While the Representatives Are Chosen by Ballot, the List Comprised by Them Is One That Is Prepared After Conferences With Both "Regulars" and "Insurgents," and Only the Friendliest Sort of Rivalry Prevails at the Meeting.

The dead were:

DESPERATE BATTLE AT DEPOT. Meanwhile the train had reached Wilmington. The police called upon Bethea to surrender. As an answer, he opened the door of the toilet room and fired at the police and the crowd from an automatic revolver.

When the battle had lasted an hour, the police realized that they would be unable to drive the man from the car. A call was sent for a fire company, and the firemen responded with an engine. A stream of water was played upon the windows of the toilet room. The desperado fired a number of shots at the firemen, but they were not injured. Subsequently Bethea, drenched with water, staggered to the platform. The police again called upon him to surrender. The reply was several shots.

STORY OF THE TRAGEDY MAKES SPECTATORS WEEP.

Jury Is Completed and the Trial of the Saylor Murder Case Begins in Earnest—Death Penalty for All the Defendants Is Asked by the State's Attorney.

Waukegan, Ill., March 23.—After an eight days delay, during which 242 talesmen were rejected, the jury to try Dr. Wm. Miller, Mrs. Lucy Saylor and John Grundten, charged with the murder of Banker Saylor of Crescent City, was completed this morning. Juror Powley, who was stricken with acute indigestion, was able to take his place this afternoon.

State's Attorney Pallisard opened for the prosecution. He told the story of the killing and asked the death penalty for the defendants. During the recital of the killing, many in the court room shed tears, while Mrs. Saylor and her daughter Golda wept violently. Dr. Miller sat rigid, staring straight in front of him. The defense will not address the jury until the prosecution closes its case.

The state examined as its first witness William Nightingale, cashier of the bank of which Saylor was vice president, establishing the death of Saylor. The cashier was followed by Miss Grace Davis, bookkeeper of the bank and a next-door neighbor of the Sayers. Court adjourned with Miss Davis on the stand.

BOSTON SELLS HEAVILY. Prices of the New York Stocks Are Carried Comprehensively Downwards.

New York, March 23.—The early promise today of an inert lull market was not borne out by the later developments, when the increasing pressure of the stocks of sale carried the prices comprehensively downwards. The yielding prices were attributed partly to a counter movement of a professional element in the speculation which had demonstrated the apathetic demand at any advance in values when they sought to realize profits. Traditionally, the market in the course of a day or two and would resume work within ten days.

Brand's statement is said to implicate some prominent men.

MARQUETTE, MICH., MARCH 24.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Chancellor Day of Syracuse university continues to talk without saying anything.

One thing the situation certainly demands, namely, that Speaker Cannon give the best imitation he can of a cheerful loser.

That Massachusetts election would appear to indicate a necessity for something of the drastic treatment that the insurgents gave the party in Washington last week. The clean-up may better come from within than from without.

That there may be no political significance in Gifford Pinchot's trip to meet Colonel Roosevelt, that it may be merely a matter of personal friendship between the men, is an easy explanation that does not appear to have occurred to anyone.

Mine operators are predicting a strike of 400,000 miners on April 1. And this much can be said to the credit of the prospective striking miners: A strike in the late spring will not create the hardships among the people that one would if it occurred in the late fall or winter.

It would almost appear that the high cost of living has driven even J. Pierpont Morgan to economize in his expenses. It is claimed that he controls more money than any other man in the world, yet he is going to build a summer home which will cost only a paltry $250,000.

The binder twine plant at the Jackson prison has been out of commission for a few days because a consignment of African sisal, procured for an experiment, did not give a satisfactory product. To read the way the Detroit Free Press tells it, one gathers the idea that Governor Warner, the board of control, and the officials of the institution have committed another high crime and misdemeanor against the state.

W. J. McCorkindale and Captain Hodgson, the latter formerly a member of the board of supervisors, and well-known throughout the county, are suggested as possible candidates for mayor of Ishpeming. The spring in that city has run unusually late without the political situation taking on definite form. The absorption of the people's interest in the prohibition contest may have something to do with this condition.

The Muskegon common council has adopted an unusual method of recommending a municipal lighting plant to the good graces of the voters. At the spring election the question of whether such a plant will be established will be passed on, and the council has appropriated $100 to be used in securing a speaker to arouse interest for the project. A plant for street lighting will cost $75,000 and it is estimated that it will pay for itself in twenty years. The Muskegon Traction company has the contract at present, and by many people the contract it holds is believed to be a perpetual one.

Every person who was not enrolled for the gubernatorial primary in 1908 must enroll on April 4, or lose his vote in the primaries this year. There are in Marquette many hundreds of voters who must attend to this duty, or have no part in choosing the candidates of their party. They comprise voters who were not enrolled for the primaries of 1908, newcomers to the city and young men who have come of age within the past year and a half. In this county and in this representative district the Republican primary in September will be, in fact, the election, and the real contest on governor and lieutenant governor will, the issue will likely prove, occur at the same time. Every voter who goes to the polls on April 4 should personally ascertain whether he is properly enrolled, and if he is not take time to attend to this duty.

The Escanaba papers express themselves as well pleased with the outlook for the Marquette-Delta county baseball league, and say that the arrangements, as far as they have been completed, meet with the approval of the public who patronize baseball in all the Delta county towns. They are confident that not only will the league prove a financial success but that it will give all the towns participating in it excellent sport. In past seasons the Delta county towns have played independent baseball. This arrangement did not always work out sat-factorily, as on several occasions teams were brought in which proved to be not strong enough to cope on even terms with the home teams, with the resultant disappointment of the patrons of the games. It is believed that all the teams in the proposed Marquette-Delta county league will be able to hold their ends up and that some excellent sport will result.

Dick Fletcher, the state labor commissioner, among other things, is a member of the board of road commissioners of Bay county. Dick is a devoted lieutenant of the Hon. Patrick H. Kelley in his campaign to be nominated governor, and loses no opportunity to enforce his views on those he is powerful to influence. One of the other road commissioners of Bay county is C. B. Chatfield, a gentleman who has the idea that Chase S. Osborn would make a rattling good governor of Michigan. Dick couldn't brook such heterodoxy right under his nose, so essayed the task of defeating Chatfield for re-election. Of course if things had worked right Dick would have cleaned up on Chatfield, but the machinery slipped somewhere and instead of Dick securing Chatfield's scalp Chatfield put it over Dick. So badly was Dick worsted that his candidate to succeed Chatfield was withdrawn, and the Osborn man was named by acclamation, the Soo News tells us. Osborn has much aggressive support in Bay county, and is going to secure a good share of its vote.

The Chicago board of election commissioners this week found against the submission of the prohibition question to the electorate of the city, and unless the commission is overruled by the courts this issue will have to be held in abeyance for another year, at least. The board ruled that it not only may, but must, investigate the validity of the signatures on the "dry" petitions. The board also determined that only about 40 per cent of the work of scrutinizing the petitions completed, twice as many names as were sufficient to invalidate it had been thrown off. With only the partial scrutiny of the petitions referred to completed, 16,792 names had been rejected. The petition bore 74,000 names and 85,000 were required to secure submission. If the people of Chicago are not going to be allowed to vote on prohibition this spring much effort and money would have been saved if as much had been ascertained a month ago, for the "wets" and "drys" have been engaged for that length of time in a heated campaign that has cost both parties to it large sums. They will have been spent without any avail, if there is no election on the question. There is, of course, the possibility that the courts will intervene and decide that the board of election commissioners has no right to go behind the returns, just as the Michigan supreme court did in the case that was sent up from Marquette county, when the sufficiency of the prohibition petitions here was called into question.

Not Denly or Fordy is named as Michigan's possible representative on the new rules committee in the tentative slate announced in the press dispatches yesterday, but our own Representative Young. Either he or Representative Stevens of Minnesota is suggested as the representative on this committee of the group of states embracing Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and others. That he should be singled out for possible membership on the new rules committee indicates clearly the progress he has been making in winning the confidence of the majority of his party in the house. Representative Young has been an uncompromising regular throughout his service, and last week, when the rules committee was under fire, voted steadfastly with the members who supported the old organization. Still if Mr. Young goes on the new rules committee he will doubtless conduct himself in that new responsibility fairly and reasonably. He is a Republican of the old school, and staunchly believes in his party. He, we have confidence, will put the carrying out of its pledges and the support of its national leaders above all personal considerations, and will earnestly apply himself to the task of composing its differences within its own ranks. His counsel on the rules committee will, we are sure, be wise and conservative, and his attitude conciliatory to members whom he may regard as his "erring colleagues," with the hope that a basis of common action compatible with the traditions of the party and a firm and compact majority may be arrived at out of all the travail that this majority has lately been going through.

SAVED A SOLDIER'S LIFE. Facing death from shot and shell in the Civil war was more agreeable to J. A. Stone, of Kemp, Tex., than facing it now. He was shot in the chest by a bullet from a Confederate soldier. He was taken to a hospital and there he was cured. He now weighs 178 pounds. He has recovered from his wounds and is now a healthy man. He is now a member of the Grand Old Party.

A SURPRISING REVERSAL. The first congressional election that has been held since the passage of the new tariff law has brought a surprising reversal that would appear to show that the hopes cherished by the Democrats of controlling the next house of representatives are not without foundation. Foss, Democrat, defeated Buchanan, Republican, in the Fourteenth Massachusetts district by a vote of 14,980 to 9,340. This Fourteenth district has been the most reliably Republican district in Massachusetts and the statement is made that Mr. Foss is the first Democrat it has ever returned to congress. Couple this with the fact that Mr. Foss turned a Republican majority of 14,250 in the last congressional election into a Democratic majority of 5,840 and you have a condition of affairs that is disquieting, to say the least, for the Republicans.

According to the Washington dispatches, the Republican leaders say that the result has no significance, because the campaign was fought on local issues. This looks like a case of whistling to keep courage up, for it is stated in the reports from Massachusetts that both candidates campaigned the district on national issues, and Buchanan, the defeated Republican candidate says: "If the results will serve to convince the Republican leaders at Washington that something must speedily be accomplished in the way of lowering the cost of living I shall feel that my defeat shall not be without value." Mr. Foss interprets the result as a demand by the people that the Republican party fulfill its pledge for an honest revision of the tariff.

There can be no gainsaying that the election shows the people to stand in need of much education on the new tariff law. It may be the "best tariff law ever enacted," but there are apparently hundreds and thousands of voters in every congressional district who have yet to be made to believe this. There is, it seems, a tendency to attribute to the tariff part, at least, of the responsibility for the high cost of everything necessary for comfortable life, despite the numerous able addresses already made to prove that there is no relationship between it and the high costs.

No matter how cheerfully the Republican leaders at Washington pretend to regard it, the Republicans in the country at large will look upon the converting of a Republican majority of 14,000 into a Democratic majority of nearly 6,000 in a Massachusetts district that has never before returned a Democrat to congress as distinctly disquieting, and as carrying plain warning to Republicans of all sizes and breeds in the capitol that they had better at once drop their factional bickering and unite on plans for holding the house. If regulars, so-called, devote much of their energies to fighting insurgents, so-called, and vice versa, the survivors will find when they report for the next congress that the Democrats are going to divide all the pie.

HOME CURE FOR ECZEMA. Does it not seem strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema? A 25-cent bottle of a simple wash stops the itch and will surely convince any patient. This wash is composed of mild and soothing oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol and glycerine, etc., and known as D. D. D. Prescription. We do not know how long the D. D. D. Laboratories will continue the 25c. offer, as the remedy is regularly sold only in $1.00 bottles and has never before been put on the market on any special offers.

A LAUGH OR TWO. He Knew Who's Who. Apropos of Lent, the rector of a suburban Boston church was questioning one of his young charges the other day, and was impressed with the intelligence of the boy's answers. Finally he asked: "Well, Charlie, you seem to know your Bible as well as you know the difference between the quick and the dead."

LOWER STATE NEWS.

MUSKOGON-The Holland Reformed church at Montrose, a poor congregation that has been struggling for five years to clear up a $2,000 debt, was enriched by being left the entire estate of Mrs. Richard Haan, a pioneer resident of the village, who died recently in circumstances of apparent poverty. Her will left all her possessions to the church, and it was found that she had bonds and bank certificates amounting to $10,000 in value.

SAGINAW-Seventy-five years ago W. S. H. Welton, now ninety, watched from the hilltop in the outskirts of Owosso for the Halley comet. With him were a number of friends and relatives. They were passed away and Welton has not seen the comet since. But if providence is kind, Welton will witness a similar phenomenon on May 19. He is now organizing a party to go to the same hill with him and see the comet scheduled for that date. Welton is as well when he first saw the comet. His sight is good. He does not require glasses.

FLINT-Chief McCall, Captain Cole and Patrolman McLean raided the restaurant of Arthur Dalboise, on West First street, and found four men seated around a poker table. A quantity of chips and cards were seized. The Dalboise restaurant was the scene of the first time the proprietor was heavily fined and warned that the next time he would receive a more severe sentence.

PORT HURON-Thomas Reynolds, of North Bay, Ont., the Canadian Pacific railway conductor who saved eight persons from death in the recent wreck on the Spanish River, has been given a gold watch by the Hibernians of North Bay; a silver tea set and punch bowl by the Masons; a check for $500 by the railway company; and a King Edward medal by King Edward of England. This is the first King Edward medal ever presented to any resident of Canada. Mrs. Reynolds has been in Port Huron the last few days.

CHARLOTTE-The circuit court has been hearing the arguments of the International Harvester company, asking the court to set aside the order to compel the company to produce its books in court in the case brought against the concern by Deputy Auditor Holmes of Grand Ledge, who made the defense that the company is a trust. The company contends that the court has no right to make such an order; that it is impossible to comply because the company's books are scattered all over the country and that the attorney general is the only officer who can raise the question. The court has taken the matter under advisement.

RAY CITY-H. R. Reynolds, of Manistee, a traveling salesman of the Saginaw Electric Cleaning company, of Saginaw, shot himself in his room at the Roush House here. His condition is very serious, and he is not expected to recover. He had been here a week. No cause for his action can be given. He left a note asking that the Elks and Masons of Manistee be notified. It is stated that the man has a wife and two children living in Manistee.

JACKSON-By the breaking of elevator cables at the plant of the Fuller Buggy company, the lift which contained two men and an automobile was dropped fifteen feet. Fred Durso received a bad scalp wound and Clayton Lutz was cut over the eye and had an ankle fractured. Both are in the hospital.

GRAND RAPIDS-Suspected of attempting to burn his wife and fifteen-year-old son alive, Michael Judieka, a burly Pole, held by the police. Patrolman Graves notified of a woman, Mrs. Reynolds has been in Port Huron the last few days. The officer broke down the front door and dashed into the house. Surrounded by flames and lying on a mattress that was a mass of flames, Mrs. Judieka was found in a small room. A few feet away, in a similar condition, lay her son. After carrying both the mother and her son to safety the officer returned and helped to extinguish the fire. The mattresses on which the two had lain asleep were found soaked in oil, as was also the flooring and walls of the room in which they slept. Some time ago Judieka was arrested on a warrant sworn out by his wife, charging him with non-support. In securing the warrant Mrs. Judieka not only claimed that her husband failed to support her, but that he had repeatedly assaulted her with a knife and had beaten her unmercifully.

A Lingering Death. An English soldier supposed to have been killed in India was entered on the books of his company: "Died on the 24th of June," etc. A few days afterward it turned out that he was still alive, and the honest sergeant made the following entry: "Died by missing entry."

Simple and Logical. A teacher observed what he thought a lack of patriotic enthusiasm in one of the boys in his class. He said to him: "Now, Tommy," said he, "tell us what you would think if you saw the Stars and Stripes waving over the field of battle?" "I should think," was the logical reply of Thomas, "that the wind was blowing."

Drawing Inferences. President Lincoln once told the following story to D. H. Bates, manager of the war department telegraph office: "I'm like an old colored man I knew. He spent much of his time preaching to the other slaves to let him and them from their labors. His master told him he would punish him the next time he was caught preaching. 'But, marse,' said the old man, with tears in his eyes, 'I always has to draw inferences from Bible texts when dey comes in ma head. I jes' can't help it. Can you, marse?' 'Well,' said his master, 'I suspect I

A JACKSON VIEW. Here is an expression of a Jackson businessman on the operation of the prohibition law in Jackson county, printed in the Jackson Citizen Press:

Some of the local optimists are claiming that the abolition of the saloon was productive of good in Jackson. The claim is set forth generally by men who look at the sentiment side. A city is generally judged by the amount of business done and the prosperity of its merchants.

According to reports of the labor bureau, this city was third in industrial growth during the past year in this state-Flint first, Lansing second. One year ago there was a general depression in business, and the past year brought a revival all over the country that had no precedent in former years. Jackson manufacturing plants added, it is said, 1,800 workmen to their regular force during the year, yet not a retail store was built and only two fronts changed by the merchants.

Louren & Co. and W. H. Heenan, Lansing in the same period has added thirty or forty new store buildings. In fact, it is claimed that Jackson's retail business as a whole has decreased, notwithstanding the increase in workingmen.

One year ago, when two brewing agencies, while at the present time there are eleven. There were eighty saloons last year, which brought in a revenue of $40,000, while this year, it is said, there are at least 150 "blind pigs," which are not a source of revenue to any city.

The express companies have added a team each to their delivery force to accommodate the patrons of outside breweries and distilleries.

During the month of February, 1910, there were 4,550 cases, containing two dozen bottles each, delivered in Jackson by brewery agents. This would make 9,300 dozens or 111,600 bottles. No accurate figure can be secured on the amounts of whisky shipped in, but it amounts to thousands of dollars per month. The amount in dollars and cents for beer shipped in was $10,462.50. It is said that this amount of beer was more than was sold by the two breweries in Jackson during the month of February since they were organized.

The fact that the people send out of the city for their beer has helped the mail order houses of the saloon business. The Larkin Soap Company and Sears, Roebuck & Co. are sending their wares here by the carload every week. This may account for the low ebb in the retail trade of the merchants which was brought about by local optimists.

As to the elimination of drunkenness, local opinion has proven a farce. The report of Chief of Police Strobel for the month of February, 1910, shows that there were forty-eight arrests for drunkenness, while the report for the same month in 1909 gives the list as forty-five, or three more during local option than under the license system. Those who desire alcoholic stimulants do not seem to have much trouble in getting all they want.

Local option has not proved the panacea for all evils of the saloon. Claims for it-in fact it has proved a failure.

Another matter that should be considered is the reduction in rents caused by the outlawing of the saloon. The appended list gives the names of places and the reduction in rents. It amounts to almost $1,000 a month. This list does not include all stores made vacant by tenants taking old saloon stands, nor any of those vacant that were not occupied by saloons:

Table with columns: Location, Income Per Mo., Under License System, Income Per Mo., Local Option. Lists various businesses and their income changes.

Reduction. BUSINESS MAN. Ited is my home. "I do not find a saloon keeper openly defending his business; on the contrary the professional politician is the only man who defends it and he does it for the money he gets out of it."

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE. Now what inference do you draw from the fact that the saloon is being closed? "Well, marse, I's neber heard dat text befo' now, but I 'spects de inference am she got to snuff a long time befo' she get fat."-Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

The Cat "Yumped." The Nickligntons, suburban householders, brought back from the beach a cat which the Swedish maid discovered there and had gradually educated to some athletic tricks. Mr. Nicklignton was endeavoring to demonstrate to visitors what had been taught. Making a loop of his arms he invited the cat to leap through the opening. "Jump! jump! jump!" he bade the feline, coaxingly. Kitty never stirred, but turned away in indifference.

The maid arrived. Nicklignton expressed his disappointment. The maid, Olga, insisted that it could and would perform. "Here," she commanded to the cat. "Come, yump! yump! yump!" The cat yumped through, lithely and gracefully.-Boston Record.

A man can have most of his vices overlooked by inheriting a fortune.

CALUMET ELECTION.

Convention Tomorrow Night to Nominate Township Candidates.

The precinct caucuses in Calumet township were held last night, and tomorrow night the delegates named by these caucuses will meet in convention for the purpose of nominating a ticket. As usual after this convention, a number of extra caucuses will be held by candidates who do not get on the regular ticket and will run on other tickets.

So far as can be learned about the only places for which there will be no contests will be those of supervisor and overseer of highways. James Alcegaught will be unopposed for the office of supervisor, while Alex. Silvola has as yet found no opposition to his candidacy for re-nomination and re-election as overseer. Charles Muford, commissioner of highways, will be opposed. It is said by George Hall, George Martin will seek the clerkship in opposition to C. E. L. Thomas, who will seek the nomination and re-election. Justice of the Peace C. O. Jackola will be opposed by F. B. Trathen, a former justice, and possibly by Peter Charric of Laurium. It is also expected that there will be a stiff fight. But two candidates have announced themselves for this office, however, these being George Fox and William LaMore.

FOR MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS.

City of Hancock Will Spend Much Money This Coming Season.

According to plans made by the Hancock council, many thousands of dollars will be spent in that city the coming summer for municipal improvements.

One of the big jobs planned is the building of the large new reservoir. This will be the first reservoir of its kind in the copper country, and neighboring municipalities will watch with interest its start, completion and use. It will cost over $10,000.

The sewer system is to be given much attention. All winter City Engineer Craig and his assistants have been preparing plans for sewer extensions. It is planned to advertise for bids for laying these new lines as soon as possible. The work will result in giving sewers to every portion of Hancock and will greatly improve the sanitary conditions.

Last summer a contract was awarded to A. W. Anderson & Son of Houghton for laying 150,000 square feet of concrete sidewalk. This work will be started as early in May as possible. With it completed, Hancock will have but few streets without concrete sidewalks.

The construction of the $50,000 water system, started last summer, will be completed this year.

KANGAS AND BEEMAN MATCH.

Crack Middleweights Will Wrestle at the Palestra Saturday.

All arrangements have been completed for the match at the Palestra rink Saturday evening of this week, when Matt Kangas of Ishpeming and Pearl T. Beeman of Houghton, who is returning from Great Falls, Mont., for this bout, will come together. Beeman is very confident that he can throw the heavier man and has wagered $100 as a side bet. The men will wrestle for the side bet and 75 and 25 per cent of the gate receipts. Kangas has been training with Karl Lehto and is in excellent condition. The men will meet at catch weights, best two falls of three to decide the winner.

The Lehto-Zbysko match at Houghton on April 2 is practically closed and is causing considerable talk. It is generally believed that the Polish champion will have a great deal of trouble in defeating Lehto, who has thrown all the biggest wrestlers of the world with the exception of Goteb, but it is believed that Lehto will give him a hard match.

SHEPTELS CASE TRANSFERRED.

New York Brokers Ask for Change of Venue to U. S. Court.

On the application of R. F. Shepelt & Co., the New York brokers, who are sued by M. E. O'Brien of Laurium for $150,000 damages, the case was yesterday transferred to the United States district court at Marquette by Judge Streeter. The defendants made the application for a change of venue because their parties are residents of different states. The application was granted on the filing of a bond by Shepelt.

WEST HOUGHTON BOOMS.

Growth of New Residential District of County Seat is Steady.

The village of Houghton is divided into three parts, one of which is called East Houghton, one West Houghton and the third just Houghton. And of West Houghton something is to be said. Just where West Houghton begins is a matter a little difficult to state, but the Portage lake bridge and Dakota street may be taken as its eastern boundary. West Houghton's growth has chiefly been in the matter of residences, but now it is becoming something of a commercial center.

A reporter for this newspaper spent an hour or two in West Houghton yesterday, talking to the businessmen and others. He found that the people of West Houghton are loyal to their own social circles and their own local customs, and as regards the three grand divisions of Houghton they contend that theirs is the best while agreeing that Houghton as a whole is the biggest and the best little town on the map.

"I would not trade this little store for the biggest business on Sheldon street," says Charlie Rowland of Rowland & Hildebrandt, the West Houghton grocers. This "little store" is a modern grocery and meat market which supplies a territory which extends all over Houghton and through Hurontown to the new locations of Superior and Dodgeville. It has been in existence about two years and has become one of the substantial commercial enterprises of Houghton.

West Houghton came into being little more than a decade ago. Before that time it was almost a wilderness with a few scattering houses and a few fine residences of old families, built in the days before the trend of wealth and fashion inclined eastward. Now it has some of the finest residences in Houghton and above all is a community of homes. Hundreds of homes have been built by wage earners in West Houghton is the last ten years, and they are building in great profusion every year. West Houghton is largely the habitat of the wage earner of the best class. The man who wants to own his own home.

The district has grown over fast for beauty it is true, as seen in the unpaved streets and the lack of sidewalks, but the village government is making a struggle to keep up the pace. Concrete walks are being built as rapidly as possible and the streets are kept in fair repair, as much so as possible in a district where new streets are being opened constantly.

But one thing in which Houghton has kept pace with West Houghton is the Douglas school. The children of West Houghton have not been neglected. They have as fine a ward school as any in the state.

August Schumaker is a typical West Houghtonite. He opened a little grocery building on West Sheldon street eight years ago. Now he has two big stores with a full line of groceries and meats and is contemplating the erection of a fine new building to accommodate his growing business. West Houghton has a village blacksmith also in Elmer Campbell, who plies his trade on West Sheldon street. His shop is shaded by fine residences. William Arend has just opened on West Sheldon street a candy and ice cream store which will be a popular rendezvous for the young people of the section this summer.

The prospect of the South Quincy mine is a cheering one to West Houghton people. The businessmen see in it increased business, the home owners see in it increased values in real estate and new opportunities for investment. But West Houghton will always be a large residential district, populated by employees of the Copper Range railroad, which has its shops at the West Houghton door-step, and the varied industries of Houghton.

Frank Hildebrandt is building a big warehouse on the site of the old Ingot soap factory in West Houghton. Industry which did not produce because of a lack of demand for its product but because of a lack of raw material. This warehouse will be used by Rowland & Hildebrandt.

One of the important industries of West Houghton is Markham's candy factory, which has attained a growth coincident with that of the district. From a small beginning it has come to be a large institution with a goodly payroll and a demand for its products which extends beyond Houghton and the copper country.

West Houghton has grown so that now almost any place east of Atlantic and south of Hurontown is considered as being included in West Houghton.

CHINESE HOMEWARD BOUND.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Mosher Takes Charge of Deportees.

Liu Loo and Lee Loy, the two Chinese held in the Houghton county jail since early last January under sentence of deportation, were taken to Marquette yesterday morning by United States Deputy Marshal Mosher. They are on the first stage of their journey back to China.

At Marquette they will be placed in charge of a federal officer who will accompany them to New Orleans. There they will be placed on a ship for China and will go to Asia by way of Cape Horn.

Liu has always declared that he was born in this country and that he had never been in China. He is also the one who has a white wife living in Milwaukee. But he was unable to show cause why he should not be deported and now he is on his way.

Joe Pang of Chicago says that Liu's father did not want him to fight deportation, that he was willing his son should be sent to China.

PREPARING FOR BIG CUT.

A number of men have been employed this week at the Pryor sawmill in Ripley, overhauling the plant in preparation for the summer operations. The boilers and engines are being refitted and everything is being made ready for a big season's run. A large quantity of logs have already arrived at the mill, being shipped in from the different camps by train.

THE MEN AND WOMEN

Who Enjoy the Choicest Products of the World's Commerce.

Knowledge of What is Best More Important Than Wealth Without It.

It must be apparent to every one that qualities of the highest order are necessary to enable the best of the products of modern commerce to attain to universal acceptance. However loudly heralded, they may not hope for world-wide pre-eminence unless they meet with the general approval, not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting and enjoying the choicest products. Their commendation, consequently, becomes important to others, since to meet the requirements of the well informed of all countries the method of manufacture must be of the most perfect order and the combination the most excellent of its kind. After thirty years of general usage, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna everywhere accepted as the best of family laxatives. Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the laxative and carminative principles of plants known to act most beneficially on the system, but also to the method of manufacture of the California Fig Syrup Co., which ensures that uniformity and purity essential in a remedy intended for family use. It cleanses and sweetens the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects. To get the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, buy the genuine only; the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package. Price, 50 cents per bottle.

ONTONAGON NEWS NOTES.

Old Village Looks for a Prosperous Year Through Its Lumber.

Never in the history of that ancient town, founded in 1842, has the prospects of Ontonagon looked brighter than now. The warm weather of the past two weeks melted the ice in the river and Lake Superior so that today navigation is virtually open. As far as the eye can see there is not a particle of ice on the lake.

Now, if congress only authorizes the appropriation of $25,000 for the harbor as recommended in the rivers and harbors bill, there will be no difficulty in weeks the amount of lumber which must be shipped from Ontonagon this season. During the past winter there have been employed in the mills and lumber works adjacent to the town more than 1,000 men. Many of these have found their way into town within the past few days, owing to the shutting down of the camps.

I. C. Morrill and R. P. Pratt of Minneapolis arrived at Ontonagon Monday and are awaiting the arrival of the furniture to fit up the large hotel owned by J. H. Heard which has been closed the past winter but which will be opened by Mr. Morrill on or about April 1, he having leased the building for ten years. Mr. Morrill is a hotel man of long experience and he proposes to give Ontonagon a hostelry which will attract a large summer trade.

The Greenwood Lumber company's mill is closed for repairs. It will open in a few weeks and will probably run a double shift during the summer. If the Ontonagon Lumber & Cedar company's mill, which at present is operating at full capacity, and the Corwin Lumber company also cut their complete output, Ontonagon would be one of the liveliest lumber towns in the peninsula this summer.

Fishermen fishing in Lake Superior on Monday and Tuesday of this week were an unusual sight in March, but they landed only a few suckers and pickerel. The fish were shortly disposed of.

Judge Cooper held a short session of court Monday and Tuesday to close up the affairs of the old Algoma Copper company, of which George W. Stannard of Lockland was receiver.

Ontonagon people are anxiously awaiting the Penn notation. They have great confidence in the future of that property. Good reports keep coming from the White Pine mine, which is being developed by the Calumet & Hecla Mining company. This is the only systematic mining conducted in Carp Lake township or the Porcupine mountain range since the days of the Nonesuch, and it begins to look as if it would result in more than one mine in that region. Ontonagon is going to be a lively baseball town this summer. A team stronger than ever is being organized.

The moving picture theater is so well patronized these nights that many are refused admission. Several manufacturing plants looking for a location have their eyes on Ontonagon, as the large amount of water tributary to the village makes it a very desirable factory location.

HOUGHTON FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

A farmers' institute will be held in the Citizens' bank hall at Houghton next Wednesday morning and afternoon. N. P. Hull, master of the state, superintendent of the upper peninsula

TRINITY CHURCH OPENING.

Imposing Choral Service is Prepared for Easter Sunday.

The new Trinity church at Houghton will be used Easter Sunday morning for the first time, and Rev. J. F. Curzon, the pastor, and Choirmaster Weismiller have been making special efforts to make the service one in keeping with the solemnity of the event and the feast. A choir of forty-five male voices will sing music especially arranged by Mr. Weismiller and the accompaniments will be by an organ and a Calumet & Hecla orchestra, which will be conducted. The soloists are to be W. H. Rowe, Allen P. Ross, bass; Will Hall, baritone; Evert Vial and Don Belbridge, tenors.

On this occasion the new altar donated by Mrs. C. D. Sheldon and Mrs. John D. Ryan will be used for the first time. It arrived yesterday and is now being set up in preparation for the opening service.

MERGER AT BUTTE.

Anaconda to Absorb Various Properties—The Details.

The stockholders of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, at their special meeting at Anaconda yesterday, authorized an increase in the capital stock from 1,200,000 shares to 6,000,000 shares of the par value of $25 each. The amounts of stock to be offered by Anaconda for the properties of the other companies which are to be taken over are as follows: Boston & Montana, 1,200,000 shares; Butte & Boston, 300,000 shares; Washoe, 350,000 shares; Trenton, 300,000 shares; Big Black Foot Lumber, 200,000; Diamond Coal & Coke, 100,000; Red Metal, 500,000; Allie Gold & Silver, 30,000. With a total issue of the original 1,200,000 shares of Anaconda, this will bring the total stock outstanding up to 4,120,000 shares.

The amalgamated Copper company owns the majority of the Parrot stock and practically the whole of the stock of the other companies transferring their properties. Its holdings of Anaconda, owned by the Butte Coalition Mining company, with the amalgamated ownership in Anaconda, therefore, and the increase in the capital stock and in the stock of the companies transferring their properties, its holdings of Anaconda after the other subsidiary companies have been dissolved will amount to 3,075,000 shares, or somewhat less than three-fourths of the total stock issue. There will be remaining in the treasury of the Anaconda company 1,780,000 shares. The vote in favor of the merger was unanimous, 1,026,621 shares being voted out of the 1,200,000 shares outstanding.

The Anaconda Copper company will, after acquiring these properties, own a copper production in excess of 250,000,000 pounds, and it is stated by competent authorities that after crediting the profits on silver and gold produced and on the lumber, coal and railroad business owned by Anaconda, the cost of production will not exceed nine cents a pound. This on a thirteen-cent copper market would give net earnings of about ten million a year. The cash copper and quick assets of the company will exceed all the liabilities by more than $20,000,000. The fixing of the proportions of the various companies in the merger has taken the hard work of many competent independent engineers, as well as of the officials of the various companies.

The Boston Financial News said in its issue of last evening: "So far as the local shares are concerned, the terms of the Anaconda merger, announced this morning, are important chiefly from the standpoint of their relation to the stocks of the Boston & Montana, Butte & Boston, Parrot and Coalition. In this connection it should be said that the Red Metal Mining company is the operating company of the Butte Coalition company and is owned entirely by it. Under the exchange, 500,000 shares of new Anaconda are given for the Red Metal Mining company, in addition to which the Butte Coalition company will receive a large proportion of the 20,000 shares to be given for the Alice, also controlled by the Butte Coalition.

"According to the ratios announced, the Boston & Montana company, which has 150,000 shares, will receive eight shares of new Anaconda, or nine of Boston & Montana, Butte & Boston, which has 200,000 shares, will receive one and one-half shares of new Anaconda for each share of Butte & Boston, the Parrot, which has 200,000 shares, will receive 10,000 shares of new Anaconda, or nine new shares for every ten shares of Parrot. Assuming that the Butte Coalition owns two-thirds of the Alice company this company's 1,000,000 shares will receive in return 500,000 shares, or fifty-two Anaconda for 100 Butte Coalition, North Butte is not now to be taken over.

"If we give Anaconda a theoretical value of $50 per share, the following represents the prices paid for the properties taken over free and clear of all indebtedness: Boston & Montana, 800,000,000; Butte & Boston, $15,000,000; Washoe, $19,000,000; Trenton, $8,000,000; Big Black Foot Lumber company, $15,000,000; Parrot, $4,500,000; Diamond Coal & Coke, $5,000,000; Red Metal (Butte Coalition), $25,000,000; Alice (controlled by Butte Coalition), $1,500,000; total, $131,000,000."

ISLE ROYALE.

Calumet & Hecla never has loaned Isle Royale any money and is not at the present time a creditor of Isle Royale, says the Boston Financial News. Isle Royale owes the United States Metal Selling company for money advanced against copper in their hands, or in transit, or on hand at the mine. The excess over this indebtedness is represented by bills for current supplies, such as coal, powder, etc., and is much more than covered by the supplies on hand at the mine. The proof of this lies open to anyone in the annual report itself, which shows against the $750,000 liabilities, assets of cash, accounts receivable, copper unsold, etc., of $650,000 and makes no mention among the assets of supplies on hand.

These advances are a custom of the business, as settlements with the selling company are made periodically, the mine is allowed to draw against any shipment of copper, immediately, and while such draft or advance is treated as a loan, it is not in reality because from the very start there is pledged a certain amount of metal, which will automatically cancel the obligation when it is sold. Where a contract exists as in the case of the Isle Royale, by which the selling company has the exclusive marketing of the output, the mine is even allowed to draw against copper already mined and in the refinery before such copper has been shipped to the selling company. This merely enables the mine to receive money for its product immediately and the interest charged on such advances is in reality the same as a factory allowing a customer a discount for cash. This custom has existed for years with the Bigelow properties. Often it runs the other way and a mine leaves the proceeds of its copper with the selling company and receives interest from it. At the present time the United States Metal Selling company owes Anaconda more than the total of all advances to Centennial, Allouez and Isle Royale.

To sum up: A floating debt owed to a copper selling agency and secured by the output of the mine, which is under contract to sell is not a debt that need worry any stockholder. In the second place, Calumet & Hecla are not in any way concerned in the financing, and the suggestion that Isle Royale is in need of money arises from a misapprehension of the real conditions. Lastly, as the production has largely increased and the mine has been run at a profit since September, even these liabilities to the United States Metal Selling company have now been much reduced and a balance sheet now would show a surplus instead of a deficit. If copper unsold and supplies at the mine were figured in, this would leave a fully equipped mine with four shafts active, producing copper at the rate of over 7,000,000 pounds a year at a comfortable profit, and with about 3,000 acres of land in the very best of the best lodes, all of which have been located on the premises.

GRANBY.

Yesterday's break in Granby, it was stated at Boston, may be accounted for by the disappointing statement, showing that 6,000,000 tons of ore are available for stopping, which will be presented to the directors at their April meeting. The company yesterday made this statement: "Incidental to the retirement of A. B. W. Hodges as superintendent, taking effect March 15, the president, Mr. Langbein, accompanied by George Crawford Clark, Jr., one of the directors, visited the company's property, where they had been preceded by Dr. Otto Sussman, mining engineer. A full report of this visit will be presented to the directors at the meeting to be held early in April. In advance of the completion of this report, it may be said that it will be disappointing as to the tonnage of ore available for stopping, which will probably not exceed 6,000,000 tons." A dividend has been looked for, following the March meeting of the directors, for it was three months ago that dividends were resumed after a year's lapse. The management, however, did not designate the payment

MR. ROOSEVELT AS LECTURER.

A new honor for ex-President Roosevelt is his election as an associate member of the French Academy of Moral and Political Sciences. When he lectures at the Sorbonne, it will be his right to wear, if he chooses, a plumed cap, a pearl-handled sword, and a suit embroidered with green palm trees. But this costume is not compulsory. The statesman may wear, if he chooses, the riding suit familiar in Washington; or he may appear in khaki, with a sombrero, bearing an elephant rifle. But in seriousness, it may be expected, that the embodiment of the various culture of Harvard, New York, the wild west, Washington, and the jungles of Africa may be expected to illustrate to Paris his perfect savoir-faire. He will have been preceded upon the lecture platform by several American savants, who have shown Parisians types of the recent combination of scholar and gentleman,

He will seek to convince the most skeptical of the feasibility, wisdom and righteousness of the local option cause.

Giving Nightly Concerts—The Cable Piano company is giving a fine concert each night in their store in the opera house block. Several of those in charge of the store are very fine pianists and their numbers are being complimented by the large crowds that are visiting the store almost every evening. BUTTER-MAKING INDUSTRY.
New York Herald Takes Notice of Upper Michigan Creameries.

Creameries and the manufacture of butter in the upper peninsula of Michigan have become of sufficient importance to be noticed by the New York Herald, one of the largest newspapers of the eastern metropolis. The following is taken from that paper:

"Butter-making in upper Michigan is gradually taking on the proportions of an important industry. Several creameries have been established within recent years, and so successful have they been that others are springing up in various portions of the region. The peninsula is still very sparsely settled, and with the growth of the farming community it is promised that the number of creameries will become legion.

"The latest butter-making plant to go into commission has been established at Skandia, Marquette county. The company is composed wholly of farmers. The capital stock is $5,000. Milk from four hundred cows is being delivered to the plant daily and next year much more will be furnished.

"Another new creamery is being erected in Felch township, Dickinson county. The capitalization in this case is $1,800, and practically all the stock is held by farmers in the surrounding county.

"A third new creamery in upper Michigan is being established at Chatham, Alger county. So enthusiastically was the project received that forty-eight hours after the scheme was launched the stock of $5,000 had been subscribed, a contract for the erection of the creamery had been awarded and excavating for the foundation of the plant had been started."

WORKINGMEN TO HAVE RAISE IN PAY

ALL NEXT WEEK.

Powers' Hypnotic Comedy Company Will Appear at Ishpeming Theater.

Frank J. Powers, a well known hypnotist, and his company will open a week's engagement next Monday evening at Ishpeming theater. During the latter part of the week Mr. Powers, who is playing this week at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., will hypnotize a young man by the name of Charles Anderson over the long distance telephone. The subject will be put to sleep in some store window and Mr. Powers will awaken him Monday evening at the theater. In a number of places Mr. Anderson has remained in his trance for more than fifty hours. On Tuesday the hypnotist will put a young lady to sleep and will awaken her at the theater the following evening. In addition to the hypnotic exhibitions there will be high class vaudeville acts.

A few weeks ago the company filled an engagement at Ludington and 200 people were turned away the opening night. The Ludington Daily News said of the performance:

"The largest audience that has attended performances at the opera house for over a year occupied every nook and cranny of the theater Monday night when the Powers Hypnotic Comedy company opened a week's engagement here. The feature 'Professor Powers' performance was the awakening of the young man whom he had put to sleep over the long distance telephone Saturday night. Following this is a number of subjects were called upon the stage, where unlimited fun was created. One of the best features of the evening was the test in catalepsy. In this a young man was hypnotized, his body made rigid and placed with his head on one chair and his feet on another. Four men, their combined weight aggregating 450 pounds, stood on his body, which showed not the least elasticity. Mack Willis, a clever Dutch comedian; the Juggling Kartollos, who showed unique and difficult feats with Indian clubs and hoops, and a little lady who did some fancy toe dancing, added to the enjoyment of the evening."

The Mining Journal is reliably informed that the employees of the Oliver Iron Mining company, the Breitung mines, the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company and the Pittsburg & Lake Angelina Iron company on the Marquette range will be given an increase in wages the first of next month. The formal announcement will be made from the headquarters of the different companies within a few days. The percentage of increase is not stated, but it is said that it will be in the neighborhood of 10 per cent.

The matter of increasing the wages has been under consideration for some weeks past, but the news is a surprise to practically all of the workmen. The increase will affect several thousand men, including those employed at all of the mines in Ishpeming and most of the properties at Negaunee, also the mines on the Swanzy range, the Cleveland-Cliffs property west of Michigan, the Champion mine at Beacon, and others.

The employees of the companies have not been dissatisfied with their wages, and the advance, coming without solicitation on their part, will doubtless be greatly appreciated. The principal reason for the increase is due to the favorable condition of the iron market, and the fact that the cost of living has, for the past few months, been higher than usual.

Upper Peninsula

Navigation to Open Shortly

The first Ann Arbor ferry to reach Menominee this year will in all probability make port by April 1. The ice all over the bay is rapidly coming home and reports state there are long stretches of open water out from shore. Near Sturgeon Bay, where the canal has already opened, the ice has left the shore and is piling in big floes. At Menominee, the shore ice is comparatively safe, but air holes are numerous and with the present mild weather a quick breakup is expected. The fishermen are making arrangements for an early season.

Poor Town for Peddlers

Menominee is a bad town for the peddler. Frank Gerstein thought that he could sell silverware without a license, and he said so. Frank changed his mind rapidly after Chief of Police English and Municipal Judge Waite talked to him. The conversation cost him $10, and then he had to buy a license. Then came S. I. Lichenman, selling ruggs, skins, fur overcoats and other appropriate Dr. Cook material. He had an idea that a license was an encumbrance for a man of his rapid movements, so he attempted to dispose of his north pole garments without the necessary privilege. He was gathered into the arms of the law and contributed $10 to the fund. Later some overzealous missionaries were spotted on Main street, selling a publication called "The Life Boat." They claimed to be slum workers and missionaries, but they had no other proof than their words. The "Life Boat" was deemed unnecessary so the sale was discontinued by the police.

Nominations at Escanaba

Two contests marked the Citizens' party primaries in the different wards of Escanaba yesterday. In the Sixth ward, Carl Anderson and Charles Gunderson were nominated for alderman and supervisor, respectively, over C. C. White and Peter C. Beck, the opposing candidates, by a vote of seventy-nine to thirty-two. In the Seventh ward, W. D. Mooney was nominated for alderman over T. J. Sincars by a vote of thirty to nine. Candidates named without opposition are: Aldermen, George Shipman, Mathew Prieser, John Schmidt, Emanuel Olson and E. J. Kirkpatrick; supervisors, Julius Eklou, Frank H. Atkins, James H. Burns, E. P. McMartin, Charles F. Brandt and Miles Henrietta.

U. P. Boy in Australia

An interesting letter has been received by the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill from Harvey Lucas, who with Gerald Clifford traveled together until after reaching Paris when Lucas proceeded on the world's trip while Clifford returned to Escanaba and entered the University of Michigan, where he is now a student. Of the letter received from Lucas the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill says:

"Three years ago Harvey Lucas left this city in company with Gerald Clifford, an Escanaba boy. The two were to make a tour of the world. Together they crossed the Atlantic and traveled through England and invaded the continent. A difference arose between them and they separated. Clifford soon returned home, but Harvey persisted in his travels, formed new alliances and finally got as far as Australia, in which country he has spent nearly two years at different occupations. He is now in the Narrabri district of New South Wales, a great ranching district. One of the most disastrous floods ever known in Australia was recorded recently, and Harvey was right in the thickest of the fray. He barely escaped with his life in an attempted rescue."

MEDICINE MADE FROM ROOTS AND HERBS.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they depended upon medicines made from the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that standard remedy which is made from roots and herbs for woman's ills, had its origin in this way. For thirty years it has been redeeming its promise written on the label of every bottle by curing thousands of women of feminine ills. It's a good honest medicine.

M. J. Olson, the piano tuner, can now be reached by County telephone No. 529, or by mail, at 400 East Ridge street, Ishpeming. First-class work guaranteed. (1-12-11)

The exercises opened with an address by B. J. Wise, the secretary, who explained what the association is doing for the boy. This was followed by races and other stunts in the gymnasium, and there was a basketball game between the members of the junior and intermediate classes, the former winning in a score of nine to two. The visitors were then entertained with swimming stunts, after which refreshments were served. The affair was much enjoyed.

HUMOROUS DISCUSSION OF LIQUOR QUESTION

EX-GOVERNOR PECK TELLS WHY HE IS A "WET" AND ADMONISHES EVERYBODY TO SMILE WHATEVER MAY HAPPEN.

The local option question from a humorous standpoint may at first thought seem to be an anomaly, but those who heard Hon. George W. Peck at the opera house last night will agree that such an idea is within the range of human possibility, and that the speaker demonstrated the truth of the statement. Mr. Peck's most prominent point was that, whatever happens, be good natured about it, and do not get on the outs with your friend because he does not agree with you on the liquor or any other question. Learn to smile and look on the bright side of everything, and make up your mind that whichever way the election goes, everybody is going to live together just as happily as before. Certainly the speaker did his part to get everyone in good humor, and a large part of his talk was taken up with the relation of humorous stories, all of which had a bearing on the points he wanted to drive home.

An audience that fairly well filled the ground floor of the opera house, and a few in the balcony, heard the speaker. From 7:30 until 8 o'clock a concert was given by Our Boys' band. Ex-Governor Peck was introduced by James Russell, who recounted the history of the author of "Peck's Bad Boy" from the time he published a weekly newspaper at La Crosse until he occupied the governor's chair. In presenting the speaker, Mr. Russell stated that while he would not touch for Mr. Peck's arguments, he would vouch for his honesty and that what he would say would be what he honestly believed to be true.

Well Regulated Saloon.

"I am an advocate of temperance and of the well regulated saloon," said Mr. Peck. "At present there are too many saloons and some of the people in the business should be out of it. I would like to see a saloon just as respectable and conducted in just as orderly a manner as any other store. The ideal saloon would be one where a girl could act as cashier without being in danger of hearing or seeing offensive language or conduct."

"Saloon keeps and brewers as a class are not such a bad lot of men. Most of our brewers are of staid old German stock, the people that may be said to have made the state of Wisconsin what it is. There are no better citizens in the country than are the Germans. They have been brought up in homes where beer was as free as water, and there is none who dares to say they are any the worse for it. Is it quite fair to refuse these people their right to drink beer, because some one has an idea that it is harmful to some people?"

"But they talk about saving the boys. Let me tell you that the boy or girl who is properly fathered and mothered is in no danger when he or she passes a saloon. The father who whips and punishes his boy into doing his will will never make that boy what he wants him to be. Boys should never be whipped. Granted that the boy comes home some night showing evidence of having imbibed too freely. What one of us parents has not some time in his life been in a similar condition? Whip that boy, scold him severely or drive him from home, and you have started him on a fair way to ruin. But put him on the back, tell him that you are sorry he went wrong but that you know he will never do it again, and end up by suggesting that he and 'dad' take a day or so off and go fishing, and you have that boy where you can control him absolutely. Treat the boys squarely and win their confidence and respect, then they are in little danger from any saloons in the city.

Vast Economic Importance.

"In this country there is about one billion dollars invested in breweries and about 750,000 men are employed in the manufacture and sale of liquor. How are you going to dispose of these men in case the breweries are put out of business? But this is of little consequence, you say, compared with the benefits that would be derived from the abolition of the traffic."

"I have traveled considerably in so-called prohibition states. In North Dakota, bottled goods of most despicable quality can be purchased without difficulty at all of the larger cities. Birmingham, Ala., is dry under county option, and, by the way, county option is wrong because it makes it possible for adjacent farmers to vote a city dry. At Birmingham, I found blind pigs, bootleggers, etc., everywhere. The same was true at Atlanta. In Maine, which has been a prohibition state for forty years, I found girls and boys making good money out of school hours 'capping' for speak-easies. They are the same boys and girls our 'dry' friends are trying to save."

"Now I have told you why I am a 'wet'. But in closing, let me emphasize again that it is of the greatest importance that everybody keep good natured throughout this campaign, and whichever way the election goes, continue to live together as friends and be happy."

City people are becoming more enlightened every day on the question of diseased animals and many of them will not allow any milk to be brought in their homes until they inquire of the veterinary whether the animals have stood the tuberculin test; hence the rapidly increasing demand for Vandenberg's fresh aerated milk, from tested cattle. MR. M'CORMICK WITHDRAWS.

Says in Letter to Candidates That He Gets Out of P. O. Contest.

To the Mining Journal: I want you to publish the letter I send you with this, showing where I stand about the postoffice fight, and the reasons I am getting out of it. I have mailed copies of this letter to the candidates and Representative Young and take this way of letting the public know about it, as I think the public is entitled to know.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM M'CORMICK.

Marquette, Mich., March 23, 1910.
I am writing this letter to tell you that I am going to get out of this fight for the postoffice. I am writing a similar letter to Mr. — and Representative Young.

When I got into this thing I thought the people were to have a chance to vote according to their wish, and that there would be a square deal all around. If I had been told that the office was going to the man who paid the biggest price for it I would have had nothing to do with an election and would have refused to enter one. I can't afford to go out and try and buy the office, and wouldn't if I could afford it.

The agreement entered into with Representative Young was violated right after it was made, by their beginning work when they, the other candidates, pledged their honor to wait until all the candidates agreed upon a date to commence the campaign. I was the only one who kept this agreement. I also have heard much talk of crooked work in the election, from sources that can be relied on, from supporters of another candidate, and I have been warned by my friends that such work is planned. I don't want anything to do with an election that is crooked. This is the first time I have ever been a candidate for any office and I don't want to enter a fight that is full of abuses that the primary law makes illegal.

This "wet" and "dry" fight has got into the postoffice matter, and it has no business there. I withdraw, because I don't believe the fight has been fair and the sort of a fight Mr. Young expected and because I haven't got a pile of money to put up against any candidate. My withdrawal means I won't have my name on any ballot and I lose my friends to go where they want to.

I thank those who gave me their support, and am sorry the fight turned out the kind of a one it has.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM M'CORMICK.
