LAWTON T. HEMANS VISITS COPPERDOM

Democratic Candidate for Governor Spends Day at Portage Lake and Calumet.

Lawton T. Hemans of Mason, candidate for governor of Michigan on the Democratic ticket, spent a few hours in Houghton yesterday morning. He was not a stranger to the village, as he had visited there on other occasions as a member of the legislature.

Mr. Hemans does not strike the observer as being a "magnetic" man. However he is a very pleasant man to meet. He has a typical Yankee visage and speech, and there is something of the railroader in his general aspect. He conforms to one popular political convention in that he wears the statesman's big black hat.

To a reporter yesterday morning Mr. Hemans said that he had studied his position squarely in his opening speech at Grand Rapids a week ago. He would, however, say that this was in favor of re-evaluation of the upper peninsula mines. "I believe this is for the interest of the properties themselves," said Mr. Hemans. "It is bound to come, and they should accede to the demand rather than fight it and finally have to take punishment as the railroads did. These properties are too big to be taxed for taxation by local supervisors. I am not in favor of a tonnage tax, because I believe it to be inequitable. If the mines pay taxes on a proper physical valuation, that is all that can be expected of them."

Mr. Hemans deplored the impression in the upper peninsula that lower Michigan is antagonistic to this region. He pointed out the fact that the upper peninsula receives annually $10,000 more in primary school fund money than its pays to the state in taxes. Mr. Hemans further declared that he never knew a time when "upper peninsula legislators were not opposed to reforms suggested by lower Michigan legislators—primary reform, election reform, reduction in railroad fares and everything else."

Mr. Hemans said that he had studied the upper peninsula pretty well and knew the conditions up here better than lower peninsula people know the conditions in their own region. He insisted that the people of the upper peninsula do not know any more about the governmental affairs of Michigan than they do of such affairs in Wisconsin.

The candidate spent yesterday afternoon in Hancock and last night he spoke at Calumet.

PROMINENT SOCIALIST DIES.

Ole B. Norum, Leader of That Party in Calumet, Passes.

Ole B. Norum, a prominent Calumet socialist, candidate for sheriff on that party's ticket at the primaries this month, died at a late hour Wednesday evening. The cause of his demise was fatty degeneration of the heart.

Mr. Norum was of Norwegian birth and was one of the most prominent men of that nationality in Calumet. He had been for the past eleven years employed as a salesman in the store of H. E. Lean in Red Jacket and had been engaged as a salesman in various stores since boyhood. He leaves a wife and six children. His father, John L. Norum, survives, as do two sisters and a brother. The deceased was a member of the Norwegian Fremad society and the Modern Woodmen. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

TEACH TRADE TO THE BLIND.

John Hess of Saginaw Institution Visits Copper Country.

John Hess of Saginaw, a blind representative of the Michigan Employment Institution for the Blind, is in the copper country taking orders for brooms manufactured by the sightless inmates of the institution. He is not here in competition with the factory of blind broom makers at Calumet, because almost the entire output of that plant is taken by the Calumet & Houghton company, the workers being former employees of that corporation.

Mr. Hess says there are four copper country blind men in the Saginaw institution. They are John Anderson and Chris Nelson of Calumet, John Driscoll of Houghton and Charles Kapper of Lake Linden. Mr. Hess says they are all clever workmen. The Saginaw institution teaches blind men to make brooms in a three months course.

DUCKS GOING SOUTH.

Copper country duck hunting parties are beginning to move to the passes where they hope to bag the game. Blue-bills and redheads have been seen already, showing that the Southern flight has started, as both of these varieties breed in Canada. This far no geese have been seen. The partridge season will open tomorrow, and good bags should be brought in. Hunters claim the birds will be plentiful this year, because there were so few forest fires the past summer.

AERONAUT'S BODY NOT YET FOUND

Portage Lake Retains Its Latest Victim, Claimed in Tuesday's Shocking Tragedy.

The body of Aeronaut Homer Hazard, who was drowned in Portage lake Tuesday night after making his first balloon ascension as an attraction at the Copper Country fair, had not been found up to late yesterday afternoon. There is absolutely no trace of the man. His balloon and parachute have also disappeared, gone to the bottom of the lake, doubtless, with their unfortunate owner. The most diligent search fails to reveal anything which would indicate the point in the lake where the man fell and all that can be done is to wait until the body comes to the surface unaided.

The attendance at the Copper Country fair this year exceeds that of any previous year. The fair as a whole is the best ever held in the district, notably because of the improved quality and quantity of the agricultural exhibits. There is no question, too, that the attractions which Secretary McNameira has procured for the entertainment of patrons are the best he has ever procured. It is regretted greatly by the management that the opening day should have been marked by a tragedy in the drowning of Hazard, the balloonist, but the fair must go on in spite of the accident.

The program within the Amphitheatron consists of the Araki Japanese troupe and the Rex comedy circus. The Araki troupe do acrobatic, equilibristic work and foot and hand juggling. The comedy circus offers ponies ridden by cats, trick dogs and a whirlwind of laughter through the antics of Quevols, an unridable mule.

The amusement closes with a "slide fire" by one of the Araki troupe, who slides on his feet from the Amphitheatron rafters down a rope to the stage.

BELLAIRE SEEKS DAMAGES.

Baraga Man is Plaintiff in Suit Against Lumber Company.

The Houghton circuit court was occupied yesterday with the case of Bellaire versus the Vancouver Lumber company, a suit for damages of $4,000. Mr. Bellaire claims that the lumber company in driving logs down the Sturgeon river, experienced a jam of the timber which threw the water back on his property. He asserts that sand was deposited on some of the land, thus destroying its fertility, and also that the jam caused the river to leave its original course and take a new one, which cut his acreage in twain, making it necessary to build a bridge across the stream.

Mr. and Mrs. Yendow were married Oct. 4, 1860, at the old Episcopal church at Cliff Mine, Keweenaw county. They have lived in that county ever since. Mr. Yendow has been a resident of Keweenaw continuously for fifty years.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Yendow are Mrs. G. C. Swift of La Salle, Ill.; Mrs. W. T. Raley and Mrs. John W. Kingston of Laurium, Mrs. James Craze of Trumountain, Mrs. J. G. Cundy of Houghton and Mrs. John Angrove of Painesdale. All of the children and many grandchildren will be present at the golden wedding.

PORTAGE LAKE BUSINESSMEN.

Association Has Had Successful Initial Year—Secretary Resigns.

The annual meeting of the Portage Lake Businessmen's association was held in Hancock Wednesday night. All the old officers were reelected, excepting Secretary Harold Montgomery, who tendered his resignation, which was accepted. The trustees were instructed to procure the services of another secretary.

The association has decided that after Oct. 1 an application for membership must be accompanied by a fee of $5 and all members in arrears must settle on that date or be dropped from the rolls. The association at this meeting closed its first year, which has been successful and helpful to all the merchants holding membership.

KILLED AT GILBERT, MINN.

While working on a scaffold at the Gilbert (Minn.) high school building Tuesday morning, William Rosemurgy, thirty-four years of age, formerly of Houghton, was fatally injured. He died two hours afterward. Five others working with him were hurt, two seriously. Rosemurgy was employed as a stone mason. The remains reached Houghton yesterday morning. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, with services at Grace M. E. church. The deceased was a member of the Sons of St. George lodge in a North Dakota town, and the Hancock lodge will have charge of the funeral. Alex and Joseph Rosemurgy of Houghton are brothers of the victim of the Gilbert high school fatality.

ISHPEMING EARLIER CAR FROM LAKE.

ADVISES USE OF THE SILO.

Prof. Geismar of Chatham Urges Farmers to Store Fodder.

Professor Leo M. Geismar of Chatham, head of the upper peninsula agricultural experiment station, who was at the Copper Country fair judging the school corn exhibit, urges the farmers of the district to build silos.

"The farmers have the idea," said Professor Geismar, "that a silo is expensive to build, but this is fallacious. There is one case in Marquette county where a firm of Chicago contractors came in to build a concrete silo, bringing their plant and workmen with them. This silo is larger than the average farmer in the copper country would need, but it cost only $250. Both the Michigan and Iowa experiment stations issue bulletins which tell how to build silos very inexpensively and they can be built by any farmer with the very least knowledge of the use of tools."

Mr. Geismar insists that the present fair has shown that corn is one of the biggest and best crops to be grown in the copper country, and with the use of the silo ten times as much feed can be taken from an acre, if corn is grown, as with any other crop. It should be explained for the benefit of the layman that a silo is an air and water-tight chamber in which fresh fodder, usually corn-stalks and ears which have been cut up, is placed. It retains its freshness through the winter and is relied by stock as though it was just freshly cut from the fields.

Mr. Geismar also expresses the opinion that the climatic conditions of the copper country will make this eventually the great fruit growing belt of the upper peninsula. Long years of observation he used to be engaged in farming in Ontonagon county—have shown him that this region gets frosts later than other parts of the peninsula.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK.

Interpreter Peter Rimmondelli of the first precinct police court is quite a fisherman, at least he lays claim to being such. Last week he went to the fishing banks and came home without anything that looked like a prospect of the sea waters. His wife, who had been looking forward to a fish supper, was rather disappointed, and was not backward in telling him that he must be a poor fisherman.

Peter paid little attention for a while to what was being said, but finally he tried to account for his inability to catch a fish.

"You see," he said, "when we got on the boat we started to play cards, and when it came time to buy fish I was broke."—Newark Star.

Saw Brooks in Mid-Air—R. C. Young, chief engineer for the Cleveland-Chicago railroad, was in Chicago Tuesday and witnessed an aerial exhibition by Walter Brooks in his biplane. He states that the aviator ascended to great height, his machine apparently being under perfect control, and that he came to earth near the Art building as lightly as a bird.

Washer at County House—A washing machine similar to that used in laundries, and a mangle, or ironer, are being installed at the county house. The machines will be propelled by electricity. There is an immense amount of washing and ironing at the county house each week and heretofore it has all been done by hand. The advent of the new machinery is expected to do away with a large amount of onerous labor.

Uncle Tom's Cabin—The attraction at the Grand theatre, Washington street, is a three-reel series of pictures of Mrs. Stowe's story, "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The moving picture trade journals concede these pictures to be among the very best that have been released this year. They will be shown at the Grand both this afternoon and tonight, starting at 2:30 o'clock. A general admission of ten cents will be charged. A fine series of posters advertising the pictures are displayed in the lobby.

Eight Pictures Today—The announcement that the Johnson-Jeffries fight pictures will be shown at the Bijou theater this afternoon and evening has caused general interest and it is safe to predict that there will be a large attendance. The pictures are said to be among the best ever taken of a ring encounter and in addition to the battle itself, scenes in the camps of both fighters are shown, together with ringside views, etc. The performance will be continuous, starting from 1 o'clock in the afternoon until 11 o'clock at night, with only brief intermissions to allow for people going out and coming in. A competent lecturer will follow each change of the films, explaining the various pictures.

Moving to Superior—J. F. Richardson, who has been engaged in the carriage and automobile painting business in this city for six years, has decided to locate in Superior and will move there in a few days. Recently, Mr. Richardson has had his shop in a part of the Lake Superior Carriage works building on Champion street. He states that his only reason for moving to Superior is that he believes there is a larger field for his line of work there. He is an expert automobile and carriage painter and will doubtless make good in the larger city.

Water Is Fairly Good—A report on a sample of city water sent to Lansing Sept. 19 has been received from the state chemist. The analyst pronounces the sample to be "probably safe," and comments on it as follows: "This water in its present condition is fairly good and gives no indication of any dangerous contamination. There are a few gas producing bacteria present, but the number is very limited and they do not correspond to the typical colon tests."

Low Water at the Soo—According to a bulletin issued by the Lake Carriers' association the water in the Canadian lock at the Soo is eight inches less than it was a year ago, and in the Poe lock on the American side it is six inches less. This makes a big difference in the loading of the big freighters. Yesterday's bulletin cut down the loading to 18 feet 8 inches for the Poe lock up and down, and the Canadian lock, up-bound, and made the depth 18.11 for down-bound boats through the Canadian lock. These depths are two inches lower than the last bulletin issued. "Lack of rainfall is largely responsible for the lighter loading depths," said a vessel manager. "It is a handicap to the boats, but one they can well stand this season, for there have been altogether too many boats on the market for the quantity of ore and coal in sight. If there was enough business to keep all the boats in operation, there would be a big howl all around among the vesselmen, for this falling off in the depth of water would make a tremendous difference in the amount carried by each boat for the season."

THEATRICAL.
German, the Wizard.
The use of magic as a means of entertainment can be traced back many centuries before the time of Christ and the fact that it is still used is a proof that people always have been and always will be interested in this strange work. In more recent years the two most prominent of the exponents of the art were Hermann and Kellar. In the present decade Thurston and some lesser lights have had full sway in this country, but now comes Germain, an American by birth, fresh from successes in Europe, and he is said to be the master of them all. He has assembled one of the cleverest companies ever carried by a magician. The addition of a musical act such as the Hruby Quintette is a diversion from the usual path of this style of entertainment. Germain appears at the opera house tonight.

"The Volunteer Organist."
A play of ten years' popularity in this country, though new to the upper peninsula, "The Volunteer Organist," was presented at the opera house to a small audience last evening. The plot is laid in a backbiting little old Vermont town and the play deals with incidents in the lives of a dozen or more of the villagers, prototypes of many of whom can be called to mind by anyone who has ever lived in a rural hamlet. The story of the play is a simple narrative of homely country folks, and incidentally teaches several moral lessons, which, however, are administered in sugar-coated and inoffensive manner.

The features of the show are its stage setting, the solos by the two boy sopranos and the snow storm in the last act. The two boy singers rendered "The Holy City" and "The Palms" splendidly, and they were given the deserved hearty approbation of the audience.

The cast was fairly well balanced and numbered several good actors. The miserly, hypocritical village merchant, the tavern keeper, the minister, the village postmaster, the parson's black-sheep brother, the tavern keeper's daughter, the millionaire lumberman, and the old maid with her cap set for a husband, were all played creditably. Phil McCarthy, as Ebb Uter, was the best of the comedians. In the opinion of the writer the effect of the play would be heightened by dispensing with some of the comedy "stunts" interspersed which jar rather than amuse, as they are out of keeping with the spirit of the beautiful story. On the whole, however, "The Volunteer Organist" is a good show.

THE ROYAL WAS PACKED TO THE DOORS

by an audience who thoroughly enjoyed the beautiful pictures nearly a mile long. There will be an entire change of program today when the "Royal" present pictures "The Best Ever," and each and every one a feature film headed by the Great Western picture

"The Pony Express Rider"

An echo of the long ago when no railroads spanned the continent and the mail was carried across the plains by men mounted on ponies who made relays at certain points. It seems like a story to hear about it, but this picture makes it seem real again. The setting is admirable, imparting a sense of reality to the film which is impressive. The love tale which is told affords heart interest, and the sight of the girl's picture brings about a novel denouement. It is not often a photograph leads a man to reform, yet here it does not seem out of place. The desert scenery, the defiles in the mountains and the rendezvous of the bandits are all excellent bits of photographic work.

Edison's Great Scenic Picture

"From the Arctics to the Tropics"

The Central railroad of Peru, the most remarkable of all railways, starts at sea level at Callao and runs to the highest point reached by any railway in the world. This is somewhat higher than the summit of Mount Blanc, or, to be exact, it is just sixteen thousand feet above sea level. In the trip which we are privileged to take upon this railway, we start at a high point and getting into a gravity car we begin a coast of one hundred miles down the slopes of the famous Andes, literally passing in the space of a few minutes from the Arctics to the Tropics, seeing with wondering eyes the gradual changes in climate. Upon starting, the country is bleak and barren in appearance, with no living thing in sight and mountains and plateaus covered with snow and ice, and our passengers have taken the precaution to muffle themselves up well for the journey. As we go further and further in our somewhat wild ride through many tunnels, gorges and scenes of the utmost beauty it becomes gradually warmer and warmer until we are almost shocked to find that it is really warm and that necessity exists for taking off first the heavier clothing and then our hats and coats. Finally, just before reaching our destination at Callao, we pass through a real tropical village, thus experiencing probably the quickest change from winter to summer that is possible in the whole world.

From the above description it will be seen that this film is of a most unusual character.

"Bumptious as a Fireman"

This highly amusing individual makes his appearance in a new role, quite as funny as any that have preceded. Having escaped all the dangers of his previous misadventures he appears here as fresh and as ready to assert himself as though he had never met with any difficulty in past performances. If ever any self-assertive fireman in some country company considered his work essential to the success of the department he must have served as a precursor to this individual.

"A Summer Tragedy"

Biograph Romance of a Punctured Bluff

Nerve is a most valuable asset, and Clarence had it in abundance. Getting a week's vacation he hies himself to the seashore, where he registers as a millionaire. Here he meets Mabel, who poses as an heiress. He points to his private yacht out at anchor, while she tells of her palace by the sea. Each thinks the other the real article, so he proposes, she accepts. Vacation time up, they must part, but parting is such sweet sorrow, and they swear eternal constancy. Their dream, however, is rudely disturbed, for when next they meet she finds him tending the soda fountain at a drug store, while he finds her doling out "ham-and" in a cheap restaurant.

"Two Waifs and a Stray"

An appealing child story, introducing again the Vitagraph children who have pleased so many thousands in the past. The story is one that holds the attention throughout, presenting the children in a remarkably appealing and highly dramatic situation. It will satisfy the most exacting critic.

LARSON'S DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

Workman in the Employ of Gus Fredin Was Caught by Tram Car.

According to the verdict of the coroner's jury selected by Coroner Prin to investigate the cause of the death of John Larson, one of Contractor Fredin's employes, the deceased came to his death by accident. The inquest was held yesterday afternoon and several of Mr. Fredin's workmen were down from the North Lake to testify as to how Larson received the injuries which caused his demise.

The men who were working with Larson said that he was caught by a tram car as it was being pulled over the temporary track by one of the teams. The men in charge of the car saw Larson ahead, working on the track, and they called to him two or three times to get out of the way, but he paid no attention to them. The car struck him, and he was knocked down and dragged several feet. His fellow workmen did not think he was seriously injured when they placed him in a rig and sent him to the Ishpeming hospital. He died on the way in from the mine.

Martin Bjorkman, a brother-in-law of the deceased, living at Norway, yesterday wired Mr. Fredin that he will be here today to make arrangements for the funeral. Mr. Bjorkman's brother conducts an extensive logging business on the Menominee range. It is likely that the remains will be taken either to Norway or to Iron Mountain for burial. The deceased lived at Iron Mountain for a number of years, and Mr. Fredin had known him for twenty years or more.

SUCCESSFUL OPENING.

New Moving Picture Theater Starts With Big Business.

The Royal theater, formerly the Bijou, now owned by C. S. Sullivan, had a successful opening Wednesday evening. Mr. Sullivan played to three packed houses and from 7 until 9 o'clock there was a crowd assembled in front of the theater, waiting to enter. Four picture subjects were presented. Difficulty was experienced in operating the fans, so that the house was not as cool as Mr. Sullivan expects to have it after the new ventilating system is in proper running order.

Mr. Sullivan, who has been in the show business for more than twenty-five years, knows the moving picture game from start to finish. He has made a great improvement in the appearance of the house, and it is one of the best lighted moving picture theaters in the upper peninsula.

Mr. Sullivan plans on opening a theater in Negaunee. He was over there yesterday, looking up a location, and if he is successful in finding a room to suit him he states that he will begin work at once, putting it in condition for a theater.

The salaries range from $360 to $720 per annum. The establishment in this district at which present draftsmen are employed is located at Rock Island arsenal, Rock Island, Ills. Parties desiring to apply for these positions can write to Mr. Newton, Federal building, Chicago, for application blanks or for further instructions.

"THE VOLUNTEER ORGANIST."

"The Volunteer Organist," which is offered at the Ishpeming theater this evening, is from the pen of William B. Gray and is well known to our theater-goers.

The story of the drama is simple, and is blended with comedy and pathos. In the quaintness of the characters presented and in the realism of its reproduction of phases of rural life, it is truly itself. It tells of every day people in a New England hill town. The sermon it preaches is that of temperance in physical indulgence and liberality in religion.

Make Your Home Warm and Happy

The time of all times when "there's no place like home" is when all nature is damp and dreary cold and cheerless. It is then that a good dependable heater makes your home comfortable, cheerful and cosy, even in the coldest zero weather.

Heat your home with Home Base-burner and winter will have lost its terrors and the coal man his domination. Why you should have a Home base burner—because it gives 1-3 more heat with 1-3 less fuel, because it has a double guarantee, the factory's and ours, because it costs no more than the other kind.

Come in and see this remarkable stove. You'll be captivated by its beauty; you'll be delighted with the comfort it assures; you'll be more than pleased with the saving in fuel it brings you.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Mrs. M. C. Quinn is visiting relatives in Calumet.

Harry Beeby and wife, who spent the past two weeks in a camp at Little Lake, have returned home.

A number of Negaunee theatre-goers will attend the production of "The Volunteer Organist" this evening at Ishpeming theatre.

M. T. Murphy is now occupying the addition to his store built the past summer. The interior presents a much improved appearance.

W. J. Craine is making a number of improvements at his dwelling on Cyr street. Mr. Craine intends to enclose the big veranda for winter use.

The fire department was called out yesterday morning at 7 o'clock on account of a chimney fire at Peter Bellstrom's home on Peck street.

A Rossiter, conductor on the street car line, has resigned his position and tomorrow will take charge of the Ishpeming steam laundry's business in Negaunee.

Several inches of gravel are being spread on Pioneer avenue, between Iron street and the railway tracks, on the west side of the new fire hall. The surface of the street is to be improved both on the east and south sides.

The "Social Bunch" will give an invitation party tonight at Kirkwood's Hall. About 200 invitations have been issued and a large attendance is expected. Good music will be provided and dancing will start at 9 o'clock.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire our friends in Negaunee to know that we appreciate the sympathy and kindness extended during the illness and after the death of our beloved husband and father. Those who came to our assistance did so much for us that we feel we shall never be able to repay them. We hope that all will accept this expression of our appreciation as evidence of our feeling. We wish particularly to thank friends for floral offerings, also the members of the Knights of the Golden Eagle of Negaunee and Ishpeming for their kindness.

WISCONSIN MAN BUYS JOHNSON FARM

Brother-in-Law of D. C. Comstock to Engage in Farming Business at Sands.

Sandy Johnson, the liverman, yesterday sold his farm at Sands to Bernard Haasch of Waubesa Wis., a brother-in-law of D. C. Comstock. The latter a few weeks ago purchased the Taylor farm at Sands.

Messrs. Haasch and Comstock were in Negaunee closing up the deal, and the former will take immediate possession of the farms. Mr. Haasch has been a millwright for a number of years. The property he has acquired consists of eighty acres. There is a good log house on the place, and the barns and other buildings are in first class order. Most of the machinery is new and up-to-date. The Johnson and Comstock farms are divided by a forty-acre tract owned by B. J. Goodman, Sr. Mr. Comstock has one of the finest farms in the upper peninsula and it is also one of the best equipped. He was engaged in farming for a number of years before taking the liver enterprise here. His Sands farm is comprised of 320 acres, 240 of which has been cleared. The remaining 80 is covered with timber.

Mr. Comstock so far has not been able to give his dairy any attention, but he intends to soon take it in hand. He will go to Wisconsin within a few weeks, to buy a carload of cows.

Mr. Comstock believes that the farming near Sands is going to improve from this time on. Most of the farmers give their places close attention and many of them are not only making a good living, but are also saving some money. They have received good prices for their products the last few years and they feel very much encouraged. Most of them have improved their homes and other buildings and most of them are breaking in new ground as fast as they can get to it.

But little work has been done on the Johnson farm since Mr. Johnson moved back to Negaunee, to look after his liver business. Mr. Haasch intends to put the entire eighty acres under cultivation next year.

FOOTBALL TEAM REORGANIZED.

The Tigers football team has been reorganized and the first practice of the season was held Wednesday evening. All of the strong players in the city will be invited to try for places on the team, and it is proposed to secure games with some of the best elevens in the upper peninsula. The team will average heavier than last year.

DEATH OF JOHN MOLL.

Wellknown Negaunee Man Killed Yesterday by Discharge of Revolver.

John Moll, one of Negaunee's oldest and best known citizens, was killed yesterday morning between 11 and 12 o'clock at his home on Main street by the discharge of a revolver, the bullet passing through his heart, causing instant death. It is thought that Mr. Moll was cleaning the revolver and that it went off accidentally. He was down town only shortly before the tragic occurrence and friends who spoke to him say that he was in a cheerful mood. His relatives are satisfied that it was not a case of suicide. Coroner Prin has impounded a jury and the inquest will probably be held today or tomorrow.

The deceased was forty-eight years of age and was born in Negaunee, being a member of one of the first families to locate here. He was a bricklayer and plasterer by trade and was about as well known as any man in the city. He had been unfortunate the past few years, in having lost his wife and two or three of his children. He is survived by four daughters and two sons. Two of the former are students at the Marquette Normal. Mr. Moll was one of the oldest active members of the Negaunee fire department. The funeral arrangements will be completed today.

RAATAKAINEN-PARALA.

Negaunee Couple Given a Big Send Off Following Their Marriage.

August Raatakainen, the pop manufacturer, and Miss Mary Parala, attempted to steal a march on their friends Wednesday evening, but they were not successful in doing so. They had planned to keep their marriage a secret until after the departure of the evening train for Chicago, but some of their friends learned of their plans about an hour before the train pulled out and several hundred of them were at the station to give them a send-off. Jacob Salo got a number of musicians of the city together and formed a band which serenaded at the depot. The band played "A Hot Time" and various other popular airs, and it is said that some fifty pounds of rice were thrown after the bride and groom.

The wedding took place at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Parala, on Park street. Rev. Saranen, pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Jennie Stromer and Charles Raatakainen, a brother of the groom, was best man. Only relatives were present. The house was prettily decorated with sweet peas and smilax. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white muslin, with a veil, and carried a bouquet of cream roses. The bridesmaid wore a blue silk costume and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Raatakainen will spend their honeymoon in Chicago, Milwaukee and other points, and will be away about a week or ten days.

INTO NEW HOSE HOUSE.

Fire Department Now Having a Moving Day.

The Negaunee fire department started yesterday to move its equipment from the old No. 1 hose house to the new fire hall on Pioneer avenue at the head of Iron street.

The building is one of the best in the upper peninsula. The firemen's quarters on the second floor are especially attractive and convenient. The new hook and ladder truck and other equipment ordered some time ago has not yet been received, but it is expected daily. Several hundred feet of new hose have been received.

MARRIED WEDNESDAY EVENING.

John H. Sunne, the jeweler, who conducts his business in Oliver Johnson's store, and Miss Emma Johnson, of South Jackson street, were married Wednesday evening about 6 o'clock at the Swedish Lutheran church parsonage in Ishpeming. Rev. G. Fletwood, the pastor, officiated. The announcement of the marriage of Mr. Sunne and Miss Johnson was a complete surprise to their Negaunee friends. They left Wednesday evening on the St. Paul train for Milwaukee and Chicago and will be absent a week or more.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints, it is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by The People's Drug Store.
