

DR. CRIPPEN AND HIS COMPANION ARE IN CUSTODY

Much-Wanted Pair Who Fleed from London Following the Disappearance of the Dentist's Actress Wife Are Placed Under Arrest on the Steamer Montrose.

Inspector Dew Meets the Ship at the Mouth of the St. Lawrence and Identifies the Fugitives—The Man Broken in Spirit, the Young Woman Hysterical.

Father Point, Quebec, July 31.—Dr. Hawley Crippen and Ethel Clara Levene, his stenographer, who fled from London after the disappearance of Belle Elmore, the doctor's wife, were arrested here today aboard the Canadian liner Montrose...

Accompanied by two Canadian officers, Inspector Dew boarded the vessel at 8:30 o'clock this morning, and fifteen minutes later the pair were locked in their state rooms, Crippen broken in spirit, the girl, garbed in boy's clothing, sobbing hysterically...

Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night awaiting the Montrose. At 4:30 a. m., with a drizzling rain falling, the liner's hoarse whistle was heard and at 8:15 the pilot boat Eureka set out, carrying newspapermen and others...

Inspector Dew hurried to Miss Levene's stateroom, where he found her, still dressed as "John Robinson, Jr.," on the verge of a nervous breakdown. When she was put under arrest, all control left her. She cried hysterically and became so faint that restoratives were administered...

Dr. Crippen was attired in a blue serge suit and tweed overcoat. Gold-rimmed eyeglasses rested on his nose, and from behind them his eyes looked out dully. His face was pale and drawn.

With both man and girl under arrest, the Eureka came alongside and newspapermen and photographers swarmed aboard.

The Montrose passengers were astonished, as they had been kept in ignorance of the identity of the arrested fugitives. There was no attempt to get confessions, as this is contrary to the English law.

The stewardess changed the boy's clothing in which the girl travelled for garments more fitted to her sex. She collapsed again and lay more than an hour with her features contorted and her body shaken with convulsive sobs.

Miss Levene, although clad in an ill-fitting brown suit, showed some of the beauty which the police believed led Crippen to turn against his wife.

A remarkable feature of Mrs. Wadsworth's performance was that the average time per mile for the first 2.54 miles was three minutes and seven seconds, which in itself constitutes a record. The average per mile for the first 17.6 miles was three minutes and fifty-four seconds.

Former Governor Lind Leaves Seattle for Alaska. Seattle, Wash., July 31.—John Lind, former governor of Minnesota, and who in spite of his repeated protests is again the Democratic nominee for governor of that state, sailed for Alaska today.

BLOODTHIRSTY MOB IN TEXAS HAS MAN HUNT

Trivial Quarrel Between a Negro and a White Citizen Results in a Wholesale Massacre in the Country in the Neighborhood of Palestine.

Imbued With a Lust for Killing, a Gang of Caucasians, Several Hundred Strong, Seeks Out the Blacks and Slaughters Probably a Score of Them.

Palestine, Tex., July 31.—At least fifteen, perhaps twenty, negroes were hunted down and killed by a mob of several hundred men in Slocum and Denison Springs, in the neighborhood of Palestine, last night, according to the opinion of the sheriff, expressed today. The sheriff returned this afternoon after twenty-four hours in the district and told of a fierce man hunt in the woods, of riddled bodies found on lonely roads and of terror almost indescribable among the inhabitants of Anderson county. He said: "Men were going about killing negroes as fast as they could find them, and so far as I was able to ascertain without any real cause. They were just a hot-headed gang of men hunting them down and killing them."

The trouble arose as the result of a quarrel between a negro and a white man over a promissory note. The sheriff believes that the Texas rangers, who were summoned to the scene, have the situation under control today. Alleged Mobber Jailed in Ohio. Columbus, O., July 31.—L. J. Bolton, aged thirty-two, of Newark, O., a saloon keeper, is held here under the charge of first degree murder in connection with the lynching July 8 at Newark of Carl Ehrington, an Anti-Saloon league special officer. He is alleged to have placed the noose about Ehrington's neck.

Baroness Is Victorious in Contest With Hubby. Cincinnati, O., July 31.—Common Pleas Judge Woodmansee last night gave his decision in the case of Baroness Nadine von Klissuff-Procter, who resisted the issuance of an injunction against the transfer of 100 shares of stock valued at $40,000, which injunction was obtained by her husband, Percy Procter of Cincinnati. The judge dismissed the claim that the stock had been obtained by fraud by Mrs. Procter and states that the stock was purchased by Procter previous to his marriage to the baroness as collateral for a marriage settlement of $40,000. The court held that the present ownership of the stock is vested jointly in Mr. and Mrs. Procter. The baroness and Procter were married in Europe several years ago. They separated, the woman following Procter to the United States. Procter claims that the woman was trying to get all she could out of him, declaring that by the marriage agreement she was not entitled to the stock, but to only a part of the earnings. The decision is considered a victory for the woman.

Lake Erie Collision Costs Lives of Mother and Son. Detroit, Mich., July 31.—The large Grace Whitney was rammed and sunk by the steamer Ogdenburg, of the Rutland Transit fleet, at about midnight Saturday night three miles below Bar Point light. Two lives were lost—Mrs. Heath, wife of Captain Ross Heath, master of the barge, and their nine-year-old son, who were trying to board a life boat. A wave swept the boat aside and they leaped into the water. In the darkness they could not be found. Two others leaped into the lake, but were saved. The Whitney was the last of three barges in tow of the steamer Maine. How the accident happened no one on any of the vessels can explain.

It is claimed that the two men who assaulted the governor were his friends and supporters and that they were just giving him a warm welcome. Patterson was grasped from behind when he alighted from the train. One man threw his arms around the governor's neck while the second dealt him a blow on the back which knocked the breath out of him.

SEATS OF U. S. SENATORS THE PRIZE IN MAINE

Republicans Are Vigorous in Their Efforts to Retain Control of the Legislature, and They Are Practically Sure of Emerging from the Campaign Successfully.

Ex-Gov. Cobb, Candidate of the Old Dynasty, Is Out for Hale's Toga and Has an Up-Hill Fight—Congressman Burleigh Booked to Succeed Frye.

Augusta, Me., July 31.—The legislative spoils of this year's election will make a prize of unprecedented Maine richness. Over their distribution there will be a tremendous contention. It is already agitating the great feudal houses in Pine Tree state politics and divers individuals who are anxious for preferment. The contention is being kept in the background, but is really of first importance. While there may be reasonable doubts about the governorship, the Republicans are practically sure of the legislature. Two-thirds of the members of that body are elected by the rural districts. These men are tenacious of political creeds and will not be swept away from the Republican party as their brethren have been in the cities. This incoming legislature will designate one and possibly two United States senators. It will re-elect the state for representatives in congress and for members of the state legislature. The new census is expected to show that Maine's increase in population has been small as compared with other states in the United States. Unless congress can be persuaded to authorize a national house of over 400 members, Maine for the next ten years must have three instead of four men in that body. One Man to Be Shelved. It will be something of a problem to run the lines of the new districts so that Democratic Androscoggin cannot make trouble for future Republican candidates. One of the four congressmen must also be laid upon the shelf, and that must be considered. The term of Senator Eugene Hale of Ellsworth expires next March. Both Republican factions have candidates to succeed him, but are trying to keep their fight in abeyance till after the election Sept. 12, when it will no longer be necessary to reckon with the voters. Senator William P. Frye, now approaching the fourscore mark, has four years more. The deals for winning Senator Hale's toga are being arranged in connection with the disposition of Senator Frye's. The Republican who is to have the latter will probably be known from one end of the state to the other within a few weeks after the next legislative assemblies. As matters stand today it looks as though the two new senators from Maine would be Frederick A. Powers of Houlton and Representative Edwin C. Burleigh of Augusta. The game has only well begun, however, and if certain of the players should "fall" on the draw the names of the prospective toga wearers must be changed. When the reformers were rising up against Senator Hale, Frederick Powers entered the list against him. It is claimed he would not have ventured had not Senator Hale's son, Colonel Frederick Hale of Portland, come out as a candidate for congress in that district. Nearly everybody thought the Houlton candidate was "getting in" simply for future advantage. Powers' Strength Grows. Judge Powers' candidacy immediately made progress. And today he is undoubtedly the leading senatorial aspirant. The newspaper organs of the reform wing are "boosting" him enthusiastically and believing the man whom a large following of the regular Republicans seem to favor. That candidate is ex-Governor William T. Cobb of Rockland. His four years of service at the state house was characterized by excellent business and administrative judgment, but his case politically made him enemies inside the party. He declined to be a candidate for the senate as long as Senator Hale was in the field, and Judge Powers was some strength that Cobb probably could have commanded. He stands now as the generally recognized candidate of the old Republican dynasty. According to the best information obtainable, Judge Powers is considerably short of a majority of the legislature on the first ballot. The balance of power is undoubtedly in central Maine, including Kennebec county, which brings the senatorial question right to the door of Representative Burleigh. Mr. Burleigh has had an exceptional career in Maine politics. He has a larger personal following today than any other Maine Republican, and as the situation appears, holds the two Maine senatorships in the hollow of his hand. After serving in minor state offices he was governor for two terms, and gave the state a splendid business administration. From that place he graduated ten or twelve years ago into congress and is now the dean of the Maine delegation in the house. Active for Constituents. He has not been a demonstrative legislator, but he has been tremendously busy getting whatever his constituents wanted. Instead of making rapid speeches for circulation among the voters he has been installing rural delivery, looking after the needs of fourth class.

JOHN G. CARLISLE DIES IN NEW YORK

New York, July 31.—John G. Carlisle, former secretary of the treasury, who had been critically ill the past two days, died at 10:50 o'clock tonight. An intestinal complaint of long standing, which wore down his vitality, lay behind the technical fact of heart failure to which his demise is ascribed. Mr. Carlisle was born Sept. 5, 1835, and became a lawyer. Always a consistent Democrat, he rose from the Kentucky legislature to the position of lieutenant governor. From 1877 to 1890 he was a member of the national house, and from 1883 to 1889 the speaker. Later he was a Kentucky United States senator. He resigned his seat in 1893 to become secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland. With the retirement of the Democratic party in 1897, he took up the practice of law in New York.

STATUE OF GEN. LEE STAYS IN THE CAPITOL

Attorney General Wickersham Decides Its Erection to Be Within the Law. Beverly, Mass., July 31.—President Taft had approved without comment the opinion by Attorney General Wickersham to the effect that there is no provision of law by which the statue of General Robert E. Lee in Confederate uniform can be removed from the statutory hall in the Capitol at Washington. In addition to deciding the question on a purely legal basis, Mr. Wickersham argues the matter from an ethical point of view, declaring that Lee has come to be regarded as typifying all that was best in the cause to which he gave his services and was most loyal and unflinching in his acceptance of the complete overthrow of that cause. That Virginia should designate him for that place in statutory hall as one illustrious for distinguished military service, the attorney general declares is of only natural and warranted under the reading of the law. The opinion was called forth by protests to the president from the department of New York, Grand Army of the Republic.

COBB NOW LEADS LAJOIE IN THE SWATTING LIST. Chicago, July 31.—Ty Cobb of Detroit has forged up the batting average list until he now has a lead of Larry Lajoie of Cleveland and tops the American league. He was one of those far down the list a short time ago, but now he leads the heavy hitting Clevelander, .381 to .367. Of course, Strunk of the Athletics is the leader as far as figures go, having the phenomenal total of .458 to his credit, but as he has only played in eleven games, the real leader lies with Cobb and Lajoie and the duel between them will be watched with interest from now on.

Copper Country

FATALITY AT THE BALTIC.

William Hallinen Falls Five Hundred Feet to His Death.

William Hallinen, aged twenty-five, fell 500 feet to his death at an early hour Saturday in No. 2 shaft of the Baltic mine of the Copper Range Consolidated. He fell from the sixth level to the eleventh. The unlucky miner attempted to leave a skip by climbing over the guard rail instead of in the usual way, and the fatality followed.

Hallinen was employed as a bellinger in the shaft. He had no relatives in the copper country. Corner Mitchell and Mine Inspector Dave conducted an investigation and the inquest brought in a finding of accidental death. The remains were interred yesterday morning at Forest Hill cemetery.

BUTTE MEN WIN EASILY.

Visiting Hammer and Drill Team Breaks Records at Miners' Picnic.

Two world's records in hammer and drill work for fifteen minutes were set at Calumet Saturday afternoon when the Calumet team broke the old record of 38 1/2 inches and the Butte (Mont.) team eclipsed the Calumet achievement. The Calumet team drilled 49 1/2 inches through solid granite, and even the members of the Butte team themselves were somewhat dismayed when the measurement was announced. The Butte team, however, exceeded this record by a mighty effort, drilling 53 1/2 inches in 14 1/2 minutes. The contest, which was a feature of the Calumet & Hecla miners' picnic, was witnessed by about 7,000 people. It took place in Athletic field park and every seat of the grandstand and bleachers and the roof of the Calumet & Hecla rink were filled, while several thousand people were forced to stand. Practically all of the mining officials and prominent men of the district mingled with the crowd. By winning the contest the Butte team captured the local purse of $450 and a bonus of $1,000 offered by John D. Ryan, general manager of the Amalgamated Copper company. The $1,000 was handed to the Butte team Saturday night by Dennis O'Neill, who accompanied the team to Calumet. Had the Calumet team won it's members would have received the $450 in prize money and an additional $550 would have been turned over to the miners' charity fund.

The annual charity outing and picnic of the employees of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, held Saturday, at the Calumet & Hecla park, was the most successful event of the kind ever held by the miners. An enthusiastic and fun-seeking crowd of men, women and children, the workmen and their families, gathered at the park and thoroughly enjoyed themselves from morning till late at night. There were several new features in connection with the outing, including a large number of sports and the Butte-Calumet hammer and drill contest. The parade in the morning was a long one. More than 1,500 miners were in line. There were four bands.

ONE OPTIMISTIC FARMER.

Eugene Burdick Says Only Currants and Other Berries Suffered.

Eugene Burdick, the most successful truck farmer in Houghton county, who has a highly cultivated farm near the Otter Lake district, was in Houghton Saturday selling raspberries. He is a somewhat cheerful exception to the agriculturists of the county in his discussion of the recent long continued drought. He says that the drought did not affect him very much.

"We suffered only with our currants and berries," said Mr. Burdick. "It was a bad year for the berries particularly. We are putting raspberries in our boxes and selling them for fifteen cents a box, and next year we expect to sell them by the piece."

Asked if it was not a bad year for hay, he said: "Well I cut some clover that runs two tons to the acre. My hay did not suffer very much but it was a hard year on old meadows."

ASSOCIATE PLAYERS LEAVE.

Marquette Now to Have a Date With This Sterling Company.

William Josey and the Associate Players, who have been entertaining copper country playgoers at the Calumet and Kerrolle theaters for the past two weeks, left yesterday for Marquette, where they will hold the board of the present week. The success of the engagement in the copper country was remarkable. Both in Calumet and Hancock the business increased steadily from the opening night and immense crowds saw "The Squawman," which closed the week in both towns.

Mr. Josey is a fine actor and he has excellent support, particularly in Blanche Douglas, Richardson Cotton and Marie Bond. The others of the company are young players who show great promise under Mr. Josey's tuition. The company offers "Squawheart," "At the White Horse Tavern" and "The Squawman" and particularly in the latter piece are most effective.

The Associate Players and Mr. Josey are coming back to the copper country in three weeks to offer "The Girl of the Golden West" and other approved modern plays.

Trades & Labor Council of Houghton and Hancock Makes Preparations.

Following the annual custom, the labor unions of Hancock and Houghton have prepared for the usual big celebration on Labor Day this year. Officers of the day have been selected and the union men look for one of the best celebrations in the history of union labor in this district. Committees have been appointed and they are working making preparations for the day. The celebration will be in the Hancock grove in which place there will be speeches and amusements of different kinds for the visitors and plenty of refreshments.

CONVENTION OPENS TODAY.

Biennial Gathering of Slavonian-Croatian Union at South Range.

The biennial Slavonian-Croatian union will open its first convention sessions this morning in South Range. Great preparations have been made for this important gathering of delegates from all parts of the United States. The sessions may last all week, the local committee being unadvised of all business matters which are to be considered.

The will be presented delegates from Arizona in the south to New York in the east. California, Minnesota and every state in the union where Slavonian-Croatian colonies exist in numbers will be represented. Large arches have been erected in South Range. The village will take on the appearance of a street carnival and it will be the scene for a large gathering. The union has a membership of several thousand although a few years ago it has approximately only 800.

NEW HOIST AT UNION DOCK.

Big Clam Shell Being Installed at Dollar Bay Coal Plant.

The Wisconsin Bridge & Iron company has a crew of men at work on the Union coal dock in Dollar Bay putting up a new hoist. This will be of the type known as the clam shell hoist. There is already one of these hoists at the dock, besides the other regular buckets. The Union coal dock is one of the largest on the lakes at present, and when the new hoist is completed the total capacity of the hoisting machinery will be greatly increased. The dock is over a quarter of a mile long, and with all the buckets and hoists, it is estimated that the dock is completed, 4,200 tons of coal can be unloaded in a single day. The new hoist is an immense structure weighing about 300 tons. At the present time the steamer Neptune is discharging a 6,000-ton cargo.

FOUR NEW FIRE ALARMS.

Fire and Water Committee Authorizes Purchase in Hancock.

Four new fire alarm signals are to be added to Hancock's equipment. The fire and water committee of the city council has authorized the purchase and installation of the four alarms and they will be ordered at once. Upon their arrival they will be placed at various points in the city where they are most needed. The location of the new alarm boxes as announced by Chief Mitchell will be as follows: No. 35 on Summit street; No. 41 at Usher lumber yard in the west end; No. 46 just a little north of No. 45. The addition of these boxes brings to the total in the city to twenty-one. It is the intention of the council and fire department to later arrange the numbers of the boxes so that from one to nine will be in the first ward, the twenties in the second ward, the thirties in the third ward and the forties in the fourth ward.

LAST DAY FOR ENTRIES.

Teams Must All Be Booked for Hibernian Games Today.

This is the last day on which teams may enter their names for the fourth annual track and field meet of the Hibernian Athletic association of Hancock at the driving park next Saturday afternoon. Amateur athletes all over the copper country have received application blanks and may have entered for the different events. There will be seven contest events and it is probable that arrangements will be made for a motor cycle race. This will be the first event of its kind in the copper country and will be a novel feature of the meet. Eight o'clock tomorrow night will mark the limit of time for booking entries. Athletes will then be given their numbers and the committee will arrange programs giving the numbers of the men and the events entered. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded as individual prizes and silver cups for team prizes.

Ed Waara, the Quincy street jeweler, has offered a handsome cup for competition in the meet. It is a silver loving cup lined with gold and is offered the winner of the two-mile run in which Jussi Steitz, Gilbert, Metcallyn and King have entered. The Wiedner running suit and shoes will be given by Ben Wiedner to the contestant making the best general record in the various events.

DEFENDS THE SERVICE.

Thornton Green Writes of the Forest Warden's Work.

Thornton A. Green of Ontonagon, president of the Greenwood Lumber company, which suffered severely through recent forest fires, takes exception to the recent editorial statement in which the state forest warden's department was criticized. Mr. Green says: "I desire to say, in all justice to Mr. Pierce, state game and forest warden, that he has done his best to reduce the damage by forest fires gives him very little chance to help. On the 6th of July this year the fires around Ontonagon were very bad and I wired Mr. Pierce, asking him to make me a special fire warden for Ontonagon county. He sent me a commission immediately and also sent Deputy Warden John Rowett to help me. From July 4 to July 25 we fought fire continuously in Carp Lake and Ontonagon townships and rarely had less than one hundred men. It is my personal opinion that had we been charged to capital account, rather than vice versa, and that the costs reporter for 1909 are too low rather than too high. Omitting Anaconda, which copper is now probably being produced at less than 11 cents, it appears that nearly 200,000,000 pounds of copper officially reported for 1909 cost more than 11 cents, and nearly 66,000,000 pounds cost a good deal more than 12 1/2 cents. On the strength of these data we venture to say that the present American millinery production of copper is about 100,000,000 pounds per month, approximately 8,000,000 pounds per month actually costs in excess of 12 1/2 cents per pound for direct operating expense, and there is no doubt whatever that 20,000,000 pounds per month costs more than 11 1/2 cents per pound.

J. R. Finlay in his treatise on the "Cost of Mining" estimated that the production of 948,000,000 pounds of copper in the United States in 1907 required mining, milling and smelting plants to the value of $102,500,000. This would be in a large measure due to their huge capital outlays, including a large expenditure for railways. Conversely some of the producers who have high operating costs doubtless have smaller outlays in plant. Giving consideration to this condition, it is reasonable to estimate that all the copper produced in North America is subject to interest at 5 per cent and amortization of 10 per cent on a capital investment of 12 cents per pound of production, and that the high cost copper is chargeable with the same rate on at least 100 cents. In other words, if we are producing 8,000,000,000 pounds per month that costs 12 1/2 cents per pound for direct operation, the real cost is in the neighborhood of 14 cents without allowing anything for the development of the mines in the first place. If the mines had been given to the exploiters for nothing, the cost of their copper would be 14 cents per pound.

STATESMEN ARE COMING.

Senator Burrows and Congressman Young for Copper Country.

United States Senator Julius C. Burrows will arrive in the copper country August 11 to spend one day in Houghton county. Arrangements for his visit have not yet been completed. Congressman Young will visit Baraga county today and on Thursday will arrive in Houghton to begin a week's tour of the copper country.

SATURDAY'S CRICKET GAMES.

The Mohawk cricket team Saturday retained its lead in the copper country by defeating Hancock on the Hancock field 43 to 41. Painesdale retained second place by defeating Baltic 78 to 59, and Tamarack defeated Kearsarge 99 to 35.

COST OF PRODUCING COPPER.

Some Interesting Statistics Taken from Companies' Official Reports.

Table with 2 columns: Company Name and Cost per Pound. Includes Nevada Consolidated, Utah Copper Co., Superior & Potosi, etc.

OLD DOMINION.

Production at the Old Dominion at present is decidedly curtailed, due to a partial shut-down which occurred July 1. Some ore is, however, being hoisted up "B" shaft. The hoists below the twelfth and the whole west end of the mine are practically out of commission and undergoing much-needed repairs. Retimbering, track-laying and grading and a general clean-up of the shafts and crosscuts occupies the time of the few men underground. The large stop in block No. 2 on the twelfth level, which caved in recently, is being rapidly caught up and by the time operations are again started it will be in good shape for production. The current work is at present mostly concentrated in the installation of the hoist and the other various pieces of machinery which the Phelps-Dodge people have so lavishly placed at the disposal of the Old Dominion. The concentrator is undergoing a thorough overhauling. It is apparently the object of the management to begin enlarging the two-compartment shaft into three compartments and to sink to water. This may mean an extension of from six to eight hundred feet, as the shaft is at present down some 200 feet and as water in that neighborhood has not been encountered much under 1,000 feet. The shaft sinking and timbering will be done under contract. It is difficult to predict just what the plans of the present Old Dominion management are regarding the future exploration of the various properties under control. Certain it is that the future of the United States and of the property seems bright and the increase of activity and the installation of machinery indicate the beginning of future activities that may make the Old Dominion properties one of the largest operating groups of mines in the southwest.

UTAH COPPER.

The June production by the Utah Copper company was $4,460,879 pounds, or 400,000 below the output for May. The decrease arises from the changes that are now going on in the Arthur plant, formerly the mill of the Boston Consolidated company. By new arrangement of the classification system and other improvements, the capacity of the mill, which is nominally 3,000 tons a day, will be doubled, so that, combined with the output of the Magna mill, the company will eventually be able to treat approximately 18,000 tons of ore a day. On the basis of the last six months' showing the indicated production for the current year will be approximately 87,500,000 pounds, an increase of 33,000,000 pounds over last year's output of 54,500,000 pounds. Last year Utah's production, of course, did not include that of Boston Consolidated. The exact figures of the June net earnings are not available, but are known to be over $400,000. Next month the company will issue its regular quarterly report for the three months ended June 30 last.

BUTTE & SUPERIOR.

The stockholders of the Butte & Superior Copper company have endorsed the reorganization plan proposed by President Wolvin which provides for the reduction of the capitalization from 1,250,000 shares, par $5, to 250,000 shares, par $10. An issue of $1,000,000 six per cent bonds convertible into stock at 20 is proposed and the $300,000 eight per cent bonds are to be retired. In spite of the fact that 95 per cent of the stock was voted in favor of the reorganization plan several of the shareholders who are opposed to the present management are determined to make an effort to have the vote ratifying the plan set aside on the ground that the meeting was illegal. Protest was filed by A. M. Chisholm, Norman F. Lamond and J. A. MacDonald. Mr. Chisholm stated that he and many other stockholders were dissatisfied with the manner in which the work at the mine had been carried on but still more dissatisfied with the proposed plan of reorganization.

COPPER SHARE DIVIDENDS.

In the past six months six copper mining companies have been forced to reduce their dividends, owing to the low price of copper. The total payment called for by the latter declaration of these companies was $1,418,411, compared with $2,038,522 at the previous declarations, a decrease of $620,111, or 30 per cent. Unless there is improvement in the price of the metal in the next month or two, several other copper companies will be forced into the ranks of reduced dividend payers. It is furthermore possible that some of the companies which have already cut their dividends will make further reductions. The following table shows the companies which have reduced their dividends in the past three or six months.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

Table with 2 columns: Company Name and Amount per Share. Includes Calumet & Hecla, North Butte, Old Dominion, etc.

MOHAWK.

While the average of the openings in Mohawk No. 6 shaft has been fair, the developments have scarcely come up to expectations so far, and it is apparent that greater depth will be needed to reach the best ground tributary to this shaft. The conditions do not disturb the management regarding the future of this part of the mine, because the same experience was met in all the other shafts. The future of No. 6 shaft is guaranteed—as far as such a thing is possible—by the rich ground in Ad-moek which has been opened right up to the Mohawk's south boundary, and by the very favorable conditions in No. 5, which is Mohawk's best shaft and lies next north of No. 6. Mohawk No. 1 and 2 shafts have worked out of the bar of poor ground that gave the rock from those openings a very narrow margin of profit for several years, and they now look better than at any time in the past. Mohawk is confessedly a very low grade property, but its bottom openings indicate that it can comfortably hold the standard that has been established in the copper country. Notwithstanding conditions have not been good during the past half year as in earlier months the company more than earned the requisite $100,000. Mohawk was fortunate in improved ground for a time, but the management did not hold through the summer period. The average yield, however, for five months was better than the corresponding period of last year. It was also better than the entire twelve months of 1909.

IS ORDAINED A PRIEST.

Rev. Augustin Bin was ordained a priest of the Roman Catholic church yesterday morning at Lake Linden. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Eis of Marquette. It took place at St. Joseph's French church at 7 o'clock. A number of copper country clergymen were present. Rev. Father Bin was educated in Canada for the priesthood and has only recently completed his studies. He is a native of the Dominion. He will be assigned to a parish in Bishop Eis' diocese.

Drs. Harkin, Lund and Henry Cunningham have left the city for a two weeks cruise up the shore of Lake Superior. They will round Keweenaw point. The trip is being made by launch.

The North Ends defeated the Ideals at the new fair grounds yesterday by the score of 19 to 8. The battery for the North Ends was Ekstrom and Clark; for the Ideals, Carpenter, Kremer and McCarthy.

Right Reverend Bishop Frederick Eis conducted services at the St. Joseph and Holy Rosary Catholic churches in Lake Linden yesterday. Confirmation services were conducted at both churches, and August Blin, of Nova Scotia, was ordained at 7 o'clock in the morning.

Two Fires Yesterday—The fire department was called out twice yesterday. Early in the morning an alarm was turned in from T. T. Hurley's residence on North Fourth street, where an out-building had caught fire. At 10:45 in the forenoon the department was called to the Hotel Clifton, where it was found fire had gotten started under the kitchen range. No damage of any consequence resulted from either of the fires.

Arpi Male Quartet—Many of those musically inclined are looking forward with pleasant anticipation to the concert to be given by the Arpi male quartet at the Swedish Lutheran church Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. Judging from the numerous favorable press comments this organization has received, something unusually good is in store for those who attend.

New Grocery Firm—Steve Lowney and M. Madigan have formed a partnership under the name of Lowney & Madigan, and will open up a grocery store at the corner of Champion and Genesee street, in the building formerly occupied by Reinhardt's grocery. Stock is now being placed on the shelves and the firm will be ready for business within a day or two.

Sudden Death at Birch—Leonard Wills, aged nineteen, died very suddenly at Birch Saturday night. The young man was a brother of John Wills, of this city, and had been in this country only three years. A week ago he went fishing and got wet, which brought on rheumatic trouble that, by affecting his heart, caused death after an illness of two days. He was born at Leicester, England, July 1, 1891, where he leaves a father and mother, five sisters and one brother. The remains were brought to Marquette last evening and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Tide Has Turned Back—The tide of immigration of homeseekers to Canada, which has been a subject of great concern to the administrators of the public domain, has turned, in the opinion of the officials of the reclamation service. Thousands have returned and a great many more are expected soon. It is now said that practically every American farmer in the neighborhood of Alberta, where the Canadian government maintains irrigation projects, is anxious to get back, if he can sell his holdings. They are dissatisfied with the character of the land, the crops from which, it is alleged, are principally alfalfa and such hardy grains as winter wheat, and even these are not sure. The last nine months, it was said, at the reclamation service department, 15,000 settlers have returned from Canada and the prospects for a general backward movement are bright.

Vaudeville at the Bijou—The Bijou theatre begins the second week under the new management with an unusually strong vaudeville act and a fine program of motion pictures. Manager Dorsey has secured Lillian Carson for the first half of the week and he assures the people of Marquette that she is one of the finest electric serpentine dancers playing in this country. Her act is beautifully costumed and the electric effects are said to be strikingly beautiful. There have been one or two serpentine dancers on the Bijou stage in recent years, but none of them can excel Miss Carson. She captivated both Soons with her terpsichorean ability. The Bijou gives matinee and evening performances every day. The price of admission is ten cents for the matinee and fifteen cents for the evening performances.

A merry race is now on between Primeau and LaFave for first honors in batting in the second team. Daniels follows close with a percentage of 308, having been at bat a greater number of times than Primeau or LaFave. Next Sunday Gwinn comes here and other members hope to make a better showing. The team average is 206, which is fairly good, inasmuch as the team has to lay over every third Sunday on account of there being only three teams in the league. The averages taken are for league games only.

THEATRICAL.

Pierce Players Tonight.

The Pierce Associate Players will make their bow to the Marquette public at the opera house tonight in "Strongheart," the well-known college play that made Robert Edson famous. This company is composed of an all-star cast and is in no wise to be confused with the ordinary stock organization. It was organized in Duluth last season for the purpose of giving the theatergoers of this locality an opportunity to see some of the best and most popular copyrighted plays at prices within the reach of all. No expense has been spared to make the productions first class in every respect, and it is the intention to play here throughout the coming year at intervals of about six weeks.

This company started out of Duluth July 1 and has been in the upper peninsula since that time, having made wholly favorable impressions in Superior, Ishpeming and the upper country. At Ishpeming three weeks ago, the company was generally considered to have been the strongest stock company that has played there in years. At Hancock, the past week, the theater has been crowded at every performance and the press and public have been most enthusiastic in the company's praise.

Wm. Jossey, the leading man, is one of the highest salaried men in the stock business. Last season he was with the Imperial Players at St. Louis and previous to that played at Bush Temple, Chicago. He is essentially a stock leading man and has played over 400 characters.

Blanche Douglas, the leading woman, is best known on the Pacific coast, where she has headed numerous high class stock attractions. Last season she was leading woman for Willard Mack in Salt Lake City. She is a beautiful well-educated woman, and has proven a universal favorite wherever she has appeared in this part of the country.

The plays billed for this week's engagement in Marquette are "Strongheart" Monday and Tuesday nights, "At the White Horse Tavern" Wednesday and Thursday nights, and "The Squaw Man" Friday and Saturday nights. There will be a matinee Saturday afternoon. All of these plays will be staged with exact reproductions of the original scenery, and, judging from the reports from other cities in this immediate vicinity, are as well played and worthy of patronage as many shows that have been offered here at $1.50 prices.

Clarence McKerghan, Clare Drake, Bruno Primison, Willys Manthe and Clayton Frei will appear with the company tonight, in the second act of "Strongheart," as members of Columbia university football team. When "Strongheart" was played by Robert Edson in Chicago, these parts were taken by Walter Eckersall and other members of the University of Chicago team.

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, July 31.—Paine, Webber & Co. have this to say of yesterday's stock market: "The market today opened steady, but shortly after the opening began to sell off, receding steadily throughout and closed at a loss of 1 to 1 1/2 points. The prices of corn were higher and this had an unfavorable effect on sentiment, but in view of the very sharp rally from Tuesday's low prices the reaction was not unexpected and there was also some belated liquidation. Reading was particularly weak, and there was not much demand for L. & N. and C. & O. We think prices still depend largely on corn crop reports."

Boston "Coppers."

Boston, Mass., July 31.—Summarizing yesterday's copper stock market, Paine, Webber & Co. say: "Small amount of liquidation developed in the Boston market today. Scattered orders came in on Lake and Butte and Balaklava and all three stocks showed fractional declines. On the other hand, Hancock was stronger and apparently was in good demand. The trading was very dull and trend of market sympathized with New York. The excitement of production of copper is a bull factor which should not be overlooked. We think the whole situation is on a much more sound basis than it has been for several months past."

Chicago Wheat.

[Paine, Webber & Co.]
Chicago, July 31.—The best informed brokers in the trade put the July trades for the day at half a million bushels at the outside. It was mostly in the way of evening up between the belated holders who wanted to get out on the swell and the belated shorts who wanted to cover on a collapse. It is the credit of the general trade that business went along in the other months without much regard for the July operations. On the whole there was better support for wheat than for many days. There was less selling pressure in the shape of hedging. The northwest messages say that the very best harvest returns are now being sent into southern Minnesota. Later being the worst sections of North Dakota are reached the reports will be so bad as to cause a change of feeling. The Kansas City houses reported a little export postmasters, and at the close of every session, comes back to Augusta with a good round total of appropriations for his district. Public buildings are rising all over Maine as monuments to his energy. Representative Burleigh has been persistently non-committal about the senatorship. He stood loyally behind Senator Hale to the last ditch, and was counted as one of the regular faction. But Frank L. Dingley, fighting editor of the Lewiston Journal, and the Ricker brothers, Hiram and Edward, who have financed the reform campaigns, are by no means implacably hostile to Representative Burleigh. It is no secret in Maine politics that the Burleighs are not friendly to ex-Governor Cobb. There was a falling out soon after Cobb became governor.

SEATS OF U. S. SENATORS THE PRIZE IN MAINE

Republicans Are Vigorous in Their Efforts to Retain Control of the Legislature, and They Are Practically Sure of Emerging from the Campaign Successfully.

Difficult Task for Cobb.

So it comes about that Judge Powers would like to have Representative Burleigh's support and co-operation, as would ex-Governor Cobb. The natural inference would seem to be that ex-Governor Cobb will have to fight the Powers-Burleigh forces, and, if so, he will have an uphill struggle. The third congressional district comprises Kennebec, Hancock, Somerset and Waldo counties. Judge Powers was born in Somerset and will have the votes of its members in the legislature. The other three counties are expected to swing as Representative Burleigh indicates and they probably have sufficient votes to determine the verdict of the Republican caucus.

With this situation confronting him, ex-Governor Cobb is making a careful campaign. He refuses to solicit pledges from legislature nominees, claiming that he prefers the success of the party tickets to his own interests. He has many enthusiastic supporters in such populous counties as Cumberland and Penobscot, in which Portland and Bangor are located. But Cumberland and Penobscot have been going Democratic. If the Republican tickets for the legislature win this year in those two counties, and if the Republicans gain something in ex-Governor Cobb's home county of Knox, his stock might look up materially.

Factions Declare Truce.

Tremendous efforts are being made by the Maine Republicans to keep the lid on this important senatorial campaign. Should it fly off there would be much disruption, and even the control of the legislature might be jeopardized. It is claimed, however, that the truce between the factions is binding and will not likely be broken.

Once a Republican legislature is elected there will come a finish fight. If it becomes so bitter as to endanger the party or to threaten a long deadlock, it is very probable that Senator Hale would be urged to take another term. Many Maine Republicans of influence who do not altogether agree with him or sanction his course as the party leader think a serious error was made in driving him into retirement. The

AMERICAN BISON SAFE

No Danger of the Herd Becoming Extinct—Census Shows 2,108 Buffaloes Still in Existence—New Fenced Range in Montana.

Washington, July 31.—There are now altogether 2,108 buffalo in North America, but the term buffalo has been applied so long and generally to the American bison that the term conveys more meaning to the general reader. This census of the animals is the work of the American Bison society, that has been trying to save the breed from extinction. In comparison with former years it shows that the animals are on the increase, and the annual report of the society says that the danger of the animals becoming extinct seems to have passed. The figures given include the buffaloes in the zoological gardens all over the country, the national herds, the scattered herds in private ownership, and the few wild bison that are still at large.

The society states that the most notable event of the past year was the establishment of a new fenced range in Montana, where a nucleus herd of forty-seven animals was turned loose under the supervision of a game warden. The bison have gone well through the winter and the outlook for the future is promising.

The society worked for several years to secure the fenced reservation and the nucleus herd in Montana. The pasture comprises a tract of twenty-nine square miles, or something over eighteen thousand acres, on the Flathead reservation. It is cut by Mission Creek, quite a large stream and has a number of smaller streams running from the hills. There are within the enclosure three very fair-sized mountains, and Dr. William T. Hornaday, the president of the society, says that the range is as near ideal for the animals as could be secured. The grass is thick, the water good, and there is some timber in the hills, but not more than is good for the range. The herder's house, in one corner of the reservation, is comfortable and is connected with the outside world by a telephone running along the top of the pasture fence.

The fence itself is six feet six inches high and is strong and durable. It was erected by the workmen of the forest service as being the cheaper and quicker way to have the work done. It is estimated that the enclosed space will easily support 1,500 bison, 500 antelope, 100 deer and 100 elk, specimens of all of which are to be released in the enclosure. The government now owns three good-sized herds of bison—the Montana herd, with a total of forty-seven; the Wichita herd of nineteen, and the Yellowstone Park herd of ninety-five.

purchases were made from the widow, Mrs. Alicia Conrad. They include animals from one to seven years old, and are really the pick of the herd. In addition, Mrs. Conrad gave two more very fine bison, one of them Kalispell Chief, the leader of the herd. The shipping of the herd from the Conrad ranch to the new reservation was an interesting and rather exciting experience, but was accomplished without loss. The society is very well satisfied with the present outlook of bison in America, and states that it believes the future of the breed in this country is assured.

WAYS OF SOME TREES

How Elms Make Hedges and Berry Trees Get Themselves Planted.

Trees which have their own individual methods of reproduction are interesting. The way of the elm is one of the most remarkable, because the elm actually makes hedges, or rather it hits in its English methods of bordering our trees and roads with hedges, and in a very accommodating way helps us with material.

The habit of the elm is to send out its roots in every direction and then to push up suckers from its spreading roots. When an elm seeds itself or is planted in a hedgerow and becomes established there it sends out its roots and pushes up its suckers on all sides of it, but except on two sides the young suckers get killed; they are trodden down in the path or cut up by the plough or gnawed down by grazing animals.

But they flourish on each side of the elm in the direction in which the hedge runs, and they kill out the other trees in the hedge, till at last possibly the hedge is all elm. Then if the hedge is not cut or only partly cut the strongest suckers grow up and become trees themselves and carry on the process.

Other trees instead of being killed down by animals get helped and planted. Squirrels carrying off hazelnuts and burying them for private consumption later frequently forget where they have put them and so plant countless hazels every year. Trees with berries, such as hollies, wild roses, elders and yews, have their seeds swallowed and carried about in different directions by birds and from the trees point of view there must be good and bad seasons. As regards the sowing or planting. Last winter, for instance, must have been a poor season for holly planting. Birds do not really like holly berries and will not eat them when they can get other berries or when the weather is warm and open, so that in a mild winter like the last comparatively few holly berries can have been eaten and sown.

But the tree which occasionally gets itself propagated in the most interesting way is the elder. W. H. Hudson in his book, "A Fox in England," has a delightful passage giving the life story of some elders he noticed growing on a Wiltshire down. There was a small group of them set among some rabbit burrows and a local farmer told him how they came there.

First, the rabbits, finding that the hill had softer chalk at that spot, had made burrows. Then some wheat ears came and nested in and lived about the burrows. The wheat ears fed on the berries of an elder growing higher up on the down and so brought the seeds to the burrows, where they rooted in the soft ground and soon established a flourishing thicket.

FREDDY TELLS HIS STORY

The teacher in a West Philadelphia school had called upon Freddy to tell the class a story in fifty words. Accordingly Freddy rose and began as follows: "I have a little sister. Her name is May. May likes pussies and dollies. One day May saw a pussy in our garden and she said, 'Here pussy, pussy, pussy. Here pussy, pussy, pussy. Here pussy, pussy, pussy.'"

And Freddy sat down with much satisfaction. "That was a moment's pause and then a voice, evidently that of the class mathematician, called out from a rear corner in the room. "That's only thirty-eight words."

Up stood Freddy again, unperturbed, and continued: "Here pussy, pussy, pussy! Here pussy, pussy!" Then he sat down.—Philadelphia Times.

ISHPEMING WINS IN TWELFTH INNING

Yesterday's Game Between Marquette and Ishpeming Best Exhibition of Season.

Yesterday's game between the Ishpeming and Marquette teams went twelve innings, in eleven of which neither scored. In the last half of the twelfth, with two gone and the bases filled, Frost, on the mound for Marquette, heaved a ball that struck the edge of the plate and bounded over the catcher's head, permitting Klebs, who occupied third, to score.

The game was a decided contrast to the fizzle of the previous day, when the Ishpeming players couldn't play "two-ident." The poor exhibition of Saturday hurt the attendance considerably yesterday, but 1,000 or more loyal fans who turned out were well repaid. The game was declared by many to have been the best they had ever seen on the local grounds. It was the first time in the three years that the league has been in existence that a game has gone for more than nine innings on the local grounds without either team scoring. Once before this season Ishpeming and Marquette played a thirteen-inning game, with a score of 3 to 2 in Marquette's favor. In that contest Dixon and Scholtus were the opposing twirlers, while yesterday Dixon and Frost were on the mounds for their respective teams. Yesterday's game was more of a pitcher's battle than the thirteen-inning contest, as Dixon allowed but three scattering hits, while only six were recorded against Frost. One of these was a grounder that Larson sent to Frost, which he found too hot to handle.

There was very little difference in the work of the opposing twirlers yesterday, as both were effective at critical times. There were only three fly balls batted into Ishpeming's outfield, and all of these were put-out by Laxstrom in right. Both pitchers worked themselves out of tight pinches. Marquette had men on two bases in the sixth and seventh innings, with no one gone, while Ishpeming had men at second and third in the seventh and again in the ninth.

Neither team had bad innings and the twirlers received splendid support all the way through, none of the errors being costly.

In the twelfth, when the battle ended, Dixon went out on a fly to McCarthy in center. Klebs singled and reached second when Mack fumbled St. John's fast ground hit. Laxstrom was hit by a pitched ball, this filling the stations. Reinhart hit a fly into right that Hamilton got under. It looked to Klebs as though the ball would not be caught and he leisurely strolled home, but had to make a hasty return to third. Had he remained on the sack he might have scored on the sacrifice. Xevitt was the bat, with one strike and two balls, when Frost threw a drop that did the mischief, the ball hitting the front edge of the plate and bounding high into the air.

Nevitt, who caught his first game for Ishpeming, gave a splendid account of himself, in spite of the fact that he had two passed balls, while Day also caught well. The work of both catchers was in keeping with the gilt-edge twirling of Frost and Dixon. For Marquette Magnum played an exceptionally fast game at first, while Tallion was also much on the job at second, as his put-outs and assists indicate. All of Ishpeming's infielders, Larson at first; St. John at second; Reinhart at third, and Whitman at short, played fast ball.

Saturday's Game Worst Ever.

The Ishpeming baseball team put on the biggest farce of the season Saturday, when it lost to Marquette by a score of 13 to 0. The errors on Ishpeming's part were so numerous that many of those attempting to keep the score of the job before the game was finished. Nearly all of the errors came in the run-making, as Goulette, who was in the box for the first six innings, was not hit hard until the sixth, when he became indifferent, as his support was a little the worst that has ever been given a pitcher on the local diamond. In both the fifth and sixth innings, after two men had been retired, six men came to bat. When the ball went into the field the Ishpeming players fell over like a lot of ten-pins on a bowling alley. Whitman did two or three acrobatic stunts at short stop and finally quite disgusted with himself, while some of the outfielders plowed up the sod in their effort to get under the fly balls.

The playing of the local line was so bad that the fans seemed to enjoy it. Not once during the game did the followers of the Ishpeming team have a chance to cheer their favorites. After the fifth inning, when it was evident that Marquette would win in a walk, the Ishpeming fans, as well as the fans from Marquette, joined in the laughter every time a misplay was made.

The Ishpeming players began booting the ball in the first inning, when three errors were made, resulting in giving Marquette one score. Another error, assisting by a hit and the pitcher walking one of the batsmen, gave Marquette her second run in the second inning. The climax was reached in the fifth and sixth innings. In the fifth, eight men faced Goulette and in the sixth nine batsmen were up. The visitors were aided in annexing their runs in the fifth by four errors. There were only two hits made in that inning. In the sixth, five hits were secured off Goulette, one of them a double by Scholtus.

There was a general switching around of the players during game. Reinhart started in left field, but he dropped a fly in the first inning and was then moved to third, Burke taking his place in the garden. After Whitman retired in the fifth, Burke came into short and Nevitt moved from center to left. Nichols taking his place in center. In the seventh, when Reinhart went into the box, Dixon succeeded him at third. In the three innings that Reinhart pitched he was touched for three hits. He made a very good showing, but his support was no better than his teammates gave Goulette.

Marquette played a consistent and at times snappy game. Scholtus' pitching and batting and Tallion's stick work were the features of the game. Scholtus allowed only two hits, a single by Mack, and a three-bagger by Larson. Day caught a very good game. Marquette made a neat double play in the fourth. Klebs reached first on an error by Tallion and Laxstrom hit the ball straight into center. After a hard run McCarthy caught it and threw Klebs out before he could return to first.

Remarkable Recovery of John Dillon

FAZAKERLEY IS STIRRING UP THE PEOPLE.

In these days of scientific inventions and discoveries it takes something out of the usual to surprise or startle us; but Fazakerley, the man who came into our city a week ago an entire stranger, depending upon his formulas alone to win the confidence of the people, is certainly stirring things up.

A week ago every one was willing to believe him a fake, while today all who have seen his work are willing to confess that this man is putting into the reach of all a number of formulas that do remarkable work. Some there are who can scarcely believe their own eyes and try to find some hypnotic influence to give credit for the work being done by these remedies.

But Fazakerley seems to realize that skepticism is his greatest enemy, and so gives uncontestable proof, for every statement he makes. He is a man who has a reputation for fair dealing and straight forwardness and he is certainly living up to his reputation here.

Mr. John Dillon, of 320 W. Johnson street, Ishpeming, who had suffered with roaring and hissing noises in his ears for six years or more, went to Fazakerley for relief, and could hardly believe it true when he received entire relief after a few minutes application of the Fazakerley formulas.

Mr. James Hawk, of 654 Wabash street, Ishpeming, who had suffered with extreme deafness of the right ear for fifteen years was also given great relief in a few minutes time by Fazakerley.

An entire change of program will be given tonight, including moving pictures, illustrated song, vaudeville and a band concert.

A Consolidation Which May Include the Chemung Property.

The dominating interests in the Calumet and Superior & Pittsburg companies have for some time been considering the advisability of a consolidation. At one time the control of both properties was held by the same people, but many of the early owners of Calumet & Superior have long since parted with their holdings and have received a portion of the proceeds in Superior & Pittsburg. When the consolidation terms are finally worked out, it will not be surprising if Chemung is included. The Chemung is located in the Burro mountain district of New Mexico, has outstanding 200,000 shares upon which $10 per share has been paid in, and has reserves of between 3,000,000 and 5,000,000 tons of 3 per cent to 3 1/2 per cent copper ores. Chester A. Congdon and George Tenor are largely interested in Chemung as well as in Superior & Pittsburg. For some years Calumet & Superior has been "going" while Superior & Pittsburg has been "coming." In illustration the figures of output and copper recoveries for a series of years note the following:

Production (pounds): 1909... 27,630,650 24,325,967 51,956,617 1908... 28,048,000 21,242,259 49,290,259 1907... 20,080,448 9,961,401 30,041,849 1906... 27,472,284 9,944,875 37,417,159

Copper yield per ton: 1909... 94.17 109.8 202.0 1908... 105 102.0 207.0 1907... 131 94.4 225.4 1906... 179 94.3 273.3

Calumet & Superior, Superior & Pittsburg, Superior & Pittsburg, 1,500,000. A four-for-one share exchange has been mentioned as a possibility in connection with a union of the two properties. Calumet & Superior is selling for 48 and Superior & Pittsburg for 10, but aside from the question of the price, the value there must be considered the stronger financial position of Calumet & Superior and the fact that it has a large and efficient smelting plant while Superior & Pittsburg has only a small surplus of quick assets and no smelter.

According to its last annual report Calumet & Superior had a surplus of quick assets amounting to $3,155,491, while Superior & Pittsburg had a surplus of $310,301. This difference in financial status must have recognition in any union of the two companies. On the other hand, the Superior & Pittsburg is very much the larger of the two mines and the underground "chances" of the two are officially declared greatly to favor the Superior & Pittsburg. The Calumet & Superior needs territory to compensate for the declining value of its own mines. Superior & Pittsburg needs working capital and an up-to-date plant, both of which can be supplied by the Calumet & Superior; so it would seem that each company possesses what the other lacks and that a combination could be worked out which would be very much to the advantage of the stockholders of each company.

At the present time each company is producing only a little short of 30,000,000 pounds of copper annually at a cost of 9 cents per pound, or very close to that figure. Of late months the production of the Calumet & Superior has been running a trifle ahead of Superior & Pittsburg. Calumet & Superior shares have sold as high as 198 (in 1907) and to drop to 44 1/2 this year. Superior & Pittsburg stock sold in 1907 as high as 28 1/2 and this year as low as 9 1/2. The Superior & Pittsburg property as it stands today represents in its original cost, development, equipment, pumping, etc., far more than the present selling price of the property today—$15,000,000. In fact, the one item of pumps, installations and pumping costs represents millions of dollars; to say nothing of the many thousands of feet of underground workings. A consolidation on equitable terms should be easily arranged; it would certainly be in the interest of economy.

THEY HAVE A DEFINITE PURPOSE. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief in cases of kidney and bladder ailments. Mrs. Rose Glaser, Terre Haute, Ind., tells the result in her case. "After suffering for many years from a serious case of kidney trouble and spending much money for so-called cures, I found Foley Kidney Pills the only medicine that gave me a permanent cure. I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them."

August Henriksen, Jr., of Ishpeming, was a Humboldt visitor Friday.

GOLDEN EAGLES' ANNUAL CONVENTION

Grand Castle of Fraternal Society Will Meet Here Thursday of Next Week.

The Michigan grand castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagle will hold its annual convention in Negaunee a week from next Thursday, the 11th, and on the following evening the Negaunee castle will tender the grand castle officers and delegates a banquet in the Mulvey hall.

While the Knights of the Golden Eagle have been in existence since 1873 the society has never made particular efforts to secure a large membership in this state. Its membership is in the neighborhood of 1000 and is distributed in castles in Michigan, with a membership of about 600. There are two castles in the lower peninsula, at Detroit and Traverse City, and five in the upper peninsula, at Calumet, Painesdale, Anassa, Ishpeming and Negaunee. The Detroit castle is the largest in the state, it having been organized shortly after the national organization was formed. The Ishpeming castle has been in existence for nineteen years. The society has a larger membership in Pennsylvania and Ohio than in any of the other states.

The Negaunee castle is the grand chief of the Michigan castle and U. H. Penberthy of Calumet is the grand master of records.

Among the prominent members of the society who will attend the grand castle meeting are John D. Haiger, a Detroit attorney, who will demonstrate the degree with stereopticon views, either the evening of the 11th or 12th. Mr. Haiger is a pleasing talker and he has given his lecture a number of times. John Ashley, the grand high priest, of Detroit, will also be in attendance. The Negaunee castle will extend an invitation to the members of the Ishpeming castle to come to the city to meet the officers and delegates. A program for the Friday evening meeting after the banquet is now being arranged.

BALL CLUB FATTENS PERCENTAGE.

Negaunee Defeats Crystal Falls Twice—Standing of the Teams.

The Negaunee team increased its lead in the race for the Marquette County-Crystal Falls baseball pennant by defeating Crystal Falls both Saturday and yesterday. The games were played in the Menominee range city. The score Saturday was 16 to 6. All of Crystal Falls' runs were registered in the fourth inning and were the result of four hits and two errors, the latter by Messrs. Collins and Smith. The batting average of the visitors were materially fattened in the two games. The total hits numbered thirty-three, and this certainly is good going.

MATCH DECLARED OFF.

The catch-as-catch-can wrestling match between John Rowett of Bessemer, champion of the world in the Cornish style, and Matt Kangas of Negaunee, that was to have taken place Saturday night at the opera house, was declared off. The attendance was so small that Messrs. Rowett and Kangas did not think it worth while to wrestle for what money was received at the door. Had the match taken place it would undoubtedly have been a good one as both Rowett and Kangas are in splendid physical condition. Since Rowett resumed wrestling early last winter he has reduced his weight twenty-five pounds and now tips the scales at 172 pounds. This was about his weight ten years ago when he did most of his wrestling. Rowett and Kangas had a match a few months ago, the latter winning after a hard tussle. Rowett thought he would defeat Kangas Saturday night as he was determined to put up a strong fight. It would seem from the fact that the last two catch-as-catch-can wrestling contests advertised to take place in this county were not well attended the sport is not very popular here. The fake matches that were pulled off in the copper country late in the winter are said to be responsible for the lack of interest in this county.

I kindly ask the ladies that have had work done at the Marquette Flue & Co to write me and let me know how they like the work done. It will be appreciated.

DEATH OF RAE ORR.

Popular Negaunee Girl Passed Away Saturday Morning.

The announcement Saturday of the death of Miss Rae Orr caused much grief to her friends in Negaunee, but it did not come as a surprise, as the deceased had been lingering between life and death. A short time before Miss Orr passed away she seemed to feel better and was brighter than she had been at any time during the preceding two days. She sat up in bed for a few minutes and talked with her father, but she sank rapidly and passed away within a brief time.

The deceased had not been in good health for some time, the remains having been taken down with typhoid fever less than a month ago. A week ago today pneumonia set in, and from that time here physician gave little hope for her recovery.

Miss Orr was the only child of Archie Orr, one of Negaunee's best known business men. Her father was drowned in Teal lake six years ago. She was chaperoning a party of young people on a picnic and while they were returning to the south shore in a boat a storm came up, capsizing the craft.

The deceased was a popular young lady and her death will be mourned by many friends in Laporte, Ind., as well as in this county. She was born in Laporte, Dec. 17, 1889, and came to Negaunee with her parents some eight years ago.

The funeral will be held in Laporte today at 2 o'clock, the remains having been taken from here Saturday evening. They were accompanied by the father of the deceased and her grandmother, Mrs. Alpha Wall, and aunt, Mrs. Emily Mann, who came from Laporte a week ago to assist in caring for her.

CHANGING LINE.

South Shore's Telegraph Wires to Follow New Tracks to Eagle Mills.

A crew in the employ of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company on Saturday began preparing for the removal of the South Shore's telegraph lines between Eagle Mills and Negaunee from the old railway track, which is soon to be abandoned, to a route along the line of the tracks just being completed. The Cleveland-Cliffs company will soon complete its new power plant on the Au Train river. The electricity will be carried fourteen miles from the plant to the company's paper mill at Munising. The pole line has been finished and much of the other preliminary work has been completed.

LOCAL LACONICS.

H. M. Erickson of Ironwood was a Negaunee visitor Saturday.

Miss Florence Fisa left Saturday evening for Chicago, where she is employed, after spending her vacation with her mother in Negaunee.

A regular monthly meeting of the board of education was held Friday evening, but no business of special importance was transacted. Mrs. M. C. M. Hansen, who spent the past month in Negaunee visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Raymond, left Thursday night for her home at Ironwood, Minn.

The Misses Josephine McCarthy of Fond du Lac and Rose Hennen of Milwaukee left Saturday for their homes after a two weeks' visit at the home of J. E. O'Donoghue.

Charles Letcher, who a short time ago submitted to an operation for appendicitis at the Negaunee hospital, is now at his home and he is improving rapidly. He expects soon to be able to resume his work as engineer at the Maas mine.

The funeral of the late Abel Himotita, who was killed Thursday night at the Negaunee mine, was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from the Finnish Lutheran church. Members of the Finnish fraternal society and the Mine Workers' union attended in a body.

The Marquette council of the Knights of Columbus will hold its third annual picnic next Sunday at Eagle Mills. If the weather is favorable there will be a large attendance of the members and their families from both Negaunee and Marquette. Special rates of fare will be given on the South Shore trains from the three cities of the county.

CIGAR-MAKING AT HONGKONG A Manila Manufacturer Operates a Factory With 300 Employees. One of the new industrial enterprises in HongKong is the Oriente cigar factory, which commenced operations in December, 1908, concerning which Vice Consul General Stuart J. Fuller writes:

The proprietor of this plant has been in the cigar manufacturing business since 1883, and still operates the El Oriente factory in Manila. The greatly increased cost of labor in the Philippines is given as the prime factor in locating this enterprise in HongKong. Another factor, the proprietor states, was the import duty imposed in the Philippine Islands on packing materials and on the tobacco used for wrapper. HongKong being a free port, there are no internal revenue regulations to be complied with, another advantage from the point of the manufacturer.

When this plant was opened, fourteen skilled cigar makers, men and women, were brought over from the Philippine Islands to instruct the Chinese. At the close of last year forty Filipinos and 170 Chinese were employed in making cigars. The total number of employees in all the departments of the business is given by the proprietor as 300. The boxes are made at the factory, but the labels are imported from Europe. The output of cigars at the close of 1909 was 50,000 to 60,000 per day.

OLD BRASS AND COPPER

Points of Interest for the Collector of Colonial Utensils

Genuine old Colonial brass and copper utensils were rarely of Russian or Oriental make. Most of them were of English or American manufacture, with occasional Dutch and French pieces. These are now very rare, and are seldom to be found in the shops. The brass and copper utensils offered as Colonial are mostly Russian, and half of these are modern reproductions. The best of these old utensils came from England, much of them from Birmingham. But few of these English pieces bear any stamp. From Holland and Brittany came brass and copper milk cans and a few other pieces. Undoubtedly a great deal of the old brass and copper was of American make. Among the early settlers there were a number of braziers, and some of the oldest brass utensils that have come down to us were doubtless their work. They worked locally and suited their styles to the needs of their customers, so that nothing like a classification or analysis is possible.

During the early part of the eighteenth century English braziers came in considerable numbers to New England and plied their trade there, introducing many of the English forms, so that it is often impossible to tell whether a piece is of English or American make, except that the American pieces are a little heavier.

At the same time there were English and Dutch braziers working in New York and Pennsylvania. A famous New England brazer was Jonathan Jackson, who died in 1736. He made brass hand-basins, spoons, skillets, kettles, plates, saucers, spoons, and warming pans, as well as knoekers, candlesticks and irons. Copper was perhaps less commonly used than brass, but some of the most interesting pieces were of metal. There were measures, jugs, tankards, mugs, small pitchers and sugar bowls of copper, platters, saucers, bowls and kettles. Sheet brass was imported from Wales and elsewhere and hammered into pots and open kettles. Copper chafin dishes were popular after 1750, and kettles standing on tripods over charcoal furnaces. Sometimes the furnaces were brass or iron.

Brass was even more expensive than copper, and good pieces are rare. There were ladles, teakettles, jugs, sugar-bowls and small pitchers of brass. Brass skillets were made sometimes with iron tripods for standing in the coals. Plain pail shaped kettles were common, chiefly without feet.

The chief charm in collecting old brass and copper lies in the beauty of the metal itself and the fact that many of the pieces lend themselves readily to decorative purposes in the home. Almost any shapely piece of old brass, and particularly old copper with its rich color, makes a beautiful ornament.

Open kettles and pots serve admirably as jardiniere and plant holders, as vases for cut flowers, while the ladles, skimmers, warming pans, platters and other flat pieces need only to be hung on the wall to serve as their own justification. If the copper is highly burnished it looks its best in a subdued light.

FEATURES OF PRIMARY LAW

Act Passed by Last Legislature Lays Down Exact Regulations for Primary Election to Be Held by All Parties Sept. 6—Some of Its Provisions.

State Republican Convention for Nomination of Officers Below Lieutenant Governor to Be Held in Detroit October 6—Contest on for Attorney General.

Primary election day draws on apace and some explanation of the new law may not be amiss. On Sept. 6, voters who are enrolled as members of each of the political parties may express their choice of candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, representative, United States senator and county officers. The nomination of candidates for other state offices will be made in convention, Oct. 6 being set as the date for the Republican state convention, which will be held in Detroit.

Every candidate for nomination for office under any political party must file a petition not later than Aug. 22, signed by a number of enrolled voters of his political party equal to not less than 2 per cent nor more than 4 per cent of the number of votes such party cast for secretary of state at the last November election. For Marquette county offices this means that Republican nominating petitions must be signed by not less than 100 nor more than 300 voters.

Each party will conduct the primary election on lines similar to a regular election. The candidates of each party must be designated on separate ballots, the law providing that Republican ballots shall be printed on white, Democratic on blue and Prohibition on red paper. Instruction ballots are to be printed on yellow paper.

The law provides that all the names of candidates for nomination of each party shall be printed on the same ballot, including state, district and county offices. In printing these ballots, the names of candidates must be printed in different order, the intention being that every alternate ballot, as it is handed out to the voter, shall have the names of the candidate in different order. This provision will make it absolutely necessary for the voter to be able to read his ballot in order to tell for whom he is voting. In the Republican ballot, for instance, one ballot will bear the candidates' names in the order, Osborn, Kelly, Musselman; the next Kelly, Musselman, Osborn, and the next Musselman, Osborn, Kelly.

Minority May Elect.

The candidate receiving the greatest number of votes of the enrolled voters of any political party shall be considered the nominee of that party. In the governorship, this means that a minority of the Republicans of the state will select the governor in case the candidate who receives the largest vote does not receive more votes than the other two candidates put together.

Candidates for nomination under this law must be very careful in the manner of conducting their campaign. They are forbidden to treat with intoxicating or spirituous liquors; they must not distribute or cause to be printed likenesses of themselves larger than two and one-fourth inches wide by four inches long, and equally exacting restrictions are placed on newspaper advertising.

Primary election day shall be considered as a regular election day, which means that the saloons must be closed. This year, this provision means that Michigan will be a prohibition state for three days, Sept. 4 is Sunday, Sept. 5 is Labor Day and Sept. 6 is primary election day, on all of which days the law provides that saloons must be closed and no intoxicating liquors sold.

In this county there will be little interest in the primaries outside of the state and congressional tickets. With the single exception of representative, as yet there is only one candidate for nomination for any county office on the Republican ticket, and the Democrats have not as yet put a ticket in the field. The Democrats, however, will probably get busy within the next few weeks and have nominating petitions for county offices filed before Aug. 22.

The Republican state convention to nominate candidates for the offices below lieutenant governor will be held in Detroit Oct. 6. Senator Wm. Alden Smith has been chosen for temporary chairman. At this convention candidates for minor offices will be chosen and a platform adopted. The delegates to this convention will be chosen by county conventions and the delegates to the county conventions will be chosen at the primaries in September.

The only real contest undoubtedly will be for the office of attorney general. Attorney General Kuhn, who was recently appointed to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Justice Bird, is a candidate for re-nomination. His strongest opponent is Grant Fellows of Hudson, who attended the state bar meeting in this city last week.

The selection of a platform will undoubtedly be a prominent feature of this convention, as there is likely to be the same struggle between the "insurgents" and "stand-patters" that has manifested itself in conventions held recently in other states of the middle west.

AFTER JOY RIDERS.

Marshal Manning Gives Warning to Reckless Automobile Drivers.

Frequent complaint has been made during the last few weeks because of the reckless driving of automobiles in this city, and the remark that someone would have to be killed before the joy riders are brought to their senses has been heard on several occasions. Narrow escapes almost without number have been witnessed by local citizens, but either because of the remarkable agility of Marquette pedestrians or the protecting arm of an ever-watchful Providence, no one has been seriously hurt up to the present time. In the residence districts, especially on Pine and Fourth streets, machines are frequently speeded up until a toot, a streak and a small ear about all that indicates their passing a given point.

Of late, the reckless drivers have been getting bolder and at times are cutting loose in the down town districts. In all parts of the city, people have been annoyed, especially late at night, by certain chauffeurs opening up some lever that causes the engine to make a noise and to emit smoke like a thrashing machine, to the great discomfort of those who may be trying to sleep. One of the considerate automobile owners stated yesterday that there was no need of making any such disturbance in order to operate a car, and that, in his opinion, the drivers did it to attract attention.

Marshal Manning stated yesterday that he had tolerated the scorching evil as long as he was going to, and that the nearer automobilists kept within the speed limit from now on, the better it would be for them. The law prescribes eight miles an hour as the maximum speed in the business section and fifteen miles an hour in the residence districts. Hereafter, says the marshal, those who willfully and persistently violate this ordinance will be haled into justice court and fined.

LONGFELLOW'S "HIAWATHA."

Dramatization of Great Poem to Be Given at Normal School This Evening.

The children of the seventh and eighth grades of the Normal Training school, under the direction of Mrs. Kelsey and Miss Melnich, will present a dramatization of Longfellow's "Song of Hiawatha" this evening at 8:15 in the assembly room of Longyear Hall.

The cast of characters is as follows: Hiawatha, the child, Naemi Olson; Hiawatha, the youth, Gladys Sinar; Hiawatha, the man, Eugene DeHaas; Mudejokeewis, father of Hiawatha, Harold St. John; Sagoyewung, the great hunter, Rexford DeHaas; Pau-Puk-Keewis, the merry mischief maker, Ernest Roberts; Chibiabos, the musician, Signa Gilling; The Arrow-Maker, father of Minnehaha, Harry Cothran; Minnehaha, Marie Lobdell; Nokomis, Hiawatha's grandmother, The Priest, Mabel DeHaas; The White Spirit, Naemi Olson; Famine, Frances Lobdell; Fever, Lois Freeman; Warriors and women, Myron Asire, Ellsworth Roberts, Alla Asire, Ida Fleming, Frances Lobdell, Lois Freeman, Mildred Kaye, Stewart Hammond, Helen King.

The dramatization will be presented in nine scenes: The Beaver Pipe, the Return of Mudejokeewis, Hiawatha's Childhood, Hiawatha's Hunting, the Advice of Nokomis, Hiawatha's Wooing, the Wedding Feast and the Picture Writing, the Famine, the White Man's Foot and Hiawatha's Departure.

No expense or labor has been spared to make the entertainment as attractive as possible. Miss Oltman trained the children who sing, and Miss Jessie Palmer taught Pau-Puk-Keewis, the wedding dance. The baskets, rugs, pottery and other Indian relics have been loaned by friends and with the forest trees, Indian lodge and appropriate costumes, present a realistic Indian environment. Music will be furnished throughout the evening by Trombly's orchestra. A charge of twenty-five cents admission is made. The public is cordially invited.

DROWNED SATURDAY AT ESCANABA DOCK

Henry B. McLaughlin, Until Recently a Marquette Resident, Comes to Untimely End.

Henry B. McLaughlin, who up to a little more than a year ago was a resident of this city, was accidentally drowned while swimming at Escanaba Saturday noon, and the body was brought to Marquette yesterday for burial and interment. McLaughlin was twenty-three years of age and was employed as fireman on a Northwestern switch engine at Escanaba. He has a number of brothers and sisters, most of whom live in this county. They are: Mrs. Lawler, Mrs. P. J. Donovan and Miss Nellie McLaughlin, of this city; Chas. McLaughlin, of Milwaukee; James McLaughlin, of Milton, S. D.; John and Edward McLaughlin, of Big Bay, and Hiram and Joseph McLaughlin, of West Branch township. The funeral will be held from St. Peter's cathedral Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

After eating lunch Saturday noon McLaughlin went to the coal dock alone and taking off his clothes on an old scow, plunged into the water. The water about the scow was but five feet in depth, but a short distance to the east near the coal dock there is a hole where the water is nearly seven feet deep. McLaughlin was able to swim in a few strokes and with the high sea that was rolling in from the north it is believed that he was carried over the hole and being taken with cramps sank to the bottom. A short time later his companions missed him and going to the dock found the young man's clothing on the scow.

The alarm was at once given and a search was begun. Expert swimmers dived under the water about the place but were unable to find any trace of the body. Coroner L. O. Kirstine was called, but in the absence of a boat at the place he was unable to use his strings of hooks that he had prepared to drag the bottom of the bay for the body. After a search lasting for nearly four hours, Frank MacKillean and Daniel Rasbeck, fellow firemen with the unfortunate young man, found the body on the bottom with a grappling hook and finally brought it to the surface.

With several companions employed about the yards and shops McLaughlin had been in the habit of going to the coal dock at noon every day to enjoy a swim. All of his usual companions were absent Saturday when he finished his lunch and he went to the dock alone, and in spite of the fact that he was a poor swimmer he stripped and plunged into the water. Had his companions been present it is probable that the young man's life could have been saved, but alone he sank beneath the waves and the accidental drowning was not discovered for some time.

McLaughlin was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen and Enginemen and from the time that the alarm was given members of that organization took charge of the rescue work and the care of the body. It was two members of the organization who found the body. Alderman P. J. Donovan, a brother-in-law of the unfortunate young man, left for Escanaba Saturday night and returned with the remains Sunday morning.
