

SENATE REVOLT IS SUCCESSFUL

Battle That Has Been Waged Against the Taft Railroad Legislation Results in a Triumph for the Insurgent Republicans.

Provisions They Have Been Fighting Are to Be Abandoned—This the Decision of the Administration Men—in Fact, Little Will Be Left of the Original Bill, and Due to the Sentiment in the House, Even the Emaculated Measure Will Fail.

Washington, May 2.—President Taft's railroad legislation will be emasculated. At the close of a conference of the leading "regular" Republican senators tonight, it was apparent that the revolt of the senate "insurgents" had been virtually successful, and that the sections of the bill relative to traffic agreements and mergers, which Mr. Cummins and the other "insurgents" have been fighting to amend, will be abandoned.

Practically nothing distinctive in the original bill will remain, save the sections providing for the creation of a court of commerce. Even that may not be enacted. The difference between the senate and the house is so great that in view of the radical action of the leaders tonight, the entire bill may fall in conference.

No serious became the situation that Mr. Taft, at Pittsburg, was advised by telephone by Mr. Aldrich. Despairing of putting the bill through the senate in the form reported, the Republican leaders decided to eliminate the sections which the insurgents claim practically would have repealed the Sherman anti-trust law by permitting traffic agreements, and the section which would have legalized mergers in cases where one railroad corporation owning already 50 per cent of another desired to control the latter outright.

Mr. Taft nettled. Upon the "insurgents," the administration will endeavor to place the responsibility for the failure of the Taft railroad legislation. To Senator Aldrich Mr. Taft is said to have expressed himself emphatically to this effect: That he had intended the pending measure and had advocated it throughout the country in the form in which it was reported to the senate, and that if the combination of insurgent Republicans and Democrats rendered it impossible for the Republican majority to enact the bill, then he felt that the administration should be relieved of the responsibility for its defeat. He rested the entire matter in the hands of Mr. Aldrich and his Republican associates, who were then in conference.

Although stopped from passing the bill in the form which they wished, the administration senators at once began the formulation of plans to endeavor to take away from the insurgents the chance of a claim of a clean-cut victory for themselves. They even wore an air of jubilation over the prospect of putting the "insurgents" to rout on the pending Cummins amendment traffic agreement section, which will probably be up for vote tomorrow. The Republican leaders heretofore done by certain members preferred the Cummins amendment, but were opposed to the entire traffic agreement section. These senators did not hesitate to enter an agreement with the regular Republicans to vote against the Cummins provision, in return for an agreement to eliminate the section altogether.

The administration senators say that the Cummins amendment will be lost by one or two votes, for which victory the administration agrees to pay the price of striking out the whole section. Not only must they strike out this section, but it is agreed that Section 12—the merger section—must be abandoned also. It is not certain that even sections 13, 14 and 15, which provide for the federal regulation of the issuance of the securities of railroads, can be saved. The agreement reached today does not cover these sections.

Insurgents Unyielding. Throughout today efforts were made to effect an agreement, but the insurgents were unyielding. They believed victory within their grasp. After the adjournment of the senate, Mr. Cummins was called into a final conference. He was asked if the insurgents could not get together on some provision that would be less objectionable to the majority of the Republicans than his amendment. Mr. Cummins is quoted as saying: "Personally he was agreeable to the adoption of some provision that would insure substantially the same thing, but that he did not think his colleagues would be willing to accept anything other than a straight-out proposition compelling the railroads to obtain the approval of the commission before putting new rates into effect."

Senator Root was noticeably annoyed at the outcome of the conference. When asked what had caused the change of front in connection with section 7, he said: "Cold feet. Some of those who ought to support the bill were afraid of the political effect."

Many a candidate has spoiled his chances by being too candid.

CONGRESSMAN OFFERS NEW POSTAL BANK BILL.

Mr. Gardner's Scheme Radically Different in Some Respects from the Senate Measures—That One Socialistic, He Says.

Washington, May 2.—A new postal savings bank bill was introduced in the house today by Representative Gardner, Republican, of New Jersey. It is radically different in some respects from the bill which has passed the senate. Mr. Gardner says that the senate measure is an Australian idea and is socialistic.

The main points of differences are that Gardner's bill provides that postal savings banks shall be established only where the board of trustees deems it desirable; that only national banks shall be the depositaries of postal savings funds and shall pay the government two and one-half per cent interest; that the government shall withdraw 80 per cent of the total of these funds from the national banks whenever they aggregate over one million dollars; and that these withdrawals shall be brought to Washington and invested in government bonds or other national securities.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT IS GUEST OF DENMARK.

He Occupies a Royal Palace at Copenhagen, and for the First Time in History the Stars and Stripes Float Above It.

Copenhagen, May 2.—The stars and stripes floated above the royal palace today for the first time in the history of Denmark, and Theodore Roosevelt, in the absence of King Frederick, who is in southern France, is the guest of Crown Prince Christian, one of the palaces being placed at the disposal of the American former president and his family.

The prince, presiding at a dinner this evening, proposed Mr. Roosevelt's health, which was heartily responded to. Leading politicians of the kingdom were present. The colonel, in reply, proposed a toast to the king and the royal family. Mr. Roosevelt's baggage was delayed, and he was obliged to dine in morning dress. At a reception given by Maurice E. Egan, American minister, at the legation, Mr. Roosevelt met the diplomatic and cabinet ministers. By this time the missing baggage had been found, and Mr. Roosevelt arrayed himself in conventional dress clothes.

The crown prince met the party on its arrival from the Netherlands by way of Kiel. He drove with Mr. Roosevelt to the palace and showed him to his apartments. The prince then went to his own residence. Half an hour later the colonel visited the prince, proceeding from there to visit Prince Waldemar and Prince Hans, the latter being an uncle of the queen of England. Great crowds had gathered in the streets through which the carriages passed, and the visitor was cheered heartily.

CREATES A BUREAU OF MINES.

Measure Urged by the West Is Given Senatorial Approval.

Washington, May 2.—The senate today amended and passed the bill already passed by the house to create a bureau of mines in the interior department. In addition to carrying on the mining work heretofore done by the Geological survey, the bureau will investigate the causes of mine explosions. Senator Root thought that the measure was a step toward the usurpation of the duties of the states. The Western senators defended the measure. The bill was nominated by the committee on the Geological survey, the bureau will be placed at a salary of $6,000. The purpose of the bureau is to foster, promote and develop the mining industry, especially with reference to the safety of miners.

PRESIDENT TAFT PRAISES MR. KNOX

He Closes a Two Days Stay in Pittsburg With an Address Dealing With the Foreign Affairs of the Nation.

Paying a Striking Tribute to His Secretary of State, He Vigorously Defends and Justifies His Policy and Flays Those Who Have Sought to Bring Contempt Upon It—The Record of the Premier One That Does the Country Proud, He Declares.

Pittsburg, May 2.—President Taft ended a two days stay in Pittsburg with a speech at the Grant Day dinner at the American club tonight, in which he dealt almost wholly with the foreign affairs of the nation.

The president paid a striking tribute to Secretary of State Knox, who was present. He vigorously defended and justified the secretary's Nicaraguan policy and flayed those who had invented the phrase "dollar diplomacy" with the idea of bringing contempt to a policy in which he said that the nation is vitally interested and he concluded with the declaration that the record of the state department during the first year of the present administration was one to which he pointed with the greatest pride.

Mr. Taft spoke particularly of Mr. Knox's work in successfully negotiating the recent tariff treaties with foreign nations. The president said that the South and Central American relations were never as friendly as now. He said the state department had in a way prevented war between Bolivia and Peru, and that the Costa Rica-Panama boundary question was settled through the friendly offices of Mr. Knox.

STATES TRIUMPH OVER "TRUSTS"

Fights Against Two Monopolistic Combinations Are Brought to a Successful Conclusion in the Supreme Court at Washington.

Upholding the Constitutionality of Legislation Enacted to Prevent Restraint of Trade, the Nation's Highest Tribunal Affirms Decrees Disbanding an Association of Southern Retail Lumber Dealers and Ousting the Standard Oil Company from Tennessee.

Washington, May 2.—The hands of three states in their fight against "trusts" were upheld today by the supreme court of the United States with telling effect.

The association of retail lumber dealers in Mississippi and Louisiana was dissolved by the affirmance of a decree of the supreme court of Mississippi, and the Standard Oil company of Kentucky was ousted from Tennessee by the approval of a decree of the supreme court of Tennessee. Both state courts had held that the anti-trust acts of their respective states had been violated.

Justice Lurton wrote the opinion in the lumber case. It was his first utterance on the trust question. Justice Holmes announced the oil decision, upholding all of the state's contentions that the Standard had violated the anti-trust law.

From St. Paul to points in Wisconsin the increase on sugar is 50 per cent.

The commodity rates between Chicago and Racine and Milwaukee, effective May 16, have been advanced from 15 to 25 per cent. On agricultural implements from Chicago to various points in the West and Northwest, the advance is nearly 15 per cent.

On June 1 a general advance will be made on horses and mules between Kansas City and various points in Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota, amounting from $5 to $10 a car.

WALL STREET STOCKS IN A VERY BAD WAY.

There Is Practically No Demand and No Support, and the Bears Put Down the Prices With Little Difficulty.

New York, May 2.—The undertone of the speculative sentiment remained depressed and discouraged today, notwithstanding the apparent lightening of the active pressure of liquidation and signs of hesitation on the part of shorts against pursuing the downward course of prices with further sales. The bears, on account of this were inclined to cover their shorts at frequent intervals to establish fresh vantage points from which to attack the prices. Hence the recurrent checks to the decline and the intermittent rallies. This covering demand from the shorts, however, constituted about the only apparent demand for stocks, and there was nothing like an aggressive stand against the crumbling process by an attempt to support prices and turn the market against the bears.

With the market left in this unprotected state, the bears renewed their courage from time to time and returned to the attack. As the prices were forced lower under this process, the selling was forced by wiped-out margins, and the uncovering of stop-loss orders. Expressions on the part of bankers of the inopportunity of the money market position for entering on any speculative campaign in stocks discouraged operations on that side of the market.

It was on the industrial and commercial side that the speculation had to encounter its most depressing influences. These were most acute in the metal group of industrials, especially the coppers. Amalgamated broke through the lowest price touched during the whole year of 1909. The unsatisfactory demand and the accumulating stocks gave force to the rumors of an intended sharp cut in the prices of copper in some spasmodic fashion as the iron and steel prices were readjusted more than a year ago.

The speculative temper was inclined to make something of a number of supreme court decisions in minor cases as marking a uniform tenor against corporation contentions. Such comfort as was offered by the crop advices seemed to be accepted with reluctance.

BUNKOED INDIANS, CLAIMS UNCLE SAM

Governor Haskell and Five Business Men of Muskegee Are Placed on Trial in the United States Court at Tulsa.

By Using Dummy Entries to Secure Land, It Is Alleged, the Oklahoma Executive and His Associates Have Defrauded the Aborigines Out of Large Profits—Access to Records Has Been Denied Them, the Defendants Say, and They Ask Continuance.

Tulsa, Okla., May 2.—The trial of Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, and five business men of Muskegee in the Creek Indian town lot cases was called in the federal court here today.

Governor Haskell asked a continuance on the ground that access to government records bearing on the charges had been denied to him by the department of the interior at Washington and by the Indian agency at Muskegee.

"The government has used every means to thwart a pre-arranged defense," asserted Orville Smith, counsel for Governor Haskell. The argument on the motion for continuance will be held tomorrow.

The indictment charges that in 1901 Haskell and his co-defendants defrauded the Indians out of large profits by using dummy entries to secure land cheap.

About fifteen witnesses have been summoned by the government from Illinois, Michigan and other states. According to the indictment they were made the "dummy" owners of lots and became aware of it only after the defendants asked them to sign quit claim deeds.

TESTIMONY FAVORS DR. HYDE.

Chicago Expert Admits Finding but Little Evidence of Poison.

Kansas City, Mo., May 2.—Dr. Walter S. Haines, a Chicago toxicologist, told at the Hyde trial today the alleged results of his search for poisons. Insofar as his personal investigations were concerned, he admitted that they had resulted in finding very little dangerous drugs. With but one exception, he had found cyanide only when collaborating with Dr. Victor C. Vaughn of Ann Arbor.

In part of the stomach of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, he had found two hundredths of a grain of strychnine. A small trace was located in the brain. With the aid of Dr. Vaughn, Dr. Haines said he discovered some cyanide in the stomach. Only slight traces of strychnine were found in the stomach and liver of Christian Swope. The belief of himself and Dr. Vaughn was that there were signs of cyanide shown in the test upon the stomach, but they were unable to locate definitely any of this drug.

Dr. Haines said that he and Dr. Vaughn had found cyanide in the capsules which Dr. Hyde is alleged to have thrown away. Strychnine was found in the ejecta of Miss Margaret Swope by both experts, he said.

MARQUETTE, MICH., MAY 3.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Jack Johnson is finally in training, and he has the honor to report that he has no boil on his neck.

Gotch and Zybsko will wrestle for a purse of $25,000. They couldn't do much better than that if they were prize fighters.

There will be plenty of time to convene the Illinois legislature to look into the alleged derelictions of Senator Lorimer's friends, if additional revelations show a legislative inquiry to be necessary.

Candidates Osborn and Kelley will use the automobile freely in making their campaigns. Candidate Musselman, it is reported, will spring a new one, and invest largely in space in several hundred newspapers, to be used in presenting his case to the people.

There are a limited number of 'em on the market pretty cheap.

During the month the state treasurer will disburse $4,500,000 of primary school money. Much of it will go to districts that have no pressing need of it, already having unexpended primary school funds on deposit.

Other districts will not get all the money they could properly use under the primary school money law. The straightening out of the contradictory features of that law, as recommended by the state officials, is a matter with which the next session of the legislature may well concern itself.

If Senator Lorimer is proved guilty as charged, there will be at least the consolation that the Democrats share with the Republicans the responsibility of his presence in the senate.

Throughout his career Lorimer has known no party when it came to the practical business of getting himself elected.

Like Boss Aldridge of Rochester, who fooled himself with the idea that the voters of the Thirty-second New York district might let him go to congress, he has been chief of a bi-partisan machine in which the Democratic element has been hardly less important and numerous than the Republican element.

With Lorimer it has been a case of Tweedledum and Tweedledee for many years past.

The Lansing State Republican, commenting on the fact that there will be contests in at least seven of the twelve Michigan congressional districts, remarks that it is expected the congressmen will start home prepared for the battle of their lives.

They will be armed with "Taft's Facts Why I Am a Good President," voluminous extracts from congressional records showing "Why I Am a Good Congressman," affidavits and depositions that "The Present Tariff Law Is the Best Tariff Law," a promise from one or two colleagues not threatened with insurrection, to come over and help; Joe Cannon's joke book, and orders left at the main base of supply in Washington for daily shipments of seeds to all quarters of their respective districts, and with instructions to forward sacks and sacks of public documents telling why, for the good of the party and the nation, the present congressmen should be returned to Washington.

Does prohibition prohibit? The department of internal revenue reports that the barrel tax for beer in March amounted to $4,993,793, as compared with $4,079,222 in March, 1909, an increase of 22.4 per cent for March this year.

The beer sales in March, 1910, exceeded the sales for the same month in any other year, and show an increase of 8 per cent over the largest sales ever previously recorded in that month.

The beer sales for the first nine months of the fiscal year (June 1, 1909, to March 31, 1910) show an increase of 1,876,528 barrels, or 4.6 per cent, over the corresponding period in the last fiscal year, and if this same ratio of increase is maintained for the remaining months of this fiscal year not only will the decrease of the last fiscal year, 4.14 per cent, be made up, but the present fiscal year will show an increase of 145,777 barrels over the fiscal year ended June 30, 1908, which up to that time marked the high tide of manufacture of beer.

In the meantime there has been an appreciable gain in the area of "dry" territory. Uncle Sam's figures promise to sustain the dictum of the "wets" that "prohibition does not prohibit."

PERNICIOUS ACTIVITY.

A Marquette business man is a friend and admirer of Representative Townsend, candidate for the United States senate.

At odd times the past few weeks he has been picking up signatures for a Townsend nominating petition. He has not offensively forced his opinions on those who differed with him, but has made no concealment of them.

The other day this Townsend man, who has spent the greater part of his business career in Marquette, and who is a successful and respected merchant, had a telephone call. At the other end of the line he found a United States official, resident in the Marquette federal building, at a lucrative salary of the people's money.

The official asked him directly whether he was procuring signatures for a Townsend nominating petition. On being assured that such was the case, the federal official, and he is responsible to the interior, not the postoffice, department, suggested to the business man that many of his customers were likely to take his friendship for Townsend amiss.

The conversation did not proceed any further, because the Marquette business man hung up the receiver of his telephone. Apropos the matter, he remarks that there are two things he permits no interference with, at any cost. One is his right as a citizen to support whatever candidates for public office he favors; the other is his religion.

We have no idea that Senator Burrows would for a moment countenance the bald hint of his underling that it might prove somewhat expensive from a business point of view for the Marquette merchant not to support him.

On the contrary, we believe that if this instance of pernicious and unAmerican activity were called to the attention of Senator Burrows he would remind the official guilty of it that "fool friends" are one of the heaviest burdens that every seeker for political office have to bear, and counsel that he substitute discretion for buncombe.

Perhaps, also, the interior department might take cognizance of this conduct in one of its subordinates, if the matter was called to its attention. Certainly it is an example of offensive methods rarely excelled.

We hope to hear of nothing more of the kind. Business and politics should not be mixed. Only small bore people try to mix them. A business man has an inherent right to support any candidate he chooses for any office that is to be filled, without subjecting himself to business penalties for his properly independent course. In connection with politics there should never be uttered anything in the remotest way approaching a hint of loyalty of business interests.

Politics and business should be as completely separated as politics and religion.

The movement for the direct election of United States senators is bound to be given a great impetus by the recurring scandals in connection with senatorial elections by the legislatures. The advisory vote in the direct primaries is perhaps an improvement on the old system of an unequal legislative election, but it does not put an end to scandal.

There was a suspicion of scandal in connection with the election of Senator Stophenson by the Wisconsin legislature last year, after he had been endorsed in the primaries. Vardaman of Mississippi charges that he was defeated by bribery in the Mississippi legislature this year, and now comes the charge that the delivery of Democratic votes that made possible the election of Lorimer in Illinois was bought and apud for, either with or without his direct connivance.

As long as legislatures continue no better than they are, it appears that the only way that people can assure that their United States senators are elected cleanly will be by taking their election directly upon themselves.

LORIMER UNDER FIRE.

The Chicago Tribune has uncovered another mare's nest in Illinois. In a story published by it exclusively, Charles A. White, one of the Democrats who aided with William Lorimer's bi-partisan election as senator last year, relates that he was paid $1,000 for his vote for Lorimer, and also that he received $800 as his share of the "jack pot," the corruption fund split between corrupt members of the Illinois legislature shortly after adjournment.

White implicates by name several other members of the legislature, and charges that Representative Browne, the minority leader, bossed the sale of the necessary Democrats to Lorimer, or Lorimer's friends.

Lorimer, Brown, Wilson, all the persons involved by White's confession, have given out emphatic denials of the entire story. Lorimer can't understand it at all, except on the theory that the Chicago Tribune, which has consistently opposed him for years, framed up the story with the deliberate purpose of discrediting him.

He insists he knows of no money being used to secure the rallying to his support in 1909 of sufficient Democrats to, when united with the Lorimer Republicans, secure his election. Browne flatly denies having paid over any money for votes for Lorimer, and Wilson, alleged by White to be "grand master of the 'jack pot,'" also professes that there isn't a shred of truth in his alleged connection with the wholesale bribery.

Lorimer's insinuation that the Tribune knowingly became a party to an abominable plot to discredit him may be dismissed without serious consideration. The Tribune doesn't do business that way. It may be wrong about the significance of White's recital, but there can be no reasonable doubt in the minds of people who know the Tribune that it thinks it is right. So far, while there is much corroboration of parts of White's story, the Tribune's case is not as closely made out as it might be, but it may have more evidence up its sleeve, and is doubtless still pursuing its investigation.

The burden of an inquiry into the charges appears likely to fall on the state prosecutors in Cook county, where Browne is alleged to have paid White the money he was given for voting for Lorimer. Governor Deneen has no present purpose of calling a special session of the legislature to get a legislative investigation under way.

White's story has been related to State's Attorney Wayman. White will likely be called before a grand jury, and indictments may be asked.

The allegation that Lorimer's election was corruptly secured is the sensation of the hour in Illinois. If true, it accounts for many incidents of the senatorial fight last year that have never been satisfactorily explained, particularly the bolt of the Democrats that finally secured Lorimer's election. It is a marked commentary on Lorimer's reputation as a low brow politician that while the story told by White was, of course, a surprise, still an undercurrent of suspicion about the manner of Lorimer's election had prepared the general public for something of the kind.

One hope will be generally held about the unpleasant situation created by the publication of White's story, namely, either that Senator Lorimer's seat will be definitely shown to be tainted by bribery and his resignation from the senate achieved, or that, after a thorough investigation, it will be possible to give him a clean and satisfactory bill of health that will entitle him to continue on as senator without any question being raised concerning his title to the office.

HERE AND THERE.

To what group, if any, the sun belongs, we do not yet know, but DeLanney has presented reasons for thinking that those stars whose distances have been measured (that is to say, those which are nearest to us) group themselves around Sirius, the Dog Star, in a manner similar to that in which the inner planets group themselves around the sun. If this be correct, Sirius may possibly be the master sun of which our orb of day is a distant satellite.—Harper's Weekly.

Dr. Emily Ray Gregory, who is at the head of the department of biology at the American College for Girls, Constantinople, is in charge of the course of public lectures on hygiene and municipal reform open to the native residents of that city. The lectures given especially to Turkish women are said to have called together the largest as well as the most attentive audiences in the course.

There are many chess clubs in this city but the one which holds the record for age is the New York Chess club. It was organized in 1800, and its membership roll contains the names of many of the most noted players the world ever has known, many being active members and others being in the honorary membership class. Names also are to be found there which have figured largely in politics, commerce, art, letters and war. By the same token it may be said that the club's record in popularity of chess matches and international held under its auspices is an inspiration to all modern players who can it.—New York Press.

"It's a peculiar thing," said the headquarters detective, "that with the increase in popularity of chess matches the number of reports which we have received of watches stolen by pickpockets has diminished greatly. No first-class pickpocket tries for watches any more. The same skill is required to get away with a dollar watch as a hundred dollar one. So when the thief found that they were touching well-dressed men for imitations they gradually ceased trying for them. The objective points now are stockings, which the crooks can appreciate better trying for them, and wallets, which they are willing to take a chance on."—New York Sun.

The royal geographical society of Germany has concluded elaborate arrangements for the entertainment of Robert E. Peary, who will arrive in Berlin at the end of this week on May 7. He will deliver his first address on the discovery of the north pole before the members and guests of the geographical society, on which occasion he will be decorated with a gold medal which is the organization's supreme honor. The last person to receive it was Lieutenant Shackleton. After the decoration ceremony Peary will be entertained at a reception and banquet. On the evening of May 12 he will deliver his public address. Although Peary's Berlin visit will come in the same week as Mr. Roosevelt's sojourn, the German geographers will not be in a position to compare the explorer with by no means be lost in the excitement attendant on the ex-president's presence.

Speaking of his visit to West Point Lord Kitchener said in New York recently: "I think my opinion on it is that the new buildings and appliances in every department place the college on the highest level of military instructional institutions. A few months ago I recommended the Australian and New Zealand governments to take West Point as their model for the military college they require. I hope the ideal I have thus placed before them will not appear to them unattainable. They will have to work by degrees, for they must remember it has taken more than one hundred years to create West Point."

"I suppose you want to know just how I made my money," said Dr. D. K. Peersons on his nineteenth birthday. "Well, I want to say that I owe it all to Chicago and Chicago men. It is due to such men as Sol Smith, Phil Armour and Daniel Boone that I became wealthy. These men came to me when they were starting banks and other concerns and let me have stock when it was low—when it cost little. They did this because they were my friends. I took the stock, and as it went up to two or three times its original value, they took it from me. I had a difference in my wealth. I had 2,000 shares of bank stock, for instance, that jumped in value from $100 a share to $400 and $500 each. I had 1,000 shares of First National bank stock at one time. I was a director in the Chicago City railway and owned stock in it for a time. The stock jumped from par to $300—a respectable item of advance."

A LAUGH OR TWO.

Not That Kind of Papa.

A certain ensign in the navy had an overwhelming desire to marry the daughter of a rear admiral, who was noted in the service as a frank, not to say harsh, man.

The ensign went, with much trepidation, into the office of the man he desired to make his father-in-law.

"So you want to marry my daughter?" inquired the rear admiral in deep chest tones.

"Yes, sir."

"Well, what are you going to support a wife on, with nothing but the pay of an ensign?"

"Well, admiral, if I am not mistaken, you were married when you were an ensign."

"Yes, young man, I was, but I lived on my father's pay, and I'll be honest if you are going to do that."—Saturday Evening Post.

His Wit Saved Him.

A story is told of a prisoner before Lord Justice Fitzgibbon, at the time when the latter was one of the justices of appeals of Ireland, whose ready wit probably saved his neck.

Lord Fitzgibbon was holding assizes in Tipperary county, when a man was brought before him on indictment for murder. The case was proved that the victim came to his death by being hit with a stick in the hands of the defendant, but the doctor testified that he had what they called in medical parlance a "paper stick."

The case looked dark for the prisoner, however, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty. As the man was brought before the court for sentence it was noticed that his lordship had his black cap in his hand.

"The man looked for a moment and then said, "No, your lordship, I have nothing to say, but I should like to ask one question."

"I should like to know what a man with a head like that was doing in Tipperary?"

The black cap was put away and a prison sentence imposed.

Caruso on Getting Rich.

Social Anecdotes.

Little Marion was about to make her first call unattended by a member of the family. She was to stay a half-hour, inspect a wonderful new ball belonging to a small friend, and return home. "Now, Marion," was her mother's parting admonition. "Mrs. Rogers may ask you to stay and dine with them. If she does, you must say, 'No, thank you, Mrs. Rogers; I have already dined.'"

"I'll remember mamma," answered Marion, and trotted off. The visit finished, the little girl donned her hat and started for the door.

"Oh, Marion," said her hostess, overtaking her in the hall, "won't you stay and have a bite with us?"

This was an unexpected form, and for a second, the child hesitated; then she rose to the occasion.

"No, thank you, Mrs. Rogers," she answered quickly; "I have already dined."

Copper Country

FRANK GOTCH IS NEXT TO ENFORCE GAME LAWS.
 World's Champion Wrestler Booked for the Amphidrome.
 Sportsmen of Calumet and Keweenaw County Organize for Purpose.

Frank Gotch, greatest wrestler of all time, undefeated champion of the world, will be the next big wrestling attraction in the copper country. He has been booked by Manager John T. McNamara of the Amphidrome, Houghton, to appear May 13 in a handicap affair with Chris Person of Duluth, guaranteeing to throw this big grapple twice in an hour. The arrangements were made and contracts signed yesterday.

Mr. McNamara wants Houghton people and copper country people generally to see the greatest wrestler in the world. He also wants the membership of the copper country to see the wrestling action at his best. And he is going to make the card notable also by offering a purse of $500 for a good preliminary. He would not say yesterday whom he had in mind for this opening bout, but Louis Knauer of Michigan City and Young Miller of St. Paul would make it an attractive session.

This is the greatest wrestling entertainment ever offered the copper country or the upper peninsula. It comes at a time when wrestling is getting more interest than ever, at a time when the copper country is a veritable Mecca for mat workers.

War Eagle Anxious to Come.
 War Eagle, the famous Sioux Indian wrestler, a chief in his tribe, is anxious to come to the copper country to grab off some of the "easy" money floating about this zone. He offers to meet the winner of the proposed Letto-Person bout, which possibly will take place shortly, either at Houghton or Calumet.

War Eagle has gained considerable fame. He has wrestled with all the big ones and has beaten many of them. He has been trimmed, however, by Gotch, Zayasko, Odenmann and Mahmood. He has also beaten Mahmood, Doc Reller, Westergaard and Cutler, the latter losing on a foul. War Eagle is a young man and many believe that he will be one of the candidates for the world's championship when the mighty Gotch retires. He is meeting all comers, "just for the training." Now he is very anxious to meet Person or Letto, especially the latter.

WILL GO TO CHICAGO.
 Delegates Are Selected by Hancock Congregational Church.

The Hancock Congregational church will be represented at the annual convention of the United States Laymen's Missionary association at Chicago early this month. George L. Christenson and John Marshall have been selected as delegates. The Hancock Congregationalists are taking great interest in the laymen's missionary movement and will be especially active in all of the larger meetings. Angus F. Macdonald attended the convention at Duluth last week.

George Westerman, general secretary of the Calumet Young Men's Christian association, who has been visiting in Detroit and Lansing, has notified C. V. Smith, secretary of the Calumet Missionary Movement, that he has arranged for ten seats in the Coliseum at Chicago, where the national laymen's convention is to be held. It is expected that at least 50 Calumet people will be in attendance.

A WELL WATERED CITY.
 In a Short Time Houghton Water Works Will Be Self Supporting.

The letting of a contract for the construction of water works extension on Beraga, Jacket and Sixth streets in West Houghton has, according to members of the water committee of the common council, brought Houghton to a point where the entire village is piped for water. There is only one street after this construction is completed which will need water works and then the committee says, Houghton will have a water supply for a city of 20,000 people.

Another addition to the water supply is needed badly and the water committee expects to recommend the expenditure of $2000 for the purpose this year. This necessity is a new reservoir for the conservation of the water supply. Houghton's water supply can be pretty accurately measured as to annual volume and during the greater portion of the year it is used up in its entirety but during the summer months there is an excess which is wasted by running out of the various tanks. Trustee Stoyke, chairman of the water committee, says that this waste of water must be stopped and he recommends a new tank which will store this excess of water for his purposes. The expenditure will undoubtedly be authorized by the council.

A writer in the London Graphic figures out that it costs about $5,000 to employ the ordinary individual can attempt to fly, this sum including not only the airplane itself, but a shaft for the flying machine, tools needed for the countless repairs, etc., etc. He asserts, also, that every return to earth is marked by the necessity of $10 worth of repair and readjustment. No wonder that flying has been a popular amusement for the man in the street.

OLD DOMINION.
 The present hoisting equipment at the Old Dominion mine is raising daily about 400 tons of concentrating ore, 300 tons of ore available for smelting and 200 tons of waste. Most of this ore is being taken from the present level, the "twelfth" level, the west side of the twelfth level, the east side of the fourteenth level and the intermediate level between the fourteenth and fifteenth. The large body of ore encountered in the farthest western workings at present from the slopes on the west side of the thirteenth level a few weeks ago is also contributing to the smelter supply. The ore being mined there at present runs from 18 per cent to twenty per cent copper and of coarse brings the general percentage of the ore up and over 10 per cent between the level and the twelfth level above has been proven and preparations are now being made for stopping from the thirteenth level up to the twelfth. This important ore body is concentrated nearly 1,200 feet west of the main shaft, and with the exception of the workings on the twelfth level the thirteenth level drift is the farthest western underground extension of the mine.

UNITED COPPER.
 What the thousands of stockholders of the United Copper company have been clamoring for ever since the company started a detailed annual report—and which they have never received—will, under the title of "court records," be placed on file in the Federal building in New York city, says the Boston News Bureau. The government attorney has examined at least parts of the United Copper books and in doing so have made discoveries concerning matters which the stockholders should have known years ago. It now develops that preferred stock dividends were paid for a time out of capital account and further that the United Copper from the sale of its properties to the Cole-Ryan interests received $10,500,000, an amount since disbursed in some way. On May 15 there will fall due another semi-annual dividend on the company's $5,000,000 preferred stock, but no payment will be made. The preferred is 6 per cent cumulative and already there is due in back dividends 15 per cent, an amount which will be increased to 18 per cent next month. It had been thought that the company had a stock interest in Davis-Daly, Ohio, Stewart and other mining properties, but the government officials have stated that after the sale of the original United Copper properties to Corra, Minnie Healy, Truman, Belmont and Nipper—the Butte Coalition company there remained no assets except the $10,500,000 received in payment therefor. This money was on deposit with the Chemical National bank and F. A. Heinz, and Max Schultze, formerly a member of the Boston and New York Stock exchanges for the Otto Heinze firm, had authority to draw up on it.

UTAH COPPER.
 Hayden, Stone & Co. say of Utah Copper: The company's last year developed twenty-four acres more of its ground, and at the end of the year, after mining a heavy tonnage, had increased its ore reserves by 10,000,000 tons over what they were at the beginning of the year. These reserves of ore now stand at 50,000,000 tons of ore fully developed, and 40,000,000 tons partially developed. Here is an assurance of ore for twenty years to come, and meantime there is a very fair probability of developing more. The present mill was designed for a treatment of 6,000 tons a day. By the time that the new devices for the handling of the ore are completed, this same mill, without the addition of any building, and at practically nominal cost, will have a capacity of 12,000 tons daily. In the same way, the Boston Consolidated mill will be increased from 3,000 to 6,000 tons capacity. Utah Copper there will eventually treat at its mine in Big Horn, 18,000 tons of ore a day, and will

COSTLY SHOES FOR BABY.
 Queen Wilhelmina's baby, heir apparent to the throne of Holland, is the most fortunate royal youngster in the world in the matter of shoes to cover his little pink toes. An American has just made several pairs for him; one out of a piece of goods from the Queen's wedding gown; one of cloth of silver and still another of the very finest patent calf with cloth of silver capping. Beautiful silks and brocaded satins that cost $100 a yard were used. One pair in particular is noteworthy. It is a tiny pair of carriage boots in exact miniature of a woman's boot and made of satin brocade in "ceru" and mauve with a border of pure white fur and white satin bows. Each style of shoe for this sprig of nobility is made in three colors, white, pink and blue.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.
 Onco has decided to pull up its two diamond drills and will make another complete section of its property. The results to date have not been sufficiently positive to warrant the sinking of any shafts, and it is proposed to obtain the additional information possible only in diamond drilling for this purpose. They have funds sufficient to undertake this. At two points the Onco hole was shown to carry good copper veins.

At the special meeting of the Arizona Commercial Copper company held at Portland, Me., stockholders by a vote of 90,000 shares authorized the issue of $100,000 in 10 per cent gold bonds and 50,000 additional shares of stock to be held in the treasury to exchange for the new bonds which are convertible into stocks on basis of twenty-five shares for each $500 of par value of bonds after June 1, 1911. The bonds will be offered to stockholders of record at the close of business May 5 at 95 per cent of their par value. They will be secured by a first mortgage covering all of the company's mining properties, and the equipment thereon, the smelter and power plant, as well as the standard gauge railroad owned and operated by the company, which is approximately five miles in length.

For voting on the proposition to increase capitalization from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 for absorption of Gila Copper company, Ray Consolidated stockholders will hold a special meeting late in May. To acquire Gila's outstanding 605,000 shares, on the basis of three for one of Ray, the entire 200,000 shares which the latter proposes to issue will be necessary. The directors of the two companies are identical except that the Ray company has two more directors than Gila. Sherwood Aldrich is president and B. C. Jackling vice president of both of them. In some cases the properties of the two adjoint and in one or two instances Gila claims are surrounded by those of Ray. In some cases the proved ore of one is up to the boundary line of the other. Through consolidation Gila will not be obliged to build a mill, as that now under construction by the Ray company will be capable of treating ore from both properties. The Ray mill is expected to be finished early next year, making that company one of the prospective 1911 producers.

Herman Schauer was one of the fortunate fishermen Sunday. He caught nineteen fine trout, which filled his basket, in Dead river, near Forestville.
The Brazil and the Michigan were the only ore carriers to clear yesterday, the former departing for Ashtabula and the Michigan for Buffalo. They were loaded at the L. S. & I. dock.
Word has been received of the arrival of Dr. E. H. Flynn at Naples. Dr. Flynn is now on his way to Vienna, where he will attend the American clinic at which Dr. Lorenz and other wellknown specialists will work.
Charles A. Nelson returned yesterday from a ten days trip to Chicago. He brought a Rambler touring car to Iron Mountain for R. H. James of that city. Mr. Nelson says that bargains in slightly used automobiles can be picked up at Chicago.

Albert E. Sterne, county commissioner of schools, has sent notices of the summer institute, in connection with the Northern Normal summer school, to the teachers and school officials of the county. He is co-operating with the Normal school officials to secure a large attendance.
Tax Sale Today—The annual sale of delinquent tax lands will open at the county building in the supervisors' room, this morning at 10:30 o'clock and will be conducted by Deputy Treasurer Wright. The number of descriptions on the books, 1,134, is much smaller than usual, and it is expected that the sale will be concluded some time during the afternoon.
Will Play Ishpeming—The Marquette baseball team will play an exhibition game at Ishpeming the coming Sunday. The players expect to get in considerable practice during the week, if the weather is favorable. The management expects that the team will be in good condition for the contest. It is likely that a large delegation of Marquette rooters will accompany it to Ishpeming, to get a line on the way it sizes up against the Ishpeming outfit.

Fine Catch of Trout—One of the finest catches of trout that has been brought into Marquette in late years was displayed yesterday in the basement of E. H. Bush's barroom. There were 150 fish, running from the minimum legal length to a pound or more. They were taken on the Sloop creek by O. M. McLaughlin, John Little and G. Paulin and most of them were caught Sunday. The men say they went in from Rumley to the creek and spent two nights in the woods. McLaughlin made the largest catch. Fishermen in the neighborhood of Forestville, on Dead river, also had pretty good luck Sunday, despite the high water.
Installing Fire Pump—Thomas Kane, the engineer at the Marquette prison, is engaged in the installing of a powerful fire pump, recently purchased from the Sloop Mills Hardware company at Duluth. It is being placed in the Carp river flats, below and but a short distance from the prison, on a concrete foundation. It will enable the throwing of several powerful streams of water to fight fire, within a few seconds, in the case of an alarm being rung, and will give the prison fairly good fire protection, a thing it has lacked ever since the institution was opened. The pump now in use is of small capacity and does not throw enough water to count against a fire.

Will Take C. & H. Band—The Marquette Elks who attended the meeting of delegates from the upper peninsula lodges in the copper country Sunday report that the upper peninsula herd will be accompanied to Detroit in July by the Calumet & Hecla band, which will lead it in the procession. It was decided that the upper peninsula delegation will be attired for this feature in miners' suits. They will be made of light material, so as not to be burdensome, and each member will supply his own outfit. Accommodations at Detroit will be arranged for by the upper peninsula Elks individually. They will travel to Detroit via the South Shore line to St. Ignace, and there will take the D. & C. boats. James Maney, assistant general passenger agent of the South Shore road, attended the copper country meeting to assist the Elks with their plans. The upper peninsula herd at Detroit is expected to number at least 500 members. The Hancock and Calumet lodges will send at least 250.

Another Candidate for Sheriff—Another newcomer into the ranks of the candidates for the nomination of sheriff of Menominee county on the Republican ticket is Joseph Kelly, of Wilson. He has served as deputy for over twelve years.
Chippewa Farmer a Suicide—George Kerr, a farmer living about two miles south of Pickford, Chippewa county, while in a fit of despondency caused by ill health, committed suicide by blowing off the top of his head with a double-barreled shotgun, loaded with buckshot. Information received at the sheriff's office is that Kerr had been unable to work for a number of months on account of the state of his health, and had become moody. He was a young man and leaves a wife.
Scalds Result in Death—Some weeks ago Peter Ceteci went from Iron Mountain to the James mine at Iron River, looking for employment. While standing in front of the city, talking to some of the men, he backed into a barrel of boiling water, which was standing near the door and was used by the men in washing. The water went up to his waist and he was so badly scalded about the lower part of the body that it was impossible to do anything for him and he lingered along until late last week, when death relieved him from his sufferings. He was a man about twenty-two years of age.
Crystal Falls Baseball Matters—The promoters of the Crystal Falls baseball association got together in the directors' room of the Iron County National bank last Thursday evening and organized by electing officers as follows: President, John Tufts; secretary, Herman Ruwitch; treasurer, Robert Munns; manager, Jas. F. Corcoran; ground keeper, Herman Holmes; scorer, John Wall; directors, Superintendent W. J. Richards, Superintendent Arvid Bjork, Jas. F. Corcoran and John Tufts. Herman Holmes, John Wall and Herman Ruwitch. The matter of finances were taken up and it was decided to appoint a collecting committee to canvass for funds. The park will require a great deal of work this year and it was decided to ask the city to make an appropriation for park purposes, not alone on the baseball grounds but on the property of the school board to the north. Manager Corcoran was instructed to get four men to fill up the vacancies on the team. Groundkeeper Holmes was instructed to begin at once to improve the diamond and reset the fence.

SUGGESTS NEW PLAN.

Correspondent Writes Urging His Ideas on Water Board.

To the Editor of The Mining Journal: As I have been a taxpayer in the city for several years, and have the city's best interests at heart at all times, I feel it my duty to make a few suggestions in regard to this water question. First I would suggest that every one of the present intake pipes, for there is a doubt whether it would remedy the present trouble, for as the city grows more sewage will find its way into the lake and naturally into the intake pipe. It is a well known fact that every one living in the same neighborhood is bound to meet or come in contact with every one else, and the same thing applies in this case. It is true that the intake would be stationary, yet through its influence of suction it is sucking in anything in its neighborhood, and the sewage will no doubt find its way into the intake and we would then be up against the same trouble that we are up against today. For this reason I believe that this plan should be abandoned.
I would suggest that the water works station be left as it is, and the city lay a pipe from the present water station to Presque Isle, where they can get pure and wholesome water. In adopting this plan it would be necessary to dig a trench deep enough so that the pipe would lay four or five feet below the lake level, and I believe that fifteen feet would be about the right depth. In using the latest appliances to dig this trench one practical man with four or five laborers can dig the trench at the rate of sixty to ninety tons per hour, or estimating the cost at $2 per lineal foot, figuring on a three-mile job, or 15,840 feet, would bring the cost to $31,680 for the trenching. This can all be done by home labor.
Now as to the pipe for this job. I would also suggest, or recommend, that it be built of reinforced concrete, and all the rock that would have to be drilled and blasted in the trenching for this pipe can be utilized in the manufacturing of the concrete pipe. It has been proven that a forty-eight-inch reinforced concrete pipe can be built at a cost of $3.25 per lineal foot, and this is the size that I recommend. This can also be done by home labor.
Figuring on a three-mile job, or 15,840 feet at a cost of $3.25 per lineal foot, would bring the total cost of the pipe in round numbers to $51,480.
Estimating the cost of laying the pipe and refilling the trench at $1 per lineal foot, would bring the cost of that part of the work in round numbers to $15,840. Allow $3,000 for the expenses of fuel and pumping water from the trench and other incidental expenses. Estimate the cost for the intake at Presque Isle at $50,000, and we have a total cost of the job as follows:
Trenching $31,680.00
Building reinforced concrete pipe 51,480.00
Laying pipe and refilling trench 15,840.00
Cost of intake at Presque Isle 50,000.00
Cost for latest improved appliances for trenching 4,000.00
Cost for fuel and pumping and other expenses 5,000.00
Total $157,960.00
This would mean a saving to the city of $88,000 less the electric pumping plant which the water board could install at a later date if they saw fit to do so.
I believe that if the water board would look into this plan that it would appeal to them as well as to the majority of the taxpayers, for the job would be a practical and substantial one.
Another reason that it should appeal to the water board as well as to all taxpayers of the city is that this work could all be done by home labor. Every dollar spent on the job would eventually find its way into all channels of business, thereby benefiting the whole city. A TAXPAYER.

SHAFT HOUSES FINISHED.

Milwaukee Concern Has Completed Work at North Lake Mines.

The Warden-Allen company of Milwaukee Saturday completed the erection of steel shaft houses at the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's North Lake Nos. 1 and 2 properties, and the crew leaves tonight for the Swansey range, where a shaft house is to be erected at the Smith mine.

John Hodgson, who has been with the company for a number of years, is the foreman on the job. Considering the fact that there were never more than fourteen men employed, the crew did rapid work at North Lake. The construction was started on the first of March, it requiring two months to put up both houses. Several days were lost on account of bad weather.

Besides erecting the shaft houses, four steel pulley stands were also put in. Two of these are sixty-five feet in height and two, forty-five feet. The shaft houses are of the same size and design, each being 105 feet high. There are 135 tons of steel in each structure.

After erecting the house at the Smith mine, the crew will be transferred to either the new shaft at the Negaunee mine, or the one being sunk at the Barnes property, at Dexter. The material has been at the Smith mine for more than a month past, but none of the steel has yet been delivered at either of the other two shafts. All of the shaft houses will be of the same size and design as the ones erected at the North Lake properties.

The management of the Warden-Allen company is also figuring on the contract for the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad company's viaduct on West Division street. This structure will be several hundred feet in length, extending across the tracks, also across Division street, from opposite the Lake Superior road dump to a point near the Finnish boarding house.

All the men employed in the construction department of the Warden-Allen company yesterday received an increase in wages. They had been receiving fifty cents per hour, and an advance of six and one-third cents was granted. While working in the cities or at the works, the men work only eight hours a day, but on road jobs, such as the ones on this range, they put in nine hours. Under the scale, the men receive time and a half for over-time and double time for Sunday. One of the men yesterday said that in spite of the big wages they are paid they have not averaged well up in this section as they have had too much lost time on account of the weather, delays in arrival of material, etc.

The Warden-Allen company employs several thousand men, and it has crews working in all parts of the world. All of the men in the construction department are members of the National Iron Workers' association, and a uniform scale of wages is paid. The foremen received an increase of six and one-third cents per hour, according to their ability.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.
Jacob Locher and wife, who are among the oldest and best known residents of the city, will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage next Monday, the 9th. Invitations to attend have been sent to all of their children and grandchildren and other relatives, and it is expected that there will be in the neighborhood of forty or fifty of them present. Mr. and Mrs. Locher have sons and daughters in various parts of the country, and several of them have large families. Their oldest son, John, is located in Tennessee, where he holds a responsible position with a mining company, and he has advised his parents that he and members of his family will be home to celebrate the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Locher are just completing a large addition to their home on Excelsior street, and they expect to have the work entirely finished before Monday.

It is to be a single pipe gravity system. The work will be started with the advent of the summer vacation, about June 1.

Anti Timper, aged twenty-two years, died Sunday at the Ishpeming hospital from acute peritonitis. The deceased was a native of Finland, having come to this country about twenty years ago, working in the copper country. He came to Ishpeming a little over a month ago and he worked but a few days in one of the mines when he was taken ill. He boarded at 207 Zoberline street and was removed to the hospital four days previous to his death. The funeral will be held this afternoon.

THE SUNNY SIDE OF SUPERSTITION
That there is anything genial, cheering or therapeutically valuable about superstition may seem a tall statement with it is "dark." On the contrary, there is something very brightening about a four-leaved clover. Who is not a little more of an optimist for picking up a horseshoe? What lonely farmer's wife, storm-bound on a winter afternoon, with unwelcome visitors on her hands, but feels a little quickening of the pulse as she drops her scissors and beholds them sticking up in the carpet?—or discovers that she has laid an extra place at the table? Company signs are the commonest and welcome of all superstitions. The scissor—the needle—the dishcloth—the fork—the Saturday sneeze, all incite hospitality, and reward it, by an unexpected visitor. If the needle slants as it stands up in the crack of the floor, it foretells a gentleman. The Run, young daughters of the house, and put a blue bow in your hair—Atlantic Monthly.

Negaunee Department

NEGAUNEE NEEDS A MODERN CLUB HOUSE

CITIZEN SUGGESTS THAT STEPS BE TAKEN TO SECURE EITHER A Y. M. C. A. OR OTHER SUITABLE BUILDING.

"Negaunee needs a club house or a Young Men's Christian Association building, and I would like to co-operate with other citizens in an effort to secure either for the city," said a well-known Negaunee man yesterday. The next public undertaking that the people should take up is the securing of a desirable meeting place for our young men and boys. I was at Gwinn the other day and looked over the fine club owned by the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, and I am providing for its employees. It then occurred to me that the people of Negaunee might secure aid from the mining corporations in the providing of a similar building. I have talked with some of the mining men and they all agree that if there is one thing that Negaunee needs, and needs badly, it is a general club house, or Y. M. C. A. building. Every modern city should have such a place.

Our people would contribute liberally to a project of this kind, but it would be necessary for the mining companies to give us generous financial aid. I would suggest a public meeting for a discussion of the matter. If the plan meets with approval, and I am sure that it will, a committee should be appointed to confer with the same agencies, with a view to ascertaining what help they could give. The mining companies have found by experience that a club house where their men can congregate is a good thing, as it helps greatly to improve the workmen's condition and makes them feel more contented.

"If we had a club house, many of the young men who now stand upon the street corners evenings would spend their time there, in wholesome surroundings. I hope our people will take this matter up at once."

AUTO SCORCHING.
Negaunee Business Man Protests Against Fast Driving.

"The automobile drivers of the city need some horse sense pounded into them," said a Negaunee business man yesterday. "I was driving with my family Sunday, and a young man, driving a machine recently tooted his horn back of us until we got out of the way, which we did as soon as we reached a place where it was possible to do so. Our horse was greatly excited, and in passing us the auto came within three or four inches of hitting the carriage."

"Other people complain of the way the auto drivers act on the road. The automobile drivers should be given to understand that a man with a horse and carriage has as much right on the road as they have. There are altogether too many youngsters driving automobiles in this county and the sooner some of them are given a lesson, the better it will be for all concerned."

It does not seem that the warning recently given by Mayor Elliott has had any effect. The fast driving is being done in the city limits, as well as on the city roads. A man with a horse and carriage is a big chance when he goes out driving nowadays."

MARRIED AT MARQUETTE.
Fred Chapman, a well-known Negaunee boy, who has been at Butte, Mont. for some few years past, and who recently returned to this city, was married Saturday at Marquette to Miss Jennie Northey of Negaunee. The wedding was a surprise to the friends of the bride and groom in this city. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist church parsonage, by Rev. A. Maywood, the pastor, Miss Annie Sherman was bridesmaid and William Sage supported the groom. The bride wore a gown of Irish lace over pink messaline and the bridesmaid was attired in a costume of white swiss embroidery.

Following the marriage the bride party returned to Negaunee, where they were tendered a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Northey, on Park street. Only the relatives and more intimate friends of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman left Sunday night for Butte, their future home, where he holds an important position with the Anaconda Mining company.

WINDING UP WORK.
The Sawyer-Goodman company, which employed a good sized crew in the woods north of Champion during the winter, will soon finish loading the last of the logs sent down the Peshekee river at its Champion hoist, at the eastern end of Lake Michigan. For some time past an average of twelve thousand cubic yards of logs have been shipped daily from the hoist to the company's plant at Menominee. The company has been operating in that district for two years past. It is not certain that work will be resumed next season, as the greater part of the stumpage owned by the concern has been cleaned out.

HOOKING A BIG TURTLE.
L. L. Betts, John Miller and H. I. Saxon made one of the most remarkable fishing catches yesterday ever recorded. The gentlemen went out on the yacht La Poupee and while trolling about Mr. Betts hooked into a 150-pound log-creeper turtle. The monster put up a fine fight, and for fully two hours it was nip and tuck between turtle and man, but the man triumphed, as nearly always he does, and his turtle-ship was hauled aboard and brought to port.

The capture of the turtle is remarkable first because they seldom take a hook and second because Mr. Betts had only a light rod and reel and slender tackle and was not prepared to undertake such a "killing."—Miami News Record.

ELKS TO DETROIT.

Upper Peninsula Members of the Antlered Herd Will Make Trip by Boat.

Thomas Gribble and C. L. Sporeley returned yesterday morning from Hancock, where they attended a meeting of the representatives of the Elks' lodges of the iron and copper district, to consider matters pertaining to the proposed trip to Detroit, where the national convention and reunion is to be held in July. It was decided to make the trip by special train to St. Ignace, and from there by boat on the D. & C. line. It is understood that the round trip fare from Negaunee will be $11, with extra charges for berths and meals. It will take twenty-five hours to make the run from St. Ignace to Detroit, the boat leaving St. Ignace in the morning and arriving in Detroit the next afternoon.

Mr. Sporeley yesterday said that the copper country Elks are enthusiastic over the convention and reunion and their lodges will send large delegations. The members from the iron and copper districts will appear in the parade in miners' uniform, and each member will furnish his own outfit.

FISH ARRIVE THIS MORNING.

Several members of the Negaunee Gun & Rod club will plant trout fry in the streams in this vicinity this morning. A consignment of 30,000 fry will arrive here on the Lake Superior & Ishpeming line at 10:16 a. m. The men who are to distribute the fish were designated by the club at a special meeting held Friday evening, and they will be on hand to take them out immediately. The fry will be planted in the Dead and Carp rivers, also in the Warner, Schweitzer, Palmer, Mulvey and Morgan creeks.

Sol Benyas, the Negaunee baseball team's mascot, was operated upon yesterday morning at the Negaunee hospital for appendicitis.

Oswald Davey, son of Captain Davey of the Mary Charlotte mine, left Sunday night for England, where he will spend a few months.

Duncan Best and Herbert Stephens, both in the employ of Cole & McDonald, the diamond drill contracting firm, went to the copper country yesterday.

C. O. Stensrud of Superior, Wis., who travels for a tombstone concern, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Stensrud lived at Michigan when he was a boy.

Henry Trevarrow, who has charge of the Cole & McDonald company's business on this range, is at Hot Springs, Ark., receiving treatment for rheumatism.

The Chevalier de Lafayette society of this city decided at its meeting Sunday to engage the Negaunee City band for the 24th of June, when the members will go to Escanaba.

The Hearst family and the Picketts, a colored troupe, presenting a musical comedy, entitled "Uncle Honey for the South," will appear at McDonald's opera house this evening, playing at popular prices, twenty-five, thirty-five and fifty cents.

D. D. Smith has purchased E. C. Anthony's residence property on Main street, and his family will begin moving today from the Swedish church parsonage on Cyr street, which they have occupied since moving in from Palmer. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony have for some time past occupied the Fenner dwelling.

The Negaunee merchants have received notice that there is to be another advance of 10 per cent on the wholesale price of rubber goods. There was an advance of 5 per cent on the first of the year. One of the dealers yesterday stated that automobile tires have almost doubled in price during the past two years.

Negaunee men who spent Sunday at one of the creeks south of here fishing, called at the farmer's house to purchase some cream for their coffee. They stood their tackle against the side of the house and while they were inside a chicken came along and swallowed the bait. The hook went so far into the chicken's neck that they had to cut its head off. They paid the farmer for the fowl, and had chicken for dinner.

BURIED ROMAN SHIP FOUND.
Part of a burned and mud-buried ancient ship has just been discovered in the harbor near Christchurch, Hampshire. At first it was considered to be a Viking vessel, but further excavations and expert criticism of the articles discovered have established the fact that the ship belonged to the Romans. A small incense cup of graceful outline, 3 1/2 inches high and 2.5 inches in diameter, was sent to the British museum authorities for examination, with the result that Mr. C. H. Read replied it was of Roman date. Altogether more than 20 articles of iron, bronze and pottery have been found.—London Chronicle.

Into the Saving Habit and Out of the Rut

The habit of saving has raised many a man out of the rut into the higher places. It makes him more methodical in the discharge of duty; it enhances his self-respect; it makes him a more useful member of society, and incidentally militates against those habits which undermine health and happiness. This would be a good bank in which to make your start. We are growing and you would also. One dollar or more will give you a start.

SAGINAW.—That they walked from Pontiac to Flint, then from Flint to this city, was the statement of D. B. Merritt of Gaylord when he and his wife appeared at the Salvation Army barracks, the woman crippled by sore feet. He said he and his wife were formerly employed at the Eastern Michigan asylum and were trying to get back home. Money was obtained and the woman was sent on her way by rail.

LANSING.—On May 3 State Geologist Allen will go to the Iron River district of the upper peninsula, to direct the mapping out of that district by five skilled employees of the geological department. It is impossible to tell how much of an area is to be mapped out as climatic conditions and results have a great deal to do with the progress of the work. The mapping of the district will furnish a chart containing information regarding minerals and rock deposits on every acre of the district. Considerable mining activity is being done, but it is thought that valuable deposits are still undiscovered.

LANSING.—W. A. Foote of Jackson, prime mover in the plans for the big water power merger and the development of the Anable river power, was in Lansing the other day. Asked if the several companies interested in the project have their applications for bond issues ready to present to the state railroad commission for approval, he replied: "No, the lawyers are at work, but it is a matter taking some time. I think probably some of them will be before the commission in another week."

He declared that he expects an understanding has been reached now which will allow for an early conclusion of the state's end of the matter.

CADILLAC.—Investigation is being made here by Dr. C. E. Schenk, professor of forestry in Billmore College of Forestry in Billmore, N. C., of the resources for the establishment of a technical school for instruction in practical forestry for the students of the Billmore college. Professor Schenk and H. J. Gibson, of Chicago, completed a tour of the pine stamp lands north of the city, where the soil and water privileges were considered. The plan is to establish the school and instruct students in forest cultivation, planting pine seedlings, and nurturing them until they have matured. The course is to follow the theoretical course in forestry taught in the college. Considerable land would be required. Professor Schenk will lay his investigations before the college board.

OWASCO.—Considerable curiosity has been aroused by the fact that the post-office department has granted seven days' leave of absence to Postmaster Dewey of Owosso, Mich. The department declines to state whether Mr. Dewey has been ordered to come to Washington, but there is a suspicion that this may be the fact, inasmuch as he is informally accused of circulating Senator Burrows' petitions, and the administration is showing a strong disposition to stop offensive partisanship on the part of the officeholders. It is also said that other postmasters are subjecting themselves to possibly disagreeable experience on account of their activity in politics at a partisan caucus, in which being Dewey's neighbor at Cornucopia, but it cannot be learned that any formal charges have been filed.

ALLEGAN.—Hannah McIntosh Cady, the city's oldest inhabitant, passed away on her one hundred and second anniversary. Though "Aunt Hannah" was known to be very ill from injuries received in a fall last October, it was thought that she would live for several days and that possibly she might even be spared to witness still more birthday anniversaries. Mrs. Cady was born in Mantua, Portage county, Ohio, in 1808, and was the fourth of a family of nine children born to Mr. and Mrs. Pascal McIntosh. She distinctly remembered the war of 1812 and how her mother hid her with her baby brother, a faithful dog being placed on guard. She was married in 1822 to Peter Cady in the town of her birth and to this union four children were born, all of whom reside in this city. A few years ago Mrs. Cady enjoyed her second sight, doing much fancy work without the use of glasses. Since that time she had lost her sight and at the time of her death was nearly blind.

Diagonal Cross Walks, Band Stand, Electric Lights and Apparatus for Children Asked For.

Over two hundred residents in the neighborhood of Washington street park want the city to spend some money to make the park serve the purposes for which it was originally expected it would be used when the Harrows presented it to the city.

The petitioners, who presented their request to the council last evening, want it supplied with concrete walks, cutting it diagonally, with a band stand, park seats, four arc lights and apparatus for the use of children.

Favors Substantial Bridge. Alderman Hennessy, calling attention to the fact that the board of park, cemetery and street commissioners was about to pass on bids for a wooden bridge across Dead river at the light and power station, urged on the council action to have built, instead, a concrete and steel bridge.

Alderman Hennessy "insured" on the request of the police commission for an advance of $300 to tide it over until the appropriation for the new fiscal year is available.

D., S.S. & A. BRAKEMAN WAS KILLED YESTERDAY

OLIVER GAUTHIER, AN OLD EMPLOYEE, DECAPITATED A SHORT DISTANCE ABOVE THE THIRD STREET CROSSING.

The coroner's jury that inquired into the death of Oliver Gauthier, who was decapitated by an ore car on the South Shore railroad about 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning, about 200 feet above the Third street crossing, last evening returned this verdict:

"Oliver Gauthier came to his death by being run over by a wheel on a car belonging to the D., S. S. & A. railway in the yard of said company while in the discharge of his duties as a brakeman on a train of cars being run from the upper yards to the track to the No. 4 ore dock, and that said deceased fell between the cars of the train on account of the breaking or parting of the chain of the brake which he was trying to set."

The jurors were Harry Price, Shields McCarthy, J. L. Johnson, Warner Brown, Niek Mosler and Fred Welland. The witness who saw the accident in all its details was Mrs. Helena Peterson, who stood on the back porch of the second story of one of the Washington street buildings the rear of which abut on the tracks. Gauthier, according to her story, was straining hard at the brake wheel when suddenly something gave way.

At the inquest the railroad company was represented by A. E. Miller, H. Bitters was one of the witnesses. It was developed that Gauthier was using a brake stick thirty-two inches long, whereas the brakemen on the main line are restricted to the use of a stick twenty-four inches long.

LARGE AMOUNT OF PRIMARY SCHOOL MONEY

SUM OF $4,500,000 WILL BE DISBURSED—RATE IS $6 FOR EACH PERSON OF SCHOOL AGE.

Friday night when the state treasury was closed at Lansing the state was credited with $6,138,630.08 in cash, of which, however, about $4,500,000 represented primary school funds which will be paid out between the first and tenth of the month, leaving only a sum of $1,500,000, approximately, for the general expenses of government.

The big railroads sent in their taxes Friday, the Pere Marquette coming in with $620,000 in the afternoon, and that assures the school children an apportionment of primary school funds at the rate of about 86 per capita, a share of which will go to districts already over-loaded, while others will not have enough for the purpose for which the money is furnished.

Handling this big sum is an ordinary matter in the state treasury and yet its accumulation and distribution is a serious matter to the banks of the state, for, strong as they are, the movement from bank to bank of about $1,500,000 within a short space of time is somewhat a disturbing element.

As soon as the apportionment is made, the treasury will begin sending out to county treasurers the receipts which they will have to sign and return before the money is sent to them.

HOLD OUT PART OF THEIR TAXES

BIG COMPANIES PREPARE TO FIGHT STATE'S ADVALOREM LAW—SITUATION REGARD-ED AS SERIOUS.

Charging that Michigan's ad valorem system of taxation is in violation of the state and national constitutions, two big corporations have paid only a portion of the taxes assessed against their property.

The Western Union paid to Auditor General Fuller $20,673.31, whereas it is assessed $31,000.57; the American Telegraph & Telephone company paid $7,752.49 and was assessed $9,502.99.

"Something has got to be done about this taxation matter," said Auditor General Fuller. "I have referred the entire question to the attorney general. Probably we will proceed to seize some of their property to collect the remainder of the tax, but where it will end I can not guess.
