Marquette county cast 3,400 Republican votes in the September primaries were given to understand that the plan two years ago. The coming fall it is predicted that the vote will reach and likely exceed 6,000.

If there ever was any chance for the merchant marine subsidy bill the excesses of the lobbyists who worked for it have put it out of the question in this sideration for the cordial reception they session of congress.

The problem of the Milwaukee so cialists is to give the city an administration radical enough to hold the simon pure members of the party and at the same time conservative enough not to repel their Democratic and Republican allies.

Pontiac, a city of over 12,000 inhabitants in Oakland county, which county turned over to the wet from the dry column last Monday, is going to license stored. This will be but one saloon for over 1,200 of population. Ten saloons should prove easy to keep track of, and at the same time should divide such a arge volume of business that their proprietors should be able to make a large amount of money out of them without in any manner having to break the law. It will be interesting to observe how such drastic curtailment of saloons works out. It should give excellent results, if there is any merit in the theory of high license and restricted number of drinking places as a means of coping with the liquor problem.

candidates, by very considerable majorities. Indeed the Democrats cleaned up pretty much everything lying around loose in Bay City last week, and they do say that their principal issue was Dick himself.

In any event, the Marquette baseball directors should be off with the old love before they are on with the new. A few weeks ago tentative arrangements were made for a series of games with Escanaba, Gladstone and Rapid River, and the managements of the Delta county teams would, in all likelihood, go through. Without informing the latter to the contrary, negotiations were taken up with Ishpeming, Negaunee and Crystal Falls.

We don't exactly see how this squares with fair treatment of our Delta county friends, who are entitled to every congave the Marquette emissary and their willingness to enter into a sportsmanlike agreement. Our Marquette directors are likely to keep on trying to play both ends against the middle until their only resort will be a league agreement with the Newberry asylum team.

It is reported that President Taft will visit Indianapolis, after all; also that he read Senator Beveridge's address before it was delivered. Either or both of these reports may be correct. If the president goes to Indianapolis much interest will attach to the speech he delivers there.

It was the sense of a caucus of the Michigan representatives held late last week that they should do all they can to expedite business to the end that they may get home at the earliest possible date. Several of the members have contests ahead of them in the fall primaries. As for Representative Townsend, he wants to get away to get his senatorial canvass started.

The late Peter Fitzpatrick, of Ishpeming, was congratulated by the state labor department on having the record of a wealthy man. He would no doubt be being its most efficient state deputy. If the various state departments had more world's goods, had he not given so much deputies of Mr. Fitzpatrick's stamp of his time to politics. The Twelfth district is now witnesswriting letters to his constituents directhis friends are busy completing the see a lively campaign in progress. Kerr has got to fight energetically to be in at the finish, and Representative Young will hardly take anything for granted. The primary campaign this year will be a much more eventful affair than the two years ago-though one that will be conducted in better spirit-and, besides, there will be a lot of offices on the primary ballot that were not found there in last primary election. The system was greatly extended by the last legislature, and may now be said to be practically statewide.
