

ROOSEVELT HAS A CONFERENCE WITH MR. TAFT

Plainly Worried Over the New York Situation, He Goes to the President for Moral Support, and Gets It—'Bossism' Will Be Fought Vigorously.

However While the Outcome of the Meeting Is Declared Satisfactory, There Is Not the Old-Time Cordiality and the Shadow of 1912 Is Present.

On Board President Taft's Train, Albany, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Mr. Taft and Colonel Roosevelt met today at New Haven, Conn., for the second time since Roosevelt's return from Africa. The colonel sought the conference.

It was plain that Mr. Roosevelt and his advisers were worried over the situation in New York state and came to the president for moral support. This the president was glad to give. He said he sympathized heartily with the fight against 'bossism.'

Mr. Taft reiterated the statements made in his letter to Lloyd C. Griscom, president of the New York county Republican committee, at the time of the Sherman-Roosevelt controversy over the temporary chairmanship. He said the letter stated his position fully. He was standing on it absolutely.

Mr. Taft announced again that he favored direct primaries for the nomination of congressmen and state legislators, although he was not ready to admit the advisability of doing away with conventions for the nomination of state officers from governor down. The president understood that both Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt are now practically in accord with his position.

Presidency Not Discussed.

Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt did not discuss the question of the presidency in 1912. Mr. Taft's position is this: He is willing to run if such a convention of Mr. Taft being re-elected, he feels that they will see to his nomination. The friends of the president say that if the American people want him for a second term, not even Mr. Roosevelt can prevent his nomination. If the people do not appear to want him, Mr. Taft will be glad to submit to their decision.

It can be stated that today's meeting was barren of results as to any better understanding between the president and the colonel as to national issues. Something in the nature of a truce, however, has been arranged regarding the New York state legislation. After that is over, the events will shape themselves. Mr. Roosevelt himself is said today to have left drop the hint that as to his side of the matter 'something would be done' after the election. Mr. Taft is letting 1912 look out for itself.

It came out at today's conference, which also included Lloyd C. Griscom, Otto Barnard and Secretary Norton, that the Taft administration is to be endorsed at Saratoga. No mention of Mr. Taft as the candidate in 1912 will be made. It became known today that Mr. Taft deprecated the action of the Ohio Republicans in declaring for him in 1912. He did not think he should be made an issue.

Today's conference, it is believed, was a source of much gratification to Mr. Taft and his friends. It is felt that should be sought following the somewhat recent attitude of almost complete ignoring his administration probably gave the president much satisfaction.

Rough Voyage Across the Sound.

Mr. Roosevelt was thoroughly drenched while coming across the sound in a motor boat to Stamford, whence he went to New Haven by automobile. The colonel said that at times the conditions became so interesting that he did not have time even to think of seasickness. After the conference was held, all appeared serious. Mr. Roosevelt saw Mr. Taft off at the station.

As to 1912, Mr. Taft is entirely satisfied with the position he has taken. Even though Mr. Roosevelt may be against him, it does not disturb him. There is no doubt, however, that the shadow of 1912 hung over today's gathering. There was not the cordiality of old between the president and the colonel. It was the first time they had met since the story was given out at Oyster Bay that Roosevelt felt that Taft had not dealt fairly with him in New York and had sold out to the bosses there, in return for a pledge of the delegates in 1912. The president has felt the injustice of that story keenly, it is said, and as a result the relations between himself and Mr. Roosevelt can never be the same again.

Attorney General Wickham joined the president at New Haven. Senator Crane got on board at Pittsfield and came to Albany. Mr. Taft at New Haven attended the fall meeting of the Yale University corporation, which was devoted largely to the salary increases of the professors. Mr. Taft is now on his way to Cincinnati, while Mr. Roosevelt has returned to Oyster Bay.

Progressives Claim the Convention.

New York, Sept. 19.—The claim that the progressives will control 70 of the 1,000 delegates to the Republican state convention—a working majority—was made tonight by close friends of Lloyd C. Griscom, who is managing Roosevelt's campaign against the 'old guard.'

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Theodore Roosevelt arrived home tonight and said that he had had a very satisfactory talk with the president. He refused to repeat their conversation.

GOVERNOR OF IOWA ON TRIAL FOR ALLEGED LIBEL

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 19.—Charged with criminally libelling John Cowie, former chairman of the state board of control, Governor B. F. Carroll was placed on trial here this morning. The indictment charges that the governor authorized the publication of a statement reflecting seriously on the character of Cowie. The impounding of the jury continued throughout the afternoon. The defense of Carroll will be, it is understood, that he was privileged in publishing the communication containing alleged libel. It is also understood that the governor will use no technicalities to prevent the introduction of evidence, but will throw the case wide open. The governor's attorneys claim that the first letter written by Cowie referred to information which the governor had relative to Cowie's conduct, and that this gave the governor a chance to reply. His reply contained the alleged libel.

SENATOR CUMMINS OPENS THE CARPENTERS' CONVENTION

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 19.—With a speech by Senator Cummins, the first business session of the international convention of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners was opened here tonight. Mr. Cummins is a member of the local carpenters' union, having worked at that trade when he first came to Iowa.

SUGAR TRUST HIGH OFFICIAL GOES TO THE PENITENTIARY

New York, Sept. 19.—Charles R. Heike, former secretary and treasurer of the American Sugar Refining company, was sentenced today to serve eight months in the penitentiary and was fined $5,000. He was convicted some time ago of defrauding the government by underweighing sugar.

STOCK SPECULATION IS MARKING TIME

Wall Street Awaits Events—Fluctuations Meager, the Net Price Changes Insignificant.

New York, Sept. 19.—The stock market today showed nothing so clearly as an insistent determination of the speculation to mark time and to await events. An opening decline of the prices disclosed some buying demand at the lower level which was diversely attributed to supporting orders by those interested in the properties and to uncovered short interests. The latter supposition was given color by the increased borrowing demand in the loan department at the stock exchange, where money was loaned below the market rate for the sake of securing desired stock for delivery on contract sales. Such borrowing demand is a necessary accompaniment of short selling, but it is possible to simulate short interest by sellers of long stock borrowing for delivery and retaining their own shares. The borrowing demand was most noticeable in the few stocks which have constituted the bulk of the dealings for a long time past. The relief from the selling pressure in these was sufficient to affect the tone of the whole market. The net changes at the end of the day proved inconsequential. Immediate interest in the market today was centered around the price of copper at London was an incident of the day. The steel trade advices were not altered in tone.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Speculators in wheat worked mainly on the buying side today and hoisted the prices materially, but the close was at a reaction and left the market unchanged to 3/4 to 5/8 below Saturday's final figures. The absence of export business formed the dominating influence in the latest dealings. Some of the incentives for higher prices during the day were a decrease in the primary receipts, the smallness of the visible supply increase, the reduced estimate of the crop in France and the big falling off in the world's crop. The impression prevailed with many that imports of buying was being done under cover by one of the leading elevator concerns. Simultaneously cash growers reported an improved inquiry. The December opened at 100 to 3/8 and closed at 100 5/8.

ATLANTIC CITY SURRENDERS TO THE GRAND ARMY MEN

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 19.—This city today unconditionally surrendered to the G. A. R. The greater part of the day was devoted to registering at the commander-in-chief's headquarters, hand-shaking here and meetings of committees in preparation for the business which will come up during the week. This afternoon the veterans discussed unofficially the proposition for a permanent camp site to be established in some city geographically near the center of the country. Advocates of the plan say this would make it possible for nearly every survivor of the Civil war to attend the encampments, because of the entanglement of the railroad fare.

CHINESE PRINCE ARRIVES

San Francisco, Sept. 19.—Prince Tsai Hsun, head of the imperial Chinese navy and uncle of the emperor, arrived here today with royal honors. He was received with great pomp. The prince leaves for the East tomorrow.

CONGRESS TO GRAPPLE WITH HARD PROBLEM

Apportionment of the Members of the House of Representatives Under the Recent Census an Important Question Awaiting the Action of the Lawmakers.

Whether the Work Shall Be Done by the Present Republican Majority or Whether It Shall Go Over a Session Is Expected to Prove a Fight.

Washington, Sept. 19.—One of the first questions with which the approaching session of congress will be called upon to grapple will be to determine when the next apportionment of members of the house of representatives under the recent census shall be made.

The Constitution requires that a reapportionment shall follow each decennial enumeration of the people, and accordingly a redistribution of seats in the house membership has taken place hitherto soon after the conclusion of each census.

Up to 1880 the reapportionment was uniformly postponed until the first session of the congress succeeding the enumeration, but after the eleventh census a change was made and the apportionment bills for the eleventh and twelfth censuses were brought in and passed in each case during the short session of the current congress immediately following the census. It will rest with the approaching session to determine whether it shall follow the old or the new precedent. Politics may determine the choice.

Lively Contest in Sight

Before the time for the meeting of congress the result of the November elections will have become known. If the Democrats should come into control of the house for the Sixty-third congress they would naturally resist any effort to have the change made by the present Republican congress, while the Republicans would be anxious to have the service performed while they were in control of legislation in both houses. Thus the indications point to a lively contest.

THE WEATHER

Washington, Sept. 19.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for the upper Michigan district for Tuesday and Wednesday: Not much change in temperature; light variable winds.

TREAT PASSENGERS AS EQUALS

English Railroads Giving Up Old Custom of Separating the Classes.

London, Sept. 19.—A very few years hence there will be no such thing as second class compartment on any English railway. The Great Western company, which recently abolished the second class on its main line, has now decided to do away with it on its suburban routes. The Midland company no longer runs second class compartments, nor does the Great Central, and it is only a question of time when all other railways follow suit.

GIRL IS GOING TO FLY

New York, Sept. 19.—A neat little flying machine that looks almost too frail to carry the weight of a passenger is being fitted with Santos-Dumont's DeMottelle, and its builder is George Beatty, a linotype operator. In his spare time Mr. Beatty, who is also a machinist, has constructed his flier in the composing room. He said yesterday it would be ready to fly within the next ten days and announced that Miss Genevieve O'Hagan of the Bronx would be the operator.

WEIGHS ONLY NINETY POUNDS AND WILL RUN A LITTLE MACHINE

Miss O'Hagan is small, tipping the scales at ninety pounds. The entire machine, including the engine, will weigh less than 300 pounds. Mr. Beatty says Miss O'Hagan has all the necessary mechanical knowledge to drive a machine, and he is confident that she is not lacking courage.

ESTATE WILLED TO PRINCETON FALLS BELOW ESTIMATED VALUE

Salem, Mass., Sept. 19.—From an estimated value of $3,000,000, the estate of Isaac C. Wayman, the Salem hermit, left to Princeton University may shrink considerably, according to the inventory of the Massachusetts holdings filed here today. The total mentioned in the inventory is $859,801. Realty holdings in many other states will bring up the total value of the estate, but it is now thought the aggregate will fall below the estimates.

HOBBLE SKIRT PAD IS PASSING ALREADY

Chicago, Sept. 19.—The hobble skirt is the end of the hobble. It is being called by certain dressmakers 'travel skirts' here today in convention. It is stated that the skirts are already widening out, despite that fall shop windows are making a feature of the 'hobble'.

PRICE OF SUGAR IS REDUCED

New York, Sept. 19.—All grades of refined sugar were reduced ten cents a hundred pounds today.

WILL PROBE THE ELECTION OF LORIMER

Senate Committee of Which Mr. Burrows Is the Chairman Arrives in Chicago and Will Hold Its Initial Session Today—It Plans a Thorough Inquiry.

Among the Witnesses Will Be Many Legislators and Included in the Testimony, It is Said, Will Be Much Evidence That Would Be Inadmissible in Court

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Senator C. Burrows, of Michigan, chairman of the senate committee which is to investigate the election of Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, arrived here today with others of the committee and prepared to take up the consideration of the charges that the electors of the senator was tainted with bribery. The initial session will be held tomorrow at the Congress Hotel and will arrange the program for the sittings and decide what evidence shall be asked. The general impression is that much testimony will be declared admissible before the committee, which in a criminal trial would be held not competent.

With the exception of one member—Senator G. Bulkeley, of Connecticut—all the members of the committee are lawyers. Chairman Burrows declined to discuss the details of the plans of the committee. The investigating committee is as follows:

Republicans—Chairman Julius C. Burrows, Michigan; Weldon B. Heyburn, Idaho; Robert J. Gable, South Dakota; Logan G. Bulkeley, Connecticut. Democrats—James B. Frasier, Tennessee; Thomas H. Paynter, Kentucky; Joseph F. Johnston, Alabama.

Negro Vote a Factor

The question of the disfranchisement of the negro vote in the Southern states will receive attention in connection with the question of apportionment. The house is even now on record in favor of an inquiry into this subject. Under the rules of the house, where debate is limited, a measure similar to the Crum-packer bill of last congress might be passed without affording the minority much opportunity to oppose or obstruct. But in the senate, where there is no cloture, the minority would be strong enough to prevent the passage of an obnoxious measure unless deterred by the unwritten rule which permits each house to dispose of its own affairs in its own way.

CHICAGO MAN IS FOULY MURDERED

Is Killed in Defending Daughters from Early Morning Intruder—Negro Suspect Arrested.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Wm. Jones, a negro, was partly identified this afternoon as the slayer of Charles D. Hiller, who was shot in defending his daughters from an intruder who entered their bedroom Collins early this morning. Jones succeeded in concealing a bullet wound in the wrist while being grilled. The injury betrayed itself when blood began trickling onto the floor. The prisoner declared he had wounded himself accidentally yesterday, but Police Captain Collins expressed the belief that Jones had wounded himself in the struggle with Hiller. Jones carried a revolver, every chamber of which was loaded, but the police declare that it smelled of burnt powder.

Hiller was chief local freight clerk of the Rock Island railroad. He was aroused by the screams of his daughters, Florence and Clarice, aged twelve and eighteen, who slept together. Florence told Captain Collins that she was awakened by feeling a rough hand against her face. She said the face was that of a negro. She declared that the clothing of Jones talked with that of her assailant. Hiller rushed into the bedroom and grappled with the intruder. They rolled down the stairs together. Then the negro began firing three bullets entering Hiller's body. The murderer escaped.

The negro was captured while getting on a street car. He said he was going to Harvey to look for work. The car going in the opposite direction of Harvey. Mrs. Elizabeth McNabb identified Jones as a man who had entered her home earlier in the night. She said the negro had found his way to the bedroom where she and her daughter were sleeping. He laid his hand on the latter's arm, and she screamed. This frightened the intruder away. The police declare that the fellow went immediately to the Hiller home.

CORNER'S JURY EXONERATES DR. RAINEY

GASOLINE KILLS THREE PERSONS; BADLY BURNS TWO OTHERS

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Mrs. Anna Belica, of Chicago Lawn, and two children, Frances, aged ten, and Joseph, aged three—were burned to death by an explosion of gasoline today. Two other children were probably fatally burned. The accident occurred when Mrs. Belica tried to start the kitchen fire with gasoline.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 19.—The prediction that by 1915 the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will number 1,000,000 members was made by John B. Goodwin, grand secretary of the sovereign grand lodge, at the opening of its annual convention here today.

LILLIS RETURNS TO KANSAS CITY

BOXING BOUT IS A DRAW

Peoria, Ills., Sept. 19.—Harry Donahue of Pekin, Ills., and Walter Little of Chicago went ten three rounds to a draw here tonight. Donahue was the aggressor.

MEN THOUGHT DEAD RESTORED TO FAMILY

Conway Springs, Kas., Sept. 19.—'James Ester,' brick mason, has thrown aside his trowel and gone back to Stoughton, Wis., to again be come George Becker, ex-mayor, grocer and contractor, who he was before he suffered a lapse of memory two years ago and wandered away. Becker was making money in his home town. One day he started for Madison to transact business. He arrived the following day, was seen by relatives and then disappeared. A few days ago W. H. Gound, of Stoughton, saw 'Ester' on the street here and recognized him. Becker could not identify Gound. The relatives were notified. The afflicted man recognized his nephew and readily consented to go home. Mrs. Becker heard a year ago that her husband had been killed. She collapsed and since then has been a paralytic.

COMMERCE COMMISSION HAS ILLINOIS CENTRAL OFFICIAL ON THE STAND AND DRAWS OUT INTERESTING DISCLOSURES—IT SUSPECTS A POLICY OF CONCEALING PROFITS

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Alleged stock inflation and manipulation designated to turn over to the stockholders large sums of money without putting in the company's record any evidence of more than the passing of fair dividends was a subject dealt into today by the commerce commission here at the continuation of the hearing following the suspension of the general advance of freight rates on the Western lines which were scheduled to take effect Sept. 1.

WHILE RECORDS OF THE COMPANY SHOW ONLY FAIR DIVIDENDS, IT IS ALLEGED LARGE SUMS HAVE BEEN DISBURSED THROUGH STOCK INFLATION AND MANIPULATION

Commissioner Clements called the attention of Controller N. B. Hauvelt, of the Illinois Central, to figures he had furnished the commission. The commissioner asked: "You say that in 1891 your capital stock was $40,000,000 on 287 miles of road, and in 1910, on only about 1,700 miles more, it was $100,000,000. Also in 1891 the bonded indebtedness was only $82,000,000, while in 1910 it had reached $175,000,000. Why was this?"

Blauvelt replied that what appears as the excess, went to improve the road and for the purchase of other roads. Mr. Clements asked if the stock for these purposes was sold on the open market. Blauvelt said that most of it was sold to the stockholders at par, that there never had been a stock dividend.

Attorney Frank Lyons, of the commission, asked: "If your stock sold at 150 in the open market and you gave it to your stockholders at 100, what became of the extra 50 per cent of its value?"

"It went to the stockholders," was the answer.

"Then, the upshot was that your company added to its capital stock by letting the stock go at par when it needed money, when it could have sold less stock on the open market, satisfied its needs and kept the capital stock down, giving less capital to figure dividends upon; isn't that so?" was the query.

Blauvelt was unwilling that such an impression should prevail. He explained by saying: "Supposed we dumped $15,000,000 in stock on the market at below par, I consider that good business policy to sell where we are sure it will bring par and keep control of the road unchanged."

H. C. OSTERMAN TO TESTIFY IN THE CAR REPAIR FRAUD CASE

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Interest in the Illinois Central car repair fraud case in the municipal court today centered about the announcement that Henry C. Ostermann, president of the Ostermann Manufacturing company, will be placed on the witness stand tomorrow. Ostermann is said to be one of the principals in the alleged plot by which the railroad was defrauded of large sums of money. He has been away and the announcement he had returned and would stand the stand was a surprise. Richard Roth, formerly a car inspector for the railroad, was the only witness today. He went into details regarding the alleged padding of the car repair bills at the plant of the Ostermann company.

GRAND CIRCUIT HORSES MEET IN SEASON'S FINAL RACES

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—Buffalo owned pesters today gathered in the two stakes which made up the major portion of the program for the opening day of the season's last Grand Circuit meeting. Both were odds on favorites. Ess H. Kay took the board of Trade being unable to get to him when they tried in the stretch. Independence Boy, Illinois bred, but owned in Columbus, was about an equal choice with Dickie C for the 2:11 pace. He moved away from his opponents when a lead was desired and finished first each time with plenty to spare. The horses finished in the following order in the various events:

Board of Trade stake, 2:06 pace. $2,000; five starters—Ess H. Kay, Merry Widow, R. F. D. Baron Whip. Best time, 2:04 3/4.

2:14 pace, Hotel Hartman stake, $5,000; seven starters—The Abbe, Evelyn W. Baughman, Rena Patch. Best time, 2:04 1/2.

2:10 trot, $1,200—General H. Ora Bel-lum, Direct Tone. Best time, 2:08 3/4.

2:11 pacing, $1,200; nine starters—Independence Boy, Dickie C, Lucius Todd, Dajo. Best time, 2:07 3/4.

It is doubtful if the colonel ever had quite as corking a good time before, even when he was president.

Mr. Hemans is going to tackle his upper peninsula campaign early, and get it over with. Might as well.

Police graft in New York? Well, judging by past performances, Mayor Gaynor is just the man to show it up and clean it out.

According to Debs' outlook on affairs national there is only one man before the public today worthy of full and confident trust—and he is Debs.

Colonel Roosevelt has left no doubt that he would regard a defeat at the Saratoga convention in the light of a temporary reverse, and would still keep on fighting.

Representative Boutell having announced his decision to run for congress, despite his rejection by the voters in the Republican primaries, it appears that the Chicago Tribune will have to remain on the job for several weeks additional.

Much doubt is expressed in regard to the story that Secretary Ballinger will put his fate up to the cabinet. It is pointed out that the cabinet has thrashed over this Ballinger matter several times and that Ballinger has been vindicated by President Taft and Attorney General Wickham. Why then, should the cabinet reopen the question? Who has the answer? The best thing that newspapers can do about this Ballinger trouble is to forego guesses and wait patiently for something definite to happen.

The Detroit Journal says it is contended that Congressman Denby is in a tight hole, that the Republican city ticket and several Republican county officers are in danger of defeat and that P. Knott Owens is very likely to be elected mayor. It rubs its eyes, and asks "Whither are we tending?" The Journal does not assume to answer its own question, from which it may be gathered that its political forecasting department has been somewhat chastened by recent sad and unforeseen happenings.

The Crystal Falls Diamond Drill farrago Marquette as a baseball town and demonstrates, to its own satisfaction, at least, that Crystal Falls can support the game better than this city. Incidentally, it puts forward Steimle, of Nequaime, as its candidate for the nicest mannered, sweetest and best little player in the league. Marquette, the Diamond Drill says, plays dubious ball, and the crowds are riotous and misbehaved. Altogether the Diamond Drill makes out Marquette a very devil of a place, and its ball players fit ornaments for it. We don't quite understand the Diamond Drill's heat and are inclined to the opinion that some of its statements would not stand close analysis. But the season is over, so why have any lengthy post-mortems? If Marquette is as bad a town as the Diamond Drill says it is, and its ball players a lot of ungovernable pirates, then Crystal Falls certainly appears in pleasing contrast. The Crystal Falls people deserve credit for sticking the season out, despite the heavy expense of maintaining a team there, and fulfilling all their agreements. The Crystal Falls team was fair and sportsmanlike and played good ball most of the season. We had hoped our Crystal Falls friends could have the same opinion of the Marquette end of the league. If they cannot, however, it may be reflected that baseball is ever full of disappointments.

Mr. Hemans will, according to the present program, make his campaign in the upper peninsula during the latter part of the month and early in October, prior to the Democratic state convention. Two or three of his dates have been announced, and his schedule of meetings will soon be completed. He will, presumably, give all his time subsequent to the holding of the Democratic state convention to a canvass of the lower state territory. Mr. Hemans' campaign will consist, in large measure, of attacks on Mr. Osborn, the Republican nominee, on the score of his alleged relations with Governor Warner. In short, Mr. Hemans will endeavor to

MR. OSBORN'S POSITION.
Answering queries of the Detroit newspapers, Mr. Osborn has made it clear that he has no intention of trying to impose any of his personal ideas as to what the Republican state platform should contain on the body of delegates who will assemble at the state convention. He is confident that the task of drafting a vigorous and effective platform, one that will meet with the approval of the voters of the state. Mr. Osborn shows that he is personally in favor of a moderately progressive platform, even while avowing that it is in no degree his purpose to try to form the minds of the platform makers on this score. His letter on this subject is here given:
"I have no desire whatever to dictate to the convention, and wish honestly to avoid the appearance of anything that might be construed as an improper interference with the rights and functions of the delegates of the party. The rank and file of the Republican party, whose candidate I am, have elected those delegates to represent them in special convention capacity, and it is fair to presume that the convention will reflect the delegated wisdom and spirit of the Republican party in Michigan.
"I consider that there is rare party poise in Michigan; that the party is neither hysterical nor cowardly; that it stands for things that are sane and safe, but believes sufficiently in the 'zeitgeist' to keep in the front ranks of those who would preserve the state for the people.
"There is as much need to see the corn in the fields as the weeds. The plowman who guides so ruthlessly in cleaning the field that he uproots or covers up more corn than weeds is not a safe plowman. There was never a time when it was more necessary that both common sense and progressive courage should go hand in hand.
"Cannonism, Aldrichism and Ballingerism are conditions, not persons. They typify the viewpoints of yesterday, which are today as unwholesome as they are unsafe. There is evidence on every hand to prove the composite wisdom of the people. The source of this wisdom is not entirely the head. It springs mostly from the instinct of self-preservation which appears to be even more strikingly developed in the man acting as a unit than in the individual. The public realizes it has been exploited in so many directions that it has come to believe that the oppression of avarice and the autocracy of intolerance are even worse than the forces of barbaric strength that prevailed in barbaric times. The people are also grounded in sense and justice and intelligence sufficient to know that the pillars of our basic institutions making for the happiness, comfort and safety of all must not be pulled down.
"The convention of Michigan Republicans, I believe, neither how to the cancerous selfishness of yesterday nor to the destructive hysteria of today, but will take the position that the government belongs to the people and must be guarded and preserved in all its material and moral parts from the extremists of both yesterday and tomorrow—that the men who would pull down today must offer tangible evidence of better construction tomorrow."

THE BALDWIN CASE.
Editor Baldwin, of the Escanaba Journal, gives over the entire front page of his newspaper to a recounting of his warfare against the saloon interests in Escanaba, in connection with his conviction on the charge of criminally libeling Chase S. Osborn, Republican candidate for governor. It is Mr. Baldwin's theory that his conviction is the culminating stroke in the fight that has been made on him by the liquor interests. Throughout the article the libel on Mr. Osborn and Mr. Baldwin's warfare on the liquor interests are blended together as if they had a common identity, when, as a matter of fact, they are two entirely different things. There was no issue of liquor interests in the contest between Mr. Osborn and Messrs. Muselman and Kelley, in connection with which the Baldwin libel was issued. It was a straight out and out political fight on well-defined questions of public policy. Mr. Baldwin's libel was written and circulated not in sense and justice and intelligence sufficient to know that the pillars of our basic institutions making for the happiness, comfort and safety of all must not be pulled down.
"The convention of Michigan Republicans, I believe, neither how to the cancerous selfishness of yesterday nor to the destructive hysteria of today, but will take the position that the government belongs to the people and must be guarded and preserved in all its material and moral parts from the extremists of both yesterday and tomorrow—that the men who would pull down today must offer tangible evidence of better construction tomorrow."

A LAUGH OR TWO.
All in the Label.
George C. Boldt, the noted hotel man, said at a luncheon in New York.
"American can no longer be said to judge a wine by its label. I doubt if that charge was ever true, and certainly it hasn't one iota of truth in it today.

LAKES IN CRATERS.
OF OLD VOLCANOES.
One Village in Mexico Nestles Calmly Where in Ancient Days Lava Belched Forth.
The mere words crater lake carry with them a charm and mystery that are akin to romance, says the Mexican Herald. But Mexico, with all her romance, has not given any description of some of the most beautiful crater lakes in the world. Valle de Santiago, a little town of the state of Guanajuato, boasts four of the most perfect and beautiful of such lakes.
The village nestles among eleven craters, all formed in some past age by sudden explosions from the interior of the earth, explosions that blew out a great amount of earth, formed low cones and subsided without a flow of lava or other demonstration than the single explosion. They are what are known to scientists as "explosion craters."
La Alberca is one of a lowest of the craters, and on one side a portion of the crater wall has fallen away, so that the approach is very easy. A short climb, and as one rises over the edge one of the most beautiful views in Mexico is spread out. Half a mile across in the low line of the crater wall, and down below it is the greenest of lakes, calm as a plate of glass and perhaps the tiny boat which plies the lake is on the opposite side, close below the walls of basalt

"A customer complained to the baker about a currant bun.
"My bun this morning," he said, "contained several flies. I'd like you to give me another for it, please."
"Oh, no," said the baker, "I can't give you another bun. That would be unfair to my business. But I'll tell you what I will do—for each fly you found I'll gladly give you another currant."

LOWER STATE NOTES.
ANN ARBOR.—Henrietta M. Glazier, wife of Frank P. Glazier, former state treasurer, has filed an answer to the sensational paper filed by the former attorney for her husband, James S. Gorman, in which he accused her of being "the woman who stole the money" for the purpose of cheating her creditors, and which he followed up by attaching her property. Mrs. Glazier denies all the charges brought by Gorman and asks that the attachment be dissolved. Mrs. Glazier alleges that the writ of attachment is a fraud, that no such cause exists or has existed for such attachment, and she further denies that she is or ever was indebted to James S. Gorman for the sum of $33,150.00, as he alleges, or for any other sum whatever. She denies that she is a bankrupt, and she asks that the attachment be dissolved. A correspondent of a Paris contemporary went to interview him, and the following is M. Renaux's statement:
"In May, 1890, I was inspector of the port works of La Plata. A ship, the San Margareth, arrived with a cargo of coal. I was obliged to see to the unloading. One night the weather was very bad; it was raining in torrents, and I was standing at the door, when I heard some one on the other side of the channel called out to the San Margareth. There was only one man on board the ship, which was moored about 150 feet from the shore, and the man was probably asleep in his cabin, as nobody answered. Not wishing to leave a stranger out alone on such a night, I stepped down to my boat, let it go, and crossed to the other side. The stranger was a young man tall, with brown, straggling hair. He had a pronounced aquiline nose, dark gray eyes, and wore a beard. I had seen him before a few times on the San Margareth.

JOHANN ORTH'S ROMANCE.
If the story of a Frenchman now residing at Charleville is correct, there seems to be really some solid ground for believing that the missing Archdeacon Leopold Salvator, who went to South America in 1890 on board the San Margareth, did not perish with that ship on its return voyage to Europe. The effort to settle the mystery once for all makes the statement of the Frenchman in the more interesting. M. Renaux, all the member of years and returned to France to live in retirement. On various occasions he has already stated that he was positive that the famous Johann Orth was still alive. A correspondent of a Paris contemporary went to interview him, and the following is M. Bankers and Businessmen Opposed to Proposed Bank Note Scheme.

Bankers, brokers and businessmen in general do not seem to take very kindly to the proposed action of the government in changing the size of paper money in accordance with the size of the bill. WOMAN HELPED HIM WIN.

In Mississippi Congressman-Elect Had a Fair Campaigner.

Gulfport, Miss., Sept. 19.—Miss Mary Jane Brunson, in whose behalf of twenty summers, is credited with having caused the election of Patrick Harrison to Congress from the sixth congressional district of Mississippi over J. R. Tally by 1239 votes in the second primary.

Her success in a campaign lasting three months has attracted the attention of W. A. Dickson, candidate for Congress in the seventh district, who is opposed by Thomas Shelton. This primary will be decided Sept. 21. Miss Brunson therefore has gone to Brookhaven, and is to receive a fee of $500 if Dickson wins.

The chief assets of Miss Brunson in the Harrison campaign were openwork lace and gauze-like shirt waists. When she appeared before an audience in her bewitching and cool summer garb the Tally men had to succumb. Then, too, she had a line of argument against Tally, combined with high tariff and scandal in mighty circles that was hard to get around.

PRaises Wife Who Left Him

Poverty Stricken Minister Says She Was Too Fine for Her Surroundings.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Driven to the verge of nervous prostration, and forced to abandon for a while his clerical career and accept a position in the Congressional library, because of his marital troubles, the Rev. George Brodthage, whose wife got a divorce at Reno, retains nothing but love and affection for the woman who left him.

Dr. Brodthage, for years pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church of this city, was not recalled when his contract expired last August. He is now employed in the catalogue division of the Congressional Library. He lives in two rooms on the top floor of a boarding house, where he cooks his own meals and does his own light housekeeping.

"She wanted to get a divorce long ago and I said to her: 'Marie, if you can name me a man who will marry you and take care of you I will let you get a divorce. You are my wife and I cannot let you go unless some man who loves you and whom you love will marry you and make you happy.'"

"My wife never loved any other man. He was always true to me. She is a noble woman with a noble character, she will return to Germany as soon as possible."

"My son will probably live in Berlin with his mother. I will not interfere, despite the consent of the Nevada court, but the boy remain with me. He is now living with my father there. As there still is no breach between the families, he can spend his time with his mother's family if he desires. Of course I will have minimal supervision over him, but I have every confidence in my wife's tastes and ideas for his education and bringing up. I will continue to support him."

Dr. Brodthage was educated in the University of Berlin. He is an accomplished linguist, and is well known for his writings on various subjects.

Mrs. Brodthage is the daughter of the famous German architect, Schuler, who designed certain government buildings and the Apollo Theatre in Berlin.

CHARACTER OF KING GEORGE

English Newspaper Man Praises the New Ruler Very Highly.

Paris, Sept. 19.—The Revu de Paris puts an interesting personal study of the new King, George V, in the hands of an English newspaper man who accompanied the king, when as Prince of Wales, he made his Colonial and Indian tours. The writer gives a high estimate of the new king's character and ability, and recounts many anecdotes to show that he is broad-minded, kind, unassuming and unpretentious.

Mr. Watson lays great stress upon the king's ability as an orator of the convincing type, saying his colonial speeches and his famous "We-are-England" speech upon his return heralded the oratory of Salisbury, Rosebery and Chamberlain who spoke upon that occasion. Mr. Watson attributes much of the new king's success to his clear enunciation, saying it was a positive charm to the colonial people.

"If King Edward" adds Mr. Watson, "was everywhere regarded as the arbiter of his subjects the arbiter of dictation."

Lower State Notes.

FLINT.—Charles W. Nash of this city was assumed charge of the plant of the Buick Motor company as general manager of that institution. The appointment of Mr. Nash was made at the instance of W. C. Durant, under whose direction the plant has heretofore been operated, but who has found it necessary to relinquish the duties, which have called for more time and attention than he could spare from other interests with which he is actively identified.

Mr. Nash will have full charge and control of the Buick Motor company in all its departments and that he will devote his entire time to its interests. Mr. Nash has heretofore been prominent in the industrial affairs of Flint, having been for a number of years general superintendent of the associated factories in the Durant-Dort Carriage company. He is vice president of that organization and a director of the Flint Varnish works. The Buick company is behind in its orders and is turning out cars at the rate of about fifty-sixty per day. The shipments for the six working days of last week amounted to an even 400 cars. The number of men employed in the several mechanical departments of the Buick plant is upward of 2,300.

OWOSSO.—Herman Barnch and Frank P. McDermott, receivers of the collapsed $17,000,000 New York corporation, the American Farm Products company, have addressed a proposition to the creditors of the concern offering them debenture income bonds for the amount of their indebtedness at a basis of 100 cents on the dollar. The receivers of the company say the company is to be reorganized and the bonds will be the issue of the new company. Creditors who do not desire the bonds will be paid on a 10 per cent cash dividend on the amount due them. Further dividends are not mentioned. The local plant has an indebtedness of $5,000 and is well equipped to conduct a profitable creamery, butter and ice cream business. Local creditors still probably accept the debenture bond proposition, and there is some talk of buying the local plant outright from the receiver, to be operated by a local stock company.

VASSAR.—After Village Marshal Berry released Mary Jones, the colored female bandit who sprang from behind a tree and relieved Chas. W. Worden of $15, because Worden's story of the affair did not meet his approval, he learned that the woman is wanted in Kalamazoo and that there is a standing reward of $100 for her capture. He is kicking himself now. Worden says he did not know she was colored at first and allowed her to offer her affections, when she slyly slipped her hand into his pocket and swiped his purse.

BATTLE CREEK.—Escaping death twice within a minute, Roy Bramble, a local expressionist, feels as if he had established a record. Bramble fell three stories in the Mint's block when the heavy iron freight elevator dropped, due to broken cables. Bramble was bounded clear out of the door onto Monroe street by the fall, escaping with minor bruises. As he went through the door a chunk of iron, weighing a ton, dropped from above breaking the pavement into bits, but just missing Bramble. In this case, too, he escaped unscathed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Ten million sheets of internal revenue stamps for tobacco, snuff and cigarettes, having a face value of about $5,000,000, have just been destroyed at the bureau of engraving and printing. These stamps were distributed among 60 internal revenue collectors, but were made useless by the increased tax imposed on tobacco, snuff and cigarettes by the Payne-Aldrich tariff act.

THE count of the 10,000 sheets was begun on July 14 by a special committee composed of Mrs. E. J. Brown, Miss J. Gleason, Miss S. Wainey and Miss J. Raulser, appointed by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh. The count was completed several weeks ago and then the work of destruction ensued.

The stamps were burned at the bureau of engraving and printing, bundles averaging in weight a ton, a day being destroyed. The stamps separately numbered something like 180,000,000. It was the largest number of internal revenue stamps ever destroyed at one time.

Wm. Wagner and Ben Emerson, the Big Bay men who assaulted Oscar Lundeen in that village last week, were arraigned before Justice Cray yesterday; pleaded guilty and were sentenced to thirty days each in the county jail.

Pleasant Surprise Party—In honor of the friends of Miss Edith Monroe gave her a very pleasant surprise party at her home on Rock street last evening. The young lady was presented with many gifts. The merriment continued until a late hour. A delightful time was enjoyed by everybody present.

Bijou Theater Program—If you care to have a good laugh and see a fine picture go to the Bijou Theater this week. Raymond and Scranton are there for three days and they are as good a team of comedy producers as you have seen this season. Good singing and plenty of fun are furnished their audiences. Two new songs are sung.

New Car Shop Plans—Plans for the rebuilding of the South Shore car shop, which was destroyed by fire last week, have been made and work will begin at once. The new building will be located just south of the old structure and will be of steel and brick construction and will be made as nearly fire proof as possible.

Night Crew Laid Off—The night crew at the South Shore docks, numbering about twenty-five men, was laid off for the season last week, and a number of the men have found work in the mines up the road. Ore traffic is expected to be light during the remainder of the season and slackening up of business was the reason for taking off the night force.

Made Trip to Munising—Mrs. A. B. Eldredge, Ralph Eldredge and a party made the round trip to Munising in the Eldredge motor car, a Mitchell, Saturday. Excellent time was made and some three hours were spent in Munising. The Marquette-Munising run is one of the most attractive trips that can be made by automobiles in this and Alger counties, and is rapidly becoming popular. The roads for the entire trip average excellent.

Fine Stand of Alfalfa—After having experimented with indifferent success for several years, E. H. Vandenberg has succeeded in getting a fine stand of alfalfa at his farm. This is universally recognized as the best of forage crops, but requires land rich in lime for its successful growth. Soils in this locality have to be treated with lime in order to make alfalfa grow. Once this plant gets a start, however, it will produce several crops a season for years without further attention.

Fish as Butter Makers—An interesting yarn is going the rounds at Parker's fish house. The locale is the George W. Westinghouse estate at Lenox, Mass. It is told that the blooded Jersey cows of Mr. Westinghouse recently ceased to give milk. Watch was kept and when the cows walked into a pond, it was noticed that the pet carp of the pond seized the opportunity to gorge themselves with milk. To prove just where the milk went, employees of the place cast hooks and lines into the water. The first carp to bite fought gamely and thrashed about in the water fully fifteen minutes before it was landed. When cut open, there were no traces of milk, but instead several tiny balls of butter, the product of the churning incident to the struggles of the carp.

Spencer-Dunster Nuptials—Cards have just been received here announcing the marriage of Miss Pearl Lilian Spencer and Carl Bennet Dunster at Belleville, Ont., on Wednesday, Sept. 7. Mrs. Dunster has made Marquette her home for a number of years past, she having been one of the staff of nurses of St. Luke's hospital. Mr. Dunster also has lived in Marquette for several years, during which he has been employed by E. N. Breitung as a mining engineer. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dunster have many friends in the city. They have been enjoying a wedding trip, and will be at home to friends in Marquette after Nov. 1.

Jury Out a Long Time—The case of James H. Lawry against Peter Gummerson, John P. Kropp and August Lundahl, which began Saturday in circuit court, went to the jury yesterday afternoon. The jury had not reported at 10 o'clock last evening and the case was locked up for the night. In this case the plaintiff was suing the defendants for damages, on the ground that the latter sold Mr. Lawry's son, a minor, intoxicating liquor. Charles Wallenstein, proprietor of the saloon, was tried for the same alleged offense, on an criminal charge, last week and was acquitted by a jury. The case of William Tregoy against Howard Fenner and May Fenner was started late yesterday afternoon. This suit grew out of an automobile accident on the road between Ishpening and Negaunee about two years ago, in which the plaintiff was injured. This is said to be the first automobile accident damage suit ever tried in this county.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. WATER BOARD MAKING PROGRESS.

Profile of Lake Bottom Completed and Sterilization Plant Going Up.

Engineer Morgan Wright has completed a blue print profile, showing the bottom of the lake over which it is proposed to extend the water works intake. The water end of the present intake is in twenty-two feet of water and by extending the intake about 2,200 feet, as proposed, the outer end would be in about seventy feet of water. The profile map shows that the lake bottom slopes down gradually all the way from the mouth of the present intake, with the exception of one rock that sticks up ten or twelve feet about 600 feet out. By blasting out this rock, the proposed intake extension could be laid on level, rock bottom with practically no digging or filling. The bottom is rock or coarse gravel all the way out, except at the place where it is intended to locate the outer end of the extended intake, the bottom at that point being sandy. Work on the intake extension will not be begun before next spring.

Lipsett & Sinclair are making good progress with the construction of the sterilization plant at the water works pumping station. The foundation has been completed and the work of laying the cut stone side walls was commenced yesterday. All of the stone to be used for the walls has already been cut to the proper size and shape and the building is likely to be finished within a week. Concrete tanks must then be built on the inside, in which the sterilization process will take place. The contractors hope to have the building finished and equipped ready for use in about a month.

Miss Hamrick is closing her shop this week at Mackinac Island and will display her needlework at Hotel Marquette for a week, beginning Monday, Sept. 20. (9-20-10)

TAKEN TO JOLIET.

Earl Brownell Got Out of One Prison Only to Enter Another.

Earl Brownell finished a five years' sentence in the Marquette prison yesterday, but the interval of time between his official discharge from the Marquette prison and his going into the custody of an officer from the Illinois penitentiary at Joliet was so brief that he could not be said to have "enjoyed" any liberty. Brownell was taken by the Illinois authorities for violation of parole. He was not particularly surprised at this development, as he rather expected it.

Brownell was sent to the Marquette prison from Benton Harbor for larceny. He had previously been given from three to twenty years in Joliet prison for stealing a horse, had been paroled and had violated his parole by coming to Michigan. Brownell had a brief taste of liberty last year, Sept. 8, 1909, he ducked to the woods from the lumber yard at the prison, where he was employed as a trustee, and succeeded in getting out of the state. He was later detected selling fraudulent land contracts at Komomo, Ind., but avoided arrest and fled to Dayton, O., where the officers picked him up. He was extradited to Indiana, and from Indiana to Michigan, and was returned to the Marquette prison. Brownell is a confirmed jail bird and enjoyed the distinction of having been the biggest liar in the Marquette prison.

I wish to announce that I have received my fall line of Ladies, Misses and Children's Hats.

THEATRICAL.

"Daddy and the Girls."

"Daddy and the Girls" is a new play which is billed to visit this city next Monday evening. It is a farce, with a musical setting and will be presented by a cast of eminent singing and dancing comedians. The story concerns the happenings in the life of the father of a young New York lawyer. Daddy is the personification of optimism and good nature and thoroughly believes in enjoying life. His innocent escapades prove most annoying to the son, who strangely enough, is happily unlike his father in personality. In the end, the young lawyer finds that much more good can be accomplished by friendliness than belligerence and Daddy and his merry attitudes are vindicated. In the telling of the story a novel plot is unravelled and yet, most happily, there are no risky situations nor anything which could offend the ultra fastidious. It is a play for the masses, all mirth and music.

E. Beckmeyer of Milwaukee will be at the Marquette Millinery company's store, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with his line of Royal Furs. (9-19-31)

WOMEN AND TOBACCO.

A pleasant time was the portion of all the women concerned the other day in an animated discussion of the propriety of cigarette smoking by their sex. The debate took place in the town of Pittsburg, famous for its steel industry, its atmosphere and the explosive ways of its gilded youth. Starting incidentally in a typically feminine way, an absent member of the sex being pulled to pieces with divagations frankness the discussion rapidly expanded from personal to general proportions. It stopped without reaching a conclusion when a woman with a sense of humor made a pointed reference to "our great grandmothers, who smoked corn-cob pipes." She forgot to leave the snuff-stick as well in the faces of the censorious majority.

In all this volume of talk there was apparently only one argument put, but that a potent one—woman's no longer seriously opposed right to do as she pleases "so long as she does not tread on any one else's toes," the any one else for whose benefit this reservation was made being, of course, of the feminine gender. Men do not really count any longer where emancipated woman's right to do as she pleases is concerned. The arguments contra varied from the example which women in prominent places should set to the young daughters of the land to strictly individual prejudices, one matron declaring that a woman who smoked was as suspect to her as a woman who bleached her hair. But hasn't a woman a right to do as she pleases with her own hair, and with "store hair" too, for that matter? That was abundantly proved by the coiffures in both our opera houses last season. Moreover, it depends upon how she bleaches it. If it be done with sufficient art she will not be looked down upon with suspicion at all, while if she catches the job or prolongs it unduly the look will not be suspicious, but one of rapid mental calculation, with the year of her debut or the height of her eldest as the known quantity. But we are digressing.

It is worth mentioning that in all this mingling of arguments, moral, social and personal, the most important question in regard to woman's smoking was not referred to once, so far as the reports show, namely, the health and strength of future generations.—New York Tribune.

D. T. MORGAN & CO.'S LETTER.

The New York market was weak at the opening, but hardened perceptibly after the first few minutes, and although it continued dull there was no evidence of further weakness during the session. New York says it is a sold-out market, and it is not a question of whether the market will go up, but only when. The short interest is very large. The Boston market was very dull, with Indiana and Michigan most active and both weak. Superior & Pittsburgh advanced to 116, where it met some selling, at which it declined to 11 and closed at 11 1/2. Transactions in the others were few and with practically no change in price.

Ishpeming Department

ISHPEMING MEN TAKE OVER 200-MILE TRIP

Run From Here to Iron Mountain Made in Three Hours and Thirty-five Minutes.

The Franklin automobiles owned by E. F. Nelson and G. A. Newett made the run from Ishpeming to Iron Mountain Saturday in three hours and thirty-five minutes, reducing by thirteen minutes the time made by Mr. Nelson the week before in his new 1911 model "D." Mr. Nelson's "torpedo," as it is called here, was occupied by the owner, G. A. Newett and Ed. J. Butler, general manager of Mr. Newett's car were Will Newett, Tom Clancy and Will Reid.

The trip was a delightful one, as the weather was favorable. The party traveled 207 miles and arrived home Sunday at 1 o'clock. Don McViechie and Will Yates, who left about an hour after started on the trip, leaving Ishpeming Saturday morning at 7:15 o'clock in Mr. McViechie's DeLuxe car. They had considerable trouble with the tires; however, they did not reach Iron Mountain until Sunday morning, having put in Saturday night at a lumber camp, seventeen miles from the city.

While Messrs. Nelson and Newett made no attempt to make a record run, the distance was covered in remarkably good time, considering the condition of the road in places. Where the road was good the speed of the cars did not exceed thirty-five miles an hour, and an average run of something over twenty miles an hour was made. By far the worst piece going is through the bush road between Voegtlin's mill and Witch lake in Marquette county. There are no obstructions in the road, but several of the hills are quite steep and the turns are short. It is estimated that some of the grades on this piece of road are from 17 to 20 per cent, necessitating a continuous run on low gear. The run through the woods was made in thirty-two minutes, and returning in thirty minutes.

More New Work in Marquette County.

The Marquette county road commission plans on building a complete new road between two points, but it will not be over the present route, as there are too many hills. A survey is to be made along the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul line for a distance of from five to six miles, starting at Witch lake, where Marquette county in July completed improving the road from the Dickinson county line. When this piece of road and the improvements now being made in Dickinson county are completed, cars of good power will be able to make the run of seventy miles, from Ishpeming to Iron Mountain, in two hours and a half.

Marquette and Dickinson counties are divided by the Michigan river, over which a substantial concrete bridge has been constructed. The cost of building the bridge was shared equally by the two counties. It is by far the finest structure ever improved by Marquette county, and gravel is also close at hand on the Dickinson end. Republic township has just finished improving the road between town and the St. Paul line, west of the village.

Dickinson county still has crews of workmen employed at various points along the highway, which is to be improved the entire distance from the Marquette county line to the city of Iron Mountain. For a few miles this side of Iron Mountain a crushed rock highway, similar to that between Eagle Mills and Marquette, has been constructed. It is in better condition than the Marquette county road, as it is not used as much. The road branching off from the Iron Mountain highway, leading to Norway and Vulcan, is also macadamized with crushed rock.

TRAINING CLASSES OPEN.

Gymnasium Work Started Yesterday Afternoon at Y. M. C. A.

The physical training classes were started yesterday afternoon at the Young Men's Christian association's gymnasium with the organization of the Junior B class, composed of the smallest boy members of the "Y." The senior class was organized last evening.

This business class will meet at 8 o'clock, and will visit all of the principal points on the range, including Iron Mountain, Crystal Falls, Iron River, Vulcan, Norway, Quinnesec and Niagara.

The business men will have in this class an opportunity to build up their health, strength and vitality, and have a good time with the other fellows, as well," he said. "When a business man is pined up in his office, and at his desk, and most of the time under a great mental strain, he should spend a little time each week with our physical training class, and he will be surprised to see how much good it will do him. When working in the gymnasium he will forget his business cares and at the time store up a reserve force of energy for greater business activity."

Tonight the business boys classes will be organized, including employed boys and young men under the senior age.

Mr. Thayer, of the Guild Hall, at Marquette, met with the local Y. M. C. A. officers Friday morning and planned for a season of baseball, basketball, wrestling, fencing and bowling, and some fine sport will be had in contest games between the two organizations. Arrangements were also made for a game of basketball with the Guild hall business men's team and the Y. M. C. A. businessmen's five for a week from Saturday evening, the 24th, at Marquette. At the same time the Y. M. C. A. tennis club will invade the Guild hall camp to play a tennis tournament on the Guild hall courts against the Marquette players.

The Y. M. C. A. football team will open the season at Marquette against the Guild hall boys on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Only One Bad Piece of Road—

J. E. Ball and a party came down from Marquette last Sunday in Mr. Ball's automobile, reports the Crystal Falls Drill. Mr. Ball says that with the exception of the piece of road between Republic and Floodwood the trip is not a hard one to make. The bad piece of road was recently cut out by Marquette county but not graded, it being the intention to grade next year. At that, they made the trip in seven hours and stopped altogether an hour on the road. The speedometer on the machine showed the distance from Marquette to be just seventy and nine tenths miles. When the road is graded next summer many machines will make the trip.

Accident's Victim is Buried—

With services at St. Anne's church, the funeral of Theophile Pepin, an Escanaba man, was held in that city yesterday. The deceased was a native of Valleyfield, Quebec, where his mother still lives. Theophile Pepin, also known as Thomas Pepin, died at the Delta County hospital from the effects of injuries sustained through falling from the top of Northwestern ore dock No. 4 into an empty pocket. It is believed that he fell into the pocket while trying to walk around an ore car, and it is further believed that his fall was caused by the sudden giving way or detaching of the rubber air coupling on the car to which he was holding while he was trying to walk around the car near the mouth of the pocket. The deceased was aged forty-five and was single.

Bessemer's Opera House—

The opera house at Bessemer is rapidly nearing completion. The interior of the building is 98 feet long and 46 feet wide. There will be four dressing rooms and one baggage room. The building will be heated by hot air, and the plant will be underneath the stage, as will a kitchen and dining room. The walls and ceiling are of steel. There will be five exits. Manager McFarlane is corresponding with several good companies, one of which will play the opening performance. The opening will take place about Oct. 1st.

Still in Legislative Race—

W. R. Oates, who was defeated at the primaries for the Republican nomination for representative in the state legislature by Anthony Lucas of Calumet, will remain in the race. At the conclusion of the official canvass it was found that Mr. Oates was the nominee on the Prohibition ticket by a margin of two votes over Mr. Lucas, the latter receiving nine votes and the former eleven. An earnest campaign will now be instituted by friends of Mr. Oates in the hopes of landing the office, and voters are promised a spirited race for representative to the state legislature. Friends of the defeated candidate attribute the result of the primary to the fact that Mr. Oates had not devoted any time to his own campaign, his duties as upper peninsula manager of the Chase S. Osborn gubernatorial campaign keeping him busy.

Almost a Double Fatality—

An accident in which one man was seriously injured and another had a very narrow escape occurred at the crossing of the Northwestern spur and the county road near the Ironwood ball park late last week. Adolph Johnson, proprietor of a saloon at Bessemer, and Erik Saari were driving home. On the crossing near the ball park their carriage was struck by an ore train and was demolished. Johnson escaped without injury, but Saari fell under the train and four of the cars passed over him.

NEGAUNEE WINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Escanaba Baseball Team Loses the Decisive Game of the Series by the Score of 11 to 2.

The Negaunee team is the champion baseball nine of the upper peninsula. It won the honor at Escanaba yesterday by defeating the Delta county league leader in the decisive game of the post-season series. The score was 11 to 2. An exhibition contest was played following the decision of the championship, and this game, which went only six innings, Negaunee lost by the score of 1 to 2.

Up to yesterday the rival teams had each won two games. It was agreed by the respective managements that the fifth game should determine the upper peninsula title, and with this understanding both clubs lined up for the crucial battle. It was believed that it would be a hard-fought contest. On the contrary, however, Negaunee won with surprising ease. The Marquette county champions had their batting clothes on and they not only knocked two Escanaba pitchers out of the box, but they hit a third twirler almost as freely.

Buck Nolden started the slab work for the Sandusky City players. He lasted the longest, Negaunee making four runs. McDonald pitched the third and fourth innings, and at the close of these the visitors had increased their tally to eight. Olmstead finished the game. Altogether Negaunee batted out eighteen hits. Rosevear was in the box for the Marquette range men, and he was an excellent trim. He allowed only six singles, and these were scattered so that they netted only two runs. The exhibition contest followed.

A big crowd witnessed the games, and included in the assemblage were 150 enthusiastic fans from Negaunee. The visitors made the trip by special train. The train arrived on the return journey at 11 o'clock p. m., and there ensued a rousing jubilation. The celebration had been arranged early in the evening. A crowd of two thousand persons met the ball players at the Northwestern station. A band of music was there also.

Until after midnight the welkin fairly rang. There was a parade of Iron street, a display of fireworks and much enthusiastic cheering. Refreshments were served at Kirkwood's Hall. Excitement made merry. It was one of the greatest jubiliations in Negaunee in years.

VIRGINIA WANTED GAME.

Regret is Felt That Negaunee Team Could Not Play There.

Manager George Cohn of the Virginia baseball team some time ago invited the Negaunee nine to visit the range and play a series of games there. If the championship series with Escanaba had not been arranged it is certain that the Negaunee boys would have been given the Mesaba trip, as their expenses would have been guaranteed. The Virginia nine has played fine ball this season and many of the fans up there were eager to try conclusions with the Negaunee nine. Former residents of this county now located on the Mesaba, were particularly desirous of having a series of games arranged. "Bill" Klebs, who caught for the Ishpeming nine early in the season, is now wearing the mask for the Virginia nine, and he is said to be giving a good account of himself. The Virginia team last week said of the talked-of series:

"Manager Gordon Cohn of the local baseball team has received a letter from Theodore A. Thoren, manager of the Negaunee, Mich., team to the effect that it will be impossible for the champions of the Michigan iron county league to play here. Mr. Cohn wrote the manager of Negaunee manager for a series of five games and had the teams met there would have been all kinds of baseball enthusiasm on the range and, no doubt, some fine exhibitions of baseball as well. This section is largely populated with Michigan people and the games would certainly have proven big drawing cards from all over the range.

"In speaking about the future of baseball in the city Mr. Cohn says that it looks very encouraging. The new park is one of the finest in the country and the latter's wife left on the early South Shore train yesterday morning for Detroit, where they will attend the annual meeting of the Michigan conference. Both Revs. Plannett and Collicott will be absent from their charges for ten days or two weeks. The conference meetings will begin tomorrow and will continue until next Monday or Tuesday.

TO METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Rev. Collicott of Iron River, Mich., visited Rev. Plannett and family in Negaunee Sunday. He preached Sunday evening at the Mitchell Methodist church. He and Rev. Plannett and the latter's wife left on the early South Shore train yesterday morning for Detroit, where they will attend the annual meeting of the Michigan conference. Both Revs. Plannett and Collicott will be absent from their charges for ten days or two weeks. The conference meetings will begin tomorrow and will continue until next Monday or Tuesday.

LAST YEAR'S RECORD WILL BE SHATTERED

Expected That Lake Superior Mines Will This Year Send Out Nearly 49,000,000 Tons.

Inasmuch as the ore movement from the Lake Superior district is not now as heavy as it was at this time last year, the output of the combined ranges will not reach 50,000,000 tons. That mark was set in the predictions of most of the mining men last winter, when it was believed that trade conditions indicated its attainment. The production last year approximated 42,500,000 tons, of which 41,675,000 tons were forwarded via the great lakes.

While the output up to this time exceeds the output of last year at a corresponding date, it is now quite certain that the movement during the remainder of the shipping season will be lighter than it was between Sept. 15 and Dec. 1, 1909. During the present season up to the first of this month the shipments by water had aggregated more than 23,800,000 tons. This is a gain of almost 6,250,000 tons over the amount moved by the lake fleet up to the corresponding date a year ago. If this increase is maintained until the close of the season the combined output for the year will not fall far short of 49,000,000 tons.

It is reported that there has been a scaling down in requisitions lately, which accounts for the slackening of shipments, and according to information received in mining circles the curtailment will be continued for the balance of the season. It is thought that very little ore will be sent down the lakes after the middle of November and some important contracts will be completed earlier than that date.

It is now estimated that the tonnage shipped for the season by boat will not exceed 45,000,000 tons. This would be an approximate increase of six per cent over the record-breaking output of last year. While this gain is not up to early expectations it will, nevertheless, be entirely satisfactory.

The last recently been taken from Escanaba the largest cargo of ore ever sent out from any lake port. It contained 13,410 net tons. It was taken by the steamer Norman B. Reams, and was consigned to South Chicago. The largest cargo previously carried out of Escanaba was over 12,000 net tons. This was also shipped to South Chicago, two years ago. In account of both South Chicago and Escanaba being on Lake Michigan, and there being no rivers or narrow channels to pass through, larger cargoes can be transported from Escanaba than from Lake Superior ports.

With the shipments from this range as steady, there is no great rush in the movement from any of the mines, and the shipping crews are having an easy time compared with a year ago, when they were working Sundays and overtime during the week. There will not be many large stock piles here when the season closes, though the aggregate tonnage in stock will probably be greater than it was at the close of 1909.

LOST IN THE WOODS.

Engineer of Street Railway Power Had Tough Experience.

Eugene Pheasant, one of the engineers at the Marquette County Gas & Electric company's power plant, became lost in the woods north of Ishpeming Sunday and did not get home until yesterday morning about 11 o'clock. Mr. Pheasant, who lives at Ishpeming, went out early Sunday morning and planned to reach home about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. When he did not return by Monday morning his folks were satisfied that he had been lost. His father reported the matter to Manager McConkdale, who immediately organized a crew that he intended to send into the woods after dinner. Eugene's father started out in search of him and met him at Dear Lake. He had been tramping through the woods and swamps all night and got back on the road about 8 o'clock yesterday morning. He was about played out. His clothes were wet and he was spattered from head to foot with mud that he had floundered through in the swamps.

Mr. Pheasant has had hard luck on his hunting expeditions. Last year he went out and while shifting his gun to get it away from some brush it exploded and took off half of one of his fingers.

LOCAL LACONICS.

George Barry, a well-known Gwin man, was up from there Sunday.

Mrs. J. E. Dalton and son have returned from South Dakota, where they spent the past several weeks.

Elly Dawe is spending a few days with relatives in the woods and swamps all night and got back on the road about 8 o'clock yesterday morning. He was about played out. His clothes were wet and he was spattered from head to foot with mud that he had floundered through in the swamps.

The fifteen-months-old daughter of Napoleon Verna, proprietor of the Montreal House, on Silver street, died Sunday. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's church.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Foley and Joseph Backus returned Wednesday from Northome, where they spent the past ten days hunting. They report having had a fine time and were successful in bagging a goodly number of the feathered beauties of the forest and stream.—The Virginian.

The blueberry shipments still continue from the lake shore, east of Marquette, but the average number of cases handled daily by the express companies here does not exceed fifty. The heavy frost one night last week did considerable damage to the crop, though all of the berries were not destroyed.

The remains of John Sagrlick, the young Austrian who was killed at the Stephenson mine Saturday, when he ran his motor car through the gate of the third level and dropped eighty feet to the bottom of the mine, were brought up from there yesterday. The funeral will be held today.

The men who are finishing the front of the Negaunee National bank's new block have made a great change in the appearance of the stone, which has been sand papered until it is almost of a uniform color. Most of the stone has been gone over and the workmen will finish the job today or tomorrow.

Many of the farmers here expect to harvest a fair crop of potatoes, though it is reported from many sections of the country that this year's crop will be far below normal. It is expected that potatoes will be somewhat higher than they were last fall.

FALL CAMPAIGN ABOUT TO OPEN

Lawton T. Hemans, Democratic Candidate for Governor, to Fire First Gun at Grand Rapids Tomorrow—Will Tour Upper Peninsula Before Convention.

Republican Candidates Are Taking Things Easy Just Now Though Headquarters Have Been Opened in Detroit—Leaders Are Formulating Plans.

Lawton T. Hemans, Democratic candidate for governor, plans to do some of his first campaigning in the upper peninsula. According to advices received from below the straits, he will finish up his campaign in this region before the Democratic state convention, which is called for Kalamazoo on October 7, meets. Mr. Hemans will open his campaign formally at Grand Rapids tomorrow evening. He has already delivered some speeches, but at Grand Rapids he is expected to spread out for the view of the people of the state his entire line of political goods for the fall season of 1910.

Following on three speeches in lower Michigan after the Grand Rapids address, at South Haven, Benton Harbor and Niles, Mr. Hemans will jump to the upper peninsula, and is scheduled to address a meeting at Menominee on the evening of Sept. 26. He is expected to address the voters at Norway and Iron Mountain the following day. Further details of his upper peninsula itinerary have not yet been announced, but he will speak in most, if not all, of the important cities in the ten days he is figuring on spending in this region. He will doubtless visit Marquette. This was one of the few cities in the upper peninsula that he visited in 1908, when he succeeded in carrying it against Governor Warner.

The Republicans have already started work looking toward the November elections. State Chairman Dickema has opened headquarters at Detroit, and is being assisted by Nick Whalen, who was one of the leading supporters of Lieutenant Governor Kelley, in the role of secretary pro tem, in making the preliminary plans for the campaign. Mr. Dickema is paving the way for his successor, who is likely to be W. F. Knox of the Soo.

Republican Candidates Resting.

The Republican candidates are enjoying rests from the strenuous endeavor of their campaign. Mr. Osborn is in the woods, tuning up for the fall campaign, and Representative Townsend is also taking life easy for a short time. It is not expected that the Republican campaign will be started until after the convention is held, early in October, though previous to that time plans for it will be pretty definitely outlined.

The Republicans are well prepared for the campaign, as Mr. Osborn had good organizations in every county in the state, which will serve as a nucleus for the organizations that are expected to win the election. Mr. Osborn has also a state-wide acquaintance, made during the course of his primary campaign, and the necessity for his getting early to work is not as urgent as in the case of Mr. Hemans, who has not campaigned the state since 1908.

Mr. Hemans' addresses to date have indicated that he will make a vigorous personal campaign against Mr. Osborn on the ground that he is not the man to clean up the state, because he has been too close to Governor Warner. Hemans' campaign in 1908 was based largely on the anti-Warner issue, and he is going to endeavor to "repeat" with it. Mr. Hemans has not yet indicated exactly what stand he will take on taxation matters, and it is not known whether he will come out for the tonnage tax. This will perhaps be shown by his address at Grand Rapids tomorrow night.

CRUELLY BEAT HER CHILD.

Northland Woman Serving a Ninety Days' Sentence in County Jail.

Mrs. Mabel Croff, of Northland, was brought to the county jail Sunday by Constable Allen, having been given a ninety days' sentence by a Northland justice for having cruelly beaten her ten-year-old daughter. It is claimed that the woman is a most unnatural mother and that she has repeatedly abused the little girl. A short time ago it is said the woman pounded the child until she was covered with black and blue marks, which so aroused the indignation of the Northland populace that her arrest and conviction followed. The child will be taken to the state children's home at Coldwater. The jailed woman's husband has just been released after having served a two weeks' jail sentence at Escanaba.

322 IN HIGH SCHOOL.

Graduating Class Next June Will Number Fifty or Sixty.

There are 322 pupils enrolled in the Marquette High school to date, over fifty more than on the corresponding date last year. It is expected that the graduating class next June will be the largest that ever went out of the High school, there now being nearly sixty in the Senior class. Other classes are larger than usual and the seating capacity of the assembly room is taxed to the utmost, notwithstanding the additional seats that were placed during the summer vacation. The principals of the grade buildings have not as yet reported their enrollment this year. High school work is now in full swing and a profitable and enjoyable year for both pupils and teachers is in prospect.

A High school football team has been organized and preliminary practice has begun. It is expected that a schedule of games between Marquette, Negaunee and Ishpeming will be arranged, and a tentative schedule has already been prepared, but not yet adopted by all the schools. Each team will play two games with the other two, one at home and one away from home, and it is thought that Marquette will open the season here with Negaunee the first Saturday in October.

REMODELING DWELLING.

Ladies of St. Peter's Cathedral Will Have a Guild House.

The former Thoney property, the second house from the corner of Baraga avenue and Fourth street, on the south side, has lately been purchased for the Catholic church, and it is now being remodeled, under direction of Father J. G. Piten, for use as a guild hall, or meeting place for the women's organizations of the church, including the sodalities, sewing circles and altar society. The roof of the structure has been altered, the interior arrangements improved with the purposes for which it is to be used in mind, and it will, in all respects, be placed in first-class condition. The women's organizations have heretofore been meeting in the Baraga school, but their quarters there have not been well adapted for their purposes.
