

FLOOD AT PARIS IS INEXORABLE

Yellow Tide from the Seine Still Creeps Higher, Every Inch of Water Expanding the Area of Destruction and Desolation.

A Great Sea Above the City, the River Is Pouring a Raging Torrent Into the Metropolis at the Rate of Twenty-Five Miles an Hour—Every Hour New Localities Are Invaded, and Every Fresh Inundation Brings Its Tale of Disaster.

River Higher Than in Centuries. Paris, Jan. 27.—The stage of the waters this forenoon exceeds all records as far back as the year 1651. Every minute brings a tale of disaster.

Spectacle Is Terrifying. The valley of the Seine presents a terrifying spectacle. The flood is miles wide for twenty-five miles above, and a raging torrent runs through the narrow gut of the city at a rate of twenty-five miles an hour.

The Bercy quarter has been abandoned by its residents. The cathedral of Notre Dame is surrounded by water and its spires are flooded.

New York, Jan. 27.—The violent convulsions of the price movements in stocks which have been characteristic of the week's market had another illustration today. Yesterday's sudden recovery was wiped out for the most part and the prices of some of the principal leading stocks were established at lower levels than in the demoralization Tuesday.

The public is being shown that the recently reported plans for a copper merger were not entirely the stuff of which dreams are made.

We hope that congress hasn't the lid on the treasury so tight that the $500,000 for our harbor of refuge project will not be able to get out.

To put it one way, Senators Burrows and Smith are playing a little game of hide and seek with one another, with the president officiating as umpire.

The Ballinger-Pinchot investigation committee has leaped into the very middle of its case. Evidently it means to carry on its business expeditiously.

The Liberals now claim that they were bought out. If it hadn't been for the bribes, beer and intimidation, they assert, they would be in no need of depending on the Irish members.

So confident are all classes in Great Britain that the new Liberal government will have a short and tempestuous life that the parties are already laying their plans for the next campaign before the electorate.

It was fitting, indeed, that Louis R.
 Glavis should be the first witness for the prosecution in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation. He is the accused-in-chief against the Ballinger administration of the interior department.

It is wholly probable, as the gentlemen who are entirely satisfied with that measure assure us, that the new tariff law has not operated to send up the cost of living. The practical political problem facing the Republicans, however, is to persuade an acutely dissatisfied electorate that such is the case.

Somebody took a crack out of Lake yesterday comparable to the recent high jinks in Calumet & Arizona. That stock opened at 70 and was steadily sold down to 67. Lake has, within a few days, sold up to around 90, and the thirty-point decline to the low of yesterday represented $3,000,000 marked off the value of the property. Yet it is as good as it was ten days ago, and by all accounts mightily good at that. The dramatic fluctuations in the stock shows the unsettled state of sentiment among people interested in listed securities, and suggests that it may be some time before the situation becomes steady.

Reports indicate that the boycott on meats that has been declared in various cities has not been without a certain effect. Prices have been shaded by the packers somewhat, and in some instances by the retail dealers. The net saving to the consumer has not been large, however, and has not been enjoyed by the boycotters, for they are, presumably, still on the boycotting job. And if they all at once became consumers of meat again it would probably not be long before the slight price concessions would vanish. As an economic measure the boycott will not amount to much, in all probability, but it is fixing the public's attention in a spectacular way on the most serious problem of the day, and may indirectly be the means of accomplishing some good.

The sharp decline in the price of creamery butter is a direct result of a widespread boycott by consumers—not a regularly organized movement advertised and heralded throughout the land—but a quiet determination on the part of consumers not to pay the high prices," says the Detroit Free Press. "The buyers began to leave the market alone several weeks ago, and the number of the strikers steadily increased until stocks piled up on the hands of dealer and manufacturer. Neither could make money while that state of trade continued and the only logical way out of it was to put prices at a point where the people would buy and eat. While the manufacturer may regret the lowering of price, there is joy with the other two parties to the deal, the middleman and the consumer. The former makes money according to the volume of trade and thrives better with low than with high prices. Everybody knows why the consumer should be happy."

A Houghton dairyman has adopted paper bottles for the distribution of his milk. This form of package for milk is comparatively new, and as yet has had a limited introduction. It possesses such marked advantages over the glass bottle, however, that it will, in time, doubtless largely replace it. The paper milk bottle is made of a high-class of paper board, treated with paraffine. It is impervious to moisture, does not become milk soaked and its contents are secured from the air by a stopper of the same material which makes a practically airtight jointing with the bottle. When the milk has been emptied from this package it is thrown away. It can be readily seen that it is more sanitary than the glass bottle can be, if it is carelessly handled, though the glass bottle makes a fairly satisfactory receptacle in which to deliver milk. The use of the paper bottle, however, is a great time saver for the dairyman, as delays and trouble caused by the collection of glass bottles —to say nothing of replevin suits—are obviated. For the time, it is said, the cost of the paper bottles is somewhat high, but it will be perhaps made lower by improved methods of manufacture, so that they can come into general use.

 When this is the case, it appears that the last step in the absolutely sanitary delivery of milk will have been taken.

The certainty that the balance of power in the next parliament will rest with the Nationalists promises, as related in the press dispatches yesterday, to bring forward a new issue, that of "home rule for the English." It is claimed that, generally speaking, the Irish Nationalist member represents a much smaller number of constituents than the members of the house of commons from other parts of the United Kingdom. The ratio of representation in Ireland is said to be 1 to 7,000 voters, whereas in England and Wales it is 1 to 12,000 voters. In other words Ireland has nearly twice as many members in proportion to its population as have England and Wales, and is largely overrepresented compared with the other parts of the kingdom. There is, however, no chance that this issue of "home rule for England" will gain any prominence in the new parliament. The unity of interest that will exist between the Nationalists and the Liberals will prevent it from receiving any serious consideration while the next government lasts. It will be difficult, too, for any government to grapple with this alleged inequitable representation effectively, for the British parliamentary system is not one of accepted rule as far as representation in the house of commons is concerned, but is a product of compromises and arbitrary adjustments against the logic of fair representation. It will not be easy to change any one phase of its inconsistencies, and in any event the task can never be undertaken effectively until the Irish Nationalists are in the minority. This "home rule for England" cry has perhaps been raised to obscure the "home rule for Ireland" issue.

The town of Munising and certain precincts of Alger county have followed the example of Escanaba and are attempting to repudiate contracts with the Abbott company by which their precincts were supplied with that company's voting machines. It is difficult to see how the defendants in the cases brought by the Abbott company are going to get away from meeting their obligations under the contracts. They were entered into in good faith by both parties, as far as appears, and the Abbott company lived up to its part in them. Why the cities, towns and townships involved should not be held for a full performance of their agreement is a thing that they will perhaps have considerable difficulty in showing the courts. If they have been counting on any help from a decision that the voting machine law is unconstitutional, Judge Cagle's decision at Saginaw this week indicates that they will be disappointed in that hope. They will also have some difficulty showing that the Abbott machines are not adapted for use in general elections. They respond satisfactorily to exacting tests, as was shown in many places in the upper peninsula a few years ago. In the places which are now attempting to repudiate the contracts with the Abbott company there has been little or no honest effort to actually use the machines in elections. Objections against them have been conjured up on slight basis, and the prejudice in favor of the paper ballot has been insurmountable, in many cases under circumstances that suggested it was favored so highly because it would lend itself readily to jugglery whereas there is no heating the machines and their use insures absolutely honest elections.

THE ST. JOHN'S BANQUET.
 For the first time since they entered the field the four candidates for governor met together at St. John's this week, at the annual banquet of the Clinton County Republican club, and each addressed the gathering. Chase S. Osborn, of the Soo furnished the sensational turn to the occasion by frankly presenting his ideas in regard to the fitness of the candidacy of the Hon. Patrick H. Kelley, lieutenant governor, possibly in pursuance of his announced purpose to deal candidly with the personal aspects of each of his opponents' campaigns.

Of Mr. Kelley he said: "Mr. Kelley is a fine fellow, and I love him, but he has a wrong idea of public service. He doesn't hold one job long enough to make a record in it before he is after another.
 If he was my boy I would say to him,
 'go out and hoe potatoes and saw wood for a while. Get away from the political job holding business and go out into the world and do something real.'" It is to Mr. Osborn's credit that he delivered himself of his frank advice when Mr.
 Kelley was, figuratively speaking, at his elbow to hear it.

It is Mr. Osborn's idea that the best preparation for an intelligent choice of a candidate for governor by the Republicans of the state is a frank discussion by the candidates, in a spirit of friendliness, of their respective titles to the support of a majority of the voters in their party. Certainly such a discussion is bound to be enlightening, and it might be profitable if it could be gone through with in the spirit of friendliness referred to. But on the latter point we have grave doubts. The Hon. Patrick H. Kelley may have smiled at Mr. Osborn's frank and pointed remarks, but if he did we have no doubt that he was cussing softly to himself under his breath, and was no whit pleased. If the candidates are going to deal with one another without gloves, we only hope that they manage to keep away from one another's throats and that they leave more of the G. O. P. in Michigan than Messrs. Warner, Bradley and Earle left in the fall of 1908.

Another interesting extract from Mr.
 Osborn's undoubtedly dynamic address follows:

"If this new primary law means anything," he said, "it means the people want better things. As Mr.
 Kelley said, I was a candidate for governor once before, ten years ago.
 I ran against three millionaires, and they squandered their money like drunken sailors debauching the state, and Michigan has been in a condition of political intoxication ever since. I don't want to buy the office of governor and I don't want Musselman or Kelley or Montgomery to buy it. I don't want Burrows to buy the senatorship. I have just recently read the provision of the primary law that prohibits the use of money or patronage by candidates, and I think now that I did not do right when I paid two men to go to certain parts of the state and ascertain the sentiment of the people. I don't think Senator Burrows should have a paid man working for him in this gathering."

"I want the state cleaned up," Kelley told you about the money the state spends, but he didn't tell you that some of it went into the pockets of the people, and some of it into the Glazier bank. I will contribute $1,000 to the campaign funds of each of these candidates for their legitimate expenses if they will join me in contributing $2,500 each to a secret service fund to ferret out and prevent corruption of the electorate."

The early promise is thus for a colorful campaign. Mr. Osborn alone is an assurance that it will descend to no dead level of monotony. He has put into it all the ginger it has so far displayed, and we have no doubt will continue to enliven it by his outspoken discussions of public questions. Mr. Osborn's campaign promises to be the most vigorous one put up by any of the candidates.

RURAL CARRIERS PROTECTED.
 New Law of the Nation Imposes Heavy Penalty for Assault.

Washington, Jan. 27.—While for many years city letter carriers have been protected by federal statute from assault when in uniform and engaged in the performance of service, rural letter carriers have not enjoyed such protection. A new law has now become effective, which protects any carrier. In speaking of the matter, Assistant Postmaster General Degraw said:

"Considering the large number of carriers employed in the rural delivery service and the fact that many of them have to travel for miles over lonely highways, but few cases of assault have been brought to the attention of the department in recent years. The desired protection has been secured by a section contained in the revised federal penal code, which became effective January 1, 1910, which makes it a violation of the law to willfully or maliciously assault any mail carrier. In speaking of the penalties which are imposed will assuredly act as a deterrent on malicious persons inclined to assault carriers and reduce such assaults to a minimum."

The more expensive a thing is, the easier it is to get along without it.

Are Microbes
 in Your Scalp?
 It Has Been Proved that
 Microbes Cause Baldness

Professor Unna of Hamburg, Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments conducted under the observation of eminent scientists.
 This microbe lodges in the sebaceous gland, the natural hair oil, and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

Dandruff is a contagious disease, which is largely due to a destructive microbe, which when left to pursue its course causes itching scalp, falling hair and baldness. Dandruff is caused by the microbe affecting the sebaceous glands, which produce the sebaceous matter, which later then unhealthily dries up and scales off.
 We have a remedy which will, we honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots, tighten and revitalize the hair roots and overcome baldness, so long as there is any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy called "93" Hair Tonic will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as we state.

It will frequently restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease;

 Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by making every hair root, follicle and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

A LAUGH OR TWO.

Too Much Hustle.
 Senator Tillman, discussing the Southern railway wreck at Healy Fork, wherein George Gould and his eldest son nearly lost their lives, said:

"There is, I think, too much hustle, too much hurry, about some of our railroads.
 This hustle, when we turn to the year's unparadise casualties, seems as indecent as the St. Taylor case."

"At St. Taylor's funeral the doctor and the undertaker were conversing in low tones.

"Too bad," said the undertaker, "that poor St's wife wasn't with him when he passed away. How did it happen?"

"Mr. Taylor," the doctor whispered,
 "was up to the time ordering her mourning outfit."

"The undertaker, with a bitter smile, turned away to supervise the funeral proceedings.

"Hold on, gentlemen; this won't do,"
 he said sternly. "Where is the sixth pall-bearer?"

"He's upstairs," another pallbearer explained, "proposing to the widow."

How He Got Off.
 Professor Scott Nearing, of the University of Pennsylvania, delivered recently in Philadelphia a brilliant address upon the theme that "Woman's function is not to bear many children but to rear good children."

A lady at a dinner in Locust street, after Professor Nearing had concluded his lecture, which had aroused much interesting discussion in Philadelphia, with Mr. Roosevelt's "race suicide" theories.

"The fact is," said Professor Nearing, laughing, "these race suicide folk think sentimentally rather than analytically.
 They are deceived by sentiment, as a certain New York police commissioner once was."

"This commissioner, a fine young man, found it his unpleasant duty to sit in judgment on a police officer who had got drunk. When the officer appeared to plead before the commissioner, he had fourteen children with him, ranging in years from children to three or four—fourteen children, neatly if plainly clad, quite crowding the commissioner's office, and looking up in the policeman's face with anxious affectionate eyes.

 dren to him with a solemn, sweeping gesture of paternal love.

ISHPEMING
 ANNUAL BANQUET
 A BIG SUCCESS

OVER 150 SENIOR MEMBERS OF THE
 Y. M. C. A. ATTENDED FUNCTION
 WEDNESDAY EVENING.

MANY FINE ADDRESSES

William P. Belden, Joseph Hodgson, E.
 E. Scribner, William J. McCorkin-dale, Rev. M. M. Allen, John L.
 Bradford, William Cowley, G.
 D. McMill and L. E. Buell
 Were the Speakers.

The first annual meeting and banquet of the Young Men's Christian association, held Wednesday evening in the gymnasium, was a decided social success. Over 150 members were present, representing the industrial enterprises of the leading business and professional interests of the city. Among the guests of honor were G. D. McMill, international industrial secretary of the association; L. E. Buell, state secretary, and O. C. Davidson, general manager of the Oliver Iron Mining company's mines on the Menominee and Gogebic ranges.

The gymnasium was decorated with American flags and the tables were prettily arranged by the ladies of Grace church, who served a fine supper. After all had been seated a group picture was taken by T. J. Bennett of Childs art gallery. While the banquet was being served, the Y. M. C. A. orchestra received a number of selections. The organization's Glee club and male quartet were heard between the addresses and Dr. E. G. Robbins sang solos that were much appreciated.

W. P. Belden's Address.
 Charles Burt, president of the association, was toastmaster. In his introduction he spoke briefly of the good that the Young Men's Christian association is accomplishing in this and other places, and commended it for the fine work it is doing for the community.

Burt introduced William P. Belden, general manager of the Oliver Iron Mining company, as the first speaker. Mr. Bel-den's topic was "Why the Corporation Stands for the Y. M. C. A." His address was as follows:

"It is unnecessary to spend any time in showing that the large companies do in fact stand for the Y. M. C. A. My subject assumes that. This building in which we are privileged to meet, and many such buildings throughout the country, made possible by large contributions from corporations, attest their confident belief in the value of this work."

"What is the reason for these generous contributions?"
 "If we are among those who attribute to corporations no characteristic other than the desire for profit, and no aim or purpose other than to earn the largest possible dividend, then we would answer that these gifts are merely the result of enlightened selfishness; that the men who make them believe that they will derive from the erection of these splendid buildings and the general work of this association, benefits of equal or greater value to them."

"This answer is partly, but as I shall presently point out, not entirely true.
 Experience has shown that the work of the Y. M. C. A. supplementing as it does that of the school and the church, is of great value to large employers of labor, as well as to the community generally."

"Men can achieve great usefulness and high position without the education afforded by the schools. We have conspicuous examples among us of such success. Men may receive high compensation in business, and perhaps wield a great power for good, and yet not be religious men. But the time has gone when men could win and keep the confidence of their business associates and be raised to positions of great trust and responsibility, without being moral
 men. If there are exceptions where such men are tolerated because of their other great qualifications, they but serve to emphasize the importance of this rule as applied to the majority of men."

"The age in which we live will not give the great prizes in business and in professional life to men of bad habits and dissipated character. It demands the clear brain, the steady hand and the strong nerve of the man who has not impaired the faculties God has given him by any of the vices which flourish around him."

Association of the Young Men's Club.
 "This association reaches the young men. It becomes the club where they meet for social intercourse, to play games or for quiet reading. Through its physical department it aims to make them stronger men; through its educational work to make them more useful men, and through its religious work to make them better men."

Why Corporations Support the Y. M. C. A.
 "I answer, because they believe it pays them, both from a philanthropic and
 a business, or economic, standpoint. Because it tends to show the employees that
 the men employing them not only have
 an interest in them for the labor they
 can perform, but that they also wish to
 assist them to greater attainments,
 clean recreation during their spare
 hours, an opportunity to improve themselves both mentally and physically, to enable them to become more valuable
 citizens and more intelligent workmen, hence far more valuable men to their
 employers, which naturally results in
 mutual advantages both to the employer
 and employee, insuring to the one better
 and constantly improving efficiency, and
 to the other a better life."

Captain Hodgson's Talk.
 Captain Joseph Hodgson, who spoke on the same subject as Mr. Belden, introduced his talk by a story of how one Irishman explained to the other the meaning of a chaffing dish, namely, that it was a frying pan that had gotten into society. He said he felt as though he stood somewhat in the position of the frying pan, as he was not a capitalist,
 but only a working man, having to labor for his living. His address was as follows:

"I answer, because they believe it pays them, both from a philanthropic and
 a business, or economic, standpoint. Because it tends to show the employees that
 the men employing them not only have
 an interest in them for the labor they
 can perform, but that they also wish to
 assist them to greater attainments,
 clean recreation during their spare
 hours, an opportunity to improve themselves both mentally and physically, to
 enable them to become more valuable
 citizens and more intelligent workmen,
 hence far more valuable men to their
 employers, which naturally results in
 mutual advantages both to the employer
 and employee, insuring to the one better
 and constantly improving efficiency, and
 to the other a better life."

FOR S.S.S. RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is in reality an internal inflammation; a diseased condition of the blood cells which supply the nourishment and strength necessary to sustain our bodies. The disease is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood, which comes from indigestion, weak kidneys, constipation, and other irregularities of the system. This uric acid produces an inflamed and acid condition of the blood, and the circulation, instead of nourishing the different portions of the body, continually deposits into the muscles, nerves, joints and bones, the irritating and pain-producing acid with which it is filled. Then follow the painful and torturing symptoms of Rheumatism.

PERSON WON HANDICAP MATCH.

Threw Wirtanen in Eight Minutes But Found Gronlund a Tartar.

The handicap wrestling match at the Kerredge theater Wednesday evening was won by Chris Person of Duluth. Person threw Wirtanen in eight minutes with a hammerlock and bar hold. Gronlund was a tougher customer than Wirtanen and the men wrestled for forty and one-half minutes. In the last hitch Person threw Gronlund off the mat and the South Range man refused to return. Gronlund and Person had been wrestling for four minutes when Person doubled up Gronlund's leg with a toe hold. The punishment was so severe that Gronlund stopped work and Referee Olson declared the match won by Person. The judges did not agree with the referee and the men went on wrestling and wrestled for thirty-six and a half minutes. Gronlund weighs twenty pounds less than Person, but he is a wiry and slippery individual. His work was all on the defense and Person was unable to get him over on his back. The favorite of Person is a toe hold and hammerlock. He used three repeatedly without success.

The main bout was succeeded by one between Eskola and Kulppo, in Greece-Roman wrestling. Eskola won in seventeen minutes and a half. The second preliminary was in the Cornish style and was between John Clark of Tri-mount and Angus Ford of Calumet. Clark won the first fall in five hitches. They wrestled six more hitches without either man getting a fall and the match was declared a draw.

A challenge was read from Frank Burns of Boyne City, Mich., asking for a match with Gronlund some time next month. Chris Person issued a challenge to Karl Lelto Feb. 4. Each challenge has been accepted.

Person weighs 185 pounds; Wirtanen, 167, and Gronlund, 158.

COPPER COUNTRY MORTUARY.

Erek Silvola, a pioneer resident of the copper country, died late Wednesday night at the home of his son, Sakris Silvola, in Calumet. He was seventy-six years of age. He came to the copper country in the early seventies. He leaves two sons, Alex and Sakris, both of Calumet. The latter, who is well known throughout the county, is employed as interpreter in the Houghton circuit court.

Thomas J. Lavers, Jr., passed away at the Boston location, after being ill a week with pneumonia. He was twenty-nine years of age. He is survived by his wife and three children.

WOMAN'S ATHLETIC CLUB.

The Finnish Ladies' Athletic club of Calumet has been organized with a membership of more than fifty. Mrs. A. Laita of Laurium, formerly a director of physical culture in public schools in Finland, is the director of the club. The women will take up athletic work and calisthenics. In the Finnish schools the study of physical culture is compulsory.

The Finnish Athletic club of Calumet will hold an exhibition of athletic work and calisthenics at the Italian hall some time early in February.

NEW TEACHERS ARE NEEDED.

It is likely that more instructors will be engaged for work in the Calumet High school and will commence their duties about the first of February. The enrollment will be much larger the coming semester than ever before, large classes going in from the eight grades. The examinations are now being conducted. A number of new subjects will be taught in the high school the coming semester, among them commercial geography.

CAPTAIN ROGERS HOME.

Captain Fred Rogers has returned to Houghton from Buffalo, where he attended the annual meeting of the Licensed "Fugent's" Protective Association as a delegate from the Torch Lake lodge. The meeting was a very tame one, according to Captain Rogers. There was plenty of discussion regarding certain rules, but no changes were made. The association will meet next year in Toledo.

POULTRY SHOW CLOSURE.

Last night marked the closing of the annual Copper Country poultry show which was held this week in the Light Infantry Armory at Houghton. The exhibition has been a record breaker in point of attendance and the number of chickens entered. President Stone stated yesterday that the quality of birds was superior to those ever entered before.

CHARGED WITH GRAND LARCENY.

Andrew Niemi, alias Hjalmar Jankala, has been arrested at Hancock on the charge of grand larceny from the person. He is now in the county jail, awaiting examination. Complaint was made by Matt Kolari, who alleges that while in a Hancock saloon he was robbed of $40, which he says was taken from the inside pocket of his coat.

Mining News

GRANBY.

The total ore shipments from Granby mines during the past year were 1,067,983 tons, an increase of about 40,000 tons over the preceding twelve months, but the tonnage during 1909 was restricted on account of the work of enlargement going on at smelter. During its ten years of operations the Granby company has steadily expanded, and not only has it mined and treated close to 6,000,000 tons of ore in that time, but its smelter has been enlarged to a capacity of 5,000 tons per diem, making third largest in the world, and its mines at Phoenix equipped to ship up to 6,000 tons daily if necessary.

Granby's mining properties consist of the Old Ironsides, the Knob Hill, Victoria and Gold Drop mines, and thirty-seven adjoining claims, some 1,100 acres. There are four shipping outlets which are equipped so that any two, if necessary, could maintain an output of 4,000 tons or more daily. The present shipments are running over 4,000 tons of ore daily, and represent four trains of twenty-five-ton cars from the mines to the smelter every twenty-four hours. More than two miles of development work was done at the mines, consisting of 7,100 feet of drifting and crosscutting, 3,806 feet of raising and 120 feet of sinking, a total of 11,815 lineal feet. This included the opening up of a new ore area on the Monarch claim, which makes its shipments through the Gold Drop outlet.

At the Granby smelter the work of enlarging its capacity by 25 per cent, commenced in 1908, was completed last month. The dimensions of the blast furnace building, which is of similar construction to that of the converter building, are length, 290 feet, and width, eighty-four feet, the main span being seventy-one feet and a beam thirty feet. The treatment capacity of the works, with eight furnaces running, is 4,500 tons of ore a day; the converter capacity is 30,000,000 pounds of copper per annum. The quantity of ore treated in 1909, subject to revision of figures in December, taken as estimated was 1,067,983 tons. Railway connection between mines and smelter is by both the Canadian Pacific and Great Northern railway systems.

SOUTH LAKE.

South Lake in its No. 1 diamond drill hole has cut three copper-bearing lodes which may be regarded as worthy of further investigation, by diamond drilling at any rate, and by shaft sinking if sufficient drill work shows a continuity of the lodes.

The first of these lodes was perforated shortly after the drill started and it may be the Evergreen lode, although this is not definitely determined. The second lode was a hard fine-grained sandstone or quartzite with particles of copper scattered through it. The third course of copper ground made its appearance in the drill core first in an amygdaloid fifteen feet thick, with the last two feet rich in copper; and directly beneath this a fine-grained sandstone came in, resembling quartzite, carrying copious though finely disseminated copper soon fourteen feet. This disclosure was made when the drill was bottomed at a depth of 1075 to 1,100 feet. The real interest in South Lake, however, is centered around its No. 2 drill hole, which is located half a mile almost due west of the Lake shaft in the direction toward which the Lake lode is dipping. This hole is driving vertically with the object of exposing the Lake lode. The depth to which it will be necessary to drive in order to accomplish this is governed by the incline which is maintained like the really the 45 degrees, while if it is as flat as 35 degrees less than 1,700 feet in depth will require the lode. As this is wholly virgin territory and the overlie of the Lake lode has not been explored extensively it need occasion no surprise if other copper-bearing lodes of merit are cut by this hole before the Lake lode is reached.

YUMA.

President Samuel Brady of the Yuma Copper company reports the conditions highly satisfactory. A depth of 328 feet on the sinking equivalent to 288 feet vertically, has been reached in the winze, which is down 100 feet from the drift at the 138 foot level. Sinking has been suspended for some time and energy has been centered on the extension of drifts at the bottom level, but it is planned to resume sinking very soon. For shipment openings recently came into a fine deposit of carbonate ore averaging 7 per cent copper, the assays having been obtained from samples taken across a seven-foot face. Other deposits of carbonate ore have previously been opened, but there has been a steady increase in enrichment and size with depth. The openings are being carried down in close proximity to an andesite dike which has an average thickness of about twenty-eight feet. Mr. Brady is of the impression that this dike is really the important feature of this part of the Yuma property, and he feels that eventually the commercial copper values will be contained in it instead of in the adjacent ground. At surface the dike is entirely barren of copper, but openings driven into it at the present depth show 1 per cent copper, and Mr. Brady's theory thus receives substantial support. Most of the showing so far has been in copper carbonate ore, but there are some finely disseminated sulphides in evidence.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The showing of the Lake lode at the lower openings continues excellent, disclosing copper-bearing rock of the same general characteristics as opened in the upper levels. It is claimed that the drill at the bottom has now proved copper below a depth of 850 feet.

It is said that Victoria continues to develop good copper ground at the twenty-second level of its producing shaft, both in the east and west drifts. The new shaft, which was started last month, has not yet reached sufficient depth to bring it into the proper course which was cut by the diamond drill operating in that vicinity.

Two of the churn drills operating on the western portion of the Miami Copper company's property, have entered the level of the new lode at 215 and 185 feet. A double-drum hoist has been installed at the No. 4 shaft of the property and sinking will be continued immediately from the present depth of 450 feet to a depth of 700 feet.

No mill run of La Salle rock will be made for six weeks and probably not for two months. The management has no definite plans for milling as yet. The Tamarek mill is working every head and has all it can handle. The lower and later openings of the Tecumseh shaft of the La Salle show the finest lake rock yet found in this property.

The drill at the Indiana passed through the copper-bearing bed for forty feet, and the hole will be continued to the limit of the drill's capacity. A new drill has been put in operation six hundred feet north of the present drill. The explorations of this drill will give information as to the strike of the lode, and from the information obtained there will be no difficulty nor delay in locating a shaft.

Ones has arranged for a second drill which will go into service in the horizon of Oneco's new lode as soon as received. The drill sinking in No. 5 drill hole has attained a depth of 850 feet and will continue until the Oneco lode is encountered, after which it will be removed to the eastern limits of the property and sunk vertically to intersect the underlying New Baltic lode. The No. 5 hole is expected to tap the Oneco lode at a depth of 975 feet.

The officials of Calumet & Arizona state that the physical conditions at the mine were never better. The surplus is increasing steadily and the next dividend is likely to be increased, as the company is now earning better than $1.50 quarterly. Shipments of 6 per cent ore have started from the Courtland property. These will continue at the rate of 100 tons per day. There is now ore enough on hand to supply the mill for more than pay all the outlay in that camp, if the Calumet & Arizona decides not to exercise the options on the property.

No. 1 shaft, Ojibway, has first-class stamp rock highly mineralized in the 500-foot level and in the 450-foot level, going north. The same condition is true of the same level drifts at No. 2 going north toward No. 1. Drifting in these levels in the No. 2 shaft has recently started and the showing is first-class. Additional drills are going to be put on very soon and the openings pushed from increasing out. An assessment of $2 per share is payable in installments of $1 in March and $1 in October. This will provide funds to stimulate operations and additional forces will be put at work and bring the property to a productive point sooner than expected.

The Mayflower Mining company's property, comprising 840 acres adjoining the Wolverine and South Kearsarge (Oneco) mines on the east and probably carrying the New Baltic lode, as well as the lode recently cut by drill on the Oneco property, is likely to demonstrate values soon, as a systematic plan of diamond drilling is now under way and results may be expected any time. A lode carrying good values (supposed to be the same vein cut at Oneco) has been located on the Torch Lake property by magnets and diamond drilling, and is also said to have been found on the St. Louis property (owned by Calumet & Hecla). The Mayflower company has a capital of 100,000 shares with $10,000 cash in the treasury.

By an overwhelming vote the "Rose faction" won out at the stockholders' meeting of the Twin Buttes Mining & Smelting company. Out of a total of 2,000,000 shares, 1,971,000 shares were represented. The Rose faction controlled 1,535,000. Following are the names of the members of the new directorate elected: D. S. Rose, E. P. Hackett, Michael Eades, W. A. Barber, W. B. LIGHTNING REVEALS OIL.

Petroleum Bubbles Out of Great Furrow Torn in Ground.
Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 27.—"The lightning ploughed a great furrow down the side of the old canyon and gouged out a big hole at the bottom, and 200 barrels of crude petroleum are bubbling out every day now," says Mr. Josie Pettie of Madison, Beaver county, who was in Guthrie taking out a charter to develop and exploit her remarkable oil well.

Mrs. Pettie says she has been offered $10,000 per acre for the land around the well, but she has refused to consider any bids whatever. She has a farm in Beaver county and has until recently had a hard time eking out a livelihood from the barren, dry farm, which is located in a country where rainfall is rare. During a severe thunderstorm a stroke of lightning uncovered a spring down in a dry canyon on her farm, and this spring is now running crude oil in large quantities.

This is the first positive knowledge that oil in paying quantities existed in that part of Oklahoma, though several test wells have been drilled.

Mrs. Pettie incorporated her company as the Prairie Valley Oil and Gas company of Shattuck, with $20,000 capital.

A Massachusetts man worth $10,000 is discovered to have hidden it all but $500,000 from taxation.

On Sale At All Leading Dealers—Most Popular Remedy at Good Barber Shops—25c, 50c and $1.00 Bottles

Indian Dandruff Remedy is the only preparation of its kind that ever met with immediate approval on the part of the public and all progressive dealers, including barbers. This is because Indian Dandruff Remedy is not a mere perfumed, alcoholic hair dressing. It has medicinal properties of a highly curative and invigorating character, acting as a solvent upon the dandruff and scalp scales, stimulating circulation, nourishing the hair roots. Indian Dandruff Remedy does not contain alcohol, or glycerine or oils, as ordinary hair dressings do. And it leaves the hair soft, silky—healthy. Stops hair from falling, from splitting or prematurely turning gray.

Two or three applications are enough to prove every statement. You will see all the difference in the world in your hair and in the feeling of your scalp, after only one application. The dandruff will begin to disappear immediately.

LAKE HARD HIT.

Ontonagon County Stock Furnished the Fireworks Yesterday.

Lake furnished the pyrotechnics for the innocent bystanders at the brokers' offices yesterday, and its violent decline of seventeen points was a subject of general discussion. It opened at 77, but immediately began to go off and declined rapidly until it reached 60. From 60 it had an advance of several points, but it failed to hold and the stock closed at 60, asked a fraction. Indiana, the other Ontonagon county favorite, was off slightly, but not in proportion to Lake. The sentiment is badly unsettled, as the comments of the local traders plainly show.

LOWER STATE NOTES.

LANSING—Enraged because his wife was ill in bed and unable to furnish him more money to buy whiskey with, G. W. Coons, a laborer residing on East Michigan avenue, burned all of the wife's clothing in a stove. The smoke attracted the attention of a policeman and he turned in a charge. When the police arrived Coons was placed under arrest, and if his wife refuses to make a complaint against him he will be arraigned as a common thief.

LANSING—Governor Warner states that he has accepted an invitation from the Michigan Association of New York to make an address at the annual banquet March 1 in that city. He shall talk on "Primary Reform," which is a live topic down there, "you know," said the governor, "and I think I can give them a different idea regarding the primary election system in Michigan and the views of the people regarding primary reform than they obtained from their legislative committee which visited this state."

MARSHALL—The soft drink parlors of Henry P. Benner, former school keeper, were raided by Sheriff Graham and three of his deputies, and several jugs of whiskey, wine and a number of bottles of beer were found. Benner's wife strongly protested against the officers' actions, saying that her husband had purchased the alcoholic beverages as a remedy for her stomach trouble. The story does not prevent them from arresting Benner, however. The officers also decided that the place was too filthy for Benner's two little girls, aged eleven and nine, and they will petition the juvenile court to send them to the House of the Good Shepherd in Detroit.

GRAND RAPIDS—Writing in spasms caused by ptomaine poisoning from eating canned tomatoes, E. W. Stoddard, his wife, two little children, aged two and ten, respectively, were found nearly dead at their home, by neighbors who called to spend the evening. Physicians after working over the family for an hour, announced that in all probability the father and mother would recover, but the chances of the children, Anna and Fred, are slim. The tomatoes were eaten at luncheon, and shortly after all were seized with violent cramps, which prevented them from calling for assistance. The children became unconscious, and Stoddard and wife were helpless. They lay in this condition five hours before they were discovered.

MARSHALL—Helen Raynor, the five Creek girl who is being held in jail at this place as a witness against a number of Chinamen, has nearly recovered from her recent illness. The girl's illness is attributed to cigarette smoking. She claims that when she lived with the celestials she smoked thirty a day. When informed that there were three Chinamen confined in the jail she begged to be locked up. She said she would be harmed if they should discover that she was to testify against them. Henry Clement, the father of the Clement girl, the companion of Helen Raynor, is an employe of a factory in Battle Creek. The employes of his department told him if he desired they would mob every Chinaman in town.

BATTLE CREEK—Thrown on his own resources and compelled to care for himself owing to the separation of his parents, Charles Noble, nineteen, attempted self-destruction in his home here by shooting himself with a 22-caliber revolver. The bullet which entered the body just above the heart, was deflected by a rib and traveled around where it imbedded itself in the back. He will recover. He is a son of John Noble, a Grand Trunk engineer. Noble is employed at the Grand Trunk roundhouse here and for several days had acted in a manner indicating despondency. Some time ago he was discharged from the navy, after having lost two fingers in an explosion. This is thought to have had some bearing on his attempt to end his life.

LANSING—Although so young that she is classed legally as an "infant" and "compelled to get a next friend, Lenoy Hamilton, to start divorce proceedings against Thomas Fox, Vera O. Fox has at last secured a second degree of divorce, besides burying one husband. She is but seventeen years of age, yet has been married three times. The hearing on her application for divorce was held in November last Judge Collingwood was both to grant the decree, as he declared that for a seventeen-year-old girl he thought Mrs. Fox had had enough trials and should not be allowed to roam about marrying different men until she had more mature and womanly judgment. A supreme court decision was against Judge Collingwood, however, and Vera is once more free.

LANSING—Governor Warner has announced the appointment of Dr. James F. Rimer, of Davison, Genesee county, as a member of the state pardon board, to succeed Dr. Henry F. Thomas of Saginaw, whose term expired last November. Under ordinary conditions Dr. Thomas would doubtless have been reappointed as the law requires that there shall be a physician on the board, but the free manner in which the members have released convicts during the last year has incurred the wrath of Governor Warner and has called for unfavorable criticism from other states of the body. In a letter, which the chief executive sent to the pardon board a few weeks ago, he made some rather strong statements condemning the manner in which they had issued pardons, and it was expected that there would be a shake-up of some sort.

ST. JOHNS—To make the State League of Republican clubs a more distinctive factor in Michigan politics than it ever has been and to make its annual meetings take on something of the character of the old state conventions by drawing together all the wheelhorses of the party, is the ambition of President Sam Kelley, as he unfolded it to the members of the Clinton County Republican club at their banquet. For years the league's annual meetings have been held in connection with the banquet of the Lincoln Republican club of Grand Rapids, and the banquet has always been the big event and the league meeting an incidental affair. This year Kelley proposes to have the annual meet-

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co's correspondent at New York yesterday telegraphed as follows: "The market was extremely feverish throughout today's session, with declines general. The catastrophe in Paris was responsible for considerable foreign selling, and afforded the dominant element in favor of lower prices another opportunity to depress prices. In addition, the liquidation which has characterized recent operations was again in evidence, and the investment demand was of small proportions. The rather poor demand for bonds is said to be causing adverse comment in those institutions which have new financing to conduct in the near future. The long side of the market is still attended by a great many uncertainties which makes caution necessary, but at the same time it may not be wise to press sales on the decline, as support was noticeable in various issues during the day's session, although we still think there are stocks for sale on all the hard spots."

Paine, Webber & Co's Wheat Summary.
Paine, Webber & Co's wheat correspondent had this to say concerning yesterday's wheat market: "At one time today the bears had a fighting chance in wheat because of decided weakness in the New York stock market. The dip in line with the stocks came after the market had its opening break. Early selling was encouraged by weak Liverpool cables and a liberal increase of 450,000 bushels in Minneapolis stocks so far this week. Minneapolis quoted cash prices 2 to 2 1/2 over May. St. Louis cash was very strong at close to top prices for the year and there was a brisk demand here, with prices ranging 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 over May for No. 2 hard. The situation is not clear enough to justify buying on strong wells, but there can be no mistake about the safety of taking on some May wheat on any good depression, so long as it is at the present discount under the cash price."

REACH POLE BY AEROPLANE.
Dayton, O., Jan. 27.—Aeroplaning to the North pole was pronounced a reasonable feat by Commander Robert E. Peary in a discussion here with Wilbur and Orville Wright, who exhibited a significant interest in the problem. Mr. Peary met the Wright brothers after delivering a lecture for the benefit of the tuberculosis society and Orville immediately asked the explorer about polar possibilities. The necessities, as seen from the Wrights' point of view, he explained, were surfaces that would permit a machine to start in a flight, alight and start again. "From what I've seen, I should feel safe in venturing the speculation that an aeroplane would find no trouble getting started," replied Mr. Peary. "Once in flight it could find enough open space to alight and start again at any stage of its journey, until the pole had been reached."

The Wrights then quizzed him about the weight and volume of necessary supplies.

Writing from Boston yesterday, Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say of the copper stock market: "Advantage was taken of the rally in prices yesterday to further reduce weak accounts today, and there was considerable liquidation on that account throughout the whole session. The weakness in Union Pacific acts as a damper on the

CONFUSION IN NEW YORK.

Both of the Political Parties Are Badly Disorganized.

Republicans Anxiously Await Roosevelt; They Expect Him to Adjust the Machinery—An Excellent Opportunity for Democrats if They Had a Real Party; but They Also Are Demoralized—All Keeping an Eye on Hearst

New York, Jan. 26.—The resignation of Herbert Parsons as chairman of the New York Republican County Committee completes the disorganization of the party machine in this state. There is an abundant crop of candidates to succeed Mr. Parsons, but, as usual, the number of men who are waiting for the chief arrived home, before turning in his letter of resignation is a puzzle, even to many of his friends. Some have it that the combination of things which have been worrying him for the last year or so finally got on his nerves to the extent of making him lay down his burden at the earliest practicable moment following election. There were, of course, questions of patronage to be distributed by those city officials who were elected upon Republican nominations, and this no doubt moved Mr. Parsons to remain in office until after the new municipal administration had come in. Now, however, most of the city offices have been distributed, and he no doubt found it a convenient time to retire.

It is believed in many quarters that the retirement of Mr. Woodruff from the chairmanship of the Republican state committee, will be the next thing in order. Certainly, Mr. Woodruff has about as little to commend him to the party as the manager of the last two gubernatorial campaigns as Mr. Parsons had after his record in the campaign in New York County. It is to be sure, in his letter of resignation, made great point of the fact that Tammany had been defeated in the last municipal campaign. He even crowned himself with a laurel wreath of glory on account of the part which he had in promoting the success of the party.

Parsons must have forgotten when he did so, his own remarks, after he had sadly examined the returns from Republican strongholds, right after election. These showed the complete demoralization of the Republican vote so far as the majority of the city districts are concerned. He admitted that some of the voters were radically wrong. In his valedictory there was no mention of this earlier despair and not a word of credit to Mr. Hearst for electing the other nominees on the Fusion ticket.

So it is obvious, quite aside from anything Mr. Parsons may have said in his letter, that he is a very unhappy man as he goes out of office. Mr. Woodruff has thus far preserved his smiling front, even if he has toned down his wistfulness, but the results of his leadership, both in Brooklyn and in the state at large, do not commend themselves to the voters, any more than the accomplishments of his Manhattan colleague. There is good occasion for worry in the Republican camp as the next state campaign is approached, particularly in view of the fact that Governor Hughes has announced that he will not accept any conditions. The governor, no doubt, could save the state for his party, but Woodruff's early admission of that fact and consequent affirmation of the governor's policies (with the exception of direct nominations) does not qualify him to continue in the management of the machine during another campaign.

So we have this peculiar situation: Hughes declining to run again—Parsons resigning—Woodruff likely to follow suit—John Raines dead, and the up-state leaders of the party embroiled in the very uncomfortable bribery scandal, which one of the most trusted regulars brought upon them. If there were any democracy in the state worthy even of designation as a political party, it would have an opportunity such as comes about once in a generation. Unfortunately, for the Democrats and for the Republicans, there is no such opportunity.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.
Chicago, Jan. 27.—Grains had a heavy tone here today, wheat showing the greatest gain, with a slight rally toward the end of the session. The range for the day was 1/2 to 3/4. The May closed at 47 1/2 to 47 3/4.

Copper Metal Prices.
New York, Jan. 27.—Copper on the New York Metal exchange was dull today, with spot and all deliveries quoted at 126 1/2. The London market closed easy, leaving last part of its early advance, with spot quoted at £30. 13s. 9d and futures at £31, 11s. 3d. Local dealers quote Lake copper at 13.62 1/2 to 13.87 1/2, electrolytic at 13.50 to 13.52 1/2 and casting at 13.25 to 13.50.

New York Cotton Market.
Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say of yesterday's cotton market: "This market is slowly digesting the crop. The cotton that was covered by contract hedges is being slowly absorbed and the uncontracted cotton has not yet been reached. We are 100 points too low for Southern spot values. Our market must advance or spots must decline in time. The spinner buys cotton on the soft spots only, the bears likewise. The bulls are afraid and are doing nothing."

CHICKEN THEFTS' NEW PLAN.
Chicken thieves, who have adopted new methods in carrying out their operations, are raising chicken coops at Escanaba. Shortly after 11 o'clock the other night, Victor Laaha, who lives on South Sarah street, was among the first to notice the vicinity of his chicken yard and quickly dressing and rushing out he chased two crows from the poultry house. The gates and doors about the chicken yard had been securely fastened, and in light of other similar depredations committed near his home the Escanaba man is confident that the dogs were turned into the coop by men. At the home of a neighbor the dogs killed all of the chickens on the premises and tracks showed that after the dogs had completed their work the fowls were picked up and carried away.

Will Have Fast Ball Teams.
Both Gladstone and Rapid River fans promise to follow the action that has been taken in Escanaba in getting early to work in planning for the coming baseball season. That Rapid River will have a fast team is a fact accepted without question, as that town has always produced an aggregation of diamond stars. Last year Gladstone got into the game for the first time in several years and in a single season turned out a team that was a credit to the city and one that was the equal of any upper peninsula aggregation. This year, it is declared, that record will be duplicated. Otto L. Mertz, head of last season's team as business manager and demonstrated what can be accomplished if the proper interest in the work is taken. Mr. Mertz has announced that he will not undertake the work of piloting another team through a baseball season because of the press of his personal business affairs, but it is promised that he will have a worthy successor.

Munising Merchant Weds.
The partners of the Old Fellows temple at Manistique presented a brilliant scene Tuesday night. The occasion was the wedding of Saul Sautson of Munising and Miss Lillian Winkelman. The groom is a prominent merchant of the Alger county metropolis, and the bride is a niece of Sam Winkelman, one of the most popular merchants of Manistique. The parlor and banquet hall were decorated with maidenhair ferns, carnations and smilax. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Zimmerman, of Sault Ste. Marie. The bride and groom stood under a monster flower and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The guests from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. I. Sautson, Seman Sautson, Hymen Sautson, Munising; Moses Sautson, Lorraine O.; S. Sautson, Grand Marais; Mrs. Schaffer and children, Chicago; Mrs. Cook, Miss Anna Lazarus, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenbloom, Myer Rosenbloom, Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Goldman, Mrs. M. Present, Harry Presant, Cadillac, Mich. The music was furnished by McLellan's Opera House orchestra.

More Belgian Hates.
Lake Linden sportsmen have taken up the question of "planting" Belgian hares in the nearby woods and marshes, and a subscription paper will be circulated for the purpose of securing contributions for the purchase of the animals. The hares may be bought at fifty cents the pair for spring delivery. It is believed that funds for the purchase of at least a hundred pairs will be procured with little difficulty. The rabbits will be delivered after the snow goes and steps will be taken to protect them during the breeding season. The sportsmen are in favor of a closed season for rabbits from March 1 to Nov. 1, and it is probable that the matter before the state legislature at its next session. Rabbits are becoming very scarce in the copper country and the hunters fear that they will be exterminated within a few years unless something is done to prevent it. Some of the Belgians planted by Hubbell sportsmen last fall have turned up Postmaster Wise bagging one of them this week. It is believed that the Belgians will cross with the native rabbit, producing a strain of superior qualities both as to food and game.

Meat War at Hubbell.
Hubbell, a Torch Lake town, in the copper country, is in the throes of a public war, and, unlike most wars, the public is being benefited. For some time several Hancock meat markets have been running wagons into Hubbell and Lake Linden, underselling the markets there and carrying off a good share of the trade. One of the Hubbell sportsmen has decided to counteract this competition by offering even lower prices, and the following schedule on beef has been posted:

Rib boiling 60
Shank 100
Chuck roast 12 1/2
Rib roast 14
Sirloin 16
Porterhouse 18 and 20
This means a cut of from two to four cents on all classes of beef, and consumers who have been thinking of joining the boycott club are hastening to make hay while the sun shines by laying in beef while the prices are down. Other Torch Lake meat dealers do not know just what to make of this action. Some have considered joining in the movement, but after comparing packers' prices with those quoted above they have decided they cannot do other than stand pat.

The Hancock dealers still running into the Torch Lake towns. How long they will continue to run is a question, but it is said that the Hancock dealers intend to meet the cut and go it one better, all of which is good news for the general public. If the meat war continues long Hubbell promises to become the buying center for Houghton county, for in no other location, so far as can be learned, are prices so low as those quoted above. Some of the differences are as follows:

Hancock Hubbell
Rib boiling 80 60
Shank 100 100
Chuck roast 15 12 1/2
Rib roast 16 14
Round steak 18 14
Sirloin 18 16
Porterhouse 25 to 27 18 to 20
Meat dealers generally do not take kindly to the cut, and the packers are said to be very much offended by the difference.

TOO MUCH "DOG."

Friend of Roosevelt Says That We Go Too Strong on Style.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The American people could reduce the cost of living if they would put on a little less style, thinks Representative W. W. Cocks, friend and neighbor of ex-President Roosevelt, a Quaker and lover of the simple life. "Thirty or forty years ago," said Representative Cocks, "we did not eat less than we do now, as some people are trying to prove, but we put on less 'dog.' Style comes high and must be paid for. This increase of love of display extends from the top to the bottom of the scale of life. "For instance, I have a Pole working for me. He has several children, every last one of whom wears patent leather shoes. His wife has a $60 steel range in the kitchen and a piano in the parlor. Now, in the old days, people of limited means did not have these luxuries. The children were barefooted in the summer and wore heavy, serviceable cowhide shoes in the winter. Only the very well-to-do thought they could have pianos and a $15 or $20 stove was good enough for almost anyone's kitchen. "People used to carry purchases home from the stores. Now they insist on having them delivered and the dealer must charge for his horse, his wagon, his harness and his delivery man."

HE FOUGHT WITH DEWEY.
Melrose, Mass., Jan. 27.—Rear Admiral Nehemiah Mayor Dyer, honored for distinguished service in two wars, died here today, following an attack of acute indigestion. Admiral Dyer was rapidly promoted during the Civil war and in the Spanish-American war was second only to Admiral Dewey in naval service at the battle of Manila bay, for which he was advanced seven months in rank. He was seventy-one years old.

Upper Peninsula
A Meat Dealer's Views—
The drop in meat prices in various portions of the country, due to the trust boycotts, have not affected this part of the United States, nor do I expect them to. Up here, while the price of meat is high, it is hardly comparable to that paid in the East and in the larger cities, where the rebellion is assuming such large proportions. There the packers charge anywhere from $12 to $15 a beef more than they do the meat dealers about here. Of course, they get the finest kind of beef, while in this vicinity what is known as the medium is disposed of mostly. This is the statement attributed to a prominent meat dealer at Menominee in response to a question as to whether the fall in prices would be felt in that city.

Chicken Thieves' New Plan—
Chicken thieves, who have adopted new methods in carrying out their operations, are raising chicken coops at Escanaba. Shortly after 11 o'clock the other night, Victor Laaha, who lives on South Sarah street, was among the first to notice the vicinity of his chicken yard and quickly dressing and rushing out he chased two crows from the poultry house. The gates and doors about the chicken yard had been securely fastened, and in light of other similar depredations committed near his home the Escanaba man is confident that the dogs were turned into the coop by men. At the home of a neighbor the dogs killed all of the chickens on the premises and tracks showed that after the dogs had completed their work the fowls were picked up and carried away.

Will Have Fast Ball Teams—
Both Gladstone and Rapid River fans promise to follow the action that has been taken in Escanaba in getting early to work in planning for the coming baseball season. That Rapid River will have a fast team is a fact accepted without question, as that town has always produced an aggregation of diamond stars. Last year Gladstone got into the game for the first time in several years and in a single season turned out a team that was a credit to the city and one that was the equal of any upper peninsula aggregation. This year, it is declared, that record will be duplicated. Otto L. Mertz, head of last season's team as business manager and demonstrated what can be accomplished if the proper interest in the work is taken. Mr. Mertz has announced that he will not undertake the work of piloting another team through a baseball season because of the press of his personal business affairs, but it is promised that he will have a worthy successor.

Munising Merchant Weds—
The partners of the Old Fellows temple at Manistique presented a brilliant scene Tuesday night. The occasion was the wedding of Saul Sautson of Munising and Miss Lillian Winkelman. The groom is a prominent merchant of the Alger county metropolis, and the bride is a niece of Sam Winkelman, one of the most popular merchants of Manistique. The parlor and banquet hall were decorated with maidenhair ferns, carnations and smilax. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Zimmerman, of Sault Ste. Marie. The bride and groom stood under a monster flower and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The guests from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. I. Sautson, Seman Sautson, Hymen Sautson, Munising; Moses Sautson, Lorraine O.; S. Sautson, Grand Marais; Mrs. Schaffer and children, Chicago; Mrs. Cook, Miss Anna Lazarus, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenbloom, Myer Rosenbloom, Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Goldman, Mrs. M. Present, Harry Presant, Cadillac, Mich. The music was furnished by McLellan's Opera House orchestra.

MADRID A MERE FIGUREHEAD.
Men Fleeing from Nicaragua Say That Irias is the Real Ruler.
Port Limon, C. R., via New Orleans, Jan. 27.—Dr. Carlos Passos and Senors Hilobrande Rocha and Fabio Guerra have just returned from San Juan de Managua, which place they fled to escape the persecutions of the government. They took to the mountains and underwent great privations before reaching the Costa Rican border. They declare that Dr. Madriz is a mere figurehead, and that Irias, the former minister general, under Zelaya, is the real power in the country. The political chiefs are the same now, as under the Zelaya regime, with the exception of Rivas, who has been superseded. A rigid censorship of the news is maintained, and nothing goes through the telegraph or cable offices that has not been censored.

Follows in Zelaya's Footsteps.
The governor of Madriz is not that to which the people of Nicaragua looked forward. Not only is his line of conduct a continuation of that of his predecessor, but his accession to power has already been followed by blood, fifteen people having been wounded, two of them seriously, by Masaya, at a meeting gotten up in his favor. In Granada, orders have been issued to intimidate those citizens who have not been won over to the new regime, and the chief of police of that place has carried his unconstitutional proceeding to such a point as to threaten with shooting such a worthy citizen as David Arellano.

Such is the determination of Madriz to walk in Zelaya's footsteps that he has exacted from the conservatives of Granada the payment of the last contribution unjustly imposed by Zelaya, threatening them with punishment in the event of its not being paid.

Irias is Disliked.
"Irias is not persona grata in Nicaragua," says Passos. "He is regarded with anything but confidence, since he is the copartner, or better, the accomplice, of Zelaya in all his wicked deeds. He is a man of evil omen. If at the present time he has the apparent ascendancy, it is because he has heads of departments under his thumb. He follows to the letter the system of terror implanted by his late chief, and in that system Madriz is nothing more than an automaton."

"We left Nicaragua on account of the persecution to which we were subjected by the spies of the government. We took to the mountains, and after untold privations reached this country. No one can escape from Nicaragua at the present time in an open and free manner unless he happens to be a well-known supporter of the administration, and then only with a special passport."

Democracy. The disappointing course of the Democratic League has already been commented upon and the exposure of its self-appointed leaders' deking with Tammany has given it a name to disgust independent Democrats. Mr. Conners of Buffalo remains in charge of the Democratic party machinery, but he unfortunately, had to be shown up as the recipient of $2,000,000 of stock certificates in connection with a deal of two after the wicked Republicans at Albany were accusing each other of bribery. Plainly, Mr. Conners is not in a position to appeal to the moral sense of the voters.

Within the Republican ranks there are a number of men qualified to lead the campaign next fall as the party's candidate for governor, and to administer the affairs of the state if elected. Superintendent of Insurance William H. Hotchkiss, and Clark Williams, formerly superintendent of banks and now comptroller of the state, are two of the men who would be named by any of the so-called leaders of the Republican state machine, if there were any opposition whatever. It might even be doubtful if Mr. Hotchkiss or Mr. Williams, with their splendid records, could get themselves elected unless the party behind them showed some signs of reformation.

Therefore, it would not be surprising, in case the governor persists in his refusal to run, to find Mr. Hearst once more holding the balance of power between the discredited Democratic organization in the state campaign of next fall, just as he did in the municipal campaign last fall. This cannot be said to be the most desirable fruit of the three or four years of political agitation which has been going on in this state, since Governor Hughes appeared above the horizon. One is disposed particularly to regret that such a prospect should follow the governor's retirement, when there are men like Mr. Williams and Mr. Hotchkiss available for duty, more holding the balance of power according to his standards of public service. But the existing party organizations must assume their responsibility in the premises. It is no wonder that the men who have been ruining the chances of Republicanism in this state are looking forward to the return of Mr. Roosevelt in the hope that he may serve them and the party from the consequences of their own acts.

MULE A "DEADLY WEAPON." Man Goes Free on That Ruling by a California Court.
San Diego, Cal., Jan. 27.—Judge Thorp held today that a team of Missouri mules may be considered a "deadly weapon" for the reason that the vicious, high-kicking animals, led toward a supposed enemy, may do bodily harm with their hind hoofs.

The decision was rendered at the preliminary hearing of Cleve Walsh, arrested on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder by shooting E. W. Zilba. Walsh's plea of self-defense against the various weapons used to set the score were whips, shovels, pitchforks, shotguns, revolvers, and last, but not least, a team of mules.

After a fight Zilba, driving his team of mules, met Walsh, who swore Zilba drove the animals straight into him. As the long-eared Missouri products were ready to raise their hind legs to kick him, Walsh sidestepped and drew a revolver, which he fired at Zilba. The judge said no jury in California could convict a man for defending himself against the attack of vicious mules, and ordered the defendant discharged.

FINDS OIL IN CONNECTICUT.
New Milford Farmer to Sink Shaft Early in the Spring.
New Milford, Conn., Jan. 26.—Because of the leasing for a long term of years of several farms of large acreage last week, it became known that Sheldon Hendrix of Northville, in the town of New Milford, Conn., had discovered oil of 78 per cent illuminating character. The discovery caused quite a sensation, particularly among those farmers who think the veins run through their farms. That there is oil in this section of Connecticut is not news to the Standard Oil company.

The company officials learned of the discovery made by Mr. Hendrix, but so far have not communicated with him. The ground where the oil shows on the surface in a swamp has been inspected by the company and Mr. Hendrix told a reporter that several attempts have been made to discourage him from sinking a shaft.

As he will begin sinking a shaft early in the spring and figures he will have to go to a depth of 2,100 feet.

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

The bear element certainly dominated the markets today, driving down prices in New York from the opening until the leaders showed losses of from three to five points, and all were weak and lower. A rally toward the close resulted in a partial recovery but the tone of the market is not reassuring.

The Boston market had a very cheerful appearance at the opening, the entire list being higher, but the break in New York was too severe to be resisted, and the bears soon had things all to themselves. Lake rapidly dropped from 77 to 60. Calumet & Arizona, after advancing to 73, dropped to 64, later recovering to 69. The net losses were not so great except in a few instances. The sensational drop in Lake, which has been generally expected, should tend to clear the situation, and improve the market position of all the coppers.

BONY DIXON TO PLAY IN ISHPEMING

WELLKNOWN PITCHER HAS ACCEPTED A POSITION WITH THE OLIVER IRON MINING COMPANY AND WILL JOIN LOCAL TEAM.

"Bony" Dixon, the wellknown baseball player, who was early in the week, paroled from the Marquette prison, has accepted a position in the Oliver Iron Mining company's blacksmith shop, in this city, and it is expected that he will play ball with the Ishpeming league team next summer. Many of the fans here, who have seen Dixon play, regard him as the best twirler in the upper peninsula. It was largely through his work that the prison team won its victories over the league teams in this county last season. Dixon is not only a wonderful pitcher, but he is also a heavy hitter. Dixon is married. His family came up from Marquette Wednesday. They will start housekeeping here, and he will begin work at the shop within a day or two. Dixon had offers of positions at one or two other places, but he feels that he will do better playing with the Ishpeming nine than on any other team in this region.

There will not be a shortage of ball players from which to select a team prior to the opening of the league series, as a number of men are writing here expressing their desire to play with the Ishpeming nine.

As the organization that handled the team last year has disbanded, no steps are being taken to secure players. George F. Ruez, who managed the team during the latter part of last season, has announced that he will not accept the position again, and it now looks as though it would not be an easy matter to secure a competent manager, as a number of the business men who have been proposed for the position have positively refused to accept it. Many of the fans are of the opinion that it is about time for the league officers to adopt rules, also to decide whether Escanaba or Munising shall be given a place in the league.

PLAYING INDOOR BALL.

Several former Ishpeming boys, who are in the employ of the Oliver Iron Mining company at Hibbing, on the Mesaba range, are playing on indoor ball teams composed of the company's workmen. In a game between two of the teams played a few evenings ago, three former Ishpemingites were in the lineup. "Dode" Kerr pitched for the "Chesties," but his team lost to the "Outlaws" by the score of 23 to 9. The latter nine was composed of office men at the Hull-Rust mine. Among them were "Rudie" Clifton, who played first base, and Lee McNulty, one of the short stops. A Hibbing paper states that "Dode" Kerr not only pitched, but captained, managed and financed the nine. The losers provided an oyster supper for the players in both nines, the umpire and other officials.

Mr. Braastad purchased the mercantile interest of the estate of the late Nicholas Laughlin on Wednesday, and the firm is to conduct the business in Mr. Laughlin's former stand. Julius Braastad will have charge of the enterprise.

The members of a girl's club gave a "picnic" shower yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Ethel Bradford, in honor of Miss Beatrice Edly, who is to be married Feb. 2 to Hugh Tilson, the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's chief engineer on the Swanzy range. The wedding will take place at the Grace church. The bride-to-be was presented with a beautiful clutzy.

LARGE RESERVOIR OR A STANDPIPE?

WATER PROBLEM MADE MORE COMPLEX BY PROPOSALS FOR CREATING RESERVE SUPPLY.

OUTLINE OF TWO PLANS

Duluth Engineers to Estimate Cost of Storage Tank East of Park Cemetery and of Big Reservoir Farther West.

The two plans for city water reservoirs which were submitted to the water board by City Engineer Cummings Wednesday evening bring out quite a new angle in the agitation for the improvement of the city water supply and are of sufficient interest to warrant fuller explanation than has yet been given the public.

In compiling his data on these two reservoirs, Engineer Cummings has been guided by adaptability for the purpose intended, rather than the cost of construction, and whether or not either of the plans is financially within the reach of the city will not be known until the cost estimates of the Duluth Engineering company are received.

As it is generally known, the purpose in getting plans on reservoirs is to provide a reserve supply of water in case it should be impossible to operate the plant for any length of time. In case it is decided to replace the steam with electric pumps, it will be necessary to have a reservoir, as the city electric plant will not be able to furnish power for the operation of the pumps during the early evening hours, at least in the winter months.

Standpipe Near Cemetery.

The first is to build a standpipe on the hill between Oak street and Park cemetery, which would hold about three million gallons, or a little more than the day's supply of water for the city. The elevation of this standpipe would be about 150 feet, which would not afford fire pressure of itself and it would be necessary to operate the pumps as at present in case of fire. The expense of such a standpipe, however, is believed to be within the reach of the city, and would afford a fair measure of protection in case of emergency, such as a breakdown at the pumping station or at the electric power plant.

The second plan is to construct a large reservoir, with a capacity of from five to ten million gallons, in the rural basin west of Park cemetery and north of the G. L. club house. Engineer Cummings has carefully gone over the ground in that vicinity and believes it the best place for a reservoir, though his distance from the city would make its connection with the city water mains rather expensive. Mr. Cummings states that the walls of such a reservoir have been largely constructed by nature and that the water could be stored at an elevation of from 220 to 240 feet with comparatively little masonry work. It would be necessary to build a wall on the west side for a distance of perhaps 125 feet, the maximum height of which would be thirty feet. On the north side, some artificial wall would also have to be built. The lay of the ground is said to be such that but little excavation would be necessary, and that a reservoir 200 feet wide by 350 feet long would be a comparatively simple problem of engineering construction.

Fire Pressure Questionable.

It is questionable, however, whether or not an elevation of 240 feet would give pressure without using the pumps, though it would certainly provide a sufficient reserve supply of water for all possible emergencies. This elevation, it is computed, would give a fire pressure in the downtown district of from eighty to ninety pounds, which would probably be sufficient for everything except extraordinary fires. In the higher parts of the city, however, the pressure would be much less and fire pressure could not be obtained except by using the pumps, as at present. Were it possible to have a reservoir at sufficient elevation to insure fire pressure, the expense of operating the water works plant could be materially reduced, as an engineer would need to be on duty only during the hours necessary to pump water enough to supply the city's needs.

It is evident that the large reservoir would be much more expensive than the standpipe, and the question is whether or not the advantages it would afford are worth the extra cost. No one has attempted to estimate the cost of either plan, this being the purpose for which the Duluth engineers have been engaged. The report of the Duluth engineers on these reservoirs, and as well on the intake extension, the removal of its plant to Presque Isle and the advisability of installing an electric pumping system, will be awaited with much interest.

MANY TICKETS SOLD.

Nearly All Places at Commercial Club Banquet Spoken For.

The committees in charge of the annual banquet of the Commercial club are now completing the arrangements for the affair. It will be held this year at the Hotel Marquette, and the number of guests that can be cared for is something short of 100. Over seventy tickets have been placed, a large number having been put out in answer to requests from members, and there are few more sit-tings to be disposed of. The banquet promises to surpass the first annual affair last year in interest. Rev. Ames Maywood will preside as toastmaster, and the principal address is to be delivered by the Hon. Chase S. Osborn. Austin Farrell, superintendent of the Pioneer Iron company, will also be heard, and there will be responses from two or three local speakers. It is explicitly stated that the banquet will have no political bearing. While the menu is being served selections will be played by one of the orchestras.

New By-Laws to Be Proposed.

At the regular meeting of the Commercial club in February it is expected that new by-laws will be proposed for the club. The members of the club have been prepared at the suggestion of several members who have been actively interested in the club's affairs, and are said to possess advantages over the by-laws under which the organization has been working the past two years. The aims and objects of the organization, as outlined, are to be the same, and the changes proposed are designed to place a larger measure of responsibility on two or three strong committees. It is thought that the membership will favor the new by-laws, when their object has been explained.

THEATRICAL.

"The Fox."

Daniel Ryan, an actor with a splendid reputation in the East, but practically unknown west of Detroit, is to make his initial appearance in Marquette at the opera house this evening. The play that Mr. Ryan and his associates are to be seen in here tonight is "The Fox," a story of French-Canadian life, written before and said to be superior to "The Wolf," a big New York success. The press and public, everywhere that Mr. Ryan has so far played in this vicinity, are unanimous in praise of the play and players. "The Fox" will be repeated at a matinee Saturday afternoon, and Saturday night Mr. Ryan and company will present "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

UNITED STATES CENSUS.

Change of Time for Taking Enumeration in Townships of U. P.

James T. Bennett of DeTour, Chippewa county, supervisor of the census for the Twelfth district of Michigan which comprises the entire upper peninsula and Isle Royale, has taken up with the director of the census the advisability of changing the date for commencing the enumeration in many districts on account of climatic or other conditions that interfere with the proper conduct of the work. I authorize you to defer the enumeration in such parts of your district as you refer to until May 1st, if need be. You will be expected to take the enumeration of the incorporated cities beginning on April 15th. It may be well for you to inform the applicants for appointment as enumerator in the districts in which you propose to defer the enumeration of that fact, as it may make some difference with their applications.

Very respectfully,
"E. DANA DURAND,"
"Director."

Mr. Bennett says in compliance with the above that the enumeration of all incorporated cities and of villages of over 5,000 inhabitants in 1900 was taken beginning April 15th; in all other districts, beginning May 1st.

BOSTON GETS CONVENTION.

National Educational Association to Convene There in July.

Marquette teachers and educators, in common with those all over the United States, have just learned of the decision of the executive committee of the National Educational association to hold the annual convention of the association in Boston, July 2-8, 1910. At the meeting last summer, it was voted to hold the next annual convention in San Francisco or Boston, it being left with the executive committee to decide which of the two cities should be selected. Delay in making this decision has been due to inability to obtain satisfactory concessions from the railroads in the matter of rates. Recently, the Grand Trunk and the eastern lines have offered a round trip rate of one and one-fourth fare on the certificate plan, which rate, the committee hopes, will also be made by other trunk lines. It is likely that the 1911 convention will be held in San Francisco. The department of superintendence will hold its next annual meeting in Indianapolis March 1-4. Programs for this meeting are now being sent out to educators and superintendents of schools throughout the country.

TWENTY BOTTLES BASIS OF SUIT

JURY TRIAL IN JUSTICE BYRNE'S COURT TO ADJUST DISPUTE OVER PROPERTY VALUED AT SIXTY CENTS—WILL BE APPEALED.

A jury was impelled in Justice Byrne's court yesterday to pass upon a case involving the replevin of twenty milk bottles, valued at sixty cents. In spite of the apparent insignificance of the property in controversy, the case was tried with all the solemnity and legal red tape that would be necessary to settle an action involving hundreds of dollars.

The suit is the result of a writ of replevin served upon M. A. Quandt, a local milk dealer, on complaint of F. H. Vandenberg, proprietor of the Marquette City dairy, who maintained that Quandt was using milk bottles which belonged to the Marquette City dairy. On this writ, thirteen bottles were taken from Mr. Quandt's milk wagon by the marshal several weeks ago.

Mr. Vandenberg maintained that he has lost hundreds of bottles during the last few months, and that Mr. Quandt admitted having some of them in his possession but refused to give them up. Mr. Quandt testified that it was the custom of all the downtown Marquette City dairy bottles, which he would be glad to exchange for his own. Mr. Quandt's bottles are not marked with his name, and Quandt claimed that Vandenberg refused to exchange unless he could identify them as his own. A short time afterward, Mr. Vandenberg got out the writ of replevin. After hearing the evidence, the jury returned a verdict in favor of Mr. Quandt.

Mr. Vandenberg stated last evening that he intended to appeal the case to circuit court, as there was a principle involved which was of great importance to him. He declared that he is willing to return any bottles that belong to other milk dealers, which can be identified as such, but as he has a number of plain bottles of his own, he says that he cannot afford to turn over every and any bottles without the Marquette City dairy stamp on them, as he has no way of knowing but what he is exchanging his own unstamped bottles for his own stamped bottles, thereby furnishing bottles for other dairymen in the city. Furthermore, he says that the practice of other milkmen selling milk in Marquette City dairy bottles is injuring him in a business way.
