

ELECTION IN MAINE IS WON BY DEMOCRATS

Normal Republican Plurality Is Upset and Frederick W. Plaisted of Augusta Is Chosen Chief Executive by a Margin of Approximately 3,500 Votes.

Not Only This, but at Least Two of the Four Congressional Districts Are Lost to the G. O. P., as Is the Control of the State Legislature.

Portland, Me., Sept. 12.—Maine went Democratic today. It elected Frederick W. Plaisted, of Augusta, the Democratic candidate, governor; upset the hitherto solid Republican congressional delegation in at least two and possibly four districts, and, to the surprise of the political leaders, Democratic as well as Republican, the returns late tonight indicate the likelihood that the next state legislature will be Democratic.

Portland, Me., Sept. 12.—In the Second district, which formerly was represented by the late Nelson M. Dingley, Daniel J. McGillicuddy, Democrat, is elected congressman by 3,000 votes over Joseph P. Swasey, the incumbent. Congressional District No. 1, Republican, has won over William M. Pennell, Democrat in the former, and Congressman Frank E. Guernsey, Republican, has been defeated in the latter by George M. Hanson, Democrat, by a small vote.

Portland, Me., Sept. 12.—The Republican leaders in the First district claimed "bracket" election tonight by 200. The Fourth district returns indicate Guernsey's election by 400. Late returns on the legislature give twenty Democrats and eight Republicans out of thirty-one in the senate and fifty-eight Democrats and forty-eight Republicans out of 151 in the house.

Outcome a Great Surprise. The Republican leaders are overwhelmed with surprise and the magnitude of their successes has astonished even the most sanguine Democrats.

HOW LORIMER WON IS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Senate Committee of Which Mr. Burrows of Michigan Is Chairman Will Meet in Chicago on Thursday to Look Into the Allegations of Bribery.

Lee Browne's Acquittal of the Charge of Buying Votes Will Not Be Permitted to Interfere, It Is Stated, and the Whole Affair Will Be Thoroughly Sifted.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The third sensational congressional investigation authorized at the last session of congress will begin Sept. 15, when the senate committee on privileges and elections, of which Senator Burrows of Michigan is chairman, will meet in this city for the purpose of investigating the bribery charges in connection with the election of Senator William Lorimer of Illinois to the United States senate.

Regardless of the fact that Lee O'Neil Browne, Democratic leader in the Illinois legislature, on his second trial was acquitted of the charge of bribing members of the legislature to vote for Lorimer, the committee will undoubtedly proceed with a most thorough inquiry.

Elected After Long Deadlock. The election of Lorimer to the United States senate was a matter of speculative gossip for months before Representative Charles A. White of St. Clair, Ill., began hawking his story of how he had been bribed to vote for Lorimer.

The first charges made by White came after he had written letters to Senator Lorimer in Washington, intimating that he wanted money for several purposes and also that he intended publishing a book of his experiences in the Illinois legislature.

Three Charges Are Preferred in Each Instance—Conspiracy, Illegal Monopoly and Combining in Restraint of Interstate Trade Are Allegations Filed in Court.

Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing company; J. Ogden Armour, president; Arthur Mosker, general manager, and Thomas J. Connors, superintendent of Armour & Co.

The first indictment charges all the defendants with engaging in a combination in restraint of interstate trade in fresh meats.

Three indictments are filed in each instance, charging conspiracy, illegal monopoly and combining in restraint of interstate trade in fresh meats by unlawful means.

The investigation just ended was the second started by Federal Judge Landis within a year. Jan. 20 he ordered a grand jury inquiry which on March 20 resulted in the indictment of the National Packing company and ten subsidiary concerns.

The first federal investigation began in March, 1905. Indictments were returned against sixteen individuals and five corporations. In December, 1905, the trial began. This dragged along until July, 1906, when Judge Landis declared the trial a "continuing nuisance."

The present indictments charge the packing officials with eliminating competition in buying livestock and in the sale of meat, and that they agreed on a uniform price and forced the branch houses to obtain that price.

Bad Fire at Sagola—Word was received here yesterday that one of the mills of the Sagola Lumber company at Sagola was struck by lightning Sunday evening and destroyed by fire. Sagola is located on the St. Paul railroad, just across the line in Dickinson county. The company is controlled by Patrick Flannigan and is one of the largest lumber plants in this part of the country. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

Died at St. Mary's—Emil Johnson, aged twenty-seven years, died at St. Mary's hospital yesterday, after an illness of two weeks with typhoid fever. The young man was taken ill at Pequaing, where he had been working in the woods. He has made this city his home most of the time in recent years, though he has a brother at Munising. The body has been taken to Hager Bros' undertaking rooms, and no funeral arrangements have been made, pending the arrival of the deceased's brother in the city.

Fire at Big Bay—The second fire within a week occurred at Big Bay about 11 o'clock Saturday night, when a barn and fourteen horses, owned by the Lake Independence Lumber company, were destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been caused by some one having gone into the barn smoking a pipe. A few days before, the planing mill, owned by the same company, was destroyed by fire, together with about 100,000 feet of lumber nearby.

Perjury Case Dropped—Prosecuting Attorney Bell gave notice yesterday that he had decided not to prosecute the case of The People vs. William Furnia, charged with perjury on the calendar of the September term of circuit court, and it has been stricken from the calendar. Furnia is one of the witnesses in the action brought by James Robinson against James Triggs, both of West Branch township, for alleged alienation of Robinson's wife's affections. It is expected that this case will be tried at the January term of court.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. CLERKS BEING DECEIVED.

Government Expert Says State is Paying Bounties on "Near-Wolves"

If you have a wolf skin, a coyote skin, or the pelt of a shaggy dog, send it in to almost any county clerk in any county where wolves are supposed to roam at large and get a bounty of $25. According to the reports which have been received by Auditor General Fuller from federal authorities, Michigan is about the easiest spot on earth in which to dispose of near-wolf pelts and the government agents propose to take some action which will safeguard the various counties in the future.

C. E. Brewster, who was formerly a federal game and fish warden on the great lakes and who chased numerous offenders with a speedy little tug several years ago, is again in the game and he writes to the auditor general that the government expert at Washington has lately examined an alleged wolf pelt from Kent county which turned out to be a Mexican coyote. Brewster further states that out of eight pelts which have been accepted by various county clerks in this state during the past five months, that only two have been those of genuine Michigan timber wolves and he suggests that the authorities get together and stop the wholesale fraud.

Under the law now in force in this state the hunter takes the pelt to the clerk of the county in which the beast was killed and receives a certificate good for $25. The clerk punches holes in the ears of the dead animal and the hunter carries the mutilated skin away with him. In Wisconsin the situation is different. The clerk accepts the pelt, issues a certificate which merely states that one has been received, ships the alleged wolf on to the state university and later receives advice from men wise in wolf lore.

Whether an effort will be made to change the Michigan law or not, it is of course too early to speculate on, but it is evident that something must be done if the counties are to be protected against the designs of unscrupulous "hunters."

WHAT BECOMES OF ALL THE PENNIES?

Even Coinage Experts Are Unable to Give a Satisfactory Answer to Question.

"I wonder what becomes of all the copper pennies that are turned out by the government each year," remarked a bank clerk yesterday. "They are never called in and redeemed like some kinds of currency and coins, but they seem to disappear as fast as they are stamped and put into circulation. It is unusual if the date on any of the pennies in a man's purse at the end of a day is over ten years back, yet the Philadelphia mint, where all the copper pennies are coined, sends out in some years as many as a million dollars worth of them to the trade centers. If laid flat, 100,000,000 one-cent pieces, edge to edge, would reach more than 1,000 miles.

"It is rarely in business that one hears the penny mentioned. In many towns of the south and west, tradesmen offer nothing for a penny, a five-cent purchase being the smallest that can be made. But of late there have been more demands for pennies from the west, and the government experts have declared that this is a sign of increased frugality. In the east, the chief use of the penny, outside of filling the child's bank, is for the purchase of chewing gum and one-cent candies. All the railroad and ferry stations are lined with penny-in-the-slot machines and they reap an enormous harvest every day. Many of the more important stations and waiting rooms have as many as a dozen of these machines and they have to be emptied at least once a week.

"The increase in the number of penny-in-the-slot machines and moving picture machines in the last few years shows another way the public has taken to get rid of its pennies. Uncle Sam takes in many pennies for stamps and post cards, and many of them find their way into the church contribution box and treasuries of charitable and philanthropic institutions. But all these ways in which pennies are put to use do not explain where they eventually go or what makes them disappear in such vast quantities every year. There have been long and learned discussions over where all the plus go, but the penny problem is even more baffling.

"One does not throw a penny about as one does a pin, and despite the admonition to 'see a pin, pick it up,' many are passed where steps would be taken to gather in a penny found lying about. Even the government coinage experts do not give a satisfactory answer to the problem. They give the following reasons for the disappearance of pennies: Falling through cracks into holes and dark places; used in various arts and crafts; locked up for years in children's banks, etc.; but these explanations do not seem satisfactory when the number of pennies coined each year is taken into consideration."

MacPherran will be in charge of the football activities and any men who cannot be at the meeting Wednesday evening can arrange to join the squad by speaking to him.

THEATRICAL.

"Soldiers of Fortune."

H. H. Pierce & Co. opened their second engagement of the season in Marquette at the opera house last evening, with a magnificent presentation of a dramatization of Richard Harding Davis' great story, "Soldiers of Fortune." Having made a tremendous hit on their previous appearance here, the Pierce Associate players were greeted by a large audience. "Soldiers of Fortune," as presented by this company, is probably the most elaborate scenic production ever seen in this city at popular prices, and in this respect surpassed anything shown during their former engagement. Each of the four scenes has been built especially for this company and is a marvel of stagecraft. The costumes, too, are numerous, beautiful and elaborate, and must have cost a tidy sum. The cast is somewhat larger than was necessary for the production of "The Squaw Man," and numbers several new faces. The new acquisitions, however, have been selected with the same care and wisdom as to their acting abilities as those originally with the company, and the cast is even stronger than before. Last evening, Mr. Jossey showed himself the same popular, versatile actor that he was in the three former bills, and in "Soldiers of Fortune" he is an engaging success. Miss Blanche Douglas is much better cast in "Soldiers of Fortune" than on her previous appearance in Marquette and her buoyant, piquant portrayal of a whole-souled American girl in a foreign land was delightfully pleasing. The balance of the large cast is adequate and the play was a decided success. The play billed for tonight is "The Prisoner of Zenda."

Did You Ever Ask Yourself These Questions

"Have I any money to save?"
"How much could I save each week?"
"Why not begin to save this month?"
"Couldn't I save it at home and not put it into the bank?"

When you begin to ask yourself these questions you are on the road to a bank account. You cannot save money and keep it at home—money won't save that way—it leaks out of your strong box in spite of your determination "not to touch it." Bring it to this bank and receive interest. You'll think twice before you draw it out.

New York Cotton Market.

New York, Sept. 12.—Liverpool came five down, about as due. We have had another week favorable to the crop, scattered showers have occurred in the territory where needed and reports are favorable to a good crop in Alabama. All reports confirm the reported good conditions in Georgia. There has been some inquiry from the South and East for October and later shipments, but for early shipment there is very little demand from anywhere except a few local mills. The South alone can determine the momentary value of both spot and contracts, but the immense needs of the world market against what looks to be another crop failure will not permit any cheap prices for cotton to continue long. At the moment the feeling of uncertainty is marked and some further recession in values may follow, but in the long run we should see very much higher levels for cotton.

WOMEN'S NO-TIP HOTEL.

One to Be Built for New York Workers by Philanthropists.

New York, Sept. 12.—The no-tip hotel is no longer a dream. A hostelry where the "buttons" will not have that hand-out, expectant look and pitchers with ice will flow as free as proverbial water will open its registers right here in New York Nov. 15. And those who will enjoy the benefits will be the natural fighters of the tipping system—women.

The new hotel is the one Miss Virginia Potter, niece of the late Bishop Potter, who was instrumental in getting social halls and "the decent dance hall" for the East side; Mrs. Henry Olsheimer and other influential women have been planning for working women.

Three houses at 220-230 East Twelfth street have been bought and are being altered to make the hotel. They are the late homes of the deaconesses and were known as St. Faith's House. Seventy-five thousand dollars was paid for the property. It will be called the Working Girls' Home. In the new hotel there will be reception rooms, reading rooms, every ordinary convenience and even music. And it all can be had for $3.50 to $6 a week, including three meals a day.

The house, furnishings, etc., will be paid for by the money contributed. The first $25,000 was given by the late Morris K. Jesup. Mrs. Sage gave another $25,000.

Minor Heir Goes Mile in 1:50.

Indianapolis, Sept. 12.—In a special race at the fair grounds today, Minor Heir (Hersey up) broke the world's record for a paced mile, going the distance in 1:50. The previous record was 2:00, set by Minor Heir at Galesburg, Ill., two weeks ago. Lady Maid finished second, in 1:59 1/2, and George Gano, a close third, at 1:59 1/4. Hedgewood Boy finished fourth, at 2:00 flat. A tire on his sulky went flat in the last quarter. The first quarter was made by Minor Heir in :29 1/2; the half in :56, and the three-quarters in 1:29 1/4.

Markets

[By Paine, Webber & Co.]
WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, Sept. 12.—The stock market displayed quiet strength throughout the day, realizing in the last hour, when scattered realizations caused slight recessions from the high levels. The fact that Steel exhibited such a good tone in spite of the unsatisfactory report on Saturday, together with rather optimistic utterances with regard to the future of the industry, did much towards stimulating confidence in the industrial department, but on the whole it could not be said that the outside interest increased materially, and the market still bore that professional appearance which has been in evidence for some time. Should the election returns be construed as favorable, efforts will undoubtedly be made to force a higher range of prices tomorrow, but we would not neglect opportunities to lighten accounts on the upward movements.

Great Work by Naval Observatory
Crowned With Success After Years of Effort.

Every Star Which Can Be Seen Is Catalogued by the Aid of Many Scientists.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The great equatorial volume and Washington star catalogue of stars has been completed by the United States Naval Observatory and will be ready soon for distribution. This huge work, which catalogues all the stars which may be seen from the observatory in the Washington zone, was begun before the Civil war, when the Naval observatory was first established, under the charge of Captain M. F. Maury. When the Civil war broke out the work on the big catalogue was suspended, and years went by before it was again taken up. When Rear Admiral Charles H. Davis was superintendent of the observatory in 1892, Germany wrote to the United States, asking what was being done about the catalogue of stars, and offering to send German astronomers to the observatory to complete the work which had been begun under Captain Maury, so great was the desire that the work should be completed. Admiral Davis replied that this country had scientists quite capable of doing this work, and Germany's offer was rejected. But renewed interest in this activity was inspired and work again begun. The completion of this work by a younger class of scientists, and embracing a portion of Professor Maury's original conception of the observatory work of making a Washington zone catalogue of all the stars which alike to the meridian circles. The observations of occultations refer the place of the moon to known stars, and change the character of the principal errors of the observations. The discussion of these observations of occultations is expected to make some improvement in the tables of the moon. With the small equatorial the same character of general work has been carried on.

The preparation of a star catalogue, or mapping the heavens, requires much patience to find which of all the stars in the meridian circles are single or what are double. For years the silent nocturnal toil of a careful observation of the stellar universe has been in progress at the observatory. When a series of observations have been made they are reduced to a uniform basis, giving the exact right ascension and declination for the bodies for a given year. The annual results, together with a final position for each star of the American ephemeris, and for each miscellaneous star observed and their proper places designated in the heavens has required nights and days of incessant labor, all of which has been done with great care and accuracy.

CANNON LAST OF THE BIG FIVE

Defeat of Burrows Revives Memories of Fifty-first Congress.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The defeat of Senator Julius Caesar Burrows of Michigan, which means his retirement from public life, leaves as the "last of the old guard" Speaker Cannon. In the fifty-first congress the old guard consisted of five Republicans—Reed of Maine, McKinley of Ohio, Burrows of Michigan, Henderson of Iowa and Cramer of Illinois. Each was a candidate for speaker, and the contest for that office was, indeed, full of excitement. There has not been since that time among the Republicans any fight over the speaker's chair, and the contest has been settled by the state delegations.

The big five of the fifty-first congress shared their mark. Reed won the speakership after a few close ballots; McKinley, who was made chairman of the ways and means committee and gave the country the McKinley tariff law, was defeated in the following election, as was Cannon. But McKinley became governor of Ohio and later president. Burrows was promoted to the senate. When Reed retired at the close of the fifty-fifth congress Henderson succeeded to the speaker's chair, and served two terms, to be followed by Uncle Joe Cannon, who, on the 4th of next March, will have served four consecutive terms as speaker of the House, the longest continuous service in

THRILLING RUNAWAY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

One of the Ishpeming Fire Department's Hose Wagon Horses Killed in Mixup.

One of the most thrilling runaways that ever occurred in Ishpeming took place yesterday, shortly after 1 o'clock, in the alley at the rear of Ishpeming theatre. The hose team of the fire department, which was attached to the garbage cart, was standing back of P. J. Deun's barn while men were loading rubbish into the wagon. The horses took fright and ran. A delivery horse owned by J. Ruona, the pop man, was standing in the alley. This horse heard the racket behind him and as the fire team approached it turned so that it was directly in front of the flashing steeds. In an instant the three horses and two wagons were piled into a heap, all of the animals kicking and struggling to free themselves. One of the fire horses was so badly hurt that it died a few hours later.

The noise attracted people from one to three blocks distant, and within a few minutes hundreds had congregated. A number of the men turned their attention to extracting the horses. Ruona's horse had been trampled on by the other two animals and was more or less hurt, but it is thought it will recover. The fire horses were the department's new team, purchased two years ago. The horses had never ran away before and the driver had many times left them standing in the streets. The team was valued at over $700. John Anderson was driving the horses yesterday, in the absence of the regular driver, Will Zhukie.

NEGAUNEE-ESCANABA SERIES THIS WEEK

First Three Games Will Be Played Here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The dates of the proposed championship series of baseball games between the Negaunee and Escanaba teams have been changed. Instead of playing six games, three at Escanaba next Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and three here on the following Tuesday, Friday and Saturday, it has been decided to begin the series here next Thursday afternoon. Three games will be played, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and the final two games will be played at Escanaba Sunday and Monday.

The receipts in Escanaba for the Sunday games this season have averaged better than they have here, and for this reason it was decided to give Escanaba the Sunday game. The receipts of all the games will be divided equally between the teams, and each team will defray its own expenses. As the weather is favorable it is thought that all of the five games will be well patronized. The Negaunee team is to be allowed to take in a new first baseman for the series, but he must be a man who has either played with or had been signed by one of the teams in the Marquette-iron county league prior to Aug. 10. The Escanaba management can take in one new fielder. Now that the Marquette-iron county league series has been brought to a close the Marquette county fans will doubtless be unanimous in desiring to see Negaunee win the championship series and it is thought that there will be a good attendance from the three cities at the games to be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

So far as the Marquette-iron county league is concerned, the season has practically been concluded. The Negaunee team did not remain at Crystal Falls to play yesterday, and no disposal has been made of Sunday's game, which went one and a half innings, when it was stopped on account of the rain. Negaunee having scored three runs. Without counting Sunday's game Crystal Falls is still in third place. The Negaunee fans who were at Union Park Sunday questioned Empire Prince's right to give the game to Marquette, as they claim that the weather was such that it would have been impossible to resume playing. So far as the standing of the Ishpeming and Crystal Falls teams are concerned it would make no difference whether Marquette was given this game or not, as without it Crystal Falls would still be a half game ahead of the Hemetite City nine.

The games on Thursday and Friday will start at 2:30 o'clock, and on Saturday the game will be called at 3 o'clock. The same admission prices that were charged for the league series will prevail.

BERRY MOVEMENT LIGHT.
The unfavorable weather the past week has resulted in an almost complete suspension of the blueberry shipments from the lake shore district east of Marquette. For some time prior to ten days ago berries were being transferred here in unusually large quantities, but only an occasional small consignment is now received. The heavy frost Saturday night is said to have killed the berries in many places. All things considered, the season has not been a good one.

MUCK'S NEW MARKET.
Hugo Muck, who intends to re-engage in the retail meat business, at his property on Pioneer avenue, immediately east of the new fire hall, expects to put carpenters at work today or tomorrow remodeling the interior of the building. He figures on opening up for business about Oct. 10. Besides completely remodeling the main room, a new plate glass front will be put in and an up-to-date cooler will be installed.

NEW STOCK ARRIVING.
P. Rasmussen returned from Chicago on Saturday last, after making extensive purchases of fall and winter goods. He says his line of ladies and misses' cloaks and suits is the largest and best he has ever carried.

I have opened a restaurant and lunch counter in Tracy block on East Iron street. Good service guaranteed.

DEATH OF DENNIS REIDY.

Pioneer Resident of Negaunee Passed Away After Brief Illness.

Dennis Reidy, who was one of Negaunee's oldest and best known Irish residents, died Sunday evening. His condition had been critical for some days. Heart disease, from which he had long been a sufferer, was the cause of his demise.

The deceased was highly respected and the announcement of his death was a source of regret to many people here who had known him for more than thirty years. He was a conscientious, hard working man. For more than a quarter of a century past he had held the office of financial secretary of the Negaunee division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and was a very devoted worker in the interest of the society. It is said that Mr. Reidy was one of the most efficient secretaries that ever served any lodge.

The deceased was seventy-two years of age and is survived by his widow, two sons and three daughters, Dennis Reidy, Jr., is in the west and the other son, John Reidy, is in Alaska, and neither will be able to be home for the funeral. The daughters are at home. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Paul's church.

THE LATE WARREN ELLIOTT.

Mesaba Range Paper Refers to Death of Former Negaunee Boy.

The Virginia of Virginia, Minn., had the following mention of the death of the late Warren Elliott, whose funeral was held Friday in Marquette:

"In the death of Warren Elliott, eldest son of Superintendent Mark Elliott of the Inter-State Iron Mining company, whose death occurred at the family home on North Central avenue in this city Wednesday morning at 7:40 o'clock, another life of promise has been snuffed out. The young man was about eighteen years of age and one of the bright young men of the country. He had been attending the Swarthmore college in Pennsylvania and was taken sick there last January, his ailment finally resulting in edema of the lungs. Shortly after being taken sick he returned to his home at Marquette, Mich., where he remained until some two months ago, when the family removed to this city to join Mr. Elliott, who has made his headquarters here for several years. Young Elliott was born at Palmer, Mich., but the greater part of his life was spent in Marquette, where the family resided for many years, the older Mr. Elliott being one of the prominent men of that county and previous to his taking the superintendency of the Inter-State Iron company's properties was county clerk of Marquette county for a number of years. The remains of young Elliott, accompanied by his father and mother and Everett and Louis Sporeley, brothers of Mrs. Elliott, were shipped to Marquette yesterday, where burial will take place on Friday."

LOCAL LACONICS.

Rodney Combs, of Cordwood, was in the city yesterday on business.
J. C. McMillan, representative of the Milwaukee Casket company, was in Negaunee yesterday.

J. A. Wasmuth, who accompanied his son Arthur from Chicago to Denver, arrived home yesterday.

Frank Schwartz is working in S. S. Thomas' market during the absence of Harry Beeby, who is ill.

Mrs. Hill, who was the guest of C. V. R. Townsend's family, has gone to her home at Port Huron.

Miss Myrtle Tucker returned to her home at Diorite yesterday, after spending a few days visiting Mrs. J. H. Rough.

John Huggins has opened a restaurant in the smaller store room of the Tracy building. He and his wife will do the cooking.

The two-month-old daughter of James Webb died Saturday night, and the funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The automobile owners of Negaunee have been invited to attend a meeting in D. T. Morgan & Co.'s office, Ishpeming, this evening at 7 o'clock.

The Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company has a number of men employed ballasting the new line between Eagle Mills and the Jackson location.

Mark Elliott and family, who accompanied the remains of his oldest son down from Virginia, Minn., last week, spent Sunday in Negaunee with Mayor W. J. Elliott and family, and left that

FINE EXHIBIT AT GUILD HALL

Collection of 250 Artistic Photographs, Shown by the Eastman Kodak Company, Visited by Many Who Are Interested in High Class Amateur Work.

Demonstration of Photographic Processes by Experts in Their Line Is Both Very Interesting and Instructive—Exhibition Will Continue Today.

The exhibition of kodak work, given by the Eastman Kodak company of Rochester, N. Y., under the auspices of their local agents, the Stafford Drug company, opened at Guild Hall yesterday afternoon. Both afternoon and evening sessions were largely attended by those interested in amateur photography and the lectures, demonstrations and exhibit proved of general interest.

In the exhibit there are twenty-four screens, containing 250 enlarged prints, made from prize winning negatives, and they form a study that is deeply interesting. The photographs are really works of art and as such are a delight to the eye, whether one is particularly interested in photography or not. The collection includes out-of-door scenes, both in city and country, animals, interiors and many other beautiful views, embracing almost every imaginable subject. The prints are all made by the Eastman Kodak company.

The exhibition is offered purely for entertainment and instruction and no sales of any kind are made. In addition to the prints, there is an exhibit of post card work, and a full line of kodaks and all kinds of photographic paraphernalia. This display includes the latest camera, which takes views in the one-thousandth part of a second, and which is largely used by newspaper photographers. There are also a number of handsome Velox prints, enlarged from films of small size, by the "Brownie" enlarging camera, and hand colored.

Processes Demonstrated.

The exhibition is in charge of W. B. Haskell, W. J. Murray and P. E. Conner, representatives of the Eastman Kodak company, and the demonstrations cover every process, from exposed films to mounted prints, including the newspaper method of making prints from wet negatives. Amateur photographers are invited to bring any unsatisfactory prints they may have, and they will be told just why the films went wrong. It is the object of the demonstrators to impart as much information as possible along the line of photography.

The program last evening included film developing, wet negative printing, post card and double printing, and the talk by Mr. Haskell supplied the amateurs with many new and valuable ideas. This evening, in addition to the post card and double printing, there will be demonstrations of Velox printing and re-developing. Today will be the last day of the exhibit, and the sessions will be held from 2 until 6 o'clock p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m. All persons interested in practical photography are extended a cordial invitation to attend, as well as those who might be interested in simply looking over the pictures.

GOES TO COE COLLEGE.

Earl G. Killeen Leaves Ann Arbor to Head Musical School in Iowa.

Marquette friends of Earl G. Killeen, who spent the summer in this city, will be pleased to learn of his recent advancement in the musical world. He has resigned his position in the musical department of the University of Michigan to accept the directorship of the musical department of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

At Michigan, Mr. Killeen was first assistant to William Howland, head of the vocal department of the school of music. His new position carries with it a substantial advancement in salary. Coe college has never before had a musical department, though it is situated in a city of 50,000 inhabitants, and there is an excellent field for this sort of work, there being no conservatories in the city, and but few private studios. The college has a building and equipment with which to start a musical department at once, and Mr. Killeen has been selected to organize it and be its director.

Mr. Killeen is a graduate of the Michigan university school of music, a pupil of F. E. Bristol of New York and Oscar Seagle, and he spent a season in Paris three years ago studying with one of the greatest teachers of singing, Charles W. Clark. Mrs. Killeen was formerly Miss Georgia Hager, of this city.

VENIRE EXHAUSTED WITHOUT A JURY

Twenty Talemans Subpoenaed for This Morning to Complete Panel in Murder Case.

More than ordinary difficulty is being experienced in securing a jury in the case of The People vs. James Scopasa and James Donato, who are now on trial in circuit court for the murder of Richard Varcoe in Ishpeming last winter. The case was called at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and though the entire venire of jurymen had been examined by the time adjournment was taken last evening, twelve men that were acceptable to the defendants' attorney, Probate Judge W. T. Potter, had not been found. Accordingly, Judge Flannigan ordered that twenty talemans be secured before the opening of court this morning, and it is hoped that out of this number the jury can be completed.

Prosecuting Attorney Bell offered no objection to most of the jurymen called, though he asked that one or two who admitted having formed an opinion regarding the guilt or innocence of the accused be dismissed. Judge Potter, however, put each of the veniremen through a careful examination. Some of the questions asked were:

"Did you know Varcoe, the deceased, or any members of the Ishpeming police force?"

"Have you ever lived in Ishpeming? Are you acquainted there?"

"Have you heard or read anything about the case that has resulted in any opinion in your mind as to the guilt or innocence of the accused?"

"Would you be prejudiced against a person who uses intoxicating liquors? In case the evidence should show that one or both of the defendants were under the influence of liquor at the time Varcoe's death occurred, would that of itself have any influence on your verdict?"

In his peremptory challenges Judge Potter showed that he looked upon with disfavor on any jurymen who lived in Ishpeming, who were of English or Cornish birth, or who had known Varcoe, and those who were well acquainted with Marshal Trevarrow and Officer Nick Swanson, of the Ishpeming police force, or with Captain Keese, of the Oliver Iron Mining company.

It is probable that a jury will be secured early this morning and that the taking of testimony will begin before noon.

Not a minute should be lost when a child shows symptoms of croup. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. Sold by The People's Drug Store.
