BUTTE & SUPERIOR.

The plans to refinance the Butte & Superior company are not maturing as rapidly as President Wolvin had promised.

The plan that contemplates turning control of the property over to Senator Clark, because at a time when the Butte & Superior needed money and needed it badly in order to continue development work, Senator Clark was petitioned and importuned to take some of the company's 3 per cent bonds and the Butte & Superior stock, but he declined to invest a cent more, although he was the owner of a very large stockholding.

The $1 dividend declared by the Copper Range Consolidated directors yesterday was fully earned from the past three months' operations, although the average price received for the output of the Baltic, Champion and Trimountain properties was less than thirteen cents a pound.

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, Aug. 31.—The near approach of the holidays had the effect of curtailing operations, and despite the fact that several prominent traders endeavored to create activity, by bidding openly for Union and Reading, very little outside business was attracted.

Boston "Coppers."

Boston, Mass., Aug. 31.—The Boston market was the dullest that we have had in a good many months. There was absolutely no trading, the people wishing to learn more from our ex-president, who is speaking in the West. Don't be discouraged, for we believe this market will move upward after the rest of the week. Stocks are scarce and are in strong hands. The New York market was fairly steady, but likewise quiet, with the volume of business very small.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

New York, Aug. 31.—The market is simply a waiting one and presents no characteristics worthy of notice. There is a fairly widespread opinion prevalent that with the August out of the way, temporarily lower prices are probable on the theory that farmers will rush cotton to the market in a volume greater than the spinners will absorb.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Liquidation of long wheat, September, caused a break for that month on the early trading. There was moderate selling on the drives at other months, which went back about half a cent. However, the market turned strong rather quickly, because of the large number of resting orders on the buying side of December wheat.

"We have come to recognize that franchises should never be granted except for a limited time, and never without proper provision for compensation to the public. It is my personal belief that the same kind and degree of control and supervision which should be exercised over public service corporations should be extended also to combinations which control necessities of life, such as meat, oil and coal, or which deal in them on an important scale. I believe that the officers, and especially the directors, of corporations should be held personally responsible when any corporation breaks the law."
Control of Combines.
"Combinations in industry are the result of an imperative economic law which cannot be repealed by political legislation. The effort at prohibiting all combinations has substantially failed. The way out lies not in attempting to prevent such combinations, or to completely controlling them in the interest of the public welfare. For that purpose the federal bureau of corporations is an agency of the first importance. Its power and therefore its efficiency, as well as that of the inter-state commerce commission, should be largely increased. We have a right to expect from the bureau of corporations and from the inter-state commerce commission a very high grade of public service. We should be sure of the proper conduct of inter-state railroads and the proper management of inter-state business as we are now sure of the proper management of the national banks. The Hepburn act, and the amendment to that act in the shape in which it finally passed congress at the last session, represent a long step in advance and we must get yet further."

PIERCE PLAYERS AGAIN.
Will Appear Here in Three New Plays September 12, 13 and 14.

As was predicted some time ago, the excellent stock organization known as H. E. Pierce & Company's Associate Players, which recently met with so much favor with local theatergoers, have met with the same deserved success in every city in which they have appeared. It would seem as though this company has filled a long felt want in this locality and their return will be awaited with considerable interest.
Upon the occasion of their next appearance here which will be Sept. 12-13 and 14, they will present Robert Edison's former success, Soldiers of Fortune, a dramatization of Richard Harving Davis' famous novel of the same name; also a complete production by arrangement with Daniel Frohman of "The Boys of Company D," in which Arnold Daly and John Barrymore both appeared with great success in New York and Chicago but recently. The third bill announced is a revival of the "Prisoner of Zenda," which will be put on with the same careful attention to detail that characterized all productions made under H. E. Pierce & company's management. With few exceptions the company will remain the same as when last seen here. However, some new blood has been secured which will tend to strengthen the organization.
The management feel that they have lived up to every promise made by them previous to their first visit in the city and shall endeavor at all hazards to retain the confidence of the theatergoing public.

SHE OUSTED HER RIVAL.

Copenhagen has a milliner who succeeded in making successful war on the big hat. Her establishment was the headquarters for the best in the line of millinery, and her business was prosperous until a rival from Paris appeared on the scene, whose hats were larger, more picturesque and in every way more attractive. She saw bankruptcy staring her in the face, and to avert it resorted to a desperate measure. She sent a friend to the Paris shop and purchased 20 of the most elaborate hats and had them distributed among the basket women in the public market. The gifts were accepted with thanks, the hats being not only showy but good protection against the sun. The joke soon spread through Copenhagen, and every one laughed except the fashionable women. Overnight the style was changed. Customers returned to the native milliner and the French woman closed her shop.

at length elsewhere. Conservation means development as much as it does protection. I recognize the right and the duty of our people to get for themselves and for their wives and children not only the benefits of better farming, but also those of better business methods and better conditions of life on the farm.
I have spoken elsewhere also of the great task which lies before the farmers and experiment stations should extend their work to cover all phases of life on the farm, instead of limiting themselves, as they have far too often limited themselves in the past, solely to the question of the production of crops.
Rights of Labor.
"Nothing is more true than that excess of every kind is followed by reaction; a fact which should be pondered by reformer and reactionary alike. We are face to face with new conceptions of the relations of property to human welfare chiefly because certain advocates of the rights of property as against the rights of labor have been pushing their claims too far. The man who wrongly holds that every human right is secondary to his profit must now give way to the advocate of human welfare, who rightly maintains that every man holds his property subject to the general right of the community to regulate its use to whatever degree the public welfare may require it. But I think we may go still further. The right to regulate the use of wealth in the public interest is universally admitted. Let us admit also the right to regulate the terms and conditions of labor which is the chief element of wealth, directly in the interest of the common good. The fundamental thing to do for every man is to give him the chance to reach a place in which he will make the greatest possible contribution to the public welfare. No man has the right to insist on a wage more than sufficient to cover the bare cost of living, and hours of labor short enough so that after his day's work is done he will have time and energy to bear his share in the management of the community, to help in carrying the gen-

Tax on Big Fortunes.
"No man should receive a dollar unless that dollar has been fairly earned. Every dollar received should represent a dollar's worth of service rendered. The really big fortune, the swollen fortune, by the mere fact of its size, acquires qualities which differentiate it in kind as well as in degree from what is possessed by men of relatively small means. Therefore I believe in a graduated income tax on big fortunes, and in another tax which is far more easily collected and far more effective—a graduated inheritance tax on big fortunes, properly safeguarded against evasion, and increasing rapidly in amount with the size of the estate."
"The people of the United States suffer from periodical financial panics to a degree substantially unknown among the other nations which approach us in financial strength. There is no reason we should suffer what they escape. It is of profound importance that our financial system should promptly be reformed and so thoroughly and effectively revised as to make it certain that hereafter our currency will no longer fail at critical times to meet our needs.
"It is hardly necessary for me to repeat that I believe in an efficient army and a navy large enough to insure for us abroad that respect which is the surest guarantee of peace. Justice and fair dealing among nations rest on principles identical with those which control justice and fair dealing among the individuals of which nations are composed; and with the vital exception that each nation must do its own part in international police work. National friendships, like those between men, must be founded on respect as well as on liking, on forbearance as well as upon trust. In all this it is peculiarly the duty of the United States to set a good example.

Inner-Player Pianos
A thorough investigation of our Inner-Player Pianos will convince you beyond a doubt that for ease of operating and getting those beautiful artistic effects so necessary to the true lover of music, the Cable Piano Co.'s Inner-Players are the leaders in every respect. We will be pleased to demonstrate them for you.

ONE BIG REASON

Why You Should Buy Our Pianos

Just this. We are in a different position than any retail house. We own and operate the largest piano factories in the world. With our unequalled factory facilities, modern labor-saving machinery and unlimited capital we are able to build pianos at the closest possible figure and at the same time make them the very best. Then instead of selling all of them to retailers we run our own stores and sell direct to the public in a great many states. In this way the buyer can save a lot of money dealing with us.

eral load. We keep countless men from being good citizens by the conditions of life with which we surround them. We need comprehensive workmen's acts, both state and national laws, to regulate labor and the work of women, and especially we need in our common schools not merely education in book-learning but also practical training for daily life and work. We need to enforce better sanitary conditions for our workers, and to extend the use of safety appliances in industry and commerce both within and between the states. Also, friends, in the interest of the workingman himself we need to set our faces like flint against mob violence just as against corporate greed; against violence and injustice and lawlessness by wage-workers just as much as against lawless cunning and greed and selfish avarice of employers.
A New Nationalism.
"The American people are right in demanding that new nationalism without which we cannot hope to deal with new problems. The new nationalism puts the national need before sectional or personal advantage. It is impatient of the utter confusion that results from local legislatures attempting to treat national issues as local issues. It is more impatient of the impotence which springs from the over-division of government powers, the impotence which makes it possible for local selfishness or for local cunning, hired by wealthy special interests, to bring national activities to a deadlock. This new nationalism regards the executive power as the steward of the public welfare. It demands of the judiciary that it shall be interested primarily in human welfare rather than in property, just as it demands that the representative body shall represent all the people, rather than any one class or section of the people.
"I believe in shaping the ends of government to protect property as well as human welfare. Normally, and in the absence of emergency, the ends are the same, but whenever the alternative must be faced I am for men and not for property. I am far from underestimating the importance of dividends, but I rank dividends below human character. I know well that the reformers must not bring upon the people economic ruin, or the reformers will go down in the ruin. But we must be ready to face temporary disaster; whether or not brought on by those who will war against us to the knife. Those who oppose all reform will do well to remember that ruin in its worst form is inevitable if our national life brings us nothing better than swollen fortunes for the few and the triumph in both politics and business of a sordid and selfish materialism.

SOUTH SHORE IS IN GOOD SHAPE

George W. Dickinson, of State Railway Commission, Praises Management and Operation of D., S. S. & A.—Right-of-Way Cleanest in Michigan, He Says.

Avoidance of Accidents Not Due to Good Luck but to Attention to Minute Yet Important Details—Cleanliness and Neatness of the Stations Emphasized.

George W. Dickinson, of the state railway commission, was in Marquette yesterday in the course of the annual inspection of the railroads of the upper peninsula. Mr. Dickinson has just completed an inspection of the D., S. S. & A. railway and will go over the Lake Superior & Ishpeming, Marquette & Southeastern and Munising railways today.

"The South Shore is in the best shape this year that it has been since I have been a member of the commission, and it has always been one of the best managed roads in the state," declared Mr. Dickinson yesterday. "This railroad with good reason boasts of never having killed a passenger. This excellent record is not the result of good luck, in my opinion, but of careful, experienced management. The men at the head of the South Shore are experienced, practically and theoretically, in every phase of railroad building and operation, and it is their attention to little, but nevertheless important details of operation, that has brought the road up to its present excellent condition."

"Upper peninsula roads usually come in for less criticism from the commission than those below the straits, and we have been especially pleased with conditions as found on this trip. The South Shore has a very good roadbed, in spite of the forest fires of the past summer, to fight which many of the section men have had to leave their regular work. New ties are put in as fast as they are needed and everything is in first class shape, while the right-of-way of the South Shore is without question the cleanest in Michigan. The whole length of the line, the weeds are kept cut down and the space on both sides of the track is free from undergrowth, while the yards and switches are in commendably neat and serviceable condition."

Neat and Clean Stations.

"Another thing that I unconsciously pay attention to in inspecting a railroad is the condition of the stations. The public appreciates a clean waiting room and flower beds and a well kept lawn near the station, with everything inside and out in 'apple pie order.' Agents who wonder why they are not promoted would do well to look over their stations—see if the floor is clean, the stove blackened and the books and papers of the office arranged and kept in an orderly manner. Railroad superintendents are coming to realize the importance of neatness about railway premises, and the agent who advances is the man who shows that he takes an interest in the company and the public by keeping the building over which he has charge in good condition, and at the same time doing the essential duties of his office well. Superintendent Lytle evidently realizes the desirability of neatness and I noticed that agent whose offices were slovenly in appearance came in for criticism."

"The commission found but one criticism to make of the South Shore and that is relative to insufficient street protection in Hancock. Complaint has been made to us of the lack of street protection in that city and we will order the company to make substantial changes there to safeguard life and property. "Railroads in all parts of the state, with a very few exceptions, are willingly complying with the suggestions of the commission and are being operated with greater regard to human life, both of passengers and employees, than was true a few years ago. Last year the railroads of Michigan carried 217,000,000 passengers, and only eighteen were killed, one to every fourteen million, which is a record to be proud of. Conditions in the upper peninsula are especially good and I have found it a pleasure to examine and inspect the roads north of the straits."

SURPRISED HER FRIENDS.

Miss Mae Fogarty Is Wedded to Robert Patterson of South Haven.

The many friends of Miss Mae Fogarty, of this city, were much surprised yesterday to hear of her marriage to Robert Patterson, of South Haven, Mich., which took place in that city last Sunday evening. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Rev. Father Williams, of St. Basil's church, and was witnessed by Miss Nellie Glenn, of Milwaukee, formerly of this city, and R. J. Madill, of South Haven. Miss Fogarty has been visiting in lower Michigan for a week and the news of her marriage came as a great surprise to her many friends here.

Mr. Patterson is the proprietor of a drug store in South Haven, who has built up a large and lucrative trade by close attention to business. A number of years ago he worked at Pondill's drug store in this city, and will be remembered by many local people. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will reside in South Haven.

IN JEWELRY BUSINESS FOR FORTY YEARS

George N. Conklin Has Been Located in Marquette Since September 1, 1870.

George N. Conklin today celebrates the fortieth anniversary of his entering into the jewelry business in this city. Mr. Conklin came to Marquette from Ypsilanti in July, 1870, and Sept. 1 of the same year opened up a store in one-half of the building now occupied by Shook & Hallam. A few years later, he moved into the Adams building at the southeast corner of Front and Spring streets, where he remained until the Wilkinson block, where he is now located, was erected, the store he now occupies having been built expressly for his use.

"During Mr. Conklin's forty years in business in this city he has enjoyed a steadily increasing patronage, based on fair dealing and a policy of strict integrity in selling goods. Through his honorable business methods he has come to be one of the city's oldest, most prosperous and most respected merchants."

"There have been many changes in the jewelry business since I started in forty years ago," said Mr. Conklin yesterday. "In the early days the tourist business was more important than it is now, and we made a special feature of agate jewelry and other then popular novelties, silver rings, for instance. At one time there was a great demand for agates, as many wealthy people made collections of all the different varieties they could find. I used to cater to this trade and have imported hundreds of them from abroad and also kept a large stock of Lake Superior stones. Vessel captains made big money in those days and spent their money much more freely in Marquette than they do now."

IN MEMORIAM.

Almira M. Kelsey, wife of Charles Kelsey, who entered into rest Tuesday evening, was the daughter of Rev. Daniel Ide, and was born at Wilson, Niagara county, N. Y., Nov. 8, 1839. Her earliest American ancestor was one of the Mayflower band. She was married to Charles Kelsey Nov. 29, 1870, and came to Marquette Aug. 31, 1879, where she and her husband have since made their home. She is survived by her husband, a son, C. H. Kelsey, of Milwaukee, and a daughter, Mrs. W. S. Hill, of this city.

The funeral will be held from the family residence, 612 Spruce street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. J. M. Rogers, of the First Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was a communicant, officiating. The pall bearers will be E. O. Stafford, F. H. Begole, D. E. Charlton, Dr. R. W. Boyer, M. J. NORTHERN STATE NORMAL SCHOOL
MARQUETTE

School Begins Monday, Sept. 26, '10

The Northern State Normal School admits graduates of approved high schools to the two years' course leading to life certificate and diploma. It offers courses leading to a three-year certificate, which is renewable for three years and valid in graded schools, and also a rural school certificate. Has excellent facilities for training teachers for special work in Kindergarten, Music, Drawing and Nature Study. It has an exceptionally fine corps of teachers who are specialists in their departments, and its training school gives a splendid opportunity for the training of teachers. There is a splendid dormitory in connection with the school, which is an ideal home for the student. The building is lighted with electricity and heated with steam; the living rooms are large and pleasant; the dining room has a seating capacity of one hundred and fifty persons. The expenses are moderate. Students of the Northern Normal School who finish the life certificate course are given fifty-six hours' credit at the University of Michigan.
