

ROOSEVELT SPENDS DAY IN ILLINOIS

He Visits Springfield and Other Cities and at Peoria in the Evening Is the Guest of the Knights of Columbus at a Largely Attended Annual Dinner.

He Denounces Corruption in the Legislature and Commends the Work of the Catholic Church—He Will Stamp Indiana Today for U. S. Senator Beveridge

Peoria, Ills., Oct. 12.—Theodore Roosevelt came from St. Louis into Illinois today and denounced corrupt legislators and commended the work which the Catholic church is doing.

In a brief speech to the crowd at the railroad station at Springfield, Mr. Roosevelt made what was construed as a reference to the allegations of corruption in the Illinois legislature.

The Colonel Complies. Mr. Roosevelt took it up after the applause had ended. "Good, my friend, I'm glad to hear you say that," he said.

When the colonel arrived here he went to the Country club for luncheon and then visited Archbishop Spangola. A public reception followed.

At the dinner tonight Bourke Cochran of New York and Dr. E. Emmet Kane of St. Louis made speeches before Mr. Roosevelt delivered his address.

Missionary Work in Africa. "Last winter we visited various Catholic missions in Africa, and just about Christmas were at Bishop Hanlon's, on the shores of Great Victoria Nyanza lake.

Now the mission to which Mother Paul belongs is doing a really striking and admirable work, and I promised her that I would publicly tell about this before some Catholic body and ask that the Catholics of the United States take an active interest in this Catholic mission in mid-Africa where such good work is being done by an American nun.

There is no other country in the world where there is such really broad religious toleration, such kindly good will among the good people of the different religions, and no other country where Catholic and Protestant get on so well here, each treating the other on the basis of our common citizenship and judging him as not how he worships the Creator, but on his conduct toward his fellowmen on his own worth as a man.

Tells of Historic Correspondence. "Perhaps I can give you my theory in short form by telling you of correspondence I once had. A Protestant clergyman wrote me a protest about my receiving Cardinal Salotti at the White House. I wrote back, saying I had received the cardinal just as I had received German Lutherans and Welsh Methodists and that I would hold myself a poor representative of the people and unworthy to be president of the United States if I failed to treat with good will and friendliness all good men, no matter what their religious faith might be.

And now the colonel has landed the aviator vote.

John Dietz objects to the steam heat in the Hayward jail. If steam heat was the least of Dietz's troubles he would be a lucky man.

Senator Cummins is off to Indiana for a ten days' speaking tour, to aid Senator Beveridge. Evidently the progressive leaders realize that if they don't hang together they may all hang separately.

It will take a long, hard pull of work for the aviators to garner all the prizes now hung up for bird man performances of one kind or another. The successful birdman these days has no trouble keeping the wolf from the door.
 His problem is, rather, what to do with his earnings.

The public will sympathize with the Bigsaw with which Aviator Ely abandoned his attempt to fly from Chicago to New York after making only twenty-two miles in three days. In the light of other contemporary performances by the bird men Ely appears to have had every reason for disgust.

Some three weeks ago The Mining Journal printed an article on federal patronage in general, and the Marquette collectorship in particular, that was received with disbelief in certain quarters. It is not unworthy of attention that it has been borne out to the last detail by the developments in the interim.

There's so little difference between the Republican and Democratic state platforms, and so little difference between the contentions of Messrs. Osborn and Hemans in their discussion of state issues and questions of state government that a Republican bolter will this fall have hard work to in any manner justify his desertion of the state ticket.

Munising is again to have two newspapers. This announcement will recall the merry days when Messrs. Holden and Baldwin rattled one another's pates with the journalistic Big Stick, for the prize of supremacy in the local field.
 Munising has been a lively town with one newspaper, but doubtless it will manage to put on a little more steam with two.

The Democrats' state platform pledges the party to perfecting the primary law.
 The Democrats can, without any legislation whatever, do a great deal to make the primary law a more practical and fairer measure. All they have to do to accomplish this is to vote in their own primaries, and, individually and collectively, refrain from butting into the contests of their Republican friends. This is the particular reform in the operations of the present primary law that is most urgently demanded by the existing conditions.

Postmaster General Hitchcock has been fighting the deficit in his department valiantly ever since he assumed his present office. Time and again he has had it groggy, but it has always come back strong. Now, however, he predicts, with considerable confidence, that he will have it laid out cold before the close of another fiscal year, and he says that penny postage will, as a practical business proposition, soon be in sight. Mr.
 Hitchcock has proved one of the most efficient and far-seeing men who has been in charge of the postoffice department in recent years, and his management of its affairs is proving most creditable to the Taft administration.

The figures of the equalization of the townships of Marquette county, and the work of the supervisors in equalizing the county, are not devoid of interest.
 For those who have a comprehensive knowledge of the resources of the townships and the cities. They furnish, as a matter of fact, both an intimation that it is indeed time for a general review of taxing conditions throughout the state and a suggestion that when the investigation is made the shortcomings of the present system will be found to be as pronounced in agricultural, lumbering and manufacturing communities as in any mining district to be found in the state.

Bills for some $7,000 have been presented to Shiawassee county for the expense incurred by the state in sending troops to Durand, at the call of the authorities, during the Grand Trunk strike. The supervisors are not enamored with the thought of paying these bills. They have asked the state for a showing on the authority on which the troops were sent, and have set their attorneys at work to see if there is not some way in which the county can dodge payment. The people of the county are still divided on the question whether the troops were really needed, with a strong party maintaining that when they were called out there was little or no likelihood of serious disorder, and that the quartering of the soldiers on the town was a bad mistake in judgment. However this may be, if the sheriff called for the troops, representing that he was not able to cope with the situation, the state was abundantly justified in sending them, and the cost of their transport and maintenance during the period of service should properly be defrayed by the county. The state will certainly resist any attempt of the Shiwassee supervisors to avoid payment of what appears to be a just charge against them.

Lajoie says that instead of being credited with eight hits in nine times at bat in those St. Louis games he should have been credited with nine. In short, La-joie insists that his phenomenal batting record on this occasion was bona fide.
 However, nine out of ten sporting writers are doubting Thomases on this point, and the general public is in the same attitude. The outcome of the contest between him and Cobb for the league batting leadership and the pesky automobile that is at the root of the trouble looms up as the big baseball scandal of the season, and has already led the magnates to lay their plans so that it cannot be duplicated in any succeeding year.

Democratic State Committeeman
 Wood charges that outside "interests" are pouring money into Representative Denby's district, to help him secure a re-election. Mr. Wood mentions the sum of $60,000, and points to Denby's elaborate headquarters to bear out the contention that his campaign expenditures are on a large scale. Representative Denby rejoins that every dollar that is being expended in his campaign represents his own money or the money of friends deeply enough interested in his welfare to want to assist him in bearing its expense. Not one red copper comes from any "interest." As a matter of fact, Denby is well equipped to bear the expense of an aggressive campaign without any assistance. He got in right in a number of successful industrial enterprises in Detroit and is now credited with being pretty well off.
 He expects to be re-nominated, despite the hard fight the Democrats are making against him.

As a matter of fact the disposal of the Marquette collectorship was settled on primary day. The endorsement given Representative Townsend by the voters carried assurance that Senator Burrows would be powerless to head off Byrns' appointment, even if he desired to. He might possibly have held it up for a few months additional, but it was clear that Representative Townsend would endorse Senator Smith's choice for the office, and that their joint endorsements would finally determine what would be done.
 Mr. Byrns' appointment now comes with the support and approval of Senator Burrows. The contest which it closes has been one of the longest and most strenuously fought that has ever been put up in Michigan for a choice bit of political preferment. The prediction was early made that before it was settled the eyes of the state would be on it. This prediction has been abundantly verified. The enlisting of support for one or the other of the rival candidates extended over the entire state, and the upper peninsula was canvassed with particular thoroughness. Throughout the year's contest Senator Smith stood firmly by Mr. Byrns, because when he needed friends in the legislature he found Byrns one of his loyal-est supporters. Senator Burrows refused at any time up to a few days ago to agree to Byrns' appointment. He did not himself urge the appointment of either of the other candidates, but kept all three on his waiting list, probably with a thought to the fall primaries in which his own fate was to be determined. It is not known exactly why Senator Burrows finally endorsed Byrns, but his course was probably due to a realization of the fruitlessness of holding out further against him, and his inability to find in the election results any particularly good reason why he should do so. However this may be, Byrns' commission has been signed by the president and it won't be long before Byrns is comfortably installed on the second floor of the Marquette federal building.

DID NOT MAKE PLATFORM.
 Colonel Roosevelt made it clear to his Corinth, Miss., audience that the New York platform does not express his views on all the questions it deals with.
 Answering queries addressed to him by the newspapers, he said that there were at Saratoga a large number of delegates who, while united on the proposition that the bosses must be ridden over, were still of different minds on other questions. The matters on which they differed were subordinated to the principal task of reclaiming the party, organization in New York from Barnes and Woodruff and their allies. "I must,"
 the colonel asserted, "refuse to be judged by what the platform said. I am to be judged by what I myself said." The platform, in some particulars, expresses the colonel's views. In others it does not, for many of the planks were inserted by his allies in the principal fight of the convention, who did not agree with him on other matters. That the platform obviously does not express the colonel's views on several points is the best proof that could be offered that he did not dominate the convention, but that it was controlled by an alliance of several elements who came together on the fight against the bosses because they were good enough citizens to subordinate other differences to this important struggle to clean up the party.
 It can be safely assumed, for instance, that the tariff plank of the platform was dictated by the purely administrative forces in the convention, and probably did not reflect the colonel's views.
 Those who want really to know what these views are can well heed his injunction to read his speeches and to disregard the New York platform as having any authentic merit as an expression of them.

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Cure
 Easily and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $2.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50.

Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually stops the most obstinate cough in 24 hours.
 This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, sore lungs, asthma, throat troubles, etc.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a pint bottle and add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Pinex is one of the oldest and best known remedial agents for the throat membranes. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in gualonic acid and all the other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this recipe have endeared it to thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

A LAUGH OR TWO.
 A Legal Admission.
 One of President Woodrow Wilson's stories: A friend of mine was walking down the street in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., one day, with two friends of his, who were lawyers, in very earnest conversation, and he asked one of them, "What are you talking about?" He replied, "We are discussing who is the leader of the Luzerne County bar." "Why," the other said, "I am." "How do you prove it?" he was asked. He replied, "Why, I don't have to prove it; I admit it."

Compensation.
 Congressman Dan Anthony of Leavenworth, Kan., a nephew of the late Susan B. Anthony, has a 20-year-old son who looks at the practical side of things every time. Not long ago his father had to go to Washington. When the day of departure arrived Mrs. Anthony said to the boy:
 "Son, aren't we going to be lonesome when you go?" "Yes," replied the boy;
 "but we'll have a lot more cream for our oatmeal."—Denver Times.

A Cautious Dinner.
 The town council of the town of B—some time ago held a big banquet. One of the councillors, noted for his ready wit, came arrayed in a tartan waistcoat. He was subjected to a great number of curious looks, none of which, however, affected him in the least. At length one of his brother councillors, unable to restrain his curiosity any longer, remarked:
 "I say, Mr.—, what possessed you to come in a tartan waistcoat?"
 "Well," answered the witty answerer, "I'm not like some of you. Always when I dine I like to keep a check over my stomach."—Tit-Bits.

A Distinction.
 It was a plain, if unusual, distinction made by the English mayor in the following story: At a large political meeting where Gladstone was to speak, the hall was packed and the air was stifling.
 For some reason, says W. C. Brownell, who quotes the incident in a recent book as coming from James Russel Lowell, it was impossible to open the windows, and one had to be broken.
 "It was feared that the noise would startle the audience, and the mayor called forward to explain what was proposed. The audience, however, had not assembled to listen to the mayor, and overwhelmed him with cries of "Gladstone! Gladstone!"

At a Pinch.
 There's a certain minister whose duties sometimes call him out of the city.
 He has always arranged for some one of his parishioners to keep company with his wife and little daughter during these absences. Recently, however, he had no opportunity of providing a guardian.
 The wife was very brave during the early evening; but after dark had fallen her courage began to fail. She stayed up with her little girl till there was no excuse for staying any longer, and then took her up to bed.
 "Now, go to sleep, dearie," she said.
 "Don't be afraid. God will protect you."
 "Yes, mother," answered the little girl, "that'll be all right tonight; but the next time let's make better arrangements."—Human Life.

FLOODS COURT HOUSE WITH SWEET MELODY

Louis Valerio, Alleged Highwayman Awaiting Trial, a Concertina Virtuoso.

The county building has been flooded with melody the past several days, the strains of music coming through the steel door of the jail and filling the offices and corridors of the building.

Valerio says that his instrument is an Italian harmonium, but it is identical with the English concertina. It may be well to state that the concertina is superior as an instrument to the accordion, because of its greater range and musical elasticity.

Valerio is a master of the instrument and plays with a rare and expert repertoire of music that ranges from Italian opera and national music to American popular songs, such as "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

IS DEFENDANT IN TWO COURT ACTIONS

Hancock Man Is Sued for Divorce and for Money—He Loses in Both.

John Colwell of Hancock was the feature of the circuit court chancery session Tuesday afternoon. Colwell was the defendant in a divorce suit brought by his wife and in an attachment suit brought by Houle & Drouin of Hancock and he lost in both cases.

Colwell was not present in court and his whereabouts are unknown, but his wife and family will be provided for through his foresight, even though he has deserted them.

Circuit Court Notes.

In spite of the fact that yesterday was Columbus Day, court was in session. The first case of the day was in session, Joseph Garmati, Calumet parties, being before the tribunal.

Judgment was granted Tuesday by default in the case of the Merchants & Miners' bank vs. Henry Vogler.

The November term of the Houghton county circuit court opens Nov. 7. Nov. 11 is set for the hearing of nationalization, but it is possible that this will be deferred to Nov. 1, as there are only thirty-six petitions all told and all can be disposed of in one day.

HILMA STEINBACK AFFAIR.

Officers Probably Will Take No Action Until After Inquest.

Hilma Steinback, the woman charged with the murder of her new born infant, is held here at the county jail and it is not probable that any action will be taken in her case until after the inquest called for next Monday to inquire into the cause of the death of the child, for which it is alleged she was responsible.

PECULIAR NON-SUPPORT CASE.

Louis Lagassa Seems as Much Sinned Against as Sinning.

Justice Charles Little feels that there was something of injustice in the arrest Monday of Louis Lagassa of Houghton at Franklin on a charge of non-support.

Lagassa says that his wife refuses to live with him and she has admitted to Justice Little that this is the case, her requirement being only that her husband shall help to support their children.

Danderine

Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT! The Great DANDERINE Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results.

It cleanses and invigorates the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, resulting in a continuous and increasing growth of the hair.

Letters of praise are constantly coming in from nearly all parts of the country stating that Danderine has restored the growth of hair in cases that were considered absolutely hopeless.

A lady from Brooklyn writes: "After a short trial my hair has stopped falling, and I have a lovely head of hair, very heavy and over one and a quarter yards long."

Danderine stimulates the scalp, makes it healthy and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp invigorator known. It is a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp.

Even a small bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land; 3 sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

Free to show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the Danderine Co., Chicago.

ALL STARS TRIM HIGH SCHOOL. The "All Stars" football team defeated the high school eleven Tuesday afternoon by a score of 20 to 0.

A unique bill was gotten out announcing the game. The "All Stars" players were all "labeled," mainly for the purpose of frightening the high school warriors.

Referee O'P. Munsing tried a forward pass, which Lindberg broke up by knocking the ball away from a Munsing player.

GAME ENDED IN ROW.

The football game between the Gwinn and Munsing high school teams Saturday broke up in a dispute during the third quarter.

The eight-month-old daughter of Ed Martin died Sunday and was buried Tuesday afternoon, the funeral taking place from the house.

The Misses Huhlin, Koski and Elsie Peltto spent Sunday in Ishpeming, visiting with relatives and friends.

Oscar Johnson, Albert Tridgen, Alex Male and John Gill spent Sunday parting hunting at Farquar's farm and returned with a few feathers to show that they had seen some, anyway.

John C. Johnson, of Swanzy, section foreman for the Chicago & Northwestern railway, had his leg broken Monday while unloading railroad ties from a dlatcar at New Swanzy.

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ.

There is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

Disinfectants of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamped expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Played in Comic Opera—Interest in "The Kissing Girl," which comes to the opera house Saturday night, is heightened by the knowledge that Miss Kathryn Mosher, daughter of E. D. Mosher, of this city, played the part of Christina Miller in "The Kissing Girl" last season. In the company to play here this part is taken by Marion Mills. Miss Mosher is now in New York, rehearsing with an opera company under the direction of a noted Italian tenor.

Have a Kick Coming—Yesterday was Columbus Day, but there was little to mark its observance in Marquette except that the saloons were closed, as were the city and court house. Labor dealers feel that they are doing an injustice by being compelled to close their places of business on Columbus Day, when the banks and stores are open and business is going on the same as any other day. This complaint was frequently heard yesterday, and the public generally is of the opinion that the saloon men have a kick coming.

Change at Postal Office—L. H. Drumme, who has been local manager of the Postal telegraph office since June, 1907, has been promoted to a position in the Chicago office, and with Mrs. Drumme has gone to that city. William Kelling, who has been Mr. Drumme's assistant here, has been made local manager. During Mr. Drumme's stay in Marquette he has been active in the promotion of athletic sports, having been manager of the Marquette second baseball team, the City basketball team and also an enthusiastic devotee of bowling. This year he had been appointed manager of the Guild Hall basketball team.

Lake Superior Rough—Lake Superior was very rough yesterday and a number of vessels found their way into the harbor for shelter. Looking south from the breakwater the lake did not appear particularly rough, but vesselmen stated that after getting out into the lake where the northwest wind got a sweep the waves were running very high. The Postoffice put on a party yesterday morning, but was glad to get back to port after being buffeted about by the waves for a short time.

For the accommodation of Marquette people, a special train will be run down from Negaunee Thursday and Friday nights after the close of the evening session.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. TWO CASES DISPOSED OF

Business of United States Court Rapidly Nearing an End.

In United States court yesterday, two cases in addition to the Worden trial were disposed of. Judge Denison heard the testimony in the suit brought by John Brennan against the First National Bank of Ironwood, and has taken the same under advisement. In this case Mr. Brennan seeks to recover the value of 87,500 worth of copper stock, which he claims was on deposit in the bank at the time of its failure as security to a note of $1,000. Mr. Brennan holds that this is a preferred claim and that he should be reimbursed at it full value. The receiver contends that Mr. Brennan should take his pro rata with the other creditors of the bank.

By holding an evening session, the civil suit brought by the government against Watson & Bennett, of De Tour, was finished yesterday. The government seeks to recover the value of timber cut from a homestead on which title had not been perfected, and sold to the company, the entry afterwards being cancelled. Though it was shown that the company was an innocent party in the deal, the court held that the firm was liable and directed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the government for the full amount of the claim, $600, and $135 interest. It is presumed that the company will seek to recover a like amount from the person of whom it bought the timber.

DELEGATES REPORT INSPIRING MEETING

Upper Peninsula W. C. T. U. Convention Now in Session at M. E. Church Here.

Three sessions of the annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of the upper peninsula, were held in the Methodist church in this city yesterday, and the convention will close today. All the meetings were well attended and the papers and discussions proved very interesting and helpful. Delegates state that the convention is proving a source of great inspiration for more determined and effective work. Devotions at the opening of the morning session were led by Mrs. Clarke, followed by a heart to heart testimony meeting. After the transaction of preliminary business, reports from the following local unions were received: Sault Ste. Marie, Mrs. Robert Craig; DeTour, Mrs. S. Babcock; Drummond, Miss L. Seaman; Manistique, Mrs. Kendall, Mrs. W. Wilson then read a paper on "The Mission of the W. C. T. U.," which was followed by a short discussion. Non-tide prayer was led by Mrs. Rowley.

At the opening of the afternoon session, reports were received from the Stephenson, Escanaba, Marquette and Crystal Falls unions, after which Mrs. Babcock gave a report of the evangelistic work done in the district, and Mrs. Peterson told of the work done among the lumbermen. Mrs. Clarke explained the medal contests. Letters of greeting were read from the Woman's society of the Presbyterian church, Mrs. Fannie McCourt, of Portland, and Mrs. Birdie Goulet, of Ingalis. Mrs. May McDonald read a paper, "Why Should I Belong to the W. C. T. U.?" Mrs. Dodge and Mrs. Treloar were initiated as members of the Marquette union. Floyd L. Beau, a child of fourteen weeks, was consecrated to the white ribbon work.

The principal address of the evening was delivered by Mrs. Babcock, who proved a particularly interesting speaker. The program also included several fine musical numbers. The program for today is as follows: Thursday Morning—Devotional service—Mrs. A. M. Cowden. Reading of journal. Report of executive committee. Music. Demonstration of work among lumbermen—Mrs. Louise Peterson. Election of officers. Veterans love feast. President's hour. Delegates conference. Noon tide hour of prayer. Thursday Afternoon—Devotional service—Mrs. Strickland. Reading of journal. Reports of committees. Address—Miss Maggie Walz. Music. Memorial service. Miscellaneous business. Adjournment.

AGGRESSIVE FIGHT BY STATE G. O. P.

Leaders Plan to Make Campaign of Attack, Not One of Defense.

The Republican campaign will be one of aggression instead of one of defense. That was the big thing decided on by the party leaders at the conference held in the Hotel Pontchartrain Wednesday afternoon, says the Detroit Journal.

It will be put squarely up to the voters that the Republican party stands for good government, that it is pledged to give the state good government and that the Democratic party offers nothing constructive which has not been borrowed from previous administrations of the Republican party, either through the personal pledges of Chase S. Osborn, the nominee for governor, or in the party platform.

"It will be fight all the way," declared Mr. Osborn. There is nothing in my record which I am not perfectly willing to have placed before the people of the state, and, in return, it is but fair that the position of Mr. Hemans in the past on public questions should be made known.

This statement met with the heartiest approval and it sums up in a nutshell the character of the campaign which is now under way and which will go into the final stretch next week. One subject which was the center of a great deal of informal discussion among the county chairman and candidates gathered for the conference was the shortness of the campaign. Under the present law which fixes the time of the state convention following the primary in October it is impossible to organize thoroughly a campaign in a state of the size of Michigan. This was the opinion of practically all those present and there was a distinct feeling among many of the party leaders that the primary should be set ahead again and the state convention held at least ten weeks before the election.

Chairman Knox and Secretaries King and Whelan worked a few gray hairs into their heads arranging the speaking itineraries of Mr. Osborn, Congressman Townsend and Senator Smith. The special train, which would mean a grouping of the oratorical lights, has been

The Secret of Good Complexions

Good complexions are made from the inside. Those who want a fresh, healthy complexion must get it where the child gets it—through sound digestion and pure blood.

Those who have no care for the beauty of a healthy skin should care for it as an evidence of health.

People are never really well if the skin is sallow or bleached by eruptions. Desjardins' Sarsaparilla with Iodine of Potassium and Iron makes clear complexions. It purifies the blood, aids digestion and overcomes kidney and liver troubles.

TO HAVE MODEL SURFACE PLANT

New Equipment at Cliffs Shafts Will Put the Property in Fine Condition.

The construction of a steel trestle, to be erected in connection with the new steel crusher building at the Cliffs Shafts mine, is delayed on account of the non-arrival of material.

It will be more than a year before all of the improvements planned for the Cliffs Shafts property will be finished, as they include considerable work in addition to the erection of the new crusher building, new trestles and the installation of machinery.

Under the new hoisting arrangement the ore from both shafts will be dumped into the pockets at surface, instead of raised to a trestle some feet above the ground.

As soon as the new plant is in operation the old trestles and crusher will be given up. By removing the network of trestles extending between both shafts and the present crusher plant the appearance of the surface will be greatly improved.

The officials of the company plan to make a number of surface improvements next year. The old tracks leading from a shaft over the top of the rock dump, which were put in when the mine was first opened with the late William Sedgwick in charge, will be removed, and the openings will be filled.

It is not expected that the new crusher will go into operation before the first of the year. None of the workmen will be laid off while the changes are being made in the shafts.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure.

AN ATTRACTIVE HOME.

Captain John Gill's New House, on Division Street, Will Soon Be Ready.

The dwelling that Captain John Gill, of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's Moro mine, recently moved from near where the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company's North Lake spur passes over Division street to a point some 300 feet to the north, has been thoroughly remodeled.

The plot of ground between Division street and the boarding house will be converted into a park by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company.

"THE KISSING GIRL."

Iowa Paper Speaks Well of Attraction Here Next Wednesday.

The Davenport (Ia.) Times of the 3rd inst. said of "The Kissing Girl," which will be the musical comedy offering at the Ishpeming theatre on next Wednesday evening, the 19th:

"Had you seen 'The Kissing Girl' at the Burtis last evening, you would have known little wonder why the best marksmen for miles around the Bohemian mountains flock each year to the annual sporting event of the Schuetzenkorps, the highest award for which is a kiss from Lina, the belle of the German village.

"Good Old German Beer," which Louis London featured in the first act set the pace for curtain calls and the audience insisted on hearing repetitions of 'Major General Pumpnickel,' 'On the Boulevard' and 'Love Is Like a Red, Red Rose.'

"Miss Vanity, whoever she may be, was plainly the favorite of the evening in feature dances. Her grace of limb and dainty beauty captured not only the front row, but the whole house, Miss Olah Faber, on the hills as a young Roumanian violinist, following Christina's song, 'Love Is Like a Red, Red Rose,' was repeatedly recalled and the audience might have sat for an hour listening to her playing had not the stage manager rushed through his succeeding number, Miss Texas Guinan in the Kissing Girl, no less an actress than a singer, and won not only the German swains of the play, but the youths of similar extraction on the other side of the footlights."

ENTERTAINMENT FRIDAY EVENING.

Professor Alfræta H. Niver, who has a national reputation as a high class entertainer, will give a full evening, assisted by her husband, an excellent guitar artist, at Braastad's Hall, Ishpeming, Mich., Friday evening, Oct. 14, 1910, at 8 o'clock.

Owing to repairs that are being done on the Methodist church it is necessary to change the place of this entertainment to Braastad's Hall.

The Bayfield (Wis.) Progress said of Miss Niver: "The reading Saturday night at the Presbyterian church by Mrs. Niver was certainly a treat to those who were fortunate in being present."

"Perhaps one professional reader in five has that mysterious something of personality without which no reader has ever risen above mediocrity."

"The Whitewater Register said: 'Mrs. Niver is original in her interpretations and discriminating in the selecting of materials, all of which adds to the great popularity of her entertainments.'"

The Delights In Baking With CALUMET BAKING POWDER

To fully appreciate the real pleasure of baking, buy a can of Calumet and as a test bake a batch of biscuits. See how light and wonderfully raised they come from the oven. Then break one of them open and note how thoroughly, evenly and fluffily the dough has risen. And the final test—the one that counts—batter and taste. This test will prove to you that Calumet is the most dependable Baking Powder for every purpose. It will prove its economy over the high-price trust brands and its great superiority over the cheap and big can kinds. For Calumet is highest in quality—and moderate in cost. COLUMBUS DAY CELEBRATED HERE

Congressman Young Gave Address to Italians in Negaunee Yesterday.

The Negaunee Italian societies started their Columbus day celebration with a parade yesterday morning. The line of march was over three blocks in length and included, besides the members of the societies, two patriotic floats, three mounted marshals and some eight or ten carriages containing the speaker of the day, members of the council, and prominent business men.

The Italian band led the procession which traversed all of the principal business and residence streets. Several hundred people assembled on the sidewalks to see the parade. All of the men of the city wore caps and regalia, also Columbus day buttons, ornamented with red, white, blue and green ribbon. The Italian band, which was organized about four months ago, created a most favorable impression. It is now composed of some 20 members.

At the conclusion of the parade, the members of the societies, together with many others, assembled at the grand stand, where speeches were heard. Felix Chiabotto, a member of the arrangement committee, made a few remarks and then introduced Congressman H. O. Young, who spoke as follows:

"The men who sit at the feet of Washington stretch out their arms to the descendants of those who followed Garibaldi from the Alps to the Sicilies, from tyranny to liberty.

"For centuries Rome ruled the world and gave to civilization laws and institutions. Then her glory was eclipsed by the inroads of barbarians. But the genius of Italy denied expression in great governmental action blossomed in art and literature. The great names of Michael Angelo and Raffaele adorn the end of the dark ages as their paintings do the walls of the Vatican palaces.

"Dante startled us with the wealth of his genius; Savonarola roused the conscience of Fierenzi and kept alive the love of liberty.

"But the desire for Italian unity never entirely died in the hearts of the people. At last the propitious moment arrived—Mazzini and Cavour prepared the way, Garibaldi struck the blow and Italy was united and free from Sicily to the Alps. Since that day so much more prosperous has she become that though sending millions of emigrants to her shores her own population has increased from 25,000,000 to 32,500,000.

Speaker Visited Italy.
"Three years ago I visited Italy. Though it is not a rich country and lacks the most beautiful regions in the world, we landed at Napoli, visited the ruins of Pompeii, passed over to the island of Capri, and from its summit looked down on the beautiful bay of Naples and the city. A slight smoke curled from the mouth of Vesuvius, as we looked down on the modern city, the ruins of the country homes of Roman emperors, and the ruins of the long buried cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum. We then passed over to Sorrento and took the Amalfi drive. Below on the one side lay the beautiful bay of Salerno; on the other the mountain side is a monument to the industry and thrift of the Italians. It is terraced from the bottom to the highest point where soil and water can be found, though so steep that it is often necessary to build the wall twelve feet to the top; no labor seemed too great for the Italians. Every square foot of soil is used. Grape vines, orange, lemon and olive trees cover every foot of it. The road is cut out of the solid rock of the mountain side. It is made to last a thousand years. There is no more beautiful sight in the world than that green mountain side dotted with towns and villages and the azure bay below and the winding mountain road.

"Returning to Naples we soon went on to Rome; spent three weeks amidst its ancient ruins and churches, palaces and monuments, and saw the sculpture of its Christian era and its modern shops and people. Thence to Fierenzi, which to me is the finest of the Italian cities. It is so small you can go all about it on foot, but what a marvelous wealth of objects worth seeing. No city of its size ever sheltered so many great men. From Fierenzi, we went on to Venezia with its canals, palaces, gondolas, lace makers, wood working and marvelous cathedral of San Marco. From here we went to the rich modern city of Milan, and from there by Lake Garda to the beautiful Alpine lakes of Como, Inyanzo and Maggiore. Italy, save in the rich valley of Lombardy, is not an easy place to make a living in. And yet such is the industry and thrift of your people that the most is made of every thing. Such is their cheerfulness that complaints are rare.

Italians Polite and Kind.
"From one end of the country to the other, I was met by politeness and kindness. I listened to your music, always good. I saw your people dance the Tarantella. I drank your chianti, your sparkling Asti and your Lacrima Christi and I began to understand why, in spite of all your hardships, you are a happy people.

"The very spirit of joy is in the wine, but I saw not a single drunken man in all Italy. Music is in the hearts of all the people. Grace is in their movements and they are surrounded by such a wealth of beauty in sky and sea and mountain, in sculpture and in painting, as are not brought together in any other part of the world. Sometimes I almost wish your country were not so beautiful, for if your people loved it less, so many of them after obtaining a competence here would not return to the old home.

No Place For Anarchists.
"In the last few years, there has been a good deal of talk about restricting immigration to this country. It is true that we should be more careful about the kind of people we let come. There is no place in American life for the anarchist or the criminal. We should take greater pains to exclude these classes from our shores. Not only do they injure us, but they bring discredit on the good people of the nation from which they come and so injure them. In this country, every man, president of laborer, is equal before the law. There are no privileged classes and so there is no excuse for the anarchist. He is the enemy of his kind. I would drive him from our midst as relentlessly as Saint Patrick drove the snakes out of Ireland. But to the honest emigrant who comes here to cast in his lot with us to labor and so better his condition, I would extend the hand of welcome as to a friend and a brother. We have a great country. Much of it is undeveloped. We need the labor of willing hands to develop it. There is no fear at present that we will get too many immigrants, if they are of the right kind. I know that some laboring men fear that if too many immigrants come in it will reduce wages. This is a great mistake, for each man who comes to our shores not only labors himself, but he consumes the fruits of other men's labors. He brings with him not only his hands to labor in competition with those who are here but his mouth to be fed and his wife and children to be housed, fed, clothed and to be sent to school. School houses must be built for them and this will make a demand for other men's labor, and so every man that comes to our shores makes a greater demand for labor.

Why Labor is in Demand.
"Why, what is it that makes a demand for labor? The wants of other men. If there was but one man in the country, there would be no demand for self. If the argument that immigration reduces wages were true, then the fewer the men there were in a country, the more prosperous it would be and the higher the wages; but the reverse is true. A sparsely populated country is always poor. Many suggestions have been made as to how to keep out undesirable immigrants. A few years ago, it was proposed in congress that no one should be permitted to enter this country unless he could read and write. I have no faith in that test and voted against it. It would let in every anarchist and most criminals, for all anarchists and most criminals can read and write. I'd rather look at a man's hands and if there were callouses on them, I'd let him in. We can't have too many men who work with their hands. It shows that he works for a living, that is pretty good proof that he does not steal for a living, and the man who works makes a good citizen.

"So my friends of Italian birth, we welcome you to our shores. We need you and you need this country. We want you not only to work, but as American citizens to share with us the burdens of American citizenship; to aid us in building up this country; in making it great and powerful, but, more important than that, to make it and keep it a country in which all men shall have an equal chance and a 'square deal.'"

COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT.
Will Again Take Up Consideration of Cemetery Matters.

The Negaunee council was in session for four hours Tuesday afternoon and for nearly three hours that evening, being engaged with the consideration of cemetery matters. Prior to the meeting the aldermen looked over the new cemetery.

Another meeting of the council is to be held this evening, at 7:30 o'clock, when an effort will be made finally to dispose of all cemetery matters including the price to be charged for the lots. It is also expected that the cemetery will be formally accepted, as the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company has fulfilled its agreement.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company has prepared maps, also a form for the keeping of the cemetery accounts, and these will be turned over to the council. The most valuable features found in several cities are incorporated in the system that the company recommends to the council. A system has also been worked out for keeping track of the remains that will be transferred from one cemetery to the other. This will be done by a card system, and as each casket is reinterred an entry will be made in a book, also upon the map, showing the exact location of the grave.

C. J. BYRNS TO BE COLLECTOR

President Taft Has Issued Commission to Ishpeming Man, According to Advice Received from Him by Senator William Alden Smith Wednesday.

Appointment Closes One of Most Stubborn and Protracted Contests in Political History of the State—Office Has Been Vacant a Full Year This Month.

Jack Cremer, political writer on the Detroit Journal, wired The Mining Journal yesterday that Charles J. Byrns, of Ishpeming, had been appointed collector for the customs district of Superior, the headquarters of which is in Marquette, Senator William Alden Smith having received word to this effect Wednesday from President Taft. This bit of news will occasion no great surprise, as it was stated by Mr. Byrns at the Republican convention last week that Senator Burrows had agreed to his appointment and that he would have his commission within a few days. Mr. Byrns could not be reached last evening. He has been in Detroit this week, attending a Woodmen meeting, so it is not known whether he has yet received his commission. He will doubtless take charge of the office without delay.

The appointment of Mr. Byrns to the Marquette collectorship closes one of the most stubbornly fought and protracted contests over a fat federal office that is recorded in the political annals of the state. It is a few days over a year since the death of the late Gad Smith made the office vacant, and in the interval Mr. Byrns, D. W. Powell and E. W. MacPherran have been active candidates for the appointment. Byrns, from the beginning, had the unwavering support of Senator Smith. Byrns supported Smith for senator in the legislative session in which he was finally elected to that office. He was an original "Smith for senator" man, and gave Smith strong support before he was able to count up anywhere near enough legislators to mean his election. At no time did Senator Smith show any disposition to forget Byrns' claim on him. He announced that he would stick by the Ishpeming man to a finish.

Other Candidates Sought Burrows.

Effort in behalf of the other candidates was largely concentrated on Senator Burrows. Both of them were strongly supported. Some men prominent in the county organization and many of the influential political factors in the western end of the county endorsed Mr. Powell and did everything they could to secure his appointment. Much powerful support also rallied to Mr. MacPherran. Senator Burrows' attitude throughout was non-committal. When he visited Menominee last February all three candidates waited on him, and were received with kindly lines and civility. But it was said then, and was doubtless true, that none of them was given any definite information about the senator's attitude. One thing he made plain to Senator Smith, however. He would not agree to the appointment of Byrns. Because of his attitude on his part all senatorial patronage was held up, and has been held up the better part of a year.

It is the general view that Senator Burrows desired to avoid a showdown on the appointment of a collector until after the primaries, when he was to be a candidate for the voters' endorsement for re-election. In the primaries Messrs. Powell and MacPherran were active Burrows men, and Mr. Byrns was generally credited with keeping his hands off. The rejection of Senator Burrows in the primaries was generally accepted as assuring that Byrns would ultimately be appointed to be collector, but many people believed that Senator Burrows would hold out against him until the end of his term, in next March, when it was expected that Senator Smith and Representative Townsend would recommend his appointment.

A few weeks ago The Mining Journal printed an article in which the assertion was made that Senator Burrows was likely to join with Senator Smith in recommending Byrns without further delay. He either did this, or at least withdrew his active opposition to him, allowing his appointment to go by default. Just what brought about Senator Burrows' change of front is not definitely known here, but it is reported that the general election results and the failure of his Marquette county supporters to make good led him to decide that there was no particular reason why he should hold out longer against Byrns.

Charges Against Byrns.

Mr. Byrns, during the course of the contest, was accused, in a story printed in lower state papers, of having held up the Ironwood First National bank, now defunct, for a block of stock on advantageous terms, in return for which he was instrumental, it was said, in obtaining for the bank a large deposit of Woodmen funds. Byrns' note, covering the purchase, was found in the bank after the failure. This matter was called to President Taft's attention, and he obtained a thorough report on it from federal banking officials. His appointment of Byrns to be collector amounts to giving him a clean bill of health on this charge. Byrns has, within the past few months, settled the suits brought against him on the basis of the notes by Receiver Thilthaupt. It cost him several thousands of dollars to clean up the case.

The new collector has been prominent in political affairs in the county for the past several years, and is also one of the best known men in fraternal circles in the state, being one of the national directors of the Woodmen order. He represented his district in the legislature for a number of terms, including the session of 1907, when William Alden Smith was elected to the senate. He was one of the original Smith men, and was one of the loyal band who "whooped it up" for their candidate when he looked like a very long shot in the senatorial betting. He was widely endorsed for the appointment of collector, though, as remarked above, the Republican organization in the county opposed him. His support was in large

TWO CONVICTED; ONE ACQUITTED

Verdict Returned in Worden Lumber Company Case Late Yesterday Afternoon.

After having had the case for about four hours, the jury in the case of the United States against J. H. Worden, F. E. Duell and Alex. Person, returned a verdict late yesterday afternoon of guilty as to Worden and Person, and not guilty as to Duell. All three defendants were charged with having conspired to defraud the government out of timber lands near Dick, Chippewa county. At the first trial last July, the jury was unable to agree upon a verdict.

Briefly stated, it was the contention of the government in this case that the J. H. Worden Lumber company, of which Mr. Worden was president; Mr. Duell, bookkeeper, and Mr. Person, woods superintendent, arranged with a number of the company's employes to make entries on claims under the timber and stone act, with the understanding that, when proved up, the timber would be turned over to the lumber company. The government further contended that the lumber company had paid the expenses of the persons who made these entries.

The most damaging testimony of the prosecution was the books of the company and the statements of Mr. Palmer, formerly a bookkeeper in the employ of the company. By the books, District Attorney Covell sought to show that the expenses of the entrymen had in every instance been paid by the company, and the amounts charged to the land and stumpage account.

WATT-KELLAN NUPTIALS.

Popular Marquette Girl Becomes Bride of Portland, Ore., Man.

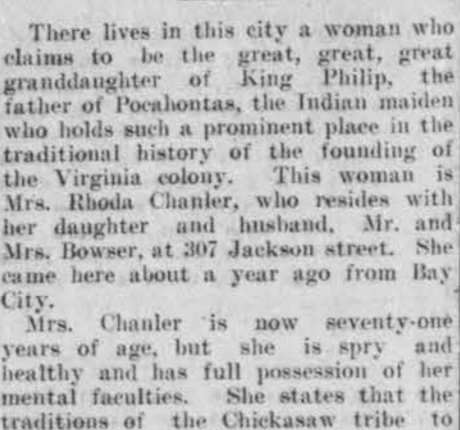

At 4:30 yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Watt, 617 North Third street, was solemnized the marriage of their daughter, Jean, to Arthur Kellan, of Portland, Ore., the Rev. J. S. Bridges officiating. In honor of the occasion the home was beautifully decorated with ground pine, ferns and cut flowers. About thirty invited guests were in attendance. At the appointed hour, while Miss Hazel Bowerton played the wedding march, the couple took their stations beneath a pretty lower in the living room and there the nuptial vows were exchanged. The couple were unattended. The bride wore white Persian lawn and carried bride's roses. Following the ceremony the bride and groom and assembled guests repaired to the dining room, where a wedding luncheon was served. Mrs. E. L. Drake and Mrs. Fred Remington presiding at the tables. Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Hosler, of Chicago; Jack Wilson, of Massey, Ont.; and Mrs. Fred Remington, of Matawan, Mich. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Harriet Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. Kellan left last evening for Portland, where they will make their home permanently, Mr. Kellan having a position with the American Express company in that city.
