He covered 100 miles, which is a record for an airship flight in Great Britain.

 Chairman Marquette County Republican Committee,
 E. W. MacPHERSON, Secretary.

Dr. Cook is reported to be in Colorado.
 Remember who Dr. Cook is?

In the light of the entire lack of evidence to justify the mention of his name in connection with the Indian land contracts cases, Vice President Sherman's simple denial of any interest in the contracts ought to be sufficient.

Even if the state tax commission recommended it, the board of supervisors would hesitate to increase Marquette's equalization by half a million. The board is a fair dealing body, and it would know that such action would not be a fair deal.

Mr. Bryan wants the Illinois Democratic legislators who voted for Lorimer read out of the party. It would be a fitting disposal of men who sold out the party. We are reminded of a consistent Democrat whose optimism on the eve of elections always found expression in these words: "We've got 'em beat, by heck, if they don't buy 'em."

Now comes a report that regular Republicans have promised support to the Democrats in districts that have nominated insurgents. It won't be believed that the regulars would do anything so certain to mean party disaster. Every regularly nominated Republican is regular, and both regulars and insurgents should take this view of the situation.

The federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., enumerates in its population seven bank presidents, eighteen cashiers and thirteen tellers and bank clerks. And yet there still linger traces of a one time popular idea that dishonest bank officials are in some manner able to buy off justice. The contrary is the case.
 No offender is more reasonably certain finally to land in prison than the one who offends against the banking laws.

would give a virile and fearless administration of state affairs. Representative Baker is one of the influential leaders in the state grange, and is but one of many who have publicly given their allegiance to Mr. Osborn. The upper peninsula candidate is going to get a good share of the farmer vote, despite the attempts made by both the opposing candidates to lead it away from him by trying to make the label of "mine candidate" stick. This attempt has been so unfair that it has operated as a fare-back, and it has not appreciably hurt Mr. Osborn even with the rural voters.

Several thousand members of the W.
 C. T. U. in different parts of the country have united in petitions to Mrs. Alice Nick Longworth to stop smoking cigarettes, because of the bad example she is setting young girls. But not one young girl in a thousand would know that Mrs. Longworth was setting them a bad example were it not for the publicity given the fact by the W. C. T. U., whose members are augmenting a thousandfold any mischief Mrs. Longworth may be doing by her love of a puff or two after a comfortable dinner. This excellent organization is too frequently doing great harm in its pursuit of good. And does it imagine Mrs. Longworth will be impressed by its scoldings? Hardly. She has generally been credited with being a young lady with a mind of her own—just the kind to resent any intrusion in her personal affairs. If she takes any notice of the impertinence of the W. C.
 T. U. it will doubtless be to smoke up all the harder.

It appears that the state tax commission has only advised a $500,000 increase in the Marquette assessment roll.
 It's had advice. The Marquette roll already represents a higher valuation of real property than can be found in most other cities or townships in the state.
 To increase its valuations would be a rank injustice to the taxpayers. Marquette is already equalized too high in Marquette county, and it might well be reduced $500,000, rather than be increased a single dollar. Marquette real property is not assessed at true cash value, but it more nearly approaches that standard than perhaps property in any other city in the upper peninsula. If the state tax commission undertakes any campaign to bring the general property of the state up to true cash value, Marquette will be one of the last places reached, if the commission takes up the cities in the order in which they fall below the constitutional assessment.

Mayor Gaynor, of New York, is a man who wants to know through personal investigation what is going on in the city government. That's one of the reasons why he is making so good a mayor.
 Personal knowledge is much to be preferred to somebody's else say so. In his quest for first hand information he attended a sitting of the night court. When it was concluded the comment he had to make was not at all flattering to the police. Two-thirds of the persons arraigned while he was present, he said, had been "stupidly and needlessly" arrested, and "one or two of them corruptly." "One policeman brought in a boy who threw a rubber ball in the street," says the mayor. "The boy should have only been stopped. Another brought in two men who had been quarreling. He had only to separate them and send them off. They had done no harm at all." Mayor Gaynor cited many similar instances to drive in his point that the police showed lack of judgment in making arrests and clogged the minor courts with proceedings that were in no manner necessary. Mayor Gaynor, needless to say, wants all real offenders arrested, but he can see no particular good in sending boys or men through the humiliating police station grind for trifling misconduct meriting no more than a word of censure or warning. He conceives this mistaken activity of the police as encouraging, rather than discouraging, crime, and in his view is a good deal of justice in his view. His excursion into the night court and his comment thereon will doubtless lead to more discreet conduct by the officers and men of the police department, in which he takes so great a personal interest.

PLANS PERPETUAL MOTION.
 Austrian Consular Agent Believes His Aqua-Automotor Solves a Problem.

Proctor, Vt., Aug. 6.—Carl Grossman consular agent here for the Austro-Hungarian empire, has evolved a piece of mechanism that, he confidently claims, solves the problem of perpetual motion. The apparatus is so simple, Grossman says, that he wonders why nobody thought of the same principle long ago.

Water is what makes the Grossman machine go, and, therefore, he has dubbed the apparatus an aqua-auto-motor.
 Grossman declares that his machine is started by the opening of a valve, which causes water by gravity to set the apparatus going, and the water is used over and over again. The machine then will continue to move indefinitely without assistance from any other source, he says, and will stop running when the valve is closed.

Grossman is a graduate of one of the best universities in Europe. He is a lieutenant in the Austro-Hungarian army and only recently returned from a trip to Hungary. He is an associate of Hovath, the Hungarian artist, who produced the large painting of the battle of Trenton, which was exhibited in American cities last year.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.
 Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, and therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr.
 Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle free, but remember the pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr.
 Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

BANKERS AND AUTOMOBILES.
 The wall of eastern bankers that recently declined and disturbances in the securities market are due to the huge total of investment being made by the people of the United States in automobiles is as puerile as it is pathetic. It has the appearance of a protest growing out of childish irritation and disappointment because the people at large are insisting on expending a portion of their own funds to the exclusion of the banker and the broker. Ye banker and ye broker are like a good many politicians.
 They do not believe that the people as a class are to be trusted to govern themselves or to handle their own funds—the sweat of their brow translated into legal tender.

But the people, however, with the "valor of ignorance," as the bankers and brokers would analyze it, have never shown a disposition to accept the teachings of the banker and broker as a general code of ethics, or rule of conduct.
 The people will insist, when the issue is brought home to them direct, in making an attempt at governing themselves and in expending their own financial accumulations.

And why not? The history of finance is made up of the mistakes and breaches of faith of bankers and brokers. In fact some of the pages are so redolent of gross mistakes and worse, that the ver-yest yoked of a farmer could be relied upon to avoid the situations therein set forth.

But what will the bankers and brokers have? Do they ask or advise that the automobile factories of the United States be shut down? Any such course as that, or any serious interference with the young and sturdy industry would, it is safe to forecast, tend to demoralize the securities market rather than stiffen it.

The automobile is here and is here to stay, and the sooner the eastern bankers and brokers become reconciled to that fact the sooner will their mental and business readjustment occur. It is probable, too, that the farmer, the professional and the business man and the people generally get more pleasure and profit from association with the automobile man than they do from association with the banker or the broker. Further it may be that the diverting of large funds from the maw of the stock speculator may serve an economic housecleaning purpose. It may operate to place the stock market on a plane more nearly practical and honest. At all events, there probably will be little sympathy aroused by the whimperings of those connected with it.

SOMEBODY IS LYING.
 The congressional committee delegated to inquire into the charges of attempted bribery in the Indian land contract cases, made by Senator Gore, will have a merry time trying to fix the truth of the matter. Somebody is lying, but there appears little hope that the committee will be able to fix the identity of the Ananias.

Senator Gore says that Jake Hamon told him that Vice President Sherman, Senator Curtis and Representative Mc-Guire were all interested in the contracts. Before the committee, in the course of a four-hour examination, Hamon emphatically denied that he ever mentioned Sherman, Curtis or McGuire's name to Senator Gore, and likewise denounced as absolutely false the senator's assertion that Hamon proffered him a bribe of $25,000 or $30,000, if he would take a complacent attitude on legislation, which he had started, affecting the contracts.

Vice President Sherman, Senator Curtis and Representative McGuire are equally emphatic in their repudiation of the charge that they had any interest in the Indian contracts, and disclaim any connection, even the most remote, with them. They are all willing, if the committee deems it important, to appear and to submit to the most searching examination, even though they say they are unable to give the committee any

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.
 Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

 sponsible for much sickness and suffering,
 continue, serious re-

 first. Therefore, when
 your kidneys are weak or out of order,
 seems to fail to do its duty.

light bearing on the subject of the inquiry.

The decision who is lying is one most difficult to arrive at. Senator Gore has been considered a man of unimpeachable honesty and integrity. He has apparently given a wholehearted interest to seeing that the rights of the Indians shall be carefully safeguarded and that they shall not be exploited. When he first made his charges, in the closing days of the regular session, he was evidently acting under great mental excitement and the stress of genuine feeling. There will be a certain reluctance to believe that his story is made out of whole cloth.

At the same time, even conceding its truth, it is clearly apparent that there is no warrant for taking seriously the introduction of Vice President Sherman's name. If Hamon is the kind of a man who would peddle bribes in $25,000 or $30,000 chunks he is the kind of a man who would not hesitate to try to soothe the conscience and allay the misgivings of the person he was trying to purchase by the suggestion of a man "higher up," potent in the councils of the government, as also interested in the project it was sought to carry out.

It's a regrettable circumstance that the name of Mr. Sherman should have been dragged into the matter with so little warrant, but no sensible man will hold, on the showing made, that any significant should be attached to its appearance in such an embarrassing connection.
 There is not, as yet, one single tangible shred of real evidence that Mr. Sherman, or the other men Senator Gore says Hamon referred to, have even the remotest interest in the contracts that furnish the cause of the inquiry.

TWO MICHIGAN PRISONS THAT ARE DIFFERENT.
 Jackson prison has given Michigan much unsavory advertising. Not only its business management, but its penal methods have been held up to generous ridicule and scorn. But Jackson prison is not a typical example of the way Michigan treats its prisoners. Back of it will be with keenest satisfaction that our citizenship reads of the splendid compliment paid to Marquette prison by Great Britain's most famous criminologist.

Captain Alanson Himes, who has just finished an extensive investigation of the Michigan prison at Marquette, declares it to be one of the best conducted and most progressive penitentiaries in the world. He puts it in a favored class with four other world prison and declares that it ranks with any of them in prestige and perfection.

The prison at Marquette, Michigan, the prison at Elmira, New York, the prison at Milan, Italy, the prison at LaPlata, Argentina, and the prison at Millbank, England, are declared to lead the world in conduct along the lines of the science of modern criminology.

This is a most happy compliment.
 Captain Himes has long served as an officer in the British army. He is a world traveler who has made criminology the study of his life. He is well versed in all phases of the subject, especially in the science of modern criminology. His statements regarding Michigan's work at Marquette therefore enjoy substantial credentials. The state is to be congratulated upon its penal accomplishments at Marquette and the management of the prison—especially Warren Russell—deserves the commendation of the commonwealth.

Since Captain Himes believes that criminology is a disease and should be cured as well as punished—it is probable that the chief feature of the Marquette system which attracted him was its humane and scientific treatment of the
 "Yes, uncle."

"What can she do?"

"Do! What do you mean?"

"Oh, can she sew a button on yer sark, or mak' yer parrot, or do any housework?"

"Not at all, uncle. The servants do all that; but I tell you what it is: She has the loveliest voice you ever heard.
 She's a grand singer."

"Man, could ye no' hae gotten a canary?"
 —Tit-Bits.

A LAUGH OR TWO.
 Less Expensive.

A North Country young man resident in London married an English lady, and shortly after went to visit a bachelor uncle in Scotland. When uncle and nephew were over their walnuts and wine the old gentleman remarked, "Well, Bobbly, ye hae gotten a wife!"
 "Yes, uncle."

"What can she do?"

 sark, or mak' yer parrot, or do any
 housework?"

Still Unbeaten.
 The sergeant-major had the reputation of never being in a loss for an answer. A young officer one day made a bet with a brother officer that he would ask the sergeant-major a question that would baffle him.

The sergeant-major accompanied the young officer on his rounds, in the course of which the cook-house was inspected. Pointing to a large copper of water just commencing to boil, the officer said, "Why does that water only boil round the edges of the copper and not in the centre?"

"The water round the edge, sir," replied the old veteran, "is for the men in guard; they have their breakfast in an hour by the remainder of the company."

The Earth Disturbed.
 Grampa Gray, pompous and weighty —he could have turned the scale at eighteen stone—was walking in the garden the other day with his very inquisitive favorite grandchild.

"Grandpa, what is we all made of?"
 asked the four-year-old boy.

"We are made of the dust of the earth, my child," replied the old gentleman, in a pointed and impressive manner. The little lad looked puzzled, and turned this over in his mind for some seconds. Then, looking upon the massive form of his relative, "my child" said, as if with a sudden inspiration:
 "It must have made a great big hole, grandpa, when they took you out." Merry thought.

Twain.

A friend once asked Mark Twain to go for a walk with him.

"How far is it?" asked Mark.

"Oh, about a mile," was the reply.

"Well, I suppose I'll have to go," answered Mr. Clemens, "the Bible says I must."

"What on earth has the Bible to do with it, man?"

"Well it says, 'If a man asks you to go with him a mile, go with him.'
 'Twain?' said the humorist, making ready to go.

STATE POLITICS.
 As the time for the Republican primary approaches the fight for the speakership of the next house waxes warmer and the Republican caucus which will precede the calling to order of the legislature promises to be a hummer. Just now the fight is apparently all between Speaker Campbell and Representative Herbert F. Baker of Cheboygan, but reports from around the state indicate that Representative D. F.
 Warner of Frankfort is likely to be a dark horse candidate with better than a fair show of winning out. The latest development in the situation is the effort of the state grange through its subordinate grades to induce candidates for the legislature to pledge themselves to Mr. Baker. The Cheboygan man is a member of the executive committee of the grange and every effort is being made by the grange to secure his election. The candidates for the house are receiving from the subordinate grades a printed statement which sets forth that Speaker Campbell was tied up with corporations during the last session and that Representative Baker is the proper man for speaker because he is a good granger. The Baker-Campbell fight grew out of the last session and has now reached a stage of great bitterness. Baker was a leader of the grange in the past and is backed by the grange and the speaker in his rulings and which he has not hard throughout the session. Before the session Baker was a candidate for speaker and it was then that Campbell announced that he would return to the legislature as a candidate for speaker again. Along last summer and fall it seemed that Campbell would have a walkaway for re-election. He had practically the solid support of the Detroit and Wayne contingent and the backing of the upper peninsula, together with Saginaw, Grand Rapids and various seated votes. In fact, he claimed some seventy votes on pledges. But Mr.
 Campbell alienated the major portion of this support through taking sides in the gubernatorial question. He is on for Kelley and is backed by the state advisory committee. Baker is now conceded to be in the lead.

PORT HURON—A lighted candle beside the coffin containing the remains of Michael O'Grady at Yalo, set fire to hanging close by, and before the flames had burned themselves out the house and its contents had been totally destroyed. The remains of the dead man in smoke and fire to secure the casket and its burden. This fire is the third misfortune that has overtaken the O'Grady family in recent months, for barely five months ago another member of the family died.

S. S. S. A BOTANICAL BLOOD REMEDY

Nature in her wisdom and beneficence has provided, in her great vegetable kingdom, a cure for most of the ills and ailments of humanity.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO. ATLANTA, GA.

Upper Peninsula

Humane Society Organized.

A humane society has been organized at Escanaba with a charter membership of twenty-three residents who will pursue a movement to prevent cruelty to dumb brutes in the city and care for neglected animals in general.

Afflicted with Small-Pox.

Jimmy Oliver, a noted character about town, was taken to the local hospital from Iron Mountain the other day with a repulsive disease which Dr. Newkirk has diagnosed as small-pox.

Reports Deer Very Plentiful.

According to H. O. Brotherton of Escanaba, one of the officials of the land department of the Northwestern road, big game is very plentiful just now.

Railroad Men Steps Up.

The upper peninsula friends of William E. Tyler will rejoice to learn that he has been promoted from the position of third assistant general freight agent with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway to the superintendent of the Roselle & Southwestern district.

Candidate for the Legislature.

Announcement is made of the candidacy of Supervisor Charles D. Mason (Gladstone) for the Republican nomination for the office of representative of the Delta county district in the state legislature.

Politics Quiet in Chippewa.

The political situation in Chippewa county is being somewhat enlivened from the fact that candidates for county treasurer and road commissioner are making active campaign for the nomination.

Formerly of Iron Mountain.

Dr. Julius F. Menestrina, leading Italian physician and surgeon of the Southwest, noted for his charity among the country poor, died at St. Louis, Mo., last week, ten days after having suffered a paralytic stroke.

Firemen Go to Tournament.

A special train will leave Tuesday evening, carrying members of the Mohawk, Laurium, Hancock, Houghton and Red Jacket fire departments, a number of their ladies and great many of their friends, as well as the running teams that are to represent Mohawk and Red Jacket in the tournament events.

Five Miles of Rail Down.

About five miles of the new eighty-pound steel, being laid by the Mineral Range railroad from Mohawk to the stump mills at Gay, has been put down, the working gangs doing the work being as far north as Hebard's with the steel. It is expected that the entire road will be relaid within the next three weeks or a month.

Memorize School Statistics.

According to a report just published by the board of education it cost the city of Menominee $65,160.55 to send 2,588 children to school last year. This amount shows a decrease from 1908-9 of over $5,000, the total cost of the year before being $70,215.40.

Brookline the Unusual.

Brookline, Mass., which refuses to be part of a "bigger, better, busier" Boston, although that city almost surrounds it, is a village not only in government, but a good deal also in feeling.

Little Child Badly Injured.

Nancy Spence, two and one-half years old, climbed up on the balustrade of the porch of the second story of the Edward lock at the Soo and, overbalancing herself, fell over the railing to the cement walk below, a distance of about eighteen feet.

Brookline Has no System of Civil Penalties.

Brookline has no system of civil penalties properly so called, but the lighter work on the streets is done by a group of cheerily apple faced old boys of outdoor aspect who draw pretty fair wages for not very hard work. They are known to everybody, and they lose a good deal of time answering the friendly salutations of their acquaintances of all kinds.

Business Men Use it at Night.

Brookline's public schools, which have a reputation that attracts to them a good many pupils from adjoining parts of Boston, are not for any one section of the community. Children are seen going to the public schools afoot, by trolley car, by steam railway, in the motor cars of their parents and in free public "busses" that go about picking up pupils who live at long distances from the schools.

Another Interesting Piece of Municipal Administration.

Interesting neighborhood ways survive, especially in the outlying parts of Brookline. Old paths are habitually used by the community, though in many cases they lead directly through private grounds. Tradesmen's drivers of all kinds know these old neighborhood paths, and the morning milkman threads his way through a complexity of rear premises, emerging now and again to mount his wagon and drive on to the next port of call.

Many Acres of Private Woodland.

Many acres of private woodland within the town limits are thus open to all comers, and until recently any one who would could start a picnic fire in the woods and cook his chop or steak and boil his coffee in the open, without fear of molestation.

While Many Parts of the Country Suffered from Lack of Rain.

While many parts of the country suffered from lack of rain, Kentucky had too much. In Louisville and nearby regions it rained nearly every day for five weeks, and it is estimated that the loss to farmers and to railroads has amounted to $5,000,000.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill. "I was troubled with ailing and indigestion, and the doctor said I was a nervous woman. I had an operation and I knew I could not stand the strain of one, so I wrote to you sometime ago about my health and you told me what to do. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I am to-day a well woman."

Mrs. WILLIAM A. HENRY, 988 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

proper official care, but also with a certain neighborly good will. When a subject of special interest to any group of citizens is up before the selectmen the meeting room of that body fills up with the persons concerned and any one who will may say his say. There is no speaking in the ordinary sense of the phrase, for the tone of the meeting is conversational.

When the subject gets specially interesting and there is a map of the property concerned to be examined, the citizens crowd up to the rail on one side, while the selectmen put their heads together on the other, and the matter is talked over much as if the meeting were a family council. Anybody chipping in who will, members of the board ask questions in an informal fashion, and now and then when the question comes to a vote some of the citizens outside the rail feel so much at home in the boardroom they forget themselves and fall out aye or no.

Even the police of Brookline, although they go about in uniform and have the set-up drill and all the rest of it, have neighborly relations with their fellow-citizens. One of them whose beat takes him through the wooded rural part of the town is sometimes accompanied for an hour or two by his young friends, girls and boys with whom he is on the assist of terms. If anything comes wrong that the town authorities can right the first thought is to apply to the policeman on the beat, who is always spoken of as Mr. Soandso.

All the women know him and bow to him as he passes, and if any trifle has happened from the lawn to him the loser appeals.

He promptly traced not long ago a number of stolen flowers to some thoughtless school children, visited the school, identified the flowers and obtained from the principal a confession from the culprits. More than that, he reported the case to the parents and induced some of them to take the children to the householder to make apology. These mild-mannered domestic police take the place of a juvenile court, an institution that Brookline has never had.

A small boy caught in petty larceny was brought before the chief of police, cuffed upon his sins, forced to make restitution and warned that for the next year he would be under the special supervision of the officer on the beat.

Boys from Brookline who sometimes come on Sunday to disturb the peace of Brookline are watched closely by the police, grabbed promptly when they get into mischief and hustled across the line with a warning that is usually effective.

When a policeman turned up early on a recent Sunday to report that he had traced some missing property he was invited to breakfast, and a hot roll and a friendly talk about neighborhood affairs.

Brookline has no system of civil penalties properly so called, but the lighter work on the streets is done by a group of cheerily apple faced old boys of outdoor aspect who draw pretty fair wages for not very hard work. They are known to everybody, and they lose a good deal of time answering the friendly salutations of their acquaintances of all kinds.

There was a good deal of opposition here or four years ago when the proposal was made to build an expensive municipal gymnasium. Some taxpayers were sure that it was merely providing a costly toy for a few of those who did not pay taxes, but the gymnasium was built, and within less than two years citizens of all sorts, men, women and children, were using it. There are classes for many kinds of exercises and some of these classes include the wives and daughters of the very persons who, it was prophesied, would pay for the gymnasium in taxes and never make use of it.

Business men use it at night for special exercises that they cannot take so well elsewhere, while teamsters at the noon hour on hot days come in for a refreshing shower bath. The swimming pool parts of the town use the public swimming bath hard by, some on free days, some on pay days, and the pool is used at night by some of the business men who exercise in the gymnasium.

Brookline's public schools, which have a reputation that attracts to them a good many pupils from adjoining parts of Boston, are not for any one section of the community. Children are seen going to the public schools afoot, by trolley car, by steam railway, in the motor cars of their parents and in free public "busses" that go about picking up pupils who live at long distances from the schools. Parents, rich and poor alike, visit the schools on errands of personal inspection and attend school entertainments. Some of the best known men of the high school, and Brahmin New England of today is represented in the high school classes.

Possibly Brookline is the only community in the country that grows water over its reservoirs of public water. The reservoirs, usually not very large, are literally roofed, and on the roofs grass is planted which is mowed every summer. One effect of this is to give Brookline an open reservoir of Boston in the heart of Brookline goes regularly for drinking water not to that which he has immediately under his own eye and care but to neighboring private houses where he can draw water from one of the covered reservoirs of Brookline.

Another interesting piece of municipal administration is the clearing of snow from the sidewalks at public expense. In the most remote districts of the town the sidewalks are usually ploughed out after a snow storm by 8 o'clock in the morning.

Interesting neighborhood ways survive, especially in the outlying parts of Brookline. Old paths are habitually used by the community, though in many cases they lead directly through private grounds. Tradesmen's drivers of all kinds know these old neighborhood paths, and the morning milkman threads his way through a complexity of rear premises, emerging now and again to mount his wagon and drive on to the next port of call.

He promptly traced not long ago a number of stolen flowers to some thoughtless school children, visited the school, identified the flowers and obtained from the principal a confession from the culprits. More than that, he reported the case to the parents and induced some of them to take the children to the householder to make apology. These mild-mannered domestic police take the place of a juvenile court, an institution that Brookline has never had.

A small boy caught in petty larceny was brought before the chief of police, cuffed upon his sins, forced to make restitution and warned that for the next year he would be under the special supervision of the officer on the beat.

Boys from Brookline who sometimes come on Sunday to disturb the peace of Brookline are watched closely by the police, grabbed promptly when they get into mischief and hustled across the line with a warning that is usually effective.

Brookline has no system of civil penalties properly so called, but the lighter work on the streets is done by a group of cheerily apple faced old boys of outdoor aspect who draw pretty fair wages for not very hard work. They are known to everybody, and they lose a good deal of time answering the friendly salutations of their acquaintances of all kinds.

There was a good deal of opposition here or four years ago when the proposal was made to build an expensive municipal gymnasium. Some taxpayers were sure that it was merely providing a costly toy for a few of those who did not pay taxes, but the gymnasium was built, and within less than two years citizens of all sorts, men, women and children, were using it. There are classes for many kinds of exercises and some of these classes include the wives and daughters of the very persons who, it was prophesied, would pay for the gymnasium in taxes and never make use of it.

Business men use it at night for special exercises that they cannot take so well elsewhere, while teamsters at the noon hour on hot days come in for a refreshing shower bath. The swimming pool parts of the town use the public swimming bath hard by, some on free days, some on pay days, and the pool is used at night by some of the business men who exercise in the gymnasium.

Brookline's public schools, which have a reputation that attracts to them a good many pupils from adjoining parts of Boston, are not for any one section of the community. Children are seen going to the public schools afoot, by trolley car, by steam railway, in the motor cars of their parents and in free public "busses" that go about picking up pupils who live at long distances from the schools. Parents, rich and poor alike, visit the schools on errands of personal inspection and attend school entertainments. Some of the best known men of the high school, and Brahmin New England of today is represented in the high school classes.

Possibly Brookline is the only community in the country that grows water over its reservoirs of public water. The reservoirs, usually not very large, are literally roofed, and on the roofs grass is planted which is mowed every summer. One effect of this is to give Brookline an open reservoir of Boston in the heart of Brookline goes regularly for drinking water not to that which he has immediately under his own eye and care but to neighboring private houses where he can draw water from one of the covered reservoirs of Brookline.

Another interesting piece of municipal administration is the clearing of snow from the sidewalks at public expense. In the most remote districts of the town the sidewalks are usually ploughed out after a snow storm by 8 o'clock in the morning.

Interesting neighborhood ways survive, especially in the outlying parts of Brookline. Old paths are habitually used by the community, though in many cases they lead directly through private grounds. Tradesmen's drivers of all kinds know these old neighborhood paths, and the morning milkman threads his way through a complexity of rear premises, emerging now and again to mount his wagon and drive on to the next port of call.

Many acres of private woodland within the town limits are thus open to all comers, and until recently any one who would could start a picnic fire in the woods and cook his chop or steak and boil his coffee in the open, without fear of molestation.

While many parts of the country suffered from lack of rain, Kentucky had too much. In Louisville and nearby regions it rained nearly every day for five weeks, and it is estimated that the loss to farmers and to railroads has amounted to $5,000,000.

proper official care, but also with a certain neighborly good will. When a subject of special interest to any group of citizens is up before the selectmen the meeting room of that body fills up with the persons concerned and any one who will may say his say. There is no speaking in the ordinary sense of the phrase, for the tone of the meeting is conversational.

When the subject gets specially interesting and there is a map of the property concerned to be examined, the citizens crowd up to the rail on one side, while the selectmen put their heads together on the other, and the matter is talked over much as if the meeting were a family council. Anybody chipping in who will, members of the board ask questions in an informal fashion, and now and then when the question comes to a vote some of the citizens outside the rail feel so much at home in the boardroom they forget themselves and fall out aye or no.

Even the police of Brookline, although they go about in uniform and have the set-up drill and all the rest of it, have neighborly relations with their fellow-citizens. One of them whose beat takes him through the wooded rural part of the town is sometimes accompanied for an hour or two by his young friends, girls and boys with whom he is on the assist of terms. All the women know him and bow to him as he passes, and if any trifle has happened from the lawn to him the loser appeals.

COCOS ISLANDS KING DEAD.

George Clunies Ross Third of English Family to Rule Malaya.

The death of George Clunies Ross, King of the Cocos Islands, is reported by cable from Ventnor, Eng., where he had gone in search of health.

The Cocos Islands, over which the Ross family has reigned for more than 80 years, are situated about 700 miles from Java and are under British protection. It was here that Darwin studied the formation of coral reefs, and at the time of his visit in 1827, the first of the Ross family, John Clunies Ross, a Scotchman and an English naval officer, took up his residence there. His son took up the rule in 1854, and the late ruler succeeded him in 1871 at the age of 31.

When a young man George Clunies Ross studied engineering at Glasgow, returning to the islands in 1864. He had a large family. Mr. Ross's grandmother was an Englishwoman, and his mother was a Malay. He himself married a Eurasian. There are no white women in the islands.

Coinage money is unknown there, for the parchment notes of George Ross, the earlier "king," are the sole medium of exchange. Crime hardly exists, and without police or military, perfect order prevails.

Mr. Ross had the power of life and death over 600 or 700 subjects. On the islands the rats climb trees and nibble the coconuts, the giant hand crab settles to and fro, cutting with its pinchers the wooden bars of a cage that would serve to imprison a large wild animal.

Until a few years ago not a rat was seen in Cocos. But a ship was wrecked off the islands and the rats swam ashore. They increased at such a rate that they caused a tremendous loss by spoiling the buds of the coconut.

The king imported cats. But the cats, shores much better than rats, within a short time became large and wild, so now the islanders have not only the trouble of rats, but also of cats.

The Cocos Islands at their highest point are only eight feet above sea level. The principal island is known as Ross Island, and contains Malay villages. The principal export is copra, the dried kernel of the coconut, and from this product the Ross family has amassed great wealth.

HERE AND THERE.

There were 960 cars of wheat received in Kansas City, one day last week, approximately 1,152,000 bushels, which will bring at the present prices from $1.01 a bushel to as low as 93 cents, according to grade. Of corn there were sixty-five cars, or 78,000 bushels, which sell for from 60¢ to 65¢ cents. There were twenty-six cars of oats, or 31,000 bushels, which will bring from 32¢ to 39 cents a bushel, and there were 221 cars of various kinds of hay, the best of which will bring $14 per ton.

Sales of copper in the current buying movement are heavier than they have been in months. The United States Metals Selling company alone has sold more than 70,000,000 pounds of copper and as a result stocks are down to a low level.
It is claimed that stocks which were estimated to be over 100,000,000 pounds a month ago do not exceed the month's supply at the present time. Electric copper is strong at 12½¢, with several producers asking 12½¢ a pound.

Claude A. Swanson, former governor appointment follows the precedent made by the selection of Gov. Sanders to suc-

"YOGHOURT" FOR LONG LIFE.

Milk Drink Craze Originating in Bavaria Reaches Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 6.—Philadelphia has the "yoghourt" craze. This yoghourt craze isn't so crazy as it sounds. Indeed its immensely sensational, for if it works here as in the mountains of Bulgaria it will mean a city of much healthier and longer-lived persons.

It consists in the drinking of pure whole milk that has been scientifically treated with a bacterial culture obtained from curdled milk in Bulgaria and imported to this city in hermetically sealed containers.

The result is a thick cream-like substance, decidedly palatable to most persons, which is being manufactured by at least one leading dairy here and sold in bottles.

It is a practical application of the discovery made a few years ago by Prof.
Elie Metchnikoff of the Pasteur Institute, in Paris, that the long life of the Bulgarian mountaineers, many of whom live vigorously beyond the 100-year mark, was undoubtedly due to their steady consumption of this curdled milk.

The great Metchnikoff had previously announced his epochal discovery of the "battle of the germ" which is constantly going on within the human economy—the silent struggle between the white blood corpuscles and the invading armies of unfriendly microbes which seek to feed upon the human being and thus cause disease and hasten death.

It is in the colon—the large intestine —that this warfare is most common.
And with the average person, the defending armies are not always sufficiently large or strong to cope successfully with the invaders.

Now comes to the assistance of the faithful phagocytes, this "lactic curd," which, when carefully and properly combined with sterilized rich milk, rushes millions of assisting bacteria to the field of action.

The weakened or dwindled white corpuscles, which are about to give up the effort, are thus reinforced, and presently, as numerous experiments have already shown, the forces of the enemy are slain by being swallowed and no longer remain to menace the normal bodily functions.

MUSIC MAKES FISH BITE.

Sunday Evening Anglers Near Church Always Report Good Luck.

Winston, Ch., Aug. 6.—Do fish like music? That is a question fishermen at Highland lake are trying to solve, and most of them who have tried their luck fishing while the sunset religious services were in progress on Highland lake Sunday evening have come to the conclusion that music has charms for the fish.

Every pleasant Sunday evening upward of 150 cottagers at that resort assemble in boats on the second bay of Highland lake and listen to a sermon.
The congregation in boats joins heartily in the singing, which is a feature of the services. Beyond the worshippers fishermen cast their flies for bass and trout for pickerel, and they declare the fish bite better during the period of the sunset services than any other part of the day.

DISCREDIT ENGLISH SCARE.

American Scientists Doubt the Danger from Chicken Tuberculosis.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Reports from England that there is great danger of tuberculosis from chickens have caused the bureau of animal industry here to investigate the matter with the result that American officials are convinced there is little danger from this source in the United States. Avian tuberculosis is the name of the disease as it affects fowls, but Dr. J. H. Washburn of the bureau while not denying that it could be transferred to mammals, said today that few cases had ever been discovered in this country.

Most of them, he said, had been discovered in Oregon, though a few were in California, New York and Minnesota.
Cases were on record in said Oregon hogs had caught the disease from eating chickens dead from tuberculosis, but he did not believe cattle could catch it by grazing over pastures in which the fowls had their run.

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, Aug. 7.—Paine, Webber & Co. have this to say of yesterday's stock market: "General conditions affecting security values have improved during the week, which is needed rains have fallen in the cotton belt and the corn crop promises to be large. The government crop report, due on Monday, will be read with much interest, but of course it will be remembered that conditions for the crops have been much more favorable since Aug. 1. There will be a

A COOL PROPOSITION

And a Sure One.

The Body Does Not Feel Heat Unpleasantly if it Has Proper Food—

Grape-Nuts

People can live in a temperature which feels from ten to twenty degrees cooler than their neighbors enjoy, by regulating the diet.

The plan is to avoid meat entirely for breakfast, use a goodly allowance of fruit, either fresh or cooked. There is to be used a saucer containing about four heaping teaspoonsful of Grape-Nuts, treated with a little rich cream. Add to this about two slices of crisp toast with a meager amount of butter, and one cup of well-made Postum.

By this selection of food the bodily energy is preserved, while the hot, carbonaceous foods have been left out. The result is a very marked difference in the temperature of the body, and to this comfortable condition is added the certainty of easy and perfect digestion, for the food being partially pre-digested is quickly assimilated by the digestive machinery.

Experience and experiment in food, and its application to the human body has brought out these facts. They can be made use of and add materially to the comfort of the user.

Read the little book, "The Road to good demand for money in the autumn, but it is not expected that rates will be much higher than is usual during the crop moving period. New York and Chicago banks are well prepared to meet the demands usually made during the next few months. Business is reported to be picking up and the technical position is good, as apparently there is a good sized short interest outstanding."

Boston "Coppers."

Boston, Mass., Aug. 7.—Summarizing yesterday's copper stock market, Paine, Webber & Co. say: "Our market was very strong, the buying orders being more noticeable than for some time. The offerings still continue very light and we believe this rally should continue to a higher level. The New York market was practically unchanged all day, the trading being very light. Prices are well sustained and we believe a higher level will be reached before very much selling is encountered."

Chicago Wheat.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—The wheat market opened irregular, with the trade nervous and sales of December as high as 107.
Then followed a rather heavy market, which caused declines. In general way the selling has been by the local bull leaders, who were right on the strong upturn the past two days. While they were taking profits, prominent leading houses were putting considerable wheat on the market. The news is not greatly changed either at home or abroad, but there is a natural reaction from the upturn of the week. The market still looks heavy.

Mining News

The Copperton mill of the Utah Copper company in Bingham canyon has recently been closed, and it is possible that it may never be operated again, as the machinery may be sent to the Arthur plant at Garfield. There was a scarcity of water at Bingham for this mill, and the Magna mill has been altered so that its capacity is more than enough to take care of the ore which has heretofore gone to the Copperton mill. About 150 men are thrown out of employment. The Copperton mill although originally built as an experimental plant was overhauled some time ago and its capacity increased from 750 to 1,000 tons of ore per day.

The fact that the Quincy A. Shaw estate has more than doubled its holdings of Calumet & Hecla stock the past year, which now stands at 13,100 shares as against 5,500 shares, and has purchased 2,172 shares of the Osceola Consolidated company is taken to indicate great faith in the copper situation on the part of the Shaw family.

The July copper output of the Shannon Copper company, amounting to 1,528,000 pounds, was the largest in nine months, or since September when it was 1,562,000 pounds. Last month's output was 8 per cent larger than for June and 18 per cent larger than last April when the output was only 1,288,000 pounds.

Comment is made that the enforced closing down of the Balaklala smelter of the First National Copper company is not an unmixed evil, for the First National Copper Co. has been making only nominal profits of $20,000 per month on 12½-cent copper. It is declared to be not unlikely that by the time operations are resumed metal prices will be higher and the company may thus be better off than if it is compelled to liquidate its underground assets without profit.

There is a growing scarcity of Amalgamated, and in fact of all of the so-called Cole-Ryan stocks, in brokers' offices. A majority of the large commission houses state that they are today carrying on margin less than 10 per cent of what may be considered a normal amount of Amalgamated shares.
Furthermore, there are many outstanding short contracts in this stock, and the conviction is growing that when once sentiment shifts the shorts will have to step pretty lively if they are to escape severe losses.

Miss Theodora Josephine Frankensen, the blind student of Chicago university, who was elected to the Phi Beta Kappa society this year, received at the convocation the degree of Ph. B. and was awarded the scholarship in the graduate school, besides winning honors in Latin and Greek.

Reports received at Kansas City from about 400 grain shippers indicate that this year's Kansas wheat crop will amount to 65,000,000 bushels. This is about 16,000,000 bushels less than was raised in the state last year. Estimates of the Nebraska wheat crop range from 31,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels.

being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh of the disease, and giving the patient

Mrs. P. McFall, arrived home Saturday from a three weeks' visit with her son, Edward, and his family, at Coleraine, Minn. She was accompanied by her granddaughter, Muriel, who will spend some time here.

The barn in the alley off Third street, between Bank and Ridge streets, where Antti Hytonen blew up himself and his wife with dynamite on the night of Jan. 30th, last, has been razed and a new barn is being erected in its place.

William Argall will leave today for Chicago to attend the Knight Templars convolve. Several other Ishpeming members of the Masonic society plan on going to the city before the end of the week. The Knight Templars of the copper country are to make the trip by special train leaving there today over the Copper Range line.

DEATH OF MRS. MARIET TISLOW.

Old Resident of Ishpeming Expired Unexpectedly Saturday Morning.

Mrs. Mariet Tislow, one of Ishpeming's best known Norwegian women, died Saturday morning from heart disease. Death came rather unexpectedly, though the deceased had not enjoyed her usual good health since last spring, when she was quite seriously ill for a time.

The deceased was born in Norway, near Trondhjem, Aug. 5, 1855, and she came to this country in 1872, locating in this city. She was married here to John Tislow in 1882 and he died eleven years later. There are six daughters, one and two daughters surviving. They are the Misses Ida and Maud, and Oscar and John Tislow, all living at home. There are also two brothers and three sisters living. The brothers are Fred J. Eggan of Austin, Ill., and Rev. Mons. J. Eggan of Austin, Ill. The sisters are Mrs. Regdahl and Miss Annie Eggan, living here, and Mrs. Hoin, wife of Rev. Hoin, Rev. Eggan and Mrs. Hoin arrived in the city Saturday.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Mission church, the services will be conducted by Rev. Werklund, the pastor. Friends wishing to view the remains are asked to call at the house, as the casket will not be opened in the church.

MOVING PICTURE THEATRE.

Copper Country Man May Open House in Quail Block.

D. E. Rice of Calumet and Charles Skiff, manager of Mr. Rice's moving picture theatre in Negaunee, were in the city Saturday looking over the Quail block on South Main street, with a view of opening a picture house at that location. Mr. Rice has been given an option on the store room and he stated that if he is permitted to alter the place to suit the needs of a picture house, he will put in a theatre, starting work within a few days. Mr. Rice estimates that it will take about $2,000 to remodel the front and equip the theatre. The room is a large one and it is figured that in the neighborhood of 400 seats can be put in. If Mr. Rice decides to go ahead with the deal he will put in an attractive lobby, about twelve feet in depth, and will construct a slanting entrance from the street, going away with the step now in front.

Mr. Rice has met with good success in managing moving picture theatres. He has three in operation in the copper country, in addition to the one in Negaunee. He has recently fitted up a view of 200 new publications have attracted a large number of patrons. He has added the past three months. New non-fiction books recently placed on the shelves are as follows:

Want to Buy Alley.

Mrs. A. Erickson, Patrick McDonald and George Schmelz asked the council to sell them the alley running east and west between their lots on North First street, between Ely and High streets. The petitioners called attention to the fact that the alley is seldom used and that for a number of years prior to twelve years ago it was closed entirely. All of the petitioners contemplate improving their properties and they advised the council that they could use the extra space that they would secure from the alley to good advantage. The petition was referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

Last Month's Accounts Exceed $10,000.

Alderman Olson, chairman of the committee on claims and accounts, presented the bills and payrolls for July. The former totalled $1,292.89, while the payrolls totalled $6,105.61, a total of both being $10,398.50. The amounts payable from the different funds on account of bills were as follows: Water, $386.24; sewer, $112.14; highway, $1,963.86; police, $20.67; cemetery, $103.85; fire, $266.08; general, $249.81; library, $101.22; and street light, $88.82. The payrolls were as follows: Official, $1,039.49; highway, $3,526.38; sewer, $64.80; and water, $885.26.

MONUMENT TO GREENWAY.

Construction of Coleraine Concentrator Declared a Great Feat.

J. F. Piggott, a mining and civil engineer who has been active in many developments and operating fields, is in the city preparatory to taking up his residence on the Greenway range, where he will be engaged in professional work for some time to come, says a Duluth paper. For several years he has been at Coleraine, taking a prominent part in the construction of the great concentrating plant there. Several days ago he severed his connection with the Oliver Iron Mining company at Coleraine and shook the amber colored dust of the place from his boots and garments, just as John C. Greenway did several weeks ago. Mr. Piggott talks interestingly of the plant that has been built at Coleraine under the supervision of Greenway and is enthusiastic in his praise and appreciation of the work done by the former rough rider, who is now in Arizona. Before Mr. Piggott left Coleraine every remaining vestige of Greenway's personal property was put on a cart for shipment to Arizona, even to the kitchen range that the Greenway family used in Coleraine, together with the cat and dog that helped to make the Greenway domicile homelike. Also the Greenway gardener and the gardener's wife have gone from Coleraine, leaving behind them the Greenway family used in Coleraine, the greatest engineering structure of its kind in the world.

The council has adopted designating the following polling places in the several wards of the city for the election above referred to:

The amount paid the county was $46, leaving the net receipts, $182.51.

Poundmaster Tasson had collections amounting to $29 for July. He collected fees from the owners of twenty-six animals impounded.

Alderman Bergstrom, from the committee on buildings, grounds and insurance, called attention to the fact that the brick walls of the city building are in bad condition, caused by water flowing from the roof. The committee's estimate on the cost of repairing the walls was $300. The committee was instructed to advertise for bids for the work.

A communication was received from the League of American Municipalities, inviting the council to send delegates to the fourteenth annual convention to be held in St. Paul, Aug. 23, 24, 25 and 26. The invitation was placed on file.

How Eyestrain Causes Eye Diseases

Eyestrain is the first cause of most eye diseases. It produces irritation and congestion and a consequent general weakness of all the nerves and muscles of the eye. In this way any eye disease, such as Cataract, Optic Nerve Paralysis, Ulcers, Glaucoma, Granulated Lid, etc., may be produced. Any of these diseases, if neglected, may result in blindness. The best time to treat eye diseases is in the "eye-strain stage."

If you are having any trouble whatever with your eyes, no matter how slight or insignificant, consult us.

MARQUETTE WON BOTH CONTESTS

Crystal Falls' Nine Suffered Two Defeats Saturday and Sunday, the Last Game Going Ten Innings Before McCarthy's Time-ly Hit Clinched the Victory.

Second Team Swamped Gwin at the Fair Grounds Yesterday, in One of the Greatest Swat-fests of the Year—Several Out-er Baseball Battles Waged.

Marquette took both games played at Crystal Falls Saturday and Sunday, the first by a score of 4 to 2, and the second 6 to 4. Sunday's game went ten innings and was witnessed by a large crowd. The games were even more exciting than the scores indicate, as there was plenty of hitting and neither game was won or lost until after the last ball had been pitched.

Summary of games and scores for Marquette and Crystal Falls. Includes batting averages and team statistics.

Score by innings for Saturday's game. Marquette 3, Crystal Falls 0.

Score by innings for Sunday's game. Marquette 4, Crystal Falls 0.

Second Team Wins. In one of the greatest slugging matches seen at the Fair grounds, the Marquette Second team defeated Gwin in what might be called a sham battle, the balls taking the place of bullets, flying into the field from all directions.

The batting of Primeau, Daniels and Nault for the locals were the features. McCrory, Johns and Alsop, were the stars for Gwin at the bat. Gwin's infield was anything but good, and not much better can be said of the locals. Errors were numerous and both sides suffered severely from them. Scanlon, a

NORTH WOODS EQUAL TO THE ADIRONDACKS

People of Mississippi Valley Over-look Grandeur of Nearby Forests and Lakes.

Never were the northern Michigan woods more beautiful or more restful than now. Except in the marshes and low lands there are no fleecy meadows to pasture the thin-skinned city folk, the trout are biting as well as at any time this season, lake fishing is at its best, and the weather is all that can be desired.

That Chicago at last is beginning to wake up to the many advantages of northern Michigan and Wisconsin as a summer resort is evidenced by the following recently published serially by the Evening Post of that city: "We could wish that the lake region of northern Wisconsin and Michigan possessed an Association of Commerce. For then its surpassing fitness for summer outings might be adequately described to thousands of city people who ought to know of it."

The old woodsman will sniff at this desire, for his idea is that the lakes and woods will lose all that makes them dear once the thousands begin to settle upon them. Yet this is a purely selfish thought. There are some 5,000 lakes in Wisconsin alone, and among them there should be solitude enough for all, as Selley said of the glory of Saugiego. Indeed they seemed designed by nature to furnish solitude to the masses just as the Waldorf-Astoria was designed by man to furnish exclusiveness to the masses.

The men that run the various camps or hotels have also done yeoman service, especially this year. They have advertised the wonderful vacation opportunities which they have to offer, and they have added comfort to their accommodations, until many a busy man in the Wisconsin or Michigan woods offers more modern conveniences than some of the stately baronial halls of England. We note, for instance, that there has recently been considerable excitement in the Leicestershire hunting district because one or two of the resident gentry have been wiring their mansions for electric light.

"A third helpful factor in the situation up north has been the unselfish enthusiasm of many of the men and women who have discovered what this great natural pleasure ground really is. These people are not of the 'old woodsman' type. They do not want to make the woods a private game preserve. On the contrary, they want their friends and their friends' friends to go north and learn what summer vacation really can be. They let their names be used as formal references, and they preach the gospel of the woods day in and day out.

"Yet it is our belief that despite all this effective 'boosting' northern Wisconsin and Michigan do not hold among the people of the Mississippi valley the place to which nature and nature's God entitle them. There is in Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Indianapolis, Kansas City and other of the larger and wealthier towns a curious tradition that the only true and primal 'wildness' of outdoors is to be obtained in Maine or in the Adirondacks on the one hand, or in Colorado and the Rocky Mountains on the other. The impression is a false one. The cold loneliness of the pine lakes of Michigan, the stately beauty of the virgin forests that surround them, the life-giving freshness of the air that is above them are the things that neither the East nor the West can surpass.

"There should be some organized effort to set the facts before the inhabitants of the states that might profit most by knowing them. An energetic organization like our own Association of Commerce could do it, and this belief inspired the fond wish with which we opened this editorial. But whether or not such an organization is possible, there should be some solidly united effort to get more of our city people to go up into the northern lake region for the summer. After all it is a pleasure ground that lies right at our own door, and as soon as we see that it has and deserves as fine a reputation as Maine or Colorado, we ought to pack our grips and make most generous use of it."

Miss Lulu Vanderberg, the hair dresser, wishes to inform her customers that she will leave for Saint Ste. Marie Wednesday and will be out of the city for two weeks. 8-8-10
