It was one of the most enjoyable dances that has been held in either of the three cities of the county this year, and the spacious hall was well filled by the Ishpeming, Negaunee and Marquette guests. It was attractively decorated, and numerous special features were introduced. An appetizing chafing dish supper was served during the evening by the ladies. The Marquette party left for home shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning, delighted with their entertainment by their Ishpeming hosts.

MAP OF CONCRETE WALKS.
 Has Been Made by Secretary of Park, Cemetery and Street Commission.

Secretary Anderson of the park, cemetery and street commission has just completed a map, showing in red all the concrete sidewalk that has been built in this city and its location. It is expected that this map will be of great convenience to the public, as well as those directly interested in sidewalk building. In going over the material on which the map is based, Mr. Anderson was able to compile a rather interesting statistical history of the building of concrete walks in Marquette.

The first record of concrete walk having been built, as shown by petitions filed by the property owners, was in 1901. That year the price charged for building was 11 1/2 cents per square foot, or 861 per 100 lineal feet of standard width walk. There are 108 petitions on record for that year. The following year, the price was the same, and the petitions show that 93 property owners had walks constructed. In 1903, the price was raised to 12 cents per square foot, and the number of petitions was 134. The next year, the price was reduced to 10 1/2 cents, where it remained until 1907. In 1904, 107 separate walks were built, in 1905, 156, and in 1906, 196. In 1907, the price was raised to 11 1/2 cents, and 139 walks were built.

In the spring of 1908, the price was reduced to nine cents per square foot, or 848 per 100 feet of standard width walk, and almost one-third of the concrete walks in the city have been built since that time. In 1908, 329 separate walks were built and in 1909, 335. At this rate, all the wood walks in the city will have been displaced by concrete or stone within three years.

CHASE OSBORN'S GIFT.
 The Capitoline wolf, presented by Chase S. Osborn to Sault Ste. Marie, the home town of the donor, has been installed on the city hall grounds and takes the place of the Osborn lion, which has been placed in front of the Carnegie library. The statue is world famous and of extraordinary interest from a historical standpoint. The original Capitoline wolf has been in Rome since the sixth century before Christ, and is now in the museum of the capital at the great ancient city. This is the wolf that stood in the Capitoline temple and was injured in the year 63 B. C. by lightning. Traces of the accident are still in evidence on the hind legs of the statue. In the middle ages, before the tenth century, this work, with other bronzes, was erected near the Lateran Capitoline museum in Rome. The unique piece of statuary at the city hall grounds is attracting considerable interest and attention on the part of Soa people.

COMMUNICATED.

To the Editor of The Mining Journal: Your Washington dispatches in this morning's issue say that one John E. Ballaine of Seattle offers to pay the government fifty cents per ton royalty on coal mined from government land in Alaska.

Mr. Ballaine is further reported as saying that a five-acre lease will yield 100,000,000 tons. This would be 20,000,000 tons per acre, and on the basis of 1,000 tons per acre of thickness per acre would require a seam of coal 20,000 feet, or nearly four miles, in thickness under the entire five acres.

With such absurd statements as these being given to the public, it is any wonder that the public mind is nearly always wrong? It is my opinion that much of the dope which has been handed out to the public on this so-called Ballinger-Pinehot controversy is of much the same character and that when President Taft, after investigating the charges made by Land Agent Glavis against Secretary Ballinger, announced that they were based upon nothing but "shreds of suspicion" he knew what he was talking about.

Must Repudiate "Cannonism." To put it briefly, most of the regulars do not believe that they can have any hope of re-election unless to an assured degree they repudiate Cannonism and all that the people have been led to believe that it stands for.

Regulars and insurgents are trying to find on the floor of the house a compromise candidate for the speakership. It may be that all their study of men and conditions will be in vain. Just across the centre aisle sits a man who is just the kind of a man that the next speaker of the house of representatives ought to be.

SEEKING SOUND SPEAKER. Man Is Wanted Who Can Unite the Republicans.

Many Candidates Are Considered, but the Choice Is Difficult—Congressmen Believe That Repudiation of "Cannonism" Is Necessary for Them to Secure Re-Election—Meanwhile Champ Clark Is Hopeful.

Washington, Jan. 26.—If the Republicans carry the house of representatives, the next speaker will be a man under whose rule the majority at the start at least can be united. Apparently everyone in the ranks of the regulars, except the speaker, Mr. Dalzell, and one or two others who disregard the trend of events and show abnormal carelessness of public opinion, seem to be convinced that before any man can be approved as a candidate for the speakership there must be yielding in the matter of the rules and a fixed plan determined upon which shall insure fair play for everybody in legislative procedure.

Stevens and Tawney. One of the most popular men in the house is Frederick C. Stevens of Minnesota, who even was considered for secretary of the treasury when Mr. Taft was making up his cabinet. Stevens has all-around ability of the highest order; he is outspoken yet fair, and he probably has not an enemy among his colleagues.

Why Townsend Will Not Do. Representative Townsend is one of the able men of the house of representatives. From the hour that he entered congress he has been the chosen representative of two administrations in the effort to secure a settlement of laws affecting the carrier corporations.

so often it means repression of individual opinion and a stifling of independent speech.

The real reason for the hasty endorsement of Olmsted by Pennsylvania is to thwart the Middle West in the choice of a speaker. Pennsylvania has thirty-two members of the house. New York comes thirty-seventh. Seneca E. Payne of New York would like to be speaker, but he never has seriously believed that he could. J. Sloat Bassett would like to be speaker, but he is not a man the Republicans would dare elect.

Stambaugh an Open Town—

Notwithstanding the law prohibiting saloons being opened on Sunday, it is not an uncommon sight to see men staggering along the streets of Stambaugh the first day of the week, says the Iron River Reporter.

Money in Blueberries—

Judge L. C. Holden of the Soo, commenting on the pea production of that county, remarks about a canner. "There is another Chippewa product that will surprise more people than the $70,000 pea crop did. It is the $42,000 crop of blueberries picked and shipped to St. Paul and Chicago last year.

Will Have Another Fast Team—

Moses Buchman, manager of Rapid River's crack baseball team of last season and one of the simon pure fans of the upper peninsula, predicts that that Delta county village will have a nine this year equally as strong as that of last year.

According to Manager Buchman he is practically certain of having every man who wore a Rapid uniform last season, including Frost, the crack Mounsling pitcher. No place the size of Rapid River in the state can boast of a baseball team of the caliber that is annually put on the diamond by the Delta county town.

Is Home from Alaska—

Frank Graf, a well-known Menominee man who has spent several years in Alaska, has returned home for a visit. He has been in Alaska in the interests of the Golden Dawn Mining company. The property of this concern is located on the Snake river about twelve miles from the city of Nome and consists of about three thousand acres. It is operated by a system of placer mining, the power being secured by hydraulic pressure.

Won't Pay for Voting Machines—

The authorities of the village of Munising, as well as those of the townships of Munising Au Train and Mathias, in Alger county, have repudiated the claims of the Abbott Voting Machine company which the latter has recently been pressing for payment.

Corporation Counsel P. J. Hally of

Detroit publicly maintains that the voting machine is inaccurate. He holds that Section 11 of the constitution of the act of 1909 is bad, first, because there was no way in which the challenged voter might be kept track of; secondly, that use of the machine as at present constructed does not enable the voter to know what he is voting.

IS ALREADY WELL STARTED

Hotel Superior Claimed to Be Well Adapted for School and Home-Committee Has Begun Active Work.

That the project to purchase the Hotel Superior and convert it into home and college for friendless women and girls is already a state-wide movement is the claim of Marquette women who have been active in the scheme from its inception a few months ago. As is generally known, the idea was first suggested by Miss Maggie Walz of Calumet, the noted Finnish newspaperwoman, suffragist and social settlement worker, and has since been enthusiastically taken up by a number of prominent women of this city.

Briefly stated, the plan is to establish a school, home and sanatorium for friendless women in the building originally built for a hotel, but which has lain idle for several years. In such an institution, foreign girls or those left orphaned without means of support could enter the school and learn how to cook, sew, and do housework, and in a few months' time would be equipped to take positions as competent domestics, whereas now they are totally unfitted to earn their living and often fall a prey to the agents of the white slave traffic, which, it is said, is sometimes about the only course left open to them.

On its face, the idea is one of great importance and extent, and, if established, will stand in the same class of charitable institutions as the Hull House in Chicago or the Moody Institute in New York. The leaders of the movement, however, are not daunted by the thought of the large amount of money and labor that will be required before it can be carried to a successful consummation. Miss Walz is firmly of the belief that when the institution is once fairly started, that it can be made nearly, if not quite, self-supporting. During the last two months, she has broached the subject to many of her wide acquaintance among the prominent club women and charity workers of the country, and states that everywhere she has met with enthusiastic endorsement beyond her fondest expectations.

Noted Women Enlisted.

In Marquette the movement has been embraced by practically every woman's organization in the city, two largely attended meetings of delegates from the various societies having been already held. At the last of these meetings, a committee of nine was chosen, who are taking active charge of the work, and are already soliciting funds with which to purchase the hotel. The first step will be to issue a booklet setting forth the details of the plan in full, which will be distributed throughout the country, wherever it will aid in arousing interest in the movement. This committee has met every day this week and has chosen the following women, all of whom have expressed their willingness to help in every way possible, to take charge of the work in the state and United States: Honorary presidents, Mrs. O. P. Kinsey, wife of the president of Valparaiso college, Valparaiso, Ind.; Dr. Carolyn Geisel, of the Battle Creek sanitarium; Rev. Anna Shaw of New York, national president of the Woman's Suffrage association; Mrs. Belle N. Perry, president of the Michigan Federation of Women's clubs; Board of trustees, Mrs. Anna Walters, editor and president of the Michigan Audubon society; Mrs. Emor L. Calkins, state president of the W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Grace G. Brown, president of the Michigan Woman's Press association; Mrs. Mary Wilson, of Philadelphia, national superintendent of the W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Mary Aleshire of Plymouth, Ill., a noted lecturer; Mrs. Sarah J. LaTour, editor of the official paper of the L. O. T. M. M. Many other women of equal reputation have promised their hearty co-operation in the work.

Suitability of Hotel.
Several committees have visited the hotel recently and all declare it to be well fitted for the purpose proposed. The building was erected at a cost of $300,000, and can be purchased for $30,000, on the following terms: Five thousand dollars payable July 1, 1910; $5,000 payable Dec. 31, 1910; and the balance in amounts of $5,000, payable annually. The building is seven stories high and has 150 bed rooms, forty-five bath rooms and forty-nine fire places. Nearly all of the rooms are fully furnished and the building is in practically the same condition as when it was used as a hotel. There are four fire escapes and four hydrants on the premises, besides the large water tank on the hill in the rear. It is so built that any or all of the upper stories can be closed up if not needed during any part of the year.

The above are statements embodied in the reports of those who have recently visited the hotel. Last summer Mrs. Calkins, Mrs. Aleshire and Miss Walz made a thorough inspection of the buildings, and last week, Mrs. H. O. Bell, Mrs. Westlake, Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Higbee, Mrs. Maywood and Miss Walz made a second visit to the building. The last committee has submitted a report in which it is stated that all of the property itemized in the owners' invoice was found as represented. Messrs. Jacobs and Palmer value the building and furnishings as they stand at $221,000, but, as already stated, are willing to sell out for $30,000.

Well Known Men's Opinion.

Concerning the condition of the building and its adaptability for the purpose intended, the following signed statement has been made by C. C. Van Iderstine, W. S. Wright and E. P. Monteith:

"Marquette, Mich., Jan. 24, 1910.
To Whom It May Concern:

"We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have examined the property known as the Hotel Superior, in Marquette, Michigan, and find both the building and the contents in very good shape, and believe that the same can be put in the necessary repair and condition for the use of the woman's home, college and sanitarium for a conservative amount; the principal expense to be cleaning and decorating. The building itself is in first class shape. We have looked over the list of property made by the ladies committee, also examined the property and should think that the same was very conservative and the property of good value. We believe the price asked by the owners to be almost a gift for the property involved."

The committee of nine is now soliciting advertisements for the booklet which is to be issued shortly. Arrangements have been made with the three Marquette banks so that all subscriptions can be paid at the banks. As the subscription lists are filled they will be placed with the banks and if for any reason the plan should be abandoned, those who have contributed toward the enterprise will be able to get their money back from the bank in which it was deposited. Miss Walz is preparing to devote much of her time the next few months to interesting the women of the state and nation in this enterprise and is sanguine of its ultimate and speedy success.

DATA READY FOR DULUTH ENGINEERS

WATER BOARD TO GET COST ESTIMATES ON EVERY POSSIBLE MEANS OF IMPROVING CITY WATER SUPPLY.

A special meeting of the water board was held last evening, at which the blueprints and profiles of the different plans of improving and extending the city water works system, prepared by City Engineers Cummings, were carefully gone over, preparatory to sending them to the Duluth Engineering company for cost estimates. The board some time ago entered into a contract with the Duluth concern for furnishing these estimates and specifications, with the agreement that the necessary surveys and soundings be made by local engineers.

The Duluth firm will be asked to furnish estimates of nearly every method of improving the water works system that has been considered or talked about during the last five years. Among the plans on which estimates and specifications will be obtained are:

1. Removing the plant to Presque Isle, including the construction of a pipe line and the installation of electric pumps.
2. Extending the present intake about 3,000 feet into seventy feet of water.
3. The purchase and installation of electric pumps at the present plant, to take the place of the steam pumps now in use.
4. Building a stand pipe on the hill between Oak street and Park cemetery, in which a reserve supply of water could be stored in case of failure of electric power or other accident to the plant.
5. Construction of a large reservoir in the basin on the elevation west of Park cemetery, with a capacity of from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 gallons, which might furnish fire protection without the use of pressure pumps, and more adequately fulfilling the purpose of Plan 4.

The necessary data for estimating the cost of all these plans will be forwarded to Duluth within a few days, and the engineers' report will be made public as soon as it is received, in order that the public may vote intelligently on the bonding proposition that is likely to be submitted at a special election within the next few months.

MEMBERSHIP INCREASING.

Marquette Art League Is Enjoying a Steady Growth—Lecture Feb. 1.

The Marquette Art league, though not of rapid growth, is increasing steadily in membership. This is a cause of great pleasure to those most interested in the organization's success, as the prospects seem promising for the fulfillment of the plans and purposes of the league. The greater the membership, the more can be done, and the greater will be the benefits derived from the same by all. In the larger cities many opportunities are offered to hear good lectures on art, and excellent art exhibitions can be seen for little or nothing. Here, however, we are far removed from art centers, and as we have no museum or anything to take its place, our opportunities are naturally limited along these lines. The Art league is therefore trying to do something to overcome this lack of opportunity, by bringing to the city exhibitions of art and lectures on the subject, in order to give the people of our community an idea of what is being done in the field of art. The first lecture is to be given Tuesday evening, Feb. 1. The league members feel highly pleased in having secured A. H. Griffith, the well known director of the Detroit Museum of Art, to give this lecture. Mr. Griffith has done a great deal for art conditions in Detroit and vicinity, and is considered an authority on the subject.

We have selected a choice assortment of Ladies' and Misses' JUMPER DRESSES from among the styles that usually sell for $4.50 and $6.00, to go on sale today at two o'clock. Jumpers that are of good worsted materials and nicely trimmed with fancy braids or Taffeta bands. They come in plain brown and in a varied assortment of dark worsted plaids. It may surprise all you expect—even from here—but they are going to be sold at 2 o'clock TODAY for $1.95.

That same price—A Dollar Ninety-Five—will give you the privilege of buying FUR SETS that cost up to $7.50 a set. They are of real CARACUL FUR and BROADTAIL FUR, in very rich black. The Muffs of these sets are fashioned in the new pillow shapes and the neck piece is a throw, shaped wider at the ends in the "Batwing" design. These sets are worth all of $7.50 a set, but we will sell all we have of them this afternoon at 2 o'clock at $1.95 a set.

The third article that we will sell at $1.95 at the above hour today is a $5.00 Ladies' TAFFETA SILK PETTICOAT, of which there are several pretty shades. They are from a sample lot and we cannot promise more than one of each color, but they are beautifully ruffled, generously cut and have dust ruffles to match the body of the skirt, and are of an excellent grade of Taffeta silk.

N. B.—Please note, that neither of the three lots will be sold before 2 o'clock, because it is our desire to give every one the same chance to choose the best, and judging from the strong value of the three big bargains here offered they cannot remain here more than a few minutes. We therefore suggest prompt attention on the part of all who are interested. "FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED."

The hundred Waists advertised for 2 o'clock yesterday at 49c each, vanished from the sale tables in less than half an hour, scarcely a dozen of them remained.
