

WOULD WIELD GRAVEL OF THE HOUSE AGAIN

Congressman Cannon Makes His Position Plain—Says in an Address at Emporia That He Will Not Take Himself Out of the Race for the Speakership.

No "Muckraking Magazines" Can Make Him Proclaim He Is Not a Candidate, He Declares—He Will Make No Effort to Win, but Will Serve If Chosen.

Burlingame, Kas., July 18.—Congressman Cannon will not take himself out of the race for the speakership of the next house.

This declaration was made just before Mr. Cannon left the platform at Emporia to catch a train for Burlingame, where tonight he made his third political speech in the Kansas primary campaign.

"I am still a speaker, and on March 4, next, I will have been speaker for eight years, a longer continuous term than any man ever served as speaker since the foundation of the government," he said.

"Somebody has got to be a scapegoat, through magazines and letters. Candidates for congress are asked, 'Will you pledge yourself not to vote for that old Caesar for speaker?'

"They wanted to get me into the wild, but I would not be a candidate for speaker if the Republicans have a majority in the next house.

"I don't know whether Mr. Aldrich and others organized a trust. Being uninformed, I neither deny or affirm, but if Mr. Aldrich, occupying his great position, did organize the trust, then, under the Sherman anti-trust act, he is liable not only to serve punishment by fine, but by imprisonment.

Just before beginning his speech at Emporia Mr. Cannon again suffered much discomfort from the heat.

Kansas City, July 18.—"Kansas is not taking Uncle Joe Cannon seriously," said Senator Bristow, in a speech here tonight.

MARQUETTE, MICH., JULY 19, 1910.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Negamine's ahead and Crystal Falls is coming up.

The umpire continues to be the same old popular favorite.

There's nothing the matter with Uncle
Joe's gaminess, at all events.

Real news from Oyster Bay: There are to be no political conferences this week.

Hammerstein is back, and there is the usual stir in professional music circles that is expected to follow on that event.

The country is left in no doubt that the Democratic party contains many patriots who are willing to be drafted for service in 1912.

The Detroit Journal has reached the conclusion that Elks' conventions aren't all the advance notices make them out to be.

This country spends $15,000,000 annually on baseball, but when the home team loses it is hard to figure out how it is worth the money.

The Long Island monorail express had a beautiful bust up. These fancy twentieth century means of transportation are not as safe as those our fathers affected.

A Detroit paper has a column editorial leader on "The Lesson Taught by the Elks' Convention." The lesson is, in brief, that Detroit should not try another.

Generosity is all very well in its place, but the exceeding bountifulness of our Marquette baseball team to the other fellows is beginning to get on the nerves of ye loyal baseball fan.

"Garry" Hermann, the new exalted ruler of the Elks, says he reached the height of ambition in Detroit last week.
There will be pleasure that Mr. Hermann's modest ambition has been realized.

A La Porte, Ind., clergyman has resigned his charge because he says he is criticized for everything he does "including the drinking of a hot toddy on an occasion when he suffered from a cold and according to the orders of his physician, and commended for nothing." It's a wise clergyman who knows when to get away from a gossiping congregation.

There must be something about a university town that is discouraging to growth in population and industry. The population of Ann Arbor was 14,509 ten years ago and is given out as 14,817 for 1910. Even the babies born in the interval have not remained in town. Ann Arbor evidently has some explaining to do.

President Taft is to make a few semi-political speeches in Maine, not ambitious ones, but brief and modest efforts, just to help the party out. The Maine Democrats are unusually active this year and the Maine election is usually regarded as a barometer that indicates coming political events. Naturally President Taft desires that it should give the right kind of indications.

Anyway, the Hon. M. H. Moriarty appears to have the senatorial field to himself. No one is thinking of contest-ing the honor with him. The candidacies that a short time ago were being talked about were all based on the assumption that Mike didn't want to go back. Now that he has decided that he wants another term, no one appears to desire to stand in his way.

Uncle Joe really ought to eschew the subject of insurgency until the weather grows cooler, or until he reaches more northerly latitudes than those of Kansas. The heat of the sun burning the Kansas prairies, together with the heat Uncle Joe always develops under his collar when he enters on this, for him, exciting subject, is more than mortal man was made to endure. Uncle Joe has a magnificent constitution, and a power of endurance wonderful at his age, but he should not overtax 'em. We don't want Uncle Joe taken off untimely. We want him spared for many years to come, so we hope he will be careful not to get too "het" up in the dog days.

We have heard of fancy cows that have electric fans in their stalls and have read serious discussion of the soothing effects of well-chosen music on the nerves of the useful bovines, but the climax of bovine luxury is detailed in a dispatch telling of the plans of Alexander R. Peacock, of Pittsburg, a multi-millionaire farmer, for a dairy to be operated near that city. Mr. Peacock plans to expend $25,000 on a barn which will house 150 head of blooded cattle. We are informed that "the barn will be as fine as any country dwelling and will be equipped with every modern convenience. A room with a bath for cows sounds preposterous, but this will be literally true of the Peacock dairy.

The bath room will enable the cows to bathe in winter as well as summer. In addition the teeth of the cows will be scrubbed daily. . . . It is understood that the Peacock dairy will do business exclusively in the fashionable east end district and that the extra price of fifteen cents will be charged for the blue-blooded milk." It goes without saying that there will be an electric fan in each of the Peacock stalls and perhaps each cow will have a graphophone of its own, with a generous supply of records that most accord with its individual tastes.

The New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch have offered attractive bait for an aeroplane trip between New York and St. Louis, either way. For this jaunt of about 900 miles, as the crow flies, they will give a prize of $30,000, provided only it is completed in 100 consecutive hours in the same aeroplane. The offer stands between August 15 next and January 1, 1911, and the flight can be undertaken by any aviator three days after giving notice to either paper of his intention to start and of his approximate route. It is likely that the prize will be tried for by some ambitious aviators during the summer or fall. The trip should be within the range of the possibilities of their machines. There are no limitations on stops or routes. Contestants could establish supply stations for gasoline, food and other essentials at such distances and places as might seem desirable to them. The aeroplanes are credited with a maximum sustained horizontal flight of fifty-four and four-fifths miles. At an average speed for the distance of forty miles the flight could be made in twenty-two and a half hours. With good weather, and a little luck, the feat should be capable of accomplishment.
The $30,000 prize has not been hung up for a performance beyond hope of success. If the flight is successfully made it will be far the most interesting and significant performance yet credited to an aeroplane, and will do much to convince those who still doubt that the aeroplane is going to establish a dis-

"Mr. Cannon should cancel his remaining engagements and get back to Danville for a needed rest," says the Milwaukee Sentinel. "If his tariff oratory was doing his party any good it might be worth while for him to continue, even at the now manifest risk of a serious breakdown from the effects of heat and fatigue. But it is not doing any good.
Quite the reverse. . . . To speak a hard truth Mr. Cannon is not any more in sympathy, at the bottom of his heart, with the really progressive features of the Payne tariff, with the platform principles of schedule making, or with the president's tariff board or commission policy than he is with the free trade vapors of Champ Clark.
Everybody knows that who followed his talk prior to the revision. But when Mr.
Cannon goes about in Kansas speaking perfunctorily for the Payne tariff law, people there draw precisely the inferences about the Payne tariff that they ought not to draw. Mr. Cannon may argue for it until the cows come home.
For those people he is the argument against it. What is wanted there is a speaker able to convince them by facts and figures that the Payne tariff does not represent what they have in mind when they talk about 'Cannonism.' It is not a 'standpat' tariff, nor anything like it; otherwise it would never have received the president's signature."

Lower state papers comment that that there is not the interest in the lower peninsula in the gubernatorial campaign that there was in 1908, and many of them speculate as to the cause.
It is commented that the heated feeling that was developed by the third term cavass of Governor Warner and the opposition he received from Dr. Bradley is not observed this year, which may account for the comparative lack of interest. No one will regret the absence of heat in the canvass, and it will be hoped that none will be developed, though there is reason to apprehend that the candidates may get battling away at one another in the next few weeks. Their utterances are constantly becoming more vigorous, and they may get so much of vigor into them that tempers will be thrown in, for good measure. It may be true that there is less interest in the canvass below the straits than in 1908, but that does not hold for the upper peninsula. In 1908 this part of the state took the campaign much less seriously than the lower peninsula. It did not become badly involved in the re-nominations exchanged between the Warner and anti-Warner camps, and the issue of the primary left little soreness.
This year, however, the upper peninsula is greatly interested in the gubernatorial contest, and the vote polled for the candidates will far exceed the votes polled in the district for any other office.
There's no apathy north of the straits.

IS MOVING CAREFULLY.
President Taft's recent utterances on the part he intends to take in the pending campaign indicate that he possesses rare political good sense and that he is in no danger of his getting "in bad" by poorly timed attempts to dictate.

He has made his attitude in regard to candidates and platforms plain beyond question of debate. Neither in Ohio, nor anywhere else, will he interfere with the one or the other. He holds the Republican voters amply competent to choose between candidates, and assumes that the Republican conventions that frame the platforms that will be enunciated during the next few weeks will be well qualified for the work they are delegated to do.

Naturally President Taft would be greatly gratified if every platform contained unqualified expressions of approval of the work of his administration as far as it has been carried on, and of confidence in the ripeness of his political wisdom. But he well realizes that all such expressions, to have any value, must be spontaneous with the delegates, and that they would be worse than futile if they were obtained by any machinations of his special friends, with his connivance.

The issue will doubtless prove that the president will be well taken care of in the official declarations of the party in the several states. All the platforms may not be everything the president might wish, but there will be little or nothing in any of them to give serious offense. The president is too reasonable a man to expect, in light of the vigorous dissent from this view, that there will be any unanimity in lauding the tariff law—the principal thing over which there are differences in the party —to the skies.

As for candidates, the president's decision to know naught of them is in accordance with the safest precedent and best traditions of the party. It would be an abuse of power for him to attempt to influence the choice of the voters in favor of any particular candidate for office as against any other candidate.

The designation of the men who are to become party candidates is distinctly the business of the rank and file of voters, and is a right of which they are becoming constantly more jealous.

The president is solicitous for the interests of the whole party. He feels his responsibility to aid, as far as within his power, in ironing out factional differences and again establishing a harmonious basis for party action. What he has to say during the campaign will, therefore, be of a general nature, and both his words and actions will be discreet.

HERE AND THERE.
Washington is the first city whose population in 1910 has been announced by the census bureau. The growth in the last decade has been 62,351—at the rate of 18.8 per cent. The percentage of increase from 1890 to 1900 was 21;
so that there has been a slight retardation in the capital's development. Yet most Washingtonians will doubtless be satisfied with the moderate increase recorded, since they are sensibly content to see the city grow slowly through accretions due to an appreciation of its attractiveness as a place of residence rather than to its exploitation as a center of industry and commerce. Other cities are fitted to be marts of trade and smoke-covered hubs of industry. Washington has the better part in remaining a center of leisure, cultivation, decorum and beauty.—New York Tribune.

The government forestry service is preparing to carry on this year a series by congress for this purpose. The in-the same time the school enrollment grew from 9,438,833 to 17,061,962, and the average daily attendance from 5, 783,965 to 12,154,172. The yearly salary

$219,780,123.

A LAUGH OR TWO.
Nothing in a Name.
"Did you ever hear the story about the Irishman who was caught in a trap game raid with some Chinese?" asked Captain Carroll of the local detective bureau. "It happened not so very long ago in the first precinct."
"The plain clothes men had been sent out to investigate a crap game somewhere in Market street. They brought in five Chinese and Mike Kelly, an Irishman. Of course, they were all lined up in court the next morning in front of a roomful of spectators."
"What's your name?" asked the judge of the first of the prisoners.
"One Lung," said the man.
"One Lung, you're fined $10. And your name?"
"Ong Foo."
"The other three gave their names as Sing Foo, Wah Foo and Gee Foo. Each was fined $10. Then it came the Irish-man's turn. He did not wait, but stepped up to the desk.
"Your name?"
"Oh, h—! Here's your $10. Never mind the name!"—Newark Star.

CLIMBERS.
This story is told of a New York teacher who recently escorted a party of children to the zoo. She came to a stop in front of the savage little peccarie, the South American wild hogs that often chase the unwary traveler up a tree—or else make him over into a nutritious lunch. She couldn't find a sign on the cage. "These children," said she impressively, "are mustangs." A bystander overheard her, and sought to put her right, for the children's sake. "Pardon me," said he, "but you have the name a little wrong.
These are wild hogs."
Evidently some faint recollection of those arboreal adventures referred to in which travelers are sometimes engaged when they fuss with the peccaries floated through her mind. She gave the helpful stranger a bright look of thanks. "I am so grateful," said she, "I know it was something that climbs a tree."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

The school commissioners of a south-union school to carry on the work of the district school houses, and called a meeting of taxpayers to discuss the proposition. Colonel Rember, one of the oldest men present, obtained the floor, and said: "Gentlemen," he said, and his voice had the sound of something coming "gentlemen, our town unquestionably deserves greater and higher educational facilities than those afforded by the district school. Our worthy commissioners have recognized this need, and plan to provide for our children a modern building in which to pursue advanced subjects. But, gentlemen," and his voice was tense and solemn, "they propose to call it a union school! I protest! Gentlemen, I move that it be called a Confederate school."

"And he sat down amid hilarious applause."—Buffalo Express.

James York of the Hay Lake road brought, duty free, through the Soo ported by Mr. York is said to be about as perfect in both breeding and con-

entitled to congratulations from all admirers of good horse flesh. Last year Mr. York imported, duty free, a registered Shire stallion, which is said to be the best of his breed in this vicinity.
Both the sires and dams of these young Shires were imported from England.
The young stallion is named Dunsmore Superior No. 10,532, and he is a cousin to England's most famous show horse—Dunsmore Gloaming, owned and often exhibited by the late King, Edward VII.
The king's horse never suffered defeat.
Mr. York's latest acquisition, the young mare, is named Rose Queen No. 11,597.

Copper Country

LOCATING A FISH HATCHERY.

Fish Culturist Marks of the Soo Tells of Hatchery Requirements.

In response to the invitation of the Portage Lake Rod & Gun club and others interested in the propagation and protection of fish in the copper country, Harry H. Marks, superintendent of the state fish hatchery at the Soo, arrived in Houghton Sunday to look over proposed sites for a fish hatchery. The plan at the Soo must be moved, by reason of the building of a new lock on its site and Mr. Marks is looking for a new site.

Secretary McCall and Paul Swift of the Portage Lake club conferred with Mr. Marks on Sunday and today will show him the various streams near Houghton. He spent yesterday in Keweenaw county with F. W. Taylor, general passenger agent of the Keweenaw Central railroad, who is trying to secure the hatchery for some point in Keweenaw county.

The first requisites for a fish hatchery are an abundance of pure, cold water. At the Soo the hatchery is located in the rapids and has all of Lake Superior back of it. Here there is no such water supply and a stream must be depended upon. An idea of the amount of water to be supplied for the purpose may be gained from the fact that the stock ponds at the Soo hatchery are supplied with water running through one 18-inch pipe and one 20-inch pipe from a nine-foot head. These stock ponds are aquaria kept stocked with brook and rainbow trout. From these the eggs for hatching are taken as it is impracticable to secure eggs from fish in streams, impossible in fact as enough fish could not be caught for the purpose.

The hatchery uses 120 gallons of water a minute through the hatching season, which corresponds with the winter. A little arithmetic will show the daily consumption of water and the size of the stream on which the hatchery would have to be built.

The requisites for a fish hatchery are abundance of water and a site sufficiently large to permit of the construction of stock ponds near the water supply, such ponds to be supplied preferably by gravity. Mr. Marks favors the copper country as a site for the hatchery if the conditions can be met.

Hatchery Production.

The hatchery at the Soo produced last year, ending this spring, 20,000,000 whitefish and 8,000,000 lake trout for the United States. Fish commission, to be planted annually in the great lakes. It produced for the Michigan Fish commission 1,601,000 brook trout, 650,000 rainbow trout and 2,000,000 lake trout. All of the Michigan Fish commission's hatch was planted in the streams and lakes of the upper peninsula.

The location of the hatchery in the copper country would not benefit the district to any great extent. It employs only a few men and consumes little else besides water. It would probably not allow many more fish to the copper country annually but it would give copper country fishermen the advantage of better fish as the fry could be planted within a few hours after leaving the hatchery, instead of traveling for a days in cans before reaching the streams as now.

Michigan Is Niggardly.

Mr. Marks says that the propagation of fish in Michigan is hampered by the weakness of the appropriation given the commission by the state legislature. Michigan's fish culture receives about $35,000 a year while Pennsylvania, for example, receives $150,000 annually. Mr. Marks takes some pride in the fact that, in spite of this financial brake, Michigan has the three best fish hatcheries in the United States. He thinks that Michigan should be the leading fresh water fish producing state in the union as it has the greatest coast line. "Why, Isle Royale has a greater coastline than some Atlantic coast states," he remarked.

VISITORS AT GREENLAND.

The Misses Amy and Lillian Westgreen, the former of Seattle, Wash., and the latter of Ishpeming, are guests at the home of Wm. J. Doonan at Greenland, Ontonagon county. The young ladies are sister of the hostess and they will spend several weeks in Greenland before departing for the West, where they have been engaged as teachers. Miss Lillian at Spokane, Wash., and Miss Amy at Seattle. Miss Amy spent two weeks in Ishpeming before going to Greenland.

NEWS FROM KARL LEHTO.

Karl Lehto, the copper country wrestler, who is giving wrestling exhibitions in Minnesota with K. J. Wirtanen of Hancock and others, threw three men in less than half an hour in a handicap match at West Duluth a few evenings ago. The men were Ole Johnson, Wirtanen and Fred Salminen, and the time taken to throw all three was twenty-seven minutes. Salminen was thrown in 6 minutes, Wirtanen in 14 1/2 minutes and Johnson in 4 1/2 minutes.

Prince of Lake Linden and a delegation of members of the Lake Linden club was present. Addresses were delivered by Past President E. O. Mayotte, L. N. Legris, Ernest Tibbault, John Cloutier and Lucien Chabot. Several Chassell men also spoke in favor of the movement. The following officers were elected:

Vice President—Eugene Miron.
Secretary—D. Destalire.
Assistant Secretary—Amede Trudelle.
Corresponding Secretary—E. Latreux.

Seven directors will be elected at the next regular meeting.

The club will take a census of the unaturalized French-Canadian residents of Chassell to be ready to assist them in their application for citizenship. A large number of future citizens. South Range and Atlantic will next be visited by the central committee and branches will be organized in these localities. The club also induces aliens to make application for citizenship as it desires that all French-Canadian residents of the county become citizens. The example of this club is being followed by other nationalities.

The merchants of Baraga and L'Anse are behind the plan, their principal object being to get a cheap rate on freight from Chicago, Detroit and other lake ports to their towns.

The present plans of the manager of White City do not misarry the steamer International of the line of boats in the service of the White City company will make the first trip over the new route next Thursday, leaving Houghton at the usual time of the morning trip to the east at the entry, and making the first stop at the pier at White City. From here the boat will proceed to L'Anse and Baraga and will then go over to Pequaing, returning to Houghton early in the evening.

The business men of Baraga and L'Anse held a meeting at the former town Saturday night at which Manager Labb was present and outlined the plan of the company as given above. The merchants of the two towns were well pleased with the plan, which is so arranged as to permit of the boat making the trip twice weekly, on Monday and Thursday, making connections at Houghton with the big steamers bringing package freight from the lower lake ports. Another meeting of the business men of the two towns will be held tonight, at which the final details of the plan will be arranged.

CANADIANS WERE HERE.

A party of 125 excursionists from Port Arthur visited the copper country

Sunday in the steamer City of Chatham. They were a lively bunch and Canadian money is very plentiful in the copper country as a result. Port Arthur annually sends a big excursion or two to the copper country and the friendliest of relations exist between the peoples separated by Lake Superior.

HOUGHTON TO HAVE TEAM.

Young Athletes Will Enter the Hibernian Meet in Hancock.

Under the direction of Carlos Haug, the most popular athlete that the Houghton high school ever turned out, Houghton will have a track team in the Hibernian annual meet at Hancock in August. The boys are now working out on an improvised track at Haas Park. There are fifteen candidates, and thus far the following selections have been made:

Distance runs—Ed. Bassett.
Weights—Reuben Allie, Silvestre Shea, "Ching" McCurdy, Carlos Haug.
Dashes—Carlos Haug.
Discus—Ole Haas and Charles Anderson.
Pole vault—Hubert Haas and Ole Haas.
The boys are also trying to induce Manager John T. McNamara of the Amphidrome to enter. Mr. McNamara can put the shot quite handily, having a record in practice of 46 feet. Some of the boys, referring to the big manager's great height, declare they believe he could drop it that far and if he put his strength against the ball he could put it for a record. Mr. McNamara is the patron of amateur athletics in Houghton and the guide, philosopher and friend of all the high school athletes. They actually believe he would be an invincible mascot if he joined the team.

ELKS RETURN HOME.

The copper country delegation to the national Elks convention at Detroit arrived yesterday. The Elks all report a good time and declare that the copper country was represented "right."

HAS CANDIDATE FOR QUEEN.

Red Jacket Fire Department Decides to Open a Campaign.

The members of the Red Jacket fire department have finally decided to endeavor to elect the queen of the annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association, which is to be held at the Soo in August, and will at once open a campaign for the election to this honor of Miss Lydia Weidemann of Centennial Heights, the fattest woman in the world. Voting boxes will be placed in every town of the copper country within a short time and the residents of the entire district will be invited to assist in electing a tournament queen from the copper region. It is believed that the firemen of Houghton, Hurontown, Hancock, Lake Linden, Hubbell, Mohawk, Laurium and the other towns of the district will assist in every way.

The members of the department were undecided for some time as to whether it would be possible to conduct a contest, as the department is rather shy on funds at the present time. Word has been received from the Soo, however, that if Miss Weidemann is elected tournament queen the tournament committee will defray all of her expenses. Miss Weidemann has consented to allow her name to be entered as a candidate, and it is believed she will be the only candidate to be put up in the copper country. Doubtless she would be one of the main attractions of the tournament, because of her great weight. It is said that Miss Weidemann weighs in the neighborhood of 500 pounds.

MINERS' DRILL TRIALS.

Tucker Team Defeated in First Elimination Contest Saturday.

John D. Ryan's offer of a prize of $1,000 to the champion Butte (Mont.) hammer and drill team if that team defeated the Calumet & Hecla men in the contest to be held at the Calumet & Hecla park on the occasion of the miners' picnic on July 30 has stimulated interest in the competition. The Butte drillers will also receive their expenses and a prize of $150, made up here and there by the contest.

The several teams in this district who wish to face the Butte team July 30 are holding regular practices, and elimination contests to decide the championship team of the Lake Superior district have been under way for some time. It is understood that officials of the Calumet & Hecla company are back of the proposition to match a local team with the Butte drillers, and that a rich prize will be hung up for the copper country men if the Westeners are defeated.

The first of the elimination trials was held Saturday afternoon on the C. & H. location and the Becker team won, drilling 39 1/2 inches in fifteen minutes, defeating the strong Tucker team, which won the event on the fourth of July with 40 inches. The Tucker made 37 1/2 inches and the Crystals 35. Two more trials will be held before the team finally is chosen.

The members of the Butte team are expected to arrive in Calumet several days before the contest of July 30, in order that they might be given an opportunity to rest. It is expected that this contest will settle the hammer and drill championship of the United States.

Mining News

CALUMET & ARIZONA

Costs Are Put at Not Far from Eight Cents Per Pound.

A New York banker largely interested in Calumet & Arizona had his engineer make an examination of the property in April of this year. He says: "The oxide ore southwest of the Irish Mag shaft has been opened up from the 750-foot level to fifty feet above the 550-foot level, and the 450-foot level is running to catch it. The Irish Mag ore is being mined from the portion where they are driven out some years ago by a cave-in. There is possibly 100 feet of vertical ore covering an area fifty by fifty feet containing about 60 per cent copper."

"On the 950, 1,050 and 1,150-foot levels of the Oliver shaft, a large quantity of oxide ore is being produced and comes from an extension of the old rich ore bodies around this shaft. On the 1,150-foot level there is an area of oxide and sulphide ore of even grade running about 300 feet. They have had these ore bodies for several years, but never worked them hard. The last few months of development has shown considerably more ore than was expected. A new big sulphide deposit at the end of the Beckeye claim was found several years ago on the 1,250-foot level and in the last few months was cut on the 1,350-foot level. From the 1,300 up to the 1,200 it is still stope and represents a block 100 feet high and approximately 150 by 125 feet. The ore on the 1,300-foot level is a better grade than on the 1,200, running 7 per cent copper. Above the 1,200-foot level they have not been able to see the end of this ore. This ore body represents a large and valuable reserve of rich ore to the Calumet & Arizona property and demonstrates the value of development along the route of known ore bodies even if the first is small. This is the largest body of sulphide ore yet found on the Calumet & Arizona, and in a country where so far as previous experience goes no valuable deposits of copper ore have been found."

"The small ore body on the 1,250-foot level of the Gilbert claim is being developed. It is a new country and the ore is very rich—12 per cent copper. At the junction of the Gibraltar and Sunnyside claims there is an ore body in common with the Superior & Pittsburg, discovered from the Cole shaft and mined on for two years. Recently the Calumet & Arizona has started to mine there. It is not thought now to be a large body of oxide. It is bunched out of good grade—7 per cent copper. On the drift running from the Oliver shaft to the Gibraltar fifteen feet of sulphide ore was cut just over the Beckeye line, but is not explored."

Supplementing the report, the engineer states that since his examination new ore bodies have been found and vious assessments there remained unpaid at the close of last year $17,838, and since that date a $1 assessment was due last March. The company has the right to sell stock on which assessments have been called and not paid, but it is understood that the directors have not considered in any way the selling of the unpaid stock. Action may be taken later. It is very doubtful if another tax will be laid on the stockholders of the Winona, and especially if the back assessments are paid in. But it is not certain that another $1 will not be called, for should the price of copper metal continue to decline it may be necessary, although not for some time, to call for another dollar per share. The Winona is opened up on a large scale, the opinion of some of the largest stockholders is that it would be better to close the mine until the metal situation shows improvement rather than ask for additional money from the stockholders. There was some disappointment on the announcement that the mill would not be ready for operation until the closing months of the year, for it was generally believed that the end of August would see the mill all ready. Should the price of the metal not be sufficiently high when the mill is ready, the management may continue development work and not send a great deal of rock to the mill.

The assessment just declared on the stock of the Winona Copper company will result in receipts of $100,000, but it is very doubtful if the $1 is paid when it falls due on all the stock outstanding, says the Boston Financial News. Of previous ore bodies have been found and Repairs at Schools—Head Janitor Ed. Quaters and his corps of assistants are busy making needed repairs on the various school buildings of the city, so that they will be in first class condition when school opens early in September. In the space so made, fifty-seven new desks are being placed, which will make it possible to seat 328 in the assembly room. At all the other buildings, the walls and ceilings are being patched and re-tinted wherever needed, necessary paper being done and other minor repairs are being made.

ELKS HOME FROM DETROIT.

Marquette Delegation Had a Most Delightful Time at the Convention.

Nearly all of the Marquette Elks who returned home early yesterday morning on a special train from St. Ignace. A number of copper country Elks accompanied the Marquette party and took the regular train from here to their home.

Those attending the convention unanimously report that they had one of the best times of their lives and that Detroit and the various arrangement committees fully lived up to the pre-convention promises in the manner and lavishness of entertainment afforded the visitors. The only objection that one Elk could make to the convention was that there was too much doing—that it was a regular three or four-day circus for the whole week and it was impossible for any one man to take it all in.

The feature in which a number of the Marquette attendants were most interested was the airship exhibition. The Wright brothers were there with their biplane and their account demonstrated that the machine can be operated under perfect control and faster than a horse can run. No high flights were attempted by the Wrights, but another aeronaut with a different make of airship soared to 2,000 or 2,500 feet and returned to earth without mishap.

BANK CASES NEARING END.

Several Suits Brought by Receiver Disposed of Yesterday.

The end of the litigation resulting from the failure of the First National bank of Ironwood is in sight, and the last of the civil suits for this term will be disposed of this morning. The case of Tillinghast, receiver, vs. W. G. Peterson went to the jury and a verdict of no cause of action was returned. This suit was brought for payment of an accommodation note. The defense was that Peterson had demanded his note four months after it had been given, and was told by the bank officers that it had been destroyed. The jury was out less than three minutes.

Settlement, subject to the approval of the controller of the currency, was made in the action brought by the receiver against Waino Ekquist. The defense in this action was similar to that in the Peterson case.

Trial by jury was waived in the case of the receiver against Matt Hellen and the evidence has been submitted to the court, who has not yet given his decision. In this case, Hellen claims that he gave his note in return for money given him to cash checks on pay day, and that the money was repaid in full a few days later, but in making the settlement Hellen neglected to ask for the return of his note.

The case of Tillinghast, receiver, vs. F. H. Lesselying will be heard this morning, a jury having been impaneled last evening. This suit is brought to force payment of a note given in return for First National bank stock, which the defendant alleges was sold to him under gross misrepresentations.

He is a young man of good character who has never before been in trouble of any kind, and it is to be hoped he will be able to free himself from his unpleasant predicament.—Newberry News.

JOHN J. HICKEY TALKS OF IRELAND

Former Ishpeming Man, Here on Visit, Had Eventful Trip Across Water.

John J. Hickey, a former well-known Ishpeming man, who on last Friday arrived home from a three months' visit in Ireland and other foreign countries, spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mr. Hickey, who makes his home at Green Bay, has been in the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company for some twenty years past. He came to America about twenty-five years ago, locating in Ishpeming, and his recent visit to his native land is the first that he has made since then.

Mr. Hickey talks intelligently and entertainingly of the people and conditions in Ireland, as he is a close observer and made the most of his time. Regarding his visit, he said:

"When we arrived in Queenstown there were many people on hand to welcome the many Irish-Americans who were reaching the city. They were well dressed and well behaved, and as for speaking with an Irish dialect--well, I wish that some of the Irish comedians in America, who have been persuaded that Irishmen at home wear green whiskers, would go there and listen to Irishmen speak. They surely would be disappointed by their failure to hear 'begobos' and 'begorras.' The English language as spoken there has a particular charm on account of the rich Irish brogue, and is as sweet as the dying note of a harp string.

"I was supplied with letters from Francis J. Kilkenny, president of the Irish American Home Going association, of Washington, D. C., and made use of them in all the principal cities. From Queenstown I went to the city of Cork, thence by car to Barney Castle, where I met a number of tourists from Australia, New Zealand, Canada, England and the United States.

"From Barney Castle I went to Lismore, in the County Waterford, my native home, and visited places of historical interest, among which was the Duke of Devonshire's Castle, built in the sixteenth century, and St. Cartrage church, which is believed to be one of the most ancient churches in Ireland, built in the sixth century. I also visited the Monastery at Mount Mellery, one of the most noted seats of learning in Ireland.

"From Lismore I went to Limerick and paid a visit to the famous 'Treaty Stone.' From Limerick I went to Tralee, and from there to Beauties' Home, Killarney. The magnificent grandeur of the lake and mountain scenery baffles description. No wonder poets rave over and are enchanted with the magnificent beauty of this word-renowned Eden of Ireland.

"From Killarney, I went to Dublin, the capital city, and had the pleasure of meeting some of the most noted men connected with Ireland's national affairs. I called on Mr. Nugent, the national secretary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, in Ireland, who received me kindly. Mr. Nugent took me to the lord mayor's mansion, and introduced me to the lord mayor of Dublin, with whom I had the honor to dine. The lord mayor gave me a letter to David Sheehy, a member of parliament, who was attending parliament in London. I visited Glaswin cemetery, where the bodies of Daniel O'Connell, the Irish liberator, and Charles Stewart Parnell, the uncrowned king of Ireland, lay buried, but not dead, for their spirits still live in the faithful hearts of their countrymen.

"From Dublin I went to London, Eng., where I was admitted to the house of parliament through the courtesy of David Sheehy, one of its members. I was given a seat in the visitors' gallery, and listened to some very able speeches.

"Ireland's present condition has been greatly improved through the persistent efforts of the Irish National league and other societies of a more aggressive nature. I found that Irishmen are well educated to a knowledge of their rights and will not rest content until Ireland has taken her place among the nations of the world. The future appears to be all radiant with hope of the promised home rule, which is believed by adherents of the parliamentary party to be coming, and in sight."

MINER MEETS DEATH.

Workman Killed and Another Injured at Cleveland Lake Mine Yesterday.

Ed Laitanen, aged about twenty-two years, and single, was killed yesterday morning by a fall of ground in the third level of the Cleveland Lake mine. His partner, John Takanen, who was also hit by the falling ore, sustained injuries that will keep him from work for a few weeks, but he is not seriously hurt. Another workman employed in the drift with Laitanen and Takanen stepped out a few moments before the ground came down.

The workmen were digging out some loose ore. One of the caps holding the timber above their heads in position broke, letting the ground down on top of the men.

The deceased was a stranger in the city, having come here about two months ago from Minnesota. He secured work at the Lake mine shortly after his arrival and had been employed there ever since. He boarded at the Barnum house, on West Division street. Takanen is also a young man and single and he boards with a Finnish family on Second street. Coroner Priin impanelled a jury yesterday afternoon.

Proposals for Federal Building Site Will Be Examined Next Week.

Several owners of property in the business district of the city are willing to sell their places to the government as a site for the proposed federal building, and have responded to the call of the treasury department for proposals for the sale of sites. F. Braastad, who owns the two vacant lots at the corner of Cleveland avenue and Second street, also the property known as the S. Johnson block, on the corner of Bank and Second streets, would sell either to the government. Mr. Braastad has in fact offered the two lots on the corner of Cleveland avenue and Second street free of cost, but the property is not large enough to meet the government's demands. If the Egan property, adjoining, was included, the site would doubtless be a most acceptable one.

John Skogland, who owns the three lots at the corner of First street and Cleveland avenue, has also offered his site. The lots have a frontage of 105 and a depth of 100 feet. There are now four business blocks on the site, three of them facing First street, and one facing Cleveland avenue. The Convent school property, occupying several lots on Pearl, Pine, and Front streets, has also been tendered. It is said that the owners of the lots occupied by the old Hodgkins livery barn and the blacksmith shop, immediately east, facing on Front street, are also available.

The government officials state that the ground dimensions of the site must be 150 feet in length by 140 feet in width. The Braastad property, on the corner of Bank and First streets, and the Convent school property, occupying several lots on Pearl, Pine, and Front streets, with the required dimensions, but it is thought that any of the others would be acceptable, as they fall very little short of the required dimensions.

The proposals sent to the supervising architect at Washington will be opened next Wednesday. It is expected that an inspector will be sent here soon after to look over the sites. Thomas Knox Taylor, the supervising architect, requests that the property owners of fering sites incorporate the following in their bids:

The plat to be accompanied by a report (in typewriting) on the following features:

Information as to the character of the subsoil, stating whether there are any doubts as to its stability for foundations.

If rock underlies surface, give supposed depth and dip.

Give an opinion as to the usual elevation of ground water, and state whether said elevation varies at different seasons of the year. Give reasons, if any, for supposing that quicksand will be encountered, and give any other data which might affect the design of foundations.

What unit pressure is the soil under adjacent buildings sustaining therefrom, and state whether such buildings show exterior cracks or other signs of settlement.

State advisability of digging test pits and suggest location therefor.

If there are no public sewers available and a suitable outfall for a sewer can be secured, submit a survey showing route for a private sewer from building to outfall.

A contour of ground and proposed sewer is also to be given, with notes as to the best manner of protecting sewer outfall if protection is deemed necessary.

State whether dry wells are used for either sanitary or rain water disposal purposes, and if so, if subsoil is sufficiently porous to properly drain them.

If dry wells or cess-pools are in general use state the size of same and also describe their construction.

State the materials of which the sidewalks and curbs, if any, are composed and their present condition. Give transcript of municipal regulations in regard to sidewalks and curbs.

Send with report two photographs, taken by 10 inches, mounted on cloth, taken from well-selected points marked on the survey by a star. Photographs to show the site and something of the surroundings.

PLAYED RAGGED BALL.

The members of the Ishpeming baseball team arrived home yesterday from Crystal Falls, where they lost two games to the Iron county nine on Saturday and Sunday. While the team played rather indifferent ball on Sunday, the players say they should have won, as they hit the Crystal Falls pitchers hard. The Ishpeming players were charged with seven errors three by St. John, one by Bendt, one by Larson and one each by Klebs and Nicholls. Bendt, who played third-base in both games, fielded his position well, but his throwing was poor. Five of his throws to Larson were on the ground, the "first sacker" getting all but one of them. All the members of the team complained of the umpiring, which they said was a little the worst they have

One of the players said that some of his decisions were so bad that they were laughable. The Ishpeming men state that the Crystal Falls team is now in better condition than at any previous time this season.

LICENSE MUSIC TEACHERS.

Ishpeming Musician Believes State Should Employ Board of Examiners.

To The Mining Journal: I noticed in the state press column of Thursday's issue of The Mining Journal an item which reads in part as follows: "The state music teachers in convention assembled desired to ask the legislature to pass a law requiring music teachers to register."

Not until then can we look for any letter in musical education. As to the decision of the music teachers above mentioned, I would suggest that the legislature be asked to appoint a professor or staff of professors whose business it would be to visit all cities, towns and villages within the state, examine all persons desiring to make the teaching of music their profession and award certificates to such only as they may deem qualified, thus safeguarding the unsophisticated pupil on the one hand and the efficient teacher on the other.

Should this suggestion materialize, I venture to aver that 50 per cent of the present day corps of music teachers would be disqualified and a moiety of the remainder would have to look well to their ways.

Births recorded in the city yesterday were a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Culbert, 114 New York street, and a daughter to John Pigott and wife, 200 North Pine street.

The Misses Margaret Malloy and Esther Cronin left last night on the P. Marquette, which will make Houghton, Duluth and Chicago. Miss Malloy will spend a month in Milwaukee and Chicago, but Miss Cronin will return in about a week.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Trebilcock, of Arch street, was held yesterday afternoon from the First Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. C. L. Adams, the pastor, conducted the services.

Rev. W. S. Carlson, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church, says he did not think there was a man in Ishpeming mean enough to steal from a church, but he has positive proof that such a man recently purchased was taken from his lawn one night last week.

The Finnish band, which gave a concert Sunday evening at the Ishpeming theater, created a favorable impression. The program rendered was an exacting one, but the selections were well handled.

RESUMPTION AT HARTFORD MINE

Underground Operations to Be Started as Soon as Supplies Are Received.

The Republic Iron & Steel company is making preparations to resume operations at the Hartford mine, which has been closed down since June 1.

All of the permanent equipment of the Oliver company installed has been purchased by the Republic Iron & Steel company.

The machinery is adequate and all of the other equipment is in first-class condition, as are also the buildings.

Men were put at work yesterday sending tram cars into the mine. The Oliver company removed all of the cars and other loose equipment when mining work was suspended.

Captain Deacon intends to give places to all of the old hands who apply for work and there are many waiting to go back.

A number of the former workmen at the mine left the city when the Oliver company suspended work. Most of them secured places at other properties in the city.

The movement of ore from the stock-piles has continued since the mine closed down, and although about 10,000 tons a week have been going forward it will be some time before the Oliver company's ore is entirely cleaned out.

The loading operations can be conducted without interfering with the Republic Iron & Steel company's mining and stocking operations.

None of the farmers in the district south of Palmer will harvest any hay to speak of this season.

A Palmer man yesterday said that the grass was burned to the roots. He also said that there will be few blueberries in that district this season.

Charles Gustafson has taken a position in the Consolidated Fuel & Lumber company's office here.

Frank Cox and John Phillips brought in forty-five nice trout from O'Neil's creek Sunday. Fishing was good, particularly near the falls.

The Misses Anna and Cora Hinkley of Chicago, who were the guests of Mrs. S. P. Kline and her daughter, Miss Grace, departed for their home in Milwaukee yesterday.

The last of the concrete curbing will be put in today at the new house. It is the intention of the board of public works to have the spaces between the curbing and building sodded.

Matthew Maloney is preparing to re-plate a number of the rooms in the old Montreal House building, which he recently moved from Iron to Jackson street.

Charles Letcher, who was operated upon last week at the Negaunee hospital for appendicitis, was reported quite ill yesterday.

W. L. Blossom, former manager of the First National bank's insurance agency, who left here a short time ago to accept a position as district manager with a life insurance company, making his headquarters at Traverse City, writes that rents are much more reasonable in Traverse City than in Negaunee.

From six to eight room houses that bring $25 here rent for from $15 to $18 there. The farmers in that region expect to have fair crops this season in spite of the drought.

A heavy rain last week helped materially, and potatoes, corn and other green crops will be good, if there is an occasional rain between now and harvesting time.

The National Educational association will not hold a spelling match. There has been some doubt in regard to the matter, and this announcement will undoubtedly be received with much interest, especially in Oklahoma, and by those of Oklahoma extraction.

The announcement is official, however, and comes from Joseph W. Lund, chairman of the executive committee.

Somehow or other, the idea spread in Oklahoma that there was to be one, and when three weeks ago Miss Bessie Oliver of McAlester, won the state spelling championship, dropping her last opponent at the 2,021st word, popular enthusiasm ran so high that the only thing to do was to send the young lady east to represent the state at some eastern spelling match.

RAINS AT TOP.

Third Sacker Takes Cullis' Place at Head of Local Batters.

Ralph Rains, who put up exceptionally good ball for the Negaunee team in the three games against Marquette on Saturday and Sunday, not only strengthened his fielding average, but jumped to the top of the batting percentage column.

In the three games he secured five hits out of twelve times at bat. His hitting in the second game on Sunday was one of the features, he having had three singles out of five times at bat.

Heidenson's hitting was also a feature. He secured a double and a three-bagger in the last game and a double in the first game on Sunday. He was at bat eleven times in three games. The batting averages of Steimle and Messier also went up.

The former had two clear hits out of three times at bat in the first game Sunday, and Messier had two hits, one of them a two sacker, in the second game. Messier had three hits in the two games and was up eight times. Steimle's hitting in the first game Sunday was an important factor.

Cullis, who had been at the head of the batting list for some time, dropped to third place. McCrory retained his position in second place. In the three games Cullis was up eleven times, securing three hits, two of them three-baggers, and the other a double.

The team's batting average is now .263, and the individual averages are as follows:

DEATH OF FRANK SHEEDLO.

Escanaba Man, Wellknown in Negaunee, Died Yesterday Morning.

Joseph Barabe received a telegram yesterday advising him of the death at Escanaba of Frank J. Sheedlo, one of the best known Frenchmen in Delta county.

Mr. Sheedlo was wellknown in this county, particularly in Negaunee, as he was a frequent visitor here during the years that he held the office of secretary of the Belmore Hay Mining company.

The deceased was one of the organizers of the Belmore Hay Mining company, which owns a gold property in the Rainy Lake district, in Canada.

He held the office of secretary continuously from the time of the company's organization until two years ago, when there was a change in the management.

Mr. Sheedlo was a pioneer resident of Escanaba and had been in the harness business there for many years.

He was an old and wellknown resident of the Salisbury, passed away early last evening. He had been sick for the past six months, but the immediate cause of his death was a stroke of paralysis which he suffered Sunday.

The deceased was twenty-eight years of age, and had been employed as an engineer at the mines, principally at the Salisbury. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias.

He and Will, arrived in Ishpeming from Butte Friday, called here because of his illness.

Cook with gas, it is more economical, quicker and cleaner than any other fuel.

Cyril Houle, Negaunee agent of the American Express company, says, so far as he knows, the drought is responsible for the almost complete failure of the crop, as not only the berries but the bushes are almost completely destroyed.

A man who recently looked over the districts in which berries are usually gathered informed Mr. Houle that he found some new berries in places where the bushes were scattered by the trees, but these spots are scattered. The crop on the lake shore, east of Marquette, would have been large under normal weather conditions.

There are very few berries to be seen on the shore of the Chicago & Northwestern system between here and Escanaba and it is now thought that there will be but few pickers at any of the points along the line.

STREET FAIR IS PERMITTED BUT--

Council Requires That It Be Held Fair Week, That Shows Be Closed in the Afternoons and That a License Fee of $200 Be Paid to the City in Return.

Maccabees of the World Have Not Decided Whether or Not They Will Accept the Terms—Committee Has Long Fight Before Resolution Is Agreed Upon.

"Yes, Sir Knights and Ladies, you may have a street fair in Marquette, Mich." (with particular emphasis on the last), said the common council at the special meeting last evening. The qualifying conditions under which permission to hold the fair was granted were that it must be held county fair week, that all exhibitions be closed on the afternoons of the county fair and that the Maccabees of the World pay the city $200 to assist in paying special police and other damage that might be done by the carnival company.

Deputy Supreme Commander A. P. Crocker stated after the meeting that he was unable to say whether or not the Maccabees would accept the conditions imposed by the council. He said that he thought the company could be gotten here fair week, as well as a week earlier, and that he did not object to the requirement of the shows being closed in the afternoons, but the $200 license looked pretty big to him. Under the tentative terms made with the carnival company, the Maccabees of the World are to furnish site and free license to the shows, and Mr. Crocker was in doubt as to whether there would be anything left for the lodges after the $200 license had been paid.

The Barkhott Amusement company was wired concerning the terms offered by the council last night, and a meeting of the lodges interested is likely to be held within a few days, at which the matter will be decided. The resolution submitted by the special committee, composed of Mayor Vaughan, M. E. Asire, Wm. Fassbender, J. A. Ekstrom, Herman Schaefer and P. J. Donovan, was adopted by the council without opposition and read as follows:

Text of Resolution.

"Resolved, that the K. O. T. M. O. T. W. be granted permission to give a street fair the week of Sept. 5 to 10, inclusive, on Baraga avenue, provided that all tents and paraphernalia used are located subject to a council committee and the chief of the fire department; and also that all tents and exhibitions be closed on the afternoons of Sept. 5-6-7 and 8; and further that said K. O. T. M. O. T. W. pay to the city of Marquette a sum of $200 to assist in the proper policing and in the repair and cleaning of streets damaged by the carnival company."

It took the committee an hour and a half to agree upon this resolution, and the council meeting was not called to order until 9 o'clock. A former meeting was held last week, but no agreement was reached. From these facts, it appears that the resolution was in the nature of a compromise, part of the committee favoring and part opposing the street fair project.

But little other business was considered at the meeting. Alderman Heennessy reported that the purchasing committee had placed orders for two street sprinklers, on which immediate delivery had been promised. Alderman Downey moved that the proposition to extend South Fifth street and build a culvert across Whetstone creek be taken from the table and placed in the hands of a committee, but the motion was received like a wet blanket and was lost because none of the aldermen voted on it. Alderman Asire stated his position in the matter to be that it was not the proper time to bring up this project, and that it had better be delayed until it would be possible to foresee how the funds appropriated this year were going to hold out. At this juncture, the meeting adjourned.

GIVE AWAY AUTOMOBILE.

Asire & Palmer Make Attractive Proposition to Lot Purchasers.

Asire & Palmer announce elsewhere in this issue of The Mining Journal their intention to give away one Flanders "20" touring car to the first twenty purchasers of one or more of their lots in this city, the offer to stand good for thirty days, as soon as twenty lots have been sold, a meeting of the purchasers will be called and they may make whatever disposition of the automobile they desire. Asire & Palmer reserve the right to call the proposition off at the end of thirty days, if twenty lots have not then been sold, or to extend the offer, at their discretion. In case the automobile offer is withdrawn, purchasers will be entitled to their money back if they so desire. Any lots owned by Asire & Palmer in this city, the price of which is $200 or more, are included in this offer. The firm owns lots in the Hewitt addition, White's addition and North Marquette. This offer carries with it an increase in the price of the lots offered for sale.

RAILROAD BRIDGE BURNS.

South Shore Trains Much Delayed and Big Loss Suffered Near Ewen.

The South Shore railroad suffered a big loss yesterday, when a wooden bridge 518 feet long and twenty feet high, two miles west of Ewen, caught fire and was destroyed. The day train from Duluth was not able to make connection with Train No. 4 at Nestoria last evening and the night trains were run via the Northwestern from Saxton to Iron Mountain and the St. Paul from Iron Mountain to Sidaw, both being delayed several hours by the circuitous route. It was reported from headquarters last evening that a temporary track around the bridge would be completed this forenoon and that trains will be run as usual.

The cause of the fire is a complete mystery. The last train to cross the bridge passed at 12:45 yesterday noon and at 2:30 the fire was first reported. The bridge crosses a large ravine. The lay of the ground is such that a temporary track can be built around the ravine, which will be used until a new bridge can be built.

Guild Hall Notes

Fourteen members of Class B, ten members of Class F, and seven members of Class E signed up yesterday for the Guild Hall tennis tournament which begins Wednesday. The entries close tonight.

The meeting of the young men's class, which was to have been held last evening, was postponed to Saturday evening at 7:45.

The entire building with the exception of the hall used for the rehearsal will be reserved for the Young Women's club this evening after 7:30, and Tuesday evenings regularly hereafter. Tonight the club will hold a special meeting to which the members have invited friends. Refreshments will be served.

GRASSHOPPERS CAN BE POISONED

Leo M. Geismar Author of Bulletin in Which Farmers Should Be Interested.

Leo M. Geismar, superintendent of the upper peninsula experimental farm at Chatham, has written for the public benefit his experience with grasshoppers which in former years have been a pest in many places. They are again appearing in some places in destructive hordes. Mr. Geismar has been experimenting at the upper peninsula station with means of destroying the pest and preventing the great damage wrought by them. Mr. Geismar's letter upon the subject has created such an interest in agricultural circles that the state agricultural college has published Mr. Geismar's letter as special bulletin No. 53, and any person can obtain it under request and without cost by post card addressed to the college, East Lansing, Mich. The bulletin is very interesting and valuable. The latter part of it reads as follows:

"Cuddle mixture is horse manure mixed with salt and Paris green. It has been in more or less general use for some years, notably in Canada, the home of its originator. The fondness of grasshoppers for anything which contains salt is well known, for they will eat paper which has been wrapped around salted butter, and in order to get at the salt which has been deposited with the perspiration, they will chew up oat coats or much worn caps, and roughen the handles of forks, hoes or hand rakes which are left outdoors. To prepare the mixture, take about 100 pounds of horse droppings, two pounds of salt and either one pound of Paris green or three pounds of arsenate of lead. If no large scales are handy, five ten-quart pails may be taken as 100 pounds. Mix the poison in a half pailful of water and stir all the ingredients well in a barrel or water-tight box, gradually adding another pailful of water to facilitate mixing. It is better to use only clear horse manure, which is free from straw or other litter. A large shovel has been found sufficient for about every two rods square, and if grasshoppers are found to invade a field from one side only, the field will be sufficiently protected by depositing shovelfuls about a rod apart on that side of the field only. To prevent rapid drying and scattering by the wind the mixture should be applied in heaps of one shovelful each and in a well moistened condition. On the above mentioned twenty-acre field, the grasshoppers came in from all directions and the mixture was used on all four sides as well as at the base of a few stumps in the middle of the field. The cost for the twenty-acre field was $1.30 for the poison and salt; or six and a half cents per acre exclusive of labor. Three hours' work mixing at 15 cents per hour and three hours' time of one man and a horse at 30 cents per hour would be a fair allowance for labor and would amount to $1.35 for the area of twenty acres, or an average of 13 1/2 cents per acre for material and labor combined.

"As the result of careful observations at the upper peninsula station no losses among poultry or wild birds exposed to the criddle mixture or poisoned grasshoppers were noted. As no aerial tests have been made in the case of farm animals, judgment should be exercised in exposing them to the criddle mixture at least until it has been conclusively proven that there is no danger."
