Director Durand Issues a Statement Defining Their Qualifications, Duties and Compensation.

Washington, Dec. 10.—United States Census Director Durand today issued a statement defining the qualifications, duties and compensation of census enumerators. He states that one of the duties imposed upon the supervisors by the census act is the designation of suitable persons to be employed, with the consent of the director, as census enumerators, within their respective districts. It is further provided that such persons shall be selected solely with a view to fitness, and with-out reference to their political party affiliations. The statement says: "The census act provides that the enumeration of population and agriculture shall begin on April 15, 1910, and that each enumerator shall complete his work in the case of rural districts and small towns, and within two weeks in the case of an incorporated city, town, village, or borough which had 8,000 inhabitants or more under the census of 1900. It is desirable where possible that the enumerator shall live in the district he is to canvass. He should be familiar with its territory and the general character of its population. "The census requires as enumerators active, energetic persons of good address. They must be thoroughly trustworthy, honest, and of good habits. They must have at least ordinary education and be able to write plainly and with reasonable rapidity. A person whose name will be given to former enumerators if they are at present physically able to perform the duties of the position. Each person seeking appointment as census enumerators must make a written application to the supervisor for the district of which a resident, and said application must be made through the handwriting of the applicant, and must be indorsed by two representative business men of the community in which the applicant resides. "All applications for appointment as enumerators will be required to take an examination, to be prescribed by the director of the census, to determine their fitness for the work. This examination will be of a practical character, consisting chiefly of wholly of the filling out of a sample schedule of population and agriculture, and in the case of enumerators whose work will be in rural districts, the filling out of a sample schedule of agriculture. Each applicant is furnished with an illustrative example of the manner of filling the population schedule, and in country districts, with a copy of the agricultural schedule to which, in the main, the work of the census enumerators is confined. These forms of schedules are furnished for the information of the applicant and should be studied and preserved for use in connection with the examination referred to in the preceding paragraph. "It will be necessary for each enumerator, before entering upon his duties, to receive a commission, under the hand of the supervisor of the district to which he belongs, and to take and subscribe an oath of affirmation that he will faithfully discharge all the duties required of him under the law. The census act also provides that an enumerator, after accepting an appointment and qualifying for the work, can not, without justifiable cause, refuse or neglect to perform the duties of the position; and he will further be required to devote his entire working time to the census work during the period of the enumeration. "The compensation to be paid to enumerators is fixed by the census act, and an allowance of not less than two nor more than four cents for each inhabitant, not less than twenty nor more than ten cents for each farm reported, and ten cents for each barn and inclosure containing live farms, is provided for all subdivisions where the director of the census shall deem such remuneration sufficient. In other subdivisions the director may fix a mixed rate of not less than one nor more than two dollars per day and, in addition, an allowance of not less than one nor more than three cents for each inhabitant enumerated, and not less than fifteen nor more than twenty cents for each farm reported, while in subdivisions where per diem rates are necessary, because of the difficulty of the enumeration, the enumerator may be allowed, in the discretion of the director, a compensation of not less than three nor more than six dollars per day of eight hours actual fieldwork each. Except in extreme cases, no claim for mileage or traveling expenses will be allowed to any enumerator, and men only when authority has been previously granted by the director of the census. "Attention is also called to the letter of the president, addressed to the secretary of commerce and labor, a copy of which is appended to the statement, concerning the matter of political activity on the part of census supervisors and enumerators. In accordance with this letter any enumerator must sever his connection with any political committee of which he may be a member, before entering on his duties, and must refrain from political activity during his term of employment."

Banking interests who ought to be well informed state unequivocally that securities have been quietly liquidated in larger volume than is generally appreciated by financial groups in control of the principal enterprises of the United States. LET VOTES DECIDE.

That the Message of the Michigan Farmers' Clubs to Politicians—People Competent to Choose United States Senators.

Lansing, Dec. 10.—That the people of Michigan are capable of choosing the man they wish for United States senator is declared point blank in a resolution adopted by the State Association of Farmers' Clubs in session here. The resolution is an invitation to politicians to keep their hands off the advisory report at which the choice will be made, and further implies that the voters will not stand for their candidate being tricked out of his dues. The resolution follows: "Whereas, the people of Michigan will have an opportunity next year for the first time in the history of the state to place in nomination for election by the legislature a candidate for the office of United States senator; and the people of the state have heretofore had but little to say in the important duty of electing a representative of the state in the senate of the United States; and realizing that now the people throughout their legislature having received to themselves a voice in the election of that representative, we have a right to be heard and to take a part in this function of self-government. "Therefore, Resolved, by the State Association of Farmers' Clubs of Michigan that we believe in the right of the state to name a candidate, with all respect to them as well as to the special interests, who will refuse to be subservient to the mouthpieces in the senate of the trusts and monopolies of the state; and that we believe in the right of all classes and interests of our commonwealth, and "Resolved further, That we condemn the base attempt now being made by certain politicians to pledge legislators to senatorial candidates regardless of the result of the primary for senator next September, and call upon the voters of the state to see to it that their representatives and senators in the next legislature are elected by the vote for the nominee for United States senator who receives the greatest number of votes in the entire state."

WHOLE BRIDGE STOLEN.

Two Men Hauled Away the Wood; Steel Girders Also Gone.

Indianapolis, Dec. 10.—The county commissioners went out to Lick creek yesterday to inspect a steel and wooden bridge over the stream, and were surprised to find that the bridge had been torn down and hauled away. The commissioners found all the timbers in the bridge at the farm of Road Superintendent Holt, who said his sons hauled there while he was absent in Texas. When asked where the steel girders were, he supposed they had been hauled away. A new floor was laid on the bridge only a few weeks ago and the steel portions were good. The grand jury has taken up the matter.

EXCITING ELK HUNT.

Herd of 300 Driven Through Narrow Pass by Severe Snow Storm.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 10.—Hunters from the upper Gallatin Canyon, near the Yellowstone National Park, tell of an exciting elk hunt. One of the recent snow storms drove a bunch of about thirty elk into a narrow pass, where they passed just east of Black Butte, at the northwest corner of the park. At daylight about 26 hunters came upon the bunch at about the same time from different directions and fire was opened from all sides on the bewilderment herd. Every man bagged an elk. One horse was shot and a bullet passed through the vest of one of the men.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say of yesterday's cotton market: "The United States department of agriculture today issued their crop estimate for the season, placing the growth at 10,088,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, exclusive of linters. It is likely that the ratio of ginning will decrease rather than otherwise, but assuming it will not do so, there was a commercial crop, including linters, of about 10,250,000 bales. The market before the estimate was not specially interesting. There was alternate liquidation and covering that kept the market nervous. Just previous to the report, the prices were advanced, but after they closed lower, on quite heavy profit-taking. The barrier to higher priced cotton is removed."

FROM MORGAN'S CURE LETTER.

The New York market opened a trifle lower and during the day furnished few interesting features. The trading was light. A few rails made fractional gains, but the majority of the list closed at slightly. Fundamental market conditions are excellent and higher prices based on these are predicted by the best authorities. The government report on winter wheat, Dec. 1st, is exceptionally good, railroad earnings are rapidly increasing, and advanced stock business seems to have no limit to its expansion. The heavy selling of North Butte was the feature in Boston, and carried the price down a point, the greater portion of which was later recovered. Hancock was very active, and advanced three points. This stock looks higher. Boston Consolidated, Greene Cananea, Giroux and Miami were all active and higher. Superior & Pittsburg roused itself today and sold up to 17 1/2, on moderate profit increasing, and the iron and steel market is still pointing to higher prices for the copper. The curbs were again quiet today. There was some demand for Chief and Cactus, and both made fractional gains. Bids for Red Warrior were plentiful, but no stock was offered. This issue is well thought of in Salt Lake, Live Oak sold up to 17 1/2. Ray Central, Chino, First National Copper, Ohio Copper, Davida-Daly and Shattuck were all in demand. This last will do much better on the resumption of mining after Jan. 1st. On an output of 500 tons per day, which it was making when operations ceased in 1907, it can earn 83 per share per year, which will cover selling at thirteen cents per pound. The Wall Street Journal says: "By the close of the year it is likely that some plan looking toward a curtailment in the output of copper will be announced. It is understood that certain of the large copper producers, including the Amalgamated, Cole-Ryan and Guggenheim, now have the matter of curtailing production under consideration. The copper producers of the country are working in harmony and this will facilitate a movement directed toward restoring copper resources. Yesterday's prevailing prices were:

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—Wheat was strong the entire session today, the prices showing net gains of 1/4 to 3/4. Domestic conditions supplanted the Argentine situation and held the market remarkably strong despite advices from the South American country minimizing the injury by the recent frost. The continuing light receipts at the primary points in this country were the chief reason for the firmness. The total volume was estimated at 282,000 bushels, against 638,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago. A bulge of more than a cent in corn and an almost equally sharp advance in oats stimulated a considerable demand for wheat, and reports of free buying of cash wheat in the Northwest by millers augmented the demand here. The December opened at 110 to 110 1/2; highest, 110 1/2; lowest, 109 1/2; closing, 110.

Corn.—The May sold today at the highest price for the crop, the new record being 64 1/2, which was 1 1/2 above the previous close. The other deliveries also

Two Little Girls had Eczema Very Badly—In One Case Child's Hair Came Out and Left Bare Patches—Father's Head Sore from Childhood—In All Three Cases

CUTICURA MET WITH ITS USUAL SUCCESS

"I have two little girls who have been troubled very badly with eczema. One of them had it on her lower limbs. I did everything that I could hear of for her, but it did not give in until winter weather when, as usual, it became worse. The next winter when it became cold weather the eczema started again and also in her head where it would take the hair out and leave bare patches as large as a quarter of a dollar. At the same time her arms were sore the whole length of them. I took her to a physician and he said that she had two distinct types of eczema. I continued with him for several weeks and the child grew worse and worse. My sister's arms were also affected in the same way. My husband came home one day with a box of Cuticura Soap. I began using them and also the Cuticura Pills and by the time the second lot was used the skin was soft and clear. It had not been before for the winter. We kept the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment constantly by us and when any little roughness or irritation appears on their skin I quickly dispel it with the Cuticura Remedies. My husband has used them with most satisfactory results for a sore head which has troubled him from childhood. Mrs. Charles Baker, Albion, Me., Sept. 21, 1908."

Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful remedies for torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin, such as itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, irritations and inflammations, permit rest and sleep and point to a speedy cure when all else fails. Cuticura Soap, followed by mild doses of Cuticura Pills, is often sufficient to afford immediate relief from the most distressing forms of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, irritations and inflammations, (25c. each) and point to a speedy cure when all else fails. Cuticura Soap, 25c. each; Ointment, 50c. each; Resolvent (50c. each), and Chocolate (50c. each), are sold throughout the country. ADVOCATES BURNING TIMBER SLASHINGS

WISCONSIN STATE FORESTER RECOMMENDS LAW THAT WOULD WORK WELL IN THE UPPER PENINSULA.

E. W. Griffith, state forester of Wisconsin, who has given the preservation of forest products considerable study since the big forest fires during the summer of 1908, advocates the burning of all hemlock and pine slashings left by lumbermen in the forests of that state. As the forest conditions in Wisconsin are practically identical with those in Northern Michigan, Mr. Griffith's recommendations are of interest in this region.

Mr. Griffith believes that the burning of the slashings would be the most effective means of preventing disastrous fires. He has found that most of the fires have originated in cut-over districts where the slashings have been left to dry. Mr. Griffith has recommended to the legislative committee on water power, forestry and drainage, the drawing up of a law that will make the burning of slashings compulsory.

The state forester was questioned as to the expense of burning the slashings, and he said that sixty cents per 1000 square feet of territory would be an outside figure. He recommended that the state forestry board experiment by burning slashings on a section, or half section, and thus gain an idea of the cost of the work.

Mr. Griffith declares himself strongly in favor of the state of Wisconsin retaining possession of all the water power rights it now owns. He says, the state should refuse to grant dam franchises unless given control as a consideration. The state, he declared, should retain all the rights it still possesses. The state forester's arguments relative to the burning of slashings were so forcible that it is now expected that the legislature will pass at its forthcoming session a law making this work compulsory on the part of the lumbermen. This question has been discussed by a number of the heavy timber operators in both Northern Wisconsin and the upper peninsula for more than a year past, and it is said that many of them are ready to cooperate with the state officials.

TRAVELING MAN IN LUCK.

Guest at Breitung House Found Valuable Pearl in an Oyster.

J. Schram, a commercial man, well-known in this region, who travels for a Chicago tallow and hide concern, and whose home is in Escanaba, will be able to make his wife a nice Christmas present. On Thursday at the Breitung House he found a pearl, which local jewelers estimated to be worth at least $200, in his plate of oysters. The stone is about the size of an ordinary pea. Mr. Schram was made a liberal offer for the pearl here Thursday, but he declined to sell it.

The pearl was closely examined by all of the traveling men at the hotel and they were unanimous in declaring that it was an exceptionally fine one. A short time ago one of the waitresses at the Breitung found a small pearl in a raw oyster.

BROOMS GO SKYWARD.

Dealers in brooms throughout the country are wondering when the top prices will be reached. There is perhaps not another commodity on the market that has gone upward as rapidly as broom corn. Six months ago it sold for from $70 to $80 a ton, and a pretty fair quality might be had for $60. Today $280 a ton is asked, and it is predicted that the price will reach $300 within a month. The advance is said to have been due entirely to the failure of last year's crop of broom corn in Illinois. Perhaps the heaviest users of brooms in the country are the schools. In many places they are bought by the boards of education at from five to thirty dozen at a time. It is claimed that the retailers are not any more than getting the wholesale cost on brooms they are selling, as many of them have not been increasing their prices to keep pace with the advances in the wholesale market.

C. C. I. CO. HAS WON IMPORTANT CASE

SUPREME COURT REVERSES JUDGE STONE IN LITIGATION OVER SWANZEY LANDS.

TRACTS HAVE ORE VALUES

Decision Has Hung Fire for Over a Year, as Circuit Court Passed on the Litigation in March, 1908.

Word was received here yesterday that the supreme court has reversed Judge Stone, of this circuit, in the case of Charles Johnson and the Cleveland-Chiffs Iron company vs. John R. Gordon, Philip J. Hogan, et al., and the Cleveland-Chiffs Iron company vs. Robin E. Drake and Louise T. Full, et al. In both cases title to the fee of valuable mineral lands in the Swanzev range district was in dispute. The tract involved in the first litigation mentioned, is lots 7, 8 and 9 in section 30, township 45, range 53, approximately 129 acres located on the west side of Bass lake. The tract the title of which was at stake in the second case is the north half of the northeast quarter and the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter, also located in township 45, range 53.

On the latter tract the Cleveland-Chiffs Iron company proved up valuable deposits of ore by drilling operations conducted several years ago. While the tract in dispute in the case in which Gordon and Hogan were the defendants has not been proved up to an equal degree, it is in a known mineral belt, and is considered of great value. There is said to be no doubt of the ultimate development of large producing mines on both tracts when the Cleveland-Chiffs Iron company gets around to opening up the ore deposits.

Cases Have Hung Fire.

The cases have hung fire in the supreme court for over a year. They were argued before Judge Stone here in March, 1908. He found in favor of the defendants. The complainants at once appealed to the supreme court, and the cases were argued before that tribunal later in the year. Its decision has been expected any time for the past several months, and has been awaited with much concern by the parties involved and with much interest by their friends and others acquainted with the facts in connection with the litigation.

The same evidence applied to both cases, and while the tracts involved were distinct and the parties in both were not identical, they were submitted at the same time.

The case against John R. Gordon, Philip J. Hogan et al is the one in which Mr. Gordon acquired his claim by a payment of $100 to Louise Full, widow of Henry Full, a brother of Alfred Hull, the man who entered the lands and acquired them from the government.

Alfred Hull was a member of the partnership of R. A. Connelly & Co. The claim of the complainants in the case was that Alfred Hull acquired the land for the firm in which he was interested. Hull subsequently withdrew from this partnership, but did not deed his interest in any of the firm's realty over to his partner. The land involved in the suit against Gordon and Hogan subsequently was sold to Isaac Johnson by R. A. Connelly & Co., and title passed from Johnson to the Cleveland-Chiffs Iron company.

The Nub of the Cases.

It was the contention of the complainants before Judge Stone that the lands involved were acquired by Alfred Hull for the use and ownership of R. A. Connelly & Co., and that title to those lands could only pass through the heirs, or assigns, of that firm. They contended that when Hull withdrew from R. A. Connelly & Co., he lost all interest, direct and indirect, in the lands owned by the company, and that no title depending on his one time partnership with the company could be valid. For the defendants it was contended that Hull originally acquired the lands for himself, and Judge Stone so held.

W. P. Belden of Ishpeming conducted the case for the complainants, with Horace Andrews of Cleveland as counsel. Eldridge & Miller had the defendants case, with Denton Hammette of Saginaw as counsel.

The litigation is among the most important that has been brought to a conclusion in this county in recent years. The lands involved are said to be of much greater value than those in the Swanzev district recently in dispute between the Cleveland-Chiffs company and E. E. Drake, Louis Corlett and John E. Gordon, whose differences were settled by agreement a few weeks ago.

Marquette Steam Laundry Is Expanding—Modern and Sanitary.

The building adjoining the Marquette steam laundry on the east is undergoing extensive repairs and changes, and about the first of the year will be used by the laundry for its carpet and rug and dry cleaning business. The exterior work on the building has already been completed and the interior alterations will be rapidly pushed to completion. New and modern equipment has been ordered and its arrival is expected within a short time.

Both the Marquette steam laundries are progressive and model up-to-date plants, especially in the matter of sanitation, which is now receiving special attention in all lines of business. The managers of the two Marquette plants are thorough students of modern sanitary methods of laundering and have attained a degree of perfection along that line that the smaller laundries cannot hope to reach. A visit to either of the laundries will convince anyone that articles may be sent there with the same assurance of cleanliness and careful handling as if done at home.

LAST ORE BOAT WILL CLEAR TODAY

WITH DEPARTURE OF YUMA THIS AFTERNOON, NAVIGATION SEASON WILL BE CLOSED.

MOVEMENT HAS BEEN HEAVY

Total Shipments Aggregate Nearly Three Million Tons, Which Compares Very Favorably With Any Former Year.

With the clearance of the steamer Yuma from the South Shore docks this afternoon will have closed the ore shipping season of 1909 from the port of Marquette. The last boat cleared from the L. S. & L. dock a week ago and the Yuma will be one of the last, if not the last vessel to carry ore down Lake Superior.

Though shipping started out slowly last spring, since July 1 there has been an exceptionally lively movement of ore from Marquette and the total shipments for the season are nearly, if not quite equal to those of any previous year. From the L. S. & L. dock 1,549,078 tons were shipped and from the South Shore docks, 1,360,590 tons, making a grand total of 2,909,668 tons for the season. The figures from the L. S. & L. dock are nearly double those of 1908 and come within 150,000 tons of the record made in 1907. At the South Shore docks, the shipments have been the third largest in the history of the office, the total figures having exceeded only in 1888 and 1890. The 1909 shipments have been more than double the shipments last year and about 43,000 tons more than in 1907.

Since the opening of navigation in the spring, 208 boats have arrived and 295 boats from the South Shore. From these figures it will be noted that the average size of the boats loading at the L. S. & L. dock has been slightly larger than those loading at the South Shore. This is probably due to the fact that in the C. C. I. fleet there are several 1,000-ton vessels, while the boats loading from the South Shore docks have been owned by a greater number of steamship companies, many of which have come up with coal and the coal dock is not long enough to admit of the largest vessels tying up there.

Season at Coal Dock.

The Pickands coal dock about ninety vessels have been unloaded during the season, which will probably close tonight. Here, too, business did not start in earnest until about July 1, but since then there has been something doing almost constantly, and frequently several boats have been waiting their turn at the dock. The total coal tonnage has not yet been figured up, but it is expected to compare very favorably with the records of previous years.

Two vessels will tie up in Marquette for the winter, the Pathfinder of the Wilson line, and the Warner of the Hanna Boat. The Pathfinder is already on the north side of No. 4 dock and is being dismantled for the winter. The Warner is still at the coal dock, but when unloaded, will tie up on the south side of No. 4 dock. Owing to the strong undertow in the harbor, both vessels will be anchored with unusual care, so that they will not break loose from their moorings or damage the dock in pitching about during the winter storms. The work of getting these vessels ready for winter will take several weeks and will not be completed much before Christmas. A watchman will live on board each of the vessels throughout the winter.

Captain Burke a Wonder.

Local marine men were greatly surprised to read yesterday of the foundering of the steamer W. C. Richardson near Buffalo, as the vessel had cleared from Marquette with ore on her last down-bound trip and the crew were well known here. Captain Burke, of the Richardson, is said by local men to be one of the best informed men on the lakes, or in the country for that matter, being a veritable encyclopedia of facts.

At the South Shore dock office some time ago, a number of vesselmen were discussing the size, tonnage, etc., of different boats and in the course of the conversation, it developed that Captain Burke had in his head the dimensions of practically every vessel on the lakes, and could tell the number of rivets in the particular boat under discussion. His knowledge is not confined entirely to marine interests, either. Ask him the length of any river, the height of any mountain or the location of any obscure city in the East Indies, whatever it may be, it is said that he can tell all about it. His remarkable knowledge of miscellaneous facts and wonderful memory has made him famous at all ports on the great lakes.

The regular Saturday night hop will be held at Fraternity Hall tonight. Music by the Peerless orchestra.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MAY GO ON RECORD

OFFICERS BELIEVE PROSECUTION OF FURNACE OFFICIAL ILL-ADVISED, AND MAY TAKE A HAND IN THE MATTER

The pending action against Austin Farrel, superintendent of the Pioneer Iron company, charging him with being responsible for the pollution of the waters of the lake by the discharge in them of refuse from the North Marquette furnace, started by James Pendill, will likely be one of the subjects of discussion at the meeting of the Commercial club Monday evening, and it is probable that resolutions in relation thereto will be passed.

These resolutions, judging by the expressions of officers of the club and men who have been prominent in its affairs, will deplore the prosecution, and they will, perhaps, urge that it be dropped. The officers of the club make no bones about their opinion that the prosecution is ill-adviced, and that it may, if persisted in, serve to embarrass the efforts of the water board and the Commercial club to secure the permanent improvement of the city's water supply.

"A recent article in The Mining Journal struck me as covering the matter very well," one of them said yesterday. "The water board, which has welcomed the co-operation of a committee appointed by a president of the Commercial club, is now making rapid progress to the end of determining what had best be done. Experts have been consulted, and estimates on alternative plans of securing a sufficient water supply were recently ordered from a Duluth engineer. This week the council gave its approval to an ordinance amending the original water board act so that a majority of those voting at a bonding election may approve a bond issue, and also raising the limit to which bonds may be issued. Here are tangible evidences that the water board proposes to move as rapidly as possible to improve the existing conditions."

"In my opinion the council and water board, and the Commercial club should be given free hand to deal with this matter. They are acquainted with all phases of it, and are endeavoring to act to the best interests of everyone concerned. If prosecutions are deemed necessary under any city ordinance, they have both the power and inclination to undertake them, but for the present they believe in concentrating their attention on what had best be done to improve the water supply so that this 'water question' will not be an annoyance to the people and a thing likely to discourage the industrial development of the city. Drastring action against the Pioneer Iron company is not now necessary or expedient. In my opinion it would at any time have been inadvisable, but at present when there is definite promise that the city will soon be given safe and palatable water, it is particularly ill-timed. This, I may say, is the opinion of all the business men I have talked to about the matter. They do not believe, under the existing conditions, that it is wise to undertake any action that would penalize an employing industry in the city."

The case against Mr. Farrel was this week postponed until Jan. 3. W. P. Belden of Ishpeming, who appeared for him, asked for a jury trial. It is understood that a vigorous defense will be made.

Various other important matters will come up for consideration by the Commercial club Monday evening and the officers desire that there shall be a large attendance.
