MARQUETTE, MICH., MARCH 8.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

It's the 8th of March. Less than a month remains of the anti-saloon fight. And no heads have been broken yet.

We hope that the Escanaba Journal will notice that Mr. Musselman observes right at the go-off that the party platform has some right in the premises.

Mr. Musselman has made it tolerably clear where he stands. The other candidates had already defined their positions so that there has been no difficulty about placing them. Now all they have to do is to go to it.

Despite Senator Lorimer's man Moxley's protestations of innocence of any part in the oleomargarine frauds, the federal grand jury is going to take up on its merits the evidence seeming to point him out as one of the guilty men.

J. H. Sawbridge, a resident of Negaunee for the better part of half a century, is a candidate for mayor in that city. He is a strong man and will make a strong run, no matter who is pitted against him. If another candidate worthy to oppose him is placed in the field Negaunee's municipal election will be an eventful affair.

Mayor Gaynor of New York has decided that John J. Linson, of Kingston, a man who has been paid $258,556.79 for services on condemnation proceedings for the Catskill watershed, can be replaced by a $3,000-a-year lawyer, without the public interest suffering any. A quarter of a million dollars does seem rather fancy compensation for such ordinary legal services as are involved in condemnation proceedings. It's too bad Mayor Gaynor couldn't have had a little action at the front, rather than the rear, end of that quarter of a million.

Most of the editorial comment on Mr. Musselman's attitude on the liquor question goes no further than remarking that he favors county option. But doesn't this sentence indicate that he regards statewide prohibition as a thing to be aimed at? "I would favor each county exercising 'home rule' and settling the matter for itself until the work of education shall have created a sentiment in the state which shall be irresistible. Sentiment irresistible for what? What, if not statewide prohibition? It appears to us that Mr. Musselman has gone the limit in fact if not in so many words.

According to the latest reports from Washington, there are not likely to be any early developments in regard to the Michigan patronage to be disposed of by the senators. Senator Smith will not, it is said, take up questions of patronage with Senator Burrows until he has thoroughly recovered from his recent operation for appendicitis. There appears to have been some sparring between the senators over the Marquette collectorship the latter part of last week, but no decision about the appointment was reached. The matter is still open, and is doubtless waiting on an agreement that will cover all the places now vacant in Michigan, and soon to be vacant.

Thomas C. Platt has now passed from life. He passed from influence in political affairs years ago. His political decay dated from the time he conceived and carried through the clever plan of sidetracking Colonel Roosevelt in the office of vice president, and fate set his plan at naught by opening the way for Roosevelt to the president's chair. As the star of Roosevelt grew in brightness that of Senator Platt waned, and in the closing years of his life other men's counsels were potent where for much of his career his was supreme. Platt's name is frequently coupled with that of Quay of Pennsylvania. The period of their ascendancy was the same. In their day both had to be reckoned with in the game of politics. But both played it with themselves and their personal interest principally in mind. The public showed little concern at the death of Quay. It will show no more at the death of Platt. It does not feel that it owes him very much. His career, though brilliant and masterful, had selfishness, both personal and class selfishness, as its keynote. Little is remembered that Platt ever undertook or performed with thought of the whole people in mind. "Peace rest his ashes," they will say now, and quickly turn their eye to the news in the next column.

The trustees of the Detroit Museum of Art, whose director, Mr. Griffith, recently addressed a Marquette audience, have decided to execute a $216,000 option on a desirable site for a new museum building. The money necessary to close the deal has been practically all raised by private subscription, and the site will be obtained without asking for a dollar from the taxpayers. It is planned that the new building shall be erected by the city, at an estimated cost of $500,000, but the project will be approached slowly, and care will be taken not to unduly burden the taxpayers. The movement for acquiring the site has been energetically pushed by Mr. Griffith, to whose success in interesting public spirited citizens in its carrying through is in large measure due. The Detroit Museum of Art is one of the most notable examples of a city supporting a purely cultural project to be found in this country, and Mr. Griffith is the man who has made its present scope and excellence possible. Since he assumed the directorship some twelve years ago he has been its moving and inspiring spirit.

The Grand Rapids News is of the opinion that "from the politician's standpoint, Mr. Musselman has made a wise move in his declaration, because it will attract to him the large 'dry' vote, whereas his fellow candidates will have the 'wet' contingent split up between them." While Mr. Musselman's platform is a bid for the "dry" vote, it would be erroneous to conclude that he will get all the "dry" voters. It will doubtless attract the radical "drys," but there is a vast "dry" vote that does not feel so strongly on the question involved that they are influenced by their feeling in the decision they arrive at in regard to other matters of public policy. The Anti-Saloon league is not a political organization. As long as a candidate is fair, it does not fight him. All the candidates will agree with Mr. Musselman in his comment on the desirability of temperance. All will take the same position that he does in regard to the course they would pursue if a resolution for the submission of state wide prohibition to the voters, duly passed by the legislature, was presented to them for their signature as governor. They would sign it, because, the legislature having spoken, it would be the obviously proper thing to do. If all the "drys" voted for Mr. Musselman while the other three candidates split the "wets" Mr. Musselman would certainly be the man of the hour, but there is no condition confronting the Republican voters of the state that calls for the "drys" to vote en masse for any one candidate. They would get a square deal from all. Mr. Osborn, certainly, should be as acceptable to them as any other candidate.

The Trinity corporation, which controls the property from which Trinity church has a great income in New York, has so often been pictured as a ruthless landlord, fattening off oppressed tenants crowded into its foul and disease breeding tenement houses, that it is entitled to have the widest possible dissemination of a report of an expert investigator of the tenement house committee of the New York Charity organization. This report indicates that there is little basis of truth for the severe accusations brought against the Trinity corporation as a landlord. Two-thirds of its houses are reported to be in excellent condition throughout, and are held to be of great value to the community. "They give low rents, quiet, comfortable, private living quarters, free from overcrowding, in the heart of the city and within walking distance of the business district." In the remaining third the defects are said not to be serious. They are largely those of maintenance, and are often due to the laxity of the tenants, rather than to the landlord. The houses are said to be structurally good, not overcrowded, in sanitary condition and to have abundant air space. They run better than average tenements in the same localities and run cheaper in rents. It is found that none of the Trinity tenements, with the exception of a few frame buildings not worth repair, should be torn down, as whatever defects exist can easily be remedied, and their destruction "would displace a population of several thousand persons, driving them probably into inferior quarters at higher rents and increased overcrowding." The corporation's income from its tenements for the twelve months ending July 31, 1909, was $76,784.24, of which over $140,000 was paid in taxes and water rents and $308,000 in maintenance. The remainder was spent in carrying on the religious, educational and social work of the Trinity parish.

This is an exceptional side-line proposition to county roadmen covering country towns. Something new and "different"—a really profitable side-line. Name the county you prefer. Address: THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The state railroad commission, acting on a recent suggestion of Governor Warner's, is engaged in an inquiry into inequalities in existing express rates, which is expected to result in the correction of many exorbitant rates and in a general scaling down of the charges for this service. The commission is now compiling a comprehensive schedule of the rates that the three companies doing business in Michigan—the American, United States and National—have in effect between many points. When it is completed the representatives of the companies will be asked to appear before the commission and explain many rates that appear to be exorbitantly high, in comparison with others. President Glasgow, of the commission, says that many rates now in effect date back to the time when the express service was first introduced into Michigan, and that the inequalities survive because the schedules have never been revised on a scientific basis. In the early days many towns that originated and received large express traffic protested vigorously at existing rates as being too high, and reductions were granted. Towns that didn't protest continued, and continue to this day, to pay high and inequitable rates. The commission has ample power, under the law of 1909, to compel the companies to adjust their rates wherever they are shown to be unfair. That they propose to exercise it will give pleasure to the general public, which has for many years had the idea that it was being over-taxed by the express carriers. There has been much vigorous protest in the upper peninsula at high and inequitable rates. It has been voiced by the St. Ignace Enterprise, the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune and other papers, from time to time. Those who have knowledge of cases of apparently exorbitant charges for express service should now embody the facts in statements and submit them to the railroad commission. The upper peninsula should not be overlooked in the proposed readjustment. In many cases it is paying far more for express service than the service can possibly be considered worth.

UP TO THE HOUSE. One of the houses of congress has finally passed one of the important bills for which President Taft is asking. The senate has put through the postal savings bank bill. It now goes to the house, where in due time it will again be passed, though doubtless only after it has been altered to such an extent that it will have to go into conference. The thing about the bill as it passed the senate that has attracted the most attention is the Borah amendment. It restricts the United States bonds that may be purchased with the deposits in the postal savings funds to bonds bearing not less than 2 1/2 per cent, and it is pointed out that this is running counter to President Taft, who recently accented the moral obligation the government is under to relieve the purchasers of its 2 per cents, and pointed to the investment of the postal savings funds as a means of doing it. Over $700,000,000 of these securities are excluded from the operation of the bill by the Borah amendment. In this connection it is suggested that the Borah amendment, running so flatly against the expressed idea of President Taft, is somewhat of a back slap at him, and in the light of this suggestion the prediction of Senator Bacon that the Borah amendment will not survive the prospective conference is not unwarranted. For there is little doubt that the bill will finally get into conference, and if President Taft is firmly set against the Borah amendment, it is not at all unlikely that it will be struck out. The war over the postal savings bank has been a merry one. On the one side have been a minority of senators wanting all the postal savings funds deposited in the banks in the communities nearest to the point where they originate. On the other have been the senators who have maintained that some bond purchasing provision is necessary to give the proposed law constitutional standing. The latter have had much the best of it in numbers, if not in argument. Some bond purchasing clause is certain to be embodied in the bill, if not Senator Borah's amendment doubtless provision for acquiring the 2 per cents. The senate is thoroughly reconciled to giving President Taft his postal savings bank law, and the house will fall in line, if he does not get it in exactly the form he would like to have it, at least he should be able to recognize it as bearing some resemblance to the measure he was seeking.

A LAUGH OR TWO. Her Hired Help. At Cumberland, Md., the colored servants, as a rule, go to their own homes at night. The cook in the family of the Episcopal clergyman not only does this, but of late has frequently arrived at the rectory too late to cook breakfast. Hence her mistress lately told her that for each breakfast missed there should be a reduction in her weekly wages. Dinah passively assented to this, but next day the mistress heard the maid next door say to her: "Pears to me you get to work mighty late." "I get to work when I get ready." "How do you manage 'bout de breakfast?" "Oh, I pays de missus to cook de breakfast."—Harper's Magazine.

The Boys in the Lower House. Representative Adamson of Georgia, who is fat and above 40, was strolling through the subway connecting the House office building with the capitol. "Say, judge," queried a newspaper man, "when are you folks going to get in automobiles in the subway. The Senate has had them for months." "We fellows in the House don't need them at all," chirped the member from Georgia. "We are frisky and vigorous. These old, decrepit senators aren't able to walk to and from their offices. They appear to be, I don't guess we'll ever ask for automobiles." And the judge quickened his pace to show his youthfulness.—Philadelphia Times.

Secret of Applause. They're telling a new one on "Big Bill" Edwards, the ex-football player, who is commissioner of streets, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star. Edwards takes particular pride in the esprit de corps of his department. He boasts that the white wings take a genuine interest in their work, and hustle for pride's sake as well as for the $2 plus they earn each day. When the last big snow buried the town, "Big Bill" sought to arouse his force to frenzied exertion by spilling a little oil on them. So he rounded up a squad of ten men to listen to his spiel. They happened to be all Italians, and were presided over by a giant Catalanian. This huge person stood by Edwards' side as he talked.

"We'll work together for the glory of the city," said Edwards. "We'll make our white uniform a badge of honor." They cheered enthusiastically. "We'll make little old New York proud of us." The white wings fairly went mad. They shouted and whooped and howled and threw their caps high in the air. Overjoyed by the evidence of approval, Mr. Edwards beamed upon the big gang foreman. "They seem to like what I said," said he. "Those boys are in earnest, what?" "It's disaway, Meestair Edward," said the gang foreman. "Dese-a-Daze, you know vat you say. When I hold-a up one-a finger, lika dis, dey holler good. Wan I hold-a up two finger, dey holler mucha more. But wan I Crow-a up-a da hand, lika dis, dey holler lika hell."

Taking Things for Granted. J. Powell Jones, supervisor of music in the public schools, had called up a prominent citizen and talked him into buying $3 worth of tickets for the Harmonic club concert the next evening. Jones forgot to mail the tickets until after he'd left the office, but on his way down Euclid avenue he thought of it and dropped in at a haberdasher's place, where he borrowed an envelope, addressed it and sent the tickets on their way.

Two or three days later the prominent business man stopped Jones on the street and began to talk to him as unkindly as if he were a beef trust magnate. "You're a nice one, you are," he observed sarcastically. "You forgot to send me those concert tickets, and in order to put in the time that evening I took some people out to dinner and it cost me 80. I think I'll make you pay me the nine."

Cupid on the Job. "Ah, my dear," advised the old country woman, "don't you marry rashly! You keep your weather eye open, like I did when I was a girl." "But I love him!" said the simple village maid. "Pooh!" sniffed the adviser. "Now, you take example of me. You see this cottage of mine? Well, I got it fixed up for practically nothing." "Oh!" said the village maid, without enthusiasm. She was thinking of James. "And how did you manage it?" "Why, dearie," responded the good woman, "I was engaged to the carpenter till all the wood work was finished, and then I broke it off and married the plumber!"—Bystander.

FOR MARQUETTE GIRLS' HOME.

Mrs. Anna Walter, Noted Club Woman, in Calumet in Its Interest.

An informal reception was tendered yesterday afternoon by the Calumet Woman's club to Mrs. Anna Walter of Marquette. The event took place at the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Selden, president of the club.

Mrs. Walter, who is chairman of the civic committee of the Michigan Federation of Women's clubs, is here in the interest of proposed home for working girls which Miss Maggie Watz of Drummond Island and Calumet wants to establish in the old Hotel Sanitarium at Marquette. Miss Watz reports that she has already received pledges of $11,000 toward the $35,000 required for the purchase of the property.

The Calumet Woman's club is not taking an active interest in the scheme and Mrs. Walter is working among the women of Calumet, independently of the club. She will speak to the women of Calumet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this afternoon.

VETERAN MERCHANT RETIRES.

W. B. Hoar Disposes of Grocery Department to Kehl Bros. of Houghton.

Gus and Fred Kehl, under the firm name of Kehl Bros., will from now on conduct the W. B. Hoar grocery in Houghton. Mr. Hoar, because of ill health, having decided to retire from business. The new firm will conduct only the grocery department. The dry goods department will be disposed of by E. J. Dube, who has taken charge of the matter for Mr. Hoar.

Fred Kehl has been employed in Liebke's wholesale grocery in Hancock for the past eleven years and is thoroughly conversant with the grocery business. Gus Kehl has been connected with the Citizens' National bank for the past five years as bookkeeper and acting assistant cashier.

W. B. Hoar, who now retires from business, is one of the veteran merchants of Houghton. He has been ill and unable to attend to business all winter, which fact has finally impelled him to give up the business entirely.

SPANISH WAR REUNION.

Special Meeting of Houghton Veterans Called for March 16.

A special meeting of George Miller camp, Spanish War Veterans, Houghton, has been called for the night of March 16 in the village hall. At this meeting the proposed reunion of the Spanish War Veterans of the upper peninsula will be discussed. In the meantime a committee of the Houghton veterans will meet with the veterans of Calumet to learn their ideas regarding the reunion, and this committee will report at this meeting.

It has been decided that the reunion will be held the first week in September. Aside from this no arrangements have been made other than enlisting all the camps in the upper peninsula in the movement. All have expressed a willingness to send big delegations to Houghton, as this will be the first gathering of the kind in the upper peninsula since the war.

NEW LODGE ORGANIZED.

Painesdale Organization Will Boost for Chase S. Osborn.

An organization termed itself the Ljudevit Gaj has been organized at Painesdale for the purpose of boosting the candidacy of Chase S. Osborn of the Soo, the upper peninsula candidate in the gubernatorial race. The club has a charter membership of sixty-five. It derives its name from Ljudevit Gaj, one of the most honored men in the history of Croatia. His life is known to the Croatians equally as well if not better than is that of George Washington to the average American youth. The officers selected for the club follow: President, Thomas Strizic; vice president, Frank Tomkovic; secretary, George Pintar; treasurer, Thomas Perlic; committee, Anton Stinac, George Gasparic, Steve Jokovic and Matt Obramovic.

BALTIC MILL FIRE.

The fire which partly destroyed the boiler house of the Baltic mill at Edgemere at an early hour Sunday morning occasioned a $6,000 loss and put the mill out of commission. The rock from the Baltic will now be stored at the Tri-mount and Champion mills, each having two idle heads. The fire put two boilers out of business, but two remaining are in use to operate the pumps and machine shops. The Baltic mill expects to resume with two heads in two weeks.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running or "catarrh" of the ear, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

LONDON POLICE PRESS.

An article in the Illustrated English Magazine gives an account of the printing department of Scotland Yard and the astonishing amount of work it turns out. Four times a day a broadside is issued to all the police officers. At 9 in the morning the first is sent out, giving an inventory of all property lost. At noon is issued a list of all persons missing, and this often occupies several pages. At half past 4 the broadside contains both subjects, and also at half past 10. A habitual criminal register is distributed and every few days an account of persons released on tickets of leave. A sheet of missing articles is sent to every watchman, and as many as 4,000 copies of this document are needed. This is only a small part of the work done by the Scotland Yard press.

Supervisors Meet Today.

The March meeting of the Houghton county board of supervisors will be held in Houghton this morning. The county board system, tuberculosis sanitarium bond issue and report of the building committee on the new county jail proposition are the principal questions scheduled for discussion.

SKI CONTESTS NEXT SUNDAY.

The scheduled contests of the Calumet Ski club did not take place Sunday afternoon, because of a high wind. They were postponed until next Sunday. The club says that it has a large sum of money to distribute in prizes.

MAENNERCHOR CONCERT.

The annual concert of the Houghton Maennerchor will be given in the Amphidrome next month. It will enlist also the services of the Calumet & Hecla band and the Hancock and Calumet Maennerchors.

Mining News

ALLOUEZ.

Results of Operations Last Year a Great Improvement Over 1908.

OLD DOMINION.

The Old Dominion mine is producing about 700 tons of ore every day, most of which is mined from the lower levels.

Very little development work is being done, other than that necessary in the extraction of the ore from the levels below the tenth and a small amount at the sixth, where the Josh Billings and Maggie veins are being explored somewhat by means of drifts. From the present indications, no limit to the lower extent of the Old Dominion seams imminent, as the sixteenth level, so far as developed to date, has contributed its part of the production, which is of the average grade extracted from shallower depths.

The sixteenth level has only recently been extended into the Old Dominion vein, but has, contrary to the belief of some people, proven the existence of ore at this depth, which is an encouraging feature of the development work, showing as it does, a long future for this, one of the oldest mines of Arizona. The companies supplied the smelter have averaged very close to 700 tons every twenty-four hours during the past month, the assay returns of which show nearly a 1 per cent copper content. With two furnaces operating to full capacity, the daily copper production is now well over forty tons. The large pumping plant with which the mine is equipped gives a reserve capacity of over 5,000,000 gallons every twenty-four hours. With the daily volume pumped—less than 3,000,000 gallons, which is less than that pumped in the earlier stages of the development work—there appears a considerable decrease in the water as greater depth is attained.

Regarding the theory that the Lake lode as opened in the Lake Copper company ground may be a fissure, there are many people familiar with Lake Superior copper ground who say that such a theory as applied to the Lake lode is an absurdity. One of the most experienced mining captains at Lake Superior, asked his opinion concerning this theory, wires as follows: "It is impossible to drift 1,200 feet on a fissure without intersecting other belts. The Lake lode is too wide and the pitch is too flat, with the top defined walls, to make the theory of a fissure tenable. The openings on the Lake lode formation must be running parallel with other belts in that neighborhood."

It is a theoretical proposition that as the Lake lode shoals in the Lake Superior city, it will be found more vertical in the North Lake. For illustration, take a plane running northeast and southwest as the Lake lode should run, and dipping at an angle of 45 degrees, and push the lower half of it back so that near the top it runs north and south, and if the sustaining pressure is exerted from below, the upper half of the plane will have a vertical tendency and the southern half of the plane will have a shoaling tendency, and at the bottom the plane will have a north and south strike. Therefore, if the No. 5 North Lake drill does not soon strike the Lake lode, it will be because it is more upright than expected, and should be sought by drills at an angle of 45 degrees. Anyway, the Lake lode situation in the North Lake is being handled one step thoroughly by the process of elimination of territory in the drill workings. It is important to find the dip and strike of the lode that proper exploration may be had by a properly located shaft.

The transfer of shares of the Amalgamated Copper company to the listed department means that the stock of the company will be traded in as usual on the New York Stock exchange. In other words, the increase in stock of Anaconda for the purpose of absorbing the various Butte mines does not mean that Amalgamated is to disappear from the market. The outcome will be that the shares of the subsidiary companies of Amalgamated will be exchanged for Anaconda stock. Amalgamated will receive in exchange for the subsidiary shares, stock of the Anaconda. In brief, Amalgamated will continue as a holding company, with stock of the Anaconda, Montana, Butte & Boston, Washoe, and other constituent companies which will be included in the merger. This means that the amount of Anaconda stock available for trading on the Stock exchange will show little, if any, change after the Butte consolidation has been completed. It is probable that in time the assets of the Amalgamated will be sold to the amount of Anaconda stock available for the purpose of financing the future solution. The position of the Amalgamated will be greatly strengthened by the exchange of subsidiary company stocks for the shares of Anaconda.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The resignation of R. H. Channing from the presidency and general management of the Cerro de Pasco Mining company was due entirely to the severe climate of Peru and the extraordinary altitude at which operations are carried on.

The Shannon has struck sulphide ores in No. 837 winze, and so far the average sample runs about 4 per cent copper. The production of smelting ore for the past ten days has averaged higher than usual, averaging about 5 per cent copper. The new railroad is running full force.

The La Salle property is now being opened by three shafts, in one of which the development work has resulted in the blocking out of probably 1,000,000 tons of copper rock. Operations in the two southern shafts are entirely in the nature of straight shaft-sinking, with occasional showings of good copper ground, but on the whole without positive results.

The exploratory crosscuts being driven eastward at the sixteenth level of the Wolverine is expected to prove of immense importance both to this company and its neighbors, as there are a large number of amygdaloid lodes in the range carrying commercial values and this crosscut will furnish valuable definite

LAKE LODE THE ADVENTURE?

The striking of what is supposed to be the Adventure lode by the No. 7 drill of the North Lake at a depth of 1,417 feet places that property in the same class as Indiana and gives forth proof that the territory in that portion of Ontonagon county is among the richest in the Lake region, said the Boston Financial News in its issue of yesterday. The present work of drilling the North Lake is simply a duplication of the work done further north several months ago and the finding of rich copper by the No. 7 drill substantiates the opinion of the management that the North Lake would show to be as rich a property as the Lake. A new question is opened up in the discovery, for while it is reported that the North Lake has struck what is supposed to be the Adventure lode, it is the belief that as a matter of fact the so-called Lake lode is actually the Adventure lode. In the drilling further north in the North Lake the drills encountered the two Adventure lodes and found them very rich. The striking of Adventure lode by the No. 7 drill therefore, is expected to be followed shortly by the striking of another lode at a greater depth. If this proves true, as is quite likely, it would appear that as a matter of fact the Lake Copper company is not carrying on operations on the Adventure lode, as that property has encountered two lodes at about the same distance apart as the early drills in the North Lake encountered them. It will be remembered that in the sinking of another north drill encountered the lode at a depth of 1,800 feet, while another drill encountered the lode at a

The sales of copper by the Tennessee Copper company for the year ended Dec. 31, last, were at prices averaging slightly under 13 cents a pound. On that price basis and with the present output of sulphide ore the company can just about break even after making a 5 per cent annual disbursement on its $3,000,000 stock. Satisfied with this return under the metal market conditions, the management did not attempt to force the mines during 1909, but was content with a production of 14,658,954 pounds, practically the same as in 1908. Copper production over a series of years, together with net earnings before dividends and percentage of net on the $5,000,000 capital, is given in the following table:

Year	Production	Cost per pound	Total
1909	14,658,954	10.37	$339,906
1908	14,463,585	10.59	$324,768
1907	12,590,019	11.79	$300,624
1906	11,319,591	10.91	$242,231
1905	7,975,982	9.28	$452,106
1904	8,167,997	10.30	$189,996

Since its incorporation in 1899 the company's dividend distribution has totaled $2,400,000. Unlike many mining companies the company carries a depreciation account which totaled $187,000 on Dec. 31 last. An amount of $75,000 as a general reserve and $7,276 for liability for future extension. During the year 1909, against the larger earnings, the company expects to realize from its new acid plant there will be an additional interest charge of $34,000 on the $600,000 6 per cent gold notes issued to prove funds for plant extension. During the year 1909, 600 first mortgage bonds were retired, reducing the amount outstanding to $350,000. At this rate the entire issue will have been redeemed by 1917 or five years before maturity.

A. also defeated the second high school team Friday afternoon by the score of 16 to 9. The K. O. K. A. line-up was: Center, McIntosh; guards, Wheeler and Button; forwards, DeHans and Quarters.

Federal Court Today—United States District Judge Dennison and District Attorney Covell are in Marquette today, and a session of federal court will be held to pronounce sentence on Frank L. Higgins, who has been convicted of embezzlement of funds from the Soo postoffice. Juries for the May term will also be drawn by Mr. Covell. Deputy Clerk Moore and Deputy Marshal Moshier.

Election of Officers—The meeting of the Ladies' auxiliary, branch No. 10, C. S. C. E., was held last night in Fraternity Hall, instead of the Joan d'Arc Hall, as it was erroneously stated yesterday morning. The following officers were elected to fill vacancies: Mrs. Ethel Christian, first vice president; Miss Elsie Bertrand, secretary; Mrs. Anna Pelissier, treasurer; Mrs. Anna Leveque and Mrs. Mary Ayotte, directresses; Mrs. Annie Morin, messenger; Mrs. Marie Versailles, assistant guardian.

Tracy Elected Cashier—Thomas D. Tracy has recently been elected cashier of the Baraga County National bank.

Mr. Tracy was once a resident of this city, where he has many friends. He has taken the position made vacant by the resignation of Martin Voetsch, who is now county clerk. Mr. Tracy left Marquette for Keweenaw Bay nine years ago and was employed as a bookkeeper. In 1907, he was elected treasurer of Baraga county and was reelected in 1908, having no opponent.

Death of Mrs. Schmidt—Mrs. Johanna Schmidt, wife of the late August Schmidt, passed away yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Beyer, 315 Alger street, at the age of seventy-nine. Mrs. Schmidt was born Dec. 21, 1831 in Germany and came to Marquette in 1873. She is survived by two foster children, Mrs. Beyer of this city, and Emil Schrapf of Chicago. She has a sister, Miss Wilhelmina Krauser, in Germany. The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon from the German Lutheran church.

City Tax Roll Returned—City Treasurer Byrne made his annual settlement with the county treasurer yesterday. The collections, state and county, city and special assessment taxes, in Marquette were 93.35 per cent of the entire roll, as compared with 94 per cent collected last year. The percentage of state and county and of city taxes collected this year was larger than for the previous year, but only 57 per cent of the special assessments was collected, which brings the total percentage of collections below that of 1909.

Visiting Nurse Report—At the meeting of the Visiting Nurse association yesterday, the visiting nurse reported as follows for the month of February: Total number of patients visited, 32; new patients, 20; total visits made, 155; county doctors called, 2; other doctors called, 3; garments given away, 86; families given immediate relief, 1; patients sent to hospital, 2. The relief committee reported as follows: Clothing supplied, $8.45; provisions, $14; shoes and rubbers, $6.35; paid sewing woman, $1.50; paying woman for cleaning, $6; milk, $9.16; fuel, $3.25; total, $48.71. Total disbursements, $136.70.

Brief Council Meeting—Nothing except absolutely essential business was transacted at the council meeting last night and after being in session fifteen minutes adjournment was taken until March 28, out of respect to the memory of the late Alderman Walter T. Ward. All of the city officials will attend the funeral in a body this afternoon, and a committee was appointed by draft a set of resolutions, which will be spread on the council minutes. The regular bills were allowed and Isaac Stillman was appointed member of the board of registration and election in the Fifth ward, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Alderman Ward.

All Patronage Held Up—According to late Washington dispatches all Michigan patronage at the disposal of the two senators has been held up by President Taft at the request of Senator Smith, until his health is sufficiently recovered from his recent operation for appendicitis for him to take it up with Senator Burrows. It is said that when C. J. Byrnes returned to the hospital where Senator Smith was confined, after his conference with Senator Burrows, last week, Senator Smith told him to let the Marquette collectorship rest. This means that the appointment of Judge Sessions to the customs court will also be held up for the time.

Interesting Motor Trip—A Florida newspaper contains the following item concerning two well known Marquette citizens: "N. M. Kaufman of Marquette, Mich., and his brother, S. R. Kaufman, of the same city, and party, are making an interesting motor trip in their De Luxe cars. They are now en route to Tampa, where they will stay a day or two, then returning to Orlando. They left the hotel at 9:30 o'clock, spent the night at Kissimmee and proceeded the next day to Tampa. There will be many questions when they return as to the state of the roads and the general comfort of their trip. The route is so interesting that a good many of the Orlando visitors will be inclined to follow the Kaufman's lead and cross the state in their machines. The Messrs. Kaufman are manufacturers of the De Luxe cars, with headquarters at Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Kaufman have a cottage at Orlando, while Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Kaufman are established at the hotel for their third season."

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.
ENTHUSIASTICALLY GREETED.
D'Urbano and His Band Open Three Nights' Engagement.

D'Urbano and his band opened the third engagement they have filled in Marquette within the past half year at the opera house last evening, and received an enthusiastic welcome, well merited by one of the best programs that they have given here. Miss Reid continues with the organization as soloist, and contributed much to the pleasure of the evening.

The overtures played by the band were Rosini's "Wilhelm Tell" and Bizet's "Carmen" with which the program was concluded. The band appeared unusually responsive to D'Urbano's directing last evening, and both these numbers made a fine impression, the applause with which they were received continuing until the band had opened with the strains of the encores. Brahms' Hungarian No. 5, which was played during the previous engagement, was repeated, as was the medley "Reminiscences of Scotland." Two of D'Urbano's own compositions and the Straus' Blue Danube Waltz made up the remainder of the program. The program this evening will introduce new numbers, and will doubtless attract another large audience.

REWARD OFFERED.
A reward of ten dollars will be paid for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons who placed stickers bearing the phrase "License money is blood money and the poor man pays for it," printed in red ink, on the front of a saloon man's residence, also on the front of a number of saloons, presumably Sunday night. MAYOR DAVID S. ROSE GAVE STRONG TALK

MILWAUKEE'S EXECUTIVE SPOKE FOR TWO HOURS FOR LICENSED SALOON SUNDAY EVENING AT ISHPEMING THEATER.

Chief Fun Maker in "Time, Place and Girl" Is a Philanthropist.

The audience that greeted Mayor David S. Rose of Milwaukee at Ishpeming theater Sunday evening was the largest that has attended a political meeting in Ishpeming in years. Practically every seat in the theater was filled and many stood in the foyer and main entrance. Among those present were many strong advocates of prohibition. In spite of the fact that Mayor Rose talked for a full two hours, his audience was attentive and apparently much interested.

Mayor Rose opened his address by dwelling on the importance of the question now before the voters of Marquette county. He said that it has been his privilege to discuss this question from ocean to ocean and from the Gulf to the lakes, and everywhere he has found many of the same views shown by the liberal numbers in attendance at his Ishpeming meeting. He said that in the afternoon at Negaunee there were as many people present as could enter the hall. This proves that the voters are deeply interested in the administration of government. In the past the difficulty has been that too many of the voters have been neglectful and indifferent to the questions that pertain to the people's welfare.

Mr. Rose said that the charge that he had gone out from Milwaukee at the instance of the brewers was an uncalculated falsehood. On the contrary, he said, he is employed by the United States Manufacturers & Merchants association, with headquarters in Chicago. This organization is made up largely of manufacturers in all lines of industry. He admitted that the destruction of the liquor traffic would be a great hardship on Milwaukee. Brewing concerns have been built up under protection of the laws of Wisconsin. The investment of the brewers' money has given Milwaukee its present magnificent buildings and in the event the industry is destroyed hardship would be worked on many people now employed by the brewing concerns, as well as on many working in other industries. He said that if he were a brewer he would fight any assault that was made upon the rights of his property.

Mr. Rose said he advocated temperance, and that it is because he advocates temperance that he opposes prohibition. He opposes prohibition, first, because, he says, whenever and wherever its enforcement has been attempted it has resulted in abject failure, and because, in direct variance with the principles of a republican form of government, it strikes down the personal liberty of the individual citizen.

Mr. Rose presented statistics secured from officials in dry states to prove his argument that prohibition does not prohibit. He also reviewed Michigan's experience during its twenty years of prohibition prior to 1871. He spoke at considerable length upon the conditions in Maine under prohibition.

The Army Canteen.

"The Anti-saloon league asked congress to close the army canteen, or the army saloon, and congress closed it, against the wishes of the officers of the army," said Mr. Rose. "A beautiful park in Milwaukee contains a magnificent building provided by the government of the United States as only a weak expression of its gratitude to those old boys who wore the blue and fought for the liberty of this country. These old soldiers have been deprived of their canteen, or army saloon, as it is called, and now they come to our city for the drink and quite often we take care of them over night and then send them back to the home and frequently we pick them up by the wayside, cold in death, victims of the misguided judgment of an unworthy court."

"Every department officer of the United States army, without exception, has requested the reestablishment of the canteen."

"According to statistics compiled by the United States census, more than twice as many people die from whooping cough as from alcoholism. How many do you know in your own city who are confirmed drunkards? In my mind, the man who becomes wholly lost to self control and to all social decency is the confirmed drunkard. This talk about the army that has filled drunkard's graves is all nonsense. How many do you know who have died from the drink habit?"

After discussing the revenues derived by the United States government from the manufacture and sale of liquors, Mr. Rose said:

"Last year this business paid to the farmer $108,000,000. You will say that this was but a small percentage of the farm's production. Two years ago last fall this country was in a condition of prosperity never before experienced and almost without warning came the panic. The banks had no money to give to those who had deposited their money in them. All they could give was clearing house checks. The government sent to England and borrowed $80,000,000 and this small amount cleared the situation. If this amount was enough for that purpose surely the $108,000,000 paid the farmers for their hops and other produce is also worth something."

"Prohibition not only affects the brewers, but the farmers, glass blowers and an army of men, women and children who are dependent on the industry in one way or another. If all of the men employed in the manufacture of intoxicating beverages were thrown out of employment where could they find labor and homes? The first year I was mayor of Milwaukee I had 179 respectable saloons out of business and would do the same thing again this year if they were in business. If you will look conditions in the face and stop carrying water on both shoulders you would see things as they really are. I think I have said enough upon this question, it should not be decided in haste, but after a deliberate study of all the facts."

"It has been predicted time and time again that this republic would fall, because every republic that went before it isolation adverse to corporate interests would be passed at this session of congress. Heavy buying of all the leading issues indicates that the larger interests no longer fear any immediate disturbing news from Washington. North Lake was the feature in a very active Boston market, closely followed by North Butte, Adventure, Indiana and Franklin were unusually active, and there was a good demand for Lake Nevada Consolidated and Isle Royale, Calumet & Arizona was strong, selling up to 76. The entire list showed the greatest strength seen for weeks and advances were general. LaSalle lost a fraction on a report that the mill-best so far shows but eighteen pounds of copper per ton. The rock was not selected and should show improvement as the milling continues. The market has broadened out and today it looks like the beginning of an extended advance. On the curb, Bohemia led in the trading and sold up to 16 1/2, where it met heavy profit-taking sales which forced the price back to 15. South Lake was much in evidence, though little net change resulted. Cactus was quite strong fractionally above 3. The reports from this property are very good. Ray Central sold up to 3 1/2-16, Chief 16 2/9-16, Oneco to 7 1/2 and Goldfield Consolidated to 8 1/2. The others were quiet. The curb offerings continue light and the improvement in the general copper situation must soon affect these favorably.

Mr. Anderson has resided in Ishpeming for the past thirty years and has a large family. He is a charter member of the Swedish Home society, and at one time was a member of the Ishpeming City band. During his early years here he worked in the mine, later learning the stone mason and bricklayer's trade. For some time he was in the employ of Ishpeming building contractors. Mr. Anderson has been in had condition for a year or more past, but he is able to go out of the house occasionally.

BAY CITY—Mayor Evans of this city unexpectedly filed his resignation with the city recorder. He will remove to Toledo, where he has become interested in brick manufacturing. The mayor had given out that he did not intend to relinquish his office until after election.

LAPEER—Deputy Game Warden E. J. Thrasher rounded up Justice R. A. McRoy and E. Parker, a hardware dealer, both of Inlay City, for illegal fishing. Brought here and taken before Justice Wright, both pleaded guilty. McRoy was fined $15.00 and Parker $5.00. The men were fishing on Lake Pleasant and undersized fish were found in their possession; also fish unlawful to catch at present.

KALAMAZOO—Eighty-five men employed in the shops of the Barry Spring works went on a strike for higher wages. The men claim that they are getting but $6 and $9 a week and that they cannot live on that amount. They are not affiliated with a union, but organized for striking purposes. The eighty-five men are practically skilled employes in the shops. They went direct to their homes. They claim there will be no demonstration.

tion, which contended that the matters referred to in the plea were proper subjects for defense in the trial of the case on its merits. Therefore Wenger's motion to quash the indictment was denied.

ANN ARBOR—Service was obtained in a $100,000 bond suit in which Grinnell Bros., piano dealers operating branch stores in this and other cities in the state, are the plaintiffs and Clarence A. Proctor, state agent for Cable-Nelson Piano company of Chicago, is the defendant. A summons was filed and Deputy Stark served the papers on Proctor, who lives in apartment. While little is known of the case, it is understood that the Grinnell Bros. charge that statements which they consider detrimental to their business have been circulated by Proctor. The company represented by Proctor is made a party to the suit.

BATTLE CREEK—Attributed generally to his opposition to the unionizing propaganda locally, C. W. Post, food millionaire and owner of the Morning Enquirer, has called in Colonel Wilson Vance of New York, editor of the "Square Deal" and made him editor of the local paper, succeeding Dr. C. W. Green. Green stays with the Enquirer as business manager, but loses control of the editorial column. Vance is known as one of the most active anti-unionists in America. He was formerly managing editor of the Ohio State Journal and of the Indianapolis Journal and has represented the Chicago Tribune and other big papers at Washington. "The Square Deal" heretofore published in New York, will be printed here.

ANN ARBOR—At the March meeting of the board of regents of the U. of M. the board appointed C. L. Demurrall of New York city to a professorship in electrical engineering. Mr. Demurrall is a young man who has an international reputation as an electrical engineer. It was Mr. Demurrall who was appointed by the Austrian government three years ago as consulting engineer for the work in the great Simplon tunnel and it was under his direction that the seven mile bore was electrified. The board voted that beginning with the fall of 1912, candidates for entrance to the department of law, working for a degree, must have at least one year of college work. By this step the university law school places itself alongside the best law schools of the country.

A Roman tomb of the second century before Christ, containing a marble sarcophagus of exquisite workmanship five feet long and admirably preserved, has been discovered at Grosseto.

TRAVERSE CITY—With thirty-five to forty loads appearing on the market daily, the potato price slumped here from twenty to eighteen cents. Fearing a spring breakup the farmers seem to be willing to let go of their tubers at any price. Last November a large number of the growers agreed to hold their stock for fifty cents, but with the market sagging as it is they apparently will be heavy losers on their venture.

JACKSON—Acting Warden Wenger of Jackson prison, who was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of perjury, will be placed on trial April 4 unless the defense should indulge in dilatory tactics. This date was fixed by Judge Parkinson to suit the convenience of Special Counsel Burkworth, who needs a rest and will spend the intervening time in California. Judge Parkinson very quickly disposed of the motion of plea in abatement which had been filed in Wenger's behalf by Attorney Colgrove of Hastings sustaining the demurrer of the prosecution.

WILL FINISH IN A WEEK.

The crew employed on the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company's fill, west from the Jackson mine to a point just opposite the Odessa park, where the new line will connect with the old, expects to complete this part of the work within a week. The management expects to be able to use the new track, which extends from a point near Eagle Mills, a distance of about five miles, by the opening of navigation. It is anticipated that the present track between Eagle Mills and the Jackson will be abandoned the coming year, but in time the new track will be used exclusively, as the surface over part of the territory through which the present line extends is being undermined. The management has ordered 100 new steel ore cars, also four large locomotives, for use on this and the Swaney range, so that the company will be better prepared next season than it was last to handle the ore traffic.

SPORTS IN THE NORTH.

I am about to write you of our sports in the north, where we used to live. In the winter we would hitch our big dogs to sleds and have great rides. I had a white bulldog and a red harness for him. Then we made snow houses big enough to play in. We rolled great snowballs and slid down hill on sleds. There are big, long hills there that are dandy for that. In the summer we used to go to the point, where there was great fishing and good swimming places. We played ball and boxed and I had a great many boy friends and I liked it there much more than I do here.

AUTOMOBILE GARAGE.

Negaunee Man Is to Establish One Here, With Repair Shop.

D. D. Smith, who a few months ago sold out his mercantile business at Palmer to J. Kivisto, has secured a lease on the Upper Peninsula Brewing company's warehouse on Gold street, and will convert it into an automobile garage and repair shop. Men began work yesterday making the necessary alterations. The ground floor will be dropped three and one-half feet. The main room will be large enough to accommodate from twelve to fifteen large automobiles. The repair department will be on the second floor. An elevator will be put in at the rear of the first floor room, by which machines can be lifted to the repair shop. The plant will be well equipped with machinery. Air and gasoline tanks, also a vulcanizer, will be installed and the machinery will be operated by a gasoline engine. The plant will also have electric lighting. A pipe line will be extended from the air tank to the street with hose attachments, so that tires can be inflated without trouble. Mr. Smith recently secured the agency for the Michael automobile in Marquette and Delta counties, and yesterday he received a message from the factory stating that a six-cylinder machine will arrive here Thursday. Mr. Smith has several prospective purchasers.

Will be sold at a bargain if taken this week, a large house and lot, also residence lots. Enquire at home, corner of Jackson and C. Y. streets, Negaunee. (3-3-3d)

ISHPEMING

THOMAS FLANNIGAN FORCED INTO POLITICS

ISHPEMING YOUNG MAN, WHO HAS ADVANCED RAPIDLY IN HIS PROFESSION, IS POPULAR ON THE MESABA RANGE.

Thomas Flannigan of this city, who a short time ago was promoted to the position of assistant superintendent of the Republic Iron & Steel company's properties on the Mesaba range, has been induced by leading citizens of Virginia and Gilbert to seek the nomination for supervisor of Missabe Mountain township. The Virginians has this reference to Mr. Flannigan and the contest in which he will be one of the central figures: "Cheerful, good-natured, laughing Tommy Flannigan, assistant general superintendent of the Republic Iron & Steel company, who is located at Gilbert, has broken into politics. This will be startling information to his many friends, but Tommy will explain to them that, after listening to the urgent appeals of the people of Virginia and Gilbert, he decided to run for town supervisor of Missabe Mountain township and thus give these two cities proper representation on the town board. Mr. Flannigan was not selfish in the matter. When the proposition was broached to him by the business men of Virginia and Gilbert he declined, smiling as he bowed his disqualification. But the business men were insistent. They know that Tommy is the right man and they turned a deaf ear to his protestations. So Tommy succumbed. "Tommy Flannigan may not be the choice of the caucus, because Evelett has too many voters on the grounds, but then Tommy is not worrying about that. If the caucus turns him down he will run just the same. Many things do not discourage him of the calibre of Tommy Flannigan. After the caucus it is up to Virginia and Gilbert to get busy. Tommy is in this race to win. He is doing all he can and he deserves the support of everyone. He travels over the county roads every day of his life and is thoroughly familiar with the needs of the town. He is a good business man, thorough and capable and absolutely honest."

POPULAR ATTRACTION.

When the song hits of a musical comedy can be found in as many homes as those in "The Time, the Place and the Girl," which will be presented at Ishpeming theater tomorrow evening, there is not the slightest doubt of the popularity of the attraction. This season they are introduced in a truly novel manner which requires the services of many pretty girls of the rare beauty type, and of much sweetness of voice, besides a great abundance of exquisite gowns and military effects. The cast is an excellent one and is headed by that famous comedian, Fred Mace, as "Johnie Hicks," and Elizabeth Goodall, as "Molly Kelley" the nurse. The production is complete in every detail.

CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT.

By special request, the young ladies of Calvary Baptist church will tomorrow evening repeat in the church the program that was given on the evening of Washington's birthday. The admission will be fifteen cents and refreshments will be served at the close. The program will be as follows: Chorus—"Cheer Old Glory." Instrumental—Miss A. Trevarrow. Reading—Miss Parson. Solo—Miss Effie Cook. Flag Drill—By Twelve Young Ladies. Solo—Miss Lorrey. Reading—Miss Padock. Pantomime—"Shall You, Shall I." National Anthem.

SEVEN MANAGERS AT BASEBALL MEETING

THREE TEAMS FROM DELTA, THREE FROM MARQUETTE COUNTY AND MUNISING REPRESENTED.

FINAL ACTION IS POSTPONED

Sentiment Seems to Favor Organization of Two Three-Team Leagues, With Inter-League Playing Arrangement.

Representatives from Escanaba, Gladstone, Rapid River, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Munising and Marquette were present at the baseball meeting held at the Hotel Clifton yesterday afternoon. While definite action on any proposed league was deferred for a week, in order that there may be time for thorough consideration, the sentiment at the meeting indicates that some sort of a playing arrangement will be arrived at between three or four teams of the Marquette-Alger county league, and a like number from the Delta county league.

Dr. Trueman then stated Munising's position with reference to the coming season. He said that Munising would have a ball team and was likely to have better attendance at the games than last season, and would be glad to enter the league, provided the receipts were divided on a 60 and 40 per cent basis. He preferred 60 per cent to the winning and 40 per cent to the losing team, but would agree to the home team taking 60 per cent, win or lose. "This is our position," said the doctor, "and you can accept it or leave us out of the league, just as you choose. We think we are going to have a better team than for the last two years and expect better patronage at the games. If we cannot enter the league on a 60 and 40 per cent basis, we will play independently, and there will be no hard feeling, whatever your decision may be."

Inquiry from the managers of the Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee teams, relative to their feeling toward Munising, brought out that the fans of Negaunee and Ishpeming feel that Munising is not likely to put any stronger team in the field than last year and that, in comparison, the Alger county nine is bound to be a weak sister. Manager Stocking of Ishpeming declared that his board of directors had authorized him to say that Ishpeming would not enter a league with Munising on a 60 and 40 per cent basis under any consideration, though they would not object to such an arrangement with Marquette and Negaunee. Judge Thoren stated that Negaunee people felt much the same way, but did not express himself so forcibly as did the Ishpeming manager. The Marquette representatives declared that they were very friendly toward Munising and would be willing that Munising should enter the league on the 60 and 40 per cent basis, provided it was agreeable to the other teams in the league. On the other hand, Marquette would be willing to unite in the Marquette-Delta county schedule, if such an arrangement were decided to be the more feasible. In short, Marquette is out to play ball and is willing to enter into any fair and reasonable agreement, but is strongly in favor of a 60 and 40 per cent division of gate receipts, the home team to get the 60 per cent.

When asked regarding the average attendance at the Rapid River games, Mr. Buchman said that the gate receipts for the games last season, some of which were with minor or scrub teams, totalled $2,476, an average of more than $100 per game. He felt sure that the receipts of the proposed league games played in Rapid River would average about $125 per game, of which he was desirous to give the visiting Marquette county team 60 per cent and guarantee their expenses, provided the 60 per cent was not sufficient to cover them.

Attendance at Rapid River. When asked regarding the average attendance at the Rapid River games, Mr. Buchman said that the gate receipts for the games last season, some of which were with minor or scrub teams, totalled $2,476, an average of more than $100 per game. He felt sure that the receipts of the proposed league games played in Rapid River would average about $125 per game, of which he was desirous to give the visiting Marquette county team 60 per cent and guarantee their expenses, provided the 60 per cent was not sufficient to cover them.

Another plan discussed was to organize a four-team league in Delta county, Manistique or Nemadji being the fourth team, and a four-team league here, composed of Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee and Munising. One Sunday every month would be left open and on the open date two teams from Delta would play in Marquette county and two from Marquette county in Delta county. There was some objection to taking in Munising on this arrangement on the part of the Delta county teams, and the uncompromising attitude of Ishpeming appears to forestall the formation of the Marquette-Alger county league, anyway.

After thoroughly discussing this matter in its many phases, it was finally decided that the question was too big to dispose of at one meeting, and final action was postponed for one week, when it is likely that the managers will meet in Escanaba, that is, if the Marquette county managers find themselves favorably disposed toward affiliating with the Delta county teams after mature deliberation. The meeting was marked with unusual harmony and good feeling and all the managers expressed themselves willing to give and take, and make whatever conciliations were necessary for the good of the sport, the ultimate result of which would be a class of baseball that would be most acceptable to the greatest number.

STRAWBERRY CULTURE IN UPPER PENINSULA

PROMINENT AGRICULTURAL PUBLICATION OF THE EAST TELLS HOW FRUIT IS GROWN IN "MICHIGAN'S ICE BOX."

On the first page of last week's issue of the Rural New Yorker, one of the best and most conservative agricultural publications of the East, is an article on strawberry culture in the upper peninsula of Michigan, accompanied by a large cut of several boxes of berries, grown in what the editor is pleased to style "Michigan's ice box." The article purports to have been written by a resident of the upper peninsula, and is here-with reproduced:

In the upper peninsula of Michigan, strawberry growing on a commercial scale is of comparatively recent date. The ground is a glacial drift, and inclined to be stony. This is the way we take care of our plants. We plant, by the hill system, rows 30 inches apart, plants 15 inches apart. We take plants from the propagating beds, which, besides a good top, have a large root development. These plants are obtained by picking out the runners which have the largest crowns, each year, and using them in the propagating beds. They are not allowed to blossom. The sale of surplus plants about pays for them all, thus making the plan feasible.

After digging, which is done with a potato fork, the plants are cleaned of all dead leaves, runner stems, and blossoms, and, if the weather is dry, trimmed to two leaves. For a plant, we use a tool homemade as follows: Take a 2x6 timber, about 3 1/2 feet long, and mark off a strip two inches wide to six inches from one end. Mark this off at right angles, and saw out. After driving some nails into this six-inch piece, to keep it from splitting off, trim to a wedge. Take some heavy sheet iron and sheath it. Trim of the long handle. By nailing two pieces of wood on the handle, a marker is made. This tool makes a wedge-shaped hole six inches deep, six inches wide, and two inches across at the top. We use this tool because the ground is so stony that other tools do not work well. One man making holes, another planting, and a boy dropping, makes a good crew. The planter takes the plant, and gives it a twist in the hole. With his other fist he pushes the earth firmly around the plant. A man can plant as quickly as a boy can drop the plants.
