

GLAD NEWS IS GIVEN OUT BY C. W. ARMOUR

Big Packer at Kansas City Says Food Prices Are Working Lower—Just When They Will Drop Is Uncertain, But a Fall Is Surely on the Way.

If the American Farmer Would Only Raise Better Hogs, the Meat Magnate Declares, the Pork Problem in the United States Soon Would Be Solved.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 11.—Charles W. Armour, head of the Armour interests here, said today that he believed the food prices had reached the climax and are now on the down grade. He said: "In general, food prices are working toward a lower basis. The cereals are getting down. The people are going to take advantage of those lower prices, and that will have a tendency to relieve the stringency in the matter of meat prices, especially pork."

Just how soon the lower prices are to come, Mr. Armour said he did not know. He declared: "But we will welcome the time, for no dealer likes to sell stuff at such high prices as pork has been bringing for several weeks. But when the packer has to pay eight, nine, ten and eleven cents for live hogs, what has he got to say about the prices?" Mr. Armour said that if the farmers would raise better hogs, the pork problem in this country would be solved. Suppose, he argued, that two pounds extra weight were put on every hog sent the market, the aggregate increase in weight would be enormous. "If the farmers were to work harder for healthy hogs, how much less pork would be condemned by the United States inspectors," he exclaimed.

AGED DEMOCRAT WOULD DON TOGA

Elkins, W. Va., Nov. 11.—The political overture by which the West Virginia legislature becomes Democratic has led to much speculation as to the candidates to succeed Nathan B. Scott, Republican, in the United States senate. Today it was announced that Henry Gassaway Davis, Democratic candidate for vice president in 1904, had entered the contest. In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Davis says he acts upon the assurance of members of the newly elected legislature and friends that they are kindly disposed to the idea.

Lewy is said to be fatally injured. Half an hour later, while the police were at the Lewy saloon, seeking trace of the robbers, the same men entered the saloon of John Dhalen, drew two revolvers and robbed the bartender and a lone customer. CAPTURE OF MONKEYS SOLVES MYSTERY OF A SERIES OF ROBBERIES

Boston, Mass., Nov. 11.—The mystery surrounding the long-continued plying of soap, bombs, bottles of perfume and other articles from the rooms of lodgers at 41 Mulberry street, Lynn was cleared up when two monkeys the property of a neighbor, Mrs. Mary Moore, were found ransacking the house. Each was in a different room when found. The one which later proved to be the more ingenious was busy washing a window, after methods of its own, which included knocking off, with the back of a hair brush, soap spots as did not yield readily to soap and water. The other was perched on a dressing case in front of a mirror applying cold cream to the tip of his nose, with one paw, and pouring cologne on his head from a bottle, held in the other paw.

Hillsboro, Ill., Nov. 11.—Five men were killed and eighteen are injured as a result of an explosion in the mine of the Shoal Creek company of Chicago at Panama, twelve miles north of here, today. Four of the men were killed outright and the fifth died from injuries later. Russel Romano, a miner, is still in the shaft. Gas which had accumulated overnight in a pocket several hundred feet from the mouth of the shaft exploded shortly before 9 o'clock this morning, tearing out the timbers and shaking the earth for miles. No serious fire followed. The men who escaped death were injured by falling slate and flames from the explosion. About three hundred were at work in and about the mine, most being outside and away from danger. The dead were: J. Wilbur, Sorento; Jacob Herman, Sorento; Verneor, Panama; one unidentified man, an Italian, and George Manchenn.

ARE MADE TO LABOR WHEN MERE BABES

Children in Austria Toil for Their Daily Bread Even Before Six Years of Age, Reports a Special Investigator of the United States Government.

Dr. Veditz Returns Appalled at the Repulsive Conditions Not Alone in Franz Josef's Empire, but Elsewhere in Europe—His Charges Sensational.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Sensational charges of repulsive conditions in child labor in continental Europe are made in a special report published in the latest issue of the bulletin of the United States bureau of labor. The report, which covers more than four hundred pages, was made by Dr. C. W. A. Veditz, a professor of sociology in George Washington University, who made a special investigation in Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Switzerland and Italy. The investigator gathered all his data from official records and sources of information.

Child labor in Belgium is not paid at all; children in Austria begin work before six years of age; child laborers in France drilled to disappear through trap doors at the approach of inspectors, and a general indifferent enforcement of the child labor laws through which employers find it more profitable to pay the nominal fine imposed than to obey the regulations, are some of the conditions described in the report. The general conclusion is that child labor laws abroad are in many essential respects poorly enforced and that the penalties imposed for violations are ridiculously small, affording no deterrent value. The report gives data indicating that in most countries it would be a physical impossibility for the inspectors to do more than a fractional part of their work or to do that part thoroughly; and that the courts are astoundingly lenient with offenders against labor laws.

MONUMENT ERECTED TO GEN. JAS. SHIELDS

Soldier in Two Wars, Senator from Three States, to Be Honored Today.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 11.—The United States government's monument over the grave of Brigadier General James Shields at Carrollton, Carroll county, Mo., will be dedicated tomorrow. Present in honor of St. Mary's cemetery will be the governor of at least three states and their staffs, churchmen, veterans of the Union and Confederate armies, statesmen and men conspicuous in civil and military life, but above all this impressive assembly will stand Mrs. Mary Shields, the widow of the general, who is now in her seventy-fifth year and lives with her son, Dr. Daniel F. Shields, in New York city.

SHOCKING CONDITIONS IN AUSTRIA

In Austria, only one-fourth of the child workers are employed in establishments that are inspected annually. The force is so inadequate that it would take fifty-nine years to visit every establishment subject to the labor laws. The majority of the smaller concerns are never visited. Child labor in Austria is not regulated in workshops, in household industries or in commercial establishments. Hence the factory laws, so far as they have reduced child labor at all, have simply driven it out of the factories into the homes of the workers, into small workshops and into establishments lying outside the scope of the labor laws.

A recent official investigation disclosed the fact that about half of the children began work before they were eight years of age, while a very large number began before they were six years old. Their compensation varied all the way from four and certain articles of clothing, to fourteen dollars a year for those in agricultural occupations. A large proportion received wages of fifty cents to a dollar and fifty cents a month. Those employed in saloons and bowling alleys usually averaged four cents an hour plus free beer, sometimes left over by guests.

BELEM LAW DISREGARDED

In Belgium much of the recently enacted labor legislation is attributed to a political coalition of the catholics with the socialists. The Belgium labor law provides that ignorance of the law is a sufficient defense of proved violations. Many violations are entirely escape detection the report says. In the case of those visited are visited only once a year. Only a fractional part of the cases of detected violations are brought to trial and in these cases the fines imposed average about one dollar. Specific instances are quoted in which employers frankly declare their much despised violation of the law and pay the fines than to comply with it.

One-fourth of the child laborers in Belgium under sixteen years of age either get no money wages at all or earn less than ten cents a day; more than one half of them receive between ten and twenty-nine cents a day; and less than one-fifth receive thirty cents or more. Large numbers of children under sixteen years of age and women are employed in the manufacture of sexual appliances.

In France, the investigator says, the enactment of new labor laws has proceeded much more rapidly than provisions for their enforcement. If every establishment subject to the laws were to be inspected once a year that would mean each inspector would have to visit 4,295 concerns. At the end of 1908 there were still 173,136 establishments subject to the law that had never been visited even once by an inspector. In fact, in 1908 alone 383,873 establishments were not visited.

Through the French law provides that working children must be subjected to a physical examination if the work they do is apt to prove injurious to their health or their physical development, the provision is admitted by the inspectors to be wholly illusory. Some of the glass works go so far as to drill the child laborers in quickly disappearing through trap doors to avoid detection, and the employers offer prizes for the children most agile in that performance.

Among the most frequent and most flagrant violators of the rules governing child labor are religious and charitable institutions, such as orphanages, says the report, in which the children usually get no wages for their labor, are worked overtime and under conditions violating not only the law but the ordinary rules of hygiene, and in which laborable provision is frequently made for their education.

UNCLE SAMUEL BREAKS UP ONE GREEDY TRUST

Following Its Prosecution by the Government, a Window Glass Combine with Factories in More Than a Score of States Is to Be Dissolved Forthwith.

It Is Said to Have Boosted Prices 70 Per Cent.—Officers and Directors Are Haled Into Court at Pittsburg and Are Fined by Judge James S. Young.

Pittsburg, Nov. 11.—Fifteen officers and directors of the Imperial Window Glass company pleaded nolle prosequere before Judge James S. Young in the United States district court, here today of violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, and each was fined $500. At the same time a fine of $2,500 was imposed upon the corporation itself, with costs. Among those fined are Myron L. Case, president; J. G. Sayre, secretary, and M. J. Healy, vice president.

The dissolution of the combine by which the government alleged that a monopoly in hand-blown window glass had been established and an increase in price from 80 to 70 per cent. had been effected will follow immediately, it was announced by the attorneys for the company.

The court scored the defendants, "You are not to draw the conclusion," said Judge Young, "from the fact that these fines are light that there are not such cases where imprisonment should be penalty." The court had, he said, taken into consideration that the indicted directors had assisted the government in its investigation and had not prosecuted business after their demurrer was denied the 1st of October. The company, it was alleged, controlled the product of glass factories in more than a score of states.

PACKERS PROTEST AGAINST JUDGE LANDIS

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Judge Keneaw Mountain Landis, of the United States district court, author of the famous $29,000 fine against the Standard Oil, is not desired by the indicted members of the so-called "beef trust" to preside over their trial on the charge of conspiracy in restraint of trade. Judge Landis was patently hearing a minor cause this afternoon when the counsel for the packers entered and demanded a change of venue. The petition says that Judge Landis investigated similar charges against the same packers as special investigator upon appointment by Judson Harmon, then attorney general of the United States, and thus he is not qualified to sit as judge in the present case. Judge Landis simply said he would hear the arguments Wednesday.

Kardoff told the detectives that he received three letters from Lilljohn this afternoon. One, written in Hungarian, was addressed to the Standard Oil chief and contained a demand for $50,000. The others were addressed to Kardoff and directed him to translate and forward the message to Mr. Rockefeller under threat of death.

BRITAIN TO HAVE AN EARLY ELECTION

Campaign Begins Already, With Speeches in All Parts of the Country.

London, Nov. 11.—An early general election having been assured, the question now agitating the country is whether it will take place in December or January, Premier Asquith, who must decide the question, thus far has kept his own counsel. He is consulting in regard to the election with the lord Chamberlain and Mr. George at Sandringham.

It is believed the cabinet has decided not to carry on any further work with parliament without such guarantee as would insure success to the government's policy. Ordinarily this resolution on the veto power at the house of lords, which passed the commons at the last session, would be discussed in the upper chamber and the government would await its rejection before taking action. But the refusal of the constitutional conference to accept the government's compromise makes the discussion of the veto resolution useless, and the opinion prevails that the government either must resign or advise the dissolution of the parliament. The trend of the feeling in Liberal circles favors an immediate election. It is generally considered that this would be a wise course for the Liberals, as they would stand an excellent chance of securing an increased majority in the commons.

The campaign began tonight with speeches in all parts of the country, all kinds of organization getting on their warpath. The suffragists have the cry, "Down with veto and the prime minister." The Unionists will fight on the home rule issue. This is clearly indicated by the newspapers, one of which devotes practically the whole of its issue today to the return of John Redmond, using headlines as "Dictator with dollars," "American gold." Another newspaper advises the English constituents that "Redmond with $200,000 is about to appear in this country for the work of tearing down the British constitution with American money."

MEXICANS WRECK A U. S. CONSULATE

Mob Gets Busy in a Border Town—Capital City Calm—Bull Fights Forbidden.

Mexico City, Nov. 11.—According to private telegrams received here this afternoon the American consulate at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, state of Coahuila and just across the border from Eagle Pass, was wrecked by a mob of Mexicans last night. The message stated that no one was injured.

In an interview tonight concerning the recent disturbances in this city, Minister of Foreign Relations Enrique C. Cuel said that the Mexican government had communicated to Washington its profound regret it felt for the acts of violence committed and had given assurance that those responsible would be dealt with. He said he did not believe there was any danger of a rupture of the friendly relations between the two countries. To guard against a possible repetition of the anti-American rioting, the government today issued an order forbidding bull fights on Sunday next. Quiet prevailed today.

The National Medical school, the students of which made the first demonstration which led to the rioting, was temporarily closed today by the authorities. A number of students who were arrested are still in custody. Their comrades are raising funds for their defense.

U. S. FLAG BURNED AT GUADALAJARA

Guadalajara, Mex., Nov. 11.—In the course of the anti-American demonstrations in this city last night an American flag was burned, amid cries of "Death to the Gringos." A conservative estimate today placed the damage to the property of Americans at from $5,000 to $10,000. The rioters were out until about midnight. In spite of the efforts which are being made by the government to preserve order, a spirit of unrest prevailed today. Renewed violence was feared.

Glass doors and windows in the homes of C. N. Strotz, W. L. Kline, Rev. R. S. Elliott, C. E. Courthers and Dr. W. C. Swayzee, in the American colony residence section, were demolished. The plate glass fronts in a dozen American business houses were smashed. C. E. Myers, of Joplin, Mo., and Cliff Munger, of York, Pa., railroad employees, were beaten by rioters but were not seriously injured.

AMERICAN CITIZENS CAUTIONED

Washington, Nov. 11.—The American citizens in Mexico have been cautioned by United States Ambassador H. L. Wilson to refrain from acts of violence, as he is convinced that the Mexican government is exerting its best efforts to suppress the anti-American riots. Mr. Wilson telegraphed today that he anticipated no further violence and that the American embassy was being carefully protected. He reported the arrests of fifty-one men for acts of disorder. Every effort is being made to protect Mexican citizens in Texas.

STRIKE OF THE EXPRESSMEN TO CONTINUE

Jersey City Men Reject the Agreement and Put the Situation Back to the Starting Point—Mayor Gaynor, Angry, Will Temporarily No Longer.

Fight of the Chicago Garment Workers Is Marked by a Serious Incident When the Money Allowances Are Disbursed—Bad Panic Narrowly Averted.

New York, Nov. 11.—The striking express drivers and helpers at Jersey City nullified this afternoon the agreement reached early this morning between the New York strikers and the trans-continental express companies. As that agreement was conditioned upon the consent of the Jersey men to return to work, and they have refused, the situation reverts to the position it occupied before Mayor Gaynor took a hand in the negotiations, with the exception that the mayor is angry and has resolved to temporize no longer. The chauffeurs are fighting their own battle, and it promises to be a bitter one. Five hundred cab drivers went out to aid them today. All vow that they will never go back until the union is recognized.

HEAVY SNOWFALL IN NORTHERN GERMANY

River Rhine Is Flooding Cities—French Fishermen Are Victims of Gale.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—A heavy snow storm today ushered in winter throughout northern Germany. Since noon, snow had been falling here, but it is the soft variety and has left the streets covered with slush. The telephone and telegraph wires are all down in the north and also those communicating with Bremen. Direct telegraph connection with England is interrupted and the horse today was able to communicate with London only by means of telephone by way of France.

FLOODS IN THE RHINE VALLEY

Cologne, Germany, Nov. 11.—The river Rhine here is seventeen and half feet above its mean level tonight and is still rising. Mangling reports of the river at eighteen feet, and at Moselle it has reached almost twenty-four feet. At Metz the river is the highest it has been for years. The lower parts of that city are flooded, as are those of a number of towns below Metz. Up stream the Rhine is reported falling.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Minnesota, it is understood here, will request the permission of the supreme court of the United States to institute a suit against Wisconsin in order to determine the boundary line between the two states in Lake Pepin. The suit is contemplated to avoid conflicts over the enforcement of the fishing regulations on the lake, because of uncertainty as to the boundary.

CONCERNING THE COLONEL.
 The Houghton Gazette is one of the newspapers that has been giving over a large share of the space it appropriates for its editorial columns to wholehearted gloating at what it conceives to be the final repudiation of the colonel. Wit-ness:

"Vice President Sherman overplayed his hand in Oneida and Herkimer counties, the twenty-seventh New York congressional district. He played it so strong that even his own choice to be his successor, Representative Millington, was defeated by a Democrat."—Marquette Journal.

And former President Roosevelt overplayed his hand in that county out in Iowa where a man named Grilk, his own choice for congress, was beaten by a Democrat; in his own precinct of Oyster Bay, which gave Dix, the Democrat, a substantial majority; and in the majority of the counties in the state of Indiana where his own choice, senator, Beveridge, is beaten to a frazzle by the Democrats; and in many counties in the state of New York where even his own choice, Mr. Stimson, was defeated by a Democrat.

There are, in the first place, two important misstatements in the Gazette's comment. Grilk was not the colonel's "own choice for congress." He was the choice of a majority of the Republican electors of his Iowa district who were at the trouble to go to the polls on primary day. The colonel had no more to do with Grilk's nomination than the Gazette had. As a good Republican he seized an opportunity offered by a trip to Iowa to fill a speaking engagement to make a few speeches for him, because he was realized to be in serious danger. Grilk was defeated, and if the Gazette chooses to be absurd enough to assume that it was because of these speeches, that's one of the privileges that freedom of thought and expression in this country gives it.

"His own choice for senator, Beveridge" is a man who has completed fourteen years of service as a representative in the house and senate from the state of Indiana. If the Gazette will scratch its head and try to remember, it will recall that in 1908, when President Taft was elected, Indiana elected a Democratic legislature, which, very soon after convening, unseated former Senator Hemenway and replaced him by a Democrat. During the past two years the excellent administration of Governor Marshall has greatly strengthened the Democrats in the state. Senator Beveridge plunged in against terrific odds, and with the severe handicap of slimly veiled treachery on the part of Hemenway and Watson and other "standpaters," to try to save his seat for himself and his party. The colonel gave him the help of a day's scheming, but it seems the colonel's twenty-four hours in Indiana was not sufficient to redeem for the Republicans, in a year of a Democratic landslide, a state that had gone Democratic and elected a Democratic senator in a year that President Taft swept the country by unprecedented majorities. Does the Gazette cherish the delusion that it has made a point?

Now relative to Vice President Sherman. The treachery of his friends, with him looking complacently on, in his old congressional district is notorious. The main object of this treachery was to secure the defeat of Senator Davenport and to help in the elaborate effort to discredit Roosevelt by defeating Stimson. But it went a great deal farther and brought about the defeat of Sherman's own man, Millington. While Mr. Sherman was conniving at the slaughter of Republican candidates the colonel was out doing his best for the Republican ticket. Watch the political future of this Sherman gentleman, at the same time you keep an eye on the colonel.

We commend to the Gazette's careful attention a few paragraphs we herewith print from the Boston Transcript's editorial comment on the election results. Perhaps the opinion of one of the most conservative and sane New England newspapers will help restore to its mental equilibrium:

Michigan shows up finely for the Republicans. Minnesota elects a Republican governor and sends to congress the insurgent who defeated James Tawney, the standpatier, for the nomination. In Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas the insurgents were triumphant at the primaries and are victors at the election. The same is largely true of other Western states. They were all caught in the Democratic tidal wave, but insurgency saved them from complete overwhelming. In such far western states as Wyoming and Colorado, where the Old Guard controlled, Republicans lost most heavily. This fair showing for the insurgents does not mean that even if all Republican candidates for Congress had been insurgents they would have won, for there is no stomping a tide once it sets in. But it does show the temper of the Republican masses, and it is a clear warning against any further high tariff legislation. The Republican party is still a protection party and it does not admit that the Payne tariff act had an appreciable direct effect upon the increase in the cost of living, but it was a step in the wrong direction, some of its schedules were illogical and inadmissibly high, and it is these that the voters looked at most and not at the lower schedules or the excellent provisions for a Tariff Commission, which they probably regarded as only academic. It was the height of political shortsightedness to expect anything else than resentment against this bill. President Taft made a serious, if not fatal, blunder in throwing himself in his Winona speech so unreservedly on the side of the new law, and increased the hurt by his espousal of Mr. Cannon and Mr. Aldrich and progressive policies upon the insurgent element whom later he had to hail publicly as worthy his confidence and patronage.

But there is no cause to feel dismay at the outlook for 1912. A reversal that carries the House by only forty-two or forty-four is not a very great calamity. It could almost be called merely a temporary check. The party is still by all odds the only one with a constructive leadership and if it unites its discordant elements in the interest of progressive policies and throws off the old Cannon handicaps there need be no fear of its success in 1912. But any attempt to bring back this old regime by interpreting the defeat in New York and Ohio as a rebuke to the constructive, enlightened policies of President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt can only result in another disaster two years hence, much more sweeping than that of this week.

URGE HARMON FOR SENATE.
 There are many friends of Governor Harmon, of Ohio, who are urging him to become a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Dick. They believe that by getting himself elected to the senate he will best conserve the extraordinary popularity that has thrice honored him by electing him governor. They are apprehensive that the Democrats will make mistakes in Ohio, and they would spare Governor Harmon any of the blame that would attach to him if he were compelled to approve measures passed by his party that might alienate independent voters, or to accept the repeal of the county option law, which the Democratic legislature is expected to bring about.

The liquor question has been a live one in Ohio for several years past. The liquor and anti-saloon interests have waged some hot fights, and the feeling between them is still intense. Legislation affecting the liquor laws is fraught with danger to any man who has anything to do with it. What is satisfactory to one faction of course intensely displeases the other. Governor Harmon's friends are doubtless right in holding that there is a certain menace for him in the situation, for any legislature, be it Republican or Democratic, is likely to play ducks and drakes with the plans of an ambitious governor.

Yet we venture the prediction that Governor Harmon will repudiate the suggestion that he go to the senate, and will announce that he has no other intention than meeting the responsibility which the people have called on him to face. There would be a certain confession of weakness in dodging it that would not add to his prestige. And if the responsibility has its dangers, it also has its opportunities. With a Democratic legislature fairly amenable to his suggestions, Governor Harmon has an instrument for constructive legislation that will enable him, if he is equal to the task, to confirm the high opinion that the state now holds of him. If Governor Harmon makes the most of his opportunities he should bring his term to a close in a stronger position than he has ever before occupied in the state, and in the nation, too.

"DRYS" SUFFER REVERSES.
 The "drys," as well as the Republicans, have to search closely to find crumbs of comfort in the week's elections. They suffered a number of serious reverses, compared with which their victories were not important. They suffered their worst defeat in Missouri, where they considered that an "off" year was the best time to bring up the prohibition question. In that state prohibition was defeated by 175,000 votes, at least. Idaho was another state where the "personal liberty" forces scored. There Governor Brady, an out and out prohibitionist, running on the Republican ticket, was defeated by a considerable majority. He was scratched badly by the voters, and the same course was followed in reference to candidates for the legislature known to be friendly to the "dry" movement. The legislature will be unfriendly to prohibition. In Utah the Democrats advocated prohibition, and were decisively defeated, the liquor issue being said to have played an important part in the outcome. The returns from Oregon indicate that that state will return to the licensed liquor traffic. In Oklahoma the "drys" defeated the proposed amendment to the constitution providing for local option in place of state-wide prohibition. The "drys" also made gains in Washington where they carried two cities and a number of towns. In Indiana the Democratic platform pledges the repeal of the county option law and the substitution for it of a law providing for city, ward and rural township option units, which is a "wet" measure. The "personal liberty" forces also claim gains in Ohio. The liquor issue played little or no part in the Michigan campaign. The prohibition candidate for governor at the prohibition election, Osborne and Mr. Hemans alike. There was some criticism directed against Mr. Ross, candidate for lieutenant governor, because it was charged that his nomination was secured by the liquor interests, but he was not singled out for a vigorous fight and the returns indicate that he ran well up with the candidates for the other minor state offices. The "drys" will have a goodly representation in the legislature, but there is little doubt that the "wets" will control. While the matter has not as yet been thoroughly canvassed, the probabilities are, for there will be no very sweeping changes in the present laws relating to the liquor traffic.

The Grand Rapids Herald doubts whether Speaker Campbell's friends will be able to head off Representative Baker from the speaker's chair of the next house of representatives. Their first plan was to turn to Representative Woodruff as a candidate to pit against Baker, but study of the returns showed that Woodruff had met the same fate as Campbell, defeat by a Democrat. They have discussed Representative Warner, joint author of the Warner-Crampton law, but it is said that Warner would have the violent opposition of the "drys." It is likely that the effort to defeat Representative Baker will peter out, as he has a lot of votes already pledged and is persona grata to the incoming administration. Representative Baker is certainly the best bet.

Out of the majority of the last Illinois legislature that brought about the election of Senator Lorimer, but forty-four men will have seats in the legislature elected Tuesday. Many of the Lorimer legislators took counsel with caution and decided not to seek renominations. A few of them were defeated at the polls. Several more were elected for whom defeat would have been a righteous portion, including Lee O'Neil Browne and Senator Broderick. The senate will be Republican and the house Democratic. Neither Governor Deneen nor any one else will be able to command the situation, and the outlook is good for even a worse "cat and dog" time than was had when the Illinois solons last gathered at Springfield.

Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, is said to be one of a number of Democrats who favor the restoration of the Cannon rules and who will be prepared to make a demonstration to that end in the Democratic caucus. It is men like Representative Fitzgerald on whom the Republicans are counting to improve the 1912 outlook for them during the next two years. More power to 'em.

It was farsighted in President Taft to arrange for that hike to Panama for a date immediately on the heels of the election. There are moments when men want to be alone, and it is much more pleasant to be alone spinning over the high seas on a first-class war vessel, with larner well stocked, than to be cooped up at Oyster Bay, as the colonel is during his period of introspection and digestion of the election returns. After all, there is some advantage in being president, even with a Democratic house in prospect.

Party leaders signally fail to agree on what hit the G. O. P. R. H. Shields, of Houghton, formerly chairman of the Houghton county Republican committee, says it was the colonel, whereas Representative Lloyd, chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, says it was the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and the high cost of living. Take your choice, gentle reader.

P. Knott Owens wouldn't admit his defeat until the last dog was hung, but he finally had to come to it, like dozens upon dozens of other disappointed candidates throughout the state. Then he made the time honored remark that he would retire to the consolations of his law office, with the observation that his heart was in the law, anyway. Isn't it marvelous, the extent to which our candidates for office are recruited from among the lawyers?

Former Mayor Rose, of Milwaukee, a few days ago indignantly denied a report that he was shortly to be married to an actress. However, the marriage occurred, according to schedule, at Paw Paw. Many people who don't like Mayor Rose as a "wet" orator will insist that it is a fit and proper union, for they have long insisted that Mayor Rose, himself, is a good deal of an actor.

The Menominee Republicans made a clean sweep with their county ticket this week, something unusual in Menominee, where the Democrats have, for fourteen years, been electing their share of the county officers. But the Republicans got them on the run this year, and kept them moving. The vote on sheriff was close, but the Republican candidate managed to nose out his opponent.

Chase S. Osborn has taken to the woods and left no postoffice address. He plans an extended rest, during which talk of politics or state affairs will be strictly tabooed. He got through the campaign in good order, but the strain was great, and a period of recuperation will not come amiss.

Escanaba has captured the upper peninsula high school football championship. Ishpeming defaulted the deciding game, because its team was in no condition to play. Here's a little consolation for Escanaba for that upper peninsula baseball championship it failed to win from Negaunee.

Roosevelt is defeated in New York—and is a bigger man than he could possibly have been in victory, remarks the Grand Rapids Herald. If he was ever threatened with the presidency, he is threatened with it now.

Senator Depey, of New York, sadly lacks originality. He must know that three days after election the Democratic landslide was expected by everybody.

Harvard defeated Cornell by a score of 27 to 5. Cornell plays Chicago today. It's an important game for Cornell. It's even more important for Chicago.

ECZEMA TOTALLY COVERED HIS FACE
 When a Baby—Hair All Came Out—Always Scratching—Mother Got Cuticura and He was Cured After 3 Years of Disease.

"My son was about four months old when he was taken with dreadful eczema. I had four different doctors but they could not help him. The hair all came out and his face was totally covered. His eyes were shut and we thought he would go blind. His limbs and body were also affected. He was always scratching; I had to keep his little hands tied down and he seemed to have a great deal of pain. We did not know what to do. I used to get sick handling him, for the way the corruption was always running. But I got some Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and in a week or ten days I could see the eruption drying up and before long he was cured, after about three years of the terrible disease. Now he is nineteen years old and has not a sign of the old trouble. You see I learned to save three-quarters of the doctors' bills by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I will recommend either to any one and advise them to use them and receive a safe, speedy cure. Mrs. Catherine Mocklin, Dock St., Royalton, Pa., Feb. 21, 1910."

Cuticura is the most economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring afflictions of the skin of infants, children and adults. A single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient.

A LAUGH OR TWO.
 Fairly Well-Bred.

He was a beautiful fox terrier pup, and he did not appear to be very happy. He was fastened up near a pile of luggage on the northward-bound boat, and already the sympathetic passenger had given him half her tea in a saucer. The puppy was protesting that he wanted more when a little boy strolled up and regarded the dog with an evident air of proprietorship.

"I suppose," said the sympathetic passenger, groping for something to say, "he's a very well-bred dog?"

"Well," said the little boy, hopefully, "he's not really well-bred yet, but we hope he will be when we've finished teaching him."—London Chronicle.

The Dominant Note.
 The late John G. Carlisle, said a member of the Manhattan club, "was very fond of music, and it annoyed him immensely at the opera to see the inattention of the fashionable part of the audience."

"One night I found him supping here, and asked him where he'd been."

"I've been to the opera," he replied.

"What did you hear?" said I.

"I heard," said Mr. Carlisle, "that the Van Vans are going to get a divorce, young Knickerbocker-Smith has married a London barmaid, and Mrs. J. W. Hardup-Hardup is gradually pawing all her jewels."—Washington Star.

Just Stood Pat.
 Talk about two top fires, a Canadian man was aroused by his wife the other night, who said she thought a burglar was in the house and wanted papa to go downstairs and chase him. Papa promptly declined.

"What's the matter?" scornfully asked his wife, "are you afraid?"

"No," replied the old man, replacing his head upon the pillow. "But while I'm downstairs chasing the burglar you'll be going through my clothes, so it's about six in one and a half dozen in the other."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Lesson in Banking.
 In the drawing room of a Washington limited the conversation turned on the way interest mounts up.

"It's like this," said R. Brown, of the American Surety company. "The leading negroes of a Georgia town started a bank and invited persons of their race to become customers. One day a dandy, with a show on down at the heels, a gallus over one shoulder, and a cotton shirt, showed up at the bank."

"See here," he said, "I want mah ten dollars."

"Who is yuh?" asked the cashier.

"Yuh name's Jim Johnson, an' I wants dat ten dollars."

"Yuh ain't got no money in his here bank," said the cashier, after looking over the books.

"Yes, I has," insisted the visitor. "I put ten dollars in here six months ago."

"Why, man, yuh shure is foolish. De intrist done eat dat up long er go."

HEALTHY PUNISHMENT.
 The cards have been shuffled and we've had a new deal. The results in New York, in New Jersey, in Massachusetts, in Ohio and in the forty congressional districts where Republican representatives lost their seats, have one significance in common. Not even the tremendous personal popularity of Colonel Roosevelt could save the Republican party from rebuke. Not even he could condone the offenses of the Cannon-Payne-Aldrich regime. Only the nomination of insurgent Republicans, as in Kansas, in Nebraska, in New Hampshire, in Wisconsin and in Minnesota served to redeem Republicanism in those states from the condition of public disfavor in which it had fallen.

Where progressive Republicans have not replaced the reactionaries in congress, Democrats say, to the number of forty. We will have a Democratic congress for the first time in sixteen years, Democratic, at least, in the lower house. And what does this portend? Tariff revision downward, reciprocity, overtures with Canada, and the repudiation of Ballinger, by congress. And we are assured an adequate tariff commission. Provided, always, that President Taft and the senate will work in harmony with the new house majority. The superannuation of Cannon, the election of Champ Clark to the speakership, these are froggone conclusions. The sadly familiar disturbances which the Wall street interests have been able to produce with a view to visiting upon the nation a penalty for the election of a Democratic congress, and to rebuking the people for daring to interfere with the vested tariff privileges may again be threatened, but the fact that the senate and the executive are still Republican will insure an adequate balance. There is not likely to be a disturbance. Indeed, there may be a deadlock. The grim necessity that now confronts the president and the senate to accomplish some reformative and constructive legislation, if they would save the remnants, should work for harmony in coming legislation and prevent a deadlock.

Vague forecasts of 1912 are indicated by the results of Tuesday. True, it is an off-year. The presidential election brings out the rock-ribbed Republican vote that stayed at home on Tuesday. The voters knew that the executive would still be Republican, and the senate. They shrank from the party safely. Will they have a return of loyalty in 1912? Much depends upon the attitude of the administration within the next two years. Certain it is that the Democrats here have taken new hope and the fight two years hence will be a lively one.—Detroit News.

City Brevities

Today's weather: Snow flurries Saturday; stationary temperature. Yesterday's temperature: Seven a. m. 30 degrees; noon, 34; 7 p. m. 34. Maximum, 35 degrees; minimum, 24.

Mrs. Caroline Burt left last evening to visit in Chicago.

Miss Florence Archambeau has gone to Chicago, to spend two weeks with relatives and friends.

The Superior orchestra will give the usual Saturday night dance at Fraternity Hall this evening.

The Ladies' auxiliary to the A. O. H. will give a social hop in Bureau's Hall Tuesday night, Nov. 22.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kellogg, 126 West Ridge street, Wednesday afternoon, a daughter.

South Shore locomotives are being equipped with snow plows as rapidly as possible at the shops in this city.

Miss Mary Annala, of Negaunee, was adjudged insane in probate court yesterday and committed to the Newberry asylum.

Mr. and Mrs. Con Lowney, of Missoula, Mont., are visiting with his sister, Mrs. Peter O'Connell, Fisher street, who is very ill.

No league games were bowled at the downtown alleys last evening, owing to so many players desiring to take in Howe's moving pictures.

Herring fishing this week has been limited, because of the rough weather, there being several days when the waves were so high that the tugs could not go out to lift their nets. A few were brought in yesterday, which found a ready sale in this city.

Gilbert, aged three months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stensrud, died yesterday at the family home, on South Front street. The funeral will be private and will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from St. Peter's cathedral, with interment in Holy Cross cemetery.

Motorist Off to Detroit—Brett Read accompanied by Fred Schulthies, left yesterday in Mr. Read's Chalmers Detroit car for Detroit, by way of Iron Mountain and Chicago. The heavy snow must have made hard going between here and Iron Mountain, but they expected to reach that city last evening. Mr. Read will be employed in the Chalmers-Detroit factory this winter.

First Day of Sleighing—The snow fall of Thursday night was sufficient to make excellent sleighing in Marquette yesterday, and sleighs were discarded for the first time this fall. The song of the sleighbells was heard everywhere and the youngsters had a gala day. Sleighbells have come earlier than for several years past and there is much speculation as to whether the winter and snow has come to stay.

Plant Nearly Finished—The water sterilization plant has been in process of construction for several months at the pumping station, is nearing completion and will be ready for use in about two weeks. All of the concrete work has been done and Lipsett & Sinclair, the contractors, are now waiting for it to be hauled to put on the finishing touches. The piping will be done by the Lake Shore Engine works. When the plant is completed, it will be used to purify the city water by the hypochlorite of lime treatment.

Deer Being Brought In—Several fine deer were brought in yesterday by local hunters, and particularly good luck, Louis Roldinger sent down two on the Marquette & Southeastern train from Big Bay, which were consigned to Wm. Fassbender; Frank Jenks sent in two from Champion where he is camping with H. J. Waterbury, Dr. T. M. Cunningham and Jacob Werner; Dr. James came home from Onota with two, one of which was a 250 pound buck, and several others were brought into the city. The light fall of snow each day obliterates all but fresh tracks and makes conditions for hunting unusually favorable.

Skating Rink Needed—Now that winter weather is in sight, if it has not actually come, there is the annual cry for a skating rink in this city. Two winters ago, the Cleveland Cliffs railroad operated a skating rink in the building now occupied by the Gannon Grocery company, but since then there has been no place to skate except on the bay, which is very rarely frozen over to make good skating. There seems to be no building in the city suitable for an indoor rink, and recent attempts to maintain an outdoor rink have not materialized. If a rink were established in a central location, it undoubtedly would be well patronized.

PARIS FASHION STORE IS TO BE REMODELED

Entire New Front to Be Put in Shortly and Interior Will Be Overhauled.

Extensive improvements are about to be undertaken at the Paris Fashion, on South Front street, which, when completed, will greatly improve the outer and inner appearance of this store, as well as its facilities for handling its steadily increasing trade. Foremost among these improvements will be an entirely new and modern front, contract for which was let to Lipsett & Sinclair this week. The present show windows will be removed and the new ones will be built on a level with the floor of the store. They will also be made five feet deeper than at present, and the vestibule will be enlarged to correspond. Plate glass windows of the finest kind will be installed, both on the fronts and on the sides facing the vestibule or entrance. The newwork will be finished in a most beautiful and artistic style, and the front, when completed, will be one of the largest and most modern in the city.

Arrangements have been made for the installation of an electric sign to be suspended over the sidewalk in front of the store, which as well as the new "Paris Fashion" good display either from the north or south along Front street. This sign will contain 216 incandescent lamps and will be a pretentious and beautiful innovation.

But there is to be improvement within the store just as well as without. Prism glass across the top of the front windows will make the store much lighter. The cases and shelves will be remodeled and repainted and varnished, which will make it possible to take care of customers' wants more satisfactorily, as well as improve the general appearance of the store. A balcony will be built across the rear of the store, over the present fitting room and office, and this balcony will be used as an alteration room. The fitting room on the ground floor will be considerably enlarged and equipped with many conveniences that are not now possible. The firm has just executed a ten-year lease on the building. S. D. Cohen, the manager, has been in Milwaukee this week, buying the latest things in store furnishings.

In order that stock may be reduced while these improvements are being made, Mr. Cohen announces that a cut price sale of everything in the store will be inaugurated next Wednesday. Bills giving full details of this sale will be distributed within a few days. The Paris Fashion began business in Marquette last January, and since that time the firm has enjoyed a steadily increasing trade, and the present necessity of improving facilities for handling its business, is the best evidence that the store is making good with Marquette county people.

WANT CIVIL SERVICE RETIREMENT BILL

Local Federal Employees Interested in Action of Coming Congress on This Subject.

Civil service employees in all parts of the country, including those in this city, will follow the proceedings of the coming session of congress closely, as it is expected that some kind of a retirement bill affecting civil service employees will be passed. Three bills providing for civil service retirement were introduced in congress at the last session but none of them has been acted upon.

All of these bills provide for the retirement of civil service employees who have reached the age of sixty-five with part pay the remainder of their lives, but differ in the manner in which this pension fund shall be provided. The Golden bill, which is generally favored by Marquette men and women affected, provides for a straight pension for retired employees to be paid by the government, the amount depending upon the length of active service in governmental employ. Under the Golden bill, all retired employees who have been in the service twenty-five years or over would receive an annuity equal to 75 per cent. of their salary at the time of retirement; those who have served from twenty to twenty-five years, 50 per cent. of their salary; from ten to twenty years, 40 per cent., and from five to ten years, 25 per cent. The bill also provides for retirement with pay in case of total disability, irrespective of age.

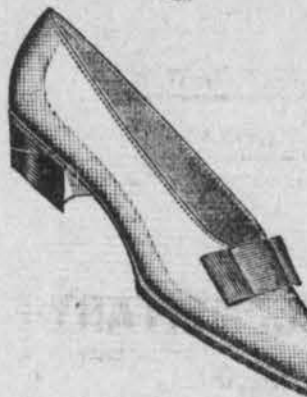

The Gillette bill provides that the employees themselves should bear the burden of pensioning superannuated employees. The author proposes to deduct a certain amount from every employee's monthly salary, on which the government would pay 3 1/2 per cent. interest, and this amount so collected would be paid to the employee as an annuity, when he reached the retirement age. The Austin bill provides that part of the pension shall be paid by the government and part by the employees under the same general plan as the Gillette bill.

Nearly all of the civil service employees in Washington and many of those elsewhere are members of the United States Civil Service Retirement association, the object of which is the passage of a retirement bill by congress. Just now this association appears to be in a squabble, part of the employees favoring the Golden bill and part the Gillette bill, while some prefer the Austin bill to either of the others. The Golden bill, however, has received the official stamp of approval by the association though certain factions are fighting against it. Marquette civil service employees are very much interested in this project and are doing all they can to boost the passage of the Golden bill at the coming session of congress. Federal departments in the city under civil service are the postoffice clerks, land office, weather bureau, life saving service, light house service, mail clerks and some of the customs service employees.

CITY TREASURER TO COLLECT CURB BILLS

List of Accounts Against Property Owners Approved by the Council.

The council passed a resolution Wednesday evening instructing the city recorder to prepare a list of the various curbs constructed at the expense of the city during the season recently closed and to present it to the city treasurer, who is authorized to collect the amounts charged against the various properties. The recorder is also to send a notice to each of the property owners, setting forth the nature of the improvement and the amount they are to pay the city treasurer.

Wednesday night a list including the work completed toward the close of the season on High street, from Third to Fourth street; on Third from Vine to Empire; on Empire, from third to Fifth, and on Oak, from High to Empire, was presented. The board presented affidavits from William Trebilcock and Alex Swanson & Son, who did the work, certifying to the number of feet put in at each property. The names of the property owners included in the board's report adopted Wednesday evening, together with the number of feet of curb constructed and the cost of the same, are as follows:

CALIFORNIAN MAY SHIP FRUIT DIRECT

Former Negaunee Man Has Made A Success of Fruit Farming in Western Country.

Charles Perrino, a former resident who is visiting in Negaunee, is combining business with pleasure. Mr. Perrino owns and conducts a fruit farm at Marysville, Cal., where he has been located for the past ten years. Mr. Perrino's principal object in making his trip at this time is to try to establish a market in this region for his products. He is an extensive raiser of peaches, figs and raisin fruit. He brought along several boxes of seedless raisins raised on his farm. They are known as the "Perrino" raisins and are both bleached and unbleached. They are the finest and most expensive raisins on the market, and they retail at from fifteen to seventeen cents per pound.

Mr. Perrino has been dissatisfied with the prices he has received for these raisins. During the season recently closed he sold thirty tons at six cents per pound, whereas the wholesale price in Chicago is fourteen cents. He says that the fruit business practically has gone to the hands of a trust, and the fruit raisers have to sell their products at any price offered them. The prices are regulated by the Fruit Dealers' association. The farmers are at the mercy of this organization, and the only way they can break away from it is to find a market in other parts of the country and ship independently.

Before coming to Negaunee, Mr. Perrino spent some time in Chicago and Milwaukee, calling on leading wholesale fruit dealers. Nearly all of them advised him that they would pay him a better price for his goods than he has been getting and he believes that it will pay him to ship direct. Before leaving for home he will endeavor to complete arrangements for the shipment of his raisins and figs to this region.

Mr. Perrino has done well in the fruit raising business, and he expects to greatly increase his income within the next few years, as his fig trees are now ready to bear. It usually takes about thirty years ago, when the last of his trees were put in from six to eight years ago.

Mr. Perrino left Negaunee about twenty years ago, going to Arizona, where he engaged in railroad work. He saved his money and invested it in fruit lands at Marysville. His father, who died here at Negaunee, was one of the first settlers in the Rolling Mill district. He conducted a farm near the Milwaukee mine before ore was discovered in that vicinity. The family located there more than forty years ago, when mining in Negaunee was principally confined to the rolling mill property. Mr. Perrino will remain another week or more before departing for his home.

SOON TO ORGANIZE.

Negaunee Will Have Fast Indoor Baseball Team Again This Season.

Arrangements are under way for the organization of a city indoor baseball team. There is excellent material here and it is thought that the team will crowd the best ones in the upper peninsula for the championship. The Negaunee players have been assured of games with the Gwin club mine, Marquette Guild Hall and Young Men's Christian association team of Ishpeming, and it is understood some of the copper companies would like to play here near the close of the season.

C. Heidenson, who caught for the outdoor league team last season, is also an outdoor catcher, but he has not played behind the bat for two years. He formerly played for the Central Y. M. C. A. team in Chicago. He will catch for the team here and Charles Kirkpatrick will be in the box.

There will be no city team at Ishpeming this season as the players were unable to secure Braastad's Hall. The Ishpeming Y. M. C. A. has four teams now playing in a league series, which will not be terminated for about three months. The players here favor the organization of a four-team league with Negaunee, the Ishpeming Y. M. C. A., Marquette Guild Hall and the Gwin club, represented.

NEW FINNISH CHURCH.

Some of the Finnish people of the city are arranging to begin work on a new church, to be erected in the Collins' addition. The families at the head of the building and work on the structure will soon be started. The building will be fifty feet in length by twenty-six feet wide. The church society has been raising money to be used in paying for the property for some months past, but the amount collected is not yet sufficient. The families at the head of the movement have been attending services at one of the Finnish churches in Ishpeming.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reliable physicians as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the seat of the disease. It is taken in capsules and makes no noise. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by J. C. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

YESTERDAY'S STORM.

Weather Conditions Are Now Favorable for Deer Hunting.

The snow fall Thursday night and yesterday was welcomed by the hunters, as it will now be easy to track deer. It was thought yesterday that some of the hunters who took wagons into the woods might have difficulty getting them out. It is believed that winter has set in and that the roads will not be open for wagons again this fall. A number of Negaunee and Ishpeming hunters were caught in the woods with wagons two years ago.

Yesterday's storm was not of sufficient severity to interfere with the movement of the railway trains or the street cars, and it was not necessary to bring out snow plows on either the steam or electric lines. The street cars were kept moving practically on time. In spite of the fact that the snow was quite heavy.

BASEBALL PICTURES.

Manager Skiff, of the Bijou moving picture theatre, at the Sandberg block, has secured pictures of the world's championship baseball games between the Philadelphia and Chicago nines for next Monday afternoon and evening. Special matinees will be given, commencing at 2:30 o'clock, and the evening performances will begin at 7 o'clock, instead of at 7:15. Mr. Skiff intends to run them in addition to his regular program. About 1,400 feet of film are used in showing the game and the preliminaries.

BARNUM-RAFFLES COMBINATION.

W. E. Jack, advance agent of the Barnum-Raffles combination, which is showing at the Marquette Opera House this week, is in the city getting out the advertising matter for the company's engagement at McDonald's opera house next week. Mr. Barnum holds the record for a week's business at McDonald's opera house, he having secured it last year. Raffles appears in a number of mysterious acts. The prices will be fifteen, twenty-five and thirty-five cents. Reserve seats will be on sale at Perkins' drug store today.

TEXT BOOK LAW A LIVE ISSUE

State Legislature, Which Meets in January, Likely to Give Attention to School Book Legislation, and Local Educators Expect Some Bill to Be Passed.

Milwaukee Man, Who Has Given Subject Careful Study, Comes Out in Favor of Fixing Retailers Percentage of Profit and Against Legal Maximum Price.

School book legislation is a subject that is likely to receive considerable attention at the session of the state legislature which convenes next January. Two years ago bills were introduced providing among other things for free school text books and uniform priced books for the entire state, but none of them received sufficient support to bring about their passage. Next year this subject will probably be thoroughly gone over again, and local school men are of the opinion that some kind of school book bill will be passed.

Such being the prospect, anything bearing on this subject should be of interest to all who have the welfare of the public schools at heart. One who has given this subject a great deal of study is S. Y. Gillan, of Milwaukee, publisher of the American Journal of Education, who has recently issued a book in which he expresses views on this subject which are at least worthy of careful and thoughtful consideration. Mr. Gillan's conclusions are largely drawn from the experiences of the various states, among which almost every imaginable kind of a school book law may be found in actual operation.

At the outset, Mr. Gillan declares that a glance at any of the old textbooks will convince anyone that wonderful improvements have been brought about in the field of educational service. In no field of human achievement is greater improvement shown than in the textbooks of today as compared with those of 100, or even fifty years ago. At the same time, school books are cheaper today than they ever were before. The United States in 1900 spent $12,000,000 for school books, as compared with nearly twice that sum for mineral and soda water and nearly thirty-four times that sum for tobacco.

Publishers Not Robbers.

Mr. Gillan holds that the general belief that school book publishers are extortioners is not supported by the facts. He denies that there is any such thing as a monopolistic school book trust, which is sometimes used as a campaign issue by crafty politicians. He declares that there are 170 separate and independent school book publishers and that the field is wide open to competition. Most of the misleading information, he says, arises in the comparison of net prices in one locality with retail prices in some far removed locality. Cost of transportation and distribution are frequently lost sight of in estimating prices. Where the books are sold through the retailer the price must necessarily be higher than where the district buys the books and furnishes them to the pupils. It is his claim that much of the difference in price of the same book in different localities is due to the difference in percentage of profit added by the retailer, for which the publishers should not be held to blame. One best text book law, in his opinion, should embody the following principles:

1. It is always had to prescribe a definite, fixed maximum price. This invariably results in lowering the standard and in preventing competition among the best. When the price is fixed materially below that which will give a reasonable profit, it either results in publishers making books to fit the reduced price, or in their presenting obsolete and inferior books.
2. Publishers should be required to list their books with the state superintendent, stating contract and net prices, and to give bond to furnish such books at the published net price and that such net price is not higher than that at which the same book is furnished elsewhere under like methods of distribution.
3. Where the books are sold through the retailers, the per cent. of profit which the retailer may add to the published net price should be specified by law.
4. The nearer the adopting board is to the people, the better. District, township or county uniformity is better than state uniformity.
5. School boards should be required to take up at a fair price the books of

HOW CHRONIC COUGHS

Are Being Cured by Vinol—An Account of One Case.

New Haven, Conn.—"I was troubled with a most persistent chronic cough for a long time and had tried so many remedies and prescriptions without benefit that I was discouraged. I was persuaded by my friends to try Vinol, but I made up my mind to give it a fair trial. Before I finished my first bottle of Vinol I commenced to notice an improvement in my general condition. After taking the second bottle, my cough left me, and I must say I never felt better in my life—all due to the use of Vinol. I can also recommend Vinol to anyone in a run-down condition as the best possible remedy." (Name furnished on request.)

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cod's livers added to the blood-making and strength-giving properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient in curing chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system. Vinol contains no oil and tastes good.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. The Stafford Drug Co., Marquette; also Fred P. Tilson, Ishpeming, and J. E. O'Donoghue, Negaunee.

any patron moving from one locality to another, where different books are used. 3. Contracts for any line of books adopted should be made for not less than five years, thus insuring protection to both the publisher and the purchaser. School book legislation should be aimed to secure the best possible books at reasonable prices through the freest competition.

PICTURES WERE FIRST CLASS.

Lyman H. Howe Greeted by Banner Audience of Season at Opera House.

Early yesterday afternoon the last seat in the opera house was sold for Howe's moving pictures last evening, and at 8:15 every seat in the opera house was occupied, while there were many who paid for standing room to see the program. The exhibition was the very best that Mr. Howe has shown in this city and every picture was received with the kind of applause that means genuine appreciation. As advertised, the big feature of the program was the funeral of the late King Edward VII and this sad pageant was portrayed so vividly that one could not but imagine himself one of the mourners following the bier to its last resting place. The first views showed the bier lying in state at Buckingham palace, then the cortege marching from the palace to Paddington station, from which the body was taken by rail to Windsor. As the procession re-formed at Windsor, five of the kings of Europe were thrown on the screen at close range and on the way to Windsor castle, Colonel Roosevelt being shown as the official representative of this country at the funeral. The last and most impressive scene was the reception of the remains at St. George's chapel.

The travel pictures shown by Mr. Howe last evening were especially good. A trip through Northway and Sweden served to supply some excellent water scenes, and the ride through Switzerland and the Alps was shown in a remarkably realistic manner. A trip up Eiffel tower was another unique feature of the program. Mr. Howe more than lived up to the high expectations of his audience last evening and the people of Marquette will be glad to welcome them again.

HAS MADE GOOD RECORD.

E. W. Weiss, President of Munising, Has Been Efficient Official.

Friends of E. W. Weiss, president of the village of Munising, who is a cigar manufacturer there, give him much credit for the efficient and business-like administration he has been giving village affairs the past several months. He has straightened out what was a badly tangled financial situation, cleaned up the books and there is money enough on hand to defray the current expenses until the close of the municipal year. During the past season more street and sidewalk work than in any previous season has been done. The property owners are charged for sidewalk work at the rate of five cents a foot, and are allowed a five-cent rebate. Thirteen concrete crosswalks have been put in. The improvement of Elm avenue is just being completed, as is also the work of connecting Superior street and the county road. The contract for the grading on this latest improvement was let at $6,000 and the cost of the work is to be spread over five years. The cost of a concrete bridge necessary in connection with this work is estimated at $1,000.

The financial showing made by the administration is all the more notable because of the fact that there was a $2,000 decrease in the amount of saloon license money received the past year, the number of saloons having been reduced by four. The building season at Munising has been an active one. The Marks building was erected at a cost of $20,000. The new People's bank building will cost $10,000 and J. Dresden, the tailor, has erected a brick building. Sixteen residences were built during the year.

ALL READY TO START.

Reichel Bros.' New Mill Will Be Put Into Operation Next Week.

Everything is in readiness to start up the new mill, built by Reichel Bros., in North Marquette, the past summer, and unless the weather turns so cold that the pond freezes over, the first logs will be sawed Monday or Tuesday. Delay in getting the belts has put off starting the mill for a week or more, but they arrived a few days ago and are now in place. Though not a remarkably large mill, it is well built and is equipped with machinery suited to the logs which the Reichel Bros. expect to put through it.

A circular saw will be used instead of a band saw, as the circular saw can be operated with less expensive labor and will accomplish an equal amount of work in small logs. A circular saw wastes more lumber in sawdust than a band saw, but Messrs. Reichel believe that its advantages for their purpose more than offset this disadvantage. Next spring the firm expects to put in a re-saw, which will be a band saw, to re-saw the two-inch planks that come from the circular saw.

Reichel Bros. expect to employ about twenty-five men and will operate the mill this fall as long as the pond can be kept open. There are now about 300,000 feet of pine in the pond and this will be sawed out first, at the rate of about 20,000 a day. The firm has about 900,000 of hemlock and hardwood on the bank near Antlers and Big Bay, which was cut last season, and these logs will be brought down to the mill as fast as they are needed. It is probable that a part of the cut will not be sawed until next spring, as the firm does not consider it policy to operate the mill when the weather gets so cold that it would be necessary to heat the pond in order to keep it from freezing.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF MOON NEXT WEEK

Will Be Visible in Northern United States About 6 O'Clock Wednesday Night.

A total eclipse of the moon is to occur on the evening of Nov. 16, when our nearest celestial neighbor will pass through the earth's shadow and produce a spectacle that will be visible to Europe and Africa, and in part to North and South America and southwestern Asia. This eclipse will be the last in the series of four, two of the sun and two of the moon, announced for the present year, and it will afford an interesting exhibition well worth observing should the sky be clear. The phenomenon may be viewed to good advantage without any optical assistance whatever, and a telescope will not be necessary, for an eclipse of the moon can be seen just as well by the naked eye under favorable atmospheric conditions.

The coming eclipse will be visible from beginning to end throughout the greater portion of the United States, the weather permitting, and the moon will remain in the earth's shadow for three hours and fourteen minutes. The moon will enter the shadow at 4:44 p. m., and leave it at 7:58 p. m., the middle of the eclipse occurring at 6:21 p. m. central standard time, and the total phase will continue for almost one hour. As the moon will be in perigee or nearest to the earth, her disk will appear somewhat larger than usual, and the magnitude of the eclipse, that is, the extent of the shadow compared with the moon, will be 1,131, the moon's diameter being unity.

The eclipse, beginning at a convenient hour in the evening, it will occur under the most favorable conditions for observation should the weather be pleasant, and next to the recent appearance of Halley's comet, it will be the most popular celestial event of the year. When the moon is immersed in the earth's shadow her disk will appear dimmed as if covered with a dark veil, and the unusual faintness at the time of her "full" cannot fail to attract attention if clouds do not obscure the view. The total phase will begin at 5:55 p. m. and end at 6:47 p. m., but the moon will not leave the outer shadow until 8:58 p. m., the entire eclipse lasting five hours and eleven minutes.
