MARKETS

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, April 7.—Paine, Webber & Co. say of today's stock market: "The market today was very dull, and there was little or no commission house business."

Closing prices were as follows: Amal. 7 1/2, Nor. Pac. 13 1/2, Anaconda. 4 1/2, N. & W. 10 1/2, etc.

Boston Quotations.

Boston, April 7.—Today's stock market at Boston is summarized by Paine, Webber & Co. as follows: "Neither market showed any features worthy of mention today. It was the dulllest day for a long time, with the commission houses doing practically nothing and the floor traders unwilling to take a position either way."

The closing prices were:

this morning. In a way the trade was evening up more or less all day in anticipation of the official crop report on the condition of the winter wheat, due at 11 o'clock tomorrow.

New York Cotton Market.

New York, April 7.—There is no disputing the fact that the 1910 crop report to ten days ago was in a bad way and you can not cure that condition in that length of time.

CURB STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Table with columns for stock names and prices, including Amal., Nor. Pac., Anaconda, N. & W., etc.

LOWER STATE NOTES.

NILES.—The explosion of a tank holding 200 gallons of gasoline in the George Forster grocery caused a fire and loss of $4,000. Adjoining buildings, occupied by Guy Whalen, restaurant, and John Forster, saloon, and the Hotel Forster were badly damaged.

QUINCY.—At the Quincy township election Monday, C. McKay had the unusual honor of being elected supervisor for the eleventh consecutive time in spite of the fact that he is a Democrat and the township has a normal Republican majority.

ANN ARBOR.—At the time of the Michigan Pennsylvania football game in Philadelphia last fall the Jackies from the U. S. S. Michigan attended the game in a body, but discouragement to the Yost team by their cheers all through the game, and their presence at the game, and the fact that the team came back to Ann Arbor a football team at once started for the purchase of some trophy for the Jackies.

LANESING.—Although it is alleged that the "wets" spent $8,000 in an effort to prevent the fifty-four saloons and one brewery from being closed out of business in Ingham county they will put up a much more determined scrap to have them reinstated two years hence, according to the statement of a local liquor dealer.

D. T. Morgan Company's Letter. The New York market continued dull today. The tone was somewhat stronger, due to scarcity of offerings.

REQUIREMENTS FOR U. S. CITIZENSHIP

COUNTY CLERK JENKS SOON TO ISSUE BOOKLET OF GENERAL INTEREST TO PUBLIC.

REQUIRED LEGAL PROCEDURE

Method of Obtaining First and Second Papers and Nature of Knowledge Required Explained.

County Clerk Frank G. Jenks has prepared and is about to publish a booklet which will be of general interest to the public, and of particular interest to persons that are planning to take out citizenship papers. It is a summary of the laws relating to citizenship and explains the methods of procedure necessary for an alien to become a citizen. The booklet, when issued from the press, will not only be of value to those who are about to become citizens, but it will also be a convenient work of reference for anyone wishing to study the laws on citizenship, in a clear and concise form. Some of the points emphasized in the booklet are published below.

Any person who is an anarchist or a member of any society teaching disbelief in organized government, or any person who is a polygamist or a believer in the practice of polygamy, will be denied citizenship. Judges will usually refuse final papers unless the wife and family of a married alien are also residents of this country.

In becoming a citizen, the first step is to take out what is known as a "first paper." This can be done as soon as you establish residence in this country, though there is no particular advantage in doing this, as it is necessary to be in the United States continuously for five years before you can become a citizen. No time is lost if you wait three years before asking for your first paper. The applicant for first paper must appear in person at the county clerk's office. The clerk will ask full name, residence, occupation, date and place of birth, port of arrival, name of vessel or conveyance, port of arrival and date of arrival. No witnesses are needed when first papers are taken out. Any person who has been honorably discharged from the United States army does not need to take out a first paper, neither does he need to prove more than one year's residence in this country; or any person who has served five consecutive years in the navy or one enlistment in the marine corps of the United States does not have to take out a first paper. If your father had his first paper and died before he was actually naturalized and before you arrived at the age of twenty-one (21) years, you may be naturalized without making any first paper; provided, your father could have been naturalized himself, had he lived, while you were a minor.

Second Papers.
Before you can make a petition for your second papers your first paper must be at least two years old (if you took out your first paper since June 29th, 1906, not more than seven years old), because under the law first papers become void after that period. You must have lived in the United States continuously for at least five years and in the state where you make your petition at least one year. The one year in the state counts as one of the five years in the United States.

You must again go to the office of the county clerk of your county at any time convenient to you during business hours, with your first paper, and take with you two witnesses who are citizens of the United States. (If they are naturalized citizens, have them bring their second papers.) These witnesses must be citizens, and able to swear they have known and seen you often for the last five years at least, and that you are a person of good moral character and in every way qualified to become a citizen of the United States. You should be very careful to secure witnesses who are citizens, and be sure that they are qualified in every way to act as such. If they do not meet the above requirements, your petition will be dismissed.

At the first term of court, after ninety days have passed from the time of making petition or application for second papers, you must again go to the court house with the same two witnesses you had when you made your petition (only this time the county clerk will notify you on what day to come).

This time you go to the court room with your two witnesses for examination by the circuit judge and naturalization examiner. If it is found that the statements in your petition are true, and your witnesses are competent, and you have a fairly intelligent idea as to the form of government in the United States, and a good character, the judge will admit you as a citizen.

The government is anxious to admit you to citizenship if you are deserving of it and meet with the requirements of the law, but it also insists that you familiarize yourself with some of the duties that will fall upon you as a citizen. You will be questioned as to your knowledge of the constitution of the United States, how and by whom the laws are made, how the law-making bodies are elected, the form of this government, the nature of the state and county government, and other questions of like character will be propounded. You should also learn the name of the president, vice president, governor of the state, and the representative in congress and in the state legislature from the district in which you live. Persons who have a fairly comprehensive knowledge of the system of government in this country, as shown by the answers to the questions outlined in the foregoing, and have met with the legal requirements will have no difficulty in being admitted to citizenship.

GARBAGE ORDINANCE NEEDED IN CITY

WINTER'S ACCUMULATION OF FILTH PILED UP IN MANY BACK YARDS—WHAT ESCANABA IS DOING TO IMPROVE CONDITIONS.

An inspection of many back yards in the city at the present time should be sufficient to convince almost anyone that civic cleanliness, if not public health, demands some kind of a city ordinance relative to the disposal of garbage. Back of many residences in Marquette are to be found large piles of all kinds of garbage that has accumulated during the winter, as well as the ashes that have been taken from the stoves or furnace. Not only is this an unsightly condition, but these piles of rubbish will soon be the breeding places of millions of flies and other insects, whose chief purpose in life seems to be to spread disease and make humanity uncomfortable. Of course, many of the property owners will have this rubbish hauled away before the really warm weather comes, but many others will put off the removal of this filth until it becomes a nuisance to the entire neighborhood.

The only ordinance now covering such a condition of affairs is that which gives the health officer power to abate any nuisance. That may be sufficient in theory, but as a matter of fact, a neighbor dislikes to make complaint regarding a matter of this kind, and will refrain from doing so, in most instances, until the stench from such garbage becomes unbearable. In some cases, fresh garbage is deposited in the open during the summer, which causes an even more unsanitary condition of affairs than results from that which has accumulated during the winter.

Garbage ordinances of various kinds have been under consideration in many upper peninsula cities during the last few months, but no move has as yet been made in Marquette. An ordinance is now under consideration at Escanaba, which appears to have many good features. This proposed ordinance provides that all garbage (except that is burned or otherwise totally destroyed) must be deposited in covered cans or boxes, placed at the rear of the house or store. The council is authorized to enter into a contract with any suitable persons to haul away such garbage at regular intervals, and the persons so employed must give bond for the faithful performance of their duties. The garbage collectors are to be licensed, and are to collect for their services from the householders not to exceed ten cents per week for each household and not to exceed $1 for a hotel. Wagons used for collecting garbage must be water tight and covered on top. The residents must permit the collectors to haul away all garbage placed in the cans or tanks as often as the board of health directs.
