

MEXICAN CITY THE SCENE OF A GORY BATTLE

One Hundred Persons Are Reported Killed at Puebla in Fighting That Follows an Attempt to Break Up a Mass Meeting of the Anti-Reelectionists.

Police and Rurales Storm the Hall and Are Met With Bullets and a Bomb—Regular Army Troops Now Going to the Disturbed Locality.

Mexico City, Nov. 18.—One hundred persons, including the chief of police, were killed in riots at Puebla today, according to the statements of passengers arriving here tonight from that city.

The trouble began this morning when a number of policemen attempted to break up a meeting of anti-re-electionists.

As Chief of Police Miguel Cabreza and his men advanced toward the hall, the door was opened by a woman, who shot and killed the chief.

The passengers further asserted that from midnight until they left Puebla in the afternoon, there was continuous rioting, and while the anti-re-electionists had been driven from the building, they were entertained that the disorders were not ended.

It is learned that the Seventeenth battalion left here today for Puebla and that other trains are ready to transport additional troops if necessary.

It is officially stated that fifteen men were killed at Puebla, but this number is believed to be much too low.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT STANDS ITS GROUND ON HOUSE OF LORDS ISSUE.

London, Nov. 18.—Prime Minister Herbert Henry Asquith, presenting the government program in commons today, declared that there would be no amendment or transformation in the veto bill, and the lords must say "yes" or "no."

Today's brief sessions of the two houses of parliament are likely to prove the turning point in the history of the house of lords as at present constituted. The older Conservatives view the march of events with anxious concern and are loudly lamenting the disappearance of the hereditary principle as the basis of the upper chamber; but whatever may be the result of the second appeal to the nation arising from the struggle between the houses, it seems certain that henceforth elective and selective bases will enter into the construction of the house of lords.

PARLIAMENT STORMED BY WOMAN HOST

Cheered by American Jack Tars, Who Are Amused Spectators of the Affray, an Army of Suffragettes Attempts to Invade the House of Commons.

One Thousand Strong, the Attacking Force Gives Hard Battle—It Finally Is Routed and It Leaves Behind as Prisoners 116 of Its Fighters.

London, Nov. 18.—Suffragettes under the leadership of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst made an attack on parliament soon after the session opened today.

About one thousand suffragettes were engaged in a fight with the police surrounding the building. Several times the women were driven back, but each time they returned to the attack and it required additional police to finally stop the assaults.

A large contingent of American blue-jackets from the visiting fleet were amused spectators of the struggle, and their cheering of the combatants incited them to fresh efforts.

The suffragettes had determined, if possible, to force the police cordon about the house of commons and, reaching Premier Asquith, to insist upon the introduction of a woman's suffrage bill.

The women presented a sorry spectacle when the battle was over. The dresses of many were torn and their hair hung down in tangles.

DAILY MINING JOURNAL

MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED),

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

MARQUETTE, MICH., NOV. 19.

The aviator's motto. A short life and a merry one.

Houghton county now hopes to be so good that it will be able to forget how bad it once was.

A majority in congress is not all beer and skittles, as the Democrats are bound to find out in good time.

The scene of political endeavors has shifted for the time from the United States to the British Isles.

Detroit has been through another municipal election and municipal ownership continues as much of an issue as it has ever been.

Can Michigan defeat Minnesota, and will Harvard be as much better than Yale as it should be on the basis of comparative scores?

The incoming passengers on the steamer George Washington paid $75,000 in duties. There was nothing like that in the days before the regime of Collector Loeb.

However, the news that the Democrat, Knop, has apparently been elected in the Ninth Wisconsin district will occasion no great concern. One Democrat more or less in the next house will make little difference, one way or the other.

Minnesota has raised a question as to the eligibility of one of the Michigan football players. It will be agreed that it is better to have the question raised before Michigan has won the championship rather than after, as was the case last year.

P. Knott Owens has gained something over a hundred votes in the recount of the ballots cast for mayor of Detroit. If he continues to gain at that rate he will be successful in demonstrating that he was defeated by something less than 5,000 votes.

It cost Governor-Elect Frost $37,000 to secure his election as governor of Massachusetts. That is many more times the amount he will get out of the office, but Foss is well enough off so that he can regard politics as a luxury which he can indulge in without any thought of his purse.

Now Governor-Elect Osborn will hear from the men who have just claims for consideration for the appointments at his disposal. He intends to make appointments that will give the state the best men it is within his power to name, but that intention will not spare him the solicitations of an embarrassing number of excellent candidates.

The Cook county Democrats have been principally occupied since election planning for the distribution of the fat spoils of war. They haven't yet had time to plan all the good things they will accomplish for the constituency that has honored them with power. But no doubt they will get around to that in good time.

The anti-Baker members of the legislature that will be sworn in after the first of the new year will probably have to find some better reason for the defeat of Representative Baker for speaker than the personal enmity of Representative Campbell's friends, if they are to enter into the fight with any great likelihood of success.

Spurred on by the example of the federal government, the city of New York proposes to see what it can do in the way of making the sugar trust make restitution for moneys out of which it has defrauded the local government. It has a claim of over half a million for water rates which it charges the trust evaded by the expedient of connecting around the regular meters. This is not a new trick to defraud cities out of their just water rates but it is something new to find a trust organized at millions of dollars engaged in it.

It is estimated that two more seasons of concrete sidewalk construction work will replace practically all the wooden sidewalks left in the city. Marquette was the first city in the upper peninsula to take up concrete construction on a large scale and it will naturally be the first to finish the task of completely furnishing the city with a modern system of walks. Concrete curbing and guttering work is somewhat behind the sidewalk improvements, but it will be pushed as rapidly as possible, and will soon be brought up to the standard of the other improvements. Marquette will not rest content until it boasts of the best system of public highways of any city in the upper peninsula.

From New York is reported the close of one of the longest drawn out cases of insurance litigation on record. Oscar Adler, a glove manufacturer, who carried a life insurance policy of $5,000 in the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, died in 1876, but the company, contending that Adler had committed suicide, refused to pay the amount of the policy to the beneficiaries. The beneficiaries at once sued. Twice their case was dismissed, and twice they appealed and obtained a new trial. On the third trial the insurance company lost, and then it appealed. The lower court was upheld, and the beneficiaries were finally awarded $15,050, representing the amount of the policy and interest.

The appointment of James McNaughton, of Calumet, for regent of the state university as successor to Chase S. Osborn has been suggested. It is a most happy suggestion, and one the carrying out of which would be received with the deepest satisfaction by Mr. Osborn's friends throughout the upper peninsula. Mr. McNaughton is a graduate of the university, a man of broad culture, great executive ability and high standing in the state. He is a type of the men who should be chosen for these positions because they honor them and also because they bring to their duties the kind of ability that makes for the wise administration of the institution of which they are to have control. On the political side of the matter, Mr. McNaughton's appointment would be a gracious recognition by Mr. Osborn of the loyal and unswerving support he received in Houghton county. There is no county in the state to which Mr. Osborn is more indebted than Houghton. It was one of the counties which at no time caused him or his friends even the slightest concern. They could always be sure that his interests were being well cared for there. From every viewpoint, then, Mr. McNaughton's appointment as regent would be a happy one.

Many people have been referring to Woodrow Wilson, governor-elect in New Jersey, as if he were a man every one of whose ideas was as far different as possible from those of Colonel Roosevelt. They will find matter of interest in his Milwaukee address this week, in which he gave expression to his idea of what is needed in a president and expressed his views as to the cause of the trouble in which the Republican party has found itself this year. His words suggest that if he were elected president we would find him much such a president as Colonel Roosevelt made. He is quoted as saying: "The present political situation hinges upon the fact that the president does not lead, but faint would follow. But we know that the only person whose words are printed everywhere and heeded everywhere in the whole land is the president. The people follow his lead by instinct and every one knows how disappointing it is when he does not lead. It is an instinct of the people to want to follow and to know what is going on. They feel now that they are on the outside. What they want is a leader who will stand up and tell them what to do. * * * * * Wasn't the whole country thrilled because a few years ago there was a man in New York state who stood up and showed that he was capable of leading and who came out and told the people what they wanted to know?" If it wasn't explicitly stated that Woodrow Wilson was the author of these sentences, they might very well pass for an expression of the views of Colonel Roosevelt.

No sympathy will be wasted on the employes on the Panama canal who say they will throw up their jobs unless they get more pay. The government has taken exceedingly good care of the men in its employ on the canal job. They have not only been given a rate of pay throughout all grades, largely in excess of what they could possibly earn in the states, but no effort has been spared to secure their comfort and physical well-being. They have been provided with sanitary and comfortable houses, rent free, hospitals have been built, appointed and furnished with excellent medical attendance to take care of them in sickness, the government has made arrangements to furnish them with the best foods and supplies at much lower prices than they would have to pay if they resided in the states, leaves of absence have been given generously, on full pay, and the living conditions on the isthmus have been made more healthful than they average in the United States. There has never been a more pampered lot of workmen employed on any job ever undertaken in the world than the government's force on the canal. We aren't acquainted with the exact nature of the grievances they now have, but it can be confidently said that their lot is not a very hard one and that they are a good deal better off than the same class of labor in the states. If they insist on striking it can be predicted with confidence that there will not be any great difficulty about filling their positions. The Panama jobs are just now among the greatest prizes in the industrial world.

Political discussion has centered on what the Democrats intend to do during the next session. It has been said that they will employ obstructive tactics to prevent the Republicans from making real headway toward a fulfillment of the remaining platform pledges and also that they will oppose any enlargement of the tariff board in order that they may secure the credit for any revision which is made.

Such a policy may be excellent party expediency, but it is poor patriotism, says the Grand Rapids Press. It is essentially reactionary, in that it places the success of the organization above the welfare of the nation. The average man is thoroughly convinced that tariff tinkering in the old fashioned unskillful business and accomplishes little in the way of genuine reform. It matters little which party attacks the job—the method is wrong and the result cannot be satisfactory. The tariff commission idea has come to stay and if the Democrats fail now to recognize this simple fact they will be converted later by the one means which the people have. It is the logical, scientific and conservative method of adjusting the schedules and no party which tries the old, bungling, haphazard way will reap any benefit from the experiment.

Obstruction during the coming short session of congress may deceive some, but it will not deceive all the people. The crying need of the day is for constructive legislation and those Democrats who are advising that the devices of petty politics be used to prevent action are plotting against the best interests of the nation. The excuse is made that the voters by electing Democrats have endorsed Democratic policies. No one knows this is not true better than the Democrats themselves. Democrats ran, not on old time Democratic platform, but as progressives and were elected by progressive Republican votes. Reactionary Republicanism has been rebuked, but reactionary Democracy has not been rebuked.

The party soon to be in the saddle in the lower house of congress needs to watch its knitting very carefully or it will be separated from the job of darning the sock. It must remember that the nation is in no mood for peanut politics.

HERE AND THERE.

Dr. Christopher Koch of Philadelphia, vice-president of the Pennsylvania pharmaceutical board, who recently directed a crusade against cocaine and opium sellers in Philadelphia, says that 48 per cent of all criminals are addicted to a drug habit of some sort. He adds that the use of opium in this country has increased 350 per cent since 1890 and that in the United States are smoked 168,000 pounds of opium every year. He favors life imprisonment for criminals known to be drug users.

Within the last ten years the Methodist church in the Philippines has grown to a membership of 30,000, and 300 Filipinos are conducting preaching services.

Six hundred dollars salary a year is too little for a woman in New York city and $750 a year barely is enough to give her the necessities of life, according to the board of educational commissioners, which has recommended an increase from $600 to $750 in the minimum wage paid woman teachers. In the opinion of the commission "the woman who tries to live on $600 a year must get her own breakfast, pay 15 cents for luncheon and no more than 25 for dinner. Seven years will spend not exceed $4 a week. In case of illness and in the summer vacations she must depend on her relatives and she also will have to get clothing from home. Independence is not possible for a woman in New York on less than $15 a week."

Miss Caroline Hazard, who resigned the presidency of Wellesley college last summer on account of ill health after a service of eleven years, will spend the winter in Santa Barbara, Cal., but will not be reported go into the business of raising oranges for market. Miss Hazard has been annoyed by reports that she was "going into the orange business." The place at Santa Barbara was bought by Rowland Hazard, Miss Hazard's brother.

Guarding Against Trouble.

Patrick H. Ryan, candidate on the Democratic ticket for the board of works, told a story with a moral the other night at a Democratic mass meeting, when preceding orators had urged the audience to show their patriotism by voting for the best man.

"The honeymoon of a newly married couple was about to end," said Mr. Ryan, "and the young bride asked her husband what she could do to prove she loved him with all her heart.

"The husband replied: 'You might turn over all the family letters. I have written you, so that I might have the satisfaction of destroying them.'"—Newark Star.

Mr. Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. William J. Bryan heard Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman preach in Chicago, and soon afterward wrote him a letter. "I had to leave at 4:25 in order to meet a friend with whom I had an engagement," he wrote, "but I heard your address and appeal. The text was admirable—it could not have been better suited to the occasion. The treatment was logical and orderly, the illustrations were all well chosen, and the delivery left nothing to be desired. It was a powerful sermon, and must have touched the hearts of a great many. You are doing a wonderful work, and a work imperatively needed. God bless you and keep you strong, continue it! I enjoyed the singing, too. Am glad I had the opportunity of attending."

New York has taken the lead in the movement to provide an endowment fund for the Red Cross, subscriptions of $829,500 having been received there. The endowment fund is being raised through committees appointed by President Taft in all the larger cities of the country. Each committee is to raise its share at the rate of 10 cents per capita of population, and New York's share is $500,000. Mrs. E. H. Harriman has given the share for 500,000 residents of New York with a subscription of $30,000. A number of other contributions ranging from $25,000 to $1,000 have been made. J. P. Morgan has promised $10,000, subject to the condition that $400,000 be first collected.

A LAUGH OR TWO.

A Young Flatterer.

Alpha III, aged six, had been cautioned by his mamma, after an appalling break of his inquiring the age of a lady with whom it was an uncertain and delicate matter, never to allude to anybody's age, or if the age of a person was mentioned casually, to let the person be known that the person looked younger.

Occasion came within a few days for Alpha to put these Chesterfieldian instructions into use. An old gentleman visiting the family remarked, with the natural pride octogenarians sometimes show in their distance beyond the conventional three-score and ten, that he was eighty-seven. "I am sure, Mr. White," said the dutiful child, "that you don't look more than eighty-six."—Boston Transcript.

Infatigable People.

John Corbin, author and playwright, said recently that he had resigned the post of literary director of the New Theater because he disliked the superior air that such officers carry with them.

"You decline play after play," he said. "You make enemy after enemy. You pretend to be infatigable, and the pose of your infatigability is an ugly and unpopular one.

"Nobody you know, wants to be like Blynn," said a friend.

"That wife of yours, said a friend of Blynn's sympathetically, never admits having made a mistake, does she?"

"Oh," said Blynn, with a bitter smile, "she occasionally allows that she made one mistake when she married me, but she won't admit it even that outside of the family circle."—Boston Traveler.

What Depew Is Going to Do.

"Years ago I was told that I would never succeed in public life if I did not hit back; but hitting back never did seem to me worth all the rancor and bitterness that it entailed. The time that you spend in getting a man down, after all, is a waste of energy—and even health."

"And the future?"

"For myself? At seventy-seven I am blessed with health, energy, a capacity for work, and the ability to enjoy it. There was a Buffalo hotel keeper who some years ago came to the state convention as a fighting candidate for state treasurer. When, after a hard battle, he was defeated for the nomination, someone asked him what he was going to do.

"I'm going back to Buffalo," he said, "and keep hotel like hell."

"What is the chairman of the board of directors of the New York Central system, and like my Buffalo friend, I'm going to be chairman like hell."

And the senator put on his coat, walked out, and climbed into his automobile and went downtown to work.—New York Evening Post.

Imposing on a Passenger.

J. Adam Bede, of Minnesota, the humorist of the hour while he was in it, and whose humor still bubbles, despite the fact that he was elected to stay at home, tells the following on a friend of his who travels for a carpet firm:

"My friend," said Bede, "is of a saving disposition, and he recently had to make a longish jaunt with two trunks. Arriving at the station he approached a stranger standing on the platform and said: 'Are you going to Chicago on this train?'

"I am."

"Have you any baggage?"

"No."

"Well, friend, you can do me a favor and it won't cost you a cent. I've got two goodsized trunks here and they always make me pay excess for one. You can get one checked on your ticket and save me some money."

"Yes, but I haven't any ticket!"

"But you said just now that you were going on this train."

"So I am. I'm the conductor."—San Francisco Examiner.

 Head.

Dennis Hogan returned yesterday from a hunting trip to Skanee with two small does to his credit. Officer Hogan has hunted annually for many years and has never failed to fill his license.

The students of the Marquette Business college gave a dancing party at the college room last evening. About twenty-five couples attended. Music was furnished by Trombly's orchestra.

Dr. A. W. Deadman was called to Star Siding yesterday to attend a horse owned by the Worcester Lumber company and that had been caught beneath a falling tree. The animal, a valuable one will recover, although seriously injured.

F. H. Carlson, L. B. Nelson, Lawrence
 Olson and Alex. Hevener arrived home yesterday from Conaway lake, in the Huron Mountain district, where they enjoyed a several days' deer hunt. Each was successful in killing two deer.

Matt Robare, of North Marquette, appeared before Justice Byrne yesterday desertion and non-support. Robare has been ordered to give bonds for his good behavior in the future, on penalty of being bound over to circuit court.

The fifth of the series of Saturday night dances under the management of the Superior orchestra will be given tonight in Fraternity Hall. These dances are increasing rapidly in popularity, as was manifested last Saturday night, when over 100 persons were in attendance.

A very enjoyable social affair last evening was a surprise party at the home of Mrs. J. J. Crescent street.
 The event was planned by Misses Leona Siegel and Mildred Kellan and was given in honor of Miss Margaret Quarters. A large number of young people were present and the merriment continued until a late hour.

K. T. Picture at Grand—The management of the Grand theatre has been successful in securing a picture of the thirty-first Triennial Knights Templar conclave held in Chicago, last summer.
 There are 1,000 feet of pictures of parades, drills, etc., that are sure to interest everybody, and especially the Masons.

Married in New Jersey—Announcements have been received of the marriage of Mrs. Jeannette Gillette Hodson to Sydney Waring Lockhart, which took place at Upper Montclair, N. J., Nov. 15. Mrs. Lockhart is a sister of Jay Gillette, of this city, and until a few years ago resided in Marquette.
 Her parents being among the oldest residents of this city. Mr. Lockhart's home is in New York city.

Will Give Entertainment—At a meeting of the Royal Arcanum held last evening, it was decided to give a special entertainment at the meeting two weeks hence, Dec. 2, at which time the annual election of officers will take place. The affair will be limited strictly to members of the order and a professional vaudeville performance will be the feature of the program. There will also be plenty of good music, and refreshments will be served.

Snow Went Last Year—Relevant to the much discussed subject of whether or not the snow and winter have come to stay, a business man who keeps a sort of weather record of his own staffs, that last fall sleighs were put into service in this city Nov. 16 and most of the teaming was done on sleds until Nov.
 23, when the snow melted and wheels were used until Dec. 13, there being continuous sleighing from that date until March 12. He argues from this that although it now looks very much like real winter, that it is by no means certain that there will not be a breakup.

A Dangerous Pastime—A boy was run over and killed by a train in Duluth this week, while coasting on a hill at the foot of which was a railroad track.
 This accident suggests that a similar casualty might occur in Marquette any day. Notwithstanding the threats and warnings of the police, many boys and girls coast down the Third and Fourth street hills when the officers are not looking and frequently their sleds do not stop until the South Shore tracks have been crossed. This is a most dangerous practice, and as it is not possible to keep a policeman watching these hills at all times, the parents should take a hand and put a stop to it.

Horn Hearing Postponed—Thomas
 Horn who is charged with having sold liquor at the Baraga cafe without a license appeared before Justice Byrne yesterday, but his preliminary examination was adjourned for a week, owing to several of the material witnesses being out deer hunting. Horn has stated that his defense will be that he is not the proprietor, but only an employee at the restaurant. Mrs. Hibbing, who was arrested early in the week on the charge of keeping a disorderly house
 and has been bound over to circuit court, has also been served with a warrant charging her with illegally selling liquor.
 Mrs. Hibbing claims to be the proprietress of the Baraga cafe.

Exit 13-Cent Stamps—The day of "13"
 as a postage stamp denomination is fast waning and soon will be known only to philatelists. Every postmaster in the United States is being notified that the supply of 13-cent stamps at the postoffice department has been exhausted.
 Those that were issued to postmasters will continue to be valid for postage and those on hand at postoffices will be sold until exhausted, which will make the passage of the stamp complete. The 13-cent stamp was first authorized as a convenience to the public, being a combination of the registry fee of 8 cents and the for ign postage of 5 cents. With the raising of the registry fee to 10 cents

 the combination figure was disturbed
 and no occasion remaining for its use, the postmaster general order'd its discontinuance a year ago.

Basketball at Normal—Basketball practice is in full swing at the Normal.
 The Juniors and Seniors have responded in large numbers to the practice calls and, as a result, some fifty girls have reported for work. The girls are learning how to pass the ball, throw baskets, and will soon be taught the importance of team work. It is expected that after Thanksgiving at least 100 girls will be actively engaged in basketball practice, as a number of the students expect to obtain their basketball suits during the winter. Intense rivalry prevails between the Juniors and Seniors and it is a "toss up" as to which team will win the series between the two classes. Later on in the season a series of games will be played between Yedrasil and Osiris, the two literary societies.

CONTEST DANCE.

Marquette City Band to Give Unique
 Affair Evening of Nov. 29.

The Contest dance to be given by the Marquette City band on Tuesday evening, Nov. 29, promises to be a decided dance novelty, and it is expected that all persons in Marquette who appreciate the art of dancing will be present. The Contest dance, while something new in this part of the country, is not of recent origin, having been featured in public and private dances in the Pacific Coast states for several years with great success.

The music for the Contest dance is a kind of medley, having been arranged by C. A. Wood, the director of the Marquette City band, and consists of various different movements of time, such as two-steps, three-steps, waltzes, barn dances, etc., each movement following the preceding one without a break or stop. The participants in the dance will be expected to change from one movement to another without hesitation, and it is upon this readiness of the dancers to change the step, as well as other qualities of the dancing that the judges will make their awards. Awards will be made strictly on merit. Prizes to be awarded in this contest dance are now on exhibition in the window of the People's Drug Store, there being two first prizes for the first couple, and two second prizes for the second couple.
 Tickets also may be secured at the People's Drug store.

In case there is a tie for first prize,
 the music will be played a second time.
 An intermission will be called immediately after the contest dance to allow the judges to make their decisions, and the names of the winners of first and second prizes will be announced at the beginning of the second half of the program, or immediately after the intermission.

The music for the evening will be furnished by the Superior orchestra.

WARNING ABOUT XMAS STAMPS

Postoffice Officials Give Pointers
 on Use of Tubercusis Emblem.

Following the announcement of the National Red Cross society of their plans to sell one million dollars' worth of red cross "Christmas" stamps before and during the holiday season, the postoffice department issues a warning to the public concerning the use of these stamps. Each year, postoffice officials say, many letters and packages are left at the postoffice without postage. The senders mistake the Christmas stamps for the real postage stamps. Such mail is returned to the sender whenever possible, or is sent to the dead letter office.

Although there is no rule against using the red cross stamps in addition to the regular postage in the United States mails, the postoffice officials call the attention of the public to the fact that there are countries in the postal union which refuse to admit to their mails any letters or packages bearing non-postage
 "Christmas" stamps or other adhesive
 charity stamps or labels.

Guatemala, Uruguay and Portugal will not admit to their mails letters or packages which have any such stamps. The following countries will not admit mail which bears the non-postage stamps on the address side, but will accept mail if the stamps are on the reverse side:
 British East Africa, Uganda, Antigua,
 Barbados, Bermuda, British North
 Borneo, Cayman Islands, Cyprus, Gold Coast, Dominica, Falkland Islands, Gan-
 bia, Gibraltar, British Honduras, Jama-ca, Mauritius and dependencies, Montserrat, Nevis, St. Helena, St. Vincent, Christopher, Saint Lucia, Saint Vincent, Seychelles, Sierra Leone, British Somaliland, Trinidad, Turks and Caicos Islands, Virgin Islands, Germany, Austria (provided they do not resemble postage stamps), Great Britain, Southern Rhodesia, Transvaal.

The postoffice officials say that articles which are likely to be refused admittance to any of the foreign countries on account of the fact that they bear charity stamps will not be dispatched from this country, but will be returned to the sender where known. If the sender is not known, such articles will be sent to the dead letter office.

As the season for sending foreign Christmas mail is now just beginning the officials are particularly anxious to direct the attention of the people of the city to the proper use of these stamps in the foreign mails. They say that last year the clerks spent a great deal of time in removing "Christmas" stamps from packages addressed to countries where they are prohibited. This action was taken as an accommodation to the public.

RISE OF THE REBEL IN THE U. S. SENATE

He Will Hold the Balance of Power in the Sixty-Second Congress.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Senate reorganization—who shall lead and who shall follow—is the question exciting all the members of the upper branch of the national legislature and interesting the whole country. While senate leadership is chiefly a matter of the personal equation, nevertheless there is a good deal of machinery about it, drawing its motive power from seniority. As the senate is a continuing body, changing only one-third of its membership every two years, it is not subject to violent reorganization and for the past fourteen years the control of the more important committees has been in almost the same hands. Where an important change has been made, as in the succession of Hale of Maine to the place of the late Allison of Iowa at the head of appropriations, the substitution has been needless and the policy of the committee the same as before.

Radical Changes in the Senate With the incoming of the Sixty-Second congress the most radical changes since the presidency of Grover Cleveland will be made. Death or retirement will have removed many of the most powerful or picturesque figures of the modern senate. Allison of Iowa, Daniel of Virginia, Dooliver of Iowa, McLaurin of Mississippi and Whyte of Maryland are dead. All were men of commanding ability. Aldrich of Rhode Island, the leader of the senate for a generation, and Hale of Maine, a close second, will retire voluntarily the fourth of next March. Beveridge of Indiana, Burkett of Nebraska, Depew of New York, Dick of Ohio, Keam of New Jersey, Scott of West Virginia and Warner of Missouri will be succeeded by Democrats. The fate of Carter of Montana is in the balance and returns from five missing congresses may send him again to the senate. William A. Clark, whose purchase of his seat once before was a national scandal. Senator Cullom of Illinois is a very old man, who totters about the corridors with only a little more vigor than did the late Thomas C. Platt. Blkins of West Virginia, is seriously ill at his home in Washington. Tilman of South Carolina, once a national joke and frebrand, and today one of the most beloved and respected of United States senators, must not over-exert himself for fear of serious results. Clay of Georgia, one of the cleanest and most level-headed of legislators, has passed away. Senator Frye of Maine is no longer active in the management of Senate affairs, but his brain is as clear as ever and he could exert much of his old-time force should he choose to do so.

Many of these men will rank with any of their predecessors in point of thorough-going usefulness as legislators. All were honest and many of them poor. Dooliver and Depew were of national repute as orators. Aldrich, Allison, Whyte, Hale and Frye will be remembered as among the wisest and most efficient of modern legislators when the wrath of party criticism has softened and their broader achievements are called to mind. Aldrich of Rhode Island has been unequalled in his time and place and perhaps in the halls of congress as a manager of men. No doubt the future can promise as much of senatorial ability, but many of the men who have retired in the course of the Sixtieth and Sixty-first congresses have done great things.

Division of the New Senate At this writing the next senate apparently will consist of forty Democrats, forty-one "regular Republicans," not including Carter of Montana, whose seat is in doubt, and eleven insurgent Republicans, allowing a standpat successor to the late Senator Dooliver of Iowa, whose loss is among the greatest the senate ever has suffered. The Democrats have gained through the recent election eight seats. The out-and-out Republican insurgent senators in the Sixty-second congress will be Bristow of Kansas, Clapp of Minnesota, Cummins of Iowa, La Follette of Wisconsin and perhaps Crawford of South Dakota, if measured by his vote on the tariff bill. Now that insurgency has become fashionable to the list may be added Borah of Idaho, one of the most intellectual and progressive of young statesmen; Bourne of Oregon, Brown of Nebraska and Dixon of Montana. Knute Nelson of Minnesota may measure it he feels like it, but in the past he has been a regular except upon the tariff. Poindexter of Washington was one of the most rabid of rebels in the house, and as the atmosphere of the new senate will be more congenial than that of the old no doubt he can be depended upon to stand with the progressives.

Insurgents Hold Balance It is evident at a glance that with eleven Republican insurgents in the senate and the remainder of that body practically equally divided between Democrats and Republican regulars, the progressives will hold the balance of power. They can control every measure that comes along merely by flopping from one side to the other at will; and as this is the era of non-partisanship, of good government rather than of fealty to party tradition, they will make the most of their opportunities. The leader of the insurgents will be, for all practical purposes, the leader of the senate. In the tariff session Aldrich of Rhode Island controlled the senate by means of a coalition between regular Republicans and insurgent Democrats. In the senate of the Sixty-second congress Albert B. Cummins of Iowa will share with La Follette of Wisconsin the responsibility of directing the insurgent vote. True, it may be said that the Democratic leader, Culberson or Bailey of Texas, or the leader of the regular Republicans, whoever he may be, may dispute his title with the insurgent chief, but however he may stand nominally, the leader of the dozen independents will be a man of very great power.

How "Leaders" Are Selected The nominal leadership of the senate—which has been actual under the regime of Aldrich—is determined by the chairman of the Republican caucus. For the past six years Hale of Maine has been chairman and has designated Aldrich as chairman of the "steering committee" (its formal title is "committee to select committees"), as did his predecessor, William B. Allison of Iowa. The other members of the steering committee are Keam of New Jersey, McCumber of North Dakota, Crane of Massachusetts, Sutherland of Utah, Curtis of Kansas, Borah of Idaho and Dixon of Montana. Of these, Keam and Blinn retire, the latter voluntarily, Crane, Sutherland and Curtis are regulars, although Senator Crane seems to be equally at home in all camps; and Borah and Dixon are insurgents. They represent the concession made to the progressive element when the last appointments were made to the committee. Senator Frye of Maine succeeds Hale as dean of the senate and chairman of the caucus, and should precedent be followed, he would appoint the Republican floor leader.

They Will Not Follow Warren Francis E. Warren of Wyoming is expected to succeed to the chairmanship of appropriations, which is usually supposed to carry with it also the floor leadership. Perkins of California, who ranks Warren on the committee, does not care for further responsibilities, as he already is chairman of naval affairs. Warren is the arch defender of the wool duties—the greatest shepherd since Abraham. Dooliver once called him—and the Cummins group, whose whole aim in life is to reduce the customs duties, particularly on wools, would follow Aldrich quicker than they would Warren. Aldrich is essentially lickable, which Warren is not, particularly so if it might be injected right here, by the way, that away down deep in their hearts the Democratic senators regret the retirement of Aldrich more than any other incident of the day.

One theory is that the management of the general affairs of the senate will fall to a Republican trinity, Lodge, Crane and Root. How this triumvirate could stand up against the attacks of Cummins and La Follette, backed perhaps by the solid Democratic and insurgent vote, is a question. It is obvious that the senators will not be united in any direction and perhaps the idea of triple leadership is not such a bad one after all.

Control of Steering Committee. The real problem is how to get control of the steering committee. As this is wholly the outcome of a Republican caucus, in which Democrats cannot participate, and as in such a caucus the regulars would outnumber the progressives almost four to one, it is difficult to see how a revolution can be brought about. The only possibility is a coalition with the Democrats, whereby the whole senate should order the appointment or election of a brand-new committee. This plan has been broached privately by at least one influential Democratic senator, who has suggested that if La Follette or Cummins, for example, should be offered the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee and the other insurgent Republicans be promised equally big things, a fusion might be accomplished. This programme is wholly revolutionary, but ambitious men like Cummins and La Follette care little for precedent if they can gain the power to shape legislation.

The situation is one of unexampled interest. It may be studied from many angles and will be made the subject of innumerable theories. Say, the only thing certain is that the play of personal ambition, of individual passion for place and power will be more fierce, more open and more determined in the next senate than for many years.

Dr. Downing conducted the Law County Teachers' institute held at Newberry Thursday and Friday of this week. A large crowd of the Ostris people serenaded members of the faculty last evening. Instead of the regular assembly exercises Tuesday morning, faculty and students all joined in a school song practice.

President Kaye visited the schools of Houghton, Calumet and Hancock on Thursday and Friday of this week. Today he will attend the superintendents' meeting held at Houghton. Deputy State Game Warden John Gipp, operating in the copper country, took Joseph Seaman before Justice Nicholas Weycker this week, charging him with killing deer without a license. Seaman entered a plea of guilty and was assessed $15 and costs, amounting to $22. The defendant is an employee of the Morrison logging camps in Keweenaw county. Deputy Game Warden Andrews of Iron Mountain, while in the vicinity of Bad Water during the week, came into contact with Louis Richtig, a young foreigner, who was hunting deer with a dog. As hunting deer with canines is strictly in violation of the statute which provides for the protection of the animals, it devolved upon the warden to cause the arrest of the hunter. Richtig appeared in justice court at Iron Mountain, where a fine of $5 and $5 costs were imposed.

Aged Woodsman Ends Life—A man aged eighty-seven, known as William Morgan, was found dead in bed at the Sherman House at the Soo Wednesday morning. A strychnine powder paper was on the dresser beside him. It was plainly a case of suicide. Morgan was a woodsman apparently fairly well educated. He had been coming to the Soo for the past twelve or fifteen years in both the spring and fall for a month or so. He never informed anyone as to his relatives, place of residence or in fact anything of importance regarding himself. However, it is generally understood that he was somewhat anxious that two sisters and two brothers, living somewhere in Canada, should not know of his whereabouts. Morgan got the strychnine by telling the druggist that a friend of his at one of the camps where he had been working wanted the poison to kill wolves.

A rare musical treat was given students and faculty Thursday morning, when Miss Oltman had charge of assembly. She told the story of Faust, and sang in her usual pleasing manner several numbers from each of the first three acts of Gnod's "Faust." Mrs. R. W. Boyer was an able accompanist. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the program given by the two ladies. Following are the selections:

TRUST ATTRACTIONS NOW BEING BOOKED

Klaw & Erlanger Contract Has Been Received By Iron and Copper Theatre Managers.

That the new booking agreement recently entered into between Klaw & Erlanger, formerly at the head of the theatrical trust, and the Shuberts, Cort, Brady and others will result in additional attractions being sent to the iron and copper districts, as well as to other "open door" in circuits, is evident from the fact that several important contracts have been received during the past few days. Among them is a contract for "The Spendthrift," which will be seen in Ishpeming Thursday evening, April 6, issued from Klaw & Erlanger's office. This is the first contract that the managers of the iron and copper districts have received from Klaw & Erlanger since they joined the "open door" movement.

Another important attraction booked is William A. Brady's "Baby Mine," which will be at the Ishpeming theatre Monday evening, Dec. 19. "Baby Mine" was written by Margaret Mayo, and it is conceded to be one of the best comedies that has ever staged in recent years. Mr. Brady only recently began booking this attraction in one-night stands.

Another important attraction just booked for Jan. 9 is Henry Woodcraft and his company, who are producing "The Genius," under the management of the Princess Amusement company of Chicago. This organization is under control of Mort H. Singer and Sam Thall, well known producers of musical comedy attractions. Mr. Thall some years ago sent "The Chaparral" to this region, and a number of Mr. Singer's attractions have appeared here in recent years.

Other attractions given time after the holidays are "Miss Nobody" from "Lansdowne," "Sergeant Billy," Al H. Wilson, "The Candy Kid," "Polly of the Circus," "The Third Degree," "Flirting Princess," "John Vogel's Minstrels," "The Port of Missing Men," and "The Isle of Spice."

Do not miss this opportunity to supply your wants from our stock during this great sacrifice sale. The Fashion Suit company, Ishpeming.

SWEDISH NATIONAL TROUPE

Noted Organization From Sweden Will Be Seen in Ishpeming.

"The Svenska National Truppen" known in English as "The Five and We" company, which is now making a tour of this country, has been secured for a date at Ishpeming theatre a week from Monday, the 28th. It is said to be the most unique attraction that has ever come over from Sweden.

The Svenska National Truppen is made up of a ladies vocal trio, two of them soloists. They are Miss Blanche Holmgren, soprano; Miss Signe Sundberg, alto, and Mrs. Pannie Soderholtz. The latter is one of the Swedish capital's most noted pianists and accompanists. Other members of the troupe are Per Schenell and Tor Hardelin, violinists. Both of these gentlemen have been first prize winners in the players' contests, now so popular in Sweden, which were originated by the famous pianist, Anders Zorn. Another member of the company is the noted Swedish reader, Anna Greta Adamson, from the Royal theatre of Stockholm.

The company began its tour in New York on Oct. 27 and it has since appeared in the east with much success. A few days before coming to Ishpeming the company will fill an engagement in Orchestra hall, Chicago.

Never before have you had such an opportunity to buy at such low prices. The sale at The Fashion Suit company lasts but two days more. Main street, Ishpeming.

CALLING IN THE COUNTRY.

Although we are without formality, certain conventions always belong to a call. The popular hours are 2 to 6, with the tacit exemption of Saturday evening; for then we might inconsiderately intercept the man of the house en route from his steaming bathtub in the kitchen to his ice bound bedroom. We have our set forms of greeting and departure. A hostess must always meet a caller with a hearty "Well, you're quite a stranger." A caller must always remain a cordial two hours, and, rising to leave, must invariably say: "Well I'm making a visit, not a call," to which the hostess responds: "Why, what's your hurry?" Conversation must hold itself subject to interruption, must be prepared to arrest itself in the midst of the most lurid recital, in order that all may fly to the window if man or beast, or both, pass by.—The Atlantic.

PATRICK WHALEN CRITICALLY ILL.

Republic Man Stricken With Paralysis While at Work Thursday Evening.

Patrick Whalen, one of Republic's oldest residents, and one of the best known fishermen in Marquette county, was stricken with paralysis Monday evening while at work in the Republic mine. For a short time after being stricken he was able to speak, but yesterday he was unconscious and fear was expressed that on account of his advanced age the stroke would prove fatal. Mr. Whalen is considerably over seventy years of age, but in spite of his advanced years he has enjoyed unusually good health and was exceptionally strong and active for a man of his years. His two sons, Patrick and Michael, who have not lived in Republic for some years, have been advised of their father's condition. His only other daughter, Miss Mary Whalen, lives in Republic. Mr. Whalen has a number of relatives as well as many staunch friends in Ishpeming.

MEN AND WOMEN AS LODGERS.

"Men," said the pretty Second street widow who owns a big rooming house, "are pretty much on the square as far as I find them, and I don't mean to say by that that women are not. Tell the truth, though I would rather have five men in my house than one woman. Here is the reason: The other day I rented an apartment to a girl. She was a pretty, dainty creature who told me that she had a place at a glove counter in a big store downtown. I have no reason to think that she has not.

"The first night that she came home she had about three handkerchiefs that she wanted to wash out. I got the hot water for her. Next evening she came in with a request she she be allowed the use of my range and kitchen to heat some irons and smooth out a dress skirt that had been damaged by rain. Next evening she wanted to borrow my can of gasoline to clean a pair of shoes. Last night it was necessary to mend a pair of hose. I'm wondering what is going to happen to that girl next.

"Just to show you the difference," continued the little widow, "a man came here a week ago and applied for a room. I hadn't anything attractive, but showed him the best in the house.

"It's good enough for me," he declared. "All I want is a bed to sleep in and some water and towel in the morning to wash my face." He has been in the house for a week, and I have never seen him since, except when he came to pay the week's rent. Of course, this is all pretty hard to say against women, but it's a fact, and every rooming house owner in Louisville knows it: that women are hard to take care of."—Louisville Times.

SAYS TRADE UNIONS HURT THE MILITIA

National Guard Development Hindered by Hostile Agitation, Asserts Col. Weaver.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The hostile attitude of the labor unions towards the organized militia has created a very pessimistic feeling among officers of the army and the National Guard which is reflected strongly in the annual report of Colonel E. M. Weaver, chief of the division of militia, to the chief of staff. The officers say that it is almost hopeless to expect any relief from the present conditions by the enactment of State laws or through any national law that would restrain the unions from their unfriendly attitude. The preachings of patriotism are of no effect, even where it is shown that the sole purpose of the militia is the maintenance of law and order, and in Colonel Weaver's opinion the only real practical solution of the problem lies in the creation by the other states of a state constabulary on the lines of the highly trained and disciplined constabulary of Pennsylvania to supplement the effort of the local police or constabulary in the repression of disorder. It is believed that the labor unions would then come to look upon the militia as a force for national defence rather than as a state police, and in course of time, their opposition would disappear.

Perhaps for the reason indicated, Colonel Weaver suggests, the increase in the strength of the National Guard was only trifling during the past year. According to the latest returns this strength was 9,155 officers and 110,505 men, which was a net increase of only 734 over the preceding year. It is a curious fact that the little territory of Hawaii shows the greatest percentage of militiamen to population, the number being 71.8 per thousand, while Nevada had not a single militiaman in the organized ranks. And the average of the whole country was very low, being only 7.7 militiamen to every thousand of population. It appears to be a hopeless task to endeavor to secure uniform excellence of training of the guardsmen, a fact which is attributed to the difference in the militia laws of the states and the introduction of political influence in the appointment of militia officers where they should be selected wholly upon the basis of efficiency and devotion to the service.

Forecasting a diminution in the functions of the present militia, the report makes a strong plea for the creation of an efficient national reserve of about 1,000,000 men, practically on the lines of the army of Switzerland, which would permit of the retention of the services of the best of the citizen soldiery under Federal control without demanding of the officers, and men more time from their civilian employments than is now required for instruction in the best state militia organizations. This would be a part of the regular army, constituting with the regular army and militia the first line of defence in case of war. It is asserted that under the law and the Constitution a citizen soldiery can only be provided along these lines. Colonel Weaver answers rather sharply the newspaper critics who complain that the new militia law works too hard upon the men, by asserting that if the recruitment of the militia must rest upon exactions and attractions of various sorts, there is such inherent weakness in the system as to make it doubtful whether it would be safe to entrust the safety of the country to it.

IDEALS AT FAULT.

"We are ceasing to be a nation of straight-backed and square-shouldered men," observed a retired army officer a few days ago. He had served his country with distinction in the Civil war and through many Indian uprisings, and since his retirement from active service he has given over his thoughts to the future of his country and what would happen were we drawn into a big conflict.

"War always made a nation of soldiers," he continued. "After the Civil war almost every man in the country walked erect. He felt a pride in his military bearing, and the sons of these men imitated their fathers. Of late years I have been noting the disappearance of the military stride and carriage. It would seem that the young men of today are not so interested in the military as the boys of the past. Take a walk along any downtown street of any city these days and observe the carriage of the young scions of the best families. Why, it strikes me that the majority of them are positively round-shouldered.

"They have no inclination to walk upright, but walk along with shoulders hunched in anything but a soldierly manner. When I look at those boys, I think that compulsory military service for a few years would be a mighty good thing for the rising generation. If something is not done, the first thing we

M. E. CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS.

The improvement work has progressed far enough in the auditorium of the First Methodist Episcopal church to permit the services being held there tomorrow morning and evening. Rev. S. C. Robinson, the pastor, will preach in the morning on "A Thankful Life." His subject in the evening will be "Going Away With Christ and What Came of It." The Sunday school orchestra has prepared an excellent program for the concert to be given the night of Thanksgiving Day.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Miss Leona Nesbitt is visiting relatives in the copper country.

Rev. M. M. Allen returned last evening from the woods, bringing in a nice deer.

J. F. Winkler of the Winthrop brought home a 150-pound deer from Matchwood yesterday.

Mrs. Thomas Nesbitt will leave Monday for Chicago, where she will spend several days visiting friends.

Dennis Maloney, who spent a few days hunting in the vicinity of Clarksburg, yesterday returned home with a deer.

Guy Robear and Miss Lillie Stephens, daughter of Mrs. Harry Jones of South Angeline street, were married Thursday afternoon in Negamue.

F. Braastad & Co. are installing the latest improved clothing cases in their men's department on the first floor. Each case will hold more than 150 suits and is dustproof.

Richard Haylock, wife and son, Treford, who came to the city more than a week ago, prior to the death of the late Thomas Haylock, returned to their home in Mohawk yesterday.

Harry T. Mills, an expert tuner and repairer from Grinnell Bros. factory in Detroit, arrived in the city yesterday and will be permanently connected with the concern's Ishpeming branch.

The meeting of Trelawney Lodge, Sons of St. George, will be held next Wednesday evening, instead of Thursday evening, on account of the latter being Thanksgiving. Officers will be elected for the ensuing term.

Births recorded in the city yesterday were a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hocking, 813 North Third street; a daughter to James Kijala, 201 Stone street, and a son to Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kalkela, 448 Jasper street.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Code, whose remains were received here yesterday from Marquette, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home of Jabez Stephens, 210 East Pearl street. Services will be conducted at the Salvation Army barracks.

Gerhard Alexis, organist at the Swedish Lutheran church, gave an organ recital in the Swedish church at Des Moines, Ia., Wednesday evening. He went from there to Lincoln, Neb., where he gave a recital at a state teachers' institute. A brother of Mr. Alexis is a professor of German and Scandinavian languages in the university at Lincoln.

Mrs. L. Pearson, who came here ten days ago from Williamstown, Pa., to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. James Miners, of South Main street, fell recently on a slippery walk on Cleveland avenue and fractured her right forearm. Mrs. Pearson is sixty-nine years of age.

The members of the Young Men's Christian association who are interested in the organization of basketball teams are requested to meet Monday evening at 7:15 o'clock in the physical director's office. Those who are especially urged to attend are Webber, Nichols, Girzi, Ed Johnston, Phil Haglund, P. Hanst, Hub Johnston, Sullivan, Charles Johnston and Arthur Erickson.

Frank Vivian had a narrow escape from serious injury Thursday evening. He was driving along Cleveland avenue to his home on his way, when a dog ran into the street and began barking at the horse. Mr. Vivian attempted to reach the dog with the whip, and the horse started suddenly, throwing him to the street. He fell with considerable force and he has since suffered from the injuries sustained.

UNCLE SAM SAVING PENNIES.

What users pay for stamped envelopes, bought one at a time, above what they might get them for in packages of twenty-five amounts to between $300,000 and $400,000 a year.

The government sells a package of twenty-five two-cent stamped envelopes for fifty-four cents. If the postmaster sells one of these envelopes for three cents or two for five cents a few extra pennies are realized on each package. The excess used to be retained by the postmaster, but an order of Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock required that a record of the extra pennies be made and the money turned in to the government.

Some postmasters complained at the triviality of keeping a record of the few fractional parts of a cent a day, but it was pointed out at the convention here the 60,000 postoffices yielded enough of those small amounts to reduce the postal deficit several hundred thousand dollars a year.—Kansas City Star.

Michigamme

Postmaster G. J. Murry spent Thursday in Negamue on business.

Boss Ronan, of Ishpeming, looked after business in Michigamme Tuesday.

Ed. Brophy is delivering for Ed. Muck while Bobby Bruce is on his vacation, deer hunting.

Mrs. Linnemaki and Miss P. Anderson, of Ishpeming, called on Michigamme friends Tuesday.

Twenty-nine was the total number of license tags issued in Michigamme up to Thursday.

J. S. Wahlman and Will Newett, of Ishpeming, came in from Frank Goodrich's camp Tuesday with three deer.

W. P. Kinsman and G. P. Farney, of Ishpeming, were business visitors in Michigamme the forepart of the week.

Miss Ella T. Johnson, music and drawing instructor in the Michigamme schools, was unable to attend her classes this week, because of illness.

Posters are out announcing a grand ball to be given in the Champion town hall Monday, Nov. 28. Bellhumer's five piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Miss Tillie Brown, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis in a Calumet hospital, is getting along nicely and expects to be up and around in a few days.

An unsigned letter telling of the illegal hunting of deer in the country south of Michigamme was sent to one of the county game wardens one day this week. Parties sending such letters must give their name and address, which will be kept in the strictest secrecy.

A packed house witnessed the production of "A Daughter of the Desert," by the members of the senior class of the high school at the Old Fellows hall last evening. The cast was well chosen and the members took their parts well. Howard Marks, as the hero, was good, and Clarence Murry was a typical lead man in his part of the Arizona rancher. Joseph and Henning Strum were real western bad men. Lawrence Paquin and Howard Scanlan had the comedy roles and were well fitted for their parts. Adele Lunan, as the heroine, gave an excellent portrayal of a Western girl. Ethel Lunan was effective as a college girl. Grace Maker, as an Arizona widow, carried her role, which contained many comedy, as well as pathetic, lines in an admirable manner. Hazel Pote was the soubrette, and Frank and Leo Bruce were cowpunchers. The species were the best that have been seen in Michigamme of late. Miss Corabel K. Harwood recited "The Lost Wood." Miss Christy A. Dalrymple's dramatization of "My Brudra Sylvest" was one of the real features of the evening. Miss Ella T. Johnson rendered a vocal solo "Senora." Miss Rose Dover was the accompanist.

New Mill in Commission—

The Escanaba Lumber company's new flooring mill at Masonville is now in full commission. The plant was first placed in operation three weeks ago and the capacity has been gradually increased until at the present time the mill is running nearly up to the limit. The company has a great quantity of hardwood timber that will be taken to Masonville and sawed into flooring. It is asserted, in fact, that the average now owned is sufficient to assure the operation of the plant for at least half a century.

Killed All the Law Allows—

One of the most successful hunting parties yet to return to Escanaba was that of eight men, headed by P. F. Cannon, who brought in sixteen deer and two wolves as their big. The party was encamped at Bridge One on the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad, and each hunter brought in the full quota of deer allowed under the state laws. In addition, James Pryall shot two wolves. Those in the party were: P. F. Cannon, James Joseph and Robert Pryall, Walter Cooney, Gust Larson, Art Powers and James Gallagher.

Not Halley's Comet—

The other night while the moon was hiding behind a black cloud a visitor from one of the lower peninsula towns caused a commotion on West Portage avenue at the Soo. He left his joys of nature for the sake of his friends' education and hurriedly called several of them to the street to see the comet. For some time the excitement spread, but it was finally dismissed by a marine man who happened along and informed the astronomers that it was not in any way dangerous, simply being a mast light on one of the boats on the river.

Has Much Timber Left—

Although the deal has been practically closed for the sale of a large acreage by the Jerry Madden Shingle company to the Escanaba Lumber company, the former concern still has sufficient timber to keep its mill at Rapid River in operation the next six or eight years. The deal for the sale to the Escanaba Lumber company will be formally closed when title to the property has been finally perfected and at which work J. P. McColl is now engaged. The Jerry Madden company retains considerable timber within easy reach of its Rapid River plant and all of it will be taken care of.

Farmers on Easy Street—

South Side, Marie bankers report that the farmers of Chippewa county are in a more prosperous financial condition than ever before, and these statements are borne out by dealers in farm implements and machinery, who say that the agriculturists are taking up their paper in a manner that is surprising as well as satisfactory. As a general rule the farmers of Chippewa county went in debt for the purchase of their land, for stock and for their buildings. Notwithstanding this handicap there has been but very few failures recorded, in fact more than 99 per cent of them have prospered. The greater majority have their places paid for and equipped with up-to-date machinery and thoroughbred stock and many of them have fat bank accounts. The past summer has been one of the best Chippewa county farmers have ever enjoyed. The hay, pea and all other crops have been above the average and the high prevailing prices have put the agriculturists on easy street.

Civil Service Employs Organize—

More than one hundred government employees, representing the canal, immigration, customs, weather bureau, post-office and hydrographic branches of service, met in the court room of the federal building at the Soo this week to perfect an organization, as has been done in other parts of the United States, preliminary to affiliating with the National Association of Civil Service Employees. After it was moved and placed before the honor of temporary Chairman McCallum, it was carried that such an organization be effected. Officers were elected as follows: George P. McCallum, president; Frank T. McArthur, vice president; Miss Marion Bishop, secretary; Angus McDougal, treasurer and an executive committee, representing the various forces, composed of A. G. Burns, E. F. Coe, R. H. Taylor, C. W. Ripley, W. J. Graves, D. J. Povey and L. DeYoung. One of the chief purposes of forming a local organization was to affiliate with the national association and keep in touch with civil service affairs all over the United States and, if possible, to set before the congressman or other representative of the people the wishes of government employees.

Menominee's Term of Court—

The November term of the Menominee county circuit court will begin next Monday. There are nine criminal cases and twenty-six civil cases. The most important criminal action is that against Thomas Doherty, a young man, who is charged with forgery. Frank Gunderson is charged with perjury. Harvey Heck with larceny, James Connors, bastardy, Anton Schick, bastardy, Joseph J. Martin, false pretenses, Arthur Olson, desertion, Otto Dill, larceny, and Fred Dunham, bastardy. The action of Mayne White against the Light & Traction company for $10,000 damages is on the calendar. It is believed that at the opening of court the case against Editor Baldwin of the Escanaba Journal will be disposed of. Mr. Baldwin was found guilty of criminal libel against Chase Osborn, governor-elect. He has appealed the case from the municipal court.

Not Wedded by a Clergyman—

This morning in Menominee a marriage license was issued to Miss Emma Wagner and Gustav Reuschel of Pittsfield, Brown county, Wis., and they were married shortly after but, it is claimed, they were wedded by a justice of the peace when they desired to be married by a Methodist parson, says the Marinette Eagle-Star. One of the Menominee county officials, who investigated the matter, reports a rather strange condition of affairs. He claims that the hack drivers are in collusion with a justice of the peace and receive a certain stipend when they bring bridal couples to him. Thus they usually disregard the wishes of the couple, if they believe they can do it without detection. For instance, the Menominee official saw the couple married right after the ceremony this morning and they were under the impression that they had been married by a Methodist minister. The Methodist pastor had been notified from the court house and he was in waiting for them, but they never came. The bride was much perturbed over the situation as she is a good church member and wanted to be married by a clergyman. The matter has caused much comment.

Want Train Schedule Changed—

A movement has been started by directors of the Escanaba Business Men's association to induce the officials of the Soo Line to change the schedule of two of its passenger trains. An effort will be made to show that it will be to the advantage of the road as well as to merchants of Escanaba, and other points if one of the trains should run to Escanaba from the east in the forenoon and return in the evening. According to the Soo Line's present schedule two passenger trains arrive in Escanaba each evening from the east one and a half hours apart. Going east two trains leave a little more than an hour apart. Thus, people living at outlying points are unable to go to either Escanaba or Gladstone to do shopping without remaining over two nights. Both trains from the east arrive in Escanaba and Gladstone after the stores are closed each evening, and both trains leave for the east the next morning before the stores are opened. The directors of the Business Men's association are opening a successful campaign in inducing the Northwestern officials to provide Escanaba with a more favorable train schedule and it is hoped that the same success will be met with in the negotiation with the Soo Line.

Mining Journal Wants Bring Results

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE THE ONE SAFE BLOOD REMEDY

It is a generally recognized fact that medicines taken from the botanical kingdom are better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way than those composed of strong mineral mixtures. Among the very best and safest of vegetable preparations is S. S. S., a blood medicine made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, in such combination as to make it the greatest of all blood purifiers and the finest of all tonics. S. S. S. does not contain the least particle of mineral in any form, and is an absolutely safe medicine for any one to use. While purifying the blood, this great vegetable remedy builds up every portion of the system. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Constitutional Blood Diseases, and all impurities and morbid conditions of the circulation. It is perfectly reliable and safe for children; and little ones who have been weakened with scrofulous affections or other inherited blood troubles, can take this mild vegetable remedy with good results and without the slightest danger. S. S. S. is unequalled as a tonic; it invigorates every portion of the system, and the healthy blood it creates largely assists in overcoming any derangement of the stomach and digestive system. If you need a blood medicine you could do no better than to take S. S. S. It has been in use for more than forty years and is still recognized as the best. Book on the blood free to all who write. THE ADVICE OF A FRIEND

Given to Those Who Need It.

San Francisco, Cal.—"To anyone who is run-down or who needs a good blood purifier, I want to recommend Vinol the great cod liver and iron tonic. I was run-down, feeling badly and only weighed about 140 pounds. I took a bottle of Vinol—it purified my blood, gave me a fine appetite, and built me right up. Now I am well and strong, weigh 175 pounds, and, in fact, never felt better in my life." John S. Charles, 264 17th St., San Francisco, Cal. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

Vinol is a delicious combination of the health-giving properties of the cod's liver, with the greatest stimulant, and tonic iron added, blended in a mild medicinal wine. If your blood is poor or sluggish, your appetite poor, your digestion weak or your vitality not up to the standard or if you are suffering from chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis troubles, try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. It could not do what all these people claim it did for them if it was not honest. The Stafford Drug Co., Marquette; also Fred P. Tillson, Ishpeming, and J. E. O'Donoghue, Negamue.

SHALL WOMEN VOTE?

If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, fagged feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling colds, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequalled. Easy, safe, sure. 25c at The Stafford Drug Co.

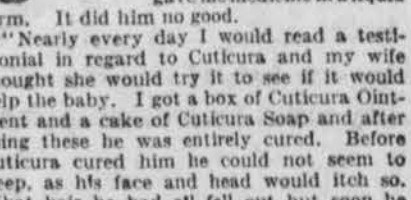

FACE AND HEAD AN AWFUL SIGHT

Eruption Broke Out when 2 Weeks Old—Itched So He Could Not Sleep—Hair All Fell Out—Cuticura Cured Him.

"I wish to have you accept this testimonial, as Cuticura did so much for my baby. At the age of two weeks his head broke out with great sores and by the time he was two months his face and head were an awful sight. I consulted a doctor, who said it was nothing but a light skin disease which the baby would soon get over. But he seemed to get worse so I called another doctor. His opinion seemed to be the same. They both prescribed medicine that did not do a bit of good. A friend advised me to take him to the hospital, which I did. Two doctors there gave me medicine in a liquid form. It did him no good.

"Nearly every day I would read a testimonial in regard to Cuticura and my wife thought she would try it to see if it would help the baby. I got a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap and after using these he was entirely cured. Before Cuticura cured him he could not seem to sleep, as his face and head would itch so. What hair he had all fell out but soon he had a nice head of hair and his face was perfectly clear. It is now nearly five years since he was cured and there has been no sign of the eruption returning." Chas. H. Evans, 41 Elm St., Somerville, Mass., April 19, 1910.

DRILL HOLE TESTING DEVICE A SUCCESS

Negaunee Man Will Give it Severe Try-Out on Deepest Hole in North America.

George J. Maas, who some time ago applied for a patent on his new diamond drill hole testing device, expects to secure the patent within a few days.

Mrs. Maas' device is simple, but it does the work more thoroughly and more satisfactorily than any other method ever employed in testing drill holes.

A few years ago a Belgian secured a patent on a device which is the same in principle, but it is a complicated affair and can be operated only by an expert.

Mr. Maas plans to use his device in testing the deep hole bored last year, north of Cole & McManis, in about 1,000 feet, and he expects that it will take from four to six hours to complete the task.

Mr. Maas is satisfied that the record made in this hole will probably not be duplicated anywhere in the country for a long time.

COFFEE PRICES HIGHER.

Indications Are That They Will Continue to Advance Until Spring.

While the wholesale and retail prices of many articles of food have been somewhat reduced the past week or two, coffee is on the upgrade.

A representative of one of the wholesale concerns, who was in Negaunee yesterday, said that he had just been advised that another increase had been made in the wholesale price of coffee.

The wholesale price of coffee of the cheap grades has been increased six cents per pound in the past two weeks.

Arbuckle's coffee, which fifteen years ago retailed at a shilling a pound, is now selling at twenty cents, and the retailers will soon have to increase their price from twenty-three to twenty-five cents on this particular brand of coffee.

During the last session of congress a fight was put up for a duty on coffee, but through the efforts of the wholesalers and retailers it was defeated.

All of the coffee received in this country comes in green and is roasted by the American dealers. The green coffee improves with age, but the roasted coffee deteriorates.

ORGANIZATION OF THE BOY SCOUTS

Movement Which Has Been Spreading Rapidly in This Country of Late Has Been Taken up by the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian Churches Here.

Three Troops Have Already Been Enlisted and Tenderfoot Badges Will be Conferred on One Class Dec. 5.—Principles and Laws Underlying the System.

The Boy Scout movement, which has been sweeping over the country at a rapid rate the past several months, and in which thousands of boys in nearly every state in the union have been enlisted, has been given an introduction in Marquette the past month, and already some seventy boys of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches have been enrolled. The organization of the troops and patrol has been effected and already the boys have been taken on several tramps in the country neighboring to the city.

There are three troops, one representing each of the three churches named. Each troop is divided into patrols of from five to eight boys each, with a regularly appointed patrol leader, who is responsible for the boys when they are out on their scouts or on tramping expeditions. Boys between the ages of twelve and eighteen years are eligible to membership in the troops, and there are three grades of scouts, namely, tenderfoot, second scouts and first scouts, through which the boys are advanced as they show proficiency in the exercises set for scouts.

A boy becomes a tenderfoot when he pledges himself to do his duty to his God and his country, to help other people at all times and to obey the scout laws. Promotion to the higher ranks must be earned. To rise to a second class scout, the boy must learn the elementary points of first aid to the injured and bandaging, must know the principles at least of some code of signaling, must be able to lay and light a campfire, must cook a quarter of a pound of meat and two potatoes in a camp kettle, must run or walk a mile in twelve minutes, and must have a dollar at least on deposit in a savings bank. Before he is made a full fledged scout he must have bettered this record considerable in all these points and besides must have done a fifty yard swimming stunt, walked fifteen miles alone and written a description of the trip, done some piece of skilled work with an edged tool and above all must have enlisted some other boy as a tenderfoot. After becoming a full fledged scout, the boy can aspire to the position of patrol leader and other distinctions in the organization.

Scout Laws.

The scout motto is "Be Prepared," and the scout laws are as follows:

1. How to become a tenderfoot—Know the scout law, the signs and salutes.
2. Know the history of the Stars and Stripes.
3. The four standard knots, slip, reef, bowline, fisherman's weaver's, binder, anchor bend, double half hitch.
4. Take the Scouts' oath.

The Scout Law:

1. A scout's honor is to be trusted.
2. A scout is loyal to his parents, to his officers, his country, and his employers. He must stick to them through thick and thin.
3. A scout's duty is to be useful and to help others. And he is to do his duty before anything else, even though he gives up his own pleasure, or comfort, or safety. He tries his best to do a good turn to somebody every day.
4. A scout is a friend to all and a brother to every other scout. A scout is never a snob. He never looks down on another because he is poor or resents another because he is rich.
5. A scout is courteous. That is he is polite to all, especially to women and children, old people, invalids, and cripples. He must not take any reward for being helpful and courteous.
6. A scout is a friend to animals. He avoids giving pain and killing. Killing for food is allowable.
7. A scout obeys orders of his parents, patrol leaders, or scoutmaster, without question. He carries out every order at once and states any reason against it afterward.
8. A scout smiles and looks pleasant under all circumstances. Scouts never grumble at hardships, nor whine at each other, nor swear when put out. A scout smiles in time of danger, in the face of pain and disappointment.
9. A scout is thrifty. He saves every penny he can, and puts it into the bank, so that he may keep himself when out of work, and thus not make himself a burden to others, and that he may have money to help others.

Arrangements have been made for the conferring of tenderfoot badges on the members of the troop representing the Presbyterian church on December 5, tomorrow morning at the Presbyterian church Rev. J. M. Rogers will give a talk on the movement.

WILL HAVE CLUB ROOMS.

Order of Owls Has Leased Armory Hall Which Will be Remodeled.

The recently organized Order of Owls, which is the newest of Marquette societies, yesterday executed a lease by which it will have possession of the second and third floors of the building known as Armory Hall for a period of years. The rooms will be used by the order as club rooms and lodge rooms.

Before the order goes into its new quarters, both floors will be entirely remodeled, and the plans indicate that when the work is completed, that the Order of Owls will have one of the most convenient homes of any organization in the city. The second floor of the building will be used as a club room, and will be open for use by the members at all times. The rooms will be used by the members much in the same way as the Elks use their club rooms in the opera house block. There will be a reading and lounging room, a room where cards and other games can be played and a buffet will be operated in connection.

The third floor, which is now a hall, will be fitted up into a first class lodge room where the meetings of the order will be held and other business transacted. This room will be for rent to other lodges on nights when not used by the Owls. The Owls now have a membership of about 125 in this city, and the order has started out under most favorable auspices. They expect to get into their new home by Jan. 1.

FRATERNAL INSURANCE LEGISLATION, MAYBE

Bill Providing for Re-Adjustment of Rates to be Introduced at Session in January.

Members of all fraternal insurance societies are much interested in a tentative bill adopted at a meeting attended by representatives of practically every fraternal insurance order in the United States, held at Mobile, Alabama, late in September. It is expected that the bill will be introduced in every state legislature in the country within the next twelve months, and in Michigan it will probably be brought up at the coming January session.

One of the delegates to this Mobile meeting was C. J. Byrns, collector of customs, who is a director of the Modern Woodmen of America, he being one of the three representatives of that order who participated in the proceedings. Though the proposed bill was sanctioned by nearly if not quite all the delegates at the Mobile meeting, this does not necessarily mean that the order is unanimously in favor of its passage. In fact, it would be strange if such is the case, when once the bill is before the law-makers of the several states. In the instance of the Modern Woodmen, and the same is probably true of other orders, the approval of the delegates to the general meeting does not necessarily mean that the order as a whole is pledged to the support of the proposed bill. Any such action would have to be taken through a vote of the members or at a general convention of the order.

"Practically all of the fraternal insurance societies in this country," said Mr. Byrns yesterday, "are now affiliated with either the National Fraternal congress or the Associated Fraternities, and it was these two organizations together with the insurance commissioners of the various states that met together in Mobile. For many years the insurance commissioners have been working to induce the fraternal societies to re-adjust the insurance rates on the basis of actual and mortality tables of recognized standing, and have maintained that only by so doing can the safety and perpetuity of the order be assured. Of late years most of the fraternal insurance men of the country have come to the same conclusion, and the question now is how such a re-adjustment can be accomplished without being unfair to any particular society."

Bill Killed Two Years Ago.

"About three years ago a bill approved by the National Fraternal congress but not approved by the Associated Fraternities was drafted, which bill was introduced at the last session of the Michigan legislature, two years ago. The bill was introduced by Senator Wetmore, who has just been appointed United States district attorney to succeed George Covell. Many of the features of this bill were considered unfair to the order that I represent, and I worked against its passage, the bill finally being eternally pigeon-holed in the committee room."

"In my opinion there is not one fraternal insurance order whose rates are adequate. All need re-adjustment in order to put fraternal insurance on a sound basis, but there naturally arises a wall of opposition from the rank and file of the membership as soon as any increase of the present insurance rates is suggested. It is very hard to draft a bill which will not work a hardship on some orders operating in a given state and to the unfair advantage of others. What places one order is likely not to please another at all. Legislators as a rule are not likely to take any action that will hurt their chances of reelection and further political preferment, and it is, therefore, much easier to defeat an insurance bill in any legislature than to pass one."

"A great many things enter into the problem. The average age of the members of the different orders may vary considerably, and also their average state of health. Some orders admit persons whose occupations are such that another order will not admit them at all. A wholly satisfactory bill fixing rates of insurance must be drafted so that orders whose membership is likely to have an average longer life than another could charge a lower rate for insurance. This is only one of any number of intricate problems that could be cited. This being the case, one can easily see that, although it is generally recognized that fraternal insurance rates need re-adjustment, whether the Michigan or any other legislature will take action on the proposed or any other insurance bill is speculative, to say the least."

ARDIS FURNACE HAS SUCCESSFUL TEST

Put Into Operation Wednesday and Low Grade Ore Was Metallized in a Few Hours.

Good news to the iron interests of the Lake Superior region has been received from Iron Mountain, the new process Ardis furnace there, operated by John T. Jones and Sons, having made a very successful test run this week. The Jones system of manufacturing iron contemplates utilizing low grade ores, which are now worthless as they cannot be used in other iron furnaces. Mr. Jones has been working on his invention for several years, but up to this time the difficulty has been to find any material for the furnace itself, which would stand up under the intense heat required to metallize the low grade ores.

The Ardis furnace went into service again Wednesday. The first charge of the continuous charges of ore went into the tube about 1 o'clock in the afternoon and was expected to work through the tube about 10 o'clock Thursday. Its metallization at the start was hardly expected, as there was every chance that proper heat and gases could not be produced at the start to bring the ore through metallized.

But instead of the metallized iron coming through the tube at 10 o'clock Thursday, as was expected, it made its appearance between 3 and 4 o'clock, or about six hours earlier than was anticipated, and to the surprise of all, the product was perfectly metallized. The reduction of time consumed in metallization is considered as meaning much toward the ultimate success of the industry, as it greatly increases the productive capacity and so reduces the fixed charges. The ore used was from the Kloman property at Republic, in which Marquette capital is largely interested.

In this process the ore is metallized by hydrocarbons, exclusively, which are contained in the gases coming off bituminous coal, the residue in the ovens being coke. The coke is then used in the cupola furnace in which the product of the Ardis furnace is manufactured into "muck" or bar iron. The fuel charge in operating the Ardis furnace is practically nothing, as the heat is supplied from gases that are ordinarily wasted, and coke, a valuable by-product, is left in the ovens.

Mr. Jones is confident that with 1,200 pounds of coke he can produce one ton of 98 per cent pig iron. Considering that the furnace utilizes low grade ores, which under other processes can be used only in small quantities, if at all, and that the metallization is accomplished with gases that are wasted in other manufacturing processes, Iron Mountain will be on safe Nov. 23 and 24; good for return until first train of following Monday, Nov. 28. 11-17-11.
