Former Cook Partisans Doing All They Can to Block Congressional Recognition of the Naval Man's Polar Achievement—In the Meantime the Explorer Is Keeping Wholly Out of the Controversy.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Outside the historic jealousy of line versus staff, which is strictly a naval service matter, another line of attack is being used to prevent congress from according to Peary the honors which foreign governments are eager to shower upon him.

Another is that Peary failed to tell the first white man he met on his return, Harry Whitney, that he had been to the pole, and made the announcement to show that Cook could have covered the ground in the time he did, while Peary, to travel to the pole and back from the point where he left the last supporting party under Bartlett, must have made more than thirty miles a day on the going trip and more than Ellis only perfunctorily as assistant attorney general, Mr. Mann, of Illinois, did not withdraw his criticism of Ellis, made Wednesday.

Washington, Feb. 18.—A touch of politics was injected into today's hearing before the house committee on agriculture. Representatives of the grain markets were opposing the bills to abolish trading in "futures."

Former President Fitch of the Chicago board of trade insisted that the grain producer is the best fixer of any party to the whole question of grain transactions, and that the burden of the risk of loss has not been on the producer at any time the last twenty years.

"I say," he added, "the producer is the best fixer at the present time, because money is rolling into the land and—"

"There would be chaos in every business pertaining to grain—absolute chaos," answered Mr. Fitch. "It would disturb something that has taken sixty years to get it where it is. The chaos would stretch all the way from the farmer to the exporter."

If Mr. Osborn is in the lead in the gubernatorial race all he has to do to win is to hold that position.

The rival forces are gradually completing their plans for the prohibition campaign. It will presently be on in earnest.

The eggs being imported from Europe are several cents cheaper than the average domestic product and not appreciably older.

Live hogs are now selling at the highest prices reached in over thirty years, and pork products are keeping them close company.

The candidates for governor made seven banquets on seven successive nights. Prominence in public life certainly has its drawbacks.

The senate will pass the postal savings bank bill, so senators who usually know what the senate will do have assured President Taft.

Senator Davis must know that the Standard Oil would never think of running a pipe line to Hades. No chance to monopolize the fuel and light market there.

It's true, of course, that Dead River water may be better than the chemist's reports make it out to be. But in these matters it is the usual course to take the chemist's word against that of the layman.

The restriction of output on account of the strike at Butte, Mont., will have a marked favorable effect on the copper metal situation, if it continues for any length of time. It is shutting off about 1,000,000 pounds of production daily.

Nearly half the counties in the state and eight of the fifteen counties in the upper peninsula are, according to Brother Rutledge, to vote on prohibition on April 4. In some cases the "wets" are trying to redeem "dry" territory, but in most of the cases it is the "drys" who are on the aggressive. Take it all and all, and it appears that both "wets" and "drys" have a busy few weeks ahead of them.

The Escanaba Mirror this week published an industrial edition of forty-eight pages that is full of matter of interest, is admirably illustrated and that is certain to be looked over carefully by all into whose hands it comes. It treats exhaustively of industrial development and opportunity at Escanaba and in the surrounding country, and gives an admirable idea of the kind of a town Escanaba is. The special numbers will be circulated widely throughout the country. The edition represents hard and intelligent work on the part of the publishers, and reflects credit on them.

President Taft says he is not without a certain satisfaction because the newspapers have seen fit to criticize him severely during the first year of his administration. He has become accustomed to that discipline, and somewhat hardened to it. Now he can look forward to three years of considerable comfort in the White House. If the newspapers keep up fire on him, he will be comparatively immune to their attacks. If on the other hand their attitude toward him undergoes a change, there will perhaps be no solitary fly in his ointment. In any event, he feels tolerably confident that no one of the ensuing three years can be a more trying one for him than the year now drawing to a close.

The baseball meeting took steps to place the management of the Marquette team in strong hands. The sentiment favored regulations to keep the game within reasonable bounds by limiting the bringing in of players. A division of all proceeds on the basis of 60-40 per cent was favored, as it is believed here that only by such a division can Munising, the fourth team necessary for the league, be induced to enter the organization again this year. This division may not meet with favor at Ishpeming and Negaunee, but the managements of all teams should make a friendly basis whatever differences they may have. To do this they will have to show something of the spirit of give and take.

The Crystal Falls Diamond Drill denies that Senator Moriarty has denied that he will not be a candidate for reelection, which is taken to mean that the senator is disinclined to take up the work of another term. If he has formed such a decision he should be inclined to alter it. Senator Smith, of the Thirtieth district, is not going back, and some of the old heads ought to stay on to show the younger blood how to conduct the senator's business.

One regrettable feature of the inquiry into the alleged bribe giving in the New York legislature is the dragging in of the names of two former members, now deceased, as alleged bribetakers. Dead men tell no tales; neither can they put in any defense when criminal conduct is alleged against them. Of the three men charged with bribetaking by Senator Conger only Senator Allis is alive to face his accusers. It would seem that the New York senators, in their wisdom, might have in some manner avoided smirching the memories of the deceased.

When President Taft withdrew his nomination of William A. Northcott to be district attorney in southern Illinois Senator Lorimer won a fight that has been engaging no small part of his attention for the past several weeks. Senator Cullom had recommended candidates for all three of the Illinois district attorneyships and before Senator Lorimer knew what was doing President Taft had sent the names of Senator Cullom's candidates to the senate for confirmation. Senator Lorimer made vigorous protest. The re-appointment of Northcott was particularly distasteful to him, as Northcott energetically opposed his plans for timberberging the Illinois legislature when Lorimer was trying to prevent the re-election of former Senator Hopkins, to whom Northcott was loyal. Northcott is a former lieutenant governor of Illinois, and was for a time head counsel of the Modern Woodmen. He has been a considerable figure in Illinois politics, but now that Senator Lorimer has laid him out cold he will probably go into a permanent eclipse.

MUSSELMAN ATTRACTS ATTENTION.

One item in Mr. Musselman's preliminary platform has done more than anything else he has said or done to attract attention to his candidacy for governor. It is his reference to the sweep of the temperance movement, which is generally accepted as a bid by him for the support of those voters in the state who sympathize with the "anti-saloon" movement. It has been commented on in many newspapers and has been discussed in every quarter where the politics of the gubernatorial fight are threshed over.

Mr. Musselman is the first of the candidates even indirectly to refer to the strained relations between "wets" and "drys" in Michigan. It is a subject that the others have carefully steered away from. Nor, indeed, is there any demand on the part of either of the factions on the liquor question that they should declare themselves in regard to it. The Anti-Saloon league is not in politics. It draws its support from men of all parties. It is not its policy to pronounce officially for any candidate, even if he formally ratifies its policies, as against any other candidate who steers a middle course.

The state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league has made it clear that the league will in no manner interfere in the gubernatorial canvass, and that it will not, as an organization, endorse Mr. Musselman, even if he should go so far as publicly to approve its work and give it outspoken assistance. But this fact does not mean that Mr. Musselman cannot make many votes—though doubtless at the cost of many others—by advocacy of the "dry" end of this state controversy over liquor. While the Anti-Saloon organization might not endorse him, aggressive assertion of the principles of that organization would certainly operate to attract to him many thousands of votes from men who believe in and have aided in its propaganda. As these men are organized for aggressive work in thirty-eight counties in Michigan this year, their power to assist any candidate to whom they show a leaning is an unquestionable one.

It is hardly possible that any consideration of political expediency has dictated Mr. Musselman's pronouncement on temperance. He is to high class a man to take up such an issue for mere expediency's sake. His utterances doubtless reflect opinions formed through many years, and are made conscientiously. But that they may be, at the same time, expedient from the political standpoint is apparent. It's no small accomplishment for each of four candidates to make his candidacy reflect something that is distinct and separate from the others. Nothing more effective to accomplish this than what may be Mr. Musselman's plan could be hit upon.

DISAGREEMENT PREDICTED.

Predictions are being made by Washington correspondents that the Ballinger investigation will result in a disagreement with a majority and a minority report. It is also predicted that the majority will favor the side of Ballinger, either with a complete exoneration of all charges of wrongdoing, or by resort to the old and convenient expedient of declaring these charges "not proven." On the other hand there seems to be a general expectation that some members of the investigating committee have become deeply impressed by the accusations which have been made by Witness Glavis, and it is regarded as practically certain that one report will be adverse to the secretary of the interior, holding him at least responsible for bad judgment and mismanagement in the conduct of his office as relating to the now famous Alaskan coal land cases.

As a matter of fact no charges of a criminal nature have yet been made against Secretary Ballinger, his accusers repeatedly stating their opposition is based simply on his apparent bias in favor of the Guggenheim interests, his seemingly misguided efforts to aid these interests at the expense of the public welfare, and his former intimate connections with these same interests. On such accusations there seems to be no lack of proof, and although the defense will have an opportunity to explain away, if it can, some of the unfavorable evidence, enough has been shown to already convince the general public that Ballinger is not the right kind of a man for the official position which he holds. Under the circumstances, in fact, the administration would gain a big point in public confidence if it could find a way to get rid of Ballinger, and it is not improbable this will be done after the investigation is concluded.

Even a divided committee report will leave a cloud on Ballinger which will hardly excuse his retention in office, and should he be retained under such conditions the administration would be continually harassed by a renewal of the old charges of his unfitness, coupled with the intimation that he was being shielded because of a motive that might not bear close inspection.

STATE POLITICS.

Any time you see two politicians together you can make a bet that they are discussing what effect the prohibition declaration of Amos Musselman is going to have on the gubernatorial contest, says the Detroit Journal.
And you can find as many opinions on this subject in the course of a half day as would fill a number of volumes. On just one point do the boys seem to be united, and that is that the declaration of Mr. Musselman has hurt Patrick H. Kelley; that Musselman will take more votes away from Pat by his dry plank than he will from the other two candidates combined because the Kelley strength has been almost entirely with the farmers. It has been the claim of the Kelley backers that Mr. Kelley's acquaintance among the farmers through his campaigning among them so frequently would make him a favorite. But it is in the ranks of the farmers that the dry movement has found its support and if they carry their dry principles into the gubernatorial contest it not only is going to hurt Mr. Kelley, but it is going to boost the Musselman stock considerably. If the drys should win because the Kelley strength has been almost entirely with the farmers, it would give him the nucleus of a big vote.

But the point raised by the politicians, and they have many precedents to back them up, is that while on the purely local question of wet and dry a man may be either dry or wet when he goes to a party primary this local issue is going to cut but small figure.

Which is reminiscent of a good story about the last Democratic state convention. It will be remembered that the resolutions committee was split on a question—a prohibition plank in the Democratic state platform, but that the fight was choked off before it was brought onto the floor of the convention.
While the sub-committee on resolutions was meeting at the Downey house the prohibition question was taken up. One member said that if the party declared for prohibition it would be sure to win the spring election because the local option question was being submitted at the same time in so many counties.

But one of the old timers rose up.
"It's a piece of nonsense," he declared. "These fellows talk prohibition and they're close to that figure to assure nomination. And it is on that figure that all of the candidates' managers are working.
Of course, each one claims that his candidate will reach and surpass the figure and be nominated easily. Friends of Lieutenant Governor Kelley claim for him the Third, Fourth, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh congressional districts with a big vote in Wayne and in the rural parts of the Second, Seventh and Eighth districts, which will give him a total vote of approximately 130,000. These are revised figures, the claim having been made some months ago that Pat would have better than 150,000.

W. E. Brown, who is handling the affairs of Justice Montgomery, isn't as definite in his claims, merely asserting that the justice will run very strong in Detroit, Grand Rapids, Lansing and the other cities, which is about all the Republican votes there are up there. The more conservative place the number at 40,000, while scouts from the lower peninsula who have invaded the north place the Osborn vote at 30,000 and his plurality above the straits at between 20,000 and 25,000. The total claim of the Osborn backers is that Chase will have 125,000 votes.

The Musselman camp, which is just being organized, has not yet opened a claim bureau, but is content to declare that Mr. Musselman will be nominated in all parts of the state, and keeping their ears close to the ground to hear what effect the Musselman dry plank is going to have.

Here is one that Justice Montgomery has added to his justice:
"President Taft declared that any census enumerator who dares in politics will be dismissed. It would have been a good thing for the state if that condition had prevailed in Michigan several years ago. Why in the convention of 1904 when a man arose to speak he began:
"I follow enumerators."
"And then proceeded with his remarks."

A LAUGH OR TWO.

His Rats.
M. Paulhan, congratulated by a correspondent on his record-breaking flights at Los Angeles, said:
"Flying conditions are so perfect in this beautiful city that I could, I believe, fly up to paradise from here—unless, indeed, the Wrights, besides owning the air, own paradise too.

"The Wrights, much as I respect them, claim to own too much. They are as bad as Monsieur Paul.
"Monsieur Paul was a grocer. Rats overran his city, and a price of two sous a head was placed upon them by the town council. Monsieur Paul's errand boy, working early and late, managed to slay ninety rats in the cellars and attics of the shop. The boy took his prey to the city hall, and returning to the grocery, showed Monsieur Paul the nine francs he had gained.
"The grocer held out his palm.
"Hand me the money here," he said. "You know very well those rats were mine, not yours."

A Valentine to the Faculty.
"A fair Western e-el got lost last year, by way of valentine, notice from the faculty to quit. She and a senior had fallen in love. Both, therefore, were fired.
The speaker was Dr. Charles L. Russell, of the University of Colorado, who is discussing what effect the prohibition declaration of Amos Musselman is going to have on the gubernatorial contest, says the Detroit Journal.

"What is the use of studying botany if I am not allowed to gather roses? Why should I devote myself to astronomy if I may not look at the stars? What does it profit me to spend years on mathematics unless I receive my own degree?
"You have expell'd my flame also.
Do you think he is unhappy? We were married last evening."

Worth Telling Again.
An old darkey in one of the southern towns walked down the main street one morning in his best black broadcloth suit, with a white rose in his buttonhole and cotton gloves on his large hands.
"Why 'most," said the proprietor of a large store that he was passing, "are you taking a holiday?"
"Dis' year," said the old man, in a stately voice, "am mah golden weddin' sah. Ah'm sohrtratin' hit."

He Explains.
"I haven't seen you for some years. What business are you in?"
"I'm on the stage doing a musical turn."
"You had a poor ear for music when a boy."
"And I have yet. I can only play 'Auld Laurie' and I can't play that very well."
"How do you get by with it?"
"It's very simple. I play it on a stove pipe, on a cigar shell, on coffee pots, and on a clarion bugle. The result is a prime vandyviele act."

Thought It a Club.
Glenn H. Curtiss, at a dinner during the brilliant aviation week at Los Angeles, said of flying:
"A man learns quickly and easily to fly. There are but a few things that cannot be cured by flying, and those are: rheumatism, hay fever, and a nose as ignorant of aviation as Mr. Rockefeller used to be of golf.
"Mr. Rockefeller, you know, was asked some years ago if he liked golf.
"Golf?" he replied. "I never have even seen the game. I wouldn't know how to hold my caddy."

S. S. S. FOR RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is in reality an internal inflammation; a diseased condition of the blood cells which supply the nourishment and strength necessary to sustain our bodies. The disease is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood, which comes from indigestion, weak kidneys, constipation, and other irregularities of the system. This uric acid produces an inflamed and acid condition of the blood, and the circulation, instead of nourishing the different portions of the body, continually deposits into the muscles, nerves, joints and bones, the irritating and pain-producing acid with which it is filled. Then follow the painful and torturing symptoms of Rheumatism. We do not claim for S. S. S. that it is anything more than a first class blood purifier, and that is just what is needed to cure Rheumatism. S. S. S. goes into the circulation, and by neutralizing the uric acid and driving it from the blood, effectually and surely removes the cause of Rheumatism. S. S. S. strengthens and invigorates the blood so that instead of a weak, sour stream, causing pain and agony throughout the system, it becomes an invigorating, nourishing fluid, furnishing health and vigor to every portion of the body, and permanently relieving the suffering caused by Rheumatism. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and will not injure the most delicate system. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

NOT AN INCH OF HEALTHY SKIN

Left on Whole Body—Boy of Five a Mass of Itching Eruption and His Scares were Heart-Breaking—Bandages Stuck to His Flesh.

CURED BY CUTICURA TWELVE YEARS AGO

"My little son, a boy of five, broke out with an itching rash. Three doctors prescribed for him, but he kept getting worse until I was unable to dress him any more. They finally advised me to buy Cuticura, but I had to cut his hair off and put the Cuticura Ointment on him in bandages, as it was impossible to rub it in with the bare hand. There was not one square inch of skin on his whole body that was not affected. Every part was scaly. The bandages used to stick to his skin and in removing them it used to take the skin off with them, and the screams from the poor child were heart-breaking. I began to think that he would never get well, but after the second application of Cuticura Ointment I began to see signs of improvement, and with the third and fourth applications the sores commenced to dry up. His skin peeled off naturally, but he finally yielded to the treatment. Now I can say that he is entirely cured, and a stronger and healthier boy never grew than he is today. Twelve years ago more since the cure was effected. Robert Watham, 1148 Forty-eighth St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 9, 1909."

Millions of women prefer Cuticura Soap to all other skin soaps for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair and hands. For itching, eruptions and chafings, red, rough hands, dry, thin and falling hair, for infantile eruptions and itches, for the cure of every purpose of the toilet, bath and nursery, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are invaluable.

Mining News

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.
The improvement first noted a few weeks ago in Trumountain No. 2 shaft was steadily growing and to proportions meriting mention. The twenty-foot run in this shaft has advanced twenty feet in the hole and the showing is good. The two northly shafts are holding their own, but No. 1 shaft on the south continues rather poorly to say the least. Both No. 1 and 2 shafts have in more recent years given smaller amounts and have at times been deepened several lifts without showing copper in commercial quantities. A change for the better in No. 2 shaft is very apparent.

Utah Consolidated is producing at the present time about 10,000,000 pounds of copper per annum at a cost of around nine cents per pound. The cost is being earned on 15¢-cent copper, at the rate of $1.50 per share on its 300,000 shares, against $2 now being paid in dividends. For the year ended Dec. 31, 1908, the company took $273,088 from surplus to cover a deficiency in earnings against dividends paid for that year, and it is probable that for the period ended Dec. 31, 1909, another good-sized deficit had to be made, good although the report for the past twelve months has yet to be issued.

FOR VILLAGE TREASURER.

Three Houghton Candidates Announce Themselves as Willing.

There is some little stir in Houghton village politics. While places on the council are not being sought with any eagerness and while the village presidency is still a matter in doubt, the office of treasurer is in demand. Three candidates have appeared. James H. Thomas was the first to make his wishes known, and later Joseph Schmitzer entered the field. Now Otto H. Obenhoff announces that he has been urged by his friends to run.

Mr. Schmitzer is the only one of the trio who has held office before. He was village treasurer seven years ago. Mr. Obenhoff has never been much concerned with politics and Mr. Thomas only to announce that he holds an appointive county office.

Politics Elsewhere.
There is a bit of excitement in Laurium, where Alvin Vairo and Harry Herman are rumored as being willing to be run for the council position to be left vacant by the retirement of James Torrance. W. J. Reynolds would succeed himself as president of Laurium, but Joseph Wills, ex-sheriff of Houghton county, is a receptive candidate and it may be that there will be a contest.

Opening Ceremonies Yesterday—Description of the Building.

The new public library was opened to the public yesterday. Two hundred and twenty-five children and a large number of mothers and children in the afternoon and a program and reception to the public last night. The library is now open to book borrowers, commencing at 9 o'clock this morning.

The library building is located at Montrose and Huron streets on the old Light Infantry armory site, a central location, convenient to all parts of Houghton. The main entrance is on Huron street, in the center of the building, and there is another entrance from that street, at the north side of the building.

Cornish Wrestlers Will Meet in Calumet the 12th of March.

Among those expected to enter are John Rowlett, of Besemer; Joe Ziehr, Herman Stoll, Albert Davey, Slippery Johns, Ole Olson and Albert Ford, all of Calumet; Clark and the Chapman brothers of Trumountain, and others. Some of the Finnish wrestlers will also take part.

CIRCUIT COURT MATTERS.
Bruce Stuart out of game. Beyer-Joyal case to the jury—Montecelli secures verdict.

The Beyer-Joyal case went to the jury in the circuit court yesterday at 11 o'clock. This is the case which involved a suit for the support of a girl for nineteen years. In charging the jury yesterday morning Judge Schroter told the jury that a deal of extraneous matter had been introduced in the case and they must disregard that, that the entire case rested on the question of whether Joyal had agreed to pay Beyer for supporting his child. In the absence of such an agreement, the verdict should be against the defendant.

Miss Jessie McIntosh is visiting friends
 in Duluth and Proctor.

G. F. Canfield of Ishpeming was a business visitor in Marquette yesterday.

The K. O. K. A. lodge met last evening and took in two new members, after which a social good time was enjoyed.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon, there will be a basketball game at Legion Hall between the K. O. K. A. and high school second teams.

It is reported that there is exceptionally fine skating near the L. S. & I. dock.
 The ice is said to be four or five inches thick and as smooth as glass.

Yesterday afternoon on the Guild Hall alleys Edwin Quarters rolled three straight games with scores of 232, 234 and 197, making a total of 663 or an average of 221 for each game.

Four heifers and one cow, six years old, have recently been added to the Embalgard dairy herd, all of which are registered Holsteins and were purchased by L. M. Hatch at Howell, Mich.

At the Grand theater today will be shown a picture entitled, "Bear Hunt in the Rockies," which is a true and thrilling representation of a western hunt. Frank Wickens, a famous hunter, is the central figure.

Fred S. Case and P. G. Teeple leave tomorrow morning for a three days' visit at the Doe Lake lodge, twelve miles from Wetmore. They will be joined at Wetmore by a number of Munising men, and the party will snowshoe to the lodge.

A meeting of the special committee of the board of supervisors will be held today to discuss the site of the proposed tuberculosis sanitarium. The committee will report at the county board meeting Wednesday, at which it is expected that final action on the matter will be taken.

Wm. Culbert, son of Joshua Culbert, once a liveryman in this city, returned to his birthplace yesterday after an absence of thirty-one years. He is now in the heavy grain business in Minneapolis. He spent the day looking up his boyhood acquaintances, who were surprised and delighted to see him again.

McKinley council, 905, Royal Ar-cadium, held a meeting at Siegel's Hall last evening at which a number of candidates were initiated and plans were formulated for the reception of a large class, March 4. The meeting early next month is expected to be one of the most interesting ever held by the council. The work of initiation will be followed by a social session and smoker.

Matinee at Opera House—The Carl W.
 Cook Stock company will give both matinee and evening performances today.
 The play this afternoon will be "Rip
 Van Winkle," and this evening "Ranch
 '81" will be presented. A fair sized audience witnessed "Beware of Men" last night.

High School Beat Normal—The basketball game at Legion Hall last night between the high school and Normal teams resulted in a victory for the high school by the score of 40 to 7. The game was played to a tie in the first quarter, but the Keewatin academy team and was attended by a fairly large crowd.

Special Train Likely—As there are many Ishpeming and Negaunee people who have signified a desire to attend
 the Knights Templar or Electricians ball, both of which will be given in Marquette next Wednesday night, it is likely that a special train will be run from the upper road towns on that date. Both of these parties promise to be unusually elaborate and enjoyable and large crowds are expected.

Miss Mosher in Minneapolis—Miss
 Kathryn Mosher, daughter of E. D.
 Mosher of this city, is carrying the leading part in the "Kissing Girl" company which is this week playing in Minneapolis. Sunday's Tribune of that city contained a photograph of Miss Mosher and the accompanying sketch complimented her voice and work highly.
 Miss Mosher is using the stage as a stepping stone to grand opera.

Much Interest Being Shown—Unusual interest is being shown in the Andrew Gillies lecture on Jean Val Jean, to be given at the Guild Hall next Wednesday evening, and the indications are that the distinguished lecturer will be greeted by an audience that will tax the capacity of the Guild Hall assembly room.
 The reserved seat chart for season ticket holders will be at Bigelow's store Monday morning. Purchasers of individual tickets may get reserved seats Tuesday and Wednesday.

Official Notice Received—County Clerk
 Frank G. Jenks and D. W. Powell, chairman of the county board of supervisors, yesterday received official notice of the supreme court decision in the Marquette county local option case. The notice orders the supervisors to re-convene and count the names on the petitions which were deducted, and if it shall then appear that the total number of signers is equal to one-third of the voters of the county to order the question of local option to be voted on at the spring election.

Spring Water Safe—Health Officer Dr.
 Z. Vadnais yesterday received the analysis of the sample of water taken from the Hewitt avenue spring a week ago.
 The state bacteriologist declares the water to be excellent and writes of it as follows: "The chemical findings in this sample of water give an indication of dangerous contamination and all nitrogenous matter is found to be well oxidized. The bacteriological findings are exceptionally good and indicate that this water is entirely safe for drinking purposes."

Tearing Down Part of Dock—Workmen are engaged in tearing down the southern approach to South shore dock No. 1, and the timbers are being used at other points on the company's lines. The removal of this trestle will be a great convenience to those using the roadway beneath, which has always been narrow and a bad place to drive through at night. This dock has not been used for several years as it is too low for the large vessels of the present day to take on cargoes of ore to advantage, and it is gradually being torn down, as fast as its timbers can be used elsewhere.

Caught After Five Years—Philip Gar-belena was arrested in Negaunee this week on a warrant which has been standing against him since September, 1905.

 At that time, Garbelena was arrested on the charge of operating a blind pig, but before the date of his trial he departed to parts unknown. Last Saturday he returned to Negaunee, thinking that the Marquette county officers had forgotten all about him. That very day, however, he was recognized and Thursday he was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Lough. He is now in the county jail awaiting trial at the coming term of circuit court.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.

Northern Normal Notes.

President Kaye went to Munising Friday morning to conduct the Alger county teachers' institute.

Miss Lillas S. Hill has gone to Mun-icking to assist in the teachers' institute held there this week.

Owing to the fact that a great many of the students wished to spend Washington's birthday at their homes, it was decided by the faculty that there be no sessions on Monday, thus closing the school in both the Normal and training departments from Friday evening until Wednesday morning, Feb. 23.

Dr. Hebb gave a very interesting talk on aeronomics in chapel on Thursday morning. He discussed the different types of balloons and aeroplanes, and the principles underlying each. He gave a brief history of aeronomics from the beginning to the present time, mentioning some of the most important men who have added to the world's knowledge concerning this now most interesting and important subject. In closing he spoke of some of the real difficulties to be overcome in perfecting the aeroplane.

Monday evening Osiris Literary society entertained the faculty and members of Ygdrasil Literary society. Following is the excellent program which was carried out:

Debate—
 "Resolved that woman should have the right of suffrage."
 Affirmative: Misses May and Winifred Von Zellen.
 Negative: Messrs Liberty
 and Morris.

The question was hotly contested and the debate was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The judges—Mr. Parker, Miss Spald-ington and Miss Hill—after due deliberation decided in favor of the affirmative. After the program, refreshments of ice cream, coffee and cake were served.
 About one hundred twenty-five persons were present.

Tuesday morning Miss Melnich had charge of chapel exercises, and her pupils carried out a very interesting program.
 Emily Phelps told the story of the Chimera. Following this were two scenes from "The Christmas Carol," "The Bird's Christmas Carol." The first of these was the scene in which Mrs. Ruggles prepares her numerous family, by vivid pictures, for the thorough cleaning and scrubbing up which they must undergo before leaving for the party. Helen June then read that part of the "Caroling" between this scene and the one following, in which Mrs. Ruggles gives the children, now arrayed in party attire, a thorough drill in party manners.
 Both scenes were very realistically and well carried out by all who took part.

The characters were taken as follows:
 Mrs. Ruggles Signe Gillig
 Sarah Maud Emily Phelps
 Peter Eugene De Haas
 Susan Mabel De Haas
 Cornelius Ellsworth Roberts
 Kitty Mildred Kaye
 Peoria Jennie McCauley
 Clement Bernaf Cassin
 Eiley Mabel Hansen
 Larry Glenray Stewart

TO RECEIVE ENTRIES SUNDAY.
Names of Riders at Coleraine Today Will Be Wired to Ishpeming.

The officers of the Ishpeming Ski club expect to receive for the tournament here Tuesday the entries of the professional skiers on Sunday night at the conclusion of the national tournament at Coleraine. Thomas Locksen, captain of the club, who will be one of three riders representing the Ishpeming club at Coleraine, will wire the names.

Ole Mangseth, who has participated in the meets here a number of times, is credited with having made 157 feet in a practice jump on the new Coleraine steel slide. This is thirteen feet more than the American record. The Itasca club, under whose auspices the tournament is being held, offers a trip to Europe to any rider holding membership in the organization who will break the world's record. The new steel slide has been declared by experts who have examined it to be the best in the world. Ole Fiering and John Evenson, crack riders of Duluth, are regarded as rivals for the national championship.

The list of entries in both the amateur and professional classes is the largest ever reported from a national tournament. If all of those whose names have entered, participate there will be about 125 jumpers. Bent Hanson will jump from the slide on a pair of skis made of single barrel staves. Miss Olga Kettleson of Sidska, Minn., who is said to be the only woman ski jumper in Northern Minnesota, will descend the slide. Barney Riley, the famous juvenile jumper, is said to have recently made a phenomenal jump on the new hill.

IN CHARGE OF MINE.
Former Ishpeming Man Superintendent of Property in Cobalt District.

The Cobalt Daily Nugget, published at Cobalt, Ont., in its issue of the 15th, contained the following mention of the property of which Con Thompson, formerly of this city, has charge:

"Mr. Con Thompson, who has taken charge of the work on the Webb properties in the Gillies Limit, has ordered a boiler and hoist in order that the shaft on the property near the Red Jacket may be put down by steam. The shaft is now down 60 feet on a well defined fissure which the management believe is in the same line of weakness as the Red Jacket's vein across the tracks of the T. N. O. Twelve men have been working more or less continuously since the properties were bought from the government at the first sales. The Webb Bros. have the management believe in which they propose to develop next summer and are also working on what is known as the Hamilton Fabre property in Quebec."

At our special sale this Saturday evening will offer a beautiful $590 mink coat at $195. Ishpeming Cloak, Suit & Fur Co., Mortley block. (2-19-1d) against $113 last year. Those who don't go out until 1911 are now looking forward pessimistically to hearing next January or February that the dividend has petered out altogether.

Disheartened by a long illness and the slight hope of recovery that was offered him, James Jamieson, seventy-five years of age, formerly of Masonville, committed suicide at the Delta county almshouse by drinking wood alcohol. Jamieson had confided to some of his fellow inmates that he intended to bring an end to his misery when the first opportunity was offered, but little attention was paid to his threat.

Nearly every one can find a lot of ways to reduce expenses, but that isn't what people are looking for; they want to reduce prices.

Negaunee Department

OLD OFFENDER ARRESTED HERE

FORMER NEGAUNEE MAN, WHO JUMPED HIS BONDS NEARLY FIVE YEARS AGO, TAKEN INTO CUSTODY UPON HIS RETURN FROM THE WEST.

Philip Garbolino, who, prior to five years ago, conducted a "blind pig" at the halfway house between Negaunee and Palmer, was arrested Thursday afternoon by Marshall John Rough, on a bench warrant issued by Judge Stone, Feb. 9, 1905.

The arrest was a surprise to Garbolino, as he learned shortly after he jumped his bond for $200 furnished by Mike Bassalo, that the bondsman had settled up.

Garbolino protested that Bassalo had paid the amount of the bond, and contended that therefore he could not be legally arrested again.

It is thought that Garbolino did well in Butte, and that he will settle there, paying Bassalo the amount of the forfeited bond, as well as any fine or costs that may be imposed.

COLD SNAP GENERAL

Expected That the Cold Wave Will End Today or Tomorrow.

Furs, heavy coats and ear coverings have been popular here during the past two or three days, as a result of the fall in the temperature.

The coldest temperature reported anywhere in Negaunee during the present cold snap was twenty-two below zero, registered by the Breitling House thermometer on Thursday morning at 6 o'clock.

BASEBALL MEETING.

Negaunee Men Will Meet Monday Evening at No. 1 Hose House.

A meeting of the baseball fans will be held Monday evening at No. 1 hose house, for the purpose of discussing plans for the coming season.

It is likely that a board of managers, similar to the one appointed at Ishpeming, will be named. Last year it was a difficult task to secure a manager.

There was some discussion yesterday as to how the receipts should be divided. Most of the Negaunee men took the position that each team should have the entire receipts of the home games, the same as last year, but others favor dividing the receipts on a basis of 60 per cent to the winners and 40 to the losers.

WOLVES DEFEAT PIKERS.

In the league bowling contest Thursday evening at DeFram's alleys the Wolves won two out of three games from the Pikers, leading by a total of forty-nine pins.

NEGAUNEE TEAM LOST.

The Union baseball team was defeated by the Manistique nine at Manistique Thursday evening by a score of 2 to 0. The Manistique team scored both runs in the second inning, when the Negaunee players made errors.

BRANCH LIBRARIES IN THE SCHOOLS

SUCCESSFUL IN OTHER CITIES, PLAN WILL BE ADOPTED HERE IN A LIMITED WAY.

ADVANTAGES TO THE PUPILS

With Books in School Rooms, Teachers Can Direct Reading of the Children in Proper Channels.

Through an agreement of the Peter White Public Library trustees and the board of education, a system of sub-libraries is about to be established in four of the public schools of the city. The movement is in line with the policy adopted in several large cities, where it has everywhere proven a great success in interesting the younger generation in good literature. In the immediate future, sub-libraries will be established only in the North Marquette, Hampton, Olcott and Fisher street schools, which are the furthest removed from the public library, but in time it may be extended to all the school buildings in the city.

To make it possible to carry out the plan without reducing the number of books in the stacks at the library building, 200 new books have been purchased by the library board, their selection having been largely made by the superintendent of schools and teachers. Most of these books are now at the public library and are being catalogued for use in the various school rooms. In the four schools in which the plan will be adopted, each room from the fourth grade up will have its sub-library, consisting of about forty books. Cases have already been made for each of these rooms, in which the books will be kept. The selection made by the school authorities includes both works of reference and juvenile fiction books. Pupils will have the same privileges in drawing books from the library in their respective school rooms that are given patrons of the public library. When one set of books has been pretty well read by the pupils, the set will be taken to the public library and exchanged for an equal number of books of other titles. In this way, the school pupils will have almost as good an opportunity to read the best literature as they could by drawing books from the public library. In fact, in some ways the pupils will be better off, as the teachers can direct the reading of their pupils more wisely than the public library could be expected to do, not having a personal acquaintance with the children.

Not an Experiment. The plan of having branch public libraries in public school buildings is by no means an experiment. It has been adopted in many cities, of which Buffalo, Pittsburgh and Cleveland may be cited as examples. In these three cities it was worked wonderfully well and resulted in the school children making much more general use of the library than before. Every child has a certain amount of diffidence about going to a large brick or stone library the first time, and frequently does not begin to take books therefrom until near the close of his grammar school days, if at all, simply because he has had no one to help him get started in the normal child does not venture into a public library, as a general rule, on his own initiative. Unless his parents, his teachers or a companion chance to go with him to the library, the chances are that he will grow up without knowing much about the institution or the hundreds of interesting books that he might find there. As he may have no books at home, unless he does learn to visit the library, he is likely to grow up without acquiring the habit of reading, a habit that is seldom acquired by young manhood or womanhood is readied.

The sub-library in the public schools is intended to bring the school pupils in touch with the public library. The pupil gets a book from his teacher, takes it home to read and in a few days brings it back to exchange for another. In a short time he knows what a library is for and how to use it. Then it needs little urging to cause the child to visit the public library, and once having visited it, the chances are that he will make liberal use of it thereafter.

Convenience to Teachers. Furthermore, as school work is conducted nowadays, it is necessary that certain amount of outside reading and reference work. As it is now, the teachers direct the children to get certain books from the public library or go to the library to find the information required. Many of the children are less than average in doing this, and even if they do go they are often unable to find the book or magazine containing the information desired. With books of reference right in the school room, all this is changed. Teachers can direct the pupils in their reading and take care that it is done. The result is that lessons are better prepared and that a large proportion of the children form the habit of reading in early life which, after all, is one of the most valuable acquisitions of a common school education.

The plan about to be adopted in the public schools should receive the hearty commendation of the public, and will doubtless result in greater efficiency of the Marquette public school system.

SUCCUMBS TO TYPHOID.

Ignatius Yessick Passed Away Last Night After Four Weeks' Illness.

Ignatius Yessick, son of Martin Yessick, 612 Baraga avenue, passed away at 5:45 last evening after an illness of four weeks with typhoid fever. This young man had for several years been in the employ of The Mining Journal in the job printing department, in which position he was at work as a stenge hand at the opera house for some time. A father and mother who reside in Marquette and an older brother in Chicago survive to mourn his untimely death. Though not definitely decided, it is expected that the funeral will be held Monday morning from St. Peter's cathedral.

"DRYS" EFFECT ORGANIZATION.

Campaign to Be Waged Quietly and Along Economic Lines.

The "dry" end of the local option campaign was formally launched at Negatone yesterday afternoon, where the members of the temperance executive committee of the county held a meeting. This is the organization that had charge of the circulation of the local option petitions. The following officers were elected to have charge of the pre-election campaign: President—Rev. E. C. Planette, Negatone. Vice President—Rev. J. M. Rogers, Marquette. Corresponding Secretary—Rev. C. L. Adams, Ishpeming. Recording Secretary—Rev. Aug. Lelliha, Ishpeming. Treasurer—John Skoglund, Ishpeming. Finance, publicity and other committees were also appointed, and the campaign will be in charge of this organization, assisted by the Anti-Saloon league in an advisory capacity only. The meeting at the meeting was strongly in favor of a quiet, orderly campaign of speaking and dissemination of literature, in which mud slinging should be entirely avoided. It was felt that the best results could be accomplished by appealing to the voters with logical, matter-of-fact arguments, setting forth the advantages of prohibition from an economic standpoint.

A DESIRABLE PARTNERSHIP OFFERED.

A partnership with a Bitter Root Valley Apple Orchard is one of the most desirable that we can think of, as the orchard works all the time; never fails to produce a dividend, and never causes you any worry.

We can satisfy any one who is interested, that an investment in orchard lands in Bitter Root Valley, Montana, is as safe as government bonds and more than ten times as profitable; safer and much more profitable than any kind of stocks or other real estate investments, and requires less attention than any commercial enterprise.

If the reader of this could be sure he could become the owner of a property that would provide a home and an ample income for himself and family for life, by paying a few hundred dollars each year for five years, would he take advantage of it? We offer just such an opportunity in our Bitter Root orchards.

Buying a Bitter Root orchard is no speculation; it is an investment than which no safer or more profitable can be found. $4,500—$1,000 cash, balance in four annual payments, secures a five year old ten-acre orchard that will, the sixth year give a net income of over $2,000, and an increase of over $1,000 each successive year for a number of years. Such an orchard will furnish sure income for a lifetime, and we feel that we are doing a kindness to any one that get to invest in Bitter Root Orchards, whose crop failures are unknown.

UNIFORM FOOD LAWS URGED BY MECHANTS

DIFFERENT RULES IN EFFECT IN DIFFERENT STATES SAID TO CAUSE DEALERS INCONVENIENCE—HINTS FOR CONGRESS.

"This pure food question is arousing considerable attention among the wholesale and retail business men who deal in foodstuffs," said a Marquette merchant yesterday. "The exchange of foodstuffs will always be more or less handicapped until a series of uniform pure food laws are passed. Of course the national pure food laws are of great value. The difference in the laws that the legislatures of the various states have passed is what causes the most trouble. One article may be a legal brand under the laws of Michigan while its use would not be permitted under the pure food laws of Wisconsin or Minnesota, and vice versa. This is a matter of much inconvenience to shippers all over the country and many are agitating the establishment of a uniform code of pure food laws.

"The regulation of the commercial relations between the states was not overlooked by the framers of the constitution. One of the delegated powers to congress was to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several states." Congress can lead the way and there lies the greatest opportunity of uniformity in pure food laws.

"Some states are more likely to follow the example set by the national government than that established by a sister state. A statute with the prestige of national authority and favor would be a commanding force and the individual merchant residing in one state, but doing business in forty-six other states, subject always to the interstate law, is a strong factor in creating public sentiment in favor of the adoption by his own state of a national model.

MEETINGS OF CHRISTIANS.

Rev. Wilson Conducting Special Services at Swedish Baptist Church.

Special religious meetings are being conducted in the Swedish Baptist church, at the corner of Third and Ohio streets, by Rev. Wilson, an evangelist who believes that sectarianism in religion is wrong both in principle and practice, and advocates that all followers of Christ should be designated by the name Christians. A meeting will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. We quote as follows from his argument setting forth the reasons for his belief:

"At the beginning of the last century the condition of the churches was very unsatisfactory to many godly people of all parties. There was distrust and contention on every hand, and human spees- sion were of greater importance than the plain simple gospel. Doctrines and dogmas formulated by men were the subjects of discussion, and these discussions resulted in feelings not akin to brotherly love. Many longed for the simple gospel of Christ and a restoration of the church to its original position of simplicity and power.

"There were in those days as now, men who were deeply convinced that division, sectarianism and partyism is sinful. Among these men were Barton W. Stone, Thomas and Alexander Campbell and Walter Scott. These men desired to see the Christians of all parties cast aside their differences and personal opinions and unite on the broad firm confession made by St. Peter in Matt 16:16, 'Thou art the Christ, the son of the living God.' They believed that in faith there should be unity in opinion, liberty, and in all things, charity. Their creed was a divine, living person, Jesus Christ.

"The people who stand upon these principles have steadfastly refused to wear human names, and have been content to be known as simply Christians, or disciples of Christ, and their congregations are known as churches of Christ. They believe that Christ is the head of the church, which is His bride, and that the bride should wear the name of the Bridegroom. Surely all Christian people should be proud of this name. Whatever party name people may wear they all want to be known as Christians. This is good, but it would be much better if all would be content to cast aside all dividing names and be known as simple Christians.

"This movement, beginning a hundred years ago, has assumed gigantic proportions. Today there are no fewer than 1,500,000 people who gladly accept this position. They all believe that when all Christians return to the simple gospel they will adopt the name Christian alone. Then all will be one again as at the first. The Master's prayer will be answered, and the world will believe."
