WILL NOT CONVENE STATE ASSEMBLY

Governor Deneen Thinks That Cook County, Rather Than the Legislature, Should Probe the Charges Against Wm. Lorimer.

He Refuses to Discuss the Sensational Allegations That the Election of the Chicago Statesman Was Accomplished by Resort to Bribery—The Senator Denies Knowledge of Any Corruption and Assails the Newspaper That Gave the Story Publicly.

Springfield, Ill., May 1.—Governor Deneen tonight denied the reports that he would call a special session of the general assembly to consider the charges made by Representative Charles A. White, the legislator who is charged with having accepted a bribe for voting for William Lorimer for United States senator. The governor said: "It is a matter for the courts."

When asked for an opinion as to the truth of White's alleged disclosures, Mr. Deneen said that he did not care to discuss this phase of the situation. He intimated that in his opinion Cook county was the proper place for an investigation, adding that while the investigation could lawfully be carried on in Chicago, Springfield or St. Louis, where the alleged bribery took place, the legal machinery of Cook county was better able to take care of the investigation.

Senator Lorimer's Statement.

Chicago, May 1.—Senator Lorimer has issued a statement saying that the White statement is absolutely false. "What is the matter with Representative White is beyond me," he says. "What is the matter with the people behind him—the Chicago Tribune—is easier to tell. They are trying by deliberate lying to wreck financial institutions which I am known to be starting. It is an old game with these people. I have known it since I came here and I have maintained that it could ruin me, not only personally and politically, but in every enterprise with which I have been connected. How well it has succeeded anybody in Chicago may judge for himself."

Senator Lorimer goes on to say that he never had but a casual meeting with Representative White. He never saw him alone. He says that anyone familiar with Springfield affairs would know in a minute that such a story was untrue. Mr. Lorimer says he cannot tell why Representative White should tell such a story. He says that some time ago, in Washington, he got a letter from White, saying that he was going to write a story of his life in the legislature. He said that he had written 30,000 words and had an offer of $25,000 a word. As this would mean $750,000, Senator Lorimer says that he concluded the man was crazy. Mr. Lorimer said that his secretary suggested that the letter was a blackmail letter, but the senator says he did not believe it at the time. He wrote Representative White saying he was glad he was doing so well.

Got the Man Employment.

Senator Lorimer said that previously he had been told that White was very poor. He asked some friends to get employment for him as he had voted for him. He says that White never appeared to take the place open for him.

Mr. Lorimer says that the untruthfulness of Representative White's story is shown by his quoting Charles Luke as his authority where he attempts to bring him (Lorimer) in directly. The senator then says: "Luke is dead. There is the point to be made. I can be dead only from the grave. The trick is shown by a newspaper trick that I can hardly think that White did it. I am confident that the people in the Tribune office, who made it an object for him to sign the article, supplied him with this crooked falsehood."

"Incidentally after reading the dime novel stuff printed in the Tribune and comparing it with the letter he wrote to me, I can say that White had done as much to do with writing the Tribune story as if he had never been born."

Roger C. Sullivan, leader of the Democratic party in Illinois, discussed the bribery story by saying that Representative Browne, who is charged with handling the funds in the case, was a candidate for the senatorship himself and was not therefore working in the interest of Senator Lorimer. He said he did not believe that any Democratic member was implicated in the matter in any way.

Denials Made by Others.

Representative Charles A. White's sensational story, printed by the Tribune under copyright, declaring that he received $1,000 to cast his vote for William Lorimer for United States senator, and that he (White) also accepted $800 as his share of an alleged legislative "slush fund," were met with denials on the part of others today.

Robert E. Wilson, a Democratic representative from Chicago, declared by Representative White to have doled "slush" money at St. Louis, admits having been in St. Louis at the time White alleges the "jackpot" was distributed, but declares that the Democrats who assembled there were partisans of Representative Browne's right wing. He said he arranged a banquet for him at his home town. Mr. Browne frowned on the enterprise and the banquet was called off. According to Mr. Browne, Representative White formerly was a street car conductor in East St. Louis, and later appeared at Springfield as a lobbyist in favor of labor bills. Then he was elected to the lower house.

Representative White, in his charges, states that the house might expect to hear him called a blackmailer, but that he is prepared for that. Representative Browne said that White during the session, appealed to him several times for loans. He says he let him have $50 several times, for which he holds notes. He says the appeals came so often that he got White a job paying $75 a month, which the latter refused to take. Then the coolness sprang up. Next, he said, he received a letter from Representative White saying: "I have written the full story of my experience at Springfield in the legislature. Those who have seen it declare it is the best story that the world has seen. I wrote it for publication. I have used your name in it with deep regret, but I could not avoid it and set forth the facts. I also have told Representative Browne about it."

U. S. Senate May Make Inquiry.

Washington, May 1.—If sufficient evidence is presented the senate will investigate the charges that William Lorimer holds his seat unlawfully. The senate is the judge of its own membership. If it can be shown that the satisfaction of the senate that Lorimer obtained his seat by corrupt practice, it can expel him from membership if a two-thirds vote can be secured in favor of expulsion.

If the governor of Illinois, or any high official of the state, should present a protest against Lorimer's continued membership in the senate, that body would then be referred to the committee on privileges and elections, of which Senator Burrows of Michigan is chairman, and the committee would sit as a court to hear evidence.

Ten years ago charges were filed to the effect that Senator William A. Clark of Montana had secured his election to the senate by corrupt practices. The committee on privileges and elections by a majority vote decided the charges were true. Before the senate could take action Senator Clark resigned his seat. Later he was reelected and was allowed to stay in the senate.

WORLD'S CHAMPION TO MEET THE POLE.

Gotch and Zybko Will Wrestle at the White Sox Baseball Park at Chicago the Afternoon of May 30 for a Purse Guaranteed at $25,000.

Chicago, May 1.—Frank Gotch, world's champion wrestler, and Zybko, the premier of the European grapplers, have been matched to meet in a high class contest at the afternoon of Election Day, May 30, at the White Sox baseball park, The Empire Athletic club, under the auspices of which the bout will be held, has set a high mark in the matter of mat purses by guaranteeing the men $25,000, with the privilege of 45 per cent of the gross receipts, of which Gotch is to get 60 per cent and Zybko 40.

The agreement specifies that Police Gazette rules will govern the go, which is to be catch-as-catch-can and best two out of three falls, light or shine. The club officials propose to stage the big battle. In case of rain the ring, which is to be centered near the middle of the diamond, will be skied with a canvas, thus waterproofing the gadiators. The same method will be adopted to protect the spectators in the new seats which will be built around the ring.

In addition to the novelty of an outdoor wrestling match the fans at the ringside will also break into the moving picture films, which will reproduce the match. The picture privilege goes to Gotch exclusively, a concession that is expected to be worth thousands of dollars.

QUAKER RUNNERS BEST.

Pennsylvania's Victory at Field Meet Furnishes a Big Surprise.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 1.—For the first time in the sixteen years' history of the University of Pennsylvania, runners made a clean sweep of the college championships. Beginning with an uncertain quartet of half-mile runners, the red and blue annexed the two-mile blue ribbon event from Cornell after one of the hardest struggles ever seen on Franklin field. Apparently beaten at the beginning of the third relay in the one-mile championship, Pennsylvania came out of the crowd with a rush and won the short event by eight yards.

The quartet of athletes composing Pennsylvania's four-mile team won a most decisive victory over Cornell, Michigan and Dartmouth in the closing event on the program. Besides these victories, the red and blue athletes scored first and second in the 100-yard dash and Baumgardner showed a flash of speed in the third heat when he was credited with a ten-second performance.

PRESIDENT TAFT IN THE SMOKY CITY

He Will Take Part in Ceremonies at the Carnegie Institute Today and Also Will See the Pirates and Cubs Play Ball.

A Prominent Feature of His Visit to Buffalo Saturday His Earnest Advocacy of the Proposed Federal Income Tax—He Is Expected to Discuss the Tariff on This Trip Also—He Hopes to Overcome the Feeling Against the New Law.

Pittsburg, May 1.—President Taft and Secretary of State Knox arrived here early this morning. Mr. Taft attended a Unitarian church in the morning and took an automobile ride in the afternoon. He spent the day at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin.

Tomorrow morning Mr. Taft will attend the "Founders' Day" annual ceremonies at the Carnegie institute and also will open the fourteenth annual international art exposition in the institute. In the afternoon he will attend a ball game between the Chicago and Pittsburg national league teams. The game was specially arranged so the president could attend.

Aids Income Tax in New York.

President Taft has personally indicated his strong desire that the income tax amendment be ratified by the New York legislature. At Buffalo, whose representatives at Albany and those from Erie county generally are opposing the amendment, he yesterday twice seized upon the occasion to endorse the income tax. At the banquet of the Chamber of Commerce last night he gave point to his income tax policy by announcing that he had selected Governor Hughes for a seat in the supreme court despite the latter's attitude toward the income tax. Expressing his satisfaction at having secured the governor for this post, the president observed that he could not be accused of bossism in this matter, since he had secured a man for the bench whose views on so important a question as the income tax he could not agree. The sentiment was enthusiastically received.

Submits to an Interview.

Earlier in the day the president submitted to an interview by reporters from the Buffalo papers. It is noteworthy that the president consented to the publication of his views on this occasion, which is in contrast with established custom. Interviewed on the income tax amendment, the president said: "My views on that subject have not changed in any way. I stand where I have always stood—in favor of giving the government the right to levy such a tax in time of necessity."

Mr. Taft inquired anxiously for news about the action of the legislature at Albany, in which there was a marked degree of confidence that the New York legislature would ratify the amendment. Coming at this time and supplementing the remarks he has made in private regarding the income tax, and the letters that were written early in the week by Attorney General Wickham, urging the ratification of the amendment, these remarks of the president have a high significance and it is believed will measurably contribute toward a victory at Albany for the income tax adherents.

There is one phase of the income tax fight that appeals to the president as most peculiar. This is the fact of the manifest insincerity of many of the New York opponents of the amendment. They profess to be opposed to its ratification because Governor Hughes is opposed to it and are still consistently opposing every other measure that the governor has advocated. It is not probable that the president will have something further to say on the income tax proposition before this present visit to the Middle West terminates.

May Talk of the Tariff Also.

According to information which came out shortly before the presidential party left Washington, the country will again hear from the president in public addresses, that the Payne-Albright tariff law is all and perhaps more than the executive has heretofore proclaimed it to be.

The feeling seems to exist in administration and "regular" circles that through persistent hammering the sentiment against the tariff revision of 1909 can be overcome, and greater effort to create a change of popular opinion is planned.

TALK OVER MANILA BATTLE.

Admiral Dewey and Former Aides Hold Annual Gathering.

Washington, May 1.—Gathering, as is the annual custom, to reminisce over that eventful Sunday, twelve years ago, when they stole quietly into Manila Bay and sank the Spanish fleet, Admiral Dewey and other members of the Manila Bay society met here tonight. Since the previous meeting, four of their number had died.

Albany, N. Y., May 1.—The largest inheritance tax ever paid into the state treasury was received yesterday in the form of a check for $1,159,325.45 and was drawn on the Manhattan bank of New York. It was in payment of the tax on the estate of John S. Kennedy, the New York millionaire who died some months ago.

BOSTON PRELATE SCORES ROOSEVELT

Addressing a Meeting of Catholic Societies at Lowell, Mass., Archbishop Wm. H. O'Connell Discusses the Vatican Incident.

He Calls the Action of the Colonel in Not Meeting the Pope Insulting and a Violation of the Former President's Policy of a "Square Deal," and He Severely Censures ex-Assistant Secretary of State O'Laughlin in the Same Connection.

Lowell, Mass., May 1.—Theodore Roosevelt's action in not meeting the pope on his recent visit to Rome was called insulting and a violation of the former president's policy of a square deal by the Most Rev. Wm. H. O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, at a public meeting of the American Federation of Catholic Societies of the diocese here today. John C. O'Laughlin, former assistant secretary of state, who conducted the negotiations between Mr. Roosevelt and the vatican, was severely castigated.

The archbishop spoke of the conditions imposed on Mr. Roosevelt for a vatican audience, and of Mr. Roosevelt's refusal to submit to the conditions that he forego a visit to the Methodists, which, however, was not made. "Mr. Roosevelt, when you were president, did you stand at the door, welcoming into your parlor and your dining room the riff-raff of the street who had stoned at your head and insult your family?" asked the prelate. "Would you do that? These are the conditions."

"You who talk so much about the square deal, Mr. Roosevelt, that you could not say at least until you went to Rome and informed yourself well of the position of this institution and, having done so, if you really meant a square deal—which men now begin to doubt—you would have said, 'No, holy father, I come to you; I stand for honor and reverence and right, and I cannot as an honest man in any way participate or have anything to do with this institution.'"

Archbishop O'Connell went on to say that Mr. Roosevelt had said that he is a very fond of Catholics, but that he has shown that affection in a very strange way. He declared that Merry del Val, the papal secretary, knew there would be oceans of vilification heaped against him, and the former American executive allowed him to take the blame.

The archbishop said that Mr. O'Laughlin, who boasts that he is a Catholic, cables all over the world that his church is in error and Roosevelt is a saint. "That is the sort of a Catholic we are ashamed of. He will live to see the day he will regret these words."

NORD ALEXIS PASSES FROM LIFE.

Haiti's Former President, Deposed in 1908, Dies in Jamaica.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 1.—Nord Alexis, ex-president of Haiti, died here today. He had lived here since 1908, when he was deposed and was obliged to flee from Haiti, after the revolutionaries had overthrown his government.

Alexis, who was variously estimated at from ninety to 100 years old, was a well-educated negro who became conspicuous in the Haitian wars as a soldier. He became president in 1902. His administration was not a great success, as the politicians sought his downfall for his punishment of the treasury looters.

Early in 1908 the movement against him gained great strength, and a reign of terror followed in which Alexis executed as many of his foes as possible. Warships of four nations were rushed to the island to protect the foreigners. Simon later entered the field and Alexis was obliged to flee for his life to a French warship. Simon was then elected president.

Alleged Notorious Horse Thief Is Captured by Chicago Police.

Chicago, May 1.—A man giving his name as Ernest Alyva, an alleged horse thief, said he had been operated in four states in Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois for ten years and who is held here as a fugitive, was identified tonight as the man who shot Chief of Police von O'Hara at Kenosha, Wis., July 4 last. His identification was made by Peter Mingen, a Kenosha deliveryman. Alyva denies that he shot O'Hara. He says he is not a horse thief. He will be taken to Laporte county, Ind., tomorrow to answer a charge of horse stealing. If not convicted there, the authorities say he will be turned over to Wisconsin.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 1.—J. A. Campbell, a wealthy farmer of Morgan county, and his daughter, Mrs. Mahel Addison, were held to the grand jury today to answer the charge of conducting a fraudulent matrimonial scheme. A search of Mrs. Addison's rooms brought to light more than four hundred letters from men, some containing money for a wedding outfit. The Campbell advertising has been so successful that the authorities investigated.

GREETING ABROAD A SURPRISE TO HIM

Former President Roosevelt Says That the Continued Enthusiasm of the People of Europe Far Exceeds His Anticipation.

He Helps the Dutch Celebrate the Birthday of the Little Princess, and Then, After a Day Devoted to the National Tulip Show and an Inspection of Art Treasures, He Leaves for Denmark—Crowds Cheer Him at Every Opportunity.

Amsterdam, May 1.—Theodore Roosevelt devoted today to an inspection of a magnificent display of tulips and of Dutch paintings. He motored from The Hague to Haarlem, to the national tulip show, where President Roosevelt presented the visitor with a silver model of the "Half-Moon." President Kralage described the tulip industry, pointing out that Holland had shipped to America 8,200,000 pounds of bulbs yearly.

After an inspection of the wonderful gardens, Mr. Roosevelt visited the fine gallery at the Town Hall, groups of girls pelting him with flowers.

From Haarlem, the automobiles carried three thousand persons were waiting at the Beaufort square, and they gave a hearty cheer on the arrival of the Americans. Here Mr. Roosevelt visited the Hyks museum, viewing the art treasures, among them the priceless Rembrandt.

Mr. Roosevelt and his family left tonight for Copenhagen. The former president expressed his surprise at the continued enthusiasm of the people over his European trip. He said that it far exceeded his anticipation.

Secretary of the Interior Ballinger states emphatically that it isn't so.

Hammerstein ran $250,000 behind on his last season of grand opera. No wonder he quit.

Our baseball league season will open two weeks hence, provided we have no more snow storms to set things back.

To put it mildly, there appear to be numerous acute differences of opinion between Secretary Ballinger and Mr. Glavis.

The Democrats will be gratified that Mr. Bryan is gratified because John W. Kern was endorsed for senator by the Indiana convention.

There is no particular reason, to be sure, why Mr. Osborn should carry Ingham county. Dr. Bradley carried it in the primaries of 1908.

With two deputies prowling about Marquette county there will be more risk than heretofore in playing ducks and drakes with the game laws.

Jeffries' trainers advise him to be philosophical in his attitude toward his foil. He could be philosophical enough if only the other fellow had the bit.

Mr. Hearst and his editors will next time be sure they have the facts to back them up before they try to put anything over on Mayor Gaynor of New York.

Mr. Roosevelt will not be enumerated as a citizen of the United States in the census of 1910. He is away and the family homestead is locked up. However, that will not be the insuperable barrier in the way of a third term.

If our legislative bodies, Representative McKinlay, averaged up in personal honesty and integrity and devotion to the public we to our newspapers, business would be better, stocks would be higher, and we would be happier all around.

The friends of the administration rate bill have things well in hand in the senate. No amendments proposed by objectors to the measure in its present form will stand any chance. The margin of safety is not a large one, but this is another case in which an ell is as good as a mile.

There are no candidates for the office of auditor general other than O. B. Fuller, of Delta county. Mr. Fuller's administration of his department has earned general approbation, and his re-nomination in accordance with the accepted precedent will follow as a matter of course next fall.

The Escanaba Journal highly approves of Judge Flannigan's $95 fine for a first offense against the liquor laws. The Journal says it has always maintained that the nominal fines imposed in this circuit in the past have simply placed a premium on lawlessness. The Journal is about right, too.

The stock markets are in a bad way, and our cheerful broker friends assure us that they are going to get worse. To be on the safe side our speculative talent might as well plan to hang on two or three years more, in their effort to get out even. Then, if they are disappointed, it will be an agreeable sensation.

Deputy Game Warden Maney says he will make a record in the office that will persuade the county board that it can never again afford to get along without the services of a special county deputy. His work will be attentively watched, and he will come in for much commendation if he shows violators that the game laws are no longer to be made little of.

While Dick Fletcher of Bay is spouting about the way that Osborn would be cleaned up, at Lansing the other day, Jack Cremer, of the Detroit Journal, says there is in Lansing, unknown to Dick, primary petitions for Osborn bearing the names of 2,200 voters of Bay. That's joggling along some for primary petitions, representing as it does nearly a quarter of the entire Bay county vote.

The interest of Mr. Osborn's campaign utterances comes largely from the fact that he is not afraid to say frankly what's in his mind. As a general rule the utterances of campaign speakers bear little relation to what they are thinking, but are dictated largely by political expediency. When a man comes along who talks straight from the shoulder, as frankly as if he were talking to a friend in private conversation, the jaded banqueters begin to sit up and to forget that the evening is wearing along toward morning.

At the meeting of the State League of Republican clubs at Lansing last week not a single upper peninsula Republican club was represented, for the excellent reason that there isn't a Republican club to be found in the entire fifteen counties north of the straits.

This condition is doubtless owing to the one-sided political situation in this region, but still is not one reflecting credit on the upper peninsula. There ought to be strong and permanent Republican clubs in all of the more populous counties, Chippewa, Menominee, Delta, Marquette, Houghton, Dickinson and Gogebic. They ought to feature annual banquets to which they would invite speakers of note, and they certainly should be in active affiliation with the State League of Republican clubs, thus bringing the active men in politics in the two peninsulas into closer relationship.

The result would be reflected in a better understanding of the upper peninsula and its interests in the more populous part of the state and an enhancement of the political influence of this region. To be sure, we have been doing pretty well lately, but no legitimate effort should be overlooked to secure adequate standing in the party councils.

The score is now "one all" in Editor Baldwin's accounting of libel suits, for a jury in circuit court Friday returned a verdict of $500 damages in favor of Sheriff Aronson of Delta county. Some months ago Mr. Baldwin secured a verdict of damages for a boycott he alleged was started against his Escanaba Journal by the saloon men. The case brought by Aronson arose from the arrest by him last year of the chauffeur of an automobile in which Mr. Baldwin was a passenger. Mr. Baldwin was one of the officials of a public carnival being held in Escanaba and was engaged in his official work when Sheriff Aronson held up the car and arrested the driver for exceeding the speed limit. Baldwin, holding that emity toward him dictated Aronson's course, treated the latter to a thorough browning in subsequent issues of his paper. He charged that on the day in question Aronson was drunk, that, moreover, it was no exception for him to be drunk and that he was an habitue of immoral resorts. As soon as he could get around to it Aronson brought suit. The court ruled out all evidence relating to Aronson's general character and only admitted evidence bearing on his condition on the day he arrested Baldwin's chauffeur. On this basis the case went to the jury, after Judge Flannigan had delivered a three-quarter of an hour charge. The jury divided the award of $500 into $300 as compensatory damages and $200 for injuries to Aronson's feelings, caused by the libelous article. Editor Baldwin's judgment against the saloon men exceeded in size the one awarded Aronson. If we recollect aright, the former case has been appealed. As Baldwin is nothing if not a fighter, it is assumed that he will send the present case to a higher court, also, if there is any peg to hang an appeal on.

THE STATE'S RAILWAY CASES.

The state board of auditors is desirous that the suit against the Michigan Central railroad be taken up at once and pushed to the earliest possible conclusion. Land Commissioner Russell introduced a resolution covering this matter at last week's meeting, and it was passed by a unanimous vote. It reads as follows: "Resolved, that the board of auditors at their meeting April 13 refused to consent to a settlement of the case of the state against the Michigan Central railroad for delinquent taxes; that the governor be respectfully requested to instruct the state's attorney to proceed with such case at once, in order to obtain a speedy decision in the Ingham county circuit court, where the case requires the arguments only, and where the evidence, now completed, is fresh in the minds of all concerned."

Considerable ill-feeling has arisen over the refusal of the board of auditors to authorize the settlement of the litigation between the state and the Michigan Central company, as advocated by Governor Warner, Attorney General Bird and the state's attorneys. The board is not a unit in the matter. Land Commissioner Russell and Secretary of State Martinello stood out against the settlement, but Treasurer Sleeper favored it. Treasurer Sleeper also takes the position, it is said, that the board's resolution requesting immediate steps to push the case was not necessary, or called for. At the attorney general's office it is asserted that Governor Warner has no authority to issue the instructions recommended by the board, and that, in any event, they are not necessary, as the case will be pushed without any pressure from outside being brought to bear on the attorney general's department.

Now that it has been decided that there is to be no settlement, the litigation should be disposed of with the least delay, but no doubt the attorney general will attend to that. There is no reason why he or any other state official should favor delay. The merits of the contentions involved are fixed and will not in any manner be changed by procrastination.

A COMMENDABLE POLICY.

The socialists in Milwaukee have adopted one highly commendable policy. They propose to obtain experts for the management of the city's public works.

Milwaukee has had a three-member board of public works. The socialists have both the power and the inclination to legislate it out of office, and no one will be sorry to see it go, for its record has been one of extravagance and high costs for all work accomplished.

The socialists intend to put one man in charge of its public works. Mayor Seidel has offered the position to Prof. Bemis, of Cleveland, now deputy water commissioner in that city, and who was formerly Tom L. Johnson's right hand man, as commissioner of public works. Prof. Bemis has a high reputation for enlightened public service. However, he will not go to Milwaukee, for he has only gotten fairly started on his present work in Cleveland and does not think it would be treating the Cleveland administration fairly to leave it at this time.

But if not Bemis, Mayor Seidel is expected to find some other man of equal good character and ability, whose principal recommendation will be ability to secure results and administer his duties without regard to politics. Going outside the city for a superintendent of public works has the advantage of assuring a commissioner who will know nothing of local political factions and thus have no temptation to do aught but devote himself to getting the largest possible returns in public improvements for the expenditure of the taxpayers' money.

It is now the fashion, in all but exceptional cities, both great and small, to accept as fixed the principle that these expert positions must, at all hazards, be given to men of local residence. But the cities will not approximate the economical results desired in administration of public departments until they search out, as Mayor Seidel now proposes to do for Milwaukee, the best talent to be found anywhere and make judgment of service the sole basis of selection of the official, regarding any interference in politics as a sufficient cause for removal.

When Milwaukee has one man solely responsible for its public works it will know where to place the credit if the results are good and just whom to give the blame to if they are not what they should be. Responsibility will be centered and there will be no chance for an erring official to dodge behind someone else.

If the socialists' innovation in the management of public works meets with general approbation it will doubtless have a far reaching effect on Milwaukee's municipal administration. It is nothing more or less than one step in the direction of the commission system of municipal government.

BLOCKADED.

Every Household in Marquette Should Know How to Resist It.

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked.

Help the kidneys with your work. The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from this vicinity.

Mrs. E. Steinko, 615 Wells Ave., Escanaba, Mich., says: "Some years ago I caught a heavy cold which settled in my kidneys and caused me to suffer from backache. I was in such a bad way that I could hardly dress and though I tried all kinds of remedies, I steadily grew worse. Someone finally told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did so. In a week I was able to work and my back was free from pain."

The above statement was given on February 3, 1907, and was confirmed by Mrs. Steinko on November 2, 1908 in the following words: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills and would not be without them in the house. I am only too glad to try all kinds of remedies, and I advise other kidney sufferers to try this remedy."

THE DIFFICULT DIVORCE PROBLEM

Here is Another Way of Looking at the Relationship Between the Sexes, Married and Unmarried.

Allan L. Benson, discussing divorce—"The most difficult problem of modern civilization"—in Pearson's Magazine, is little inclined to accept the conservative attitude toward legal separation, and in his arguments expresses some thoughts that will find echo in the minds of many persons of both sexes.

Mr. Benson points out that it is natural, instinctive, even, for a human being to desire the companionship of the opposite sex. Children play together happily; all through youth the sexes are attracted each to the other enjoying mental companionship, and having many friends among the opposite in sex.

But the moment a man marries, he finds that the ceremony has practically annihilated his right to enjoy the mental companionship of any woman save his wife, and that without annihilating that part of his nature which always did and still does demand such companionship.

"In the presence of his wife he may say to other women what he pleases, provided he pleases, to say nothing worth saying; and when his wife is not present—well, for the sake of the family he would better not be present. In brief, he asserts that marriage, from the earliest stage, develops into the ownership of the wife by her husband and the ownership of his wife by the wife, and he goes on to say:

"Speaking for men in general, I think I may say that we are not tired of our wives in the sense that we should get tired of them if they were not their permanent residences in the country; nor, all things considered, would we prefer any other women to our wives. In fact, we are pretty much the same men that we were before we were married. We are busy with our work, much of the time, but when we are not at work we crave human companionship. Not the companionship only of men or only of women, but the companionship of both men and women.

We recognize the fact that a wife should be to her husband, not only a companion but a friend, and that naturally he should have been companionship more than that of any other.

"But who wants to have among women only one friend? What man, having only one friend, would not be a woman, but I have not the shadow of a doubt that women have the same craving for a diversified companionship that men have for a diversified feminine friendship. I know that women, before they are married, have such a craving, and, during my life-time, I have neither seen nor heard of a man who has not had a woman's nature can be changed by the utterance of a marriage ceremony, any more than can that of a man but let a married woman try to satisfy that longing, even in a perfectly decent way, and she will find a domestic storm swirling about her head which will chill her to the heart. Conscious of her innocence though she may be, she is threatened with utter ruin—disgrace, loss of home and children, everything. Among men, she may have only acquaintances—no really good friends. And being devoid of a diversified masculine friendship that men have for a diversified feminine friendship. I know that women, before they are married, have such a craving, and, during my life-time, I have neither seen nor heard of a woman who has not had a man's nature can be changed by the utterance of a marriage ceremony, any more than can that of a woman but let a married man try to satisfy that longing, even in a perfectly decent way, and he will find a domestic storm swirling about her head which will chill her to the heart. Copper Country

TO PURCHASE THEATER SITE.

Red Jacket Council Plans on Securing Present Leased Ground.

It is probable that the village of Red Jacket will acquire the lots on which stand the municipal theater and town hall building and the fire station. The matter is to be considered by the council at its regular meeting tomorrow evening. It is understood that the deal can be closed at any time the councilmen wish and that the property will be transferred very soon. The property comprises three lots on the northeast corner of Sixth and Elm streets and one lot in the middle of the block, west side of Sixth, between Elm and Oak streets. They are most advantageously located and are considered very valuable.

The village has held the property under lease from the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, which owns the land, for the past several years. The present lease is a five-year contract, expires this month. As the property is constantly becoming more valuable and will probably always be occupied by the municipal buildings, it is considered advisable that the village purchase it in order to protect the taxpayers. No trouble whatever is ever likely to arise between the village and the mining company, but the village fathers wish to be on the safe side.

The property where the fire station is now standing has been occupied by the village only since the year 1898, when the building was erected. Where the village hall and theater building stands, however, was formerly located the old town hall. When the theater building was erected the town hall was demolished and is now a vacant municipal theater block. The old fire station was in the rear of the town hall, where the dining rooms, village jail and kitchen are now situated. Included in the purchase will be the lot south of the theater building now used for lawn of park purposes.

The Calumet municipal theater is considered the finest in the northern peninsula, with the exception of the Kearsarge theater in Hancock, which was built along similar lines. The Calumet theater was erected by the village and is the property of the town. A considerable income is derived from its rental each year. It is one of the only two municipal theater buildings in the United States.

The fire station, which was erected in 1898, is the most costly and finest in northern Michigan. It is constructed entirely of brownstone. The theater building was erected in 1899. It is constructed of cream colored brick with sandstone trimmings. The theater was opened on March 20, 1900, with the opera "Highwayman."

YOUNG GIRL WANTS A HOME.

Judge Bentley has a peculiar case in the Probate Court.

Judge Bentley of the probate court, W. H. Mason, county agent of the state board of corrections, charities, and Mrs. G. M. Walker, superintendent of Good Will Farm, are severally and jointly in a quandary. The following advertisement which will appear in various agricultural journals may explain the case.

"Wanted—A home for a girl of thirteen who has no parents. She is a ward of a home finding agency, has been in six homes and returned as undesirable, is not always truthful, cannot read, is lazy and slow, and has a remarkable weakness for the company of boys. But she is bright in school. If she were your child, what would you do with her? Is there a family of enough faith and Christian grace to undertake the making of a respectable woman of her? We believe that there is. A farm home would offer advantages over one in town, and a treatment of infinite patience and love for the next five years might bring abundant reward. Address the probate court, Houghton, Mich.

This strange girl has been at the juvenile detention building for some weeks and Judge Bentley is taking this means of finding her a home if possible. Mrs. Walker says the girl is not bad enough to be sent to Lansing, nor foolish enough to be sent to Lapeer, but that she is otherwise a great annoyance wherever she is.

HANCOCK BOY IS MISSING.

Feared Portage Lake May Have Swallowed Yaker Oskerd.

It is feared that Portage lake has claimed another Hancock boy as a victim. Yaker Oskerd, sixteen-year-old son of Eskel Oskerd, has been missing since noon Friday. He had taken his father's dinner to him at the yard of the Armstrong-Theilmann Lumber company, and had left the yard, apparently for home. However, he has not been seen since. It is feared that he went riding in a boat on or near the lake, and fell into the water and was drowned.

When the boy did not return, his parents had a search for him. Chief of Police Tibor was called upon to assist. All Friday night and all day Saturday the city was gone over by friends and the authorities, but without result. Finally the search in the city was given up and it became the opinion that he had fallen from the lake and had drowned. The lake is now being dragged.

TO LEAVE CALUMET CHURCH.

Rev. N. J. Forsberg Will Take Rock Island Swedish Lutheran Pulpit.

Rev. N. J. Forsberg, pastor of the Calumet Swedish Lutheran church, has practically decided to accept a call from the Rock Island (Ill.) church of the same denomination. Mr. Forsberg has not yet resigned the present pastorate, but will do so in the near future. He plans to leave for his new field in September. At Rock Island there is a Swedish Lutheran church and school and a church is being established. He will be one of the strongest in the country and will be located at a very important point.

Mr. Forsberg has been the pastor at Calumet about seven years, during which time he has helped greatly to strengthen the church organization. He came from South Bend, Ind., where he spent six years in the ministry.

SEED SUPPLY EXHAUSTED.

Congressman Young Cannot Fill Second Order—The Corn Contest.

The annual supply of seeds which Congressman Young sent to the Copper Country for distribution was completely exhausted. Secretary McNamara writes to Mr. Young for an additional supply. He was advised yesterday that the order could not be filled, and people who have not received government seeds will have to wait until next year.

Mr. McNamara has received the seed corn which will be distributed to school children of Houghton, Baraga, Keweenaw and Ontonagon counties for the Copper Country Fair corn contest. He will send the seed to Mr. McNamara, who has received much encouragement from school superintendents, and he is convinced the contest will greatly encourage an interest in agriculture among the children of the district.

COUNCIL MEETING INTERESTS.

Nominations of Hancock Officials Will Be Made Tonight.

The meeting of the Hancock city council this evening will be the most important of the year. One of the matters to come up will be the confirmation of the appointments of Mayor James. It is certain that changes will be made in some of the offices. It is generally conceded that Chief of Police Tibor will be reappointed. A steward will be named to Attorney John Kiskilla. It has been rumored that the city will have a new health officer and street commissioner.

In addition to these appointments, the council will open bids for the making of improvements at the driving park; the annual appropriation bill will be presented; bids for the sidewalk bonds will be considered; the regular monthly business will be transacted, and other matters will be brought up.

ONIGAMING CLUB OPENS.

The Onigaming yacht club will be open for members and their families commencing today. For the past two months considerable work has been done at the grounds and the building, in the way of getting everything in readiness for the season. A lighting system, operated by power from the electric company at Houghton, has been installed, as well as a water system operated by electric motor. Two acres of the club's land along the lake shore and the main highway has been changed from a virgin forest to more suitable club property. At a meeting of the board of governors, held last week, a number of new members were elected.

The clubhouse service in 1909 cost $5,357,000.

Mining News

A YEAR OF COPPER DEFICITS.

The year 1909 will go down into copper mining history as a year of copper deficits. In the large majority of cases the copper mining companies which have thus far reported the operations for the twelve months of 1909 have shown a deficit after the payment of operating expenses and in quite a number of cases a deficit after the payment of dividends. North Butte paid out in dividends $500,000 more than it extracted and Utah Consolidated disbursed in dividends $445,737 above net profits. In the following table is presented a list of five of the more prominent dividend payers which were compelled to draw on the profit and loss account for the payment of dividends. The Old Dominion and Mohawk companies, however, showed only a relatively slight deficit. The table follows:

Company	Dividends	Net
North Butte	$1,035,303	$1,600,000
Utah Consolidated	154,263	600,000
Cal. & Arizona	532,225	800,000
Mohawk	223,692	300,000
Old Dominion	444,952	488,000

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

Some organization eleven years ago the Amalgamated Copper company makes a disburse to its shareholders in dividends $61,252,223, or a little less than 4% per cent per annum. This average is equal to an income of approximately 6 per cent on the present market price of the stock.

President Adams of the North Butte Development Company makes an official announcement of the fact that a controlling interest in the company has been turned over to the Butte & Superior company, in consideration of the latter's agreement to develop the Over-the-Hill property, which was shut down at the time of the panic, after having produced 2,541,880 pounds of copper in 1906, and 5,091,343 pounds in 1907. With the exception of a 2,000-ton lot shipments were not resumed until the first of the new year. These are now being maintained at the rate of 150 tons per day and net profits are said to be in the neighborhood of $100,000 per month. It is expected that the company will be placed on a dividend paying basis within the next few months, and it is rumored that the disbursements will be at the rate of $4 per annum.

KEWEENAW.

The Keweenaw Copper company, with some $100,000 in its treasury, has sufficient money to carry on whatever work it may desire to carry on at the present time. The management has planned for the current year. President Wright says that stockholders will not be called upon this year, at least, for further assessments. There is now $14 paid in on the stock, part of which is $25. The management states that "the drill at No. 26 hole is in what is believed to be the Kearsarge lode at a depth of 920 to 950 feet from the surface. The drill is not through yet and copper is well distributed through the ore similar to the core taken out from 835 to 852 feet in depth, which also was well mineralized. This lode is directly north of the new Kearsarge shaft, which is being sunk where the lode had a very good showing of copper at the surface. As the lode has now been cut by a vertical drill hole over 2,000 feet deep on the dip of the lode, showing increased mineralization and width of lode the outlook is considered very encouraging for a successful mine at this point. Development work is still continuing at the Melora shaft, where from the bottom, down 1,700 feet.

Bridgeport, Ct., May 1.—The residue of the estate of Mr. Margaret Austin, valued at between $25,000 and $30,000, is left by her will to the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of Connecticut for the purchase of a site and construction of a home within five miles of New Haven for the widows and orphans of Odd Fellows in good standing at the time of death. If the grand lodge does not accept the gift in this form the money is to go to the Odd Fellows' home at Groton.

Better Electric Service.

A 150-horse power boiler costing $2,000, and which when installed will increase the steam pressure from eighty to 125 pounds, is now being put in at the electric light plant at Munising. This improvement will enable the company to give its patrons better service.

Jury Awards $2,500 Damages.

After being out for over nine hours the jury in the case of Philip Martin Shingle company, tried in the Delta county circuit court at Escanaba, returned a verdict of $2,500. The case involved the damage sustained by a young man who lost an arm while employed at the Jerry Madden mill.

Weds a Detroit Girl.

Charles J. Winiger, a popular young attorney at Iron Mountain, went to Detroit last week and was united in marriage there to Miss Alta Winston Poppleton. The bride is a charming member of one of the pioneer families of Michigan. She is a daughter of E. C. Poppleton, banker and legislator, and a granddaughter of Hon. Orrin Poppleton, who was president of the Michigan Historical society. She is a graduate of Wells college and has been prominent in Detroit social circles.

Former U. P. Educator.

Announcement is made of the death of J. A. Chisholm, formerly principal of the Troy schools when that schoolcraft city was thriving and paid a salary superior to that of many a city superintendent. Mr. Chisholm was also for some time commissioner of schools for the State of Michigan. He was possessed of great educational ability and after leaving the upper peninsula held various positions of responsibility and large remuneration in southern Michigan. He passed away at Montague.

Street Carnival Proposed.

If negotiations now in hand are successfully concluded, a street carnival will be held in Iron Mountain this summer. It will be held the week of the annual reunion of the Sons of St. George lodges of the state, at which time several thousand peninsula people will visit the city. A committee of the Iron Mountain lodges of the Sons of St. George is now negotiating with the Parker Carnival company and it is expected that the deal will be closed. The city council has voted to grant the company certain street privileges. The Parker company has similar proceedings in other Michigan towns.

Trout Fishers Heavily Fined.

Game Warden Rowett recently spent several days in the Iron River country and as a result of the unexpected visitation a half dozen or more illegal fishers of trout were haled into court and heavily fined, reports the Iron Mountain Journal. The warden arrested several of the leading citizens of the Iron River. Warden Rowett is doing good work. He is fearless and no respecter of persons. His district—as well as Houghton's—is much too large to be successfully patrolled. The warden is a veteran of the Spanish-American war and one of the best fellows on earth to meet. Mr. Kerr declares it is his intention to conduct a clean-cut, progressive campaign for the office he is seeking. He believes in individualism in the conduct of affairs, but is not a standpatter nor has he ever been charged with being a Canadian man. During his stay in Marquette, Mr. Kerr stated that he is sure of a solid majority from the copper country of 10,000. This would indicate that he is a man of whom Mr. Young may well take heed.

Will Raise Money for Ball Team.

That the Gladstone baseball team will be given proper financial backing what will be known as a "Paddlers Parade" will be made one of the biggest events of its kind ever planned in the part of the peninsula. Mrs. G. R. Empson, Mrs. O. L. Metz and Miss Lou Nicholas are in charge of the project and every fan in the city will cooperate with the committee in making it a financial success. The work is being done in a most efficient manner, but when it is held a boat excursion from Escanaba to Gladstone will be arranged and Escanaba fans will be given an opportunity to take part. The Gladstone Opera House will be engaged and some of the leading businessmen of the city, in costume, will assume the roles of flower girls, pencil peddlers, suspended dispensers and every imaginable grade and condition of peddlers and agents known to man will be represented.

Sues Saloomists for $3,000.

Mrs. Aurora Toivanen of Mass. City, Ontonagon county, has commenced suit against four Mass. City saloon keepers $3,000, which she seeks as damages for selling liquor to her husband. The defendants are John Makki, James Kidd, Matt Pertunen and Emil Eriksson. The plaintiff charges that during the past four years, after having been served with legal notices by the supervisors, the defendants sold liquor to her husband, Andrew F. Toivanen, and that he is now a habitual drunkard; that she is compelled to earn a livelihood for herself and family, and is directly through drink her husband has squandered a sum of approximately $4,000. The plaintiff states that she resided at eight years ago the family previous to the present time. The husband was a temperance lecturer and preacher. The latter date lectured for the cause of temperance in Finland. He lectured at Mass. City prior to four years ago and meanwhile had accumulated an account of $3,000 and a stock holding worth $1,000. This money has, the complainant alleges, been squandered, and the family is practically destitute, dependent upon the mother. Summons have been served on the defendants, and the case will come up at the next term of the Ontonagon county circuit court.

Makes Fight for Liquor License.

Members of the township board of Superior, Chippewa county, have been served with notices that Arthur Larone, who was refused a liquor license, would on May 6, petition the circuit court to grant a mandamus compelling the board to reconvene and grant such a license. It appears that the board decided that one saloon was sufficient for the needs of the township. That is two members of the board so decided, the other two members being favorable to more. When the board met April 16 the liquor bond of A. W. Clark was favorably acted upon and a license was granted, but the bond of Larone was refused on account of the insufficiency of the sureties. Subsequently the board held another meeting when Larone and Escanaba presented surety bonds in the same amount and from the same company presented by Clark, and which were accepted. Supervisor Nelson and Justice Gleason voted to accept them and grant licenses, but the clerk and another justice voted against the proposition, hence the mandamus proceedings. Superior township, it is said, has a population of over two thousand, and under the law would be entitled to four saloons. Paeolonia is awaiting the result of the proceedings brought by Larone, and if the latter gets a favorable decision he will begin similar proceedings if necessary to compel the board to grant him a license for the operating of a saloon at Eskerman.

Angus Kerr Gun-Shooting.

Hon. Angus W. Kerr of Calumet, who is a candidate to succeed H. Olin Young as representative of the Twelfth district in congress, accompanied by James Fisher of Laurium, was a visitor here during the week says the Marquette Courier-Record. Mr. Kerr is a lawyer by profession, being one of the ablest prosecuting attorneys that Houghton county ever had, and is a former member of the Michigan legislature. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American war and one of the best fellows on earth to meet. Mr. Kerr declares it is his intention to conduct a clean-cut, progressive campaign for the office he is seeking. He believes in individualism in the conduct of affairs, but is not a standpatter nor has he ever been charged with being a Canadian man. Ex-Gov. Folk Says the Democrats Can Win the Election on It.

New York, May 1.—Declaring that the increased cost of living, which has been brought about by the growth of monopoly under the Republican party, would be the issue in the next national political campaign, ex-Gov. Folk of Missouri left this city tonight for his home in St. Louis.

"This increase in the cost of commodities is going into the pockets of a small class of men, the beneficiaries of some other of special privilege," ex-Gov. Folk said. "The farmers find that although they raise the food-stuffs, they are not getting the benefit of the higher prices. This condition of affairs has grown up under Republican administrations. The present tariff, with its exaggerated taxes on many necessities and its free list excessively padded with duties, is essentially a Republican measure.

"During Republican administrations, too, the beef trust has so gained in power that one of the packers, who was tried in my home town, virtually admitted that it was a monopoly. This question of the increased cost of living is fundamental. It gets right into the heart of every man and woman in this country today. The welfare and happiness of every voter is concerned in it. The party which makes a platform of it can hardly fail to win the next national election. If the Democratic party takes it up vigorously, it cannot fail to win. The Democratic party should take a clean-cut stand against the system of 'protection.' The fight should be for free trade in raw materials and protected manufactures. There must be no protection for any article which is liable to bring about monopoly.

"We condemn an individual for selling his vote for a few thousand dollars. What are the people of this country going to do in the next election about the great political organization which sells its influence for millions of dollars in campaign funds?"

WILSON'S CLASS RING STOLEN.

Gift to Football Player Taken While He Lay Dying in Hospital.

Annapolis, May 1.—During his last illness, and while he lay a helpless cripple, devoid of all feeling in his fingers as well as the rest of his body, the class ring, a handsome signet bearing the insignia motto and crest of the class of 1911, was stolen from Midshipman Earl D. Wilson, former quartermaster of the navy football team who died at the naval hospital here on April 12. This is the well founded rumor in Annapolis now. Inquiry at the naval hospital brought the answer that "unfortunately there is something in the story." Further than this no definite information could be gained.

The class rings are issued only when a midshipman becomes a second class man of the year before he graduates. Ordinarily each midshipman buys his own ring, which becomes the pride of his heart, and according to custom it must never be given to any one unless to the girl who is to be the midshipman's wife. Wilson's ring, however, was presented to him by his classmates as a Christmas present following the injury. The ring and the young athlete's watch were both hung on his bed from where they disappeared. The facts have just become known and have caused widespread indignation.

An investigation is under way, and it is likely that should the guilty person or persons be located the severest penalty will be meted out to them.

Gladstone and Bismarck were the controlling powers in European politics when both were past seventy-five years of age.

Bishop G. Matt Williams conducted confirmation services for a large class at Escanaba yesterday at St. Stephen's church, where he preached both afternoon and evening.

The steamer Oceanic and her consort, the Pennington, are in with coal. The former will be unloaded at Spear's dock, the schooner at Pickands'. The steamer Van H. Gratwick also is at the latter dock.

The ore carriers Maricopa, Marina and Dan Case, of Detroit, was in Marquette Saturday and yesterday. Mr. Case is in the publishing business, being interested in the Michigan Investor and other publications.

D. S. Donovan, J. E. Tobin, Jr., and John Siegel, who spent yesterday in the copper country, with other members of the committee on arrangements for the attendance of the upper peninsula Elks at the Detroit National reunion in July, will be home this afternoon.

Griffin took out cargoes from the South Shore docks yesterday. All departed for Cleveland. No boats were loaded Saturday. Arrivals at the S. A. L. dock the past two days have been the Fitzgerald, Choctaw and Hand, for Cleveland, and the Miller and Carnegie, for Buffalo. The Brazil arrived.

Miss Jessie Palmer returned from Houghton Saturday. She will leave today for Ontonagon, where with her sister, Mrs. W. J. Petree, she will produce with amateur talent the musical comedy, "Fi Fi." Attorney Arthur H. Brown of Ontonagon will sing the leading role. Miss Palmer and Mrs. Petree directed a "khrinis" at Houghton last week.

Walter J. Walsh, for over ten years an officer at the Marquette prison, has resigned his position and will henceforth make his home on a place he has acquired about nine miles down the line of the M. & S. E. railway. He has disposed of his home in the city. Mr. Walsh is a member of the G. A. R. and has been an excellent official at the prison, where his retirement from the service is regretted.

Charles Schaffer to Build—Work on the foundation of a home that Charles Schaffer is building on the site of the former Longyear mansion, between Ridge and Arch streets, east of Cedar, has been started. The home will be the most pretentious that has been erected in Marquette for many years and will be in keeping with the beautiful location it will have.

Many Went a-Fishin'—The warm weather of yesterday morning led many people who had not planned to do so to take an eleventh hour departure to neighboring trout streams, and they were all visited by many expectant anglers. No catches were reported, as conditions were not at all favorable to successful fishing. The water of the streams is unusually high, and it will be some days still before it recedes to a point that will make good fishing.

Death of Miss Nora Layne—After a long illness, borne with sweetness and patience, Miss Nora Layne, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Layne of Fisher street, passed away Saturday. Her mother, five brothers and two sisters are left to mourn her untimely death, all having been present at the bedside when the end came. Miss Layne was born and raised in Marquette and was widely and favorably known. She had endeared herself to her friends by a lovable disposition. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Peter's cathedral, with interment at Holy Cross cemetery.

Delta County League Formed—The three baseball teams of Delta county, representing Escanaba, Gladstone and Rapid River, failing in their effort to secure a fourth team for a league, have agreed on a three team schedule. The Escanaba team will play seven games in Gladstone and six in Rapid River. The Gladstone and Rapid River teams will each play six games in Escanaba and Rapid River and Gladstone will each play four games on the grounds of the other. The schedule will open May 15 and will close Aug. 29. Each of the teams will have a number of open dates that will be given up to independent games.

Brief Taste of Freedom—James Cleary, a convict at the Marquette prison, enjoyed freedom for about six hours Saturday afternoon. He was released on parole after the dinner hour Saturday and was in jail in Negunee before 8 o'clock in the evening for violating the terms of his parole by filling his skin full of bad whiskey. He had a ticket for Milwaukee in his pocket, and evidently was on his way to that city, though he had no right to leave the state. Cleary had some money when he left the prison, and it is believed he began drinking as soon as he got up town. One of the prison officers, who was a passenger on the evening train on which he was traveling to Negunee, noticed his condition, and had him picked up in Negunee. He will be brought back to the prison this morning to serve out the remainder of his term.

Milk for Babies—The management of the Marquette City Dairy has placed an order with a Chicago concern for a new churning machine, to be used in preparing its bottled milk for delivery. The cans will not be as a hood, covering the entire top of the bottle, and will do away with any possibility of dust getting into the neck. The cap is fastened and sealed upon the bottle by the churning machine and is not touched by the hand. The cap cannot be attached without the use of the machine and therefore bottles cannot be refilled outside of the dairy room. The Dairy will supply a specialty of milk for babies and children during the summer months. This milk will have special attention in aerating, cooling, bottling and delivering under Mr. Van denboom's personal supervision. Mr. Van denboom has raised a special herd of fine young dairy cattle for this special service.

CONTRACTORS ARE BUSY.

The Dickinson-Marquette Highway to Be Completed on Time.

Contractors Fredren and Blomgren, weather considered, are making good progress on the new Dickinson-Marquette highway, says the Mountain Press. Fredren, who has the Marquette county end of the contract, has his camps about one and a half miles south of Witch lake depot and is working north and south. Blomgren's camps are near Floodwood. His section of the highway, all in Dickinson county, extends from the end of the Sagola township highway, near Sawyer lake, a few miles north of Channing, to the Michigan river. The route is through a sandy territory mainly, with but few hills and little swamp work. The Fredren contract includes considerable rock work and not a little swamp country. A considerable portion of the route, from the river to the St. Paul track, the right-of-way is in a timber country. The bridge contractors are now assembling their concrete construction plant and materials at Floodwood station preparatory to starting work. As soon as weather conditions will permit, the concrete crew will be sent north. In the meantime the work of preparing for the work in the river has been delayed by the lateness of the log drive. However, all the contractors are hopeful of delivering the work within the time specified in the contracts—about the middle of July—and unless the unexpected happens it will be possible to drive from Iron Mountain to Marquette range towns not later than the first of August.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE COMET.

The Length of the Tail is Estimated at Flagstaff as 22,000,000 Miles.

Flagstaff, Ariz., May 1.—Recent observations of Halley's comet have been made at the Lowell observatory. Since Halley's comet has become a morning object it has been observed at the Lowell observatory every morning, beginning April 14. The observations so far have been principally direct photographs and photographs of the spectrum. The finest series of direct photographs obtained measured about nine degrees. On photographs made on the preceding and following dates under conditions not quite so favorable, the tail measures between seven and eight degrees. As a rule the tail has shown no abrupt change of direction, but on April 19 there was quite a marked bend northward about four degrees from the head. The tail has been generally divided into two diverging branches, and the distance from the nuclei to the point of divergence varied from day to day. On April 19 the branches seem to have coalesced to a considerable distance, and separation did not begin until the bend northward had been reached. Usually the divergence of the streamers has begun near the head. On the larger scale photographs there has been a marked variation in the positions and number of the finer streamers, leaving the threadlike detail running through the wider and more nebulous parts.

On some photographic short narrow streamers leaving the head are distinctly shown. The largest one of these making an angle of about twenty-five degrees with the general direction of the tail, is recorded on plates made on April 20. As the tails of comets are directed away from the sun the tail of Halley's comet is at present considerably foreshortened as viewed from the earth, with an apparent length of nine degrees as photographed on the morning of April 19, the actual length of the tail would be about twenty-two million miles. Even this probably does not represent its full length as the exposures on account of dawn would necessarily be short. Telescopically viewed the head has the form characteristic of bright comets and its nucleus is well defined and almost perfectly stellar.

Numerous photographic observations have been made of the spectrum or analyzed light of Halley's comet. These show that the comet's nucleus gives an unusually bright continuous spectrum that exhibits features showing it to be essentially solar which means that a considerable part of the light of the nucleus is reflected sunlight. Crossing this and extending beyond it on each side, corresponding to parts of the comet's head outside the nucleus, are numerous bright spectrum bands which are chemically attributed to hydrocarbon and cyanogen. These bands are less intense in this than in most comets, dominant particularly in the comet's tail, some of these being recorded to a distance of several million miles from the comet's head. By far the most intense band of the spectrum, however, is one commonly attributed to cyanogen. It is increasing in brightness, but singularly enough it has not appeared in the spectrum of the comet's tail.

MARKETS

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, May 1.—Paine, Webber & Co. said of Saturday's stock market: "The market opened this morning at a small recession from yesterday's close, but very quickly sold off under heavy liquidation in Union Pacific and steel closed very weak, all yesterday's gains lost. Copper was particularly weak. Failure to raise the N. & W. dividend, which a month or so ago was fully expected, caused the belief that there would be no change in the Pennsylvania dividend. The rallies which have occurred in the market during the past few days have been mostly by covering shorts and good buying by large financial interests."

Closing prices were as follows: Anaconda 107 1/2, Am. Smelter 79 1/2, Am. Loco 107 1/2, Atchafalaya 107 1/2, B. & O. 70, C. & N. W. 107 1/2, C. P. 107 1/2, Erie 27 1/2, J. & E. 120 1/2, Mo. Boston Quotations.

Boston, May 1.—Saturday's stock market at Boston is summarized by Paine, Webber & Co. as follows: "Holders of stocks had better make up their minds to stand a long continued bear campaign. The big banking interests are steadily selling stocks, and it looks like 1907 over again. Owing to the political uncertainty, general business throughout the country is on a decline, and the stock market is discounting this. We advise sales of all classes of stocks, especially the metal stocks and the industrials. The feeble rallies that we have had this week have been followed by heavy liquidation, and the banking interests and big speculators not only show no disposition to support the market, but are getting out of stocks as fast as possible."

The closing prices were: Adv 5 1/2, All 1 1/2, Am. 6 1/2, A. Com 15 1/2, B. & O. 20, B. Cons. 17, B. Cons. 12 1/2, C. & N. W. 107 1/2, C. & P. 107 1/2, C. P. 107 1/2, Erie 27 1/2, J. & E. 120 1/2, Mo. Pac. 107 1/2, N. K. & T. 39 1/2, So. Pac. 128 1/2, N. & W. 107 1/2, N. Y. C. 111 1/2, St. P. 107 1/2, Reading 106 1/2, Rock Island 43 1/2, So. cause of inability to secure seed to replant all the area affected. The stands are likely to be impaired. The opening was lower, in sympathy with Liverpool, but was under the leadership of May and the market firmed from the start, closing unchanged on the late months and 4 to 6 higher for July and May. The distant months are a purchase on recessions."

BIG DEAL IN PULP WOOD.

New York Syndicate Gets Control of Canadian Timber Lands. Montreal, Que., May 1.—A large deal in pulp limits in Newfoundland and on the Labrador coast was put through when R. W. Strong and C. W. H. Tessier of St. John's, N. F., sold to a New York syndicate 13,550 square miles of well wooded land for $250,000 and 49 per cent. of the proceeds of the industry in the future. The syndicate composes twelve New York capitalists, with C. D. Stanford of Bangor, Me., as managing director. Negotiations have been under way since last November, but the agreement has only now been signed. Ten thousand miles of the land are situated in Labrador, extending from Byron bay on the north side of Hamilton inlet, to Port Manners. The remainder of the timber is in the island colony.

The company has been capitalized at $25,000,000. The intention is to erect pulp and paper mills at the most convenient point on the stretch of coast between the two bays, and the product will be shipped to England and America.

The promotion is the outcome of the success which has attended Lord Northcliffe's venture along the same line in Newfoundland and the legislation which is going into effect in almost all of the timber-bearing provinces of Canada prohibiting the exportation of pulp or pulp wood from the crown lands. Negotiations were also under way with the lessee of the island of Anticosti and the same company for the same purposes, but no agreement satisfactory to both parties could be arrived at. Construction of mills will be commenced this summer, and the first cut will be made next winter. By the end of the year pulp will be shipped to the market.

DEAF MUTE REWARDED AS HERO.

Bestowal Ceremony at Galludet College Discloses Story of Bravery. Washington, May 1.—His gallant rescue of a girl from the whirlpool of the Great Falls of the Potomac, fifteen miles above Washington, resulted in the bestowal of a gold medal on Walter R. Rockwell, a deaf mute of Galludet college, last night.

The medal was the gift of members of the family of Miss Maud Edington, another student of the college, who had been saved from death in the waters by young Rockwell. The rescue was effected a month ago under conditions that called for the display of great bravery on the part of Rockwell. By the presentation of the medal did the story come out. As the girl fell into the rapids and was swept into the whirlpool below Rockwell threw about a large rock a noise in a long coil of rope he managed to catch. He fastened the other end about his waist and leaped in to save her. As he had hoped, the current carried Rockwell within reach of the girl and he seized her and held fast. When dragged ashore by means of the rope the girl was unconscious and her brave rescuer in almost as sad a plight.

NEW ANGLE IN HYDE TRIAL.

Commission May Be Appointed to Determine How the Swopes Died. Kansas City, Mo., May 1.—Whether poison caused the deaths of Colonel Thomas H. and Christian Swope may be determined by a commission appointed by the judge in the Hyde murder trial. The court made the suggestion and will announce Monday whether it believes such an action would be legal. Dr. Hyde's attorney's refusal to state whether this plan of procedure is satisfactory to them. The prosecution is satisfied. The offer of Judge Latsch came after a long debate over the admission of certain expert testimony. Several experts for the state and others against the girl were unconvincing and her brave rescuer in almost as sad a plight.

SOUTH GETS AFTER BEEF BARONS.

Packing Companies and Individuals Are Indicted at Savannah, Ga. Savannah, Ga., May 1.—The grand jury of the United States court last evening returned indictments against the Cudahy Packing company, Schwartzchild & Sulzberger, Swift & Co., the Armour Packing company and the Nelson Morris company, as corporations, and against the following individuals: Emmet B. Adams, agent at Savannah for Swift & Co.; William D. Cooper, agent for the CHILDREN BRING HAPPINESS.

Without Them the Cupid Wing's Club Says Home Isn't Complete.

Trenton, N. J., May 1.—That children are essential to the happiness of married couples is the belief of the Cupid Wing's club, the local organization composed of prominent matrons who spend most of their spare time in mending broken hearts and bringing about domestic felicity. At a recent meeting of the organization a committee of three was appointed to investigate the relation of children to the happiness of parents, and a report has just been submitted to Mrs. Charles Howell, president of the club. The committee is unanimous in the declaration that where there are no children a marriage usually results unhappily, and where there are children the condition is just the reverse. In the case of fifteen childless couples the same condition for all was reported. The wife was discontented, extravagant, had no love for home, she wanted to be amused all the time. The husband kept away from home as much as possible.

With fifteen couples with children it was different. The wife lived with her children and her home. The husband was anxious to get to his home to spend the evening playing with his children. OLD GUESSES AT THE CENSUS.

Early Prophets Who Managed to Do Well Until the Birth Rate Declined.

Experts in the science of statistics think the superintendent of the census, when he estimates the population of the United States in the census year, 1910, is not making a bad guess. He has 91,000,000, allows himself rather more leeway than a prophet with his inside information need demand. Estimating the population of the United States might not be a very difficult matter these days even for an amateur, they say. The birth rate, death rate, immigration, emigration and everything upon the subject, are all pretty well known year by year since 1900 for all, or nearly all, parts of the United States, so that a detailed estimate of what the census of 1820 would show as to the population of the United States. He really had very little to go on, and he declined to say just how he reached his conclusions, but he came within less than 320,000 of the actual figures. He had for years supposed that the census of 1820 would show a population of about 10,000,000. His guess was a trifle over 9,964,000 and the actual enumeration was a trifle over 9,638,000. In some details his guess was astonishingly near.

He gave an estimate for every state and territory, and for New England, Maryland and Ohio he was only about 8,300 off. In several of these states he was within a few hundreds of the actual figures, and in none was he more than 10,000 off. He was within four of the actual census figures in North Carolina. It was mainly in the newer states that he guessed too high.

The Boston Record tried his hand at guessing in 1816 with interesting results. The editor took little or no account of immigration, which was then trifling, but he figured out from the census of 1790, 1800 and 1810 that population doubled every twenty-three years. As there seemed plenty of room for expansion and race suicide had not then been heard of he concluded that the increase would go on at that rate for at least a century. Upon this theory he estimated the population for every twenty-three years up to 1825. He had before him figures of the census of 1810, which showed about 7,240,000 inhabitants. He placed the population of 1825 at 14,000,000, of 1850 at 28,000,000, of 1875 at 56,000,000, of 1900 at 112,000,000 and of 1925 at 224,000,000. He must have been very close to the actual figures in 1833, for the census of 1850 showed nearly 23,200,000 people. He was not far off in 1856, for 19,000 inhabitants and that of 1860 rather more than 32,400,000, but he was fully 6,000,000 too high in 1875 and more than 27,000,000 too high in 1902 even if the colonies, of which he had no inkling, be taken into account. His estimate for 1925 seems likely at the current rate of increase in this country to be considerably more than 100,000,000 too high.

The source of his error lay in the declining birth rate, which he did not foresee. When he made his estimate the death rate had been steadily decreasing since 1780, when it was 25 per 1,000. By 1820 it had sunk to a shade over 20 1/2 per 1,000. The losses of the civil war also helped to show out his calculations and the huge increase of immigration, of which he had no thought, was sufficient to make up for the checks to population left out of account. There was much interest in the country over the results of the census of 1820, when the population surprised all but those who had studied earlier statistics. Before the general results of that census was made known the "Albany Plough Boy" made a computation for that year and for each decennial period up to 1900. The statistician knew that the birth rate as yet showed no sign of falling off and that the death rate was rather rapidly decreasing, while there was a vast unoccupied territory open to settlers, though Texas and the region beyond the Rockies were still in the hands of strangers and the fate of the Oregon country was uncertain. "The Plough Boy" had no suspicion that the trifling immigration of the period would grow to hundreds of thousands annually within the next thirty years. He was not so sanguine as the editor, who had counted upon the doubling of the population every twenty-three years, however, and he worked upon an elaborately detailed plan, for he gives his results not only in thousands, but down to units. He was nearly 200,000 too high for 1820, about 300,000 too high for 1830 and nearly 600,000 too high for 1840, and again 700,000 too high for 1850. He had counted too much upon the birth rate, but by this time immigration had begun to be heavy and his estimate for 1800 was less than 150,000 too high. He was more than 1,250,000 too high for 1870, and more than 4,500,000 too high for 1880. His calculation for 1890 was more than 14,000,000 too high and for 1900 nearly 25,500,000 too high. Niles of the "Register" undertook estimates of the population for decennial periods about 1820 and proved to be a prophet than his contemporaries. He was not more than a quarter of a million out in any census year up to and including 1860, and in some years he was within about 30,000 of the census figures. His calculations were hopelessly wrong for the first time as to the census of 1870, and thereafter to the end of the century he was more and more at variance with actual census results. Like his fellow statisticians he presumed upon a continuing high birth rate, but expected no great things of immigration. The elements which he neglected balanced pretty fairly up to 1860, but the havoc of the civil war and the check to the birth rate set him wrong after that, so that even the vast immigration of the last forty years did not make up the loss.

CHEAP LIVING IN 1851.

Strong Contrast Between Prices Then and Now. An old memorandum book in which some interesting prices are recorded has just been brought to light by the Brooklyn Eagle. The prices afford a basis for comparison, and as one reads old people say that former times were indeed better than these. The woman who kept this account book paid to be sure, in 1851 $1.25 to go to Westfield, Mass., to New York, and $3 more to go from New York to Philadelphia, but she paid the 28 cents a dozen for her washing, beautifully ironed and brought to her door, and $10 a month for her board, and it was good, too. She had her daguerretype taken, a single picture, and paid $1.50 for it. We can improve on that price now. She bought a pair of shoes for $1.25, and had a dress cut for 37 1/2 cents. The accounts bristle with half and quarter cents. Things cost sometimes a "fip," sometimes a "levy." The former was 6 1/2 cents, the latter 12 1/2 cents. She bought a pair of rubbers for 87 1/2 cents, and wrote them down as "gums." For her pen rent at church she paid 66 2/3 cents. Her gowns were made of "delaine," "delaine" and "mull," and she paid $1.75 for the fitting and making of one. She said the exorbitant price of $2.25 for a pair of congress gaiters. We find an entry "wafters," and we remember that there were no envelopes in those days, and that all letters were simply folded and the stuck together with red wafters. Perhaps you may remember that your grandfather kept a box of them on his desk, close beside the sand-sprinkler with which he blotted his letters. What we call cushion dates back a long way. This lady of the accounts was buying cushions in 1851. They are small lozenges with no other purpose, so far as is generally known, than to promote the fragrance of the breath. She burned in her lamp "mild," for highly inflammable oil which produced the safer kerosene.—Youth's Companion.

Greenwood Street Man Slashed His Throat With a Razor Saturday.

Frank Eliola, living at 418 Greenwood street, attempted to end his life Saturday morning at 7:30 o'clock, when he cut his throat and jugular vein with a razor. His condition was yesterday reported critical, but it is thought that he will recover.

Friends of Eliola have been watching him closely, as he has displayed signs of mental derangement. He had been in poor health since early in the fall, his condition being such that he had not worked since November. He has been a resident of Ishpeming for the past eleven years and has a wife and one child, living at the home on Greenwood street. Eliola is now a patient in Dr. Lindgren's hospital.

MOCK SAD ALLI COMPANY.

Stock Organization Will Begin Week's Engagement Tonight.

Mock Sad Alli and his company will open a week's engagement tonight at the Ishpeming theatre. They have been in the copper country the past two weeks and the papers there speak highly of their play and vaudeville features. Sad Alli is a clever legerdemain artist. There are a half dozen or more specialty artists with the company. Professor Bryden carries some fifteen trained Eskimo dogs.

The company will open the engagement with "Cosy Corners," a comedy drama in four acts. The prices during the week will be ten, twenty and thirty cents, and tonight one lady will be admitted free with the holder of each paid fifty-cent ticket purchased before 4 o'clock.

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS.

It has been several years since there has been as much building work in Republic as is being done this season. The Republic Iron company recently completed two fine double houses for its employees, and a number of the dwellings occupied by the workmen and their families have been improved. Two new dwellings are now being erected in the town and Fred Karston is now finishing a business block on his lot, immediately north of the one occupied by the Republic Store company's block. The building will be occupied by Mrs. Mary Halstrom, the milliner, formerly with J. B. Casper. One of the new dwellings being erected is to be a parsonage for the Finnish Lutheran church society. It will be on the lot immediately east of the one occupied by J. O. Uberg's dwelling. The Methodist church congregation is advertising its present parsonage for sale and a new one is to be erected.

PRISON SENTENCES HEREAFTER.

Mrs. W. H. Oakley, who was called to Duluth ten days ago on account of the death of her mother, Mrs. Monroe, arrived home Saturday. The young chauffeur who was operating the automobile that ran down Mrs. Monroe has been held for a hearing before the grand jury, and as the fatality created much excitement and sentiment against fast driving in Duluth the young man may be severely dealt with. He is held under $5,000 bonds. A Duluth judge has announced the fines after the grand jury, and imposed on drivers who violate the automobile speed ordinance, but all offenders found guilty will be sentenced to a term in jail. It is thought that this will have the effect of bringing the auto drivers to their senses.

THE LAND OF SUSPICION

A Name That Sometimes Is Applied to Alaska.

It is Due to the Procedure of Men and Corporations in Exploiting Mineral Resources of the Territory—This Has Had a Tendency Also to Check Progress of Taft's Government Bill—Major Richardson Is Expected to Straighten Affairs.

Washington, April 21.—Alaska has been called "The Land of Suspicion." Suspicion has attached to the methods and motives of nearly all men and corporations that have undertaken to exploit its great mineral resources.

It was during the senate hearings on the Alaska bill that there came to public knowledge the connection between a great eastern corporation and some of the claims for mining land which have given rise to public scandal.

The Taft Alaskan Bill. The administration bill provides for the appointment of a governor, an attorney general, a commissioner of interior and of mines.

HE VISITED QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS

MARQUETTE LANDLOOKER, CHAS. PERRY, HOME FROM EVENTFUL CRUISING TRIP.

THEIR RESOURCES ARE GREAT

Group Lies South of Alaskan Boundary Line and Indian Inhabitants Have Strong Mongolian Characteristics.

Charles Perry, recently home from an extended land looking trip, gives an interesting account of a midwinter visit to the Queen Charlotte Islands, the group, 150 miles long and eighty-six miles wide at the widest point, lying off the coast of Northwest Canada and just south of the boundary line between Canada and Alaska. The islands are a region of great but practically virgin resources, into which white settlers are only now beginning to go and which are sparsely settled by Indians who present strong Mongolian characteristics.

Mr. Perry left Marquette the day after Christmas. After several weeks spent in California and Oregon, he sailed from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, Feb. 25, who had, with him, undertaken the task of estimating about 140,000 acres of timber land on Graham island, the largest and most northerly of the Queen Charlotte group.

They sailed north from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, the Pacific terminal to which the Grand Trunk railway is working, by the inside passage, some 500 miles of water journeying in which the vessels are exposed to the full sweep of the ocean for but about forty miles. As Perry expresses it, "you can almost spit on the shore at either side of the channel."

Prince Rupert, which has grown from a village into a bustling town of 5,000 people within two years, is almost a line with the northern coast of Graham island. The landlookers took with them on their steamer a large gasoline launch, but lived in tents. The rainy season was on and they worked rigged out as fishermen in taraulins and sou'westers, but on snow shoes, for though there was very little snow on the shore of island inland it was frequently ten feet in depth. The weather was comparatively mild, but the Japanese current makes the islands a land of almost perpetual mists and little is seen of the sun. The unfavorable climate drove Perry back before the work was finished. He was seized with an attack of acute rheumatism, and though the April heat out there would not have been another one for a month—leaving the other landlookers to finish up estimating about 100,000 acres.

Syndicate May Buy.

While the landlookers had no definite information as to who is figuring on acquiring the timber, they understand it is a syndicate in which both English and French capital is interested. The Canadian law up to about a year ago provided that a man could hold a section of timber land of the public domain by paying an annual rental of $140. Mr. Perry says that the land he and his associates were engaged in estimating was taken up on these terms. The rentals have become burdensome for the holders, and they desire to make an early sale. The present Canadian law provides for straight sales of timber land at $2.50 an acre, Mr. Perry says.

The land estimated by the party to which Perry belonged was in the central part of Graham island, mostly on the shores or but a short distance inland from Massett inlet, the largest and best-locked body of water in the islands, and which is connected with the ocean.

Fine Stands of Timber.

The timber, Mr. Perry says, is the finest of its kind he has ever in his experience encountered. The stands are of hemlock, spruce and cedar, with the former largely predominating. The spruce is unusually high stuff, trees measuring ten feet in diameter at the base and 200 feet high being encountered. The stand is heavy, running 25,000 to 100,000 feet to the acre.

The country is broken in topography and there are many windfalls of the tremendous trees. The physical character of the ground will make it a difficult country to lumber, but the proximity of the water will be a factor in favor of the operators. The lumbering methods that will have to be employed will be those of the mountainous regions of the west. Lumbering will have to be done wholly by steam. The character of ground is unfavorable to horses, and furthermore horses would not be able to move the tremendous logs that will be cut out of the forest giants of centuries of growth.

The timber resources of the islands are practically untouched. Two small mills are manufacturing mostly for the trading local needs, but some railroad ties are being gotten out. It is likely, however, that logging and manufacturing on a large scale will begin within a few years. The opening up of the country by the Grand Trunk railroad and the completion of the Panama canal are expected to be factors in encouraging the exploitation of the islands' resources.

Indians of Unknown Origin.

The Mongolian characteristics of the Indians are a matter of comment with all whites, Mr. Perry says, but little is known of their origin. One of the Indians with the landlookers' party related to its members the tribal tradition about the advent of his people on the islands. He said that they knew not where they came from, but that centuries ago they lived in another land, far, far away. Their land was engulfed by an earthquake, and but ten boats filled with their people escaped to the islands. Of these one was beached on their present island home.

The islands are full of deserted villages, above which tower the lofty totem poles of the Alaskan Indian. On the ship on which Mr. Perry returned were two of these poles, of gigantic size, in shipment to the Metropolitan Museum in New York. One of Mr. Perry's most interesting experiences in this land of mystery was his visit to a burial cave of the Indians on North Island, a small island off the north shore of Graham island. This cave, high placed and with an air unusually dry for the islands, was filled with hundreds of native coffins piled twenty to twenty-five feet high by about three high, it being the native custom to bury their dead in a half sitting position. One of them, found broken open, indicated that the natives bury with their dead totem poles, choice skins and other articles which they are familiar with in life. The coffins were chiefly made of red cedar, secured with native copper nails, some of them four inches long.

The trip, as a whole, was the most interesting Mr. Perry has ever taken in his long experience as a landlooker. He believes the islands have a great future and that they contain incalculable wealth in natural resources that from now on will receive a rapid development.

IN PRACTICE GAME.

Marquette Team Had Good Workout With the Tigers Yesterday.

The Marquette baseball team had a good workout with the Marquette Tigers at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon, winning the game 12 to 1. Only Young and Hamilton were missing from the regular line-up, and Clifford appeared in a Marquette uniform for the first time, making an excellent impression. Hap Scholtus pitched the game, but did not extend himself. The Tigers picked up a run in the first inning, as a result of misplays. Outside one had session, in which the allowed eight runs to be scored, the Tigers played a good game.

The Marquette line-up was as follows: Eddy, third base; Weiser, right field; Ruppelle, left field; Clifford, center field; Scholtus, pitcher; Wing, first base; Richardson, catcher; Jensen, short stop; Rydholm, second base. Eddy, Wing and Clifford, the new men in the line-up, promise to give the team considerable strength, and with Young and Hamilton will doubtless make it fast enough to travel along well in the company it is going into.

Second Team Won.

The Marquette second team journeyed to Republic yesterday, where they met and defeated Republic in a fast and exciting game. Jarvala started in the box for Republic, and pitched seven innings, retiring in favor of Fellow, who finished. Jarvis twirled the entire game for Marquette, and kept the eight hits secured off him well scattered. Murphy was injured in the third inning by being hit by a pitched ball, and Nauti took his place. In the fourth Ormsbee suffered a split finger, and retired in favor of Farm, who went to right field, Smith coming in to third base. The score by innings was as follows:

WOODMEN OFFICIALS BOOST FOR BYRNS

A. R. TALBOT, HEAD OF THE ORDER, RECOMMENDED ISHPEMING MAN TO THE PRESIDENT LAST WEEK.

The only live piece of news in any way relating to the Marquette collectorship that has developed for weeks past is contained in a Washington dispatch to the Grand Rapids Herald telling how Van Gettle of Illinois, editor of the Modern, and other national Woodmen officials, called on President Taft to boost for C. J. Byrns of Ishpeiming for the appointment. The dispatch in question is as follows:

"A. R. Talbot of Lincoln, Neb., head consul of the Modern Woodmen of America, accompanied by General Attorney Smith of Minnesota and Editor VanGettle of Illinois, editor of the Modern Woodmen, having a circulation of over a million copies yearly, had an extended conference this morning with President Taft. They were accompanied to the White House by Senator William Alden Smith. The president invited Head Consul Talbot and his associates to the cabinet room for a conference, which lasted some time. While none of the gentlemen will speak particularly of the nature of the visit, it is known that the head officials of the Modern Woodmen of America all testified in the highest terms to the character, ability and effectiveness of Hon. Charles J. Byrns, who has been recommended for appointment to an important federal position.

"Some false statements have been made concerning Mr. Byrns which were sharply refuted by general officials of the Woodmen organization and the authors of this slander were denounced by the head consul most vigorously. "Director of Byrns' connection with the Modern Woodmen has been highly creditable to that great organization and to himself. There is no more efficient worker on the board of directors than Mr. Byrns, while the attacks upon him have been petty and contemptible. President Taft has carefully gone over all of these charges and gives no credence to them. It is very certain that if Mr. Byrns desires to hold a political office he can do so without further effort in his behalf. His associates in the Modern Woodmen have all urged him not to accept a political place, as his term of office as a director in the great organization does not expire for two years and it is generally believed that Mr. Byrns would be re-elected with enthusiasm on his record and as a rebuke to the cowardly attacks which have been made upon him. President Taft presented Head Consul Talbot with one of his latest photographs, upon which he inscribed his good wishes."

THEATRICAL.

Teddy Webb and Eulalia Young, the featured members of the company that will present "Fantana" at the Marquette Opera House tomorrow night, have most enviable reputations on the Pacific coast. Like David Warfield, Blanche Bates, Alice Nielsen, Maxine Elliot and a score of others, Miss Young and Mr. Webb were formerly members of Pacific coast stock companies.

Mr. Webb was the principal comedian of the Tivoli Opera House, San Francisco, for over ten years. His first big success after leaving the Tivoli was in replacing Francis Wilson in "The Strollers." Then came his triumph in "The Alaskan" at the Broadway theater, New York. As Hawkins in "Fantana," he is duplicating his previous successes.

Miss Young is a dainty dancing comedienne, not much bigger than a minnie. She has succeeded in occupying the position once held by Katie Barry and Tolly Claude.

"Fantana" holds the record for long runs made in recent years by musical comedies, having played to capacity business at the Lyric theater, New York, for over one solid year.
