Now if Michigan can defeat Minnesota—

It's a little early for winter, yet it looks as if winter had settled down for a long stay.

So far, at least, the casualties have been confined to the deer. Not a single hunter has been bagged.

By the way, is Joe Fordney of Saginow still "standing pat" on his platform that the tariff should be revised upwards?

Charles W. Armour says that prices for foodstuffs are on the down grade.
The consumer will hope that the grade is steep and well feed.

It having been conclusively proved that Dr. Cook failed to reach the top of Mt. McKinley, about the only question still open is whether there really is any Dr. Cook, anyway.

It is the consensus of expert opinion that the Democrats will find themselves with the usual amount of factional trouble on their hands as soon as they get around to organizing the next congress.

Mr. Bryan's last campaign for the presidency looks more than ever a mistake in the light of recent happenings.
If he had not run in 1908 perhaps he might have been on the list of available for 1912, who knows?

Warren G. Harding, defeated candidate for governor in Ohio, who has been active in politics for a dozen years, has announced his complete retirement from the arena. He leaves presently on a tour to the Orient, and on his return will settle down to attention to his private affairs.

Our Mexican fellow republicans are having one of their periodical outbursts of bumptiousness. But the Mexican government feels as badly about it as does our state department at Washington, so there is no chance that the entente cordiale existing between the two countries will be disturbed.

There were no Republican defeats from the Atlantic to the Pacific in states where the Republicans presented a solid front behind a progressive platform and a progressive candidate, and the only clean-cut Republican victories last Tuesday were won in states where the Republicans unitedly stood for progressive principles and progressive candidates. Herein lies a lot of food for thought for every Republican.—Medina Co. (O.) Gazette.

Marquette has maintained a clean town for the past year and likes it.
Moreover it has not hurt business and has helped the morals of the community. What is more important the children that are growing up in the community are not constantly impressed with the vice that is flaunted in the faces of decent people in most towns.— Houghton Mining Gazette.

In Great Britain, where the Liberals and Conservatives have wholly failed to compose their differences, the political truce which was declared at the time of the death of the late King Edward VII has come to an end, and Premier Asquith is preparing to dissolve the government and appeal to the country. The first campaigning is already being done, though the dates of the elections have not yet been set. We can sympathize with Great Britain, for have we not lately closed a disquieting and unsettling campaign? And we are often told that our political battles are colorless and uneventful compared with those waged between the rival parties into which our English cousins divide themselves.

Representative-elect Symonds has tied himself to the issue of two-cent fares for the upper peninsula railroads. Representative Symonds is going to make himself most embarrassing for other upper peninsula legislators, we fear. But he cares not a rap for that. He believes that any differential between railroad fares in the two divisions of the state is an injustice to the upper peninsula.
Furthermore he feels that he has the people of his district behind him, for he did not flash his "issue" after he was elected, but made the campaign for the nomination on it. Representative Symonds will be one of the legislators who will make music wherever he goes at Lansing after the first of the year.

The Portuguese republic is now firmly on its feet. It is an indication of the conservatism that has grown up in the United States on the question of newborn republics—doubtless an outgrowth of unhappy experiences in Central and South America—that this country is one of the few firstclass powers that has not recognized the new Portuguese government. Germany has, within a few days, resumed negotiations with the Portuguese officials who have replaced King Manuel, following the example already set by Great Britain, France, Spain and Italy. There is considerable surprise at Lisbon that the United States government still holds aloof. The reason for the course of the state department is not known, but one report has it that the delay is due to a desire of the department to gain more information in regard to the killing of the Jesuits.

There will be rather more of a minority in the Michigan legislature next year than there has been for several years past. Three senators and a dozen or so representatives will take seats after the turn of the year. They won't be much of a force for framing legislation, to be sure, but they can ask a lot of inquisitive questions and demand to know why when the reasons for the moves of their Republican brethren do not seem clear to them. We hope the Democratic minority is composed of able and aggressive men, for the more assertive they are the more certain is the Republican majority to be on its good behavior and to work with all its ability to further the best interests of the state. A strong minority in legislative halls is in most cases a prerequisite to good legislation by the majority, as Mr. Hemans lost no occasion to point out.

The report of the bureau of labor on child labor abroad shows clearly that the child labor laws on the continent are even more of a joke than they are in many states in this country, and points out another reason than cheap adult labor why manufacturing costs in the countries that are competing with us for the world's trade are so low. The bureau of labor's report shows how vital to the country are substantial protective tariff schedules, and the folly of so enraging the people by a few bad schedules in a general tariff law as to endanger the entire structure of the measure.
And yet the "conservatives" have been getting solid satisfaction out of a string of victories which threaten the absolute dominance in the nation of a free trade policy.

The Ballinger investigation will soon be reported on by the congressional committee. The Republican majority, it is well understood, will report that Mr.
Ballinger has been a true and disinterested public servant, worthy of all the confidence President Taft has placed in him. The Democratic minority, on the other hand, will find that all the strictures aimed at Ballinger are merited by his course regarding public lands. Like as not, when the new Democratic congress is organized another Ballinger committee will be appointed, the majority of which will, after its inquiry, report in direct contradiction to the Republican majority of the present committee. The Democrats will try to turn everything they can to their advantage, and their program calls for most comprehensive investigation of every subject that may yield a suspicion of Republican iniquity to point to as an object lesson in 1912. It will be too bad if the case of Mr. Ballinger made a football of party politics, but that is surely among the probabilities.

The New York Globe is unable to see much of "conservatism" in either Woodrow Wilson or Judson Harmon: "Will any one who listened to or read the speeches of Woodrow Wilson say he is a 'conservative,' it asks. "He ran on practically the platform of Everett Colby and preached Rooseveltism. Governor Harmon of Ohio and Government Foss of Massachusetts have telegraphed their warm personal thanks to Mr. Hearst because of the support Hearst gave to them in the campaign.
They do not suggest that they have any disagreement with Mr. Hearst's views.
In Indiana the new senator is to be 'Whiskers' Kern, Bryan's running mate, and probably the most blatant agitator that the country contains. The new senator from Nebraska will be G. W.
Hitchcock, owner of the newspaper of which Bryan was the editor when the sixteen to one issue was projected. It is much to be suspected that the 'conservative' voters have allowed their votes to be controlled by their emotions rather than by their heads. Thinking to suppress Roosevelt, what they have really done is to drive most of their proved friends from public life. The next congress, in both branches, will be a more 'radical' body than the present one, and this because of 'conservative' voters. The justification of those who urged that not too much attention be given to Colonel Roosevelt has come with great rapidity."

LODGE IN DANGER.
According to the eastern newspapers
there is no absolute certainty that Senator Lodge will be re-elected by the Massachusetts legislature. There will be enough Republican votes in the legislature to re-elect Lodge, if they are all cast for him. His danger lies in the possibility that some other Republican candidate will come forward, break off part of the Republican vote, and secure election as his successor by a coalition of Republican and Democratic forces. His greatest security lies in the improbability that any one of the Republicans who might be elected in this manner will care to go to the senate as a representative of a bi-partisan majority. Democratic newspapers, such as the Boston Post, say that the entire Democratic strength in the legislature could probably be delivered to a strong Republican candidate against Lodge, who would be able to give assurances that he could deliver enough Republican votes to, with the Democratic legislators, make up a majority. "There are several who would fill these requirements," remarks the Post, "including ex-Governor Guild, ex-Governor Bates, Speaker Walker and Governor Draper, himself, now hallowed with a sentimental popularity by very reason of his defeat. Any one of them could relieve Senator Lodge of his toga if he would but say the word."

As yet, however, none of them have said the word, and it is highly improbable that any of them will. Bi-partisan elections to the United States senate are not in the best of odor. The stench left by the bi-partisan election of Lorimer in Illinois will linger for months to come in the nostrils of the people of that state. In the temper of the Massachusetts Democrats it would probably be possible to frame up a bi-partisan constitution that would unseat Lodge without buying in any Democratic votes, but the prospect of gaining political advancement in that way is not attractive to men like Guild and Draper and Bates.
The assertion that Lodge would have been buried by thousands of votes had he been compelled to submit his senatorial candidacy to the voters is doubtless true, but it doesn't furnish sufficient excuse for a Republican unseating him by Democratic votes. The very egerness of the Democrats for the proposition should, and doubtless will, be enough to make the Republicans wary of it. But meantime the situation is obscured in uncertainty and Henry Cabot Lodge is plainly worried.

Mrs. A. C. Braastad, who is a patient at Augustana hospital, Chicago, where she submitted to an operation for appendicitis ten days ago, is improving rapidly, and it is expected that she will be able to return home in a week or ten days. Her husband will go down for her.

The "pure food law" is designed by the government to protect the public from injurious ingredients in both foods and drugs. It is beneficial to the public and to the conscientious manufacturer.
Ely's Cream Balm, a successful remedy for cold in the head, nasal catarrh, hay fever, etc., containing no injurious drugs, meets fully the requirements of the new law, and that fact is prominently stated on every package. It contains none of the injurious drugs which are required by the law to be mentioned on the label. Hence you can use it safely.

SMALL GIRL'S STORY DOUBTED BY JURY

Ralph Harris of Calumet Is Found Guilty of a Simple Assault.

Ralph Harris of Calumet, charged with criminal assault on complaint of Christine Sheridan, a nine-year-old girl, was found guilty of simple assault by a jury in the circuit court Saturday evening.

The case was submitted at 4:15 o'clock Friday afternoon. The jury deliberated for more than twenty-four hours before reaching a verdict. Harris was remanded to await sentence, which may be a fine or ninety days in jail.

The jury that brought in the verdict was composed of Phil Knapp, Robert Hall, Otto Krellwitz, Fred Rogers, William Hosking, Milton Baird, Joseph Snell, Arthur Pooley, Harry Jolie, J. A. Paton, William Pollard, Jr., and John B. Rowe. Prosecuting Attorney MacDonald was asked for a statement regarding the verdict. He said: "Harris was either guilty as charged or he was not guilty. I have no further comment to make on the verdict."

Attorney Eugene A. McNally of Calumet, who defended Harris, said: "Ralph Harris admitted on the witness stand that he had accidentally hurt the little girl's sore knee, and that she had cried. That was all there was to the case."

The court was occupied until noon Saturday with the case of the People vs. John Tappert, who is charged with assault with intent to murder by August Nyssit. The men are partners in a saloon on Sheldon street, Houghton. Nyssit alleges that Tappert, unprovoked, hit him on the head with a bottle of beer the night of Sept. 17. Nyssit's clothing, purporting to have been drenched in a solution of blood and beer, were shown in court. The case had not been concluded when the court took a recess until this morning.

DEATH OF A PIONEER

Frank Mayworm of Hurontown Was One of the Oldest Residents.

In the death of Frank Mayworm at his farm near Hurontown Saturday afternoon, the copper country lost one of its oldest residents. Mr. Mayworm was born in Germany seventy-seven years ago and had lived at Hurontown fifty-three years. For thirteen years he worked at the old Huron and other mines and had since been a farmer. He is survived by his wife and seven children, all of whom, but one—Mrs. Burk of West Saunier—live at Hurontown. The funeral will take place Tuesday morning from St. Ignatius church.

SALVAGE MISSAUGUA CARGO.

Joseph Croze May Attempt to Save Goods From Burned Ship.

Joseph Croze, the Houghton wrecking master, is investigating the nature and condition of the cargo of the steamer Missaugua, burned at Hurontown, Copper Harbor. He has been asked by the owners to attempt to save some of the property. The Missaugua was laden with harvesting machinery, radiators, wire and iron beds, all material which is not inflammable but easily affected by fire. It is said that the woman and sank in twenty feet of water within Copor Harbor and if the cargo is considered all salvageable by Mr. Croze he will make the attempt. The owners are sending him the cargo manifests in order that he may know the exact amount of and sort of goods found. It is not likely that the work will be attempted before spring, if at all.

NICK KAISER TO RESIGN. Special Election Will Choose His Successor as Village Clerk.

At a special meeting of the council of the village of Red Jacket tomorrow night, there will be called a special election to fill the vacancy in the office of village clerk and water collector, caused by the resignation of Nicholas F. Kaiser. Mr. Kaiser, who has been elected county clerk, will assume his new office the first of the year, probably moving his family to Houghton and will be unable to care for the office of village clerk also. Mr. Kaiser is one of the most efficient officials of the village of Red Jacket has ever had and has been highly complimented for his work and the way his books are kept. He is one of Calumet's best liked young men.

At tomorrow's meeting Mr. Kaiser will tender his resignation as clerk and the resignation will be accepted. The board will then arrange for a special election, not appointing a successor to Mr. Kaiser, because of the large number of aspirants for the office. The clerk elected at the special election will serve until after the regular village election. It is assumed that the clerk elected at this fall will be re-elected next spring and will, therefore, serve at least a year and a half in the office.

The special election cannot possibly be held this month, as it is necessary that notice of three weeks be given. Therefore the election will likely take place early in December, probably about the 5th. Among the many candidates for the office are Angelo Curto, Joseph E. Glasson, Peter Coppo, J. J. Ellis, Jr., Richard Ray, Louis Shilsky, Mike Leary and John Nelson. It is understood that there are several others who will seek the office.

JAMES N. WRIGHT SERIOUSLY ILL.

Benjamin and Calumet friends of James N. Wright of Detroit have been grieved to learn that he is seriously ill and is not expected to live. Mr. Wright was superintendent of the Calumet & Hecla mine for a number of years and is now a member of the directors, retaining a substantial stock interest in the company after leaving the active management.

LOWER STATE NOTES.

CADILLAC—"Don't shoot; I'm not a deer," was the sign that a hunter displayed on his back in black letters on his red jacket. The man was passing through Cadillac en route for a deer hunt in the upper peninsula. Last year the hunter was in a party in which one of the members was shot through the back, having been mistaken for a deer.

GRAND RAPIDS—Typhoid fever among bees was a subject that occupied most of the first session of the state convention of the Michigan Beekeepers' association. It was reported that the disease resulting from a germ, similar to the typhoid fever germ in humans, cost the apiarists thousands of dollars every year. This disease is said to be contagious and to provide for a more efficient inspection of the association with the legislature for a larger appropriation and to place the supervision in the department of entomology of the state government.

ANN ARBOR—With the election of Chase S. Osborn as governor of Michigan comes the question as to who will succeed him on the board of regents of the university. Two names are heard most frequently in connection with the appointment, which will be among the first Mr. Osborn will make, and these are Judge Steere of the Seneca and James McNaughton of Calumet. Both men are graduates of Michigan. Judge Steere, it is reported, would be very acceptable to the students and faculty here.

IONIA—Dr. Peter Bennett, a veterinary surgeon, who was sent to the Ionia reformatory for ten years for burglary, and who made his escape from the place by sawing off the bars of a window to the hospital, after he had served of a year of his term, has returned to his institution voluntarily. He made his escape in 1905 and since that time states that he has traveled all over the west, always with the fear that he was being hunted and that he might be arrested at any moment. He is said to be a strong man and decided to return. He conferred with Congressman Smith of Sabbatus, Maine—"You told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before child-birth, and we were all surprised to see how much good it did. MERRILL, Box 3, Sabbatus, Me.

HER PHYSICIAN APPROVES Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Another Woman Helped. Grantville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffering from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."—Mrs. CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Grantville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dr. Bennett, when he presented himself at the doors of the prison, bore a letter from the congressman asking the warden to be lenient with the man for his act in breaking out. The doctor presented the letter and the man was released from the hospital from which he was sent to liberty.

ANN ARBOR—At the November meeting of the board of regents a proposition will be considered for the erection of the $200,000 auditorium provided for by the will of the late Arthur Hill of Saginaw. It is possible that plans will be presented and discussed at the meeting. If plans are decided upon the location will also be determined. The auditorium will supply a long felt want in the university as at present University hall is inadequate to take care of the many meetings. One floor will be devoted to a room large enough to accommodate the large social events of every college year.

OWOSSO—Because of the smallpox cases in Saginaw and Chesaning, farmers from the northern part of the county and from the southern tier of Saginaw county townships are flocking here to the city. They are anxious to do the biggest business in their history. To keep this trade advantage extraordinary precautions are being taken to keep smallpox out of this city. All freight brought here from Saginaw is carefully inspected and all household goods brought here are thoroughly fumigated before they are unloaded. So general is the fear of the disease that several cases are known where letters from Saginaw were destroyed, unread, and newspapers from that city refused by timid customers.

PORT HURON—Solomon Yager, a resident of Campau, has commenced an injunction proceeding in circuit court against his wife, Julia Yager, and "Madame Merello," a fortune teller of this city. Yager, who is the father of ten children, says "Madame Merello" is the cause of his trouble. It was while under the spell of Mme. Merello, Yager alleged, that his wife left home without cause, taking the three smallest children with her to live with her sister. He also says Mme. Merello threatened to turn the children over to the state home at Coliwater and if he interfered she would have him arrested. Furthermore, she threatened to take all the furniture from the house, he says. Judge Tappan has granted an injunction against this action. Yager says that his wife is compelled to answer his declaration.

OWOSSO—The local optionists and the prohibitionists are not on speaking terms in this county any more. The local optionists declare that the prohibitionists, because they were loyal to their own candidates for sheriff, James Hopson, defeated the Democratic candidate, Cassius Groat, who had pledged himself to enforce the option law if elected. As a result of the "dry" splitting their votes between Groat and Hopson, the Republican candidate, E. J. Herrick, who had refused to make any pledges, was elected. Herrick says the anti-saloon league wanted to name his deputies, which he refused to consider.

GRAND HAVEN—Johnny Vos, the lightweight pugilist of Holland, known throughout western Michigan, was convicted of burglary and sentenced to five years in prison at Jackson. Vos was found guilty of burglarizing the grocery store of J. and H. DeJongh's general store at Holland about a year ago. The burglars were not caught at the time and Vos' arrest came through a story which he and his companions told of how they covered up the job, even going to the precaution of sprinkling pepper in their tracks, so that should bloodhounds be placed upon their trail, it could not be followed. While he was in jail awaiting trial, Vos made his escape with another prisoner by sawing off the bars of one of the windows. He traveled through the west, and when he again entered Michigan by boat at Ludington, he was seen and the sheriff at this place notified. Vos was found at a lumber camp.

Markets WALL STREET STOCKS.

New York, Nov. 12.—Trading was dull and uninteresting, with the operations mostly in the nature of evening up contracts. The character of the buying was somewhat better than has been witnessed for the past few days, but the same was not of an aggressive nature. Some selling of Southern Pacific took place, in view of the reports to the effect that the government would investigate the conditions surrounding the company's acquisition of its California Oil lands. There was also a continuation of the pressure which developed yesterday in New York Central. The bank statement was favorably construed. The election results have been pretty well digested and no doubt convince both parties that conservative rather than destructive measures are essential to the commercial welfare of the nation. Closing prices follow:

Boston Coppers.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 12.—East Butte was practically the whole thing in the local market today. The wonderful selling at the mine has attracted buying from all over the country. There is no manipulation and insiders are doing nothing to boost the price, being content to let the market take care of itself. Evident that the future of the property will justify any price which the market may make. Lake was quiet, but strong, and will probably remain so until after the rights expire. We look for continued activity with higher prices, next week. Following are the closing prices:

New York Cotton Market.

New York, Nov. 12.—The farmers of the south have a monopoly, they have money and are independent and can hold the market for their own good. And it looks as if they are doing that and are the real bulls this season. It looks as if very high prices later are inevitable, 20 cents if the farmers see fit to demand it.

Chicago Wheat.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The most noticeable thing in the wheat trade this morning was the congestion of December contracts and the nervous feeling on the part of local shorts and possibly some effort on the part of hedgers to get out of December and over into May. These conditions caused the December price to run up quickly to 9c. The late dip in the market was largely due to selling by commission houses. There seemed George F. Bane's Review. The New York market was very quiet today. It looks as if the liquidation was over, and that as soon as conditions become settled, the market should advance. East Butte was the only active Boston copper. The buying, which is said to be of the accumulative order, advanced the price from 13 1/2 to 14 1/2. The balance of the list was very dull and unchanged.

D. T. Morgan & Co.'s Letter. The New York market was dull and lifeless today. Early in the session the market gradually advanced slightly, but sold off toward the close. The volume of transactions was very small. The price of East Butte copper seems to be about over and should no longer be a factor in market influences. When the market improves it will be a good time to look for at least the usual early winter market advance. With the exception of East Butte and North Butte, the Boston coppers were very much neglected. North Butte was active and held strong around 13 1/2. East Butte advanced from 13 1/2 to 13 3/4. Activity and strength in East Butte is said to be due to the demand for the metal to secure additional stock in order to retire the bonded indebtedness assumed when the Pittsburg-Montana company's property was taken over. We would sell East Butte around this level. North Butte is being steadily accumulated and Boston looks to see it very much higher in the next few months. Greencreek, Greencanada, Superior & Pittsburg and Calumet & Arizona were all neglected and Lake was a small fraction. We would buy the good coppers, especially North Butte, Greencanada, Superior, Utah Consolidated, Superior & Pittsburg and the better Lake issues. They will be much higher before the end of this year and are intrinsically worth more money. The curbs were quiet and practically unchanged.

John Lynn, of North Third street, underwent an operation at St. Luke's hospital yesterday.
Mrs. E. W. Allen and daughter, Marjorie, who have been in Chicago for a few days, returned home yesterday morning.

Frank Dugas had his foot crushed at the L. S. & I. shops Saturday morning and is now a patient at St. Mary's hospital. The injured member will not have to be amputated.
Chas. Retaille, Chas. Cummings and a hydraulic engineer, of Appleton, Wis., will go to Silver Lake Tuesday to select the site for the new storage dam that is to be built there the coming summer.
The members of the Visiting Nurse association are requested to meet at Mrs. Austin Farrell's residence, E. Arch street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock, for their regular monthly session.
The fire department was called to the residence of George Madosh, near the street railroad power station, Saturday afternoon. A defective chimney set fire to the roof, but the fire was checked before extensive damage resulted.

The Bijou management gave a motion picture show at the Bijou yesterday for the amusement of the inmates. Five picture plays were on the program. The audience enthusiastically voted it one of the very best shows they had ever had at the institution.
Bron Orton, a mining engineer of Stockholm, Sweden, was in the city for a few hours yesterday. Mr. Orton is making a study of the iron and copper mines of Lake Superior district, in the interests of a Swedish mining company, though part of his expenses are paid by the government.

Payne-Van Evers Wedding—Cards of invitation have been received here for the marriage of Miss Hazel Laura Payne, daughter of H. J. Payne, formerly chief engineer of the South Shore railway, to James Wilbur Van Evers, eldest son of John B. Van Evers. The ceremony will occur at Florence, Wis., Nov. 24. Mr. Van Evers is now a resident of Virginia, Minn., where he holds a position as mining engineer.

Deer Was Accommodating—Bitch citizens gave the palm to Archie Deane, proprietor of the Hotel Northern in that village, when it comes to deer hunting. It is stated that on the first day of the season, he stepped out of his camp, gun in hand, and found a big buck right in front of the door, so close in fact that he had no time to load his gun before the animal might have gored him to death. His trusty gun, however, did not fail him in the crisis, and the tavern keeper came home proud and happy.

Bijou Theatre Program—The week's program at the Bijou gives promise of being ahead of that of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lancaster open at the matinee today in a musical comedy act. New picture plays are entitled "Dressed in Roses" and "The Wild West," both of which are very late productions. The last half of the week is devoted to a singing and dancing team, known as Harris and Vernon. Manager Deane says he was not satisfied last week with the vaudeville act sent him and has instructed his booking agent to do better from now on.

Pole Line to Cottages—The electric pole line from the city wires to the cottages at Middle Island point has been completed, but the cottages have not yet been wired. The following persons are to have electric lights in their cottages: Miss Mapee, C. A. Shelton, the Misses Olson, F. O. Brown, H. A. St. John, Miss Lehnen, E. B. Palmer, C. A. Hager, Professor Parker, Dr. J. W. Boyer, M. H. Fox, and the Waho club. The wires are being laid by the city and the power commission on the same terms as it is furnished to the cottages at Lakewood.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" Next—Barnum and Raffles and company closed a fairly satisfactory engagement at the opera house Saturday night and will play in Negaunee this week. Barnum is a type, not a name, who knows his business, and being well read on all subjects pertaining to psychology, gives very interesting lectures on the subject of hypnotism as a part of each performance. Raffles' specialty is getting out of handcuffs, prison cells and opening all kinds of locks, at which he is sensationally good. The next show booked at the opera house is Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, Thanksgiving night.

Alma Ist Ausgespielt—The reasons for the cancellation of the German opera, "Alma, Wo Wohnt Du," which was to have been played at the Marquette opera house a week ago Saturday night, are given in the following Oshkosh dispatch: "Fourteen members of the German theatrical company, presenting, 'Alma, Wo Wohnt Du,' are stranded in this city at the home of one of the members who lives in Oshkosh. The manager of the company and the leading lady have left the city and are believed to be in Chicago. Members of the company say they have fourteen days' back pay coming and are unable to locate the proceeds of Tuesday night's performance, which was largely attended."
Tragedy Narrowly Averted—For the last two weeks herds of hunters have been crossing the straits to hunt deer in the upper peninsula woods, and the carelessness of a hunter came near resulting in a tragedy on one of the ferry boats between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace, a few days ago. Several hunters were on board the ferry Sault Ste. Marie. Many of the guns were thrown on the floor. When about half way across, the report of a gun was heard, the bullet going through the cabin wall and the heavy flooring of the deck and grazing the cheek of a deckhand. A sudden lurch of the boat had thrown a gun from its corner and caused the discharge.

Band Money Returned—Judge Conroy, of Detroit, handed down a decision last week in the case of John A. Adams, better known as "Wolf" Weichers, who is now serving a five-year sentence in the Marquette prison for having inveigled a Detroit girl into a bogus marriage relation, by which the $10,000 recently forfeited by Weichers' failure to appear when wanted by the officers, will be returned to his bondsmen. Weichers appealed his case and was released from prison while the appeal, which went against him, was pending. When Weichers was wanted by the officers to take him back to prison, however, he could not be found for a week or more and his bail was declared forfeited. The bond, which Judge Conroy has ordered returned, was furnished by Weichers' sister.

BOOKLET ON ALFALFA.
C. & N. W. Railroad Issues Work of Great Value to Farmers.
The Mining Journal is indebted to Chas. E. Webb and J. W. Deman, agents for the Chicago & Northwestern railroad in the upper peninsula, for a copy of a booklet on alfalfa culture, recently issued by the company's industrial department. The book is based largely on the results of experiments in alfalfa raising conducted by the railroad company in South Dakota. It discusses conditions favorable and unfavorable to alfalfa culture, and the plant's adaptation to the agricultural conditions of the west and northwest, and its influence upon cattle, hog and dairy interests. Farmers should find the work of great value, especially in this locality, where alfalfa culture is in its infancy. It explains fully the selection of the alfalfa seed, the railroad company's test farm, some of which were failures and others successes, and the beginner cannot but profit by the suggestions offered. The booklet also contains two papers on alfalfa and its growth, one written by W. A. Wheeler, secretary and manager of the Dakota Improved Seed company, and the other by J. V. Bopp, of the South Dakota Experiment station.

LARGE NET INCOME.
Monthly Report of Light and Power Commission for September.
The monthly financial statement of the light and power commission for September shows an increase in earnings of $17.05, compared with the same month in 1909. The increase was brought about by larger receipts from residence light and power furnished, while street lighting and business lighting show smaller receipts than a year ago. Though the residence rate is lower than a year ago, the number of customers has increased sufficiently to more than make up for the reduced income per lamp service.
Expenses of operation of the plant last September were only $1,336.75 as compared with $3,075.59 in 1909. This reduction was brought about by a big cut in the cost of manufacturing and in the cost of distribution. This difference is largely caused by the cost of the concrete foundation and cover, built last year under and over a part of the large flume, being charged in as expenses rather than to permanent improvement. The net income for the month was $3,000.98, as compared with $1,554.12 in September, 1909. The commission now has 1,936 customers, as compared with 1,765 a year ago. CITY HALL, MARQUETTE, MICH.
writer that, directly after Mr. Williams left the stage at the close of the festival brought to him, as they did to his great partner, Madame Schumann-Heink, a contract for the concert to be held in June, 1911, and that at least two of the musical associations along the North shore have engaged him for concert work this winter. As he was practically unknown in Chicago before the festival, the compliment was greater for him than for her.
The Johnstown Daily Democrat, writing of a concert where Mr. Williams sang last season, says:
"Some of the city's most skilled musicians were a unit last evening in commending the tenor solos of Evan Williams, who is probably America's greatest native tenor. Last evening he sang 'Praeludium' from 'Die Meistersinger,' by Wagner. This was the noted tenor's heaviest selection of the concert and his bell-like tones, his shaded notes and his power in the high passages called forth such an outburst of applause that he responded with an encore. The solo full of the deepest feeling and the one of the most delicate finish was probably Mr. Williams' 'Spirit Song' by Haydn. The audience simply would not allow Mr. Williams to remain in his seat below the platform and he delighted them with another encore, this selection also being from the Welsh."

NEW STEEL SLEEPERS ON ST. PAUL LINE

Two Modern Cars Put in Use Between Marquette and Chicago—Improved Equipment.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company has, within a few days, put in use between Marquette and Chicago two newly built steel sleeping cars that embody new lighting and heating features and that are among the finest cars in use anywhere on the system.

The cars are lighted by electricity, handsome mission fixtures being used, and the lighting arrangements for the berths have been greatly improved in comparison with those in the cars formerly in use.

The first cost of a steel car is much greater than the first cost of a wooden car, but its life is longer. Its great advantage, however, is the increased resistance it offers to collision shocks.

RHEUMATISM WEAK KIDNEYS & THIN BLOOD

Not only is the blood the great nourishing source of our systems, but equally as important is its work of removing the waste of oxidized tissues which have been consumed in force and bodily heat. This waste is filtered out through the kidneys. When, however, the kidneys become weak and unable to perform their regular duties, the waste is allowed to remain in the circulation, soon forming uric acid which destroys the greater portion of nourishing elements of the blood and leaves it weak and acid. This imperfect blood deposits into the different muscles and joints the uratic impurity with which it is contaminated. Then the pains and aches of Rheumatism commence. The gritty material which uric acid causes collects in the joints and produces the aches and stiffness which always accompany the disease. Likewise the muscles are coated and lose their elasticity, while the continual irritation to the nerves produces swelling and inflammation of the flesh.

S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to overcome the disease; it cleanses the blood of all uric acid poison and strengthens the kidneys so they are enabled to properly filter out the waste. S. S. S. is not only the best of blood purifiers, but a fine tonic. Book on Rheumatism free to all who write, THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

In accordance with resolutions and directions of the common council, which were received and ordered placed on file, the superintendent of streets was directed to cause the following improvements to be made:

(1) The construction of concrete curbing in Ridge street, from Fourth street to Oak street, east of said improvement to be paid out of the general fund.

(3) The construction of a concrete sidewalk on west side of Lake Shore Boulevard, between Ohio street and Adams street, the firm of Longyear & Hodge having agreed to pay one-half of the cost of such walk and the other half to be paid out of the general fund.

To make certain needed repairs on Craig street, between Algonquin and Adams streets, an appropriation of $100.00 having been made from the general fund, for the expense of said improvement during 1910.

On motion of Commissioner James, the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That the Park, Cemetery and Street Commission recommends that the common council order the construction of a concrete sidewalk on the construction of a concrete sidewalk, between Arch street and Michigan street, abutting Lot 86 of Hewitt's addition."

Ishpeming Merchants Now Buying Their Turkeys for Their Thanksgiving Trade.

Thanksgiving poultry will not be any cheaper in Ishpeming this year than it was last fall. During the past few days a large majority of the business men have placed their orders for turkeys, chickens, ducks and geese. The prices are about the same as those prevailing a year ago, in spite of the fact that Chicago newspapers a few days ago announced that poultry would be more reasonable than last year.

Practically every merchant in the city who handles poultry has received quotations for turkeys and chickens from various points in the farming districts. The prices quoted are from two to three cents below those that the packing concerns are charging, but the merchants understand from past experience that the quotations received at this time are subject to change without notice.

Last Thanksgiving a number of Ishpeming merchants who bought poultry for the holiday trade from unreliable concerns to be delivered from one to three weeks prior to Thanksgiving did not have their orders filled. For this reason very few of them are taking a chance this year and 90 per cent of the orders thus far placed have gone to the big packing concerns or to the larger commission houses. It is said that the small commission concerns and farmers usually send out quotations at this time of the year, in the hope of getting orders for their poultry so they can demand better prices from the representatives of the larger concerns when they call to buy their stock. In seven cases out of ten the orders sent direct to the farmers are turned down if the poultry owners have a chance to get an increase in price from the big packers. The latter buy the poultry alive and ship it to the stock markets.

The poultry market has fluctuated considerably the past week. The Chicago Farmers and Drovers' Journal, which is the official beef and poultry publication of that city, on Monday, quoted live turkeys in the Chicago markets at seventeen cents, and on Wednesday at sixteen cents. It takes from two and a half to three cents to dress the poultry, so that the prices that the beef concerns are quoting at this time are in accordance with the Chicago market. Merchants are paying the beef concerns twenty and one-half cents per pound for turkeys delivered in their markets, and chickens are selling at sixteen cents, delivered. Last Thanksgiving chickens were retailed here at eighteen cents, and turkeys brought from twenty-three to twenty-five cents, which will probably be the prevailing retail prices this year. The representatives of Swift & Co. have already placed orders for a full carload of poultry for Thanksgiving, while many orders are being taken by the representatives of other concerns.

FOREIGN-MADE TOYS.

Ishpeming Firm Purchased 1911 Sample Lot from a Milwaukee Concern.

A. C. Braastad, who spent the past ten days in Chicago and Milwaukee, buying holiday goods for F. Braastad & Co., arrived home Saturday. He visited all of the principal wholesale houses and he said Saturday that he purchased the largest line that his company ever bought for the holiday trade. In Milwaukee he bought from one of the big houses its entire sample line of imported 1911 toys. The deal was an unusually large one. There are no two toys alike, and the collection contains many novelties. Mr. Braastad also bought an extensive job lot of cut glass that will be sold at bargain prices during the holiday season.

As will be observed by the concern's advertisement in today's issue, a special sale of ladies' cloaks, suits, etc., is to be started this morning, before changes are made in the second floor. The greater part of the furniture now in the west room will be transferred to the ladies' department where it will remain until after Christmas, while other goods in the room will also be moved. The west room will be given over to the holiday goods.

The new goods will begin to arrive today or tomorrow. From two to three carloads will be received before the close of this week.

STOPPED SHORT.

Taking Tonics, and Built Up on Right Food.

The mistake is frequently made of trying to build up a worn-out nervous system on so-called tonics—drugs. New material from which to rebuild wasted nerve cells is what should be supplied, and this can be obtained only from proper food.

"Two years ago I found myself on the verge of a complete nervous collapse, due to overwork and study, and to illness in the family," writes a Wisconsin young mother.

"My friends became alarmed because I grew pale and thin and could not sleep nights. I took various tonics prescribed by physicians, but their effects wore off shortly after I stopped taking them. My food did not seem to nourish me and I gained no flesh or blood. "Reading of Grape-Nuts, I determined to stop the tonics and see what a change of diet would do. I ate Grape-Nuts four times a day, with cream and drank milk also, went to bed early after eating a dish of Grape-Nuts.

"In about two weeks I was sleeping soundly. In a short time I gained twenty pounds in weight and felt like a different woman. My little daughter whom I was obliged to keep out of school last spring on account of chronic catarrh has changed from a thin, pale, nervous child

A VETERAN TRAVELER AND BASEBALL MANAGER

Man Who Brought First Outside Team to Upper Peninsula Talks of National Sport.

Peter J. Norton, who has traveled in the upper peninsula more years than any other man now on the road, and who is widely known as a baseball enthusiast, called on his Negaunee trade Saturday. Mr. Norton is one of the best informed men on baseball in the country. He knows many of the big league players personally and is familiar with their records as ball players from their boyhoods. Mr. Norton will soon complete his fortieth year as a traveling salesman in the upper peninsula. For thirty-eight years, until a year and one-half ago, he represented Kohn Bros., a Chicago clothing house. The concern finally went out of business and he then accepted a position with Whitney, Christianson & Co., also of Chicago.

In 1870 Mr. Norton organized the Chicago Drednoughts, which was for years conceded to be the best amateur baseball team in the country. Mr. Norton managed the team for over fifteen years, during which time it lost but few games. It was the first outside nine to visit the upper peninsula, it having played in Negaunee and Ishpeming in the summer of 1881. For several years prior to that time the team came as far north as Green Bay and it also played with teams in Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and Appleton, as early as 1876.

Mr. Norton said Saturday that all of the original Drednoughts, with the exception of Barney Zullinger, the shortstop, are still living and most of them reside in Chicago. Two of the younger players, who made the trip north in 1881, have died in recent years. They are Charles Bolander and Jim Drew, the pitcher and catcher, who played against the Negaunee team. In the ninth inning of the game here Bolander sustained a fracture of the nose and almost bled to death. He was confined to the hospital for more than a month. It was several times thought that he would not recover, as he suffered many hemorrhages. Drew accidentally struck him on the nose with a bat. The score for the game here was 15 to 1 in the Drednoughts' favor. Negaunee having scored its only run in the ninth after Bolander had retired. The next day the team played Ishpeming and the score there was 22 to 9 in the Drednoughts' favor.

When asked if he was as enthusiastic a baseball fan as he was in his early years, Mr. Norton replied, "Believe me, I never lose an opportunity to witness a good baseball game and Mrs. Norton is as enthusiastic a fan as I am. "Last summer I got all of the original Drednought players together with the intention of having a group picture taken. We selected a farm near Chicago for the outing, but it rained so hard we had to give up the picture."

Umpired Big Game at Ironwood. Mr. Norton can recall practically all of the men who were prominent baseball players or fans in the upper peninsula in the early days. In the seventies and eighties he was well known as an umpire and he officiated at hundreds of games in Chicago, as well as many in the upper peninsula. Several of the games played in this region during the eighties were umpired by Mr. Norton.

"I shall never forget a game I umpired between Ironwood and Hurley in 1891," said Mr. Norton. "The contest was for $1,000 a side and the people on the Gogebic range were much wrought up over it. The managers argued for days as to who should umpire, and they finally agreed on me. I knew the intense feeling between the two towns, and at first refused to officiate, but they insisted that I take hold, many of the business men declaring that if I did not umpire they would never buy any more goods from me. I finally consented. A number of my friends came to me and told me there would surely be trouble. In the first inning the Hurley captain registered a stiff kick on one of my decisions, but I told him that if he did not go back and play ball I would put him out of the game and award the contest to Ironwood. My ruling was on a fair ball that had been accidentally batted to the pitcher. The pitcher fielded the ball to first and put the runner out. The captain of the Hurley team, who was an old college player, made a strong bluff.

Old Timers Played Fast Ball. "In spite of the fact that the scores were larger in the games played in those days than they are now, the old timers played fast ball. The high scores were due to the fact that the batteries did not have their work down as fine as they do now. The batters hit the ball more freely. I kept a record of all the games that the Drednoughts played from the time they were organized until they disbanded and I also have a large book of newspaper clippings giving the account of the various contests. I find a great deal of pleasure in looking over the accounts of the games, as I witnessed many of them, and I still remember the more important incidents. The upper peninsula had some good teams in the eighties and the baseball fans were just as enthusiastic as there are now. The pitchers in the early days did harder work than they have to do at present. In one of our trips in 1876, when we played Rockford and other leading teams in Illinois, Jim Tierney, our big blacksmith, twirler, pitched six games in as many days, winning all of them. Tierney now has charge of the Armour company's fire department in Chicago. He has been with this concern for thirty years."

INJURED WHILE HUNTING.

Former Negaunee Man Had Narrow Escape From Death Near Crystal Falls.

Thomas Pengelase, formerly of Negaunee, who holds a responsible position with one of the mining companies at Crystal Falls, accidentally shot himself while hunting in the woods a week ago yesterday. The Diamond Drill of Saturday said of the accident: "Tom Pengelase was the victim of a gun accident and narrowly escaped death while in the woods last Sunday. His rifle was prematurely discharged, the bullet cutting across the right hand at the wrist, cutting the cords to the last three fingers and shattering one of the small bones. "Mr. Pengelase and his son were hunting and had stopped to rest. He was in the act of lighting his pipe when the gun slipped. The hammer struck a stick causing the cartridge to explode. The bullet cut across the hand as described and passed within a few inches of his head. "It was an exceedingly narrow escape. The injured man was hustled to the City Hospital where the wound was treated. He had to remain in the hospital until Tuesday when he was allowed to go home. "The indications are that he will lose the use of the little finger of the injured hand."

BARNUM-RAFFLES ATTRACTION.

R. G. Barnum, the hypnotist, hypnotized a man over the telephone Saturday evening and he is now asleep in the window of Sam Stevens' billiard hall, in the Sundberg block. The young man will be awakened on the stage of McDonald's opera house this evening at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Barnum has few equals as a hypnotist. Some day during the week raffles, the man of mystery, will give a reward to any one who can make him smile. He will also offer a reward for anyone who can identify him. A popular scale of prizes for the entertainments will prevail.

NEW PLANT IS A MODEL FACTORY

Concrete Building in Which Manufacturing Business of Longyear & Hodge is Now Being Carried on is Up-to-date in Every Respect and a Credit to City

Firm is Engaged in the Manufacture of Diamond Drills and Machine Parts—No Detail That Tends to Comfort and Health of Employees Has Been Overlooked.

A visit to the new plant of Longyear & Hodge on the boulevard, in which the firm has been located for about a month, is a revelation. The idea of a factory or manufacturing plant unconsciously carries with it an unsightly building belching forth clouds of black smoke and emitting ear-splitting noises, but, on the contrary, the Longyear & Hodge plant is ornamental as well as useful to the city, and an institution which could not be considered objectionable, even if located in the most exclusive residence district of any city.

The building is of concrete and was constructed with an eye to architectural harmony. The only power used is electricity and there is never used to pollute the atmosphere. A concrete walk has been built from Arch street to Hewitt avenue in front of the factory, and the grounds are being graded, preparatory to sodding and arranging flower beds and other landscape decorations, which, when completed, will give the exterior of the building and surroundings a pleasing and even artistic appearance, strange as this may seem when connected with an industrial plant.

Longyear & Hodge are engaged in the manufacture of diamond drills and drill machine parts, while the plant is also equipped for the general machine shop work. The business of the firm is now largely manufacturing diamond drills for the general trade, though it was originally started simply to supply parts and to repair work on the firm's own drills, of which it operates a large number on the iron and copper ranges of Michigan and Minnesota, some in the Sudbury, Canada, district, and an office has just been opened in British Columbia.

Description of Building.

The property consists of one block lying between Michigan and Ohio streets, with the main entrance from the boulevard. Access may be had from the north side to the building. The building faces the boulevard, with a wing extending to the west, forming a right angle. This wing measures 36 feet by 120 feet and the north wing 40 feet by 80 feet, both having a clear height of 14 feet under the girders. The offices of the company are on the second floor at the junction of the two wings, extending 40 feet north and 80 feet west. A hall and stairway from the main warehouse leads up to the second floor.

The office rooms are finished in southern pine with floors of hard maple throughout. The walls being tinted in light shades. These rooms consist of one large main office, a drafting room, four private offices, two lavatories and a roomy vault equipped with steel fixtures.

The store room occupies the north wing of the building and is designed and furnished with a view of having all supplies and repair parts easily accessible, as well as economizing floor space to the best advantage. The tubing rack extends along the center, opening from both sides and has a carrying capacity of 1500 lbs. of finished parts, ready for use in assembling new machines or for the purpose of repairs.

Stock Systematically Arranged.

On the west side of the same room are two commodious racks for bar material. The different grades are stored by themselves with reference to sizes, each in its own section. Adjacent to these racks is located a high-speed saw and a centering machine, driven by a motor. Instead of long lengths being carried into the shops, the bars of material are cut into proper lengths and centered, then stored in bins to be used as needed. Over these racks is built a balcony containing two double sections of steel shelving, one holding 250 steel pins which contain the same finished parts, the other being plain shelving for supplies. Just beyond are two double sections of pins, eighteen feet long and seven feet high. One of these holds various sizes of screws, bolts, etc., and the other all sizes of standard pipe fittings. Across the main passage way, over the racks on the west side of the room, is another roomy balcony which is used mainly for storing rope, coils of hose, and the more bulky supplies. The floor space in the front end of the warehouse, near the entrance to the shop proper, is reserved for various types of drills mounted on their frames. A steam line from the testing boiler runs through the wall here, so that any of these machines may be tested when necessary. Behind these machines, a space is reserved for the apparatus used in testing the steel tubing that is to be made into drill rods. Each piece of tubing is subjected to a hydrostatic test of 5,000 pounds to the square inch before being passed into the machine shop.

A section of shelving near the entrance into the shop carries the tool steel bars, as well as the jigs, templates, etc., used in the various shop operations. An "I" beam trolley runs through the center of the warehouse and through the entire length of the shop. From the warehouse it extends out across the drive way and over a large loading platform. Alongside this platform extends the spur from the L. S. & L. railway, so that material may be carried from cars or wagon, and easily moved to any part of the shops or store room.

Shifting on Roof Trusses.

The shop proper is at right angles to the store room. It measures 80 feet by 40 feet and is well lighted by large windows at the sides and end. For night work, large tungsten lamps with reflectors are suspended at intervals, while each machine has an individual light for the use of the operator. The line shafts and all of the counter shafts are supported on top of the roof trusses, instead of being suspended as is the usual custom. The trusses are about six feet in height, so that there is ample head room for oiling or adjusting shafts or pulleys, the tops of the trusses supporting the necessary flooring. This system does away with the use of ladders around the shops, and it also insures more safety to the workmen, as well as obstructing the light less than suspended shafting.

All of the machines are of the latest type and are arranged in the most convenient manner for the special work that each one is intended for. Besides the standard designs of engine lathes, drill presses, planer, shaper, grinders, etc., there are two improved turret lathes used principally for turning out blank bits, and such supplies and fittings as can be turned out economically and accurately. A large universal, horizontal boring mill is used almost exclusively for finishing engine frames, cylinders, swivel stands, etc. This machine is furnished with micrometer adjustments and parts may be finished in the machine without retooling, insuring perfect accuracy and interchangeability of parts of the various drill machines.

Each shop machine has a steel rack on wheels, where the tools are kept that are in constant use, also parts in process of machining. As the different operations are completed, the parts taken to different machines until finished, when they are carefully inspected and checked and taken to the store room.

Machines Tested at Factory.

Along the north wall of the shop a space is reserved for erecting drills, a trolley extending overhead to facilitate the handling of the heavier parts. Here all of the machines are put together, and all the bench work, such as scraping and fitting the different parts, is done. When the machines are finally assembled, each one is carried to the testing section, which is located near the front end of the room. A small upright boiler supplies the power for testing, equipped with a steam line, supplied with swing joints, which is easily connected to the new engine. For testing the hydraulic feeds and other parts requiring hydrostatic pressure, there is a pump with a capacity of 500 pounds per square inch. Particular attention is given to this part of the work, as the drill machines are shipped often into remote parts of the country, to places where repair shops are inaccessible and into hands of operators who are not skilled machinists. Each machine leaves the factory in perfect running order and is ready to be put to work as soon as it is unpacked and connected up at its destination.

In the southeast corner of the shop is a large fire-proof vault with double doors. In this vault, which is fitted with shelves, are kept all special tools, gauges and samples.

At the west end of the shop is a small wing containing the toilet and wash room for the shop employees. The walls are of hollow concrete block, and the floor is also concrete. A battery of wash basins of special vitreous ware occupy the center of the floor. Along the wall are arranged steel lockers, one for each employee. Individual towels and soap are furnished each man by the firm, and the company also attends to their laundering.

CHRISTMAS COMING ON APACE.

Merchants Already Prepared to Care For Wants of Early Shoppers.

Appreciating what has happened in this city for several years past and appreciating the improvement in the past few years since agitation was begun, the merchants of this city are already beginning to seriously consider the proposition of Christmas shopping this year. For the past few years there has been a falling off in the rush the last few days but it is desired that this rush should be still less. The merchants are beginning to talk over the Christmas shopping proposition and while they hope to do just as much business this year as in past seasons, they hope that the customers will begin to think of what gifts they want to purchase and arrange to do their shopping early.

Already some of the stores are beginning to make display of Christmas goods in hopes of alluring the Christmas purchaser to do some of the shopping this month. In a short time most of the business houses of the city will be prepared for the big Christmas trade. The stocks for this trade have already been received in many stores, and all that is needed is the unpacking and display.

A Marquette merchant said Saturday: "There are only thirty-five shopping days, excluding Thanksgiving day and the Sundays, between now and Christmas. These are not too many days for the residents of the city to make their purchases and it does not seem right to either the merchant or the clerk that they should be called upon to do the business of thirty-five days on December 24. As far as I am concerned I hope that they will all have cleaned up their Christmas business by that time and that December 24 will find business very normal, instead of rushed from morning until midnight. It is much more satisfactory all the way around and in the end pleases merchant, clerk and customer."

The sale of traveling salesman's samples is still on at the Bee Hive store, 11-14 ft.

SPECIAL HUNTERS' EXCURSION TRAIN.

The Marquette & Southeastern railway will run a special hunters' excursion train, from Marquette to Big Bay and return, on the following Sundays: November 6th, 13th and 20th. The train will leave Marquette at 6:30 a. m., returning, will leave Big Bay at 5:00 p. m., making the usual stops between Big Bay and Marquette. As this train will not handle baggage, it will be necessary for parties having other than hand baggage to arrange to make shipments of their baggage by freight on Saturday, which will require delivery at the M. & S. E. railway freight station not later than 5:00 p. m. Friday night.

OSBORN CLEANS HOUSE JAN. 1

Many Appointments to be Made—Wise Ones Smile Over the "Recess Appointments."

Throughout the primary campaign and during the campaign which just closed Chase S. Osborn announced that he would clean house at Lansing on Jan. 1.

Many of the wise ones just smiled and pointed out that the terms of practically all of the heads of departments ran until June 30 at least, and that Mr. Osborn would have considerable difficulty in separating several statesmen from their jobs. This was put up to Mr. Osborn but he contented himself with saying:

"I have promised to see that the men who deserve to go are going on Jan. 1, and they are going."

Many, among them aspirants to several of the places, have been looking into the situation, and they believe they have solved the problem.

Practically all of the appointments made by Gov. Warner were "recess appointments," that is, they were made after the adjournment of the legislature. Now all of the appointments made by the governor are subject to confirmation by the senate. It is customary for the governor to send to the list of the recess appointments and they are all confirmed at once, as the senate seldom turns down what the governor wants.

The Wise One's Wink.

Now it will be up to Mr. Osborn to send these appointments along to the senate and it is right at that point that he will see how he holds his head and wink the other eye.

Suppose Gov. Osborn doesn't send in the list for confirmation, what then? Or suppose that he sends it in with the recommendation that they be not confirmed?

Or supposing again, he separates the appointments into two lists, the sheep and the goats, as it were, and sends in one for confirmation and the other to be turned down? Just exactly what Mr. Osborn has in mind he is keeping right to himself, but it seems to be pretty certain that when he promised to clean house on Jan. 1 he had this situation in mind. Just what procedure must be followed is a matter of discussion as yet.

One authority says that Mr. Osborn can send in those he wishes turned down and quietly pass the word to the senate as to what he wants and that he can then send in the names of those he wants appointed, both recess and his original appointments, and have the senate act favorably on them, with the result that his appointee can take immediate possession of the office.

Fletcher and Lillie to Go.

The two big offices affected in this way are those of labor commissioner, and dairy and food commissioner. Dick Fletcher, labor commissioner, is one who is absolutely sure to go. Fletcher was appointed for a second term of two years during the last session of the legislature, but owing to the fact that the statutes governing his department had been amended to raise his salary $500, it was necessary for Gov. Warner to reappoint him in September, 1909. His term runs to June 1911, but he became a recess appointment on the second appointment and it is a safe bet that he will be separated from the payroll within the briefest possible period of time after Osborn gets into harness.

Colin C. Lillie, dairy and food commissioner, comes under the same head. He was appointed last summer to succeed the late A. C. Bird, who died in office. Mr. Osborn announced publicly on the stump that Lillie would not be reappointed by him.

Another important office affected is that of insurance commissioner, from which James V. Barry recently resigned and to which Marion O. Rowland was appointed. In addition to these important offices there are a large number of honorary appointments to various state boards. Many of the men appointed to these positions were supporters of Mr. Osborn, and it is hardly likely that the axe will fall on all of them.

Following is a complete list of the recess appointments:
