REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

A Republican convention for the county of Marquette is hereby called to meet at the City Hall in the City of Marquette, on Wednesday, the 14th day of September, A. D. 1910, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of electing twenty-two delegates to attend the Republican state convention to be held in the City of Detroit on Thursday, the 6th day of October, 1910, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for state offices, for the election of a state central committee and a chairman thereof, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The several wards in the cities of Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee, and the townships of the county are entitled to delegates in the convention, based on the vote for governor at the general election held in November, 1908, as follows:

Table with columns: City/Township, Ward, Votes, Delegates. Lists Marquette City, Negaunee City, Ishpeming City, and various townships with their respective delegate counts.

Total Delegates 80. Dated, Ishpeming, Mich., Aug. 3, 1910. M. M. DENNEY, Chairman Marquette County Republican Committee.

Senator Gore appears to have started something that nobody will be able to finish.

Miss Elkins and the Duke D'Abuzzi have come into their own of front page and black headlines once more.

Portugal, too, is clashing with the Vatican. The Vatican states, it is to be feared, will have to forego their summer vacations this year.

As a matter of fact Senator Burrows' "whirlwind" campaign of the upper peninsula is proving a most dignified, stately and deliberate progress.

The copper metal patient, for a matter of fact, appears to be on the mend. But there should be no premature confidence. It is by no means beyond the danger of a relapse.

The fact that Senator Burrows has an enthusiastic an Osborn man as Jack Cremer in his train does not mean, of necessity, that Burrows is for Osborn. Burrows is for Burrows, and it would be impossible to get a word about the gubernatorial situation out of him even with an ice pick.

Superintendent King, of the Escanaba schools, has gotten hold of the records and is making ready for the fall opening. Superintendent Davis holds himself in readiness to take a hand, if Judge Flannigan says the word. Meanwhile the school row continues quite the biggest thing in Escanaba.

The state department announces that former President Roosevelt's project of an international conservation movement is officially dead. Of the forty-nine foreign governments invited to join in it only nineteen replied. However, if the past is any criterion by which the future may be judged our national conservation movement will keep us busy enough.

Time was when John D. Rockefeller had a reputation for being a crab, but not of late years. Now he is so genial and companionable that he welcomes a warrant or writ server at the front door and when the official has performed his unpleasant duty sends him away in a carriage, with assurances that no hard feelings are cherished. And when he is fined for fast automobile driving he steps up to the police sergeant's desk and pays his fine with all the grace of a Jack Johnson.

The candidates' tempers are running high in the congressional canvass in Houghton county. This contest has caused more interest and attracted more attention in almost every other county in the district than in Marquette. Here we have hardly known, except from the outside papers, that it has been going on. However, Mr. Kerr proposes to invade us at an early date and Representative Young will doubtless give his campaign some finishing touches in his own bailiwick. There's no sacred territory in this congressional caress. Either aspirant would as soon campaign on the other fellow's doorstep as anywhere else.

The league baseball season in this neck of the woods started out with a prolonged dispute over the basis for dividing the gate receipts, and it's violating no confidence to remark that it has been a continual scrap ever since. Each town can show a disillusioned lot of budding baseball magnates, and it's a tolerably safe guess that few, if any, of them will come back.

The long expected shakeup in the Ishpeming baseball team resulted in the release of four players and the reduction of the team's playing strength to eight men, including but one pitcher. There will have to be some lively recruiting, if Ishpeming is to finish out the season. The Ishpeming team had not been going well for several weeks. Dissensions between the players and between the players and the management sapped its natural playing strength. The Ishpeming team was at its best in the series of three games with Marquette on July 2, 3 and 4, when it played errorless ball, giving fine pitching errorless support. But at no time since then has the team played up to its true form for more than one game. It will be hoped that the management will be able to pick up talent enough to permit the team to make a smashing finish, thus giving the public some good baseball. That's what the public wants, primarily. If it gets it, the little matter of who wins the games is of secondary importance.

It is the belief of Jack Cremer, who is representing the Detroit Journal in Senator Burrows' party on the tour of the upper peninsula, that Chase S. Osborn will carry the lower peninsula, and that the size of his majority in the primaries is dependent solely on the majority that is rolled up for him in the region north of the straits. He has given attentive study to the gubernatorial situation on his trip through the state and is confident of Mr. Osborn's success. In his opinion, Mr. Osborn is gaining ground every day on the other candidates. He regards Mr. Musselman as a negligible quantity in the race, and expects that he will poll not greatly in excess of 35,000 votes in the state. It is an interesting fact that Mr. Cremer's estimate of the gubernatorial situation closely coincides with the result of Detroit Saturday Night's poll of the Republican editors of the state. Particularly significant is his prediction that Mr. Osborn will carry Detroit and Wayne county by large majorities. This is territory that Mr. Cremer knows to the last nook and cranny and his opinion in regard to it is one that can properly carry much weight.

Senator Burrows is a suave gentleman. Not by as much as the weight of one eye lash did he show any favor to one candidate for the collector of customs of the Superior district over any other candidate. He wants all the votes that all the candidates can drum up for him. It will be time enough for him to show his hand as between them plainly when the primaries are over. It will be a year in October since the vacancy in the office occurred and there are no visible signs that an appointment will be made at any early date. If Senator Burrows is re-elected and Senator Smith continues to stand pat on his candidate the deadlock may run along indefinitely, for there is no good reason why President Taft should take on himself the burden of singling one senator out for favor and thus inviting the hostility of the other, particularly as the affairs of the office appear to be conducted in a satisfactory manner. As the president is going in for economy along the line, perhaps he is well pleased to save this item of $5,000, $6,000 or $7,000, as the case may be. To be sure it is only a drop in the bucket of governmental expenditures, but it's the pennies that make the dollars, and every little bit helps.

None of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians who have appeared before the congressional committee have registered any very emphatic objections to 10 per cent attorney fees on the sales of their lands. Of course they would prefer not to pay 10 per cent out of the purchase price in commissions to the lawyers, but they say that government action has dragged so that they would be glad to expedite the sale of their lands even at a heavier cost than 10 per cent. Government attorneys are supposed to have been looking after their interests, but, as one witness put it, these attorneys are paid whether or not they work whereas special counsel, being dependent on commissions, must work to get paid, and consequently is likely to work with more application and better results. The government ought to look after its wards' legal business, but to keep them satisfied its attorneys must work with reasonable expedition. The desire of the present generation of Choctaws and Chickasaws to enjoy some of the fruits of their lands is not an unnatural one. If the government desires to keep them out of the hands of contracting attorneys it appears that one way of doing so is to speed up action by federal attorneys in connection with their interests.

Regarding Senator Gore's assertion that Jake Hamon told him that Vice President Sherman was the man "higher up" in the Indian land contract cases, the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin says, patly: "It was likely that Hamon should seek to win Gore by saying that men of influence were interested in the deal he was trying to put through. It is quite within the range of possibilities that, pushed for names of some of these men, he should choose to give names of men at haphazard. His assertion that Sherman was an interested party was merely the statement of a desperate lobbyist, eager to gain support. He would naturally be likely to mention the best names that came into his head at the moment, regardless of the facts. The explicit denial of Vice President Sherman has not been followed by a particle of proof from Gore or Hamon, and is not likely to be. The fact is that under the circumstances Vice President Sherman's name should not have been mentioned by Senator Gore. As the New York Times observes: 'The allegation was confessedly hearsay, and not within the personal knowledge of Senator Gore. It was not definite, did not designate the nature of the alleged interest, its amount or the manner in which it was acquired. There was, in other words, nothing about it that would enable an investigating committee to verify it, and, in the absence of such verification, it would remain an injury to the accused and a wrong to the public.'

COUNTRY IS GRATEFUL.

The country has learned with feelings of the deepest gratitude that the bullet that was aimed to strike Mayor Gaynor dead failed of its dire purpose, and that he is to be spared to continue the admirable service for the people of a great city which has been his constant thought since he was inaugurated into office. No crime of similar character has been so generally execrated or has caused more universal concern in America since the assassination of President McKinley. If it points out one thing it points out that the mayor of New York is an officer who occupies too prominent a place among our public men to be longer allowed to go about unprotected, a target for the pistol or dirk of any crank or malcontent who wants to be at the trouble of trying to kill him. Mayor Gaynor, in commenting on the story that he might be a candidate for governor, recently expressed the opinion that the office of mayor of New York was one of even greater opportunities for valuable public service than the office of governor of the state. By the same token, it is unwise needlessly to expose the occupant of that office to the peril of assassination. A plain clothes man or two, keeping a keen watch to safeguard him, is shown by the narrow escape of Mayor Gaynor to be necessary. Mayor Gaynor and the mayors to come may not like the idea of being watched over, but the necessity for it has been so plainly shown that they should sink their personal objections to meet a demand that is so obviously in the public's interest.

A LAUGH OR TWO.

Feared a Mistake. A Scotchman in search of work was recently given employment as a laborer at Cramps' shipyard. His first job was to carry several heavy planks. After he had been at work for about two hours he went to the foreman and said: "Did Ah tell you ma name when I started to work?" "Yes," said the foreman, "you said it was Tomson."

"Oh, then it's a'right," said the Scot, as he looked toward the pile of planks he had yet to carry. "Ah was jist a wunnering if you thocht Ah said it was Samson."

Well Packed. "A woman is a better talker than a man," said Harry Lehr at a dinner in Newport. "A woman can say in one neat, graceful phrase more than a man could pack into a paragraph."

"I stood in a railway station the other day, and on all sides wives, about to start for seashore and country, were taking leave of their husbands. I heard one really charming wife say, as she held her husband's hand: 'Good-bye, dear. Don't forget to write.'"

A Rural Quibbler.

W. R. Dudley, mayor of Little Rock, rebuked the other day, a political opponent by means of an anecdote. "The gentleman does not really answer me. He quibbles," said Mayor Dudley. "His words are like a little farm boy's."

"Once, in the country, I came upon a little freckled, mischievous farm boy. He proved to be bright and intelligent, and I said to him: 'Have you lived all your life here, my little man?'"

OILED STREETS KILL HOUSE FLIES.

Portland, Ore., Finds That Highway Dressing is a Good Germicide.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 10.—The common housefly, against which a nationwide warfare is being carried on because of its known qualities as a source of infection by typhoid fever and other malignant diseases, is becoming rare in Portland and its disappearance is due to an unexpected cause.

Flies of Portland streets outside of the hard surface paving area have been sprinkled with crude oil this season to keep down the dust. This, it seems, has answered a double purpose, for it has sealed the doom of myriads of flies and mosquitoes.

About 180 miles of city streets throughout the residence districts have been treated with crude oil this season. The old type of water wagon has been relegated, for streets that are oiled no need sprinkling with water as one oiling is usually good for the whole season.

The crude oil is said to contain a small amount of carbolic acid, and this, it is believed, is bringing about the destruction of the flies and mosquitoes. Crude oil is said to be one of the best germicides known and, although it was not put on the streets for the purpose of wiping out the fly pest, it has accomplished this to a remarkable degree, and residents of the city are jubilant over the result.

Oiling of streets to lay the dust will, in all probability, be done on a more extensive scale next year, the experiment this season having shown the sanitary value of the practice as well as effectually doing away with the dust nuisance.

SWEDISH BAPTIST CONFERENCE.
 About Fifteen Churches Represented at Meeting in This City.
 The Northern Michigan conference of the Swedish Baptist church opened last evening in the local church of that denomination, located at the corner of Third and Ohio streets. The churches of the Swedish Baptist faith north of the straits are well represented and twenty or thirty delegates are now in the city, while others are expected today. The opening service was held last evening and proved very interesting and profitable, and the sermon by Rev. Lindner, of Norway, preached in Swedish, was a splendid effort.
 Business sessions will be held this forenoon and afternoon and tonight there will be another preaching service, conducted in the Swedish language. Again on Friday there will be business sessions during the day. Plans are under way for an English service to be held Friday evening, as there are a good many interested in the work of the church who do not understand Swedish. If an English session is held, it is expected that some members of the American Baptist church, with which the Swedish Baptists are affiliated, will give addresses.
 The conference will continue until Sunday night and local members of the denomination are anticipating a feast of spiritual food during the meeting. Saturday night, the Rev. Axel Wicklund, the new pastor of the Marquette church, will be ordained. All interested are invited to attend any and all of the conference sessions.

IGNORANT OF COOK'S PLANS.
 Brother of Explorer Denies He Is Aiding New Polar Dash.
 New York, Aug. 10.—If Dr. Frederick A. Cook contemplates another dash for the pole with the object of recovering the brass tube in which he says he left data substantiating his claim of having been in the immediate vicinity, his brother, William Cook, of Brooklyn, is ignorant of the purposes of his relative.
 The report had been spread that William Cook was purchasing furs for the explorer to use in the next dash, but both Mr. and Mrs. William Cook deny the assertion.

How Eyestrain Causes Eye Diseases

Eyestrain is the first cause of most eye diseases. It produces irritation and congestion and a consequent general weakness of all the nerves and muscles of the eye. In this way any eye disease, such as Cataract, Optic Nerve Paralysis, Ulcers, Glaucoma, Granulated Lids, etc., may be produced. Any of these diseases, if neglected, may result in blindness. The best time to treat eye diseases is in the "eye-strain stage." If you are having any trouble whatever with your eyes, no matter how slight or insignificant, consult us.

BURROWS SPOKE ON NATIONAL ISSUES

Michigan Senator Addressed Voters at Ishpeming Theater Tuesday Evening.

United States Senator J. C. Burrows was given cordial welcome in Ishpeming Tuesday evening, though the attendance at the rally at Ishpeming theater was not as large as at many political meetings that have been held here during the past few years. The attendance filled the lower floor, and some of the boxes were occupied.

Mr. Burrows came up from Marquette in an automobile and was escorted from the Nelson house to the theater by a delegation of Ishpeming men and the Ishpeming band. Following the meeting a reception was held at the Nelson house. Senator Burrows was introduced by Mayor McCordale, who referred briefly to the senator's record at Washington.

Test of Primary Law. Senator Burrows said that the primary law will be given an important test on Sept. 6. If but a small part of the body of voters go to the polls it will be conclusive evidence that they are not in favor of the law. Continuing, he said, in part:

"The question of giving an expression on the 6th day of September as to your choice for United States senator is a most important one. The merits and demerits of the candidates for the position must be taken into consideration. First, you will say to any candidate who desires the office of United States senator, what is your record? And, second, what do you propose to do in the senate? So far as I am concerned the record is made. I have served this people and district and the state for nearly thirty-two years and my record is in black and white. You know what it is, and I could not change any portion of it if I wanted to and I would not if I could. I have always deemed it my duty to stand by what I believed to be right and I would rather go down a thousand times in a political battle, fighting for the right, than win under the banner of wrong."

A Strong "Standpatter."

"We have had a constant, every day fight on the question of the tariff. I came for a protective tariff and need not tell you that if you want free trade, if you want the market open for foreigners, you will have to elect somebody else. I shall never vote to close up American industries, American mines; I shall never vote to turn one single workman from his employment. So much for my record. I only referred to it for the purpose of assuring you that I stand today where I have always stood."

"I am a Republican without a policy or promise, fighting for the principles of the Republican party, not because they are Republican, but because I believe the principles of that party are the best. In the midst of a Republican administration, with W. H. Taft as president, and a Republican majority in both houses, upon the living issues of today I stand upon the platform of the Republican party. H. H. Taft as president. In the first place, let me say that the Republican party has redeemed its promises since you entrusted that party two years ago in a free, fair and full election. What has it done for the country? I have had something to do with the enactment of legislation regarding the tariff, and other questions and I am not here to apologize for the criticisms made against the Republican party by our friends, men who have always been Republicans. They claim that the tariff is too high. We have some Republican senators who are criticizing the tariff party because of its tariff legislation.

"There are two kinds of tariff, one a protective tariff, and the other a revenue tariff. A revenue tariff is a duty imposed on an import, which we do not produce in this country, such as tea, coffee, etc. The system of raising revenue for the support of the government by levying a duty on imports cannot be censured because if the money was not raised in that manner it would have to be raised by direct taxation. Why should the foreigners be allowed to enter this market? This is our market; it belongs to the American people. We build our houses, we build the churches, the highways, we are taxed for all improvements; we build our schools, and we have a right to our markets."

NEW SCHEDULE ADOPTED.

Insurance Members of Knights of Pythias Will Pay Higher Rates.

After a spirited discussion the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias disposed of the problem arising in the fourth class of the insurance department by adopting a re-rating system that puts this particular branch of insurance upon what is considered a firm financial basis. This action on the part of the supreme lodge will be learned of with interest in this region, as a number of the members of the society hold insurance policies. It is optional with

DO NOT SLIGHT OPPORTUNITY

Fazakerley's Last Week in Ishpeming...Don't Wait.

"Opportunity knock once at each man's door" is an old maxim, but one which many have found true, to their regret. Many in Ishpeming, who have suffered for year with all manner of disease, have treated until all hope has gone have grasped the great opportunity held out by Fazakerley, and have recovered their lost health. This man is certainly doing a good work; there are people all over the city who have been relieved a great suffering. Many the heart that is lighter; many the home that is brighter through the influence and virtues of this remarkable man and his wonderful remedies. Pain and suffering have been dissipated and dark clouds of ill health driven away.

This is positively Fazakerley's last week here and hundreds are flocking from all parts of the city, vicinity, and even coming from Marquette, to get a chance to consult with the eminent physician, Fazakerley's office at 607 Third St. is being crowded daily by those who are suffering and almost hopeless. Office hours are from 10 to 12 to 5 and 7 to 8 daily. Consultation, examination and advice are free to all. (8-11-10) the members whether they take the insurance or not.

It is said that the rate to be adopted by the lodge approaches the rating enforced by the old line insurance companies, whose rates are based upon a scientific calculation from the mortality tables. Under the new system the rate at twenty-one years of age is $1.40 per month, running to $4.60 per month, at ninety years of age.

Carlos S. Hardy of Los Angeles, councillor for the insurance department of the Knights of Pythias, and Union B. Bangs of Indianapolis, president of the board of control, spoke in favor of the re-rating plan; while George Bangs, an attorney of Grand Forks, N. D., led the debate for the opposition. It was thought by some that the re-rating system would prove to be too great a burden upon the members who had taken out insurance under that class several years ago; while others maintained that re-rating was the only possible way to save to them the insurance they had.

The action taken will affect 11,000 Pythians and $22,000,000 worth of insurance now in force.

LOWER STATE NOTES.

MUSKOGON—Tom Brown, sheriff of Leavenworth county, Kansas, came to Negaunee to get B. H. Gifford, wanted in East St. Louis, Toledo and Chicago for swindling. It having developed that he is also wanted in Leavenworth for presenting a false certificate of deposit for $3,025 at the State Savings bank in that city. His wife, who stayed at the jail during his detention here, showed the utmost fidelity, selling her watch and other jewelry in order to get money enough to pay her fare to Leavenworth that she might be with him.

PONTIAC—It developed at a meeting of the common council that a quiet effort is being made to increase the number of saloons in the city. An anonymous ordinance, for which no member sponsor, was slipped upon the clerk's desk and read by him. It proposed to increase the number of saloons from ten to fifteen. Alderman Elmer moved to table the ordinance but it was not supported. Then a motion to lay it over until the next meeting prevailed. When the county returned to the vet column the council limited the number of saloons to ten and raised the license from $500 to $1,000 and several applications for licenses were turned down.

LANSING—"Michigan has the best dairy testing association in the west," was the statement made by R. W. Redman, assistant dairy instructor department of agriculture of the state of Maine. Mr. Redman is speaking of F. H. Scribner, of Wisconsin, who is connected with the dairy division of that state, are in Michigan looking over the dairying interests of the state, and both gentlemen expressed themselves as being highly pleased with Michigan's association. Redman is speaking of the new testing system used in this state expressed himself in very flattering terms and said that Michigan had some of the finest herds of cattle to be found in the west. Both gentlemen will tour the state and report their findings to their respective departments.

HASTINGS—A tree standing at the brink of a deep ravine saved Lieutenant Governor Patrick Kelley, Probate Judge Charles Mack and County Treasurer Charles Cook, of Hastings, and William E. Bowen and his son Schuyler, of Bowen's Mills, from a terrible accident when the emergency brake of Bowen's machine failed to work, allowing the big car to back down a steep hill at high speed. When members of the party saw the car making for the ravine they attempted to leap for their lives, but Kelley going said, "That tree will keep us from going over the bank." With a crash the car crashed one side of the rear seat on the side opposite Kelley, the automobile hit the tree with an impact that threw the occupants in every direction. Several were severely bruised.

OTSEGO—A number of men and women of this village are out from $100 to $4,000 each through their desire to get rich quick. A promoter exploiting the possibilities for financial profit in a vending machine interested several persons, who put in small sums of money. Immediately they began to receive weekly dividends amounting to about 3 per cent, and when the news got around there was no lack of investors until the promoter had collected about $15,000. Then the weekly dividends stopped, and it was announced that dividends would be paid only annually. Becoming suspicious, some of the investors investigated and found that the vending company existed only on paper. Now they have placed the case in the hands of a lawyer, but whether they can recover is doubtful, for the promoter sold them no stock or bonds, only giving in return for their money receipts for money received "for investment purposes."

LANSING—Two thousand seven hundred and fifteen persons in the state made application and received certificates entitling them to become notaries of public during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910, according to the report of the state treasurer just issued. This means that the state was enriched to the amount of 2,715 and the contrary clerk of the state received half that amount in addition to what was paid the state. It now costs a person wishing to become a notary of public $1.50, and he or she is also required to file a $1,000 bond with the county clerk. The certificates now being issued entitle the holder to carry on a notary for a period of four years. There are now 10,219 persons in the state who hold certificates as notaries. All applications for certificates have to be made to the governor direct and there are days when considerable money is received from this source alone.

BATTLE CREEK—Although a warrant for his arrest was issued by Justice Rattford, Alderman Ralph Erskine took his seat at the council session and listened while his reputation was torn into shreds by Alderman H. A. Powers, chairman of the committee appointed by acting Mayor S. A. Hoves following charges that Erskine accepted a $300 bribe. The council rooms were packed to overflowing when Powers presented the committee's report stating that evidence had been produced indicating that Erskine had repeatedly solicited James B. Olney, agent for the Austin Western Manufacturing company, for $150 for his influence in the purchase of a road roller. The report intimated that Mayor Bailey was cognizant of the graft and gave Erskine a tip so that he hid the money under the tobacco in his pouch just before Proctor's arrest. Erskine, to whom Olney reported the bribery, searched the alderman. The report further stated that Erskine's wife later returned the money to Olney, Erskine sending for him to come and take it back. Unflinching language was used by both sides, and Mayor Rattford acted as a direct lie the assertion that he helped Erskine cover his alleged crime. In addition he charged that Olney had previously attempted to bribe a rural supervisor, whose name he would reveal later, and he suggested that the charges against Erskine were the jealous acts of a disappointed salesman.

LANSING—Few people in the state are perhaps aware that in a secret box hidden within the darkest depths of the vault in the secretary of state's office there reposes a list of secret marriages performed by judges of probate in the state. According to Mayor Rattford, there were sixty-five of these marriages performed last year, and the state was enriched to the extent of $65. Probably not one person out of 10,000 in the state is aware that these secret marriages are being performed nearly every week in some section of the state and that all concerned are sworn to absolute secrecy. There being a heavy penalty attached for any person making public the names of the contracting parties. It is understood that these marriages are for the most part of unfortunate girls, in many cases under sixteen years of age, who by law could not be married on a license issued in the ordinary manner through the county clerk. Of course it must be understood that a person desiring to be married cannot secure this secret means unless the conditions surrounding their case are such that the judge of probate of the county in which they reside thinks the occasion demands such a marriage. Up to 1907 the judge of probate did not have authority to marry except in these secret cases, but since that time he has been granted the right to officiate in the ordinary manner through the county clerk.

HOLLAND—Followed relentlessly by county officers since his disappearance last fall, immediately preceding the disclosure of an astounding series of forgeries, Richard H. Post, has been apprehended in Mexico City and is now awaiting extradition proceedings to return here for trial. Post's operations were a Michigan sensation last fall. Some big real estate sales in Holland, Owosso, Saginaw and Chicago were based entirely on forged deeds. The family settled many local claims on a 60 per cent basis, but many are still left and a reward of $200 was offered for the arrest of Post. He has been working for a Mexican newspaper during his absence.

Negaunee Department

WAS CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS

Patrick Scanlon Met Instant Death on Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railroad.

The remains of the late Patrick Scanlon, who was killed on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad at Proctor Monday night, were received in Negaunee yesterday morning. They were accompanied by all of the members of the family living there, also by Mrs. Hassett, mother of John Hassett, and her son Charles, who reside at Hibbing. The funeral will probably not be held until Sunday afternoon, as James Scanlon, lives in Butte, is not expected here until Saturday night or Sunday morning.

The deceased, who was the conductor on an ore train running between Proctor and Duluth, was not killed by the overturning of his caboose as was first reported. He was sitting in the caboose, which was standing on the main track when the cars from which it had been uncoupled were "kicked" against it, the brakeman having neglected to throw the switch into the siding where it was intended to place the cars. Another train was standing on the track at the time. When the cars from his own train crashed into the caboose, Scanlon did not know what had happened and he rushed for the rear door, evidently with the intention of jumping, but he had just reached the platform when the second train was badly crushed and was dead when the members of the train crew reached him.

A Duluth paper gave this account of the fatality, which it will be noticed does not agree with the facts given in the report yesterday.

"Patrick Scanlon, thirty-three years old, a hill conductor on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, met instant death at 8:50 last evening when he was crushed between an engine and caboose at Proctor."

"His mangled body was picked up a few minutes later by the train crew, after they had waited many minutes for him to give the signal to proceed. Not receiving any signal, the crew suspected something wrong, and went to his assistance, only to find him dead. At the time of the accident, it is believed that he had got between the coupling irons of the engine and car, while trying to couple the two."

"Scanlon had been in the employ of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railroad company for the past four years, and at the time of his death was a conductor on one of the hill trains. He started work at 6 o'clock last evening, and had made one trip. He was preparing for his second trip when the accident occurred."

"Besides his parents, he is survived by five brothers and two sisters. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and boarded at the home of Mrs. John Hassett at Proctor. Mrs. Hassett is his sister."

W. H. Crane accompanied the family to the funeral. He is a representative of the Duluth division of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and will remain here to attend the funeral. Mr. Crane is a railroad man working at Proctor."

MANY AT GRAND ISLAND.

In Neighborhood of 250 People at Cleveland-Cliffs Resort.

Grand Island, the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's game preserve, is now a lively place, as there are some 250 resorters here. Many occupants of the cottages, particularly those at Trout Bay, are Marquette county people. Nearly all of those having accommodations at Hotel Williams, also at the cottages near the hotel, came from distant parts of the state and country. The hotel accommodates 175 guests, and the cottages will each accommodate eight persons. Most of the cottages are filled to their capacity, and there is only one vacant. The season promises to be the best that the hotel and cottages have ever had. In former years very few of the resorters came to the island before the first of August, but this year most of the cottages were occupied through July, and the hotel was also fairly well filled. A number of reservations have already been made for the September and October months. Reservations have also been made for July and August next year. Most of them are by people who have visited the island almost every summer for the past eight or ten years.

The reputation of Grand Island as a resort is spreading rapidly and inquiries for accommodations are now being received from people located in nearly every state in the union. Several of those now there are from Texas, Tennessee, Louisiana and other southern states. People from points as far west as St. Louis are also enjoying outings on Grand Island.

HEAVY BERRY SHIPMENT.

Two hundred cases of blue berries were transferred from the Western to the American experiment being by far the largest of the season. All of the berries came from the lake shore, east of Marquette, where the crop is said to be fairly good. Most of them were picked Sunday. The same evening about 1,200 pounds of fish were transferred.

THEY HAVE A DEFINITE PURPOSE

Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief in cases of kidney and bladder ailments. Mrs. Rose Glaser Terre Haute, Ind., tells the results in her case. "After suffering from many years from a serious case of kidney trouble and spending much money for so called cures, I found Foley Kidney Pills the only medicine that gave me a permanent cure. I am well. I shall never hesitate to recommend them." The People's Drug Store.

David F. Foley, the Oliver Iron Mining company's chief of police, arrived in the city yesterday morning from the Mesaba range.

The Sunday school society of St. John's Episcopal church will hold its annual picnic next Wednesday, the 17th, at the Cleveland park.

Brotherhood's orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing party to be given Saturday night at Kirkwood's hall by the "Social Bunch."

Captain Edwin Corey of the Rolling Mill mine returned yesterday from the Gogebic range, where he spent a few days on business for the Jones & Laughlin company.

Edward Gaffney and family will leave Monday night for their home at Nagswack, Minn., where Mr. Gaffney holds a responsible position with the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company.

Only three members of the Negaunee fire department are attending the annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association being held this week at Sault Ste. Marie. They are William Newcombe, Joseph Torriana and Fred Anthony. The firemen left here on the special train which came through from the copper country at an early hour yesterday morning.

W. H. Oates of Calumet was in the city yesterday conferring with the leading Republicans relative to the organization of an Osborn club. Mr. Oates and other supporters of the upper peninsula candidate for governor will visit Negaunee on the 23rd of August, when a rally will probably be held. Mr. Oates is enthusiastic over Mr. Osborn's candidacy, but says that so far as he can see the situation now only in the upper peninsula, but also in the lower peninsula, Osborn sentiment is growing every day.

J. G. McNulty of New York, who spent a few days in Negaunee visiting his friend, Geo. Maas, has gone to the copper country. From there he will go to Duluth. Mr. McNulty is a mining man and is heavily interested in some properties in Canada. While here he offered Captain Frank Platto of Ishpeming, former superintendent of the American mine, a position at a property in Ontario, Canada.

F. D. Verran, a former business man of Republic, now located at Rock Island, Ill., visited his home and Tuesday. He left Tuesday night for his home. Mr. Verran's son, Chester, and his wife, who are now located in Salt Lake, Utah, visited Mr. Verran here last Friday and they are now visiting George Maker and wife at Michigan.

KING GEORGE'S HOUSEHOLD.

The Duties of the Men He Has Appointed to the Various Offices.

Many of the offices in the household of the king of England are political appointments which change with the government. But the master of the household, the groom in waiting, the equeries in waiting, the keeper of the privy purse, the private secretaries, etc., are appointed by the sovereign.

King George chooses also his permanent lord in waiting, which post he has bestowed on Lord Ankerly. His majesty has appointed as keeper of the privy purse Sir William Carrington. He is brother to Lord Carrington, but elects to spell his name in a different manner, and his marriage in 1871 is worthy of note as being one of the first of the now long line of Anglo-Saxon alliances.

Lord Knollys and Sir Arthur Biggs are to be joint private secretaries. Lord Knollys has for forty years been the faithful friend and trusted counsellor of royalty and his deep affection for King Edward is a fact that will never be forgotten. His sister, Miss Charlotte Knollys, has been in attendance on Queen Alexandra since 1863, and it will be remembered that his parents, Sir William Knollys and Lady Knollys, were about the court of Queen Victoria.

This recalls to mind a funny story. Old folk are aware that the birth of the late Duke of Clarence was somewhat premature. His baby clothes were not ready and the small but precious arrival was wrapped in cotton wool which had been taken off Lady Knollys' last new bonnet from Paris. It may not be generally known that it was through the Knollys family that close relations were established between royalty and the Rothschilds.

Sir Arthur Biggs has for years been a special friend of his present majesty. He is an experienced courtier and acted as groom in waiting to Queen Victoria as long ago as 1880. He is clever and tactful and somewhat bluff, and King George was once heard to say that one of Sir Arthur's good qualities was that he preferred thinking to talking.

His majesty has reappointed four of the grooms in waiting who were in the service of his late majesty, and Edward Wallington who was in his former household. The new appointments are those of Colonel William Lambton, a brother of Lord Durham and a distinguished soldier, and Captain Seymour Fortescue, a brother of Lord Fortescue and a naval officer who acted as equerry to the late King Edward VII.

As regards equeries King George has retained in his service the four who were in his household as Prince of Wales. And the new appointments are those of Colonel Charles Legge, Colonel Frederick Ponsbury and Major Wigram. The Ponsburys are a family which has been much about the court and Colonel Fritz held the same post in the household of our late sovereign. Colonel Charles Legge is only brother of Lord Darcy and acted in the same capacity at the court of King Edward VII.

Now we will take a look at the great offices of the royal household that are political appointments and which do not change at the accession of a new sovereign. The post of lord steward, now held by Lord Beauchamp, is one of the most important. In his hands are placed most important. In his hands are placed most important. In his hands are placed most important. In his hands are placed most important.

The treasurer of the household ranks next to the lord steward in that department. He also carries a white wand of office, and at a coronation it is his privilege to distribute the medals which are struck in commemoration. W. Dudley Ward, a nephew of Lord Escher, is at present treasurer of the household. The controller of the household stands next, and he too has a white staff, and his chief duty is to examine all the accounts which come under the lord steward's department. This post is now held by Lord Liverpool.

The lord chamberlain comes next to the lord steward in household precedence. All invitations to court are sent out in the lord chamberlain's name and he is the sovereign. In state processions he walks backwards in front of his majesty, with the lord steward, and at a court or levee it is his duty to stand next to the king and read out the name of each one who approaches the royal presence. The vice chamberlain, the lords in waiting, the mistress of the robes and the ladies of the household are in this department. Lord Atholp now holds the important post of lord chamberlain.

The master of the horse is the third great officer of the royal household. He has entire control of the royal stables, and all the king's horses and carriages are under his supervision. He arranges every detail of state processions, and on such occasions his place is in the sovereign's carriage unless the seat is occupied by some member of the royal family. Also the whole staff of equeries is under his control and he arranges their "waits" in the desired order.

The master of the horse has the sole right of any one at court to have one of the royal carriages and pair of horses always at his disposal, and two of the royal footmen are always on duty for his special convenience. This high office is now held by Lord Graard. The lords in waiting are seven in number and two at least of these are always in attendance. Their term of office varies from about a fortnight to a month, according to royal convenience. No one but a peer can hold this office. The captain of the honorable corps of gentlemen in arms is sworn into the post by the lord chamberlain. At present the duties of this corps are limited to attendance at courts and levees. The captain of the yeomen of the guard is at the head of a corps which was raised by Henry VII, and which still wears the dress of that period. The yeomen of the guard are on duty at the palace on all state occasions.—The Gentlewoman.

CORBIN COPPER.

Stephen R. Dow, president of the Corbin Copper company, says the concentrator is treating 100 tons of ore daily, but the values are mostly in silver, as the rock is being taken from above the water level. He says that about 100 feet in the Dewey tunnel a vein was sunk about twenty feet and silver and copper rock was struck, but a tremendous flow of water was encountered and this interfered with taking out the copper, which lies under the silver. The Bonanza tunnel is now in between 1,000 and 1,100 feet, or about at the mouth of the Dewey. The Bonanza will drain all the water from the Dewey and it will enable the company to take out the silver which lies between the two tunnels. Mr. Dow says that with silver at its present price it would be more profitable to take out the copper, but that at least expenses can be made in the treatment of the silver from the fact that four cars of ore shipped some time ago to the Butte Reduction works showed $40 per ton in values. He concludes that with the new company's concentrator treating the ores better results can be obtained for the reason that the concentrator was built especially for the treatment of the Corbin company ore. He further states that there is one drift in the Bonanza tunnel which is in very rich ground and at depth copper should be found in large quantities.

HANCOCK CONSOLIDATED.

The Hancock Consolidated property is forging to the front as one of the most up to date in its equipment of any mine in the Lake Superior district. With the completion of the new concrete shaft reclaimer at No. 2 shaft and the installation of the new hoist, Hancock will be in position to start production. The $300,000 received from assessments will give ample funds to finish with the new surface equipment. For the past three years the company has made large expenditures for opening work. It has been estimated by well informed engineers that Hancock has over 700,000 tons of ore blocked out which will yield an average of twenty-two pounds of copper per ton. The No. 2 shaft, which is sinking at the rate of between fifteen to twenty feet a week, has about 1,200 feet more to go before it will penetrate the Quincy lode, which is believed to exist at a depth of 3,000 feet. There have been rumors off and on that Hancock has sent samples of its rock to one of the Lake Superior stamp mills to determine the yield. No official statement has ever been made regarding the yield per ton of rock. Hancock is a coming property. Organized in 1906, it owns 526 acres of land adjoining the Quincy on the southwest, and carries the Pewabic, Hancock, and Quincy west copper bearing lodes.

ASPHALT ON SEVENTH STREET

Will Be Used on Hill North of Washington Street for a Binder, Instead of Tar—Thos. M. Roche, of Chicago Firm, Is Here to Superintend Its Application.

Declares That Trap Rock Used Here is as Good as Any He Ever Saw and That Marquette Has Some Excellently Built Water Bound Macadam Roads.

Several weeks ago the park, cemetery and street commission ordered a carload of Pioneer road asphalt to be used as a binding material for macadam roadways. The purchase was made largely for experimental purposes, to ascertain if there was anything better for the purpose than the tar that is now used. The shipment arrived several days ago and yesterday Thomas M. Roche, superintendent for the American Asphaltum & Rubber Co., which manufactures the "Pioneer" product, arrived here to superintend its application. The binder will be tried out on the Seventh street hill, north of Washington street, and possibly on the Front street hill, between Washington and Bluff streets. The binder will be applied on Seventh street today.

When seen at the Hotel Marquette last evening, Mr. Roche expressed himself as delighted at being given an opportunity to demonstrate what his firm's product would do here. He stated that the trap rock used in this locality for building macadam roads was the best to be found anywhere in the United States, with the possible exception of a section in the eastern part of New York state. Furthermore, he stated that he had never seen better water bound macadam roads than in this city and that Marquette could well be proud of the progress already made in first-class street building.

"It is only since the advent of the automobile," said Mr. Roche, "that the necessity of some binder other than water for macadam roads has originated. By keeping them wet all the time, water bound roads withstand automobile traffic much better than when not frequently sprinkled, but the fact remains that since automobile traffic has become so common, it has been discovered that water bound macadam roadway does not have lasting qualities. The rubber tires cut out holes and ruts, which are followed by further raveling, together with a great deal of trouble and annoyance arising from the excessive amount of dust produced by traffic in dry weather, and from mudholes after a hard rain.

Pure Mineral Compound.

"To overcome these faults of macadam roads Pioneer road asphalt has been put on the market. This preparation is a purely mineral compound and is mined by our company in Utah. Tar has no place in its manufacture, though it is mixed with a small amount of oil. This makes a preparation that is absolutely water proof and after applying it to a street properly prepared we guarantee that it will need no repairs for five years. So sure am I that it will prove a success here that I am going to build the Seventh street hill without any concrete gutter.

"The water bound macadam roads you have in this city are built as well as we could wish. Instead of applying our road asphalt to a top dressing of line dust rock, we prefer to cover this dust layer with two or two and a half inches of coarse rock, which is slightly rolled and then the asphalt is applied to the somewhat rough surface. After the asphalt is applied a thin sprinkling of quarry chips is spread on and the roadway is again rolled. This treatment is all that the streets of Marquette need to make them as fine as any in the world, as I intend to prove by the Seventh and Front street jobs. The asphalt is applied in about the same manner as tar."

Mr. Roche will remain in the city for three or four days, at least until the Seventh street hill is finished.

CAN GET KLEBS.

Former Ishpeming Catcher Wants to Play With Marquette.

The management of the Marquette ball team has received a letter from Klebs, formerly catcher for the Ishpeming ball team, who was released this week, saying that he would like to finish the season with Marquette. Klebs was given an unconditional release, and the Marquette team is free to take him on, if it desires to use him. It is unlikely that the management will sign Klebs, however, as his terms are higher than the management cares to meet. The team is pretty well fixed behind the bat with Day doing the catching, and the management is inclined to finish out the season with the present lineup. Ishpeming comes to Marquette for two games, Saturday and Sunday. Despite the fact that there has been a shakeup on the Ishpeming team, the Marquette management looks forward to two hard games, as Ishpeming always pulls out against the Queen City aggregation.

The publication of the Marquette team's batting averages yesterday shows that Marquette has the heaviest hitter in the league, in the person of Tallion. This little player has a considerably better average than the heavy Negaunee hitters. He is regarded as the best "natural" hitter in the league as well as one of the best all around ball players. As he is still only in his teens it is likely that he will be heard of in considerably faster company than he is playing in at present.

Guild Hall Notes

The work of leveling the diamond at Longyear field is going as rapidly and will probably be finished by Saturday. The complimentary dance given by the managing board to those who participated in the play "Up and Down Broadway" will be held in the Guild Hall tonight, beginning at 8:30.

The E. club baseball team will have practice this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the field at the foot of Pine street. A game with the Invincibles will be played Friday afternoon, Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2 o'clock for the members of E. Class. The schedule for E. Class is arranged to prepare for a party to be given by that class in two or three weeks.

The Guild Hall team plays the prison nine this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Judging from the playing of both teams in the game two weeks ago the contest today should be close. Crebassa will do a part of the slab work for Guild Hall. Perry Hatch also will do some twirling. The team will be weakened by the absence of Hayes at first base, but two new men in the line-up should more than offset the loss of Hayes. The Guild Hall team will play the following men: Hatch, Christensen and Crebassa, pitchers; Larsen, catcher; Laundry, first base; Gilbert, second base; Frei, shortstop; Byrne and Bowser, third base; Smith, Quarters and Reinhardt, fielders. These men will meet at the Guild Hall at 2:30.

THEATRICAL SEASON OPENS AUGUST 22

"Flower of the Ranch" Will Be First Bill, to Be Followed by Two Other Good Plays.

The fall theatrical season will open in Marquette on Monday night, Aug. 22, with the presentation of Joseph E. Howard's musical comedy, "The Flower of the Ranch." Manager Koepcke, as the result of the inauguration of the "open door" policy, expects to be able to offer his patrons a better class of attractions this season than ever before, but the change in the system of booking has caused some delay, and not as many contracts have been signed as heretofore at this time of the year. During the week of the 22nd, however, no less than three first-class shows will appear at the Marquette Opera House. As previously stated, the young ladies' class, "The Flower of the Ranch," will be followed on Wednesday night, the 24th, by "Rosaland at Red Gate," and on Friday night, the 26th, "The Blue Mouse" will be offered. All of these attractions have been big successes in the large cities and it is expected they will be equally well received here.

"The Flower of the Ranch" is a musical comedy with a carefully worked out plot. The scenes are laid in California, picturing life on a western ranch. There are cowboys, cowgirls and other range types, including a tenderfoot in the leading comedy role. Among the biggest song hits of the piece are "Days of '49," "Just Say You Care," "What's the Use of Dreaming," "California" and "The Pajama and the Nighty." "Rosaland at Redgate" is a dramatization of Meredith Nicholson's story of the same name, and is in a sense a sequel to the "House of a Thousand Candles" by the same author. The new play is said to be even more interesting than its predecessor and has been styled by critics "the big romantic play of the year." There are two charming girls in the leading comedy role, and the mystery in their lives makes winning them an exciting task. Through adventure after adventure, the romance proceeds to an unusual happy climax.

"The Blue Mouse" is one of the Schubert comedies which has taken New York and Chicago by storm, and is booked forward to by the theatrically informed as one of the best offerings of the fall season.
