

RISE IN REVOLT AGAINST ZELAYA

People of the Nicaraguan Republic's Capital City Join the Movement Which Seeks the Little Dictator's Overthrow.

Crowds Fill the Streets Openly Demanding American Intervention, and No Effort to Restrain the Demonstration Is Made by the Police—That a Protectorate Be Established Is Suggested at Washington and Is Likely to Be the Plan Adopted.

Managua, Dec. 14.—The people of Managua are in open and unrestrained revolt against Zelaya. They are crowding the streets, denouncing the administration. Shouts of "Long live liberty," "Long live the United States," "Long live Mexico" and "Long live Estrada" are heard everywhere. The police have made no move to check the demonstration and it is said that Zelaya has promised to announce his resignation from the presidency.

The demonstrations began last night, following denunciatory speeches in congress and with the temper of the people madly excited by the report of a battle won by Vasquez, commanding the Zelayan forces around Rama, and that Vasquez had massacred many revolutionists. It was also rumored that Vasquez had violated an armistice. These reports were enlarged as circulated. As the Mexican minister was the guarantor of the armistice, it was stated that he would ask for his resignation.

The whole country is in a ferment. Zelaya everywhere is denounced, but he is still master of the situation and the people fear a wholesale execution of political prisoners. The prisons are full of men, mostly by Vasquez, commanding the Zelayan forces around Rama, and that Vasquez had massacred many revolutionists. It was also rumored that Vasquez had violated an armistice. These reports were enlarged as circulated. As the Mexican minister was the guarantor of the armistice, it was stated that he would ask for his resignation.

Protectorate Is Very Likely. Washington, Dec. 14.—One of the projects for the solution of the Nicaraguan situation strongly urged upon the state department is the establishment of a protectorate, singly by the United States or jointly with Mexico. This may be regarded as necessary in the event that the insurgents fail to displace Zelaya, and it may even follow an insurgent triumph which would leave the country without a responsible leader. President for such action is cited in the cases of Santo Domingo and Cuba. In the former, large sums were owing American citizens which could not be collected from the government by diplomatic means. In the case of Cuba a state of disorder threatened the safety of the lives and property of Americans and other foreigners was the warrant for the intervention.

There is reason to believe that a forward movement will be adopted by this government in the near future, and perhaps as soon as sufficient numbers of marines are gathered off the Nicaraguan coast. Today's news from Managua, indicating the imminence of rioting beyond the control of the local government forces to suppress, might serve as a basis for handling the marines and sending them to Managua. It is necessary to maintain order, just as was done in Panama a few years ago. It is planned to maintain such a force in Nicaragua only long enough to permit a fair and free general election and the establishment of a president pledged to observe the nation's obligations.

of the credulity and disloyalty of some Central Americans." The resolutions continue: "Nicaragua has grounds to consider that the president who was promoted by the government of the United States, and it has perfect right to claim indemnification for the loss of life and other havoc that has been caused. If the United States had sought an equitable and impartial solution, it would have accepted the mediation offered by Mexico to solve the question peacefully. We consider your note not inspired by a government friendly to the people of Central America, and protest against the aggression your government is practicing against Nicaragua. We call upon all our countrymen to be alert respecting the dominating tendencies of the American government, in order that they may act as the patriotism and independence of our five republics require."

Fighting on the Costa Rican Frontier. Bluefields, Nicaragua, Dec. 14.—An official telegram received at the insurgent headquarters here announces that General Morales, at the head of a band of insurgents, has captured Tortuga, Orisi and Supoa, three towns on the Costa Rican frontier. Morales proclaimed Estrada president of Nicaragua and continued his march to attack Rivas.

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, Dec. 14.—A small body of revolutionists has attacked Oroquieta, in the extreme northwest part of Costa Rica, a few miles from the borders of Lake Nicaragua. The place was defended by a detachment of 700 who were killed. The remainder fled. General Morales, the revolutionist commander, was wounded. The revolutionists burned the houses. There has been no news from Rama in three days. The telegraphic communication is interrupted.

More Marines Will Sail Today. Philadelphia, Dec. 14.—With the arrival this afternoon of a detachment of marines from Boston, completing the 700 who will sail aboard the Prairie, everything is in readiness for the departure of the force tomorrow.

PRESIDENT TAFT TALKS TO MEN OF BUSINESS. He Is a Speaker at the Annual Banquet of the New Haven Chamber of Commerce, Held at Yale University. New Haven, Conn., Dec. 14.—A thousand Connecticut business men listened to an address by President Taft at the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce here tonight, in the dining hall of Yale University.

President Taft said that there were two sets of problems with which the government had to deal—those decided by specialists, and those which should be decided by the people. A number of public questions had come to the foreground, of a kind not foreseen by the framers of the Constitution. These needed the advice of specialists. "You, Mr. President, have made this the cardinal principle of your policy," said Dr. Hadley. "You have demanded that the legislature leave to the courts those things which are the courts' and economic experts alone can decide."

Dr. Hadley endorsed the appointment of the tariff commission, and said that the experiment of specializing must begin with the people, work upward, and be supported by the people.

Mr. Taft's Speech a Very Brief One. As President Taft did not speak until 11:30 o'clock he was unable to more than touch upon some of the country's financial problems before the time for his departure for Washington. The president said he felt the occasion opportune to speak about whether we are to have money enough to run the government. He told of cutting down the estimates and how the money would be spent in expectation of having a surplus when the accounts are balanced for the year. Upon the need of waterways, he declared that he did not favor the issuance of bonds before the work was begun, nor of forming a "pot" into which each section should dip its hands. He did believe in having waterways improvement go ahead without delay, as economically as possible and without waiting until political expediency demanded it.

Mr. Taft said that one of the ways of saving money was bringing up the standard of efficiency of the governmental employees. He believed the time had come when a policy of civil pensions should be adopted in order that the government could run its business as it should be run. The president predicted that more businesslike methods would be adopted, though becoming less, would not prevent increasing the scope of the departments and creating the new bureaus necessary for the general welfare. Amid Yale cheers the president closed and hurried to his train.

BELGIAN KING ASTOUNDS SCIENCE

He Undergoes a Most Serious Surgical Operation, and Not Only Withstands It but Is Reported to Be Recuperating. His Condition Is Still Very Grave, but for the Present at Least There Is No Apprehension of Death, Unless New Complications Develop—His Majesty Consents to Receive ex-Crown Princess Stephanie and She Hastens to His Bedside.

Brussels, Wednesday, Dec. 15.—6 a. m.—The king passed a good night. He slept peacefully.

Brussels, Dec. 14.—King Leopold today underwent a most serious operation and astounded science by withstanding it and recuperating. His majesty expressed satisfaction when informed of the details of the operation, which was for the relief of a simple obstruction of the intestines. There was found no trace of a tumor, the presence of which had been feared. Tonight the king was strong enough to sign the newly enacted military law. It is understood, however, that the physicians of the household are not so hopeful as the official bulletins indicate. The crisis will probably last three days. There is a possibility the intestines will become paralyzed. The king's condition tonight is stated to be satisfactory, and there is no fear for the present, unless new complications develop.

The next diplomat who saw the king was American Minister Wilson. That was a fortnight ago. The king, conversing in English, paid a tribute to President Taft and asked the minister to convey his wishes on the American executive's successful administration. He added, laughingly: "But I do hope the United States will change from her drastic attitude on the Congo."

Prince Albert, the heir presumptive, the son of the king's brother, is a distinct family man, happily wedded. He has traveled and studied in America and is a great student of economics, on which topic he has often lectured. He also is a splendid horseman and is interested in aviation and motoring. The prince is popular with the people. The next day later passed today has aroused intense discussion. It reverses the system of recruiting the army, and provides for the service of one son of each family, instead of a general recruitment by lot. Recruits are forbidden to hire substitutes.

Vienna, Dec. 14.—Ex-Crown Princess Stephanie, daughter of King Leopold, who is now the Countess of Hohenlohe, Hungary today for Brussels, to visit her father.

PRINCE HENRY WIRES LONDON. He Takes Exception to a New Series of "War Scare" Articles. London, Wednesday, Dec. 15.—A telegram appears in the morning papers from Prince Henry of Prussia, concerning a series of articles by a socialist, Bluefield, in the "Daily Worker" for Washington. The prince said he felt the occasion opportune to speak about whether we are to have money enough to run the government. He told of cutting down the estimates and how the money would be spent in expectation of having a surplus when the accounts are balanced for the year. Upon the need of waterways, he declared that he did not favor the issuance of bonds before the work was begun, nor of forming a "pot" into which each section should dip its hands. He did believe in having waterways improvement go ahead without delay, as economically as possible and without waiting until political expediency demanded it.

LIBERALS GET IRISH VOTE. Premier Asquith's Policy Concerning Home Rule Is Deemed Satisfactory. Dublin, Dec. 14.—The central committee of the Irish Nationalists today decided to support the Liberals in the general election. Premier Asquith's recent declaration concerning home rule for Ireland is deemed satisfactory.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Local snows, Wednesday; Thursday, generally fair; moderate west winds.

SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE APPEARS ON THE WANE. Twenty to Thirty Yardmen Return to Work at St. Paul, and the Railroads Report Better Progress in Moving Traffic. St. Paul, Dec. 14.—A meeting of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor has been called by President Gompers to be held in St. Paul Saturday to take such action as necessary in the switchmen's strike.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—The General Managers' association gave out the following tonight: "At the close of the fourteenth day of the switchmen's strike, the railroads have made greater progress in moving traffic than any previous day since the strike began." The general manager of the Great Northern telegraphed a statement showing the increasing extent of the coal traffic. He added: "There is absolutely no coal shortage."

Second Peace Conference Held. The second conference between the railroad managers and the representatives of the switchmen's union was held in Chicago today, but actual negotiations were not begun. The managers, rather than grant a wage advance, would prefer to take their chances with an arbitration board under the Erdman law. One of the managers declared that to grant an increase voluntarily to the switchmen would mean a general advance to all employees.

A committee representing the trainmen and conductors on all the Eastern railroads will meet here Friday to canvass the vote on the question of demanding a uniform schedule and the raising of the Eastern wages to the standard prevailing west of Chicago.

SPECIAL SESSION CONVENES. Illinois Solons Set in Motion the Legislation Asked by the Governor. Springfield, Ill., Dec. 14.—Before adopting a joint resolution this afternoon providing that the house adjourn tomorrow until Jan. 4, the legislature set in motion the legislation on deep waterways, direct primaries and nearly all of the twenty-four subjects specified in Governor Deneen's call for the special session. Speaker Shurtleff showed signs of haste in expediting matters, and when the primary election bill came up he said: "These bills should be laid before the house as a committee of the whole, so if you so approve they will lie upon the table to wait the pleasure of the house."

The speaker's motion was stirred somewhat by a joint resolution of Mr. Whitby, of Kankakee, providing for the appointment of a committee of ten, five from each house, to go to Washington to consult congress relative to the probability of federal co-operation in the construction of the deep waterway. The resolution provides that Illinois take positive action until this committee reports. The resolution was adopted, on reconsideration, twenty-seven to ten, after having failed on the previous vote. The issue has not yet acted upon the resolution.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—A most important step in the proposed deep waterway was taken today when the federal government entered suit to compel the power company to remove its dam from the Deshaimes river.

LABOR LEADERS PROCLAIM WAR

Mr. Gompers and His Associates in This Country and Canada Will Fight the Open Shop Policy of the U. S. Steel Corporation. They Meet at Pittsburgh and After a Two Days' Conference Map Out a Plan of Action—Strong Resolutions Are Adopted, and These Will Be Presented to President Taft, the National Congress and the Governors of Various States.

Pittsburg, Dec. 14.—War has been declared upon the United States Steel corporation's "open shop" policy by the leaders of organized labor in the United States and Canada. This is the result of a two days' conference here. The declaration was reached only after several hours of debate. President Gompers presided, and through him the measure was put upon record. The grievances set forth will be forwarded to President Taft, the national congress and the governors of the states wherein the Steel corporation has interests.

The resolutions declare that "the Steel corporation, grown rich by the consent of the people, in its mad greed for greater riches seeks to make of its workers slaves, and is now engaged in an effort to destroy the only factor—the organization of its employees—standing between it and an unlimited, unchecked and unbridled industrial, political, social and economic domination. It is found in the indomitable will and mission of the most misunderstood and misrepresented organized labor."

The resolutions urge that everywhere where Steel corporation plants are located, the central labor organizations appoint special committees with instructions to co-operate in the work of organizing all the employees in the iron, steel and tin industry, and they recommend reading today's manifesto in all the central labor organizations at the first meeting in January. It is also recommended that the federation's executive council appeal to all labor unions in America for contributions in aid of the striking iron, steel and tin workers, of no less than ten cents per member.

The manifesto further says: "In view of the great wrongs perpetrated by the Steel corporation against the workers and the public generally, we recommend that a committee be appointed to lay before the president of the United States, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house and the members of both houses of congress the grievances at what labor suffers at the hands of this corporation."

"At the instance of the Steel corporation the officials of county, municipal and state governments have tyrannized over citizens and have invaded the right of free assembly and free speech. We recommend that committees be appointed to present to the governors of the states and the officials of counties and municipalities where the Steel corporation has plants the great wrongs inflicted upon the people of these communities, and that the committees demand that, where the charges are substantiated, the officers responsible therefor be removed. We appeal to all liberty loving Americans for moral and financial support."

PROFIT-SHARING PLAN. Preferred Instead of Common Stock May Be Assigned Steel Employees. New York, Dec. 14.—The stock market today was still characterized by a wide movement in stocks not usually prominent in the dealings. The sudden activity of these were accompanied in some cases by "deal" rumors. Many such movements carried the suggestion of a window dressing in preparation for marking up valuations in annual reports. The speculative movement was halting and irregular.

Attention was given a report that the United States Steel corporation will employ this year, in pursuance of the profit-sharing plan, instead of common stock for which the employees were allowed to subscribe at 50 last January, with satisfactory results in the year's movement. The inauguration of the common stock assignments at that time, instead of the preferred stock, had the effect of creating the impression of an official recommendation of that investment.

AND UNCLE JOE LAUGHED.

Tay Pay O'Conner Tells Him He Doesn't Look Half as Fierce as Pictured. Washington, Dec. 14.—Speaker Cannon and "Tay Pay" O'Conner met today on the floor of the house, just before adjournment. Thomas Walsh, of Colorado, introduced them. "Tell me how they do things in the house of commons," demanded the speaker, and for fifteen minutes the two engaged in a lively conversation. "You don't look half as fierce as I had pictured you," said O'Conner. The speaker laughed.

FORMER GAMBLER IN ROLE OF REFORMER. Henry Brolaski, of California, Appears Before a Senate Committee in Support of Legislation Designed to Put Bookmakers and Poolrooms Out of Business. Washington, Dec. 14.—With a supporting cast of reformers of both sexes, Henry Brolaski, of Monrovia, Cal., who professed to have been a gambler upon many race tracks, was the star feature of the hearing today before the senate judiciary committee in support of the burkett bill to prohibit the transmission of racetrack betting odds over telegraph and telephone lines. He told how the public is misled by bookmakers, poolrooms and hand bookmakers, and in-correct and misleadingly give the details, showing the poor chance of returns given the gambling public. He was one of the owners of a Mexican track which was regarded as a basis of gambling operations in the United States and was put out of business as the instance of the department of state, through the co-operation of the Mexican government. He is now seeking to have other tracks dealt with similarly.

Brolaski estimated that there are now in the United States between sixty and seventy poolrooms, fifty of them in New York city. He calculated also that there were in operation nearly fifteen hundred hand-books. "There is only one means," said Brolaski, "of putting this evil out of business, and that is prohibiting the transmission of poolroom betting odds, information and also prohibiting the use of the mails to newspapers publishing racetrack prices or results."

TELLS AMAZING STORY ABOUT BEING BUNKOED. Alleged Victim of Confidence Men in Chicago Recites His Woes in Court and Is Given a Judgment for $2,200. Chicago, Dec. 15.—Thomas Foulkes, a stock raiser, of Danbury, Ia., today recited a long and interesting story in court. Francis M. Stewart, Foulkes testified that in 1901 he was met by men here who deceived him into believing that he was going blind. They took him to Steward. Stewart charged $1,500 for the treatment of his eyes, and Foulkes paid with fraud. Foulkes was told that if he brought certain letters back here the money would be returned. Foulkes said that he came, and while with Stewart he was seized by a man representing himself as a health officer, who declared that Foulkes had a smallpox and kept him prisoner for five days, releasing him only on the payment of $500.

NEGRO IS SUSPECTED. Mrs. Lillie Osborne of St. Louis the Victim of a Murderous Assault. St. Louis, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Lillie Osborne was found in the furnace room of her flat with her skull fractured this evening, and died later. Neighbors say that she was showing a negro how to fire the furnace. Jewelry valued at $500 are missing from the woman's clothing. The physicians said that Mrs. Osborne was attacked before her skull was fractured.

After examining two witnesses today the grand jury temporarily dropped the Dosey-Erder investigation.

WANTED A "LITTLE FUN." East St. Louis Youth Confesses to Kindling Costly Fires. East St. Louis, Ill., Dec. 14.—George Heberle, aged twenty, has given a written confession to Fire Chief Burke that he kindled the fire which destroyed the Corno Mills warehouse. Heberle also details how he caused three fires at the Nelson Morris company's plant last May. Heberle asserted that he merely wished to have a "little fun."

CAPTAIN HOBSON SOUNDS WARNING

Hero of Santiago and Kiss- ing Bees Dreads to Think What Would Happen Were a Powerful Foe to Attack Us. In an Extended Speech on His Favorite Theme, the Alabama Congressman Urges That Uncle Sam Get Into the Race for Naval Armaments With Much Greater Vim—Nation Is Unprepared for War, He Says, and He Is Apprehensive.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The house today referred and distributed the president's message among the various committees. Mr. Payne, who offered the resolution for reference, also offered an amendment providing that the paragraphs relating to appropriations be referred to what he designated as the "sleeping" committees on departmental expenditures, of which there is one for each department. Mr. Payne remarked: "For the first time in my recollection a president, in wise and well chosen words, has pointed out the necessity of economy in the expenditures in the various government departments." The amendment was adopted.

Warning of the nation's unpreparedness for war was given by J. Hobson, of Alabama, in an extended speech in favor of a more liberal naval policy. His colleague, Mr. Richardson, seized the same opportunity to make an hour's speech in advocacy of a liberal waterway policy, particularly affecting the Mississippi river and its tributaries. Mr. McDermott, of Illinois, spoke briefly in favor of free wood pulp.

The District of Columbia, appropriation bill, carrying more than ten million dollars for the fiscal year 1911, was reported. The house agreed to take a recess next Tuesday over the holidays. It will reconvene Jan. 4.

Central Bank Introducing. A bill providing for a central bank at Washington, with branches in several cities, was introduced today by Representative Forbes, of New York. The bank is to have a capital of $100,000,000, three-fifths of which is to be subscribed by the government through the issue of fifty-year gold bonds at national banks. A supplementary estimate of $100,000 for the purchase of a thousand small arms and equipment and a battery of eight landing guns, for the instruction of apprentice seamen at the Great Lakes Naval Training station at North Chicago, was submitted the house today by the navy department.

Railroad Legislation Approved. The committee on interstate commerce has agreed to report favorably the bills introduced by Mr. Esch, of Wisconsin, empowering the interstate commission to designate the dimensions, location, etc., of all safety appliances required on railroad equipment, and requiring common carriers to report all accidents and authorizing the commission to investigate such accidents.

NATIONAL LEAGUE DEADLOCKED. Ward Has Four Votes, Heydler Has Three and One Is Uncertain. New York, Dec. 14.—The directors of the American league today awarded the pennant to Detroit. The meetings of both the National and American leagues were postponed until tomorrow. The election for the presidency of the National league is apparently deadlocked, Ward commanding the votes of the New York, Brooklyn, Chicago and Philadelphia clubs, and Heydler those of Cincinnati, Pittsburg and Boston. Stanley Robison, of St. Louis, holds the deciding vote, but has not decided how to vote.

MARQUETTE, MICH., DEC. 15.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Mr. Murphy, of the Chicago baseball club, appears to be popular in the same degree that his Tammany namesake is popular.

On December 20 the board of supervisors will determine which party to our local option contest will go to the supreme court.

Nineteen Republican insurgents showed up at the recent caucus, but they were careful to announce that those present did not represent their entire strength.

Also, we presume, anyone who does not approve of the way Mr. Young has hit upon to settle the Marquette postmaster fight need not vote in the April election.

A Newburgh, N. Y., hunter, firing at a rabbit, shot another hunter in the leg and killed a valuable fox hound, while Mr. Rabbit scurried to safety. Things just like this have happened in the upper peninsula.

It seems to be settled that Richard Flannigan of Norway will be our next circuit judge, though the details of just when and how appear to be still open. What we would like to know is whether Mr. Flannigan is going to favor us by making his residence in Marquette, or is he still to remain true to Norway.

The Commercial club wisely decided to hold a banquet again this year. The last banquet is recalled with pleasure by all who participated in it. The appearance of Mr. Osborn as the speaker of the evening at the coming function will give the occasion an especial significance, and will insure that the banqueters will listen to an interesting and timely address.

It is by no means certain that the state fair will go "dry" next year. Fred Post, the president of the association, says that it can't be run successfully without the sale of liquor, and announces that he will resign if the plan to close the bars is carried out. In his view the attendance would suffer severely, if the supply of liquor was shut off. Here's a little matter that the "wets" and "drys" can dispute in the intervals that they can spare from more important matters.

The Grand Rapids Herald is polling the editors of the state to ascertain where they stand on three propositions, namely, whether the state-wide or district results in the senatorial primary shall determine the course of the legislature, whether the primary result shall be regarded as binding and whether approval is given to the pledging of candidates for the legislature to any candidate for the senate, irrespective of what the primary results may be. If the Herald gets a representative poll on these questions it should indicate with considerable clarity what public sentiment is, as the editors ought to reflect it with a considerable degree of accuracy. The Mining Journal believes that the sentiment will be found to be largely in favor of the election of the candidate for the senate who has a majority of the votes cast in the state at large on the primary. If the law passed by the last legislature means anything it means that. If it is to be given any other interpretation it will invite confusion and discord, and may well be struck from the statute books.

It is said that Representative Townsend, who at the same time he is a candidate for the senate against Mr. Burrows will seek re-election in the Second district, will be opposed in his district by both Henry C. Smith and W. W. Wedemeyer. Smith is already on record as planning to be a candidate, and it is regarded as almost certain that Wedemeyer will also get into the race. It is said that there is no expectation of defeating Mr. Townsend on the part of either of these aspirants, and that the thing they have in mind is to be well placed in the contest to elect Representative Townsend's successor, in the event that he is successful over Burrows. They are said to figure that in that event the man who runs second to Townsend in the Second district will stand the best chance of being favored by the voters. Wedemeyer's friends say that inasmuch as Smith has gotten into the race he is left no choice but to do likewise, unless he wants to give Smith a considerable advantage if the question of naming someone to succeed Townsend comes up later.

Walter Camp, one of the fathers of football and the dean of the football experts, has made up an honor roll which embraces all the players in the leading universities and colleges whose work he believes entitles them to be singled out from their fellows. Yale has seven representatives on Camp's list and Michigan has the distinction of being ranked next to Yale in the possession of superlative players, six of its varsity team being enumerated. Mr. Camp and numerous other football experts on Saturday last witnessed with much interest a game between two Canadian Rugby teams. The Canadian game is characterized by an entire absence of mass play, and is consequently much safer than the American game, which many of the American experts believe should be remodelled in a manner to make it resemble the Canadian game in the latter's desirable features. There is practical unanimity of opinion on the part of the American coaches and students of football that it must be made over considerably, to eliminate as far as possible the danger of injury and death on the gridiron. This feeling will doubtless be reflected in a decided manner in the revised rules.

A fairly representative meeting of the Queen City Commercial club unanimously endorsed the resolutions deprecating the prosecution of the superintendent of the Pioneer Iron company, because the lake water is being polluted by the discharges from the Pioneer furnace in North Marquette. The Mining Journal believes the resolutions express the average sentiment of the community, and particularly represent the views of the business men. The Mining Journal has already indicated that it believes the reasons for the action, as stated in the resolutions, are sufficient. If the board of fire and water commissioners, the council and the advisory committee of the Commercial club are allowed to proceed without being hampered by independent action by individuals, there is excellent promise that within a few months a definite plan for securing good water will be hit upon, which will make the lake available for the dumping of refuse from any manufacturing plant now located here, or which in the future may desire to come to Marquette. No industry will locate in any community that in any way penalizes it for the disposal of the refuse that must result from the carrying on of its manufacturing operations. There are too many towns that guarantee the use of the natural drainage for refuse and that are eagerly looking for new plants. The Commercial club took a proper stand when it favored such a solution of the water problem as will permit the use of the lake front by any manufacturing plant whatsoever, irrespective of the nature of the refuse that must be deposited in the lake and without an extra dollar's cost to be charged against production by the operating company.

The bequest to the University of Michigan of approximately a quarter of a million dollars by the late Arthur Hill goes to show in a practical way the devotion Mr. Hill gave to the university's interests. No public activity in which he engaged commanded his interest and ability to the degree that his office of regent of the university did. He was a consistent advocate of a steady expansion of the university's field of usefulness, and of the strengthening of its faculty and physical plant in every way which its resources permitted. In him the institution lost a valuable friend, and his fellow regents a counsellor of wisdom and fine practical judgment. The University of Michigan will find his bequest of much use. The legislature has not been unmindful of its necessities. There is no occasion to complain of parsimonious treatment. But the university is still handicapped when it comes to the question of finances compared with many of its rivals, and largely because it has had to depend almost entirely on the legislature for support. Its endowment funds are modest in extent. Wealthy alumni and wealthy citizens of the state have been singularly remiss about remembering it in their wills. At times the limitations imposed by its purse have galled the regents, as they have prevented them from undertaking necessary work and from accomplishing things that would manifestly have been greatly to the advantage of the institution. It would redound to its advantage if the example set by Mr. Hill were followed by other very wealthy citizens of the state, when it comes time for them to die. In their bequests for public purposes no institution is better entitled than it is to have a prominent place.

PUBLICITY OF EXPENDITURES.
Another of President Taft's recommendations in his message to congress has met with widespread approval is the one urging the enactment of a provision for the publicity of the campaign expenses of candidates for election to the house of representatives, and for similar legislation in regard to all other offices that are constitutionally in control of congress.

The Roosevelt administration obtained the pioneer legislation along this line. In the heat of public feeling aroused over the investigation into the manner in which the New York insurance companies had tampered with politics, Roosevelt advocated and obtained the passage of a law prohibiting any corporation from making any appropriation in connection with any presidential, vice presidential, senatorial or congressional election. President Roosevelt did not get everything he desired along this line. What he advocated was in advance of President Taft's recommendations, but the carrying out of the latter would certainly mean a big advance in the direction of cleaner elections.

It is pointed out that one thing that would be reached by the proposed law is the practice of the congressional campaign committee using its powers to coerce individual members of congress, or if this cannot be done penalizing those of them who do not vote "right" by refusing them adequate aid in their campaigns. The favoritism that is shown in the disposal made of the large sums raised for congressional campaigns, and placed entirely by this committee, would be largely obviated by the suggested legislation, it is pointed out.

It is difficult to see what valid objection can be raised to the passage of the law recommended by the president. In operation it would have the effect of discouraging the excessive use of money in elections, the latter a thing which must always work for the debauchery of the voters. It would supplement and make stronger the law prohibiting contributions by corporations, which is merely a nominal statute as long as there is no requirement of publicity. On the surface sentiment in congress is favorable to the proposed law, but it is suspected that many members who are apparently open advocates of the measure are doing all that lies in their power to have it sidetracked, and that will doubtless be its fate unless its friends are alert and aggressive.

A LAUGH OR TWO
Light of Truth.

"The late Henry C. Lea, of Philadelphia," said a Boston publisher, "was the world's foremost authority on the Spanish Inquisition. To this subject he devoted his life."
"Mr. Lea was a realist. He sought only the truth. He threw romantic lights over nothing. He believed that the truth gave the best effects of all."
"Once, to illustrate the striking effect that the truth gave, he said that Byron—though it is not generally known—put a second inclosure in the envelope to his wife containing the beautiful lines:
"Fare thee well! And if for ever,
Still for ever fare thee well!"
"The second inclosure was a butcher's bill, on which, in his fine hand, the poet had scrawled:
"Please look over this, as I don't believe we had so much meat in the time stated!"

His Adverbial Name.
A bellboy went through the lobby with this cry:
"Coming!"
"What's the answer?" asked a fat lounge.
"I beg pardon," replied the bellboy.
"Complete your sentence," replied the fat man.
"That sentence?"
"The one you started—'accordingly'; accordingly what?"
"That's the gentleman's name. There's a call for him at the desk."
The fat man took the trouble to see if he was being "kidded." On the register was the name "Alfred Cordingly, Denver, Col."—Kansas City Journal.

The Historic Bird.
"Speaking of Christmas turkeys," said Sir Thomas Lipton in the Cedric's smoking room, "reminds me of a Piccadilly club."
"A Devonshire man sent this club, about Christmas, a fine large swan in a hamper. The hamper was addressed to the secretary, who notified the club members of the treat that was in store, and a special swan dinner was arranged for the 23d."
"The swan came on at this dinner, looking magnificent—erect and stately on a great silver-gilt salver. But tough! It was so tough you couldn't have carved the gravy. All perceived that they had been hoaxed."
"A few days later the sender of the swan dropped in at the club."
"Got my swan all right, I hope?" he said to the society.
"Yes, and a nice trick you played on us," was the reply.
"Trick? What do you mean?"
"Why, we boiled that swan for sixteen hours, and when it came on the table it was tougher than a block of granite."
"Good gracious! Did you have my swan cooked?"
"Yes, of course."
"The other was in despair."
"Why, that bird was historic," he groaned. "I sent him up to be stuffed and preserved. He had been in my family for 200 years. He had eaten out of the hand of King Charles I."

Insuring His Honesty.
A shrewd old Vermont farmer came into a lawyer's office the other day and proceeded to relate the circumstances in a matter about which he thought it would be profitable to "go to law."
"You think I've a good case?" he finally asked.
"Very good, indeed!" the lawyer assured him. "You should certainly bring suit."
"What would your fee be for the whole thing?" the old farmer asked.
"Fifty dollars," was the prompt response.
The client pulled out an old wallet, extracted a roll of bills and counted out $50.

"Now," he said, "you've got all you would get out of this case anyhow; so 's'pose you tell me honestly just what you think my chances are of winning a suit are?"—The Green Bag.

THE SPEEDY MAURETANIA.
We have not heard the last of the Mauretania's great steaming powers and performances. Toward the end of the year, when the passengers' season slackens down, the Mauretania will go into dry dock and be fitted with new propellers designed at Wallsend and specially intended to utilize the vessel's reserve of engine power which has not yet been called into full play. The propellers are similar to those which have recently been fitted to the Lusitania, and with such good results that the vessel immediately broke the record. The Mauretania, however, soon responded, and went one better, even with her old propellers. With the new ones, when fitted, it is naturally expected that she will do still better. Indeed the builders and engineers of the Mauretania anticipate making her a twenty-six knot ship at the least, for her special advantages in design and engine power will be brought out to their full capacity.—Mariner.

Our retail merchants and our manufacturers whose stocks of goods and material need replenishing at this time should bear in mind that the necessity of going far away to buy what they need is past. The State Metropolis is abundantly qualified to fill all their requirements. Buying in Detroit is attended with many conveniences and advantages, too obvious to need more than mention. The proximity of the city saves expense of travel and time. The greater leisure afforded allows time for more discriminating selection. The ease with which possible errors can be corrected and necessary exchanges made does much to lighten the burden of business. The fact that our dealers are doing business with Michigan people who are familiar with the tastes of Michigan customers, assures the buyer of quicker sales and more satisfaction.
Detroit's wholesale, manufacturing and financial institutions offer our business people facilities second to none in the country. Mer lines of trade are as varied as can be found anywhere. It were poor economy to seek elsewhere what can be had so much more conveniently in Detroit. As a proof of this it is only necessary to glance at the cards of her leading business houses which appear elsewhere in our columns today.

HOUGHTON COUNTY BOARD.

Supervisors Act on Bridge, County Land and Road Matters.

At the December meeting of the Houghton county board of supervisors yesterday morning, matters relative to the Portage lake bridge and county lands in Marquette were the most important items.

The bridge matter came up in the form of a report to the bridge committee from F. L. Batchelder, chief engineer of the Copper Range railroad. He said that he had a competent inspector make an examination of the sub-floor of the bridge and its timbers and found them almost entirely rotted away.

The county lands matter came up through petitions from Joseph Croze and R. Skiff Shelden, presented by W. F. Miller, county land agent. Mr. Croze has an option on iron lands in 48-28 and wants it amended so as to accord with the terms of options granted by private parties, as being more convenient in giving a contract to an operating company.

Prosecuting Attorney McDonald offered his opinion on the legality of the county road law, the matter having been referred to him two months ago. He said that the attorney general of Michigan had declined to pass upon the validity of the section authorizing an election on the county road system, Section 6, Chapter 4 of Act 283, 1899.

Robert H. Shields appeared as county clerk for L. N. Richardson who is away from a week and was inclined to be present at the next meeting of the board, submitting this county road question to the people, this motion prevailed, and Supervisors Hamar, Lawton and MacNaughton were appointed on the committee.

The board recommended to the state game warden the reappointment for another year of St. Clair Willson as county game warden.

Resolution of Sympathy. Supervisor Lewis offered the following resolution, which was adopted: "Whereas, God in his mercy has seen fit to take from our midst the beloved wife of Leonard Thompson, a member of this board; and

Resolved, That the chairman and clerk be instructed to engage the services of the board and furnish a copy of this resolution to the bereaved member."

Will Make Monthly Report. A new Michigan law requires the probate judges of the several counties to furnish the auditor general with a monthly report on the insane and feeble-minded committed from their counties into state institutions. Judge Bentley is preparing to comply with the regulation.

Houghton county furnishes a considerable quota of insane people to the upper peninsula hospital for the insane at Newberry but not as many as expected. The commitment of one or two insane people per month to an asylum from this county might seem large but the asylum records show that Luce county, in which the asylum is located, furnishes more insane, in proportion to population, than Houghton county does.

COPPER COUNTRY HOCKEY.

Houghton From Shows Well—M. C. M. Team—League Finis Feared.

The Houghton hockey team of the amateur league has had its first practice, and showed up well. Carlos Haug resigns his goal posts to Fred Candy, who held the position two years ago, because he is going away to school after the first of the year. In the meantime he will coach the seven. Candy is the only change in the line-up from last year.

The Michigan College of Mines team appeared for practice with the green and white. Russell Wortley, the old Houghton High school star rover, is the promoter and captain of the college team. He recommended that the players be replaced with Washington fir and the floor with hardwood, and that the Houghton County Traction company be authorized to do all the work and present the county with a bill for the county's share.

Supervisors Endorse Osborn. At the meeting of the Houghton county board of supervisors yesterday morning the Superior Charles Smith of Houghton voted to offer a resolution. He said he was impelled to this action through a desire to foster the interests of a man who had served his county well in positions of trust and now sought the Republican nomination for congress. He referred to Angus W. Kerr of Calumet. At the same time he would indicate the name of Chase S. Osborn of the Soo, candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, whose candidacy seemed to be universally favored in the peninsula. He offered the following resolution, with the support of Supervisor Eddy, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the chairman and clerk be instructed to engage the services of the board and furnish a copy of this resolution to the bereaved member."

Worcester Lumber Company Is Building Up a Model Village. The new town of Worham, established by the Worcester Lumber company of Chassell four miles south of that place, is going to be a model village, and it is growing rapidly. The company has erected a number of houses for its employees and has begun work on twenty more. The town is reached by the new Houghton, Chassell & Southeastern railroad and is the central point of the company's lumbering operations in this region. It is said by lumbermen that the logging camp at Worham, operated by the Worcester people, is the finest in the world. An unusual array of conveniences are given the men, the camp is lighted by electricity and all the latest devices for lumbering are employed.

A sprained ankle will usually disable the injured person for three or four days. This is due to lack of proper treatment. When Chamberlain's Liniment is applied a cure may be effected in three or four days. This liniment is one of the best and most remarkable preparations in use. Sold by The People's Drug Store.

BIG CHRISTMAS BUSINESS.

Copper Country People in the Throes of Holiday Shopping.

The Christmas shopping season is on in the copper country. In all the towns the streets are crowded with bundle carriers and all the merchants report a big business. Copper country shoppers generally have this year the finest holidays goods ever shown here and many dealers report that the public is buying a better class of goods.

In the mechanical toy department there is something wonderful. There is an electric street railway, more even than the one which provides local transportation for copper country shoppers. Because while the Houghton County Traction company operates its trolley, this toy railway is run on the third rail system. It is operated by dry batteries. There are also other White City devices. The Teddy bear is still a popular toy and the Roosevelt Africa expedition has caused the birth of the Teddy bear.

HANCOCK CRIMINAL MATTERS. Deputy Sheriff Released from Assault and Battery Charge.

Deputy Sheriff John Polzase of Quincy Hill, who was arrested last week for assault and battery upon complaint of Thomas Sweeney, appeared before Justice Olivier in Hancock Monday afternoon for his examination. There was not a complaining witness to appear against him, and he was discharged. Polzase had some trouble in making an arrest on the hill and the trouble resulted in the court proceedings. The deputy showed evidence of having been gored by one of the buttons were gone from his coat.

RAILROAD FOR THE GRATIOT. Work on the construction of the spur of the Mineral Range railroad from Fulton to the shafts of the Gratiot property is being pushed. The track will be 2.5 miles in length. The grading for it has been nearly all completed. The laying of rails will commence soon. The original intention of the contractors was to have this spur completed by the first of the year, but present indications are that it will not be finished until the end of the year. The spur is being built to enable the shipping of rock from the Gratiot. A big stockpile has already accumulated.

AN AMPHIDROME INNOVATION. Manager McNamara of the Amphidrome has introduced a monster graphophone to furnish music for afternoon skating in the big rink. It is a success. The machine does not tire like a band and is able to provide waltzes and marches constantly, so that during the entire afternoon skating session there is music in the air. Of course the band will be employed for night skating as usual, because the machine cannot be heard when the big night crowd is in motion.

COPPER CITY SCHOOL OPENS.

Almost 100 Pupils in New School in Calumet No. 2 District.

The new Copper City school of Calumet No. 2 district, which was completed last week, was opened for school Monday for the first time. There are nearly 100 pupils. The building is a substantial four-room structure, and the newest town in the northern portion of Houghton county has long needed it. All four rooms have been placed in use. At the last meeting of the No. 2 school board John Dodge was named as janitor and caretaker of the Copper City school, and W. J. Carmo as janitor of the new Centennial Heights school, which will be opened after the Christmas holidays. This building is also a four-room structure and is badly needed. The old Centennial Heights school has been crowded the past two terms, and so far this term it has been found necessary to hold only half-day sessions in the lower grades in order to accommodate all the pupils. The full day sessions will begin immediately after the Christmas holidays, as many of the pupils will go to the new school.

INTEREST IN THE REUNION. Spanish War Veterans of Calumet Will Meet—Camp Election Tonight.

There is no lack of interest among the Spanish war veterans of the copper country in the proposed upper peninsula reunion to be held in Houghton next summer. The Houghton contingent has the plans pretty well outlined and only awaits action by the Calumet veterans. Action by Calumet will be very necessary because Colonel Peterman, Adjutant MacNaughton, Major Surgeon MacNaughton and Major Thielman of the old regiment live here. Captain George Miller of Hubbell, who is enthusiastic for the reunion, has arranged to call a meeting of the Calumet veterans in a private hall for the purpose of securing the appointment of a committee to work with the Portage Lake veterans.

JAMES HENDERSON HOME. Missing Proprietor of Scott Hotel Barber Shop Returns.

James Henderson, the proprietor of the barber shop in the Scott hotel, Hancock, who had been missing from that city since some time in October, has returned home. Henderson left the city in a mysterious manner, departing in the night without giving friends or even his wife any intimation of his plans. At first there was fear of foul play. Officers were put on his track, and he was traced as far as Duluth, from there to St. Paul and from there to St. Louis, where the scent was lost and the officer returned.

NO SCOTISH REUNION. It now appears very probable that the Scotch people of Calumet will not hold their annual reunion this year. The younger and older factions are unable to agree on the date, and some friction is appearing. All arrangements had practically been made for holding the reunion in the First National bank hall, Laurium, Christmas eve, the program was prepared and the music department was engaged. It was announced yesterday, however, that there will be nothing doing.

NEW STATION AT GAY MILLS. The new station being built by the Mineral Range railroad at Gay Mills has nearly been completed and has been placed in commission. It has been badly needed for several years. The road has also installed a new automatic switch to be used in weighing rock cars and their loads. The scales will weigh 145 tons per day, or an average, thirty tons to the car, the rock going to the Gay Mills from the Wolverine and Mo Lake mines.

New York, Dec. 14.—Copper on the New York exchange was easy today. No quotation was made for spot on call, but later the market was placed at about 12 1/2 to 12 3/4 with the December, January, February and March closing at the same figure. The London market was easy, with spot quoted at 120 and futures at 121. Local dealers quote Lake copper at 125 1/2 to 126, electrolytic at 131 1/2 to 132 1/2, and casting at 136 to 137 1/2.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—A severe slump, due to general liquidation, marked the trading in grain here today. What was weak all day with the exception of a short period at the start, when urgent buying by shorts forced the December to 114 1/2 and the May to 112 1/2, a new high mark for both. The opening bulge brought out large quantities of selling orders, many from influential sources. Improved weather for the movement of grain in this country and talk of a material increase in the receipts at all primary points within a few days, together with a slackening in the demand for cash grain, were factors that contributed to the weakness. During the early bulge the prices were from 1/2 to 3/4 to 1 1/2 above the previous close. Late in the session the December rallied and advanced nearly one cent from the bottom, but the future deliveries failed to rally. The close was heavy, with the December opening at 113 1/2, the highest, 114 1/2; lowest, 112 1/2; closing, 113.

Corn—General liquidation was the order of the day, and as a result the market was weak the entire session. The selling was based on the extremely heavy deliveries yesterday on December contracts and on the prospects of further liberal deliveries today. Cash interests were free-sellers of the December. The close was weak, 1/2 to 3/4 lower. The December opened at 67 1/2, the highest, 68; lowest, 62 1/2; closing, 62 1/2.

Oats—The market was weak on profit-taking, brought out chiefly by the break in wheat and corn. The prices at the close were 1/2 to 1/4 lower. The December opened at 114 to 114 1/2; highest, 114 1/2; lowest, 112 1/2; closing, 113.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s Wheat Summary. Paine, Webber & Co.'s Chicago correspondent had this to say concerning yesterday's wheat market: "It certainly was an unsettled and irregular market in wheat from first to last. The disposition of the country elevator country offerings, country elevator stocks being only 50 to 60 per cent less than a year ago. The southwest markets had very small receipts and Kansas City continues to report a decrease in stocks. The trade had a rumor from Butte, Montana, that the switchmen on two of the big roads were returning to work, Minneapolis houses generally reported the situation improving. The weakness in the market at the close was largely due to a belief that the strike will be declared off soon, and that this will cause much larger spring wheat receipts. Regardless of this, we believe good support will come into the market on any further dip, if stocks in all centers continue to decrease."

New York Cotton Market.

Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say of yesterday's cotton market: "Under pressure of liquidation, the market sold off in the afternoon from 12 to 13 points below the previous close, with the average prices of the day running five to six points under yesterday. The next session report, due early this morning, will be awaited with interest, it being dependent on to confirm the small estimate of the bureau. The market may be comparatively idle previous to the holidays, but there is no reason to expect a commodity that is absolutely short of the demand will decrease in value as the shortage becomes more apparent and acute."

The City Council of Cincinnati is planning a subway to connect the business section of the city with the outlying residential sections.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. START THEM ON TIME.
Gifts That Arrive After Christmas Not Nearly So Acceptable.
"At this time of year it is always necessary to repeatedly caution people to start their gifts for relatives and friends living out of town early enough to reach the recipients by Christmas Day," said Elmer French, agent for the American Express company, yesterday. "I remember when I was a boy, and I have not yet outgrown the feeling, that when Christmas morning came with no present from Uncle Ike in Denver or Aunt Sue in Massachusetts, I was bitterly disappointed, and even when the gift came the following day or several days later, I was not entirely satisfied. Part of the pleasure of receiving gifts is in showing them to friends and to do that they must be received in time to open Christmas morning."
"People seem to expect that the express companies can handle shipments during the holiday season with the same dispatch as at other times of the year. The rush of business makes this impossible and ample time should be allowed for probable delays at transfer points. Packages are far more acceptable that arrive several days too early than those that reach their destination a day late, and if it is wished, we will affix the label 'Do Not Open Until Christmas' on any shipment without extra charge. Gifts to be sent to distant points should be started on their way at once."

Lower Lumber Rate—The new lumber rate, notice of which has been issued by the South Shore road, will go into effect December 18. The new tariff reduces the rate from the head of the lakes to New York from 33 to 30 cents and all points east of Buffalo in like proportion. Although the schedule is to hold only for shipments eastward via Sault Ste. Marie, it is thought that competing roads to the east through Chicago will be forced to lower their rates accordingly. If this is done the tariff on the South Shore line through Detroit will also be cut.

Divided Among Three Banks—The finance committee of the board of supervisors met at the court house yesterday to consider the bids submitted by several banks for the deposit of the county moneys, acting under a law passed by the last legislature empowering the board of supervisors to designate such depository or depositories. The three banks offering the highest rates of interest were the Marquette National of Marquette, the First National of Negaunee and the Miners' National of Ishpeming. The finance committee will recommend that the county money be divided among them. The bids accepted offer interest in excess of 3 per cent, and in addition the banks must give bonds at least equal to the full amount deposited with them.

Insurance Trial Today—An interesting case will be tried before a jury in circuit court today. The case is brought by John L. Van Horn against the Eastern Insurance company on a $500 policy covering what was known as the Foard cottage on Middle Island point, which was burned several months ago. The defendant company contests payment of the policy on the ground that Mr. Van Horn had no insurable interest and that the cottage was the property of Mrs. Emma Foard, wife of M. H. Foard. As Mr. Foard was agent for the company at the time the policy was taken out, it could not have been taken out in his name, except by special application according to definite prescribed regulations. The defendants further allege that the cottage was set on fire with the knowledge and consent of the plaintiff and other parties interested in the claim.

Local Lumberman Declares Suggestion to Burn Slashings Is Folly.
E. W. Griffith, state forester of Wisconsin, has been widely quoted in the press of the northwest as advocating the compulsory burning of all pine and hemlock timber slashings as the most effective method of preventing disastrous forest fires. Speaking of the suggestion yesterday, an experienced Marquette lumberman expressed the opinion that such a policy would be a most admirable means of devastating any region where it was applied in short order. He declared that brush cannot be burned except when it is dry, and, of course, everything in the vicinity is likewise in prime condition to catch fire. One big brush pile in the midst of a timber slashing, when lighted under such conditions, he declared, would be sufficient to start a fire in a whole section of timber land. As brush will not burn except when it is dry and a dry slashing is a forest fire to get a start, the progress of which cannot easily be checked, it is difficult to see how the Wisconsin forester's idea could be successfully put into practice.

CRIPPLE STALKS DEER.
Without Legs and on Crutches, He Shoots a 160-Pound Buck.
Nashua, N. H., Dec. 14.—John H. Jones, who, several months ago, had both legs amputated following an accident on the Boston & Maine railroad, shot a 160 pound buck in Merrimack today. He is an enthusiastic deer hunter, and in spite of his physical disability had been out in the woods almost every day during the present open season. He says he has seen four deer, but as he can only get around on crutches he was not until today that he was able to get within gunshot of one.

GERTRUDE PEARY IS JUST A PLAIN GIRL

LEADING LADY OF "GRAUSTARK" LIKES ATHLETICS, FISHING, BEAUTIFUL CLOTHES, BUT "TRAVELS IN A HANDBAG."

In a short chat yesterday with Gertrude Peary, the Princess Yette in "Graustark," she laughingly said: "How do I like to be stared at? I don't mind a bit. I used to, but I'm hardened to it now. Oh, yes, I know people look upon us as something a little different from ourselves, but we're not—truly we're not. We're just girls, with the same ideas and ideals as all those dear young things who swarm to the matinee to watch us act—and envy us. Why, when there's no matinee, just let one of our boys invite us to a ball game. That night there is usually a very hoarse princess for I simply can't resist the excitement. Just now our boys are trying to make me feel the importance of Mr. Jeffries fighting Mr. Johnson. But pugilism is vastly different from baseball or football, and I refuse to be interested in it, so from the boys' standpoint I'm all wrong."

"After playing in Ann Arbor the other day, I saw a crowd of students going off to a football game. They had a band and my excitement! They had been to the play the night before and were just lovely; so of course they recognized me and invited me to go. For about a minute I forgot I was a grown-up, the head of a dignified organization, but suddenly someone said: 'Miss Peary, we leave at 1:15.' 'Come down to earth, Gertrude,' I said, giving myself a mental yank, but all during the performance that night I caught myself wondering about my boys and hoping they won."

"I love to go fishing, too. But here also I'm just an ordinary girl, for a man must always bait the hook—I shilly-shally about it. He usually says: 'Oh, please don't do that. Now I've lost my bait.' He drops his pole and with a martyred expression, prepares the delectable table d'hotel for the unsuspecting fish. I never dare to tell this fellow that I'm a wee bit of a prettifier. He'd ask me to qualify by baiting a hook."

"Oh, yes, I love pretty clothes, but on the road one has to be sensible—just a plain blue suit, neat and well tailored, but nothing to attract attention. My beautiful dresses are all for Princess Yette, not for Gertrude Peary. My hair waving plumes—but how foolish for trains, at all hours, in all kinds of weather. That's the penalty of 'living in a handbag' as the saying is. Oh, the contents of that bag would be a Chinese puzzle to anyone but the owner—a place for everything and everything in its place. A pair of slippers, a kimono, a book—I'm never without one—toilet articles, the smallest except the hair brush which must be big and strong—a vigorous brushing feels so good after a long dirty trip. You'd find no better rule to live by and am always healthy."

Then Miss Peary said in the most womanly way imaginable, "Don't you think this is beautiful? I'm going to wear it in the second act—my robe de nuit, otherwise my nightgown. One had to admit that whatever you call it was beautiful and fluffy and feminine. Then her lips said, 'I hope you'll like our play and company.' But the big brown eyes said: 'And I hope you'll like Yette, too.'"

THEATRICAL.

"A Stubborn Cinderella."

Mort H. Singer, who in the past has given the theatergoers of this city such delightful moments with his Princess Amusement company's great successes, "The Time, the Place and the Girl," "The Girl Question," "The Honey-moon Trail," etc., will on Saturday night at the opera house present his offering, "A Stubborn Cinderella," and the local management promises that this production is one of the biggest ever seen on the local stage. As to the story, there is "Mac," the college boy who guiltily permits himself to be mistaken for a famous sculptor by Lady Leslie, at the hypotheated Columbia college of the Middle West. Now this titled heroine or "Stubborn Cinderella" has been kept away from the world sordid, and knows nought of his wiles, and she has never conversed with a man, who wants to know. Consequently as "Mac" is handy, he is the receiver-in-general of some very searching questions. They are ingenious and "Mac" does his best, and while the feminine third degree is going on, "Mac" falls in love in the most reckless fashion with his fair interloper. And she, being a child of nature, confesses she is in love with him. Lady Leslie and her guardian believe "Mac" to be a famous sculptor and consequently he is commissioned to make a bust of his fair lady love, and is therefore installed as one of the traveling party. On the Texas-Mexican border line the palace car of the party is stalled and "Mac" is forced to get busy with the bust, which he does and the way he does so brings out much merriment. In the third act the party is stopping at the Netatorium resort at Coronado Beach, Cal., and there is genuine amusement in the artlessness and simplicity of Lady Leslie, and "Mac's" embarrassment by her wholly unsophisticated manner. There is a large cast, headed by Homer B. Mason, and the locale of the different scenes gives abundant opportunity for the large array of show girls to make numerous changes of costume. The transportation facilities call for three special baggage cars and a working force of eight skilled stage mechanics and electricians.

"Graustark."

Like most dramatizations of popular novels, the story of "Graustark," which was portrayed on the opera house stage last night, was less thrilling and intensely absorbing than the original weird tale given to the public by the pen of George Barr McCutcheon. In order to make the story adaptable for stage purposes, many changes, additions and omissions have been made by the dramatist, yet the original plot has been retained practically intact. But those who have read the novel have their own ideas of the Princess Yette, Grenfall Lorry and the other characters, and when they are put on the stage as someone else sees them, perhaps in a wholly different light, the result cannot but be disappointing. Such was the case with the presentation of "Graustark," while to those who had never read the novel, the play undoubtedly made a strong appeal.

The production is worthy of commendation and numbers several classic actors. Miss Gertrude Peary as Yette handled her difficult part excellently, and portrayed the inward struggle between her heart, filled with love for the un-filial American, and her duty, calling her to sacrifice herself for the sake of her principality, in a highly effective manner. The character calls for unusual sustained dramatic effort but it may truly be said that Miss Peary met the requirements. William Wagner, who played as Mr. Lorry, was a worthy opposite for Miss Peary, and took his part with distinction. The secondary lovers' roles were handled by Howard Walsh, Lorry's American friend, and Marjorie North, lady in waiting to Yette. Both were vivacious and spontaneous, lending a pleasing luminous touch to the production. Others in the cast were equal to the demands of their respective parts. The play was beautifully staged, the scenery carrying one unconsciously into the mythical kingdom in the mountains of eastern Europe, while the royal court scene in the last act was one of the most effective stage presentations seen here in many a day.

WAR OPENS ON M'VEAGH.

Senate Committee Holds Up the Secretary's Appointments—This Due, It Is Charged, to His Low Tariff Opinions.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The war of the Aldrich-Hale-Cannon element of the Republican party against all suggestions of tariff revision has been carried into the finance committee of the senate. Senator Aldrich and his sympathizers have held up the nominations of Royall E. Cabell to be commissioner of internal revenue, and James Freeman Curtis to be assistant secretary of the treasury. The reason for this action is that the finance committee has declared positively against Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh because of his low tariff views. Mr. MacVeagh is to be punished for intimating in his recent speech at Boston that the Republican party is now a low tariff party, and that the new tariff law, while not satisfactory, is only an incident and will not permanently block progress toward realization of the party's purpose.

That speech aroused the greatest hostility towards the secretary among the people who have taken up the cudgels to defend the Aldrich-Payne measure against all attacks. Secretary MacVeagh, even before that address, did not stand well with the high tariff element of the senate and house, because during the tariff session last spring he repeatedly indicated sympathy with the purposes of the low tariff people. Some of the work of the treasury department is getting together statistics and information which helped the insurgents arouse the antagonism of the finance committee, and they have not required much further provocation to induce trouble. The trouble broke out when protest was entered in the committee on finance against confirming the nominations of Messrs. Cabell and Curtis. The nominations were sent to a sub-committee with the very definite understanding that they might remain there a long time. When it became known that this action had been taken there was much surprise and inquiry followed as to how the president would feel about this apparent attack on a member of his cabinet.

The Massachusetts senators did not get a chance to pass on the case of Mr. Curtis, whom Secretary MacVeagh chose without consulting them. That was a serious enough offense, but it was considered because Secretary MacVeagh is a Democrat anyhow, and his Democratic opinions on the tariff have become offensive to the extreme tariff wing of the Republicans.

Along with all this, there has been severe criticism of the administration of the treasury under Secretary MacVeagh. It has been alleged that he was not selecting the right kind of seasoned and experienced men for the big places, and that Curtis is one of the poorly qualified people he has taken. Personal reasons, it is said, are the chief of them. It has been for years a friend of Secretary MacVeagh, are alleged to have had most to do with the choice. The case of Mr. Curtis is referred to a sub-committee, consisting of Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, and Sen. of Pennsylvania. Senator Lodge favors the confirmation of Mr. Curtis and had no part in the raising of any point against him.

MRS. HARRIMAN OPENS OFFICE.

Engages in the Management of the Interests Left in Her Charge.

New York, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Edward H. Harriman is now a New York business woman, charged with the management of the vast estate of the late financier. No woman of the present generation has taken over the control of such a large share of the complex affairs of a multimillionaire man of business, for no other man of the generation burdened himself so extensively in the active development of varied interests as did Mr. Harriman. Yet Mrs. Harriman has approached her new duties with the quiet reserve and determination that argues a comprehensive grasp of the general policy and details of the immense estate which came into her sole possession under her husband's simple will.

She will observe office hours on regular days, and the fashion of some of the larger affairs, who refuse to make themselves slaves to business and who do not daily mix in the turmoil of the market or in the active pursuit of wealth, but try to enjoy life at their homes and make their business work for them.

The first four days a week Mrs. Harriman will be at her desk in her private office on the second floor of 475 Fifth avenue, which she leased last October. "The Estate of E. H. Harriman" is the sign that appears on the directory board of the building, an old brownstone mansion reserved for business uses, and again on the door to the office, which occupies the entire second floor. Mrs. Harriman's private office is in the front looking out on Fifth avenue and is simply fitted out.

On her office days Mrs. Harriman will have her house at Arden and travel by automobile to the Erie railway station, where she will catch a train that reaches New York between 10:30 and 11 o'clock. At the Forty-second street ferry she will take a taxi to her office, and will be engaged there in reading reports and issuing orders until 1 or 1:30 p. m., when she will walk to the St. Regis Hotel for luncheon.

Upper Peninsula

Delta County Town Flooded—Water freezing at the mouth of Rapid river, forming an effective dam, has caused a great deal of inconvenience and trouble at the town of Rapid River the past week. The dam has backed up the water, forcing it to overflow the banks. A hollow back of the ball grounds has been filled and the water has extended up into the park. The low temperatures have formed a sheet of ice in many parts of the town where ice never before existed and the small boy with his skates is having the time of his life while householders are worrying over flooded basements and kindred evils.

Wolves Reported Numerous—

Wolves are reported more numerous in the woods this fall than for many years, and ways of exterminating them are being discussed. A few years ago the government took up the proposition as to the best method for their destruction, and issued pamphlets which were given to a wide circulation. The government experts advocated a search being made for the young, which they said could be easily found by experienced hunters and killed before they were able to leave their breeding place. This method was tried in some places in the peninsula, but it does not appear to have been eminently successful. Many hunters who went into the woods this fall found tracks of the wolves, traveling in pairs or in packs of anywhere from four to a dozen, but it was almost impossible to get within shooting distance of the animals and comparatively few bounties have had to be paid.

Fire in East Norrie Mine—

A fire in the underground workings at the East Norrie mine at Ironwood has been burning for several days, but the circumstances are fortunate and the damage will be slight. The fire was discovered in abandoned workings between the fifteenth and sixteenth levels between C and D shafts. Just how the fire originated is unknown, as there was no occasion for anyone to go into this part of the mine. It is thought some of the miners went into these abandoned workings at the supper hour and when they departed left a candle burning or dropped some fire from their pipes and that in this manner the fire was communicated to the timbering. The fire department was called out, but could do very little towards subduing the blaze, and later the place was closed in by bulkheads and the fire left to smother out. The bulkheads have not yet been removed, but it is thought that the fire is probably out by this time. Officials of the company say that the damage by fire will be slight, owing to the fact that the places where the fire occurred have been mined out and abandoned.

Cause for Alarm

Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating Symptoms that Should Not be Disregarded

Appetite is just a natural desire of the system for the necessary to replace natural body waste. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicates indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health, and insatiable appetite is a common symptom of diabetes.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, heaviest and healthiest persons are moderate eaters. There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach. We urge every one suffering from any stomach derangement, indigestion or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine they are not satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them.

We honestly believe Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets to be without equal. They are made from the prescription of a physician who devoted his time to the study and treatment of stomach troubles. They give very prompt relief, stimulating the secretion of gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, aid to good digestion and assimilation, regulate the bowels, and promote nutrition.

We urge you to try a 25-cent box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, which give 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases we have two larger sizes, which sell for 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Marquette only at our store—The Rexall Store, The Stafford Drug Co.

ENGINE BADLY WRECKED AT LAKE ANGELINE

PIECES OF THE FLY WHEEL WENT THROUGH THE ROOF IN THREE PLACES, FALLING ONE HUNDRED FEET FROM BUILDING.

One of the most complete wrecks of an engine that has ever taken place at a mine on this range occurred Monday evening at the Lake Angeline property, when the engine that generated power for the dynamo which operated the underground haulage system went to pieces without warning. Luckily no one was hurt, but Albert Gussotte, the engineer, had a narrow escape, as he was approaching the engine for the purpose of shutting off the steam when the fly wheel burst.

The engine was a high speed Reynolds-Corliss, manufactured by the Allison-Chalmers company, and had been in use for the past sixteen years. During that period it had been operated continuously from 7 o'clock Monday morning until 11 o'clock Saturday night, and had only been stopped for oiling at the noon hour. Only twice during the sixteen years was the engine stopped for any purpose other than for oiling. Both times the belt came off.

When the fly wheel, which was twelve feet in diameter and weighed perhaps about ten tons, burst the pieces flew in all directions. Three of them went through the roof in different places, one immediately above the engine, another ten feet distant and the other about twenty feet away. Several pieces went through the floor, the largest one of which penetrated a sixteen-inch stone wall, after it had passed into the basement. Some of the pieces were found fully one hundred feet both east and west of the building. The piece which crashed through the floor of the basement, and then through the stone wall, weighed about a ton.

One of the pieces of the fly wheel struck the dynamo, some thirty feet distant in the opposite end of the enclosure, and wrecked it. Several of the castings were broken and the coils were burned out. The pillar block, on which the crank shaft rested was shattered, but the shaft was not injured.

DIED AT EVELETH.

Maki Brothers Receive Information of Relative's Death.

Alex Maki, brother of John and Kursten Maki of this city, died Saturday in the Eveleth, Minn., hospital. The Eveleth correspondent of the Duluth Evening Herald gave the following account of his demise:

"Alex Maki, for several years a resident of this city, died Saturday evening at one of the local hospitals from peritonitis after an illness of about two weeks. The man applied at the hospital in the morning, for aid, in a very serious condition and beyond medical aid. strenuous efforts were made by the physicians to help him, but in vain.

"The deceased was about thirty-eight years of age, and well known in this city, having resided here for about six years, coming here from Alaherma, Finland, his birthplace. He had many relatives in this city, and two brothers, John and Kursten, in Ishpeming, Mich., where he is also survived by two married sisters. The deceased leaves a widow and a small child, the latter being about nine months old. The deceased resided on Garfield avenue, and prior to being taken sick was employed in the Spruce mine. He will be buried tomorrow afternoon from the Finnish Lutheran church, of which he was a leading member, at Virginia."

HOPEKINS GETS FOUR YEARS.

Former Ishpeming Broker Must Serve Prison Sentence.

Wallace H. Hopkins, the former Ishpeming broker, who was a few days ago convicted of using the mails to defraud, had been sentenced in the federal district court in Chicago, to serve four years and three months in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kas. The term is within three months of the maximum sentence which can be imposed. In addition Hopkins was fined $1,500.

As president of the Wallace H. Hopkins company, he was charged with defrauding customers out of at least $500,000. The Hopkins trial was closely followed by many of his Ishpeming friends and acquaintances. In view of the strong evidence produced against him it was generally thought here that his maximum prison sentence would be imposed, and that the fine would perhaps be considerably larger than it was.

Plans Have Been Perfected for the Event to Be Held at Coleraine.

If the national ski tournament to be held at Coleraine in February is not a success, it will not be the fault of the citizens of the Canisteo district and Itasca county, as it is reported that they are working to make the affair the biggest event of its kind ever held in that part of the state.

Grand Rapids is taking a lively interest in the affair, and Senator Gunn, C. C. McCarthy, W. C. Gilbert, Matt Spang and others are boosting it in every way possible. Postmaster Lieber, man of Marble and other citizens of that enterprising place are equally assiduous in furthering the success of the tournament.

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER. The opening in New York was higher all through. Prices eased off slightly during the day, probably due to the friction of transmitting orders to and from outside points because of the damage by sleet to the wires.

Yesterday's prevailing prices were: Almetek $210.00, American Saginaw $225.00, Arizona & Mich. $5.70, Black Mountain $5.75, Butte & Superior $2.43, etc.

Consumption Can Be Cured.

The appointed time arrived, and notwithstanding that there was a heavy downpour of rain, the men who had given their orders were "Johnny on the spot" with the price $1.50 a bottle.

The men who had been taken in never confessed and forever denied that they had been made victims, and the entire matter was finally dropped, only to be recalled when those having to do with the affair meet.

A Model Logging Camp—A model of its kind is the Sawyer-Goodman Lumber company's logging camp near the Dunn mine, in Iron county.

The next building is the office where the young man who looks after the clerical end of the business presides. The next two buildings have more than a passing interest. They are the sleeping quarters of the men.

The barn, where ten teams are stabled, comes next. The arrangement is such that the grain room is in the center, easy of access from all sides.

On the north side of the track the first building is a blacksmith and carpenter shop. The next building is a filing shop. A man is kept constantly at work filing crosscut saws for use in the woods.

SOCIALISM IN CANADA.

Propaganda Is Blatant But Is Not Making Headway.

Montreal, Dec. 14.—In the recent provincial election in British Columbia the socialist party lost a seat, and the socialist leader immediately regretted that Canada was now controlled by rail ways. Considered from the point of view of proportion, the loss to socialists on the Pacific coast will be a severe one, for it means that a third of their party in the assembly is now without a seat. Such disasters, however, are not likely to occur in eastern Canada—at least, not for want of blatant propaganda. The current number of Cotton's Weekly, a socialist periodical published in Cowansville, P. Q., brings this forcibly to mind. There is scarcely a line in the paper but is an excited arraignment of the sins, real and imaginary, of the "plute." The Ottawa government is referred to as "the vast pocket possession of the labor thieves of Canada." Cotton's Weekly increases the millennium in a statement that "under socialism there will be no few criminals that the problem of criminality will solve itself."

Little Headway in Quebec.

In the province of Quebec, however, socialism appears to make but little headway except among the cosmopolitan immigrants who are constantly flowing into the city. As a matter of fact, Montreal boasts no more socialistic representative in the halls of legislation than one labor member—and his views are so radical that the socialist declines to give him support. Several attempts have been made to secure a seat for the party, but the endeavors have so far only afforded the unsatisfactory result that the candidate lost his deposit. Socialism, in fact has no avowed representative at Ottawa at all.

Some two years ago the leader of the Montreal socialists, Albert S. Martin, added a practical touch to his international fraternalism by opening an Esperanto class, a language which he speaks with fluency. The differences of opinion now troubling the Esperanto world with regard to certain changes suggested in terminations and in the abolition of accent marks, however, brought some discussion into the ranks. Teaching was abandoned for the time being; the Esperantists ceased to experiment. But local socialists are now as alive again as ever to their opportunities. They have opened a socialist club, from which the dignified periodical referred to is to be given to the world. They announce further that Montreal is soon to hear more of their doctrine.

Claims He Is Legally Dead.

Albert E. Patrick of Sing Sing is to find an imitator in Canada, providing he succeeds in persuading the appellate division of the supreme court that he is legally dead. The imitator is to be John Dillon, the Montreal murderer. Like Patrick, Dillon was sentenced to be executed, then, later obtained a respite from the court which pronounced the sentence. The claim in Dillon's case is that it is finally decided to take the question to appeal, is that the respite was in the jurisdiction only of the executive. As the execution was to have taken place on Nov. 19, the claim is that Dillon is dead—in the eyes of the law.

SEEKING THE "PORK BARREL"

Congressmen Prepare for the Usual Opening Despite Hostile Agitation. Washington, Dec. 14.—Judging by the talk about the corridors of the Capitol, congress is little impressed with the agitation to abolish the log-rolling involved in the oldtime public building and rivers and harbors bills, and members are framing up their requests with the conviction that the "pork barrels" will contain about as much meat as of yore.

A counter-argument to that for a scientific program for developing inland waterways, which will be urged by the rivers and harbors congress, is that for a billion dollars a four-track railroad could be made to gridiron the United States in all directions, which would give adequate facilities for transit so rapid that the waterways would be comparatively unused.

Eschewers are the only men who think they know it all.

IRON AND STEEL SITUATION.

Numerous Orders for Products Still Being Placed.

The iron and steel review of the week just closed indicates that orders for finished steel products suffered a contraction in volume. There was exceptional activity in fabricated structural steel, however, and new orders for wire production, sheets and tin plate continued relatively liberal. Contractors and fabricators placed numerous orders, the aggregate transactions calling for about 35,000 tons of steel shapes. The largest contract was for the Mandel building in Chicago, requiring 10,000 tons of steel to be fabricated by the American Bridge company. Structural contracts since the first of the month have aggregated about 56,000 tons and business is now pending for 50,000 tons more. Business is in sight for nearly 200,000 tons additional which will be closed during the first few months of next year.

Railroads have been conspicuous by their absence, placing very few orders for either rolling stock or motive power and rail contracts aggregating only 35,000 tons, including 25,000 tons for the Harriman lines. Bids have been submitted for the substitute of the Quebec bridge and contracts for the superstructure requiring 60,000 tons will probably be placed early in the spring. Pig iron has been dull and easier in tone in the East, with scarcely a transaction worthy of special mention, on some important sales have been made in the South to pipe works. Interest in new contracts in iron and coke, and prices of the latter will probably be determined by the action of the Steel corporation in purchasing its excess requirements from outside sources. Pig iron output is record-breaking at the rate of 31,500,000 to 32,000,000 tons annually.

HANDSOME NEW BLOCK.

Negaunee National Bank to Erect a Fine, Modern Structure.

Negaunee will have a fine new business block the coming year. It will be erected by the Negaunee National bank. A site in the heart of the business district has been selected and will be acquired at once. It is hoped to begin building operations early in the spring.

The bank has had an option on the Montreal House lot on Iron street for some weeks, and at a meeting of the directors held here yesterday afternoon it was decided to exercise the option and take over the property. Frank P. Hallier is the present owner. The lot is wide enough to give the bank a fronting of thirty-three feet, and full use of this will be made. The hotel building will be removed during the winter. The directors decided that the new building should be a modern banking house in every respect, and that it should be of handsome architectural design. Plans will be asked at once from a number of leading banking house architects. Bids from contractors will be called for within the next two months, and it is expected that building operations will be under way by the time that the snow leaves the ground.

The Montreal House property is an excellent site for the new structure, and the decision to build there is considered a wise one. The new block will materially enhance the appearance of that portion of the business district.

MAN CONVICTED OF MURDER LIVED HERE

ARTHUR GEORGE, FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING HIS WIFE AT SEATTLE, WASH., WORKED IN NEGAUNEE BEFORE HIS MARRIAGE.

Arthur George, who was recently found guilty of murdering his wife at Seattle, Wash., and who was sentenced to death for the crime, as announced in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal, was for a time a resident of Negaunee. While here he was in the employ of William Gatzke, the barber. He left this city some eight or nine years ago for Escanaba, George came here from the lower peninsula, where he spent his boyhood.

Several Negaunee men yesterday recalled the fact that while George was in this city he endeavored to conceal his brother Frank, who was wanted on the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder, and who was arrested by Sheriff Carlson and Marshal Gribble. This was about nine years ago. Frank had assaulted a freight conductor on the Chicago & Northwestern line at a point south of Escanaba, and it was thought for a time that the railroad man would not survive. George struck him on the head with a coupling pin and left him, thinking he was dead. He made a hasty getaway, coming direct to Negaunee. He had been here but a few days when his whereabouts were ascertained by the police.

In the room where George was found he made a desperate resistance to arrest. He was a powerful fellow and as soon as Sheriff Carlson entered the room he attacked him. Marshal Gribble, who was outside, heard the racket and entered also taking a hand in the mix-up. Both the sheriff and marshal said at the time that they had never tackled a more desperate man during their experience as officers.

The foremen at the mine are at a loss to understand how the opening that permitted the mud to come down was made, as they considered the upper portion of the mud fill, they might soon reach the opening and block it up, but it is a question how much material above that point will come down before the ground settles. All other work in the mine has been suspended for the time being. The men are engaged in the rescue and being worked in relays and there will be no cessation of operations, either day or night, until the bodies are recovered.

Two of the Victims Married.

Oscar Mattila and Frank Condello were married and their families are in Negaunee. Condello's family lives at the Blue Mine location and Mattila's family occupies rooms above the Finnish bakery, on West Iron street, west of the Sunday block.

All of the victims, and particularly Mundi and Condello, are well known in the city, as they had lived here a number of years. Mundi has a brother working at the Atlantic mine, in the copper country, and he is expected to arrive here today. Mundi was about twenty-seven years of age.

WHAT IS MEANT BY THE WELFARE PLAN

SYSTEM ADOPTED BY LAKE CARRIERS TO PROMOTE BEST INTERESTS OF ALL CONCERNED.

INSTITUTE AT CLEVELAND

Home for Sailors to Be Built Next Season at Cost of $350,000—Lake Seamen Well Cared For.

Because of the marine strike which has, nominally at least, been in force on the Great Lakes the past season, there has been no little discussion as to whether the employees of the Lake Carriers' association are, as a class, well or fairly treated. According to a vesselman who has grown gray in the service, who was discussing this question a short time ago, somewhere are seamen better housed, better fed or better paid than on the Great Lakes, and in support of his contention, he outlined what is known as the "welfare plan," which the lake carriers have adopted to promote the best interests of both employees and employers.

The Lake Carriers' association has evolved the "welfare plan" within the last year and it has grown steadily in favor until it now embraces altogether over 9,500 members. It has reached such a stage of permanency as to warrant the proposed construction of a sailors' institute at an approximate cost of $350,000, plans for which have already been made, and which will probably be erected next year.

The institute is to be located in Cleveland. It is to be provided with reading rooms, writing rooms, billiard rooms, gymnasium and assembly rooms in which meetings can be held and classes in engineering and navigation conducted during the winter. A branch bank is also to be established in connection with one of the leading banking institutions of Cleveland. A limited number of sleeping rooms will also be provided. The committee actively at work on the project consists of Samuel Mather, E. W. Ogilby, W. G. Pollock, H. Coulby, D. R. Hanna, General Geo. Garretson and J. H. Sheale.

Requirements of Members.
Under the rules of the "welfare plan," certificates or cards are issued to employees regardless of union affiliations. They are issued for one year so as to cover the season of navigation and are accompanied by a discharge book, which is deposited with the master or chief engineer of the vessel upon which the holder is employed. The book is returned to the holder at the close of the season with a statement of the character of service rendered.

The holders of these certificates are also beneficiaries in an emergency benefit system, should any accident befall them in the line of duty. This benefit is of immediate application and is bestowed even before an investigation into the cause of the accident is made, and without impairment to any legal right for a larger sum. Benefits range from $500 for masters to $75 for ordinary seamen. All that is asked of the seamen under the "welfare plan" is that they discharge their lawful duties to the ship on which they are employed. However, certain labor leaders have taken exception to the issuance of the certificates on the ground that it is an encroachment upon the employee's personal rights.

To show that lake vesselmen are well taken care of in the matter of wages, someone compiled a comparative table of wages on fresh and salt water. According to these figures, the master of the Cunard liner Mauretania gets $2,500 for twelve months' work, while lake captains are paid $2,900 for from eight to nine months' work, with an additional bonus of from $100 to $250 at the end of the season. The average wage paid on salt water ships under the American flag is $29.75, under the British flag $23.16, under the German flag $16.08, while on the lakes the average is $37.72 or 14 per cent greater than Americans ships engaged in ocean trade, 149 per cent greater than British ships and 269 per cent greater than German ships.

WIFE MURDERER KNOWN HERE.

Arthur George, Under Death Sentence in Seattle, Once a Local Barber.

The news that Arthur George, formerly an Escanaba barber, had been sentenced to death for the murder of his wife at Seattle, Wash., was received with unusual interest locally, as both George and his murdered wife were residents of Marquette seven or eight years ago. While in this city, George was employed by Alex Beaudry, who then had a barber shop under the Marquette County Savings bank. His wife was Pearl Miller, a daughter of John Miller, a carpenter who made Marquette his home for several years. While working here, George met the Miller girl and the two were married but it was not long before "they fought like cats and dogs," as an acquaintance of the couple expressed it yesterday. Eventually the Miller family moved to Seattle and George went to Escanaba. His wife soon left him and joined her parents in the West. George subsequently following her, Mrs. George obtained a divorce in Seattle, and the outcome of their domestic trouble was that George shot his former wife last May. George bore an unsavory reputation in Marquette and was continually in brawls of one kind or another. One time, while he and a brother were beating their way from the lower peninsula here, they brutally assaulted the conductor of the train, in consequence of which the brother served a term in the Marquette prison. To those who knew his bad character, the news that George had committed a murder occasioned no great surprise.

IMPORTANT RULING OF POSTAL SERVICE

"DO NOT OPEN UNTIL CHRISTMAS" MAY BE WRITTEN ON FIRST CLASS MAIL ONLY, SAYS UNCLE SAM.

"Not to be opened until Christmas day," or similar inscriptions are personal messages, and are to be written only on first class mail packages. The classification committee of the postoffice department at Washington decided this last week and each postmaster throughout the United States will be given orders to this effect. The words may be stamped or printed on third and fourth class parcels, but when written, must appear on first-class mail only.

As is usual this time of the year, the clerks are hampered to a very great extent by packages that are poorly wrapped, coming apart. There is nothing else to do but to re-wrap them and this takes time. The rush is not so great as it will be later on, and the clerks patiently try to fix up the breakages. After a time they will not have time to do this, and they will have to be thrown aside.

"If people would only wrap their packages carefully, they would reach their destination in good shape, but some of these are miserable attempts," said a clerk as he held up several examples of the kind of packages that are being presented. There is nothing to tell who might be the sender, and of course it would be impossible to deduce where they might be going. The clerks have no time to sleuth around at this time of the year.

Stamps are often forgotten. If the sender would annex a return clause to his package, the parcel would be sent back. Few do this, however. Blunders of all kinds are made many times a day. A little time spent in looking over the package before it is mailed would save much trouble, and some people would get presents they do not otherwise receive.
