UPHEAVAL IS SURE IN THE U. S. SENATE

Ten Leaders Are Retired for Good and More Are Having Hot Contests.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Regardless of the outcome of elections and primaries yet to be held, the senate, after March 4, will show changes in its personnel so important as to mean an upheaval, even if the insurgents do not succeed in their efforts to hold the balance of power.

The senators already out of the running are Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, Julius C. Burrows of Michigan, John W. Daniel of Virginia (deceased), Frank P. Flint of California, Eugene Hale of Maine, H. D. Money of Missouri, George S. Nixon of Nevada, Samuel H. Piles of Washington, James P. Taliaferro of Florida and William Warner of Missouri.

How important is the passing of these leaders is indicated simply by enumerating their committee places. First there are Mr. Aldrich, the undisputed Republican leader, and Mr. Burrows, the leader of the minority.

Mr. Hale, in addition to his place on the appropriations committee, of which he is chairman, holds second place on the naval committee and fourth on the finance committee.

Mr. Burrows holds membership in five important committees. He is chairman of the appropriations, third on postoffice and post roads, and fifth on naval affairs.

BALLINGER TO KNOW HIS FATE VERY SHORTLY

Whether He Will Resign at Once or Whether He Will Retain His Post Indefinitely, at Least Until Congress Meets, Will Be Determined Sept. 26.

His Position Has Become Untenable, the Secretary Decides, and at the Forthcoming Cabinet Meeting He Will Demand Either Vindication or Condemnation.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Whether Mr. Ballinger's resignation as secretary of the interior will follow the meeting of the cabinet Sept. 26, to attend which he is now enroute from Seattle, or whether he will retain his position indefinitely—at least until after the delivery to congress of the reports of the committee which investigated his stewardship of the public domain—depends now upon the attitude of his cabinet associates.

Mr. Ballinger is coming, his friends insist, wholly unconscious of any act on his part, either of commission or omission, for which he should be condemned and he has determined to force his chief and his official colleagues to be, in effect, his judges.

Nobody here doubts that the majority—all but one of the Republican members—of the cabinet will support Ballinger in their report to congress. The fact that the minority of the committee have condemned him and the majority have made no report is said to have convinced the secretary that his position, in spite of the continued support of the president, has become untenable.

GARY THE PEER OF ALL STEEL CITIES

German Scientist Ranks It as One of Two Most Amazing Achievements He Has Seen in the United States.

New York, Sept. 16.—Prof. Eckert, a leading instructor in one of the great German universities, who, with several students, has been making a summer tour of the United States, said just before his departure for Europe yesterday that the two amazing things which he had discovered were, first, the rebuilding of San Francisco, and, second, the establishment of the steel city of Gary.

That is should have been possible not only to reconstruct the city of San Francisco in four years' time but also to build it upon a magnificent scale, so that practically all traces of earthquake and fire are obliterated, furnished the German professor, and his student with an object lesson teaching American energy. But possibly the professor was even more greatly impressed by what he saw at Gary. For within four years' time and without a dollar of borrowed money, excepting that from the resources of the United States Steel Corporation, there has been established what the German professor declared to be the greatest steel city in the world, surpassing the famous steel cities of Germany.

The statement made in this way has been confirmed by some of the delegates who attended the international congress. One of the world's greatest experts on steel and railway metal had opportunity to visit the larger steel plants of Europe and England. He was shown some features of these plants not usually displayed to visitors. What he saw confirmed him in the impression which he had received when visiting Gary in the spring, that this newest, most rapidly constructed of steel cities in the world, is also the greatest, and from every point of view. The day has come when the prediction of Abram S. Hewitt is fulfilled; for the United States has become the leader of the world in the production of iron and steel.

112,500 UNITS OF SERUM INJECTED INTO BODY OF LOCKJAW PATIENT

Milwaukee, Sept. 16.—It is believed to be a world's record has been made in the cure of a case of lockjaw here. No less than 112,500 units of anti-tetanus serum were injected into the body of Gerard A. Sullivan, aged seventeen, a senior at the Marquette academy. Hitherto the largest amount administered is said to have been 100,000 units, dose being 200 units, or three teaspoonful. Sullivan ran a silver three inches long into his big toe.

TRADING IN STOCKS MUCH CONGESTED

Transactions in U. S. Steel More Than Double Those in Any Other One Security

New York, Sept. 16.—Hesitation and uncertainty were written on the face of the stock market today again. The undertone was heavy and sometimes weak, but at other times there was evidence of resisting power and signs of support which implied a protective influence. The transaction in United States Steel were more than double those in any other one security, and when the dealings in Reading and Union Pacific are added there is not much left of the rest of the market. The great preponderance of the operations in United States Steel gave that stock large sympathetic affect on the general market. The favorable weather reported for the corn crop was a sustaining factor. Signs of support for the Harriman stocks on the declining market, and prompted the covering of shorts, which closed the market strong.

General Business Rather Quiet

New York, Sept. 16.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Trade Review tomorrow will say: "Some increase of business incident to the opening of the fall activities, is noted at many leading trade centers, but as a whole the domestic commerce of the country is still retarded by the impairment of confidence as a result of political uncertainties. As a rule buyers are disposed to limit their purchases to immediate requirements. There is a large movement of grain and cotton to the distributing markets at declining prices, but the banks have thus far been able to finance this movement without strain. The recent improvement of the iron and steel trade does not appear to have been maintained and the actual conditions are best disclosed by the statement that the United States Steel corporation is now operating only about two-thirds of its blast furnaces and there is a large reduction in unfilled orders. The drygoods markets continue characterized by conservatism."

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Coverings by some of the larger shorts stamped the smaller ones this afternoon and turned the wheat market from weakness into apparent strength. It was because of the smallness of the trade at the time, however, that the purchases look so much affected. The closing prices were the best figures of the day and showed a net rise of 1/2 to 1 1/2.

HIS NUPTIAL PRIZE GAME PRETTY HIGH

It Assigns to His Wife All His Real Estate, as Well as Other Interests, and Gives, Besides, an Annuity of $20,000—Creditors Object, It Is Said.

New York, Sept. 16.—The pre-nuptial agreement between Robert Winthrop Chanler, of this city, and his bride, Lina Cavalleri, the prima donna, of Paris, was filed today in the office of the register of New York county. The document states that "in consideration of the sum of one dollar paid and the said intended marriage" Chanler shall assign to his wife all his real estate and all his interest in the estate of the late Mrs. Laura Delane, subject to mortgages to the amount of $140,000, for her sole and separate use absolutely. The bridegroom "doth further covenant" to pay his wife $20,000 a year in four quarterly installments.

To secure this payment of $20,000 annually, Chanler gives his bride power to collect the amounts due, if otherwise unpaid by him, out of the money coming to him from the income of the Chanler estate trust fund; or, if this money was insufficient, to collect the balance from the income he receives through the New York Life Insurance & Trust company. Should this still prove insufficient, she is to collect from the income of a fund held in trust by the Union Trust and Savings bank, which specifies that the property of each of the principals "shall remain separate property and under the sole control of each of them" and, furthermore, that their status and capacity generally shall be governed by the laws of New York.

If Mrs. Chanler plans an attempt to compel her husband to carry out the terms of his pre-nuptial contract, the filing of the original here today by her lawyers would be her first step in the effort to interpose her rights between him and his creditors, who it is supposed will contest the agreement. The document not only confers the sweeping powers enumerated above, but it lists parcel by parcel all the real estate taken under its control, including three farms at Reed Hook, N. Y., comprising 530 acres, subject to a $60,000 mortgage. Mr. Chanler also owns several buildings in New York city, comprising in all thirty pieces of property.

Before his recent marriage Robert Chanler married Miss Julia Chamberlain, from whom he was divorced. By that marriage, there were two young children, who are living with their mother.

New York, Saturday, Sept. 17.—Overtures have been made by Cavalleri, the New York World says this morning, to settle the case without litigation. Under the terms proposed, she would cancel the document filed yesterday and accept, instead, $10,000 outright and an annuity of $5,000. The attorneys of both sides express the opinion that there will be no litigation.

ODD FELLOWS' CONTROVERSY IS TAKEN TO THE COURTS

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 16.—As the culmination of disagreements at the fifteenth biennial convention of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows between the adherents of the present administration and those of the former, suit was entered into today against the grand officers and directors of the order, who are charged with having taken unlawful possession of the convention and "freezing out" many of those entitled to participate. The court is asked to declare void the election of the temporary secretary and H. P. Slaughter as editor and manager of the Odd Fellows' journal and to compel the defendants to proceed according to the rules of the order. An injunction was granted.

MARQUETTE, MICH., SEPT. 17.

These September days have those rare June ones beat forty ways.

If President Taft could start all over again with his present knowledge things might be a little different.

Among other political phenomena noted of late months is the decline of the pie counter as a political asset.

"This is not a good year for meaningless platitudes in party platforms," says Representative Townsend.

R. H. Shields, for many years chairman of the Houghton county Republican committee, was this week dropped in favor of Judge Bentley.

MAKES FOR PARTY GOOD. Representative Charles E. Townsend, of Jackson, who will represent Michigan in the United States senate after March next, as the successor to J. C. Burrows, of Kalamazoo, is resting at the sanitarium at Battle Creek, after his strenuous campaign.

THE EMBARGO RAISED. President Taft has rectified one of the mistakes that has marked his relations with the progressives, or insurgents, if you will, by removing the embargo he had placed on their presence at the federal pie counter and by making it known that they will hereafter be given the same recognition in the disposal of patronage that is accorded regulars.

Mr. Townsend views the late elections and the primary campaigns in Michigan and other states in the light of an optimist, and from the results figures that only good can come to the Republican party throughout the country, says the Lansing State Republican.

NO HOPE IN DEMOCRATS.

The action of the Illinois Democrats in renominating nearly all the men who are involved in the Lorimer scandal carries its own warning to the country of the fatuity of any program which involves turning congress, or the general government, over to the Democratic party.

The only thing that enables the Democrats to put up any kind of a front in the face of this disgraceful result is the fact that the Illinois primary law is different in its essential provisions from the primary law of Michigan.

The men who made the fight to redeem Illinois are confident that, despite the discouraging outcome of the fight against the Lorimer Democrats, the result of the contest will be a much better, and cleaner, legislature than the one in which Democrats and Republicans united to send Lorimer to the senate.

HERE AND THERE.

In these days there is a disposition to look too much to the federal government for everything. I am liberal in the construction of the constitution with reference to federal power; but I am firmly convinced that the only safe course for us to pursue is to hold fast to the limitations of the constitution and to regard as sacred the powers of the states.—President Taft.

Just prior to statehood, in August, 1907, a special federal census was taken under directions from President Roosevelt and the population of Oklahoma City was shown to be 32,452. The city, therefore, gained 57.8 per cent during a period of two years and eight months, this being the time from August, 1907, to April, 1910.

PECAN CROP NOT A FAILURE

Much More Favorable Reports from Texas as Outside the Austin District. Austin, Tex., Sept. 16.—Recent reports that came from the owners of pecan groves in certain localities in Texas that this year's crop of nuts was almost a failure, is denied by the representatives of Austin, commission men, who have been making a personal investigation of the situation in the principal pecan-producing sections.

It is stated that the construction of extensions of different lines of railroads and the construction of new lines into pecan-growing districts will serve to materially increase the output of nuts this year. Heretofore the crop in the more remote localities has remained ungathered, but with railroad transportation close at hand attention will now be given to the trees and a considerable revenue obtained from them.

BIG FARM AND FINE BUILDING

Home for the Very Poor of Houghton County a Splendid Institution.

Keeper William Wahl, of the Houghton county infirmary, Thursday afternoon entertained a representative of The Mining Journal at the poor farm.

The institution comprises five buildings, the infirmary, main barn, hay barn, paint and blacksmith shop and combined chicken house and pigs pen.

The farm comprises 480 acres and of this 240 acres are under cultivation. The farm produces fodder for the stock and almost all of the vegetables used on the tables.

The county infirmary houses more people during the winter than during the summer. In the warm months the old men stray away, choosing to make an effort to support themselves, or even to become tramps, rather than to eat the bread of public charity.

"SOULLESS" CORPORATION.

Michigan State Telephone Company Will Not Tell Where Fire Is.

Time was when everybody who owned a telephone would rush to the instance of a fire bell rang or the fire whistle blew and after madly turning the crank would say "Central, where's the fire?"

And in those days it was better than the fire itself as a source of thrills to go into the telephone exchange while the fire raged on.

Nowadays the company finds that the fire ruck interferes with the orderly working of the exchange. And it has a bad effect on the otherwise sweet dispositions of the central girls.

Gray's blacksmith shop was on fire yesterday morning and a reporter happened to be in the telephone exchange when the alarm sounded.

JOHNSON VS. KEWENAW CENTRAL

Interesting Case Is On in the Circuit Court—First Civil Trial.

The trial of the first civil case in the present term of the Houghton county circuit court, that of Andrew Johnson vs. the Keweenaw Central railroad, opened yesterday morning.

Mr. Johnson built ten miles of the Keweenaw Central and the railroad claims that it has a receipt in full from the firm of Ball & Stone, in charge of the case for the company.

This probably will be the last case this week, in which event trials will not be resumed until Tuesday as on Monday Judge Trotter has to hear the petitions of seventy applicants for naturalization.

GREAT IRRIGATION PROJECT

Matamoros, Mex., Sept. 16.—La Compania Agricola la Sautema, which has its headquarters in the City of Mexico, will let the contract this month for the construction of one of the largest systems of irrigation upon the American continent.

The main canal will be sixty-three miles long and its construction will involve the moving of nine million cubic yards of earth, more or less. The system will also require the building of more than two hundred miles of laterals. An important feature of the enterprise will be the construction of a great dam across the San Juan River, at a point near the mouth of that stream, where it empties into the Rio Grande about one hundred miles above Matamoros.

MICHIGAN PLATFORM WILL BE PROGRESSIVE

Sentiment of Leading Republicans Favors Such Declaration of Principles.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 16.—Progressiveness will be the keynote of the Republican party's bid for favor in the coming state campaign. Michigan demands progress. This was conclusively apparent in the tremendous landslide in favor of Congressman Charles E. Townsend's nomination for United States senator and in the choice of Chase S. Osborn for governor on a platform of the Rooseveltian type. Townsend won an even bigger victory than he knew.

The overwhelming vote in favor of the progressive candidates was not lost on the party leaders. They realize the necessity for a progressive platform and that will be the work cut out for the state convention at Detroit early in October. Congressman Gerrit J. Diekema, chairman of the state central committee, which will have much to do with the framing of a platform, is committed unequivocally to the principles of progression and promises to lend his support. It seems, too, that George P. Codd, one of the foremost progressives in the state and a backer of Chase S. Osborn, will be chosen permanent chairman of the convention.

Three principles are chief among the ideas of the progressive campaign for a platform such as will reflect the wishes of the electors as demonstrated in their preference for Messrs. Townsend and Osborn.

First—A tariff that provides for protection representing the difference between cost of a product at home and abroad alone and a tariff commission to aid to this end.

Second—Conservation of natural resources.

Third—The regulation of trusts and monopolies and the elimination of all special favors in their behalf. A square deal for all the people in every form of legislation enacted in congress.

Diekema's Views.

As he is present chairman of the state committee a great deal of interest attaches to Congressman Gerrit J. Diekema's position with regard to these proposed planks of the new progressive platform. The congressman in an interview unhesitatingly committed himself to them.

"I am in no new position," he said, "when I say I stand for a protective tariff that will represent the difference between the cost of production here and abroad. In my speech in the house May 20, 1910, answering Congressman Fordney's arguments against the appointment of a tariff commission, I committed myself to this policy. I thought it right then and have since seen no reason to change my mind. I believe we should have a commission to aid in gaining such a tariff."

"In the matter of national conservation I am right at home. I always have believed in it; always will. My only regret is that we have been so slow to awaken to the necessity for conservation on a scale now proposed. Germany recognized its need long ago. She is way ahead of us and it is time we acted. My vote has been affirmative in every bill at all relating to conservation of natural resources."

Can Be No Middle Ground.

"This matter of monopolies has been the subject of careful thought and research on my part. I realize how important a figure it is destined to cut in governmental affairs of the coming years. I have positive views on this subject and they are in direct accord with the third plank of the proposed progressive state platform for our party. Indeed, I could not well be other than a firm believer in and supporter of a platform.

"I am satisfied that the tendency toward great business and capital combinations is bound to result in one of two things. It has culminated in a great crisis that no longer can be ignored. Either it will bring about a broad general adoption of the ideas of socialism, or the very widest, most stringent and altogether effective governmental regulation. There can be no middle ground in the future. Congress must enact laws that will protect the people and nothing short of this can stop the socialist movement."

Beginning of the Square Deal.

"I am not in favor of socialism. I do not believe in it nor its teachings. I do not consider it the remedy. Yet it is the alternative, unless we provide a regulation that is all the term implies. I believe in individualism; individualism in business and politics, as in religion. I believe the individual should work out his destiny and this is not in keeping with the socialist ideas. And so I may say that I firmly believe we will have a regulation of trusts and monopolies and other great combinations of business and capital that will make the prosecution of the socialist program in the United States unnecessary.

"I believe and unhesitatingly commit myself to a campaign in congress for such regulation. I stand for the elimination of any and all special favors in behalf of monopolies or any other class, individual or combination. I think every one realizes this is the beginning of an

WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, Sept. 16.—The market at the opening was barely steady and under some pressure, but with little trading. There was little activity until the afternoon, when the sharp advance in International Metropolitan met the list. There was quite a rally and prices held strong and steady until the close. We do not think the bank statement, which is not apt to be good, will have any material effect on prices. Today's closing prices were:

Boston "Coppers."

Boston, Sept. 16.—The break in Algonquin this morning was caused by a report from the mine that the diamond drill now working had penetrated the lode but did not find copper in commercial quantities, the only copper of any value coming in an ore formation. The stocks under the same management were weak in sympathy. The semi-monthly report on the visible supply of copper abroad was very favorable, showing a reduction of over four million pounds in the last two weeks, but it had little effect on the market. Towards the close there was a good rally with stocks even harder to buy than they were to sell this morning. We still cannot see any prospect of an extended rise, but do feel that coppers have discounted all the bad news and should be bought around these prices, as the level is distinctly low. Closing prices today were as follows:

been noted for several weeks. There seemed to be numbers of stop orders reached and short covering was in evidence on all sides. The lateness of the crop and the general approach of the frost dates places the bulls in a much more secure position than the bears, and we can hardly look for any serious decline in values, as southern spot prices would first be compelled to decline one-half to one cent to meet our market and then show an added decline to lower prices for us. There was no particular news to put the market up today, but the room seemed to have suddenly realized their position and started buying on a large scale.

STOCK MARKET LETTERS.

The market letter issued yesterday by Geo. F. Riez had the following to say: "The market was dull again today, and the decline in values, as southern spot prices would first be compelled to decline one-half to one cent to meet our market and then show an added decline to lower prices for us. There was no particular news to put the market up today, but the room seemed to have suddenly realized their position and started buying on a large scale."

CHEAPER MEATS IN SIGHT.

The great cattle ranges of the west are disappearing being cut up into small farms. The rapidly increasing population of the west and southwest, where cattle are raised, has made a demand for those lands which has placed a higher valuation on them for general farming purposes, and cheap cattle raising is ceasing in that section, consequently packers are facing the problem of where to procure low cost cattle. Yet Everett C. Brown of the Union stockyards, Chicago, believes a decline of prices in meats will begin in another year or so and that prices will be lower than they have been during several years past. His reasoning, based on observation and a study of the conditions for the last fifteen years, is that the farmers who have been raising hogs in greater number than ever before, and that the small farmer who formerly raised no cattle except a milk cow or two for his family use, will begin raising a few cattle for the market and that in the aggregate the supply of cattle will be greatly increased and the grade will be better.—Moody's Magazine.

SWIMMING BY MACHINERY

A ten pound swimming machine that may be packed in a suitcase is the invention of a Frenchman. It is a safe and rapid semi-raft for the man who swims or the man who doesn't. At the front of the apparatus is a cylindrical metal boat, with conical point and a depending rudder. At the rear is another metal float, with stirrups acting upon a propeller, the two ends connected by a wooden bar on which the swimmer lies as if on the water.

Chicago Wheat.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—There was no such bear market in wheat at any time today, as the professional bears were inclined to predict over the holiday when the outside and foreign markets showed a decided weakness and decline. The trade took a more friendly turn on the buying side, because of the surprising recovery in the Liverpool market. Win-a-per followed Liverpool and made an almost complete recovery of the Thursday loss. The English cables were inclined to ascribe the change of front in the Liverpool market to the Russian crop figures, which were known yesterday but ignored. The cash markets were all firm and a little more demand was in sight. We look for a little further advance in this market, but would sell it on the advance.

POLAR BEAR FIGHT IN NEW YORK CITY

Whitney's Great Captive, Silver King, Stands Off Twenty Men for Ten Hours.

EVEN HORNADAY IS SCARED.

Belmont Loses Cap in Struggle Which Is Ended Only by a Bucketful of Chloroform.

New York, Sept. 16.—Silver King, the giant polar bear that Paul J. Rainey and Harry Whitney lassoed in the Arctic and presented to the city, is in his new home in the Bronx zoo. It took ten hours of fighting, the work of twenty men and four pounds of chloroform to get him there.

Take it from Director William T. Hornaday, the white bear put up a harder fight than a mad elephant, and the executive staff of the zoo, not to speak of the laborers who had been uncomfortably close to Silver King's great purple mouth and his wicked fangs, felt much better when they had him safely a prisoner behind iron bars and two inch planks.

It was the toughest day's work Mr. Hornaday and his men have tackled in many a year of handling wild animals. There were moments in the ten hours when they realized they would have to take the great bear dead, not alive. Until Ray Ditmars, the curator, came back to City Island wharf after burning the roads in his hunt for chloroform the bear baffled every trick of strength and stratagem. Ditmars came tearing back in his auto just in time to prevent a prisoner behind iron bars and two inch planks.

1200 Pounds of Fight and Fury.

The whole executive staff of the zoo went early to City Island to grapple with the king. Mr. Hornaday knew that it would take time and patience to move 1200 pounds of fight and fury from the deck of a steamship to a cage seven miles away, and he wasn't altogether sure that it wouldn't take a gun. Biceps, Police Officer Arthur Hickey of the City Island station was under orders to stand by with a repeating rifle and shoot if the bear seemed to be winning the fight.

For the Removal of Silver King.

The islanders who had been him roaring at night and picking splinters out of his eye down in the deck hold looked for something lively. Most of the inhabitants retreated in a great hurry at the most interesting stage of the game, but they saw enough to make talk all next winter around the village stores. Yachtsmen reported from the sound to see how Mr. Hornaday herded polar bears. Among them was August Belmont and his son, August, Jr. Mr. Belmont got all of the excitement he could get.

Bruin a Volcano in Eruption.

They beat him in the first round, boarding up the hole he had made, mauling three thicknesses over the openings to make sure, but while they rested Silver King didn't. His massive head, with the red tongue lolling out like a dog's and his big amber eyes blazing, shot water from a hole in the roof. There had been a wide plank there, and the King, beaten off at the sides, found it.

This time the danger was more real than it had been before.

The policeman swung up swiftly, hammering the King over the head with an iron bar. The head which had been swinging around in the hole like a piston, sank out of sight and the bear threw his body again at a side of the cage. In a second half a dozen men with boards and hammers were on the roof trying to close it over, but the bear was too quick for them; he rose up and men fairly fell off the roof. Curator Ditmars spoke to Hornaday.

"Can you get any more than you want?"

"Can you get any more than you want?" said the director. "If I'm not back in fifteen minutes I'll be in jail," said the curator, and away he went in his auto, streaking it along the City Island road at forty miles an hour. He hadn't an idea where he could get all the drug that he knew he would need. Not an ounce less than four pounds would do, and City Island drug stores are not in the habit of selling chloroform by the pound, and a side of the two colored bottles in a shop window told him that here was chloroform depot No. 1.

"Gimme all the chloroform you've got."

"Gimme all the chloroform you've got," said Ditmars to the astonished druggist. "I'm a medical officer in the army and I'll be responsible for the consequences." "Oh, we've got more than you want," said the clerk airily. "Hurry, how much?" Ditmars shot out. "But a pound, I guess," said the clerk. Ditmars grabbed it and fled a mile before he came to another apothecary's shop. This time he had better luck. The druggist turned over to him the entire chloroform stock of this shop, four pounds, in a poisonous looking blue bottle.

Cured Stomach Trouble

Mr. Jas. P. Stansel made sound and well after several years of suffering.

Read what Mr. Stansel says: "I had stomach trouble for several years and began using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. In a short time I was sound and well. I have recommended your medicine to others and know many have used it with excellent results. My address is 105 1/2 N. Market St., Columbus, Miss."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

When taken in medicinal doses, just before a meal, stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach, causing a sufficient flow of the gastric juice to digest the food. If continued it will cure the disease or weakened function by its tonic and stimulating effect. It also excites the flow of saliva for the digestion of starchy food, preventing fermentation in the stomach and bowels.

He was too much occupied just then wondering whether Silver King would break free. In the two minutes it had taken to swing the cage from deck to wharf, the great bear had ripped two holes in the sides. One massive paw was through, wrenching and prying, a lever that was loosening the stout planking every second. His teeth had bitten through two inches of hard timber, and were widening the hole that his claws had made.

"Great heavens!"

said Mr. Hornaday, who isn't the kind of a man that gets excited very easily. "He's going through that cage like a rat through cheese!" Hickey, the policeman, moved up with the magazine rifle, a little nervous but ready to shoot if he got the word. "No hurry," said Mr. Hornaday. "We'll hold him for a while yet, but hurry with those boards."

The zoo laborers came on the run with armloads of short lengths of oak planks six feet long and two inches thick. Then they fought a battle with hammer and nails against the teeth and claws of Silver King. As the bear gashed up holes as fast as he could make them, his open mouth and long fangs showed within inches of their faces, and his fetid breath sickened them, but they worked desperately. They had, there was no time to waste, with the King going slambang crazy.

AMERICAN ARMY IS "DECLARED UNREADY"

Open Criticism Made by Inspector General Garlington.

Forces Under Ogcered Instruction System Wrong, Marching Capacity Even Below Mediocrity.

Washington, Sept. 16.—If fearless criticism is calculated to benefit the army, then United States soldiers should profit much from the comment upon their condition and abilities contained in the annual report of Inspector General Garlington, just made public. One inspector points out a whole battalion of artillery starting for the Philippine service without a single field officer and one of the batteries commanded by a second lieutenant of less than two year's service. An inspector general declares that this absence of a captain from the command is "the most trifling source of professional disservice in the line of the army today."

In one department nearly a third of the line officers were absent from duty with their commands under detail and altogether the situation, according to the inspector general, warrants the prediction that results of a disastrous nature must sooner or later be realized. The obvious remedy, he says, is the provision of a sufficient number of supernumerary officers to replace those on detail. The time for specializing in the army has arrived, in the opinion of another inspector general. He says: "We try to crowd too much upon the officer and enlisted man of the line. That is, we try to teach all of them everything, instead of specializing and only teaching each as much as he can learn by his ordinary application. We learn, however much we may expect, is all we can ever obtain." He uses the signal corps as an illustration, urging that only the small percentage of men in the line who show ability in that direction should be taught signaling.

People who think the United States army stands at the top of the profession would be rudely jarred to learn from Inspector Bell that the field army is wholly unprepared for field service. He says the new regulations are almost entirely theoretical or dependent upon the experience of European armies. Our transportation is the same as at the beginning of the Civil war, for our army has so far failed to make use of automobiles, traction engines and other modern appliances in the field. Major Bell says: "While our infantry is composed of the best material in the world, and is probably as well, if not better trained in the use of the rifle than that of any other army, its marching capacity is below mediocrity and yet it is admitted today that the fate of the battles of the future depends, as it has in the past, upon marching capacity of the army."

PORT HURON—Joseph Bowers, a laborer, residing at 1230 Young street, jumped into Black river off the south bank opposite Stanton street and was drowned. Bowers walked down to the river shortly after one o'clock and wandered about for nearly half an hour, after which he threw himself into the river. The first plunge seemed to make him change his mind about wanting to die, as he clambered out on the north bank of the river. Within a few minutes, however, he again jumped into the water and after a struggle sank below the surface. Bowers was a single man and family had been out of work, it is said, for several weeks until about three weeks ago, when he obtained employment with the Rapid Railway company at the car barns as a night car sweeper.

OLD SORES DUE TO DISEASED BLOOD

Every symptom of an old sore suggests diseased blood. The inflammation, discharge, discolored flesh, and the fact that local applications have no permanent effect toward healing the ulcer, shows that deep down in the system there is a morbid cause for the sore.

But more convincing proof that had blood is the cause for these places is furnished by the fact that even removing the sore or ulcer by surgical operation does not cure; they always return. A Nature will heal every sore if the blood is pure and healthy, but until the circulation is cleansed of all impure matter and supplied with nourishing and plasmic qualities the infected condition of flesh is OBLIGED to remain. S. S. S. heals Old Sores in a perfectly natural way. It goes into the blood, removes the impurities and morbid matters, adds nourishing qualities to this vital fluid, and brings about the very conditions that are necessary for any sore to heal. S. S. S. is a perfect blood purifier, acting directly on the circulation through the stomach and digestive membrane. Its use makes rich, red, healthy blood, which nourishes all flesh tissues instead of infecting them with the virulent matter which keeps old sores open. SCIENTISTS HAIL NEW CURE.

German Doctor Discovers Specific for Wide-Spread, Baffling Disease.

New York, Sept. 16.—The first authentic information by those associated with Dr. Paul Ehrlich, director of the Royal Institute for Experimental Therapeutics at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, concerning Prof. Ehrlich's remarkable discovery of a specific for a widespread blood disease of great antiquity, deemed for centuries well-nigh unconquerable, is furnished by Dr. Lewis Hart Marks, Dr. Marks, who is an American, is first assistant to Prof. Ehrlich.

The chemical name of this curative agent is dioxidiamidarsenobenzol. It is popularly called "606" by Prof. Ehrlich, for the reason that it was the 606th preparation compounded by him in an effort to find a cure. The first 603 preparations proved to be failures. A small supply of the drug has been placed in the hands of Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, in this city, and in the hands of Prof. L. P. Barter of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore. Within a few days, however, limited supplies of the curative agent, which is not a serum, but a definite chemical compound, will be furnished to Prof. Anderson of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; Prof. Simon, Baltimore, and Dr. William Kohlmann, New Orleans.

For the reason that Prof. Ehrlich's relations with America have been of the most friendly nature, and also because he owes a debt of gratitude to John D. Rockefeller, who made him a grant of $10,000 last year, and to the Rockefeller Institute, he intends as soon as possible to send a large quantity of the drug to the Rockefeller Institute to be distributed among the foremost physicians in the United States.

The drug will be put on the market in this country about Nov. 1 by the American representative of the German firm which manufactures "606." After that date it can be obtained by any physician.

NAMES THE HEAD CAMP AFTER BYRNS

Executive Council of the Modern Woodmen of America Honor Ishpeming Man.

C. J. Byrns, a member of the executive council of the Modern Woodmen of America, was honored by the board at its monthly meeting Thursday at Rock Island, Ills., when it was decided to name the next head camp of the society, the "C. J. Byrns camp." The board also adopted resolutions congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Byrns upon the twenty-seventh anniversary of their marriage, which they celebrated yesterday, also sending Mrs. Byrns a mammoth bouquet of roses.

The last head camp, held in Peoria, Ills., two years ago last June, was named in honor of Edward Murphy, the senior member of the board of directors. The previous head camp, held in Milwaukee, was named in honor of A. R. Talbot, the head consul, and the meeting held in Indianapolis two years prior to that session was named after W. A. Nordcott, who held the executive chair for a number of years, prior to the election of Mr. Talbot.

Mr. Byrns arrived home yesterday and he stated that the members of the executive council are satisfied that the next head camp meeting to be held in June, 1911, at Buffalo, will be the biggest affair that has ever been conducted by the Woodmen. Members of the council recently visited Buffalo and while there they engaged a convention hall, they secured accommodations for the head officers at the Iroquois hotel, which is to be the Woodmen's headquarters during convention week. A very strong local organization has been perfected by the various camps in Buffalo and funds are now being raised by the members of the society and the officers of the different commercial clubs in the city.

John H. Mitchell, who has general supervision of the Woodmen Foresters in the United States, conferred with the members of the council Thursday, relative to the military maneuvers to be conducted in connection with the head camp. He expressed the opinion that there will be in the neighborhood of 7,000 uniformed men in attendance. There were over 5,000 present at the Peoria meeting, but since then the uniform division has had a large increase in membership and there are many splendid teams within a comparatively short distance of Buffalo. The members of the head council believe that on parade day there will be 100,000 Woodmen in the city.

The Woodmen society continues to grow at a rapid rate and there are now approximately 1,250,000 members enrolled, while the records presented at the last head camp session showed the membership to be not quite 1,000,000. Mr. Byrns stated that the increase in membership is not confined to any particular district or group of states, but that the proportionate increase is practically as large in one section as it is in another.

NEGAUNEE WINS SECOND OF SERIES

Yesterday's Game Resulting in a Score of 1 to 0 Was a Fine Exhibition.

Negaunee won the second of the series of championship games from Escanaba yesterday, by a score of 1 to 0. It was one of the prettiest exhibitions of the season, as both pitchers received fine support. Rosevear, in the box for Negaunee, allowed but three scattered hits, and M. Olmstead, the Escanaba twirler, was touched for only four, one of these being by Simpson in the second, one by Messier and one by Cullis in the fifth, and another by Cullis in the eighth. Negaunee's only run, scored by Messier, was earned. Messier singled and Walsh sacrificed to second by Simpson. Rosevear went out, F. Olmstead to M. Walsh, and Messier came in from second when Cullis hit safely into center field. Cullis fled out to Lantz at short.

In the fifth inning the visitors sent M. Walsh around the circuit, but he was thrown out at the plate by Swick to Heidenson, when he attempted to come home on M. Olmstead's ground hit. Walsh reached first on balls and was sacrificed to second by Lantz, who went out, Rosevear to Ellmore, O'Connor singled, advancing Walsh to third; F. Olmstead sent a grounder to Cullis, who threw M. Olmstead out at second. Rosevear did not seem to work hard after the third inning, after he got a line on the Escanaba batters. He threw so easily that he did not get the balls over the plate as early in the game as he should have. He was allowed a man to walk in each of the fourth, fifth and eighth innings. Olmstead passed but one batter to first.

Cullis, Swick and Ellmore executed two fast double plays and M. Walsh and Aronson also a double, the former throwing a line drive by Rosevear, and then throwing Ellmore out at third when he led off in an attempt to reach home on the batted ball. Tallion, who played at second for Marquette during the latter part of the league series, was in left field for Negaunee in place of Dr. McQuay, who is unable to leave his position. Tallion, who had a higher batting average than any player in the Marquette-Iron county league, sent two balls far out into the field yesterday, but both of them were caught. He will play the remainder of the series.

MAY PLAY APPLETON.

Escanaba Team Expects to Meet Champions of Wisconsin-Illinois League.

If the Escanaba baseball team wins the series of six games now being played with the Negaunee nine for the upper peninsula championship, the Appleton team, champions of the Wisconsin-Illinois league, will be taken on for a series of several games to be played at Escanaba and Appleton. Negotiations for the games are now pending and it is expected that an arrangement will be completed by Sunday or Monday. The series will probably start the latter part of next week.

The members of the Escanaba team believe that they will give the Wisconsin-Illinois champions a hard tussle. Most of the players in the Appleton nine are well known to the members of the Escanaba team and it is thought that the nine are evenly matched. The Escanaba team has been playing consistent ball all season and some of the more enthusiastic fans from Escanaba say that they have the money to back the team against the Appleton nine. The Escanaba men have been looking for bets here and at Ishpeming on the upper peninsula championship series, but they have not been successful in placing any money to speak of.

IMPROVING SCHOOL GROUNDS.

Outside Work Will Soon Be Completed at School Properties.

The Marquette County Telephone company has finished putting in a cable in the alley between the new high school building and the Case street school, extending from Pioneer to Teal Lake avenues. All of the single lines have been removed and the poles straightened, so that the appearance of the alley has been much improved. Jackson & Lindquist, who were some time ago awarded the contract for laying a concrete walk in the alley between the two schools, will begin work on the job early next week. The iron fence surrounding the new school property will probably be in position by tonight. The fence is of a pretty design and gives the grounds a finished appearance. The board of education has ordered some additional grass seed to be planted in places where the grass is thin. The grass has grown splendidly the past month. The lawn at the Park street school, which has been neglected for a few years past, is also to be improved. The entire surface is to be spaded, leveled and seeded. The work will be done this fall.

ANOTHER SCHOOL ROOM.

Preparations are being made for the opening of a second first grade room in the Case street building. The present room there, which is taught by Miss Anna Ryan, has sixty-eight pupils, necessitating half-day sessions since the opening of the fall term. The first grade rooms in the Park street school are also crowded and a few children will be transferred from there to the Case street building when the new room is ready, and then the average number of pupils in this grade in each building will be from thirty-five to forty. New seats have been ordered and they are expected here within a week or so. The room to be occupied is the one now used by the kindergarten. The children attending the kindergarten will be transferred to a room in the southeast corner of the new high school building, which has never been used.

BUILDING PLATFORM.

The Consolidated Fuel & Lumber company is erecting a platform twelve by twenty-two feet in size at its new hardwood flooring plant for the loading of fuel clippings into cars. All of the clippings are carried from the operating room to a large bin from which they are loaded into wagons. They will be hauled by team to the platform and there loaded into the cars for shipment to the concern's branches in other parts of the county. The plant will keep all of the branches supplied. The railway track leading to the dry kiln is being extended so that the unloading can be done more conveniently than formerly.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Miss Anna Sweedberg has gone to Chicago on a month's visit to relatives and friends.

Miss Gertrude Ford, who visited Miss Mabel Jackson here early in the week, has returned to her home in Marquette.

The rooms in the second floor of the Kirkwood block are being repainted and decorated. Some alterations will be made. Mr. Kirkwood intends to put all of the rooms in first class condition.

Christian Science services will be held hereafter in the Odd Fellows hall, instead of in the Scandinavian society's hall, commencing with the first Sunday in October. The time of the services is to be changed to 10:45 a. m.

The Italian band of the city will give a concert and hop tonight at McDonald's opera house. The concert will start at 7:30 o'clock, concluding at 8:30 o'clock. There will be dancing from 8:30 until midnight. The charge will be fifty cents for men, ladies free.

The ladies of the Swedish Lutheran church congregation, who are conducting a bazaar in the Scandinavian society's hall, have decorated the assembly room attractively with ground pine, trees, ferns, etc. The bazaar was largely attended last night.

The Barkoot Carnival company's shows, being exhibited this week at the Cleveland park, are liberally patronized by Negaunee people. The company's band gave a concert in the band stand here Thursday evening and an unusually large crowd gathered to listen to the music.

The employees of the Oliver Iron Mining company's Regent mines were paid yesterday. The men at the Rolling Mill, also at the Cambria and Lilly properties, will receive their checks today, and the men at the Breitung mines will be paid next Tuesday. The Republic Iron & Steel company has changed the name of the Hartford mine to Cambria No. 2.

The Negaunee Buffaloes and Ishpeming Settlers will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Union park grounds. These teams played a close and exciting game last Sunday morning, the Settlers winning by a score of 3 to 1. The nine are evenly matched and a good game is expected. The admission will be fifteen and ten cents, the latter for ladies. Grand stand seats will be free. Morse will be in the box for Negaunee and Peel will be the catcher.

STREETS CANNOT BE KEPT CLEAN

Present Methods of Removing Filth from Thoroughfares Declared to Be Altogether Inadequate, and at the Same Time Injurious to the Public Health

Man Familiar With Municipal Affairs Says Day Is Not Far Distant When Streets of Cities Will Be Cleaned with Electric Suction Vacuum Sweepers.

That the day is not far distant when the streets of many of the cities of this country will be cleaned with some form of electric suction vacuum dirt removing machine was the interesting claim made by a traveling man, familiar with municipal problems, in this city yesterday. "It has been thoroughly demonstrated that the only scientific way to sweep is with the vacuum cleaner," he said. "Where the old brooms are used, the dust, dirt and germs are merely pounded into the air, and as soon as the sweeper has gone, they settle back on the furniture, fixtures, walls, ceilings and floors. The vacuum cleaner sucks up all the dirt and dust and deposits it in an air-tight basin, where it can be carried outside and destroyed."

"Granted that the streets of a city are dirty and detestable as well as menacing and dangerous, is there anything more ridiculous than watching the futile attempts of the 'white wings' to keep the pavements clean? Men with brooms scrub and sweep, and in some places horse-drawn rotary brooms do their best, but the dirt is never fully collected and is tracked back into the highway nearly as fast as it can be swept into the gutter. Many cities with abundant water supplies have adopted the custom of flushing the main streets every night. Thus washed, the streets are reasonably clean, but there are ever so many cities that cannot afford this extravagant use of water."

Something Better Needed.

"It is time the present methods of street sweeping were replaced by something better. The streets of all American cities are notoriously unclean, although millions of dollars are spent to keep them clean. The time has arrived when progressive cities should clean the streets by air pressure and air suction. The vacuum cleaners now in use in hotels, apartment houses, public buildings and in many private homes, should be adapted to the work of street cleaning. The cost would be slight, the streets could be piped, the air exhausted at certain points, and men quietly moving up and down the streets could pick up with their air-exhausting machines every particle of dust, paper and dirt. "While waiting for the streets to be provided with air suction pipes distributed economically throughout our cities, the thing could be done temporarily. A large vehicle with an electric air pump moving along the streets, followed by men passing the air exhaust over the street surface and drawing the dirt into a dust-proof box on the wagon, would diminish the death rate, do away with a public nuisance and remove far from the city endless billions of disease germs every day. The dust collected could be burned or hygienically disposed of for fertilizing purposes.

Era of Cleanliness Predicted.

"The disappearance of the horse from our streets is, I believe, a matter of only a few years. The dumping of dirt on the streets by business houses will be stopped. The pavements and the street cleaning will be done by the vacuum process, and this will be followed by regular sprinkling with disinfectants—salt water where it is possible. I honestly believe that before the end of this century every big city, its streets, public parks, alleys and crevices, will be kept as clean as the modern door yard."

When asked his opinion of the feasibility of cleaning streets with a vacuum cleaner, Superintendent Retaille, of the city light and power commission, stated that although he had never heard of a street vacuum sweeper he could see no reason why such a device would not be entirely practicable.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY.

Chas. Wallenstein Acquitted of Charge of Selling Liquor to Minors.

The trial of Charles Wallenstein, of Ishpeming, charged with having sold spirituous liquors to minors, was taken up and concluded in circuit court yesterday, the jury finding the defendant not guilty after having been out about two hours. The principal witnesses for the prosecution were several young boys, who testified to one of them having purchased beer from Wallenstein last March. A number of witnesses for the defendant stated that they had been at Wallenstein's place on the night on which the boys claimed to have bought liquor, and that the boys were not in the saloon at all that night. Probate Judge Potter had charge of the defense of this case, and Prosecuting Attorney Bell looked after the interests of the People. This trial concludes the criminal trials set for this term.
