

WHY THE NEXT HOUSE SHOULD BE REPUBLICAN

President Taft Sums Up the Reasons for Continued Control of Congress by the Grand Old Party—His Campaign "Keynote" Letter Is Made Public.

He Tells How Platform Pledges Have Been Redeemed and Promises Still More Progressive Legislation—Says a Democratic Victory Would Be Disastrous.

Washington, Aug. 28.—President Taft's letter to Representative Wm. B. McKinley, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, in which he strikes the keynote of the Republican congressional campaign and which will appear in the Republican text book, was made public here today.

"The question is not what complexion of Republicanism we prefer, but whether it is better for the country to have the Republican party control the legislation for the next two years and further redeem its promises, or to enable a Democratic majority in the house either to interpose a veto to Republican measures or to formulate and pass bills to carry out Democratic principles."

"So, while issues will doubtless arise between members of a Republican majority as to the details of further legislation, the party as a whole will show itself in the future, as in the past, practical and patriotic in subordinating individual opinions in order to secure real progress."

"Such a legislative program as that set forth in the Republican national platform of 1908 could not be carried out in full by one congress. Certainly if all its promises are executed in one administration, it will be within a proper time. The present congress has not only fulfilled many party pledges, but it has by its course set higher the standard of public responsibility for such pledges than ever before in the history of American parties."

Relative to the Tariff.

"Let us consider, summarily, the promises made and the legislation enacted by the present congress. First and of primary importance was the promise to revise the tariff in accordance with the rule laid down in the platform, to wit: that the tariff on articles imported should be equal to the difference between their cost of production abroad and that cost in this country, including a reasonable profit for the domestic manufacturer."

"The truth is that under the old protective idea the only purpose was to make the tariff high enough to protect the home industry. The excess of the tariff over the difference in the cost of production here and abroad was not regarded as objectionable because it was supposed that competition between those who enjoyed the high protection would keep the price for the consumer down to what was reasonable for the manufacturer. The evil of excessive tariff rates, however, showed itself in the temptation of manufacturers to combine and suppress competition, and then to maintain the prices so as to take advantage of the excess of the tariff rate over the difference between the cost of production abroad and here."

"The Payne tariff bill is the first bill passed by the Republican party in which the necessity of reducing rates to avoid this evil has been recognized, and it is therefore a decided step in the right direction and it ought to be accepted as such. On the whole, it was a downward revision, particularly on articles of necessity and on raw materials. The actual figures on the first year's operation of the law demonstrate this. It must also be remembered that the tariff rates in the new law on imported liquors, wines and silks were increased substantially over the Dingley rates, because these were luxuries and it was intended to increase the revenue. The charge that the present tariff is responsible for the increase in the prices of necessities is demonstrably false, because the high prices, with very few exceptions, affect articles in the tariff upon which there was no increase in rates or in respect to which there was a substantial reduction.

"Perhaps more important than any one feature of the operative part of the tariff law, is that section which enables the executive to appoint a tariff commission or board to secure the needed information for the proper amendment and perfection of the law. When the commission completes its work, either the entire tariff or on any of the schedules in respect to which issue has arisen, and the work of the commission shows that the present tariff is wrong and should be changed, I expect to bring the matter to the attention of the congress with a view to its amendment of the tariff in that particular. Of course, this will be impracticable unless congress itself shall adopt the parliamentary rule, as I hope it will, that a bill to amend one schedule of the tariff may not be subject to motion to amend by adding changes in other schedules. This would tend to avoid disturbing business conditions."

"For these reasons it seems to me that all Republicans—conservative, progressive and radical—may well abide by the tariff with respect to which until evidence now being accumulated shall justify changes in the rates; and that it is much better for them to vote for Republicans than to help create a Democratic majority which would be utterly at war with the protective principle, and therefore would have no use for the findings of the tariff commission, as we may certainly infer from the solid Democratic vote in the present congress against the necessary appropriation for the commission's work."

"Other Important Legislation." "The next most important work of the present congress was the passage of the amendment to the interstate commerce bill. The bill is an excellent measure. It is not enacted in a spirit of hostility to railroads but it submits them to a closer and more effective supervision by the interstate commerce commission to avoid injustice in their management and control. Moreover, interstate telegraphs and telephones, as instruments of commerce, have been brought within the regulation of the commission."

"The most important part that railways play as the arterial circulation in the business of the country, the million and a half of their employees, and the million of their stockholders, the importance of their purchasing power as affecting the prosperity of general business—all require in the public interest that an fair treatment should be accorded them. But I am glad to note that the railway managers have acquiesced in the fairness of the present bill, and propose loyally to comply with its useful provisions. It was supported by the whole Republican party in congress, and that party is entitled to credit for its passage. The whole Democratic strength was exhibited against it in both houses. It was a performance of a pledge of the platform, and only needs time to vindicate the wisdom of its enactment."

"The postal savings bank bill has a similar history. It is one of the great congressional enactments. It creates an epoch. It institutes a system which will work effectively to promote thrift among the poor, by providing a depository for their savings which they properly may consider absolutely safe, and will also turn into the channels of trade and commerce a large volume of money which otherwise would be hoarded. By specific provision it will stimulate the investment of savings in government bonds of small denominations, for which the bill provides. Like the tariff bill and the railroad bill, this was put through each house of congress by a Republican majority, and was signed by the Republican president."

"The Republican party at the last session of congress again exhibited its deep and sincere interest in the general welfare of the working men and women of the country by adding important enactments to its already long record of legislation on this subject. Practically all classes of employees, especially those engaged in occupations more or less hazardous, are the beneficiaries of laws which should naturally fall upon the shoulders of man. The Republican party recognized the necessity of reducing the dangers under which hundreds of thousands of miners work by creating the bureau of mines."

"No more important legislation in the interest of human life has ever been enacted by congress than the laws of the recent session giving to the interstate commerce commission ample powers to define the needed safety appliances for the next session of this congress, and to require their adoption by interstate railways. Other legislation, with respect to the inspection of locomotive boilers and the removal of dangerous overhead obstructions, awaits the consideration of the next session of this congress, and I hope that it may speedily be passed. The employees' liability act was perfected by needed amendment so as to enable injured employees more easily to recover just damages."

"But in one sense the most forward step taken in the interest of the workmen was the creation of a congressional commission to report a practical bill for the fixing of workmen's compensation for injuries received in the employment of interstate-commerce railways, as risks in the business, to be fixed by speedy arbitration, and to be graduated according to the extent of the injury and the earning capacity of the injured person. This is important, not only as affecting interstate-commerce railways, but if adopted, as furnishing a model to the country for a beneficial change in the legal relation between employer and employe."

"One of the great questions which has been made a national issue and aroused public interest through the insistence of President Roosevelt is that of conservation of our national resources. It is not too much to say that most important steps have been taken toward the proper conservation of our resources in the legislation of the present congress. There remains to be considered and settled the question of the method of disposing of these lands so that the government may retain sufficient control to prevent a monopoly in their use and to secure the public against extortion for coal, oil, gas, phosphate, or water power on the one hand, and yet may give to private capital sufficient inducement to bring about a normal development of the wealth contained in these lands to aid in the building up of the country.

"Another subject of pressing importance is that of the improvement of our waterways. It is hoped and believed that in the next session and thereafter the engineers will so make their recommendations as to indicate the projects of greater importance, so that adequate sums may be appropriated for their completion within a reasonably short time and the piecemeal policy of extending the construction of improvements of this kind indefinitely for years may be abandoned."

"The Republican platform promised that it would amend to statchood the territories of New Mexico and Arizona, and that promise has been redeemed. Congress has also enacted into law, in accordance with the promise which I made as a candidate for the presidency, a bill requiring the publication by the congressional committees of detailed statements of the money received by them and the money expended by them in the political canvass of each congressional candidate. In addition, the president has appropriated $4000 to enable the executive to investigate and make recommendation as to the methods by which the cost of running the government may be reduced. I regard this last as one of the most important parts of the administration's policy. I am confident that if full opportunity is given, and a Republican congress is elected to assist, the cutting down of the national expenditures by the adoption of modern economic methods in doing the business of the government will reach to a point of saving many millions."

Much Yet to Be Done.

"A number of other promises remain to be kept. There is the provisions to regulate the issue of stocks and bonds by interstate-commerce railways. In addition, there is the promised procedure to determine how preliminary injunction shall issue without notice, and when there is a basis for the motion to promote the merchant marine engaged in foreign service. There is the measure forbidding the acquisition of stocks by one railway company in a competing line, and there are those bills to secure further safety appliances on railways and to establish a basis for workmen's compensation. There is also the promise of the Republican platform to make better provision for securing the health of the nation."

"In view of what the present Republican congress has done in the fulfillment of its promises, and in view of the standard that it has set in respect to the sacredness of party pledges, I have no hesitation in urging all who are in favor of the performance of the remaining pledges, who are in favor of progress, in favor of practical economy, in favor of the economy in government, in favor of the regulation of railways and of interstate-commerce corporations, in favor of a bureau of health, in favor of a proper limitation of the power of equitable injunction, and who are in favor of the conservation of the national marine engaged in foreign service, to vote for the Republican candidates for congress in order that their wish for all this progressive legislation may be gratified."

SHERMAN BEGINS CAMPAIGN TOUR

Vice President Speaks in Illinois and Departs for Missouri and Oklahoma.

St. Louis, Aug. 28.—Vice President Sherman and Chairman Wm. B. McKinley, of the national Republican congressional committee, were the guests of St. Louis Republican leaders and business men at a dinner here tonight. The visitors arrived at 5 o'clock and were taken for a tour of the city and country. They left over the Frisco road at the conclusion of the dinner. The first stop will be made in the morning at Marshallfield, Mo., where speeches will be made. The next stop will be at Clinton, Mo., tomorrow morning, following which the party will enter Oklahoma for a tour of that state.

Jabs at the "Insurgents."

At the dinner in St. Louis tonight, the vice president declared that there are no "insurgents" in the Republican party. Qualifying his statement, he said that good Republicans did not recognize the "insurgents." He was about to explain further when he discovered newspaper men in the room. He refused to continue, because, he said, he had been assured by the local Republicans that his speech would not be reported.

CONGRESSMAN TOWNSEND HAD TO TALK IN RAIN

Big Crowd at Houghton Demanded That He Go On, Despite a Heavy Drizzle, and It Soaked Up His Oratory and the Wet Until He Had Finished.

Finest Tribute Ever Paid a Public Man in the Upper Peninsula—Candidate's Tour Is Closed—He Leaves for Lower Michigan Highly Pleased With Reception.

Houghton, Mich., Aug. 28.—Representative Townsend's upper peninsula campaign closed here last night with one of the most striking manifestations of the power of the personality and oratory of a strong man on a strong platform ever witnessed in the state of Michigan.

A light rain early in the evening caused the committee in charge of the Townsend meeting to make arrangements to have the candidate speak in a hall, but shortly after 8 o'clock the sky cleared and it was decided to hold an open air meeting, in accordance with the first plan. William F. Miller, president of Houghton village, and Representative McLaughlin addressed the audience first.

When Representative Townsend arose, fully one thousand people gathered in the principal business street, massed around the automobile from which the addresses were given. Almost as soon as the senatorial candidate began his speech, the rain began again, and it quickly settled down into a steady drizzle. Some of the speakers, who were raised, but the greater number stood unprotected and the congressman finally gave up, saying he would let the crowd go to shelter. He was greeted with cries of "No, no," and he had to proceed. Speaking of this unusual tribute to his powers the Houghton Gazette says in its issue of this morning:

"Then occurred the finest tribute that was ever paid to a public speaker in Houghton. In spite of the rain the crowd vociferously asked him to continue and, pausing long enough only to change his shoes, he went on with his talk. The evident friendliness of his hearers was an incentive to oratory and the candidate for senator launched into a speech that for simple eloquence has seldom been equaled on these lines. The big crowd stayed, soaking in like the speaker's words and the rain, and when his peroration came, when he expressed the hope that after he had been in the senate for a year or two as the people's senator, they would be as glad to see him come back to Houghton as they have been to see him now, a burst of genuine applause drowned his words of thanks for the reception given him."

Upper Peninsula Campaign Closed.

The Houghton meeting closed Representative Townsend's upper peninsula campaign, and he left last night for Manton, via Mackinaw City. He will join the road-up of the candidates for congress in Detroit and will spend the last four days of the week there, on a schedule that has been prepared for him by the aggressive workers in charge of his Wayne county campaign.

Representative Townsend goes into this final battle of his campaign supremely confident of his endorsement at the polls Sept. 6. His upper peninsula trip gave him, from his first meeting at Menominee to the notable windup of his campaign in Houghton, the keenest satisfaction. He addressed and held an audience of probably ten persons to every one reached by Senator Burrows when he visited this region. But the thing he regarded as most significant was the trend of the sentiment revealed wherever it was tested by members of the party, and of the assurance of support and active aid given by voters who looked him up voluntarily, and without having had prior acquaintance with him.

Counts Six Counties Sure.

Representative Townsend expects to carry Menominee, Delta, Chippewa, Mackinac, Alger and Baraga counties. He concedes Iron and Gogebic to Burrows. In Marquette he is expected to vote with but a scant majority there, though because of the active interest of the mining men in Burrows' candidacy, it is counted as a stronghold for the senior senator.

Despite the unusual and gratifying success of his meetings in Calumet and Houghton Mr. Townsend views Houghton county conservatively, and says he hopes for an even break here. His Houghton county friends, however, expect more than that, and count on the line impression he made to give much impetus to the movement in his favor from now on until primary day. If Burrows gets a majority in Houghton, it cannot, in the light of the substantial evidences of Townsend sentiment, be one of more than a few hundred votes. Representative Townsend had nothing particular to say relative to LaCoe, Schoolcraft, Dickinson, Keweenaw and Ontonagon counties.

MADRID FORCES SURRENDER THEIR LAST REMAINING TOWN.

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Aug. 28.—The provisional government is now in absolute control of the entire republic. Cape Girardeau, the last town remaining in the hands of the Madrid forces, having surrendered to the Estradistas. The enthusiasm of the people is unparalleled. General Estrada is now at Granada, on his way to the capital.

The Weather

counties, three of the most important counties in the district. Representative Townsend is fortunate in particularly strong and aggressive organizations. There the leading newspapers are friendly to him and many of the county officers and candidates for office are openly campaigning in his behalf.

In the course of his ten days campaign in this district Representative Townsend addressed the voters in all the counties but two, Baraga and Ontonagon, and he presented his platform to every important city and village in the region, including Menominee, Escanaba, Gladstone, Manistique, the Soo, St. Ignace, Newberry, Munising, Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming Crystal Falls, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Calumet, Hancock and Houghton. His campaign was the most thorough, as well as the most successful in point of numbers and enthusiasm aroused, ever undertaken in the upper peninsula. The results also promise to show that there never was a campaign of equal length undertaken anywhere that was more productive of votes.

EX-SENATOR H. G. DAVIS REPORTED CRITICALLY ILL.

Washington, Aug. 28.—A dispatch from Wheeling, W. Va., to The Post says: Henry G. Davis, former senator and candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket with Judge Parker in 1904, is lying at Elkins, W. Va., seriously ill, and the gravest fears are expressed. At his home several days ago Mr. Davis fell down a flight of steps. Members of the immediate family are in attendance.

"TEDDY" TAKES LONG RIDE ON COW PONIES

Using Three Relays of Horses, He Travels Thirty Miles to Senator Warren's Ranch.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 28.—Mounted rodeo thirty miles across the plains of Wyoming today to visit the sheep ranch of Senator Warren. He returned by automobile enthusiastic over the wonders of the West, and not without a congregational church this morning, and then set out on horseback. He had three relays of ponies to the Warren ranch, and he rode them like a cavalryman.

The whole little village turned out to welcome the former president, cowboy on the 30,000-acre ranch riding out gayly dressed to cheer him. Mr. Roosevelt spent two hours there. He spoke of the frontier celebration at Cheyenne yesterday. He called attention to the fact that the people who took part were real cow punchers, and not with shows. He mentioned several who had broken wrists or suffered life injuries yesterday, and who were out today as usual. "That takes pluck," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt leaves Cheyenne at 7:35 tomorrow morning for Denver. He arrives here yesterday and received a typical Wild West welcome. Many thousands greeted him. The colonel was the central figure at the cowboys' annual carnival and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed.

Taft Rides 90 Miles in Automobile.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 28.—From the village of Dublin, N. H., President Taft was driven ninety miles this afternoon to Beverly, Mass. Mrs. Taft and Miss Helen were in the car. At Dublin the party were the guests of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh at his country home. The visit was purely personal.

KOREA GIVEN A NEW NAME; WILL BE CHO-SEN HEREAFTER.

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 28.—Emperor Yi Chok today issued a farwell rescript, saying that the nation had tried to follow modern administrative principles but the long existing evils had made it impossible. He appeals to the people to not create commotion, but to appreciate the situation. Korea will now be known as Cho-sen. Amnesty is decreed to prisoners sentenced for slight offenses, and the poor are relieved of their unpaid taxes. The new administration will advance $8,000,000 to encourage industry and education and to provide for hospitals and paupers. The people are quiet. Leading Koreans say that the populace generally will accept the situation, believing that the country will prosper like Japan.

MONARCHISTS TRIUMPH IN PORTUGUESE ELECTIONS.

Lisbon, Aug. 28.—Perfect order prevailed today at the parliamentary elections throughout the country. The republicans secured a majority of the seats at Lisbon and Oporto, but it is difficult at the present time to estimate the result elsewhere. It is believed the full returns will show a great majority for the monarchists.

DR. CRIPPEN, IN LONDON, PREPARES FOR HIS DEFENSE.

London, Aug. 27.—Dr. Crippen, with Ethel Leneve arrived here yesterday, spent today preparing his defense. Miss Leneve received a visit from her sister. Tomorrow's proceedings in court will be formal. After the evidence leading to the arrest of the pair has been recorded, they will be remanded for a week. It is understood that Crispin will be charged with murdering his wife, and Miss Leneve will be accused of being an accessory after the fact.

WEALTHY SOCIETY WOMAN IS ACCUSED OF SMUGGLING.

New York, Aug. 28.—According to customs officials, Mrs. Reynolds Adriance of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., will be summoned to appear at the customs house tomorrow to show cause why she should not be arrested on the charge of smuggling. Arriving today on the Baltic, the custom inspectors said she failed to mention in her declaration of dutiable goods a $6,000 pearl necklace found attached to a special train, which took him to St. James. Mrs. Reynolds Adriance is one of Poughkeepsie's wealthiest women and is prominent in society there.

BIGGER DELEGATION FOR MICHIGAN

16 per Cent Gain in Population Will Give Either One or Two More Congressmen.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Whether Michigan shall gain in her representation in congress because of her 16 per cent increase in population, this now being reported by the census bureau at 2,810,173, will depend upon the basis of population which may be fixed. At present, with a population of 2,429,232, this according to the census of 1900, the state has twelve members, which gives a large fraction—almost a hundred thousand—over the number necessary to carry that number of congressmen. If the basis should remain as at present, this fraction and the gain in population combined would entitle it to a membership of fourteen. With the increase of the basis to 2,200,000, which is the most probable figure, the state would fall fifty thousand short of the full number necessary to bring the representation up to thirteen, but with a major fraction amounting to more than 170,000, there could be little doubt that an increase of one would be allowed.

RALPH MULFORD IS VICTOR IN BIG AUTOMOBILE RACE.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 26.—Ralph Mulford yesterday won the greatest automobile road race ever seen in the West. He drove a fifty-horsepower Lozier 305.03 miles in 4:52.23.83, or an average speed of 62.5 miles an hour. He ran 203 miles without a stop and halted then because he was under misapprehension as to one of the tires. Albert Livingston and Arthur Griener, both piloting forty-horsepower Nationals, finished, respectively, second and third. Livingston's average was 60.2 miles an hour and Griener's 58.4. There were thirteen starters.

The number of cremations in Great Britain last year was 855, an increase of sixty from 1908. The grand total of the twelve crematoriums since the opening of the Woking crematorium in 1885 to the end of last year was 8,121. In 1908 there were 6,568 cremations in Great Britain, making a grand total to that date of 23,000 for Germany.

MAYOR GAYNOR IS TAKEN FROM THE HOSPITAL

Weak but Cheerful, He Is Removed to His Country Place on Long Island and Spends Most of the Afternoon Reclining in a Chair on the Veranda.

That He Is the Favorite Gubernatorial Possibility Among the Democrats Is Shown by a Canvass of the State—Sentiment for His Nomination Overwhelming.

New York, Aug. 28.—Mayor Gaynor was removed from St. Mary's hospital, Hoboken, this morning to "Deep Wells," his country place in St. James, L. I. He bore the trip well, but was insistent in his plea to be allowed to walk unaided, which resulted in a distressing incident. Once he sank to his knees as he tried to enter the automobile and, ascending the steps of his home, he fell on all fours from over-exertion. Despite his weakness he maintained a cheerful mood, and once more at home spent the afternoon reclining in a chair on the veranda.

Mr. Gaynor was taken from the hospital at 9:30 this morning. He was driven from the hospital to a police patrol boat at the pier in Hoboken. Arriving at Long Island City, he took the private car of President Peters, of the Long Island railway. This was attached to a special train, which took him to St. James. Then he took an automobile home. A crowd of neighbors was on hand, but there was no demonstration.

Only two neighbors were permitted to see the mayor. To one who commented upon the attempt to assassinate him, Mr. Gaynor said: "I am content. My great hope is that the event will help make me a better man and more patient and just." Robert Adamson, his secretary, said tonight that for the present no operation for the removal of the bullet in the mayor's throat would be performed.

Is Choice of the Democrats.

A canvass of the state by the New York Times has resulted in findings which that newspaper, in its issue of today, summarizes as follows: "So strong and so general is the Gaynor sentiment that it has caused a lull in the discussion of other names which have been mentioned for the leading place on the Democratic state ticket. Both in its nature and in the element among the voters which holds to it, the Gaynor sentiment is closely akin to the feeling for Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and Governor Charles E. Hughes when they were before the people as candidates for office or for nomination."

Mayor Gaynor has repeatedly declared that he did not wish to be a candidate for governor. If he should be nominated and decline, it has been suggested that he name a substitute candidate.

IS MUSSELMAN A PECKSNIFF?
 If I can't be nominated without calling my opponents liars, I don't want to be nominated at all. When this campaign is over I want to be able to take each of my opponents by the hand as a friend and be conscious that I have done nothing unfair, nor made any character-blackening charges. I want to be able to look every man straight in the eye and not be ashamed of any act or word I have spoken.

The interesting thing about this most praiseworthy expression by Amos Musselman, of Grand Rapids, is its appearance in the Escanaba Journal, the editor and publisher of which, F. L. Bal-win, has been sued for criminal libel by Mr. Osborn for publication of as vicious a lot of slanderous charges as was ever launched against a candidate for public office.

Mr. Baldwin's Journal is one of the most emphatic Musselman organs in the state, and is generally regarded as speaking directly for Mr. Musselman, as its publisher is one of his leading lieutenants. Because of these facts, and because someone who has considerable money to blow must be paying for the large editions of the Journal, containing the slanderous charges, which are being circulated in the upper peninsula, Mr.
 Musselman has been served with notice that unless he disavows responsibility for, and approval of, Baldwin's charges, and their circulation in his paper, Mr.
 Osborn will bring suit against him for heavy damages.

The Mining Journal hopes that this disavowal will come promptly from Mr.
 Musselman. He has been regarded as a gentleman of honor and right conduct, who would hesitate to authorize character-assassination as part of his political propaganda. It is the very thing he declares against in the paragraph quoted above, yet character-assassination is the very essence of the Escanaba Journal's slander.

Unless Mr. Musselman repudiates Mr.
 Baldwin's effort at scandal mongering he will at once appear to the public as the Mr. Pecksniff of the campaign, a gentleman who professes the highest and most moral motives and conduct and who still does not hesitate to authorize the most reprehensible and censurable tactics to serve his ends.
 There have been many regrettable occurrences during the campaign. Many things have been said that might better have been left unsaid, many things done that might better have been left undone, but the most discreditable, unfair and demoralizing episode has been the Escanaba Journal's attack on Mr. Osborn, in the discredit of which Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Musselman now appear to share equally.

PRESS VERY CORDIAL.

Representative Townsend certainly has no fault to find with the attitude of the upper peninsula press toward him on the occasion of his trip through this region. It was kindly and appreciative.
 His coming was duly heralded and in several instances papers that are nominally supporting Senator Burrows urged the voters to meet and hear Mr. Townsend.
 His meetings were written up fairly and courteously.

It is significant of the trend of events that Representative Townsend is getting the bulk of the active support that upper peninsula newspapers are giving either candidate. The Menominee Herald-Leader is aggressively for him and is doing good work in his behalf in the southern part of the district. The Escanaba Press is an out and out Townsend paper, and the Escanaba Mirror is friendly to Townsend, too, having handled his Escanaba meeting in a manner that must have been very pleasing to his friends. The Iron Mountain Tribune-Gazette and other papers are also actively advancing Mr. Townsend's campaign.

The majority of the upper peninsula papers are nominally endorsing Senator Burrows, but, with the exception of the Soo Times, Democratic none of them have displayed any great enthusiasm for the job, and this week's issues of the leading weekly papers contained no laudation of the senator and no sollicitation in this behalf of the voters' support.

The secret of this attitude is doubtless the sympathy that most of the editors and publishers feel for the campaign to give Michigan representation in the senate by a man in touch with modern political thought and thus qualified to take his part in the work of constructive statesmanship which the next and succeeding congresses will have to seriously address themselves to.

 Much the greater part of the American press is in sympathy with the Republican party. "Standpat" papers are few and hard to find, and they are constantly becoming fewer, as new recruits fall in behind the forces that are demanding the carrying out to their logical conclusion of the popular and salutary principles given form by President Roosevelt and which President Taft is pledged to advance.

The upper peninsula newspaper men are patriotic and able, and capable of feeling a popular current before a brick house falls on them. Therefore, with a few exceptions, those of their number who are not aggressively supporting Townsend are maintaining a judicious silence, or else throwing a mere sop to Burrows by occasionally publishing one of the soporific emanations from his press bureau at Lansing.

The New York Globe says that the issue in New York is whether "Barnes, Aldrich and the other surviving feudalism of the Platt era shall control the Republican organization." "The Republican rank and file demands a change in the character of the men in charge of its organization," it says. "It is disgusted with the Tammany tactics of the organization. It was revealed in the insurance investigation that the party boss, collecting his funds by a process approximating to blackmail, selected the members of the legislature and held them as servants to himself and his machine. Last winter, when Jotham P. Aids, for years a member of the Albany circle, was elected leader of his party in the senate it was noticed that the system still lived and but waited for the retirement of Governor Hughes to resume business in the old way. With the promotion of Governor Hughes to the supreme court bench the open joy of the members of the legislative combine was advertisement that it was believed that the time had arrived to throw off the mask. When a coalition was formed between the members of the Old Guard and the Tammany members of the legislature, with Grady as the leader of the joint forces, no one could longer doubt that the old bi-partisan machine, with honest partisanship in neither branch of it, was rolling on again.
 It is for the Democratic rank and file to dispose of their representatives in the partnership. But whether the Democrats kick their rascals out or not, the Republicans are determined to try to suppress theirs."

It is a popular expression that we will know all about the results of the primary election the morning of the 7th. If any of the contests are at all close, however, it will probably be the second day before we know who is who in Michigan.
 Changes in the primary law, increasing the hours during which the polls will be open, will put the start of the count back of where it was two years ago, and it is remembered that then three or four days elapsed before accurate returns on the office of governor were available.
 This year the polls in cities the class of Marquette will be open until 8 o'clock and in the larger cities they will be open until 10. Here is the opinion of Milton Oakman, Wayne county auditor, on what the situation will be in that county. "People who think they will have any idea of the result on the night of the primary election day, Tuesday, have another guess coming. Most of the election boards will be busy with the count all Tuesday night and well into Wednesday. If I am not very much mistaken a good many of the boards in large precincts will have to work all day Wednesday and Wednesday night, and I doubt if some of them have their figures ready before some time Thursday." Of course the situation in Wayne will be the worst found anywhere in the state, owing to the size of the ballot there, but the count everywhere will be slow.
 Election officials will earn all the money they get and those people who expect early returns are doomed to disappointment.

At Hillsdale Senator Dolliver, of Iowa, was questioned about his views on the pending senatorial campaign in Michigan, and had the excellent taste to refuse to make any comment bearing on it. His attitude appears in striking relief to the impertinence of Uncle Ike Stephenson, of Marquette, in boosting Senator Burrows at Escanaba in the hope that he would be able to line up his Delta county employes for that candidate.
 Uncle Ike's work was pretty coarse, but coarseness has been the characteristic quality of the work of all members of the Stephenson family who have been prominent in politics in either Michigan or Wisconsin. The secret of all political successes they ever enjoyed has been their ability to draw whopping big checks.

Congressman Townsend is receiving a most hospitable reception in the copper country. He is a most pleasing talker, with the ability of a real orator. Likewise he has a charming personality which makes him friends wherever he meets people. He expresses himself as confident of his nomination to succeed Senator Burrows and a good many folks are impressed with the fact that if Burrows has to be succeeded the state of Michigan could do no better than to select Townsend for that place.—Houghton Gazette.

Judging from the way Houghton county and Keweenaw warmed up to Representative Townsend, the copper country returns will not be particularly grateful reading to that "lovable" old statesman, Senator Burrows, even if no less a personage than Chairman Bob Shields assured him, when he was up there that he would get 90 per cent, or thereabouts, of the copper country vote. Present indications are that the senator will fall short of even 50 per cent.

Chairman Woodruff, of the New York Republican committee, in a formal statement on the subject, endeavors to shoulder the blame for the rejection of Colonel Roosevelt as temporary chairman of the Saratoga convention off on Chairman Griseom, of the New York county committee. Evidently Chairman Woodruff isn't enamored with the idea of meeting the colonel in full battle array on the occasion of the Saratoga gathering.

Lawton T. Hemans is observing with undisguised pleasure the frankly sectional campaign being made by Lieutenant Governor Kelley. In view of it, he believes that in the event Mr. Kelley is nominated his proposed three weeks' canvass of the upper peninsula will be unusually productive of votes.

Libel suits are Mr. Osborn's most effective answer to his detractors who utter vicious charges with the hope of influencing votes. He should push them through to the bitter end in the case of every newspaper which assists with the disreputable work.

Are Calumet voters interested in national issues? The large audience which greeted Congressman Townsend last evening furnished ample evidence that they are.—Calumet Evening News.

Rubbing an aching back may relieve

She Knew Her Father.

There is a dainty five-year-old girl who is the delight of a fashionable apartment hotel in West Philadelphia. She has a great many friends, and has given her many serious little ways which contrast strongly with her tender years.

Of late she has been saving her pennies to buy a birthday present for her father, and as the time draws near she has been much in doubt as to what she would get.

Recently she was in a street car with her mother when an inspiration came.
 "I know what I'll buy father for his birthday," she said.

All the passengers smiled at her eagerness and listened indulgently to hear what she might say. Looking at her mother she said so audibly as to be embarrassing:

"I'll buy him a bottle of beer."

 fast seems a little too much."

"That's just the way I look at it," said Mrs. Dobbs, heartily. "I say pie for dinner is a necessity, and pie for supper gives a sort of finishing touch to the day; but pie for breakfast is what I call puttin' on airs."—Youth's

Arabella's Darling.
 "Now, I wonder," thought Alphonso,
 "what Arabella is doing at this precise moment?"

"I wonder," he repeated, "what she is doing."

Then a brilliant idea struck him, and he visited the nearest spiritual medium.
 "What," said Alphonso, for the third time, "is Arabella doing?"

"She is looking out of the window," replied the medium "evidently expecting somebody."

"That is strange!" said Alphonso.
 "Whom can she expect?"

"Ah!" continued the medium, "someone enters the house, and she caresses him fondly."

"It can't be!" cried the excited husband.

"Now she lays his head on her lap and looks tenderly into his eyes."
 "William!" roared the jealous husband.
 "Now she kisses him."

"It's false!" yelled Alphonso. "I'll make you pay dearly for this!" The medium saw that he had gone far enough.

"Now," he said, "he wags his tail."

Her Opening.
 The courting of the Widow Healy by Terence Corcoran was a tedious affair to every one in Megraw place, most of all to the widow herself, who tried various expedients to assist her timid admirer.

"I'm thinking I might go for a sojor," Terence announced one night, when his fancy had been stirred by a newspaper account of a military pageant. "I'm not so old but I could do it. I was want in a school regiment."

"You go for a sojor!" cried the Widow Healy in mingled scorn and alarm. "A man that calls on a lone widow for two years and then asks me to let him go to spake his mind, hasn't the makings of a drummer boy in him."—Youth's Com-

LOWER STATES NOTES.
PONTIAC—Sutton Brothers, who own a farm between Oxford and Orion townships, have reclaimed a piece of swamp land and have planted it to corn fodder.
 The yield is many times that of an equal acreage of high land under the most favorable conditions. Swamps have hitherto been regarded as worthless, but Sutton Brothers have demonstrated that the swamp lands are rich in fertility and produce crops when uplands fail. As a result of this experiment many farmers are figuring on systems of drainage which will reclaim their swamps.

MUSKOGON—A carefully laid plot for a jail delivery at the county jail was nipped in the bud by Sheriff Nelson through too much enthusiasm on the part of the conspirators. Five prisoners led by L. E. Watson, alias Howard Combs, were in many states for forgery, formulated the plan. A case knife was converted into a saw and while one of the men named, Eddie, a holdup man, was accompanying the hoister's songs of the rest with a mouth organ, the instrument was industriously applied to the window bars. The sheriff thinking they were making more noise than usual made an investigation and found one of the bars nearly sawed through. Each prisoner was then placed in a separate cell.

PORT HURON—The annual state Hibernian convention elected the following officers: President, Michael F. Powers, of Marquette; vice president, James Clancy, of Ishpeming; chaplain, the Rt.
 Rev. John S. Foley, of Detroit; secretary, Eneas McCauley, of Hancock; treasurer, Frank P. McQuillan, of Jackson; medical examiner, J. F. McLaughlin, of Wyandotte. There were some important changes in the by-laws. It was voted to make a campaign for increased membership and for that purpose the convention appropriated $3,000.
 The per capita tax was also increased from thirty to thirty-five cents.

JACKSON—Traced by a detective from San Francisco over a large section of the country. Dad Bibb was arrested here for swindling a San Francisco bank out of $4,000 by means of a forged draft.
 Bibb, it is claimed, was employed by a Detroit automobile concern in the west under the name of Dan Hunt. His age is thirty years and he has a wife and babe of three days here.

ST. JOSEPH—A threat to kill her by jumping into the lake, by Filda Baker, failed to stir William Kihill to restrain her or to bring her to marry her, as they had planned. The two reside in Chicago and were on their way over on a steamer to be married here when they engaged in a quarrel. When they arrived here the girl was desperate and threatened to jump into the lake.
 "Jump and see if I care," said Kihill, as the girl rushed toward the edge of the pier. Captain Stevens, of the life-saving crew, threw a restraining arm around her. Both were later arrested, and released. "I just tried to scare him," ex-

LANSING—Unless the figures on the population of this state are received by September 1, the military department will be a loser financially. The militia is entitled to six cents for every person in the state, and the naval reserves one cent. The state has grown considerably since the state census was taken in 1904, the last prior to the federal census taken this spring. The auditor general's department must have the figures of the last census in order to base the apportionment for the military department cannot be secured in time, then the apportionment will have to be made from the state census taken in 1904.

LANSING—Chairman C. L. Glasgow, of the state railroad commission, which has been conducting a hearing of a number of power companies about the state, shows a warning in the terms of such franchise relative to the granting of franchises by small cities and villages to power corporations. Many towns have already granted long franchises, which they now deeply regret, for the reason that under the franchises they have had to pay higher rates for electricity than some of their neighbors. Chairman Glasgow said in discussing the matter:
 "We desire to caution the people of the state, especially in small towns where applications are made by parties asking for franchises for the furnishing of electricity for lighting or power purposes, not to include in the terms of such franchise anything in regard to the rate to be charged, but leave that part to the state, in order that the general public may get the benefit of the lowest rate made possible by the use of the latest and most improved methods. This warning is based upon the developments which show that many towns have named rates in franchises granted during recent years, which are much higher than those being named in present franchises, the franchises having usually been given for a term of thirty years. Many things have developed since the hearings of some of the power companies that have caused the commission to endeavor doubly to safeguard the interests of the people of this state. The commission is aided considerably by the fact that the attorney general ruled a short time ago that the commission had the power to fix rates of power companies."

ARMOR FOR ARMY
 A Few Pneumatic Guards Suggested by Mr. Kipping

"Lifebelts are available for seamen, pads for cricketers, various forms of protection for footballers, and there is no reason whatever why armor should not make some attempt to prevent unnecessary fractures, dislocations and wrenches which may lead to death or a sudden kind, or death or permanent injuries after a prolonged period of suffering." Thus the Car in its current issue, comments on an article by Mr. Ruyard Kipping, who suggests the desirability of providing acropianists with air-inflated suits with a view to lessening the serious effects of a fall.

As far as I can make out at present," says Mr. Kipping, "men go up with less protection, except against cold, than the catcher of a baseball team, and with less body guards than an American baseball player. A little protection about the head and shoulders might make all the difference between life and death at the moment of the smash."

Mr. Kipping's article is illustrated by diagrams drawn by himself, showing the protection he proposes. With a view to protecting the spine and head he suggests a helmet of rubber inflated on the crown and bound to the back and over the collar-bones. What is needed, he points out, is the protection of the neck against a backward or forward wrench. The height of the padding on the shoulders ought to cushion off the worst of a sideways wrench. To protect the spinal cord from being snapped and the dome of the head from fracture, he would have the chin would have to be made thick so that the head could be driven down on them without too much harm.

Mr. Kipping's suggestions are, of course, not intended to protect the airman should he fall from a great height.
 But many serious accidents have occured lately from distances within thirty or forty feet. In cases like these the proposed protection might conceivably be the means of saving valuable lives.

Guild Hall Notes

The Munising Y. M. C. A. baseball team defeated the Guild Hall team in a thirteen-inning game on Longyear field Saturday afternoon by a score of 7 to 5. The Munising team started out in the first inning to pile up a big score. A base on balls, two hits and a couple of errors by the Guild Hall team netted the Munising team three runs. After that the Guild Hall team played a snappy game. Time after time the Munising team, with five league men, went out in one, two, three, order. In the eighth inning Guild Hall tied the score, five all. In four different innings Guild Hall had men on third with one man out, but failed to score. In the thirteenth inning, with one man out and a man on third and second, the batter knocked an easy grounder to Fox, who was pitching for the Guild Hall team, and he thinking two men were out threw the ball to first, allowing the two men on bases to come home. The Guild Hall team played the better game after the first inning. Fox, in the pitcher's box, struck out twenty-two men, including every man on the opposing team at least once. Out of four times at bat he made a single and a double and scored one of the five runs credited to Guild Hall. Johnson caught a steady game and his playing strengthened the team more than any other man except Fox. F. Johnson and Boyer, new men, helped to shut off several seemingly sure hits. The Guild Hall team will play a return game at Munising next Saturday. The game Saturday was marred by an accident. Erickson, catcher for Munising, caught a foul tip on the end of his right thumb which broke the bone below the first joint so that it projected through the flesh. The joint was not injured so the thumb will probably not be stiff from the accident.

Score by innings:
Munising ..... 4 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 2—7
Guild Hall ..... 1 1 0 1 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—5

The Ethelo club baseball team will play the stars on Longyear field this afternoon at 2:30.

The members of the Lefover team will meet at the field this afternoon at 5 o'clock for practice. The following men are expected to be present: Quarters, Thayer, Patrick, Shook, Murray, Lindstrom, F. Hatch, Harlin, Drake, Wheeler, Lawrence. Any members of Guild Hall not already signed up with any of the teams in the Guild Hall league, who would like to get into a team, are also requested to report. The regular Guild Hall team will practice tonight at 5 o'clock.

Miss Allen will be at the tennis courts this morning at 10 o'clock to meet the girls who wish to enter the tennis tournament. All who have not already signed up for the tournament should meet her at that time or telephone Guild Hall some time during the day. The entries should close tonight. Men who have not yet signed up must do so today.

JAPANESE WEDDINGS.

A Japanese wedding always takes place in the "sanctuary" which is to be found in every Japanese home—the "tokonoma" or elevated place of honor. This is decorated for the occasion with symbolic articles, such as pine, plum tree and bamboo, signifying long life, peace and honesty; rice, always offered to the gods, and the sake jugs from which the "bridesmaids" (bridesmaids) pour out drink for the happy couple. Only ten persons are present at the marriage—the bride and groom, their parents, the go-between and his wife and two "butterflies." The bride takes her place near the bridegroom, but, as befits her inferior state, on a lower level. Her veil conceals her face till the ceremony is completed.

Presently the "broker" (the man who has brought the couple together) makes formal announcement of the marriage, to the low-toned accompaniment of singers, without instrumental accompaniment in an adjoining room.

Ordinarily the Japanese wedding ceremony has neither religious nor legal formalities; it is an affair of the family entirely. Former times, however, the priests took a large part in the function, and there are indications of a return to this custom. In 1900, for instance, at the marriage of the crown prince, a solemn Shinto service was held within the sanctuary of the imperial palace. Usually, however, says the Wide World Magazine, the wedding ceremony is simply a formal drinking of sake by bride and bridegroom from the same cup. This partaking of the rice wine together is an act as solemn as drinking from the communion cup among Christians.

Presently the "butterflies" prepare to fulfill their office, and on bended knee present the two-spouted cup of sake to the mouths of the bride and bridegroom alternately, this drinking from one cup signifying their future unity in joy and sorrow. From each of three tiny cups of different sizes the bride and bridegroom take three sips. After the third cup the "go-between" announces that the ceremony is ended. "Orion" and "Chrysanthemum" are now Mr. and Mrs. Tamura, and congratulations and feasting are the order of the day. The groom does not kiss his bride in public; that, in Japanese eyes, would be unpardonably coarse and vulgar.

Removing her white silk veil, the young wife rises from her seat beside the bridegroom and passes the wine cup to the assembled friends. Before the banquet she retires and reappears in a different dress, repeating this three or four times during the dinner, if she comes from a rich home. After the bride and bridegroom have taken their places everybody present approaches, bows to them and offers congratulations. With each guest the happy couple are supposed to drink a cup of wine.

The wedding feast itself is a splendid and costly affair, with rice served in countless different ways; oyster broth and many other elaborate dishes, washed down with hot and cold sake. But at last the guests take their leave and the young couple are left alone.

POPULATION OF UPPER PENINSULA

Marquette County Shows an Increase of 5,500 in Last Ten Years—Official Figures.

Official figures showing the population of Michigan by counties were made public by the United States Census Bureau Saturday. The state has gained 389,151 in population in the last decade, an increase of 16.1 per cent. Nearly half of the total gain was in Wayne county, and Houghton is one of the banner counties with a gain of 22,000. The population of Keweenaw county has more than doubled in the last ten years. Marquette county had an increase of 5,500, the 1910 figures being 46,739.

The population of the upper peninsula has increased 28 per cent in the decade, while the population of the state as a whole has increased but 16 per cent. Menominee county is the only one in the upper peninsula that has decreased in population. The increase in Marquette county is 13 per cent. The population of Marquette city could not be learned here yesterday.

The returns for the upper peninsula are as follows, also the totals for the twelfth and eleventh census, which provide a means of comparison:

Upper peninsula, total population, thirteenth census, 325,628; twelfth census, 291,262; gain, 34,366.

Houghton county population, thirteenth census, 88,098; twelfth census, 66,063; eleventh census, 35,380.

KNIGHTS OF KALEVA HAD GOOD MEETING

Fourth Triennial Session Closed Saturday With Picnic and Entertainment.

The Knights of Kaleva, the most important Finnish society in America, concluded their triennial session here Saturday. The convention is said to have been by far the most successful held since the society was organized, more than ten years ago. Both the business sessions and the class initiation were largely attended. The society is composed of the leading Finnish people, and it is having a rapid growth. The membership has doubled within the past few years. A number of new organizations were formed during 1909 and thus far this year. The 150 or more visitors who spent the past week or ten days in Ishpeming had an enjoyable time, and the members of the society have received many compliments on the manner in which they entertained the delegates.

The meeting came to a close Saturday evening, when an enjoyable entertainment was given at Ishpeming theatre. The parade and picnic at Cleveland park in the afternoon was marred somewhat by wet and cold weather. A drizzling rain set in a few minutes after the parade had been started and continued for more than a half hour. A delegation of about 200 copper country people, most of them members of the society, fifty or more being uniformed, arrived on the 2 o'clock train. They were accompanied by the Painesdale band.

The parade was the most attractive that the Finnish people of Marquette county have ever held. It was led by the Ishpeming Finely band, composed of some thirty members, and was followed by the uniformed body. The Painesdale band came next in line, and was followed by the remaining members. The national offices occupied carriages. After parading through the principal business streets, cars were taken for Cleveland park. During the afternoon several of the prominent members delivered addresses and there were musical selections by the bands and songs by glee clubs.

A. W. Jurma's Address.
 In the evening more than 700 people attended the concert at the theatre. The program opened with a selection of American airs by the Ishpeming Finnish band, which had to respond to two encores. Their numbers were followed by an address of welcome in Finnish by Jacob Kaminen and a welcome in English by A. W. Jurma, who spoke as follows:
 "Brothers and sisters of Kaleva, ladies and gentlemen, it gives me great pleasure, I assure you, to welcome this large audience to our fourth triennial convention. We have gathered here this evening for purposes too numerous to enumerate, so I shall simply state, in a brief manner, the principal object of this gathering. One of the purposes, and perhaps the most essential, is the uniting of the people of our nation in one band. It is the purpose of this lodge, which is tonight giving this entertainment, to gather together and teach the principles of our country. "It is our purpose to bring our people together and teach them to understand the ways and means and customs of this great United States. We have come to this country to make it our home, and as you know, that within the memory of man the Finnish race was looked down upon and crushed, but thanks to God that day is going by and going rapidly. We are educating our children, we are striving to learn the principles of this government, we are striving to imitate you, the American people. It is our aim and our will, that the Finnish people will not only follow, but will aim to lead in the good work that the United States has carried for years and years. "This lodge, which is entertaining this large audience tonight, is one of the greatest Finnish lodges that exists today. It is a lodge that teaches its members by its good work to aid its fellowmen. It is a lodge that has many members in the United States and we are proud to say that we have a sister lodge, which is also doing great work throughout the United States. We have among us this evening, ladies and gentlemen, delegates from all over the United States, delegates from the Pacific to the North, and from the South to the North, which are representing this lodge throughout the country. "I perhaps am departing a little from the purpose for which I am here, but our program is long, and we are allotted only a few minutes to address you; therefore, I will not take up the time to try to go into details upon the various purposes which we are striving to illustrate. Before closing, I will state that on behalf of the lodge—when I say lodge, I mean the entire combination of subordinate lodges in this United States, that is lodges of the Knights of Kaleva, the greatest Finnish lodge in existence—on behalf of the delegates, I bid you welcome to this meeting, and if it be convenient for you, I bid you welcome to attend each and all of our meetings, that is such meetings that are open to the public. I thank you for your attention and trust that we will see your faces again. "Others who spoke were Wilho Reima, Mikko Tokisalo and Miss Anna Hinanen former secretary of the Finnish National Brothers' Temperance association, who talked in behalf of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Knights of Kaleva. Those present were much disappointed because Oscar J. Larson, the wellknown Finnish attorney of Duluth, was unable to be present. "Most of the copper country visitors remained in the city yesterday and will leave for their homes today. Several of the national officers and delegates from distant points also remained here yesterday and will leave today.

RECEIPTS DISAPPOINTING.
 Crystal Falls Has Given Nearly as Much as She Has Received.

"We note that the Marquette County league teams are discussing the division of gate receipts," says the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill. "Crystal Falls knows more about those gate receipts now than it did a year ago. When Crystal Falls went into the league it was generally understood that this city being a small place, the gate receipts here would be very much smaller than in the Marquette range towns. Well, we have an interesting lot of figures by which Crystal Falls is made to show up just about as good a gate receipts as do our big neighbors. It's the actual figures that tell the tale, not the estimates in the

"THE BLUE MOUSE."

The Shuberts Are Presenting a Strong Cast in the Fitch Play.

A Fitch play is always characterized by novel settings and beautiful costumes. Being a master of stagecraft, it goes without saying that this remarkable playwright, who died last year, chose wisely in organizing a company of players. A happier combination, it is said, had never been had than the one with "The Blue Mouse." "The Blue Mouse" is a comedy adapted from the German of the same author who wrote "Girls," and the Messrs. Shubert have produced the play in a way that is a surprise even to old timers. "The Blue Mouse," with a cast including Grace Merritt, as the "Mouse," Wilton Taylor, Inda Palmer, Guy D'Enery, Margaret Siegel, John Hynes, Gordon Mandelsohn, W. G. Reymier, Frank Holbach, John Duane, Mary McGregor, Doris Kraker, Marnal Alexander and others, will be seen here at the Ishpeming theatre tomorrow evening.

THE FORTY-NINTH STAR

Nothing less than the dissolution of the nation will prevent the organization of the State of Alaska. In 1850, when California was admitted into the Union, she had no lines of railway, telegraph, trades or business connecting her with the other States and was thought to be only valuable for placer gold. Her agriculture and trade with Pennsylvania, Virginia and Ohio, and more fish than all other American waters combined. Her output of gold and fish for last year amounted to nearly $32,000,000, and had increased from $15,000,000 in 1900. Her total cash trade with the rest of the United States for 1909 amounted to more than $52,000,000, while that of China and the United States amounted to only $18,000,000. She is a better customer of the merchants of the United States than Hawaii, Porto Rico or the Philippines. The trade value of every white man, woman and child in Alaska with the United States for 1909 amounted to $1,392,753, while that of every inhabitant in Hawaii amounted to only $277,655, Porto Rico to $183,511, and the Philippines to $330. Alaska has a better climate and greater agricultural capacity than Norway, Sweden and Finland combined. Here rich and fertile valleys are capable of supporting a larger population than that of the three countries named, without mentioning the population which will be supported by her mines and other natural resources.

FINE BALL PLAYED SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Eleven-Inning Contest Won by Negaunee-Marquette Won Yesterday in Ten.

Negaunee and Marquette broke even in their two-game series Saturday and yesterday at the Union Park grounds. Negaunee winning Saturday in eleven innings, by a score of 2 to 1, and Marquette taking yesterday's game in ten innings, 1 to 0. Both games were exciting. A dispute yesterday over Umpire Harris' decision when, in the seventh inning, he did not touch the first sack in going to second on a two-base hit, stirred up the Marquette fans. The game was delayed for five minutes or more while Captain Day protested against the decision, but Harris refused to yield. The game might have been won by Marquette in that inning if Riopelle had not been called out, as Magman, the next man up, also sent the ball into center for two sacks.

Yesterday's game was largely a pitcher's battle between Scholtus and Siebenthal, the former allowing but four hits and the latter securing in the fourth inning, when Raines opened with a three-bagger, but was called out at third after he had crossed the sack, the ball having been fielded by Lafave, or Swick's single, to Tallion, and from Tallion to Mack. Swick stole second, but was put out at the plate, when he attempted to score home on Heidenson's single into center, the ball having been fielded by Richardson to Scholtus and from Scholtus to Day. Negaunee had men on bases again in the sixth, ninth and tenth, three of them reaching the first station on free on grounders by Mack and one in the tenth on an error by Tallion on a ground hit. Tallion, however, figured in all of the putouts in that inning, having had two assists and one putout, the latter a line drive by Simpson, which closed the contest. Mack made a sorry showing in his attempts to lead the runner, beating it to first. Riopelle, in the seventh, ground hits, having fumbled everyone that came to him, but none of his errors were costly.

Both Scholtus and Siebenthal pitched effectively throughout. The first hit off Siebenthal was made by Tallion in the third. The ball was batted down to the pitcher, who, hearing it to be first. Aside from the doubles by Riopelle and Magman in the seventh there were two singles, by Young and Tallion, both in the tenth. Young opened with his single and Richardson sacrificed him to second, going out, Siebenthal to Steimle. Lafave reacted to the ground hits, having fumbled everyone that came to him, but none of his errors were costly.

Steimle's grounder, but he remained at this station as Messier and Simpson went out on infield plays. In the seventh, Rosevear singled and was sacrificed to second by Cullis, who went out; Frost to Magman. Raines fled out to Lafave; McCrory singled, advancing Rosevear to third. Frost and Day had planned to attempt a relay throw from the plate to second in an attempt to catch McCrory, but in returning the ball Day threw wide, Rosevear scoring. Marquette secured her only run in the second inning, after Riopelle and Magman had been retired. Lafave, Young and Richardson hit safely, the former scoring on Richardson's hit, which was a long drive into left field, which McCrory made a desperate attempt to get but failed. Only in three innings after that, the fourth, fifth and seventh, did a Marquette runner reach first. In the first inning Negaunee executed a fast double play. Tallion, the first man up, fled out to McCrory; Mack singled and Day sent a grounder to Raines, who threw Mack out at second, Swick then catching the batsman at first. The summary:

KILLED AT EMPIRE. Young Finn, Living at Palmer, Had Life Crushed Out by Falling Ore.

Sulo Kalama, a young Finn living at Palmer, and working at the Empire mine, was killed last Friday afternoon. Kalama and his partner were working in a raise, breaking some ore, preparatory to running it down to the bottom of the mine, from which it was to be hoisted through a shaft, when the ore unexpectedly began to move. It carried Kalama with it, and instantly crushed out his life. The body was not recovered until midnight.

The system of mining at the Empire is to mill all the ore in the big pit down to a point on a line with the bottom of the shafts and then to hoist it through the latter. There are several raises through which the ore is run. Kalama and his partner were working about forty feet above the level when the ore began to move from under him. He was in the act of sledging a piece of ore at the time he was carried away.

The deceased was reared at Palmer and was well known there, as well as in Negaunee. Both of his parents died there some years ago, and he is survived by a sister, who lives at Palmer. His age was between nineteen and twenty years.

Coroner Prin was called from Ishpeming Friday night and examined the place where Kalama was killed. He also spent some time there while the workmen were removing the ore that covered the body. He impounded a jury Saturday morning and conducted the inquest in the afternoon in Judge Verran's office. The jury was composed of John Alvin, Joseph Barabe, William Verran, J. C. Downing, T. J. Flynn and Elijah Roberts. Two workmen witnessed the fatality, one of these being Kalama's partner and the other a man who was working a short distance from where the ore fell away.

SOCIAL EVENT. Marriage of Former Negaunee Girl to Lower Michigan Man.

The Marinette Eagle-Star contained an extensive account of the marriage of Miss Myrtle M. Ross, only daughter of George W. Ross, a former resident of Negaunee, to Fred E. Phillipson of Dowagiac. The marriage was performed Wednesday afternoon at Our Lady of Lourdes rectory by Rev. Francis Gregory Tully, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom. The bride was one of Marinette's most popular girls and the young couple were the recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts. The Eagle-Star said of the bride and groom:

"The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ross, who came to this city in her infancy, nearly all of the intervening years being spent within the environs of the parental home. Endowed with the virtues of true womanhood, she attracted a retinue of admiring friends who in unison tendered good wishes upon her bridal day. Her popularity is attested by the many pre-nuptial functions given in her honor which were among the smartest of the entire season. Her friends regret that her marriage necessitates removal to another city but to the new home awaiting her she is accompanied by the best wishes of all. She is meeting the husband of her choice while visiting in Dowagiac several years ago and to that city she returns as his bride to make her permanent home.

"Mr. Phillipson has visited here several times, hence has a number of acquaintances in the twin cities. From his home town, naught but the highest economic sense of his sterling character, scholarly attainments and splendid physique. He is associated with his father and brother in mercantile business, the firm being known as the Phillipson Clothing company of Dowagiac and it is one of the largest and the oldest in the entire county. He was graduated from the University of Michigan where he pur-

RECOVERED FROM ASSAULT. Harry Wilcox, the Oliver Iron Mining company's police officer, who in April was attacked by several foreigners while on duty at one of the company's mines at Virginia, Minn., is now visiting his parents in Detroit. From there he is to go west to locate. Mr. Wilcox has fully recovered from his injuries, with the exception of his right arm, which is still in a weakened condition, because several of the arteries were severed. Wilcox owes his life to his fine physical condition, as the shock from the loss of blood and numerous serious wounds would have resulted fatally to a majority of men. Five of the assailants of the young officer are now serving terms in the Stillwater penitentiary.

HAY STILL HIGH.

It would seem from the quotations being received here from commission men in Minnesota that hay is unusually scarce in that state, as the prices are much higher than those quoted in other parts of the country. Choice Timothy hay is selling at from $25 to $25 per ton on the cars in St. Paul. No. 1 timothy hay is bringing $22 and alfalfa is selling at $23. Green prairie hay is quoted at $18.50 and wild hay at $16.50. The quotations from Wisconsin and some of the other points in the Northwest are from $1 to $3 per ton below those received from St. Paul.

F. L. BALDWIN UNDER ARREST

Editor of Escanaba Journal Faces Criminal Proceedings on Complaint of an Attorney Appearing Before the Delta County Prosecutor for Chase S. Osborn.

Is Accused of Printing and Circulating a Defamatory and Libelous Article—Amos Musselman of Grand Rapids May Be Made Co-Defendant With Him.

For printing and circulating a vicious and libelous attack on the honesty and integrity of Chase S. Osborn, of the Soo, candidate for governor, F. L. Baldwin, editor and publisher of the Escanaba Journal, was arrested Saturday for criminal libel at that city. He gave bond to the amount of $300, furnished by J. A. Stromberg, for his appearance before Judge Glaser Sept. 9, when he will be given a formal examination.

In addition a demand was made on Mr. Baldwin for the retraction of the charges that he has made against Mr. Osborn, in the next issue of his paper. Should this retraction be refused, civil suit for the sum of $20,000 will be started against him.

It is likely that Amos Musselman, of Grand Rapids, candidate for governor, who has been boasting to the lower Michigan electorate of his clean campaign methods, will be made a co-defendant with Mr. Baldwin in these suits. It is believed by Mr. Osborn's friends that Mr. Musselman defrayed the expense of running the tremendous edition of Baldwin's paper—containing the libelous article—which have been drawn on for distribution throughout the upper peninsula and elsewhere in the state.

Other Prosecutions Coming.

There will be other prosecutions, as a result of the campaign methods adopted by the Escanaba Journal. Other Musselman organs were as incautious as to risk burning their fingers by republishing Mr. Baldwin's article. The same attitude toward the proceedings against Baldwin are now looking into these cases, and it is expected that the local prosecutors will act in regard to them some time this week. It is likely, too, that suits will be started against individuals who took on themselves the task of circulating Mr. Baldwin's libel.

The proceedings at Escanaba were started by Frank R. Warner, personal attorney for Mr. Osborn, and the warrant was issued by Prosecuting Attorney Doetsch, on Mr. Warner's showing. The action will be prosecuted by the county of Delta, independent of Mr. Osborn's counsel, and the penalty provided by statute in proceedings of the kind is a jail sentence. I. C. Jennings, of Escanaba, has been retained to look after Mr. Osborn's local interests in connection with the case.

Musselman Involved.

It is claimed that Mr. Osborn's attorneys have evidence that Mr. Musselman is a party to Baldwin's offense. Mr. Baldwin has been one of Musselman's most active lieutenants in the state and has been busy looking after his chief's odds and ends of support in the upper peninsula. It is pointed out that Baldwin would hardly have taken as an important and dangerous a step as launching such a vicious libel without the approval of the candidate it was designed to aid, and again it is pointed out that the expense that was incurred in publishing such a large edition of the Journal, and circulating it, had to be footed by someone who commands a stack of money. The papers were distributed in a number of upper peninsula towns and in addition large numbers were sent through the mails.

The thing that actuates Mr. Osborn in his plans to push vigorous prosecutions—and the outcome of the primaries will not alter his purpose to see them through—is a desire to make unpopular and hazardous, as far as laws are concerned, vicious personal attacks on men who are candidates for high office. As far as the effect of Mr. Baldwin's publication is concerned, it has been helpful to Osborn, as it has disgusted many people by the inconsistency it has shown between Mr. Musselman's protestations of devotion to clean politics and his suspected authorization of Mr. Baldwin's attack. Mr. Musselman has been called on to disclaim any responsibility for Mr. Baldwin's article. On his response to that demand will probably depend whether he is made a party to the pending prosecutions.

GETTING MORE TRADE.

Detroit Sees Benefits from Merchants and Manufacturers Trip.

The visit of the Detroit Wholesalers' association to the upper peninsula this summer increased the trade between Detroit and this region by 60 per cent according to Paul Leake, secretary of the association. Mr. Leake declares that much of the business in the upper peninsula which formerly went to Chicago merchants has now been turned over to firms in Detroit. As a direct result Edison, Moore & Co. have opened two branches, at Ishpeming and Hancock, to take care of their trade with this section.

The wholesalers have under contemplation another plan which will promote trade with buyers in the upper peninsula, but details have not been made public. They wish to improve the freight service, so that Chicago may not have the advantage. A new train is now being run daily to St. Ignace, where it connects with the Duluth-South Shore & Atlantic for delivery to the iron ranges.

George Williams, district freight and passenger agent of the Copper Range road, has co-operated with the association in providing Detroit with a train schedule which permits freight leaving Detroit for the upper peninsula to arrive there only six hours later than freight leaving Chicago at the same time. Rates are the same as those paid from Chicago and Milwaukee.

COAL DERRICK BURNED.

Spectacular Fire at Spear's Dock Early Last Night.

Several hundred people last evening watched what was the most spectacular fire that has been seen in Marquette in some months. At 8 o'clock it was noticed that the coal derrick at the end of Spear's dock was on fire. Even then the woodwork was a mass of flames and as the timbers were saturated with oil, the blaze and sparks shot high into the air, lighting the town streets. Owing to the long distance from a hydrant, there was some delay before the firemen got water to the fire, and all that could be done was to protect the dock and coal piles. In fact, the fire was beyond control, as far as the derrick was concerned, before anyone noticed it.

The cause of the fire is a mystery, as no one is known to have been near the derrick all day Sunday. The large Buffalo, which is unloading coal at the dock, was moored alongside the derrick, and she was pulled out into the harbor to be out of the danger zone. The fish tug Columbia was called into service as a fire tug and did effective work fighting the flames.

Though it will take a careful examination to be sure, it is thought that the ironwork and boiler of the derrick are not seriously damaged and that upon the burned woodwork being replaced the derrick can again be used. It was the old, not the new derrick, that was burned, and the machine was partially insured.

SHAKEUP AT CRYSTAL FALLS.

Four Good Men Quit Team After Last Marquette Series.

Ishpeming isn't the only league town that has been shaking up its ball team. Crystal Falls let one man go, and three others followed after him, early last week, according to the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill, which says:

"There was a shake-up in the baseball team last Monday by which four of the players were got rid of. One man was let out and he took the others with him.

"Ever since the Negaunee team played here the locals have been stronger, man for man, than the opposing team; have out hit their adversaries but couldn't win any games. A perusal of the box score shows in every game men galore on bases; in almost every game men being on third and second with none down and only one run necessary to win, yet none scored and no games were won. It didn't take a person skilled in the game to see that there was something wrong somewhere. As there were but a few weeks left, Manager Corcoran didn't feel like existing any disturbance but the thing got so rank at Marquette last Saturday and Sunday that he could stand it no longer, so Monday morning he called Allen in and paid him off. Allen got busy in an effort to pull every man he could out of the game. The result was that Butterfield, Korbel and McGee went with him. Allen tried to pull Tiffany also but the latter was a man and refused to be pulled."

"It has been known for several weeks that Allen has been working against the management and against several players on the team and the batting instructions he gave to the batters as they went up to the plate were such as held the base runners on the bases instead of letting them score. Considerable inside history could be written as to why Crystal Falls, with the highest paid team in the league, with star players all around, couldn't win any games but suffice it to say that the team is rid of one baneful influence and while we may not win any more games yet it was a dead snitch that we would not have won a game anyway."

SECOND TEAM SHUT OUT.

Defeated at Gwin Yesterday by One-Sided Score of 10 to 0.

The Marquette second team met a tartar at Gwin yesterday and came home last night with the little end of a 10 to 0 score. Swanson, the heavy blacksmith who bails from Ishpeming, was in the box for Gwin and he had Marquette boys at his mercy throughout the game. Clinton, for Marquette, also pitched a good game, considering that he was given very poor support, no less than nine Gwin men reaching first on errors. The feature of the game was the batting of Bastien, Mitchell, McCrory and Abop.

In the third inning five runs were scored after two were out. This inning took the life out of Clinton. Daniels could not hold Clinton and his throwing to second was poor. Eight men stole second on him. The umpiring was not good, both sides suffering from several decisions made. The summary follows:

Old-Time Scout and Friend of Buffalo Bill Says That Red Men Belong to That Class 'More Sinned Against Than Sinning,' and Champions Their Cause.

Declares That Sitting Bull, the Sioux Chief, Deserves to Be Classed With the World's Greatest Patriots, Having Been Loyal to His People Unto Death.

Paul C. Blum, business manager for the Barkort street shows, which will be in Marquette next week, spent several years in the government business service on the western plains before entering the show business. While thus employed in 1872, he became acquainted with Colonel W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) and the two have ever since been intimate friends. Mr. Blum is very diffident in talking about matters concerning himself, though he must have been a participant in many thrilling and daring adventures, but open up the subject of "Buffalo Bill" and he will talk for hours.

"Colonel Cody is one of the greatest men this country has ever produced and the best showman in the business," declared Mr. Blum yesterday. "He has made a fortune in mining and land investments in the West, and his Wild West show has always been a money-maker and this season will be the best the show ever had. After next year, Colonel Cody will retire from the show business and devote himself entirely to his interests in the West, particularly near the city of Cody, near Yellowstone Park. Prosperity, however, has not changed him, and he is still the same genial, loyal friend as of old."

"Like everyone who has known the Indians intimately, Colonel Cody is the red man's friend and champion. Colonel Cody has said that James McLaughlin's book, 'The Indian My Friend,' is the most accurate and authentic work on the Indian that has ever been written. The terrible massacres, wars, etc., which the Indians have precipitated can all be traced back to the perfidy and treachery of white men, though innocent blood often has been shed to avenge the red men's wrongs."

Anecdote of Sitting Bull.

"It was my privilege," continued Mr. Blum, "to accompany Chief Sitting Bull on his first trip. Sitting Bull, by the way, had been a white man, would be classed as a patriot and hero with Washington and Grant. No man was ever more loyal to his people or sacrificed more on the altar of patriotism than Sitting Bull. After the noble chief had been in New York for several days and had been the center of curiosity to thousands of people, he was asked what he would say to his people when he went back. The chief, after thinking a moment, said dejectedly: 'I shall tell my brothers that if everyone of them should kill a white man every step they took for the rest of their lives, the white men would never know that any of them had been slain.' With these graphic words Sitting Bull described his impression of the numerical strength of the whites, after visiting New York."

"On another occasion a United States army officer asked for an audience with Sitting Bull, while the latter was at the head of his band of Sioux warriors. At first the audience was refused, but white friends of his induced him to change his decision. Upon the army officer making overtures for peace in the form of a treaty, Sitting Bull, throwing off his robe and standing magnificent in his full war paint, said:

"Show me one treaty that your people, who claim to represent the Great White Father, have ever kept, and my warriors will go back to the reservation and remain at peace with you forevermore. But you cannot do it; so tell the Great White Father that I spit in his face, and will lead my people to victory or death."

"The army officer admitted many times afterward that he never felt so ashamed in his life. Bull, throwing off his robe and standing magnificent in his full war paint, said:

"After leaving the government employ, in the course of which Mr. Blum was a scout, secret service man and general go-between for Uncle Sam with the Indians, he went into the show business and for several years had charge of the band of Sioux with Buffalo Bill's show."
