Addressing Newspapermen at Banquet in New York City, Mayor Gaynor Delivers a Bitter Attack on Wm. R. Hearst.

He Accuses Him of Forgery and Libel and He Applies Epithets Seldom Heard in Public Speaking—The Business Manager of the Publisher Attempts a Reply, and There Ensues a Turbulent Scene in Which He Is Denied a Hearing.

New York, April 28.—The joint dinner of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' association here tonight was thrown into riotous and prolonged disorder when Thomas T. Williams, business manager for Wm. R. Hearst, was refused permission to speak as he rose to reply to biting criticisms that Mayor Gaynor had made of Hearst's part in journalism.

Only Explanation for Existence of Michigan Cactus Patch.

In the northern part of Muskegon county, Michigan, in the township of Blue Lake, is an extraordinary vegetable growth whose origin is a puzzle to scientists and has been the basis of many stories and legends that are familiar to every one in that region. This strange phenomenon is a large patch of cactus, of the prickly pear variety, and covers an area of several acres. The plant is a native of a warm climate and grows naturally in the southwestern part of the United States, making its presence in northern Michigan all the more remarkable. This cactus patch is not of recent origin, but probably has been there for several centuries, according to the Indian legends. Some forty years ago a member of the agricultural department, while driving through Muskegon county, came across the strange prickly pear growth. After a thorough examination he stated that undoubtedly the plant was a native of Arizona, and had been introduced into the north by Indians in their migrations. This supposition has been borne out by the tales which the Indians living in the Blue Lake region were accustomed to tell the early settlers.

record the wanderings of a band of Indians who were driven from their homes in Arizona by another tribe, and were forced to settle in what is now the state of Michigan. The year 1400 is approximately the date of this migration. These Indians, it is said, brought with them some of the cactus plants which were so plentiful in the southern deserts, and, although the Michigan climate was very different from that in Arizona, this strange form of vegetation flourished. In proof of this story the Michigan Indians would make palatable dishes from the tender shoots of the cactus according to recipes handed down from their ancestors.—Harper's Weekly.

PERSIAN CATS PAY THIS WOMAN WELL.

Pennsylvanian Who Has Found Much Profit in Breeding Fancy Felines.

SOME BROUGHT $500 EACH.
Inbreeding Has tended to Make the Animals Delicate in Constitution, Though Beautiful.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 28.—Raising Persian cats for profit is the way a woman in Pennsylvania makes her living. She describes her means of livelihood as follows: "I seldom sell a kitten for less than $25 and I have sold a good many at $500 each. These last were especially fine specimens, of course, and bought by people for show purposes as well as for pets. A carefully selected, healthy female Persian cat should produce two litters of kittens a year, which, when between 3 and 8 months old, should sell for from $50 to $300 for show specimens and from $25 to $50 if they do not come within any of the various show classes. "Though I look upon the breeding of Persian cats as an occupation peculiarly suited to women, I don't believe that every woman could succeed in the business. To make a success with cats you must love cats, and, furthermore, you must be energetic and be willing to give the business the care and attention necessary to keep your cats in best condition.

Have Delicate Constitutions.
"There are cats, so I have been told, that deserve the reputation of having nine lives. They are not Persian cats, or, at least, not the Persian cats of today. The amount of inbreeding that has been necessary to develop the various classes of Persians has tended to make them delicate in constitution, though beautiful in coloring, length of hair and perfection of form. You must, therefore, have a thorough knowledge of how to care for and rear them. "Though I had always had a pet cat I had never owned or had the care of a Persian until I bought one with the intention of rearing them for profit. It was soon after I had graduated from the high school, and my mother was discussing the advisability of my studying stenography when I saw a litter of long-haired Persian kittens advertised at a very low price.

"It was just before Easter and I had the money for a new hat. On the pretext of buying a hat I went into town and when I returned that evening I had a Persian kitten instead of a hat. My family all laughed at me except my father. He said he thought staying at home and raising salable cats was much better than rushing off to town every morning to sit in an office and hang on a typewriter all day. "By dint of hard work and economy I managed to make and save enough money the following summer and fall to buy two more cats. With that beginning I have kept straight ahead, studying my cats and questioning other breeders about theirs. I have had several setbacks from ignorance, accidents, and one cause or another, but now my earnings are about as regular as those of any farmer or stock raiser. "The popularity of the Persian cat as a household pet is due to its affection, cleanliness, intelligence and beauty. In beauty I believe it is considered to be almost, if not quite, unexcelled. Must Be Treated Kindly.

"By nature Persian cats are loving and gentle, but because they are somewhat nervous in temperament if they do not get the right treatment they sometimes become veritable furies. But fortunately even these can be tamed. I have never known a long haired Persian that would not become docile. With cats it is well always to remember that their confidence is never as easily won as that of the average dog, but once it is yours you can take almost unlimited liberties with them. "A perfect specimen in the black Persian class is a rich jet black, free from any tinge of brown or gray. The eyes should be of a deep rich orange color. A few white or gray hairs in the coat of such a cat will knock hundreds of dollars off its value, but if by chance there should be such hairs you must not remove them. Only dishonest dealers would think of such a piece of trickery, and in breeding cats as well as all other occupations honesty is the best and safest policy."

PLANS BIG ORANGE GROVE.

Syndicate Will Plant Two Thousand Acres Near Raymondville, Tex.

Raymondville, Tex., April 28.—A syndicate of Pennsylvania men is preparing to plant a grove of 2,000 acres of orange trees near Raymondville. It will be one of the largest orange groves in the United States, it is said.

The syndicate recently purchased the land and the contract has been awarded for clearing the tract. It is now in a wild state, being covered with a dense growth of mesquite trees, prickly pear and other shrubbery. The land will then be plowed and the soil placed in perfect condition for the trees to be planted this fall. The water supply for irrigation will be obtained from artesian wells and a number of these wells will be bored upon the big farm. There is great activity in preparing large tracts of land in the Raymondville section for citrus fruit orchards. A number of California and Florida orange growers have purchased land in this vicinity for the purpose of establishing orange groves thereon.

MONUMENT TO NEGRO MAMMY.

Galveston Is Raising Half a Million Dollars for the Statue.

Galveston, Tex., April 28.—Galveston citizens have started a fund to erect a marble monument to the old negro "mammy" of the South, to cost about $500,000, of which $200,000 is pledged. They desire to pay tribute to one of the grandest characters which the history of the world records, and the resolution reads: "It should be of marble, as pure as her good old soul, and of granite, as steady and sound as her devotion." The best citizens of the city are behind the movement and are urging other Southern states to erect monuments to the devoted old nurse.

A Pennsylvania man has applied the vacuum principle to a street cleaning wagon, powerful enough to pick up pieces of rubbish equal in size and weight to halves of bricks.

HAS STRONG SPECIALTIES.
Mock Sad Alli Stock Company Is Highly Recommended.

Copper country papers speak highly of Mock Sad Alli's Stock company, which has been playing the Keridge and Calumet theaters the past two weeks. There are several excellent vaudeville features. Among the strongest of them is the performance given by Colonel Bryden's famous troupe of trained Eskimo dogs. The colonel carries a dozen or more dogs and their act is said to be one of the best of its kind ever given on the stage. Another strong feature is Sad Alli's slight of hand work and mind reading by Santos Zamarran. Other specialties are cartoon drawings by Harry Birch, lighting crayon artist, songs by Dorothy Woods, talking and singing acts by Florin Jones, harp and other musical solos by Musical Harry and comedy dancing by Billy Ireland.

"At Cozy Corners," a comedy drama in four acts, will be the offering Monday night. The prices during the week will be ten, twenty and thirty cents, with free tickets for ladies issued Monday evening under the usual conditions.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Miss Jessie Broad is here from Colorado Springs, Colo., to spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. F. H. Raiskey, and other relatives.

A special meeting of the council will be held this evening to act on the bonds of the liquor dealers. The session will be called to order at 7:30 o'clock.

Births recorded in the city yesterday were a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Sivert Jorgensen, 911 South Pine street, and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. E. Aho, 326 Cedar street.

Mrs. A. J. Yungbluth, who has been in Green Bay for several days, with her mother, Mrs. Klapp, of Black River Falls, Wis., who submitted to an operation there, reports that her mother is getting along very nicely. Mrs. Klapp is well known here.

Mrs. A. L. Garceau and her two daughters, also Mrs. H. E. Martineau, and two other young members of the family, will leave tonight for their homes in Duluth and Proctor, Minn., after a visit with John Trombly and family on North Third street.

Jerome E. Schoen and Miss Rose E. Lemire, who were married yesterday morning at St. Paul's church, Negaunee, will keep house in the Mugfur dwelling on North Third street, occupied by Mrs. John Muggur, who is to move to her Third street dwelling.

Miss Grace Clisbee, who is directing the opera, "Iolanthe," to be presented this evening at Ishpeming theater by high school students, announces that no flowers will be delivered on the stage during the performance. Miss Clisbee has found that these interruptions at times embarrass the players.

R. D. Ewing and wife, formerly of this city, now located in Denver, Colo., are expected here soon on a visit to relatives. Mr. Ewing was for a few years one of the instructors in the Ishpeming High school, and it is about five years since he paid his last visit to this city. He now represents the American Book company in Colorado.

W. A. Scoville, who has held the position of chief electrical engineer with the Marquette County Gas & Electric company, has resigned and he left last night accompanied by his family, for Muncie, Ind., where he is to take a similar position. Mr. Scoville is a fine electrician and Manager McCorkindale was sorry to lose him. He is making the change principally on account of Mrs. Scoville's health, which has not been good for some months past.

PHEASANT DEMAND GROWS.

Illinois Game Farm Cited to Show Development of the Industry.

Washington, April 28.—The demand for pheasants is increasing, according to figures just issued by the department of agriculture, and the work at the Illinois state game farm is cited to show the development of the industry.

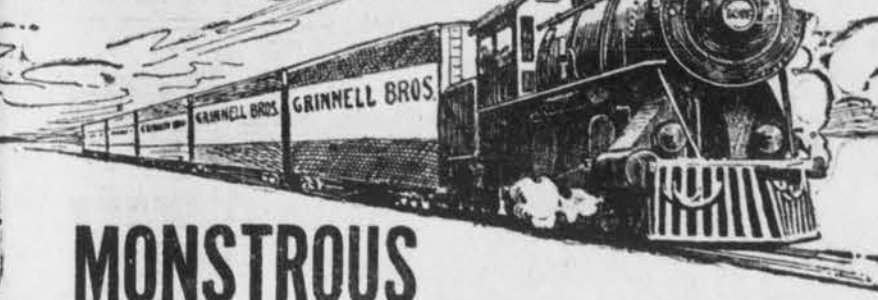

Owners of private preserves pay profitable prices for certain species for stocking their coverts and zoological and city parks are ready purchasers of the rarer species. Professor Henry Olden, of the department of agriculture compiled the bulletin on pheasants, which is now in great demand. It presents a clear and concise account of the methods used by successful pheasant raisers. The work of the Illinois state game farm in raising and distributing pheasants is summed up.

In 1891 a pair of ring-necked pheasants was brought from Oregon by a citizen of Illinois and liberated at his home. The initial importation was followed by others, the total number shipped in the eleven years from 1890 to 1900, inclusive, being 135. Pheasants of various other species were introduced but all these attempts to stock the state were futile. The establishment of the resident hunting license system later produced a very large revenue and it was decided to undertake pheasant propagation and introduction on a broader scale than had yet been tried anywhere in the United States.

In the spring of 1905 a state game farm was established on a tract of 400 acres, where the work of pheasant raising was begun under the personal supervision of the state game commissioners. The main stock is English ring-necked pheasants, though other species—versicolor, English and Mongolian—have been used in breeding experiments. The game farm has not been an unqualified success. An outbreak of croup in 1907 carried off thousands of the young, and other obstacles have been encountered. In 1908, 20,000 eggs were distributed among the farmers of Illinois while 15,000 chickens were hatched on the game farm. The extensive scale of this experiment gives it special interest, but it is too early yet to pronounce on the results.

LECTURERS BOOKED FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

ARRANGEMENTS MADE TO HAVE STRONG SPEAKERS AT SIX WEEKS' TERM AT NORMAL.

DR. HOWERTH IS COMING

A Member of University of Chicago Faculty and Leading Educational Expert—Others Who Will Be Here.

The summer term of the Northern State Normal school will this year, as usual, present a strong series of special lectures for the entertainment and instruction of the student body.

Foremost among the special lecturers who have been engaged is Professor Ira Woods Howorth, of the University of Chicago, who will be here the week of July 11. His lecture subjects are announced as follows: The Rising Generation, the Physical Welfare of School Children, Talent and Opportunity, Education and Public Health, Learning and Labor, Brains vs. Battleships, Patriotism—Instinctive and Intelligent, the Heroism of the Common Life, Social Waste in Education, Education and the Common Weal.

Dr. Howorth is a graduate of Harvard University, and has been at the University of Chicago since 1893, having been dean of the University of Chicago College for Teachers part of the time. From Jan. 1, 1908, until April 1, 1909, Dr. Howorth was the secretary of the Illinois Educational commission, appointed by the governor to codify the school laws and recommend improvements in the school system. He revised and rewrote the general school law of Illinois, prepared half a dozen bulletins on various phases of school reorganization and administration, and drafted the report of the commission, including bills for the reorganization of the state. The comparative study of the public school systems of the United States and other countries such as has been made by few men and such as has elsewhere not been using these bulletins in an effort to secure educational reforms. Dr. Howorth is thus a particularly well informed educational authority, and he is also an effective and pleasing speaker.

Other Lecturers. Mrs. Abby Snell Burnell will give a series of monologues on Hindu life July 18-19. Mrs. Burnell gained her experience of Hindu life in southern India, where she had an extended residence. She appears in Hindu costumes and tells an engrossing story of Hindu life, talking in the first person. Mrs. Burnell has met with much success in her platform work.

Dr. A. E. Winship, of Boston, known here through former appearances, has again been engaged for the summer school, and will give a series of lectures July 25-26. Among his lectures will be his new one on "Schools and Their Critics." Dr. Winship is an editor of a leading educational magazine and one of the most progressive educators at work in the country.

For two weeks in July Frank K. Walter, vice director of the Library school at Albany, N. Y., will be engaged on work for the summer session. He will give many lectures pertaining especially to library work, but will also give several lectures of popular character. Miss May Masse, children's librarian of the Buffalo public library, who like Dr. Winship, is known here because of a previous visit, will lecture on children's reading, children's books and children's literature. She will bring with her a model children's library of 300 volumes, which will be of much interest to teachers, parents and students.

Influential Copper Country Men Interested in Case of Erick Kangas.

Erick Kangas, a convict at the Marquette prison, sent from Houghton county for his seventeen years ago for the murder of a physician, is likely to obtain a commutation of sentence as a result of the interest that prominent Houghton county men are taking in his case. W. J. Galbreath, of Calumet, visited the prison this week to confer with the officials about Kangas and to interview the man himself.

The crime for which Kangas was given a sentence of life imprisonment was an unusual one. Kangas was one of a number of Finns who became involved in a brawl, following a drunken rout, in which one of the men was stabbed. Kangas went for a physician, but the physician refused to accompany him. Kangas left the house, but returned in a rage and shot the physician down.

Kangas' son is employed in the copper country, where he is highly thought of, and he has interested himself actively in securing clemency for his father. As he has strong support in his efforts it is likely that the board of pardon will be induced to commute Kangas' sentence and give him his liberty on parole. His prison record is an excellent one. He has been industrious and well behaved during the entire seventeen years he has been in confinement.

TENTATIVE LEAGUE SCHEDULE SUBMITTED

CALLS FOR EIGHTEEN GAMES AT HOME AND EIGHTEEN OUT OF TOWN FOR EACH TEAM—LEAGUE TEAM MANAGERMENTS WILL MEET TOMORROW.

A meeting of the managements of the baseball teams of the Marquette County (Crystal Falls) league has been called for the Nelson House at Ishpeming tomorrow, and will be attended by representatives of the Marquette team.

John G. Stenglein, secretary of the Marquette team, yesterday received a copy of a tentative schedule prepared by the Ishpeming management, and which will doubtless be discussed and possibly adopted at the league meeting. This schedule provides for a larger number of games than the Marquette team expected to play, and also is drawn to provide for Saturday and Sunday games each week. The Marquette management has been disinclined to arrange Saturday games, anticipating difficulty in getting its men away, particularly for the trip to Crystal Falls. It is not likely, however, that any serious objection will be made on these two points.

The Marquette team is only scheduled for three trips to Crystal Falls in the course of a four months' season. For so few trips it would probably be possible to make arrangements to get all the members of the team off from their work, without much difficulty. As for Saturday games, if the interest in the league is as pronounced as it is hoped it will be they can probably be played with profit to the teams' treasuries.

The tentative schedule calls for the Marquette team opening at Crystal Falls May 14, playing there the 14th and 15th. Unless there is a speedy change in the weather it is safe to predict that these opening games will be decidedly ragged. The Marquette team had hoped to do considerable work before this date, but has been unable to practice at all since the try-out with the public two weeks ago. The Crystal Falls team has done practically nothing in preparation for the season, as it was only about ten days ago that it was definitely decided to get a team together there.

Improvements at Grounds.

The Marquette management will make a number of improvements at the grounds. High wire fences will be extended parallel to the first and third base lines for a distance of 100 feet. They will keep the crowd on the side lines well back and make the policing of the diamond much easier than it has heretofore been. They will also put an end to the crowds along the sidelines cutting off the view from the grandstand.

The management expects to induce the officials of the Agricultural society to run three strands of barb wire around the top of the fair grounds fence. This would be an effectual discouragement of the fence route as a means of entrance, and would result in a considerable increase in the gate receipts. The baseball management has offered the fair association officials an extra game of baseball fair week, without any expense, if they will have this work done.

Whatever other work is necessary to put the diamond in good condition will also be done, and it is expected that the grounds will in all respects be in much better order this season than they were last year.

CONVICT LABOR QUESTION A POSER

COMMISSION APPOINTED BY GOVERNOR WARNER INACTIVE FOR TIME BEING—MUST REPORT TO LEGISLATURE NEXT YEAR.

According to E. C. Anthony, of Negaunee, member of the board of control of the Marquette prison, and who is also a member of the commission on prison labor charged with the duty of reporting to the legislature by the first of the new year on ways and means of employing convict labor to the best advantage, little has yet been done looking to the preparation of a report. The commission has held but one meeting, and nothing to speak of was accomplished then. The commission is subject to the call of Governor Warner, and will not convene again until he sets a time and place. Mr. Anthony expects, however, that the commission will be called together in June, and that it will shortly thereafter engage itself actively with the work of getting together data on the question it must take up. It is empowered to visit prisons outside the state and make a general survey of the field of convict labor.

Pending the time when the commission has carried its work to some advanced point, Mr. Anthony is reluctant to express his views about the subject of convict labor. He will take up the inquiry with an open mind, prepared to give the experience of other states in determining his attitude on what may best be recommended to the Michigan legislature. The subject, he says, is one involved in difficulties, and it is impossible to predict just what conclusions the commission will likely reach.

"If we could get seventy-five cents a man for convict labor I would certainly favor the present system," Mr. Anthony said yesterday. "At seventy-five cents a man we could make the Marquette prison self-supporting, and at the same time be able to keep the convict body healthy and employed on work that would teach the convicts habits of industry and prepare them for productive employment when they are discharged. We are getting considerably more money for the labor than the board did a few years ago, but I think the labor ought to be worth seventy-five cents a man a day. However, the contractors don't appear willing to pay it."

Fear Bad Situation.

It is feared that there is likely to be a bad situation in the prisons as a result of the passage of the prison labor law by the last legislature. This statute forbids the making of new contracts, pending the report of the prison labor commission. It is hoped this commission will be able to recommend a plan for employing prison labor that will meet with the approval of the legislature, but there can be no certainty as to this, for there is much difference of opinion in the legislature in regard to what should be done with the convicts. Unless the commission's report is strong and convincing, and thus of a nature to bring support to the ideas it advances, it is regarded as likely that the next session of the legislature will pass without any definite prison labor policy being authorized by law.

In that event the governor and wardens are empowered to make arrangements for continuing the present contracts, but they cannot authorize new contracts, and thus it would become practically impossible to secure better rates for the labor than are now being paid.

ORGANIZED NEW CHURCH CONFERENCE

SWEDISH LUTHERAN MINISTERIAL AND LAY DELEGATES HELD SESSIONS AT ESCANABA THIS WEEK.

When it came to the point of action there was little effective opposition to the organization of the new Swedish Lutheran conference of the Ogemaw, Givensday and Ishpeming district at the meeting of clergymen and lay delegates held at Escanaba this week. The vote on the organization was taken Wednesday, and stood 41 to 6 in favor of the new conference. Immediately following this vote the officers of the conference who will serve until the next general conference election were named.

Fifty-one delegates were present at the session, and while there was some disposition to fight the plan of organizing the new conference the majority opinion was strongly in its favor. The decision finally reached was received with harmony. Among those in attendance at the conference were: Rev. G. A. Ekman, Gladstone; Rev. J. A. Elmer, Daggett; Rev. C. J. Karl, Marinette; Rev. C. A. Rosander, Crystal Falls; Rev. C. Sandberg, Marquette; Rev. K. M. Holmberg, Metropolitan; Rev. J. W. Johnson, Ironwood; Rev. J. N. Alexis, Skanee; Rev. Waldo Ekeberg, Bessemer; Rev. G. A. Ekeberg, Munising; Rev. A. E. Monell, Merrill; Rev. S. L. Wilson, Norway; Rev. A. A. Dahlberg, Menominee; Rev. N. J. Forsberg, Calumet; Rev. F. E. Sahl, Peshigo.

Among the lay delegates in Escanaba were: August Carlson, Bark River; John Anderson, Merrill, Wis.; Fred Peterson, Irona, Wis.; John Swenson, Bessemer; Olof Larsson, Thompson, Mich.; John Anderson, Wallace, Mich.; G. N. Olson, Ironwood; J. A. Axelson, Menominee; Otto Leonardson, Peshigo, Wis.; John Bergh, Marquette.

The Escanaba meeting was marked by several special services and a number of entertaining social features. The Escanaba people extended the most generous hospitality to the visitors and did much to make their stay in the city enjoyable.
