COUNT TOLSTOI SERIOUSLY ILL IN NATIVE LAND

Attended by His Daughter and a Physician Who Shared His Flight, the Aged Author and Socialist Lies Very Sick in a Little Railroad Station.

Where He Hoped to End His Days in the Colony Founded by Him Is Defeated When He Is Stricken With Fever.

Enla, Russia, Nov. 14.—Broken down by the hardships of a winter journey, a long mental strain and a rupture with his family, Count Leo Tolstoy tonight lies with a high fever in a little railroad station at Astapova, barely eighty miles from his home at Yasnaya Polna. Tolstoy is attended by Dr. Makovetsky, who was his sole companion when he left his peasant hut a few days ago and carried along with him medicines for just such an emergency. Tolstoy's daughter Alexandra is acting as nurse.

The temperature of the aged writer is 104, indicating probably a serious congestion and of itself an alarming symptom in one of Tolstoy's years. The mental anguish of the patient handicaps the efforts of the patient to reduce the fever. Even if Tolstoy recovers, there can be no question of his continuing his journey to the Caucasus, where he hoped to end his life among the Tolstoin colony on the shore of the Black sea.

Tolstoy had hoped to escape notice after his hasty departure from Yasnaya Polna and had spent a quiet week in Anzovell, with his sister Marie, in the ancient cloister of Shamardino, in the province of Kaluga, but he insisted upon leaving immediately he found his retreat had been discovered. He drove in a carriage last evening from Shamardino to Kozelsk, accompanied by his daughter Alexandra and Dr. Makovetsky, in order to cover his movements, and announced that he was going to Moscow, where he has a house. Later, however, the party changed cars and boarded a slow local train, proceeding in the direction of the Caucasus.

Tolstoy and his two companions made their way to an unventilated third-class compartment which was crowded with peasants. The atmosphere was stifling, and he developed such a fever that Dr. Makovetsky thought it unwise to attempt to reach Danukov, the first town in any considerable size along the route. They left the train at Astapova, which is merely a flag station. There is no hospital there, and only a few peasant huts. The count was taken to the station building, where he is remaining for the night.

PUZZLING PROBLEM FOR COURT OFFICIALS

Disposition of Boys Charged With Burglary Proves Difficult of Solution.

Sheriff Byers and Prosecuting Attorney MacDonald were in a quandary yesterday morning regarding the disposition of the cases and persons of Mike Bernardi, Clyde Reid and Eugene Charles, three South Range youths, arraigned in the circuit court on a charge of burglary. They do not want to consider that the boys are incorrigible, but the fact is that they are up now on a burglary charge for the second time in six months.

They are all just over seventeen years of age, which takes them out of the jurisdiction of Judge Bentley's juvenile court, but they are too young to be sent to a reformatory and are also too old to be sent to the industrial school. They may of course be sent to Ionia reformatory, but the sheriff and prosecuting attorney do not want to send them there if there is a reasonable chance of securing their reformation in another way, and it is considered that Ionia would be little better than a school of crime for them.

Judge Streeter yesterday morning appointed William A. Burritt, one of the older members of the bar, to represent the boys and investigate their cases. Mr. Burritt expressed the belief that the boys should be punished, but not for burglary and not by being sent to a penal institution. Judge Streeter was to have made final disposition of their cases yesterday afternoon.

A somewhat similar case arose Sunday morning when a Hancock boy was arrested for stealing $10 at York's flower store where he was employed. The sheriff believes the money was left conveniently to test the boy and he did not prove strong enough to withstand the temptation. The sheriff is averse to punishing this boy for this offense and will make an effort to have him retained in his job as an instance of the confidence of his employers and the officers that he will go straight in the future.

Criminal Business Almost Completed. If begun to look yesterday morning as though the jury would get through its work for this term of court by the end of this week. There have been so many continuances and settlements that very few cases remain on the calendar. All but two of the twenty-two criminal cases had been disposed of up to yesterday noon.

The case against John Tappier went to the jury yesterday noon. He was charged with assault with the intent to do great bodily harm, in having on Sept. 17, hit his partner in the mine business, August Nyssi, over the head with a bottle of beer.

The cases against Martin Massogio and Louis Valerio, charged with assault with intent to rob, were nolle prossed. Prosecuting Attorney MacDonald asking leave to show cause why he should not file information against them.

Several cases with statutory charges, most of them growing out of the "white slave" investigation in Hancock, were continued. Pong Wo So's case also was continued, he being the Chinese charged with a statutory offense. One of the remaining criminal cases is that of Albert Olson, charged with desertion. When arraigned Olson said that he had no attorney and Judge Streeter advised him to get one, declining to appoint one for him. In the recent term of court Judge Streeter presiding plainly indicated his views regarding the proper punishment for men convicted of deserting their wives and Olson is the first man to come before him on such a charge since that time.

Arthur Kallio, charged with breaking into and robbing a freight car at Calumet some weeks ago, was given leave to change his plea to guilty of larceny of a lesser value than $25. He was remanded to jail to await sentence.

The charge against Hilma Steinback was formally nolle prossed as she has been deported to Finland by the United States immigration authorities.

JAMES N. WRIGHT DIES AT DETROIT

Calumet & Hecla's Former General Superintendent Passes at the Age of 71.

James N. Wright of Detroit, former general superintendent of the Calumet & Hecla mines and at the time of his death a director in that company, died Sunday afternoon at Detroit after a long illness. He was seventy-one years of age.

Mr. Wright was born in Connecticut in 1839 in his native state received an academic education. When twenty years of age he came to the Lake Superior copper region and was one of the earliest of the great miners who have been identified with the development of the great copper industry of today. He became actively identified with mining by becoming clerk of the old Minnesota mine, a position which he held for four years, and in which he demonstrated an executive ability which was certain to bring him into prominence in greater mining affairs. He was next clerk of the Quinn and his abilities naturally gained him promotion to the agency of that mine, a position corresponding to the superintendency of today.

Mr. Wright was made general superintendent of the Calumet & Hecla in 1872 and had much to do with the larger development of that great property. He was the immediate predecessor of Superintendent Whiting who held the position until he was superseded by General Manager James MacNaughton.

When Mr. Wright gave up the management of the Calumet & Hecla he retired to private life, but maintained connection with the company as one of the two Michigan directors, a position which he held until his death.

No advices have been received here as yet regarding the funeral arrangements. Mr. Wright is the author of "When Copper Was King," a novel dealing with copper mining at Calumet and vicinity. It deals with the early days of mining, before men were succeeded by machinery in mining operations. It is a readable story and has a place in many copper country libraries, helping to keep green the memory of a man who had a great part in the industry with which it deals.

TO INVESTIGATE DEATH. Justice Little and Deputy Sheriff Carroll to Otter Lake.

Justice Little and Deputy Sheriff Carroll drove yesterday to Otter Lake to investigate the death of the wife of a farmer at that place. The matter was reported by a neighbor to the justice and by him brought to the attention of Sheriff Byers and prosecuting Attorney MacDonald.

The two latter officials do not believe there is any cause for an investigation but are making it to satisfy themselves that their belief is correct. The man who reported the matter believed that the woman was not dead at the time her husband reported her as such and he thinks that the husband acted hastily in placing the body in a cold stable before death was certain.

RECOUNT IN GOGEBIC COUNTY. P. H. O'Brien Interested in Contest Against Rowett's Election.

P. H. O'Brien, the Laurium attorney, was in Houghton yesterday on his way to Ironwood, where today a recount is to be made of the vote for the office of sheriff. The recount is made at the instance of Patrick Collins, the Democrat and defeated nominee for sheriff. John Rowett, the celebrated Cornish wrestler and well-known game warden, having been declared elected on the unofficial returns.

It appears that Rowett's majority was only thirty-nine votes on the original count and Collins believes that a recount will make enough of a difference to insure his election. Collins is unknown in the copper country but Rowett is well known here and naturally his friends are hoping that the majority as given him unofficially will stand.

MISS POUILL'S ART EXHIBIT. Interesting Addition to the Houghton Library Exhibit Today.

Miss Pouill of Lake Linden will today open an exhibition of her own paintings at the Houghton Public Library, commenced with the exhibit of rugs, pottery and baskets which has been in progress for the past week and will continue throughout this week. Miss Pouill will show a number of canvases, some of them of large size. Miss Pouill's work is known here through her large mural decoration in the office of Gay & Sturges and her other work will be examined with interest.

The rug, pottery and basketry exhibit is being largely added to daily, a large number of specimens having been received yesterday. The exhibition has been a revelation in the matter of the many beautiful objects of these unique arts which are decorating Houghton homes.

LENGTH OF A HOUGHTON MILE. Uncertainty Regarding This Important Matter Still Exists.

How far is a mile? This question may appear to belong properly in the same category with the famous queries "How old is Ann?" and "Why does a chicken" but it really is a more serious matter. Such confirmed walkers as Captain Dick Lang would place the terminal points of a mile in Houghton at a greater distance apart than, say, a reporter who walks because he has to while others judge a mile to be between varying points.

It has long been considered in Houghton that it is just a mile from the Portage Lake bridge, Dakota street, to Haas' Park. Others, seemingly speaking ex cathedra, ex libris and according to Hoyle say that it is just a mile from the bridge to the station corner

Fresh Air in Winter

In winter, it is hard to get fresh air in certain rooms. Some rooms in a house are usually colder than others, and if you open the windows it is hard again to heat the room properly. If you keep the windows closed you don't get fresh air; if you keep them open you cannot quickly reheat the room. The PERFECTION OIL HEATER. Absolutely smokeless and odorless solves the difficulty. You can leave the windows in a room open all day in winter, and when you close them apply a match to a Perfection Oil Heater and heat the room to any temperature you desire in a few minutes.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or nickel. It burns for nine hours. It has a cork handle and a damper top. It has an automatic locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being burnt high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be quickly cleaned. An indicator always shows amount of oil in the font.

The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down. It is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection Oil Heater is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

post near the East Houghton school on College avenue. The matter came up yesterday and an investigation was made. Village Engineer Fesing could not be located at the time and the village may, hanging on the wall of the village council chamber, was consulted. This map is drawn on a scale of one inch to 150 feet. On this scale a mile is from the bridge to Clark street in East Houghton, one block east of Vivian street.

RETURNS FROM DEER HUNTERS. Many Nimrods Returning With Their Kill—Slaughter Is Heavy.

There are many indications that the slaughter of deer in Houghton county this season will be heavy. Reports are coming in from all directions of kills to the limit of many licenses, though actual results have been few as yet.

George Conroy, George Crabbe and John P. Verrier returned Sunday from Seeger, each with two deer.

Richard Doyle, the Copper Range conductor, has gone to Hall's camp on the south range for the hunting season.

Dr. and Mrs. McNamara of Trimmontain passed through Houghton yesterday with a deer which they had killed in Baraga county.

John Soderberg of the Indiana mine yesterday shipped a small buck to his home in Ishpeming, having killed it near the mine.

Dr. H. W. Stool, Rev. J. E. Curzon and H. W. Har, each report a buck killed in Baraga county.

IS FORMER LAKE LINDEN BOY. Lieut. Com. McCormick, New Lighthouse Inspector of Great Lakes.

Ed. J. McCormick of the Calumet legal firm of Garrauth & McCormick, has been advised of the appointment of his brother, Lieutenant Commander M. J. McCormick of the United States Navy, as lighthouse inspector for the great lakes.

Commander McCormick, who is a former Lake Linden boy, graduate of the Lake Linden High school before going to Annapolis, is at present in the cruise of Tennessee, which bore President Taft to Panama, arriving there yesterday. He saw service at Manila in the Dewey fight at the opening of the Spanish American war and was recommended for gallantry for his work as signal officer of the Baltimore in that memorable fight.

It is expected that as soon as Commander McCormick returns to the United States from the Panama trip he will return to his old home for a visit, as the orders appointing him lighthouse inspector give him a three months' leave of absence.

DONATION TO BOYS' CLUB. Paper Company at Neeah, Wis., Gives Wrestling Mat Material.

Dr. R. T. Farrand, promoter of the Houghton Boys' club, has received another donation for the club. This time it consists of material from which to manufacture wrestling mats for the proposed gymnasium. The gift is from S. F. Shattuck of Neeah, Wis., manager of the Kimberley-Clark Paper mill at that place.

In a paper mill the paper pulp is formed into sheets by being deposited on 150-inch felt blankets, which in time become so worn that they are no longer suited to the work, though still intact to all intents and purposes. Mr. Shattuck advised Dr. Farrand that he had sent to Houghton enough of these blankets to make all the wrestling mats that may be ever required. All that will be necessary will be to form them into mats with canvas covers.

The affairs of the boys' club are coming on with speed. Within a short time there will be a monster meeting of business men, at which addresses will be delivered. Later there will be a big athletic program involving the best talent in the county. This program will be for the instruction of the boys, object lessons in various forms of athletic and gymnastic exercises. The interest of the boys being thus excited they will be given an opportunity to work at these exercises in their own gymnasium.

Invitations have been received in Houghton to the wedding of J. William Van Evert of Virginia, Minn., and Miss Hazel Payne of Florence, Wis., to take place at the latter city Nov. 24.

Mr. Van Evert is a son of John Van Evert of Marquette and is a graduate of the Michigan College of Mines of 1907, having been the president of his class. While in Houghton he was very popular socially. He is now mining engineer in the interests of the free owners of the Silver mine at Virginia.

Markets

New York, Nov. 14.—The market was strong during the greater part of the session, with buying on an influential character by interests who generally operate on the constructive side of the market, reported in Steel and Union Pacific. Call money rates were easier and the sentiment was more cheerful.

It was not yet clear as to whether the immediate outlook that would warrant the expectation of a pronounced upward movement and we are inclined to continue to advise caution on the long side. Today's closing prices were:

Boston Coppers.

Boston, Nov. 14.—The market in East Butte eclipsed everything else on the local list. Outside of East Butte, everything was dull. The buying of this stock is coming from all over the country and is due principally to the wonderful showing of the mine. Lake rights expire today and we expect to see a slant rally in the stock tomorrow. Copper Range and Osceola were slightly stronger and there were a few scattering orders to buy North Butte. We can see no disposition on the part of any one to liquidate the copper returns of any one of our steady firms. Closing prices:

Osceola.

The feature of Osceola's operations during the current year has been the further decline in the copper contents of the rock treated. The expectation had been that Osceola would prove an eighteen-point proposition, but in 1908 the average recovery was 17.1 pounds per ton of rock; in 1909 the yield dropped a little further to 16.9 and this year the recovery will be even lower than in 1909.

The Osceola lode is of very low grade in the Osceola property, so low in fact that last spring it was deemed expedient, in view of the low price of copper, to suspend all operations on this vein.

This has of course considerably reduced output, but it has probably not appreciably reduced profits. During the shut-down at this point, needed repairs will be made to the shafts, pumps, etc., in order that immediate resumption of operations may be ordered when the price of copper warrants. In consequence of the cessation of production from the Osceola lode, the output of copper for the first ten months of 1910 has been only 15,881,430 pounds as against 21,535,238 for the same ten months last year.

The company will do well to show as low a copper cost as the very creditable figure of 9.47 cents per pound shown in 1909. In view of the smaller output and lower copper yield it would be only natural if the cost this year were somewhat higher. From the standpoint of extraction the Calumet & Hecla management is making important savings of copper, formerly lost, at all of the properties. It is well that the declining copper values at depth have partial compensation in increased metal recoveries at the mill.

Osceola will probably produce 19,000,000 pounds of copper this year and if the profit is 3 1/2 cents a pound, the company will do very well indeed under all conditions. This would mean about $7 per share for the 96,150 shares of stock.

New York Cotton Market.

New York, Nov. 14.—Following a weaker Liverpool than expected, the market developed a weak tone after the opening and was sold freely on the theory that spot cotton is piling up and cannot be forced on the market for sale, regardless of the price. The decline extended during the forenoon to about 20 points. It looks illogical to sell contracts below a parity with spots and expect the spinner must continue to make purchases to fill his requirements out of an inadequate supply and with the production of the most independent position for years.

Chicago Wheat. Chicago, Nov. 14.—The bears had encouragement at the outset from the weak and lower Liverpool market. Broomball reported rains on the early Argentine harvest. This did not attract much attention and later private cables told of a return of fine conditions for the wheat promises in that country. The helpful effect of the export business reported at Duluth was offset by the increase in the visible supply. This raised the total visible supply, including bonded wheat at various points, close to 42,000,000 bushels.

Mining News

ISLE ROYALE. To date the explorations at the Isle Royale property in search of the Baltic or Superior lode have been distinctly disappointing, and there is nothing in the situation at the present time which holds out the slightest expectation that commercial copper values exist at this point. All sinking and drifting in this zone have been discontinued, although a diamond drill at the 714-foot level is still searching for better ground.

In view of the very much better conditions prevailing at Superior, adjoining on the southwest, confidence has been strong that Isle Royale must sooner or later tap the northern extension of the same formation, but beyond spasmodic indications of better ground, all work to date in the horizon of the Baltic lode has yet to hold out any promise for the future. It is also to be cited that the northern drifts at the Superior (toward Isle Royale) have shown a faulted continuation of the lode.

On the Isle Royale lode, improvement is to be noted. For the past few months the mine has been breaking about even Stockholders should not expect that the operations for the year 1910 will show any substantial profit as the Isle Royale lode is very lumpy, and the cost of mining (per pound of copper) in consequence is relatively high. For the year ended Dec. 31, 1909, Isle Royale showed a net loss from operations, after the payment of interest, of $192,991. A materially better showing should be made for the current twelve months but, after all, Isle Royale is still the uncertain proposition—particularly on the low metal market—that it always has been.

important feature is the fact that the Anaconda has given the Raven permission to develop and mine the Snoozer, the property from which the Raven was mining high grade ore several years ago when a dispute arose as to prospect rights on one of the veins. The Raven owns seven-eighths of the Snoozer and the Butte Coalition one-eighth. When the Raven operated through the Buffalo shaft three levels were driven into the Snoozer and two good veins opened. It is the intention of the company now to sink the old Snoozer shaft deeper, and reach the ore bodies that have been developed on the 800, 1,200 and 1,500 levels. Incidentally the sinking of the shaft will also determine the ownership of the vein in dispute. During his visit in Butte recently President Ben Thayer of the Anaconda approved the Raven plans for the work on the Snoozer.

FEW ATTRACTIONS BEFORE HOLIDAYS

Independent and Trust Interests Have Reached Satisfactory Booking Agreement.

The theatre managers of the iron and copper districts, whose houses have been dark the greater part of the past month, have but few attractions to present between now and the holidays. October was a disastrous month for many theatrical companies. Business was unusually poor, largely due to politics. As a result a large number of weak attractions were forced to disband, and some of the better class of attractions were also withdrawn.

As a result of an agreement reached recently between the Klav & Erlanger and the Shubert-Cort interests both trust and independent attractions are now to be booked in practically all the theatres of the country. Following the organization of the National Theatre Managers association last spring, Klav & Erlanger refused to give the independent house managers any more of their attractions, but the independent forces covered such extensive territory that the trust interests were finally glad to book their shows on the same terms as those handled by the independent producers. It is now expected that the theatres of this region will get at least a few of the trust attractions before the close of the season. "The Three Twins," the first of the so-called trust attractions, which is owned by Joe M. Gaites, is soon to appear at the Lyceum theatre, Detroit, and it is expected that several others will follow in that city.

In many of the medium-sized cities the opposition forces had provided additional theatres that are now to be turned into vaudeville houses, as it has been found that this class of cities will not support more than one theatre.

Early Bookings Here.

A half dozen or more attractions are booked for Ishpeming theatre between now and Christmas. Howe's moving pictures, which will be seen tomorrow evening, and will be greeted by the banner house of the season. Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin company will give afternoon and evening performances, on the 22nd. There are nearly fifty people in the company. F. O. Renard, who has brought a number of first-class attractions from Sweden, including the Royal Vendes band, the Skansen dancers, and others, is directing the American tour of the "We and Us" company, which came over from Sweden less than a month ago. The troupe will be seen at Ishpeming theatre on Monday, the 28th. In a letter to the theatre manager under date of the tenth, Mr. Renard said: "The company has made a big hit in the East, and we are receiving fine offers for return dates. It is the best attraction that we have ever brought over, as there is great novelty in the program presented." On Tuesday evening, the 29th, William Norris' musical baseball comedy, "My Cinderella Girl," will appear here. This attraction ran for three hundred nights in Chicago, prior to the opening of this season, when it was sent on the road.

In December "Lulu's Husband" is booked for the 5th and "Seven Days," a well known comedy, for the 15th.

HOWE'S FOREIGN TRAVELS.

Lyman H. Howe's travel festival attracts nearly two million people each season. It affords the opportunity to travel by proxy, the only way many can travel. The new "itinerary" booked for the Ishpeming theatre tomorrow evening, will take Howe tourists directly to distant lands and strange scenes without tedious train-journeys, irritating delays, officious customs inspectors, etc., which are the bane of the actual traveler. There will be a ride up the Eiffel tower; another through the Alps in winter; and another through the fjords of Norway. There are scenes showing the recent violent eruption of Mt. Etna; life on a training ship; a Japanese jubilee; building the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad; an exclusive reproduction of the late King Edward's funeral in London and the impressive scenes in Windsor.

P. H. BYRNS DIED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Old and Wellknown Ishpeming Resident Succumbed to An Attack of Apoplexy.

P. H. Byrns, who had been lingering between life and death since the afternoon of election day, passed away yesterday about 1 o'clock. Apoplexy was the cause of his demise.

Mr. Byrns had been in poor health for some three or four years and he had suffered two light strokes of apoplexy prior to the one which resulted fatally, both of them within the last two years. He voted on election day at about 10:30 o'clock and an hour or so afterward he was stricken at his home on Jasper street. Upon returning from the polls he told his wife that he had voted the straight Republican ticket, and that he was proud of the fact. The deceased had always been a staunch Republican. Although he was in a weakened condition last Tuesday morning he insisted on going out to vote. He lived nearby to the polling place in the Fifth ward.

The deceased was one of the city's best known residents, and he had lived here for the past thirty-one years. Until he retired he was continuously in the employ of the Oliver Iron Mining company. He was a man of retiring disposition, but had many friends, who had voted the straight Republican ticket, and that he was proud of the fact. The deceased had always been a staunch Republican. Although he was in a weakened condition last Tuesday morning he insisted on going out to vote. He lived nearby to the polling place in the Fifth ward.

The first of the month. The last one to be moved from the mines here for lake shipment went forward the latter part of last week, but yesterday the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company received instructions to handle 10,000 tons from the Mary Charlotte mine, Negaunee, for a boat that had arrived in Escanaba. The last of this ore will go forward today and the boat will leave the docks tonight or tomorrow.

The season has been a good one and when the shipments are figured up it will be found that a larger tonnage was sent from the mines in Marquette county than last year, though there had been no particular rush at any time during the summer or fall. The season would not have closed so soon if it had not been for the unfavorable weather during the past two weeks or more. A number of the men that were employed in the yards during the summer have been laid off. Several of the older hands will have winter jobs on the road. Some of the road engineers and firemen on the Northwestern system, who are entitled to yard engines during the winter, are now taking up the yard work, and many of the engineers are going back to firing.

A WEEK OF PRAYER.

Meetings Will Be Held Under Direction of Y. M. C. A. Committee.

Several of the church congregations of the city will unite with the religious work committee of the Ishpeming Young Men's Christian association in conducting services this week, designated by the International association and the World's Conference as a week of prayer. The first union service will be held this evening in Calvary Baptist church. Tomorrow night the meeting is set for the Presbyterian church, Thursday evening for the First Methodist Episcopal church, and Friday for the Salisbury Methodist church.

Next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock there will be a mass meeting for men in the Ishpeming theatre, under auspices of the Y. M. C. A. committee. Special music will be rendered by the Ishpeming band and an address appropriate to the occasion will be given. No admission fee will be charged. Tickets will be distributed to all who wish to attend.

FEW DEER COMING IN.

C. T. Kruse was one of the first Ishpeming men to bring a deer to the city. He came in with one Sunday. He returned to his camp again last night in the hope of getting another. He said yesterday that D. T. Morgan, who accompanied him on the trip, had also shot a deer. Messrs. Morgan and Kruse were together when six deer, two bucks, two does, one yearling and a fawn, came within range of their rifles. They shot several times, but the deer got away so rapidly that they succeeded in getting but one each. Fred Smith, a former resident, and his friends from Elk Rapids, who are hunting near Camp Nine, had four carcases hung up yesterday. Herman Jaedecke and his son, Gordon, with others are hunting at Camp Florence, have each shot a deer. Ed. Vain came in yesterday from Grummett's camp, north of Clowers, and he reported that George Grummett, Sr., George Grummett, Jr., and William O'Brien each had a deer.

The one shipping season has practically been closed on the Marquette range, but it is possible that a few more carloads may be called for between now and street, who was taken ill some three weeks ago and who was removed to the Ishpeming hospital a little over a week ago, died Sunday. The deceased was an old resident of the city and he also lived in the copper country for a time. He was very well known and highly respected. During the greater part of the time he lived in Ishpeming he was employed at the Lake Angelina mine. He was about forty-five years of age and is survived by his widow and one child, A. brother, Richard Haylock, a former resident, who lives at Mohawk, in the copper country, came to Ishpeming a few days ago, accompanied by his wife. The deceased was a member of St. George's Episcopal church, Sons of St. George, also of the Ancient Order of Foresters. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon, under direction of the Foresters. The members of the Sons of St. George society will also attend. The funeral cortege will leave the house at 1:30 and the services will be conducted at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. C. L. Finch, of the Salisbury Methodist church, officiating.

"Caesar," the favorite dog of the late King Edward, does not permit the members of the English Court to forget his former master. The terrier refuses to accept anyone into his affections to take the place of the dead monarch, and spends much of his time in the parts of the palace where the former King played with him. "Caesar" was an impressive part of the funeral procession when the body of King Edward was carried to its last resting place. The dog followed the gun carriage, seeming to know what was going on. He appears in the official moving picture records of the obsequies which Lyman H. Howe is presenting in America through courtesy of the British Government.

PRISON WARDEN MAKES HIS BIENNIAL REPORT

Following is the report of James Russell, warden of the Marquette prison, for the last two year period, recently submitted to the board of control and by the board transmitted to Governor Warner:

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit my report as warden of the State House of Correction and the Michigan State Prison for the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, embracing the biennial period ended June 30, 1910, accompanied by detailed statements from the several departments of the institution which will place before you its operations as a whole since my last biennial report was submitted.

The official force of the prison consists of a warden, deputy warden, clerk, hallmaster, physician, two chaplains, steward, engineer, assistant engineer, superintendent of farm and grounds, night captain and schoolmaster, six keepers and twelve guards. This is a reduction of two keepers in the force of officers, which has been made possible by bettered discipline in the shops and a simplification of the work therein.

The prison population at the close of the fiscal year was 326, a gain of ten for the two years ending by this report, as against a gain of fifteen for the previous biennial period. Number of prisoners received during the two years ending June 30, 1910, 171; re-admitted by court order, 2; returned for violation of parole, 19; escaped inmates returned, 5; paroled, 15; discharged, 35; released by court order, 5; escaped (all trustees), 6. The daily average for this biennial period was 318.5.

There were no escapes from the prison proper during the two years covered by this report. Of the trustees who were paroled while at work outside the walls, Fred Hill, who escaped August 30, 1908, was returned September 22 of the same year. Anthony Potvin, who escaped August 30, 1908, having 48 days left to serve, has not been recaptured. George Munroe, who escaped July 1, 1909, with 49 days yet to serve, is still at large. Earl Brownell, with 52 days yet to serve, who escaped September 8, 1909, was recaptured in Ohio, and was brought back November 11, 1909. George E. Conklin, who escaped September 8, 1909, with one day yet to serve, is still at large. Michael Sheridan, who escaped March 28, 1910, was recaptured and returned to prison on the 5th of April following. Thomas Ryan, who escaped October 3, 1904, by scaling the wall, was returned March 2, 1909, and is now serving out his sentence. He was arraigned in the circuit court on complaint of the warden for having broken prison and was given an additional sentence for that offense of from six months to three years. Asa Tefft escaped June 8, 1904, was recaptured in Chicago and returned to the prison, October 23, 1909.

119 Men Paroled.

Of the 119 men paroled during this interval, 33 violated the conditions of their parole. Sixteen of these have been returned to the prison and are now serving out their sentences; one died while on parole, and 17 have not been recaptured. Four who had previously been paroled and had violated the conditions of their parole have been recaptured and are now in custody. There are now on parole and still reporting 38 men.

Including special appropriations for all purposes the per capita maintenance cost for the period covering this biennial period was $102.27 each year. The per capita food cost per day during the two years was $1.263, clothing, $0.432, the average per capita cost for food and clothing being $1.695 per day, or at the rate of $5.085 per month for each inmate.

The earnings of the institution from the labor employed on the contracts now running have shown a gratifying increase during this biennial period, compared with that preceding. During the last two years the receipts from the overall contract amounted to $32,174.02, and from the box contracts to $82,939.70, a total of $115,113.72. The total receipts from the labor employed under the two contracts for the two preceding years was $48,717.23, the gain being $13,876.02. During the two years ended June 30, 1908, there was drawn from the state for maintenance of the prison $100,000, and for the two years ended June 30, 1910, $72,000, a decrease of $28,000 was drawn during the first of the two years and $32,000 the second year. A comparison of the figures discloses that although the number of inmates in the prison is increasing the cost to the state of its maintenance is steadily decreasing, and that the largest decrease has been during the last fiscal year, during which there was drawn $8,000 less from the state treasury than during the previous fiscal year. I regard this as a very satisfactory showing, bearing in mind the very largely increased cost of supplies of all kinds during the past two years, and especially during the last year.

Two Contracts in Force.

The bulk of the men are employed on two contracts, one for the manufacture of overalls, and the other for box shoos. The number of men employed on these two contracts at the date of this report is 240—166 being employed on the overalls contract and 74 in the box factory. The men engaged on these contracts are making something over $8,000 a year in overtime, this being money paid them by the contractors for work done over the tasks assigned them. Very many of them are sending money thus earned to their families, who are saving them as well as so that they may have something to start with when they are discharged. Under the present parole law a prisoner who is paroled is required to furnish his own clothing on going out and provide for his transportation to his destination. Men who are looking for a parole are therefore making it a point to save money to meet these expenditures, and this incentive to good conduct in the shops is a potent factor in promoting better discipline in the prison generally.

During the past two years I have, with the consent of the contractors, closed down the shops every evening at 4:30 and have allowed all the men the yard for exercise and recreation for half an hour before they go to their cells each day in the week except Saturdays, on which day we close down at 4 o'clock to give time for the weekly bath, which all the men are required to take. In addition to this, I have during the last year arranged to have the men given the yard every Sunday forenoon from 8:30 after the services in the chapel, until 11 o'clock. This, with the time given them in the yard during the week days, has tended very noticeably to improve their health and has developed a much better feeling among them towards the prison management. The contractors have found that they have lost nothing by this concession, as the men are showing increased efficiency in the shops and work more cheerfully in consequence. I have sought latterly to give the men all the time possible in the yard, where they can engage in athletic games and enjoy the fresh air and sunshine, and my experience convinces me that this is a wise policy, in that it tends to humanize the men and keep them in good physical condition. The yard privilege is very highly prized and deprivation of that and other privileges in the prison has come to be the principal punishment resorted to in order to maintain discipline.

Conduct of Men Excellent.

I deem it proper to say here that the general conduct of the men during the past year has been about all that could be desired, and more than might reasonably be expected in an institution of this kind. It has been very rarely necessary to resort to harsh punishment for violation of the prison rules or misconduct of any kind. Taken as a whole, the men have shown a high appreciation of the privileges granted them, a quiet and gratifying responsiveness to the efforts being made to better their condition. Weeks have gone by without a single report being made against any of the men employed in the shops, and the quality of the workmanship in both factories has shown a marked improvement since the yard privilege has been enlarged.

The health of the prisoners during the past year has been really remarkable. For weeks at a time the hospital has been empty, and the bulk of those who received treatment there were the victims of accidents or were diseased when received in the hospital.

The fuel cost has shown a marked decrease in the past two years. It is now down to about $3,000 a year, whereas it was at the rate of $9,000 a year when I took charge of the prison. We are burning a slack coal which costs us, delivered to the prison, $2.55 a ton, and we are obtaining excellent results from its use. Taking into account the power used, which amounts to 175 horse power daily, and that we do our heating and lighting, the fuel cost is very low.

During the past summer we installed a pump for fire protection purposes at the institution, $3,000. We secured 30 tons of hay, 100 tons of fodder (mangel-worm), 4,881 bushels of potatoes, 300 bushels of carrots, 200 bushels of beets, 7 bushels of cabbages, 7 bushels green string peas, 35 bushels green string beans, 220 bushels parsnips, 10,100 ears of corn on cob, 700 ears of corn, 1,388 bushels of beets greens, 13 bushels lettuce, 6,000 heads of cabbage, 35 bushels tomatoes, 200 bushels turnips, 60 bushels butter beans, 7,500 gallons milk, 700 dozen eggs, and 1,800 pounds fresh pork. We obtained from the sale of suckling pigs, $337 and from the sale of hogs, $11. The value of the farm produce in the former year, 1909, amounted to fully $5,000, making a total of over $10,000 for the two years obtained from the prison farm. There have been employed on the farm during these two years about 12 men on an average, those being transient, and mainly men advanced in age, and who have been broken down physically from one cause or another, and who would be of very little use in the shops. I regard the farm as one of the valuable assets of the prison, and only regret that the institution has not a much larger acreage under cultivation. During the past two years we have cleared up about 18 acres of the additional tract of 92 acres purchased by the state in 1908, and had most of it under crop this year. We are still clearing up this land as rapidly as possible, but even with the added acreage this will give us, the tillable land available is still far from adequate, and more land should be secured as it can be advantageously purchased. The prison, with its present population, should have at the very least 300 to 250 and 300 acres available for farming purposes, and could easily consume all that could be produced on that amount of cultivated land. With a farm of that size we could produce all the hay and oats needed by the institution, as well as the vegetables consumed by the men, thereby affecting a very great saving. With a sufficient acreage of tillable land to enable us to raise corn and alfalfa enough for the purpose, we could increase our herd of cattle so that a good share of the beef used in the prison could be raised, and the milk supply would thereby also be increased without any additional cost. This would help out very materially in feeding the men, beef and milk being important items in the food supply for an institution of this kind.

New Cell Block Needed.

The prison population is now 14 in excess of the cell capacity, as we have but 312 cells. I am aware that the time is near at hand when additional cell capacity must be provided, but have hesitated to ask for an appropriation for that purpose when the state's finances are in an unsatisfactory condition. In 1909, as you will remember, we were unable to obtain any money whatever from the state for the current year, and the legislature should give over six months, during which time your board was obliged to join with me in borrowing money from local banks on our paper to finance the institution. The last legislature failed to make adequate provision for meeting the condition that has existed for the past two years in the state treasury, and I have not deemed it wise to ask at this time for the heavy appropriation which would be

Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. The state prison at Marquette is now costing the state about $30,000 a year for maintenance, as against $48,000 annually a few years ago. The reformatory at Ionia is now nearly self-sustaining, and the Jackson prison is approximately that desirable condition. All three of these institutions could be made to return a handsome revenue to the state, instead of drawing on it for support, if their boards of control were permitted to do what the House of Correction at Detroit is now doing—that is, to establish in these institutions the industries which could be most profitably engaged in without reference to competition, and were protected in a market for their products. The Detroit House of Correction turns in to the municipal treasury of that city about $40,000 a year, profits from the industries conducted in that institution. Its labor is engaged in some industries that come into direct competition with those established by private capital in which free labor is employed and no complaint from any source is heard that this is working injury to the free labor of the state or to the interests of the state as a whole. With ordinarily good business sagacity exercised in the management of the state's penal institutions, and their boards of control relieved from the restrictions imposed on them by the law, the prisons of Michigan could unquestionably make an equally good showing, and thereby materially lighten the burden of taxation now bearing so heavily on the people of the state. It seems to me that the next legislature should give this problem careful attention to the end that the labor of our prisons may be employed to the best advantage as producers of revenue, with the primary object of making these institutions self-supporting as quickly as possible, and revenue earners for the state ultimately, instead of forcing on their managements a policy that is certain to make them much more heavily burdensome to the tax payers than they now are. How "State Use" System works. In the penitentiary at Joliet, Illinois, where there are 1,400 men confined, the system of employing prison labor which is proposed to adopt in the prisons of Michigan has been in use for some years, with the result that the Illinois pen-

The oldest Delta county hunter that will go into the woods this fall to hunt deer is John Barby of Nahma. Mr. Barby is seventy-two years of age.

Adolph Wahlstrom was almost instantly killed at the Von Platen mill at Iron Mountain last week. As yard foreman, he was superintending the work of unloading logging machinery from a railroad car.

He was in charge of much of the erection work at the mill and was considered highly efficient in this line of duty.

NORTHWESTERN TRAINS ON A NEW SCHEDULE

Is Reported That Morning Express Will Be Put Back on Old Running Time.

The trainmen on the Chicago & Northwestern northbound passenger arriving here yesterday morning said it is reported down the line that there will be a change in the running time next Sunday; that the northbound passenger will return to its former schedule, arriving in Negaunee at 7:30 A. M., instead of 6:10, and that the southbound train will leave here one hour and forty minutes later in the evening than under the present schedule.

If this is true, the change of the northbound train to the former schedule will be welcomed by the business men of this county, but it is not thought that the train will be a popular change, as it will mean that the train will not reach Chicago until 8:40 A. M., instead of at 7:30, at present. It is also thought that the late South Shore train from the copper country will be unpopular, as it is understood that the town-ship's snow roller will be used on the main highway after every storm.

LEASE ON BARASA PROPERTY.

The Corrigan-McKinney company has secured a lease on the Barasa property, which adjoins the Negaunee mine on the east. The shaft will be pumped out and the underground workings will be thoroughly examined.

LOCAL LAONICS.

The Negaunee fire department's new hook and ladder truck was received yesterday.

The four-month-old son of John Peterson, residing on Heath street, died Sunday. Mr. Peterson is working for a lumber company in a camp near Escanaba, and he is expected home today.

Dr. A. W. Haidle left Sunday night for Ann Arbor to attend a meeting of the state board of dental examiners. He expects to arrive home a week from today, the 22nd. Dr. Haidle will be a spectator at the Michigan-Minnesota football game, to be played at Ann Arbor next Saturday.

Walter Hanson was the first Negaunee man to bring a deer into the city this season. He shot a nice buck north of here Saturday and arrived home with it Sunday.

David Rund, aged fourteen and a half years, died yesterday morning from typhoid fever, from which he had been a sufferer for nearly a month past.

The deceased is an orphan, his father having died here fifteen years ago and his mother about five years ago. He is survived by three sisters and one brother.

One of his sisters lives in Iowa. She is expected to arrive tomorrow to attend the funeral, which will probably be held Thursday afternoon. The remains of the parents of the deceased and a sister, who died several years ago, will be interred at the same time.

WISCONSIN CHAMPIONSHIP.

Negaunee Man Witnessed Game Between Marinette and Chippewa Falls.

There was much excitement at Marinette Saturday over the football game between the Marinette and Chippewa Falls high school teams, which resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 14 to 8.

United States Senator I. Stephenson, who is taking an unusual interest in the Marinette team this season, will likely charter a special train for next Sunday, when the eleven will play Oshkosh at Appleton for the state championship, Saturday evening.

It is expected that several hundred people will be present to witness the championship contest. Last year the Marinette team defeated all comers until the championship game, when it was defeated by Chippewa Falls. The Oshkosh team is said to be an exceptionally strong one.

FOURTEEN RATTLESNAKES.

Arthur J. Serventi, a cigar dealer of Newburgh, N. Y., went to Pike county, Pa., in quest of deer. One day, on a short distance from Eldred while following some deer tracks he came across sixteen rattlesnakes sunning themselves on a rock.

As he approached the two largest started for him. Serventi shot the foremost and in endeavoring to get away slipped and fell on his right hand. The snake which was near him at once struck his hand, puncturing his forefinger just above the second joint.

THREE WOMEN IN POLICE DRAGNET

Marshal Manning and Officer Foard Made Raid on Rooms Above Horn's Restaurant Early Yesterday Morning, and Six Arrests were the Immediate Result.

Elizabeth Hiberning, Ida Jackman and Margaret Riordan Bound Over to Circuit Court, and Male Consorts were Fined—Blind Pig Charge Against Horn.

As the outcome of an early morning raid by Marshal John Manning and Officer Martin Foard at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning on the lodging rooms above and connected with what is known as Thomas Horn's restaurant, on the corner of the restaurant and the street, Justice Byrne's court yesterday afternoon and bound over to circuit court on the charge of conducting a house of ill fame, and their male consorts were given a nominal fine. Marshal Manning also has a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Horn, which was to have been served last night, charging him with selling intoxicating liquor without a license.

The women arrested by the police officers as the result of their early morning visit were: Mrs. Elizabeth Hiberning, aged thirty-nine; her daughter, Ida Jackman, aged eighteen, and Margaret Riordan, aged nineteen, a waitress in the restaurant. With these women in upstairs sleeping rooms were found three men, two of whom are sailors and the third is a resident of Negaunee. The Hiberning woman and her daughter are said to have come from Ishpeming a short time ago, while the Riordan girl says her home is in Newberry.

In Justice's court Mrs. Hiberning stated that she was the proprietress of the Horn restaurant and the rooms above, and that Horn was hired by her to take charge of the restaurant at night. She declared that Horn was not allowed in the upstairs rooms at all. As the place is generally known as Horn's restaurant and Mr. Horn has always posed as the proprietor to all intents and purposes, the officers are inclined to question the truth of the Hiberning woman's story. The three women asked the court to let them off with a fine (each of the men being let off with a fine of $2 and costs) but Justice Byrne refused their request. They then waived examination and were bound over to circuit court, the bond of each being fixed at $200, which they were unable to furnish and they were committed to the county jail. Efforts were being made to secure bail for the women late yesterday afternoon, but up to last night they had not been successful.

Place Under Suspicion. Marshal Manning and the police force, have had the Horn restaurant under suspicion ever since Mr. Horn started in the restaurant business. It being their belief that he was selling liquor without a license and conducting a disreputable place. At the last term of circuit court, Mr. Horn was tried on a "blind pig" charge but the trial resulted in a disagreement of the jury. Shortly after this trial, Horn moved out of the Red, White and Blue block into rooms on Baraga avenue, between Front and Lake streets. He stayed there but a short time, however, and about a month ago he moved back to his former location. Since that time, the officers have suspected that the rooms over the restaurant were being used for immoral purposes. It was only a few weeks ago that a stranger reported to the police that he had been short changed in the restaurant by a waitress and upon the latter being brought before Justice Byrne, the money was returned to the stranger.

The charge on which Mr. Horn is to be arrested alleges that liquor was sold in the restaurant Saturday night and Sunday, Nov. 5 and 6. The officers state that several witnesses, whose reputation for integrity is such that their testimony would carry weight with a jury, are willing to testify against Horn with reference to this alleged offense. The general public will follow the court proceedings subsequent to these arrests with interest, as Mr. Horn's place has had frequent notoriety in police and court circles for some time past.

ILL ONLY FIVE DAYS. Dr. M. W. Kearney, of Munising, Succumbs to Pneumonia Very Suddenly.

Marquette friends and acquaintances of Dr. M. W. Kearney, a well-known Munising dentist, were shocked yesterday to hear of his sudden death, after an illness of only five days with pneumonia. Dr. Kearney was thirty-two years of age and has been practicing in Munising about eight years. He was a graduate of the University of Michigan, unmarried, and his parents live in Ann Arbor. Dr. Kearney was one of Munising's most popular young men and his untimely death is generally mourned in that city. He was a member of Ann Arbor council, Knights of Columbus, and of the Catholic Order of Foresters. Though devoted to his chosen profession, he was active in public affairs and was treasurer of the Munising school board and a director of the new hospital in that city. He was associated in business with T. W. Scholtes, M. D. The funeral will be held from Sacred Heart church at 10:30 this morning and the body will be taken to Ann Arbor for interment on the afternoon train.

SPECIAL MEETING OF OWLS. A special meeting of the Owls will be held in Legion Hall Thursday evening, Nov. 17, at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present, as there is urgent business to be transacted. JAS. GRAY, Pres., JNO. BEARD, Sec'y. 11-14-4d

FREE SKATING RINK.

Declared that One Would be Boon to Children of This City.

Many towns are agitating the establishment of free, open air public skating rinks for children, and the movement is meeting with favor. There is said to be vacant lots about this city that could be used for such purposes, and about the only expense connected with building such a rink would be flushing the grounds with water from the city mains. There would probably be plenty of boys who would volunteer to build the snow banks for retaining the ice.

"The establishment of a free public rink would have a tendency to keep children off the streets," declared one citizen yesterday, "and at the same time furnish healthful, innocent amusement. As it is now, during the winter children are in constant danger of losing life or limb on account of the practice of 'jumping' sleighs and bob sleds. They also make a great deal of trouble skating and sliding on the sidewalks. There is no more healthful exercise than out-of-door skating and both the children and the public generally would derive great benefit from a public rink. The child problem is receiving more attention each year and local, state and national organizations are being formed for the purpose of looking after their welfare. While the home should naturally be the proper place for the training of children, the records of the juvenile courts tend to show that the little ones are too often sadly neglected by their parents. The large cities have found public playgrounds properly supervised, one of the best solutions of the child problem, and it is certainly interesting to visit such places and see how the little ones enjoy themselves."

SEASON OF 1910 NEARLY AT END

Many Vessels Have Met With Accidents During Last Few Weeks of the Year.

That another week will practically wind up the navigation season as far as Marquette is concerned, in the prediction of marine men. Nearly all of the ore to be sent from the docks this year has been loaded and only a few cargoes are yet to be shipped. There is plenty of coal in the city to supply the demand during the winter and the last boats are likely to be package freighters, which report a good into season business. There will be no requests filed for an extension of the insurance rates this year, in all probability, and practically all of the boats will be out of Lake Superior by Dec. 1.

As usual at the tag end of the season there has been an unusually large number of accidents on the Great Lakes the past few weeks. According to those who have kept close tabs, there were forty-five accidents in October, most of which were of a minor nature. There have been no disasters, entailing heavy loss of life. The steamer W. C. Moreland, owned by Jones & Laughlin, of Pittsburg, and managed by W. H. Becker, of Cleveland, which stranded on the rocks at Eagle Harbor, Lake Superior, on Oct. 18, with a cargo of 10,700 tons of ore. The Moreland came out only last September, having been built at the Lorain yard of the American Ship Building Co., and was regarded as one of the finest freighters on the lakes. The particular location where she is fished up is one of the most dangerous on the lakes, owing to its exposed position. Heavy weather prevented the wreckers from working on her steadily and she was finally abandoned to the underwriters. The latest report says that the Moreland is broken into three parts of nearly equal length. About all that is worth saving is the after hold with the machinery and boilers. The probability is that the Moreland will be completely destroyed, entailing a loss to the underwriters on hull, cargo and wrecking cost of about $500,000. The Reid Wrecking Co. has the contract to save her.

MARQUETTE COUNTY TO GET $12,900.60

November Apportionment of Primary School Money is Fixed at $90 Per Capita.

County Clerk Jenks has received a letter from L. L. Wright, state superintendent of public instruction, stating the amount that each of the cities and townships in this county will receive in the apportionment of the primary school money. County Treasurer Gribble expects the semi-annual apportionment any day now, and as soon as it is received, it will be distributed throughout the county on the basis of the apportionment made by the state superintendent. The apportionment for this fall is made on the basis of ninety cents per capita (children of school age) and the total amount to be received by Marquette county is $12,900.60. A year ago the apportionment was made on a basis of $1 per capita and the county received $13,930.

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION.

Governor Warner Sets Apart Nov. 24 as Thanksgiving Day.

Governor Warner has issued his annual Thanksgiving day proclamation, which is as follows:

"It is a wise and beneficent custom that has taught our people to set aside a day during the season of the year and yellow leaf and after the harvest promised God's people at the seed time has been completed as a day of Praise and Thanksgiving for the blessings showered upon us. In obedience to this custom bequeathed to us and hallowed by long observance I hereby designate Thursday, November 24th, as a day to be set apart for the purpose of rendering thanks unto the Giver of every good and perfect gift that has come to us as individuals and as a people. Our state is one of marvelous material resources, and in the year now drawing to a close, we have been especially favored. The land has yielded bountifully under the skillful husbandry of intelligent ownership. Our cities are centers of commercial enterprise and the handiwork of our artisans in bringing fame and fortune to our people. Our progress is not all along material lines. The religious activity and unity of our people is everywhere manifest and brings assurance of better citizenship, higher ideals, a better and purer home life and a continuance of those conditions that have made our state and nation the greatest heritage that has come to any people. In recounting our numerous blessings we must not neglect those of our number who are deprived by misfortune or otherwise of a just measure of prosperity and happiness. The aged and the infirm, those upon whom the hand of affliction has been laid should share our love and material welfare. The day should be one of joy and happiness and we can enrich our lives by deeds of charity, by lightening each others burdens and by carrying for this day some of the blessings of the outside world to those deprived of liberty. The bonds of love and affection should be cemented by bringing together those who make complete the family circle. Let us assemble on this day in our places of worship and in a spirit of true devotion thank the Omnipotent Ruler of the Universe for the good measure of peace and prosperity we are permitted to enjoy."
