

Osborn and Townsend Victorious at the Polls

Senator Burrows Is Defeated for Renomination by a Majority Estimated at Fifteen Thousand

SOO MAN'S LEAD FOR GOVERNOR IS PLACED AT THE SAME FIGURE

Fight for Second Place on the State Ticket Is Very Close, With Dickinson the Indicated Leader--Congressman Young Wins Out Handily, as Do Fordney and Diekema--Washington Gardner Is Defeated, With Representative Loud's District in Doubt.

On returns available Osborn has over 13,000 majority in the upper peninsula over Kelley and Musselman combined; Young is about 2,500 ahead of Kerr; Townsend is over 3,000 ahead of Burrows; Senator Smith is defeated by Mayor James; Representative Monroe of Gogebic by Johnston; Representative Oates of Calumet by Lucas; later returns will increase both Osborn's and Townsend's majorities.

solicitous for his success, and other corporate influence were also exerted in his favor. It was different in the copper country. There is free trade in copper and the copper men are not at all directly interested in the tariff. They gave Townsend full swing. But iron counties and copper counties were all one, as far as results were concerned, and Representative Townsend carried iron counties with all the ease that he grabbed the copper counties.

Osborn's Run Remarkable. Chase S. Osborn's endorsement by the upper peninsula is only less sensational than the sweeping victory of Townsend in this region because it was expected. Returns at hand indicate that Mr. Osborn will have a majority of 15,000 or thereabouts in this region. He has, of course, carried every county in the upper peninsula. Marquette and Houghton have given him particularly handsome majorities, and the whole region seems to have rallied to his success in his valiant fight for the nomination to about the extent that it was expected to.

Representative Young Renominated. For congress Mr. Young is returned a winner. The assertion that he would run well in Houghton county was borne out by the election returns. Mr. Kerr having received less than 1,000 majority in that county, on the basis of nearly complete returns. Mr. Kerr made a good run in Chippewa, Gogebic and some other counties, but Mr. Young will be shown by the complete returns to have a considerable lead.

While the returns on lieutenant governor are very incomplete, it is indicated that Ross, the Muskegon candidate, will have a big lead in the upper peninsula, with Rice a good second.

Many Surprises Recorded. There were many upsets in local and legislative fights. The defeat of Senator Smith by Mayor James of Hancock was not altogether a surprise, nor was the retirement of Representative Monroe by Mr. Johnston of Bessemer, both of these occurrences having been freely predicted the past few weeks.

The defeat of Representative Oates, of Calumet, was due largely to the fact that he sacrificed his personal interests to push the campaign for Chase S. Osborn in the upper peninsula. He gave his entire time to that work until a few days before election. Close attention to his campaign would have surely meant his election. He is a sacrifice to his devotion to the interests of his political chief in the gubernatorial campaign.

Some Election Figures. Partial returns from the upper peninsula are as follows: Alger County-- Senator--Burrows, 51; Townsend, 73; Governor--Osborn, 58; Kelley, 33; Musselman, 32. Iron County-- Senator--Burrows, 781; Townsend, 527. Governor--Osborn, 718; Kelley, 434; Musselman, 65. Congressman--Young, 728; Kerr, 320. Keweenaw County-- Senator--Burrows, 235; Townsend, 459. Governor--Osborn, 569; Kelley, 68; Musselman, 122. Congressman--Young, 221; Kerr, 544. Luce County-- Senator--Burrows, 105; Townsend, 183. Governor--Osborn, 262; Kelley, 37; Musselman, 15. Marquette County-- Senator--Burrows, 1,803; Townsend, 2,013. Governor--Osborn, 3,650; Kelley, 537; Musselman, 547. Congressman--Young, 2,680; Kerr, 1,333.

Results in the Upper Peninsula. The startling and sensational feature of the primary election in the upper peninsula was the way that Representative Townsend swept a region which Senator Wetmore, Senator Burrows' Wayne county manager, no later than Monday predicted that Burrows would carry by 15,000 majority, winning every county.

As opposed to this prediction, Townsend has carried it by a substantial majority, figuring into the thousands, and has swept a majority of its counties. On present returns he has carried Chippewa, Mackinac, Gogebic, Menominee, Luce, Keweenaw, Delta, Marquette, Baraga and Houghton counties and possibly some others. The few counties carried for Senator Burrows were carried by him by thin slender majorities.

This result is one of the most unheard of upsets in Michigan politics, and marks a popular uprising in favor of a man who made a profound impression on the people on the occasion of his trip north. There is little doubt that Senator Burrows would have received a substantial majority in this region prior to Representative Townsend's visit to this region. But Representative Townsend set the squarely around, though it must be conceded that part of his great victory in this region is due to the popular dissatisfaction with Senator Burrows.

In the iron counties little effort was spared to line up the vote for Senator Burrows. The mine managers were very

T. ROOSEVELT MONOPOLIZES THE ATTENTION

He the Central Figure at the National Conservation Congress at St. Paul--He Receives an Ovation Also at State Fair Grounds--The Cheering Tremendous.

Doctrines of Federal Control of the Natural Resources Is Reiterated by the Colonel and It Sweeps All Before It--State's Rights Advocates Give Up.

St. Paul, Sept. 6.--The doctrine of the "new nationalism" which Theodore Roosevelt enunciated in his speech at Osawatomie, Kas., last week was set forth more clearly by him today before the National Conservation congress here. He declared for the government control of the country's natural resources and so placed himself directly against the advocates of state rights. He said: "It is not really a question of the state against the nation. It really is a question of special corporate interests against the people." He said that the corporations were anxious to have the states take up the fight that they might escape all effective control. Throughout Mr. Roosevelt emphasized the need of giving over to the national government the task of carrying on the work of conservation.

Minneapolis and St. Paul dropped work for the day and turned out to see the speaker. Everywhere he went there were masses of people to see and cheer him. The former president arrived at Minneapolis at seven this morning. After breakfast he came by automobile to St. Paul, made a speech at the conservation congress yesterday, he did no more than to address the largest crowd of the day. Returning to St. Paul, he went to the home of Frank B. Kellogg to rest and then attended a dinner given by Colonel Alex O. Brode, a former Rough Rider. He left tonight for Milwaukee, where he is to spend tomorrow.

Carries the Crowd With Him. If President Taft monopolized the attention at the National Conservation congress yesterday, he did no more than Roosevelt did today. The auditorium was filled to hear the ex-president drive home his policy for the conservation of the natural resources. The crowd followed him to the fair grounds, leaving a meager assemblage to listen to the addresses of Mr. Gardner, former Governor Blanchard of Louisiana, former Governor Pardee of California and James R. Garfield delivered addresses favoring national control of the resources. Herbert Knox Smith, United States commissioner of corporations, also addressed the convention.

Governor Blanchard, Democrat, of Louisiana, took a decided stand against the theory of state's rights. He said: "The tremendous power of the federal government should lead in the conservation movement. I fully endorse the address of Mr. Gardner." Mr. Snythe, of San Diego, Cal., said: "The doctrine of state's rights died under the tramping feet of marching men. Yet, yesterday, it tried to rear its head, and it is our duty to see that it not again permitted to gain a foothold."

Western Governors Put to Rout. The prospective early departure of a number of the Western governors at home is being indicated by the fact that the fight for a state control platform has been abandoned. Governor Hay, of Washington, however, said that he would stay fighting to the last in favor of state control. Believing that they were practically eliminated from the convention, the Western governors in regard to their intention of leaving St. Paul at once. Governor Brooks of Wyoming, Governor Vessey of South Dakota and Governor Norris of Montana will leave tonight. Dissatisfaction over their failure to receive recognition at the hands of the congress as a whole is evident in the exultant of the West. Governor Norris is bitter. He said: "Why, we couldn't break into that meeting now with a burglar's jimmy."

Mr. Roosevelt made a number of additions to his speech to emphasize his stand for the "new nationalism." In regard to the waters of the waterways by the railroads, he said: "You must not sit supinely and let the railroads gain control of the boat lines, and then say the men at the head of the railroads are very bad people." He advocated the drainage of swamp and overflow lands chiefly through the activity of the federal government. He defended the work done to establish national forests and recommended the establishment of a federal bureau of health. When he came to speak of the proposed national conservation commission, he made what was interpreted here as a sharp thrust at Congressman Tawney.

James J. Hill sat on the platform close to Mr. Roosevelt and when the colonel was speaking of the federal control of corporations he turned directly toward him and addressed him. Mr. Hill declared that he had no objection to Roosevelt, as did James R. Garfield, Gifford Pinchot, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Senator Nelson of Minnesota.

A great throng heard the colonel's speech at the fair grounds. The cheering was tremendous. The colonel talked half an hour on good citizenship. His Address on Conservation. Addressing the conservation congress, Mr. Roosevelt said: "The development of corporate action

Indianapolis, Sept. 6.--Former Vice President Fairbanks speaking today to survivors of the Mexican war declared that "there is too much hysteria abroad in the country and that the watchword should be: 'Down with the demagogue and up with the patriot.'" Mr. Fairbanks, declaring that there were "many counselors and among them many false prophets," expressed confidence in the rational judgment of the American people.

RETURNS HOME ENTHUSIASTIC OVER AMERICAN RAILROADS.

Washington, Sept. 6.--Franklin J. Lane, of the interstate commerce commission, returned today from the international railway conference at Bern, Switzerland, enthusiastic over American railways. "I doubt that if you could throw all the railroad systems of Europe together you could move the Iowa and Kansas corn crop within a year," he declared. Mr. Lane said that Europe was disturbed over the high cost of living. "I think that in the near future we shall have international agitation for the regulation of the monetary systems," he observed. He said that America was far behind Europe in providing pensions for civil employees. America was behind also in employers' liability legislation.

FINDS BIG CONCERN AN ILLEGAL COMBINE

Special Commissioner in Missouri's Suit Against Harvester Trust Files His Report.

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 6.--Special Commissioner Theodore Brace, in a report to the supreme court today is the onager suit against the International Harvester company of New Jersey, declares the concern a trust and a combine formed for the purpose and with the effect of destroying competition in the manufacture and the sale of harvesting machinery. The International Harvester company of America is declared to be used merely as a selling agent by the New Jersey company in the evasion of the Missouri laws, which prohibits the licensing of the New Jersey concern by reason of its enormous capital--$120,000,000. The commissioner finds that the company was organized in 1902 and was formed through J. Pierpont Morgan. The commissioner says that the company is a combine formed in restraint of trade and that in the first five years the sales of the concern in the United States amounted to nearly two hundred million dollars.

The suit was filed by Governor Hadley when he was attorney general, Nov. 13, 1907. The action was an information in quo warranto which asked that the franchise and the privileges of the company in Missouri be revoked and that its property be confiscated or a fine imposed. The Harvester company will file exceptions to the supreme court at the October term for final decision.

YOUTH BOUND FOR ANN ARBOR IS HELD AT ELLIS ISLAND.

New York, Sept. 6.--Awaiting the immigration routine to take its course at Ellis Island is a swarthy youth, fourteen years of age and named Henry Hicks, who came from Siam to study medicine at the University of Michigan. The youth claims that his father was an Englishman who died recently, leaving funds of $3,000 for his education. His story is so straightforward that the case will be investigated.

SOLICITOR GENERAL BOWERS ON THE ROAD TO RECOVERY.

Boston, Sept. 6.--Solicitor General Floyd W. Bowers, mentioned as a probable appointee to the supreme court bench, who has been ill nearly a month here, is reported tonight by his physician to be well on the road to recovery. Mr. Bowers is suffering from an attack of bronchitis, which, following an operation on the throat, became so severe as to cause anxiety.

ROOT PREDICTS VICTORY IN THE FISHERIES DISPUTE.

New York, Sept. 6.--Senator Root, commissioner for the United States in the New Foundland fisheries dispute before the Hague tribunal, arrived today. Reggio Di Calabria, Italy, Sept. 6.--The police today arrested thirty persons on suspicion of having knowledge of the murder at Pellaro Monday of Policeman Boyona and his wife and six children. The police here ascribe the murder to the vengeance of the "blackhand" society in New York.

Senator La Follette Sweeps Wisconsin

"Grandfather of All the Insurgents" Is Renominated by a Heavy Plurality Over S. A. Cook of Neenah.

HIS LIEUTENANT, F. E. MCGOVERN, LEADS IN THE RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Progressive Republicans Capture One Congressional Contest and County Option Is Defeated--"Regular" Wing of the G. O. P. Is Vanquished in New Hampshire--Democrats Are Out-Voted in Vermont, but Reduce Normal Plurality Against Them.

Milwaukee, Sept. 6.--United States Senator La Follette has swept Wisconsin in the primary election of renomination, defeating his opponent, Samuel A. Cook, of Neenah, Wis., by about four to one.

Although early returns showed considerable strength for E. T. Fairchild in the race for the Republican nomination for governor of Wisconsin, the later figures are showing large gains. F. E. McGovern, who won fame as the anti-graft district attorney of Milwaukee, there is now certain that county option has been defeated by a big majority, for both candidates who are now in the lead are opposed to county option, though McGovern is a La Follette supporter and Fairchild a supporter of the Taft administration. W. M. Lewis, also a La Follette supporter but an advocate of county option, is far behind the other two candidates.

The so-called progressive Republicans seem to have won one congressman, as the indications point to the defeat of W. H. Stafford in the Fifth district. All the other present congressmen are probably renominated. Congressman Charles H. Weiss, of Sheboygan Falls, is leading Bart Williams, of Ashland, in the few scattering returns received for the Democratic nomination for United States senator.

Primary Law Assailed. The votes cast for the Democratic state ticket are comparatively few. While nominations were made, it is necessary under the primary law, that the vote cast be at least 20 per cent of the party vote cast at the last election in order to secure representation on the official ballot. The Democrats have anticipated this situation. They declare that the law governing the case is unconstitutional and will have the supreme court pass upon it before the election is held. The Democratic state ticket was headed by A. J. Schmitz of Milwaukee. The prohibitionists had a full state ticket filed, as did the socialists, who also had named congressmen in all eleven districts.

These Republicans were nominated for congress without contests: Third district, Arthur J. Kopp, Platteville; Sixth, William H. Froelich, Jackson; Seventh, John Jacob Esch, La Crosse; Eleventh, Irvine L. Leuroot, Superior. The returns show these Republicans renominated who had contests: First district, Henry A. Cooper, Racine; Second, John M. Nelson, Madison; Fourth, William J. Cary, Milwaukee; Eighth, James H. Davidson, Oshkosh; Ninth, Gustav Kustermann, Green Bay; Tenth, Elmer A. Morste, Antigo.

A Triumph for La Follette. Milwaukee, Wednesday, July 7.--McGovern, anti-county option, is nominated for governor by a plurality of eight thousand: "It is not a personal victory, but one of representative government." The election is considered a victory for La Follette.

The balance of the Republican nominees on the state ticket will likely be as follows: Secretary of state, James A. Frear, Hudson; state treasurer, Andrew H. Dahl, Westby; attorney general, Frank T. Tucker; commissioner of insurance, Herman L. Eckert, all strong adherents of La Follette. Should the returns give Tucker the nomination, the La Follette state central committee will have to substitute another name on the official list, as Tucker is the man who lost his life by drowning in Oshkosh last week.

The renomination of the present "insurgent" congressman and the defeat of Stafford in the Fifth district by Henry F. Coehens, the former Wisconsin university football star, who nominated La Follette for president at the last Republican national convention, is a big victory for the "insurgents" of Wisconsin.

Congressman Charles H. Weiss, of Sheboygan Falls, apparently has defeated Bart Williams, of Ashland, in the race for the United States senatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket.

Democratic Gains in Vermont. White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 6.--Lieutenant Governor John A. Mead, of Rutland, a retired physician, was elected governor by the Republicans today by a plurality of about seventeen thousand over Lawyer Charles D. Watson, of St. Albans, Democrat. The Republicans have elected the balance of the state ticket, and both of their congressmen, but the Democrats have made gains in the legislature.

The Republican plurality is the smallest, with two exceptions, since 1870, but Chairman C. F. Williams, of the state committee, declares that a rain storm today was the principal cause of the 12,000 decrease in plurality in two years. The Democrats are inclined tonight to jubilate.

The Republican congressmen, re-elected, are David Foster, of Burlington, and Frank Plumley, of Northfield. The legislature will elect a United States senator, for which office the present senator, Carroll S. Page, has no opposition. "Reformers" Win in New Hampshire. Concord, N. H., Sept. 6.--The reform wing of the Republican party of New Hampshire, which first asserted itself in state politics in 1906 and figured again in the state campaign of 1908, today in the first statewide primary ever held in New Hampshire nominated its candidate, State Senator Robert P. Bass, of Peterboro, for governor. The "regular" candidate was Colonel Bertram Ellis, of Keane. Under the leadership of Winston Churchill, the reformers took the first step against the alleged domination of certain railroad and corporate manufacturing interests in the state government. After two biennial defeats the "independents" found themselves this year facing their opportunity at the statewide primaries. The flight of Sherman E. Burroughs, progressive Republican, of Manchester, to defeat the renomination of Congressman Cyrus A. Sullivan, a "regular" in the First district, added to the popular interest. The early returns indicate that Sullivan is leading by a wide margin. In the Second district, Frank S. Currie was unopposed in his own party for re-election. There were no contests in the Democratic ranks. Republicans Control in New Mexico. Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 6.--The indications tonight are that the Republicans have elected sixty-four out of the 100 delegates to the state constitutional convention. CALIFORNIA PROGRESSIVES TAKE CONTROL OF THE PARTY. San Francisco, Sept. 6.--Without a single negative vote on any question that came before the state convention, the progressive wing of the Republican party of California today took over the organization and management, endorsed the nominees chosen at the recent primaries and adopted the party platform. There was no echo of the bitterness of the late campaign. Throughout the national leadership of Theodore Roosevelt was recognized in the speeches and resolutions. An attempt by the Republican regulars to force the incorporation in the platform of a stronger endorsement of the Taft administration than that framed by the committee on resolutions caused a storm. The amendment was defeated. The plank on conservation indorses the policies of Roosevelt and Pinchot. The platform declares the allegiance of the party to the progressive Republican policies enunciated by Theodore Roosevelt and reaffirmed and already in part enacted into law under the administration of W. H. Taft. It also demands a tariff commission. Democrats Denounce Tariff Law. Stockton, Cal., Sept. 6.--The Democratic state convention today adopted a platform denouncing the Payne-Aldrich tariff. The platform declares for the initiative and referendum and the recall, as well as for the conservation of the natural resources. LEE BROWNE CASE WILL GO TO THE JURY TODAY. Chicago, Sept. 6.--The attorneys for Lee O'Neil Browne, the legislative minority leader charged with bribery in the election of Senator Lorimer, failed to complete their arguments in defense today and will continue tomorrow. In the afternoon the state's attorney will make his final argument. The case is expected to reach the jury before tomorrow night. State's Attorney Burke, of Sangamon county, attended the trial today. REPRESENTATIVE MONROE LOSES IN GOGEBIC COUNTY. Ironwood, Mich., Sept. 6.--A. D. Johnston of Bessemer has defeated Representative J. S. Monroe of Ironwood for the Republican nomination for the legislature from Gogebic county. Mr. Monroe is an old member of the house, and a pronounced "corporation" man. MARYLAND CANDIDATE REPUDIATES "UNCLE JOE." Baltimore, Md., Sept. 6.--Addison E. Mulliken, Republican, nominee for congress in the Fourth Maryland district, announced tonight that if elected he will vote against the reelection of Speaker Cannon. In the primary, Mulliken defeated an avowed "insurgent" candidate.

The Weather

Washington, Sept. 6.--The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Fair, Wednesday; Thursday, partly cloudy; light to moderate variable winds.

DAILY MINING JOURNAL

A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED).

Entered as second class matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Well, what does Mr. Hemans think of it?

The battle of September 6 having been fought, and won, and lost, all eyes will now be turned to the battle of November 8.

Now let all good party men forget their ante-primary differences and fall in behind the candidates who received endorsements at the polls.

If the postoffice department saves $11,000,000 this year, as it expects to do, congress ought to order a silver medal struck for Postmaster General Hitchcock.

If, as is claimed, Mayor Gaynor of New York is a receptive candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of New York, there is little doubt that the mayor will have to receive.

Governor Stubbs, it seems, is altogether to excitable a person to do at Washington. Kansas offers a more fitting field for his talents. But there's at least an even chance that Governor Stubbs will turn up in the senate, from Kansas.

Never did the phrase "the election passed quietly" apply with more appropriateness than it did in Marquette yesterday. Once again it has been shown that it requires some momentous question like the election of a town poundmaster to arouse the voters to a sense of their responsibilities.

Marquette may win that pennant, but it will be pretty tight work to do it, and there is Negeama's protest of one game to reckon with. There will be general agreement, however, that whoever wins the pennant, the patrons of the game have been given some excellent entertainment this season.

The vote crop in Marquette and Marquette county was, it appears, a comparative failure. Evidently it requires a contest over county offices to arouse the electorate. Not even the fact that the county had a "favorite son" in the field for the congressional nomination availed to get the vote up to where it belonged.

Football news is beginning to crowd into the sporting pages of the newspapers. The date when candidates will start their early fall training for the varsity season is at hand. Soon the football hero will have the center of the stage. He will appear this year in a new line of stunts, owing to the modification of the rules, to the end of securing a safer sport. In fact the proposed changes are so sweeping that old timers at the game will be hard put to recognize it.

The least attractive figure the day after the primaries is Mr. Musselman, of Grand Rapids, and perhaps it is not entirely his fault. Perhaps he did not personally approve of the excesses of his lieutenants in the direction of vicious personal attacks on opposing candidates. Mr. Musselman proclaimed high ideals of conduct and devotion to clean methods of advancing his political interests. But the campaign put up in his behalf was singularly objectionable. Its most regrettable feature was the Baldwin attack on Chase S. Osborn, an example of slungullion politics which furnished a sample of much of the campaign work of Musselman's lieutenants. The emanations from the Musselman press bureau were, for the most part, unfair and offensive. Mr. Musselman has disclaimed responsibility for the appearance of the Baldwin article, and for this those who want to think well of him are thankful. It's altogether too bad that he did put his foot firmly down on the proposal to circulate the edition of the Escanaba Journal containing it. That would have been an effective way of showing the sincerity of his many protestations of his higher political morality. It is possible that Mr. Musselman's lieutenants have got him in bad in these respects, and that if he had given his campaign a closer personal supervision some of these blots would have been avoided. But a candidate owes it to himself and to the public to keep his lieutenants within bounds, and Mr. Musselman is certainly censurable for not having done so the past few weeks.

TAFT ON CONSERVATION.

It is not overrating the case to say that the president's speech on conservation is the most complete, illuminating and practical document that has ever been penned on this subject.

President Taft believes, and rightly, that the time has passed when "general rhapsodies" on conservation are of any value, that the public is now thoroughly aroused as to the necessity of safeguarding and regulating the development of our natural resources and that the need today is for the practical consideration of specific evils and their specific remedies.

In his speech, therefore, the president has not indulged in glowing, rhetorical periods, nor wandered far afield in the vast byways of conservation; he has confined himself strictly to the immediate problems of conservation in the national domain and discussed them not as an orator or agitator but as a practical, judicial man-of-affairs.

Whoever will take the pains to read this address—and every good citizen should take the pains—will gain a knowledge of the conservation situation such as he can hope to gain from no other source.

He will learn not only just what the extent and state of our natural resources are at present, but what has been done toward their conservation under Roosevelt and under Taft, what laws now govern their disposition, what problems remain and what plans are offered for their solution.

"These problems," says the president, "are of very great difficulty and call for the calmest deliberation and clearest foresight," and he is insistent in emphasizing that "a satisfactory conclusion can only be reached promptly if we avoid acrimony, imputations of bad faith and political controversy."

Manifestly, as President Taft declares, "conservation is not a question of politics, or factions, or of persons. It is a question that affects the vital welfare of all of us—of our children and our children's children."

It is therefore greatly to be hoped that the congress which is in session at St. Paul, will follow the president's advice and treat this great subject as he has treated it and not distort, belaud and vitiate it by making it a battleground for personal and political controversy.

THE PARTNERSHIP OF CORRUPTION

Corporations caught in bribery exposures are always posing as the victims of hold-up games. The act of bribery is so essentially mutual that it is hard to divide responsibility. But it is equally impossible to give or take a bribe without guilty responsibility, and it is equally easy for either giver or taker to keep clean.

Publicity is the simple refuge for both of them. The man who is offered a bribe has only to make the fact known immediately to escape both temptation and suspicion. The bribetakers will keep away from him and the public will believe him if he betrays no motive of private interest. The man or corporation menaced by a hold-up has only to expose the threat and appeal to public opinion to uphold its just right, whether to proper privileges of business or to immunity from needless legislative or administrative oppression.

Yet it is even rarer for the victims of legislative blackmail to seek the remedy of publicity than for men insulted with the offer of a bribe. So far from exposing the men they privately accuse of exporting money from them, corporations involved in bribery exposures invariably try to shield and protect their alleged persecutors. This was the rule all through the exposures of legislative corruption in New York. It is equally the rule in the exposures now being made in Illinois.

Interest in these has broadened out from the bought election of Lorimer to the existence in the legislature of an organized body of blackmailers, headed by the leader of the Democratic minority, now on trial for bribery, to extort money from every kind of business interest for passing or defeating bills.

It is found almost impossible to get evidence against this man Browne from any of the corporations that he victimized. This makes one distrust a little the common story of legislative hold-ups.

The standard of purity and excellence for over half a century, is one of the greatest tonic-stimulants and strength-givers known to science.

A LAUGH OR TWO.

Work for the Police. Few people in Smoke Ridge had ever seen an automobile, so when one of those "red devils" stopped for a few minutes in the isolated village, the curious inhabitants gazed at the sporting domain with a mixture of fear and awe.

"O' course it is," answered the other. "Look at that number on the back of the car. That shows how many people it's run over. That's according to law. Now, if that feller was to run over anybody here in Smoke Ridge, it would be our duty to telegraph that number—1284—to the next town ahead."

"And what would they do?" asked the auditors. "Why, the police would stop him and change his number to 1285," Lippincott's.

On the Ground Floor.

"I dined with Henry James, the great American novelist," said a magazine editor, "at his London club, the Athenaeum. Over the dessert I reproached James for the dreadful way he roasts the morals and manners of our millionaires in 'The Jolly Corner.' James said they deserved roasting—and to prove it he told me a story."

"He said a New York multimillionaire got converted one night at a revival meeting, and standing up in his place, the rich convert declared that his conversion was retroactive, and he proposed to make retroactive to any one he had ever wronged."

"Well, about 2 o'clock that morning the millionaire was awakened by a long ring at the bell. He put his head out of the window.

"Who's that?" he said. "I am Thomas J. Griggs," was the reply. "I heard about your conversion, and I'd like you to pay me back that two hundred thousand you cheated me out of in the U. S. D. receivership."

"All right, I'll pay you," said the millionaire. "But why the deuce," he added angrily, "do you want to ring me up at this hour?"

"Well, you see," was the reply. "I thought I'd come early and avoid the rush."

He Fooled Himself.

John B. Lennon, treasurer of the American Federation of Labor, said in Bloomington, apropos of Labor day: "The workman today is wise enough, but in the past he was easy to fool and delude, and that is why he failed so long to get justice."

"When I think of the easy, unscrupulous workman of other days, I am reminded of a man passing a golf course who got hit in the eye with a ball.

"The man clapped his hand over his eye and ran towards the player who had hit him, shouting: 'This will cost you five dollars.'"

"But I shouted 'Fore,' my good friend," said the player earnestly. "Did you, boss?" said the man, in a mollified tone. "Well, I didn't hear you, I'll take four."

At Sea.

Miss Maude Adams, at a dinner on the Mauretania, said of shipboard etiquette: "It is unconventional and odd. Sometimes it causes embarrassment. For example: 'Herkimer Wilkinson,' was the smiling reply.

"Is he married?" "No; I'm a bachelor." "The child turned to its mother and said: 'What else shall I ask him, mamma?'"

I had but little strength or energy and could hardly attend to my work. I tried a number of remedies but did not succeed in finding relief until I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Stafford Drug Co. They helped me from the first and I continued taking them until I felt better in every way. I do not hesitate to recommend this valuable remedy to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

HERE AND THERE.

The latest creation in millinery reported from Paris is the monoplane hat, invented in celebration of Moisson's flight from the French capital to England. Like the Bleriot, it is a monoplane, with two wings, each over a foot long, spread out on each side of the head. But the chief novelty is the hatching. These are propellers at their ends, not mere imitations, but real miniature propellers with wooden blades. When a breeze blows the blades revolve gaily as a steeple waker walks along.

Miss Kate M. Gordon is the leader in the movement to have the women of New Orleans vote on the question of holding a Panama exposition in that city. By law all taxpayers are entitled to vote on questions involving taxation. As a majority of the taxpayers of New Orleans are women and as the exposition would mean the raising of about thirty million dollars, it is necessary that the women of the city decide whether or no the exposition shall be held. Miss Gordon, as the leader of the Women's Sewerage and Drainage league of New Orleans, is credited with having won the fight for the new drainage and pure water system put in a few years ago.

Mrs. Rufus P. Williams is the chairman of the department of the general Federation of Women's Clubs, which has charge of the work of fighting tuberculosis. Some years ago when the work was begun she met only about thirty women's clubs engaged in the fight. Today more than two thousand women's clubs are taking special interest in the fight and 1,000,000 women are actively working for the extinction of the disease. More than $300,000 has been raised annually by them to be used in the fight.

A report is expected at an early day from the conferees on Spitzbergen, who have been holding sessions in Christiania since July 19 for the purpose of formulating a scheme for the future government of the far northern archipelago. The participating members of the conference are delegates of Norway, Russia and Sweden, but Herbert H. D. Peirce, the United States minister to Norway, has been attending in a sort of non-official capacity as an observer of the proceedings. The United States has considerable interests present and prospective in the islands.

The conference results from a movement started by the Norwegian government to settle the status of Spitzbergen. According to the figures at the census bureau the population of Greater London in 1901, at the official count, was 6,581,372. The estimated population for 1909 is 7,420,740. Paris in 1906, by an official count, had a population of 2,763,393. St. Petersburg in 1909, official count, 2,740,000. Berlin, 1905, official count, 1,940,148. Rome, 1901, official count, 1,196,909, and an estimated population in 1909 of 1,323,699. Peking, China, at one time supposed to be one of the largest capitals in the world, with a population of more than a million, according to records in the census bureau now has a population estimated to be somewhere in the neighborhood of 700,000.

LOWER STATES NOTES.

BOYNE CITY—Fearing his friends would break into the Boyne Falls jail, Deputy Sheriff Heaton has removed a man named Richards, said to be from Kentucky, to this city. The prisoner is charged with a serious offense by a young girl and had fled to the upper peninsula. Heaton got him near Escanaba, and was unable to fight his way through a mob of the man's friends there, and finally got him on a light engine and away from the gang. When he arrived at Boyne Falls the man's friends here began making threats to release him, so at the first opportunity he was taken to a cell at this hour.

PORT HURON—George K. Schmor, who formerly conducted a cigar store in this city, committed suicide at the waterworks plant in Pine Grove park by swallowing carbolic acid. Schmor had been employed in Detroit for the last few months as a lumber scaler and came to Port Huron. He did not go to his family, who reside on Erie street, but spent several hours cutting with an employe and went upstairs. Later he was found on the floor in a dying condition and expired before medical assistance arrived. Schmor had met with reverses and after losing his cigar business in this city, he was despondent. He is survived by a widow, three daughters and a son. He was a brother of Barney Schmor, of New Baltimore.

JACKSON—The balloon "Buckeye," pilot J. H. Wade, Jr., of Cleveland and A. Leo Stevens as guest, which made an ascension from the Jackson grounds of the Aero club of Michigan, landed four miles south of this city. The balloon sailed south during the night passing over the line into Ohio, but later drifted back into Michigan. While they were in Ohio, the balloonists, not knowing their whereabouts, shouted down to a farmer who they heard driving over a bridge. The farmer unable to see them, cried "where are you?" "Up in the air," replied Stevens. "Tell you are," yelled the farmer and drove madly away.

SAGINAW—Maynard Martin, fifty-five years old, one of the best known farmers in Saginaw county, lies at his home in Spaulding township in an extremely critical condition as the result of falling from a load of hay while coming to Saginaw. He fell into a ditch, landing on his head and has been unconscious since the accident.

OWOSSO—A squad of police and deputy sheriffs under command of Chief Bert Hodges was hurried to Gut's Hill, a grove south of the city, to maintain order at the camp meeting services of the Apostolic Holiness society of the state. A much worried and breathless elder, who brought the tidings of trouble, declared that a number of half-grown boys had taken a hand in the meeting, and were running it to suit themselves. He claimed that the disturbers claimed to have the "power," and while apparently under the influence of this "power" swore horribly and used language that frightened the brothers and sisters. Furthermore, James Francis of Bellevue, a blind member of the society, who sells lead pencils and trinkets in a small tent on the grounds, had been robbed of his day's earnings by some of the young disturbers. The society closed its two

There are no bargains to be had today in any grade of diamonds—why, simply because their value is advancing, not decreasing. Of course, there are grades and qualities in diamonds—you can buy diamonds at different prices per karat—but high or low, price is always based on quality and color. Selling as we do but one grade of diamonds, the very best, you will find that our prices are fair and honest—lower than you can ever expect to replace the same goods in our stock—lower, we assure you—quality considered—than you can buy elsewhere. WINDFALL FOR TWO GIRLS.

As a result of Surrogate Cobalan denying the petition of Edmund K. Stallo for an allowance of $50,000 each for the maintenance of his two daughters, Laura McDonald Stallo and Helen McDonald Stallo, 17 and 18 years old, respectively, from their grandfather's $300,000 estate, the application will not be renewed. It is said, however, that steps will be taken for a partition suit and the distribution of the property among the heirs, so that the two girls can get their share. Henry C. Henderson, a New York lawyer, who resides in White Plains, and who represented the petitioners, when asked concerning the application made for the increased allowance for the Stallo girls, declined to give any information beyond the statement that it was for their support. The grandfather of the Stallo girls died last March. They will benefit largely in his fortune. The young women are now travelling abroad. Surrogate Cobalan, in his decision, denying the petition said: "The petitions should contain a more detailed statement of the amount of the income of the infants, and the inability of the father to provide for them out of his own means, and their consents should be obtained to the allowance."—New York American.

DIOCESAN CONVENTION.

Program of the Episcopal Church Gathering at Houghton.

The annual diocesan convention of the Protestant Episcopal church of the upper peninsula will open this morning in Trinity church, Houghton. The convention will continue until tomorrow noon. Tomorrow evening there will be a meeting of the women's auxiliary to the board of missions. An important incident in advance of the convention will be the consecration of the new Trinity church at a 10:30 o'clock service tomorrow morning. The following is an outline of the program of the two days' meetings and services:

—Wednesday—

6 o'clock a. m.—Mass with Rev. J. E. Curzon as celebrant.

7 o'clock—Mass with Rt. Rev. Coadjutor Bishop of Fond du Lac as celebrant.

10:30 o'clock—Consecration service for the church with Rt. Rev. Coadjutor Bishop of Fond du Lac as celebrant. Sermon by Rev. William Reed Cross B. D. of Evansville, Ind.

Following the consecration the convention will be called to order by Bishop Williams who will preside. After the appointment of a committee on lay representation the convention will adjourn for luncheon, which will be served in the Sunday school room of the church. At 2 o'clock the convention will resume and the entire afternoon be devoted to its business.

7:30 o'clock p. m.—Evensong with sermon by Bishop Williams.

—Thursday—

Tomorrow morning there will be a Mass at 7:30 and Matins at 9 o'clock. At 7:30 p. m. will be held the convention of the Women's auxiliary and during this meeting Rt. Rev. H. Weller, coadjutor bishop of Fond du Lac, will preach a sermon.

It is probable that during the two days a meeting of the standing committee, of which Rev. J. E. Curzon is chairman, will be held. The event is also probable that Bishop Williams will ordain one of the candidates for holy orders during his stay here.

The clergy to be present during the convention are as follows: Rt. Rev. C. Mott Williams, Bishop of Marquette; Rt. Rev. H. Weller, coadjutor bishop of Fond du Lac; Rev. William Reed Cross of Evansville, Ind.; former pastor of this church; Rev. B. T. Rogers, warden of Grafton Hall, Fond du Lac, Wis.; Rev. William Poysor of Crystal Falls; Rev. H. B. Ziegler of Ishpeming; Rev. Fred T. Dalton of Menominee; Rev. W. Nickel of Iron Mountain; Rev. E. Williams of Escanaba, Rev. Harold Jenkins of Manistique, Rev. H. J. Ellis of Manistique, Rev. F. G. Davis of St. Ignace, Rev. William Malpas of St. Ignace, Rev. Robert S. Gill of Munising, Rev. R. E. Hicks of Negaunee, Rev. B. G. Burt of Marquette and Rev. J. E. Ten Broeck, Calumet.

FEW DUCKS ARE BAGGED YET.

Season Is a Bit Early, Say Hunters—Mallards at Deer Lake.

Few ducks have been bagged yet by the hunters of Calumet. In fact not a great many ducks have been seen in any part of this district. A party of fishermen at Deer lake, near Lac la Belle, a few days ago, say that the lake was covered with mallards one or two days, but that the birds have all disappeared. The wild rice growing in the little chain of lakes near Lac la Belle is gradually attracting the attention of the ducks and it is likely that the fowls will be flocking here in large numbers before the season closes.

A fine partridge and deer hunting season is promised, for large conveyances of partridge are reported all through the woods of Keweenaw, especially in the vicinity of Cliff and east of that place. Deer are reported quite plentiful about Lac la Belle and Mandan.

Some fine catches of pike are being made in Lac la Belle and Deer lake. A fourteen-year-old boy, the son of a Calumet resident, landed an eighteen-pound grass pike in Deer Lake Sunday.

MINERAL RANGE LOCOMOTIVES.

Two Fine New Yard Engines Arrive—Big New "Hogs" Coming This Week.

The two new yard engines ordered some time ago from the American Locomotive works at Scranton, Pa., by the Mineral Range railroad have arrived in Calumet and have been put into service. They are the finest yard engines in the service of any road in the Northwest. It is claimed. No. 162 weighs sixty-eight tons on the drivers, and No. 163 about sixty-two tons. The drivers are fifty inches in diameter. The engines are furnished with the latest air equipment, self-dumping ashpans, etc., and are without dampers so no fire is dumped with the ashes. These are now necessitated by law. The tanks are somewhat larger than those on the old yard engines, having a capacity for each engine of 4,000 gallons.

Three of the big new "hogs" for service in rock hauling on the Mineral Range will be delivered in Calumet today or tomorrow. The other three are expected shortly. The new "hogs" are the smallest locomotives ever in service on the road. This will bring the motive power of the Mineral Range up to the top notch and will permit of a great increase in the rock hauling capacity of the line. The big order of new rock cars will arrive considerably in increasing this service.

The Mineral Range has greatly improved the truckage service in its yards of Calumet. This was necessary because of the heavy traffic through the yards from both north and south. The new heavy steel has been laid throughout.

NORTH WEST ON LAST TRIP.

Big Steamer Will Be Here Today for Last Time This Season.

The steamer North West was in port yesterday and will this morning be her last visit to our harbor. She had almost as big a passenger list yesterday as at any time during the season. Captain Miner said that the season had been a most successful one, a most satisfactory one to him and to his company.

The most important passenger in the North West's passenger list on this last trip was Chase S. Osborn, who got ashore at the Soo. W. D. Calverley, who made a round trip for recreation, was a passenger yesterday, getting ashore here.

CIRCUIT COURT THIS MORNING.

Judge Streeter Will Convene September Term at County Building.

Hon. Albert T. Streeter, circuit judge, will this morning convene the September term of the Houghton county circuit court in the court room of the county building. The court room will be devoted to the arrangement of the calendar and the afternoon to general business. The jury is ordered to report this morning and criminal business will be taken up immediately.

GOING TO FORT HARRISON.

Engineers Will Likely Leave Calumet the Night of Sept. 17.

Company A, Calumet Engineers, will leave for the annual maneuver camp of the National Guard and regular army at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, Ind., the night of Saturday, Sept. 17. The work at the big maneuvers camp opens Monday, Sept. 19. The engineers will have a special car from Calumet, going by way of the South Shore, Michigan Central and Big Four through St. Ignace, Detroit and Toledo.

PRIMARY ELECTION.

Little Excitement in the Copper Country—Big Vote Out.

Yesterday was primary election day in the copper country. It was not a particularly exciting day and there is no way of making a forecast. The only certainty is the nomination of James J. Byers for sheriff on the Democratic ticket and there is a possibility he will have a greater number of votes on the Republican ticket than his opponents. It was not believed yesterday that the vote would be counted before late this morning, as a big vote came out and it was badly split up with slips, while numerous changes of residence delayed the game in all of the precincts.

REV. MR. SEDWEEK LEAVES.

E. church and who has accepted a call to Daytona, Fla., left yesterday for Cass City, this state, where he will visit relatives before going to the Detroit conference meeting late this month. After the conference he goes to Florida. A large number of his former parishioners escorted him to the Calumet station and many of them rode through with him as far as Houghton. Mr. Sedweek has been a very popular pastor.

FORMER BALTIMO MAN KILLED.

A telegram was received Monday afternoon by Marshall Bass of South Range from I. C. Bolgan, claim agent of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad at Home, Neb., reading as follows: "A man supposed to be Kaakki Kivinski, formerly of Baltic, jumped from a passenger train near Sioux River, Iowa, last night and was killed. He had a ticket for Duluth from Colton, Utah. Please wire if such a man was living at Baltic and if he has any relatives there." Attempts to learn of such a man were unsuccessful.

S. S. S. OLD SORES CURES

Every old sore comes from some kind of impurity in the blood. It remains an open, discharging place on the flesh because the circulation constantly deposits into the fibres and tissues which surround the spot, the infectious matter with which the blood is contaminated. It is impossible for the sore to heal while the blood is in this impure state. S. S. S. heals old sores because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers; it goes into the circulation and removes the cause from the blood. When the blood has been purified there is no longer any inflammatory impurity or infectious matter to irritate the place, and the cause is certain and natural healing of the ulcer. It is all well enough to endeavor to cleanse an old sore, or stop the itching, or absorb the discharge, with external applications, but a cure can never be reached in this way, because such applications do not reach the blood where the cause is located. S. S. S. does not simply cause a scab to form over an old sore, but beginning at the bottom it heals the place permanently by building new tissue, and filling the place with firm healthy flesh. S. S. S. is a purely botanical remedy, being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, each of which has a direct and lasting effect in removing impurities and poisons from the circulation. Old people who have suffered for years with chronic sores will find S. S. S. a most helpful tonic and system builder in counteracting the debilitating effects of the old ulcer. is doubtless in large part responsible for the gigantic development of our natural resources, but it is not less responsible for waste, destruction, and monopoly on an equally gigantic scale. The method of reckless and uncontrolled private use and waste has done for us all the good it ever can, and it is time to put an end to it before it does the evil it easily may. We have passed the time when heedless waste and destruction, and arrogant monopoly, are any longer permissible. Henceforth we must seek national efficiency by a new and a better way, by the way of the orderly development and use, coupled with the preservation, of our national resources, by making the most of what we have for the benefit of all of us, instead of leaving the sources of material prosperity open to indiscriminate exploitation. These are some of the reasons why we think that we should about the old point of view, and why conservation has become a patriotic duty.

Waterways.

"One of the greatest of our conservation problems is the wise and prompt development and use of the waterways of this nation. In nearly every river city from St. Paul to the Gulf the waterfront is controlled by the railways. Nearly every artificial waterway in the United States, either directly or indirectly, is under the same control. It goes without saying that unless the waterways are in advance, the railways will attempt to take control of our waterways as fast as they are improved and completed; nor would I blame them if we, the people, are supine in the matter. We must see to it that adequate terminals are provided in every city and town on every improved waterway, terminals open under reasonable conditions to the use of every citizen, and rigidly protected against monopoly; and we must compel the railways to co-operate with the waterways continuously, effectively, and under reasonable conditions. Unless we do so the railway lines will refuse to deliver freight to the boat lines, either openly or by imposing prohibitory conditions, and the waterways once improved will do comparatively little for the benefit of the people who pay the bill.

"Adequate terminals properly controlled and open through lines by rail and boat are two absolutely essential conditions to the usefulness of inland waterway development. I believe furthermore that the railways should be prohibited from owning, controlling, or carrying any interest in the boat lines on our rivers, unless under the strictest regulation and control of the interstate commerce commission, so that the shippers' interests may be fully protected.

"Where the lands are unimproved or unable to undertake the drainage of swamp and overflow lands by the federal government is a wise and necessary measure.

LITTLE DAUGHTER HAD SCALP HUMOR

Itched So that She Scratched Until Blood Came, Hair Fell Out. Scalp had Unpleasant Odor. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment Four Weeks. Scalp Perfectly Clear.

Hair Began to Grow Again and Now Has Beautiful, Long Hair.

"When my little daughter was about five years old, she was taken with the measles. A few weeks after the measles were gone, she began to have a severe scalp humor. It itched so that she would scratch the whole day, until the blood came. We had a doctor and tried a good many other remedies, but nothing helped. Her hair all fell out and the scalp itself had an unpleasant odor.

"After we had tried all the other remedies, my wife told me to try the Cuticura Remedies. We bought one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. We used the Cuticura Remedies according to directions and in about three or four weeks her scalp was perfectly clear of the terrible humor. After hair began to grow again and now she has beautiful, long hair. Since that time I have recommended the Cuticura Remedies to other people and they also had success. Chas. Salzberger, Amarna, Iowa, Nov. 8, 1909."

The Conservation Fight.

"One of the difficulties in putting into practice the conservation idea is that the field to which it applies is constantly growing in the public mind. It has been no slight task to bring before 100,000,000 people a great conception like that of conservation, and convince them that it is right. This much we have accomplished. But there remains much to be done. There remains much to be done in the way of public opinion, and in the way of legislation, and in the way of putting and end to the need for withdrawals. For instance, we find it constantly said by men who should know better, that temporary withdrawals have no purpose except to prevent the coal lands from passing into private ownership until congress can pass laws to open them to development under conditions just alike to the public, and to the men who will do the developing. If there is delay, the responsibility for it rests, not on the men who made the withdrawals to protect the public interest, but on those who prevent congress from passing wise legislation, and a putting and end to the need for withdrawals.

National Forests.

"The people of the United States believe in the complete and rounded development of inland waterways for all the useful purposes to which they can be put. They believe also in forest protection and forest extension. The fight for our national forests in the West has been won, but the fight to create the Southern Appalachian and White Mountain forests in the East is not yet over. The bill has passed the house, and will come before the senate for a vote next February. The people of the United States, regardless of party or section, should stand solidly behind it, and see that their representatives do likewise.

"If any proof were needed that forest protection is a forest duty, the recent fire in the forests in the West would supply it. Even with the aid of the army added to that of the forest service, the loss has been severe. With either it would have been vastly greater. But the forest service does more than protect the National forests. It makes them practically and increasingly useful as well. During the last year for which I have the figures, the national forests were used by 22,000 cattlemen with their herds, 5,000 sheepmen with their flocks, 5,000 timbermen with their axes, and 45,000 miners. More than 5,000 persons used them for other special industries. Nearly 34,000 settlers had the free use of wood. The total resident population of the national forests is about a quarter of a million which is larger than the population of certain states.

"More than 700,000 acres of agricultural land have been patented or listed for patent within the forests, and the reports of the forest officers show that more than 400,000 people a year use the forests for recreation, camping, hunting and other similar purposes. All this is done of course, without injury to the timber, which has a value of at least a thousand million dollars. Moreover, the national forests protect the water supply of a thousand cities and towns about 800 irrigation projects and more than 200 power projects, not counting the use of water for these and other purposes by individual settlers. I think that hereafter we may safely disregard any statements that the national forests are withdrawn from settlement and use.

A Country Life Institute.

"The investigations of the country life commission have led the farmers of this country to realize that they have not been getting their fair share of progress and all that it brings. Some of our countrymen in the Mississippi valley and in the Middle West have made marvelous progress, yet even the best of them, like communities of every other kind, are not beyond improvement, while much needs to be done in some other sections to improve country life. As yet we have had only a few institutions that deal with the basic facts of rural civilization. The means for better farming we have studied with care, but to better living on the farm and to better business on the farm we have given scant attention.

"One of the most urgent needs of our civilization is that the farmers themselves should undertake to get for themselves a better knowledge along these lines, and then to apply it. Sir Horace Plunkett, for many years a Wyoming cattleman, and now devoting himself in Ireland to the country life problem there, has in his recent book, 'The Country Life Problem in America' the creation of a Country Life Institute as a center where the work and knowledge of the whole world concerning country life may be brought together for the use of every nation. I am strongly in sympathy with this idea, and I hope to see it carried out with the co-operation and assistance of our own people.

State and Federal Control.

"One of the most important conservation questions of the moment relates to the control of water power monopoly in the public interest. There is apparent to the judicious observer a distinct tendency on the part of our opponents to cloud the issue by raising the question of state as against federal jurisdiction. We are ready to meet that issue if it is forced upon us. But there is no hope for the plain people in such conflicts of jurisdictions. The essential question is not one of hair-splitting legal technicalities. It is simply this: Who can best regulate the special interests for the public good? Most of the predatory corporations are interstate or have interstate affiliations. Therefore they are largely out of reach of effective state control, and in the hands of the federal jurisdiction. One of the prime objects of those among them that are grasping and greedy is to avoid any effective control either by state or nation; and they advocate at this time state control simply because they believe it to be the least effective.

"In the great fight of the people to drive the special interests from the dominion of our government, the nation is stronger and its jurisdiction is more effective than that of any state. The most effective weapon against these great corporations, most of which are financed and owned on the Atlantic coast, is the federal law. That is why I so strongly oppose the demand to turn these matters over to the states. It is fundamentally a demand against the interest of the plain people, of the people of small means, against the interest of our children and our children's children; and it is primarily in the interest of the great corporations,

I asked, "and he replied: 'Read the last half of the eighth chapter of Revelations, and you will get your answer.' The verses of the Revelations referred to are: 'And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, what are these which are written in white robes and whence came they? And I said unto him: Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me: These are they which came out of great tribulations, and he made them white in the blood of the lamb. ### Upper Peninsula

Fatally Injured in a Runaway—

While John Raymond was driving a team of horses at Watersmeet, the animals became frightened and ran away, throwing Raymond out, the front wheel of the wagon passing over his neck. He was removed to the Gogebic county hospital at Bessemer, where he died shortly after from his injuries. Effort is being made to locate his relatives, but the authorities have been unable to do so.

Deaths from Diphtheria—

Two deaths from diphtheria are reported at Grand Marais, Alger county. The victims were Norman Oliver, aged six years, son of William Oliver, and Ruth Johnson, thirteen-year-old daughter of Andrew Johnson. Both children were ill only a few days. The township board of health has issued an order that for the time being the schools and churches shall be closed. Public assembly is forbidden.

Goat Hunting in Prospect—

Hunting conditions in the upper peninsula this fall will be the best in several years, it is said. The forest fires did not do as great damage as was at first believed and did not drive out the animals and birds as last year. Deer, partridges and duck are reported plentiful. Sportsmen of various districts have planted great quantities of wild celery and will rice to attract the birds and their efforts have been successful.

Bloody Quarrel Over Trivial Cause—

As the result of a quarrel at Ironwood regarding a difference of twenty-five cents in their wages, Liberato Manno shot and severely wounded Joseph Rainelli, who is now lying in the city hospital in a critical condition. Rainelli received twenty-five cents more than Manno and a dispute arose, Rainelli becoming angry and firing at Manno, who returned the fire. Manno was wounded, but it is not known how seriously, as he managed to get away. Rainelli received four shots, one hitting him on the shoulder, two grazing his arm and the fourth passing through his left lung. A companion of Rainelli's Mike Jonjoppi, who was mixed up in the quarrel, has been arrested and is in jail.

Murder Case on the Calendar—

The September term of the circuit court for Chippewa county will convene at the Soo this morning. The case of Charles Collins, the alleged Fort Brady murderer, is on the calendar and will be heard during the term. It is said that Collins has plenty of money secured from influential friends and relatives, with which to fight his case and that a strong defense will be put up. The other criminal cases in the docket are those of Robert Taylor, Alfred Chartrand, Calvin Winter, charged with violation of the liquor law; James Tozer, embezzlement; Frank Bernard, Jr., escape; Joseph Massey, aiding prisoner to escape; John Sharp, taking indecent liberties with female child, and John Hochstein, larceny.

Pastor Returns from Abroad—

Rev. Father Girard, pastor of Holy Rosary church at Grand Marais, has returned from a visit to his old home in France and a tour of Europe. Besides visiting points of interest in England and France he also visited the vatican in Rome, Venice, Naples and Oberammergau, in Bavaria, where he witnessed the passion play, which has been produced there every ten years for nearly three centuries. The sea voyage was pleasant both ways, and the weather being ideal, and the trip as a whole was thoroughly enjoyed by Father Girard, who returns invigorated and refreshed to again assume the duties of his charge. The reverend father has been a priest in Upper Michigan for the past quarter of a century.

Forest Fire Protection—

Charles H. Bradley of Duluth, a timber broker well known in the upper peninsula, makes the interesting statement that more timber is being destroyed by fires than is manufactured into lumber. He has the following suggestions for the prevention of this great annual loss to the Lake Superior region:

"The experiences with forest fires in timber land during the past four years, and particularly in 1910, not only in the western states but in the Lake Superior district, shows that every lumberman is interested in some way to guard against this great annual destruction. Naturally each owner feels more or less secure against individual losses and hesitates to act until it is too late.

"Timber land can be well-guarded against forest fire loss if concerted action by owners of timber in conjunction with state, county or district organization is taken. The expense might seem heavy but the assurance of protection from forest fires would be a great relief to owners and a satisfaction to everybody. The expense, when pro-rated among all interested parties, would be comparatively light. Settlers and towns directly tributary to the timber country are immediately interested.

"During the dry and dangerous seasons which are but a few months duration at the most, I think it would be a good plan to keep at least four good men to cruise each timbered township, the men thus employed could be assembled at any time to fight fire in adjoining townships. "Every forest fire so deplored in this territory in which it occurs that the state, county and school district, and in fact every settler, are vitally interested. Each should stand a share of the expense of forest ranging. I would suggest that each state work in conjunction with timber owners and formulate laws to establish and maintain forest ranging systems. Attention and action are necessary, as more timber is destroyed by fires than is turned into lumber."

HELD UP BY REJECTED LOVER.

Lee De King, a laundryman of 43 Pell street, was held in $1000 bail for examination on a charge of robbing Jen Fong, a Chinese woman, after she had rejected his proposal of marriage. Mrs. Fong said she reminded Lee that she had a husband, but he said that didn't matter as long as she was in China. When she persisted in her refusal, Lee, she says, pulled a revolver from his blouse, pointed it at her, and robbed her jewel box of six Chinese bracelets valued at $275.—New York American.

GIRL OF TWENTY A STAR SINGER.

After a long search and many trials and disappointments the Hippodrome has decided to give the alternate prima donna roles in its productions this season to Miss May Bronte, a young society girl, from Brooklyn, who will be making her professional debut. The task that she will take up is a peculiar one. It requires not only a very good voice, but one of great range and power. In seasons past Miss Nannette Flack has sung the roles alone at two performances for six days a week, a strain terrible for her strong voice, and this year the management of the Hippodrome decided to have two artists to take the chief singing role in their three large spectacular dramas that will be seen for the first time on Saturday night. From persons who have heard Miss Bronte at rehearsals it is learned that her voice is such as to have won the applause of others on the stage. Miss Bronte is only 20 years old.—New York American.

ELECTORS SLOW IN VOTING YESTERDAY

Men Stood on Streets but Had Little to Say About Political Contests.

Yesterday morning it looked as if Negaunee would poll a very light vote, but the ward workers busied themselves when it was found that the electors were not coming to the polls, and they succeeded in rounding up many people. The streets were well filled in the morning and many men remained in the business district most of the day, but few of them were talking politics.

At 10 o'clock the vote in some of the wards was so light that the friends of the candidates became greatly alarmed. Although the polls opened at 7 o'clock they did not exceed twenty three hours later. Perhaps from 75 to 90 per cent of the workmen had absolutely nothing to do yesterday but go to the polls, and the party leaders could not understand why they did not exercise their right to vote.

"I cannot understand the failure of the men to go to the polls," said one of the prominent Republicans of the city, who was working in the interest of Congressman H. O. Young and Senator Burgess. "I am afraid we will have a tight race unless the men are strongly urged to come out. I had noticed that the workmen had not been talking politics much, and I am now convinced that many of them are not specially interested in the fight over the nominations."

Another prominent politician, who commented on the very light vote in the morning, said: "We will leave nothing undone to get the voters to the polls this afternoon. If necessary they will be brought there in carriages and automobiles. Many of us are deeply interested in the candidacy of Congressman Young in this election, if for no other reason."

T. M. Wells, one of the candidates for representative to the state legislature in the second district of the county, was one of the most active campaigners in the city. Mr. Wells had been working hard for a week or more, and he perhaps did as much as any other man in the city to swell the vote.

GOOD CROWDS AT FAIR.

Negaunee was well represented at the Marquette county fair Monday and yesterday, and large delegations will go to that city again today and tomorrow. A number who attended the fair Monday and yesterday remained in Marquette in the evening, to attend the Barkoot Street carnival. Monday the South Shore sold 140 tickets to Negaunee for the day and yesterday over 200 went down on the morning and afternoon trains. A good sized delegation also went down in the evening.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Dr. R. J. Maas, of Hancock, visited relatives here Monday and yesterday. Benjamin Neely, Jr., was here yesterday from Crystal Falls, on a visit to his folks.

T. H. Harris, who has been in Milwaukee on business the past few days, will be home today.

Miss Lillie Foley is here from LaCrosse, Wis., on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Foley.

Ernest Klein, of Rosen Bros. & Klein, who spent a week in Detroit and Muskegon has returned home. The Italian band conducted a dance yesterday afternoon and evening at the Cleveland park.

The Lady Macabees of Negaunee will entertain tonight at Shea's hall, with a dancing party. Refreshments will be served.

Charles Thoren has returned from Chicago, where he spent a week on business in connection with his tailoring establishment.

Miss Minnie Harris left yesterday for Rockland, where she will be the instructor in music and drawing in the public schools the coming year.

Mrs. D. McDonald, Sr., and sister, Mrs. Anna McLean, left Monday morning for Eagle Harbor, Mich., where they will spend a few weeks.

John Moyle, who will leave Negaunee today for his old home in England, expects to spend the next four months there. It is three years since he came out to this country.

The framework will soon be raised on the labor temple in the center of the city. The foundation work has been completed, and the foundation timbers are in place.

Good headway is being made with the work at the Negaunee National bank's new block. The roof timbers were put in place yesterday, and if the weather is favorable all of the stone will be in position in the front before the close of the week.

It is reported that Steve Ladigan, who was employed in both the O'Donoghue and Perkins' pharmacies here, will soon engage in the drug business on his own account. It is said that a Negaunee physician and an Ishpeming physician will be financially interested with Mr. Ladigan. A stand has not yet been established, nor have definite plans for the establishment of the store been perfected.

Rev. C. A. Benson of Stillwater, Minn., will lecture in Swedish this evening at the Swedish Lutheran church. The members of the congregation are showing much interest in Rev. Benson's lecture, and there will be a good attendance. There will be an admission charge, but a collection will be taken up to defray the expenses.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster you can buy. Pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by The People's Drug Store.

GOES TO MONTANA.

Former Negaunee Clergyman to Take Chair in Presbyterian College.

Rev. Frederick Luke, former rector of St. John's Episcopal church, of this city, who has been located at Ypsilanti since leaving here, has resigned his pastoral charge there to accept the chair of the commercial department in the Presbyterian college at Deer Lodge, Mont. Mr. Luke spent a few days with friends at Ironwood last week, and he and Mrs. Luke are now visiting in St. Paul, where they will spend a few days before leaving for their new home in Montana.

The Ypsilanti Daily Press had this announcement of Mr. Luke's resignation: "Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Luke and Mrs. Luke's mother, Mrs. Sawbridge, will leave tomorrow to make short visits in Ironwood and St. Paul before proceeding to their new home in Deer Lodge, Mont. where Mr. Luke has accepted the chair of the commercial department in the Presbyterian college. Mr. Luke has been a real addition to the citizenship of Ypsilanti and has won friends on all hands by his interest in all public matters by his most acceptable public service in connection with St. Luke's church and by the interest he has shown in everything relating to the advancement of the welfare of the city. He and his family go with the good wishes of a multitude of friends in this city."

FAVORABLE REPORTS.

Conditions in Iron Trade Have Improved Greatly The Past Few Weeks.

It is reported from New York that the last few days of August contributed new orders for finished steel products that increased the daily average sales for the Steel corporation substantially by about 6,000 tons. The new business was not sufficient to rescue August from being the dulllest month of the year; but the significant feature is that the last four days of August and the first few days of September have developed more hopeful sentiment and a more cheerful tone. New orders received in the first three weeks of August were scarcely enough to keep one-third of the mill capacity busy, but today current sales amount to nearly 43 per cent. Specifications also increased, after a drop early in the month. The improvement in business was especially notable in steel sheets.

Shipments of all steel products exceeded the new business taken by about 30 per cent and the distribution of wire products was especially notable shipments in August being only once exceeded. Railroad equipment purchases were light, but October is expected to develop more buying.

Increased activity in pig iron last week was at the expense of prices. The heaviest sales were in the West, where concessions induced the placing of 75,000 tons, including 20,000 tons of basic, 2,500 tons of malleable and 15,500 tons of foundry grades, outside of the purchases of 40,000 tons by pig manufacturers of Indiana.

More iron is under negotiation in all sections and inquiries are larger.

DISGUSTED WITH WESTERN CANADA

Wisconsin Man Comes Back Home Heartily Sick of Conditions in "Sunny Alberta."

New Richmond, Wis., Sept. 5.—That the Western Canada land boom is a fake, a delusion and a snare is the declaration of Fred M. Oakes, who has just moved back to St. Croix County from Barrons, Alberta, where he moved in May, after selling his farm near this city. He points anything but a glowing picture of "Sunny Alberta." Mr. Oakes says he is but one of 15,000 farmers who have moved or are moving or making plans to move from Alberta and Saskatchewan back to the United States.

"The crops all through that region are a complete failure this year," says Mr. Oakes. "The best of the matter is they do not figure on having more than three crops out of five in that district, but that is something one is not told, and there is no way of finding out until one gets there. Last year's crop was the best in the history of those provinces and the boom has been pulled off entirely on the strength of that."

"The ground just now is absolutely bare, devoid of vegetation of every name and nature. There has not been a rain in over a year. There has been one killing frost already this season, but it did no damage, because there was no vegetation to be harmed. The ground is covered with a fine dust, and when the wind blows a gale, as it frequently does, the dust penetrates every nook and cranny in the houses."

"Another thing the emigrants from the United States complained of is the climate. The changes of temperature are sudden and extreme. June 1 we had a snow flurry and a cold wave. Seven chickens froze to death in my coop. The weather was so cold and irregular and uncertain that we were unable to operate our incubator successfully during June. One day in the latter part of May the temperature was 102 in the sun at noon. A northwest wind started up and by 2 o'clock the mercury had fallen to the 40s."

"We also found after we got up there that we were not allowed to sell anything we took with us within eighteen months without paying the duty. I sold my cattle just before I came out and the government collected 20 per cent duty. We were checked in and checked out by the Canadian customs authorities. One of the horses died while I was in Canada, and they would have charged me 25 per cent of the valuation of the animal had I not been able to prove to their satisfaction that the animal had really died and that I had not sold it."

PONTIAC—Francesco Spadefore, proprietor of a fruit store here, has received a letter from Madrid, Spain, in which he is directed to telegraph immediately to his brother, Louis Spadefore, at Luna court, Madrid. Spadefore is warned to write no letters or do else than comply with the request, under penalty of being a marked man. The letter is written in fine Italian and bears the signature "R." Spadefore is greatly alarmed and has had the matter before the local officers in addition to taking the matter up with the Italian consul in Detroit. The letter has created consternation in the local Italian colony. Spadefore came here from Italy and says he knows no one in Madrid. He fears the letter originates from Detroit Italians who have learned of his prosperity here and who seek to separate him from a part of his savings.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by The People's Drug Store.

OSBORN, YOUNG AND TOWNSEND

These Three the Winning Candidates in Marquette County, as Indicated by the Returns from Thirty-Three of the Thirty-Eight Precincts Heard From.

Total Vote Was Approximately 4,700, Compared With 3,300 at the Primaries Two Years Ago—Townsend and Osborn Showed Great Strength Everywhere.

Thirty-three out of thirty-eight precincts in Marquette county (Negaunee, Powell, Champion, Turin and Wells townships missing) give Osborn 3,550, Musselman 547, and Kelley 537 votes for governor; Townsend 2,013, and Burrows 1,803, for United States senator; Young 2,680, and Kerr 1,333, for congressman. Ross and Rice are in the lead for lieutenant governor, with Ross apparently in the lead. Ewing and Wells are running neck and neck for state representative, with Ewing a few votes ahead.

Osborn for governor, Young for congressman and probably Townsend for United States senator were the choice of the Republican voters of Marquette county at the primary election yesterday. Negaunee, Champion, Powell, Turin and Wells townships had not heard from up to 3 o'clock this morning, but it is not thought that the returns from these precincts will change the present results. Approximately 12,000 votes were cast in the county yesterday, an increase of about 1,400 over the primary election two years ago. The largest vote was cast for governor, with congressman next and senator third.

The two big surprises of the election were the unexpected strength of Townsend for senator in this county, and the excellent showing made by Chase S. Osborn, the upper peninsula's candidate for governor. In the thirty-three precincts heard from, Townsend leads his opponent, Senator Burrows, by 210 votes. The Jackson man carried Marquette city in his county, and is showing remarkable strength in the townships. On the basis of the present returns, Osborn has received 77 per cent of the total vote cast, while Musselman and Kelley have split even on the remaining 23 per cent.

Angus W. Kerr made a poor race against Congressman H. O. Young. The latter carried every township in the county and every ward in the three cities, with the exception of the Fourth in Marquette and the Second in Negaunee. His net majority in the thirty-three precincts is 1,347.

W. S. Ewing and Thomas M. Wells are side by side in the race for representative in the First district, and the winner will be in doubt until the last precinct has been heard from. On the basis of present returns, Ewing is in the lead by less than twenty votes, but the official count may easily wipe out or considerably increase this difference.

For lieutenant governor, returns have been received from comparatively few precincts, all of Ishpeming city being missing. Ross and Rice have the most votes in the precincts reported, and Ross is likely to carry off the big end of the vote, judging from present indications.

SMALL VOTE CAST IN THIS CITY

Osborn, Townsend and Young Received Handsome Majorities in Marquette at Primaries.

A very light vote was cast in Marquette city at the primary election yesterday, probably no more than one-half of the enrolled voters going to the polls. In view of the activity of the prolection campaign, the light vote was a surprise to nearly everyone, as it was thought that the governorship, senatorial and congressional contests would bring out most of the voters, though there was but one contest for county offices.

The largest vote was cast for congressman, 833, and the next highest number, 797, was cast for lieutenant governor, and 755 for county representative. The largest vote was cast in the Third ward, the vote in the First and Second wards being especially light.

There was less confusion and trouble at the polls over the new election law than had been anticipated, though the city attorney was kept busy settling minor points of dispute relating to the enrolled voters going to the polls. In view of the activity of the prolection campaign, the light vote was a surprise to nearly everyone, as it was thought that the governorship, senatorial and congressional contests would bring out most of the voters, though there was but one contest for county offices.

The total vote in the city for the state offices was as follows: Governor—Osborn, 493; Musselman, 191; Kelley, 117. Lieutenant Governor—Rice, 461; Dickinson, 196; Ross, 140. Senator Townsend, 482; Burrows, 314. Congressman—Young, 481; Kerr, 352. Representative—Ewing, 458; Wells, 317.

BIG CROWD AT CARNIVAL.

All of the Street Shows Well Patronized Last Evening.

Another immense crowd thronged Baraga avenue last evening to participate in the carnival of merriment and enjoy the various shows. All of the attractions were well patronized, including the many concessions, but the Peerless Mamie and the Miniature city were the most popular. Those who have visited the shows report that they are better than the average playing with street carnivals, and are particularly worthy of commendation in that they are clean, respectable and free from anything that would make them objectionable to ladies or gentlemen.

Several of the shows will give exhibitions at the fair grounds this afternoon. Hundreds of people witnessed the high dive from the 103-foot tower into a tank of water four feet deep. The diver tumbled over backward from his lofty platform, turns over several times in the perilous descent and strikes the water with a tremendous splash, only to jump out again in a second, as lively as if he had only fallen a foot.

The standings in the Queen and Doll contests, given by the Maccabees of the World in connection with the carnival, up to last evening, were as follows: Doll contest—Ruth Tobin, first; Hortense Libershall, second; Maribel Price, third; Vera Hartman, fourth; Elyvide Gagnon, fifth; Eloyisa McNulty, sixth; Charlotte Marvin, seventh; Norma Schauer, eighth; Lois Atkins, ninth; Katherine Little, tenth; Salome Mosher, eleventh; Agnes Griffin, twelfth; Mary Guthrie, thirteenth; Belle Anderson, fourteenth.

Queen contest—Miss Anna Johnson, first; Miss Belle Smith, second.
