

EXPLOSION KILLS MORE COAL MINERS

Dozens of Men Are Entombed in a Kentucky Colliery and Most of Them Are Believed to Have Perished.

Fire of Supposed Incendiary Origin Badly Damages an Illinois Mine, but Without Causing Loss of Life—At Primero, Colo., the Scene of Monday's Disaster, at Least Seventy-Nine Workers Are Dead and Forty-Nine Bodies Have Been Recovered.

Drakesboro, Ky., Feb. 1.—Midnight—The disaster at the Browder mine has proved greater than at first reported. Sixteen bodies have been recovered, eight of whom have been identified; ten other men have been rescued alive, and twenty-five to sixty miners are supposed to be still entombed. The rescuers are working desperately to save the men who may yet be living. Of the ten rescued alive, five were badly injured and nine were practically unharmed.

Drakesboro, Ky., Feb. 1.—Ten men are known to be dead and seventeen others are missing, presumably penned up in entries by fallen slate, the result of a gas explosion in the Browder coal mine at noon today. Eight bodies had been recovered tonight, all horribly mutilated.

On account of the accumulation of gases in the entries where the explosion occurred, 170 feet beneath the surface and 700 feet back from the shaft, it was impossible to begin the active rescue work for six hours.

Lives of 100 Men Threatened. At the time of the explosion there were one hundred men in the mine, more than half of whom were in the west entry. All of these latter hastened to the cages and were quickly drawn to the top. Later all in the east entry except the unfortunate twenty-seven sought their way to the shaft and were brought out. In the immediate vicinity of the explosion ten men had been working. The remaining missing men were in entries a few feet distant from the workings where the greatest known loss of life occurred. It is believed that all of the men entombed there are dead.

The cause of the ignition of the gas is unknown. The pit wound is a pitiful scene, wives of the dead and missing miners crowding to catch the reports of the rescuers. Jesse Jonathan has been rescued alive, but he is so badly burned that his recovery is doubtful. It is believed that the explosion was caused by a track repairman entering an abandoned room with an uncovered lamp. This room was shattered. The mine is not airtight and the fans are working.

Mine Fire in Illinois. Peoria, Ill., Feb. 1.—While fire was raging in the shaft and upper works, tonight, a rescue party entered the escape shaft at the Sholl mine at South Bartonville, a mile away from the main shaft, and brought two miners, nearly dead from suffocation, to the surface. A fire believed to be of incendiary origin started in the tippie at 5:30 o'clock this evening. All the upper works and much of the wooden construction in the main shaft were burned. The blaze was extinguished by volunteers two hours later. An investigation will be made. Only the two men were in the mine. The day shift of 110 men was relieved at 4 o'clock, and the night shift does not start until seven.

Many Bodies Recovered at Primero. Primero, Colo., Feb. 1.—The bodies of forty-nine victims of yesterday's explosion in the Primero mine of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company lie tonight in a temporary mortuary installed in the machine shop. A large force is engaged in the rescue work. The company officials who are not supervising the mine work have turned their attention to the relief of the families of the victims. The coroner has impounded a jury and the relatives and friends of the identified dead have begun their preparations for the burials.

Only One Survivor. The cause of the disaster continues shrouded in mystery. Leonardo Virgen, a Mexican, the only surviving miner and who is supposed to have been working comparatively near where the explosion originated, is unable to state clearly what occurred. Following the report, a cloud of dust and smoke poured out. Large pieces of timber were hurled from the main entrance more than a hundred feet. Strong cars in the mouth of the mine were blown off the track. The rescuers who followed the main ventilating shaft several hundred yards and entered the main slope through a crotchet found the first dozen bodies in the A7 entry. On pressing further they found Leonardo Virgen early this morning near the mouth of entrance to A8. As he was waking from a sleep, Virgen said, "Please, may I go home now?" This afternoon Virgen had sufficiently recovered to join the watchers around the entrance.

All the Missing Believed Dead. The rescuers worked with renewed energy, hoping that others were still alive, but none had been found up to tonight. Those still missing are regarded as lost. Today and tonight the workers, reinforced by miners from the surrounding camps, pushed along, with frequent reliefs. Tonight the advance guard were within four hundred yards

WORK IS RESUMED AT CHERRY, ILLS.

Seal That Had Kept the Underground Passages Closed for Two Months Is Removed from the Mouth of the Mine.

Protected by Oxygen Helmets, Explorers Descend Into the Shaft and Find It Filled With Deadly Gases—These Noxious Vapors Are Now Being Sucked Out by a Big New Fan, and Already the Task of Recovering the Corpses Is in Progress.

Cherry, Ills., Feb. 1.—Work was resumed in the St. Paul mine tonight by scores of men, following the removal of the seal that had kept the subterranean passages closed for two months. Frantic efforts will be made to clear the mine of the noxious vapors, wall in any smoldering fire and recover the 160 odd bodies, entombed in the lignite labyrinth since Nov. 13.

The tear wells of the women have been unlocked by the probability that husbands, fathers and sons will be rescued in time. Most of the men are wearing oxygen helmets, protected by oxygen tanks, during the tedious task of removing the tons of cement and steel rails from the mouth of the shaft were young widows.

When James Webb, the mine expert of the University of Illinois, and Thomas Moses and Hector McAllister, state mine inspectors, protected by oxygen helmets, descended 350 feet and procured a sample of the gases, nerves became tense. "An unprotected man could not live long enough down there to take off his cap," said Moses, on returning.

The gas showed the following components: Carbon dioxide, 5.8 per cent; oxygen, 5.2 per cent; carbon monoxide (white damp) 0.3 per cent; carbon dioxide (black damp), an undetermined percentage. The temperature was sixty-six degrees.

Cap Removed from the Air Shaft. Following this report, President Newsam of the state mining board ordered the cap removed from the air shaft, so that the poisonous fluids could be sucked from the mine. Meanwhile the helmet men descended in the north cage and lacked oil for the oxygen helmets, through the shaft wall last fall by the Chicago firemen for hose leads.

The voices of the explorers coming squeakily from under the metal helmets reverberated up the shaft and caused one woman to exclaim: "The boys are calling for help, or his spirit condemns us for leaving him in that infernal hole so long." This expression, passed along the other women, caused various pathetic little scenes, ending by some nurses, always on hand, aiding suffering, being several hysterical women homebound. No body ventures a definite estimate when the corpses will be removed.

Volunteer Workers Begin Operations. Before the first crew of miners descended to the second level to begin the reconstruction, McAllister and Moses, with oxygen helmets, explored that seam nearly four hundred feet. They did not reach the air fire, but the way will probably be cleared to the escapement by morning.

At 9 o'clock tonight the big new fan began to suck out the gases. In ten minutes the main shaft was clear, and inspectors Hudson and Dunlap descended without specific apparatus to the 350-foot level. They returned smiling and reported the gases well cleared. Then volunteers were called for to begin the work below. A score stepped forward, with lamps filled and burning. Five were selected and sent down, and the others were ordered to take a turn an hour later.

"If no gas seeps up from the third level, we will conquer the fire," said President Newsam.

WAGE CONFERENCE WILL NOT OPEN TODAY.

Over the Protest of President Lewis, and With Two Special Trains Ready to Transport the Delegates to Toledo, the Coal Miners Agan Defer the Meeting With the Operators.

Indianapolis, Feb. 1.—Over the protest of President Lewis, the convention of the United Mine Workers of America late today determined to defer opening the wage conference at Toledo, with the bituminous operators. A committee was sent to Toledo to request the operators to await the arrival of the miners Thursday.

Two special trains were ready to transport six hundred delegates to Toledo tonight. Mr. Lewis insisted that by holding a night session tonight the appointment at Toledo could be kept tomorrow, but the postponement motion carried and amid a roar of laughter Lewis appointed on the committee to go to Toledo the three leaders of the faction among the bituminous operators. A committee was sent to Toledo to request the operators to await the arrival of the miners Thursday.

Duluth, Feb. 1.—Dr. Marcus B. Cullen, Democratic candidate for mayor, today defeated Mayor Haven, Republican, by 791 votes. Of the eight aldermen elected, five are Democrats, two are Republicans and one is an Independent. This makes the political complexion of the council Democratic, eleven to four, with one Independent.

Dickinson's majority is 3,791. The district is normally Democratic by pluralities of 1,900 to 2,500. The issues today were largely upon the tariff question. Governor Hadley and Secretary Nagel stumped the district for Griffith, while former Governors Francis and Folk and Senator Stone, also Congressman Champ Clark, campaigned for Dickinson.

FOREST SERVICE IS UNDER FIRE

In Connection With the Consideration of the Agricultural Bill, It Is Assailed in the House of Representatives.

It Finds Plenty of Defenders, However, and Not One of the Items That the Appropriation Measure Carries for the Support of the Bureau Is Reduced as a Result of the Day's Attacks—These Come Mostly from Two Western Members.

Washington, Feb. 1.—A running fire of criticism was poured into the forestry service during most of the session of the house today, while the agricultural appropriation bill was under consideration. The entire session was devoted to the forestry schedules. Messrs. Mondell, of Wyoming, and Taylor, of Colorado, were the chief critics, and the forestry bureau found many defenders.

Mr. Mondell, replying to an inquiry by Mr. Mann, of Illinois, why the national forests could not be made profitable now, if ever, said that the reason was found in the "scandalous extravagance" that characterized the conduct of that service. Much of its money, he said, was spent for objects unrelated to cutting timber or protection from fire.

Conventions of foresters held simultaneously with gatherings wherein the criticism was likely to be voiced, for the purpose of offsetting such criticism; press bureau work, unnecessary traveling expenses and the maintenance of large forces of employes in Washington were among the items of extravagance enumerated.

Mr. Taylor, of Colorado, questioned Chairman Scott on the reason for including in the forest reserves land without timber. Replying, Mr. Scott said that such lands could be planted with trees.

"Don't you know," asked Mr. Taylor, "that at elevations of seven thousand feet it will take five hundred years to grow a forest?" Mr. Taylor added that land in Colorado worth $200 an acre was included in the forest reserves.

"The law provides a way for the state to get such land out of a reservation," replied Mr. Scott. Consideration of the schedule will be continued tomorrow.

OPPOSES POSTAL BANKS. Senator Smith of Michigan Thinks They "Smack of Paternalism." Washington, Feb. 1.—The entire time in the senate today was devoted to the discussion of the postal savings bank bill. Mr. Cummins, of Iowa, presented amendments providing especially for placing the postal savings funds in the banks in the towns and cities wherein are located the postoffices wherein the deposits are made. He said that the postmasters thus would be prepared always to meet the demands for the withdrawal of the funds.

Mr. Smith, of Michigan, said that the measure "smacked largely of paternalism." He feared it would interfere with the development of individuality, heretofore a distinguishing feature of the United States. Mr. Carter replied that postal savings providing had been tried thoroughly by Great Britain and other European countries. The bill proposed to do nothing more than furnish the poor people an opportunity to save their pitances.

Mr. Smith replied that Mr. Carter's reasoning smacked much like that which accompanied the adoption of the Oklahoma bank guarantee law. Mr. Owen, interrupting, declared that since the passage of the Oklahoma law the state bank deposits had increased from $18,000,000 to $30,000,000. Mr. Smith, responding, referred to the bank failures in Oklahoma which had, he said, occasioned criticism of the state officials, who supposedly had supervision. The consideration of the bill will be continued tomorrow.

The urgent deficiency bill was reported to the senate today. It carries an increase of $596,799 over the amount appropriated by the house. Among the increases is $125,000 for the immigration commission.

Mr. Jack Johnson is clearly of the opinion that he can travel far on those flat feet of his.

There may be no insurgents on the Michigan delegation, but late reports indicate that it harbors several near insurgents.

The ways and means committee is likely to find the "high cost of living" question a much more perplexing one than even the tariff.

Politics is looking up in the first legislative district of Marquette county. Two or three possible candidates are feeling out the situation, with a view of deciding whether the time is ripe for them to get into the field.

Washington advices indicate that on each of the measures that President Taft would like to get passed by congress during the pending session there is a group of congressmen who make no bones of their opposition, and they are not all insurgents, either.

The Commercial club will have Chase S. Osborne of the Soo as its guest of honor at its annual banquet this evening. It is said that Mr. Osborne will talk on a non-political subject, but whatever the nature of his address it may be taken for granted that it will be eloquent and invigorating.

In reference to the "free speech" question, absent the appearance of Emma Goldman at Madison, the seat of the University of Wisconsin, the Milwaukee Sentinel wisely says: "The best way to get rid of an absurd doctrine in this country of widespread intelligence and capacity to think is to let it air its vagaries freely and talk itself gradually to death."

It is an excellent antiseptic remedy for asthma, bronchitis, and all inflammatory diseases of the throat and chest; will break up the deadly membrane in an attack of croup, and will kill any kind of neuralgia or rheumatic pain.

BELIEVED TO BE INSANE.

Elias Karvinen Wanders Into Jail and Injures Himself.

Elias Karvinen, believed to be insane, walked into the open door of the Red jacket jail the other night and attempted to beat a hole through the solid brick and brownstone walls of the building, using his head for a battering ram. The results were rather disastrous to Mr. Karvinen, for he was picked up later by the officers and was found to be unconscious and with several bad cuts and bruises about his head. Blood and hair on the wall showed where the unconscious man had attempted to plow right through the building.

Karvinen is believed to be deranged in mind or to be suffering from temporary insanity. He has been taken to Houghton where, as soon as he can recover from his present condition, he will be examined for his sanity and provision will be made for his future care.

HOOK CASE IN COURT.

Great Array of Legal Talent in Suit Against Saloon Keepers.

The greatest array of legal talent which the present term of the circuit court will bring out appeared yesterday morning in the Anna Hook case, which opened for trial that session. O'Brien & LeGendre appeared for the complainant and Allan B. Ross, Hanch-Zana, John McKenzie, John B. De, John Kurie, Charles Calnan, W. B. Dittler, John Wolfe, Michael Messner, J. James Tamblin, Antonio Bertolassi, Rafael Paoli, John Messner and John Moriarity.

These defendants are saloon keepers and their bondsmen from South Range. Mrs. Anna Hook is suing them for damages because she alleges that the saloon keepers sold her husband liquor after she had ordered them not to. Hook was, according to her declaration, a drunk which lasted for many years. During that time she was deprived of the fruits of her labor. Also during that time he picked a pocket and was sent to Lonia reformatory for eighteen months. Since his return from prison Hook has been sober and industrious. The case was started a year or more ago and has been hanging fire ever since.

Almost the entire morning yesterday was consumed in securing a jury to try the case.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS.

Data on Copper Country Hockey and Basketball Teams.

The Calumet basketball team dropped from its 1000 percentage position with a loss Friday evening when the L'Anse aggregation won from it by the score of 15 to 30. The L'Anse score of 15 points is the largest ever made in a single game of basketball in the upper peninsula. The Hancock boys and girls played the Lake Linden teams at Lake Linden and divided the honors, the boys winning from and the girls losing to the Lakes. At hockey, Houghton downed Dollar Bay by the score of eight to one and Hancock won from Calumet by the score of two to one. The percentages are:

| Hockey | W. L. T. P. C. |
|--------------------|----------------|
| Houghton | 3 0 0 1000 |
| Hancock | 2 1 0 666 |
| Calumet | 0 2 1 000 |
| Dollar Bay | 0 2 1 000 |
| Basketball (Boys) | |
| L'Anse | 3 1 750 |
| Houghton | 3 1 750 |
| Hancock | 2 2 500 |
| Houghton | 1 2 333 |
| Lake Linden | 0 3 000 |
| Basketball (Girls) | |
| L'Anse | 2 0 1000 |
| Lake Linden | 2 1 666 |
| Houghton | 2 1 666 |
| Hancock | 0 3 000 |

The games scheduled for this week are as follows:

Hockey—Hancock vs. Calumet; Houghton vs. Dollar Bay.

Basketball (Boys)—Hancock vs. L'Anse; Houghton vs. L'Anse; Lake Linden vs. Calumet.

Basketball (Girls)—Hancock vs. L'Anse; Houghton vs. L'Anse.

The L'Anse boys have a chance to take the lead by winning both games with Houghton and Hancock, even though Calumet does win from Lake Linden. In the girls' basketball competition, if L'Anse should lose to Houghton, then Lake Linden, L'Anse and Houghton will be tied for first place.

FIRST AID CLASS TO OPEN.

The first class in the "aid to the injured" course recently added to the curriculum of the educational department of the Calumet Y. M. C. A. will be opened this evening under the direction of Dr. J. E. McKenzie. The course will consist of several lectures, practical demonstrations and an examination. The class starts with a strong membership. As was done at Issipening, an effort will be made to interest the mining people of this community by the holding of practical demonstrations where the miners can witness them.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING.

The first "public" or "open door" meeting for the present calendar year will be held by the Calumet Woman's club Friday afternoon. The club will take up "Home and Education" work. A paper on "The Training of the Human Plant" will be read by Mrs. Margaret M. Anderson.

SANTA ROSALIA MEETING.

Mrs. Housewife: There's a Happy Medium in Everything

Anything that is overdone or underdone is not good. You use the cheap and Big Can Kinds you are getting quantity at the sacrifice of quality. It cannot be as good—or as economical as the medium price kind. If you buy the High Price Kind, you are paying tribute to the Trust—the quality is no better.

Here's the "Full Value" in BAKING POWDER

The Cheap and Big Can Kind

In this can you get more substance but not more baking powder. It is great in quantity only—not in economy—not in satisfaction.

Calumet, in the Standard 1 lb. can, sells at a moderate cost—but is great in all round satisfaction. You use less of it—it makes the baking lighter, purer—more delicate. One baking will prove its superiority—try it. Ask your grocer and insist upon Calumet. Free—large handsome recipe book. Send for it and slip found in pound.

The Trust Kind

Great in price, little in quantity and the quality is no better—if a good.

ELKS DECIDE TO MAKE TRIP.

Hancock Indoor Baseball Team Will Go to the Iron Country.

The original plans of the Hancock Elks and A. O. U. H. indoor baseball teams, abandoned for a time, have been adopted again and the two teams will play Issipening and Negaunee Friday and Saturday of this week, alternating between the two towns. George Ross, the Elks' crack pitcher, will be unable to make the trip, owing to a death in his family.

COMING OF A DIVA.

Mme. Schumann-Heink's Concert in May a Musical Event.

Some little credit should be given by the music loving public of the copper country to A. K. Cox, who is bringing Mme. Schumann-Heink to the Kerzedge theater for a concert May 30. Mr. Cox has been a singer here on the stage of his own responsibility and is not backed by any church, lay committee or other organization.

KNIGHTS OF ROMULUS.

Articles of Incorporation for New World Order Are Filed.

Articles of incorporation for the new world order, the Knights of Romulus, being organized by some of the most prominent Italian residents of Calumet and vicinity, have been filed with the county clerk and sent to the secretary of state at Lansing. Nine organizers signed the papers. The papers are expected back shortly when the organization of the grand lodge here will be perfected.

MOTOR BOATING PROSPECTS.

Portage Lake Will Have Numerous Fast Craft Next Summer.

Houghton motor boat owners who indulge in occasional sport talks are of the belief that Portage lake is going to be a motorboatman's paradise next summer. There are a great many orders for new boats now being filled and many recruits are being brought into the motor boat guild. One prominent boatman declares that there will be a number of speed boats on the lake next summer and that there will surely be some racing.

MORE GOOD JUMPS ARE MADE.

Fine Skiing Exhibition at Florida Hill—Another at Caledonia.

The sport of skiing seems to have fastened a strong grip on the sport loving people of Calumet and vicinity, for there were two good exhibitions of the sport in that district Sunday and both were witnessed by hundreds of people. The Calumet Ski club held an exhibition on the Florida hill. The lengthening of the slide sixteen feet has made it possible to make much larger jumps than before and, consequently, new records were set Sunday. The club will have a fine list of entries for its tournament, to be held Sunday, Feb. 15. A large number of prizes will be given.

BOARD OF TRADE CHANGES.

WILL ORGANIZE OSBORN CLUB.

Houghton Republicans Asked to Gather at the Village Hall.

A mass meeting of the Republicans of Houghton is called for 8 o'clock tonight at the village hall for the purpose of organizing a club to loom Chase S. Osborn's gubernatorial candidacy. All Republicans are invited, as are all other persons who favor the choice of an upper peninsula man for governor. The meeting will be addressed by prominent speakers and it is probable that a set of resolutions endorsing the Osborn man will be passed. The club will have for its principal object the getting out of the entire Republican vote at the coming primary election.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

When the Lake excitement broke out there were only about 300 or 400 shareholders in North Lake and Indiana. Now there are probably more than 1,000 stockholders in each of them, and the additions represent cash investments of large amounts. Both North Lake alone has added 1,000 new stockholders, largely in odd lots of ten to twenty shares, and the printers are kept busy making new books of certificates while President Dow is kept busy signing up for the new stockholders.

A crosscut driven south from the Scorpion shaft of the Hamilton ore at the southern end of a distance of 120 feet from the shaft. This crosscut is now 130 feet long and in chalcocite averaging nearly 3 per cent copper. The ore body is estimated to be several hundred feet wide and about seventy-five feet high vertically. Both shafts are sinking on a supposed ore belt extending 2,400 feet between the Joe Bush and Scorpion shafts have encountered ore at a depth of about 200 feet.

Within two weeks it is probable that regular shipments will be started to the Mohave mill from the company's new No. 6 shaft, which has been opened on a rich ground. The rock house at this shaft will be finished in a fortnight and as the necessary railroad connections are made shipments can be started at a moment's notice. The decision to ship from this new territory was made in order that there should be an accumulation of rock either in the underground openings or on the surface.

The drift on the Bertha vein of the Boston & Corbin from the point where it was cut on the 700-foot level has shown a widening of the vein and that the values also are higher. President Amster is now satisfied that the property justifies the erection of a concentrator, but instead of the 200-ton plant originally proposed, the management is inclined to recommend a 500-ton plant. Superintendent Emerson estimates that the work is developing at least that amount of new ore reserves daily.

Hancock's big vertical shaft is sinking steadily and is expected to cut the so-called No. 2 lode this week. This lode is opened by drifts at the ninth, tenth, eleventh and thirteenth levels. No. 1 incline shaft, disclosing a width of fourteen to sixteen feet well charged with stamp and barrel copper, though not in such quantities as found in No. 3 lode, in which all activity at present is centered. The No. 3 lode is being drifted on at the thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth levels. The longest drifts at the thirteenth and fourteenth levels are in over 900 feet, and 600 feet respectively revealing copper ground of exceptional richness from end to end. The winch has reached the eighteenth level and from the tenth level to that depth, discloses good stepping ground, with the possible exception of a stretch of about 100 feet

Two Ribs Broken.

Lawrence Talo is lying in St. Joseph's hospital, Hancock, suffering from two broken ribs. It is said that Talo was somewhat the worse for liquor and as a consequence of a fall from a mill to treat rock from the Evergreen lode. Unfortunately, however, the lode did not carry copper in commercial quantities and the result has been that Adventure has a mill on its hands, for which it has no present use. The most encouraging news that Adventure stockholders have had for some time is that to the effect that in the shaft now sinking, exceptionally good ground had been encountered. If this showing continues, Adventure should do better and perhaps develop into a mine, in which case its mill would, of course, stand it in good stead. It is entirely too early to say whether the Lake or Indiana lodes continue under Adventure territory. If the Lake lode continues its present north and south strike, it certainly would not; if it swings to conform to the strike of other lodes at Lake Superior, it would underlie the Adventure, although at considerable depth. The Indiana lode is an unknown quantity at present, and no one can say positively what its strike or dip is. The developments at Lakes and Indiana remove the impression that that district would never develop a rich copper mine. Lake starts out as though it would make a big mine, and the possibilities of adjacent properties are consequently much brighter than two years ago.

Mining News

ADVENTURE.

Adventure so far has proved a huge disappointment. Several years ago it looked as though Adventure might make a mine, and the management went to considerable expense in building a mill to treat rock from the Evergreen lode. Unfortunately, however, the lode did not carry copper in commercial quantities and the result has been that Adventure has a mill on its hands, for which it has no present use. The most encouraging news that Adventure stockholders have had for some time is that to the effect that in the shaft now sinking, exceptionally good ground had been encountered. If this showing continues, Adventure should do better and perhaps develop into a mine, in which case its mill would, of course, stand it in good stead. It is entirely too early to say whether the Lake or Indiana lodes continue under Adventure territory. NEVADA CONSOLIDATED.

The Nevada Consolidated has shifted two steam shovels to the bottom of the ore-pit at Copper Flat and with a continuation of the present mild weather, the output will soon get back to its former figures of from 6,000 to 6,500 tons of ore per day. Almost unbroken cold weather for the past two months has frozen the ground at Copper Flat to a depth of four feet and repeated storms have caused heavy drifting of snow in the pit, which is now nearly 200 feet in depth at the point of lowest excavation, and upwards of 2,000 feet in length. Three steam shovels are employed in removing overburden and are hurrying the work of getting more ore uncovered on the upper terrace of the pit. At the reduction works at McGill repairs of all kinds are being wound up as rapidly as possible in order to get ready for the increase in ore shipments from Copper Flat which milder weather is now making possible. The 250 men have been divided into the different departments of the Steptoe plant during the present month when at times half of the mill has been idle on account of shortage of ore, freezing water pipes or other causes incident to the weather. This week, however, it is probable that the opening of spring will witness the commencement of construction on the fifth unit of the mill.

MINSTRELS ENTERTAINED.

The members of the Hancock lodge of Elks Minstrel company were entertained last night at the temple with a social session and banquet. It was a most enjoyable occasion and the dancing parties for the season will be given at the temple Friday evening. Music will be furnished by the Twin City orchestra. It is expected that this party will be well attended, as it will be the last party before club will be organized. A line of dances will be given. Dancing will continue from 9 until 12 o'clock.

The season of 1909-10 has been a most pleasant one with the Hancock Elks. The committee has made a record for itself by entertaining in a most enjoyable manner. The social sessions and informal dances have all been successful and well attended.

between the sixteenth and seventeenth levels. All horizontal openings so far down the shaft are similar ones will also be found at greater depth in the Irish May shaft. We are finding good ore now 1,000 feet deeper than it was believed to have existed ten years ago. The physical and financial conditions of the Calumet & Arizona company are better today and its prospects for the future are brighter than at any previous time in the past five years. The company will continue to earn and pay dividends to its stockholders for many years to come.

Isle Royale is opened by six shafts. During 1909, the mine doubled its output, returning a production of approximately 6,000,000 pounds of refined copper. The later months of the year showed a larger tonnage than the earlier ones so it is probable that during the current twelve months the production will be still further increased. Isle Royale carries two miles or 4,000 acres of the Baltic lode. Copper has been found in the shaft which is sinking on this lode, but as yet not in commercial quantities. The shaft is now being approached "the tab." "THE ANKLE" report will be issued in a few weeks and will probably show that the mine was worked at a profit during 1909. The surplus at the close of 1908 stood at about $30,000, having been reduced from about $1,500,000 at the close of 1900, for development of the property.

The diamond drill operating at the Melora shaft of the Keweenaw Copper Company has been turned from the north to the south to intercept the Calumet conglomerate, Osceola and other mineral bearing veins lying in this direction from the shaft. About two weeks ago the drilling north was discontinued after cutting the conglomerate and finding it about twenty-eight feet wide, but with little copper showing except in the footwall. The vein was found to have flattened out to an angle of about eighteen degrees. The drill is now in about eighty feet to the north, which is an excellent prospect. The only other development work under way at the property is sinking the shaft on the Keweenaw lode. The footwall side of this shaft shows up best, carrying very attractive looking ore. Further depth is necessary to more thoroughly determine just what results may be expected from the Keweenaw lode where the Keweenaw is centering its efforts for the present.

There is nothing on the tapis looking to a merger of the Utah Copper company with the Anaconda Copper at the present time; neither is there any agreement existing between controlling interests of these two companies which will eventually result in their merger. Just what will ultimately be done—if anything is ever done—toward an amalgamation of these properties under a single management is a question for the future. The election of H. W. Lambert of the First National Bank of New York to the enlarged board of the Utah Copper company clearly indicates that J. P. Morgan proposes to have a personal representative on the directorate. The Utah company has not yet made an official offering to the Nevada Consolidated stockholders of its shares in exchange for those of the latter corporation on the basis of one for two and one-quarter, yet many Nevada stockholders have tendered their shares for exchange and considerably more than 800,000 shares have thus far been tendered. The Nevada company has 2,000,000 shares, of which an actual majority would be 1,000,000 shares.

The work of installing at the A shaft of the Old Dominion the hoist from C shaft has been completed and as the result, work at this mine is now progressing as smoothly as if the recent accident had never occurred. This hoist is of the same type as the one which was wrecked and as the result, the usual amount of ore can now be taken from the A shaft. With the installation of this hoist, about one hundred men, who were temporarily laid off after the recent accident, have been put to work again and the mine is now working almost its full quota of men. This hoist will be used for several months, until a new and more approved type of hoist which can be operated at much less cost arrives and is put in place. When this work is done, the C shaft hoist will be reinstated at its original location.

Secretary Gordon R. Campbell says: "The Calumet & Arizona company has over $3,500,000 of surplus funds today. It has spent $1,000,000 in the development of outside properties that have been considered valuable and worthy of such development. The development of

S.S.S. THE REMEDY FOR SORES AND ULCERS

There is but one way to cure an old sore or chronic ulcer, and that is to remove the cause that produces and keeps it open. No matter where located, any sore that remains until it becomes chronic does so because of impure blood; the circulation constantly discharges its polluted matter into the place and it is impossible for nature to heal the sore. S.S.S. heals the cause, the circulation, and thus completely does away with the sore or impurity from the blood. It removes every trace of tartar, and for this reason can have no curative effect on a sore or ulcer; while such treatment is being used alone, the germs and impurities are constantly increasing in the blood and the sore is bound to grow worse. When S.S.S. has cleansed the blood and enriched and purified the circulation, the different symptoms place begins to take on a more healthy appearance, and the different symptoms and lasting cure. Under the tonic and blood-purifying effects of S.S.S., the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be greatly benefited by its use. Barefoot in November—Dan Sullivan, landlord at the Hotel Clifton, has just received a photograph from Sheriff Gaston of Detroit, which was taken at the mouth of the Yellow Dog river the second week in November, where a party of Wayne county officials, chaperoned by the genial Dan, were camped during the deer season. The picture shows the party barefooted and wading in Lake Superior, and the photo has every appearance of having been taken in mid-summer, instead of the middle of November.

Sleighrides Popular—The mild weather of the last few days and the excellent sleighing have made sleighriding a very popular form of amusement. L'Anse Wants Hockey Game—The Mining Journal has received a letter from D. P. Menard of L'Anse, manager of the hockey team at that place, stating that his team would like to schedule a game with a team from this city, the game to be played either in L'Anse or Marquette. As there is no place to play hockey here this winter and consequently no team, it is not likely that the local enthusiasts can accommodate the L'Anse players.

LEMON FREES HIM.
Minnesota Life Convict Produces New Fruit, and Gains a Pardon.

Stillwater, Minn., Feb. 1.—The gates of the Minnesota state prison will open here soon for Charles Price, life term murderer. And when he walks out a free man he will carry with him the strangest talisman that ever brought good luck to a convict in the shape of a three pound lemon that he raised himself within prison walls.

Price is known to the guards as "Sinbad the Sailor," he has wandered over the ends of the earth, generally sailing in vessels as a common deck hand. His tales of his adventures were stranger than the Arabian Nights, and his nickname came naturally.

One day he told the warden of an experience in the orient, when he was washed ashore after a wreck into a grove of tropical fruit trees. There he maintained himself on nature's food for a month until he was rescued. The warden didn't believe his story, but he wanted to see how far from the truth Price was going.

He set Price tending the conservatory and vegetable gardens of the prison.

"I'll grow you some oranges and lemons bigger than any you ever saw," the convict said, thinking that he had been relieved of hard labor.

He got seeds of what he thought were an orange, but they were grapefruit seeds. Before he knew his mistake he grafted them onto a young lemon twig, and he tended the result carefully.

Despite the jokes of the warden Price nurtured the tree constantly. His work was as hard as the original Sinbad's when he bore the old man of the sea on his shoulders. Finally the lemon tree had grown higher than the head of the tallest convict in the place.

It blossomed and the three pound lemon began to ripen on its branches. The state pardon board was paying its regular visit to the prison when the members heard the story of "Sinbad the Sailor" and saw the wonderful lemon. They interested themselves in Price's case, and as a result arranged to pardon him in the near future. Price, in his gratitude, has named the new wonder the "Minnesota Lemon."

This "Burbank" of the state prison was convicted of killing a fellow tramp near St. Paul more than nineteen years ago. Both he and his victim were drunk at the time. He is now sixty-one years old. He fertilized the remarkable tree with soap suds. That he says, is the secret of making the fruit so large.

Upper Peninsula

Candidate for Game Warden—E. A. Neubauer, former sheriff of Dickinson county and former mayor of Iron Mountain, is a candidate for deputy state game and fish warden and is securing many signatures to his petition. The district comprises Marquette and Dickinson counties.

Compiles a Concordance—Rev. Isaac Skoog, of the Swedish Mission church of Iron Mountain, has gone to Chicago to arrange for the publication of a Concordance of the Swedish Bible, of which he is the author. Mr. Skoog has been engaged for six years in compiling the Concordance. It is arranged alphabetically and is said to be very complete.

Fisherman Is Acquitted—Thorvald Paulsen was arrested by Deputy Game Warden Frost on the charge of fishing with set lines in Indian lake, near Manistique, and was given a hearing in Justice Knox's court. He demanded a jury trial and was acquitted of the charge. The case hinged on the question as to what constituted a set line.

Escaping Prisoner Recaptured—Charles Cicero, who was given a ninety-day sentence at the last term of court at Manistique on conviction of the charge of stealing a railroad velocipede, made a break for liberty the other afternoon while engaged in shoveling snow about the jail premises. He was tracked across the river and Sheriff Smith came to the conclusion that he was no doubt following the M. & L. S. railroad. That officer and Deputy Sheriff Lundstrom took passage on a special train, conveying a party of the river and on a tour of inspection, and at a point near Hiawatha they espied their man and placed him under arrest.

Football Injury Leads to Death—Carl A. Frieberg, son of Gustav Frieberg, residing at 906 Dunlap avenue, Menominee, is dead, after a two years' illness with tuberculosis of the glands of the neck. He was twenty-four years old and was a former member of Company L, Menominee. Frieberg was a large, athletic-looking young man and until two years ago was in good health. He was injured in a football game and from that time his health dated. The injury was to his neck and tuberculosis followed. He went to Arizona a few months ago for the benefit of his health. He had been an employee of the Peninsula Box & Lumber company.

Is Dead at Iron Mountain—Carl Rylander, a wellknown jeweler at Iron Mountain, is dead at the age of forty-four. His fatal illness was due to dropsy. He had been engaged in business in the corner of Stephenson avenue and East Brown street. The surviving members of the family are Mrs. Rylander and the following children, three girls and three boys: The Misses Helga, Olga and Julie and Erick, Hening and George.

Would Paint Judge Stone's Picture—It is reported from Ewanaba that there is a great scramble just now among the portrait painters for the job of perpetuating the features of Judge Stone in the court rooms throughout the Twenty-fifth judicial district. A picture of the new supreme jurist will be hanging in each chamber, and it will be up to the county board to appoint the artist who will do the work. Already Chicago and Detroit candidates have developed a most unartistic propensity for going after the business, and as a result the county clerks and boards of supervisors hid fair to receive many applications from the disciples of the palette and brush. In order to secure a model for the picture it will be necessary for Judge Stone to sit to the artist or different artists who will paint the pictures. It would take him a number of months at that rate. All that will be necessary will be a group of pictures taken from different angles by some up-to-date photographer, and from these the pictures will be made.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles.

Many people never suspect their kidneys, if suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ailments which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Residents of this vicinity are constantly testifying to permanent cures.

William Pilley, 812 River Ave., Iron Mountain, Mich., says: "I was troubled by acute pains in the small of my back and did not know what caused them. When a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and they soon relieved me. I gladly give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement in return for the good they have done me."

COFFEE GIFTS FOR BABIES.

Sacks Set Aside at Birth in Brazil and Opened at Wedding.

"We have a custom in the coffee raising countries," said Ricardo G. Muller of Rio de Janeiro, who is interested in coffee plantations in that country, "which is unknown in other parts of the world. When a child is born in the coffee country a sack of the best grain is set aside as part of the inheritance to be received on attaining its majority.

"Usually the sack is the gift from some close friend or relative, and it is guarded as sacredly as if it were a gift of gold or bonds. No stress would induce a Brazilian parent to use coffee which was made the birth gift of a child.

"As a rule, it is sealed with the private seal of the owner and bears a card giving particulars about the variety of grain, its age on being sacked, and the birth of the child to whom it is given, and other details, which are very interesting when the gift is due.

"Generally, the coffee is opened for the first time when the child marries. The coffee for the reception or marriage feast is made from the legacy, and according to precedent, this must be the first time the sack is opened. After the coffee is made for the wedding feast the sack is carefully closed and sent to the new home of the young couple, and should keep them in the staple for a year at least."—Washington Herald.

Do you know that eroup can be prevented? Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It is also a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Sold by The People's Drug Store.

FLY FISHING IN FLORIDA IS FINE SPORT.

"We are leaving next week to do some fly fishing on the Florida coast," a young married woman who accompanied her husband on all his hunting and fishing trips, told the reporter. "Oh, yes, almost every variety of fish on the Florida coast will rise to a fly. I have taken as many as a dozen varieties in the passes between Cedar Keys and Cape Sable.

"Some can be caught at about every season of the year, but I have heard that all varieties are more plentiful late in the spring. We go down just any time the fishing fever strikes my husband, and so far we have always found all the fish we could handle. At times they require more coaxing than at others, but you can always catch them if you will do the coaxing.

"Sometimes we take a light Canadian canoe and paddle out through the pass to fish in the surf itself. This is ticklish business, as it is hard to keep the canoe at the right angle to the breaking waves. I find it pleasanter wading out to my knees and casting for the fish as they come in. There is a vast amount of difference between standing in the warm surf and wading in icy mountain streams, as we do when we go fly fishing up here even in summer.

"My husband insists that salt water fish are entirely untrained and can never be as good sport for the angler as the inhabitants of our mountain streams. Because of this ignorance on the part of the fish he never thinks of selecting the kind of fly that most sportsmen use for the variety of fish he is looking for on the coast of Florida. He just finds out what particular color a particular fish prefers and gives it, regardless of the fly.

"The fish will jump for a bit of bright worsted as readily as for the most beautiful fly that was ever made. Sometimes when a school of Spanish mackerel are passing we have thrown out just anything we could lay hold of, and at ways four or five jump at it at the same time. Of course we are pretty sure to have broiled mackerel for breakfast, that is if their sharp teeth don't cut through our line.

"My husband, however, will never throw for Spanish mackerel. He prefers the ladyfish, called by the natives skipjack. I never heard of this being eaten, though every man I have ever known to go fly fishing on that coast is always on the lookout for it.

"They all say it is the gamiest fish of its size in existence. I have never seen any fish jump as high out of water nor fight as long as the ladyfish. Compared with it the tarpon is as sluggish as a mud turtle and trout, bass and salmon are meek and willing captives.

"I have caught these fish a few times myself and it was certainly an exciting exercise. On one occasion last winter the buzz of my reel rose to a screech as my fingers were blistered as though by fire when I happened to touch the line. It took me a good half hour, but I got the fish in at last and entirely without assistance. As it was much too heavy to eat we took it off the hook and gave it its liberty at once.

"The mullet, another gamey fish, though it is next to impossible to make it take a fly. The best way to catch these fish is to take them when they have their mouths lifted to the surface of the water sucking in floating scum. Then you have to cast your fly in such a way that it will hook them in their little sucker mouths. Once they are hooked they will fight for their liberty.

"Mangrove snappers like wooded banks in deep water where they will be found hiding under sunken logs. They are not as a rule tempted by a fly, yet when the spirit moves them they dash for it greedily.

"The sea trout is another fish we see a good deal of on the Florida coast. These fish stay around oyster beds and coral reefs, but they usually can be enticed a fly by a bright colored fly. The swimming bladders of these fish are very large and make delicious eating when properly cooked.

"Some days all these fish have to be looked for, and none of them is easily found. Then again they appear to come in mixed schools and all about equally ready to take the fly. One day last winter at Little Gasparilla Pass my husband's score included one baby tarpon, three channel bass, two sea trout, seven Spanish mackerel, five cavaliers and 20 ladyfish. The mackerel and the baby tarpon were kept for the table and all the others returned to the water.

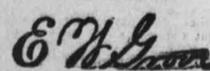

"For a person who likes fishing and can't wait until the spring the western coast of Florida is the place to go at this season of the year. As for clothes, wear bathing suits more than any other costumes. It is the short trousers and short skirt and the loose fit that makes the bathing suit so comfortable for fly fishing."

After a man has been married three years his bump of hope becomes a dent. A New Yorker earning $15 a week is sued for $100 a week alimony.

MRS. SIGRI EKRE HAS PASSED AWAY

ONE OF ISHPEMING'S OLDEST AND BEST KNOWN NORWEGIAN WOMAN DIED YESTERDAY MORNING AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS.

Mrs. Sigri Ekre, one of Ishpeming's oldest and best known Scandinavian women, died yesterday morning at 9:45 o'clock. While her demise was directly due to old age, it was hastened considerably by a fall on a slippery walk the evening of Monday, Jan. 3, while Mrs. Ekre was going from her home on Cleveland avenue to the Mission church, at the corner Third and Bank streets. She fell at the entrance to the alley between the parsonage and the Peterson building, where the walk inclines slightly. She was badly shaken, and although it was not thought at that time that her injuries were of a serious nature, more than a week had passed when her friends began to realize that she would perhaps not recover. During the last week or ten days of her illness she sank gradually.

The deceased was born June 26, 1833. She would have celebrated her sevenieth birthday next June. Melhus, parish, in Norway, was her birthplace. She emigrated to America with her husband, the late Ole Ekre, in 1871, locating in Ishpeming. Mr. Ekre conducted a business here until his death, twenty-five years ago last December.

Mrs. Ekre leaves a fairly large estate, which includes two business blocks on Cleveland avenue and a number of residence properties, including her home on Cleveland avenue, opposite the Braastad block. The only living relative is John Ole, a member, who has made his home with Mrs. Ekre for a great many years. Mrs. Ekre also had an adopted daughter, Mrs. S. S. Malmgren of North Main street, who was adopted when she was three years of age, remaining with foster mother until her marriage several years ago. The late husband of the deceased was related to P. J. Eggen. Mrs. Ekre was an earnest member of the Mission church, which she joined July 20, 1889, and had been a liberal contributor to the society.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house and at 2:15 at the church. A committee of members of the congregation has been appointed to decorate the church with cut flowers and evergreens. The choir will sing special songs during the service.

Creamery butter is advancing in price again. In spite of this fact we still have some of that extra fine quality creamery at thirty-five cents.

BASEBALL HERE THIS WEEK.

Hancock Hibernians and Elks Will Play Friday and Saturday.

F. Braastad has consented to allow the Ishpeming indoor baseball team to play its games with the Hancock Hibernian and Elks teams in Braastad's Hall Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, with the understanding that rowdism shall be suppressed. Last year many of the fans who assembled to witness the ball games seemed to have little regard for Mr. Braastad's property, and he announced that he would not rent the hall in the future for baseball contests. Officers will be on hand to see that the walls are not battered or chairs broken. Spitting on the floor will also be prohibited.

The Hibernians are to be here Friday evening, and the Elks will line up against them Saturday night. Friday night the Elks will play in Negaunee and Saturday the Hibernians will be in that city. The game Friday evening will start at 8 o'clock and the one on Saturday night will start at 8:30. The admission will be twenty-five cents for men and fifteen for women, including dancing at the conclusion of the games.

The line-up of the Ishpeming team has not been decided upon, but it is expected that Carney will be the twirler for the Hibernians and Ross will pitch for the Elks. The parties pitched against Ishpeming in the games here last season, and Carney twirled for the Hibernians in part of the game that his team played in Negaunee.

The Royal Neighbors will conduct a hop at the Woodmen's hall Thursday evening, Feb. 3. Tickets, twenty-five cents, including refreshments. Trombly's orchestra. Woodmen and their families specially invited. 1-31-3-0.

The members of the Lake team, which closed last week at the head of the percentage column, were delighted with the result of Monday night's contest, they winning two of the three games. The scores were as follows:

The match between Olson, Schilling, Roberts and Grey is to be fifteen games. All entries must be in the hands of the secretary not later than the 10th, in order that the names of the jumpers and runners may be printed on the official program, also that proper accommodations may be provided.

The Itasca club will provide for three jumpers from each club on Saturday night until Monday noon, provided their names are entered by the date specified. No free entertainment will be given any rider not entering before Feb. 10. Aside from the regular ski jumping, an excellent program of entertainment has been provided for the national officers, delegates and visiting riders.

John Charbonneau, who was in the juvenile class last year, jumped 117 feet without falling on the local slide last Sunday. Conditions were ideal for skiing and it is thought that if some of the leading experts were on the hill that day they could have jumped 130 feet or over.

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

The New York market was a dull dragging affair today. From a slightly lower opening, the prices slowly sagged until near the close when a slight caused an advance to the highest point for the day. New York continues bearish.

A half dozen stocks gave an appearance of activity to an otherwise sluggish Boston market. Franklin, Lake, North Butte, Giroux, North Lake and Tammarack were quite active, with some trading in Calumet & Arizona, Copper Range and La Salle. Prices in nearly all cases were fractionally lower, but considering the bearish New York market, held very well. There is little pressure to sell the coppers and a quick rise is expected when the New York market turns. The copper situation continues to improve, the merger plans are being worked out steadily, if quietly, and a definite announcement of their completion is expected at an early date. All these factors can but favorably affect the copper stocks.

Oreco was the feature of the curb. Opening at 7 1/2, the announcement of a $1 assessment payable Feb. 15th, quickly put the price back to $7. A report issued about this time that another rich core had been obtained this morning from a greater depth was followed by heavy buying and a rapid advance to $8. Indiana lost two points from the opening. Cactus, Corbin Copper, Ray Central and Chief held steady, though all were rather quiet. A continuance of the present dullness in Boston and New York will,

HOW JACKIE SAVES HIS MONEY.

The Navy Department Has Provided Excellent Means by Which He May Lay Aside a Portion of Each Month's Pay.

That thrift is a characteristic of a large percentage of the enlisted men of the navy is well known to those in a position to judge, but investigation has shown that as a class they compare favorably in this respect with men outside the service. The public is aware that many large corporations have provided means to aid their employees to save, but few know of the special provisions made by the government to encourage thrift in the navy. The public may know that from ten to twenty per cent of the employees of various corporations take advantage of saving systems established for their use, but very few know that 27 per cent of the enlisted men of the navy save part of their earnings.

For two reasons the public has been likely to believe that sailors are a shiftless class. First, tradition is against the sailor, and second, when before the public their work is finished, they are on leave and seeking amusement. When on shore the man-of-war'sman's time is limited. They crowd into a few hours the "good time" of a day or two, and spend their money in less time than the ordinary citizen would for the same purposes; but that man-of-war'sman is a spendthrift or easy marks does not follow.

The public has its places of amusement always on hand and they may go to them at any time they desire. If the bluejacket sometimes oversteps the mark while seeking recreation it is not from a desire to throw money away, but because of their lack of opportunity for diversion, and in the great freedom they feel away from discipline and routine life.

It is reasonable to suppose that the money they waste is relatively less than that squandered by workmen in the same station of life, because the latter are not under similar restraint.

If the man-of-war'sman comes among you and spends his money in a lavish way, remember he may not be ashore with you again for some time, or that he has been away for a long time, and though he has money to spend, it would be nothing strange if he has a nice little pile in the ship's bank or at a depository ashore, due no doubt to the allotment system which the navy department has maintained since the early days of the navy, and the more recently established deposit account kept by pay officers of ships.

Through the medium of allotment divisions in the navy pay offices at New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Norfolk and San Francisco, the enlisted men are depositing money in the best saving institutions in the country. A certain geographical division of the United States and territories is assigned to each office, and the pay officers of the ships are instructed to make allotments payable accordingly.

Only men serving afloat and subject to being ordered beyond the limits of the United States are permitted to leave allotments. Therefore but 35,000 of the 45,000 men in the navy have the privilege. At least once a month word is passed, that is to say, the men are informed that they may see the paymaster for the purpose of naming allottees book on a page which shows the amount to whom they wish to assign a portion of their wages. The necessary blanks having been made out on board ship and approved by the commanding officer, they are forwarded to the proper office, where the necessary data is entered upon specially devised cards. If the men were obliged to send money orders home or to such places as they wished their money cared for, weeks would frequently elapse before the receipt of the money, but from the navy pay offices on shore the payment to allottees are made promptly by check on the assistant treasurer of the United States at the end of each month.

The average pay of a man-of-war'sman is $300 monthly, according to the report, about are receiving more than $12,000,000 annually. There are 14,000 men who leave allotments and the average amount allotted each month is $20. Consequently three and a half million dollars, in round numbers, is being allotted every year. Seven thousand seven hundred men are saving and six thousand, three hundred are helping to support their families. Almost two millions of dollars to the latter. In short, two out of every five saves in this way, or to be exact, 22 per cent, the Bowery Savings bank and the naval branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, being popular depositories among the men.

Such are the facts as ascertained by Past Assistant Paymaster Jere Maupin, United States navy, who gives his whole time to the supervision of this work at New York city. In the other pay offices the purchasing pay officers have charge of allotments in addition to their other duties and the navy department has assigned 12 clerks to allotment work.

The deposit account on board ship as the "ship's bank" was established to further encourage the men to save, and about 5 per cent have opened accounts with their pay officers. Four per cent interest is paid by the government on these accounts and they may be opened and carried on with far less trouble than a bank account ashore. When the men "put down for money," which is done in the executive officer's office, they specify how much they desire to draw in cash and the amount they wish to deposit. When pay day comes they receive the cash and sign their deposit deposited, or they may bring the cash.

This contractor got results.

He knew how to feed his men. Some years ago a contractor building a railroad in a warm climate was troubled a great deal by sickness among the laborers.

He turned his attention at once to their food and found that they were getting full rations of meat and were drinking water from a stream near by.

He issued orders to cut down the amount of meat and to increase greatly the quantity of Quaker Oats fed to the men.

He also boiled Quaker Oats and mixed the thin oatmeal water with their drinking water.

Almost instantly all signs of stomach disorders passed and his men showed a decided improvement in strength and spirits.

This contractor had experience that taught him the great value of good oatmeal.

which is supposed to be a part of their pay, to the paymaster's office for deposit.

A great many men are making payments on a home each month and others are investing in land or business enterprises. And no matter how hard the times, no matter what kind of a panic puts the country into an uproar, the blue jacket makes his monthly deposit or allotment every month just the same. His pay goes on, no matter what happens, and the time he is spending in the service is fitting him for advancement, which will put him in a position to make his monthly savings larger. Even though he is an apprentice seaman, the lowest rating of the seaman branch, and receives only $17.60 per month, he can easily save ten dollars of this amount, for it is practically clear money.

KEEP COOL AND EAT LESS.

That Is, Don't Have Your Room So Hot and Shun Rich Food at Night, Is Advice of Woman Physician.

In two respects city women of not robust constitution who lead a sedentary life, have it in their power to make a change for the better, thinks a woman physician. The first is to use less steam or heat of any sort in winter, the second to eat rich food, particularly at night. Physicians, says the doctor, are now called upon to diagnose all sorts of ailments which are directly attributable to overheated houses and overloaded stomachs.

"In many of the houses I visited," said she, "also in some public buildings, I find the temperature nearer seventy-eight than sixty-eight, and in most flats and apartments toward evening when the radiators seem to give out maximum of heat, it is easy enough for the thermometer to climb without any one taking much notice. In my opinion, if I have been out all afternoon, arriving home about dinner time, I am apt to find my office insufferably hot until the windows have been left wide open for several minutes.

"Everybody knows how that is, but very few people understand, I think, how easy it is to acquire the habit, and similarly how easy it is to accustom oneself to an atmosphere of sixty-eight degrees and not feel chilly.

"In my opinion sixty-six is a healthier temperature than sixty-eight, but I should be tremendously popular, if I preached this to my patients. I consider myself lucky if I can induce most of them to guard against anything higher than seventy degrees.

"No, I don't care whether women are clad in net or lingerie waists or not. Even when they are wearing the most customary easily being comfortable in sixty-eight degrees. Habit is everything. City residents have gradually, as heating plants have been perfected and introduced into almost every class of dwelling, been acquiring the habit of living in the heat, rather than becoming less and less able to withstand the sharp changes in the outside temperature. Men, too, suffer from the same cause."

Strangely enough, beyond paying a high tribute to the English go-to-bed supper of the ordinary classes, the doctor has no set rule to give respecting diet. She is not inclined to say how much or how little food should be consumed in the twenty-four hours, declaring that there is no general rule which holds good in all cases. It is the sort of food one eats, rather than the quantity, about which she is most concerned and just here she says her respects to the old-fashioned nighttime supper of crackers and cheese with beer or ale, or beer or ale with a meat sandwich.

"In my opinion most people, especially the nervous, lean kind, are the better for eating something before going to bed," says the doctor, "just as they are helped often by eating frequently during the day. The English set us a good example with their afternoon tea and toast and cakes to break the long interval between lunch and dinner. A light repast between breakfast and luncheon is often a great help to women of delicate physique and nervous tendency. I have treated some cases of nervous prostration successfully by insisting on the patient eating six times a day and seeing that she did so."

"On the other hand there are persons of a sluggish, bilious temperament who eat heartily at a meal and who find it to their advantage to eat out luncheon. Perhaps these persons would better cut out late suppers, too; but this is a habit not easy to set aside. And if need not be set aside if rich pastries and sauces and certain combinations of viands and liquids are avoided. I had a burly clerk in the small hours one night last week from a neighbor, a great husky man apparently in death agonies, and all because of a midnight supper repast.

"There are now no end of magazines devoted to questions of diet, but unfortunately the women most in need of advice on these points have neither the time nor the inclination to read them. On questions like these I have mentioned English women seem to know intuitively what American women never seem to be able to learn except by bitter experience."

Negaunee Department

HAS VALUABLE TRACT ON THE VERMILION

JOHN D. MURPHY, FORMERLY OF NEGAUNEE, OWNS A QUARTER SECTION THAT COULD NOW BE SOLD FOR A LARGE SUM.

According to a report from the Vermilion range, John D. Murphy, a former Negaunee man, and a brother of Mrs. M. T. Murphy of this city, has a valuable tract of mineral land near Tower, Michigan in the neighborhood of forty years ago, and has been prominent in business and politics there practically ever since. He served as mayor of Tower for several terms and is now engaged in the mercantile business. He located in Negaunee in the neighborhood of forty years ago, and for a time was engaged in the liquor trade here. He worked at several of the Negaunee mines, at one time being in the employ of the late Edward Breitung. In a press despatch from the Vermilion, the following reference is made to Mr. Murphy and his tract:

"John D. Murphy has been so quiet about his famous iron property during this activity that its existence has been overlooked. But Mr. Murphy is keeping tab on the situation and proposes to give the right man a name at his land. It is stated that several have sought it, but no one has been able to make a deal as yet. This property embraces the west half of the northeast quarter, the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter, and the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter, section 11, T. 13, S. 13, R. 13, E. 13. Mr. Murphy entered it as a homestead a quarter of a century ago. For about eighteen years he waged a desperate legal battle for the title with the old Minnesota Iron company, but won out in the end, as he did in his great fight with the British government. The estate was sold to Mr. Murphy by the British government. Mr. Murphy was born in Ireland, but is no novice in iron mining. He worked in the iron mines in the Negaunee district down in Michigan for years before coming to Tower and the Vermilion range. He was employed at Teal lake by the late E. N. Breitung for several years."

The ore discoveries in the Vermilion district are attracting unusual attention and it is reported that a number of capitalists have taken options on mineral lands. Exploratory work is being conducted on an extensive scale. Deposits of iron ore have been organized during the past few months and the area now being explored extends over a vast stretch of country near Tower, Ely and Eveleth.

Among those who have begun active operations is the Kilder estate, which has interests in this country. The estate owns forty acres on Section 19, Township 63, Range 11, Cole & McDonald have a drill in operation on the land, but no information has been given out as to the result of the borings.

Stone the Discoverer.

Many of the prominent people on the Vermilion are advocating the erection of a monument to the memory of George C. Stone, the original discoverer of iron in the district. It is claimed that it did not get to be the enterprise, grit and determination of Mr. Stone, Minnesota's history in the northern part of the state might have been fifty years slower in the making. In spite of all that he did, not one of the Minnesota towns has been named for him, and there is not a Vermilion range mine that bears his name.

Mr. Stone was a pioneer in Duluth, and was at one time engaged in the banking business there, later dealing in lands and city real estate. Following the discovery of iron in the Vermilion range, he returned to his home in Duluth, but returned two years later, at which time he acquired his Vermilion range lands. At that time Charlemagne Tower, of Philadelphia, was a wealthy man who owned mines in Montana. Mr. Stone had heard of him, and decided to try him as a champion of the Vermilion range. He scrawled together what few dollars he had, packed up his ore samples, maps and title deeds, and started for Philadelphia. He found Mr. Tower a man hard to reach. He finally secured two audiences with him and was turned down each time. It is said that the pioneer promoter went back to the hotel badly discouraged, as he did not even have money enough to buy a ticket back to Duluth. Almost in despair he pawned a valuable watch, with the idea of buying a return ticket home, but when he got to the hotel he had a fascinating proposition. He determined to drop his depressed spirits and make a final effort to interest Mr. Tower in his enterprise. On making his final call at the millionaire's office, Mr. Tower said he admired his persistence, and asked him to tell about the discoveries in the Vermilion range. Mr. Stone told him of the $50,000 Mr. Tower wrote him a check for $50,000 and instructed him to go back and resume his operations, at the same time telling him to make a demand for more money in the event it was needed.

TO VISIT WINTHROP.

A delegation of members of English Oak lodge, Sons of St. George, will go to the Wintthrop Saturday evening to attend a meeting of Sir James Watts lodge of that place. Members of the Filphen lodge have also been invited, and it is expected that a large party will be present. At the last regular meeting of the Negaunee society, Elias Dave and Sam G. Stephens were instructed to complete arrangements for the trip, which will be made in buses. The committee asks that all who contemplate going to notify Mr. Stephens at his place of business in the Sundberg block.

Exposure to Wet, Dampness and cold, invariably results in a sudden chill, which if not attended to immediately will cause a cold. By taking a teaspoonful of Perry Davis' Painkiller in half a glass of warm water or milk, the whole system will be heated and the danger of cold avoided. Avoid substitutes. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. Price 25c, 50c, and 1.00.

When George Osborn, a jeweler of New Haven, Conn., took apart an old clock, brought to him to be repaired, he found a green wild of $150 tucked in the back of it.

NEW KIND OF ROAD.

Escanaba Man Suggests Plan for Building Highways.

A. W. Wolf, a well-known Escanaba man, has offered a suggestion relative to the construction of country roads which, he says, would save three-fourths of the cost of the present rural highways. His plan is to first prepare a roadbed, having it well turpined. Then he would dig for the center two parallel trenches, eight inches wide, the inside walls being about forty inches apart. These trenches would be filled up with concrete.

Mr. Wolf asserts that to build a mile of this kind of road would require 8,500 cubic feet of concrete, at a cost of ten cents per cubic foot, or $850 per mile. The space between the concrete can be filled in with gravel, soil or stone, for the footpath of horses, while the concrete will be for the wheels. The outside of the concrete would have to be leveled up with solid material.

Mr. Wolf would construct a road which would not be injured by water, also that horses would have easy footing, while the expense of maintenance would be only nominal. He claims that it would always be in good condition.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW.

Heavy Contracts Still Continue to be Placed for Iron Products.

Additional heavy contracts for pig iron were placed last week in all sections, aggregating between 100,000 and 200,000 tons, indicating that the total for the month will be about 500,000 tons.

In the Eastern territory contracts last week covering basic, low phosphorous foundry and forge iron, aggregated about 80,000 tons for shipment, mainly over the second and third quarters. Most of the business was done at concessions, making the decline for the months fully 50 cents per ton.

In the Central West and Central New York districts interest was mainly in malleable Bessemer contracts aggregating over 200,000 tons, also at a decline of 50 cents a ton.

Railroads have placed additional orders for equipment, including 10,000 tons of rails; 3,000 cars and 870 locomotives, but only a few thousand tons of shapes for bridges.

Contracts for structural and fabricated steel have aggregated about 25,000 tons, making the total for the month something in excess of 100,000 tons, but specifications were heavier.

Among the bigging contracts have been the Third National Bank building at Atlanta, calling for 2,500 tons of steel; the Railway Postoffice building at the Pennsylvania terminal, requiring 2,500 tons, the American National Bank building at Austin, Texas, 1,600 tons and the Pacific Mills at Lawrence, Mass., 1,200 tons.

Bids are now being taken on an ore dock for the Great Northern railroad requiring 8,000 tons.

The Carnegie Steel company will supply 20,000 tons of steel shapes for the Bethlehem Steel company and 12,000 tons of armor plates for the Argentine battleships to be built in this country.

CARS ARE SCARCE.

The jobbers along the line of the Chicago & Northwestern system, south of here, as well as those working on the Menominee range, are handicapped by the shortage of cars. It is partly due to the big storm of three weeks ago, when several thousand cars were blocked. It is reported that there is a congestion of loaded cars on the system between Madison and Chicago. The situation is such that the operators of the road cannot tell just when they will be able to supply the timber operators, as the cars are badly needed in all lines of traffic. A timber jobber yesterday said that he has never seen the time when cars were so scarce on this end of the system. All of the jobbers hope that the car situation will improve before the breakup. A comparatively small amount of timber has been moved so far this winter.

BALL GAMES THIS WEEK.

The management of the Negaunee Union baseball team has completed arrangement for games with the Honesock, Hibernians and Elks at the Adelphi rink Friday and Saturday evening of this week. The Elks will play Friday, and the Hibernians Saturday night, the teams alternating with Islipening the same evenings. These games are running a close race for the Portage Lake championship. The teams are very evenly matched. The Hibernians being only one game ahead of the Elks. Carney, who is conceded to be one of the very strongest indoor pitchers of the upper peninsula, will be in the box for the Hibernians and Rose will pitch for the Elks. The admission to each game will be twenty-five cents, with ten cents extra for seats in the gallery. The games will start at 8:30 o'clock sharp.

Men began work yesterday digging trenches for the foundation and the contractors will have several carpenters at work before the end of the week.

They have been asked to complete the building within thirty days, if possible. The Consolidated company will furnish all of the material and the contractors are to supply the labor.

The Foundation company of New York is making good headway with the concrete shaft being put in at the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's Northwestern mine, on the Swansee range. This work was started nearly two years ago, but was suspended on account of litigation over the title. An agreement was reached about two months ago by all the parties concerned, and preparations were immediately started for a resumption of the concrete work. It is not anticipated that the shaft will be completed to the ledge inside of several months.

A GERMAN TRADE SCHOOL.

Vice Consul James L. A. Burrell describes the operation of the German School of Blacksmiths at Halberstadt, in the Magdeburg district. "Young smiths receive instruction in shoeing oxen and horses and preparation for the examination in shoeing, which was made compulsory in the German empire by the imperial act of July 1, 1883, and is held in the various provinces by state examining commissions. The school is supported by appropriations from the city, the province and from the two agricultural associations in Halberstadt. The courses of instruction last three months and four of them are given during the year, the beginning of each year. The theoretical instruction is in charge of a retired military veterinary surgeon. The charge for the practical and theoretical instruction, including the use of iron, etc., is only twenty-five marks ($3.95) for the course. Board and lodging can be had in the school very cheaply. For young blacksmiths without means four free courses, with board and lodging, are provided each year. Candidates who pass excellent examinations receive premiums. Only six persons may take part in each course of instruction."—Consular Report.

LECTURE ON ART GREATLY ENJOYED

OPERA HOUSE WAS CROWDED LAST NIGHT TO HEAR A. H. GRIFFITH OF DETROIT.

GAVE A DELIGHTFUL TALK

People Must First Know Art in Nature and Then by Acquaintance With It— Pictures Reproduced.

The cause of art, concretely represented in this city by the Marquette Art League, must have received a great impetus last evening from the lecture of A. H. Griffith, director of the Detroit Art museum, which was delivered before an audience that packed the opera house to its capacity.

Mr. Griffith was introduced by Rev. Ames Maywood, who stated that the average man knew just about as much about art as he did about the Bible, and then spoke of the close relation between art and religion and the mistake that our forefathers had made in leaving the beautiful so largely out of their religion.

"Art is essential to the welfare and prosperity of any country. In the mad rush for the almighty dollar, we Americans are losing much of that joy of living which comes from love and appreciation of the beautiful that is almost second nature to the inhabitants of European countries.

"In Europe every town or village of any consequence has its art gallery, which is open to and is freely made use of by the public, both rich and poor. Consequently, the Europeans appreciate art, both on canvas and in nature, and their lives are thereby made happy and ennobled.

"The artist must have a peculiar temperament and his pictures are the natural expression of his view of the subjects of his choice. It is in this that a painting differs from a photograph. The photographer seeks to give you a likeness of yourself with all the imperfections ironed out; the painter paints you as you are and in the degree in which his work is an expression of your innermost soul is the effort successful.

The greater part of Mr. Griffith's lecture consisted of a stereoscopic reproduction of many of the great works of ancient and modern European and American painters and sculptors, which, as they were thrown upon the screen, were explained in a most interesting and instructive way.

Angelia Kaufmann, one of the few great women painters, was next given a fair measure of attention, and also Leonardo de Vinci, who was loved by all who knew him. He spoke of Rubens as a painter who employed many assistants and showed one study on the screen, pointing out what was Rubens' work, and what must have been done by someone else.
