

G. O. P. STRONGHOLD GOES DEMOCRATIC

James S. Havens, Running for Congress in New York, Duplicates the Remarkable Victory of E. N. Foss in Massachusetts.

While It Is Acknowledged That One of the Main Factors in the Result Is His Republican Opponent's Soiled Record as a Party Boss, Nevertheless, With the Tariff as His Issue, He Overturns a Normal Majority of 6,000 and Wins by 6,000 Votes.

Rochester, N. Y., April 19.—Between six and eight thousand voters in Monroe county changed from the Republican to the Democratic column today and elected the first Democratic congressman that has represented the thirty-second district of New York in twenty years.

James S. Havens, Democrat, running on a tariff reform platform, defeated George W. Aldridge, for a score of years ruler of the county Republican organization, by 5,900 votes. James Breck Perkins, whose death the middle of his third congressional term necessitated a special election today, carried the district in 1908 by 10,167 votes. Taking the vote on the presidency in 1908 as a comparison, the total turnover vote was 5,033. It is acknowledged that Perkins' vote that year was abnormal. Accepting the average Republican plurality, the turnover today was about 6,000 votes.

Republican Machine Overwhelmed. Havens had arrayed against him one of the strongest political organs in the state, yet in a campaign lasting seventeen days and with a hastily constructed machine he accomplished a remarkable overturn similar to that in the Fourteenth Massachusetts district, by which Eugene N. Foss, Democrat, was sent to congress from a rock-ribbed Republican district.

Havens won on a platform advocating tariff reform in the interest of the consumer; a revision of the duties on wool and woolen goods; the removal of the tariff on iron ore; the income tax, and independence of political bosses of any party. Aldridge contended himself with a general proclamation in favor of the policies of the Republican administration. On the tariff he was regarded as a "stand patter."

Personal Issue a Factor. The Democrats acknowledge that one of the main factors in today's reversal was the personal issue raised by Aldridge's record as a party boss and the evidence presented at the recent fire insurance investigation, when Aldridge acknowledged that he had received a $10,000 check from the agent of the fire insurance companies but declared he had turned the money into the Republican organization. No less than twenty clergymen announced themselves for Havens. Mr. Havens is a lawyer and a former partner of the late Congressman Perkins. He has never before held public office.

Mr. Aldridge declined tonight to comment on the result. Mr. Havens said: "While this may be justly heralded as a great Democratic victory, it was no less a victory, such as any Republican have been winning both in the East and the West. It is a victory over the things for which Speaker Cannon has stood and for the ideals which Governor Hughes typifies. I believe that the victory means that the political bosses belong to the past."

As Viewed at Washington. Washington, April 19.—Although the Democratic members of congress claim that the Rochester election today is a party triumph, indicative of a Democratic victory at the polls throughout the country in November, the Republicans held that the personal side of the candidates was the leading factor of the result. They declared the tariff issue of minor importance.

"It was a question of men, not of party," declared Mr. Payne, the majority leader of the house.

Speaker Cannon declined to be interviewed.

Wm. J. Bryan said: "It is very significant. The victory is pregnant with great political possibilities."

Representative Fowler, of New Jersey, who was deposed from the chairmanship of the committee on banking and currency by Speaker Cannon, declared that the result was the judgment of God."

Wm. Randolph Heart heard the news tonight with unceasing delight.

Congressman Foss' Comment. Boston, April 19.—Congressman Foss said of Mr. Havens' election: "The result means that all of the chaps who voted for the Payne-Aldridge bill have got to go. Aldrich and Hale already have been taken ill, have not they? There will be a lot more taken ill, or will not run, or something else will happen."

Liquor the Chief Issue. Towns and Cities in South Dakota Hold Their Annual Elections.

Sioux Falls, S. D., April 19.—Interest in the municipal contests in South Dakota today centered in the license question. The following towns which were wet went dry: Centerville, Viborg, East Sioux Falls, Pierre, Volga, White Lake, Howard and Redfield. Those dry and going wet are: Andover, Avon, Newcourt, Canova, Dalton, Franklin, Miller and Gettysburg. The license element claims that the total vote of Government of Milwaukee Passes Into the Hands of the Socialists.

Milwaukee, April 19.—The government of Milwaukee today passed into the hands of the Social Democrats, with Mayor Emil Seidel as their leader. Edmund T. Melns was elected to the presidency of the council, and Carl D. Thompson city clerk. Harry B. Briggs was made commissioner of public works to replace the present board of three commissioners, at a salary of $6,000; Walter P. Stroesser, a tailor, was appointed commissioner of public health, temporarily, and Joseph Uhllein, a wealthy brewer, was made commissioner of public debt.

In his inaugural message, the new mayor said that, "before all things, honorable, the right of self-government, should be secured for Milwaukee." Other measures advocated by the mayor included the promotion of the well-being of the working classes of the city; the enforcement of sanitary measures; the establishment of a bureau of municipal research with a view of placing the finances of the city on a sound and sane basis, and combining various offices to save expense.

Mayor Seidel will have back of him twenty-one aldermen, all members of his party. The minority consists of ten Democrats and four Republicans.

JOHN A. PENTON GIVES INTERESTING TESTIMONY.

Secretary of the Merchant Marine League a Witness at Washington—Maxwell Persists in His Recalcitrancy and His Case Will Be Considered Today.

Washington, April 19.—A report to the house on the recalcitrancy of John M. Maxwell, of Indianapolis, who has refused to answer questions as to the source of his information for the charges made in the Merchant Marine league's organ, the "American Flag," reflecting on members of congress, hinges on the result of an executive session of the ship subsidy investigating committee will hold tomorrow. This was decided today.

John A. Penton, secretary of the league, today testified that he stood responsible for the American Flag, but recited some undignified characterizations in the November issue. Maxwell, he said, edited that number. He said the league had paid the Texas Farmer and other papers for copies containing matter favorable to the league's propaganda. This is not an uncommon practice. Four copies of the American Flag were sent to Congressmen Stearns' district, but without any particular motive. He had sent copies to many other districts. Mr. Penton assumed responsibility for the letter sent to the district of Representative Leonard P. Williams, in which the latter is referred to as guilty of falsehood. The witness said his salary from the league was about $7,200 a year. He said that ex-Governor Herrick and John Hays Hammond had made contributions to the league.

Earlier in the day's session Maxwell refused to answer many questions. When asked as to his attack on Representative Kustermann, of Wisconsin, he said that Penton gave him his information. He said he believed that Mr. Kustermann represents the views of the foreign ship magnates, and these were opposed to the best interest of America. He also said that he was informed that certain congressmen enjoyed friendly relations with foreign ship interests. The information, he said, was obtained in a private letter from a constituent of Mr. Kustermann. There were no names mentioned in the letter.

CHICAGO VITALITY INTERESTED.

Proposed Federal Law Prohibits Dumping Refuse in Lake Michigan.

Washington, April 19.—The Mann bill prohibiting the dumping of refuse in Lake Michigan eight miles from the shore front of Cook county, Ill., and Lake county, Ind., a most important bill affecting Chicago, was ordered favorably reported to the house by the committee today.

Mr. Mann said: "If we pass this bill, it will prevent any contamination of the water supply of Chicago except through the Calumet river. The removal of the flow of the Calumet will be the next thing for the government to permit to insure pure water for Chicago. The total population affected, in Chicago and other cities on the lake, is between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000."

In the house today the entire session was taken up with a discussion of the railroad bill.

PACKING HOUSE MAN'S SURPRISING ADMISSION.

Says High Price of Meat Is Due in Part at Least to Fictitious Competitive Bidding for Livestock by Buyers on the Payroll of the Beef Trust.

He said they did not talk politics.

Col. Roosevelt ENROUTE TO PARIS.

Cheered by a Wildly Enthusiastic Multitude Massed at the Station, He Leaves Budapest for the Capital City of France.

His Journey Will Not Take Him to Switzerland, but Through the Austrian Alps and Part of Germany—He Visits the Hungarian Government's Famous Stock Farm During the Day, and He Hugely Enjoys the Junket—Feeds Horses With Sugar.

Budapest, April 19.—Theodore Roosevelt and his son Kermit left here tonight for Paris where they will arrive Thursday morning. Instead of crossing Switzerland, Mr. Roosevelt runs through the Austrian Alps and southern Germany, entering France at Avignon. Hundreds cheered in front of the hotel when Mr. Roosevelt left this morning for a visit to the government stock farm at Babotna, and thousands were massed about the station when he returned tonight. The demonstration was thrice repeated later during the evening—in front of the hotel as he departed for the premier's dinner, on his return and when he left finally for the station, where another frantic multitude waited until midnight to see him off.

The same popular enthusiasm was displayed seventy miles from Budapest, on the drive from the railroad to Babotna. Carriages conveyed the party through villages decorated with crude American flags and under hastily constructed triumphal arches, amid the shouts of the entire population.

Mr. Roosevelt hugely enjoyed his visit to the breeding farm. Mr. Roosevelt and the ladies of the party, including Countess Szechenyi, who was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, fed the Arab horses with sugar. Later the party visited the brood mares, where Mr. Roosevelt was shown a tiny thoroughbred born today. It was a filly, but the colonel christened it Roosevelt.

The dinner at the foreign office tonight was followed by a big reception.

Chicago, April 19.—In a bill filed in the Superior court today, State Insurance Superintendent Fred W. Potter asks that a receiver be appointed for the United States Life Indemnity company, whose policies are to aggregate more than $7,000,000. Misapplication of funds and non-compliance with the state law are charged. It is declared in the bill that previous to last February the company had a system of paying benefits in monthly installments, which enabled it to stretch out the time of making payments to from six to sixty-four years. The court orders prohibiting this system, issued several months ago, according to the bill, have brought about a financial condition which necessitates a receiver.

WOMEN'S CONVENTION A STORMY AFFAIR.

Rival Factions Clash at the Annual Congress of the Daughters of the Revolution, and the Administration Is Victorious—Offending Official Is Censured.

Washington, April 19.—The forecast storm broke in the nineteenth continental congress of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution today, and the administration forces were sustained in the first skirmish with the opposing faction. The contest centered around Miss Mary R. Wilcox, recording secretary general, who was censured by the congress for issuing a circular criticizing Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, president general, in her dismissal of Miss Agnes Gerald, a clerk at Continental Hall, for alleged insubordination.

The question of disciplining Mrs. Wilcox was presented by Mrs. Scott in her report as chairman of the national board of management. Instantly a chorus of voices claimed to represent Mrs. John C. Ames, of Illinois, was recognized. She moved that the board's recommendation be adopted. This was a signal for a further pandemonium.

Miss Wilcox endeavored to read a statement defending her course, but was declared out of order. The convention was in confusion. When order was restored Miss Wilcox said that if she had offended the president general or the society, she was sorry but she had only tried to do right, she believed, and was wrong. For the last part of her remark she was again declared out of order. The motion of censure then was passed.

President Scott Will Retire.

Mrs. Scott announced that she would not be a candidate for reelection, because of the sacrifice entailed by the duties of the office. Mrs. Scott presented the report of the memorial Continental Hall committee, which was followed by contributions to the building fund, a total of $21,000 being received. The report of the treasurer general, Mrs. Wm. D. Hoover, showed that the society had a balance March 31 of $55,338.

IS WITNESS AGAINST HYDE.

Col. Swope's Nurse Testifies at Kansas City Murder Trial.

Kansas City, April 19.—Colonel Swope will never return to Kansas City. This prophesy, testified Earl Keller in the Hyde murder trial today, was made to her by Dr. B. C. Hyde in Independence a few days before Colonel Swope died. She was Swope's nurse. Hyde's remark, she said, followed her informing the physician that Colonel Swope planned to come here to his wife in a few days. The patient at that time was in better condition than for weeks. Between the time that Hyde is alleged to have made the remark and Colonel Swope's death, James Moss Hutton, cousin of Swope, succumbed.

Miss Keller had known the tell of the illness of Hutton when she, defendant, objected, claiming that testimony regarding no other death or illness than that of Colonel Swope could be admitted. The matter is a vital one. If the court upholds the objection, no evidence regarding the deaths of Hutton and Christian Swope, the illness of Margaret Swope or the typhoid epidemic in the Swope house will be admitted.

Defense's Opening Statement.

Frank P. Wash delivered today the opening statement for the defense. His address contained rebukes for Mrs. Logan O. Swope and charges of trickery against the chemists employed to make the analyses of the viscera of Colonel T. H. and Christian Swope. He said he would introduce testimony to prove that neither Dr. Hyde nor his wife knew before the death of Colonel Swope whether they were to share in the residuary of his estate. He said that the charge that cyanide of potassium was found in the organs of Colonel or Christian Swope was a "trick." For years the Swope had taken the medicine of Chas. Hated Chase Jordan, an herb doctor with no license. Sanitary conditions alone were responsible for the spread of fever in the Swope residence.

Every attempt of the defense to gain possession of the viscera of the two Swope's in order to make medical examinations had been repulsed. Colonel Swope took various medicines containing strychnine, practically up to the day of his death. Mrs. Hyde's diary showed that Hyde was not at the Swope residence on many of the days when he is accused of having spread typhoid germs there. The tests used by the chemists in the search for strychnine in the bodies would not produce conclusive proof that this poison and not another had been found. All of these things, Mr. Wash said, he would prove.

Former Mayor Rose would have no part in the ceremonies inducting Mayor Seidel into office, because, he says, the socialists have filled him through ten years. He has had lots of excellent company.

President Taft is going to visit Detroit for a few hours June 3. It will be his first visit to the Michigan metropolis since his inauguration, and Detroit is already making plans to show him a typical Detroit time.

William J. Bryan is home, and is singularly reticent. Hasn't a word to say about the possibility of his running for president again, and dismisses as unworthy of attention the reports that he may be a candidate for senator from Nebraska and that he intends to take up the prohibition movement.

Seidel is mayor of Milwaukee. But the socialists are to govern by means of the general council of their party, and Victor L. Berger, alderman-at-large, will be the most considerable man in the council. He's the party's spokesman, the mayor's right hand man, the acknowledged leader of the socialists in Wisconsin, and one of the principal figures in the movement in the country at large. We will hear much about Berger before the ensuing two years of Milwaukee's municipal administration draw to a close.

The McCull publicity bill, providing for the publication of contributions and expenditures in national and congressional campaigns, passed the house according to program Monday, but one dissenting vote. There is apprehension that the bill will be sidetracked in the senate. Not all the representatives who voted for it at heart favor it. They would prefer to be free to raise campaign funds where they can, and to expend them without telling where the money went. If the bill fails in the senate there will be a house jubilation, despite the fact that all the representatives but one are on record for it. The senate should pass the measure. It is advocated by President Taft and generally supported by public opinion. Secrecy in regard to campaign expenditures and contributions has covered many wrongful campaigns and in many instances has concealed corrupt practices of the most offensive description. Public policy demands full information as to where money used in national and congressional campaigns comes from and where it goes.

The reports that Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island would retire from congress have been verified by his personal authorization of an announcement that he will not be a candidate for re-election in 1911. It may be assumed with reasonable certainty that no pressure that can be brought to bear on Senator Aldrich will induce him to change his mind. He doubtless weighed the pros and cons fully before making his purpose known. Thought for his health is the reason for his decision. He has not been an entirely well man, and his constitution promises to be seriously undermined unless he rids himself of his burdensome legislative work. This being boss of the United States senate is no sinecure. It is Senator Aldrich's purpose to continue his active interest in the project for currency reform, the thing now closest to his heart, and he will probably have a membership on the currency commission. Aldrich's retirement will make for great changes in the senate. There is no man who can succeed him in undisputed leadership, because there will be no man left in commanding position equally gifted in the various reins that must be gathered up to assure control. Senator Hale, next in point of service and position, is a pigmy compared with Aldrich. Aldrich's departure will probably mean that the responsibility of practically determining the conduct of affairs in the senate will fall on a group of leaders, instead of on one man. There will perhaps be a liberal control somewhat akin to that for which the progressives in the house are working.

S. A. COOK FOR SENATOR.

Samuel A. Cook, of Neenah, one of the unsuccessful candidates for the senate in opposition to Senator Stephenson in the primaries in 1908, is the man on whom the anti-LaFollette elements in Wisconsin will unite in an effort to retire Senator LaFollette in the primaries the coming fall.

Mr. Cook Monday gave out an extended statement of his political beliefs, for the information of the electorate for whose votes he is about to appeal. It puts him fairly in opposition to the so-called "progressives" on many important counts, but also shows him in sympathy with many of the advanced thought in his party.

It is on the tariff that Mr. Cook breaks most emphatically with the progressives. "I believe, with President Taft, that the present tariff law is the best tariff law ever enacted," he says. At the same time he records himself as favorable to scientific, as opposed to political, tariff revision, and indicates that he is heartily in accord with the tariff commission idea.

Mr. Cook lays much stress on party regularity, and says he will seek the nomination as a Taft Republican, firm in his belief in the sincerity of President Taft and in his ability to work out all the legislative projects in which he has embarked, to the satisfaction of the country.

Though nowhere in the course of Mr. Cook's lengthy statement is found direct reference to Senator LaFollette, it is full of matter teeming with practical direct criticism of the course taken by the man he is to endeavor to succeed. It is plain to see that Mr. Cook believes that Senator LaFollette has put himself outside the breastworks of the Republican party, and that it will be the object of his campaign to persuade the Republican voters that he is, under no consideration, entitled to their suffrages.

All indications will be believed if the Wisconsin campaign is not one of the most spectacular and bitter that has ever been waged in the country. There will be a formidable rallying to Cook of influential interests. He will have the sympathy, if not active support, of Senator Stephenson. Every corporate interest in the state will lend him its friendship and goodwill. He will not lack for aggressive newspaper advocacy, particularly in Milwaukee. He will have much aid from the national administration, justly incensed at LaFollette's vicious attacks on its integrity, ability and honesty of purpose.

LaFollette, for his part, will go directly to the people. He will tell them that the enemies he has made were made in fighting their fight. He will recount his work in Wisconsin and his record in the senate. He will not be driven to the defensive, but will charge boldly on the strongholds of his enemies, with his old rallying crys. He will not apologize for anything he has seen fit to do since the inauguration of President Taft, but will stoutly maintain that his course was justified and the only one that a devoted public servant could take.

The issue will perhaps depend on whether there has been any fundamental change in the attitude of the mass of Wisconsin voters. Heretofore they have gloried in the rampant insurgency of their representatives in congress. These men have been the backbone of the progressive fight, and they have had abundant assurance that their course was meeting with approval at home. If their temper is unchanged Senator LaFollette will have an excellent chance to make a winning fight, despite the formidable forces arrayed against him. But if sentiment in Wisconsin has veered around appreciably he will be hard pressed to muster more votes than Cook.

The issue to be decided is momentous. The struggle that will ensue will be herculean. Its result will have a profound influence on national political currents.

What is a cold in the head? Nothing to worry about if you treat it with Ely's Cream Balm. Neglected, the cold may grow into catarrh, and the air-passages be so inflamed that you have to fight for every breath. It is true that Ely's Cream Balm masters catarrh promptly. But you know the old saying about the ounce of prevention. Therefore use Cream Balm when the cold in the head shows itself. All druggists, 50c., or mailed by Ely Bros., 26 Warren street, New York.

EXPENSES CUT IN HALF.

Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss, in charge of the New York state insurance department, has completed the first investigation of the New York Mutual Life Insurance company made since the Armstrong inquiry of 1905.

Facts and figures adduced show that the fruits of the Armstrong inquiry were highly beneficial to the profit sharing policy holders of the company. A notable reduction in the cost of conducting the company's affairs has been brought about. In 1904, the year before the Armstrong investigation, the company's expense of maintenance and administration amounted to $15,720,901. In 1908 this expense had fallen to $7,451,186, a decrease of over 50 per cent, the volume of business in the meantime remaining about the same.

HASTINGS—During the last year there has been active rivalry for existence between the Hastings House and Hotel Barter, the latter owned by a Detroit corporation. Both were high-class hotels with enough patronage to pay running expenses of both. Now Mr. Menhenick, landlord of the Hastings House, has closed its doors. The Hastings House is controlled by administrators of the estate of the late N. T. Parker. Some time ago the owners, C. J. Howie and J. B. Parker, Mr. Menhenick's lease but the administrators refused to allow the transfer.

MARSHALL—Joseph Keiner, proprietor of a local soft drink resort, who was arrested, charged with violating the local option law, was given a judgment of $100 by Judge C. J. Lane against Sheriff E. A. Graham. Keiner alleges that the sheriff had no right to enter his residence with a search and seizure warrant and sued for the whiskey taken and for damages to his residence. The sheriff did not enter an appearance in the case and judgment was entered for the plaintiff. Sheriff Graham refuses to say what he will do about the case but the case will probably go to the circuit court.

GRAND RAPIDS—"If it were in my power, and I were not afraid of the consequence to the health of that girl I would sentence her to take one good bath. From my penitentiary, Sheriff Barry offered to give a sentence which would serve as an adequate punishment for her. For fear that the results to her would be serious, however, I will postpone sentence." In these words Justice Lounsberry passed judgment on Katherine Stevens, the younger of two girls arrested and committed to jail here charged with having "pretended to tell fortunes" at the camp recently established just north of the city. Mary Thompson, the elder of the two, who appeared in court with an infant in her arms, was ordered to pay a fine.

GRAND RAPIDS—Arrangements have been made by the state board of road commissioners on May 12 which promises to be the largest and most important good roads convention ever held in Michigan. Good road builders and enthusiasts from every part of the state will be in attendance. The meeting will be under the auspices of the Michigan Good Roads Association, which will be held at the Hotel Grand Rapids and will be called to order by William W. Todd of Jackson, president of the association. William H. McDonald, Hartford, Conn., president of the National Good Roads Association, whose reputation as a speaker is world wide, will address the convention. He is the Michigan's former good roads commissioner and father of the movement in the state, will also be present as will Governor Warner, Lieutenant Governor Kelley, Chase S. Osborn, Lawton T. Hemans and Amos S. Moseley. All of whom will give short addresses. Senator William Aldrich Smith will discuss "Needed National Legislation," and Representative Gerrit J. Diekens "Needed State Legislation."

GRAND RAPIDS—"Last summer I saw in ancient Venice the old stone cells in the damp basements of old palaces by the famous Rialto bridge, comparing the old doge palace with the prison which prisoners of the Middle Ages were incarcerated—the dark dungeons where Byron spent one horrible night that he might record a prisoner's experiences in imperishable verse. Yet I seem to me that the confinement of prisoners today in the east cell block of Jackson prison in this year of our Lord, 1910, in the enlightened state of Michigan's state penitentiary was made by Joseph Clapperton, of this city, member of the state board of charities and corrections. During the past few months this board has been visiting the penal institutions of the state and counties. Mr. Clapperton has just returned from an inspection of the prison at Jackson. His exposition is the result. "Many of the county houses and jails in Michigan are very crowded and well managed institutions," Mr. Clapperton declares. "Others are wretched and disgraceful in their conditions and every effort must be made to improve them, but they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials."

Every family and especially those who reside in the county should be provided at all times with a bottle of Chamberlain's Lincture. There is no telling when it may be wanted in case of an accident or emergency. It is most excellent in all cases of rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by The People's Drug Store.

"THAT'S A TERRIBLE COUGH you have," remarked one man on the street the other day to another; "you bet it is," was the reply, "and I have taken so much cough syrup that my stomach is all knocked out, and the cough still hangs on." That's the way valuable time is wasted. Cough syrups are only palliatives. If you want to arrest the cough cure the cause by taking Vinol. The Stafford Drug Co.

LOWER STATE NOTES.

ANN ARBOR—Professor Bradley M. Thompson observed his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary last Sunday. Professor Thompson has been professor of law in the university for twenty-three years.

HOLLAND—Judging from the present rate of increase in postal receipts, Holland has a good chance of being classed under the list of first-class cities within the next three years. The total receipts at the close of the fiscal year is nearly $31,000, an increase of $3,000 over a year ago. Since the monetary boom of the latter sixties and twelve years ago the net receipts have almost tripled.

JACKSON—By agreement in the circuit court the trial of Acting Warden Wenger, of Jackson prison, who was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of perjury in connection with the prison scandals, was postponed until the May term. Attorney Colgrove of Hastings, one of Wenger's counsel, is anxious to go to Cuba and one of the principal witnesses for the people is in California. Judge Parkinson was told that it would be agreeable to both sides to have the trial set for May 10.

HASTINGS—Philly himself full of imported booze. Frank Eggleston, a paper-hanger who has given the officers trouble from time to time, left his job and entered a house in the Second ward and conducted himself in such a fashion that all fed. Men and women of the neighborhood collected and watched the residence until the sheriff arrived. Eggleston pleaded guilty to being drunk and paid $15 and costs to avoid ten days in jail.

LANSING—Lansing is at last to have shipping facilities commensurate with its big industrial interests and adequate for all its needs. By the fine new plans for the Michigan Central and Pere Marquette railroads will have separate tracks throughout the city, and freight warehouses of extensive dimensions and an equipment for handling the city's freight in and out that will be ample in all respects. This is the definite statement of officers of these two companies.

A LAUGH OR TWO.

Real Push.
He had motored over twenty miles to Little Pippeton to deliver his lecture to the Little Pippetonians on "The Art of Getting On."
As he proceeded with his subject, he warmed to it, and by the time he reached the peroration he was red with enthusiasm. "Effort is the keynote of success," he cried. "The successful man is the man who strives persistently and consistently. His motto is 'push, and keep on pushing,' for by that alone may we reach our goal."
A yodel in the back row burst into a fit of unseemly mirth.
"Ah!" cried the lecturer. "You may laugh! But you, my friend, will have to push!"
"So, you reckon, mister?" cried the man. "For there's 'arf a dozen boys been a' phoned all yer petrol for ter light a bonfire with!"

Chastly Sign.
Booker T. Washington, head of the Tuskegee institute, last week while here, said that by thorough education, mental and manual, the negro expected to work out his salvation.
"And education has already done much," Mr. Washington said. "There is no longer the ignorance that was wont to be. It would not be impossible, at this epoch, to find a colored barber as easily dished as a Cabbon Clay."
"Cabbon Clay, a barber of Richmond, was fond of long words, and when he came to put up a new sign, a well persuaded him to adopt this phrasing of it:
"Almost Universal Prayer.
"Among the late Bishop Foss' anecdotes about prayer," said a Philadelphia Methodist, "there was one concerning a very original Norwegian preacher."
"This preacher, in the course of a long prayer one Sunday night, recounted the many misfortunes and evils that had befallen him in the course of his long life. Then, sighing heavily, he prayed:
"Thou hast tried me with afflictions, with bereavement, and with sorrow. If many kinds. If thou art obliged to try me again, Lord, try me with the burden of wealth."

Prosaic Touch in Romance.
"There would perhaps be fewer divorcees," said Mrs. F. S. Bangs, treasurer of the New York Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, "if men and women looked on marriage in a more romantic light."
"Two business men were conversing over their luncheon of coffee and pie. The other man had just been married. He was telling his friends how happy he was. And he would up with the estate cry:
"And, George, what puts me in the seventh heaven is that her first husband's clothes fit me like the paper on the wall."
—Answers.

One Type of Religion.
"Too many people," said Rev. Charles F. Aked, at a luncheon in New York, "regard their religion as did the little boy in the jam closet."
"His mother pointed on him suddenly. He stood on tiptoe, lolling jam with both hands from the jam-pot to his mouth.
"Oh, Jacky!" his mother cried. "And last night you prayed to be made a saint."
"Yes, but not till after I'm dead," he explained."

METEOR PATHS.

Why They Seem to Change Direction and Pace.
Why is it that the points in the sky from which shooting stars appear to radiate change places slowly in some cases from day to day, while in others they remain stationary? This is due, Professor Pickering of Harvard, has recently told us, to the relative positions of the earth's orbit and that of the swarms to which the meteors belong. Says a writer in Cosmos:
It is well known that meteors belonging to the same system of shooting stars describe paths that are parallel one to another. When they enter our atmosphere, they appear to diverge from a single point of the heavens called a "radiant." The position of this point depends on the motion of the earth compared with that of the meteors, and if the meteoric swarm is sufficiently extensive to require several days for the earth to traverse it, the position of the point of emanation changes, because the direction of the earth's motion alters during this time, on account of the curving of the orbit. In the case of the Perseids, for instance, which are visible during two or three weeks, in July and August, the position of the radiant is displaced by about a degree a day, because the direction of the earth deviates approximately by the same quantity. This is a well known fact.
"Nevertheless," Mr. Downing, who for many years has devoted himself especially to the study of meteors, has many times observed stationary meteoric radiants. The shooting stars that proceed from these particular points must thus move in a direction that remains the same for days or weeks. Several other observers have also noted this curious phenomenon, but none of the numerous explanations hitherto advanced has been confirmed.
The Astronomical Bulletin of France reports a new explanation made by Professor W. H. Pickering, it is the more worthy of interest in that it is based on our present knowledge of meteoric orbits. The meteors describe elliptical orbits inclined slightly or not at all to the plane of the terrestrial orbit, and they move in the same direction as the earth, so that their radiant appears stationary."—Translation in the Literary Digest.

A FOUR-LEGGED BIRD.
The crested hoatzin of British Guiana is the only survivor of a certain race of birds, most of which are now known only as fossils. The hoatzin inhabits the most secluded forests of South America and its survival beyond its congeners is doubtless owing to its retiring habits and to the fact that it feeds on wild arum leaves, which gives its flesh a most offensive flavor, rendering it unfit for food. The chief peculiarity of the hoatzin consists in the fact that when it is hatched it possesses four well developed legs. The young birds leave the nest and climb about like monkeys over the adjoining limbs, and look more like tree-toads than birds.
The modification of the fore limbs begins at once after hatching, the claws of the digits fall off, the whole clawlike hand begins to flatten and becomes wing-shaped. Feathers soon appear, and before full growth is reached not a vestige remains of the original character. The adult bird not only has no claws upon their wings, but their thumbs even are so poorly developed that one would hardly suspect that in the nestlings we have the nearest approach to a quadruped found among existing birds. One curious feature noticed with a nestling which had been reared in the river was its power of rapid swimming and diving when pursued. Owing to this power the little creature managed to evade all efforts to secure it. The prolonged immersion which a nestling will undergo, instinctively and voluntarily, or when an adult bird will endure in an attempt to drown it, seems remarkable.

DEATH OF EDWIN F. BISHOP.

Former Prominent Lumberman Passes Away at Dollar Bay.

Edwin F. Bishop died Monday night at Dollar Bay as the result of an affection of the heart, after a prolonged illness. He had been the guest of his son Lawrence C. Bishop since his sickness.

Mr. Bishop was fifty-three years of age and a native of Cuba, N. Y., but had lived in the copper country at Dollar Bay since 1892, when he came to Lac la Belle with his father. He had an interesting career. In his youth he was a court reporter at Buffalo, N. Y., and during President Cleveland's last administration was for four years United States consul at Chatham, Ont. Following that he was for a number of years manager of the Lake Superior Timber company at Port Arthur, Ont. After severing his connection with that concern Mr. Bishop came to Houghton and during one summer, four years ago, resumed his old profession of court reporter. The late C. W. Goodale was then reporter for this circuit and he went west for his health that summer, leaving his work in charge of Mr. Bishop. Since that time Mr. Bishop had been a traveling salesman for a mill supply company. He returned to the copper country a few weeks ago badly broken in health and the end which came Monday night had been expected for some time.

FUNERAL OF CAPTAIN WRIGHT.

Steamer Muncy Bears Ailing Body of Her Late Sailing Master.

The remains of the late Captain Loren Wright of the Anchor line steamer Muncy, who died en route to Houghton from Duluth Monday morning, were taken yesterday morning from Lange's undertaking rooms to the steamer, escorted by members of Houghton's M. E. church. The body was carried by Robert Burke, W. T. Palmer, George Balcom, F. W. Stoyke, George H. Banks and J. W. Wilkoff.

Captain McDonald had prepared a mortuary room on the main deck of the steamer, and on the main deck of the steamer, and on the main deck of the steamer, and on the main deck of the steamer. The crew of the steamer, standing with bared heads, stood in the gangway as the body was brought aboard. Rev. Frank P. Knowles, pastor of the Houghton Presbyterian church, read a short funeral service.

The body was carried from the steamer to the Muncy, which was at the dock at the time. The body will be taken to Houghton by the steamer Muncy, which was at the dock at the time. The body will be taken to Houghton by the steamer Muncy, which was at the dock at the time.

VITAL COPPO, CALUMET, DEAD.

Vital Coppo, one of the first Italian residents of the Calumet district and one of the leading businessmen of the community, died Monday, following an operation performed a few days ago. He had lived on Lake Superior since 1880, or about fifty years. He came to America from Italy in 1859. The deceased was born at Piedmont, Italy. He worked for many years as a mine for the Calumet & Hecla and later became a lumber contractor. He acquired considerable land and timber holdings and had a large and fertile farm. Later he erected one of Calumet's finest business blocks on Sixth street, the Coppo building. He was a director of the New Haven Coal company, which was floated two or three years ago by copper country capital to exploit the coal mines in the neighborhood of Owosso, Mich. The deceased was a charter member of the Italian Benevolent society and was its first treasurer. He was also a member of the Club Alpino and the Knights of Rohulus, recently organized in Calumet.

ENGINEERS ARE INSPECTED.

Major Thomas Rees, in charge of the United States engineering office at Chicago, last night inspected the company of engineers at Calumet. He was assisted in the inspection of General Wagner, inspector general, and Colonel Thielman, assistant inspector general, Michigan National National Guard. Colonel Thielman, assistant general, was also present. Major Rees is a brother of Dr. Rees of Calumet and Attorney Allen F. Rees of Houghton. He is a native of Houghton.

MINE DOCTOR RESIGNS.

Dr. J. M. Walsh, for the past two years assistant mine and mill physician for the Wolverine Mining company, has resigned his position and will accept one as house surgeon at the Woman's hospital at Nashville, Tenn. He will enter upon his duties the first of May.

SECURE LIQUOR LICENSES.

Three Dealers Have Paid Their $500 to Treasurer Rashleigh.

County Treasurer Rashleigh is somewhat encouraged. He has annually to look forward to a day of hard work on the first of May through the rush of applications for liquor licenses, but as some of the dealers have already paid in it appears that the stress of the last day will be lessened. F. P. French & Co. is the first Houghton firm to settle, but Jerry Durand of Lake Linden is the first in the county. Adolph Lame of Lake Linden has also secured his red card.

Treasurer Rashleigh sounds a warning to the saloon keepers. He says it would be better for them to come in a few days ahead instead of a few days late because in the latter case, if they apply after the first of May, he is expected by the law to refuse to grant the license. He does not desire to take any such extreme measure and advises the dealers to think of the matter now.

SPECIAL WORK OUTLINED.

Calumet Woman's Club Will Take Up "Civics and Town Improvement."

The meeting of the Calumet Woman's club Friday afternoon will take up the subject of "Civics and Town Improvement." An especially good program is promised by members of the civic committee. The music will be in charge of Mrs. Henrietta H. Willesen. At its meeting a week from Friday the club will again take up literature and art. Italian artists and writers will be studied and papers read on the early renaissance will be presented.

At the first meeting in May the club will again take up civic affairs, two of the papers to be read to treat of the "Work of Our Agricultural Experts" and "Tree Planting Day." There will also be a discussion of the papers and of curiosities in plant life. Home and education work will be taken up May 13, while May 20 will be given over to art. The last meeting of the present club year, Friday, May 27, will be "President's day."

BEAMAN AND ADAMSON MATCHED.

Houghton and Chicago Wrestlers Will Meet at the Amphidrome.

Ed. Adamson of Chicago, stage name sometimes Joe Collins, and Pearl Beaman, the Houghton wrestler, have signed articles for a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match to take place at the Amphidrome the night of April 29. They are to deposit at the Citizens National bank at 11 o'clock on the morning of April 23, $50 each to bind the match.

The money pulled up at the Amphidrome on the square, that he is out to beat Beaman and will go after him from the top of the gang. It will be remembered that these men met in the Amphidrome five years ago, Adamson being then in the U.S.A. and Beaman coming in from the States. The outcome of that match was zero, excepting that it appeared that Beaman was severely punished.

Since that time Beaman has surely developed some, though he could not throw Kangas of Ishpeming, who was holding him under the auspices of the schools. An organization of Houghton men greatly assisted the teachers last year and Superintendent Doelle says that the schools would be grateful if these women would take up the contests this year, because the schools cannot take the interest in the children in procuring seeds from the Flower Mission at Cleveland and the interest shown by the children may be understood from the fact that in one room 300 packages of seeds have been ordered. The opportunity is given Houghton children to practice gardening at numerous this year, through the school garden contests, flower missions and latterly the Copper Country Fair corn contest. This latter is organized by the fair association for the purpose of increasing interest among children. The fair offers a general prize for Houghton, Keweenaw, Baraga and Ontonagon counties and a prize for each county as well. The seeds for this contest will be distributed by the association through the various superintendents of schools.

REV. E. SEDWEEK TO LEAVE.

Health of Pastor's Wife Compels His Resignation at Calumet.

It is announced that Rev. E. Sedweek, pastor of the Calumet M. E. church, has decided to leave this district and that the present year will undoubtedly be the last he will act as pastor of the Calumet church. At the recent quarterly conference Mr. Sedweek notified the trustees of his decision. He stated that he desires to move further south for the benefit of Mrs. Sedweek's health, which has not been of the best for some time. He will ask the next Detroit conference for a change of pulpits.

Mr. Sedweek has been pastor of the Calumet M. E. church for the past five years. He has been one of the most effective workers for the cause of Christianity in the district and has been closely identified with the several campaigns of the prohibition party in the copper country. He is recognized as one of the most able ministers and convincing pulpiter orators in northern Michigan.

NO GARDEN CONTEST.

Public Schools Will Help the Children Buy Seeds, However.

Superintendent Doelle of the public schools says that there will be no garden contests in Houghton and Port Huron this summer. The contests held last year were very successful, but because of the fact that they must be ended during vacation, when the teachers are all away, it is impossible to hold them under the auspices of the schools. An organization of Houghton men greatly assisted the teachers last year and Superintendent Doelle says that the schools would be grateful if these women would take up the contests this year, because the schools cannot take the interest in the children in procuring seeds from the Flower Mission at Cleveland and the interest shown by the children may be understood from the fact that in one room 300 packages of seeds have been ordered.

Upper Peninsula

Dies from Loss of Blood—Ed Risk, a woodsman about forty years of age, was accidentally shot through the right arm about four and one-half miles from Ekekeran, Chippewa county, as a result of which he died at a general hospital from loss of blood that night. Risk was formerly from Indiana, but claimed Kalkaska, where he has relatives, as his home. It appears that Risk and his partner, John Kinney, had a camp at which they were working about eight miles from Ekekeran. They had gone to town, and returning, they had gone about four and one-half miles when they decided that they would eat a lunch and rest awhile. Lying down, opposite one another on different sides of the road, both fell asleep. Risk with a small rifle lying by his side, later on, in getting up, Risk accidentally discharged the weapon. His arm was horribly mangled and he bled profusely.

C.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

Any system that needs a tonic needs also a blood purifier, for it is the weakened, impure condition of the circulation that is responsible for the run-down state of health. The supreme office and duty of the blood is to furnish nourishment to every portion of the body. The circulatory system, magnificent and wonderful in its construction, supplies the means for the distribution of systemic nutriment to every muscle, nerve, bone, gland, sinew and tissue of the body; and just as long as the blood remains pure and rich each of these members are healthy, strong and normal. We have only to recognize the importance of pure blood in preserving health, to realize the danger of a weakened circulation. The use of a proper tonic when the system is depleted and run-down will often prevent the development of some serious sickness, because weak systems cannot resist disease, while healthy systems are able to ward it off. Deficient blood nutriment is usually manifested in a general bodily weakness, a tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, etc. Sleep does not sufficiently refresh the body, and the languid feeling frequently makes the ordinary duties of life burdensome. S. S. S. is Nature's Tonic. It is made entirely of botanical products gathered directly from the heart of Nature's forests. It does not contain a particle of strong, harmful mineral in any form, but is a scientific composition of extracts and juices from herbs, roots and barks. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It is not a nerve stimulant, but a medicine that steadily builds up every portion of the system by cleansing and enriching the blood, and in this way supplying an increased amount of nutriment and strength to every portion of the body. S. S. S. rids the system of that tired, worn-out feeling, quiets the over-strained nerves, makes sleep refreshing, corrects any stomach disturbance, promotes good digestion and adds vigor and vim to the entire system.

THE TONIC OF THE HIGHEST ORDER.—S. S. S. is all you claim for it to enrich and purify the blood and to build up the general health. My blood was weak and impure, and I was troubled with a general itching down of the system. The symptoms were very annoying for me to detail. It is only necessary for me to state that under the use of S. S. S. my appetite improved, I increased in strength and weight, and my blood was restored to its normal, healthy condition. Orrin W. Robbins, 230 W. Diamond Ave., Hazelton, Pa.

New York, April 19—There was lack of decision in the stock market today, and this reflected the uncertainty in the speculation. The market was not active, but importance was attached to some very large individual transactions, especially in United States Steel. The selling of this stock by a stock exchange firm which was revealed as the largest corner of record in the company's shares of any of its class by a statement given out by the corporation itself yesterday gave rise to much comment.

HOW CANADA TACKLES THE TRUST PROBLEM.

Montreal, April 19—Canada's legislators are at present engaged on an attempt to solve the trust problem by means of the bill proposed by W. L. Mackenzie King, minister of labor. Encouraged by the successful operation of the Lemieux act as a mode of averting strikes and lockouts, Mr. King is trying to apply the principle of that measure in laboring to correct the evils of monopoly.

MONTE CARLO'S RULER.

In Monaco, as in Russia, the ruler is supreme. It is an absolute hereditary monarchy. Even Russia has its Duma, but in the dominions of Prince Albert voting is unknown. Yet the Monte-Casinos cannot raise that historic cry of taxation without representation, for if they are not permitted to do one thing they are not burdened with another. Albert's reign is a mystery, for he has been a life to scientific research, so the money which the spendthrifts throw away answers some useful purpose after all. He is one of the foremost authorities on marine zoology, his solutions of the "gulf stream" problem have been recognized by the Institute of France and his oceanographic museum which he has founded has no equal. He is sixty-one years old, has been twice married and twice divorced, first to the Lady Marie Douarès-Hellouin, whose story is a romantic and pathetic one, and ten years later to the Dowager Duchess of Richelieu. He tired of them both. He has one child, the Crown Prince Louis. Prince Albert divides his time between his yacht, with his remarkable scientific equipment, his Paris residence, his chateau, Avenue Troadero and the pink-and-white palace perched on a rock above the gaming hall which supports him.—Metropolitan Magazine.

City Brevities

Today's weather: Fair and warmer. Yesterday's temperature: Seven a. m., 31 degrees; noon, 32; 7 p. m., 39. Maximum, 40 degrees; minimum, 30.

Matt Koivisto of Palmer was in the city on business last evening.

The Ladies' auxiliary to the B. of L. E. will meet at Keough's Hall at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Preston returned from Duluth yesterday, where she has been visiting the last two weeks.

Mrs. George Stanton left last evening for New York, where she and her husband will make their home in the future.

George N. Greer, formerly a lumberman in this city, has passed away in Chicago, according to advices received here yesterday. Interment will be at Oxford, O.

The Mayfair trio, which is the vaudeville-card at the Bijou this week, is said by many to be the best vaudeville attraction that ever appeared in this city, and the company is drawing good houses at each performance.

Marquette felt another touch of winter yesterday, and overcoats and winter underwear were again in order. The ground was covered with snow early in the morning and during the forenoon there were occasional snow flurries. There was a high north wind all day, but the sun came out in the afternoon and made the cold less disagreeable.

Is Fortune Awaiting Them?—Justice Cray has received a letter from a Washington, D. C., attorney, asking for information regarding Andrew Blair and Joseph E. Paquette. The letter states that both men many years ago owned land in this county, and that his purpose is to inform them that they have fallen heir to certain property.

Several Boats Arrive—In spite of the cold weather and the rather heavy sea on Lake Superior, the steamers Pontiac and Amazon arrived at the Pickands coal dock yesterday with cargoes of coal, being the first coal boats of the season. The steamer Portland, loaded with salt, and the Fitzgerald, with coal, are due today, both cargoes being consigned to F. B. Spear & Sons.

Much Interest in Game—Much interest is being shown in the basketball game to be played Thursday evening between the Marquette Knights of Columbus and Ishpeming, Y. M. C. A. teams. In the series played during the winter, each five won three out of six games played, and more singular, each team scored exactly the same number of total points—132. The game to be played Thursday night will be for the championship of the township.

No Comet Yet—Though many Marquette people have been rising at all hours of the night in the hope of catching a glimpse of Halley's comet, none have as yet been rewarded for their early rising. For several mornings past, the sky has been overcast and the comet could not have been seen, even if it were otherwise visible. The comet was sighted yesterday at St. Johns, New Foundland. A number of Marquette people are diligently watching and waiting for the return of the rare celestial wanderer.

Rural delivery Unlikely—According to a letter received by a Marquette man from Congressman Young yesterday, the Chocoday township farmers are not likely to get a rural route until after July, and perhaps not then. Owing to the delay in the postoffice department, no rural routes have been established since last October, which accounts for the long delay since the proposed route was approved by Inspector Fox. If the postoffice appropriation bill goes through in its present form it is possible, and very probable, that the route will be established late in the summer.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.

Upper Peninsula

Alleged Forger Captured—Sheriff Rapin of Mackinac county, armed with extradition papers, has gone to Boston, Mass., to get one Joseph Chabot, accused of raising a check of the Hudson Lumber company of Garret, from $140 to $440. Chabot was tracked through Canada, his wanderings being followed for longer than two months.

Little Girl Badly Burned—The two year old daughter of Peter McKinnon of Cooks, Schoolcraft county, was badly burned the other evening, while about the kitchen stove. A gust of wind forced the flames out of the front of the stove, and the little girl was standing in such a position that she received the full force of the blaze. Before the flames were subdued her clothing was entirely consumed. Her condition is serious.

Big Logging Business—During the past winter the Lake Superior division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road hauled to mills over 50,000,000 feet of logs. This in addition to ties, poles, posts, pulpwood and other forest products, which undoubtedly totaled several thousand carloads. During the summer the road expects to handle not less than 25,000,000 feet, making the total for the season over 75,000,000 feet of logs. The greater portion of the timber is hauled to the mills at Green Bay, Menominee, Marinette, Oconto and Sagsola.

Much Sickness at Manistique—Health Officer Livingston reports that since the first of January last, Manistique has had 154 cases of measles and fifty-four cases of scarlet fever, and has knowledge of. He has been prompt in placarding the houses and has been active in ferreting out cases not reported to him officially. The reluctance of the average householder to have his home placarded has really been the cause of the spread of the diseases. Little attention is paid to the ailments in question, as they appear to be light in form, and no physician is called and children are permitted to go to school and spread the contagion. A number of children have been critically ill, and under the circumstances Manistique deems itself fortunate that few if any deaths have been attributed to the maladies thus far.

Increased Salaries Voted—At the last meeting of the board of education of Iron Mountain the members voted unanimously in favor of re-engaging Lee E. Amidon as superintendent of the city schools for another year. As an inducement for Mr. Amidon to remain, and in appreciation of his work, the board voted to increase his salary from $2,500 to $2,750. The board also voted to re-engage John Reed as principal of the high school and the salary was increased from $1,200 to $1,500. Few, if any, peninsula cities pay larger salaries than Iron Mountain. And, it may be added, none have better schools.

New Ore Dock Defective—By striking a strain of either quicksand or an incomplete filling of the dock foundation fifteen bents of the Northwestern company's ore dock at Escanaba have settled from eight to ten inches. Serious results may follow. The tearing down of the entire dock structure from the first weak point to the last is in prospect. The settled portion of the dock is at the center end. Some hold that because the steam jet system was used in forming the holes for the piles the piles settled after being placed. Others say that the heavy seas have washed away the foundation for the first piles driven and they have accordingly settled.

Night Prowler Frightens Woman—At a late hour at night a burglar attempted to enter the residence of Mrs. M. Humphrey in the north part of the village of Stephenson, but the fellow was frightened away. Mrs. Humphrey was in the house with her small son when she heard a noise at one of the windows. Going to the spot and pulling aside the curtain she saw a man in the act of trying to move a hook with which the window was fastened, but when she made an outcry the man disappeared. A young couple were driving by the house at the time and she called to them for assistance, but although a thorough search was made of the neighborhood the culprit could not be found. Suspicion is directed against a certain young person in town whose reputation is not of the best.

Trout Already Being Planted—The distribution of fry from the Sault Ste. Marie hatchery was started this week. The hatch this year is the earliest in the history of the station and the temperature of the water is higher than for the past seventeen years at corresponding periods. A peculiar condition has existed all this spring. March 27 the temperature was 36 degrees, while the average for this season of the year is 32 1/2 degrees. This has caused the eggs to hatch earlier and as the upper peninsula streams are free of ice the distribution has now been started. Superintendent Marks says that he will distribute one and a half million brook trout in the smaller streams, half a million rainbows in lakes and the larger streams, and two millions of lake trout in the inland lakes, all in the upper peninsula, and under the supervision of the state commission. Twelve millions of whitefish have been planted in Lakes Superior and Huron this spring, and later eight millions of the same species and five millions of lake trout will be planted in the same waters. While these fish were hatched at the Sault Ste. Marie station, the work of planting is done under the direction and at the expense of the United States bureau of fisheries.

This His Fortieth Census—“Well, it went kind of slow today, but after I get into the swing of it I will just bustle along. This is my fourth census and I have done it all sorts of different kinds so you see I am pretty well broken in,” said E. L. Parmenter, of Menominee, pioneer and probably the oldest census taker in the country, walked spryly on his way. Mr. Parmenter has many strange tales to tell regarding the census days when he was a census taker, and when the entire Iron range was included in Menominee county. In fact, he goes back still further and tells of the time when Quinnessee was included in Menominee township and when he rode that long distance on horseback just to get the names of eight men who were working there. Mr. Parmenter is a remarkable man in many ways. Now eighty years of age, he is as spry and able as many men half his years. He is actively engaged in the nursery business and during his long residence of nearly half a century at Menominee he has been prominently identified with all its various industries, being successively, storekeeper, lumberman, deputy sheriff, nurseryman and head of the city schools. He is ten years past the age limit allowed by the government of census takers, but so well has he performed the task at all times that when he did not apply this year T. J. Bennett, supervisor of this district, offered the post to him. It is doubtful if there is an older man in the country counting noses for Uncle Sam.

RAPIDLY INCREASING.

Another Large Concern Establishes Itself in Detroit.

The above heading is of almost daily occurrence in Detroit and Michigan papers, and illustrates perhaps as well as anything could except a visit to the outlying districts of Detroit, the rapidity with which the city is growing and has grown within the last few years. Detroit is a real metropolis and is so recognized throughout the world, and Michigan is justly proud of her biggest city. There are many reasons why Detroit should continue to grow and prosper. Its location, the beauty of its surroundings, and especially the energy and enterprise of its business men. Michigan is justly loyal to Detroit, and has learned from experience that it is not necessary to go outside of her own borders to buy everything that its people needs.

On another page of this issue will be found the announcements of many of the largest and most enterprising houses located in Detroit.

ROWEIT AND PERSON TO WRESTLE HERE

WORLD'S CORNISH CHAMPION WILL MEET DULUTH MAN IN CATCH-AS-CATCH-CAN MATCH.

Christ Person, of Duluth, the strong catch-as-catch-can wrestler, and John Rowett, champion Cornish wrestler of the world, have signed articles of agreement to wrestle at the Ishpeming after a week from next Saturday night, the 30th. The contest will be catch-as-catch-can, best two falls in three. Negotiations for this match have been pending for some weeks past, but the men could not agree until within a few days. Gogebic range friends of Rowett made an effort some time ago to bring them together at either Ironwood or Iron River, but were not successful.

During the past five or six months both Person and Rowett have wrestled in several catch-as-catch-can matches, and they are in fine condition. Rowett won every match that he wrestled during the winter, with the exception of the one with Karl Letto, the Finnish wonder of the copper country, who is to wrestle Person next Saturday night in Calumet. Person is between eight and ten pounds heavier than Rowett, but is not any faster.

The match next Saturday night between Person and Letto is for the heavyweight championship of the Northwest. By virtue of his victory over Matt Kangas, Person becomes a much more formidable opponent for Letto than he was at first expected to be. It is said that Letto and Person are exactly the same weight and it is anticipated that their match will be one of the best that has ever been seen in the copper country. There will be two preliminaries. The match with Person will be Rowett's first appearance in a wrestling match here in several years. The admission prices will be fifty and seventy-five cents and $1.

PRIMARY SCHOOL MONEY.

Board of Education Expects to Receive Big Fund Next Month.

Superintendent E. E. Scribner and T. H. Barch will attend the meeting of the state school superintendents, to be held at Lansing Thursday. Mr. Scribner left Monday evening and Mr. Barch left yesterday. The latter will endeavor to ascertain how much primary school money will be received for the Ishpeming school next month. Last November only $4,000 was received from the state treasury. Twice this sum was due, but the amounts distributed to all the schools in the state were cut down on account of the shortage in funds in the state treasury. The members of the board are unable to tell just what amount will be received next month, but they expect between $30,000 and $40,000.

It is estimated that the state treasurer will pay out about $3,879,000 in primary school money and there is a possibility that the figures will reach considerably over that amount. At present there is only $987,000 in the primary fund, but according to state officials this amount will reach $1,000,000 by May 10.

A majority of the heavy taxpayers including the railroads, telegraph and telephone companies, will be coming through with their cash before that date. There is a total of approximately 757,000 school children in the state who will share in the appropriation.

Deputy State Treasurer John Haarer announced recently that the great state of Michigan is again in the millinnaire class, the total amount of cash on hand in the general fund Saturday morning reached $1,141,916.40. This amount will last but a short time after the expenses of the state which average between $500,000 and $600,000 per month have been paid. There is, however, some consolation in the fact that there is yet a million and a half of tax money to be paid in the treasury.

STRONG, CLEAN PLAY.

"The Third Degree," which Henry D. Harris will present at Ishpeming theater Tuesday evening of next week, is a strong, clean and pure play. It was written by the most famous of American dramatists, Charles Klein, who is also the author of that sensational success, "The Lion and the Mouse." One of the distinguishing features of Mr. Klein's latest work is the telling of a simple and interesting story with direct and never ceasing movement. Not an unnecessary character who once started in the perfect action obtained.

The theme of "Third Degree" is a protest against the brutal methods of the police in their interrogation of suspected criminals; and incidentally it illustrates the persistency manifested by a woman who once starts upon a given object, never stops until she obtains her end.

The cast which Mr. Harris will present in the piece is one that includes none but well-known artists, who have creditable reputations by reason of their ability and genius. It includes Paul Everton, Fernand Elisen, who has made a hit in the role of the heroine; A. H. Symmons, E. A. Eberle, Francis Bonn, Alfred Moore, T. L. Coleman, H. H. Foreman, Ralph Ramsay and Margaret Drew.

We've never depended on cut price sales to make a success of our business. That's a game that may work some people, but it's only when they buy. Purchase price doesn't have so much to do with it, after all; it's the wear and use you get from any article that shows whether it's a bargain or not. You will find more real bargains here than anywhere else; but it's not because we've lowered prices; it's because the standard of excellence has been raised.

Births recorded in the city yesterday were a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Mitchell, 323 West Superior street; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Penno, 219 West Pearl street, and a son to Erick Taktinen and wife, 324 South First street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hedine, formerly of this city, who now reside at St. Paul, Minn., left for their home Monday evening. They were called to the city on account of the death of their sister-in-law, the late Mrs. Gust Swanson, whose funeral was held Sunday.

Frank Fitzpatrick, who was called to the city ten days ago on account of the death of his father, the late Peter Fitzpatrick, has returned to his home at Aberdeen, S. D. His sister, Mrs. Emily Kowell, who came from Santa Rosa, Cal., to attend the obsequies, will spend several weeks here. She was accompanied by her three-year-old son.

The Marquette County Land & Insurance company, which was organized a few months ago, with A. W. Jurma as manager, will take a party of home-seekers to Western Canada, leaving here next Tuesday. #### A MOUNTAIN OF DEATH.

An exploration party recently ascended Mount Taihu, one of the loftiest in Formosa, 12,000 feet above the sea level. When the party reached the aboriginal village (the Peuma tribe) half way up the mountain they employed twenty-one aborigines to accompany them and continued the ascent. This mountain is believed by the aborigines to be a mountain of death and nobody has dared to ascend it before. The aborigines being in great fear warned the party not to break branches of trees nor make loud noises nor throw stones, and finally they refused to proceed further. In spite of this the party proceeded and reached the summit at last. Seeing this the aborigines were quite surprised at the bravery of the Japanese. The mountain is reported to abound in valuable trees.—South China Post.

FEW NEW LABOR LAWS.

Demands Are Not Being Pressed by the Organizations.

Leaders Do Not Like Mr. Taft's Anti-Injunction Bill, and He Will Recommend Nothing More Radical—Extreme Capitalists Also Object to It—The President Hopes Some Kind of a Bill Will Be Passed.

Washington, April 19.—It looks as if labor organizations were not expecting much of the present congress and had almost decided to let their somewhat radical demands go over until the next period of year when the Democrats will come into power. The leaders have no use for the anti-injunction bill of Mr. Moon which President Taft favors, and the president, as a skilled lawyer, will not sink his legal self-respect by recommending a measure any more radical than that.

Organized capital, if the protests of some of its leading representatives are to be accepted, is no better satisfied with the bill, although probably only the extremists, like James W. V. Van Cleave, would be directly put out if the bill but practical Moon bill should be passed.

President Compromises of the American Federation of Labor and the executive board which governs that body declare the Taft plan would not begin to satisfy organized labor. The National association of Manufacturers is unable to see any good in the compromise the president has proposed. In the meantime the committees in congress to which the numerous anti-injunction bills have been referred are inactive. Congressmen are saying that if neither organized labor nor organized capital is likely to be satisfied with anything that is done, there is no use expending energy on an effort to enact legislation.

President Taft Still Hopeful. President Taft is still hopeful of getting through an anti-injunction bill of some sort in spite of the obstacles before him. If he made any specific promise during the national campaign of 1908, that attracted more attention than the average run of his utterances, it was that he would see to it that the demand of organized labor for anti-injunction legislation was met. He does not want the question to drag along in an unsettled state until another national convention of his party rolls around. He recalls how difficult it was for the Republican managers to get the labor men in line two years ago. If this character of legislation shall fail, the president ought not to be held to blame, for he has certainly done all it is possible for him to do toward convincing congress that it ought to carry out the pledge the dominant party made in its last national convention.

The legislative agents of the various labor organizations are distinctly pleased over the agreement in congress on the so-called safety appliance legislation. This new law is called "an act

For Your Hair

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course it is understood that in none of these cases were the hair roots dead nor had the scalp taken on a glassy shiny appearance.

When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp are glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore hair growth.

When Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will do as above stated, it is not strange that we have such great faith in it and that we claim it will prevent baldness when used in time. It acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed and will not gum nor permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid for it.

We lend our endorsement to Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and sell it on this guarantee, because we believe it is the best hair tonic ever discovered. It comes in two sizes, price 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our store.—The Rexall Store, The Stafford Drug Co.

to promote the safety of employees and travelers upon railroads." It is amendatory to the existing law which compels railroads engaged in interstate commerce to equip their cars with automatic couplers and continuous brakes and locomotives with driving wheel brakes. The allied labor organizations with which employees on the railroads affiliate have been working for several years to obtain this legislation. They feel that it will not only conserve human life on the railroads, but will make the work of employees much lighter. At one time the railroad companies were very much opposed to the legislation, but they evidently came to a realization of the fact that they could not prevent it, and so their opposition was practically withdrawn at this session.

One of the chief objects of the new legislation is to bring about uniformity in equipment. The legislative agents of the employees on the railroads have represented to congress for a long time that many of the fatalities on the roads were the result of defective equipment. The railroads, it is asserted, took long chances. If a car with defective equipment was allowed to continue in service, the railroad employees are hopeful that the interstate commerce commission will enforce the new law rigidly. The commission will, of course, afford the roads a reasonable opportunity to make their equipment conform to the provisions of the new legislation. Many of the roads were slow to equip their rolling stock with automatic couplings and airbrakes, but the interstate commerce commission kept insisting, until these safety appliances are now universally used.

Reports of Railroad Accidents.

Another piece of legislation in which both the general public and the railroads are interested has been agreed to by both house and senate and is now awaiting the signature of the president. It is a bill requiring common carriers engaged in interstate commerce to make full reports of all accidents to the interstate commerce commission, and authorizing the commission to investigate accidents. The bill as originally prepared provided that the findings and recommendations of the commission with reference to accidents should not be made public "except in such manner as the commission deemed proper." The senate struck out this provision, leaving it obligatory on the commission to make reports of accidents.

The railroads for several years have been making reports to the commission of accidents, but these reports were in all cases the "road" versions of the accident. The advanced step is that under the new law the commission will have authority to investigate any wreck or accident which it thinks ought, in the interests of the general public, to be investigated. It is the plan of the commission to make a systematic effort to get at the exact cause of every wreck in which there is large loss of life. The commission believes that a thorough investigation of every accident of consequence will soon reveal remedies which when applied will reduce the number of fatalities on the railroads.

SHARK FIGHTS DORYMAN.

It Requires a Schooner's Entire Crew to Haul a 400-Pound Fish Aboard.

Boston, Mass., April 19.—A 400-pound shark was captured by Manuel Enos of the little schooner Ignatius Enos two miles off Marble-head yesterday and the creature gave Silva the fight of his life before he was able turn it over to the men on the vessel who responded to his signals for assistance. The Enos was fishing for cod, within full view of the residences on the Neck, when Silva, who was hauling in a trawl, was alarmed at an unusual weight that resisted his efforts. Gradually he got the gear to the surface and discovered a big shark, tail uppermost, fast to the ganging.

The shark had been hooked near the tail, and it was impossible to reach its head, fully twelve feet beneath the dory, to club the monster or administer a thruss with the butcher knife. The shark thrashed about and battered the dory with tremendous blows, till Silva became fearful that it might burst through. He signalled for Capt. Enos to hurry the schooner to his aid. The Enos shot alongside and caught the line thrown by Silva. A tackle was made fast to the tail of the shark and all hands hoisted the monster to the vessel's deck. Another battle ensued, for the shark fought savagely to regain its liberty, and several dories were in danger of being ruined before the creature was finally secured. A block of wood was jammed into its mouth as a precautionary measure, for the sharp teeth would have snipped off a man's leg in a twinkling.

MARKETS

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, April 19.—Paine, Webber & Co. say of today's stock market: "The movements in stocks today were without any special significance, and trading towards the noon hour was practically stagnant. Steel, after an opening break, recovered a point, and later lost all the advance. A number of the more active rails sold fractionally higher, but the market was without snap, acting as though under pressure, with the room traders and professionals playing for a break. The Boston exchange was closed today, which added somewhat to the dullness in the New York market."

Closing prices were as follows: Amal. .... 77½; Nor. Pac. .... 103¾; Anaconda .... 46½; N. Y. C. .... 104¼; Am. S. .... 79¾; Penn. .... 103¾; Atchafalaya .... 111¼; Reading .... 107; U. S. S. .... 80¾; St. Paul .... 113½; B. & O. .... 111¾; Steel .... 80½; C. & O. .... 40½; Steel 174 .... 121; C. & O. .... 80½; So. Ry. .... 25¼; N. Or. Northern .... 139; So. Pac. .... 37¼; W. Pac. .... 20¼; Pacific .... 42½; M. K. & T. .... 43½; Wabash 176 .... 47

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, April 19.—The prices of wheat started out strong today, but closed weak. A strong foreign market gave the shorts heavy to cover at the opening, and heavy buying ran the May up 1½, while the July and September gained about ¼ each. Long lines of July and September were put out at the tempting advances. Holders of cash wheat, together with elevator concerns, joined in gorging the market with offerings, and the bulls gave way. The July sank from 111¼@102 to 108½, the September shaded down from 109½ to 108½, while the May tumbled from 108½ to 106½. The market closed weak, with the July ¼ lower, while the May was up ¼@½. The May opened at 107¼ to 108¼; highest, 108½; lowest, 106½; closed, 106½@106¾.

Corn.—The prices were inclined to firmness early, but sagged with wheat. The close was weak, with the May ¼@½ lower. Cash corn was steady. The May opened at 57¼ to 57½; highest, 57¾; lowest, 56¾; closed, 56¾. Oats.—There was a slacking in the shipping demand, and the prices, which had started firm, fell away as wheat and corn declined. Few demands for the July or the September were recorded. The close was weak, with the May ¼ lower. The May opened at 42¼ to 42½; highest, 42¾; lowest, 41½; closed, 41½@41¾.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s Wheat Letter.

Chicago, April 19.—The trade has been very irregular today. Patten houses bought quite a line of July on this dip and that month had a second rally close to 102, but a gain failed to hold. While we are so far out of line with export business, the up-tURNS in the Liverpool cable can be ignored, and as there is nothing threatening in the weather condition we believe the selling side of wheat can be followed on the bulges with profit.

New York Cotton Market.

[Paine, Webber & Co.] New York, April 19.—There is of course plenty of chance for a big cotton crop the coming year, but it is by no means assured and the present weather is by no means as perfect as the shorts seem to believe it to be. The contrast with the extremely poor conditions of last year magnify present prospects. Placed alongside normal years we have nothing to brag about. Cotton is a purchase at this and subsequently lower levels. A big crop would not bring a big decline; a poor crop would be a disaster.

BACK TO NEW ENGLAND.

Those Abandoned Farms Likely Soon to Be a Mere Tradition. The tide of brain, brawn and money that has been flowing westward for decades is setting back toward New England in an irresistible undertow. For instance, in December, the Boston office of the Boston & Maine railroad received thirty-two inquiries from points west of Chicago for New England farms. Up in Vermont the commission of agriculture received during the last two months requests for New England farms from practically every state in the Union. Multiply these by the hundreds of inquiries reaching other agencies in

A DOZEN FAMILIES CURED OF ITCH BY CUTICURA

Shown No Marks but Whole Body Itched Like a Million Mosquito-Bites—Sleep Out of the Question and Life Became an Inferno.

DOCTORS AND DRUGGIST TREATED THEM IN VAIN

"The Cuticura Remedies are the best in the world, as I know from experience. In Dowling, South Wales, about fifteen years ago, families were stricken wholesale by a disease known as the 'itch.' Believe me, it is the most terrible disease of its kind that I know of, as it itches all through your body and makes your life an inferno. Sleep is out of the question and you feel as if a million mosquitoes were attacking you at the same time. Yet you could see nothing on the skin. But the itch was there all right and I sincerely trust that I should never get it. I knew a dozen families that were so affected. The male members and myself belonged to the same society and, as students, it was my duty to visit the sick members once a week for sick benefit until they were declared off. That is how I became so familiar with the itch."

"The doctors did their best but their remedies were of no avail whatever. Then the families tried a druggist who was noted far and wide for his remarkable cures. People came to him from all parts of the country for treatment, but his medicine made matters still worse, as a last resort they were advised by a friend to use the Cuticura Remedies. I am glad to tell you that after a few days treatment with Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent, the effect was wonderful and the result was a perfect cure in all cases."

"I may add that my three brothers, three sisters, myself and all our families have been users of the Cuticura Remedies for fifteen or twenty years. Thomas Hugh, 1650 West Huron St., Chicago, Ill., June 28, 1909."

each of our New England states and decided for yourself whether or not the undertow is coming eastward.

Agriculturally the actual yields have proved that the East has climate, soil and facilities for producing as good as or better crops than the West. The additional feature of having the consumer in the back yard, so to speak, places the New England farmer at great advantage over his Western brother, who produces on higher priced land and transports his product 3,000 miles across country. Per acre the East beats the West in yield year in and year out. Therefore it is simply a business proposition.

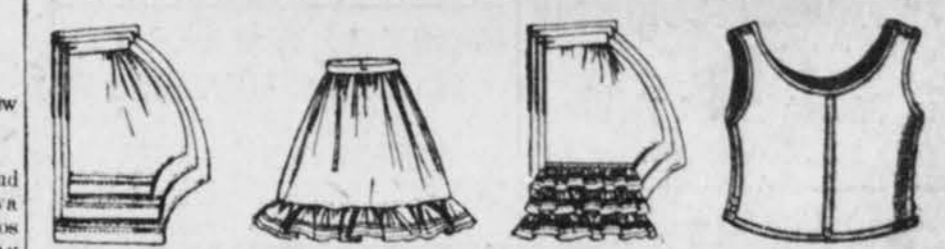

Five years ago the New England Homestead conceived the idea of running a better-farming special train through New England. It made arrangements with the Boston & Main railroad, which furnished the equipment free, and the agricultural college provided exhibits and speakers. This train was four weeks running through New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Maine. About 70,000 persons were enthused as a direct result. This was a big, progressive and enterprising step forward in New England.

Then came the greater New England conference at Boston, at which were represented all the New England governors, congressmen and public officials representing industrial and agricultural enterprises. It was a veritable love feast for New England unity and progress. One direct result of that conference was the great New England fruit show held at Boston last October, which was admittedly the most comprehensive agricultural event ever featured in New England.

There it was that New England showed fruit superior to the famed product of the West and showed it by the carload. Now preliminary arrangements are in hand for a big New England corn exposition to be held next November. Advertising and Selling.

COPPER SITUATION.

Why the Calumet & Hecla Reduced Its Price to Thirteen Cents.

Calumet & Hecla's cut in the price of copper to thirteen cents has been the overshadowing feature of the metal situation the past week. The price reduction was made solely for the purpose of attracting business which could not be secured at figures formerly prevailing. The company had no large stock of copper on hand, despite the absurd statements of an anonymous copper producer who was quoted as saying that Calumet was carrying 60,000,000 pounds of unsold copper on the other side of the water. Calumet always carries a stock of various foreign centers, amounting in the aggregate to between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 pounds, but beyond this no surplus whatever is carried abroad. The company was carrying a small surplus of unsold copper, amounting to a few million pounds in this country. The cut in the price quickly cleaned up all the company's stock to sell, and the price immediately advanced to 13 1/2 cents. Today it has advanced to 13 3/4 cents. It is interesting in this connection to note that the United Metal Selling company, is quoting its electrolytic brands in Paris at $29 1/4, the equivalent of about 12.80 cents on this side.

The very unfavorable exhibit made by the March statement of the Copper Producers' association was responsible for the price concession which were made last week by nearly all the producing interests who have sold any copper. The consumers have a very clear understanding of the present situation and the significance of an increasing copper surplus. They don't have to be told that prices cannot continue to advance when the mines of the world are producing more than the manufacturers are melting. In a broad way, it may be said that at the present time—and this holds true for the period covering the fifteen months from Jan. 1, 1909 to April 1, 1910—the world is producing between 2 per cent and 10 per cent more than it is putting into consumption. The underconsumption is mainly attributed to the relatively poor wire business. Under normal conditions, anywhere from 20 per cent to 60 per cent of the production of copper is manufactured into wire bars, the shape exclusively used by the makers of copper wire. This situation is directly traceable to the lack of demand from power transmission companies. It is regarded, however, as a deferred business, and some day these companies will come into the market with a rush. Nevertheless, during the past few months the wire bar demand has been considerably below par so that today the wire industry is consuming less than 45 per cent of our output. The much heralded restriction of output is a myth except for one or two notable exceptions. Calumet & Hecla continues to limit refined copper output to 6,000,000 pounds a month against a normal output of 7,000,000 pounds. The mines of the Phelps-Dodge restriction of the low cost producers, are restricting to a greater or less extent, but the other producers have been so loudly clamoring for a general curtailment by all the producers, are apparently doing nothing to alleviate the situation, but on the other hand are producing to the limit as only by so doing can they make anything like a fair showing of costs. The porphyry producers seem quite content with their position as low-cost operators and are working their mills and smelters to the utmost capacity. Some of the things will be different and the consumption of copper will outstrip the output, but to-day it cannot be denied that from the standpoint of the producing interests the situation is very unsatisfactory. It is well to bear in mind, however, that for a period of thirty-five years the average price of copper has been only thirteen cents per pound.

INDIANA.

Indiana, in its drilling operations, has produced a drill core that is the wonder of the Lake Superior district. This core showed that Indiana had encountered a lode, or two lodges, carrying copper for 200 feet, of which sixty-five feet was rich. The reason that possibly two lodges were encountered is that the sixty-five feet of rich copper was not continuous, but was found in two sections, one forty-five feet wide and one twenty-five feet wide separated by about 100 feet of poorer material. Highly encouraging as this drill core showing was, it would have been the height of folly to start a shaft until more was known about the lode, that is, the dip and strike. It is for this purpose that further diamond drilling is now being done. In order to determine the angle of the lode—more plainly put, to determine what angle the lode bears to the surface of the ground—it is necessary to make another drill hole which shall intersect the lode nearer the surface than the one which made the discovery. A lode is now being sunk and it is expected that it will intersect the lode. It is then only a question of mathematics to tell what this angle is. With this information, the management will be in a position to locate a shaft at the most advantageous point, so that its angle will be practically the same as the lode. Assuming that the lode has practically the same dip for a considerable depth, this means much expense saved when it comes to opening up the mine, as it will avoid long cross-cuts to the lode through barren ground. Furthermore, another drill is being sunk at a still different part of the property which should determine the strike of the lode, or in other words, what course the lode takes with regard to the points of the compass. For instance, the general strike of the lodes in the Lake Superior district is from northeast to southwest, but the Lake lode has so far taken a north-and-south trend. Thus all this drilling is being done for a definite purpose, and no time or money is being wasted.

CALUMET & HECLA.

Calumet & Hecla has continued to sell at just under 600, although in all probability the company will continue to pay 88 per quarter for the remainder of the year, comments the Boston Financial News. The company can make a bit of money on copper at 13 cents per pound as the cost per pound of production is generally understood to be under 9 cents. In addition to revenue from the sale of the copper from the Calumet & Hecla proper, the company receives a large income from the Oscoda. But owing to the $8,500,000 notes which were sold to purchase the Bigelow mines, the return from the Oscoda is more than consumed by the interest on the above notes. The subsidiary companies which at present are not paying any dividends, ultimately enter this class, out of some of them for a number of years. The Alhambra, of which the Calumet owns 25,000 shares, will return a large revenue within the next few years and the Hecla, Royale and Tamarack will also add to the Calumet's revenue in the not distant future. Then the Superior will undoubtedly be a paying mine so that the outside revenue to the big company should show a substantial increase within the next few years. The Alhambra, Seneca, Isle Royale and Tamarack are now understood to be producing at a profit, which is saying a lot on a 13-cent copper market. Besides the revenue which the Tamarack will return the property is valuable to the Calumet for the purpose of mining a strip of territory known as the three fork, which belongs to the Calumet and is located in the center of the Tamarack property. With outside ownership this strip could not be mined to advantage by the Calumet & Hecla and it is said that this advantage alone is worth all that the big company paid for the 20,000 shares of the Tamarack. Among the resources of Calumet are several other properties, the value of which is not as yet known as they have not been sufficiently worked, such as the Frontenac, Laurium and Manitow. These are the uncertain factors which may in time, add to the value of the Calumet Hecla marketwise.

ARIZONA-MICHIGAN.

At the property of the Arizona-Michigan Mining company the sinking of the vertical prospect shaft on the Blackbird claim is making a favorable showing. The shaft is being sunk on a four-foot vein between limestone walls and has attained a depth of 140 feet. The vein at this depth consists of highly mineralized matter, chiefly iron and manganese, with copper carbonate occurring with it. The shaft sinking is being carried on with the aid of a whim which will probably be replaced with a hoist at a very distant date. At a depth of 100 feet a drift has been driven along the vein for about twelve feet and in the near future cross-cutting from this drift will be commenced to determine the exact width of the vein at that point. One of the walls at present is well defined, but the other wall is not in evidence so that it is very possible that the driving of a cross-cut may prove the vein to be of much greater size than anticipated. On the 500-foot level of the Telfair shaft on the other end of the company's property the cross-cut driven southward about 700 feet and is being extended in stull containing little or no mineral. The formation, however, seems to be changing and with about 150 feet more of driving, the old formation is expected to be encountered. While it is not possible to say it is possible to get from the underground workings of the other mines in the region it is hardly probable that the fault will carry ore in great quantity at that depth yet in case it has been projected from the surface, it is possible that valuable deposits. In any event, exploration at greater depth is expected to open an ore body.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

It is said that as indicated by underground drifting and shaft drilling so far, the Inspiration ore body is 2,000 feet long and, in the vicinity of the Scorpion shaft, 2,400 feet wide of the Joe Bush, is 800 feet wide. The cre extends between the Scorpion and the Joe Bush and 600 feet beyond the latter. The chura drills are constantly showing a large extension of ore into the part of the property where the original prospect work was done.

The members of the Copper Producers' association are considering the advisability of discontinuing the publication of their monthly report showing the production, consumption and stocks of the metal on hand. It is said that definite action will be taken within a short time. A member of the association in explanation of the proposed action is quoted as saying that it is likely that such action will be taken because it has been demonstrated that erroneous views of the condition of the copper situation are derived from the figures published.

The problem of the Shannon is the same as with a great many other mines and the greatest energy of copper mining company managements is today directed toward securing lower costs. Shannon has had considerable success in lowering costs the past few months, because of the completion of its own railway and various improvements in the plant, but above all the company is benefiting from the opening of a much higher grade of ore in the lower workings of the property. The work on the new ore bodies continues promising, and as it proceeds the Shannon is changing from a low grade to a high grade proposition.

STATE COMMISSION ACTED PROMPTLY

PLANS FOR NEGAUNEE'S NEW UNION PASSENGER STATION, ALSO TRACK PLANS, ARE TO BE APPROVED.

Mayor J. W. Elliott has received from Samuel H. Kelley, secretary of the state railroad commission, a copy of the order issued by the commission, requiring the managements of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and Chicago & Northwestern Railway companies to erect a suitable union station in this city. The commission met on the 13th, following the return of George W. Dickinson, who came to investigate the conditions at the present station, also to confer with the representatives of both railway companies and the city officials. The order requires the railway companies to provide the new station within six months from the date of service. The officials of both railway companies agreed to begin the construction work as soon as possible after the plans are approved by the railroad commission. The text of the order is as follows: "Complaint having been made by the citizens of Negaunee, Marquette county, Michigan, against the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, and the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway company, on account of not furnishing satisfactory union station facilities in said city of Negaunee, a personal inspection of the premises having been made by Commissioner Dickinson, at which time representatives of the city of Negaunee, as well as representatives of the said Chicago & Northwestern and Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway companies were heard in relation thereto. The commissioner, after carefully considering the report of the inspection, are of the opinion that there should be a new union station provided by the above named railway companies in the said city of Negaunee.

"Therefore, it is hereby ordered, that you, the said Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and Chicago & Northwestern Railway companies, within six months from service hereof, cause to be constructed a new union station to be located west of Gold street and to be constructed according to plans which shall be submitted to and approved by the Michigan railroad commission before construction is commenced.

"It is further ordered, that the plan for the rearrangement of the tracks leading to the said new union station shall be submitted to the Michigan railroad commission for approval before rearrangement is commenced.

AFTER AUTO DRIVERS.

Mayor Elliott Says They Must Observe Speed Limit.

Although Mayor Elliott has been "on the job" but a few days he has already received a number of complaints about the reckless driving of automobiles, and he said yesterday that he will instruct the chief of police and the other officers to arrest all persons who drive their cars through the streets at a rate exceeding fifteen miles per hour.

Most of the drivers agree that cars are driven altogether too fast, especially on Main street. One of the officers who saw a car go over Main street Monday at a rate of not less than fifty miles an hour. Not only is the surface of the street being damaged, but property owners are being annoyed by dust and dirt which are whirled up.

"I wish the police officers would undertake to stop boys from getting in front of automobiles," a Negaunee man said. "The youngsters take some terrible chances. Many of them have gotten into the wheels of cars, and some of the drivers. It has often surprised me that some of the youngsters who are almost upon them have not been killed."

SPECIAL CAR SERVICE.

The committee in charge of the dance Friday evening at the Adelphi rink for the benefit of the Negaunee baseball team has arranged for a special street car to leave here for Ishpeming after the party invitations have been sent to the members of the Ishpeming and Marquette teams to attend, as guests of the Negaunee players. The committee is meeting with excellent success in the sale of tickets and a large attendance is already assured. Departing will start promptly at 10 o'clock and will be continued as late as the dancers desire to remain. The Negaunee orchestra will furnish the music.

GOOD FEELING PREVAILS.

Retiring Chief of Negaunee Fire Department Not Disgruntled.

Julius Johnson, who has been succeeded by R. G. Jackson as chief of the Negaunee fire department, after serving for three years, says he is in no manner disgruntled over the loss of the position, and intends to work as hard for the organization as he ever did.

"I called the meeting Saturday evening for the purpose of setting up the department's affairs before retiring from the office," said Johnson. "I took occasion to thank the members of the department for the support they gave me during the three years I was chief, also for their recommendation for my reappointment as chief for the coming year. I said that while the council did not see fit to reappoint me, there was no reason why the members of the department should not continue to work in harmony and to aid Mr. Jackson in every way possible. I urged the members to stick by the new chief and to work as hard for him as they had for me.

"There is no foundation for the report that I, with Secretary O. J. Lacombe, urged the members to pull out. It has been charged that a member of No. 1 company told Mr. Jackson that I and Mr. Lacombe were trying to create a disturbance in the department. I have seen every member of No. 1 company and they all deny that they made such a statement.

"At the conclusion of my remarks, I asked for a rising vote as an indication of good feeling and the support the members will give the new chief. Every man in the room stood up. I do not want it thought for a moment that I would do anything to deprive the city of fire protection. If the companies had disbanded it would have been a reflection on me, as well as on all others connected with the organization, and there was absolutely no foundation for the talk that was started concerning the probable disruption of the department. I am satisfied that everything will run along smoothly and there will be no occasion for ill feeling on the part of any of the members.

No steps have yet been taken for the dedication and opening of the new hose house. It is expected, however, that a committee will be appointed at the next meeting of the council to arrange the details. None of the new equipment has yet been received.

TO INSPECT PAVED STREETS.

E. C. Anthony, J. H. Rough and C. V. E. Townsend, members of the board of public works, A. M. Willman, superintendent, and Alderman Haggart, chairman of the street and highway committee, will leave tomorrow evening for Ironwood to inspect the paved streets there. From Ironwood they will go to the copper country. At the meeting of the council held last week, these officers were instructed to inspect the paving work in the copper country and Geogebie range, with a view to determining what material shall be used in the improvement of Iron street this summer.

BIDS FOR CITY COAL.

The board of public works has asked for bids for furnishing coal for the water works and electric light plant, also for the city crusher and road roller, for the ensuing year. The bids must be in the hands of the superintendent of the board by next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Bids must be submitted with the understanding that in case a trestle is built at the power station the board of public works shall have the right to rescind the contract, and call for new bids.

CURIOUS WILL CASE.

The German courts have just had a curious case before them. A trader died at Bad Mannheim, and three days before his death he sent a postcard to a lady friend on her birthday, deploring that he was ill and so far away from her. He also said "I'll soon be back and present I am leaving to you my fortune." The lady to whom this postcard was sent claimed that this message constituted a will in her favor. She claimed the estate, which was valued at about 2000 marks. In the first court the decision went against her, and on appeal the findings of the court below were upheld. The grounds of the decision were that, by German law, when a person draws up his own will it is necessary for the document to state where it was written. The trader, although he had duly signed the card, omitted to place his address upon it.

MODERN BARBER POLES.

Electricity within recent years has been applied to the barber pole. The electric or revolving barber pole has for a middle section a glass cylinder that is two feet or more in height by about eight inches in diameter, this section being supported on an ornamental base or on a stout brass rod rising from the sidewalk. The glass section of the pole is surmounted by an ornamental cap. Within the glass section of the pole is another cylinder made of a thin, lightweight, translucent material, upon which are painted the traditional spiral stripes of red, white and blue, the familiar sign of the barber. This inner cylinder is pivoted top and bottom and made to revolve by means of a tiny electric motor attached at the top. Current is carried to this motor on a wire leading from an electric light fixture within the building and up out of sight inside the pole's base. Within the inner cylinder of the electric revolving barber pole are two incandescent electric lights by which the pole can be illuminated at night.

Formerly all barber poles were made of wood, as still great numbers are; and if a wooden barber pole is made of sound timber and set where its base will keep dry it will last for many years, but if the pole is set where water collects at its foot it will rot there. A few years ago there was produced a barber pole of latticed iron construction. The very latest thing in an all-metal barber pole is one that has its cylindrical column section formed of sheet steel, with base and cap of cast iron.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR KIMBERLY MINES

WORK PROGRESSING RAPIDLY UNDER NEW COMPANY, WITH MILL NEARING COMPLETION.

NOW LOOKS LIKE A WINNER

With Plenty of Ore Available and Financial Difficulties Straightened Out, Stockholders Are Optimistic.

Local stockholders in the old Kimberly-Willey Mining company, which has been in the hands of a receiver for several months, are highly pleased with the progress that is being made toward the organization of a new company, by means of which it is expected that the mine will be on its feet and producing ore within sixty or ninety days. With the consent of the court, the receiver has brought about an arrangement whereby stockholders of the old company can get share for share in the new, on a basis that appears to be generally satisfactory. The re-organization scheme also provides for wiping out the debt that stood against the old company, and with the exception of about $5,000, funds to take care of all present debts are now at hand. It is thought that the remainder will be taken up within a short time, and meantime work at the mine is going right along. The mill will be ready for operation within three months at the most, and from that time on there is every reason to believe, say those most interested, that the mine will be operated at a big profit. It is generally conceded that the troubles of the Kimberly-Willey company were not due to any fault of the property.

One of the officers of the new company gives out the following statement concerning the present condition of the property, which will be of interest to the many Marquette county stockholders: "The Kokomo Mines & Milling company is being organized under the laws of the state of Colorado, with a capitalization of 1,000,000 shares at a par value of $1 per share, stock fully paid and non-assessable for the purpose of taking over the Summit, the Willey and the Kimberly mines, mill and equipment, and putting the same into active operation. These contiguous properties, embracing in all nearly five hundred acres, are situated on Elk mountain near the town of Kokomo, in what is known as the Consolidated Ten Mile Mining district, and about eighteen miles from Leadville."

Mill Nearly Completed.

"On this property is a new mill which can be completed in ninety days, and which will have a capacity of 250 tons per day of twenty-four hours. The mines are already fully opened and in condition for an immediate production of ore. The aggregate length of the opened and timbered drifts or tunnels, is fully four and a half miles, or 90 per cent of these drifts are in rock. "The main veins of the ore are in the zinc contents, but in addition to the zinc they carry, in varying quantities, lead, gold, silver and iron. As the result of a test made sometime ago to ascertain the average value of the ore, an assaying of 207 samples, taken at random from the walls of these drifts (except that no samples were taken from ore known to be exceptionally rich), showed an average value of $12.38 per ton; and the metal prices upon which that value was computed, were materially lower than present current prices. "There is in the present openings fully 250,000 tons of ore blocked out ready to mine, the average mineral value of which is not less than $12 per ton. "Of this ore lies above the level of the mill, and will be brought to the mill by gravity. In consequence there will be no expense for hoisting or for pumping."

"The mill is located close to the openings of the two principal tunnels. There is an abundance of running water on the property for the operation of the mill. Two competing lines of railroad with their side-tracks laid to the mill, afford exceptionally good shipping facilities. Ample electric power is available at half the cost of steam power. In consequence of these most favorable conditions, the expense of mining and milling will be reduced to the minimum, and should not exceed $3 per ton. But an allowance of $4 per ton for such expenses would leave a net value of $8 in each ton of the 250,000 tons of ore in sight—a total of $2,000,000, or $2 per share on the total capitalization."

Much Undeveloped Ground.

"But the opened and developed portion does not exceed one-third of the mineral zone in this property, and there is every indication that the unexplored territory is fully as rich in mineral as that portion cut by the present tunnels. "The management of the property will be in the hands of Major H. C. Reno, of Denver, Colorado, a mining engineer and a mine operator of large experience. Mr. Reno is taking a large block of the stock personally, and is devoting his whole time and attention to the affairs of the company. He is a heavy stockholder in, and vice president of the Modern Smelting company, which is operating at Denver, Colo., a new, modern, up-to-date smelter. "The Kokomo Mines & Milling Co. is thus not only securing the services of an experienced and practical mining man, but is also insuring the establishment of close business relations with an 'independent' smelter—one of the best on the continent, and located only twenty miles from the mill. "To provide the funds necessary to complete the mill and to establish a working capital, a limited amount of stock will be placed on the market at fifty cents per share. With a mill cost, $2,000,000 net in the ore in sight, and with two-thirds of the property yet unexplored, this stock at fifty cents per share, which is on a basis of $500,000 for the entire property is a proposition which should command favorable consideration."

Several expert mining engineers have inspected the property and speak of it in terms of highest praise. Kirby Thomas, expert geologist and mineralogist, Denver, says: "I do not hesitate to say that this proposition is as promising and as certain as any mining proposition I have seen in the West." H. C. Reno, M. E., says: "During my wide range of experience, I have not seen a more safe and profitable opportunity for investment." Wm. J. Stitt, Memphisee: "Kimberly is a developed mine and not a prospect. They will be mining this property when their children are all dead, as the ore bodies are immense." J. H. Wilson, of the Native Copper Times, Lake Linden, and Lowe Whiting, engineer for the Huron Island Mining company, speak of Kimberly's prospects in no less glowing terms.

EIGHT MILLIONS PLANTED.

Government Places Large Quantity of Trout and Whitefish Fry Here.

Within the past two weeks, 6,000,000 whitefish and 2,000,000 lake trout fry, from the United States fish hatchery at Duluth, have been placed in the waters of Lake Superior between Pienic Rocks and Big Presque Isle. This is said to be the largest number of fish planted in Lake Superior near Marquette in any one year, and the large plant has, in great measure, been secured through the efforts of Captain John Parker, and his co-operation with the government officials in taking care of the fry after their arrival in Marquette.

The third car of fry to be brought here this season arrived yesterday, and the little fish were planted from the tug Theora. The car was in charge of W. E. Smith, of Washington, D. C., though the fry came from the Duluth hatchery. Captain Parker states that results from the planting of fish are already being obtained. Until the last year or two, no spawning beds were found inside the bay, while now the fishermen find them frequently. As it takes a whitefish about four years to grow to two pounds weight, but few of the planted fish have as yet become large enough to be of commercial value. Two or three years hence, however, it is expected that the fishermen will reap the results of the planting done by the government and state.

THEATRICAL.

"Metz in Ireland."

Once again Al H. Wilson, the well-known German comedian and sweet-voiced tenor, delighted an audience of Marquette theatergoers at the opera house last evening. "Metz" has chosen a country district of Ireland as the setting for his play this season, and the story unfolded in the three acts of "Metz in Ireland" is a delightfully wholesome and simple romance of peasant life in that country. While the plot contains little that has not been worked out on the stage hundreds of times before, it is presented in an appealing and sympathetic manner, and strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of the audience. There is also a lively dash of wholesome humor throughout the piece, and altogether, "Metz in Ireland" is perhaps the best of the many vehicles in which Mr. Wilson has appeared in this city.

Mr. Wilson was not in quite so good voice as when here last year, but he has lost none of his inimitable and pleasing stage mannerisms and he was in every respect an enthusiastic performer. He has several new songs, the best of which is "Love Thoughts," and in the last act repeated a number of the old favorites, among them being "Helen," "Wilson's Lullaby" and "Gretchen." The supporting company, as a whole, has been well chosen, and each handled his or her respective part capably. Irma La Pierre, the leading lady, did some very good work, but evidently is not a vocalist, for there were several opportunities in the course of the play when a duet between her and Mr. Wilson could have been worked in effectively. Next to "Metz" himself, the most credit should go to little Olive Wright, a mere child, who takes the part of little Bantry, a boy who lives in mortal fear of the banshees. In the last act, Olive is attracted to Metz's costume and has a very clever dancing act with Mr. Wilson.

Taken as a whole, the impression left by "Metz in Ireland" is distinctly pleasing, it being a beautiful little story of simple, homely life, depicted by a capable hand of players.

REPORT OF WATER BOARD MADE PUBLIC

THOROUGH AND EXHAUSTIVE DISCUSSION OF GREAT PROBLEM THAT FACES MARQUETTE.

INTAKE EXTENSION FAVORED

Reasons Why Majority Believes Removal of Plant to Presque Isle Is Impracticable at Present Time.

At the meeting of the water board last evening, the long promised full report of the investigations of the board regarding the best means of improving the Marquette water supply was submitted and signed by five of the six members of the board. The report recommends the extension of the present intake about 2,500 feet into about seventy feet of water. One of the members of the board, H. W. Nebel, did not concur with the majority report, and submitted a minority report recommending the establishment of a new plant at the Black Rocks, off Presque Isle.

A part of the report is published elsewhere in this issue of The Mining Journal, and the whole report will be published in pamphlet form as soon as possible, for public distribution. In addition to what is published in today's Mining Journal, the pamphlet will contain the full reports of Engineers Benzenburg and Coleman, maps showing the location of the different proposed improvements, and Mr. Nebel's report, setting forth, why, in his opinion, the majority of the board is in error, and giving his reasons for believing that the water works plant should be removed to Presque Isle.

The full report is worthy the careful personal and thoughtful consideration of every voter and taxpayer in the city. It epitomizes the results of years of investigation on the part of the water board, and the recommendations of several experts on municipal water problems. It was prepared only after hours and days of hard labor, and the thoroughness with which the board has gone into the subject is deserving of high commendation.

Reasons for Conclusions.

In recommending that the present intake be extended, rather than that the water works plant be removed to Presque Isle, the board recognizes that, practical and financial considerations aside, the best possible location from which to obtain the city water supply would be off the Black Rocks at Presque Isle. On the other hand, they are assured by tests and by the advice of experts that the extension of the intake will give the city pure water for many years to come, and will do away with the present nuisance, to a degree, if not entirely. It is held that the mouth of the proposed intake would be so far distant that a sewer from North Marquette, emptying into the lake near Pienic rocks, would not contaminate the city water supply, and that there are other ways of taking care of North Marquette sewage, if necessary.

The estimated cost of the extension of the intake is, in round numbers, $63,000, and for building a new plant at Presque Isle, $248,000. Compared with present expenses of operating the increased annual charges for maintaining and operating the water works plant, under the extended intake plan, would be approximately $5,000, including interest on bonds, maintenance expense and provision for a sinking fund. With the plan at Presque Isle and the necessary piping and reservoir, the increased annual charges would amount to over $10,000. From these figures, it appears that increased annual maintenance and operating charges are even a stronger objection to the Presque Isle plan than the difference in original cost of installation. The majority of the board believe that, granting the possibility of the city increasing in size until the water at the mouth of the proposed extended intake became contaminated, the difference in expense of maintenance and operation, and the increased valuation of city property by that time, would be sufficient to take care of any further extensions that might then be necessary, without imposing anything like the burden on the taxpayers that would result from the present adoption of the Presque Isle plan. It is understood that Mr. Nebel, in his minority report, attacks the cost estimates of the Duluth engineers, claiming that they are altogether too high in respect to the removal of the plant to Presque Isle. He also believes that it would not be necessary to have a reservoir, either on the hill between Oak street and Park cemetery or north of the Golf club house, in order to successfully operate the Presque Isle station.

SURPRISING FACTS ABOUT THE PATENT MEDICINE BUSINESS.

"The Fourth Estate" has been warning publishers about the risk in allowing credit to new medicine concerns. It is said that there have been only one or two of the thousands of new proprietary medicine houses that have made any considerable money that have started the past twenty years and only a very few more that have met with even moderate success. It is the general impression that the business is immensely profitable while the fact is that there is a larger percentage of failures than in any other line. The new concerns usually start with lots of confidence in the merit of their goods and advertising but soon exhaust their capital leaving dealers who have stocked their medicines with unsalable goods on their shelves. It is the experience of many publishers that they have accepted this new business that they have been compelled to charge off their bills to profit and loss.

There are many old and reliable medicine houses that continue to do a good or increasing business from year to year, but the new ones are finding it more and more difficult to become established.
