MISS POUILL'S WORK IS PUT ON DISPLAY

Pictures by Copper Country Artist Are on View at the Houghton Library.

Interest in the pottery, rug and basketry exhibit at the Houghton Public Library was augmented yesterday by an exhibition of paintings in oils by Miss Mame B. Poull of Lake Linden. Miss Poull has fifty-three pictures in the main lecture room and they were placed on view yesterday for the first time.

The work of this artist may not be too highly commended. Miss Poull has not confined herself to one class of pictures and seems to be equally proficient whether she is doing a landscape, a waterscape, figures or portraits. One picture which immediately makes an appeal to the human interest is a portrait of the artist's mother. It shows a lady in middle life, seated in thoughtful pose. She wears a lace shawl which is painted in a manner to show excellent workmanship, figures on the background is not considered. The brushwork on the face is most delicate, making the likeness sympathetic and lifelike.

In the collection are many European scenes and studies, products of the artist's school. There are also a number of copper country scenes done in the past two years, or since Miss Poull's return from abroad. A striking example of this latter work is the scene on the old Incline road at Lake Linden. This is a large canvas, but its treatment is fine and full of delicate detail. It is merely a road through the woods flanked by noble maples, with the sunlight coming through to light the road. There is also a Lake Superior scene, one of waves dashing up on the rocks, a picture full of color and action.

FIN HOPES ON LEHTO.

Copper Country Fans Want Wrestler to Redeem Himself.

The Finnish residents of Houghton county are pinning their hopes on Karl Lehto defeating Dr. Roller when the two grapplers meet in the near future at Duluth. Ever since the distasteful fiasco between Person and Lehto last fall, in which the Finn was alleged to have asked Person to lay down in their match, the standing of Lehto has been below par. He will now have a chance through to show whether he has developed into the great wrestler that admirers received here say he has, and incidentally to wipe out the stigma against him.

CRICUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Wife Deserter Convicted—Boy Bandits Plead Guilty.

The November term of the Houghton circuit court almost came to an abrupt ending yesterday morning. The criminal business was completed and it was found that there were but three civil cases for trials by jury. It is probable that the jury will be discharged today and only the issues of law and the three civil cases, very few in number, will remain to be disposed of.

ALBERT OLSON OF CALUMET IS FOUND GUILTY YESTERDAY MORNING OF THE CHARGE OF DESERTING HIS WIFE AND FAMILY.

The case went to the jury at 10 o'clock and after an hour's deliberation the verdict was arrived at. Olson deserted his family last August and went to Duluth and up to his arrest a few weeks ago had contributed just ten cents to their support. He was remanded to jail to await sentence.

Clyde Heid, Mike Bernardi and Eugene Charles, the three boys from South Range who were charged with burglary, and the disposition of whom gave the court and officers much concern, yesterday morning appeared and pleaded guilty to simple larceny. They were remanded to jail to await sentence. This was the last of the jury cases.

FAIR AT HANCOCK. A BIG MONEY-MAKER

More Than Seven Thousand Dollars Is Netted for St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

One of the most successful church fairs ever conducted in the copper country was that of St. Patrick's parish of Hancock, held during the two weeks preceding Nov. 1. Rev. T. J. Atfield, pastor of the church, announced yesterday that the net proceeds amounted to $7,246.

A large portion of this sum will be used in paying off debts standing against the parish for improvements made during the past year, and the balance will be the nucleus of a fund for the building of a new parochial school. The site for this school recently was purchased on the Holland estate. The property is on Franklin street. The present parochial school of St. Patrick's parish is too small, being filled beyond its capacity with pupils. Also it has no space for a library.

WOMAN DIED NATURAL DEATH.

Investigation at Otter Lake Shows No Criminal Circumstances.

Deputy Sheriff Carroll and Justice Little returned Monday night from Otter Lake, where they spent the day investigating the alleged suspicious circumstances surrounding the death of a neighbor of a farmer at that place. A neighbor of the bereaved farmer had come into Houghton Saturday with a lurid story about four play, claiming that the woman's body was warm after the husband had declared her dead and had placed the body in a stable as a rule receiving vault.

BOWLERS HOLD A MEETING.

Calumet Will Probably Have Two Leagues the Coming Season.

The representatives of several Calumet bowling teams met Monday evening and made preliminary arrangements for the organization of two local leagues, one for fraternal and one for commercial teams. The commercial league will be made up of the bankers, the warehouse men, the Tamarack clerks, the Ahmeek clerks and the printers. One more team may be admitted, but these five have already signified their willingness to take membership. The second league will be made up from the Y. M. C. A., Elks and Calumet Social club. Arthur Toffe of the joint arrangement committee. The schedules for both leagues will be short-running about two months. There will

Answer This Question

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge the world to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the famous woman's remedy for women's ills. Unless it is a very good medicine and the claims made for it are honest, such a record would have been impossible—fraud or misrepresentations would long ago have been detected and the business gone into oblivion. Read this unsolicited letter:—

Corry, Pa.—"I am happy to write you about the benefit I received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before my marriage two years ago, I suffered something awful every month with pains and other distressing symptoms, and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in dry form. Since then I have never been troubled with pain, not even a dull headache or headache, and it has helped me a good deal before childbirth. I recommend your medicine wherever I go."—Mrs. E. E. Ross, 112 E. Church St., Corry, Pa.

When a woman like Mrs. Ross is generous enough to write such a letter as the above for publication, she should at least be given credit for a sincere desire to help other suffering women. For we assure you there is no other reason why she should court such publicity.

We say it in all sincerity and friendship—try this medicine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman need justify to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

There have been so many applications for the Kaiser succession that President Schmaleker and the village council decided not to make a choice, but to leave it to the people as all of the candidates have friends and an appointment might lead to ill feeling.

CONCERNING TOMAHAWK LODGE.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 14, 1910.

Editor of The Marquette Mining Journal, Marquette, Mich.

Dear Sir:—I enclose you clipping containing an article written by Alfred Meads of your city, concerning Mr. E. J. Hulbert and his discovery of the so-called Tomahawk lode. Mr. Hulbert was a pioneer explorer and miner and, as such, was entitled to great credit for his perseverance in pursuing his investigations in what was then the wilds of Houghton county. I would not detract one iota of praise from him for doing this important work, and thus discovering the Calumet conglomerate. In regard to the stock deal that came afterwards, in which he seemingly got worsted, that is ancient history, and we think that even if he got the losing end of the deal it was not necessary for him to "exile" himself, as Mr. Meads puts it. He was young enough to begin again, and discover some other lode of value, instead of complaining for thirty years from Rome, Italy. Hundreds of persons in the upper peninsula have been mulcted in stock deals, but they have grinned and borne it like men, instead of writing interminable letters at long range. Mr. Meads says: "Many of the curious and wise actors of society of Houghton county shrug their shoulders and say 'So-and-so's dreams'." Concerning the Tomahawk lode, I unhesitatingly say that the Tomahawk vein has not been uncovered and worked, stopped and shipped from, and thousands of people do not daily travel over its hidden treasures, and there are no iron stakes driven to mark its location.

Houghton county, during the time that Mr. Hulbert was exploring therein, was covered with primeval forest, but for many years most of the land over which he conducted his explorations has been denuded of its forest, and brought out into the open light of day, exposing every ledge and vein not covered by heavy soil. Practically every inch of outcroppings has been thoroughly scrutinized time and again, and as Mr. Hulbert did not have a diamond drill to assist him in revealing a geological cross section of that portion covered by heavy overburden, he must of necessity have confined his attention to the diabase outcrops, on which the geological studies of mining engineers have been concentrated for full forty years, and they have been unable, as near as I can find out, to discover this famous Tomahawk vein, or anything approaching it in richness, over which some men have mysteriously shaken their heads for so long.

From letters written by Mr. Hulbert during his "exile," giving certain details and data from which to begin explorations were undertaken on the property of the Mayflower Mining company. A vein was located, but after sinking a 1200 feet and driving on the strike, not enough values were discovered to warrant any further expenditures. At this point at least there was a dismal failure. Other points were attacked, as pointed out by Hulbert and others, and in every instance the work resulted in failure, thus exploding the so-called fact of veins rich in brick copper, and such like, existing on these properties. The country has so changed in its surface outlook from forty years ago, that I am afraid that neither Mr. Hulbert nor any other at present could have disclosed the long hidden Tomahawk lode as it exists in the minds of many well meaning but fanciful people. The numerous cross sections by diamond drills, the thousands of feet of tunnels and drifts and hundreds of feet of veins, and the long hidden Tomahawk lode as it exists in the minds of many well meaning but fanciful people. Geologic speaking, this whole thing is intolerably silly and smacks of the so-called "Spanish mines in Arizona." During all these years why did not Mr. Hulbert cause the location of this rich lode to be divulged, and thus enrich the country and give work and riches to posterity?

Going to New York—Mrs. Francis M. Kelsey, of the Northern Normal faculty, will have a six months leave of absence, beginning early in December, and will spend the time in New York, pursuing university work. She will vacate the Lytle house, corner of Arch and Pine streets, shortly after the first of the month, when it will be for rent.
Two Out on Bail—Two of the three women rounded up in the early morning raid on the rooms above Horn's restaurant Tuesday morning were released on bonds late yesterday afternoon. The women released were Mrs. Hibering and her daughter, the bonds being furnished by Mrs. Hibering's parents, who reside in Negaunee. The other girl is still in the county jail.
Watch for Eclipse—Tonight there will be an eclipse of the moon, visible in all its phases to most people east of the Mississippi and in part to nearly all of the United States. The moon will enter the shadow shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon, which is before the moon rises in this longitude, and will become total about 6:10 p. m. In case the sky is clear, Marquette people should be able to get a good view of the eclipse during the period of total obscurity and while the shadow is receding. The eclipse will end shortly after 8 o'clock.
Shot Pig For a Deer—D. P. Fontaine, James LaFortune and Otto Hunrath, proprietor of the Hotel Richter, Detroit, have returned from a hunting expedition near Skaneateles, each getting two deer during their few days' stay. Messrs. Fontaine and LaFortune told a good story on Mr. Hunrath. While hunting persistently one day, he saw an animal coming over the ridge and as soon as it presented a mark, he fired his trusty gun. His aim was true and upon running to make quick dispatch of the quarry, he found that he had not killed a deer, but some farmer's sleek, fat pig, which was in prime condition for the pork barrel.
Case for Probate Judge—Clara Borgeson, aged about fourteen, whose parents are believed to reside at Big Bay, was brought to this city from Menominee yesterday, and her case will be investigated by Probate Judge Potter. The girl was taken in hand by the Menominee officers several weeks ago, for the reason that she was staying with a woman whom the police considered an unfile associate for a child of her age. As the girl said her home was in the county, Prosecuting Attorney Bell was notified and after some correspondence she has been brought back here. Judge Potter expects to make a careful investigation and will endeavor to provide a suitable home for the girl.
Put Up Lively Fight—An unknown man, considerably under the influence of liquor, created a little disturbance near the corner of Front and Washington streets last evening at 6 o'clock. He was making himself objectionable to passers-by and when taken in hand by Special Officer Fitzgerald, he resisted so strenuously that several citizens had to assist the policeman. Fighting like a madman all the way, he was loaded onto a dray and taken to the city lock-up, where after a lively struggle in which blood was spilled, the fellow was placed behind the bars. Last evening he was sleeping soundly, apparently unconcerned over the bumps his obstreperousness cost him. He will probably be taken before a justice today.

DO MUCH GUESSING
Source of the Aggressive Deal
Operations Causes a Deal of Curious Surmise.
New York, Nov. 15.—There was much curious conjecture about the stock exchange today as to the source of the aggressive operations responsible for the principal price movements of the day. The conjecture took the price of the usual inquiry over the underlying factors in the condition of affairs and such substantial motives. The surmise found no authentic information but they pointed, for the most part, to foreign participation in the market, possibly contemplated and informed by private banking interests of power and authority in New York. It is currently believed that the resources embarked in the largest of the day's transactions were found in Paris.
Yesterday's rumors that the listing of Union Pacific in Paris was near to accomplishment were denied, but the speculation still centered largely in that stock and United States Steel. The manner of the execution of orders in Union Pacific was made a subject of criticism among brokers, owing to its appearance of manipulation. The high opening price was not exceeded, and the subsequent sag in the stock and the unresponsiveness of the general list to the advancing tendency aroused distrust, which prompted selling. The leaders were bid up again in the final dealings, in the face of continued indifference of the list.
Contributory causes of restraint on the upward movement were found in the poor earnings reported yesterday by the Great Northern for October. That stock was under pressure and dragged the other trans-continental railroad stocks downwards with it. Canadian Pacific suffered from the disappointment of the speculative hope of an extra dividend, the stock reacting sharply on the declaration of only the regular dividend.

Wheat Market Is Strong.
Chicago, Nov. 15.—The suspicion that considerable export business was being done in Winnipeg but not reported took hold of the traders in wheat in Chicago today and helped force the prices up. The close was strong, at a net advance of 1/4 to 1 1/2 @ 3/4. The cables told of weather in France unfavorable for seeding and also brought word of dryness in parts of Argentina where rains are needed by the growing crops. The primary receipts were small and, moreover, did not reach the total shipments from the same cities. The fact was noticed, too, that cash wheat at Baltimore had gone to a premium, against quite a discount recently. Milling purchases at Minneapolis formed another source of courage for the bulls. A big increase in the world's available supply had not the slightest effect in the way of causing a backward tilt to the market. Uneasy shorts covered right up to the close, which was almost at the top prices of the day. The May opened at 92 1/2, closed at 94 3/4. The July closed 94 @ 94 1/4.
Corn closed 1/4 @ 1/2 higher. The official forecast of wet weather railed the market. There was also aid from the strength of wheat. The May opened at 48 to 48 1/2 and closed at 48 1/2 @ 48 3/4. The July closed 48 1/2 @ 48 3/4. A big increase in the world's available supply had not the slightest effect in the way of causing a backward tilt to the market. Uneasy shorts covered right up to the close, which was almost at the top prices of the day. The May opened at 48 1/2, closed at 48 3/4. The July closed 48 1/2 @ 48 3/4.

CATTLE ON ALEUTIAN ISLANDS.
The cattle king of Alaska is Miles Jamison, who leases from Uncle Sam Atka island, one of the largest of the Aleutian chain. It now has a herd of 940 cattle and the natural increase to his herd for this summer was 150. Jamison went north seven years ago and landed on Atka island, intending to trap. He saw the grass plains and herds of deer and elk feeding there. He determined to return to the states at first opportunity and secure some cattle. He selected the island first because of their adaptability to severe weather. The weather, however, was not the worst to be feared on his island, as wolves killed half his first crop of calves. After he had rid the island of wolves his herd prospered. Jamison has been the object of an investigation this summer of the hands of several government officials who have visited his Alaskan cattle ranch and looked over his herd. Arriving there on the revenue cutter Rush, Captain A. Hoffman said that conditions on Atka island, as well as on almost all the islands off Alaska, were ideal for cattle raising. Nutritious grass grows the year round. Jamison kills and packs in ice chipped from icebergs carcasses that retail in the growing cities along the coast at almost twice the price asked for the storage meats brought from the states.

SEASICK SAILORS.
A little while ago the country was amazed at the fatal demonstration of the inability of a large percentage of the sailors of a battleship to swim. The common sense suggestion that men who enlisted to devote several years of their lives to service at sea ought to have been taught swimming was so obvious that it may possibly have induced the naval authorities to give it consideration. But now an even more remarkable oversight is reported. A midshipman, after the usual course and graduation at Annapolis, was assigned to duty on a battleship last July. Since then his sufferings from seasickness have been so frequent and acute that he has asked to be allowed to resign from the navy. Nor is his isolated case. Nearly a dozen midshipmen and younger ensigns, it is said, have left the navy within the year because of seasickness. When it is considered that the government has been to the expense of educating these young men for a service that they cannot fulfill, and that the victims have spent years qualifying for a career that they have been forced by physical disability to abandon, it inspires the natural inquiry why, as in the case of sailors who cannot swim, some test is not made to determine their ability to cope with Father Neptune before all this effort, time and expense is wasted? But perhaps this suggestion, remarks the Pittsburg Dispatch, like that of teaching sailors to swim, was so simple as to be overlooked.

Bessemer Man Drowns—

Drowning has been the fate of John Rickerson of Bessemer, employed at Black River as a fisherman. Missing a number of hours, he was finally found dead in the water. The man was twenty-eight years of age and formerly lived at Hamford, N. D. Edward Rickerson of Bessemer is a brother of the deceased.

Beautifying the Soo's Park—

Joseph Ayotte, gardener at the government park at the Soo, is planting the last of a consignment of over 300 trees, mostly elms. Mr. Ayotte secured a number of the trees at Mission Creek while others were taken out of the woods on Neebish island under the direction of Engineer L. P. Morrison. The elm is recognized as the tree of trees for the north country and in a few years the government park will be a veritable forest of shade and beauty.

More Sewers for Bessemer—

The proposition to bond the city of Bessemer for $15,000 for public sewer purposes, and which was voted on at the recent election, was carried by the vote of 282 to 185. It won in every ward. The council has had this proposition under consideration for some time. The sewers are to be built in the Second and Third wards. The work will be started next spring, as soon as the weather will permit.

Party Nomines Won Out—

Sheriff Herman Holmes and M. S. McDonough, candidate for prosecuting attorney, both running on the Republican ticket, were successful in the recent election in Iron county, winning out by large majorities. Mr. Holmes polled 1,086 votes, as against 560 cast for A. Quirt, who sought the office on the Democratic ticket. A. J. Waffen, who was defeated in the Republican primaries for the nomination for prosecuting attorney and who made the run as the candidate of the Democrats, lost to Mr. McDonough, 594 to 1,018.

The Cause of Colds Good Advice Regarding the Prevention of Coughs and Colds

If people would only fortify and strengthen the system, the majority of cases of coughs, colds and pneumonia might be avoided. These troubles are frequently due to weakness, which produces a catarrhal condition of the mucous membrane, which is an internal skin of the body. When this skin is weakened it becomes easily infected with germs which cause many of the diseases to which flesh is heir. Healthy mucous membranes are essential safeguards of the body's general health. We have a remedy which we honestly believe to be unsurpassed in excellence for the prevention of coughs, colds and all catarrhal conditions. It is the prescription of a famous physician, who has an enviable reputation of thirty years of cures gained through the use of this formula. We promise to make no charge for the medicine should it fail to do as we claim. We urge everybody who has need of such a medicine to try Reall Mueu-Tone. It stands to reason that we could not afford to make such statements and give our own personal guarantee to this remedy if we were not prepared to prove the reasonableness of our claim in every particular, and we see no reason why any one should hesitate to accept our offer and try it. We have two sizes of Reall Mueu-Tone, prices 50 cents and $1. Sometimes a 50-cent bottle is sufficient to give marked relief. As a general thing the most chronic case is relieved with an average of three large bottles. You can obtain Reall Remedies in Marquette only at our store—The Reall Store, The Stafford Drug Co.

a good reputation, and much surprise is expressed by his friends over his alleged action. Apparently, however, he fails to realize the serious nature of the crime with which he is charged and treats the matter lightly. He has been released on bail.

Turkeys Seventeen Cents—

What the Thanksgiving prices for poultry in this city will be can not yet be closely estimated as the question has not yet been settled as to whether the Chipewaga production will necessitate an importation or allow an exportation, says the Soo News. One meat dealer stated that he was well satisfied that turkeys during the near holiday time would not exceed eighteen cents per pound while another of the marketers advanced the belief that they would reach the price of last Thanksgiving—twenty-two cents. The prevailing price of turkeys at present is seven cents and of chickens fifteen cents. A guess was made that 3,000 turkeys would be consumed in Chipewaga county this year as well as a like number of chickens and much smaller amounts of geese and ducks. This is a mere guess, but it is generally believed that if that number of sufficient Chipewaga can provide her markets without sending away.

All the Republicans Successful—

Ontonagon county voters elected a straight Republican ticket at the election last Tuesday. The successful candidates were: Sheriff, Paul Francis; county clerk and register of deeds, John Garvin; treasurer, James F. Corgan; prosecuting attorney, W. V. Adams; surveyor, T. H. Wilcox; coroner, James Corgan. It was a warmly contested campaign. Paul Francis defeated A. F. Stannard, the Democratic candidate, and also James Fyfe, who ran on slips, Martin Forslund ran on slips against James P. Corgan for the office of treasurer, but when the vote was recorded it showed that Mr. Corgan was the choice. He received 737 votes and Forslund 475. W. R. Adams, T. H. Wilcox and James Corgan, for the offices of prosecuting attorney, surveyor and coroner, respectively, had no opposition. John Garvin, the Republican candidate against John Houle, Democrat, for county clerk and register of deeds, was given the largest majority of any of the offices voted for. His total vote was 821, while that of Mr. Houle was 498. Four years ago a Republican ticket was slaughtered and out of four officers elected there were two Democrats, one independent and one Republican. At that time Charles O'Rourke defeated H. C. McFarlane by 344 votes, John P. Houle defeated C. W. Stannard by 397 votes and W. R. Adams defeated W. G. Van Slyck by 258 votes.

Attorney's Rich Reward—

According to advices from Detroit Prosecuting Attorney H. R. Dotsch of Escanaba is to reap a rich benefit as the result of an investigation made by him in twenty-three counties of Michigan concerning corporations that had failed to file their annual reports with the secretary of state. It is said that Mr. Dotsch is interested in claims against corporations in Michigan which aggregate nearly $225,000 and it is estimated that he will receive as his share of the proceeds of suits that have been begun $30,000 to $70,000. A suit has already been settled and it is reported that in this particular case Mr. Dotsch will receive $7,500 for his services. Nearly three years ago, it appears, Mr. Dotsch was engaged as attorney in the case of DeLaura & Gibbs against Lewis Van Winkle, in which it was stated that Mr. Dotsch was the director of a corporation failing to file its annual report with the secretary of state were responsible for the debts of the corporation. Recognizing the possibilities of the situation Attorney Dotsch had caused twenty-three counties and learned the identities of directors of corporations that had failed to file annual reports. In each case where the directors were responsible it appears that Mr. Dotsch became interested with attorneys in the different cities in suits against the delinquent corporations. The original case was carried up as a test case and the supreme court supported unanimously the contention of Mr. Dotsch. The directors of the different delinquent corporations are now feeling the result of the supreme court decision and it is estimated in Detroit that the Escanaba attorney will clean up nearly $50,000.

Alleged Bigamist in the Toils—

Under Sheriff Moss arrived here from Bryan, Ohio, last Friday with C. W. Bennett, alias C. W. Atkins, alias Chas. Egan, to answer to the charge of bigamy preferred against him by Theresa Sams, known as Daisy Meyer, the latter name being that of his first wife, who is living at Columbus, Ohio, and to whom Bennett had been sending money right along. Bennett, when confronted with the evidence, evaded it in some way long enough to make his escape. A warrant was issued for his arrest in this case, particularly and one. The unfortunate girl has lived at Iron River almost all of her life. She has many friends there and the feeling against Bennett runs very high because of revolting circumstances in the case. He is a carpenter in the Western states, and his wife with him has caused considerable feeling at Iron River from the additional fact that some of the people there knew of Bennett sending money to his wife and did not apprise the girl of the character of the man.

Charged With Embezzlement—

Charged with embezzling nearly $700 from his employers Frank S. Lindley, formerly one of the prominent business men of Escanaba, was arrested in that city by Chief of Police Andrew Iverson upon complaint of Elmer E. Merrill, representing the wholesale grocery and provision firm of E. P. Stacy & Sons of Minneapolis. Lindley has been acting as agent for the company and it is claimed that he collected amounts of money for which he made no accounting. When arrested, Lindley faced the double charge of embezzlement and forgery. To both charges he entered a plea of not guilty and demanded an examination. It is charged that in the course of his employment by the company, he received a check for $36.42 from Nels Nelson of Escanaba and as the check was made out to Lindley he cashed it and appropriated the amount to his own use. It is also charged that Lindley received a check for $48.10 from the Gladstone Grocery company and that he forged the name of his employers and appropri-

Clothes Lines Robber—

There's a clothes' line thief abroad in the land, reports the Crystal Falls Drill. He's a bold one, too. He started operations Tuesday night and two lines that we know of suffered. Perhaps a number that we didn't hear of also got touched up. The first line touched up was at the residence of Thomas Conlin (editor of the Drill), where bedding, undereclothing, etc., to the value of about $20 were taken. The thief was an orderly one for he placed the clothes' pins carefully on the reel stand. The next place touched up was 'Fat Kernan's' where a miscellaneous line of clothing amounting to about $15 were taken. He was particularly bold at the latter place. Two of the McKernan children were home and they saw the fellow take the clothes off the line and start off with them, but they were so frightened that they dared not move. The fellow went down the street and met Mrs. McKernan on her way home from a neighbor's. He had the clothes under his arm and walked boldly along, turned in at Mr. Foucault's gate and went through the lot to the alley.

Close Call for Jack Rowett—

Gogebic county went Republican last week, although the pluralities of practically all the candidates were smaller than in any recent year. A three-cornered fight for every place on the county ticket was responsible for this condition, practically all of the increased vote of the prohibition party coming from the Republican ranks. The closest contest was over the unofficial returns showing the election of Jack Rowett, Republican, by a plurality of thirty-nine over T. F. Killen, Democrat. Killen carried the city of Ironwood by a plurality of 170, while Rowett won in Bessemer by 182. The township gave Rowett enough more votes to bring his plurality up to thirty-nine. The only break in the Republican column was for member of the legislature, John Holland, Democrat, of Bessemer, defeating A. D. Johnson of the same city by a plurality of between 180 and 200. Richard Banfield had no trouble in winning out for county treasurer, his plurality being 367 over his nearest opponent, John Drzakowski. Alfred Lilja, running on slips, made a good showing against heavy odds, he receiving 594 votes. While the fight for prosecuting attorney was a lively one, J. A. O'Neill, Republican, was elected by a safe plurality of 523. The largest plurality was given John Luxmore for county clerk, 1,143. The prohibition vote shows a big gain over that polled two and four years ago, undoubtedly due to the fact that for the first time that party had a county ticket in the field. It is reported that friends of Mr. Killen will apply for a recount of the votes on sheriff when the county canvassers meet at Bessemer today. It is also reported that he will have the recount every precinct in the county.

Ironwood's Latest Murder—

The people of Ironwood were shocked when it became known that Charles Anderson, the well-known Jesseville merchant, had been shot and killed by his father-in-law, Thomas Pierson, reports the Ironwood Times. The tragedy took place shortly after the breakfast hour as Mr. and Mrs. Anderson sat in the dining room of their home. Pierson came into the room from the kitchen and walking to the chair in which Mr. Anderson was sitting, asked the latter if he had paid Judge Buck Pierson's money yet. Receiving a negative answer Pierson drew a revolver and fired a shot into Anderson's right breast. In a few moments the latter was lifeless. Mr. Anderson had time to get on his feet before the fatal shot was fired and, grasping with his assailant, bore him to the floor. Mrs. Anderson, who was sitting at the other side of the room, rushed to her husband's assistance, wrenched the revolver from her father and cried for help.

Mrs. Anderson, who was sitting at the other side of the room, rushed to her husband's assistance, wrenched the revolver from her father and cried for help. As has been said, Mr. Anderson was the son-in-law of Pierson. The latter had lived with the Anderson family since he came here twelve years ago, or at least had been under their care for the greater part of that time. Pierson several years ago sold his farm near Winneconne, Wis., and used a portion of the money to provide for his care as long as he should live, and a portion of the balance he loaned to Mr. Anderson, taking the latter's note for the amount. The note bore the usual rate of interest, and the same had been paid regularly. The last interest payment having been made about a week prior to the tragedy, Pierson for some unaccountable reason got it into his head that he was "getting the worst of it" and demanded a settlement. He saw Judge Buck about the matter several times, and finally Mr. Anderson agreed with Judge Buck that he would pay over the money to him if he would see to it that Pierson was not allowed to squander it. That Pierson had been drinking for several days following the receipt of his interest money is well established. He probably brooded over his fancied

SONS OF ST. GEORGE TO HOLD BIG MEETING

Mayor Frank James of Hancock and Others Will Speak Here Saturday Evening.

One of the most important meetings of the members of the Sons of St. George society of Marquette county ever held here, will take place Saturday evening in the Odd Fellows hall. There are four lodges in the county, two of these being in Ishpeming, one in Negaunee and the other at the National. The members of all the lodges will be urged to attend.

The meeting is to be given principally as a reception to William Andrews and Captain John Trebilcock, who were elected to the office of supreme messenger and supreme inside sentinel respectively, at the supreme convention held a few weeks ago in Scranton, Pa. The members of the lodge here feel that a great honor was conferred upon them as well as Messrs. Andrews and Trebilcock by their selection to these two important offices. Neither Messrs. Andrews or Trebilcock sought the honor and both were elected without any particular effort on their part, though several other prominent members of the society in attendance at the convention were candidates for the positions.

Several of the prominent Sons in the state will be present to address the meeting. Among the visitors coming are Mayor Frank James of Hancock, who was recently elected state senator in his district; John Nekervis of Calumet, who was a delegate to the supreme convention, and who has for years been prominent in the affairs of the grand lodge, and Joseph Hosking of Lake Linden, grand treasurer of the Michigan body. Mr. James will make one of the principal addresses. Since his entry into politics a few years ago, Hancock's mayor has developed into quite an able speaker.

At this meeting a movement will be started for the organization of a British-American club in Marquette county. The principal object of the club will be to induce men of English birth to become citizens of the United States as soon as they are in the country long enough. There are now quite a number of English born men here, who have been residents long enough to secure citizenship papers, but for some reason or another they have not done so. There are others who several years ago took out their first papers but have never become full citizens. If the club is organized the leaders in the movement anticipate that they will be able to increase the list of English-American voters in Ishpeming and Negaunee considerably before the next election.

At Saturday night's meeting plans will also be discussed for the conducting of joint meetings to be held by the four lodges of the county during the winter months. These meetings will be conducted along similar lines to the ones held last winter and the winter before. At the close of Saturday night's meeting a lunch will be served.

TO ORGANIZE BOWLING CLUB.

A meeting of Ishpeming bowlers will be held some evening in the near future for the organization of a three-men team league that will play a series of games at the Bank street alleys. A league composed of six three-men teams will also be organized within a few days. Two of the teams will be composed of employees of the Oliver Iron Mining company, two of Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's employees, and two representing the alleys. The management of the Bank street alleys will give a turkey to the bowler having the highest score in three successive single games rolled between now and Thanksgiving eve.

MASK BALL AT DIORITE.

The Diorite Social club will give a mask ball in the Diorite hall, a week from next Saturday evening, the 26th. Prizes will be given to the best dressed and best couple. The ball will be the first of its kind that has ever been given at Diorite and it is expected that there will be a large turnout. Masks will be on sale at the Diorite store. Lundahl's orchestra of this city will furnish the music and tickets will be fifty cents for each person.

WAR FOR OHIO TOGA STIRRING DEMOCRATS

John R. McLean Out as a Candidate for the United States Senate.

Columbus, O., Nov. 15.—Ohio Democrats are much excited over the prospect of having a United States senator. As the general assembly is theirs, an interesting scramble for this honor is likely.

John R. McLean will be a candidate. So sure was McLean that the state would go Democratic that he journeyed from Washington to Cincinnati to vote for the first time in nine years. The last time he voted in Ohio was the year of his unsuccessful campaign for the governorship.

Among others mentioned for the senatorship are John R. Lantz, an attorney of Columbus, former congressman; Col. James Kibben, Columbus, manufacturer, once candidate for governor; and Alton Pomeroy, attorney of Canton, who had second place this fall on the Democratic state ticket. Lantz is an avowed candidate and in the late campaign spoke frequently, urging the election of a Democratic legislature.

Senator Dick did not admit defeat until it was forced upon him. At the close of the campaign he spent $500 in one day on telephone calls over the state, getting reports from local chairmen of the outlook. These all seemed so favorable that he was completely upset by the Harmon landslide.

INDOOR BALL GAMES.

The Junior B class boys of the Young Men's Christian association are playing interesting games of ball in their league series. In Monday's games the Yankees defeated the Cubs by a score of 12 to 9 and the Highlanders won from the Giants in a score of 15 to 10. The series will continue for three weeks longer. Visitors are welcome to come and witness the senior league games, played in the gymnasium every Wednesday evening. Seats will be available in the balcony. The first game tonight, between the Erickson and Nicholls teams, will start at 7:45 sharp, and the second game, between the Rose and Martin teams, will begin at 8:45. The teams

HARMON PLANS REFORMS.

As soon as the re-election of the governor became known, he received 500 telegrams of congratulation. They came from most of the states in the union and in a large proportion of them he was referred to in a complimentary way as to the presidency. The governor's victory hardly could have been more complete. Inasmuch as he had been attacked by his Republican opponent, Warren G. Harding, his re-election is considered a great vindication.

Harmon carried with him to success control of the Ohio delegation in congress and also of the legislature. During the campaign he declared frequently that a Republican assembly had pre-

DEMOCRATS MAY FACE PARTY SPLIT

Speakership and Rules Committee Threaten Trouble for Them in New House.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The Democrats of the Sixty-second congress are in for exactly the same kind of a row that has split the Republican party. Young and old blood will contest for supremacy, and it may be that the election of Champ Clark to the speakership will be changing before the controversy is ended.

While an humble floor member and cooperating with the Republicans Mr. Clark was willing enough to vote for the election of a committee on committees, but with the power of appointment lodged in his hands he is less anxious. Representative Henry of Texas, Sims of Tennessee, Hay of Virginia and others of the younger element who are not ranking men on the committees will work hard for a resolution that the committee be appointed by a committee selected by the House, and they may think it wise to make a rallying point for the party by giving a rallying point for their programme. Swager Shirley of Kentucky would be as likely a person as any to lead the movement.

If the Democrats split on this proposition they will run a grave risk of injuring themselves with the Speaker, neglecting the larger principles of legislation for the technique. When the Republican insurgency was at its hottest only the radicals seriously supported the plan of organizing the House through a committee. The power of arbitrary appointment by the Speaker is disadvantageous, but it is not in which there is no appeal, and it does not delay the business of the House. The other plan gives ample opportunity for division, in that the report of the committee on committees must be accepted by the House, and a committee of fifteen, such as is proposed, would subject the members to such a pulling and hauling that the House might find itself so divided over organization that little business would be done for a long time.

Exactly the same situation is presented by the tariff question. The heads of the Democracy dread the introduction of a tariff bill, for they can see no way in which a Democratic House can get glory out of it, any more than a Republican. Besides, the Democracy is honey-combed with protection Democrats and the votes of the protectionists of 1909 showed that statement of that stripe preferred holding their seats rather than voting according to the announced principles of their party.

President Taft no doubt will decide in his own mind, during his Panama trip, what course he will pursue with respect to tariff legislation. Had the House gone Republican, no doubt the Tariff Board would have made no report until spring and revision would have been taken up in the winter of 1911 along carefully chosen and well understood lines. But the Administration now faces the pressure of political necessity to do something. A report on the pulp and paper schedule could easily be prepared. Woolen and woollens have been studied carefully also and that schedule could be revised if the matter could be got before the House.

At present the rules of the House stand in the way, and it is believed that Speaker Cannon and his allies, perhaps, assisted by the Democrats, would try to prevent action at the short session. The Republican leaders will feel that the House on this question and when the President returns will be a subject of immediate conference. The President has been urged insistently by his cabinet to secure the passage of all the Administration bills possible. In a sense the Administration has been relieved by the vote of Tuesday placing responsibility for legislative action upon the Democratic party. Nevertheless, the Republicans know that a do-nothing short session would place them in a weak position before the country, and even the standpatters have political sense enough to see that the high tariff has been the main cause of the troubles which have afflicted the party. Cabinet opinions strongly support the contention that the Democratic landslide unfortunately as it may have been for the party as a whole, will have a powerful tendency to strengthen the leadership of President Taft, particularly in legislative matters.

Notwithstanding political necessity, however, it may be difficult for the Republicans to recoup their prestige with brilliant legislative achievements in the brief session from Dec. 5 to March 4. In the opinion of many, it is more probable that congress will do as little as it can, on the theory that it would be very unfair for the country to put through measures of large general importance affecting trusts or corporations or railways specifically, or conservation of natural resources. The members of Congress will not come here this session in a mood to attend closely to important business. Many of them have been returned to private life. Their concern will be to find a berth somewhere under the government or to make connections in private business. Some of his friends will advise the President not to subject himself to the risk of having his recommendations go unheeded. They believe that this will not be a good year for the enactment of "policies" into law.

Besides, the Republican members will be kept busy forming themselves as a minority. The great parliamentarians of the House like Cannon, Hinds, Payne, Dalzell, Malby, Mann, Olmsted and Walter I. Smith are coming back, and they will play as much for personal position as the good of the party. There will be almost as many insurgents in the next House as in the present one and fewer regulars and the two factions must get together and choose a minority leader. In recent Republican Congresses Speaker Cannon has allowed the Democratic minority leader to name the Democratic representation on the various committees of the House. If the Speaker's power of naming the committees is not taken away from him by the rules adopted it is assumed that this practice will be continued and that the Republican who is chosen minority leader will assign the Republicans their committee places. It will make a great difference whether an insurgent or a regular is selected by the Republicans to be their spokesman on the floor. Whoever is designated will be the party Spoker will become by virtue of his defeat floor leader and spokesman for the minority.

Some of the thoughtful Democrats here are beginning to be the least bit apprehensive over the size of the Democratic majority in the House. There are members who would prefer to have a majority of twenty or twenty-five. They feel that a bare advantage in numbers would prove more effective and more useful at the beginning of their coming into power than a majority which may prove unwieldy. This is borne out by the experience of the Republicans in the present Congress. Had the Democratic majority been larger and the Republican advantage less great, it is believed by many that the Republican faction quarrels would not have been so destructive. A bare fighting majority makes for cohesion. With so many Republicans as there were last winter and the winter before, it is often difficult to get them to attend the sessions. They remain in the committee rooms about the Capitol or in their cosy corners in the office building. Several times the majority were caught napping from this very cause. The Democrats would have preferred their great increase to have come in 1912 when the party was in practice. The Democrats know little of discipline and will learn little with so great a margin in their favor. Discipline has been the Republican advantage until the party never was in danger until the leaders, drunk with power, attempted to administer it to men who were their equals in ability and more than their match in youth and vigor.

SENATE SLIPPING FROM REPUBLICANS

Leaders Fearful of Democrats Gaining Upper Hand During Mr. Taft's Term.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Republican leaders are figuring on the probability of the party losing control of the United States senate within the next few years. The administration is very much concerned over the outlook. Many Republicans expected to see the house go Democratic this year, but they did not look for the landslide that threatens the party's grip on the Senate. Probably nine states will send Democrats to the senate March 4, 1911, to succeed a like number of Republicans. The significance of this will be better understood when it is pointed out that among the senate Republicans who hold over from New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Kentucky, Maine, West Virginia and certain other states there are men of advanced years or of impaired health whose passing away would bring Democratic recruits to the upper house. It is the opinion of the administration leaders that before President Taft's term expires March 4, 1913, the senate as well as the house, will be dominated by the Democrats.

Bare Working Majority, Now.

As things now stand the Republicans have only a bare working majority. The senate at present is comprised of fifty-nine Republicans and thirty-three Democrats. Nine Republicans will retire March 4 next, to make way for nine Democrats. When it is pointed out that the number of Republican senators to fifty, and increase the number of Democratic senators to forty-two. Regular Republicans declare that the progressive Republican senators will on occasion join with the Democrats, thus injecting an element of uncertainty into conditions as far as the upper house that may worry the responsible leadership at times. The indications are that the progressives will be a little stronger in the new senate than they are in the existing body.

Some Old-Timers Will Be Missing.

A good many familiar faces will not be present when the reorganized senate is called to order. Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, a potential figure in Republican politics for many years, is among those who will go on the retired list. Aldrich's chief lieutenant, Eugene Hale of Maine, will be retiring as well. There is a possibility that Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts may fail of reelection. With Aldrich and Hale gone the Republicans will be hard pressed for capable leadership, and if Lodge falls by the wayside the Republicans will be in a quandary as to who shall direct party affairs in the senate.

Nathan Bay Scott of West Virginia, Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, Chauncey M. Depew of New York, John Keaf of New Jersey, Elmer J. Burkett of Nebraska, William Warner of Missouri, and Charles Dick of Ohio are other Republicans whose names will be taken off the senate roll call in a few months.

Republicans here are inclined to the opinion that Root of New York, Crane of Massachusetts, together with Lodge, if he returns, will succeed to the Aldrich-Hale leadership. Root and Crane are new comers, but they have been tried and found to be possessed of qualities of leadership. Just what they will do in the face of the onslaughts of such experienced debaters as La Follette, Cummins and the pestiferous Brewster remains to be seen.

Aldrich and Hale had their hands full in handling the progressives, and the chances are that the new leadership may be unequal to the task. Neither Root nor Crane nor Lodge possesses the knowledge of human nature that has proved such a big factor in the success of Aldrich as a leader. Aldrich is a man of infinite tact, and charming manners. Lodge and Root are reserved and haughty, and unpopular with the senate membership. Crane lacks force, has no ability as a speaker, and his activities must of necessity be restricted. He is frequently referred to as "Aldrich's legs."

Combine May Organize Senate.

Political Washington is much exercised over the report that the Democrats, acting with the progressives, may organize the senate into a political party. A Democratic senator who refused to permit the use of his name in this connection made this suggestion:

"By joining with the progressives we would have no trouble in organizing the senate committees, providing, of course, the progressives would consent to the arrangement. Suppose we offered La Follette the chairmanship at the head of the interstate commerce committee now held by Elkins of West Virginia. Then we might offer Cummins of Iowa a big chairmanship, allow Clapp and Bristow to take their choice of chairmanships, distributing honors in such a way as to give the progressives an opportunity to press legislation in which they were interested. In this way this would be a revolutionary proceeding, but it is one of the possibilities of the situation."

CARLISLE GRADUATES

Their Records Prove That Not All Good Indians Are Dead Indians.

The head of the Indian school at Carlisle has been looking into the records now being received from the leading institutions. He claims that of 514 living graduates only five have been so-called failures.

"The rest," he says in the Red Man, "have made a marked success in their various spheres of activity. Three hundred of them are successfully engaged in vocational activities, away from the reservation and have been forever severed from Federal supervision. No longer content to be wards, they have speedily become citizens. The 209 engaged at work on the reservation are leaders among their people, and examples of probity and industry.

"Of the women graduates it will be noted that 142 are housekeepers. It will thus be seen that their education has not weaned them away from married life. They are the mistresses of modern homes, respected and their children are being well cared for and carefully educated. These are not so-called squaws who live in tepees or hogans, amid the squalor of the reservation, but thrifty, industrious wives and mothers whose homes compare well with the homes of good white women in similar circumstances.

"Careful records are being gathered of the more than four thousand students who have only stayed at Carlisle long enough to complete partial terms. It has been found from returns which have already been received that out of 2189 approximately 94 per cent are successfully earning their living, and evidence of the uprightness of their lives that even the short term spent at this school has been a vital influence for good."

SLEUTHS SAY WATCH YOUR $100 BILLS

U. S. Secret Service Gives Warning of a New and Dangerous Counterfeit.

New York, Nov. 15.—Beware of $100 bills. Rare as they may be and interesting as objects of curiosity, only to be observed in the passing so to speak, some of them will not bear inspection. An expert on counterfeit money will be wise not to faint until you have examined the title of the register of the treasury. If it reads "register of the treasury" instead of the correct way, you are the victim.

Warnings from the United States secret service are being sent out for a new and deceptive counterfeit $100 bill were received today by bankers, railroad ticket agents and merchants. A cautionary notice issued by W. H. Moran, acting chief of the secret service, posted in most of the leading railroad ticket offices, states that the new counterfeit is of "Department Series" act of July 12, 1882, check letter "A." J. W. Lyons, register of the treasury; Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States. It carries a portrait of Benton.

The counterfeit is made by the use of printed from photo-mechanical plates on two sheets of paper between which silk threads have been distributed, and at first glance looks like a genuine bill which has been washed or bleached. The number of one specimen is C004017, and it is well executed and of good color. The title under the signature of Mr. Lyons reads, "register of the treasury," instead of "register of the treasury." The seal also differs from the original in being printed in crimson instead of carmine. The impression on the back of the bill is fair.

This warning in all the ticket offices of the "L" railroad adds another to the interesting collection of similar warnings which already crowd the walls of the little booth where "L" tickets are sold. Judging from the number and variety of the counterfeiters described in these warnings it would be well to take no money at all and be safe, but the ticket men have not yet reached that stage. So numerous are the $5 and $10 counterfeiters that the ticket sellers in all the "L" and other railroad stations are extremely cautious in accepting bills from those denominations. Instead of landing out change in a hurry as heretofore, the agent will hold up a line of ticket buyers which he consults his gallery of warnings and compares the numbers of the bill in question with those known to be counterfeit.

Beware of Ointments for CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when introduced through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is too fond to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is the best remedy for Catarrh of the Head, Throat, Lungs, and all mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken in capsules. Sold by druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. Takes Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

KANSAS FARMERS WASTE MILLIONS

Strawstacks Along the Santa Fe Railroad Alone Cover 25,000 Acres.

Topoka, Kas., Nov. 15.—Within one and one-half miles on each side of the Santa Fe main line, between Newton and Dodge City, Kan., J. B. Kootz, general freight agent for the Santa Fe, estimates that there are 25,000 acres of wheat land covered with straw stacks—land wasted. The estimate is based upon an actual count of the straw stacks along the track between Newton and Halesburg, Sylvia and Stafford, Lewis and Kinsley and Wright and Dodge City.

The stacks when the threshing is done are on the average 125 by 150 feet, or 18,750 square feet per stack. After a stack has been pawed over all winter by cattle it really occupies more space than is shown by the estimate. This ground is regarded as little less than waste. Straw contains no nutriment to speak of, and about the only value in a straw stack is the shelter it affords to stock.

Kootz figures that if the ground occupied by straw stacks was sown to wheat every year, on a 15-bushel average, the yield would be 375,000 bushels. At ninety cents a bushel the crop from the straw stack area alone would bring $337,500. This sum, Mr. Kootz says, is an annual loss to the farmers of the limited territory in which the estimate is made. The loss in the entire state, according to his reasoning, runs up into the millions.

One Factory Built.

Following its policy of locating industries on its line, the Santa Fe lately induced the Western Strawboard Product company to build a large factory at Hutchinson, which will use thousands of tons of straw, and reduce the number of straw stacks in the territory mentioned. But there will be many straw stacks left and by their presence in the fields farmers will continue to lose money. The reason given by farmers for leaving the stacks in the fields is that they are troublesome to burn. The interior of a stack is usually damp, and when set on fire it smolders for a week. Many farmers don't care to both with them. Only about one farmer in five burns his straw stacks. Some farmers use straw for fertilizer after it rots, but it takes a long time for a stack to rot sufficiently for this purpose, and even then it is not the best.

Experiments lately have been made in the preparation of straw for fuel, by pressing it into blocks. These experiments have shown encouraging results, and it is likely that they will be successful. In that case a new market would be created for farmers which would enable them to dispose of their straw at a fair price, and have the use of the ground now wasted.

LIFE IN INTERPLANETARY SPACE.

The old idea that life may have been spread from world to world by dust particles traveling through space is being again discussed. Professor Svante Arrhenius, the Swedish physicist, finds that spontaneous generation is probably no longer possible on the earth, but conceives that it may take place on some globe having more favorable physical and chemical conditions. From these globes life may be scattered to other habitable bodies on particles driven by the pressure of light. In recent experiments with bacteria, half of the dried organisms perished within three days at ordinary temperature, but others showed no impairment of vitality after four months at a temperature of liquid air, and it was concluded that the cold of space might so diminish vital activity that life may be sustained for millions of years. An objection to this theory, by M. Paul Bequerel, is that the ultraviolet rays from incandescent stars are constantly sterilizing space. Even a mere dryness and cold cannot greatly lengthen resistance to these rays, and spores exposed in a vacuum to ultraviolet rays under conditions of extreme cold were destroyed within a few hours.

ALREADY TALKING OF THE 1912 CANDIDATES

Democratic Leaders Confident of Their Ability to Elect Taft's Successor.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The uppermost question of the hour at Washington runs to presidential candidates. Primary it bears upon Democratic candidates, for the Democracy has now obtained a tremendous impetus for its 1912 campaign. Its party leaders, as developments at the Capitol already indicate, will go forth into training for that contest.

East and South, the name of Woodrow Wilson, the governor-elect of New Jersey promises to loom large. The talk of Washington is that way just now. As a scholar and philosopher he has an attractive personality. His campaign in New Jersey is described as a revelation.

Western men now arriving in Washington say Dr. Wilson is little known in that section. They are inclined to talk more favorably of Dix and Gaynor, and also of Harmon and Marshall. There is a western impression that Wilson is a favorite of Wall street. He will have to live down that impression if the West takes him up with particular enthusiasm.

Governor-elect Foss of Massachusetts is figuring not a little in the presidential gossip that permeates Washington. He has already become a Democrat of national reputation. Senators and representatives speak of his characteristic strength in the Henderson valley and the West, and will be backed by sterling arguments. He is already a declared candidate. The Ohio Democrats made him that by indorsing him for the nomination when they selected him for a second gubernatorial term. He has not only won a second term as governor, an unprecedented thing for a Democrat in Republican Ohio, but he has also won in a contest where the Republicans in their state convention had indorsed President Taft for renomination.

Between Taft and Harmon.

Governor Harmon has had a longer official career than any of his prospective rivals for the nomination. He was attorney-general in Cleveland's cabinet, and has been much before the public in the last fifteen years. It will be claimed, at least, that he could carry Ohio for president.

Many Republicans believe that after all is said their party will be compelled to renominate President Taft. The president is said to entertain that opinion himself. The only alternative now seems to be Roosevelt, against whom there are now stronger objections than appeared before the election, or some insurgent out of the West, like Senator Cummins of Iowa or Senator La Follette of Wisconsin. But it is doubtful whether either of these westerners could carry big eastern states like New York and Massachusetts against a fairly acceptable Democrat.

Governor Harmon will be sixty-seven years old when the new administration comes in. Although a well preserved man, he is a little beyond the age of presidential candidates. The real Democrats of Ohio—and they are very numerous—have supported him steadfastly. None the less, as a presidential aspirant he must face the criticism that he has been a corporation lawyer and has been suspected of reactionary tendencies.

It probably will not be at all to Governor Harmon's advantage that Governor Marshall of the neighboring state of Indiana is also looking for the presidential nomination. The Hoosier will hardly attain it, but he is a tower of strength with the Indiana voters and with an eastern candidate for president he would be a very valuable vice-presidential nominee.

As to Combinations.

As matters stand right at the threshold of this contest for the nomination, Wilson and Marshall look like a formidable combination. It might be Dix and Marshall, or more remotely, Gaynor and Marshall. The South, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana is a historical combination.

But if the Harmon boom makes great headway, the ticket might read Harmon and Foss. It is not beyond the probability that New England Democrats will be tying up with the Ohioan, especially

SHE QUIT.

But It Was a Hard Pull.

It is hard to believe that coffee will put a person in such a condition as it did an Ohio woman. She tells her own story.

"I did not believe coffee caused my trouble, and frequently said I liked it so well I would not, and could not, quit drinking it, but I was a miserable sufferer from heart trouble and nervous prostration for four years.

"I was scarcely able to be around, had no energy and did not care for anything. Was emaciated and had a constant pain around my heart until I thought I could not endure it.

"Frequently I had nervous chills and the least excitement would drive sleep away, and any little noise would upset me terribly. I was gradually getting worse until finally my wife had me and I asked myself what the use of being sick all the time and buying medicine so that I could indulge myself in coffee?

"So I thought I would see if I could quit drinking coffee and get some Postum to help me quit. I made it strictly according to directions and I want to tell you, that change was the greatest step in my life. It was easy to quit coffee because I had the Postum which I now like better than the old coffee.

"One by one the old troubles left, until now I am in splendid health, nervous steady, heart all right and the pain all gone. Never have any more nervous chills, don't take any medicine, can do all my housework and have done a great deal beside."

FRED WETMORE DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Former State Senator of Cadillac Appointed to Succeed George Covell, Who Has Held the Office for Over Twelve Years—His Appointment no Surprise.

New Incumbent Was an Active Supporter of Senator Smith in His Campaign for Election Four Years Ago, and Was Also Friendly to Senator Burrows.

News has been received here of the appointment of former State Senator Fred C. Wetmore, of Cadillac, as the successor of George Covell as United States district attorney for the western district of Michigan.

Ex-Senator Wetmore was one of Senator Smith's most active supporters in the early stages of the fight when the chances were against Senator Smith's election. Just before the vote was taken which resulted in Senator Smith's election, Senator Wetmore made the speech seconding his nomination.

It is generally admitted that the new district attorney will appoint Attorney Ed. J. Bowman of Greenville to succeed William K. Clute of Ionia as his assistant and strenuous efforts by prominent members of the Michigan Bar, with many leading politicians, are being made to have Miss Ella M. Backus retained in her position as deputy.

Mr. Wetmore succeeds to an office that long has been recognized by the department of justice at Washington as among the most successful in its jurisdiction. Mr. Covell was reappointed for his third term upon the personal recommendation of the United States attorney general at a time when the Traverse City man had no expectation of reappointment and had not announced himself as a candidate.

Mr. Covell has been prominent in politics for years and twice has come out as a few votes of winning the congressional nomination in the Eleventh district. With the exception of these two occasions his efforts have been devoted to the candidacy of his friends and the general welfare of the party. Politics did not enter into his conduct of the office.

Mr. Wetmore is his personal friend and the transfer today will be devoid of any ill will. Mr. Covell says he will remain and lend assistance for a time, should Mr. Wetmore desire it, but he feels that with the experienced deputies the new district attorney will fit right into the routine without difficulty.

Fred C. Wetmore will take the oath today and immediately assume control of the office. He is forty-three years of age and a graduate of the University of Michigan law department with the class of '88. He has been a resident of Cadillac for more than twenty years; has served the municipality as city attorney for seven years and was prosecutor of Wexford county for three successive terms. He went to the state senate in 1907 and again for the 1909-10 legislature, where his ready eloquence won him the place as floor leader for the administration in the important legislative battles of that period. He since has been appointed to the unexpired term as probate judge in Wexford county and was put in charge of the Detroit headquarters of Senator Burrows during the recent campaign. He is well known throughout Michigan and has many local friends. His commission was received from Washington several days ago.

Ed. J. Bowman is slated as deputy to succeed William K. Clute of Ionia, is city attorney of Greenville and leading lawyer and politician of Montclair county. He is a statewide figure in Michigan politics and would today be railway commissioner but for the eleventh hour legislative twist that made the commission non-partisan.

Miss Ella M. Backus has been office deputy under District Attorney Covell for several years. She is one of the few successful women attorneys in the state and in her connection with the local federal office has gained an insight into the intricate, technical and exacting system in vogue in the relations with the department of justice and in the handling of the federal cases for prosecution, of which few men can boast.

DISCREDIT REPORTS. South Shore Officials Know of No Impending Schedule Changes.

Prominent South Shore officials discredit the reports of Northwestern trainmen that there will shortly be a radical revision of the running time of the Northwestern Iron & Copper Country Express. According to a story printed in The Mining Journal yesterday, it is strongly reported on the Northwestern line that the northbound express on the Northwestern will be put back on its old schedule, leaving Chicago at 8 p. m., again, and that the southbound train will leave Ishpeming an hour and forty minutes later than at present.

"We haven't heard anything of these reported changes," a prominent South Shore official said yesterday. "If they were on the tapis we would naturally have been informed to that effect by the Northwestern officials, so that we could plan with them for the revision of the present schedules. Our company was tentatively approached about a change some weeks ago, but we advised that the trains be run for some time as they are run at present, and as far as I know this will be the case."

Cute Slated to Go, Too. It is generally admitted that the new district attorney will appoint Attorney Ed. J. Bowman of Greenville to succeed William K. Clute of Ionia as his assistant and strenuous efforts by prominent members of the Michigan Bar, with many leading politicians, are being made to have Miss Ella M. Backus retained in her position as deputy.

VACCINATION IS SURE PREVENTIVE

Best Way to Forestall Possibility of Smallpox Becoming Prevalent in U. P.

Though there is not known to be any cases of smallpox north of the straits, the prevalence of the disease in many sections of lower Michigan should serve as a warning to all persons who have not already taken this precaution to be vaccinated at once.

A bulletin recently issued by the state board of health contains the following: "It is well known that smallpox can be prevented or modified by vaccination, and a widespread epidemic of the disease can be attributed only to an equally widespread ignorance of willfulness concerning its prevention by vaccination and re-vaccination."

LITTLE LAND SOLD AT PUBLIC SALE. Few Bidders Willing to Pay Appraised Value of State Tax Tracts in This County.

All lands in this country deeded to the state because of the former owners having failed to pay taxes on them for a period of years were offered at public sale at the county house yesterday by representatives of the state land commissioner's office.

None of the land was appraised at less than $1 an acre and some descriptions ran up to $8 an acre or more. Marquette land men stated after the sale that, in their opinion, many of the descriptions were appraised for more than they were worth, particularly as the state reserves all mineral and water power rights.
