

URGES WAR ON CROOKEDNESS OF EVERY KIND

Theodore Roosevelt Appeals for an Aroused Civic Conscience Which Will Unspringly Condemn Dishonesty in All Forms and in All Men, High or Low.

Such Manifestation of the Public Spirit an Essential Factor in the Campaign to Do Away With Special Privilege, He Declares in Speech at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 1.—Addressing an enthusiastic crowd of thousands of people who filled the great convention hall to the doors, Theodore Roosevelt here tonight delivered a speech dealing with honesty in public and private life. He said that honesty should not be made a party matter, and that the first man to attack a scoundrel should be a man in the scoundrel's own party.

Honesty Not a Party Matter.

"There are certain matters which should never be treated as party matters and foremost among these is the great and vital virtue of honesty. Honesty should be treated as a prime necessity to our success as a nation. The minute that a question of honesty as against dishonesty is involved, then we must all act together as Americans, without the slightest regard to party affiliations. Honesty is not a party matter; and the first man to attack a scoundrel of any party should be the honest man of that party. When in office, I always proceeded upon the theory that there would be no need of my opponents raising the cry of 'Turn the rascal out of office.' I would not call myself just as soon as by vigilant and intelligent industry, I could discover them.

"As we dealt with the crooked public officials, whether in Kansas or Oklahoma, so we dealt with the crooked private citizens, with the rich swindler in New York, with the Chicago man with the horse-thief or homicide in Indian Territory. We never attacked a man because he was a man of one political faith or another, because he did or did not possess wealth; and we never shielded him because he was poor or rich, because he belonged to any particular church or to any particular party. But I also wish you especially to remember that we never hesitated to shield him and stand up for him once we were convinced that he was improperly attacked. There is no greater foe of honesty than the man who, for any reason, in any way, attacks or seeks to attack, an honest man for a crime which he has not committed. Falsely accusing an honest man of dishonesty is an act which stands on the same level of infamy with that of the dishonest man himself; and it is no higher duty to attack the dishonest man than it is to extend to the honest man (albeit accused), and I should be ashamed to hesitate the fraction of a second longer in one case than in the other.

Denounces Political Crooks.

"Remember that honesty cannot be unilateral. Good citizens should cordially distrust the man who can never see dishonesty excepting in men of the class he dislikes. The reckless agitator who invariably singles out men of wealth as furnishing the only examples of dishonesty; and the equally unscrupulous but no more unscrupulous reactionary who can see dishonesty only in a blackmailing politician or a crooked labor leader; both stand in the same plane of obnoxiousness. You will never get honesty from politicians until you exact honesty from business men, on the one hand, and you brand yourselves as fools or as hypocrites if you say that the corporation owner, or the employer, is always the dishonest man and the wealthy man who corrupts the politician and never the politician who blackmails the corporation.

"Any man in his senses knows that there are plenty of corporations in this country who prosper by bribing legislators just as they prosper by swindling the public; and any man in his senses ought to know, in addition, that there are plenty of corrupt men of small means who, in legislative or other bodies, try to blackmail corporations—and try to blackmail other people as well. If they doubt this, let them look at the revelations of corruption in my own state—New York—and in yours, my hearers—here in Missouri; let them look at what has occurred in California and what has occurred in Illinois. For instance, one of theascalities developed by the recent investigation was the existence of a combination of legislators who blackmailed fishermen along a certain river, forcing them to pay to prevent legislation which would have interfered with their business.

"Corporations who do these kinds of things are, of course, the very men who, on the one hand, will blackmail a corporation, if they get a chance, and on the other hand, will cheerfully, if the chance occurs, sell themselves to that corporation against the interests of the public. Their corruption is more due to the action of the corporations than to the corruption of the corporations is due to their action; and evil, and not good, is done by the honest but misguided man who would persuade you that either fact is true. Our duty is to war with equal sternness against the corrupt man of great wealth and the small man who makes a trade of corruption; our fight is against both the swindling corporation

Appeals to Civic Conscience.

"We cannot afford to limit a campaign against corruption to those who happen to have a certain social status. We need laws which shall put the corporation out of business, so far as concerns corrupting the servants of the public and betraying the rights of the public. I believe that the great issue now before the people is the doing away with special privilege in all its forms; doing away with the power of the big corporation to control legislation in all its interests and to interfere in politics in order to secure privileges to which it is not entitled. But I regard the essential factor in this campaign as being an aroused civic conscience which will unsparingly condemn dishonesty in every form, and in every man, high or low. The reckless, would-be reformer, who, in speaking or writing, seeks to persuade us that we need pay heed to corruption only when it shows itself in the rich man, is doing as great a moral wrong as the fish man whose low moral standard tends to lower the moral standard of the whole community. The people of this country will get justice from the corporations only if they both do justice to them and rigidly exact it from them. Unless they do justice to rich men, they put a premium upon injustice and dishonesty among rich men. Let us hold them to the strictest accountability for any wrong-doing; but let us insist upon honesty in our own ranks, no less than theirs; let us war on crookedness of every kind in the man of small means as well as the man of large means. Let us judge each man by his conduct, and not by his social or financial condition."

ENORMOUS CROWDS GREET THE COLONEL

Roosevelt Cheered Continuously in Kansas City—He Classes Himself a "Progressive."

Kansas City, Sept. 1.—The people of Missouri today kept up with a vim the roar of enthusiastic welcome which followed Theodore Roosevelt everywhere in his wanderings through the West. The colonel was told that he was an insurgent through and through in a song which was sung in his honor at luncheon today, but he said it would be better to call him a progressive. The members of the Commercial club, which was entertaining him, cheered his definition of his political status. "It was raining hard when Mr. Roosevelt, after stopping at Kansas City, Kas., arrived here. After a parade and a luncheon in New York, he came to Kansas City, and he was met by the pupils. He wound up the day by making a speech to a throng that filled the great convention hall. His speech was about honesty in public and private life. The crowds everywhere were enormous and the colonel was cheered continuously.

Talks to Children About Lions.

At the school house Mr. Roosevelt told the pupils some stories of Africa. He talked about lions. He said: "When they were building a railroad, the construction was stopped two weeks because two lions ate up all the men. I think they ate about one hundred. The children liked the colonel's stories and did not want him to stop. Mr. Roosevelt's speech at the convention hall here tonight was the principal address of the day. In his speech at Kansas City, Kas., Mr. Roosevelt talked about honesty in public and private life, and the compensation of a federal workman's compensation act. At the Commercial club here three hundred men attended the luncheon. Among the guests were Governor Hadley of Missouri, Governor Stubbs of Kansas, Gifford Pinchot, James R. Garfield, Colonel R. Nelson, proprietor of the Kansas City Star, and Senator Bristow and Representative Madison of Kansas.

Greeted by 15,000 People.

Eighteen thousand persons stood up and cheered, serenaded and waved handkerchiefs as Mr. Roosevelt came on the platform at the Auditorium tonight. Two thousand others had been turned away. Paying a tribute to the American Republic, he reminded his audience that continental Europe was watching the American experiment in self-government with the greatest interest. He said: "If here in America we fail in our experiment of self-government we to us and we also to the other nations of the earth whom we will have robbed of the brightest hope they now have." The colonel and his party left tonight for Omaha.

VICE PRESIDENT SHERMAN WARNS AGAINST A DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

Enid, Okla., Sept. 1.—It was a straight old-fashioned Republican talk that Vice President Sherman tonight gave to a crowd gathered in front of the court house. The Democratic party spelled disaster, Mr. Sherman said, and he invited the voters who desired hard times to bring about the return to power of the Democratic organization. Former Congressman James E. Watson told at length of the promises which the Republican party had made and kept.

WISCONSIN CANDIDATE DROWNS IN FOX RIVER.

Frank T. Tucker, Sept. 1.—The body of Frank T. Tucker, assistant attorney general of Wisconsin and candidate for the Republican nomination of attorney general at next Tuesday's primaries, was fished from the Fox river here this morning. It is believed that he fell into the river during the night while making his way to a train.

HOKE SMITH "COMES BACK"; IS NOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 1.—Ex-Governor Hoke Smith "came back" politically today when he was nominated for governor of Georgia and endorsed for the presidency of the United States in 1912 by the Democratic state convention here. He was nominated by the vote of 233 to 78 over Governor Joseph Brown.

CHASE OSBORN WINNING MUCH NEW SUPPORT

Conducting a Whirlwind Campaign at Detroit, the Soo Man Is Now in Full Career in His Final Dash for the Republican Nomination for Governor.

He Talks at Factories and Elsewhere and Is Received Enthusiastically—His Organization Is Strong and He Expects to Carry Wayne by 10,000 Votes.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 1.—[Special.]—Backed by one of the largest and most effective organizations that has ever been perfected in Detroit for the support of a candidate for office, Chase S. Osborn is now in full career in his final dash for the Republican nomination for governor. His organization includes such men as Dr. Kennedy, who carried Wayne county for Bradley two years ago; Tom Navin, one of the strongest politicians here; Judge Jim Murfin, Bob Oakman and many officials in county and city, the whole leavened by practically the entire active force of Detroit newspapermen. Add to this effective machinery for getting out the vote the enthusiastic help for Osborn among the rank and file of the voters and the prediction of a 10,000 majority for him in Wayne county does not appear at all an unreasonable one.

Mr. Osborn's campaign of the factories and ward club meetings, begun yesterday, was continued today. Escorted by a train of automobiles, containing enthusiastic Detroit friends, he swept from meeting to meeting in rapid succession. Invariably he captured his crowds with the first words he uttered and held their closest attention to the end. In his points with clean cut strokes, except when they broke in on him with applause. The factory workers and voters have become accustomed to political speakers this week, but it was remarked of the Osborn meetings that they produced a quality of enthusiasm not hitherto revealed at Detroit.

Muselman-Kelley Alliance.

The Muselman-Kelley alliance is in fine working order. It's a fine game, from the Kelley viewpoint. The Kelley lieutenants are devoting much of their time in districts where the anti-administration feeling is strong to the task of trying to persuade the voters that Muselman is really in the running, the object being to divert anti-administration votes to Muselman, whom the Kelley forces know hasn't a chance, and thus take them away from the anti-administration campaign entered into by the party which the Kelley camp is unable to sleep of nights.

With the idea of carrying out this plan the Kelley press bureau lays away on the string that Osborn has talked himself out, and the Muselman people sing the chorus of the lie. It is because it sounds good to them and they like to believe it. But get a Kelley man aside and have a heart to heart talk with him and he admits that Muselman isn't "one, two, three" and that it will take a deal of luck and a sweeping change of sentiment by the party to pull the lieutenant governor out ahead of Osborn.

Sectional Attack a Boomerang.

Mr. Kelley has staked his whole fortune on the efficacy of attacks on the upper peninsula as a political appeal to the lower Michigan voter—this with a reckless disregard of the fact that the upper peninsula had to save Warner two years ago next November and that 1910 promises to be much more of a Democratic year than 1908. His argument in his attempt to coin sectional prejudice into Kelley votes goes the limit, and then several miles beyond. That it will carry much weight is improbable, in the light of the hard work the Detroit Merchants and Manufacturers' association and other lower state commercial bodies have been doing to improve relations between the two peninsulas, and the general understanding that Michigan's tax problem is one that is going to have a thorough overhauling, no matter who is elected governor. Much of the misrepresentation of Mr. Osborn in connection with this mining issue has been so gross as to defeat its own purpose.

COAL MINING DISPUTE TO BE REFERRED TO ROOSEVELT.

Pittsburg, Sept. 1.—The legal and industrial entanglements of the miners and operators of the Irwin and West Moreland fields will be submitted to Theodore Roosevelt when he comes here Sept. 10. This was announced by District President Francis Feehan, of the miners, today after he had been arrested with five other local officers in connection with the actions brought in the county courts against eighty-seven miners and officials by seven coal companies interested in the affected districts. The attorneys for the operators who have filed the suits against the striking miners, which suits charge conspiracy in preaching sedition against the laws of the state and the nation, declare that these suits are the first of their kind to be filed in the United States.

CALIFORNIA CONGRESSMAN IS OUT AGAINST CANNON.

Fresno, Cal., Sept. 1.—Congressman J. C. Neesham announced today that in the event of his re-election he will not vote for Joseph Cannon for speaker.

The Weather

Washington, Sept. 1.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Fair, Friday and Saturday; moderate temperature.

OHIO GRAND JURY INDICTS MANY ALLEGED LYNCHERS.

Newark, O., Sept. 1.—The Licking county grand jury in a report filed here today, places the responsibility for the lynching of "Dry" Detective Carl Etherington July 8 on the then mayor of Newark, sheriff of Licking county and chief of police of Newark, all of whom have resigned or have been deposed. Fifty-eight indictments were returned in connection with the lynching. Twenty-five of the defendants are charged with murder in the first degree, twenty-one are accused of rioting, ten of assault and two of perjury.

TRADING'S NARROW AND PROFESSIONAL

Wall Street Uneasy Over Developments in the Political and the Industrial Situation.

New York, Sept. 1.—The amount of business done in the stock market today was swelled considerably over yesterday's total. The first hour's dealings, in fact, crossed the day's total recorded yesterday. This increase in activity by no means brought the dealings into a state of animation. The overwhelming preponderance of the transactions in Reading, United Pacific and United States Steel showed the professional character of the market and how little changed it was in that respect.

The entire stagnation of the demand for securities in itself serves encouragement to an attack by the bears in the speculative market. Various incidents in the day's news were cited also in support of this action. A movement of the prices in either direction was welcomed by the board room traders as a relief from the unprofitable stagnation and they joined freely in the day's movement. The reports from the Pacific coast were stagnant yesterday, but the speech was used, nevertheless, as a means of reviving the easiness on the political prospect, including the proposed further tariff revision and the intended agitation against corporations.

The position for the day was freight charges are to be acted upon after the conclusion of the hearings now in progress and the fear that the necessity for retrenchment increases may be encouraged and strengthened by the report of the railroad earnings for that period. This was made the subject of discussion today. Reports for retrenchment which faces the railroads in order to conserve their net earnings and yield a profit on operations. The restriction of projects of improvement and the cutting down of the outlay as far as possible were admittedly on the program for future months.

ROCK ISLAND ROAD EXAMINED AT THE CHICAGO HEARING.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Testimony relative to the operating cost and the revenues of the Rock Island railroad occupied the attention of the interstate commerce commission examiners at the hearing today of the dispute between the railroads which seek an increased freight rate on certain commodities and the shippers who oppose the advance. Vice President E. O. Melcher, of the Rock Island, was on the stand throughout the morning. The afternoon session was taken up with statistics relating to the financial condition of the road and the cost of operation. The mass of statistics was too great for the representatives of the shippers to undertake the cross-examination of the witness without preparing earlier to give them time to prepare questions.

COPENHAGEN SOCIALIST CONGRESS BREAKS UP IN CONFUSION.

Copenhagen, Sept. 1.—At the international socialist congress today, the question of a union between the socialist and the socialist labor parties was discussed at length. DeLeon, on behalf of the socialist labor parties, asked the representatives of the socialists in the United States whether they were prepared to seriously confer on the question, which he heretofore had declined. Morris Hillquit, of New York, and Victor Berger, of Milwaukee, both spoke in favor of a union. A violent dispute followed among the representatives of the two American bodies. The meeting finally broke up in confusion.

HORSE RACES POSTPONED.

Readville, Mass., Sept. 1.—The Grand Circuit races today were postponed on account of rain.

POSTAL BANKS TO OPEN DOORS VERY SOON

Between Twenty-Five and Fifty of the New Savings Institutions Will Begin Operations in as Many Sections of the Country by the First of November.

Instead of a Passbook, to Be Issued to Depositors, the Trustees at Work on the Details of the System Decide Upon the Use of Perforated Cards

Washington, Sept. 1.—The trustees of the postal savings bank system are arranging to install between twenty-five and fifty banks in as many sections of the country by the first of November.

The service at first afforded will necessarily be limited, in as much as congress appropriated only $100,000 with which to inaugurate the whole system. Out of this sum the preliminary expenses, such as providing forms, stamps and instructions, must be paid. There will be little left for any other purpose. The trustees believe, however, a few banks can be financed out of the sum and these will be installed purely as experiments. As soon as it is determined how much additional help will be needed in the various post offices and how great will be the cost of operating, congress will be asked for more money. In the course of time it is arranged the whole system shall be self-sustaining. Only 2 per cent will be paid on deposits and the banks and trust companies, acting as depositories for the funds collected by the government, will be required under the law to pay 2 1/2 per cent interest on the amount of 1 per cent will represent the only profit the government will make, and this will go entirely toward maintenance and reserves.

Instead of locating the first twenty-five or fifty banks in the twenty-five or fifty largest cities of the country, the trustees probably will pick out twenty-five or fifty sections of the country where industrial conditions are varied. This will be done for the purpose of testing the efficiency of the new banking system and of determining the response which may be expected on the part of the different classes of people served.

An improvement in the continental system of issuing passbooks to depositors will be inaugurated by this government. Instead of the book as provided by the private banks, a card will be issued to the depositor showing by perforation the amount of money deposited. This card will be a duplicate of a similar one perforated at the same time and kept in the postoffice, the latter to furnish an absolute record of the funds deposited. Should a card be lost by the depositor a duplicate may be obtained upon application to the office issuing the original.

It will be made perfectly plain these cards are non-transferable and non-negotiable. They cannot be traded in or passed about as legal tender. They must be held by the party making the deposit and presented by that party when it is desired to withdraw any or all of the funds deposited.

A machine similar to a cash register in operation will be used to punch the deposit cards. This means the record will be mechanically accurate, and, since both the depositor's card and that held by the government are punched by the same act, no discrepancy can exist. The committee of postal experts is still meeting day and night in an effort to perfect the new system. The experts expect to be able to lay most of the details before Postmaster General Hitchcock upon his return to Washington this month. He will, in turn, call an early meeting of the trustees to approve of the preliminary work.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—In the monthly settlement today, more than two and a quarter million bushels of wheat were delivered to commission traders, many of whom proceeded to resell in the pit. Such a heavy load forced the September to the largest discount at any time this season—ten a quarter cents below the May—and left the market at the close 3/4 to 1/2 lower. There was no lack of buyers of wheat, and the market was increased fully 900,000 bushels compared with a small gain a year ago; the Bulgarian crop was reported 20,000,000 bushels larger than twelve months previous, and there were dispatches asserting that Russia and Roumania were under-selling America. In addition, the drought in Argentina was said to be broken. On the other hand, it was asserted that export sales had been made at Duluth and there was a late show of strength at Liverpool. The close was steady. The September closed at 103 1/2; the December opened at 103 1/2; highest, 103 1/2; lowest, 103 1/4; closed, 103 1/2.

CORN CLOSED 1/2 LOWER TO 3/4 HIGHER.

The trade was still a bit nervous as to the possibility of frost damage. The country, however, was selling a little more freely. The September showed a net gain of 3/4, but the business in that delivery was small. Cash corn was firm. The December opened at 57 1/2 to 57 3/4 and closed at 57 1/2 to 57 3/4. Oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 higher. The market was active and higher because of evidence of liberal purchases by Eastern dealers who are holding cheap storage and who hedge grain here mainly for the December and the May. The December opened at 36 1/2 to 36 3/4 and closed at 36 1/2 to 36 3/4.

BANK'S MISSING CASHIER IS CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

CUSTOMS OFFICIALS RETURN ALLEGED SMUGGLED JEWELRY.

New York, Sept. 1.—Mrs. I. Reynolds Adriance, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., charged with smuggling, satisfied the customs authorities today that the jewelry valued at $100,000 seized when she arrived here Sunday was not purchased abroad. It was released, as was a $2,000 necklace taken from her daughter, Marion. The lot released does not include the $6,000 pearl necklace which Mrs. Adriance had concealed in her hat. She is still held.

BITTER CLASHES MARK THE LEE BROWNE TRIAL

Several Times the Courtroom Is in an Uproar and One Attorney Is Fined.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Amid scenes of ill-feeling between the lawyers, during which Attorney Charles Erbsstein, for the defense, was fined $50 for contempt, State's Attorney Wayman concluded his opening argument in the Lee O'Neil Browne bribery trial today. Attorney W. F. Forest, counsel for Browne, will open tomorrow. Mr. Wayman declared that the defense had used perjured testimony in the case and had purposely gotten Detective Keeley into bed before playing Keeley on the stand. "You died when you said that," shouted Attorney Erbsstein, shaking his fist at Mr. Wayman. Judge Kersten ordered a fine of $50. Several times the courtroom was thrown in an uproar by the clashes between the lawyers and the bailiffs experienced difficulty in restoring order.

FORMER PROVINCIAL GOVERNOR STARTS REVOLT IN PHILIPPINES.

TREASURY HEAD CLEARS THE WAY BANKS MAY ISSUE $500,000,000 OF EMERGENCY MONEY AT THE FIRST SIGN OF STRINGENCY.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Secretary MacVeagh's ruling on the term "contingent paper" in the treasury department's interpretation of the emergency currency law became known in full import today. The way is made clear for the banks to put into circulation $500,000,000 of emergency currency at the first dawn of stringency. The law provides that the commercial paper upon which the emergency paper may be issued shall include only notes representing actual commercial transactions, which notes shall bear the names of at least two responsible persons and shall have not more than four months to run. A large proportion of the banks hold notes which were bought from brokers. The notes bear only the name of the maker. Secretary MacVeagh has decided that the endorsement of the holding bank upon such notes will constitute the second endorsement that the law calls for. The secretary holds that notes issued by reputable persons for the carrying on of bonafide business and which are discounted at the banks represent actual commercial transactions and are distinct from what is known as accommodation paper. The latter is strictly barred as emergency currency.

GOVERNMENT FINANCES SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Washington, Sept. 1.—With a decrease of $3,273,325 in the public debt and a total deficit of $17,371,468.08, the United States treasury closed the second month of the fiscal year, keeping on an even keel, all circumstances considered, with a working balance of $29,830,657.23 on hand and the general fund down to $89,522,207.59. The deficit is around ten millions under what it was a year ago. The receipts so far this year are over $113,000,000 and are $5,000,000 better than those of the preceding year.

Berlin, Sept. 1.—The emperor's autumn review on Tempelhof field of the garrison of Berlin and Potsdam, a thirty thousand men, took place today—the anniversary of the battle of Sedan in 1870 when the German army of 250,000 soldiers commanded by William I overthrew the monarchy under Napoleon III.

NEW YORK CITY SHOWS BIG GAIN IN POPULATION

American Metropolis Now Has 4,766,883 People, Compared With 3,437,302 Ten Years Ago—This an Increase of 1,329,581, or Nearly 39 per Cent.

Of All the Great Cities of the World, London Alone Leads Her—The Others So Far Behind That None Are Likely to Catch Up in Many Decades.

New York, Sept. 1.—The census returns of Greater New York are 4,766,883, an increase of 1,329,581, or 38.7 per cent, compared with a population of 3,437,302 in 1900.

While New York, according to the English returns of 1909, is still 2,682,857 souls behind London in the race for the honor of being the world's greatest city, she is so far ahead of the other great cities of the globe that there is little likelihood of any of them catching up with her in many decades. The census of 1909 showed Greater London's population to be 7,429,740, as against 6,581,372 in 1901. That New York is slowly catching up with London is shown by the fact that in eight years London's increase has been 848,568, while New York's for ten years has been 1,329,581.

Car Repairing Concern's Former Chief Clerk So Testifies in Illinois Central Case.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The case against Frank Harriman, John M. Taylor and Charles L. Ewing, former Illinois Central officials, charged with conspiracy in connection with the Illinois Central car repair frauds, was still in progress in the municipal court today. Counsel for the railroad declared that an effort was being made to connect the defendants with the Memphis Car company, one of the concerns charged with extensive repair frauds against the Illinois Central. The railroad lawyers said that they considered the evidence given today by Clarence H. Polley, formerly chief clerk for the Ostermann company, as indicating that such connection existed.

Curtiss, the aviator, today drove his bi-plane over the water from Cedar Point to Euclid Beach, sixty miles, completing the 120-mile round-trip flight record yesterday and establishing a world's record for over-water flights. He beat the train to Cleveland seventeen minutes. The actual distance traversed, as estimated at the United States hydrographic office, was sixty-four and three-fourths miles. Fifty thousand people at the beach surrounded him and insisted on shaking hands. He was rescued by the police. The aviator answered difficult questions in the treacherous air currents above Lake Erie.

There will have to be agreement that Colonel Roosevelt's political creed is much more progressive than reactionary.

There will be several hundred candidates for office in the primaries at Detroit, and all of them are getting in their last says this week. Pity the Detroit.

The way to split the money that the agricultural society has appropriated for baseball at the fair is in three good-sized purses, so that each team participating in the series will be able to defray its expenses and have something left. Baseball has been an expensive proposition in this county this year, and the fair series should be so arranged that all the teams' treasuries will be helped, rather than further hurt. The proposal to put all the prize money in one purse sounds like the talk of a "sure thing" gamster.

Chase S. Osborn wound up his Grand Rapids campaign Tuesday evening with an address in the Powers theater. It was presided over by O. H. L. Wernicke, who came within a few votes last spring of defeating Mayor Ellis for the Republican nomination, and who is one of the strongest men active in public life in Grand Rapids. Mr. Osborn's warm and approving welcome. He has an aggressive organization in Grand Rapids, led by Mr. Wernicke, and will poll a large vote in that city. Some of his more optimistic friends expect him to carry it, but concede that Mr. Musselman will get the most votes in Kent county. However, Mr. Osborn's campaign in Kent has been so thoroughly organized and has progressed so auspiciously that the "favorite son" candidate promises to be badly disappointed by the returns, even if he does lead the field in his home county.

The Houghton Gazette, in its article on "Townsend's Visit," which The Mining Journal reprinted yesterday, did not flatly endorse Representative Townsend for the office of senator, but it came mightily near doing so. The article indicates that there is, in the Gazette's editorial sanctum, a substantial admiration for the fine gifts of oratory and mind of the popular candidate to succeed Senator Burrows, and gave indubitable evidence that he made a profound impression on Houghton county, which, the Gazette suggests, is likely now to give him a majority, whereas a few weeks ago it was estimated to be good for anywhere from 2,000 to 4,000 majority for Burrows. Now if Representative Townsend made such a striking impression in Houghton county that hundreds of men who heard him took their coats off and started out to push his campaign, there can be no doubt that his entire canvass has been attended by similar results, though the enthusiasm may have been particularly marked in Houghton county. No wonder, in the light of the success of Representative Townsend's upper peninsula trip, the Burrows' camp is restless, uneasy and apprehensive of a bad upset on primary day. The situation does not, for a fact, look promising. The political barometer is low; there may be more stormy weather ahead for "dyed in the wool" stand patters.

Colonel Roosevelt and Senator Burrows were so often at odds when the former was president, and the senator was so infrequently in agreement with the colonel's legislative plans until such time as he had pushed them through to a point where their success was assured, that it comes as no particular surprise to find the colonel, as he expresses himself in his Osawatimie speech, absolutely opposed to the senator's views of what a campaign publicity law should be. It will be recalled that Senator Burrows had an important hand in the emancipation of the bill providing for publicity of campaign contributions and expenditures of candidates for congress. He stood out against a provision requiring publicity before elections, and helped to secure the report of a measure providing for publicity only after the elections were out of the way, and the publicity could have no more than an academic interest. It will also be recalled that Senator Burrows vigorously defended this emancipated measure. It is an interesting fact that Colonel Roosevelt touched on this very point at Osawatimie, and this is what he said: "The direct primary is a step in the right direction if it is associated with a corrupt practices act effective to prevent the advantage of the man willing recklessly and unscrupulously to spend money over his more honest competitor. It is particularly important that all money received or expended for campaign purposes should be publicly accounted for not only after election but before as well."

POPULARITY OF NATIONAL FOREST
Before the year's outing season is over nearly half a million persons will have sought recreation and health in the national forests of the United States. According to the record of the department of agriculture, the total last year was in close figures 406,775. With the finest mountain scenery and much of the best fishing and big-game hunting in the United States, the National Forests, made more and more accessible each year through protection and development by the government, are fast becoming great national playgrounds for the people. The use of the forests for recreation is as yet in its beginning, but is growing steadily and rapidly—in some of the forests at the rate of a hundred per cent per annum. The days seem not far distant when a million persons will annually visit them.

The sportsman finds his paradise in the national forests. In many of them big game abounds. A record of 9,218 miles of trail cut, 1,236 miles of road laid out, and 4,851 miles of telephone line strung tells what the government has done in the way of pushing the conveniences of civilization into the primeval forest. The day of the wilderness of the savage and the pioneer is swiftly passing; the day of the national forests as productive resources and as national parks approaches.

PRESIDENT AND COLONEL.
A financial paper publishes a Beverly dispatch to the effect that while President Taft has had no comment to make on the incidents of Colonel Roosevelt's progress through the west, the members of his political household have followed them with ill-concealed interest, if not concern. The same dispatch notes that whereas some fifty or more press correspondents are traveling in the colonel's train, the last time President Taft went afield his retinue of newspaper men contained the representative of one of the press associations and but one special correspondent. And Beverly is said not to have been pleased with the way the newspapers handled the president's letter to Representative McKinley. It did not, in Beverly's opinion, get the display it was entitled to.

There is reason for concern in recent happenings lest there is to be, at some time in the not distant future, a rift in the friendship existing between president and colonel. It would be a regrettable and lamentable development. Still it is hard to see how some friction is to be avoided. President Taft is above narrow jealousy, of course, but he regards himself, naturally, as the titular leader and head of the party, and here is the colonel talking as if he was some shucks at leader, too. Nor is there much probability that the colonel will retire from the limelight. Indeed it seems decided that he will appear more prominently in it shortly than even on his present trip. The Saratoga convention is not far ahead. There is coming to be more hope than confidence that the president and colonel will not clash.

A CAMPAIGN JOKE.
One of the latest campaign tricks is a handbill which has been received through the mails by many voters in Marquette, and doubtless also in other cities of the upper peninsula. This handbill, which is enclosed in an envelope marked "personal," carries the solemn assurance that Mr. Osborn has talked himself out and is no longer a factor in the gubernatorial campaign. Therefore, to avoid the dire contingency of wasting his vote, the person addressed is urged to make his choice between Kelley and Musselman.

He Strayed from Camp.
While, of course, it is impossible to fix definitely the source of this production, a guess that it comes from Kelley's Detroit headquarters is probably not far out of the way, for Mr. Musselman's lieutenants have been buying them selves with the circulation of an entirely different class of campaign literature. The advice to vote for either Kelley or Musselman is fine stuff for the lieutenant governor, for no matter which of the suggested alternatives the voter who is influenced by it accepts Pat wins. If he turns to Kelley, Pat gets a whole vote; if he turns to Musselman Pat gets half a vote.

There is no mistake in the minds of Mr. Kelley or his principal advisers as to the man he has to beat. It is Chase S. Osborn. Whether he has gained or lost votes the past few weeks, Mr. Musselman is now no more in line for landing the nomination than he has been at any previous time. If he is being played up a little more prominently and appears to be taken more seriously than was the case a few weeks ago, it is because the Kelley people have been investing him with a false importance, with the idea of having him attract voters that Kelley can't get under any circumstances and that are going to Osborn if they don't go to Musselman.

LOWER STATES NOTES.
PONTIAC—Ferdinand farm plot in Royal Oak village is one of the real estate ventures which did not materialize. The land was platted and the plot recorded. This was in 1902, but none of the lots were sold. Now the owner, Mrs. Sarah J. Porter, wants to get rid of the plot and retain or sell the farm as it was originally. To do so she has been compelled to file a bill in chancery, praying that the plot be vacated. A long legal process will be necessary before the land can be restored to the original farm.

PORT HURON—John Slavin, aged thirty-seven years, was drowned in Black River. Slavin was a member of the Lake Seaman's union and returned from the Soo but a few days ago. He divested himself of his clothing, although bystanders remonstrated with him, and swam out to the center of the river. He disappeared within a few seconds. The police are inclined to the suicide theory, but his family claim he was always fond of the water. The body was recovered.

VERNON—Lloyd Jones, about ten years old, with some other boys was playing around the grain elevator here while a railroad freight car was being loaded with wheat from the elevator, when he fell into the bin from which the wheat was being taken. The wheat was ten feet deep in the bin and the lad was drawn down by the suction of the moving wheat and buried out of sight in the grain. When the elevator man, Edwin Whelan, learned the boy was in the bin, he at once jumped in after him and succeeded in catching the boy's arm just in the nick of time, as in a few seconds more there would have been no help for him.

OWOSSO—Roy Walker, twenty-four years old, who lives west of the city, has brought suit for divorce against Mamie Walker, twenty-one years old, on the ground of extreme cruelty. He says that Mamie stayed in bed mornings and he was forced to get his own breakfast or go without. He also says she has a violent temper, but he could stand this and other things, except being forced to get his own breakfast. The couple have been married about two years.

HOLLAND—In a personal letter to a relative in this city Richard Post, the former real estate man, writes that no matter whether he should be liberated from the jail in Mexico or not he is determined to come home and face the forger charges. He says he is anxious to have the whole matter settled and has no desire to spend time in a Michigan prison. He is still held in the prison at Monterey and Sheriff Andre is waiting for the Mexican officials to honor certain extradition papers he has secured. As soon as this is done he intends to start for Mexico and bring Post back.

PONTIAC—Through a petition for divorce filed by Mrs. Nettie Beckman, of Birmingham, it appears that she and P. Beckman divided the house owing to frequent quarrels. The contract which was formally entered into provided that Beckman should have the use of the parlor, pantry and kitchen and Mrs. Beckman the rest of the house. Neither was to invade the other's quarters and Mrs. Beckman alleges that the agreement was broken by Beckman, because of which she has been compelled to seek divorce.

CORUNNA—Shiawassee county authorities will ask Attorney General Kulu to explain in detail his opinion regarding the keeping of liquor in lockers in dry counties by members of an incorporated club. The authorities are interested in ending the activities of a club incorporated a few weeks ago to do business in a rented room in an Owosso hotel. The club has about 200 members who pay $2 each a year for their locker.

HOLLAND—Factory No. 2 of the West Michigan Furniture company will be shut down for several days, 200 men will be out of work and a loss entailed of several thousand dollars all because of the runaway of a pair of horses. A team of horses standing near the factory suddenly took fright and ran. The wagon to which the animals were attached struck a guy wire which led up to the smokestack to fall, crashing upon the roof. When the smokestack fell, in some manner it disarranged the automatic springing apparatus and the factory was flooded. The damage cannot be estimated at the present time, but it is said to be heavy.

OWOSSO—Charles Fallis is serving fifteen days in the county jail drunkness and as this is a dry county the people are thoroughly aroused over this latest violation of the liquor law. The conditions are becoming more serious every day and violations are frequent. Mayor Birke, who is a former saloon-keeper, made a public statement telling the citizens that he desired their aid in stamping out the evil and requested them to swear out warrants where violations of the law came to their notice. He said that they need not appear in court on the complaint and that their identity would be kept secret. The mayor added that he wanted the persons violating the law prosecuted.

DETROIT—The common council heard which used to spread over his lordship's chest.

A good story is told apropos of Earl Spencer's red beard.
The earl, as lord lieutenant, was watching a shooting match at the Dublin rifle range, when he was accosted by a pert looking messenger boy.
"Please, sorr," he said, "Misther — is waitin' to speak wid you. He sez, wid yez come at wance."
"Are you not making a mistake, my lad?" asked the earl.
"No, your honor," answered the boy with inconceivable frankness. "I was tould to look for the man wid the ginger whiskers."—M. A. P.

THE STATE PRESS.
Senator Burrows should retire because he is out of touch with the times in which men who are doing things are living.—Muskegon News Chronicle.

Lansing, according to the census, is twice as large as it was ten years ago. If all the candidates for the legislature are nominated and elected this fall it will be found five times as large.—Grand Rapids Evening Press.

In a "war" between Roosevelt and Sherman there is no question as to whom the winner would be.—Kalamazoo Telegraph.

As predicted, the scare died down and the Johnson-Jeffries fight pictures are being shown almost everywhere.—Pontiac Press-Gazette.

If Chase Osborn fails to land the Republican gubernatorial nomination it will be through no fault of his. As a "welkin ringer" Chase is a huge success.—Jackson Citizen Press.

Chase S. Osborn says that if elected governor he is going to give the office-holders in the capital a shaking up. Probably means a ride on a Lansing street car.—Flint Journal.

A LAUGH OR TWO.
Not by an Alien.
It was a little Cleveland boy, American born, who rebelled fiercely when his Italian father whipped him for some misdemeanor.

"But, Tony, your father has a right to whip you when you are naughty," said his teacher, in an effort to uphold parental authority. Tony's big eyes flashed.

"I'm a citizen of the United States," he declared. "Do you think I'm going to let any foreigner lick me?"—Harper's.

Almost Universal Prayer.
"Among the late Bishop Foss' anecdotes about prayer," said a Philadelphia Methodist, "there was one concerning a very original Norristown preacher.

"This preacher, in the course of a long prayer one Sunday night, recounted the many misfortunes and evils that had befallen him in the course of his long life.

"Thou hast tried me with affliction, with bereavement, and with sorrow of many kinds. If Thou art obliged to try me again, Lord, try me with the burden of wealth."—Detroit Free Press.

Nature's Fire Department.
Jap Miller and James Whitcomb Kelly, the Indiana poet, were firm friends, and since Kelly made Miller famous in one of his poems Jap has been called the mayor of Brooklyn, a small village where he runs a general store.

The other day Jap got a letter from a company that manufactures fire engines, inquiring what protection Brooklyn had against fire. Jap answered: "Rain."—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

Identifying an Aristocrat.
Earl Spencer was the first lord lieutenant of Ireland created by Mr. Gladstone and he has been a member of every liberal administration since then except the present. There is no doubt that, but for bad health, he would be a member of the present cabinet.

It was in the days of his lord lieutenantcy that he was nicknamed the "Red Earl," a title that has only fallen into disuse since age whitened the great red

Copper Country

STANDS HIGH IN THE LIST OF PIONEERS

Earl Edgerton of Portage Entry a Dweller in Copperdom Since September, 1854.

Earl Edgerton, the venerable but still active owner of Edgerton's dock at Portage Entry, today enters upon his fifty-seventh year as a resident on Portage lake, surely a record which places Mr. Edgerton high in the list of copper country pioneers.

He came to Portage Entry Sept. 1, 1854, and began at once to make a home there. He was married at LaNse Dec. 7, 1857, and he and his wife lived together for more than half a century.

Mr. Edgerton describes his first trip through Portage lake on that first day of September. He came up as far as the present site of Houghton. His boat was an old one and poorly constructed and he had to make repairs on it before he could return to the Entry.

Mr. Edgerton's residence cover the entire history of the copper country. He has seen this great district develop from a wilderness and hopes to see that development continue for some years.

FEWER MARRIAGES THE PRESENT YEAR

Nineteen Hundred and Seven Still Holds the Houghton County Nuptial Mating Record.

"It was 1775 and hardly a man is now alive who remembers that famous day and year?" [Words taken somewhat lamely from "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere".]

There is a strong probability that the year 1907 will be sung in song and held in story a century hence as the great marrying year in Houghton county. Never before and never since have there been recorded so many nuptial contracts as in that famous twelfth month.

The marriage license clerk is hoping and praying that the record may be broken, but 1907 is still at the top of the home run column.

There were ninety-seven marriage licenses issued during the month of August just closed. In the same month in 1907 there were eighty-two. This was equalled in August, 1909, but the other months of 1907 were so prolific that this tie in one frame did not affect the total score.

Up to Sept. 1, this year, the record is 560 licenses. During the same time in 1907 it was 573. The year 1907 does not suffer by a single comparison in this matter of marriages.

PORTAGE LAKE GOLFERS.

Calverley Cup Team Goes to Duluth to Play Northland Club.

The members of the Portage Lake Golf club's Calverley cup team left last night for Duluth, where tomorrow they play the team of the Northland club. In connection with the match the Duluth News-Tribune says: "A team from the Portage Lake Golf club will come to Duluth Saturday morning to play the second match with a Northland Country club team in the series for the W. D. Calverley cup.

Among those who probably will represent the Duluth club are: E. J. Hopkins, Dr. M. B. Conroy, Ward Arnold, Jr., A. M. Miller, E. L. Finkenstead and W. W. Walker. R. T. Goodell of Duluth, formerly a member of the Portage Lake Golf club, will play with the visitors, and will add greatly to their strength. The copper country players will arrive in Duluth in the forenoon and will play a round before the match to accustom themselves to the Duluth course. Most of them will remain in Duluth until Labor day. The Duluth club lost the first match largely through the inability of several of its best players to complete the trip to Michigan. Little doubt is expressed on the outcome of the match Saturday. The local club expects to win this match without difficulty."

RED JACKET VILLAGE LUCKY.

Feeding Horses Hay at $16 to $18—Others Paying $25 Now.

The expenses of the village of Red Jacket in the fire department, the street department and every other department are being kept right down to the very lowest point. One case in point may be stated. Last December, almost a year ago, the village bought two carloads of hay, about 55,000 pounds, at from $16.50 to $18.50 per ton. This hay is only about half used up, and there is still enough on hand to last several months. Therefore the village teams are eating hay at $16.50 to $18.50 per ton while liverymen and others who own horses must pay $25 per ton. The amount saved, averaging for the eight to nine months since this consignment of fodder was purchased and taken into consideration the constant increase in the price of hay since that time, will amount to something more than $5 per ton, or close to $140.

MOVES FOR A NEW TRIAL.

J. I. LaBrecque of Baraga Pleads for Henry Forcia, Unfortunate.

Prosecuting Attorney O'Connor of Baraga county and Attorney J. I. LaBrecque of Baraga were in Houghton yesterday, arguing before Judge Streeter a motion made by Mr. LaBrecque. The motion asked for a new trial for Henry Forcia, recently convicted of a statutory offense. Prosecuting Attorney O'Connor opposed the plea.

HECLA CEMETERY REPAIRS.

The soliciting committees named by the representatives of the several Catholic societies of the Calumet district for the purpose of procuring funds to be expended in repairing the Hecla cemetery and building a new fence about the plot report raising $125, with indications that this sum will be materially increased before the next meeting. A contract for building the fence is to be let shortly. The grounds are to be beautified, bare trees and shrubbery will be planted. Hecla cemetery is the oldest burying plot in the community, and the remains of hundreds of the early settlers and pioneers have been interred there. The past few years, however, there have been few burials as the plot is somewhat crowded.

CALUMET GIRL INJURED.

Eliza Salma, a domestic employed by Mrs. George J. J. Salma, Seventh street, Red Jacket, was injured late Wednesday night by falling down the steps of the Finnish National church on Pine street. She had been visiting the church and in coming out in the dark did not notice the steps. She fell down the flight of twelve steps and was severely injured. She is being treated at the Calumet and Hecla hospital. The Calumet township board will be asked to put an electric light in front of the church.

Knowles, pastor of the Houghton Presbyterian church, will preside at the services.

Mining News

MIAMI INCREASES STOCK.

An increase of 100,000 shares or $500,000 has been authorized by stockholders of the Miami Copper company, thereby enlarging the present capital of $5,500,000. Prior to the increase 700,000 share capital, par $5, was held as follows: In hands of the public 603,244 shares, for bond conversion $4,880,000; unissued in treasury 117,756 shares, President Lewisohn says that $1,000,000 is necessary to put the property in shape for occupancy and production of a number of the mines, underwritten by the General Development company at $1 a share and offered for subscription at $1 to stockholders, will yield $1,020,000. There will remain in the company's treasury 51,000 shares which may issue at the option of the directors. Miami has 2,000,000 tons of ore on the dump. The mill under construction was designed to handle 2,000 tons daily, while foundations for an additional 1,000 tons have been laid. The main shaft will have a ultimate productive capacity of 5,000 tons per day.

In explaining the underground workings at the property, which now constitute about fourteen miles, J. Parks Chan ventured the prediction that the developed ore now stands at about 10,000,000 tons, as compared with 14,000,000 tons, his last previous estimate. Of this amount approximately 750,000 tons are contained in an "underground mountain" which at greater depth joins the main ore body. There will be three extra shafts to be sunk, one of 400 feet, one of 570 feet and third at 720 feet. One shaft will operate the property and this has been sunk to a depth of 750 feet. Mr. Chan expressed the belief that on Jan. 1 mill operations would commence. The mill, as now constructed, has four sections practically finished, while foundations have been laid for two additional sections. Approximately 750,000 tons of ore a year will be treated at the mill, if crowded, according to present plans. The shaft has been built with an eye for handling 2,000 tons every eight hours, or 4,000 tons with three shifts working. Mr. Chan figured for a stockholder that there is about twenty years' life in the mine at present, but there remains to be explored and developed a considerable acreage. Mr. Chan pointed out on a sectional view of the property, where there are probably 2,000,000 tons of ore. The hoisting will be accomplished by means of rebated compressed air, whereas Ray Consolidated will hoist by electricity.

UTAH COPPER.

The Utah Copper, Nevada Consolidated and Cumberland-Ely companies will shortly disburse a total of $2,447,420 as a result of current dividend declarations. Not all of this money will be paid to individuals as much of the stock of both the two latter corporations is held in the treasuries of other companies. Utah Copper owns 950,476 shares of Nevada Consolidated, the 1,987,800 shares issued. A full 98 per cent of Cumberland-Ely's 1,200,000 shares' capital is owned by Nevada Consolidated. The recipients of the money are as follows: Utah's goes direct to the company's shareholders; $358,420 of Nevada Consolidated's goes to Utah Copper and the balance to Nevada Consolidated shareholders; $127,112 of Cumberland-Ely's goes to Nevada Consolidated and the balance to minority shareholders. The only income which the Cumberland-Ely has at the present time is derived from its investment in the Nevada Northern Railroad company and the Steptoe Valley Smelting & Mining company. Cumberland-Ely and Nevada Consolidated are equal and joint owners of the entire capital stock of the Nevada Northern Railroad company, but in the final accounting Cumberland-Ely receives 50 per cent of the railroad's income exclusive of ore traffic, for Nevada Consolidated.

A NEW WAY OF COLORING WOODS.

The use of colored woods in the construction of furniture has long been known, the material being stained after the necessary seasoning process. Within the last few years, however, a method of Austrian origin has been employed whereby the wood is colored when it is green state. By means of heavy pressure in a closed vessel the sap is driven out of the wood and is replaced by the coloring fluid, which may consist of a solution of the more permanent aniline dyes. The best kinds of wood for treatment are found to be birch, beech, ash, plane, elm and lime oak, fir and pine being unsuitable because they do not stain uniformly. The colored wood is used for furniture making and for the manufacture of doors and window sashes. It can also be employed for outdoor purposes, in which case no painting is necessary, although a coating of varnish would seem to be necessary. For the fitting of ships, railway cars and similar purposes this stained wood appears to be eminently fitted—Harper's Weekly.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The suit of the North Butte Mining company against the Taubman company will get its first hearing Saturday, on a summary which has been filed.

Anaconda is developing a group of claims through the Right Bower shaft on the east side of the Anaconda Hill. Connections on several level have been made with the High Ore and Mountain Chief mines, and ore bodies in the Mountain Chief and Adelaide are being developed. The mine is also being extensively opened and developed, and work is being done on a number of levels with the High Ore. Operation of all these properties will be carried out through the High Ore, it being the policy of Anaconda to centralize mining operations whenever possible. The new Agnor shaft has reached a depth of 800 feet and will go to 2,200 where connections will be made with the old workings, stamplings being out at the 800 and 500 foot levels for pumps. The shaft is now going down at the rate of about eighty feet per month.

The large and costly surface plant at the Parrot property will probably not be used again for mining, as it has been found that it is more economical to work the Parrot mine through the Newnesaw and the Stewart shafts. The Little Mine nine of the Parrot company will also be worked through the Stewart shaft and connections are now being made from the Little Mine 1200-foot and other levels which will be completed within about six months. POISONOUS REPTILES.

While poisonous snakes are fairly abundant in some districts, they shun the cultivated areas. The rattlesnake prefers ledges in mountainous places, and is most in giving warning of its presence. The copperhead frequents the banks of overgrown meadows. It is not quarrelsome and glides away when surprised if escape is not out of the question. The treatment of snake bite should be prompt and vigorous. The first thing to be done is to tie a ligature tightly above the bite to prevent the circulation of the poisonous blood. The fang punctures must then be opened with a sharp knife and the lips applied to the wound, in order to as thoroughly drain it as possible. There is no longer if the mouth and lips are free from abrasions. Permanganate of potassium is applied as a wash, for this neutralizes the venom. The sportsman who goes into country known to be infested with dangerous reptiles should carry with him a tube of antivenomous serum, a Pasteur product, which is injected hypodermically after the fang punctures have been washed when the venom of the fang has been removed. Even with these precautions the bite of a venomous snake had best be followed by an immediate return to an efficient doctor. Though the measures following the bite of a poisonous reptile may form what looks like a sinister paragraph, there is little need to worry about dangers lurking in the woods and thickets. From his personal collecting experiences, when he was looking for just such reptiles in what appeared to be the most favorable places for them, the writer has usually found poisonous snakes to be rare—except in almost inaccessible districts that are never visited by summer tourists.—R. L. Ditmars in Collier's

CURES S. S. S. SKIN DISEASES

Lying just beneath the outer covering or tissue-skin, is a sensitive membranous flesh in which are imbedded thousands of small blood vessels. It is through these tiny veins and arteries that nutriment is supplied from the blood to the different pores, glands and lymphatics. Thus the skin is kept healthy, and free from all eruptions or disease, by pure blood. But when impurities and humors infect the circulation its nourishing properties are diminished and instead of supplying the skin with vital properties it constantly irritates and diseases the delicate fibres, pores and glands with sharp urtic matter. Then the skin tissues inflame, swell and ulcerate and some form of skin disease appears on the surface. Applying soothing lotions, salves, etc., to the outer eruptions does not purify the blood and therefore the skin trouble can not be cured in this manner. S. S. S. cures all skin diseases by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. It cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and inflamed by sour impurities is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S. TERM IN PRISON SHATTERS REASON

Jas. B. Gentry, Murderer of Actress Madge Yorke, Freed After Fourteen Years.

New York, Sept. 1.—James B. Gentry, once well known on the stage, who started Philadelphia fifteen years ago by shooting Madge Yorke, an actress, in Zeisze's Hotel, is now an inmate of a sanitarium at Amityville, L. I. He was sent there last week by George M. Cohen, the theatrical manager, after it was evident that the 14 years he had spent in Moyamensing prison, Philadelphia, had left him a mental wreck. Madge Yorke had at one time played in the same company as Gentry and he was made in love with her.

For twelve days the murder he was in Poughkeepsie with William Collier in "One of the Boys," and she was in Philadelphia with Charles T. Blaney's "The Juggage Check." Insane with jealousy, Gentry left his company one Sunday morning and hurried over to Philadelphia. He forced his way into Miss Yorke's room at her hotel, where she was talking to several other members of her company, asked her to marry him and on her refusal shot at her. She died almost immediately, but in the confusion no one tried to stop Gentry.

A CARMELITE PRIORRESS IN CHINA

Among recent events in China, the Golden Jubilee of a Carmelite priorress at Sienwei deserves a special mention. This Carmelite convent is the only one in China, and all the inmates follow the Tibetan reform. The nuns came to Shanghai as far back as 1809, the year before the Franco-Prussian War broke out. They lived for some time in a purely Chinese house till Dec. 8, 1874, when they moved into the monastery of St. Joseph, which they still occupy. The convent is on the banks of a canal, and about five minutes' walk from the world-renowned Jesuit observatory. The community is composed of present of twenty-eight sisters, of whom seventeen are native Chinese. Rev. Mother St. Dominick, the lady priorress, belongs to the pioneer batch of foreign nuns who reached the Far East a little more than forty years ago. Her family name is Cecilia Marais. She was born at Sable, a town in the department of Sarthe, France, and is now seventy-two years of age, forty-one of which she has passed in the China mission field. She entered the Carmelite order on Feb. 17, 1860, and having completed her fifty years of religious life, it was deemed fitting to celebrate the occasion by a public ceremony.

The life of a Carmelite nun, as your readers know, is given wholly to prayer, mortification and good works. Those of China have two hours of meditation daily. The canonical office of the Church is daily recited in the choir, and they fast every day from Sept. 14 to Easter. After Easter and during the severe summer heat, fasting is restricted to greens and the vigils of feasts. The cell is a model of austere poverty. The only stool they possess is the floor, while meagre, poor plain food is their daily fare. They have a garden and enjoy there the solitude of the desert. To each of these cloistered souls a certain number of novices and mission stations are entrusted, and it is owing to their devoted life, their holy prayers and self-denial that so many conversions are annually registered, and countless blessings obtained for the mission and its workers.

A VILLAGE FOR WOMEN

A model village, within the five-cent fare limit, built by women and conducted by them, where the poor may for the same price they now pay for a miserable, unsanitary court dwelling obtain a comfortable home, sunny, clean, sanitary, with a bit of garden where they may grow their vegetables and flowers. This is what is to be accomplished by Los Angeles women.

"We hope to make the village," said Mrs. Rindel. "It will be an example of what women may accomplish. As now outlined, the village will be built by clubs or individuals, each house to be marked with the name of the donor. If a man wishes to give a house let him name it for his wife. The house would, I believe, have to become the property of the city, but the government could enter it and remain with the women acting with the housing commission of the city."

SIMIAN ANCESTORS OF MANKIND

A man may have a gorilla, a chimpanzee, an orang-utan or a gibbon for an ancestor, according to Dr. E. M. Albers, a German biologist. In an article on the descent of man, published in the Zeitschrift, the New York Sun's London correspondent writes, Dr. Melchers presents a new theory, the essence of which is that mankind is divided into four great race groups, each of which is de-

Dr. Melchers ascribes the difficulty hitherto met in solving the missing-link problem and filling in the gap in the latter descent of man to the attempt to trace the human races to one parent stock. This, he says, is due to the Old Testament story of a single race surviving and impressing itself on modern evolutionary theories. Instead of searching for a single ancestral ape type it is necessary to find four of which the above named are representatives. Basing his argument on a large number of physical peculiarities both of men and apes, Dr. Melchers classifies men and apes in the following relations: From a gorilla type are descended the race which he calls West-Kongo-Guinea-Sudan-negro, the Bantus and the Zulus, the last two being mixed races, and also the fair-haired and red-headed North-American races, including the Finns, as well as the chimpanzee descent bush-men, Lapps, Bergers, some Turanian races, Iberians and Southern Europeans. The orang-utan is the ancestor of Tasmanians, Australians, Papuans and their kindred. The gibbon is the ancestor of the races known as Malays, as well as Malays, Polynesians and Siberians, descent from the gibbon. THE MOST BRILLIANT WOMAN. "The supreme distinction of being recognized as the most brilliant intellectual woman of her race belongs to Madame Curie," says the Woman's Home Companion. "This Polish scientist, who married the French savant, Professor Curie of the Sorbonne in Paris, has, in her early middle age, done wonderful things in that mystery branch of chemistry known as radio-activity. She shares equally with her late husband and Professor Becquerel the honor of having 'isolated' (discovered) that wonderful substance, radium, whose possibilities we have only now begun to suspect. During the past year, Madame Curie again scored a triumph by discovering another rare chemical element, which she has named (patriotic Pole that she is) polonium, a radio-active substance 5,000 times rarer than radium. Like all true scientists, Madame Curie is very modest and unassuming. She takes her great honors quietly and without ostentation. Some of her reserve may be due to early influences, for Maria Sklodowska, before she met the Frenchman whom she was to marry, had always been in the shadow of the head of the Russian host, and before the suspicious eyes of Russian officialdom. In the University of Warsaw, where her father was professor, she has often said that all the corridors had finger-posts pointing to Siberia. Polish professors know what radium means. Madame Curie is an effective lecturer, clear and distinct of utterance, and rigidly precise in her methods. She is an essentially womanly woman. Indeed, her way of combining sweet femininity with the precision of exact science is the marvel of all who listen to her fascinating lectures at the Sorbonne." THE ORIGIN OF THE KISS. Concerning the kiss and its origin opinions differ. Some view it as a relic of the kissing habit of one of the remains of emmaballia, and that its beginning was nothing more than the carnivorous impulse to bite. When primitive man gave a kiss he expressed an affection equal to his love for his food. The kiss meant, "I love you well enough to eat you." It is certain that kissing was one of the most ancient customs. It was current among the ancient Jews, and is well known among all Orientals. Nor is it to disappear. Exalted by the dying act of more than one historical hero, sung by all the poets from Solomon onward, the kiss is here to stay. The world could not do without it. Handel was nearly fifty years of age when he published the first of those musical compositions which have immortalized his name.

The wrestling will begin Monday afternoon, and will be discontinued Tuesday, because of the primary election. It will be resumed on Wednesday. No information as to the probable contestants could be obtained last evening.

Fitch Drama Coming—Adolph Eastman, business manager in advance of "The City," the last said to be the most powerful play written by the late Clyde Fitch, arrived in Marquette yesterday, accompanied by D. Solomon, advertising agent for the company. "The City" comes direct from the Lyric theater, New York, where it created a veritable sensation and ran for an entire season. It will be presented by an exceptional cast at the opera house on Saturday evening, Sept. 10.

Duck Shooting Legal—The duck season in Michigan opens yesterday and until Jan. 1. It is unlawful to kill more than twenty-five in one day or to have more than seventy-five in one's possession. A number of Marquette sportsmen have noticed ducks while out fishing the past week, and at times they are quite plentiful in the swamps and bayous, when there is rough weather on Lake Superior. The trout season is closed and the partridge season does not open until Oct. 1.

Prison Team Beaten—The prison nine was defeated by the Ishpeming league team yesterday afternoon by the score of 3 to 1 in a well played game. Dixon pitched for the prison team and Swanson, the twirling twirler, who slunk out the Marquette second team, was in the box for Ishpeming. Swanson showed up surprisingly well, throwing a nice ball and being very quick in throwing to bases. The Ishpeming management expects to work him in one of the fair games.

Cure for Drunken Husbands—One Marquette woman seeks to have found the proper recipe for successfully dealing with a drunken husband. The man in this incident got his month's pay yesterday, and the wife suspected that he was spending it wantonly in the saloons. So she followed him down town and found him coming out of a third parlor. She seized upon him without delay and forthwith marched him to Justice Byrne's office. The justice was somewhat surprised when he heard the complaint, especially as the man appeared to be thoroughly frightened. The court was by no means complacent, however, and decreed that the recalcitrant husband should forthwith turn over all his money to his faithful wife, which was done promptly, and the couple went home happy.

Reception Given by D. A. R.—The Marquette chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held an informal reception for its members yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. S. J. Mar, in honor of the state regent, Mrs. James P. Brayton of Grand Rapids, and of Mrs. Kendall Brooks, founder of the local chapter. The Daughters were pleased with a little talk from Mrs. Brayton in which she said that during her forty-year term of office the number of chapters in this state had nearly doubled, there being now thirty-five with an approximate membership of 1900. Among other things accomplished during her office was the presentation of an unusually handsome silk flag to the battleship Michigan, besides the placing of markers on many points of historic interest throughout the state. The Marquette D. A. R. chapter begins its year's work on Oct. 11, the subject of study being the Early History of Michigan, so it behooves any prospective members to see that their credentials are approved and filed with the proper officers.

Pays a Nice Dividend—
The officers of the Calumet Chemical works of Escanaba has declared a dividend of 10 per cent, payable at once. The company's plant has been in operation at Escanaba only since June 1, when it was removed from Calumet, and the present disbursement marks it as one of the best paying enterprises in the district. Practically all of the stock is owned in Escanaba.

Switchman to Lose a Leg—
John Powers of 321 North Fannie street, Escanaba, has been called to Chicago by the announcement of the serious condition of his son, John H. Powers, a Chicago & Northwestern railway switchman, who was recently injured in the railway yards at Chicago and one of whose legs will be amputated soon. It was at first thought that the unfortunate man's injured limb could be saved, but complications set in which have rendered amputation necessary.

A Notorious Soo Character—
An old, white-haired woman, bent with the weight of years, faced Judge Rummels this morning on the charge of begging on the streets, says the Sun News. She was plainly but neatly dressed and no one would have sized her for a vagrant. She was the famous Rosa DeGrai, who has been a frequent visitor at police headquarters for the past eight years and has served time in the Detroit house of correction. The court told her that he was undecided as to whether to sentence her to a term in Marquette or Detroit, and with tears running down her face she begged that she might be allowed to return to her home across the river. Rosa has promised time and again that she would never visit this side of the St. Mary's again, but the call of her old home has been too strong for her to resist taking a chance of escaping the vigilance of the officers. She was sent back to her cell to allow the court time to further consider the case. Rosa cannot go back to the Canadian Soo on the ferry any more, the officers refusing to allow her to land there, and she makes her trips across the river in a row boat in the still hours of the night.

Hemorrhage Causes Death—
As the result of an internal hemorrhage, Edward J. Guiek is dead at Sault Ste. Marie. He was ill three days. He was forty-eight years of age and had been a resident of Chippewa county for twenty-three years, twenty-two years of which was spent as station agent at Wellsburg for the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad. The deceased was an old railroad man and before taking charge of the station at Wellsburg had received an accident in the service which resulted in the loss of one of his legs. He was of a cheerful disposition and his friends were legion. He was an enthusiastic member of Red Cross lodge, No. 51, Knights of Pythias, and was a member of the degree team that won the upper peninsula and state championship. He would have been honored by election to an office in the society, but always refused, owing to the fact that he resided out of the city. About a year ago he resigned his position at Wellsburg for the purpose of accepting one at the transfer office in the Soo. He is survived by a wife and five children: Zenobia of Duluth, Mrs. Edward Boucher, Lansing, and Arbutus, Edward and Esther at home.

Russel Stock Company.

Before an appreciative and good-sized audience, the Edward Russel Stock company presented "The Man on the Box" at the opera house last evening. Mrs. Russel played the leading part in this play on its first presentation here a year ago, when the production was enthusiastically received. The presenting company last night did the best work of the week, and those who witnessed the play certainly got their money's worth. To-night the company appears in "The Lady of Lobster Square," a comedy that has been one of the successes from the English stage and which is said to be a laugh producer of the first magnitude. In speaking of this play a famous critic has said: "It has sixty laughs a minute and one ludicrous situation follows another so quickly that a person whose risibles are not tickled at it should consult a physician." "The Lady of Lobster Square" is well cast and mounted and as the program of the company increases at each performance, it should be the banner performance of the week.

Extra Money

All money is good, but there is nothing like EXTRA MONEY—that is, money that you receive over and above your regular income. This money you call "velvet." Its the same with the money you have left after your fixed expenses are paid. Don't spend the EXTRA MONEY—put it in the bank—this bank, and you will soon create an appetite for saving which will become a habit—a mighty good habit you'll find when you have a streak of "hard luck" and need the money.

FRANCE'S AEROPLANE INDUSTRY.

The aeroplane industry has developed in France with as much rapidity as did the manufacture of automobiles when the land machine was new. There are in France several well equipped aeroplane factories turning out machines to their full capacity. A little more than a year ago there were fewer than 100 aeroplanes in all Europe, principally in France. Statistics of constructors show that since the first cross-channel flight M. Bleriot has built 250 duplicates of the monoplane with which he crossed from Calais to Dover, and M. Farman has manufactured at his works more than 100 biplanes. Other types bring the French production up to about 800, which have sold for approximately $2,500,000. The small Bleriot sold at first for $2,000, but after its success in crossing the Channel the price was raised and the latest types now cost from $3,100 to $5,100. The catalogue prices of other important makes are: For the Farman, $5,000; for the Voisin, $4,000; for the Antoinette, $5,000; for the Wright, which is manufactured here under an agreement with the inventor, $5,000, and for the Sommer machine $5,000.

Prescott, our own great historian, was blind, as were Homer and Milton, and Sir Walter Scott wrote raked with pain.

RANGERS NEEDED IN FOREST AREAS

Bad Fires Might Easily Be Prevented—One Case Recalled by Pinchot's Statement.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Gifford Pinchot's angry bill against Western statesmen like Senator Heyburn and Carter for not fighting for fires instead of the people receives attention to the situation in every state in the Union where trees grow. The states of course have forest reserves in this line, but the experts say that the weakness of the state system is that while as a rule it provides for the employment of men who fight fires after they have started, little or no provision is made for a permanent fire patrol.

One of the strong points of the Weeks forest reserve bill, which probably will pass the senate next winter, is that it starts off with a provision for forest-fire protection. The sum of $200,000 is appropriated by the bill to enable the secretary of agriculture to cooperate with any state or group of states, when requested to do so, in the protection from fire of the forested water-sheds of navigable streams. He is authorized, on such conditions as he deems wise, to agree with any state or states to cooperate in the organization and maintenance of a fire protective system on any private or state forest lands within the State and situated upon the watershed of a navigable river. It will be necessary first, however, that the state shall establish a protective system of its own, for the bill expressly provides that no arrangement shall be made with any state that has done nothing for itself.

Fire in the White Mountains. An example near home shows the value of a fire patrol and the unfortunate results of having none. In Bethlehem, N. H., on the slope of Mt. Theodore Thomas on the road to Franconia, is the summer home of the widow of the great musician. The place is a few hundred yards off the main travelled road, and while not elaborate, is a mecca for summer visitors because of the charming "German garden" which Mrs. Thomas tends with loving care, and because also the little shelf of land over which the lawn extends affords one of the finest views of the Franconia range to be had in the mountains. The noble Lafayette and castellated Mt. Garfield are directly opposite, while the entire sweep of the vista across the valley of the Gale river extends from Moosilauke on the west to the North and South Twin and even beyond to the base of the Presidential range.

A few years ago Mrs. Thomas, busily tending her flowers, noticed a slight curl of smoke in the woods near the base of Lafayette. It burned doggedly, but not increasingly, for several days, and, as Mrs. Thomas in describing the incident, said recently to a party of friends, "A man might have put it out with a bucket of water or the sweep of a brush." But the man to do this simple thing evidently was not at hand. The fire was burning the next morning, and, to make a long story short, it burned for eight days, sweeping bare and wholly denuding of their fresh beauty the northern slopes of Lafayette and Garfield. A few moments of attention in the early stages of the fire, had it been seen by the keen eyes of a mountain ranger, would have saved the devastation and preserved from unsightliness one of the most magnificent stretches of country in the White Mountain region.

Hard To Get Evergreens Back. Unfortunately when the evergreens are burned out they do not readily replace themselves. The young trees do not fare well in the open sun, and as a rule the second growth is chery and popular, which lose their leaves in the fall and leave the slopes naked for months. Mr. Pinchot states that eventually the White Mountain slopes, which have been devastated as much by the rapacious lumberman as by fire, will reforestate themselves with evergreens, but the process is a very slow one. The White Mountain region is one of the great recreation spots of the world, but the mountains have been cut as far up as the lumberman could go, with no regard for anything but the few dollars to be made by the single cutting. The government soon, it is to be hoped, will take over the White Mountains, and thus insure to future generations a breathing space which in point of refined beauty, helpfulness and accessibility is without superior in the world.

BARBER'S POLES LIMITED.

Ordinance Thirty-years-old Will Be Enforced in New York City.

New York, Sept. 1.—No longer can the marvelous pole of Giuseppe Lombardi, "consortial artist," tower in rivalry with the nearby skyscraper; no longer can the children of Hans Hasenpfeffer stretch their pudgy hands toward the golden ball perched on the top of Otto Schweinagle's red and white pole, and that tantalizes them at the level of the second-story window. The public, indeed, is to be prevented from admiring all the great poles, gorgeously decked, which have shown so long the path to shaving, beard trimming and hair cutting. Henceforth the barber's signpost will be limited to a puny five-foot height.

For 30 years or more there has been an ordinance in New York forbidding the top of a barber's pole to stand more than five feet above the sidewalk but somehow it has been forgotten. Hereafter it is to be enforced.

But the makers of the poles are not discomfited, apparently, by the enforcement of the law. They feel that, though less prosperous barbers will cut down the old pole to a decorous height rather than purchase a new one, the trade will be improved, for a time, at any rate.

Of course, height is not the only thing that the barber's pole has lost. In the old days, when barbers performed minor surgery in the course of business, a basin was attached to the pole as a symbol of the blood letting. Originally the actual staff which the patient grasped doubtless by way of a comforting anaesthetic—while being bled—was put out as a shop sign.

To it were attached the ribbons that bound the patient's arm and they are the present-day barber's signpost. These were to be blue and white for true barbers after the profession of surgeon and barber became separated, and Lord Thurlow, in a speech in the House of Lords in 1797, so proclaimed. Surgery and "barbery" were made separate callings in 1745.

THE BENEFIT OF BEING ALONE.

When an Algonquin Indian is in deep trouble, when he wishes to renew his strength of purpose or cleanse his heart, he appeals to the Great Mystery. Alone he seeks the pinnacle of a mountain or some far secluded spot where none can see; and there, with the wilderness at his feet and the wide, free heavens above, surrounded by silence and solitude, he offers an unspoken prayer to the Mystery. His appeal is not for material things; for solitude knows nothing of the material; but for a clearer heart that he may be made more generous, noble and brave. Just as truly as the Indian may be the white man find strength in the solitude of the wilderness. Man is a social animal, to be sure; but there is such a thing as too much sociability. In congested cities, with their rush and roar, their unnatural, stunted life, governed by the conventional and artificial, are abnormal. Happily, we are not all constituted alike; but there is not a man living who has not within him a germ of the primitive. Give this germ an opportunity to develop—one or two good camping experiences will start it growing—and he will turn to the wilderness as naturally as a duck takes to water.

Burns was the son of a small farmer, and at an early age showed a fondness for learning which he had few opportunities for gratifying.

Markets

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, Sept. 1.—Steel and Union Pacific were slightly higher in the early trading, in view of the fact that the Bank of England rate of discount was not advanced at this time, but after the first few minutes of the session it became apparent that the coterie operating yesterday for an advance was quite active on the selling side today. The issue which of late has been most active, namely Steel, Union Pacific and Reading, were forced lower under heavy pressure, which unsettled the balance of the market and, as a result, the trading during the greater part of the day was in the nature of professional operations for a decline. The recession was accompanied by a moderate amount of liquidation, as stop orders were uncovered. Little significance was attached to the action of the prices today, as the political speech of yesterday appeared to have been fully discussed before its rendition. We are inclined to continue to advocate the lightening of the market on the occasional rallies and the confinement of purchases to the recessions for moderate profits.

Boston "Coppers."

Boston, Sept. 1.—There were rumors this morning of an over-extended long interest by one house in New York, and the traders took advantage of the opportunity to raid the whole list. The buying did not amount to anything and prices receded two points, with no sign of a rally. In the local list the selling of a few hundred Lake put the market off 2. Indiana, North Lake and Butte were also weaker on odd lots. Prices, however, have no significance in the present dullness, and all holders of securities must have patience until the market becomes active again.

Chicago Wheat.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The lower Liverpool cables were ignored today. There was excellent commission house buying on the early dip, also buying by the South-west. The elevator people delivered most of the wheat and were early sellers. The northwestern markets are at a standstill, but No. 1 Northern cash wheat at Minneapolis was strong at 26 1/2¢ over September. St. Louis and Kansas City reported little demand for cash wheat, but prices about unchanged. We would rather take the buying side on the declines now.

New York Cotton Market.

New York, Sept. 1.—Liverpool was encouraging, especially in the spot department, a decided increase in demand being noted in sales of 15,000 bales at 5 points advance, and futures closed 2 1/2¢ higher. The Journal of Commerce condition report, issued today, was rather bullish also, making the condition 70.7 as against 74.9 a month ago and 66 last year. This report shows a decline in condition since last month of 4.2 per cent and points to a crop around 11,500,000 bales. The trading represented the market today was due mostly to short covering, induced by the better spot demand abroad and the probability of the government report tomorrow proving bullish by showing a greater decline in condition during the month than has been expected. The trading represented the closing up of accounts for the bureau and holidays, and indicated that the uncovered short interest was preponderant. I would only buy this cotton on breaks now. Resting orders about 25 to 30 points lower than present levels would seem about the thing to us now.

TO REPAIR CLUB HOUSE.
 Headquarters of Ishpeming Ski Club Will be Greatly Improved.
 About fifty people, including members of the Ishpeming Ski club and their ladies, attended the business and social meeting at the club house at the Deer Lake location, Wednesday evening. There was dancing and a fine lunch was served.
 At the business meeting the members decided to make a number of important improvements at the club house. The kitchen, which is now at the rear of the lower floor, will be transferred to the second floor, where a dining room will also be fitted up. The present kitchen will be converted into a ladies' dressing room and the present dressing room, in the front of the building, will be given over to the men. A new roof will be put on the building and a number of minor repairs will be made. It is estimated that the cost of the improvements will not be less than $500.
 Plans for the coming season were discussed, and it was decided to make a special effort between now and winter to at least double the membership. It was decided to offer larger prizes for the tournament next year. A two days' program will be arranged. The juvenile races will be pulled off the first day, and the seniors will compete on the second day. The club has sufficient funds in its treasury not only to pay for the house improvements, but also to conduct the tournament on a large scale.

GARY WILL BE A LARGE CITY

Negaunee Man Favorably Impressed With Steel Corporation's New Town.

"The United States Steel corporation is certainly doing great work at Gary, Ind.," said one of the Negaunee men who attended the meeting of the Lake Superior institute there last week. "I believe that money invested in real estate at Gary will bring unusual returns within a few years, as I have never seen a place with a better outlook. I was astonished at the scope of the work being done. Extensive plans are now being outlined for the establishment of additional industries."

"Gary is going to be a big city. I talked with several business men who expressed the opinion that it will have a population of from 75,000 to 100,000 within ten years. They now estimate its population at 21,000. The town is laid out with double street car tracks running through the main thoroughfares, and all of the principal streets are to be paved."

"The United States Steel corporation is working 9,000 men in its steel mills, and is now building a locomotive works that will employ 3,000 hands and will turn out sixty locomotives a month. Work on a big steel plant, at which several thousand more men will be employed, is also advancing rapidly."

"Six railroads now enter the city and the street car service between Gary and Chicago is first-class. All of the saloons in Gary are located in one district, below the Wabash railway tracks. The attempt on the part of the temperance advocates to oust all but one saloon was a failure."

Jim Hillier, the well-known freight conductor on the Chicago & Northwestern line, who has been remaining between Escanaba and Ishpeming for a number of years, owns a flat building at Gary.

EXPERT RIFLEMAN

Arthur Grandberg, a young man born and reared in Negaunee and now a member of the U. S. Marine Corps, will shortly be wearing a medal which will certify to his being an expert rifleman.

The medal itself, which consists of a wreath, crossed guns and a bar lettered "Expert Rifleman," will attest to Grandberg's having made the highest qualifications possible with a rifle; and besides the honor, it will add $5 a month to the young man's pay. In a recent letter to his sister, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Grandberg gives some interesting details of his competition on the U. S. Marine Corps rifle range at Winthrop, Md., where he won his honors. The course is a new one, for experts only, and the severity of the test is shown by the fact that a regiment of infantry recently had a trial, with the result that every member failed. In the Marine Corps, only thirty or forty were successful among the hundreds who tried.

On the new course the contestants shoot at 200 and 300 yards at targets racing across the ground in front of the rifleman, at 100 and 500 yards, the contestant lies prone on the ground and watches for a target to pop up, for they remain exposed only five seconds. The rifleman has no idea at what point the "bobbing target," as it is called, will appear; hence has to be always ready, draw a bead and fire, all in five or six seconds, and even one has to shoot at a target about 10 inches in height, fashioned in the shape of a man's head and shoulders. Five shots must be fired at these in thirty seconds.

In further illustration of the severity of these tests, Grandberg explains that they have to fire "battle sight" and "no windage." Battle sight is an elevation of 530 yards, and rifle men, even those who make no pretension to crack shooting, will understand that if the rifleman aims directly at the target at 200, 300, 400, and even 500 yards, the bullet would go right over the target. So one has to aim below the target, and to the right or left, dependent upon how the wind is blowing. The average person probably does not realize that a wind blowing at a velocity of ten miles an hour will, on a 300-yard range, deflect a bullet fully six or eight inches from the bull's eye. The rifleman has to take all of these things into consideration, and it is his keen judgment quite as much as his accurate aim that makes him an expert.

To the novice it would appear that the rifleman is shooting at one object and hitting another, but the expert has to know perfectly well what he is doing. Even heat, cold, bright sunlight, dark clouds, etc., each and all make a heap of difference in elevations and windage. The vapor that arises from the ground on particularly warm days has a marked effect upon the course of a bullet at these long ranges. Grandberg does not pretend to have mastered every last detail in the art, but he surely can modestly lay claim to marked proficiency, and he adds that "it takes a fellow from Michigan to do it."

Grandberg is a son of Charles Grandberg, a well-known resident of Negaunee. The youth enlisted at the Norfolk navy yard in this city to join Admiral Evans ("Fighting Bob") on his notable cruise around the world. The navy department offers every facility to its enlisted men who show aptitude for target practice, and it would appear that the Negaunee young man has been making the most of his opportunities.—Negaunee Iron Herald.

A RELIABLE MEDICINE—NOT A NARCOTIC.

Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." ### GWINN EASILY REACHED.

Trip to Swansey Range Can be Made With Comfort in Automobile.

A Negaunee man who has been over the road between here and Little Lake a number of times, and who has also driven his car into Gwinn, yesterday said that by spending a few hundred dollars the county or township could put the road between here and the Swansey range in good condition. The work necessary on this road would be greatly appreciated by the people of Negaunee, Ishpeming, the Swansey range and Little Lake. There is only one bad place between Negaunee and Little Lake, that being the Goose lake hill. While the road is not impassable at that point for either automobiles or carriages, the drivers do not like to go over it in its present condition.

If there was a road through Turin township, between Little Lake and Helena, where there is a swamp some three or four miles in length, automobiles would have no trouble making the run between Escanaba and the Marquette county cities, as the roads are fairly good on either side of the swamp. The road through the swamp, which is quite shallow, could be built for a sum not exceeding $5,000.

WILL BE OPEN.

Michigan Banks and Postoffices Will Not Be Closed on Primary Day.

There has been much discussion as to whether primary election day, next Tuesday, will be a general holiday. While it is generally understood that there will be no work at the mines, the stores will be open. The banks will also be open for business, and postoffices will observe the same hours as on other days in the week.

It has been understood that the saloons had to be closed both Monday and Tuesday. In order to have no misunderstanding on that point, the attorney general was yesterday asked for an opinion, and his answer is expected today. City Attorney T. A. Thoren took the matter up with him, at the request of some of the liquor dealers.

Inasmuch as the mines will be idle it is thought that a fair sized vote will be polled both here and at Ishpeming. The voters are now manifesting much interest in the campaign.

AUTO KILLS COW.

Robert Thompson, the ice man, found one of his cows lying dead on the Jackson road, near his home, yesterday morning. The animal was struck by an automobile Wednesday night, but Mr. Thompson has not been able to learn who owned the car. Several shattered pieces of lamps and other parts of the automobile were found on the road, and there was a streak along the highway for some distance, caused by a leakage in the gasoline tank, so that the car must have hit the cow with considerable force. A Negaunee man, driving back from Ishpeming shortly before midnight saw the carcass lying in the road, so that the cow was killed some time before eleven o'clock.

OPTION ON IRONWOOD PLANT.

It is reported from Ironwood that the new light, water and street railway company which recently secured a franchise from the city council has obtained a ninety-day option on the properties of the Twin City Electric company of that city, of which Harvey Pearce, formerly of Negaunee, was formerly superintendent.

The new concern will take an inventory of the old company's property. Some time ago the old company started to extend its electric lines to Bessemer, but this work has been discontinued, pending the outcome of the deal.

BASEBALL AT FAIR.

T. A. Thoren, manager of the Negaunee baseball team, was advised yesterday afternoon that the baseball prizes at the county fair next week are to be $175 for first; $140 second, and $110 third. He says the Negaunee team will not play on the basis. He favors $225 for first prize, $125 for second and $75 for third. Mr. Thoren says he does not wish it understood that the Negaunee team figures it has a cinch on first money. He further says that he wishes it understood that there will be no compromising the matter so far as the Negaunee team is concerned.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Ernest Klein is spending a week or ten days in Detroit and Muskegon, on his annual vacation.

The Buffalo baseball team, of this city, will play at Munising on Labor Day, instead of at Gwinn.

Mrs. J. E. O'Donoghue and her son, Edward, left yesterday for Fond du Lac, on a visit of a week or ten days with relatives.

The members of the labor organizations here will attend the annual picnic to be given Monday at the Cleveland Park under auspices of the Mine Workers' union of Ishpeming.

Congressman H. O. Young will speak in Negaunee this evening. If the weather is favorable he will talk from the grandstand in the city square; otherwise the speaking will be held in McDonald's Opera House. The Negaunee City band will furnish music.

The members of the Italian band, who received new uniforms this week, will wear them for the first time Saturday evening, when the band will give a concert. The band is composed of more than twenty members and most of them are old players.

John Arnett and Arnold Saladin, who spent ten days in Chicago and Milwaukee, have returned home. Mr. Arnett and Henry Boyer went to Escanaba yesterday to attend the marriage of the latter's father, Joseph Boyer, of this city.

The bricklayers are this week making good headway on the Negaunee National bank's new block. The ornaments were placed on the top of the big pillars Wednesday. As all of the heavier parts are now in position it will not be long before the front is completed.

The owners of poultry in Negaunee and vicinity are invited to send displays of their stock to the county fair next week. The capacity of the poultry building has been increased 50 per cent

A CURIOUS BAROMETER.

The gold fish, which is distributed over nearly all parts of the world, is one of the most interesting members of the finny tribe. It apparently is very susceptible to atmospheric changes, and any one who takes the trouble to note its actions in the aquarium will be astonished to find that the beautiful little fish is a true prophet in matters relating to changes in the weather. When an area of lower temperature, with rain or snow, is approaching, the gold fish remains near the surface of the water, while if clear, sunny weather is expected they will always be found near the centre of the reservoir. This seems very strange, but a little observation will prove the statement to be correct.

TOURNAMENT OF GUN CLUB

Trap Shooters of Upper Peninsula Have Been Invited to Participate in Shoot at Town and Country Club Sept. 26 and 27, and Big Time Is Expected.

Magnificent Cup Has Been Donated by Hon. H. O. Young to Team Making Highest Score—Interesting Round of Sports Planned for the Coming Winter.

Sept. 26 and 27 have been announced as the dates for the first annual shoot of the Town and Country club of Marquette (formerly the Marquette Golf club). It has been a great many years since competitive shooting has been taken up to any extent by local sportsmen, but since the traps have been completed at the clubhouse this summer interest in the sport has been revived. At the present time, shooting is one of the favorite amusements of the members of the Town and Country club, and the announcement of the coming tournament will undoubtedly stir up others to practice breaking the clay pigeons. A practice shoot will be held this afternoon and quite a crowd are planning to go out to the clubhouse.

condition than at any time since its organization, and there is every reason to believe that it has as yet only entered upon a realization of its possibilities for social, healthy, out-of-door recreation.

BASEBALL AT FAIR.

Division of Purse Proves a Troublesome Proposition to Managers.

Final arrangements for the three baseball games to be played during the county fair next week are still held in abeyance because of the three managers being unable to get together on a division of the purse offered by the fair directors. Negotiations are in favor of making the first prize $225, the second $150 and the third $75. Ishpeming and Marquette favor a more equal division of the prize money and are willing to play, giving $175 as first money, $140 as second money and $110 as third money.

A meeting of Managers Stocking, Stenglein and Thoren, together with John Siegel, of the fair directors, was called yesterday, but Mr. Thoren, the Negaunee manager, failed to put in an appearance. Managers Stocking and Stenglein agreed upon the division as given above, and as two seems to be a majority, it looks as if the money would be divided that way.

As Ishpeming and Negaunee are scheduled to play at Union Park Labor Day, there will be no baseball at the fair grounds Monday afternoon, but games will be played Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. The big field meet takes place Monday afternoon, however, which means that there will be an interesting program each of the four days of the fair.

peninsula and from the Canadian Soo have been invited to participate in the tournament and it is expected that at least five outside teams will enter. The big prize of the shoot will be a magnificent silver cup, donated by Hon. H. O. Young, which will be given to the team making the best record during the tournament, fifty targets each. This cup is one of the most beautiful and costly ever offered as a prize in the upper peninsula, and should induce a large number of outside teams to enter the lists. The local management has not yet decided whether three or five-men teams will compete for this cup.

Gun Clubs Invited.

H. J. Waterbury, who is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the shoot, has already written to all the gun clubs in this part of the country, inviting them to attend the Marquette tournament, and favorable responses have been received from several of them. Among the most active gun clubs are those of Ishpeming, Houghton, Channing, Iron Mountain, Escanaba, Manistique, Munising, Soo, Mich., and Soo, Ont., and it is hoped that all of these clubs, and perhaps others, will be represented. In addition to the amateur marksmen a number of professional shooters will attend the tournament and give exhibitions, though they will not be permitted to compete in any of the events.

The Channing club has arranged for a shoot Wednesday, Sept. 21, and there will be a shoot at Munising Friday and Saturday, Sept. 23 and 24. The Marquette shoot will take place on the Monday and Tuesday following that at Munising. The local team will probably take part in the Munising shoot. Tournaments have already been held at Manistique and the Soo.

E. G. Jenks is the captain of the Marquette shooting team, and though it has been organized only recently there are quite a number who have demonstrated considerable skill, and the captain expects to be able to put a creditable team into the field. In addition to the Young cup, offered as a team prize, valuable trophies have been donated for the individual, doubles and other events, and the Marquette club will add a cash prize of $5 to each of the events. The program will be complete and will require two full days to carry it out. The new shooting traps are now in excellent condition and some high scores should be made at the tournament. It is likely that rifle range contests will have a place on the program.

Other Activities of Club.

At a meeting held this week it was decided to change the name of the golf club to the Town and Country Club of Marquette, and it will be so designated hereafter. This change was decided advisable, owing to the broadening out of the club until golf is only one of its many interests. The club has absorbed the old Snowshoe club, which was a strong organization a few years ago, and extensive preparations are already under way for winter sports.

A hill will be prepared for coasting and a toboggan slide is a possibility. Snowshoeing will also be taken up and it is expected that there will be many enjoyable parties and tramps during the winter months. Arrangements have been made for the use of the pond near the brewery, a short distance from the club, which will be fitted up for skating and many members are anticipating great sport on the ice. Interest in golf continues lively and several exciting matches are being played almost every week. In short, the club is in better made to take care of the unprecedentedly large exhibit of fine cattle, which promises to be one of the most interesting of the fair exhibits this year.
